

SEVENTH DISTRICT CLUBWOMEN HOLD CONVENTION HERE

Mrs. Carroll, State President, Addresses Members At Meeting Friday

MAYTOWN, SCENE OF NEXT YEAR'S MEETING

Mrs. J. E. Lewis, Whitesburg, Is Chosen New Governor For District

(By MRS. J. D. MAYO) Clubwomen of the Seventh district had the pleasure of hearing their state president, Mrs. T. C. Carroll, in an address before the convention body which met in the Methodist Church Friday, October 27. Mrs. Carroll gave the high-lights of the General Federated Women's Clubs' slogan for the coming year. An earnest appeal was made to every club member to work for peace, to shun propaganda that may influence us to the contrary. Character education in the schools was stressed by Mrs. Carroll, a chart containing the Ten Commandments being recommended for every school-room. Aiding delinquent girls as a worthy project was recommended. "First a homemaker, second, a clubwoman," was stressed as the citadel for the making of good citizens of Kentucky's children, the speaker emphasized. Nine presidents of clubs gave reports of work achieved by their clubs during the past year: Mrs. J. C. Lewis, Whitesburg; Mrs. Frank Merrill, Jenkins; Mrs. John Webb, Jenkins Junior Club; Mrs. E. D. Stephenson, Pikeville; Mrs. J. D. Thomas, Prestonsburg; Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, Lackey-Garrett; Mrs. W. W. Cooley, Maytown; Mrs. Lee Hill, Martin.

Mrs. John W. Langley, district governor, gave her final report and farewell address, at which time she presented Mrs. Carroll with a beautiful desk watch as a token of her esteem. By unanimous vote, Mrs. J. E. Lewis, of Whitesburg, was elected Governor for the ensuing two years. At one o'clock a sumptuous turkey dinner was served in the banquet room of the Auxier hotel. Mrs. A. Mandt, Mrs. A. Culbertson and Mrs. Chas. Hughes were in charge of table decorations in which they carried

TIMES GETS AROUND. THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES does get around, and what it has been saying for the Prestonsburg Co-Operative Business Association also seems to attract the attention of business groups far beyond the narrow confines of our balliwick. For instance, last week came to this office a letter from O. W. Bennett, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Stillwater, Minn., which is self-explanatory: "Received a package of electros the other day and between them was a copy of your fine paper. Read it from 'cover to cover.'" "Enjoyed your editorial page and your column on Uncle Jeff." "Noticed, too, your trade-at-home policy, especially your reference to 'merchant and customer alike.' Very Good. My personal belief is that a TRY at home first campaign is better than a purely patriotic trade at home policy. It leaves a better taste in the customer's mouth--and after all if the article can't be bought at home--what'reya gonna do?" "Would you take the time to send me details of your '4 $50 bills given away Saturday' campaign?" "Was it successful? How does it work? Where do the 'bills' come from, and so forth?" "Thank you much for an enjoyable evening's reading."

CIRCUIT COURT MOST IMPORTANT

TO VACATE BENCH

Caudill's Regular Tenure of Floyd Circuit Court Bench Ends Saturday

Upon adjournment of the regular October term of circuit court Saturday Circuit Judge John W. Caudill concludes his six-year tenure of the bench of the Floyd circuit court.

From here he goes to Hindman, where the Knott circuit court convenes next week for Judge Caudill's last official term in the district.

Only special hearings will return Judge Caudill to the bench here before the expiration of his term December 31.

RELIEF FOR POLIO VICTIMS DISCUSSED

Dr. Garred Addresses Physicians, Nurses of Three Counties

Physicians and nurses of three counties heard Dr. M. D. Garred, of the Crippled Children's hospital, Ashland, outline in a lecture at the courthouse here Thursday night steps to be taken in the care and treatment of convalescents from infantile paralysis.

Dr. Garred was called here by Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd county health department, after 55 polio cases had been reported and after it was indicated that as many more may exist in the county but unknown to health authorities.

During the week an extra nurse was assigned to duty with the health department here to assist in contact with those crippled by the malady.

Three cases discovered Tuesday brought the epidemic total to 58, Dr. Ransdell said Wednesday morning.

The usual prevalence of infantile paralysis, Dr. Ransdell pointed out, is one to each 6,000 population. Floyd county's incidence of the disease, as the figures now stand, is more than one to each 1,000 population, and when the full scope of the outbreak is known may be two to the 1,000 persons.

The Floyd county epidemic is the worst, health authorities said, in the history of the state.

Improvement was noted, however, this week in the situation with the appearance of cool weather. Only nine cases were reported last week and a number of these were "old."

HAS JURISDICTION OVER TITLE TO ALL PROPERTY; THE LIVES AND LIBERTY OF THE PEOPLE

C. B. WHEELER ADMITTEDLY BEST QUALIFIED AS CIRCUIT JUDGE

Prestonsburg, Ky.—With the campaign drawing to a close it is interesting to note the reaction of the people to the various candidates. As in every campaign many statements have been issued by some with the hope that they could make the voter believe their cause was being championed by every man and woman; but the mistake these candidates, who make such unreasonable claims, make is that the people compare notes with each other and weed out the truth from mis-statements.

When only one candidate makes any effort to see all the people and others sit in their chair at Prestonsburg and "talk through their hat" it is not difficult to imagine who will come through as the WINNER on November 7.

Each day one hears the statement from every creek and every branch, in every precinct: "Wheeler has been to see us but the other fellows haven't been around."

