2 RESIDENTS OF THIS PLACE DEAD, RESULT OF WRECK

Isaac Centers, 75, and Susan Holt Newsom, 30, Victims in Pike Accident

FIVE INJURED

Two residents of Prestonsburg were killed and five others were slightly injured Friday when a truck in which they were riding, en route from Prestonsburg to Borderland, W. Va., was wrecked at the mouth of Coon Creek, Pike county.

The dead: Isaac Centers, 75 years old. Susan Holt Newsom, 30 years old.

The injured are: Mrs. Fred Caudill and two sons, Elmer and John, Borderland, W. Va., formerly of Prestonsburg; Hilda Newsom, 19-months-old daughter of Mrs. Newsom, and Mary Wallen, of Prestonsburg. Their injuries are not serious.

The truck was wrecked, it was said here, when a wheel struck a boulder which had slid into the highway and the machine dropped over a 30-foot embankment. Ed Daniels, driver of the truck, had come to Prestonsburg to take Mr. Centers and others to Borderland.

Mr. Centers died in a Wilkeson, W. Va., hospital; a few hours after the wreck as a result of chest injuries. Mrs. Newsom succumbed at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, to internal injuries at 10 o'clock Monday night. Body of Mr. Centers was returned here to the home of his grandson, Isaac Caudill, from which funeral rites were conducted Monday. Burial was made in West Prestonsburg cemetery under the direction of E. P. Arnold. Burial of Mrs. Newsom was made at Wheelwright Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Centers had been a resident of Prestonsburg for a number of years, was a good citizen and held the friendship of all who knew him.

He is survived by three daughters and one son: Fred Caudill, Borderland, W. Va.; Continued on page five

ORGAN INSTALLATION NEARING COMPLETION FOR HOMECOMING HERE

Plans are rapidly being completed for dedication of the pipe organ and observance of the annual homecoming at the Methodist Church here next Sunday. Work on installation of the organ, which has been in progress for the past 10 days, will be completed by the time this paper is published. John Gunther, representative of the Pilcher Organ Company, of Louisville, who is in charge of the work on the building of the organ into the church, has promised that it will be ready for choir rehearsal on Thursday of this week.

Dr. George W. Twynham, Fairmont, W. Va., who was pastor of the church 1908-1910 will preach at the 11 o'clock Sunday morning hour. Mr. and Mrs. Twynham will arrive here Saturday afternoon from Barboursville, W. Va., where Dr. Twynham this week has been attending the Pastors' School. Dr. Twynham is presiding elder of Clarksburg district.

The preaching service on Sunday evening was cancelled because of the inability of Rev. J. M. Helm to be here. Instead of the regular preaching service, W. E. Pilcher, Jr., of the firm of Henry Pilcher's Sons, and who designed the organ, will give a concert. Mr. Pilcher, a recognized artist in this field, will also be at the console of the organ at the morning service.

CANDIDATE ASSAILS LACK OF ECONOMY

Huddleston Alleges Waste of Money by State Administration, Promises Reforms

In making his bid for Floyd county support in his race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, Elam Huddleston, state treasurer, scored what he termed the spendthrift policies of the present administration and promised an about-face in the direction of economy if he is nominated and elected.

Mr. Huddleston said that operating expenses of the state tax commission in 1917 totaled $50,000. The same expense for 1935, he said, will be approximately $650,000. This increased outlay, he alleged, is created by the employment of unnecessary help, graft in filing of expense accounts and the payment—in one instance, at least—of employees who had been absent from the state for months and who during their absence have even profited from a sizeable increase in salary. He attacked Lieutenant-Governor Chandler's stand in reference to the soldier's bonus, citing the deciding vote Mr. Chandler cast against the resolution in the state senate asking the Congress to pass the bonus measure.

The speaker advocated repeal of the sales tax insofar as it applied to the necessities of life, but contended that it is doubtful if the sales tax can be dispensed with entirely. Release of all property from taxation, using the sales tax and income tax as a substitute; an old age pension law; and more liberal appropriations for the rural schools with uniform teachers' pay and a pension for retired teachers were blanks of the platform which Mr. Huddleston defined in his speech.

Mr. Huddleston was introduced by Attorney W. S. Wallen.

FLOYD COUNTIAN WRITES FIRST OPERA PRESENTED AT FESTIVAL

Players in American Folk Song Festival

Eastern Kentucky's mountain country, sometimes pictured as the land of feuds, made a bid for fame Sunday with the production of the first American grand opera, depicting the sorrows, joys and aspirations of the mountaineer.

A love scene from the opera, "The Call of the Cumberlands," was the feature event of the fifth annual American Folk Song Festival, staged in the foothills, sixteen miles from Ashland.

