CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN OPENS

President of A. M. A. Endorses Drive Which Ends Christmas

Need of an "annual awakening" to recognition of the fight against tuberculosis in the United States was voiced this week by Dr. Thoms Parran, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service in an endorsement of the 33rd annual Christmas Seal campaign of the National Tuberculosis Association. Dr. Rook Sleyster, of Wauatosa, Wis., president of the American Medical Association, added his endorsement to the campaign which is now underway and which will continue through Christmas. Nearly 2,999 affiliated tuberculosis organizations and committees in all parts of the country are participating.

"When the matter of funds for fighting tuberculosis is considered," said Dr. Parran, "the Christmas Seal small it itself, but large in its potentialities, enters the picture.

"While the amount obtained through this source is relatively small in the aggregate, it serves a doubly useful purpose. This is true especially in the localities in which the seals are purchased and where 95 per cent of the money is expended in anti-tuberculosis work. Then, too, the annual stimulus provided by the seals is an important factor in keeping alive interest and promoting renewed activity against an unrelenting foe.

"We need the annual awakening provided by this harbinger of better health and should be glad to make the trivial purchases required for keeping the work active and effective." Dr. Sleyster said "It is a pleasure, indeed, to give my hearty endorsement to the Christmas Seal campaign of the National Tuberculosis Association. I have been actively interested in this promotion for the last quarter of a century."

"Chevrolet's FIRST Again!"

Only Chevrolet has this EXCLUSIVE VACUUM-POWER SHIFT!

—and only Chevrolet's Exclusive Vacuum-Power Shift has a hidden power cylinder which does 80% of the gearshifting work for you!

Why shift for yourself? Why do it the hard way? Chevrolet's Exclusive Vacuum-Power Shift is controlled from the steering column by an extra-short lever—its end right under the rim of the steering wheel, within easy finger reach. The only effort required of the driver is to move the lever; the vacuum cylinder supplies the effort required to move the shifter forks and gears within the transmission. Instead of supplying all the effort of shifting, the driver supplies only one-fifth; the compact, simple vacuum mechanism, positive and unfailing in operation, does the rest.

80% AUTOMATIC—ONLY 20% DRIVER EFFORT!

ALL steering column gearshifts look a more or less alike. . . . But only Chevrolet's New Exclusive Vacuum-Power Shift acts for itself when you touch the lever. . . . Only this one advanced steering column gearshift is 80% automatic in operation!

You see, Chevrolet's New Exclusive Vacuum-Power Shift has a hidden power cylinder. And this power cylinder goes into action the instant you start to shift gears. It does 80% of the work for you instead of letting you push and tug and do all the work yourself!

You want the newest and best—the best in driving and riding ease, the best in styling and road-action—and on all these counts "Chevrolet's FIRST Again!"

flags a taxi carries will be either red or white—or both. If red—so we are told—you can get red whisky from that car; if white, it's moonshine in stock. And if it's a two-color "job," both red and white, you can get either. The boys could include that other patriotic color of blue to represent how you'll feel, the morning after.

JUST A PLAIN, SIMPLE, HONEST PROMISE TO TRY HARDER

True to the code of the real newspaper man, Keen Johnson refuses to take himself too seriously. In his inaugural address he very simply and altogether convincingly said—not egotistically, with no vain-glorious illusions—"I will try harder than did any of my predecessors to make you a good, honest Governor."

Every day, I'm getting stronger for Keen Johnson—and I don't expect any job of any kind from him.

I, somehow, get the idea that Keen Johnson is not what you ordinarily would call a politician—he realizes his task too keenly, is too conscientious, looks too squarely in the face his own shortcomings, and so makes no promises other than that he will try harder than any other Governor of Kentucky ever did.

And, if you're "fair," you'll agree that's enough for Keen Johnson or anybody else to promise.

ANOTHER WAY OF SAYIN', "THANKS!"

