

COUNTY DIVIDED IN 8 DISTRICTS INSTEAD OF 4

Commissioners Appointed
Monday and File Report
Six Hours Later

REPORT COMPLETE

The four magisterial districts of Floyd County underwent a major operation here Monday when an ex-parte petition of Harve Spears was filed in the county court. Three commissioners, Ed Cecil, of Garrett; Howard Colegrove, of Betsy Layne; and Willard Hamilton, of Upper Mud Creek, were appointed Monday by the court at about 1 p. m., and made their report a few hours afterward. The report was filed, it is said, with the county clerk at about 6:30 p. m.

In addition to dividing the districts and establishing their boundaries, the commissioners estimated the population of the new districts. Their figures are given as follows: District One—5,000; District Two—2,300; District Three—2,500; District Four—3,000; District Five—6,500; District Six—5,000; District Seven—6,000; and District Eight—3,000.

The four districts are divided into eight as follows: District One is composed of the following precincts: Mouth Beaver, Dwale, Jim Banks, Prestonsburg No. 1, Prestonsburg No. 2 and Spurlock.

District Two—Depot No. 3, Abbott No. 26, Rough and Tough No. 28.

District Three—Porter No. 7, Little Paint No. 27, Cliff No. 29 and Auxier No. 4.

District Four—Betsy Layne No. 15, Mouth Mud No. 14, Little Mud No. 15, Toler No. 31 and Prater No. 47.

District Five—Painter Harve No. 20, Elder Hiram No. 19, Melvin No. 40, Burton No. 38, Jacks Creek No. 35, Clear Creek No. 21, Ligon No. 39, Antioch No. 18, Tickey 16 and Lee Alley No. 44.

District Six—John Ant No. 22, Drift No. 36, Halbert No. 13, Kiser No. 43, Martin No. 41, John Possum No. 12, Arkansas No. 42 and Kennedy No. 37.

District Seven—Maytown No. 32 Northern No. 46, Bosco No. 23, Lackey No. 33, Estill No. 45, Middle Creek No. 5, Garrett No. 24 and Rock Fork No. 48.

District Eight—Johns Creek No. 8, Cow No. 9, and Ivel No. 34.

The commissioners have created eight magistrate offices and eight constable places to be filled at the fall elections. The new districting is reported to find favor with the majority of Floyd residents.

CONSTRUCTION OF TIPPLE, DRIFT

Completion Will Mark Re-
Employment of Approximately 150 Men

Materials are being placed on the building site this week for a new tipple to be constructed by the Beaver Coal & Mining Co., to replace the old one destroyed by fire January 9, a company official stated Tuesday. The company operates in the Drift hollow near Drift, Ky.

The official said that the new tipple would be erected on the same piers that supported the one destroyed. Concrete for foundation work has already been poured. Although no estimate of the cost was given, it will be larger and better equipped than its predecessor.

It will be completed in approximately 60 days. Upon completion the mine will resume full-time operation and furnish employment to about 150 men.

Aside from the actual construction of the new tipple, additional track will be laid to accommodate car loadings in a more efficient manner.

Floyd County Courthouse

After completion of recent alterations of the interior costing about $25,000 and the installation of seats, desks, files and other office equipment estimated as costing 80,100, replacing the damage wrought by a recent fire, the Floyd county courthouse, (shown above) is ready for the opening day of circuit court April 5.

Shortly after the above picture was taken, workman, this week are tearing down the "front porch" roof and will be employed to alter the entrance. The building committee announces its plans to construct an entry way enhanced by large columns extending all the way across a major portion of the front.

The most recent "face-lifting" of the courthouse front will cost about $800, it is said.

BULLET WOUND FATAL TO HUFF

Wounded Six Times In Roadhouse Battle. Four Men Are Held

Claude Huff, age 27, resident of this county was wounded fatally in a shooting fracas at the Blue Moon roadhouse six miles east of Hindman atop the Jones Fork Mountain, Monday morning at about 12:30 a. m.