Eight thousand persons, including many visitors from distant states, heard the 23-year-old composer, Harrison

Elliott, from Beaver Creek, in rich baritone the ballads he wove together in an opera telling of a mountain man's "calling" to go to the "level lands" and learn "doctorin'" that he might minister to the afflicted of the mountains. Singing opposite him was Mrs. Iley B. Browning, of Ashland, native Prestonsburg woman, in the role of the mountain sweetheart.

The crowd, which demonstrated its appreciation with frequent applause, gathered on the hillsides overlooking the "Traipsin' Woman" cabin of Miss Jean Thomas, promoter of the Festival. Logs served as seats.

The twang of stringed instruments provided Folk Song numbers—ballads handed down by word of mouth from Sixteenth Century England.

In a faded black gown and sunbonnet, Rosie Day, 55-year-old mountain woman, sang without accompaniment a "warning" ballad—a dolefully pitched warning to mountain girls of the dangers of love.

Jilson Setters, known as the "Singin' Fiddler of Lost Hope Hollow," was there. Applause greeted his singing of "My Voyage to London Town," a

FLOYD MERCHANT IS AMBUSHED IN KNOTT

Assassination of Bill Cook Seen as Echo of Shooting of Teachers

Reverberations of the shots which slew Ralph Cook and seriously wounded his father, Seland Cook, back in 1933 on Left Beaver Creek sounded Friday, last week, with the ambushing on the head of Right Beaver, Knott county, of Bill Cook, father of P. S. Sale Cook, convicted slayer of Ralph Cook.

As Cook, a merchant was busily engaged in loading a wagon on a steep, narrow road down the mountainside, the charge of a shotgun was fired from the bushes bordering the road. Cook was partially decapitated. A son of Seland Cook, of Jack's Creek, was arrested, charged with the assassination, and was arraigned for preliminary hearing at Hindman Monday.

Name of the alleged slayer was unavailable here as this was written Tuesday. The Cooks are remotely related, and their trouble started when Ralph Cook and Seland Cook, teachers, were shot by Barksdale Cook, a student, following the latter's chastisement by one of the two. Barksdale is now serving a 21-year pen term for the slaying of Ralph Cook. His brother, Curtis, who also was charged with the shooting, was released.

Victim of this latest inter-tribe trouble on Left Beaver is said to have been a good citizen. He had been a merchant for several years.

B. L. Sturgill attended the opening of Thomas S. Rhea's campaign for Governor Saturday at Bowling Green.

THREE WOUNDED IN GUN FIGHT AT GARRETT SUNDAY

Between 100 and 200 Shots Fired As Showmen, Triplett Battle

FIFTEEN JAILED

Cash Triplett and Fred Bates were arrested Tuesday by Sheriff M. T. Stumbo and Deputy Sheriff R. R. Allen on warrants charging them with robbery and grand larceny. They were taken to Hazard, where the warrants were sworn out by a member of the show company.

One man was seriously wounded, two others are suffering from slight bullet wounds, another sustained a heavy blow on his head and 15 members of a traveling carnival troupe were jailed here as a result of a gun battle staged Sunday at Garrett between showmen and residents of Garrett and community.

Lacey Triplett, 35 years old, is in the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, where he was taken shortly after the shooting with a bullet wound in his left chest near his heart. The missile is said, however, to have ranged around his body, and he is expected to recover, barring pneumonia complications.

The two members of the show company shot were Stanley Western, son of J. W. Western, owner of the Golden Valley Shows, shot through his left hand, and "Whitey" Davis, wounded in his jaw. J. W. Western was struck on his head by a pistol butt swung, it is alleged, by Lacey Triplett at the outset of the battle.

Between 100 and 200 shots were fired during the fight, it is said. First indication of brewing trouble was given last Thursday night with the dynamiting of the show's callopie. This resulted, it was said by one of the show company, from the display of a candidate's advertisement on the truck. The Westerns had been warned to remove the advertisement from the truck and their failure to do so was followed by the blast, it was said.

Lacey Triplett is said to have entered the show lot at Garrett Sunday, seeking the man who knocked out his relative's teeth in a fight on the preceding night. According to Stanley Western, Triplett struck J. W. Western when the latter, after prolonged questioning, denied knowledge of the whereabouts of the assailant of Triplett's kinsman.

Whitey Davis says he yelled to Triplett to "not do that," and that when he did so Triplett whirled, firing at him. The two emptied their revolvers at each other, Davis said, and it was only a matter of seconds until revolvers were barking throughout the show lot and from the neighboring railroad tracks. Show men estimated 40 persons took part in the battle.

