

Floyd County Times

The Oldest Established Newspaper
In Floyd County

A PROGRESSIVE PAPER FOR PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE

ELEVENTH YEAR

NUMBER 23

Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky,

Friday, June 18, 1937

$1.50 PER YEAR

COURT STREET, AND OTHERS INCLUDED IN WIDENING PROGRAM

WPA Project Will Also Build Sidewalks and Drains

$26,287 ALLOWED

With the cement already ordered, WPA workers will soon begin to widen Prestonsburg's streets and the building of sidewalks, on the new $26,287 WPA project which was recently approved by Washington officials through the efforts of Mayor Carter and the assistance of Congressman A. J. May. Work on this project is already under way, as a crew of laborers under the supervision of A. J. Archer of Prestonsburg are crushing the necessary rock.

"Widening of the city's thoroughfares will begin within a week at the most," Mayor Carter stated to The Times Wednesday. Work will be concentrated on the widening of Court street, especially near the courthouse, and the widening of First street near the banks. Others will be widened as much as possible. Streets with broken curbs will also be repaired and drains will be built and repaired wherever needed.

Sidewalks will also be constructed in various places. Mayor Carter stated. Sidewalks on both sides of the Mayo Trail will be constructed and a sidewalk on Court street from the postoffice to Harkins law office will be completed.

A portion of the funds will be used to build sidewalks on Second street near the Garfield Addition, after the funds already available are used to construct a fill where the old bridge, which is barred to traffic, now is. Mayor Carter stated that approximately 75 men would be used on the project which would last about six months.

MASONS HOLD MEET

Masons from Floyd, Martin and Johnson counties will meet with the Masons of Pike county at Pikeville today and tonight. Walter W. Walters, master of the Pikeville lodge announced. A number of visitors are also expected from Williamson and nearby West Virginia cities.

Mr. Walters also stated that a number of state Masonic officials would be present, among them being Grand Grand Master Innes B. Ross, of Carlisle.

"Plainsong" As It Is Sung In Kentucky Hills to Be Heard

Gregorian, or Plainsong, the earliest known form of church music, little changed in the Kentucky hills by the passing of the centuries will be demonstrated at a religious folk song festival to be held at the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, Prestonsburg, on Wednesday, June 23 at 8:00 o'clock. Five choirs will interpret liturgical music under the direction of Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James, Prestonsburg, area supervisor of the Recreation Department, of WPA.

In the eighth century, Pope Gregory arranged the Psalms for chanting, thus being the originator of Gregorian or Plainsong. The chants were sent to England and from there were brought by our

KENTUCKY (WEST VA.) POWER CO. MAY BE BOUGHT BY JUNE 22

An application asking for permission to transfer its properties to the Appalachian Power Company of Virginia has been filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission at Frankfort by the Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company. The commission will hold a hearing on the application June 22.

The Appalachian Electric Power Company, which owns the Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company may, after the hearing, then become the operating company in Kentucky.

M. C. Funk, general manager of the Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company, said that the proposed transfer to the Appalachian Power Company of the Kentucky and West Virginia properties would really mean a reabsorption by the parent company of its subsidiary. He said that operations and transaction of business in the Big Sandy territory would not be materially affected by the transfer of ownership.

COOKING SCHOOL IS TO BE SPONSORED BY KY. AND W. VA. CO.

Prizes Will Be Awarded at Two Day Meet at M. E. Church, South

A two day cooking school, sponsored by the Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company, will be held at the Methodist Church here July 1 and 2 from 2 to 4 p. m. The meeting is open to everyone who wishes to attend.

The school will be conducted by Miss Louise Peters, home economist expert. Tickets will be distributed at the door to attending persons, so that holders of the lucky numbers may be awarded food prizes.

The organization or club with the largest attendance for two days, will be awarded 10 cents per person, up to a total of $5, it was announced.

Jail Inmate Faces Hanging

Facing death by hanging in the courthouse yard, life in the penitentiary, or acquittal, Brittan Tyree, 35 years old, is lodged in jail here charged with the criminal act of a nine year old girl in this county. Tyree is married and is the father of two children.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS FARMERS TO MEET GO TO STATE MEET TO ELECT OFFICERS

Local Representatives Make Excellent Showing in Contests

Floyd county was represented at the Junior 4-H Club Week just held at Lexington by Emma Gillespie, club leader, Addie B. Boyd, Ruby Stratton and Carmel Clark of the Betsy Layne 4-H club, and by W. L. Badridge, Jr. and Clyde Music, of Little Paint 4-H club. County Agent Isbell announced Monday.

The feature events of the week included a style revue, sponsored by the Courier-Journal; a health contest; judging of baked and canned foods and demonstrations in farm and home practice.

Ruby Stratton, of Betsy Layne was entered in the style show with 63 other contestants from all over the state of Kentucky. According to County Agent Isbell, she made a creditable showing.

Carmel Clark, of Betsy Layne, was among the 91 entrants in the health contest. W. L. Badridge and Clyde Music, of Little Paint, were entered in the poultry division of the farm demonstration contests. All three of these Floyd countians made excellent showings, although failing to win first places. Of the 25 teams entered in the poultry division, the team of little Paint would have placed third if other than first places had been awarded.

The Floyd County 4-H delegation remained at Lexington through at Junior Week. Among the speakers were Governor A. B. Chandler and Frank McVey, President of the University of Kentucky. Lectures and classroom work dealt with Kentucky wild life, music, literature and kindred subjects. The various clubs also visited Frankfort in special buses, which took them to the state capitol, the state museum and to call on the governor.

AIR-CONDITIONED CARS INSTALLED BY C. & O. ON BIG SANDY DIVISION

Although Mark Twain claimed everyone talked about the weather but failed to do anything about it, officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad at Prestonsburg, claim their railroad has, air-conditioned coaches have now been placed on trains No. 36 and 39 operating through Prestonsburg.

New coaches fully equipped with air-conditioning apparatus will be on the C. and O. Big Sandy line not only for the summer, but for all time. Station officials say that plans are also being made to place the new type of coaches on other passenger trains on the Ashland-Elkhorn run within the next two weeks.

The worry of "passenger car windows that just couldn't be opened" is eliminated with the new type coaches, as fresh and cooled air is available while they are shut. Likewise will the "cinder in the eye" worry be eliminated with closed windows.

MEETING IS PLANNED

There will be a memorial meeting and a basket dinner at the West Prestonsburg cemetery Sunday, June 20 to which everyone is invited. Among the ministers that will be heard are: the Rev. John Joseph, Steve Whitaker, Mason Fitzpatrick, W. G. Ratliff, G. R. Fannin and Mrs. Cora Fannin.

Farmers Will Vote, Next Week, On Different Days

County Agent S. L. Isbell is mailing notices to farmers this week, notifying them that there will be an election of officers for the Floyd County Agriculture Conservation program next week. County and community committee men will be elected.

Farmers eligible to vote are those who have signed work sheets either in 1936 or 1937. Tenants living on farms, whose owners have signed up, are also eligible.

Any of the farmers, in this classification are eligible for office except those who are candidates for any county or public office, or those who may now be installed in any public office.

Farmers will meet and vote according to the communities in which they live, which was decided by directors of the Floyd county ACP. These communities are the Prestonsburg community, which will vote at the county agent's office at Prestonsburg June 22, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. The Beaver Creek community, which will meet at Martin in the high school from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. The Abbott Creek community will vote at the county agent's office in Prestonsburg June 24 and the Middle Creek community will vote in the county agent's office June 25.

County Agent Isbell insists that all farmers be present not only for the election of officers, but to hear him discuss crops and soil pertaining to individual farmers.

The following post offices comprise the various communities: Prestonsburg Community: Dana, Grethel, Homer, Banner, Harold, Teaberry, Lancer, Beaver, Donie, McDowell, Galveston, Edgar, Osborne, German, Betsy Layne, Dewey, Craner, Wheelwright, Emma, Melvin, Tram, Fed, Thomas, Endicott, Prestonsburg, Ivel, Woods, Dwale and Auxier.

Beaver Creek Community is composed of farmers receiving mail at the following post offices: Hueysville, Wayland, Estill, Langley, Martin, Alphonetta, Printer, Allen, Hunter, Cracker, Lackey, Garrett and Eastern.

The Middle Creek community is composed of Pyramid, Goodloe, Risner, Blue River. Continued on page eight

FLOYD CO. LEGIONNAIRES WILL ATTEND VETERANS' CONVENTION AT HAZARD

Floyd county will be represented at the tenth district American Legion convention to be held in Hazard, June 19 and 20, by the following delegates from Floyd Legion Post 129.