Ever so often, I am reminded that my Dad has some of the nicest friends. For instance, last Saturday, after I had "white-eyed" as a pursuer of the elusive quail, and then had politely lied to him about being hungry, Jonathan Fitzpatrick, up Middle Creek, insisted that I have a piece of backbone and some of the very kind of corn bread that my mother used to make. And that carried the friendship over to the second generation.

Allen, Damron Contest

That the election officers of Knott county cast the votes of a large number of persons who were not at the election—at least 200 in each Garner and Lower Beaver precincts.

That the election officers of Floyd county permitted at least 50 per cent of the voters in the following precincts to vote "openly, on the table," without being sworn as to their inability to read or write or as to blindness: Dwale, Depot, Kiser, Prater, Jack's Creek, John Ant, Toler, Drift, Ligon, Kennedy, Cow, New Martin, Spurlock, Buckeye, Burton, Haymond, Buffalo, Arkansas, Lee Hall, Rough & Tough, Bull Creek, Cliff, Porter, Little Mud, Lee Alley, John Possum, Wards 1 and 2 of Prestonsburg, Abbott, Betsy Layne, Ivel, Mouth of Mud and Maytown.

In Rough and Tough precinct, the petition alleges, the votes of the following persons were cast for the contestee while they were absent from the polling place:

Jimmie Clines, Pearl Hackworth, Joe McKenzie, Anne Marsillet, Pearly Nelson, Homer Nelson, Jack Marsillet, Amos Marsillet, Mack Marsillet, Chester Howard, Tolbert Holbrook, Wayne Hackworth, Ike Fitzpatrick, Mahala Fitzpatrick, Edgar Fitzpatrick, Sadie Damroe, Sam Collins, Melie Cole, Ruth Barnett, Florence Arnett, Ortie Adams, Monroe Adams, Alic Adams, Sula Salyers, Lessie Allen, Maggie Prater, Carrie Burk, Estill Shepherd, Elbert Bays, Lee Owens, Woodrow Adams, Jim Howard, Grover Holbrook, Herbert Prater, Grover England, Add England, Elsie Prater, Carson Hackworth, Lullie Hackworth, Sandie Helton, Aggie Marsillet, Willie Hall, Shelle Adams, Tildie Cole, Burt Damron, Jane Poe, Queen Arnett, Dora Adams, Ethel Adams, Mary Adams, Norman Adams, Gertrude Adams, Bennie Helton, Jacon Brown, Johnnie Poe.

Mr. Allen represents himself as attorney.

Contest action of Fred E. Damron, Martin, Republican, against Circuit Clerk-elect Bill Cooley alleges:

That in 30, of the county's 52, pre-incts, Cooley's friends, relatives and strikers were permitted to go into the voting places and electioneer with and induce more than 20 per cent of the voters to cast their ballots for the contestee.

That, with the knowledge of the contestee, a large sum of money was expended in his behalf by friends, relatives and supporters.

That in the same 30 precincts at least 50 per cent of the voters cast their ballots openly and "on the table," without being required to take the legal oath of being unable to vote for themselves.

That persons who did not go to the election at all were voted for Cooley. That Cooley was guilty of Corrupt Practices act violation, while the contestant was not.

The contestant is represented by H. R. Burke and Joe P. Tackett.

Use of a $500 "slush fund" was alleged by G. D. Ryan, D. E. Chaffin, C. R. Marshall, Dr. G. C. Collins, and Clyde Dingus, contesting the election to the Board of Trustees of the town of Martin of Ted Salisbury, Wm. Patrick, W. L. Bentley, J. D. Adams and Lawrence A. Maggard.

In both precincts of Martin.—John Possum and New Martin,—the contestees contend, at least 50 votes were cast for the contestees by persons who were not entitled to vote by reason of not having resided for the period required by law in the state, county, or precinct. In John Possum, it was alleged, 50 votes were cast openly without legal oath being administered. The same number of voters were bribed there, it also was claimed.

One hundred voters cast their ballots for the contestees in New Martin precinct, openly and "on the table," without benefit of oath, the petitions, filed by the five contestants, allege. Fifty persons there were bribed, also, it is contended.