Friends of Lacey Triplett are quoted as saying Davis first fired on Triplett, and placed the burden of the blame on the showman. One witness in the examining trial held here Monday afternoon stated that Stanley Western fired on Triplett. Western claims he had no gun. Eph Salvers said he did not see J. W. Western struck but told of seeing two negroes accompany Davis across the field in pursuit of Triplett. George Rosenberry said Whitey shot at him ballad he wrote while on board ship to England. Dedicated to King George V, the ballad was sung by him before members of the English Folk Song Society in London three years ago. He also sang the "Cherry Tree Carol."

The prelude of the singing festival was sung by Florence Clark, of Detroit, Mich. In Indian costume she came down the mountain singing the "Sunrise Call of Zuni" in Indian tongue.

Among the distinguished guests were Governor Laffoon and Mrs. Laffoon, who have helped sponsor the movement to preserve the mountain ballads. They were escorted by K. M. I. cadets.

Governor Laffoon in an address of greeting, lauded Miss Thomas for her part "in preserving mountain music and folk songs in their purity and simplicity" and her efforts in promoting the festival. He termed the festival an "outstanding event of the Nation."

Discussing the characteristics of Kentuckians, the Governor said: "Kentuckians are quick to resent an insult, but if they are your friends they will spill the last drop of their blood in your protection." He was enthusiastically applauded.

Triumph for Composer

In composing the opera, Elliott fulfilled a prediction made several years ago at the Festival that grand opera would come from the mountains. It should be, the minstrel related in an epilogue, a tribute to "the finest, the least understood of American citizens—the Kentucky mountaineer."

A group of mountain boys and girls took part in the opera. Coming down the steep hillside to the stage, one of the girls fell about eight feet, but was not injured.

The crowd especially liked the singing of a group of lads from Beaver Creek, the opera composer's home. They sang a ballad of their own composition, "Old Beaver Creek." Called back by the crowd, they sang a hymn. Elizabethan costumes were worn by ladies in waiting in the prologue which gave the origin of the mountain minstrels and their songs.

The infare, played and sung by mountaineers, set forth the traditions and customs of the pioneer wedding celebration. In this episode three Sixteenth Century ballads were sung—"Two Sisters," "Chimney Sweeper" and "The Prince."

Clad in an old coat, tieless shirt and baggy trousers, Uncle Tom West—80-year-old mountaineer, made a big hit with his rendition of "Old Coon Dog" on his ancient dulcimer. He sat on a low backless bench in the center of the stage.

Maxine Harlan, wearing the wedding dress of a Quaker ancestor, sang the introduction to Edith Fitzpatrick James, of Prestonsburg, who was clad in a Lindsey-Woolsey gown of her Anglo-Saxon forebears. Mrs. James sang the Wassail Song and drew enthusiastic applause.

Particularly popular was the number of Brother Dawson of Rowan county, who lined the hymn, "Will the Circle Be Unbroken." Mountaineers seated on the stage took up the song. Explaining why mountain elders line a hymn, Brother Dawson related that in early days song books were scarce, so the elder mindful of his flock, arose behind the little wooden pulpit and read out a line of two which the congregation then sang.

Over six feet tall and weighing about 230 pounds, Brother Dawson, who wears a wide moustache, was assisted by four singers from this county: Tex Vanderpool, Green Maggard Tom James, John Hyden.

and another man as they accompanied Triplett back up a bank into the lot.

Whitey Davis told The Times that Cash Triplett fired several shots at him, but added that the latter probably saved his life when he called for protection when the odds seemed hopelessly against him. One negro was reported missing from the show company this week, and it is not known if he was killed as he and others plunged into Beaver Creek and swam for safety on the other side or if he fled in panic and became lost from the others.

J. W. Western, his sons, Stanley and Maloney, Davis and 11 negroes were arrested by Policeman Verlie Banks, Constable Fred Bates, Policemen Ben Layne and Wood a negro named Washington were released Monday afternoon following the examining trial. These two are held, pending outcome of the condition of Lacey Triplett.

When the fight started, most of the show property had been moved, but three trucks were left on the grounds for several hours. From Garrett the show went to Hazard. The auto of Stanley Western was missing until Monday night, when it was returned here.

$20,000 Damage Suit Against Prestonsburg Man Won By Defendant

The $20,000 damage suit of G. B. Gomersall versus T. H. Dingus resulted last week in a directed verdict for the defendant in U. S. district court at Catlettsburg.