Commander Ed Sutton, Joe Henson, Marvin Marshall, Joe Tackett and W. G. Africa. The following veterans were selected as alternates: Clyde Burchett, J. B. Clark, Jay Salyers, Tom Burchett, and W. L. Stephens. The same delegates or alternates will attend the state convention to be held at Paris soon after. Plans for welcoming the visitors at Hazard have been completed by Hazard Legionnaires. The program for the convention will include a parade Saturday morning at 10 a. m., a banquet Saturday evening, and a dance Saturday night. Speeches and addresses of welcome will be given by prominent speakers.

LOCAL BANKERS ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING HELD AT PIKEVILLE JUNE 10TH

The district convention of bankers at Pikeville, Ky., was strongly represented by bankers from Prestonsburg, of whom Jo M. Davidson, of the Bank Josephine, made an address following a banquet at the Hatcher Hotel, Saturday evening.

Including Mr. Davidson, others representing the Bank Josephine were: Ralph Archer, Joseph D. Harkins, Sr., Mrs. Osa Ligon and Mrs. Iley B. Browning, of Ashland, Henry Stephens, Jr., and B. F. Combs were representatives of the First National Bank.

With Pikeville donning a holiday garb for the visiting bankers, and numerous trips taken to surrounding points of interest, Pikeville placed its entertainment resources at the disposal of the visitors. Aside from the regular business, a visit was made to the Pike county game preserve, a golf tournament was held, music was rendered by various groups, and a dance was held at the Pikeville country clubhouse.

NEW GRADED SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION TO BE SPED BY COMMITTEE

Carter, Stephens and Triplett Are Appointed By City Board

Appointing a committee to care for details concerning the immediate construction of Prestonsburg's new graded school, the Prestonsburg board of education Monday night made it possible for construction to begin in the near future.

The committee is composed of Mayer A. C. Carter, Dr. O. T. Stephens and City Superintendent Ismael Triplett. Mayor Carter announced to The Times that bids from contractors for the construction of the building would be received as soon as possible.

With the $85,000 available Prestonsburg will have a brick, air conditioned structure for the housing of graded school and junior high school pupils. The building will contain 22 classrooms, an auditorium with a seating capacity of 600, and a basement under the entire building.

Measuring 206 feet by 70 feet, the new building will be approximately located between the old building and

Continued on page eight

JOSEPH FRALEY DIES AFTER AUTOMOBILE IS STRUCK BY TRUCK

Fraley Is Third Drift Man To Be Killed in Six Days By Car Wrecks

ANOTHER IN HOSPITAL

Because the touring car in which he was riding was smashed by an oncoming truck about two miles south of Lackey, Joe Fraley, 31, of Drift, this county, is dead. With his leg broken in three places and arteries severed, Fraley was taken to the near-by Stumbo hospital, where death occurred a few hours after his leg was amputated. Fraley is the third Drift man within the past six days, to die in an automobile accident.

Reports state that the one and one-half ton truck driven by Burton Osborne failed to turn a curve on the Lackey-Hindman road, and rammed the rear end of the touring car where Joe Fraley was riding. The only other occupant of the touring car to be injured was D. Prater, who is now in the Stumbo hospital suffering from a crushed chest and broken arm.

The touring car, owned by Roland Prater and driven by Walter Sawyer, contained a load of mine workers returning home from their day's work.

Funeral services for Fraley were held Sunday at 2 p. m. at his home at Drift, with the Rev. Bradley Baldwin and the Rev. Harry Simpson officiating. Burial was made in the home cemetery under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home, of Maftin.

Fraley is survived by his father, William Fraley; by two brothers, Jake and Robert, and by three sisters, Lora, Erna, and Mrs. Ethel Samson.

BULLETIN

The separation of the county offices of jailer and sheriff in Kentucky by the 1936 Legislature was upheld today by the Kentucky Court of Appeals. The Times learns as it goes to press. Floyd countians wanting to become candidates for this office, but who have been awaiting the court's decision, may now announce their candidacy.

In upholding the separation of the offices, all the judges concurred in an opinion read by Judge Gus Thomas, with the exception of Judge William Clay, who was absent.

Dingus, Green, Stallard Kin Will Assemble At Olive Hill

Cousins, aunts, uncles, and grandfathers will leave Floyd county June 27 to attend a reunion of the Dingus, Green and Stallard families at Olive Hill. Relatives of these families living in Floyd county are estimated by the hundreds.

With more than a thousand kinsmen expected to attend the reunion at Olive Hill, extensive preparations have been made to make the event a gala occasion. A program has been arranged which lists Dr. L. R. Dingus, of Transylvania College, as the speaker to give the opening address at 11 a. m.

Dr. Hilman of Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va., and Dr. A. J. Wolfe of Bristol, Va., who have been collaborating to write a history of the Dingus, Green and Stallard families, will also give speeches. Another of the feature events of the affair will be the basket dinner to be opened at the meeting place in Olive Hill. All relatives coming to the reunion are urged to bring basket lunches with them.

Members of these families have scattered to the four corners of the United States, some being in New England, others as far as Montana and California. So many of the Dingus family have settled in West Virginia, there is a small community, Dingus, W. Va., named after the Dingus tribe.

Coming in homespun Virginia to Kentucky, the late William Ford, grandfather of President Ford, of Pr...

Continued

Sunday School Lesson

FOR BETTER HEALTH AND GOOD POSTURE
A Spencer, individually designed for you, will straighten your back line and beautify your figure lines. Also all kinds of surgical supporters. Write or phone

MRS. E. M. WARD
Registered Spencer Corsetier
708 Scott Avenue
Pikeville, Ky. Phone 136

M. T. DOTSON, M. D.
Office: Opposite courthouse.
Phone 234.

BOND and BOND
Attorneys at Law
Prestonsburg, Ky.
Practice in All Courts

DR. G. C. COLLINS
Dentist
At office in Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.
At office, Martin, Ky., on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.
Office hours, 8 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5 p. m.

DR. C. R. SLONE
Dentist
Layne Bldg., Court St.
Phone No. 211
Prestonsburg, Ky.

A. J. MAY
Attorney and Counselor
Practices in all courts
Fitzpatrick Bldg.
Prestonsburg, Kentucky

DR. R. H. MESSER
Dentist
GARRETT, KENTUCKY

Prestonsburg Lodge
I. O. O. F. No. 293
Meets the first, second, third and fourth Thursdays in each month. The following officers were installed:
W. M. Hagans, N. G.
Joe Snavely, V. G.
F. C. Hall, Secretary
W. J. Vaughan, Treasurer

Zebulon Lodge, No. 273, F & A. M., meets 1st and 3rd Mondays in each month. Members of sister lodges are fraternally invited to attend. Permanent quarters in our new Temple on Court street.
Notice to Candidates:
R. A. & F. C. Degrees 1st Mondays.
M. M. Degrees, 3rd Mondays.
H. R. Burke, W. M.
T. J. MAY, Secretary

DR. J. S. KELLY
Dentist
Wright Building, corner of Court and Second, Prestonsburg, Ky.
PHONE 46

"YOU KNOW ME"
Get my price on watches and watch repairing before you buy.
DAN HEFNER
Harrisonburg, Va.

Buy WIM at drug store or send $1 to WIM, Ashland, Ky.
Get rid of itching fungus rash! WIM has NEVER FAILED to ERADICATE COMPLETELY the deepest-seated fungus skin infection.
ATHLETE'S FOOT
WIM

THE BROTHERLY LOVE JUDAH

International Sunday School Lesson for June 20, 1937.

Golden Text: "Let love of the brethren continue."—Hebrews 13:1.

It seems that the severe drought predicted by Joseph, which was being felt in Egypt was also being suffered by the inhabitants of Canaan. Jacob, hearing that there was food to be had in Egypt, dispatched his 10 sons to that country to buy grain for food and for their cattle.

When they appeared in the court of Pharaoh, Joseph immediately recognized them, but, probably because of the fact that he was 20 years older and that he was wearing the dress of an Egyptian officer, his brothers did not recognize him as the boy they had hated and sold into slavery many years before.

In order to test their characters and to learn in a round about way of the affairs at home, Joseph accuses them of being spies. In their denial of the charge, they admit that they are all brothers and make the point that their father would have hardly allowed all 10 of them to risk their lives as spies. They go on into other intimate details about their home with their aged father. Joseph required one of them, Simeon, to remain as a hostage in Egypt to guarantee the return of the brothers to Egypt with Benjamin and so, nine brothers start back to Jacob with the much-needed grain. En route they found the money they had paid for the grain in each sack and were much puzzled.

When they got home, they explained matters to Jacob who was grieved and indignant, declaring, "Me have you bereit of my children: Joseph is not: and Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin away. My son shall not go down with you." And Jacob continued to refuse to allow his beloved son, Benjamin, to accompany the nine brothers to Egypt until he was so sorely pressed for food that he was forced to consent.