Huff was wounded six or seven times from the guns of Deputy Sheriffs Cluett Messer and Marion Martin, and "Slim" Manns, proprietor of the roadside inn, one report states. He died at the Stumbo Memorial Hospital, Lackey, Ky., at 6:10 a. m. Monday.

Sheriff Henry Sturgill is quoted as saying that Mrs. Manns, informed him the trouble started when Claude Huff, and his brother Harry, entered the "Blue Moon" and declared they had come to "clean up the place." According to the Sheriff's report, as a deputy sheriff, Marion Martin, entered the main front room, Huff is said to have opened fire, two shots at the deputy, one of these bullets striking Martin's tie, and a third at Manns who peeped through a service window, the shot missed him by about two inches, it is said. APPLICATIONS FOR AGED ASSISTANCE IN FLOYD TOTAL 820

H. T. Hill, field worker of the old age assistance office in Prestonsburg, announced this week that, from the opening of the local office to the present day, 820 Floyd county residents have applied for aid.

At present there are 300 claims at the office here being investigated about 100 additional claims are at Frankfort being considered for approval.

Some of the Floyd county papers were in the flood, he said, but were not totally damaged. Through the co-operation of the local office these records were repaired.

During the month of February, Floyd county's aged residents received over $1,900.

DISTRICT NYA MEETING HELD

The National Youth Administration held a meeting at the Methodist Church in Paintsville on Friday, March 12. Both phases of the NYA Program, Student Aid and the Work Program were discussed at this meeting.

Practically all the County Superintendents of the seventeen counties that compose NYA District 5, were present. In addition several private secondary schools and colleges were represented. Mrs. Knox, of Stuart Robinson School, Blackey, Ky., and C. H. Farley, Pike County Superintendent discussed the Student Aid and Work Program from the Co-sponsor's point of view. Otis C. Amis, Supervisor of Educational Aid for the State of Kentucky, outlined to this group the purpose of the NYA Program and the work being done by aiding those students to attend school who would otherwise be unable to continue their education.

The Work phase of the program was discussed by Mr. Robert K. Salyers, Deputy State NYA Director, and by W. Arch Bennett, State Supervisor of Works Projects, and CHURCHES TO OB- SERVE EASTER SUN.

Observance of the principal religious season of Christendom, Lent and Easter-tide, is to culminate Sunday in Prestonsburg churches with the celebration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Special sermons and music to celebrate the occasion are to mark the day in the several churches at the morning hour. At night there will be a joint music service at the Methodist church, with singers from the Missionary Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist participating in the presentation of a cantata, "Calvary" by Wesler.

The union service is the concluding one of several during the Lenten and Easter season. All this week the churches have been co-operating in devotional noon-day periods given to music and meditation relating to the last week of Jesus before his resurrection and to His claim on the life of individuals.

These services will be held the rest of the week, at 12:15 o'clock Friday and Saturday with music and message. A good attendance and a spirit of interest and reverence has marked the noon-day Holy Week

COUNCIL HEARS TAX COMPLAINT

Special Meeting Tuesday Night. No Further Consideration Granted

There will be no further consideration extended to delinquent taxpayers regarding the raises in taxes, Mayor A. C. Carter said Tuesday night. The announcement was made following a called special meeting of the City Council held for the sole purpose of hearing the objections of the taxpayers.

Some of the taxpayers were present, it was stated, while others did not attend.

The raise was made to meet the obligations, indebtedness and judgments against the city. The mayor said that the city has not gone into debt from any source in the past six years.

He said that $35,000 in warrants alone were outstanding and extended back to date of the street paving in Prestonsburg. The present council has paid on an average of $6,000 per year on old indebtedness.

The mayor asserted that taxes, in the past, have not been handled properly even by some tax collectors and some of the councils.

It was stated that the present council is making a special effort to see that everyone pays their taxes. J. M. Weddington is the present tax collector.

COMMUNITY SING ON HIGH SCHOOL GROUNDS SUNDAY

The Recreational Council announces a Community Sing and Egg Hunt for adults and children to be held on the Prestonsburg high school campus on Easter Sunday at 3 p. m.

