Drum and Bugle Corps Is Started by Floyd Post of American Legion

With 16 drums and bugles already ordered, the formation of a drum and bugle corps from the members of the American Legion Squadron No. 1 is well under way. Lon S. Moles, sponsor of the Squadron, said Tuesday. The Squadron is composed of sons of the Legionnaires of Floyd American Legion Post 129.

Although only 11 boys were present at the Legion's meeting at the courthouse Saturday, a much larger membership is expected for the corps. Legion officers have hopes of eventually finding 50 youngsters to add to the beginners.

Boys present at the Saturday meeting were: David Corbin, Clifford Marshall, Berkin Marshall, Robert Stanley, Jerry Stephens, Harris Stephens, Howard Woodford, Howard John Huff and Hershel Eddie and Charles Tackett.

Legion officers said that John Hensley and Carl Corbin would instruct the boys in the use of the instruments. As more youngsters join the corps, instruments will be awarded the most proficient. Officers also said that an attempt to buy uniforms for the boys would be made later on.

MEN TO BE TRAINED TO CHECK FARMERS' PROJECTS FOR ACP

Crew of Eight Men Will Be Trained to Start July 22 Isbell Announces

Floyd county farmers will receive approximately $25,000 through the soil conservation program this year if they take advantage of all opportunities open to them under the national Agricultural Conservation program. County Agent S. L. Isbell announced this week, as preparations were being made to train men for the checking of the performances of farmers enrolled in the ACP.

A crew of eight men who will do the checking, beginning the last week in July and lasting about two months will meet at the county agent's office July 21, for training instructions.

Agent Isbell stated that 609 Floyd farms have been registered to receive benefit payments. The checking crew will measure the acreage of fields set out as projects under the ACP. Where farmers are not getting their full allowances they will be notified and advised as to how they can be paid for the maximum amount of land.

Farmers are paid certain amounts for sowing land to various crops, but experts are urging the maximum spreading of lime and the maximum sowing of clover. Pay per ton for lime spread is $2.00 and two tons should be spread per acre. Mr. Isbell says. The pay for sowing clover is $2.00 per acre.

SPINAL MENINGITIS HITS FRALEY TOT: 7 FAMILIES PUT UNDER QUARANTINE

Spinal meningitis struck the five months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fraley of West Prestonsburg, late last week for the second isolated individual meningitis attack in two weeks within the county. After laboratory tests at the Paintsville hospital, where the child is now recovering, proved the identity of the disease, seven West Prestonsburg families were placed under quarantine by the Floyd county health department.

Although three members of the Fraley family who were said to have been exposed to the stricken child went to Flemingsburg before the quarantine was declared in West Prestonsburg, Floyd health officials notified the Fleming county health officials and the three persons were placed under quarantine there. Health authorities here expect no serious outcome of the disease, but no safety measures are being overlooked.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Seeking Contentment. SANTA MONICA, CALIF. — Out in the desert country I met kindly, hospitable folk bravely making the best of things on remote, small homesteads.

On little far-away ranches, on reservation trading posts, they are educating their children by resolute self-sacrifice; keeping in touch with the world through radio, through books and magazines and newspapers; and almost invariably content with their lives and proud of their struggles and living comfortably — yes, and happily—within their means, however meager.

Irvin S. Cobb

Then I come back to crowded cities where wealth seems only to make the inmates dissatisfied because somebody with greater wealth puts on a gaudier show of ostentation and extravagance. And I see the man who feverishly is striving after riches so that when he breaks down he may afford the most expensive nerve specialist. And the spoiled woman who was born with a silver spoon in her mouth, but judging by her expression the spoon must have been full of castor oil—and the flavor lasts. And the poor little rich children who have everything now and so will have nothing—except maybe dollars—when they grow up.

Curious, isn't it, that so little buys such a lot for some people and such a lot buys so little for the others?

The Return of Prosperity.

I CAN'T help gloating over what appeared in this space when I predicted that the temperamental and fickle bird of passage known as prosperity was winging its way back. Because the Better Business bureau reports that sellers of no-good stocks are showing increased activity.