The suit resulted from an auto wreck on the Mayo Trail here. Gomersall was a passenger in an auto driven by William Thomas Dingus when the car left the road, seriously injuring the plaintiff, a film salesman. Mr. Dingus was represented by Hill and Hobson, of Prestonsburg, and the plaintiff by Edw. M. Ballard, of Cincinnati, and S. S. Willis, of Ashland.

LARGEST HEALTH MEET OF COUNTY

Held at Wheelwright June 6-6 Under County Health Dept. Auspices

By Dr. Marvin Ransdell

The largest and one of the most successful (child health conferences yet held in Floyd county was held (Wednesday and Thursday, June 5 and 6, at Wheelwright, under the auspices of the Floyd county health department co-operating with the officials of the Inland Steel Company and the physicians of the community.

The clinic was held in the gymnasium of the school building, where seats were arranged to accommodate the overflow crowd present for both days. Booths were arranged for the examination of patients, distribution of literature and immunization of the children. The theater building was turned over to Dr. L. E. Smith, executive secretary of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, who showed films on tuberculosis and lectured to the audience on the disease. Approximately 700 people heard and saw lecturers and pictures.

The first day of the clinic was held primarily for the people living within the camps proper, and the second day for those residing outside the camp. People registered there from every creek and branch on Beaver Creek as far down as Salisbury. Arrangements had been made for several of the ladies and high school girls to assist, acting as clerks and ushers, others donated the use of their cars, bringing mothers and children to and from the clinic.

Those who assisted and made the success of the clinic possible were Drs. J. W. Bailey and C. B. Pergrun, Wheelwright; Dewey Osborne, Byrro; U. W. Massie, Weeksbury; L. E. Smith, Louisville; and F. C. Campbell, Louisville; J. Moredor, Barcelona, Spain, and Marvin Ransdell, Prestonsburg; Nurses Misses Hazel Parsons and Martha Troll, county health department, Prestonsburg; and Emma Rölls, Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright. Those acting as clerks: Mesdames J. W. Bailey, C. R. Price, C. B. Hanger, J. G. Parker, G. M. Curry, Butler Tussey, John Haymen, H. O. Zimmerman, C. S. Sutherland, Hatler Hall, Wheelwright, and Mrs. Marvin Ransdell, Prestonsburg. Ushers: Misses L. S. Petrey, Jessie Lee Tankenersby, Wheelwright, and Miss Hazel Damron, Prestonsburg. Messrs. C. S. Sutherland, John Hymen and James Humphries, Wheelwright, and probably many more whose names are unavailable.

Bountiful dinners were served at the clubhouse both days for all visiting workers by Mrs. Halie Shirley and were donated by the Inland Steel Company. Photographs were made on the second day of the waiting crowd, doctors, nurses, clerks and other workers.

Approximately 250 children were examined, and mothers were given instruction to their care; and 496 were immunized against diphtheria, 16 against smallpox, 45 tested for intestinal parasites, and 3,600 pieces of health literature distributed.

Interest manifested in the clinic exceeded all expectations and presented concrete evidence of the growing interest in public health work in that community.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING HELD AT MAYO HOME

The Prestonsburg Woman's Club held a delightful meeting in the spacious garden of the J. D. Mayo home on the Mayo Trail near here Thursday night, June 6.

Before the group of 50 was seated for the picnic supper Mrs. Mayo escorted the members, their husbands and friends through the flower garden where poppies, larkspur, sweet williams, roses, foxglove, hollyhocks and snapdragons were blooming.

After the refreshing picnic supper, Dr. Smith of the Bureau of Tuberculosis, gave a most interesting and entertaining talk on the "White Plague, stressing the fact that it is most necessary for public groups such as the Woman's Club to foster the preventive program in our respective communities if tuberculosis is to be eradicated. Mrs. W. P. Mayo, district governor of Woman's Clubs, told of the art exhibit sponsored by the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs at Dawson Springs, and the art catalogue which has been compiled by Mrs. T. W. McKinley, state art chairman. Mrs. E. P. Hill, Jr., president of the club, reviewed the art appreciation program sponsored by the local club during the past, which merited one of the two prizes given by the State Federation. Mrs. Hill also reported that the club here realized more than $200 in the recent drive for funds for the aid of crippled children.

Mrs. J. D. Mayo, chairman of Child Welfare, K. F. W. C., told of several interesting projects to be undertaken by the Federation for the coming year, one of great interest being the eradication of comics portraying crime and underworld behavior. This resolution met with the unanimous approval of the 150 voting delegates at the convention. The following were present at the picnic supper:

The Inevitable American

: : Boom : :

By Roger W. Babson
Babson Says Vast Markets
Await Revival of Heavy Industries

Special to The Times

Babson Park, Mass., June 7
—In view of the recent Supreme Court decisions on NRA, the Frazier-Lemke Act, and other matters, I believe that we are definitely headed into a period of either credit or monetary inflation. Although the Supreme Court has headed off the Administration in some of its most important New Deal experiments, yet those decisions do not change the desires of the American people for a short cut to prosperity.