With double money, and presents for him, they go down a second time and present themselves and their gifts to Joseph. Here the dream of Joseph is fulfilled because all of his brethren bow humbly at his entrance into their presence. Greatly amazed were the brothers when they were invited into Joseph's home where a feast was prepared for them. After a few days' sojourn the brothers received their grain and departed joyfully for home. They had not gone far, however, when the steward of Joseph overtook them and accused them of stealing his master's silver cup. The steward informed them that he in whose sack the cup was found, would be held as Joseph's slave. The brothers were astounded and grieved when the cup was found in the sack belonging to Benjamin. Instead of condemning the lad, they all immediately returned to the city. Admitting Benjamin's apparent guilt, Judah makes an impassioned plea to Joseph for the boy, pleading to be allowed to be made a slave in the place of Benjamin.

So overcome was Joseph at the depth of Judah's plea, that he wept and, after ordering all others to leave the room, he revealed himself to his brothers as Joseph, the boy whom they had sold into slavery. His love of and concern for his father was revealed in his next question: "Doth my father yet live?" It seems that this was a useless question because from what his brothers had already told him he knew that Jacob was alive, but he was so hungry for news of his father that this question was only natural.

Joseph shows his bigness when he bids his brothers not to grieve nor be angry with themselves for their crime, as he knows it to be the will of God for him and the means of saving the lives of the Egyptians and of many others. As he knew there were yet five years of famine, he tells his brothers to make haste and go down into the land of Canaan and bring his father and all their household and possessions down into the land of Egypt, to dwell in the land of Goshen, where they will be taken care of.

The message to Jacob was sent by "thy son Joseph," revealing the fact that Joseph, in spite of his power and place of authority in Egypt still loved his father and was proud of him. This show of filial affection is pleasing now as it was in the days of Joseph.

When they got home, they explained matters to Jacob who was grieved and indignant, declaring, "Me have you bereit of my children: Joseph is not: and Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin away. My son shall not go down with you." And Jacob continued to refuse to allow his beloved son, Benjamin, to accompany the nine brothers to Egypt until he was so sorely pressed for food that he was forced to consent.

With double money, and presents for him, they go down a second time and present themselves and their gifts to Joseph. Here the dream of Joseph is fulfilled because all of his brethren bow humbly at his entrance into their presence. Greatly amazed were the brothers when they were invited into Joseph's home where a feast was prepared for them. After a few days' sojourn the brothers received their grain and departed joyfully for home. They had not gone far, however, when the steward of Joseph overtook them and accused them of stealing his master's silver cup. The steward informed them that he in whose sack the cup was found, would be held as Joseph's slave. The brothers were astounded and grieved when the cup was found in the sack belonging to Benjamin. Instead of condemning the lad, they all immediately returned to the city. Admitting Benjamin's apparent guilt, Judah makes an impassioned plea to Joseph for the boy, pleading to be allowed to be made a slave in the place of Benjamin.

So overcome was Joseph at the depth of Judah's plea, that he wept and, after ordering all others to leave the room, he revealed himself to his brothers as Joseph, the boy whom they had sold into slavery. His love of and concern for his father was revealed in his next question: "Doth my father yet live?" It seems that this was a useless question because from what his brothers had already told him he knew that Jacob was alive, but he was so hungry for news of his father that this question was only natural.

Joseph shows his bigness when he bids his brothers not to grieve nor be angry with themselves for their crime, as he knows it to be the will of God for him and the means of saving the lives of the Egyptians and of many others. As he knew there were yet five years of famine, he tells his brothers to make haste and go down into the land of Canaan and bring his father and all their household and possessions down into the land of Egypt, to dwell in the land of Goshen, where they will be taken care of.

The message to Jacob was sent by "thy son Joseph," revealing the fact that Joseph, in spite of his power and place of authority in Egypt still loved his father and was proud of him. This show of filial affection is pleasing now as it was in the days of Joseph.

When they got home, they explained matters to Jacob who was grieved and indignant, declaring, "Me have you bereit of my children: Joseph is not: and Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin away. My son shall not go down with you." And Jacob continued to refuse to allow his beloved son, Benjamin, to accompany the nine brothers to Egypt until he was so sorely pressed for food that he was forced to consent.

With double money, and presents for him, they go down a second time and present themselves and their gifts to Joseph. Here the dream of Joseph is fulfilled because all of his brethren bow humbly at his entrance into their presence. Greatly amazed were the brothers when they were invited into Joseph's home where a feast was prepared for them. After a few days' sojourn the brothers received their grain and departed joyfully for home. They had not gone far, however, when the steward of Joseph overtook them and accused them of stealing his master's silver cup. The steward informed them that he in whose sack the cup was found, would be held as Joseph's slave. The brothers were astounded and grieved when the cup was found in the sack belonging to Benjamin. Instead of condemning the lad, they all immediately returned to the city. Admitting Benjamin's apparent guilt, Judah makes an impassioned plea to Joseph for the boy, pleading to be allowed to be made a slave in the place of Benjamin.

So overcome was Joseph at the depth of Judah's plea, that he wept and, after ordering all others to leave the room, he revealed himself to his brothers as Joseph, the boy whom they had sold into slavery. His love of and concern for his father was revealed in his next question: "Doth my father yet live?" It seems that this was a useless question because from what his brothers had already told him he knew that Jacob was alive, but he was so hungry for news of his father that this question was only natural.

Joseph shows his bigness when he bids his brothers not to grieve nor be angry with themselves for their crime, as he knows it to be the will of God for him and the means of saving the lives of the Egyptians and of many others. As he knew there were yet five years of famine, he tells his brothers to make haste and go down into the land of Canaan and bring his father and all their household and possessions down into the land of Egypt, to dwell in the land of Goshen, where they will be taken care of.

The message to Jacob was sent by "thy son Joseph," revealing the fact that Joseph, in spite of his power and place of authority in Egypt still loved his father and was proud of him. This show of filial affection is pleasing now as it was in the days of Joseph.

When they got home, they explained matters to Jacob who was grieved and indignant, declaring, "Me have you bereit of my children: Joseph is not: and Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin away. My son shall not go down with you." And Jacob continued to refuse to allow his beloved son, Benjamin, to accompany the nine brothers to Egypt until he was so sorely pressed for food that he was forced to consent.

With double money, and presents for him, they go down a second time and present themselves and their gifts to Joseph. Here the dream of Joseph is fulfilled because all of his brethren bow humbly at his entrance into their presence. Greatly amazed were the brothers when they were invited into Joseph's home where a feast was prepared for them. After a few days' sojourn the brothers received their grain and departed joyfully for home. They had not gone far, however, when the steward of Joseph overtook them and accused them of stealing his master's silver cup. The steward informed them that he in whose sack the cup was found, would be held as Joseph's slave. The brothers were astounded and grieved when the cup was found in the sack belonging to Benjamin. Instead of condemning the lad, they all immediately returned to the city. Admitting Benjamin's apparent guilt, Judah makes an impassioned plea to Joseph for the boy, pleading to be allowed to be made a slave in the place of Benjamin.

So overcome was Joseph at the depth of Judah's plea, that he wept and, after ordering all others to leave the room, he revealed himself to his brothers as Joseph, the boy whom they had sold into slavery. His love of and concern for his father was revealed in his next question: "Doth my father yet live?" It seems that this was a useless question because from what his brothers had already told him he knew that Jacob was alive, but he was so hungry for news of his father that this question was only natural.

Joseph shows his bigness when he bids his brothers not to grieve nor be angry with themselves for their crime, as he knows it to be the will of God for him and the means of saving the lives of the Egyptians and of many others. As he knew there were yet five years of famine, he tells his brothers to make haste and go down into the land of Canaan and bring his father and all their household and possessions down into the land of Egypt, to dwell in the land of Goshen, where they will be taken care of.

The message to Jacob was sent by "thy son Joseph," revealing the fact that Joseph, in spite of his power and place of authority in Egypt still loved his father and was proud of him. This show of filial affection is pleasing now as it was in the days of Joseph.

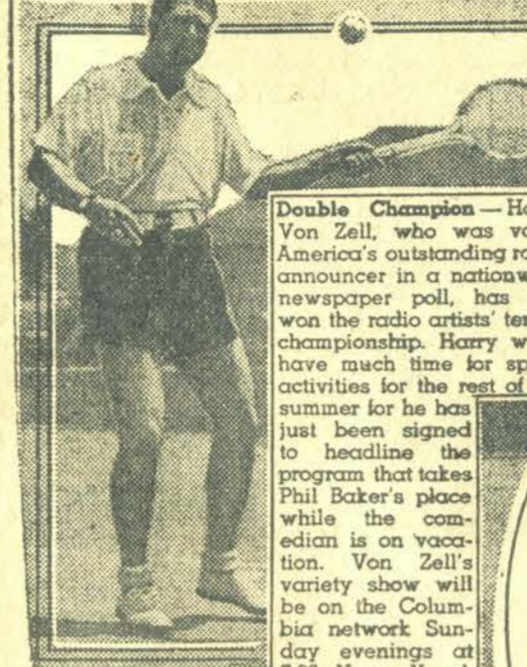

THE TIMES SNAPSHOTS

Over the Top—The Barbary Sheep at the London Zoo are born steeplechasers. Here they are cantering over the rocks in answer to the Keeper's call at feeding time.