To place the city jail in such condition that prisoners may be housed there an emergency fund of $100 was created at Monday night's meeting after a committee had reported on needs for jail repairs. The city has, for some time, been paying the county for use of the Floyd county jail.

Policeman Blackburn was named to supervise street-cleaning work done by city prisoners.

The council acknowledged with thanks the offer of S. B. Howard, owner of the Howard Motor Co., supplying the police department with a patrol car. Mr. Howard placed the automobile at the disposal of the city for this purpose, and is making no charge for use of the car.

An ordinance voted by the council Monday night annexed to the corporation the Club Rustique at the lower limits of Prestonsburg. As a part of the town the club will not be affected by the order issued last week by the Floyd county court, closing roadhouses at 9 p. m. daily, except on Saturday nights when the closing hour was set at 10 o'clock.

Mayor E. P. Arnold assured a committee from the Woman's Club that shooting of fireworks on the streets during the holiday season will not be tolerated. The committee in addition to protesting against the noise created by Christmas celebrants, asked that those guilty of stealing lights and other Christmas decorations in front of private homes be prosecuted.

The Council invited the public to attend the meetings. Regular meeting dates are the first and third Mondays of each month. Next meeting of the Council will be held Monday night, December 18, at the City Hall.

DOUBT EXPRESSED BY REVENUE DEPT'

Assessment Returns Show
Eight Counties With No
Poultry

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 4—The State Revenue Department is a bit skeptical of some of the assessment returns filed by county tax commissioners. According to the returns, the department says, eight counties have no poultry.

The department finds it rather easy to refute such testimony, and produces the latest United States census figures on three-months-old chicks showing the Kentucky county with the least number (all of them had some) had 18,000.

Fifteen of Kentucky's 120 counties have no buses ambulances or hearses, the department says with tongue in cheek. There are no horse-drawn vehicles in 32 of them and no horses in two.

There are no musical instruments or radios in four counties—no jewelry, gold or silver in twelve. No books or libraries in five, and no farm machinery or implements in four.

All the above are items subject to assessment. Property owners file voluntary returns, and it is the duty of the commissioners to check them, the department said.

here this summer, James W. Martin, then commissioner of revenue, was criticized for his recommendation that the commissioners be appointed instead of elected.

Some commissioners, however, are extremely conscientious, the department says. Beehives were reported for assessment in 37 counties, pure-bred horses in 61, and patents and copyrights in 61.

The figures were taken from the 1938-39 tax year returns.

Floyd Supplies Adequate

The trouble between Kentucky and the federal agency apparently is due to the fact that other states participate by providing state funds for the necessary expenses of distribution. Kentucky has no such appropriation and leaves financial participation to a few local communities or to the federal agency. Since the "Presidential Limitation," on the time during which a project operates, ends December 15 federal authorities have refused to continue to supply commodities on this basis.

A WPA spokesman said that Governor Johnson had indicated his willingness to have the matter discussed when the Legislature meets in January, and that he was trying to find a way of raising the necessary money from existing appropriations. It is probable, however, that the state may be without commodities for at least two weeks between December 15 and the convening of the Legislature in January.

The uncertainty of the present situation means, it was explained, that commodities earmarked for Kentucky probably will be held up until the matter is settled, and some of these may be assigned to other states. If the deadline passes without any state action being taken, all activity in commodity centers will cease until some new arrangement can be made.

Certifying Agent

With a quota of 1165 workers, Floyd county is still shy by more than 200 employes of reaching the possible peak of WPA employment December 6, there were 959 persons at WPA work in the county, Garland Rice, of the Paintsville office, said. The quota of 1,165, Mr. Rice explained, includes 99 women of the Professional and Service division of the WPA.

"We are assigning them to work as fast as they are certified and approved," Mr. Rice told THE TIMES.

Only three persons all women, of those certified in Floyd, had not been assigned to employment Monday, it was said.