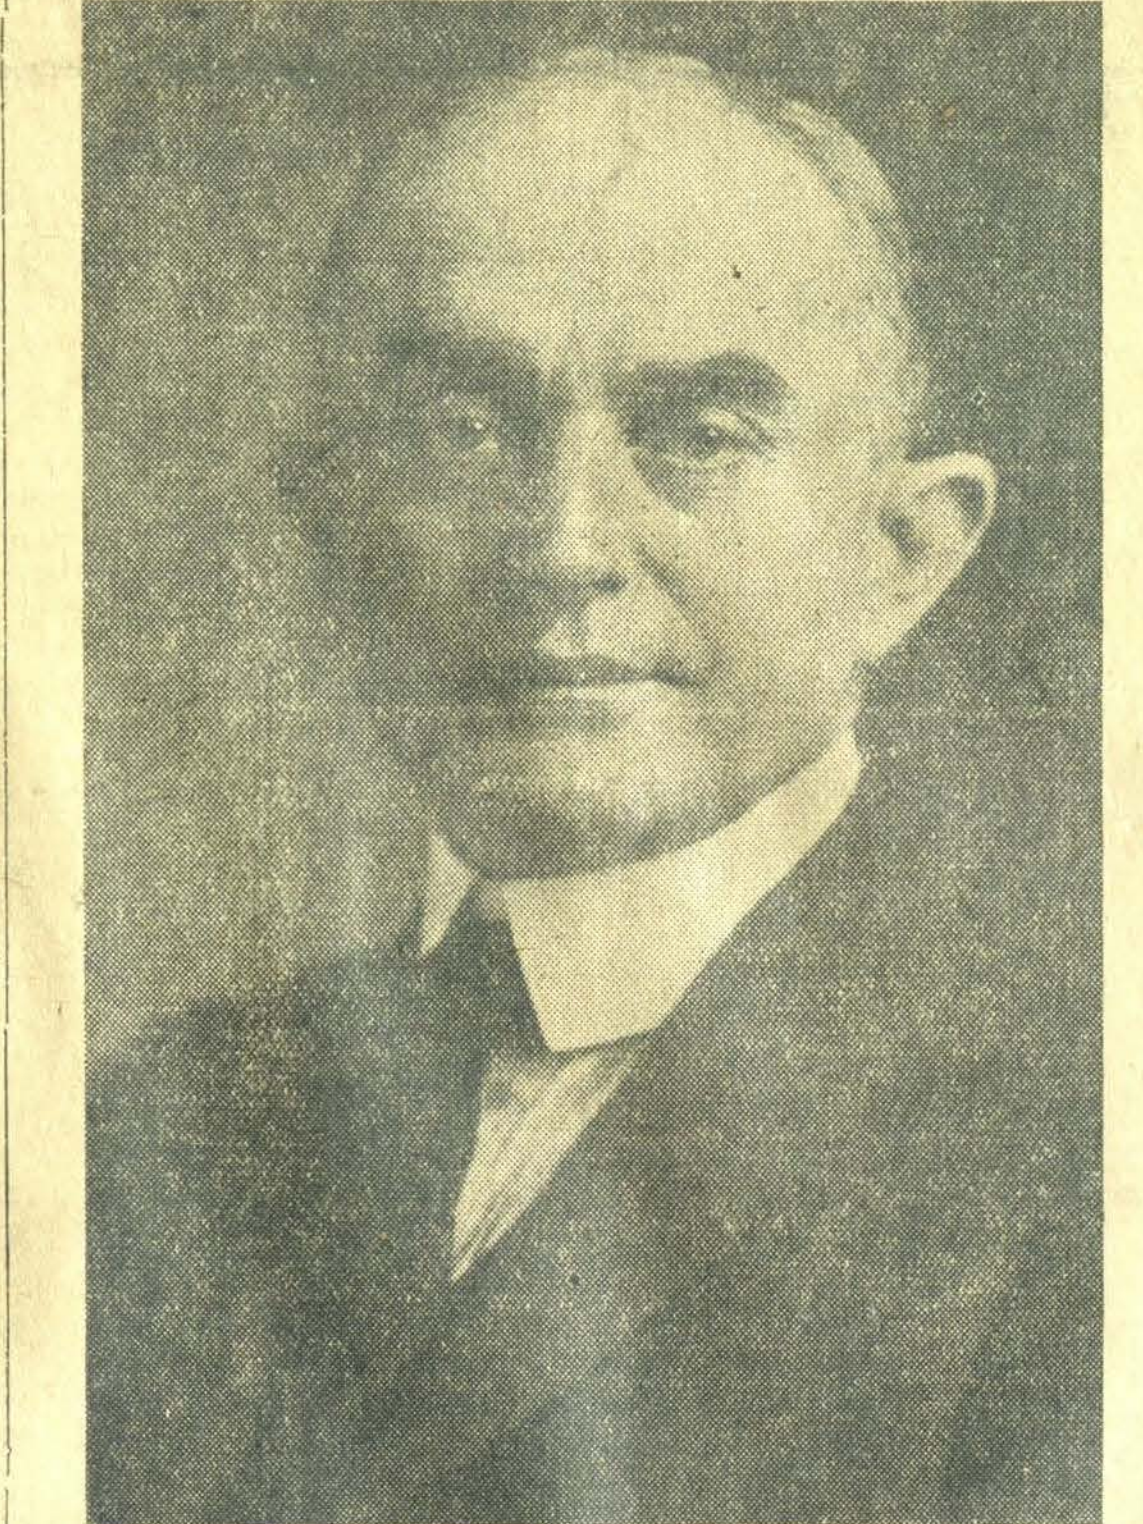

The discussion in the Circuit Judge's race is based entirely on the qualifications of the three candidates. The office being non-political and having nothing in connection with the state party tickets it is merely for the people to decide for themselves which of the three men, from their knowledge of law, their reputation in their dealings with the people as a private lawyer, and their experience as a Circuit Judge, will be qualified to do the most good for everyone.

No one denies that C. B. Wheeler has a better knowledge of law, and that he has a reputation for honest dealing with the public as a private lawyer; also that during the term he served as Circuit Judge he was fair to all alike, and that he distributed the jury service over the entire district. Judge Wheeler also is widely known over the entire state as one Judge who had few cases reversed by the Court of Appeals.

Wheeler has refused to make any "wild" statements during the campaign, but has plodded steadily onward with his efforts to see the people, until today it is not a question of his election, but merely how big his majority will be. (Pol. adv.)

SENTENCE METED TO SCOTT SLAYER

West Virginian Convicted in Killing of Uncle of Ishmael Scott

The life story of Mrs. Polly Scott, twice widowed by gunfire, was told in court at Williamson, W. Va., Tuesday and Wednesday, last week, as the state convicted a man charged with slaying her second husband—who was the uncle of the Floyd county man executed for the murder of her first spouse, also a Floyd countian.

For the slaying last August at Gilbert, W. Va., of Parm Scott, 32, uncle of Ishmael Scott, who was executed in 1933 at the Eddyville penitentiary for the murder of Martin Stephens, Garrett merchant, Will Poe, 52, was sentenced to a one-to-five-year prison term Monday.

The jury deliberated an hour and forty-five minutes after hearing Poe relate that he was attacked last August by Scott, who Poe said was armed with a knife. Poe was en route home at Gilbert with his children, and, after being knocked down, was forced to resort to pistol fire to defend himself, the defense contended.

The state, through three investigating officers, sought to prove that Scott, unarmed, was between ten and fifteen feet away from Poe when the shooting began, and that three bullets struck Scott in the back. A member of the state police, a state trooper and a deputy sheriff testified there were no powder burns on Scott's clothing or body.

In the time between Poe's conviction Wednesday and sentencing Monday he was released under $5,000 bond to straighten up his business affairs.

In August, 1932, Mrs. Scott's first husband, Martin Stephens, was murdered by Ishmael Scott. In 1933 she was married to Parm Scott, uncle of Ishmael Scott, who was electrocuted late in the same year for the slaying of Stephens.

TWO ARE KILLED AT WHEELWRIGHT IN PISTOL FIGHT

Casper Osborne and Perry Johnson, Victims of Gunfire Friday

DEPUTY SHERIFF HALL IS HELD UNDER BOND

Bullets in Osborne's Back Fatal; Officer Surrenders to Father of Perry Johnson

Of three men said to have been involved in a gunfight at Wheelwright Junction Friday evening, two were killed, and a Floyd county deputy sheriff was placed under bond for the part he played in the fray.