Moreover, I hear that for the first time in years practically all the veteran bunco-steers are off relief. The lean times when the locusts of depression gnawed away our substance must indeed be over if the customers begin to nibble more freely at the same dependable old baits.

So, as he thumbs his copy of the sucker list against the morrow's campaign, I seem to hear Mr. Henry J. Slickguy (late of Leavenworth but now opening offices in the Wall street district) murmuring to himself:

"Happy days are here again! Drouth may kill the corn, Rust rots the wheat. Boll weevils destroy the cotton. But, thanks be, there's one crop in America which never fails!" Have you a little gold brick in your home, dear reader? Well, don't worry, nobody's going to be slighted. Ere long you'll get your chance to invest in one.

Making Mental Slips.

THE most incredible thing has come to pass. Here I go along, year after year, building up a reputation for invariably being right, the same as George Bernard Shaw and Mme. Secretary Perkins. Then—bango!—I make one little slip and the trusting reader is shocked from pit to dome.

The other day I suggested taxing salaries of governmental employees. Now from all sides I'm told federal employees are subject to income taxes; only the vast majority of them, and probably the hardest-worked ones, draw such small wages that they owe Uncle Sam nothing when March 15 rolls around.

So far as I recall, this is the second time in my life I've been wrong. I can't cite what the other instance was—some very trifling matter, no doubt—but it must have occurred because I remember the nation-wide excitement which ensued, with people going around in a daze muttering: "Can it be possible?"

I now admit that early error and the recent one, too, and humbly beg pardon of my devoted public—all eight of them. It'll never happen again.

Conquered Champions.

IT HAS been brought to the attention of Mr. James J. Braddock that something happened to him a while back. Probably, by now, he has quit wondering whether many others were caught in the earthquake, but is reported to be still saying "Ouch!" at intervals. And now, as is customary, his backers will insist he demand a return engagement—or disaster—with the Brown Bomber. But if I were Mr. Braddock—game though he be—I think I'd pattern my reply on the example of the gentleman who was knocked galley-west by a bit-and-run motorist.

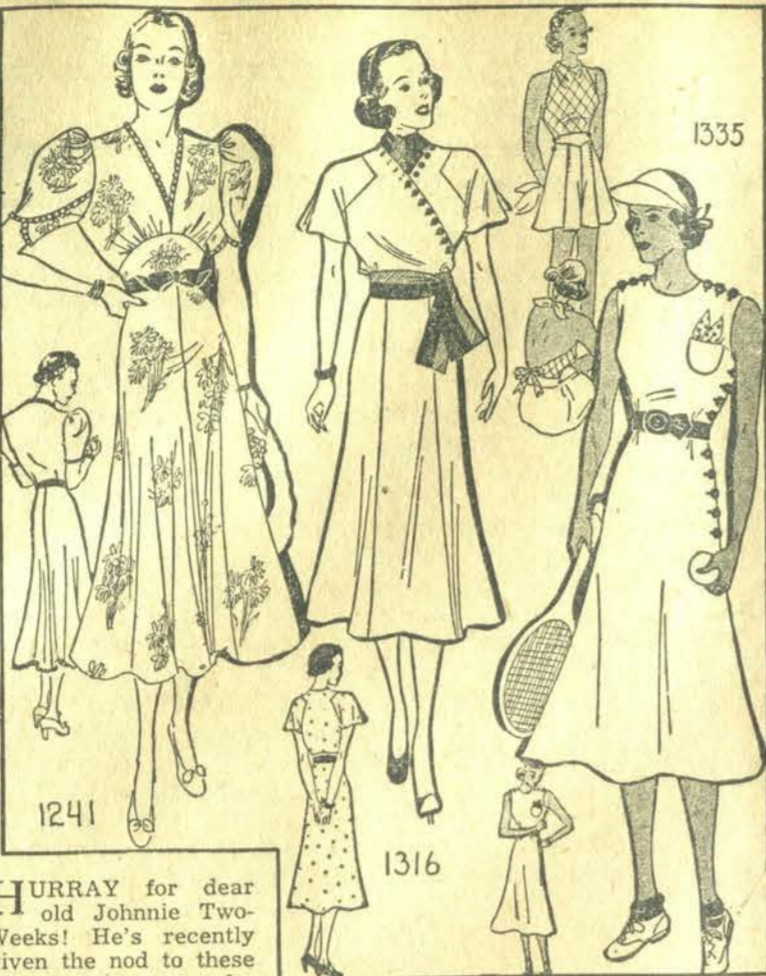

As the dazed pedestrian was trying feebly to ascertain whether he was all in one piece, a kind-hearted citizen hurried up.