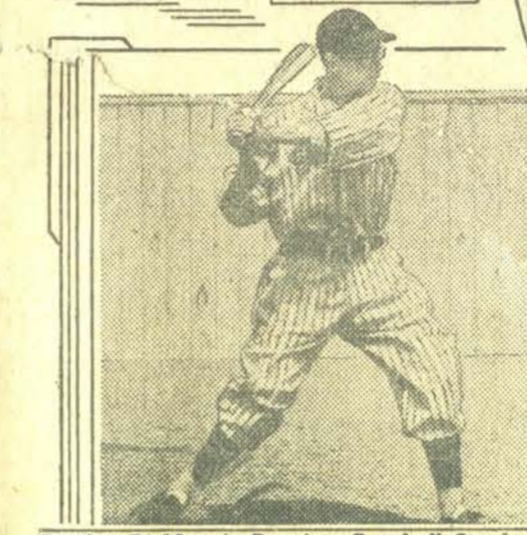

On the Beach—Two fetching damsels display the latest in swim attire.

Double Champion—Harry Von Zell, who was voted America's outstanding radio announcer in a nationwide newspaper poll, has just won the radio artists' tennis championship. Harry won't have much time for sports activities for the rest of the summer for he has just been signed to headline the program that takes Phil Baker's place while the comedian is on vacation. Von Zell's variety show will be on the Columbia network Sunday evenings at 7:30 New York time.

An International Sportsman—Count Theo Rossi, leading Italian racer of high power motor boats and the world's vermouth king, who is bringing two new 90-mile-an-hour boats to America to participate in the Gold Cup race at Detroit on Labor Day, Sept. 6, now thrown open to foreign competition for the first time.

Another Di Maggio Promises Baseball Stardom—Dominic, bespectacled nineteen year old brother of the famed Joe of the New York Yankees and Vince of the Boston Bees, has the experts agog because of the sensational manner he's displaying in his first professional season as a member of the San Francisco Seals.

Although blind, Greta Griffiths of El Dorado, Kansas, cooks complete meals on her Halpoint Electric Range.

2 eggs
2 teaspoons cooking sherry
Heat fat, add flour and mix well. Add cream and chicken stock, and bring slowly to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Add chicken and season to taste with salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly and pour the chicken mixture over the beaten eggs and add the sherry flavoring. Mix well and pour into a shallow baking dish and pipe hot mashed potatoes through a pastry bag around the edge of the dish. Put under a broiler to brown. Serve at once.

Chicken Soup
Put in a deep saucepan all the bones, scraps of meat and pieces of skin of the chicken and coar with cold water. Add 1-2 cup of chopped celery and an onion cut in fine pieces. Let it simmer from 2 to 3 hours. Strain and melt 1 tablespoon butter and blend with 1 tablespoon of flour a thickening for each quart of soup. Add to the flour and butter a cup of hot soup and when well blended and smooth, add to the rest of the soup and cook until slightly thickened. Then add a blade of mace. Let simmer a few minutes, remove mace, season the soup with salt and pepper to taste, add 1 cup of scalded cream and serve. The best garnish for chicken soup is the crisp, brown crunchy crouton. To make these, cut stale bread into small cubes, toss in butter in a slow oven. Be sure they are dry, and not too heavily browned.

Scalloped Chicken and Rice
1 quart of diced cooked chicken
1 quart cooked Rice
1 teaspoon minced onion
1-2 cup diced green pepper
3 cups of milk and chicken stock
6 tablespoons of butter or chicken fat
6 tablespoons flour
mix chicken and rice, add the onion and green pepper, then a cream sauce made of the chicken, milk, chicken fat and flour. Season with salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly. Sprinkle with grated cheese, if desired. Pour into a shallow buttered baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes.

Chicken Hash
2 tablespoons of fat
2 tablespoons flour
2-3 cup cream
2-3 cup chicken stock
2 cups stewed chicken cut very fine
1-2 teaspoon salt-pepper

Chicken and Succotash
1 can succotash
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons chicken fat or melted butter
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2-1-2 cups stewed chicken cut in large pieces
1 cup buttered crumbs
Beat egg yolks and add the succotash, fat, salt, pepper and parsley. Put 1-2 this mixture in bottom of casserole and bake in an oven 350 degrees for 50 minutes. Serve at once.

Coffee Souffle
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1-4 cup evaporated milk
3-4 cup clear coffee
4 eggs
1-2 cup of sugar
1-2 teaspoon vanilla
1-4 teaspoon salt
Melt fat, add flour and mix until smooth. Add milk and coffee gradually and bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks until thick and add sugar and salt. Add slowly to hot mixture until well blended with Cool. Add vanilla and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

TREES
Twenty million trees will be planted this year in national and state parks by the CCC under supervision of the National Park Service. An effort will be made to reforest areas where fire, disease or other causes have left scars.

SILO SERVES AS JAIL
A Knox, Indiana, news story says: Albert Mroszak, farmer, was behind bars here today, charged by his wife with forcing her to remain four days in a silo without food and water.
Mrs. Mroszak said her four children would appear in court against their father. Maybe the story meant to say, "against their father."

BUSINESS MEN'S ASSURANCE COMPANY

Kansas City Missouri

"Why buy half a horse?" That is what you buy when you buy a life policy. I sell complete protection.

PROTECT YOUR INCOME AS WELL AS YOUR LIFE AND SAVINGS.

I can give you the old-time disability clause on your life policy—$10.00 per month income for life on each $1,000 of life insurance, in event of total disability.

A SPECIAL POLICY FOR TEACHERS

One of the most complete lines of policies sold in Eastern Kentucky. See me about your insurance program.

J. I. MAY, DIST. SUPERVISOR

Floyd County Times, Prestonsburg, Kentucky

Published Every Friday by

Prestonsburg Publishing Company

Incorporated

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KENTUCKY

$1.50 Per Year

Payable In Advance

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879

CALEB JOHNSON, 42, KILLED AS WAS HIS SON FIVE YEARS AGO

Traffic Accident Claims Another Floyd County Citizen

Falling beneath a moving truck, Caleb Johnson, 42, of Melvin, met death Wednesday, en route to Melvin from Prestonsburg, in the same manner as did his son, who was killed in a traffic accident about five years ago.

In company with approximately 25 other men who had hired a truck to come to Prestonsburg, Johnson was returning to his home at Melvin. Reports state that the man driving the truck was drinking and shooting a pistol.

When crossing a steep mountain on the Virgie Melvin section of the highway, the passengers got off the truck and began walking. A change of drivers was made and the passengers climbed back on the truck, it is said. It was then that the accident occurred.

Funeral services for Johnson were held June 11, at 2 p. m. at Melvin by the Reverend Dewey Hill of Ligon, the Rev. Billy Moore of McDowell and the Rev. Harmon Hall of Melvin. The Weeksbury local union of the United Mine Workers, assisted by the Ryan Funeral Home of Martin were in charge of the burial rites. Johnson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Josephine Johnson; by two daughters, Alma and Ica, by two brothers, Marion and Willie, and by one sister, Mrs. M. L. Johnson, of Weeksbury.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY

Department of Highways

Division of Construction

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Letting July 9, 1937

Sealed bids will be received by the Department of Highways at its office, Frankfort, Ky., until 10 a. m. on the 9th day of July, 1937, at which time bids will be publicly opened and read for the improvement of:

FLOYD COUNTY F.A. 237 CE-S. The Allen-Lackey road beginning at end of concrete paving near Dinwood and extending to the Knott county line, a distance of approximately 11.302 miles. Medium type surfacing construction.

MINIMUM WAGE RATES APPLYING TO THIS PROJECT:

Skilled labor 75c per hour.

Intermediate grade labor 45c per hour. Unskilled labor 30c per hour.

The special provisions for highway projects financed with Federal Aid Highway Funds available to the states for the fiscal years 1936 and 1937 apply on this project.

The attention of prospective bidders is called to the pre-qualification requirements and necessity for securing certificate of eligibility.

The attention of bidders is directed to the special provisions covering subletting or assigning the contract and to the use of domestic materials.