The dead: Casper Osborne, 36, miner, Wheelwright, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. L. (Billy Lou) Osborne, shot two times in the back and again through his thigh.

Perry Johnson, 28, son of Constable Willie Johnson, Bypro, shot one time, the bullet piercing his body from side to side.

Deputy Sheriff J. B. (Jim) Hall surrendered to Constable Willie Johnson, a few minutes after the fusillade of shots ceased, later was brought to Prestonsburg and executed bond.

The officer told THE TIMES this week he fired four shots from a 45-calibre Colt revolver after Osborne had begun firing at him, but he added that only one of his bullets took effect and that in Osborne's thigh.

Osborne died within a few minutes. Johnson died two hours after his arrival at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville.

Deputy Sheriff Hall said he had arrested Osborne on a capias, a few days earlier, and that arrangements had been made for collection on the writ through the Inland Steel Corporation's offices at Wheelwright. Friday, he said, he went to Wheelwright, made the collection and was talking with Constable Willie Johnson and his son on the bridge across the creek, near J. D. Hatfield's store, when Osborne appeared at the end of the bridge nearest Hatfield's store. "I got that," he said he called to Osborne, whereupon the latter replied, "Yes, but you haven't got this," and began firing.

Though details of the fray were lacking, it was indicated that Perry

DO YOU KNOW?

THAT Pikeville pays its POLICE JUDGE a monthly salary of $80.00; Paintsville pays its Judge $75.00 per month while Prestonsburg pays only $50.00 per month; and that the U. S. Supreme Court has held it is illegal to pay any judge a commission on any fine, because that makes him interested in the conviction of the accused; and

THAT Pikeville pays its Chief of Police a monthly salary of $125.00 per month; and its three deputies the sum of $100.00 each per month; that Paintsville pays its Chief a monthly salary of $75.00, and its two deputies the sum of $75.00 each per month, while Prestonsburg pays its Chief a salary of only $60.00 per month, and the two deputies the sum of only $60.00 per month; and

THAT Pikeville pays its City Clerk $75.00 per month; Paintsville pays its clerk $30.00 per month, while Prestonsburg pays its clerk only $25.00 per month; and that,

THE LAW provides that the City Council shall publish an annual statement or audit showing all receipts and expenditures by the City Council; and that the present Council did have its City Treasurer prepare and publish such an audit or statement on or about August 10. The Treasurer prepared this statement without cost to the taxpayers, and in order that the people might know what the present council has paid out. If the taxpayers make it known that they desire an audit of the city's books over a long period of time by having a certified public accountant come here and work for from one to three months at a salary of from $20.00 to $30.00 per day, plus expenses, then we stand ready to do it. However, we have thus far believed that the cost would be too great to justify same. We don't believe that the many Councils preceding us have ever done any great wrong. But if they have the Statute of Limitation has long ago barred any recovery or prosecution. If any citizen has any desire to delve into the ancient records of the city, let him go to our treasurer, Mr. W. J. May, who will be more than glad to show him these old records, as well as the records of the present administration, without cost to the taxpayers; and

THAT the public is always welcome to any of the City Council meetings; and that the Council can hold no meeting without admitting the public. Of course, members of the Council, as well as members of all legislative bodies in the world, have the privilege of meeting in private to discuss what actions shall be taken when the Council is in actual session; and THAT instead of continuing to throw your city into bankruptcy, your present administration, during its short service of less than two years, HAS ACTUALLY REDUCED THE OUTSTANDING INDEBTEDNESS OF THE CITY BY MORE THAN SIX ($6,000.00) THOUSAND DOLLARS WITHOUT INCREASING YOUR CITY TAXES; and

THAT our present inadequate fire protection is due to a lack of standard fire plugs, for the installation of which we have been fighting since we took office, as well as the lack of a new fire truck. We have tried to get the fire truck, but couldn't find anyone who would credit us. However, that purchase will be provided for in our new budget; and all of this better fire protection is a part of our present platform; and

THAT by distributing the tax burden AMONG THE WEALTHY AS WELL AS AMONG THE POOR, we will reduce your city taxes, while giving you continued improvement.

:TIDBITS: OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

"GOD BLESS OUR HOME"

A very old art again has supporters; the sampler is sought after by antique hunters, for its intrinsic beauty and for its insight into other times and customs. Many of us grew up in neighborhoods where samplers were a matter of common occurrence, so common that nobody commented on any except new ones. Many girls and women made samplers as a matter of course, just as they pieced quilts and did hem-stitching.

"God Bless Our Home" was the legend most often found on samplers. Sometimes that was all; sometimes a pretty fair outline of the house itself was made as a part of the sampler. Other appropriate mottoes were known, and vines and flowers found their way into the bright-colored silk thread used for the sewing of samplers.

Other samplers were made by girls but not framed. A very old-fashioned one included figures of people, some flowers, some fancy letters, as well as a motto.

Closely related to the sampler was the motto printed in large, bright letters and hanging in any room of the house. These mottoes usually came from the Bible and were reassuring or admonishing in tone, "God Is Love," "Whatsoever a Man Soweth, That Shall He Reap," "God Is the Head of This House."

Mottoes had a much greater appeal to our ancestors than they have now. The pillow shams bore the time-honored couplet, one line on each sham:

"I Slept and Dreamt That Life Was Beauty."

"I Woke and Found That Life Is Duty."

Tidies, or antimacassars, had their mottoes, too, like the one mentioned in this column, with its appropriate German verse. Mottoes graced one's school books, sometimes, as when the teacher wrote the pupil's name and then added a motto.

Copybooks could hardly have existed without their mottoes. After one had practised writing individual letters and could analyze them to the teacher's satisfaction, whole sentences were given to be copied: "I will try" has done wonders. "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." "A wise man maketh a glad father." "The wages of sin is death." We liked the mottoes best that used the most difficult letters, so we could show the teacher how well we could write. I do not remember just now whether the moral precepts did any immediate good. Mottoes also appeared oftener in talk, though they are common enough now. Hardly anything could be mentioned without its suggesting a pat quotation, brief and pointed. Benjamin Franklin, the Bible, and any other source were drawn upon for these illustrative sayings.

As with so many things, this love for mottoes and maxims allied our generation with ages long past. Quotation books were common in the Middle Ages and later. Many of them were used as textbooks, to illustrate grammar and rhetoric. Our grammars of a half century ago were almost always full of reputable quotations, designed for parsing or diagramming, but probably put in with the hope, too, that they would inspire us to better deeds. Who knows but that they did have an influence, whether they appeared in samplers, or mottoes or copy-book material, or sentences for grammars?