Austin J. Welch, state district supervisor, of Paintsville will be present to discuss plans for future community activities.

Sunday's activities are sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and will be under the direction of Mrs. Edith F. James, Floyd county recreational head.

$389,000 DEAL IN NEGOTIATION HERE REPORTED

Small Producing Companies To Sell To Recently Formed Company

EASTERN CAPITAL

Tips from reliable sources this week indicate that Prestonsburg will see another gas company operating in this section of Floyd and Martin, and possibly Knott and Pike counties, also. This will be realized if and when a corporation formed by Eastern capitalists, complete their negotiations with a number of Floyd county and Martin independent companies.

Negotiations are underway here now and the sale of the small companies is expected to be closed within the next four days for the reputed purchase price of $389,000. Several days of last week were spent in investigating titles and undergoing other matters of routine in climaxing the activities of the contracting parties for the past six months.

The Times was informed that the recently formed company, through their representatives, have already arranged eight wells, immediately upon the completion of the present negotiations. These wells will be located in Floyd and Martin counties.

For various reasons, it was explained, names of the contracting parties and their representatives are not made known for publication as yet. It is understood that the purchase price and other details are agreed upon but the deal is not closed. It was predicted that negotiations would close within a week or so. If it materializes within the allotted time, next week's paper will carry full particulars.

These local companies have successfully operated, since their formation over seven years ago, it is said here.

OLD RECORDS ARE PRESERVED

WPA Clerks Employed.
Pieces Of Records Sewn
With Thread

General indexing of all marriage licenses, court orders, deeds, suits and other various records of the county clerk's office is progressing with approximately three more months in which to complete the work. County Clerk A. B. Meade announced this week.

An invoice of records and sorting them out for filing according to the year recorded has been completed. Those employed in the work are now transcribing the records from papers, yellowed with age and in pieces thread-sewn together. The records date back to the year 1800.

County Clerk Meade stated that the records were in danger of being completely destroyed due to the neglect of clerks of previous years before his term in office, therefore, he sponsored a WPA project for the purpose of preserving this valuable data for generations to come. WPA clerical help is used in the work and an average of ten workers is employed.

Perusal of these old records will reveal the sale of land for denominations of shillings and pence; the sale of slaves; a marriage license issued in the "Territory of Orleans" transferred to Lexington court records and, thence, to here; and many odd recordings.

According to these records, Prestonsburg as far back as the year of 1805 had a "town board" or what we now call a "City Council."

Return From Florida
Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Francis returned Sunday from Florida, where they spent the past month. While there they spent several days in Cuba. They were accompanied home by Miss Eleanor King who has spent the past two months in Orlando, Fla.

Sunday School Lesson

THE RISEN LORD

International Sunday School Lesson for March 28, 1937.

Golden Text: "I am the first and the last, and the living one; and I was dead, and behold, I am alive for evermore."—Revelation 1:17, 18.

Lesson Text: John 20:1 to 21:25.

Far back into the misty recesses of history, we find men holding festival and rejoicing at the renewal of life in the Spring, following the sleep and death of Winter. Centuries later, our Germanic ancestors worshiped the goddess, Eostre, symbol of the sunrise and the spring. Our name for Easter comes from this, but its meaning is more wonderful than that understood by the Teutons in their dark forests. Christians identify Easter with the resurrection of their Lord. Having been arrested in the Garden of Gethsemane late Thursday night falsely accused, convicted and humiliated early Friday morning, and finally escorted to Golgotha where he was crucified between two thieves, Jesus lay in the tomb where he had been placed by Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea from Friday afternoon, throughout the Jewish Sabbath, until his resurrection early on the first day of the week, called by us, Sunday.

After scattering upon his arrest, the disciples of Jesus had reassembled after his death. Their spirit was anxious and pessimistic, although the mere fact of their being united seems to point to some fidelity of purpose or of hope. A group of women, who went to the tomb early on the first day of the week, found the body of Jesus gone, but it was to Mary of Magdala that Jesus made his first appearance.