THE TIMES did not learn how many were on the "waiting list" in this county.

CONVICTS CAUGHT NEAR HAGER HILL

Osborne and Warren are Returned to State 'Pen' Last Week

Captured in an abandoned house near Hager Hill by Johnson county officers Tuesday evening of last week, eight days after they had escaped from the State Prison Farm at La Grange, Melvin Osborn, of Prestonsburg, and James Warren, of Henry county, were returned to the state reformatory Wednesday.

Osborn is under a two-year sentence for store house breaking and Warren is serving a life term for murder.

The two convicts, with Woodrow Wilson, serving a five-year sentence for house breaking, were working with a fence-building crew on the prison farm November 28 and escaped by fleeing into the woods. Wilson was captured by state police at Danville on the day after the escape.

Osborn and Warren came to the old house Monday, driving an Oldham licensed car, said to have been stolen by the prisoners when they made their escape. Residents of the neighborhood became suspicious of the men's actions and the officers were tipped off. The prisoners were unarmed and offered no resistance when they were arrested.

A search of the house revealed a plentiful supply of provisions, thought to have been stolen from some store.

TIDBITS OF KY. FOLKLORE CORN

Benjamin Franklin bitterly opposed having the eagle as our nation's emblem; he said that the turkey was a much more suitable bird, something distinctive in the new world. Numerous humorists have made fun of this suggestion and have even attempted to show how the turkey would look on our national stationery or on our coins. Long association of the turkey with abundant feasts in the fall, especially at Thanksgiving, probably has robbed it of a dignity that it might very well have. But another distinctive American product has all the dignity and beauty of the objects adopted as emblems of other countries, as impressive as thistle or rose or fleur-de-lis or lotus. I refer, of course, to our maize or corn.

Corn is basically associated with the very plain people that we call the folk. It was introduced to the whites by the folk, the so-called savages of America, who yet, in spite of their savagery had tamed the turkey and the llama and had domesticated tobacco, beans, corn, white and sweet potatoes, and some two dozen other food plants. The various tribes had their legends as to the origin of this valuable grain, the most beautiful one being the elaborate story among the Chippewas that Longfellow has retold in Hiawatha. All traces of this wild plant that was the ancestor of corn had been lost before the discovery of America. Teosinte, the nearest living relative, is rather far removed from corn as we know it, except when there is a throw-back, and a small ear forms in the tassel.

Every process of raising corn and preparing it for food has developed many customs that are picturesque and smack of the folk. The earliest the corn raised from to plant a corn fish in each corn to insure quick and strong growth. Whether planting corn in checks or hills has continued because of that or to facilitate plowing both ways I will leave to farm magazines or scholars. The most primitive natives of Central and South America,

I read, still plant their corn in hills, often loosening the dirt only at those places, with crude grubbing hoes or crowbars.

CRASH KILLS LOUISA MAN

Louisa—W. S. Justice, 40, member-elect of the Louisa City Council and until recently a Louisa grocer, died Friday night in a Louisville hospital of injuries sustained the previous night in an automobile wreck there.

Mr. Justice, after selling his interest in the Moore and Justice Grocery here to his partner, H. K. Moore, had gone to Jeffersonville, near Louisville, for a visit to his brother, Joe Fraley. Thursday night, while on a trip to Louisville, his car crashed into a safety zone. He was alone at the time.

His wife and daughter left early Friday morning and were with him when death came Friday evening at 6 o'clock. A crushed chest caused his death, hospital attaches said.

The body was returned to Louisa Saturday.

PIKE PRISONER ATTEMPTS BREAK

Pikeville—When most fellows find themselves incarcerated in the Pike county jail they send for a bondsman but, according to Jailer Floyd Bevins, one prisoner has different ideas on securing his release in the shortest possible time.

Charles Bowens, of the Virgie section, lodged in jail Sunday, was discovered early Sunday night attempting to make an escape, Bevins reports. The attempt was discovered by B. N. Harris, a deputy jailer, who reported to Bevins that Bowens had secured a piece of iron and was cutting around a window. Bowens was held on a theft charge.

