MINERS DISCUSS PLANS IN UMWA MASS MEET HERE

Organization Of Henry Clay Mine In Pike County Attempted

APPROXIMATELY 100 MEN WERE PRESENT

Many Local Chiefs Speak; Tom Raney, Union Chief, Present

"We are going to find out if certain people are going to stand in their store doors with hands outstretched for good, Union miners' pay envelopes and give in return protection for these men, or if they are going to go over to those scabs at Henry Clay," declared Dale Stapleton, international United Mine Workers of America organizer, in an address before a mass meeting of mine workers at the graded school building here Friday night.

"We are going to bring some pressure to bear on some people," the speaker added.

The meeting, attended by approximately 100 U. M. W. A. representatives from mines of this and neighboring counties, was called for the purpose of crystallizing the movement to organize the Henry Clay mine on Marrowbone Creek, Pike county.

Bart Bloomer, of Van Lear, in stating the purpose of the meeting, said: "This meeting has been called for the purpose of organizing Henry Clay and to put pressure on certain Pikeville business men inclined to favor the 'yellow dog' side."

James Allen, CIO organizer, first speaker of the evening, pointed out the absence of CIO and Union labor signs in Prestonsburg business places and warned his hearers from turning from a friend of labor and trading with those who are not in sympathy with the workers' cause.

THIS TOWN THAT WORLD

IN THE MANNER OF THE EDITORS OF "TIME"

Prestonsburg's money-mad nut who recently sent The Floyd County Times an order for the printing of bogus $50,000 bills, last week sent an order to First National Bank's Henry Stephens, asked for a specially printed checkbook, requested that all his checks be promptly paid. Not unlike the manner in which he sent a $50,000 bill facsimile to The Times (see Times, Nov. 25, 1937), was the drawing of the type check he wanted. Also received by the bank were signed, ink-smudged instructions: "Send me check book and dont fail to pay mie checks feare I shure no that i am worth the money 3 times al."

Now it happens that one night I am strolling down Court street admiring the passing Judys and wondering if the Alabamas will beat the Californias when I see two characters raising the hood of Tom Moore's automobile.

Now I stop and watch, for the two Johns are acting very queerly and suspiciously indeed, and I am amazed because they are wiring to the starter of the car a gadget that will explode when the starter is touched. I am about to call a cop, but I see that the Johns are by no means Johns, but are goodhearted pranksters, known to one and all.

So I wait until the pranksters dis-

Composed of Prestonsburg's finest vocal talent, a chorus of 25 persons will usher in the Christmas season here by presenting the sacred cantata, "Holy Night," in the Methodist Church, South, Sunday evening at 7:30.

The cantata will be held as a part of the W. P. A. recreation program in charge of Mrs. E. R. Burke. The community chorus is under the direction of Franklin Moore. It is the first to be presented here as a community undertaking.

Instrumental music will be supplied by the church pipe organ, with Mrs. Chalmer Frazier at the keyboard, and the piano by Mrs. E. R. Burke.

No charge is made and all are asked to attend.

MRS. SALISBURY DIES WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Julia Salisbury, 74, Passes at Hunter Homestead Tuesday

Death, Tuesday, claimed an aged member, Mrs. Julia Salisbury, 74, of one of Floyd county's best-known families, who died at the homestead at Hunter, where the Salisburys have lived for more than 100 years.

She succumbed of a cerebral hemorrhage following an illness of pneumonia.

Her husband, Richard Salisbury, preceded her in death five years ago.

Mrs. Salisbury is survived by eight children. She was grandmother to nine, and the great-grandmother of 26. She had been a firm believer in the old Regular Baptist faith for the past 20 years.

Funeral services were conducted from the homestead at 1 p. m. Wednesday by the Rev. Isaac Stratton, of Banner. Interment was made under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home, of Martin.

Sons and daughters who survive are: Miss Doll Salisbury, Link Salisbury, and Mrs. Noah Martin, all of Hunter; Mrs. H. H. Mayo, Martin; Tom Salisbury, Drift; Mrs. F. H. Hoppood, Huntington, W. Va.; Mrs. U. N. Gibson, Minnie; and W. A. Salisbury, McDowell. Surviving sisters are: Mrs. Mary Preston, of George's Creek; Mrs. Rhoda Edwards, Wayland. One brother also survives, Charles Preston, of George's Creek.

MRS. RACHEL HOOVER TAKEN BY PARALYSIS

Mrs. Rachel Hoover, 34, wife of Maynard Hoover, succumbed at her Garrett home on Stone Coal, Sunday, of paralysis.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 10 a. m. from the home by the Rev. M. C. Wright and the Rev. Earl Howard. Burial was made under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

CONTEST SUITS ARE DISMISSED

Gearhart vs. Sturgill, Crabtree vs. Prater Suits Closed; Another Filed

Within 48 hours after the Floyd county November election contest suits had been filed, two had been stricken from the docket. And within the same period a suit growing out of the attempted filing of a contest suit had been filed against Troy B. Sturgill, clerk of the Floyd circuit court.