Further information, bidding proposals, etc. will be furnished upon application to the Frankfort office.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS
Dated at Frankfort, Ky., June 15, 1937.

LEVI JOHNSON'S BAIL SET AT $10,000 AFTER HIS EXAMINING TRIAL

At his examining trial before Judge John Allen Monday, bail for Levi Johnson, charged with the murder of Frank Y. Robinson at Wheelwright, was set at $10,000. Bail for Joe Ward and his wife Lucy Ward, was set at $1,000 and $500 each. They are alleged

BIG JUNE FROLIC
Week Coming Monday, June 21

PRESTONSBURG BALL PARK---AUSPICES
AMERICAN LEGION

MODEL SHOWS, Inc.

ON MIDWAY

All high class shows, New Novel Rides, High Thrilling Free Acts, Brass Bands Fun Booth.

COME AND ENJOY YOURSELF

to have aided and abetted at the time of the shooting.

Robinson was killed by Johnson, following an argument over chickens which had had gotten loose in the Robinson garden. When Robinson erected a barricade on the driveway used by Johnson the shooting occurred.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK AT BOTH SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH HERE

The Rev. V. B. Castleberry, of Ashland, will speak at both services of the Baptist Church here June 20. Reverend Castleberry is a former missionary to South America and is now connected with the Kentucky Baptist Board of Missions.

He will fill the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, G. W. Redding, who is leading daily devotional exercises at the state Baptist Boys' Encampment, June 18 to 25, at Clear Creek, near Pineville, Ky.

Reverend Castleberry's message should be of interest to all. The public is cordially invited to both of the Sunday services.

NOTICE

Any person having claims against the estate of John C. Beran, deceased, will please file same with James Patterson at Allen, Floyd county, Ky., on or before June 26, 1937.

Notice is hereby given that the said James Patterson will on June 28, 1937, at the hour of 9 a. m. make his final settlement with the Floyd county court as administrator JAMES PATTERSON, Administrator.

DINGUS, GREEN, STALLARD KIN TO ASSEMBLE

Continued from page one chased thousands of acres of land throughout Floyd county. According to Mrs. Ford Mr. Dingus made a return trip from Virginia to Floyd county with a gusny sack full of money in payment for the lands.

Relationship with the Green and Stallard families was established through marriage of the father of this same William Dingus to a sister of the famous Revolutionary hero, General Green. About four or five generations ago a Dingus married into the Stallard family, to establish kinship with them.

The oldest living descendant of this ancient Dingus, is his namesake, Senator William Dingus, of Prestonsburg. Although 79 years old, Senator Dingus is still active in the practice of law. Formerly he was senator in the Kentucky Legislature, and county attorney and clerk of Floyd county.

In Louisville

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen W. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Zininger, of Wheelwright, will leave Saturday for Louisville where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Clark. While there they will attend the wedding of I. S. Clark, Jr., and Mary Margaret Kruse, which will be held at the Church of Christ the King, 44th street and Broadway. Stephen W. Clark will act as best man at his brother's wedding.

PASTOR SAYS PLANS FOR ANNIVERSARY ARE NEARING COMPLETION

Plans for the anniversary and home-coming at the Methodist Church on June 27 are nearing completion, according to information given out by the pastor, Rev. H. F. King. Definite program for the morning service will be released for publication next week. This program, it is understood, will be made up of local people telling what they remember about the history of the local Methodist church.

Bee Whittis, of Pikeville, was a business visitor in Prestonsburg Thursday.

BASEBALL

EXCURSION

WASHINGTON

Saturday, June 19th
Special Train Leaves Huntington at 6:30 p. m., June 19th

ARRIVES

Washington 7:30 a. m., June 20th.

SEE SUNDAY'S A. L. GAME

Washington VS. St. Louis "Senators"

Returning leave Washington 5 p. m., June 20th.

$500 Round Trip from Huntington

Half fare for children 5 to 12 years

TICKETS NOW ON SALE

Consult Ticket Agent for Details

CHESAPEAKE and OHIO

TRAINS MAKE NEWS

Ask Your Editor...

Bringing in new arrivals—carrying local citizens to and from—hauling products of industry—Chesapeake and Ohio trains are constantly in the news! For modern existence revolves around transportation—and by providing it, "The Road That Service Built" plays an important part in the life of your community... ask your Editor.

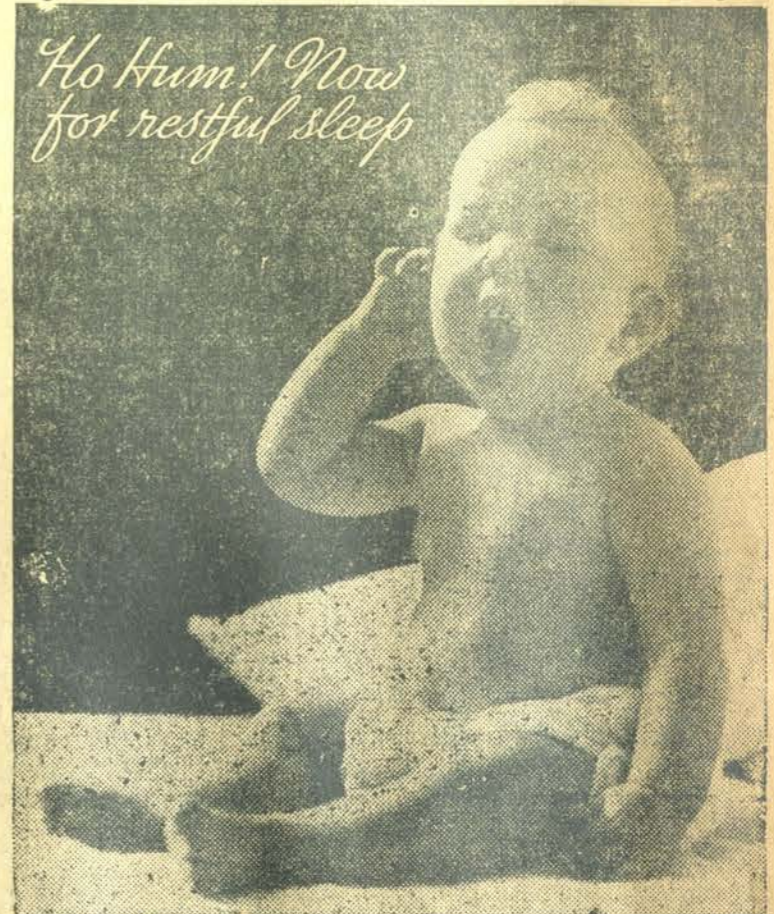

Chesapeake and Ohio is proud to serve and glad to cooperate with its good neighbors, the people along its right of way. How and when can we serve you?

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON THE SPORTSMAN - THE F.F.V.
America's Most Distinguished Fleet of Trains

CHESAPEAKE and Ohio LINES

"The Railroad With a Heart"

Ho Hum! Now for restful sleep

IT'S EASY TO SLEEP IN A COOL ROOM that's Air Conditioned ELECTRICALLY

Kentucky and West Virginia
POWER COMPANY

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

The Good Old Days.
SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—
 Taking pen in hand to write Uncle Sam's check for that next installment, I look longingly backward to what I'm sure was the golden age of our generation.
 It was the decade that began soon after the turn of the century and ended with 1914.
 Kings lolled securely on comfy thrones and dictatorships in strong nations were undreamed of.
 Without shaking the foundations of the financial temple, Teddy Roosevelt was filing the alligator teeth of predatory wealth.
 People laughed at the mad suggestion that there could ever be another great war—let alone a world war.
 With suffrage in prospect, women were going to purify politics.
 Taxes were a means unto an end and not the end of our means.
 Standards of living climbed faster than did the costs of living.
 Automobiles were things to ride in at moderate speed, not engines to destroy human life with.
 Millions actually believed that, if prohibition by law ever became effective, drunkenness would end and crime decrease.
 Yes, I'm sure those were indeed the happy days—the era when the Twentieth Century limited started running and W. J. Bryan stopped.

Irvin S. Cobb

Synthetic Imitations.
WE STOPPED at a wayside station advertising pure orange juice; there's one every few rods. Next to autograph hunters, oranges are the commonest product of California.
 The drink was the right color. But there didn't seem to be any orange in it. The best you could say for it was that probably its mother had been badly frightened by an orange.

I made inquiry, and an expert told me some roadside vendors—not many, but some—were peddling an essence compounded of chemical flavoring and artificial extracts because it kept better than the genuine article.
 I thought America had reached tops in the gentle arts of substitution and adulteration when we began making pumpkin pies out of squash and maple syrup out of corn stalks and buckwheat flour out of a low grade of sawdust—anyhow, it tastes like that—and imported English sole out of the lowly flounder and scallops out of skate fins. But when, in a land where a strong man couldn't tote a dollar's worth of oranges on his back, there are parties selling synthetic imitations—well, just let the East equal that magnificent stroke of merchandising enterprise!