Some interesting sidelights of this appearance should be noted. It seemed strange that the first appearance of the resurrected Lord should have been made to a woman rather than to some great leader or prominent personage. Again, the fact that these women were wondering how they would be able to gain entrance into the tomb shows that the body of Jesus had not been stolen by his own followers as the soldiers claimed. The condition of the grave clothes also negatives any theft. At first, Mary did not recognize Jesus, but shortly afterwards, the intonation of his voice brought recognition and Mary rushed back to the disciples to exclaim, "I have seen the Lord."

Jesus made many other appearances during the forty days between his resurrection and ascension. He appeared to the other women who were with Mary and, somewhat later, to Peter. In the afternoon he explained the Old Testament prophecies concerning himself to Cleopas and another as they walked to Emmaus. Later that evening, he entered the upper room supernaturally and revealed himself to a group of disciples, including all of the Eleven, excepting Thomas. Because of the latter's doubt that they had seen him, Jesus appeared again one week later. To seven disciples beside the Sea of Galilee Jesus appeared, as well as to the eleven apostles on a mountain. On one occasion, by arrangement, he appeared to more than five hundred of his followers in Galilee. He also made an individual appearance to James and, finally, to the eleven apostles when he gave them his final instructions.

The authenticity of the Christian faith stands or falls on the reality of the resurrection. The written record in the gospels carries conviction but there are other facts even more conducive to faith. The fact that the Christians soon changed from the traditional Jewish day of worship to the first day of the week in recognition of some great occasion to be commemorated is important. The transformation is the conduct of his disciples from discouraged, disappointed men testified eloquently to some now and dynamic source of faith and confidence. Peter, who denied Jesus three times in terror, faced the opposition of the Scribes and Pharisees and, courageously, preached the Pentecost, winning thousands of believers. Also, Paul, after his vision of the resurrected Christ, changed from a persecutor to an expounder of the new faith.

A personal faith in immortality is the strongest possible incentive for living properly. "The business of loving or hating, of being pure or impure, of spreading peace or weaving bitterness into the fabric of life," says Rufus M. Jones, "is eternal business, for all the time as one acts, one is forming the atmosphere in which he is going to live eternally . . . This life and the life beyond are not two things but one, or at least parts of one whole."

With this lesson, we conclude our study of the Gospel of John. We are wondering if the past quarter's careful study has achieved the purpose of John, stated in the twentieth chapter of his gospel, in verses 30 and 31, in which he states that, while he did not record all of the doings of Christ, "These things are written that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye may have life in his name," for, "as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become the children of God, even to them that believe on his name."

DEPARTMENT of REVENUE

News Release On Income Tax

The law requires that income tax returns be filed with the Department of Revenue on or before April 15, 1937, for the calendar year 1936. Income tax return forms are being mailed all individuals and corporations believed by the Department of Revenue to be liable for State income tax. The Income Tax Law applies to all income earned within Kentucky or by citizens of Kentucky (there are certain exceptions). The failure of the Department of Revenue to deliver return forms to any taxpayer does not diminish the obligation of the taxpayer to file a return.

In addition to the income tax returns, certain information returns are required. Persons making payment of any sort to Kentucky residents in the amount of $600.00, or more, or dividends and interest on registered bonds in the amount of $300.00 during any taxable year are required to report such payments upon Revenue Form 799 with a summary on Revenue Form 796. These two forms may be secured only upon request. It is required that they be filed with the Department by March 15, 1937, covering the calendar year 1936.

The Department of Revenue will have delivered returns to all individuals and corporations known to it by the first week of March. Any individual or corporation who is required to make a return and who has not received a form by that time should request the proper form of the Department.

Single individuals without dependents having a gross income for 1936 of more than $1,500 or a net income exceeding $1,000; married individuals or heads of families having dependents with a gross income of $3,000 or a net income exceeding $2,500; and all corporations doing business in Kentucky are required to make income tax returns.

Individuals deriving income from a profession, business (including farming), rents or sale of property, and all individuals with net incomes exceeding $5,000 derived from any source make a return on Revenue Form 740. Public employees, including school teachers, are taxable. Farmers also are required to make a return on 740F. Individuals with a net income of $5,000 or less derived from salaries, wages and interest from investments make a return on 740A.