Contest suits dismissed "without prejudice" were those of Fred Gearhart, Republican, vs. Gomer C. Sturgill, Democrat, Tax Commissioner-elect, and of Mart Crabtree, Democrat, vs. Joe Prater, Jr., Republican, Magistrate-elect in District No. 2.

The suit against Circuit Clerk Sturgill was filed by Allen Click, Wheelwright, defeated Independent candidate for Jailer, who essayed on the last day for filing contest actions to place his suit with the clerk against Will Halbert, Democrat, Jailer-elect. Mrs. Lily H. Parker, deputy clerk, said that she found only a copy of the suit under the door entering the clerk's office at 11 o'clock Thursday night, Dec. 2, an hour before the deadline for filing of contests, without the necessary filing fee.

These developments left the Sheriff, two Magistrates, and the Board of Education post contests remaining on the docket. Further action in these cases may not be seen until answers to the several suits are filed within 20 days after the original suits were instigated.

Department Manager For Inland Steel Company Is Peritonitis Victim

Emerson Yonts, 29 years old, manager of the Inland Steel Company butcher shop, Wheelwright, died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, at 8:35 o'clock Monday evening of peritonitis said to have existed previous to his operation for appendicitis at the hospital.

Mr. Yonts was one of Wheelwright's best men. He is survived by his bride of two months, the former Miss Margie Clark, daughter of Prof. W. M. Clark, of Hindman, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Yonts, Neon, Ky., six sisters and four brothers.

The body was prepared for burial and taken to Neon Tuesday by the Arnold Funeral Home. The funeral was conducted from the Yonts home at Neon Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, and burial was made in the family cemetery.

Freakish Weather Disrupts Schools, Business, Traffic

Freakish weather causing ice to form on highways and power lines, wrought havoc in Floyd county this week as schools were dismissed, bus service was disrupted, electrical machinery was at a standstill, and numerous minor traffic collisions were reported. One fatality was reported in Johnson county.

No serious traffic fatality was reported in Floyd county, but icy pavements a few miles south of Paintsville in Johnson county resulted in the death of Garland S. Kinzer, 62, general purchasing agent for the Elk Horn Coal Corporation at Wayland.

All high schools in the county, with the exception of the Wheelwright and Wayland schools, were ordered closed by County Superintendent Town Hall Wednesday, following the wreck of a county school bus at Martin due to icy roads. No one was injured. Schools were originally scheduled to dismiss for the Christmas holidays Dec. 17. The early dismissal now ordered by the county superintendent will extend to the Yuletide vacation, schools not

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL

William E. Johnstone, 63, Passes at Home in Betsy Layne

A sudden heart attack Thursday afternoon claimed the life of William E. Johnstone, 63 years old, retired bookkeeper, who died at his home in Betsy Layne. He was well-known in Pike and Floyd counties.

Mr. Johnstone, apparently in his usual health until a few hours before his death, complained of feeling ill Thursday morning while at the home of a daughter, Mrs. M. G. Gastineau, a short distance from his home. He later returned to his home and became violently ill, dying a short time later. His wife, to whom he had been married 61 years, was with him when he died at 1:30 o'clock.

Born in Michigan on March 22, 1874, Mr. Johnstone was the son of William Dustin and Anna Koch Johnstone. Sixty-one years ago he was married to Miss Lucy Cornelia Homer, of Knoxville, Tenn., and moved to a Kentucky farm several years ago. He had resided in this section for more than 15 years. For more than 50 years he was engaged as a bookkeeper but retired a few years ago. He had been an active worker in the Christian Church for a number of years.

Surviving besides his widow are four sons: E. B. Johnstone, of Nelson, Ky.; T. K. Johnstone, of Liberty, Pa.; Thomas M. Johnstone, of Harlan, and W. C. Johnstone, of Betsy Layne, and three daughters: Mrs. George A. Clutts, of Harlan, Mrs. M. G. Gastineau, of Betsy Layne, and Mrs. Woollum, of Lexington.

Funeral services were conducted at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Betsy Layne Sunday School room, with the Rev. Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial was made in the cemetery at Harold.

PRESIDENT'S POST IS GIVEN TO HALL

To Seek $15 Per Capita For Kentucky Schools, Says New President

At the statewide meeting of school superintendents in Frankfort last week, Floyd Superintendent Town Hall was named president of the group and will serve throughout 1938. City Superintendent Ishmael Triplett was also present at the conference.