"Have an accident?" he inquired, brightly.

"No, thank you," said the victim, "just had one."

Fashions at Vacationland

HURRAY for dear old Johnnie Two-Weeks! He's recently given the nod to these three sweet young laborers and now they're off reaping the rewards. Yes, they're vacationing—and how! But, of course, Sew-Your-Own had them dressed right up to the hilt.

Miss M, picturesque blonde, above, left, knows what glamour is and how to have it. That's why she chose this softly feminine frock with its swirling skirt and delicately slim waist. You should see her of an evening in the outdoor terrace. She's a picture in black gossamer chiffon trimmed with white satin. And to think, she made it all herself!

Miss B, above, center, and center of attraction at the Surf club, has everything under perfect control as she strolls along the boardwalk. With not a care in her pretty head, and lots of streamlining in her natty little sports dress, she walks with confidence and pride.

Miss Y, the sports enthusiast at the right, says that her three piece ensemble is so very very and practical she wears it almost to the exclusion of her other frocks. Her idea is to soak up as much sunshine as possible, and that's pretty easy to do when she wears the halter and shorts sans dress.

Giving and Asking

In offering help, you make a step toward gaining a friend; in asking it, you please by this mark of confidence. The result of this will be a constant habit of mutual forbearance, and a fear to be disobliging in matters of greater importance.

Sunday School Lesson

GOD ENCOURAGES A LEADER

International Sunday School Lesson for July 18, 1937

Golden Text: "The Lord will give strength unto his people."—Psalm 29:11.

In our lesson for last week we saw the manner in which God selected and called a leader. We have also seen in these first two lessons just how God had prepared the man whom he was to call.

Moses is still standing before the burning bush, talking with God. As pointed out he fully recognizes the unorganized condition of his people the Israelites and the immensity of the task which confronts anyone who is to assume the task of leading them out of Egypt.

In a spirit, we think of humbleness and perhaps of self-consciousness, more than unwillingness, Moses argues the matter with God. In verse 13 of Exodus 3, he questions whether the children of Israel will accept him as their God-sent deliverer and we can readily understand this attitude of Moses.

To this line of questioning thought God replied, "I am that I am." Say unto the children of Israel, I am hath sent me unto you. Names meant a great deal to the Hebrews and the name of God was descriptive to them of his attributes. In the story of the creation God is called Elohim, the God of Power; to Abraham in a strange land El Shaddai; God Almighty; to Melchizedek, El Elyon; the Most High; to Moses and the children of Israel God gives himself the name Ehyeh, I am I AM. When he is named by others he is Jehve. He is the name denotes the absolute self-existence of God.

He is, lifted above time and change, self-existing and self-determining, he is the fountain of life, the same forever. God tells Moses to first call all the elders of the people together and announce his God-given mission to deliver them from bondage and bring them once again to the land which God had promised them and, after this meeting to go to Pharaoh and ask for permission to take the children of Israel on a three-days' journey to offer sacrifices unto their God.

Even after all of this, Moses seems not to be thoroughly convinced that he is the right one to be the leader of his people. He pleads that he is not eloquent; that he is slow of speech and of a slow tongue, not realizing that God needs something more for the guidance of man than the fluent gift of speech. The reply of God to this was to call Moses' attention to the fact that He was the giver of man's mouth, the maker of man dumb or deaf, the giver of sight. God then commands, "Now therefore go, and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt speak." To this Moses replies, "Send whom thou wilt, Lord!" Dr. F. B. Meyer considers this to say, "Since thou art determined to send me, and I must undertake the mission, then let it be so; but I would that it might have been another, and I go because I am compelled." God then tells Moses that his brother Aaron who "can speak well, shall act as his spokesman to the people: he shall serve as a mouthpiece for you, and you shall inspire him."