Penalties are provided for failure to make a return as required by law. The department of Revenue urges all persons required to make a return and not having received a return by March 1 to request the appropriate form. Communications relating to the Kentucky income tax should be addressed to the Director of the Division of Income Taxation, Department of Revenue, Frankfort, Kentucky. Approved February 18, 1937 by the Commissioner of Revenue.

HELP KIDNEYS

To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste

Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys are functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.

You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

The Coming Pageant of Easter

Easter might be called, somewhat irreverently, a great show, particularly in the larger cities. People get out in all their finery, and countless photographs are taken of swell dressers and social leaders. They look very grand, as they march down the avenue clad in their glorified garments. The women are adorable in their fine array. Many men in tall coats and high hats look like diplomats or heads of great business organizations.

Within the church, the glorious flowers, the superb music, the crowded pews, show the world on dress parade. If only character and conduct were as smooth and perfect as these fine clothes, what a wonderful world we should have!

It is perfectly appropriate for people to put on good clothes when they attend church. Nothing would be gained if they presented themselves in the sanctuary in old and shabby garments. It is sometimes said that poorly dressed folks are repelled by such a congregation, and hate to show themselves among these successful folks. But if special attention and kind friendship is given to the man in the shabby suit, it can be shown that there are warm hearts beneath the finery.

People who see only the superficial aspects of the Easter pageant miss the hope and happiness it has to offer. If we see only the shine and glitter of such a scene, it will prove empty. Better listen to the words of inspiration that the preacher offers.

It makes little difference whether you get the latest styles from the Easter parade. It makes a big difference whether you get a philosophy you can live by.—Ashland Daily Independent.

ENLIST IN THE WOMEN'S FIELD ARMY

Scientists and doctors may, and do, disagree about many aspects of the cancer problem. They are all, however, in agreement on two essential points: First that cancer, if detected in its early stages, is curable; second, that it may be cured only by X-ray, radium and surgery.

Time is the factor of prime importance in coping with this disease. Authentic records are available of tens of thousands of persons who sought medical help before cancer had spread from its original site to other parts of the body and, as a result, are alive and well today. Cancer specialists are of the opinion that one-half of all those who now die from cancer could be cured, if they knew a few simple facts about the disease and acted promptly on that knowledge.

To spread this essential information, the American Society for the Control of Cancer has launched a Woman's Field Army. Leading women have volunteered to build this army, which is now functioning in 38 different states. These leaders represent practically all of the leading women's organizations in the United States. The General Federation of Women's Clubs, the National Organization of Public Health Nurses, the Women's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association of Women in Public Health, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, the National Council of Jewish Women, the National Women's Relief Society, the American Association of University Women, the Catholic Daughters of America, the National Society of the Daughters of the Revolution, the Zonta International, the National Association of Colored Women and others. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt heads the National Advisory Board.

The purpose of the campaign is not to spread fear; there is too much of that already. Its object is to inculcate a calm, alert and courageous attitude in the face of a great menace. Its slogan is "Early Cancer is Curable. Fight it with knowledge."

The program of education has been carefully worked out with the view of making it of real constructive value. Only material endorsed by scientists who have made a long study of cancer control will be used. Activities in each state will be under the direct supervision of representatives of the State Medical Association.

Those enlisting in this army become a part of a large group with a common purpose, at once personal and social. Each individual protects herself and shares her knowledge with relatives and friends for their protection.

Enlistment week will be from March 21 to 27, inclusive. Volunteer workers in every community in Kentucky will seek to enroll women as soldiers and men as contributing members in a war against a disease which ranks second among the causes of death in Kentucky and in the nation. Seventy cents out of every dollar contributed for the prosecution of this war will be expended in the state in which raised.

In the building of this continuing body of fighters cancer lies the hope, if not the certainty, of saving thousands of lives each year. The battle of the Women's Field Army is your battle.

Enlist this week in the Kentucky Division of the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

Mrs. E. H. Heller, Louisville, is State Commander.