The main object of the meeting, according to Superintendent Hall, was to seek ways and means whereby Kentucky's allotment for schools might be increased from the present $11.58 per capita to $15.

Mr. Hall said that pressure would be made through representatives, senators and the governor with this end in view.

If $15 per capita is secured an additional $50,000 for the maintenance of schools will come to Floyd. Increases can be made in teachers' salaries where needed, and Floyd rural schools can have an eight-month term instead of one lasting only seven, and constant efforts will be made to secure these benefits, Mr. Hall said.

FLOYD LEGION POST SEEKS QUOTA OF 115

Floyd Post No. 129 of the American Legion this week officially opened its membership drive for a quota of 115 members, with W. G. Africa, Legion adjutant, as chairman of the membership committee.

Now enrolled in the Legion are only 36 members. Legion officials announce that unless members enroll and pay their $3 dues they cannot receive the American Legion monthly magazine. The drive will continue for 30 days.

PRESTONSBURG SUSPENDED BY ATHLETIC ASS'N

Basketball Team Learns Of Suspension While Preparing for Opener

BAN EFFECTIVE JANUARY 15TH

Suspension Caused By Playing of Ineligible Football Man

As their teammates discussed news of their suspension from the Kentucky Athletic Association, the demoralized Prestonsburg Blackcats dropped both ends of a basketball doubleheader, Friday night, to Oil Springs, 36-37, and to Meade Memorial, 13-26, in what will probably be the first and last regularly scheduled games of a Prestonsburg team this season. News of the suspension reached the team and students only a few minutes before game time.

The suspension was announced in Frankfort by Ted Sanford, secretary of the association, following a meeting of the association's board of control. Three other high schools were suspended for the duration of the school year, it was announced.

They are: Campbellsburg for using an ineligible football player, as did Prestonsburg; and Jamestown and Finney for using ineligible basketball players.

Prestonsburg's suspension was due to the playing of Cline Burchett throughout the football season except in the last game with Paintsville. Burchett, it was learned, was over the 20-year age limit for high school athletes.

Due to the association's ruling all Prestonsburg victories this last football season, except the 7-6 victory over Paintsville in the Thanksgiving Day game, in which Burchett did not play, are nullified and forfeited. Games forfeited are to Betsy and (Continued on back page)

LIFE BEGINS AT 80

Among the divorce decrees granted in the Hardin circuit court Saturday was one to J. A. Jennings from Mrs. Rosina Jennings. Couple was married Feb. 11, 1886.

Mr. Jennings, a tall, bearded man, apparently about 80 years old, was present when the decree was granted. He lives on a farm at Oak Ridge schoolhouse, near East View, and his wife, now single, on an adjoining place a half-mile distant. The latter offered no contest to the suit, and being in ill-health, did not appear in court. The couple have children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.—Elizabethtown News.

Well, it's just a little bit difficult to tell just what would happen, but in all probability such a game, if played in Lexington, would be known as the Tobacco Bowl game—that is, unless the horsemen became aroused and started a fight to call it the Horse Bowl.—Lexington Herald.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

On Dignity of Disease

Murder unrelieved by sentiment is brutal; add a little wild-eyed patriotism, and it becomes a great international sport. Mere overeating is gluttonous, but if we get sick from eating green apples, we have a source of poetic sentiment all the rest of our lives. Disease in general follows this rule. Our grandmothers thought it not nice to discuss bones and similar things, but how decent and dignified it sounded to say that Mr. X. had sustained a compound fracture of the lower limbs. Before the refined days of Queen Victoria people were subject to spells of colic; that was what everybody called it, doctors and all. It was not regarded as anything to be proud of or to be ashamed of, either. All normal, healthy people were likely to have such a spell. Then came the reign of Queen Victoria and nice speech. To mention such a thing as colic was to place oneself among the boorish, and our ancestors—and our ancestors, most of all—did not want to appear boorish. But modern science came to the rescue. Colic received a new lease on life; now we talk, even in the Ladies' Aid Society when the preacher is present, about colic, except that we call it autointoxication. My! A fellow could almost afford to die of such a thing as that; it would look as good in the obituary. Should one go under in a fight with autointoxication, the neighbors would be envious and would believe in truth that the stronger force had overcome the weaker one. If one died of colic, everybody would feel contempt for a poor fellow who could not afford a fashionable disease.