These decisions may even result in the President's relaxing his firm attitude against currency inflation. He may turn to it as his only method of quickly bringing back good times. Producing prosperity by currency inflation, however, is like showing a good bank statement by falsifying the books. On the other hand, if the President takes his cue from the court and swings toward the right he may create enough confidence among business men to get credit inflation under way. Hence, I believe we may be approaching one of the biggest booms in American history, although eventually we must face the day of reckoning. I am optimistic for the next few years, however, owing to the great potential markets which exist today.

Ten Billions to "DO Over" American Factories

In the first place there is replacement of worn-out machinery. Back in the prosperous twenties, expenditures for machinery averaged $6,600,000,000 per year. In the course of the depression this total was slashed to $2,700,000,000 annually. The machinery trade has estimated that it would take $18,000,000,000 to make up this deficit and to put American industry back on an efficient operating basis. Being conservative, I would put the figure at $10,000,000,000. The same situation exists in all branches of the heavy or capital goods industries, such as construction, railroad equipment, and the like, where the total deferred demand is estimated at about $49,000,000,000.

The railroad industry is very interesting from this angle. It is estimated that 15,000,000 or seventy-five per cent of all freight cars now in use in the United States are more than 20 years old. Since 1929 only 160 locomotives have been ordered annually compared with 1,000 annually in normal years. The same situation holds true of passenger cars. In fact, the large percentage of rolling stock today is hopelessly antiquated. The great savings possible by efficient rolling stock would go a long way toward putting the railroads back on their feet. Radical new designs of all railroad equipment, as typified by streamlined trains, are creating a tremendous market. The "if" in this situation is the fact that the railroads are as poor as church mice.

Markets for Construction Run Into Tens of Billions

Then there is the building industry. Volume of construction per year in normal times is figured at over $6,000,000,000. In the last three years it has averaged only a little more than $1,000,000,000 and 50 per cent of this was publicly financed. There are still limitless possibilities for public works such as prevention of soil erosion, reforestation, flood control, and the like. These are now being tapped by the $4,800,000,000 Emergency Relief program. The Federal Power Commission reckons that $300,000,000 of new generating capacity is necessary to prevent a shortage of electric power when industry gets back to normal.

With the automobile becoming a constantly greater factor in American life, we have only scratched the surface of the potentialities of road building. As more super-highways radiate out of the cities, the suburbs will move further and further into the country, bringing radical changes in residential building. A deficit of about 200,000 homes per year has accumulated since 1929. This means that at the present time there is a shortage of over 1,000,000 dwellings, which figured at the average cost per house built in 1934, means a market of $3,400,000,000! Furthermore, a large percentage of existing homes, as revealed by a recent survey, needs a complete overhauling. Growing shortage of single dwellings and apartments are reported in half the leading cities.

Air Conditioning and Pre-Fabricated Houses

The development of the automobile industry was a big factor in the prosperity of the twenties. There are today two potential developments in housing which may prove to be the "automobiles" of this recovery period. First is air conditioning. Introduced just prior to the crash, it remained in the experimental stages during most of the depression, but improvements have been made right along. Today air conditioning equipment is a practical product whose price is within the reach of a great many home owners. In time, air conditioning equipment in the average home will be just as commonplace as a central heating plant is today.

The other possibility is the factory-built house. Already this type of residence has practical possibilities and is ready for marketing. These houses built of steel, aluminum, asbestos and other fire-resisting materials, are equipped with the most modern ventilating, electric, oil and gas appliances. Delivered, erected at a price of $4,000 to $10,000 these houses will save owners thousands of dollars not only in original cost, but in operation and maintenance. Then add to the possibilities of these embryonic industries the vast markets awaiting perfection of the "flivver" airplane and the Diesel engine!

Credit Reserves Largest in History

These developments are coming at a very fortunate time. Money is exceptionally cheap. Interest rates are at the lowest level in 30 years. Credit reserves are the greatest in our history. Today's gold holdings would permit a credit expansion to the amount of about $230,000,000,000 compared with an actual figure of $55,000,000,000 at the 1929 peak, and $43,000,000,000 at present. Business men have all the financial backing they need for tapping these great markets. If the Administration would only forget for a while its "reform obsession" and emphasize recovery, business men would soon take heart again.

Then the wheels of industry would start moving, and the inevitable American boom would be on!