CHURCHES ABSERVE EASTER

In addition to special services for the day, two of the churches are dressing up their buildings for Easter. Painting and other changes are being made this week at both the Baptist and Presbyterian churches, and both expect to shine forth Sunday in their coats, the Baptists in a pleasing gray, the Presbyterians in fawn and light buff.

The Methodist observance will open with sunrise service at the church for young people, with breakfast afterwards. At the morning hour there will be appropriate music and a sermon by the ministers the Rev. Harry F. King, appropriate to the time. Infants will be baptized and members publicly received. The service concludes a two-

Plans are being formed to arrange a broadcast by remote control over radio stations WSM, Nashville, Tenn., and WHAS, Louisville, Ky., of a concert by Independent Order of Odd Fellows' Orphans Home band at approximately 9 p. m. in the Pike county courthouse auditorium. The band will appear there under the direction of Bandmaster Kidd for the Kentucky Odd Fellows' 118th anniversary celebration on April 27.

A state-wide attendance of representatives from over 300 Kentucky I. O. O. F. lodges is anticipated, it was announced this week, for the 118th anniversary jubilee slated for a one-day session at Pikeville, Ky., Saturday, April 27.

Invitations are being sent to all lodges in the state and it is estimated that approximately two and one-half hours will be consumed in welcoming their delegations.

Festivities get under way at noon and continue through an anniversary ball that night at the Orange Crush building. Some of the highlights will be addresses by prominent speakers, a large parade thru the main streets of Pikeville and the fireworks display on the river bank opposite the city at 9:30 p. m.

Lodge notables to be present include Circuit Judge John W. Caudill, past grand master, Prestonsburg; former Governor Flem D. Sampson, past grand master; O. W. Stennett, present grand master; Bill Davis, grand secretary, and Judge E. E. Trivette, Pikeville, who will speak on the "Progress of Oddfellowship."

interest that was shown by the various County Superintendents at this meeting is prophetic of the furtherance of educational opportunities for the underprivileged youth in Eastern Kentucky.

No sooner had Sedley Brown finished painting a portrait of Allie Lowe Miles, his co-star on the Tuesday night "Husbands and Wives" broadcast over NBC, than he started another, a self-portrait. Says he can even do it without looking in a mirror after making up several thousand times during his theatrical career.

Sedley Brown

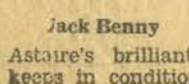

Family have been present. The movie producer wanted to change the story: Carlton Morse, the author, said no. The story will continue to be an exclusive radio feature.

Shirley Lloyd

came back. Now she carries the assignment alone.

Francia White, the soprano star, is getting more and more tamed. It is because she goes to Mexico between broadcasts to buy pottery.

Jack Benny

Astaire's brilliant young maestro, keeps in condition by scrimmaging with an amateur Hollywood football team. Johnny tips the beam at 194 and has shoulders to go with it.

Chester Lauck

Chester Lauck and Norris Goff, more famous as the radio team of Lum and Abner, are now broadcasting from Hollywood. Just as these lads have endeared themselves to the hearts of rural America, they are also winning scores of friends right in the capital of sophistication—Hollywood.

Helen Hayes

Helen Hayes has always liked making funny faces at friends and that is one of the reasons she enjoys radio work. Between scenes of her "Bambi" broadcasts she can kid around to her heart's content, grimacing at acquaintances in the control room. She tried it once when she was in Hollywood making movies and the entire scene had to be re-taken.

Phil Ducey may take on a musical comedy lead this summer in addition to his two radio shows.

Charlie McCarthy

Analysis of fan mail received by Rudy Vallee's ventriloquist star, Edgar Bergen, indicates that listeners are thinking of "Charlie McCarthy," Bergen's dummy, as a personality separate from Bergen. The ventriloquist encourages this and gives Charlie all the gags.

BANNER BRIDGE TO BE RE-ADVERTISED

County Attorney Forrest D. Short announced this week that the Floyd fiscal court Saturday authorized him to re-advertise for bids on the Banner bridge. The court, he explained, could not receive bids on the plans as they were drawn in accordance WPA specifications.