TRAVEL BULLETIN TODAY'S ROADS

Prepared By Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club

EXPERTS DESIGN AUTOMOBILE TOOLS

At a time when hundreds of thousands of workers are busily building new cars, it's a paradoxical situation to find a group of specialists actively un-building some of the 1940 models. These engineers tear units out of a brand new model, install replacements, re-assemble and tune the motor—just as if they were overhauling an old car. A stop watch times them as they devise quick, easy methods to service various parts. The skill of these men supports an industry-behind-an-industry.

In the latter nearly 1,000 men are busy in tool shops and at designing boards developing and manufacturing service tools for new cars. The efforts of these skilled service equipment men have a far reaching importance, as 150,000 mechanics working for automobile dealers depend upon their ingenuity for tools which will perform service operations quickly and economically.

Anticipating needs long before they develop, the tool designers working for motor plants or specialist firms completely tear down new cars and figure ways to speed up the job thru use of specially-built tools. After conferring with automobile engineers, making numerous experimental tools and using a stop-watch to compare the time required by different methods, the final designs are drawn and the tools manufactured in quantity lots for dealer service departments.

Seeing that efficient equipment is available throughout the dealer organization is of great concern to the automobile manufacturer. Much of the effort spent in building precision and fine performance into the cars would be lost if service establishments were not equipped to maintain car efficiency at an economical rate.

Each summer, the manufacturer's field representatives are called in and given detailed information on every new feature of the forthcoming model. Told how to use new tools and equipment needed to perform the service job, they in turn conduct classes which prepare dealer mechanics and service managers. Slide films, instruction books, and practice work on the new mechanical units serve as part of the course.

Assuring the motorist expert, intelligent service when his car needs maintenance, the program of the automobile manufacturer provides a dependable source for all special tools, a thorough training for mechanics in the use of such equipment, and has lowered the time and cost of performing all kinds of maintenance work.

PERRY FISCAL COURT VOTES FOR RETENTION OF CERTIFYING AGENT

Hazard, Ky., Nov. 27—The Perry fiscal court today voted to retain Mrs. Sarah Gilbert as the Perry county certifying agent and to co-operate with her to the fullest extent to try to solve the relief problem in Perry county.

Mrs. Gilbert was asked to resign by Judge Billy Baker at a special meeting of the court last week. Judge Baker said the action was taken after Mrs. Gilbert had written letters to the fiscal court members asking them to visit the certifying agent's office only on Saturdays.

Mrs. Gilbert went before the court this afternoon and said she thought her work had been satisfactory to Perry county W.P.A. officials and that she would not resign. Magistrate Floyd Napier replied that he was satisfied with the work being done by Mrs. Gilbert but not with the regulations of the W.P.A. that the certifying agent had to follow. Judge Baker said the needy were not being certified fast enough to fill the quota allotted for this county.

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.
$1.50 Per Year Payable In Advance

NORMAN ALLEN Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE TIMES ENDORSES

1. Floyd county for Floyd counties.
2. Immediate completion of the Left Beaver and Johns Creek road.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these routes by the state rural fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and county agricultural agent work.

ROPE'S END REACHED

Though Floyd county has had fifty-five known infantile paralysis cases and four known deaths from the malady for which there is no known cure, this newspaper is "at the end of the rope" insofar as its editorial pleas go for an "iron lung" for this county.

For two more years, at least, we are told, recurrences of the present polio epidemic may be expected. Therefore, for that long helpless children may need the life-giving powers of this mechanical device which serves in the stead of collapsed muscles of the chest and diaphragm, without which breathing is impossible.

The editor knows next to nothing about medicine or therapy, but he does have a notion that all four of these children known to have died were victims simply because their lungs did not pump life-giving air. In that case, infantile paralysis was as iron fingers at childish throats—and there was none to wrench the lethal grasp away.

THE TIMES falters in its pleas for an "iron lung" because there has been no response of importance. Here and there, a few humane souls have replied that they concurred with us in our claim that Floyd county needs such an aid to human life while faced with an enemy about which so little is known. But in the main, most of our people have shown a depressive lack of interest.

Then, again, it has been said that an "iron lung," purchased by popular subscription AND DEDICATED TO THOSE WHO CANNOT OTHERWISE BE HELPED, could not be located in either of Floyd county's two hospitals without prejudice and dissension being created.

That question cannot be answered except by the county's two hospitals. They can tell us if they are willing to surrender a little part of the spotlight in order that lives may be saved. We realize that such a mechanism must be kept in some county hospital and placed so as to be available to every sufferer needing help in ex tremis with a trained nurse or other person to operate the "lung" and to care for the patient. All this must be considered.

These hospitals of ours, THE TIMES believes, could, by lot or otherwise, reach some agreement on this matter—if somebody had sufficient interest to ask them to make an attempt. Then, if we would, we could all, for once in our lives start a drive to do something about which there is nothing whatever of selfishness.

That said, THE TIMES indeed IS at the "end of the rope" if itself has spun.

JOHNSON COUNTY ECONOMIC CLUB FORMED

Paintsville — The Johnson County Economic Improvement Association, an organization which aims at the general business, social and economic improvement of Johnson county, was formed Monday night at a meeting held in the Second National Bank. Nelson Howard was named president and John G. Newman, secretary.

A temporary committee to complete the organization and to select a board of directors was named by Mr. Howard. Those on the committee, which will be headed by Dr. Paul B. Hall, are G. H. Rice, W. B. Bailey, Dan Wheeler, B. H. Cox, Irvin Arrowood, and Escocm Chandler.

A number of interested business men were present and heard Dr. O. W. Thompson, president of a similar organization in Pike county, outline the plans and purposes of such an organization. It is planned to organize all the counties in the Big Sandy in similar groups and then in turn organize a Big Sandy Association with representation from each of the counties. Pike and Floyd already have formed associations. It is planned to interest citizens in Lawrence and Boyd counties and preliminary moves in those counties already have been made.

BIG SANDY ROTARIANS PLAN INTER-CITIES MEET

Louisa — Acting upon a suggestion made by Chauncey E. Forgey, of Ashland, who addressed Louisa Rotarians at a dinner meeting Monday, the Louisa Rotary Club voted to sponsor an inter-city meeting of Rotary Clubs of the Big Sandy valley at a date to be determined at next Monday's meeting following communication with the various cities.

Mr. Forgey, managing editor of the Ashland Daily Independent and past president of the Ashland Rotary Club was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the club here. He urged a series of inter-city meetings, he said to create closer cooperation of the various cities in solving the problems of the Big Sandy valley.

"We in Ashland, Louisa and other towns in this section have so much in common—so many problems in the Big Sandy valley which need to be solved, which we let lie dormant for the politicians to use to whatever advantage they can. We should take the time and hold several joint meetings and thresh out these problems and see what can be done about them," he declared.