Accepting his task, Moses takes leave of his father-in-law Jethro and with his wife and sons starts for his former home. He meets his brother, Aaron in the desert and they together appear before the children of Israel in Egypt to tell them what God has assured them must be done. The people believed that God had taken pity on them and their suffering and so they bowed their heads and worshipped him.

They went from this meeting to see Pharaoh to make their request for a three days journey into the wilderness but the Egyptians fearing some trickery, that through this pretext they might make their escape, refused their request; but instead multiplied their burdens the more.

Moses undertook the tremendous task which God had given him and once turning his hand to the plow, never looked back. He was God's appointed agent, doing God's will and he was conscious at all times of the fact that God was with him in his undertaking. Are we willing to undertake the "impossible" for God?

DEEPER OIL AND GAS WELLS TO BE SUNK

Floyd County Producers Hope to Tap New Sands This Year

Hueysville, Ky., July 15.—(Spl.)—Preparations this week by several oil and gas companies now operating in Floyd county, to drill to greater depths for crude oil are holding the spotlight of interest. Plans already made call for the drilling of several test wells into the Weir, Berea and other deep sands which, if they prove profitable, may put even greater emphasis on Floyd county as Kentucky's leading oil and gas producer.

William Sexton, of Garrett field superintendent for the South Penn Oil Company of Irvine, Ky., says 35 years of experience in Floyd oil fields have led him to believe that great stores of oil lie in the deeper sands of the county. Mr. Sexton's company is not one of those participating in the new venture, however. Hundreds of oil wells that formerly gave up rich quantities of oil from shallow sands and were abandoned when they failed to produce, will be reopened and drilled to the lower sands if the venture proves successful, it is said.

Nice strikes are reported in test wells drilled into the deeper sands of the Johnson-Magoffin section, and there is every reason to believe that the Floyd Knott area will compare favorably with the neighboring area.

Test wells are being sunk to a depth of 4,000 feet in some instances and may go to even greater depths. If these wells show good production drilling on a big scale is expected to take place in the county this summer and fall.

Increase in crude oil prices has intensified new work since January 1. Kentucky crude oil now tops in price most of the country's grades with the exception of the Pennsylvania grade. Big Sandy valley crude brings $1.42, Kentucky river crude, $1.50, and Western Kentucky crude, $1.42.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

I regret to announce to my many friends and supporters that it has become necessary for me to withdraw from the race for County Judge; but in doing so I am glad to announce to you that I will support a man of integrity and ability for said office. I feel that Edward P. Hill is eminently fitted by his legal training and ability to make you a good County Judge.

I feel that he is not only eminently fitted by his experience and legal training, but that he has the honesty and integrity to do the job even better than I could do it myself.

I appeal to those who so loyally supported me before I withdrew that they now support Edward P. Hill for this office. I feel that it is the patriotic duty of every citizen of Floyd county to support him as against those who would exploit our county to enrich themselves.

In conclusion I wish to thank again and again those who have so loyally supported me in this fight and others and I wish to assure them that I will be ready at all times to espouse the cause of the people of my county.

BRAINARD

Brainard schools opened July 5 with Ralph Spradlin and Miss Naomi Spradlin teachers at the Needmore school; George W. Spradlin at the Johnson school and Miss Josephine Spradlin at the State Road Fork school.

Mrs. Mort Salyer, son Lonnie and daughters, Misses Mildred, Ruby and Helen and Miss Evelyn Parker were visitors at Tom Adams' and Charley Hackworth's, relatives of the Salyers family, the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Salyers, who have lived in Indiana for many years, have many friends here. It is Miss Parker's first visit to the Kentucky hills and she expresses much pleasure over them.

The registration of voters from Brainard is very heavy this year. Interest in the election seems to be growing rapidly and only a very small number of those eligible have failed to register. Due to this Prestonsburg has probably had more from this address the past month than in any other similar period.

Many candidates have been campaigning here the past week. With our roads as they are, most of the number are thankful the primary comes in August instead of January. The Norman Holbrook Saw mill has been moved to near the Needmore school, where Mr. Holbrook has a sawing contract with Bruce and Cash Hackworth.