Tonsils, appendixes, and teeth are the most talked of members of our bodies. One refers to having his tonsils out in much the same nonchalant way as one mentions the fashionable college from which he graduated. New dates are established by our operations, just as the Romans indicated time by referring to the two consuls for a certain year, "That was the year Sister Sarah had her appendix operation."

stive organs have assumed a duty they never had in the old days when they were mentioned only in a whisper, even though only ladies were present. The tendency of the appendix, a rather useless organ, to go cavorting around, stirring up such troubles as rheumatism and fainting fits, has brought dignity to the whole digestive system. I have seen the daintiest ladies, old and young, line up to view the preserved appendixes on a hospital museum shelf. One of my friends says he knows a man who turned one of his gallstones into a precious stone for his ring. I suppose that we take a sort of delight in these things, much as one of my former students kept in his purse a bit of shrapnel that had wounded him in the leg and a short piece of rib that had to be removed when he had pneumonia and pleurisy.

When anything is wrong with us today, we do not blush. No, sir! If we have a boil, we cover it up with a few strips of adhesive tape or paint it red, literally, with mercurochrome or merthiolate and feel our superiority to the rest of the world not thus decorated. Disease as such is not sought after; but if it comes, we made a fashion of it and get our names in the society column.

I COULD NOT SLEEP AT NIGHT

By MINA M. TITUS

If I had set a trap of steel I could not sleep at night— The pain-crazed eyes of dying things Would shine so fiercely bright.

There in the dark around my bed Shy creatures I could see With frozen, swollen, bleeding limbs, For mercy begging me.

I'd hear the anguished, frightened cries Of little furry balls Imprisoned, struggling through long days While no one heeds their calls.

I'd see small paws, half-twisted off, And twice their normal size, Being licked with parched and pain-foamed tongue Before my sleepless eyes.

If I had set a trap of steel I could not sleep at night— The pain-crazed eyes of dying things Would shine so fiercely bright.

JOBUCK'S JAM

(By JOBUCK JOHNSON)

Hiyah, Toots! I mean, Fellow-Loomiticks. How be ye, Nim Poke, or is it Shike's Rod? Huh, wot'd I say? Ye're dang tootin' I'm as much right here as anybody else!

Some people would have a hemorrhage if they couldn't let the world know t' they'd been a-huntin'. Well, who haint? I spent five hours today huntin' for meat on a mess o' "neck bones." Finally I gave up and throwed 'em out t' the dogs, along with three o' my teeth.

A neighbor o' mine never would let me know what sort he drinks, but I got the goods on 'im now. He slipped to the creek with a bed tick of bottled this mornin' and poured 'em (as he thought) into the water—but the creek had a hard surface this time. There they are—anything from "Four Roses" to "The Last Roundup."

A friend of mine is tightwaddish to the extreme. His doctor recently told him to go on a fruit diet and he wanted to know if he could go the first month on his Adam's apple. Further than this, he couldn't pay "Doc" because the pocket in which he kept his mazzuma was closed by a one-way zipper, which, as T. W. (Tight-Wad) explained, had already gone the only way it would go.

Still rustic is the village of Clod Bottom, four and twenty miles thru the spicewood from here. There the children use hog bladders for balloons, the girls paint their lips with red sand rock, possum lard holds the hair in place, and the lower half of a pumpkin—well, I'll see ye next week, Brother Loomiticks.

"BANK NIGHTS" ILLEGAL IN STATE, OPINION SAYS

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 6—"Bank nights" such as are conducted by motion picture houses in many communities are illegal, Assistant Attorney General J. K. Lewis said today.

Lewis' opinion was given to Sam Levin, St. Louis attorney. It was based on the premise that "bank nights" constitute a gift enterprise and other elements of a lottery in that they have a prize, a chance and a consideration involved.

Kentucky courts, Lewis wrote, never have ruled on the subject, but the legal profession is generally in agreement that the enterprise violates both the Constitution and the statutes.

"Bank nights" as generally conducted, consist of the award of a cash prize to the holder of a ticket whose number corresponds to the number on a stub drawn from a container on the stage, or a person whose name appears in a "registration book."

'BEAUTIFUL' AND 'FUN'

The philosophy of a dictator, a credo so crude and savage and utterly bereft of all humanness that it has shocked the greater part of a hard-boiled world, has been written by Vittorio Mussolini, aviator-son of would-be Caesar Benito Mussolini, the Fascist dictator.

War is the "quintessence of beauty," "everything was fun," writes the younger Mussolini in his book, entitled, "Flying Over Ethiopian Mountain Ranges."

Of the bombing of an Ethiopian cavalry regiment a few days before Christmas, two years ago, he gloats:

"We arrived upon them unobserved and immediately dropped out loads of explosives. I remember that one group of horsemen gave me the impression of a budding rose as the bombs fell in their midst. It was exceptionally good fun and they were easy to hit as we were not too high up."

In a sadder vein he writes:

"Bombing of Adowa failed to give us any satisfaction owing to the fact there were only small huts which flattened out without raising smoke or flames as one would see in an American film."