Business as estimated by the Babsonchart, now registers 22 per cent below normal, and 5 per cent below a year ago. (Copyright — 1935 — Publishers Financial Bureau).

RATS FOUND IN WHISKY MASH

4,000,000 PINTS OF FAKE BRANDS EXPOSED

This publication is in position to disclose today, after thorough investigation and collaboration with government agents that 4,000,000 pints of illicit whisky, mostly of the "rat juice blend," is being poured down the throats of American liquor consumers each month.

The bulk of the "poisonous" whisky is faked and sold as Seagrams, Three Star Hennessy, Grand Dad, Cream of Kentucky' Old Crow, Country Club, Sunnybrook, Old Quaker, G. and W. Hill and Hill and other popular brands by bootleggers.

More important still is the statement of Administrator Yellowley's office: "If the drinker only saw what we see on raiding illicit stills throughout Illinois, and Wisconsin, he would make sure he was drinking bona fide stuff. At the bottom of the mash, we find dead rats, mice and thousands of bugs and insects. The bootlegger doesn't care how filthy his still is, for he has no reputation at stake."

As a result of Chief Yellowley's efforts, more than 100 illegal stills are shut down each month in this area. However, his assistants estimate that at least a similar number continue to operate until raided. The average still now turns out 100 gallons whisky daily as to 400 gallons only a few months ago.

It is figured that there are more than 5,000 stills in operation in various sections of the United States, which in turn produce more than 700,000 gallons monthly.

"G-Men" on a recent raid in Wisconsin uncovered 500,000 strip stamps at a large still and confiscated other paraphernalia, including thousands of labels for 52 different brands. (By permission from Collyer's Eye and the Base Ball World, May 25, 1935.)

WHY AMERICA PREFERS BUDWEISER...

WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY DEFINES IT—and its taste tells you why

BUDWEISER must be famous indeed to be chosen from all American beers for mention in Webster's New International Dictionary, just published. You'll find it on page 349.

Here is just another distinction for the fine beer that has won medal after medal at world's fairs for more than half a century. Bohemia, in 1903, officially adjudged BUDWEISER the finest bottled beer on Earth, better even than native brews. France, as early as 1882, conceded BUDWEISER's superiority. The following is from the Paris Gazette:

"Experts reluctantly pronounced the St. Louis beer superior to any malt liquor ever drunk upon the continent and all Paris is now seeking to quaff the American nectar."

Do you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; backache, headache, dizziness, swollen feet and ankles? Are you tired, nervous—feel all unstrung and don't know what is wrong?

clearly in distress, and are threatened with the loss of their homes through foreclosure:

"The same tests of eligibility of HOLC applicants which have applied in the past will in general continue in full force and effect under this new legislation. The Corporation intends to make every effort to assist home owners who are in genuine financial difficulty, but it will be forced to reject every application which is not clearly eligible.

"No home owner should apply for a loan until he has first made certain that his application will be eligible under the Corporation's restrictions. He should realize that the rejection of an ineligible application, on grounds of deliberate default on existing debts, is likely to cause the home-owner the loss of his property, because of the unwillingness of his present mortgagee to carry the loan following such default.

Largely as a result of two and one-half billion dollars in bonds already disbursed to them by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, lending institutions are in a far stronger position today than they were a year ago. They are well able to recast and carry reasonably sound mortgage loans, instead of coercing, or even encouraging such borrowers to make applications to this Corporation.

"The tests of eligibility are as follows:

1. The applicant must have been in involuntary default on his home loan on June 13th, 1933, and unable to carry or refund his present mortgage, unless it can be shown to the Corporation's satisfaction that a default occurring later than June 13, 1933, was the result of unemployment or other misfortune beyond the applicant's control. The Corporation was created to protect honest home owners who are in temporary difficulty, and not for the purpose of saving lenders from the results on their own past mistakes in making excessive loans, or in lending to persons not entitled to credit.

2. The past record of the applicant for integrity is a vital factor. Any applicant will be rejected as ineligible if his general record is unsatisfactory, particularly if he has deliberately defaulted on his existing indebtedness and has a record of not paying his bills when he is able to do so.

3. To redeem the home from forced sale or voluntary surrender, such sale or surrender must have taken place since January 1, 1930.

4. The applicant must be in actual distress with his mortgage indebtedness and threatened with the loss of his home by foreclosure. Applicants who have no present or prospective income of any character, and clearly could not meet the indebtedness, are ineligible unless their notes are also signed by responsible parties.

5. The property must be used by the owner as his home or held by him as his homestead, and, as a rule, it must have been his home on June 13, 1933.