Poor Little Rich Men.
LET us take time off to pity the poor little rich man who owns a large but lonesome sea-going yacht.
 During the depression, the species grew rare—there were money lords then who hardly had one yacht to rub against another—but, with better days, a fresh crop lines the coasts.
 No matter how rich, the owner feels he must use his floating palace. He may be content with a saucer of processed bran and two dyspepsia tablets, but no yacht crew yet ever could keep soul and body together on anything less than double sirloins. So he goes cruising—and gosh, how he does dread it!
 For every yachtsman who really gets joy out of being afloat, there usually is another to whom the great heart of the nation should go out in sympathy. You almost expect to find him putting ads in the paper for guests who can stand the strain; everything provided except the white duck pants.

Problems on Wheels.
AMERICA'S newest problem goes on wheels. One prophet says by 1938 there'll be a million trailers and three million people aboard them. Roger Babson raises the ante—within twenty years, half the population living in trailers and all the roads clogged.
 So soon the trailer-face is recognizable. It is worn by Mommer, riding along behind, while Popper smiles pleasantly as he drives the car in solitary peace—getting away from it all. Have you noticed how many trailer widows there are already?
 But as yet nobody reckons with the chief issue: think of the increasing mortality figures when the incurable speed bug discovers that not only may he continue to mow down victims with head-on assaults, but will garner in many who escaped his frontal attack by side-swipes of the hitched-on monster that is swinging and lunging at his rear like a drunken elephant on a rampage!
 To catch 'em going and coming—that should be a motor maniac's dream of earthly joy.
IRVIN S. COBB.
 © WNU Service.

BRIGHT STAR

By Mary Schumann
 Copyright by Macrae Smith Co.
 WNU Service

CHAPTER XII—Continued
 —24—
 Hugh, on his way out, planned that he would have his mother invite Ellen for dinner very soon. Or he would issue the invitation, call up and coax her a bit if she seemed unwilling. Not tonight—he had to work late tonight. And tomorrow Mother had invited the John Renshaws for dinner, and the next night he had to go to the Wellers' . . . well, some time soon! Perhaps next week.
 But the Renshaws could not come the next night and Fluvanna went to a concert with Margery and Will. Hugh read the paper, looked at a trade journal, and at nine o'clock, feeling restless, decided on a long ramble. He took Rowdy, Kezia's dog, with him, a wire-haired terrier, which she could not keep in the apartment.
 Hugh circled the boulevard and the park twice, a walk of two or three miles, drawing in deep breaths of the early March air which was keen and cold, yet with a difference.
 He walked with a swinging step, submerged in his own reflections. Rowdy investigated lawns where lighted windows drained away into the shrubbery, then returned to him. Hugh did not know when he became conscious that a woman was walking half a block ahead of him. She must have turned out unnoticed from a side street. She walked rapidly, for it was a lonely place for a woman to be, the dark woods on her right, and on her left the houses set far back from the street. Young, slight, and faintly familiar.
 Suddenly she turned abruptly to her right and plunged into the wood. She walked swiftly and without uncertainty until she disappeared.
 Hugh stood still. He had recognized her by a forward movement of her shoulders—or thought he had. Why was she going into the park at this time of night?—timid, sheltered Ellen. The perspiration broke out on his forehead as he remembered the small artificial lake . . .

She Was Up to Her Knees in the Water and Wading Out When He Reached Her.

 She was up to her knees in the water and wading out when he reached her.
 He lifted her in his arms and carried her to a seat near the bank.
 She looked in his face dazedly. "It's Hugh? . . . Hugh?" Then in a low murmur: "Why did you come?"
 "Fate sent me, Ellen," he answered simply. He drew her head to his shoulder. "Because you were never meant to do that thing."
 She gave a long sighing breath that was more poignant than any sob, it held so much of tears unshed, of misery. "Hugh," she whispered, "it aches so here!" She laid her hand on her heart.
 "I know."
 A pause, then her voice again on that tremulous, respiratory note: "Yes, you know." She drooped against him shivering.
 Suddenly she sat up. The water dripped from her sodden clothes.
 She faced him, her wistful blue eyes started and examining. She shook her head. "You are braver than I—stronger. I can't—go on."
 She began to cry, shuddering dry sobs, that licked his heart like flaming faggots. He drew her hand to his feet. "Let us walk. No good sitting here in wet clothes after that ducking. We'll walk very fast—see, like this."
 He led her out of the woods, un-resisting.
 "Can you run? . . . Come, Ellen, run with me as far as the next corner."
 They ran for a long block, then slowed down to a walk.
 "Tell you what we'll do. You come over to my house and get off your wet clothes, put on something of Mother's. I'll fix you a nice hot drink—then you'll raid the icebox—get us a lunch! We'll have a nice clubby evening—come!"

 She put her hand over her eyes. "Whatever you say—I'm so bewildered."
 His mother was not home when they arrived. He took her directly upstairs, turned on the hot water in the bath. "Get in there, young lady, and be quick about it. 'I'll have changed and be pounding at your door in five minutes."
 He changed his clothes quickly, then ran down to the telephone and called the Pendletons. Gavin's nervous, irritated voice answered. "Ellen is here with us."
 "Yes, yes," Gavin stuttered. "She's all right. We'll keep her until tomorrow if you don't mind."
 "Wait—wait!"
 Gavin had a colloquy with Lizzie, then muttered, "Mother wants you to bring her home."
 "If I do I won't answer for the consequences!" replied Hugh.
 There was a pause while Hugh heard Lizzie's strident voice in opposition. She evidently wanted to talk to him. "Keep her," said Gavin suddenly. "See you tomorrow."
 He foraged for everything he could find in the way of food, cheese and ham, olives, white and rye bread, fruit and cake. When Ellen appeared she shook her head. "All this to eat? . . ."
 She nibbled, then began eating. Presently at something he said the dimples came out and she laughed in soft merriment.
 Her own laughter startled her, and a puzzled look came over her face. "It's beginning to seem ridiculous—like a joke . . . how could I?"
 "Some people think life is a joke."
 "Playing tricks—yes?"
 "It looks like that sometimes when we have set our hearts on something we don't get. Then we think that there is a malicious Being who enjoys our scrapes, a leering, cruel, practical joker."
 "It must be true." Her head drooped, her tone was muffled. "He blocks each exit as you hurry from one to another. He says, laughing horribly: 'Stay in your prison!' . . . it seems that way to me."
 "And there's another way to look at it. He may be a great wise Force that foresees more than we can—has a plan for us. He lays on each one the burden of destiny . . . and says: 'Take this, carry it—it is my plan for you. Bear it the best you can; grow under it; and I shall lead you out and beyond.'"
 "The burden of destiny," Ellen repeated in a dazed tone, "or a practical joker? . . . Which is right?"
 "The one which gives us courage," said Hugh with sudden conviction.
 "You believe that?"
 "I believe that," he answered in a low voice. In his effort to help Ellen, he had suddenly clarified his own vague gropings—was conscious of the uplift of spirit which accompanies an illumination of thought.
 So absorbed were they, that they did not hear Fluvanna enter. She stood at the door in her velvet evening wrap, surveying them with wonder and surprise. "Ellen—Ellen!" Ellen ran to her and hid her face on her shoulder.
 "So glad you've come, darling," murmured Fluvanna, caressing her.
 "She's going to stay all night—perhaps a week or two," said Hugh.