In advocating a Big Sandy inter-cities meeting, he said, "I think we could all enjoy this fine fellowship, friendship and cooperation at such a meeting, for that is what Rotary does for us. I feel we could accomplish many things. Our meetings would soon create a better feeling throughout the valley, and with Rotary leading the way, we would soon see the valley joined together, working toward the same ideals as almost one community."

SUIT AGAINST AUSTRALIAN FILED IN JOHNSON COUNTY

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, through Howes and Walker, attorneys of Paintsville, have filed a suit to set aside a deed to Johnson county acreage, made to a man who resides in Sidney.

This is said to be the first suit over instituted in this county by a resident of Australia.

BRIDGE CONSTRUCTION TO START NEXT WEEK

Work on the McDowell bridge will be begun within the next week, County Judge E. P. Hill Wednesday said he has been named by the Paintsville office of the Works Projects Administration.

Cause for the delay in beginning of work on the project was ascribed as refusal of the WPA to approve plans submitted by the county. Original plans submitted by the fiscal court provided for a bridge 12 feet wide, but the WPA insisted on a 20-foot span.

County Judge Hill said he had received a petition signed by 714 persons, requesting construction of the McDowell span.

Howerton, of the Pikeville First Baptist Church.

The new Mrs. Hays is a graduate of Pikeville College and has attended Georgetown College and the University of Kentucky. She is now a teacher in the Floyd county schools and will return to the University of Kentucky where she will receive her degree in June.

KENTUCKY EXPERIMENT STATION CENTER FOR IDENTIFYING DISEASE

The International Salmonella Center, Copenhagen, Denmark, has designated the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station as the American Salmonella Center for the identification of diseases. It is announced by Dean Thomas P. Cooper.

The term "Salmonella" applies to the paratyphoid group of bacteria which cause many diseases of horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry, an also food poisoning, it is explained by Dr. W. W. Dimock, head of the department of animal pathology at the Experiment Station. Included in such troubles are abortion in mares and septicemia of animals, diseases which cost horsemen and other livestock raisers large sums. These diseases are widespread and their control of great economic importance.

The Kentucky Experiment Station was selected as the national identification bureau for this group of diseases because of its extensive work in disease control, including the studies and investigations of Dr. P. R. Edwards, of the department of animal pathology. Dr. Edwards has typed about 500 bacteria cultures, and the department has been supplied with 100 cultures from the International Salmonella Center.

With this stock of disease cultures, the Experiment Station is in a position to identify bacteria, and thereby assist in the control of many of the worst diseases now affecting the livestock industry.

SPEAKING OF FIGURES

The Beehive ticket has been making a lot of NOISE lately about the higher salaries paid city officials in Pikeville and Paintsville. The figures are true. But there are good reasons why they can and should be paid in those places.

In the first place, both of our neighbor cities have elected people for Council and Mayor who are INTERESTED in the welfare of THEIR PEOPLE! These officials, by EFFICIENT and ECONOMICAL MANAGEMENT of the city's affairs, have wiped out the floating indebtedness of these towns and now HAVE MONEY IN THEIR TREASURIES. Pikeville for instance, at the end of the last fiscal year, had in its treasury $9,000 over and above its budget. (Figures are those of H. P. Patey, Mayor.) The police department of Pikeville paid into the treasury last year the sum of $3,000. The police department at Paintsville has thus far this year paid into the treasury the sum of $2,084. (Figures of Julian Auxier, city attorney of Pikeville, and J. B. Wells, of Paintsville.) The police department set up by the Beehive party here had paid into the treasury on October 15 for the current year only $336. By reason of the aggressiveness and efficiency of the police department of Pikeville and Paintsville, these departments are almost self-sustaining.

The floating debt of this city is so staggering that the Beehive ticket WON'T DARE make it public.

Another reason for higher salaries in Pikeville and Paintsville is that they have a much HIGHER INCOME generally than our town. The total income of Pikeville last year was $30,000 (figures of Julian Auxier.) That of Paintsville was $16,000 (figures of James Turner.) Our income runs around $12,000 under the present set-up. The next reason for these salaries the Beehive ticket makes so much belly-ache about is that the people of Pikeville and Paintsville DEMAND AND GET EFFICIENT AND BUSINESS-LIKE service from their city officials, as compared with the sluggish, wishy-washy PENSION-FOR-BUDDIES-AND-KINFOLKS SYSTEM we have here.

Pikeville owns a $150,000 water works and charges a low rate. We don't own our water works and get skinned by HIGH RATES and a RI-

DICULOUS MINIMUM CHARGE. Four years ago the water department of Pikeville had a surplus of $20,000 over and above running costs and its sinking fund. It put this into city improvements. (Figures, those of K. J. Day, former mayor of Pikeville.)

Pikeville and Paintsville have EFFICIENT FIRE DEPARTMENTS. Ours is a PRETENSE and a FARCE. You pay dear for it in increased fire insurance rates.

Pikeville has a sanitary GARBAGE DISPOSAL system costing $8,000. (Figures of K. J. Day.) We have a litter of trash and rubbish heaps. Garbage is a problem for every household, and a public-minded city government would DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT for reasons of public sanitation.

Pikeville and Paintsville have systematic STREET CLEANING. The Beehive ticket gives you nothing of the sort, EXCEPT AT ELECTION TIME. Pikeville and Paintsville have an alert and wide awake POLICE department. We have not. These towns provide their citizens and stores with all-night police. The Beehive ticket lets the businessmen pay for their own all-night policeman.

We are TAXED the legal limit by the Beehive party. They promise taxes will not be raised. TYPICAL PROMISE.

To sum up, the people of these neighboring towns are getting their money's worth. YOU ARE GETTING NOTHING. YOU SHALL CONTINUE TO GET NOTHING so long as you re-elect the Beehive ticket, who have NO INTEREST WHATSOEVER in you or in anybody except themselves, their kinfolks and "buddies."

DEMAND A CHANGE NOW, with the PROGRESSIVE ticket. EVERYBODY vote next Tuesday.

DON CHILDERS (Pol. adv.)

Teacher-positions in the Floyd county school system, Circuit Judge John W. Caudill recently ruled that Mrs. Susan Crum Weems, Prestonsburg, was entitled to a school and at the same time directed that the Floyd County Board of Education pay her $608.50 salary which she would have earned had she been permitted to teach.

The opinion held that Lucy Burchett, Andrew J. Wright and George W. Spradlin "are not entitled to relief," on the grounds that neither was improperly rejected by the Board of Education as teachers for the school year of 1938-39.

In the case of Mrs. Weems, the court held "that the proof offered is insufficient to show that plaintiff is a poor disciplinarian or unable to properly manage a school . . . or that she is unprogressive or inefficient as a school teacher or school administrator, or insufficient to show that better teachers are available in our county, or teachers who do a better job for the children."

The decision also held that the Board of Education should pay all costs in the Weems case, and that the plaintiffs denied relief should pay costs in their cases. Both rulings may be appealed.