6. The home must have a value not exceeding $20,000, as appraised by the Corporation. No loan may be made for an amount exceeding $14,000 or 80 per cent of the Corporation's appraisal of the property, whichever is the smaller.

7. Ordinary farm property is not eligible unless the applicant draws his main livelihood from non-farm occupations.

8. No applicant will be granted a loan if such refinancing is intended only to protect a bank loan or other business obligation.

9. The Corporation will not refinance the home of an owner who can continue to carry his present loan."

"The Dufour Hospital for Dionne Quintuplets," which is equipped with an Electrolux Refrigerator.

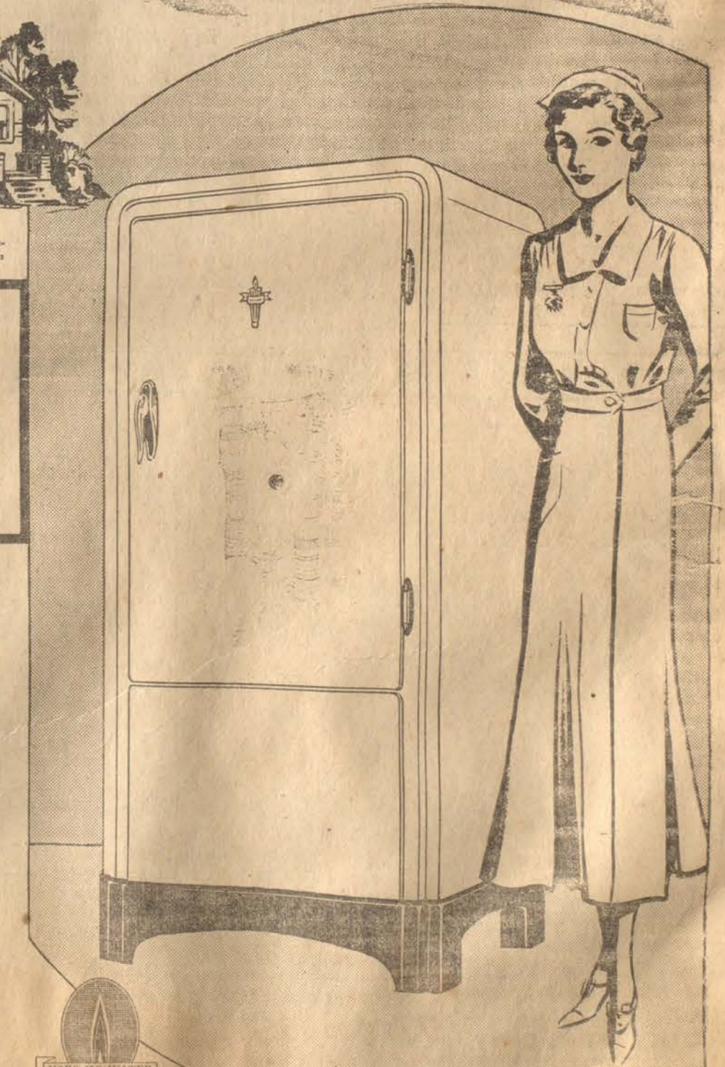

Installed in their hospital a year ago, this most modern of refrigerators is daily proving its utter dependability

NEWS FLASHED from the remote Canadian village of Corbeil, on the morning of May 28, 1934, astounded the world. For the first recorded time in history, five babies born to one mother were living . . . and thriving.

But human milk—in unusual quantity—was required to feed these newborn babes. From Toronto and Montreal, this milk was rushed to Corbeil. And once received, vital was the need for the kind of dependable food protection that only modern automatic refrigeration can afford.

Forty-eight hours after orders were given in New York, a New Air-Cooled Electrolux, operated with kerosene, was on the job at the Quintuplets' isolated birthplace. Though born almost beyond the reaches of civilization, these babies were thus enabled—during the past year—to have every modern refrigeration advantage of city homes and hospitals.

For the kerosene-operated Electrolux is the same nationally advertised refrigerator that more than half a million modern American families have already chosen for their homes. In the city, a tiny gas burner does all the work . . . in the country beyond the gas mains Electrolux is run by the flame of a wickless glow-type kerosene burner. At the right are listed some of the important advantages of this most modern of refrigerators.

PURUL AND MODERN JUSTICE SOUGHT IN CONTINUE IN FRONT KILLING OF WRIGHT

Though each lost a game, the Purul and Modern Drug Shop teams continued to share the van in the soft-ball league leadership here at the close of Monday's games. Purul, June 5, defeated the Modern team, 9 to 3, to gain the tie for the league lead.