"Nothing would make me happier—Ellen knows I would like to have her forever."
CHAPTER XIII
 Gavin took off his glasses and rubbed the place behind his ear where they had rested, then put them on again and blinked at Hugh.
 "Lizzie will raise a fuss," at length came his pronouncement.
 "I've not talked to Mother yet, but she is so devoted to Ellen that I think she can be persuaded to go," said Hugh.
 Six months in France and Italy would restore Ellen, Hugh had pleaded. His mother would accompany her, he thought. It would be well for his mother to have the change; the family difficulties he had paused—had been hard on her.
 Gavin frowned. "But Lizzie—" "You mean she'll disapprove?"
 "You must make her see how important it is. It means more than I've been telling you, Gavin . . ." He leaned forward and rapidly told him of the incident down by the park lake.
 Gavin rose, paced the room, muttering unintelligibly under his breath. He came back. "You go to see her . . . tell her . . . Oh, my God . . . Ellen!" He slumped down in his chair.
 Hugh rose. "You want me to talk to Lizzie?"
 "Yes, I'll drop around there this afternoon." He did not fear the interview with Lizzie a fractional part as much as her husband did.
 Gavin wrung his hand at parting. "I'll pay expenses for both," he blurted.
 Lizzie received Hugh in the square expensive ugliness of the Pendleton living-room.
 (TO BE CONTINUED)

Charming Panel to Crochet

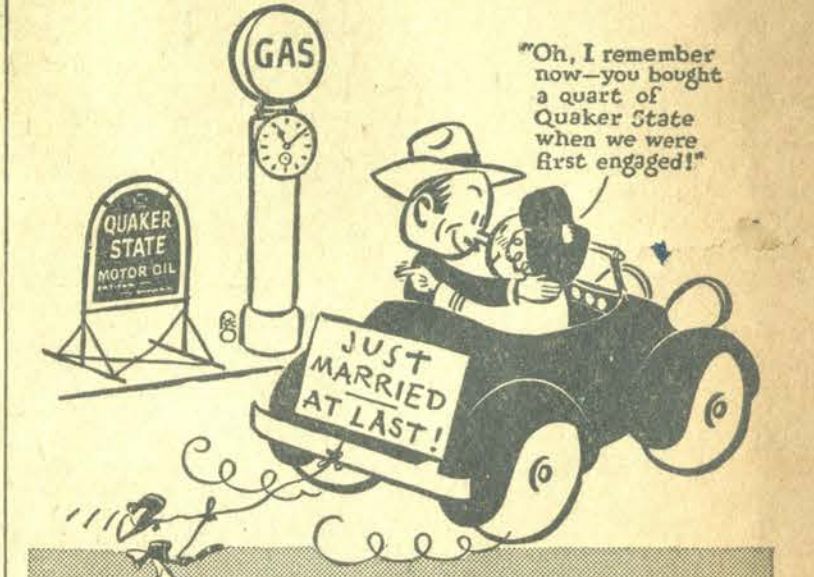

Pattern 5790.

There's the charm of Grandmother's time in this lacy panel-inset, a luxurious bit of dress-up for your "best" bedspread! In string it measures 24 by 35 inches, but goes quickly, for the background is in lace stitch. It would also be effective as a door panel. The stunning panel running lengthwise of the bolster may also serve as a scarf. Crochet this beautiful design of humble, durable string or in finer cotton for smaller panels. In pattern 5790 you will find detailed instructions and charts for making the panels shown; illustrations of the panel and of the stitches used; material requirements.
 To obtain this pattern send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) to The Sewing Circle

Foreign Words and Phrases

Uberrima fides. (L.) Super-abounding faith.
 Tout le monde est sage apres coup. (F.) After-wit is every man's wit.
 Furor arma ministrat. (L.) Fury provides arms.
 Dehors. (F.) Outside.
 Sans les injustices des hommes. (F.) But for (were it not for) the injustice of men.
 Ubi jus incertum, ibi jus nullum. (L.) Where the law is uncertain, there is no law.
 Hablen cartas, y callen barbas. (Sp.) Let writing speak, and beards (that is, mouths) be silent.

HOT? TIRED?
KOOLAID 5¢
 THE SUMMER DRINK WITH VITAMIN B
MAKES 10 BIG GLASSES
At GROCERS

GO FARTHER BEFORE YOU NEED A QUART

QUAKER STATE MOTOR OIL
 CERTIFIED QUARANTEED

Always adding oil? Then make the "First Quart" test. It's easy. Just drain and refill with Quaker State. Note the mileage. You'll find you go farther before you have to add the first quart. That's because there's an "extra quart of lubrication in every gallon." The retail price is 35¢ per quart. Quaker State Oil Refining Corp., Oil City, Pa.

Interesting Ads for Interesting People

THE TRAP AT SUICIDE ROCK
 OR HOW MELVIN PURVIS FOILED A SINISTER PLOT

MELVIN PURVIS FORMER G-MAN
 Wants You to Join His NEW 1937 CORPS OF SECRET OPERATORS

MELVIN PURVIS is the young lawyer who became America's Ace G-Man, and directed the capture of Dillinger, "Pretty Boy" Floyd, "Baby Face" Nelson and many others.
 Now Melvin Purvis, who founded the Junior G-Man Corps, has formed a great new organization, called Melvin Purvis' Law-and-Order Patrol. Members are Secret Operators. They have special codes, passwords, and special equipment. Here is one of many adventures, taken from the confidential Secret Operators' Files and published to prove that CRIME DOES NOT PAY!

SO SECRET OPERATOR JONES WANTS TO KNOW HOW TO PICK UP A 'LOST TRAIL,' EH? WELL, THERE ARE LOTS OF WAYS A FUGITIVE CAN COVER UP HIS TRACKS. HERE'S ONE OF THE CLEVEREST RUSES I EVER CAME UP AGAINST...

OH, TELL US, MR. PURVIS! WHILE YOU'RE DOING IT WE'LL HAVE SOME MORE POST TOASTIES AND CREAM!

"We heard that Fargo, the bank robber, had boarded a train at a coast town . . . but when we were about to seize him he opened a window while the train was crossing an embankment . . ."

"We quickly stopped the train and picked up Fargo's trail. He was heading for Suicide Rock, a great cliff that juts out into the ocean. We figured he didn't have a chance to escape us up there . . ."

I GUESS THIS IS THE END OF THE TRAIL, CHIEF-- HE MUST HAVE JUMPED OFF SUICIDE ROCK TO DEATH IN THOSE BREAKERS BELOW.

WAIT A MINUTE! THERE'S SOMETHING FUNNY HERE!

I NOTICED THAT THE TOE OF EVERY FOOTPRINT WAS DEEPER THAN THE HEEL... AND I KNEW THAT WHEN A MAN WALKS FORWARD, THE HEEL POINT IS DEEPER THAN THE TOE. BUT WHEN HE WALKS BACKWARD, THE TOE PRINT IS DEEPER. IMMEDIATELY I FIGURED THAT FARGO HAD WALKED BACKWARD IN HIS OWN FOOTPRINTS -- I SENSED DANGER, AND JUST IN TIME . . ."

JUMP BACK, FOR YOUR LIVES!

STICK 'EM UP, FARGO! YOUR PLOT HAS FAILED!

MELVIN PURVIS! AN' I THOUGHT I HAD YOU TRAPPED!

SWELL, MR. PURVIS! THEY'RE THE BEST THING EVER, ANYTIME!

THAT STORY POINTS OUT A FACT ALL SECRET OPERATORS MUST KNOW... WHEN A TRAIL SUDDENLY ENDS, BEWARE OF AN AMBUSH! WELL, WELL, I SEE YOU SECRET OPERATORS HAVE EATEN UP THOSE POST TOASTIES -- HOW WERE THEY?

BE A SECRET OPERATOR IN MY NEW LAW-AND-ORDER PATROL! GET MY NEW SECRET OPERATOR'S SHIELD AND MY SECRET OPERATOR'S MANUAL CONTAINING SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS . . . CODES AND PASSWORDS . . . SECRETS OF CRIME DETECTION . . . HOW TO WIN PROMOTION TO HIGHER RANKS . . . ALSO PICTURES OF ALL MY WONDERFUL FREE PRIZES TO BE A SECRET OPERATOR, JUST SEND ME THE COUPON BELOW, WITH 2 RED POST TOASTIES PACKAGE-TOPS.

Boys and Girls!

SECRET OPERATOR
 MELVIN PURVIS

BOYS' SHIELD (at left), GIRLS' SHIELD (above). Shield and Melvin Purvis' SECRET OPERATOR'S MANUAL sent FREE for 2 Post Toasties package-tops.

SECRET OPERATOR'S RING. 24-carat gold finish, adjustable to any finger. FREE for 4 Post Toasties package-tops.

Melvin Purvis
 c/o Post Toasties, Battle Creek, Michigan
 I enclose . . . red Post Toasties package-tops. Please send me the items checked below. Check whether boy () or girl ()
 Secret Operator's Shield (2 package-tops)
 Secret Operator's Ring (4 package-tops)
 (Be sure to put correct postage on letter.)
 Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____ State _____
 Offer expires Dec. 31, 1937. Good only in U. S. A.

ABIGAIL THEATRE

PRESTONSBURG, KY.

Week of June 18 to 25
Shows 2 and 7 O'Clock

FRIDAY—
$1,000 a Minute
with Roger Pryor. Comedy.

SATURDAY—
'Lightning Crandell'
with Bob Steele. Serial and Comedy.

SATURDAY, 10 P. M.—
Outcasts of Poker Flat
with Jean Muir.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY
Outcasts of Poker Flat
June Muir and Preston Foster.

TUESDAY—
'Headline Crasher'
with Frankie Derro. On the Stage—SLAM SMITH and his ARIZONA ROUGH RIDERS from Station WLW.

WEDNESDAY—
'Man In The Mirror'
Edward E. Horton.