Another form of registration was necessary the past week. WPA and NYA workers had to go to Pikeville or Prestonsburg for re-registration for employment. Pikeville is about 40 miles from Brainard and a full day is necessary for the trip.

Tom Hill of Bonanza, was a business visitor here this week.

A pessimist might look at the eager faces that follow the willow path to school these days and find life good again.

Beecher Stapleton was a business visitor here from Paintsville last Thursday.

Crops are growing splendidly here, fruit is abundant and there is a general note of cheerfulness over the prospects of a "good year." It is quite a contrast with last summer.

United Mine Workers of America Open Drive for Francis M. Burke For Attorney General.

The Honorable Ed J. Morgan, President of District No. 23, United Mine Workers of America, and the Hon. John Hanratty, Field Representative, Big Sandy Division, district No. 30, will open organized labor campaign for Francis M. Burke for Attorney General with a rally at Wheelwright, Ky., at which it is expected an overflow crowd of United Mine Workers and citizens generally will be present. President Morgan is a citizen of Western Kentucky, living in the same section of the state as Mr. Meredith who is opposing Burke in this campaign, and no doubt President Morgan will bring to the people of Eastern Kentucky an unusually interesting message relative to the attitude that Mr. Meredith has taken for the past several years toward organized labor. Following this rally Mr. Morgan and Mr. Hanratty will make speeches at Garrett, Hazard, Fleming, Jenkins and Van Lear consuming a two days speaking tour in District 30. Definite plans for further campaigning has not at this time been worked out, but organized labor is in the field actively and with a full determination to elect their friend, and defeat their enemy.

News comes from Congressional District No. 2 (Mr. Meredith's home district) that because of his past antagonism toward labor he will lose his home district by a substantial majority to Mr. Burke. Organized labor's pleasure in supporting Mr. Burke is based largely on the fact that he is an ex-coal miner himself. It is hoped everybody will attend the speaking at Wheelwright Saturday, July 17, 10 o'clock a. m., same date Hazard, 6:30 o'clock p. m., same date Fleming, 10 o'clock a. m., Sunday, July 18; Jenkins, 1 o'clock p. m., same date; and Van Lear, 6 o'clock p. m., same date.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

I hereby respectfully submit the following as the reasons why you should vote for and nominate me as the Democratic candidate for Representative from Floyd county at the August primary.

LABOR

I am a charter member of the Garrett Local Union No. 5902. I was practically raised in a coal mine. My many brothers and relatives are all miners. I was born on Beaver Creek in the mining section. For a period of 20 years I have taken an active part in all labor movements in behalf of the laboring man. I have nominated and elected I intend to use every effort in attempting to amend the Workmen's Compensation Law to the end that it will really "compensate" the injured working man. Our Kentucky Workmen's Compensation law is one of the worst in any of the states of the union, and should be modeled after those of some of the more progressive states. I shall vote for and fight for every law intended for the betterment of labor in Kentucky and will be guided by the intelligent leadership of such men as Sam Caddy, Wm. Turnblazer, and our great leader John L. Lewis and I will "NOT BE" dictated to by a little group of selfish politicians at Frankfort as some of our Representatives have done.

If you nominate and elect me you may rest assured that you will have a one hundred percent "LABOR" Representative at Frankfort. I will not swallow the self-prepared and self-serving program prepared by Happy Chandler or any other politician as our Representative and my opponent, Mel Petry, did at the last session of the Legislature.

EDUCATION

I favor and will vote for a law electing County Superintendents by direct vote of the people and not by a few politicians. I will also vote for and expect to fight for a law that will "compel" the County Board of Education to employ the teacher recommended by the local subdistrict trustee and this will apply not only to the rural schools but to the consolidated schools. I am a Jeffersonian Democrat to the effect that I believe that the "people" are entitled to a voice in their school affairs, and that their chosen school trustees should have a voice in the selection of school teachers. We need "fewer" school supervisors, and more and better school teachers.