Another recent circuit court decision directed that the People's State Bank, Frankfort, recover from the City of Prestonsburg $2,000 and interest, from September 1, 1931, together with $120 interest due on bond coupons.

MRS. LIDA COTTRELL AND MILLY,

'Cats Tame Panthers, 13-6, And Take Conference Lead

Flashing for the first time this season its potential power, the Prestonsburg Blackcat football machine clicked into high Saturday to down the Pikeville Panthers, 13-6, and thus provide the Big Sandy conference with its biggest upset of the season.

It was the Blackcats' first conference game and leaves them running strong on the inside for the valley championship, though they have lost three games to non-conference foes.

With both line and backfield functioning as a unit for the first time this year, Layne and Hunter alternated in smashing line thrusts—usually, with success. Prestonsburg did not resort to the air once during the afternoon.

Opening kick-off of the game was an augury of things to come. Big Sid Bailey's boot was so powerful that, had it been higher, it might have been a field goal. Pikeville carried the ball out to the 33, where a fumble gave it to the 'Cats. And from that point, within four plays, Prestonsburg scored, Hunter lugging the ball across. Bailey's place-kick for extra point failed.

Pikeville stormed back on a goalward drive in the second quarter, with Wiggins finally scoring when he cut to the left on a fake to the right. Wiggins' dropkick for extra point got no farther than Bailey's chest.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB'S PLATFORM ADOPTED AT REGULAR MEET

At their regular meeting here Friday night, the Young Democrats adopted a 10-point program in outlining the objectives of their club:

1. School-teaching jobs allotted on a merit basis.
2. End vote-selling by "educating" both buyers and sellers, by way of the courts.

3. Create a sense of "county unity" which will equip our officials with a powerful enough political weapon to be used in getting proper recognition and patronage.

4. Hasten the hiring of a full-time Game Warden for Floyd county.

5. Promote the construction of the Johns Creek dam, and the Left Beaver road.

6. Purify and beautify Floyd county streams by prohibiting their use as garbage dumps.

7. Urge registration of all eligible voters.

8. Urge all voters to utilize their citizenship by casting a vote.

9. Law enforcement officers selected with preference given to ability, character and reputation.

10. Full cooperation with the aims and principles of the P.C.B.A. and the Fish and Game Club.

On motion of Lon C. Hill, vice-president, the club lowered the annual membership dues from $1 to 30c—"the price of one show"—in order to increase the membership and make the club a "truly democratic organization."

The club also favored a suggestion by Thomas J. Allen, president, that the meetings be held at various towns throughout the county instead of having all of them at Prestonsburg. The next meeting will be held at the Martin high school building, Thursday, November 2, at 6:30 p. m.

Receiving the Pikeville kick-off, Damron raced back to his own 45. Then, on the very next play, Hunter burst through center behind excellent blocking, literally ran over Wiggins and raced 55 yards for the 'Cats' second marker. A line plunge annexed the extra point.

In the second half, the Panthers opened up with a passing attack which fell far short of evening the score. After taking the ball on downs, then losing it on the Pikeville 25, the Panthers on fourth down attempted an end-around play on which Sturgill threw Wiggins for a nine-yard loss. The game see-sawed, back and forth, from that point on, neither team getting inside the other's 20-yard strige.

A definite improvement in blocking and tackling was shown in the Pikeville game, but the team will need plenty of adeptness in both departments when Whitesburg, a non-conference but a powerful foe, comes here Saturday. Russell Rice, stellar Blackcat tackle, left the game in the third period Saturday with a twisted ankle, but Coach Harlowe is hopeful of his return to the line-up for the tilt with the Letcher countians.

The Floyd County Board of Education hereby calls for competitive bids for lease or purchase on auditorium seats for Martin and Maytown schools. 21 seats for each auditorium said bids will be received in the office of the Floyd County Superintendent of Schools, Prestonsburg, Ky., up to and including 10 a. m., November 4 1939. George Glenn Hatcher

A FLOYD COUNTY MAN

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

We Floyd County folks can't find a man closer home to vote for in the State race than George Glenn—born and reared at Bonanza on Abbott Creek. Let's give him a record majority.

(Contributed by Friends.)

VOTE THIS WAY!

If you have not forgotten

FRANKLIN D.
ROOSEVELT

the greatest friend the common people have had in the long history of this country.

Why do we say this?—because you know that, as Democrats, our forces have always fought the Democratic battle and that, next year, when a Democrat is opposed by a Republican for the Presidency — when Franklin D. Roosevelt may be opposed by a Republican—we will be fighting with you common people for the Democratic nominee.

Have any of our opponents ever fought the battles of Democracy and the rank-and-file of the people? We ask you—and we ask them also this question. Let them give an answer, honest and true!

KEEP KENTUCKY and FLOYD COUNTY DEMOCRATIC

VOTE THE STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET NOVEMBER 7!

To vote otherwise is to turn from the party that has been your friend and backward to the Republican party of Hoover and the Old Guard.

Voters, ask yourselves, each of you, this question:

“Should I throw my support now to those who will be fighting President Roosevelt next year?”

In all probability, Roosevelt will represent the Democratic party and the common people next year as the Presidential candidate of his party and ours. If he does not, his choice will be the Democratic nominee.

Do you think, for a moment, that any of the present crop of Republican candidates would—even could afford to—do anything but fight STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN next year?

Those Republicans now in office—how do you find them fighting, DEMOCRATIC or REPUBLICAN? The DEMOCRATIC PARTY at the November 7 election offers you a ticket which will keep Kentucky and also Floyd County—on the Democratic side of the house:

If you have forgotten Hooverism, if you want the restoration of the old order of things under which you worked long hours at “starvation wages” without recourse to law and denied the rights of collective bargaining—then the Log Cabin is your ticket!

If you want a Republican Governor in the driver's seat next year when a President is to be elected; if you want this Republican power expended in the cause of the rich against the poor, if you want even the county organization in full power, armed against the Democratic party which has restored to the people their only real Bill of Rights—then the Log Cabin is your ticket!

This election is not only your responsibility this year—your vote November 7 means much for the future when the rights of common citizens will be as much at stake as in the last few preceding years.

New Treatment For Meningitis Saves 47 Per Cent Of Patients

Chicago, Oct. 25 — Announcement that sulfapyridine cured eight of 17 people suffering from pneumococcal meningitis—a disease heretofore virtually always fatal—was made today in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The high recovery rate—47 per cent—gives assurance that physicians for the first time have a definitely effective treatment for the ailment, which causes inflammation of a membrane of the spinal cord and brain.

The successful cases contrasted sharply with a mortality rate of 100 per cent in 29 victims who did not receive the new drug because they had the disease before this treatment was developed.

Three Baltimore physicians, Horace L. Hodes, Harry S. Gimbel and George W. Burnett, had the success with sulfapyridine, or its sodium salt, in the largest test of the drug reported for this disease. Only 14 other treatments with sulfapyridine—resulting in eight recoveries—had been announced previously.