Thus writes the youth whose thoughts have been guided and his character molded by the dominance of a war-lord. Thus writes one who can be nothing but a sadist, finding an orgasm of enjoyment in human suffering.

Sailing serenely through Ethiopian skies, with helpless blacks, men, women and children, at the mercy of his squadron, young Mussolini found war "beautiful," found it "fun."

Such were the reactions of one whose god is Mars, whose coat of arms should be the skull and crossbones.

Such might reasonably be the reactions of a vulture spying, in flight, a bloated, stinking carcass or corpse. "It is beautiful, is it not?" this buzzard would say to his fellow-scavenger.

Il Duce's son will fail in the role of a perversionist. He can write till he drops of rearing horses and falling men beneath his bombs appearing as a "budding rose" and he can never convince those of us who remain sane that jagged steel destroying life and devastating a land, that the miasma of stenching corpses in blood-drenched mud, of burning homes in an already smoke-scummed sky, that death from shot or shell or insidious poison gas upon combatant and non-combatant alike are the "quintessence of beauty," that their making is pure "fun."

Who of us have not written something which, at the moment, seemed to us a masterpiece; then, after a night's sleep or period of meditation, decided it was pure drivel or rot? Well, it may be that young Mussolini has had the same experience. After writing the book and sending it to the publishers, he went to Hollywood to study the American cinema. And when the report became widespread there that he had made the statements here quoted, he left the movie center within forty-eight hours. Cringing from the rebukes of civilization or because he who found death beautiful found a land of sunshine and peace ugly?

"Flying Over Ethiopian Mountain Ranges" might have been pure fun to the type which would enjoy shooting a man down "to see him kick." FIGHTING over Ethiopian mountain ranges would have been another

Co-operation Sought To Stop Shooting and Selling of Fireworks

Co-operation of Prestonsburg citizens was sought this week by town authorities in their efforts to halt the sale and discharging of fireworks in the city limits during the Christmas season.

Unless such co-operation is forthcoming, it was said, police will be unable to abate the nuisance caused by the explosion of firecrackers and other fireworks which make Christmas here an occasion more reminiscent of the Fourth of July than a sacred holiday.

The city council recently enacted an ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks here, but the ordinance has been ineffective, owing, police say, to their inability to ascertain who is selling fireworks. One or two arrests of celebrants have been made, police announce.

KINZER DIES AT WHEEL OF AUTO

Heart Attack Blamed For Death of Coal Company Purchasing Agent

G. S. Kinzer, 62 years old, purchasing agent for the Elk Horn Coal Corporation, at Wayland, died Monday afternoon at the wheel of his auto on the George's Creek hill, in Johnson county, believed to have been a victim of a heart attack.

According to reports given by motorists following Mr. Kinzer, his auto had slipped into a small ditch at the side of the sleet-covered road and he was attempting to drive it back to the roadway. The motorists noticed the wheels spinning on Mr. Kinzer's car but it would not pull from the ditch. As they went to the machine to assist, they found Mr. Kinzer slumped over in the seat of the car. Mr. Kinzer was a resident of Huntington and had resided at 1637 Eighth avenue.

General purchasing agent and store manager for the Elk Horn Coal Corporation, Wayland, he had left Huntington early Monday morning to return to Wayland. He was apparently in excellent health. His was one of 12 automobiles stalled on the George's Creek hill. According to the motorists who discovered that Mr. Kinzer was dead, he had just returned to his machine after investigating the chance of pulling out of the ditch.

The body was taken to Paintsville. It will be returned to Huntington Tuesday morning.

Garland Summerfield Kinzer was born May 6, 1875, at Warrenton, Va., the son of the late Rev. W. Hamilton and Anna Laurie Kinzer. He was educated at Randolph-Macon College and married the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Jones, who survives. Upon the founding of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation in 1913 he became the general purchasing agent and store manager. He moved with his family to Huntington in 1917.

Surviving in addition to the widow are three daughters: Mrs. W. A. Ritchie, Mrs. Albert Bowen and Mrs. Howard J. Meek, all of Huntington; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Trout, of Fort Royal, Va., Mrs. Ernest Shawn, of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Thomas Strange, of Harrisburg, Va., and a brother, Marvin Kinzer, of Pitts-

CUT IN HIGHWAY FUNDS STUDIED BY KENTUCKIANS

Washington, Dec. 6 — Kentucky Congressmen studied today a Presidential proposal which would halve their state's federal highway aid for the biennium.

Under the current apportionment of federal money, Kentucky would receive $3,738,353 for its federal aid road system, for secondary and feeder roads and for grade crossing eliminations.