The WPA specifications entail unnecessary labor, he said, and stone piers that could be built of steel on concrete foundations.

W. C. Rimmer, Prestonsburg engineer, has been designated as draftsman to draw new plans for the structure.

IF YOU enjoy yourself most at films that make your hair stand on end, your spine tingle, and your hands grow damp in terror, Gaumont-British has brought over just the ideal evening's entertainment for you. It is "The Woman Alone," with Oscar Homolka and Sylvia Sidney.

If you take my advice, you will see it in the afternoon, so you will have a few hours before bedtime in which to recover from the sheer terror it inspires. But by all means see it, even if it does mean loss of sleep for a few days, for it is one of the smoothest and most gripping pictures you will ever have a chance to see.

Speaking of Sylvia Sidney, she and Ann Dvorak are running a neck and neck—or I should say test and test—race for the leading role in Samuel Goldwyn's film of "Dead End." Each girl has made several tests of the big scenes in the play and both are so good, Mr. Goldwyn is having a hard time choosing between them.

Sylvia Sidney

Ann Dvorak will get the role, because Sylvia Sidney has had so many triumphs lately, she really doesn't need another as much as the lovable Ann does.

When Jean Sablon sang on the Rudy Vallee hour recently, all the film scouts were listening. Immediately studio heads telegraphed their New York offices to take a look at him and put him under contract if his appearance was half as romantic as his voice.

Everyone who enjoys madcap comedy will be pleased with the forthcoming "Love Is News." Tyrone Power, Don Ameche, and Loretta Young play the leading roles, but there is another member of the cast who may interest you even more. Playing opposite Tyrone Power is a young lady named Carol Tevis who is an old, old friend of yours.

All Hollywood is rejoicing because W. C. Fields is so far on the road to recovery that he is able to have a few visitors now, walk around the sanitarium grounds, and even think about coming back to Paramount to work.

Zasu Pitts has come back from England where she made two pictures, paused in New York a short time and hustled into Hollywood to go to work at RKO. She loved sightseeing in England, particularly as her guide was the low-voiced Charles Laughton of innumerable film triumphs, including "Ruggles of Red Gap" in which she appeared.

ODDS AND ENDS—John Barrymore looked at himself on the screen and was so shocked that he went off to the desert with a physical trainer and went in for regular hours and exercise. After two weeks he emerged looking healthy and about ten years younger...

SYNOPSIS

Kezia Marsh, pretty, selfish and twenty, arrives home in Corinth from school and is met by her older brother, Hugh. He drives her to the Marsh home where her widowed mother, Fluvanna, a warm-hearted, self-sacrificing and understanding soul, welcomes her. Kezia's sister, Marge, plump and matronly with the care of three children, is at lunch with them. Hugh's wife, Dorrie, has pleaded a previous engagement. On the way back to his job at the steel plant founded by one of his forebears, Hugh passes Doc Hiller, a boyhood friend whom he no longer sees frequently because of Dorrie's antipathy.

"I've been counting the days and it seems as though I could scarcely wait. The cabin has a big fireplace where we can burn logs on cool nights; it's near enough to town—ten miles—so that our friends can drive out to see us.

"He hasn't enough money," said Miss Ruskin in a low tone. She moved her pad on her knee and lifted her pencil for his dictation. Hugh turned in his swivel chair and picked up a sheaf of letters.

"Mr. Marsh," said Miss Ruskin speaking with an effort, "you say we can't get along without someone who takes an interest. I say we can't get along without a vacation. It helps us to look at things differently; we are stronger to take care of our troubles when we come back. You haven't had a vacation. You—you look as if you needed one."

Hugh shook his head. "Just lack of exercise. I'm all right. Too many problems this summer to get away. Starting tonight, I'm going to walk night and morning—exercise is all I need."

After she left the room, he remembered that Doc Hiller, whom he had run into at lunch had said the same thing. Doc had asked him what he was doing to himself—burning the candle at both ends? He had gazed at him critically. "You'd better drop in some noon, let me look you over. That old plant will be there after you're dead and gone, boy. You are killing yourself with overwork."