Bowens, Bevins states, escaped from the county jail more than two years ago and was returned here from the west where he was apprehended by Sheriff Grover Rowe and later made two successful breaks from work crews.

EFFORT TO HOP MOVING TRUCK FATAL TO BOY, 9

Pikeville—An effort to hop a truck while it was in motion at 1:10 p. m. today cost the life of William Newson, Jr., 9, a short distance from his home at Stewart on Caney Creek, 18 miles south of here. He died 20 minutes later while en route to the Methodist hospital here.

The truck, owned by John Mullins, a logger, was operated by his son, Dial Mullins, 21, who picked up the boy and tried to aid him, the coroner was told.

Death of the Newson boy brought Pike county's automobile fatalities for 1939 to 18, compared to 21 for the corresponding period in 1938.

DRILLING OPERATIONS IN EASTERN KENTUCKY CONTINUE UNCHANGED

Drilling activities in the Eastern Kentucky gas field continue on a low level, with several districts reporting "no operations." It is thought by many operators that this trend will be unchanged until after the first of the year.

In this county the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company is down 1670 feet in slate in well No. 5259 on the John W. Taylor land on Toler Creek. The same company is setting up at well No. 5261 on the J. P. Sturgill land, also on Toler Creek.

C. J. Sipple & Company is down 125 feet in well No. 8 on the William Salyer land on Birch Branch in the Burning Fork district of Magoffin county, but due to trouble in securing water are only able to drill part time.

Drilling in well No. 14 on the W. M. Savage land in the Busseyville-Fallsburg district of Lawrence county has reached a depth of 730 feet. The operator was not named in the report.

In Martin county the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company has reached the 2420-foot level in shale in well No. 5252 on the Clery Taylor land on Linbark Fork of Coldwater Fork. The same firm is running 8 1/2-inch water pipe at the 1562-foot level in sand in well No. 581 on the Wilson Short land located in the Rockcastle area.

The Virginia Coal and Land Company is drilling a test well on its land six miles south of Coeburn in Wise county, Virginia. The operation is especially interesting to Kentucky operators. The well will be a deep test going to 5,000 or more feet and is already down over 3,000 feet in the Big Injun sand.

It is located on the back side of over-thrust with the front side of the fault, in Kentucky, following the state line. While the operation has only a light bearing on Kentucky it will be closely watched for possible commercial production and from a scientific standpoint.

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

Yep, I'm back, Briar Buck. Didn't you see me, election day? Remember your letter of instructions said you would be watched—well, I was with the man watching you.

Bob Reitz has joined the league of Midnight Bottle Warmers.

From all reports, Arthur Tackett will get his "rib" back this week-end.

A man is prouder of things he things he thinks he can accomplish than those he really can.

Wanted—Basketball games by the independent Drift five—the Turner-Elkhorn "Mudcats." If you want a game, just call Turner-Elkhorn.

Attention, all independent basketball teams in Floyd county: Let's all get together and form a Floyd county basketball league. Let's get all interested teams together, elect officers and make a schedule. This will be a great aid to independent basketball in Floyd county.

Many a person has an excellent aim in life—but little or no ammunition.

Big Russia attacking little Finland because of border incidents by the latter is about like the man kicking the dog because the dog raised his leg to kick him first.

TURNER-ELKHORN

Mark Reed's Turner-Elkhorn Mudders romped to an easy 33-15 victory Friday night over the Garrett Independents.

Curt Stumbo and Wade Hall were high scorers for the Drift five, the former banging the net for 17 points. The Turner-Elkhorn machine composed of Hall, Ward, Curt Stumbo, Akers and Glidden Stumbo, are really hitting on all five. Anyone interested in a game with the above quintette, call M. K. Reed, at Drift, Ky.

We're still of the opinion that the independent basketball teams of Floyd county should organize a basketball league. We believe a league would further the interests of independent basketball in Floyd county.