The speed of the new treatment proved dramatic, the doctors indicated.

"In those patients who recovered, clinical improvement was noted very soon after treatment with sulfapyridine was begun," they said.

"On a number of occasions, the patients who had been stuporous or irrational became oriented and alert within 24 hours after the beginning of treatment.

"Among the patients who recovered the temperature reached normal within four days and the spinal fluid cultures became sterile within five days, with the exception of one . . ."

Sulfapyridine, a derivative of sulfanilamide, has proven effective also in pneumonia and several other bacteria infections.

Police And Robbers Provide Plenty Of Screwy Doings

New York, Oct. 22—Cops and robbers contributed copious capers to a cavalcade of curiosities last week—

A 300-pound Pittsburgh police officer was ordered to reduce his waistline four inches, to match his chest . . . A Kearney, N. J., cop chased a fugitive steer into the middle of a river and then lassoed it . . .

A bank robber in Blanco, Texas, demanded a pallful of money—and brought his own pail . . . A Columbus, Ind., thief stole bottles of milk off the front porch of the county jail.

Indianapolis provided its police officers, to designate their rank, with bright-colored tassels for their night sticks . . . Pittsburgh equipped its traffic cops with individual radios . . .

A Hartsdale, N. Y., holdup man counted the $10 in a woman's purse, took $2 and put the rest back . . . When a Pittsburgh bandit, lining up his victims, inadvertently stepped on somebody's toe, he said, "pardon me" . . .

To avert juvenile justice on Halloween, the Boston police undertook to throw parties for 100,000 kids . . . A Northampton, Mass., cop, inspecting a store, locked himself in and had to telephone for help . . .

After a Butte, Mont., woman routed a robber from her store with a six-shooter, she sat down and had "a good five-minute cry" . . . And after the front wheel of their bicycle was stolen two Decatur, Ind., brothers advertised that for $1.25 the thief could have the rest of the bicycle . . .

Dizzy doings hither and yon— Mexico started a census of all the beds in the country . . . The city of Omaha figured out that spiders gumming up the parking meters, were costing the taxpayers $3 a day . . .

The acting governor of Oklahoma named a race horse an honorary colonel "so maybe he'd have better luck" . . .

A patron of a Lancaster, Pa., bar brought his own peanuts and, when he departed, lugged away the shells . . . A New York man sat in a hotel window setting fire to dollar bills and tossing them down to the street . . .

Two men pinched for speeding in Berlin, N. J., turned out to be delegates hurrying to a safety convention . . .

When Seattle citizens reported to police that a man was walking around the streets in a dazed condition, the police reported back: "Map O. K.—his girl just told him she'd marry him" . . . And—

A Bethel, Alaska storekeeper disclosed that he was regularly selling ice boxes to Eskimos.

PATRIOTISM VS. HORSE-SENSE

If a merchant were to go through the midst of a street battle, in order to deliver his merchandise, and be injured by so doing, you would say, "Oh, well, he was taking his own chances." If a flying brick-bat should crack his skull or if some rowdy ruffian should run him down, no one would be blamed except the merchant himself. He knew what was going on and was old enough to know better.

Likewise am I going to judge our merchant shipping. If a U.S. boat, carrying contraband in the war zones, is captured, torpedoed, bombed, or sunk, it's okay by me. I don't care if the crew is taken by the Nazi to a Communist port. It makes no difference if they are interned, jailed, or placed in concentration camps. And I'll not be left in a fit of anger when I read that the American sailors have had their throats slit, eye-balls gouged out, or been burned at the stake, or all three.

In fact, I don't give a damn what happens to profiteers, or their workers, when the very nature of their business endangers the lives, peace and tranquillity of every man, woman and child in America!

HEART OF FLOYD COUNTY

Floyd county, like any other place or thing, must have a heart—in the same sense, I mean, as Lexington is the Heart of the Bluegrass. Therefore, I hereby record on paper what nature has done geographically: that Martin hereafter be described as the "Heart of Floyd County."

The reason I think our town is entitled to this honorable distinction is due to the fact that we have a living resident here who is old enough to remember when murder was occasionally considered a serious offense within the county. He can even recall one or two instances when very malicious murderers were actually given short sentences in the state penitentiary for their crimes.

"Wes" Howard, Prestonsburg, would have the Young Democrats advertise their meetings in the newspaper, "so somebody would know when to come." Wouldn't a little notice placed in the drug store window do just as well, Wesley?

Apparently, the only thing a country newspaper can criticize, without fear of retaliation, is an ape-like creature in the backmost cave of some foreign zoo.

Some of the boys around Maytown jokingly accuse S.C. of burning his coupe because Miss H.A. (Ah, there!) wouldn't ride with him. No doubt, the auto-burning was purely accidental, but the lads laughingly quote him as saying, "If H——won't ride in my car, I'll see that no other girl does!"

POP & STUFF

IDEAL HALLOWE'EN: When one could soap his own windows, then have some frolic-loving kids come along with water and cloths and wash 'em off . . . If all you know about the European war is what you read in the papers, you're pretty well UN-informed on the subject . . . Not nearly as many lies will be told after, as before, November 7 . . . If you've ever see a live fox in action, you won't wonder why fox-hunters abhor the idea of killing one of the animals . . . What's happened to the Fish and Game Club? . . . Martin is to have a town board race after all . . . I said: WHAT'S HAPPENED TO THE FISH AND GAME CLUB? . . . Says Al Capone: "I wrote a letter to (Atty.) General Murphy and told him this country had to stay out of the war." . . . So you did, eh, Al? And what did he say . . . (That's all, Printer, you can light your cigarette now.)

DECEMBER BRINGS POULTRY TROUBLE

Poultry experts at the Kentucky College of Agriculture offer the following 11-point program for poultry raisers for the month of December:

Roup, colds and chickenpox often cause serious losses in egg production. Be on the alert and remove any suspected birds from the flock.

Poorly ventilated houses that are damp and drafty are often responsible for an outbreak of colds and roup. Correct defective houses and avoid these troubles.

Do not overcrowd the poultry house. Allow three and one-half to four feet of floor space per bird.

Warm water should be available at all times. Eggs are 66 per cent water, and lack of sufficient drinking water may reduce egg production.

Keep the hens confined to the laying house during cold, raw winter days.

Clean the dropping boards twice a week.

Keep plenty of litter on the floor. Replace old, worn-out nesting material.

Gather eggs often, so that they may not freeze or be broken in the nest.

Keep eggs in a cool room where there is no heat—above freezing and below 68 degrees.

Mate breeding pens now.

BOY! MY DUELING PISTOL!

No, children, the days of "personal" journalism are not over—very definitely not.