The same apportionment would apply to 1939. The Presidential message to Congress proposed eliminating 1939 authorization and spending that for 1938 over the biennium.

The message proposed also that federal aid be held to a maximum of $125,000,000 in 1940 and for "several years thereafter."

BEREA NET, TRACK SQUAD INCLUDES 7 NATIVES OF FLOYD

Berea, Ky., Dec. 7—The Berea College athletic department reports that some of this year's outstanding athletes in basketball and track are natives of Floyd county. Coach Oscar H. Gunkler, of the Mountaineer basketball team has on his squad Willard Ratliff, one of the smallest and fastest collegiate players in the state. Ratliff was for three years awarded all-tournament honors while on the Floyd-Knott high school team at Lackey. He was an outstanding member of the freshman team here last year, and will probably see much service with the varsity Mountaineers this year.

Three members of what looks like Berea's best freshman team in year come from Floyd county. They are: Charlie Hale, Goodloe; Joe Prater, Lackey, and Ogdien Stuart, Maytown. All three appeared to be slated for regular positions on the team.

The lower division has two promising basketball players from Floyd county—William Allen, Northern, and Gene Combs, of Maytown. Both have shown excellent ability.

Leonard Roberts, Osborn, during last year's track season set an all-time Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference record for the javelin throw, high jump and broad-jump events.

BETSY LAYNE

4-H CLUB NEWS

The Betsy Layne 4-H club is going full swing. The delay of getting into our new school building has not hindered the progress of the boys and girls.

They meet every week to study and work on their projects and once each month the club has a monthly meeting and program.

The club has two divisions: those studying clothing, and those studying poultry. The clothing project, composed of girls, is progressing nicely with almost every girl sewing up some garment and looking to future exhibits and activities.

The poultry division, made up of the boys and two girls is studying during the winter months, looking toward spring, when their study can be put into practice.

This division is divided into two groups, studying under the direction of Carsey Kidd, Carl Robinette, J. Archer Clark and Vernon Clark, who have had experience in poultry judging.

The club has for its president, Carsey Kidd, and for its leader, Mrs. James George. We hope to be even and Mrs. Chaffins will be greatly we get settled in our new building.

HIPPO

Three youths of this place are being greatly missed. They are: Frank, Samuel and Clarence Hicks, who have recently enlisted in the United States navy. Frank Hicks, the first to enlist, is located at Great Lakes, Ill.; the other two, Sam and Clarence, have been taken to Norfolk, Va.

Frank and Sam are brothers; Clarence, a cousin. These brothers also have two brothers in the United States army at Fort Knox, Ky. They are: Leonard, and James K. Hicks. The latter recently returned to his station from a furlough. They only have 10 more months to fulfill their enlistment of three years, it is understood.

Apparently, Uncle Sam would like to organize him a "Hicks fighting band." At any rate, we hope this little community has furnished its part. We extend the heartiest wishes to our departed enrollees.

Leland Chafins, prominent citizen of this place, has sold his farm to Curtis Ousley, "pulled stakes" and moved to the state of Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Chafins will be greatly missed by their host of friends.

Lacy Bailey is expected to return home from the CCC camp for Christmas vacation. He is located at Murray, Ky.

Amos Bailey and Guy Shepherd, of this place, are visiting Mr. Shepherd's sister's home in Lague, W. Va.

Ben Hicks, of this place, is now employed by a mining company in Carter county, Ky. Mr. Hicks expects to move to that area soon.

Mr. Alka Hicks, of this place, seems to be the "experimenter of the community." Mr. Hicks, an experienced hand in radio mechanics, spends his spare time investigating diligently in amateur work. He evidently has an original mind, but it isn't yet known just what his new ideas are. Perhaps he has in store for us something interesting.

Benton Whitaker, Sr., of Magoffin county, and only a few miles from Hippo, succumbed recently after a long period of illness. Mr. Whitaker, a very prominent man of elder age, will be greatly missed by many friends in both Floyd and Magoffin counties.

ROADS

Brush Creek road now seems to have a harder surface than it has ever had before. Since winter has begun, extremely low temperatures have frozen the "knee deep" mud and water into a solid mass. As long as we have the low degrees, we're blessed with a firm surfaced road—frosty and frozen! When a sudden change raises the temperature, where will we be?—in a mud hole!

Citizens of this place awoke Monday morning to view one of the worst sleets in recent years. The ground was covered in every direction with a heavy, glassy coat of ice. Telegraph lines sagged dangerously, and a certain man of this place covered something like half a mile in crossing a 100-foot suspension bridge. It sags in the center, and every time he walked up he slid back.