Well, I heard Tom Dewey and I finally find the words to describe him in the C. I. O. Magazine, UNBRIDLED EGOTIST—"One who belittles the efforts of others, not with the constructive idea of teaching them to do better, but simply to exhibit them as objects of ridicule."

If Mr. Dewey should get the nomination and run on the "New Deal Hate" platform—without offering anything better—why, F.D.R. would have to campaign in only TWO states.

A fellow "loped on" me for criticising the highway department without offering anything better. But I did offer something better—get a commissioner that could at least carry his home county in the final election.

Briar Buck was a visitor in Drift this week—and the first thing he asked was, how to get across the creek. After he'd balanced himself on that "board," I'm sure he knows how we feel about that "20-year bridge."

A prediction: Russia and Germany will be at war before long and so will Italy and Russia.

That sand that the highway department spread on the Left Beaver road has "Gone With the Wind." It just dried up and "blowed" away.

The Turner-Elkhorn basketball team wanted to call themselves the "Aces," but that wouldn't be POKER. There's something funny when five aces show up in a deck.

A contest suit is like a Suicide Blonde—"Died by her own hands."

Martin Dies will have to investigate our license division of the state government—our new automobile licenses are RED and WHITE.

We don't know how far we'll get, but we're asking the next grand jury to investigate the $6.50 fee matter.

I heard the Green Bay-New York Giants' championship game. The giants acted like Bill Terry's outfit—the punch was lacking.

It won't do any good to report it but fires are out all over Left Beaver.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

Governor Johnson made a statement last week that brought much joy to the taxpayers and business men of Kentucky.

He said: "The only specific legislation I favor for the 1940 General Assembly meeting here in January is a budget bill that will keep within the state's revenue."

The people of Kentucky recognize true merit and show their appreciation at the polls. This statement of Governor Johnson's last week verified their belief that he will not increase taxes and will run an efficient and business-like administration that will reduce the state debt. They believed he would do this when he made no rash promise to the old-age pensioners during his campaign.

Request for the new budget totaled $33,000,000 and will have to be cut to $24,000,000 to keep within the state revenue.

Kentucky's marriage law, passed by the 1938 Assembly, becomes effective March 1, 1940, and is a great step forward in Kentucky's welfare and public health program. The new law will require applicants for marriage license to pass physical examinations and present certificates from their doctors to the county clerks before a license can be issued.

The race for Speaker of the House seems to have developed into a two-man affair between Dr. Shields, of Taylorsville, and Henry Ward, of Paducah. Henry, it will be remembered, held "toll bridge" reduction meetings all over the state before the 1936 session and many believe the public interest these meetings aroused caused fares on toll bridges to be drastically reduced. Ward's idea that increased traffic would keep the revenue from these bridges up, has been proven by the revenue since the tolls were reduced.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL CONDUCTED AT HIPPO

Hippo, Ky. (Spl.)—Aiming his teachings mostly toward the children of the community rather than toward the older persons, the Rev. Garland Corn, of Betsy Layne, is conducting at the Church of Christ here one of the most successful revivals ever held in this community.

Children of the entire Brush Creek area have shown much enthusiasm in the work of the Reverend Corn and last Saturday eight of them appeared in a musical program over station WETH, Williamson, W. Va. Those on the program were Luraney Hicks, nine-year-old leader of the group; Effie Hicks, Wilma, Lolie and Ruth Hughes, Rhoda Jones, Birdie Ousley and Gracie Ousley. They were taken to Williamson by Alka Hicks and Milton Prater.

The revival will continue through this week.

This 'n' That

(By NOBLE HOBBS)

The Wayland Local Union had a few distinguished visitors recently in the persons of Sam Caddy, president of District 30, U. M. W. of A., and Tom Raney, together with Edward Reynolds, who are the managers of the Pikeville and Hazard offices of the U. M. W. A. They were accompanied by John Young Brown, who is attorney for District 30.