Monday afternoon, Purul dropped a thriller to Gulf, 6 to 4, to leave Modern again in the lead; but Modern's loss during the next hour, to Francis Cash Store, 6-2, brought the two teams back into a dead heat for the lead. A large crowd saw both these games, which saw Harlowe and Goodman in one game and Bond and George in the other stage pretty pitching duels.

Beginning on Monday of last week, the Francis team has started a winning streak three games which has brought that aggregation up to third place from a rather lowly start. June 3, this team defeated the Baptists, 11 to 5, then on Wednesday they won from Gulf, by the same score, their last win being scored over Modern Monday afternoon, this week.

Warfield started last week off with a 9-8 win over Gulf, then on Friday lost to Purul, 12-7, in the latter inning the Baptist losing streak continued through the interim, Francis and Modern defeating them, 11-5 and 11-6, respectively.

With both the Francis and Gulf teams strengthened, a merry race for league honors may be expected through the remainder of the season from the top four teams. Standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Purul	7	2	.778
Modern	7	2	.778
Francis	5	4	.556
Gulf	4	5	.444
Warfield	2	6	.250
Baptists	1	7	.125

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Recent substitute. 25-cent drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Floyd county officers Tuesday began a search in the Spurlock fork of Middle Creek section for Bill Justice, who Sunday afternoon shot and killed Ernest Wright within 50 yards of the voting house where Wright's father, Henry Wright, was killed in 1933, allegedly by John Thornsbury, an uncle of Justice.

The two-year-old shooting is believed to have caused the slaying Sunday. Wright died without speaking when Justice's bullet struck him in his right side, passing through his body.

One report says Wright fired the first shot. One pellet from his shotgun is said to have struck Justice, several shot striking Darwin Pitts, a bystander, in his head. Pitts is recovering.

John Thornsbury, Justice's uncle, has twice been given trial here, and now awaits action on his motion for new trial. Jeff and Steve Justice also are under indictment in the Henry Wright slaying. Jeff some time ago was indicted for the killing of his uncle, Steve Thornsbury, but the case against him was dismissed.

Wright is survived by his widow, his mother and several brothers and sisters. He was a brother of Ina Wright Vanhorn, whose death about four years ago resulted in a sensational murder trial, with her husband being acquitted of the murder charge placed against him. His burial was made on Spurlock Tuesday, ministers of the Baptist Church conducting the funeral.

The First 500 Miles Are the Sanest

Nine out of every ten automobile accidents which in 1934 involved driving errors resulted from too much speed, it is shown by reports compiled by the Travelers Insurance Company. This fact is brought out in numerous ways by the statistics on automobile accidents, among which are these:

The rate of death in 1934 per accident on highways was more than 100 per cent greater than the average for all accidents combined. This shows that the highway is no place for a driver to be "asleep at the switch."

The rate of death per accident on curves was 131 per cent worse last year than the average for all accidents combined. The question has been asked, "what does the driver think about when he goes around a curve too fast or on the wrong side of the road?"

Government mortality statistics show that the rate of death from automobile accidents continues to mount faster in rural territories than in urban districts. In 1933, the latest year that such statistics are available, the death rate from automobile accidents increased 6.4 per cent compared to 1932. In urban districts it increased 4.5 per cent, while in rural territories it increased 10.1 per cent. From 1923 to 1933 inclusive, the total death rate from automobile accidents increased 58.7 per cent, although in urban districts it increased only 32.8 per cent. In rural territories, however, the rate of death jumped 101.9 per cent.

Many motorists fail to appreciate the fact that "the person who always drives at a reasonable rate of speed saves gasoline, trouble, money and human life." Don Herold in his cartoon above hits the nail on the head. He wonders why drivers usually are so careful breaking in new cars but are so careless with their own lives and the lives of others just as soon as the "breaking-in" distance has been

ATHLETE'S FOOT!

"Last winter my son, age 14 years, with 48 others in his grade, contracted a serious foot ailment at an indoor swimming pool.

"His feet became so sore and itched so bad he could not have bed covering even touch them, but would sleep with his feet out of bed. His shoes and stockings hurt him so he begged to stay home off his feet.

"Having heard of many remarkable results obtained from the use of Moone's Emerald Oil and being advised by a friend to try this wonderful oil, I did so.

"To my surprise and satisfaction it cleaned up his case, called Athlete's Foot, completely with two medium-sized bottles."

This actual experience reported by Mrs. Harry Dayton, 72 Farragut street, Rochester, N. Y., is by no means unique.

First-class druggists like H. E. Hughes and Co. are selling lots of Emerald Oil with the flat promise that you must get full and complete satisfaction or money back.