It would be good to have a vacation, play and swim as Miss Ruskin intended doing, but that was out of the question. He had urged Dorrie to go away, visit her sister Beryl, or her mother who had married a dentist in Rochester, go to the seashore. But she had shaken her head. She was contented here. It was no fun at the seashore if he couldn't go along.

Late Saturday afternoon traffic tied up the crossings in a tangle of cars and hurrying pedestrians. The September heat was as oppressive as that of July, and it seemed a long way to his home. When he entered his front door he was grateful for the coolness of the house. He whistled a signal and received an answer from upstairs. He looked at the paper for a few minutes before going up. Dorrie was dressing when he entered their room, was pinning the shoulder of her yellow dress. She pointed to her cheek and he kissed her there. "My make-up,"

It's a Party Sure Enough!

AND the girl holding the curtains back, just looking on, might be joining the fun except for her misconception that "party" clothes are hard to sew. She made the neat sweet house model she's wearing with no trouble at all—but—

And Here's the Story. "Marge, did you really make your pretty dress all yourself? It looks so elaborate; I'd be afraid to cut into chiffon like that for fear I'd ruin it."

"Be yourself, Rose. It doesn't take a bit more skill to make my dress than yours. The pattern explains everything. You can't go wrong. I get a double kick out of making a party frock—I feel important sewing it and elegant wearing it. I couldn't begin to have so many party clothes if I didn't belong to The-Sew-Your-Own!"

Mother Made Daughter's Dress. "Joanie, dear, aren't you beginning this party business pretty young?"

"No, Auntie Rose, of course not. I've another one just like it that Grandma made for me. It's red and it has blue bands around it. I'm going to wear it to school tomorrow."

"Well, I see where I've got to get some silks and crepe, pluck up my nerve, and have some clothes. Now I've decided to join The Sewing Circle and make a real fashion debut, come Spring!"

The Patterns. Pattern 1237 is for sizes 34 to 46. Size 36 requires 4 3/4 yards of 35 inch material plus five-eighths of a yard contrasting. Pattern 1241 is cut in sizes 14 to 20 (32 to 44 bust). Size 16 requires 4 3/4 yards of 39 inch material.

"YOU MAY BE NEXT"

Ann Southern and Lloyd Nolan. News and comedy.

Coming Sun. and Mon., April 4-5—"CAIN AND MABEL" starring Marion Davies and Clark Gable.

at Betsy Layne by Rev Isaac Stratton. Burial was made in the family cemetery on George's Creek, Lawrence county, on Saturday, March 20.

"The Sick Man of Europe"
The phrase, "the sick man of Europe" probably had a journalistic origin, now lost. Montesquieu (1689-1755) in one of his "Persian Letters," speaks of the Ottoman Empire "whose sick body was not supported by a mild and regular diet, but by a powerful treatment, which continually exhausted it." The expression is also sometimes credited to Czar Nicholas I of Russia, in a conversation concerning Turkey held with a British diplomat in 1853: "We have on our hands a sick man, a very sick man."

Strongest Indian Confederation
There are nearly 2,000 mountains in the Adirondacks, some of them towering more than a mile in height, and the Iroquois, who possessed them, built up in their vigorous and bracing climate the strongest Indian confederation in history. Its power extended far down the East coast to the Carolinas, the group covering an area of nearly four million square acres.

CARR OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to the many friends for their kindness and sympathy during the death of our husband and brother, Claude Huff. Especially to Dr. M. Collins and family for the beautiful floral offering.

Beware!
The average temperature of food should not exceed 50°

FOOD may look good, smell good, taste good and yet contain sufficient bacteria to cause serious harm to health. In temperatures above 50 degrees, foods spoil, bacteria in meats and milk multiply and mold grows in such left-overs as cooked corn and peas. The ELECTRIC Refrigerator is the only mechanical refrigerator with sufficient flexibility to meet the demands of frequent and sudden changes in outside temperatures.

"Mechanical Refrigeration" means the production of cold by a machine. With Mechanical Refrigeration, there is no substitute for Electric Power.