Mr. Caddy spoke at length on the controversy between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. and told the local union there were certain principles involved that could not be compromised.

Mr. Brown's subject was, "Selling Organized Labor to the Public," and he gave some mighty good advice as to how members of the Union should conduct themselves in public.

After the speaking, all adjourned to the Midway restaurant, where a chicken dinner was served to our visitors and several Local Union leaders on Right Beaver Creek.

We can't help but wonder just what is the intention of old Kris Kringle toward ye humble scribe this year. Yes, I still believe in the old gentleman and I think Dr. Wicker recently spoke a nice piece about the matter when he said, "I haven't got much patience with anybody who doesn't believe in Santa Claus and hasn't helped to grit bread for an old-time association." Them's my sentiments, by cracky!

Several of the boys attended the recent football game between Tennessee and Kentucky and, believe me, that was a football game enjoyed by all who attended. There were plenty of spirit and spirits at the game and I would like to see all the bottles that were gathered in the stands after the game. Kentucky had a good team but were just outclassed. But watch the boys from the Blue Grass state next year.

Again I want to compliment the Business Men's Association of Prestonsburg about their activities. It seems to me there is something that is hard to define that has come over Prestonsburg since they have organized, Prestonsburg is a cleaner town and there is more civic pride, inasmuch as the streets are cleaner, etc.

We think the one big drawback to the advancement of Prestonsburg has been the activities of certain law officers and, if the members of this association will continue to watch this situation, it can be remedied so that at least they will not be hanging signs out, advising the general public to avoid Prestonsburg.

An invitation to some of the officers of my Local Union from the association was mailed some time back, but we did not receive it in time to attend. Hence, we think we missed something.

UNRUFFLED RICHARD

"Brother Dick" Osborne was far from astonished at the sudden change of temperature recently. A passing friend commented: "Well, Dick, after all the warm weather we've been having, don't you think it's awfully strange how cold it has gotten all at once?"

"Nothing strange about that," Mr. Osborne answered, "it usually gets cold around this time of the year."

THEORY VS. PRACTICE

The preaching of unity doesn't always result in harmony. Sometimes the flock will differ as to who shall lead the united front, as is the case of American labor organizations and the Martin church factions.

His philosophy is, "Take care of today and let tomorrow take care of itself." And says "the longer you wait the more you get." That's why he waits till way after dark to do the milking!

Some of our local sages are accusing Shikepoke of changing political parties, but the rascals fail to tell which one he belonged to in the beginning!

Why the one-armed people didn't vote for Swope: They couldn't vote and hold their noses at the same time.

TRAVEL BULLETIN TODAY'S ROADS

Prepared By Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club

WARNING AGAINST LIVESTOCK ON HIGHWAY

With the tide of winter travel beginning to get under way motorists are warned to beware of livestock roaming on the highways when driving through Southern states.

Despite the co-operative efforts between the AAA and many groups within the "highway pasture" states Missouri was the only state to adopt a law compelling owners of livestock to keep their animals behind fences. Arkansas "devalued" cows by preventing suits against motorists who run over them on the highway, but all other states — particularly in the southeast where the problem is the worst—left the situation as bad as it was before.

In view of the tremendous returns realized by the Southern states from winter tourist travel, it is hard to understand why they are willing to jeopardize this traffic just to allow a few farmers to continue grazing their cows, pigs, goats, sheep and whatnot along the main travel routes. The highways, of course, were paid for, largely, but not entirely, by motor tax revenues and were developed for the handling of traffic. To allow them to remain stamping-grounds for assorted livestock is to rob them of their efficiency as handlers of traffic and at the same time to create a traffic hazard of major proportions.

Whatever may be said in favor of cows, it is a well-known fact they are low in intelligence and, accordingly, are prone to step confidently into the highway exactly in the path of an oncoming vehicle. Since the cow cannot be depended on to use better judgment, it is up to the motorist to keep on the lookout for wandering livestock and to hope that eventually the legislators will get around to requiring that fences for cows, goats and other animals endowed with poor