THURSDAY—
'Hotel Haywire'
Leo Carino and Mary Carlisle.
Coming Sunday and Monday, June 27-28—

'Interns Can't Take Money'
with Barbara Stanwick and Joel McCrea.

Abbott Heights Golfers Will Compete Against Beaver Valley's Team

What happens when two golf clubs tangle will be demonstrated Sunday, June 20, when the Beaver Valley club acts as host to the local Abbott Heights aggregation.

Both of these teams are members of the Big Sandy Golf Association which is represented by three counties, Johnson, Pike and Floyd. Golf teams are from Paintsville, Pikeville, and the Floyd delegation is composed of the combined Beaver Valley and Abbott Heights clubs. Twelve members compose each team.

Right Out Of The Air

By R F SERVICE

Welcome addition to the Sunday night line-up of radio comedy is Bob Hope, now star fun maker on the Rippling Rhythm Revue with Frank Parker and Shep Fields' orchestra.

Bob Hope

Hope has changed his methods quite a lot, and is scoring with pointed comedy that is boosting his stock every week.

You may hear the entire cast of "Pepper Young's Family" on the air and see them in theatres this summer. Betty Wragge and Jack Roseleigh are being seen in Broadway plays and Curtis Arnall and Marian Barney are reading plays for possible stage appearances.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt doesn't use the radio code of hand signals in her program. She has another system by which the production man keeps her informed of the timing. He puts slips of paper on the desk in front of her as she talks. They read "50 plus" or "30 minus" or some other time designation. This means that she is 50 seconds ahead or 30 seconds behind schedule.

Clarence Muse, popular film-radio baritone, is heading a project to provide summer camp facilities for poor children of Los Angeles and Hollywood. He has enlisted the support of 75 welfare agencies and they'll provide vacations for 7,000 youngsters.

Peter Van Steeden, whose smooth dance music is heard Wednesday nights on the Town Hall programs, has been devoting all his time to that series for several years. His recent debut on the Hit Parade can be taken as an indication that he'll also be heard on other programs this summer.

With Harriet Hilliard in Hollywood, acting and singing for the celluloid operas, and Husband Ozzie Nelson in Radio City broadcasting with Bob Ripley every Sunday night, it keeps the long distance wires busy. Next fall Ozzie may do his broadcasting from the coast.

When Dorothy Lamour went to Hollywood she was strictly a "glamour" girl. Movies so far have shown that she is a good actress, too. On the Sunday night variety show starring W. C. Fields, Dor Ameche, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, she has demonstrated that she has a fine sense of comedy in her exchanges with the lovable little dummy, "Charlie McCarthy."

Dorothy Lamour

Comic Eddie Green, who is heard in the "Harlem" program, Octavius Roy Cohen comedy sketch has Harlem critics listening in every Friday night to give him a report of whether his characterization is good.

From comparative oblivion to a twice-weekly coast-to-coast broadcast in one year is the enviable record of Carl Ravell, 24-year-old California maestro currently featured at a New York hotel. In May, 1936, Carl became a singing orchestra leader. Triumphs in Detroit, Dallas and New Orleans attracted New York hotel owners. Now his music is featuring the CBS dance schedule on Monday and Friday nights.

Carl Ravell

East and Dumke, the "Sisters of the Skillet," announced, for a gag, that their hobby was collecting cook books. Their fans took it seriously, and now the comics have. As a result, the team has a collection of 400-odd cook books—one of them dating back to 1671.

There's a certain kind of role that spells Lupe Velez in large letters and whenever the Lux Radio Theatre gets one of these in a play, the call goes out to Lupe to come in as quickly as possible. She always arrives for rehearsal in a sweater and skirt. She has never dressed up for radio and says she never will!

Lupe Velez

NEW GRADED SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION TO BE SPEED BY COMMITTEE

Continued from page one
the adjacent gymnasium. Plans for the new building, prepared by Art Hager, member of the city council, were drawn from a modern structure at the Chicago World's Fair.

Each classroom in the new building is planned for each particular grade and will have separate storage and cloak rooms. A central library and reading room are included in the plans.

FARMERS TO MEET TO ELECT OFFICERS

Continued from page one
Dock, West Prestonsburg and

A WORD TO THE WIVES

To Chop Nut Meats
An easy way to chop nut meats is to place the nuts in a paper bag and roll the rolling pin over the bag. This breaks the nuts quickly without scattering them.

Insure Whiter Rice
Adding a teaspoon of lemon juice to the water in which rice is boiled will insure whiter, fluffier rice.

Decorate Lettuce Leaves
Lettuce leaves for salads can be decorated attractively by dipping the tips of the leaves in a bowl of water over which a little paprika has been sprinkled.

New Use for Potato Rice
When preparing hot applications, place the cloth in an open potato ricer and hold under the hot water faucet, letting the cloth become saturated. Then squeeze together the handles of the potato ricer and the cloth will be wrung out without burning the hands.

Cardboard Pattern for Cakes
To cut fancy cakes from a layer cake without using a special cutter, make a cardboard pattern of the desired shape and, placing it over the cake, cut around it with a sharp knife.

Unique Theater .. Program

Offering For Week Of June 11-17

Unique Theater
Prestonsburg, Kentucky

NIGHT SHOWS START AT 7:00 P. M.

"Sound as Good as the Best"

FRIDAY—

'Off To The Races'
Jed Prouty and Shirley Dean. Serial and comedy.

SATURDAY—

'Avenging Waters'
Ken Maynard. Serial and comedy.

Saturday Night at 10 o'clock

'4 Days Wonder'

SUNDAY AND MONDAY—

'Three Smart Girls'
Deanna Durbin and Ray Milland. News and comedy.

TUESDAY—

'Mysterious Avenger'
Charles Starrett and Jean Perry. Comedy.

WEDNESDAY—

Two-fisted Gentleman
James Dunn and June Clayworth. Comedy.

THURSDAY ONLY—

'The Green Light'
Errol Flynn and Anita Louise. News and comedy.

Coming Sun.; Mon., June 27-28

"LOVE IS NEWS"

Loretta Young and Tyrone Powers.

Water Gap. Abbott Creek community is composed of Bonanza, Myrtle, Cliff East Point, Colie, Whitaker and Brainard.

RAPELY MENTIONED

Comprehensive plans are being laid for a national fight against syphilis, the scourge that has rarely been discussed thoroughly in public in the average town or city.

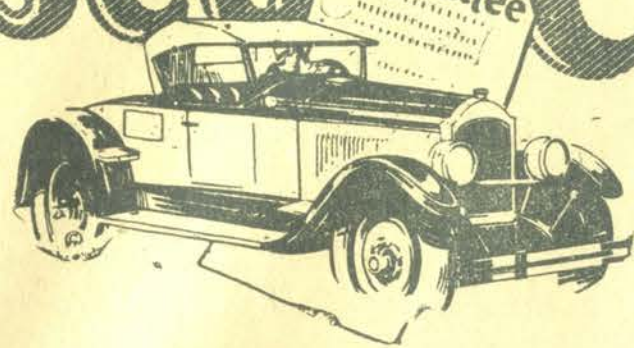

Thomas Parrin, Jr., surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, is one of the leaders in the attack.

H. F. May was here this week from Maytown.

Sale Still On

Used Cars

All Must Go!

Some as low as 25c on the dollar.

JUNE CLEARANCE

1935 Pickup—Ford	1934 Ford—Tudor	1935 1½ ton truck
1934 Coach—Ford	1934 Ford Pickup	1936 Plymouth coupe
1930 Ford Coupe	1930 Ford Pickup	1931 Plymouth coupe
1929 Chevrolet Coupe	1929 Ford Fordor	1936 Plymouth Sedan
1935 Chevrolet Sedan—(Master)	1931 Ford ½ ton panel	1935 Dodge Sedan
	1933 Chevrolet Coach	1934 Ford sedan
	1933 Ford Coupe

4 - 1937 DEMONSTRATORS GO IN THIS SALE

EVERY USED CAR IN STOCK SLASHED IN PRICE.

EXTRA SPECIAL - 1936 FORD PICKUP

NOTICE—This positively is the biggest used car CLEARANCE SALE we have ever staged in our 20 years of selling and servicing automobiles. Trade your present car in now and save money! All our finest used cars are sold under the R. and G. Guarantee. If your R. and G. car isn't absolutely satisfactory return it and get every cent you paid for it as covered in our written GUARANTEE. ONLY A FEW DAYS LEFT.

HOWARD MOTOR COMPANY

Phone 151 : : : : Prestonsburg, Ky

COOKING SCHOOL

Announced By

The Kentucky and West Virginia Power Co., Inc.

To be held at the Methodist Church

Prestonsburg, Kentucky

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, July 1st and 2nd --- 2 to 4 p. m.

Come and bring a friend.