Of course, we rival editors who just print the news, items of mundane affairs, we who timidly venture to express our views on matters of public interest—we, long ago, eschewed the pistol and the whip and columns filled with invective in order to even the score with other members of the fraternity who were our rivals or who differed from us in opinion. Somehow, or other, there just ain't any bear on your ordinary editor's chest, these days.

But now comes to our desk THE BAPTIST EXAMINER, edited by W. S. Gilpin, Russell, Ky., which is a black-and-white proof of the fact that some of the boys are relics of the golden, golden age when men were men and editors were feudists.

It seems that Brother Gilpin and one Luther Peak pastor of the Corinth Baptist Church, Abilene, Texas, are having, or about to have—depending upon your point of view—some words. (Don't ask us what it's all about—surely not about the teaching of Jesus who gently pleaded, "Love ye one another," surely not of Him who said, "Blessed be the peacemakers.")

In case you youngsters have never seen an example of "personal" journalism, we quote from the October 7 issue of THE BAPTIST EXAMINER, page 1 of which bears a cartoon which purports to depict the Reverend Peak as an ass with a crab-apple on his tail, and this work of art bordered by "An Open Letter to Mr. Peak" from which we quote "juicy" excerpts published as descriptive of the said Peak:

"... unrefined swine..." "I had no intention of entering into a spitting contest with an unprincipled pole-cat..." "On the lower part of your paper, in the issue of August 25, you show that which purports to be a telegram to me, asking for 2,000 copies of my paper to distribute to your Sunday night audience... You know you played the part of a cheap thief, stole the Western Union blank paper, wrote the words upon it, and sent it to me in an envelope..." "Ape that you are..." "A liar capable of heading the Ananias club of the world."

Distance, children, may lend enchantment to the view—but not to the viewpoint. A good thing it is that these two are separated by the miles. By next week, this column may be wishing it had more miles between it and one of the principals in this duel of words.

Two Slain in Gun Fight

Johnson was standing in Osborne's background, that Osborne walked toward Hatfield's store and restaurant near the end of the bridge while the shooting continued.

The officer used a 45-calibre Colt's revolver; Osborne, a 45-calibre automatic, and Johnson a 38-calibre revolver, it was said. Deputy Sheriff Hall said he fired four shots while Osborne was emptying his pistol and Johnson was firing two shots.

Surviving Osborne are his widow, Mrs. Bertha Hall Osborne, one child, Billy Jean; eight brothers, Ernest B., Charles L., John Henry, Rebs B., Leonard and Barnabas Osborne, all of Allen; James W. and Carmel Osborne, of Hite; and by three sisters, Mrs. John W. Hall, Martin; Mrs. Sadie Ratliff and Mrs. Anna Hall, both of Hite.

Burial rites were conducted from the old Osborne home at Hite Sunday, the Revs. E. L. Howerton of the Pikeville Baptist Church, and the Rev. A. L. Allen, of Allen, officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home, Martin.

out the Thanksgiving scheme of pumpkin baskets, fruit, flowers and autumn leaves. Mrs. J. D. Mayo, Mrs. A. B. Combs, Mrs. Woodrow W. Burchett, Mrs. J. B. Clarke and Mrs. J. D. Thomas gathered and arranged corsage bouquets for every delegate, using the brilliant fall of colored chrysanthemums and roses from local gardens.

The group was entertained by the high school glee club directed by Mrs. Chalmer Frazier. Miss Helen Conaway contributed two delightful piano solos. An invitation to meet with the Maytown club next year climaxed an inspirational meeting.

Polio Relief Discussed

Board of Health, conducted the Floyd county health department's annual tuberculosis clinic here Friday and Saturday. Pupils of the Weeksbury and Prestonsburg schools have been tuberculin tested about 500 in all, in preparation for this clinic. Tuberculin tests have been made every Saturday in the health department's offices for the public.

More than 500 cards have been sent out to previous tuberculin reactors and contacts asking them to come in for x-ray pictures. There will be a small charge for these pictures—just the price of the film.

The big task now confronting the health department, Dr. Ransdell said, is to locate all these cases and to see that they receive proper home treatment until such time as when they can be sent to the Crippled Children's hospital, Ashland. Mrs. E. G. Laymon, a nurse formerly with the Boyd county health department, has been assigned to this county by the State Board of Health and for the present will devote her entire time to following up cases of crippled children and seeing that they receive adequate treatment. The first of these crippled children went into the hospital at Ashland last Friday. Mrs. Laymon took Randolph Salisbury, 2, son of Wayne Salisbury, Hunter, and Wilma Fay Parker, 3, daughter of C. C. Parker, Drift, to the hospital. The Parker child, with only slight crippling effect from the malady, was fitted with proper orthopedic shoes and returned to her home, but the Salisbury child, who is completely paralyzed from the waist down, will have to remain indefinitely. The other children crippled as a result of polio will be taken care of as rapidly as the Crippled Children's Commission can make room for them. In the meantime, through the medium of a lecture given here Thursday evening last week, before Floyd county physicians and nurses by Dr. M. D. Garred, head of the Crippled Children's hospital, Ashland, health authorities hope that adequate early treatment may be given convalescents of infantile paralysis until such time as when they can be taken to a Crippled Children's hospital.

Mrs. Vincent Dies

cent, Bowling Green, Ky. All but one of the sons were at the bedside when she died. Elbert Vincent, whose wife is ill in a New York hospital, was not present.

Mrs. Vincent, a native of Grayson county, was married 52 years ago.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Mount Pleasant Church in Edmonson county.

The Ten Brothers' Corporation was formed primarily to operate an Edmonson county farm owned by the brothers and their father, and to engage in other business and trading activities. It met annually, elected officers from among its members and transacted business just as any other corporation would.

The corporation attained statewide notice shortly after its organization in 1935 when the brother members ceased most of their other activities and helped elect Beverly Vincent as State Attorney General.

The next year the brothers were actively engaged in the successful campaign to elect the late Senator M. M. Logan, their kinsman, to another term in the U. S. Senate.

The last time the corporation engaged in political activity was in the winter of 1937 when it helped elect Beverly Vincent to the Second district Congressional seat he now holds.

WHEELWRIGHT SCHOOL

Wheelwright sponsored a Halloween Carnival in the Wheelwright gymnasium Saturday night. Mr. Ratliff, Wheelwright high school principal, estimated that there were about 1,200 persons present, with receipts of $500.

The beauty contest, which preceded the crowning of the carnival king and queen, was won by Virginia Johnson. Dixie Billips was runner-up.

Wheelwright basketball team is scheduled to play Garrett at 7:30 p. m. Friday, and Meade Memorial Saturday here.

The science and biology students have contributed enough money, added to that of the profits from selling candy, to buy new laboratory equipment, valued at $70.

Mr. Sanders of Pikeville, proprietor of the Weeksbury theater, donated to the junior class proceeds from the movie, "Juarez." He is also permitting the senior class to sponsor a show during the first week in November.