SCOUT MERIT BADGE SHOW

The Lonesome Pine Council held its annual Merit Badge Show at Wheelwright Saturday night at the high school gym. There were about 350 persons present at the exercises. The program started with a supper for the Scouts. The menu consisted of spaghetti. Following supper, the troops repaired to their respective booths to demonstrate their respective Merit Badges.

After demonstrations of the Merit badges, the leaders of the council made short talks on the subject of scouting. Mr. Wood, assistant regional director of Region Three, came from Cincinnati to attend the exer-

KY. WPA SEEKS $390,000 FUND

Immediate Purchases as Trade Aid Planned in Response to President's Appeal

Responding to President Roosevelt's plan of aiding business by bulk purchases now of materials to be used during forthcoming months by governmental agencies, the Kentucky WPA forwarded to Washington an application for $390,000 as a portion of the amount it expects to spend during January, February and March for non-labor, non-administrative items.

The funds will be used for purchases of materials and equipment of all kinds, and for rentals. The Works Department of the WPA estimated that by January 15 they can have orders issued for at least 70 per cent of the $390,000. Much material such as lumber, concrete, brick, steel, glass and the like can be obtained ahead in this manner.

On the basis of the $6 per man-month the Kentucky WPA estimated it would have to spend $390,000 during the forthcoming three months after December for materials and commodities, not including office supplies, that could be purchased now. That, however, is just over half of the total that would be expended for these purposes. Items which would not be paid for now include rentals of equipment and the like which are planned in connection with future projects.

MARTIN BASKETEERS DOWN BETSY LAYNE

Martin's Purple Flash defeated Betsy Layne Saturday night, 30-13. The score at the half was 13-8, in favor of Martin.

Martin completely outclassed Betsy Layne after the first quarter. The Purple Flash defense was good, not allowing Betsy Layne a short shot. All of their points came on long-range goals.

Griffith and Mandt were the outstanding players of the game. Griffith rang up 13 points and Mandt, the captain, seven points. Layne was outstanding for Betsy Layne with three points.

The game was well attended by persons from all Floyd county.

NEWS OF THE BIG SANDY

DAY FIGHTS GAS RATE

Pikeville—A large delegation will leave here next Tuesday night, December 14, for Frankfort for an appearance before the Public Service Commission the following day to protest against the present gas rate, it was announced today by Mayor K. J. Day, who will head the group. It is necessary to leave at this time because the meeting is scheduled for an early hour Wednesday, December 15, Mr. Day states.

THREE SCHOOLS BEING BUILT

Pikeville—erection of three new brick structures for the Pike county school system was started this week, it was announced by County Superintendent C. H. Farley, who stated the new buildings are necessary at Belfry, Hellier and Elkhorn City to properly care for the students and eliminate the payment of hundreds of dollars annually in rents. The cost of the three edifices, it was stated, will be approximately $240,000, a part of which is being supplied by a government agent.

SUSPECTS SEIZED

Louisa—Floyd Hall, 30, formerly of the Mill Creek section, near Fort Gay, and his cousin, William Hall, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milt Hall, of the Rich Creek section of this county, have been re-arrested by Wayne county officers in connection with the hold-up slaying last August of Samuel Napier, roadside merchant and restaurant proprietor, of near Ferguson, Wayne county.

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED

Louisa—An ordinance providing for the refunding of $39,000 worth of Louisa street paving bonds held by the Second National Bank of Ashland and Clyde R. Levi, trustee or the shareholders of the Ashland National Bank, was introduced and given its first reading at the regular meeting of the Louisa city council Tuesday night.

TRUCK WRECKS

Louisa—En route home from Louisa with a casket which had been purchased here for his dead sister, Damer Burchett, 24, of the Twin Branch section, was seriously injured Wednesday when the truck skidded off the icy road and turned over several times at a point near where the Twin Branch road connects with the Blaine road near Richard Moores.

OFFICIALS NAMED

Paintsville—The newly elected city council met Monday night at the city hall to re-elect Mayor F. S. Vanhoush and a complete set of officials for the coming four-year term.

D. Boone Trimble, chief of police, was re-elected.

W. H. Cox was named police Judge and Mrs. Ruth Wells was named city attorney.

Sheriff Fred Adams, whose term is soon to expire, and Raymond Melvin, formerly chief of police here, were named on the night police force, replacing Patrolmen Ward and Harrington.

Jeff Allen was appointed to the street cleaning department.

WOMAN NAMED CITY ATTORNEY

Paintsville—It is just a rough guess that Mrs. Ruth Wells, who was named city attorney of Paints-ville by the city council Monday night, is the only woman city attorney in Kentucky and perhaps the only one in the United States.

Mrs. Wells has been a practicing attorney here for many years and is one of the keenest-minded lawyers in the state. She has handled some mighty important cases and has assisted her law partner, Z. Wells, in many others where it was not generally known that she was taking part.