GOOD ROADS

It is common knowledge that our mountain roads have all these years been neglected. Although the state's money is being spent in large sums on the rural roads in other parts of Kentucky, very little, if any, is being spent in our mountain counties. I expect to introduce and fight for a law placing the road from the forks of Middle Creek up the left fork of Middle Creek and down Brush Creek connecting with the Beaver highway at the mouth of Brush Creek on the State Rural Highway program. Likewise the road from the mouth of Mud Creek up Mud Creek across the mountain and down Clear Creek to the Left Beaver highway should be placed on the State Rural Highway plan; also the John Creek road should be completed at the earliest possible date. I will also use my every effort in cooperation with our WPA authorities to the end that more money will be made available for the immediate construction and completion of the many rural projects already begun and many others to follow. I will use my every effort in bringing this much needed highway aid to Floyd county.

The above are a few of the many things which I have in mind in behalf of our people, and for which I expect to fight if you send me to Frankfort as your Representative. My opponent, Mel Petry, has made his record. I invite you to investigate it and see whether or not it has been in the interest of the laboring man, the farmers and the school children of Floyd county. I submit that it has not. If you believe that I will stand for your interest and work in your behalf as your Representative, I respectfully request your support.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

Continued from page one: state realize the tremendous difficulties involved in securing documentary proof of age, citizenship, and residence of applicants in order to prove legal eligibility in accordance to both state and federal laws.

"If the applicants that have not been investigated would collect any family records in the way of Bibles, marriage certificates, insurance policies, licenses or baptismal certificates it would facilitate matters a great deal when the home visit is made by the field worker. The Division appreciates the fine cooperation our workers have been given from the many thousands of people that have been given as references, postmasters, bankers, merchants and other respected citizens of the various communities."

A noteworthy development in the program of Old Age Assistance in Kentucky during the past few months has been the tremendous increase in the number of denials. This has been due to the fact that the most needy cases were selected and given preference during the early months of this program, thereby preventing an unfair burden or preventing actual starvation in the taxpayers of the state. The money appropriated is only sufficient for the most needy old people in the state. It seems quite evident many thousands applied who were not eligible but hoped that only a superficial check would be made and therefore they out regard to their eligibility would receive assistance with-

It is the policy of the Division to investigate each applicant thoroughly and to make grants only to those persons legally eligible for such assistance, thereby preventing an unfair burden or preventing actual starvation in the taxpayers of the state.

Smoke Small Particles Suspended in the Air

Smoke is nothing more than myriads of small solid particles suspended in the air, writes Dr. Thomas M. Beck in the Chicago Tribune. These particles are denser than air, yet they settle only with extreme slowness because of two facts. A falling body soon reaches a speed at which its weight is balanced by the air resistance opposing its motion. This resistance is roughly proportional to the amount of surface exposed, and the smaller the body, the greater the ratio of surface to weight and the slower its rate of fall through air. Smoke particles usually are so small that their rates of fall hardly are perceptible. In addition, the particles' motion through the air causes them to pick up electrical charges, and the mutual repulsion of these charges prevents the particles from coalescing into larger particles which would fall more quickly.

It is a surprising fact that these smoke particles are much harder to remove from air than are the far smaller molecules of a gaseous impurity. Air can be freed from foreign gases by bubbling it through the right kind of absorbing liquid or by passing it through a loosely packed mass of a porous solid absorbent. These methods frequently fail with smokes.

The reason for this difference lies in the fact that the small, light gas molecules are in a state of constant motion, and travel at incredible speeds which quickly bring them into contact with the absorbing material. On the other hand the far heavier smoke particles drift very slowly through the rest of the gas, and only a few of them have time to reach the absorbent.

Invented the Lifeboat

The first lifeboat of which any complete account exists was invented by a Frenchman in 1765; but there are no records that it was ever used, says London Answers Magazine. So the honor of designing the lifeboat as we know it may be divided between three Englishmen. Would have invented the self-righting boat; Lukin designed the non-self-righting sailing lifeboat; and Greathead actually built the first lifeboat. This noteworthy vessel was launched at Newcastle-on-Tyne in 1789; it did good service for thirty years, saving hundreds of lives.

"Seven Great Gaelic Families" Laoighis, considered by many as the builder of Irish civilization, was the ancient territory of the "seven great Gaelic families" whose Septs were the patrons of literature and art, where Gaelic poetry and learning flourished for seven centuries. Interest in Laoighis divides between old Irish settlements and the churches and castles associated with the early Renaissance periods.