Paintsville—The two-story saw-mill building, a sawmill, grist mill, planer, considerable lumber and other equipment of George Crace, at Ivyton, seven miles from Salyersville, were completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin last Thursday night, according to Paris Crace, of Paintsville, son of the owner. The loss was estimated by Mr. Crace at over $40,000.

Now Tom touches the starter and it seems that the gadget lets out a shriek like a steam whistle and Tom leaps from the car and excitedly jumps here and there and the next thing anybody knows the gadget explodes and what Tom says is nobody's business.

Look Alikes: David May and cinema warbler, James Melton.

Purely Personal Piffle: I was very sorry to learn of the passing of Enoch Grehan, lovable and kindly journalism department head at the University of Kentucky. I wish that Charlie McCarthy would be stricken with laryngitis . . . that Prestonsburg might have a community Christmas tree for the indigent. Things I like to hear: "Uncle" Jo M. Davidson's cheery, "Good morning, son," Professor Quiz's "That's absolutely correct," and the sound of Norman Allen's pen as he writes pay-day checks.

Mot of the week by a local punster: "The gal with the male-pouched eyes."

MINERS MEET

(Continued from page one) Mr. Stapleton, in his address, traced the evolution of organized labor in this section from 1933 when Congress passed the National Recovery Act on down through the period of organization to the present. "The Marrowbone section," he stated, "is one of the only three sections of the entire coal industry of the United States now unorganized."

Resolutions affecting the Henry Clay situation and the organization of various crafts and industries were approved at the meeting. Floyd county miners pledged their attendance Sunday at a mass meeting held at Henry Clay.

Edward L. Allen, Prestonsburg attorney, who with Senator Joe P. Tackett represented Henry Clay miners in the Pike circuit court following mine disorders, vouched for the friendship of Prestonsburg toward the mine workers, emphasizing the fact that they were always welcome here and that town and county officials would, when notified in advance, make proper preparations for their reception here.

Joe Hicks, president of Wayland local, and John Mead, president of the Van Lear local, spoke briefly, telling of their experiences as union workers and pointing to the achievements of their respective locals. Sheriff-elect Dial Salisbury, Mr. Tackett, president, Pikeville CIO local and Mr. Bayes, Van Lear CIO local president, made brief addresses.

Tom Raney, district union head, and Harry Ratliff, union organizer, were among the labor officials attending the meeting.

Storekeeper Arrested

In the meeting held at Henry Clay mine on Marrowbone in Pike county Sunday, Lewis Flanery, Henry Clay storekeeper, was arrested and charged, it is alleged, with drunken driving, attempting to disturb meeting, and attempting to run over men. He was released under $1,000 bond. Approximately 700 attended the meeting, among them several Floyd county mine workers.

Prestonsburg Suspended

cats downed easily. Due to the forfeiting of games Prestonsburg was knocked from a tie with Paintsville for the Big Sandy Conference title, and Paintsville became the sole leader.

Ranking of the conference teams before the suspension was:

Teams	W.	L.	Pct
Paintsville	3	1	.750
Prestonsburg	3	1	.750
Pikeville	2	1	.667
Belfry	1	2	.333
Van Lear	0	4	.000

Ranking after the suspension:

Teams	W.	L.	Pct.
Paintsville	3	1	.750
Pikeville	2	1	.667
Belfry	2	1	.667
Prestonsburg	1	3	.250
Van Lear	1	3	.250

News of this suspension did not reach here until the basketball team was on the floor for its season-opening doubleheader. Six members of the basketball squad are members of the football team, whose efforts, are now, almost for naught. They are: Rice, Craft, Allen, Carter, Bailey and Junior Mayo. Allen, Craft and Carter are on the first string basketball five.

In the opening game the first string did not enter the line-up until the Meade Memorial basketball team had piled up a large lead over junior members of the squad. They entered the game in the last to halt their opponents' scoring spree, but were unable to overcome their opponents' lead.

The second game against the Oil Springs quintet was a nip-and-tuck affair throughout, being won in the final twenty seconds of play by a fieldgoal shot by Wheeler of Oil Springs, giving his team a 37-36 victory.

At the first quarter the score stood 6-6. At the half Prestonsburg had piled up a sizable lead, 20-12, but, paced by their sharp-shooting captain, Wheeler, the Oil Springs basketballers quickly overhauled the lead. In the game's final moments, fieldgoals by Craft and Carter, of Prestonsburg, and by Wheeler, kept the lead shifting from one team to the other.

It is expected that, although the regular schedule for the Cat team will be cancelled, the basketball team will continue practice, either by playing independent teams or by inter-mural activities.
