This Town-- That World

This Town, That World, Sins Summed Up, Hairs Curled.

NOT OUR MISTAKE

This business of all-State and all-America teams--pooley!

Every year they're picked--from the nation's finest football teams, not from the nation's finest football players.

Don't we too sadly recall a few years back when The Floyd County Times and Coach C. V. Watson tried to get the "powers that be" to see a boy whom we called Harkey Mayo.

Now, this same Harkey Mayo, though "big-time" sports writers call him Lou, is called Navy's "big siege gun," despite the fact that he scales a mere 165 pounds.

BRIDGE CONTRACT AWARDED TUESDAY

P'burg Men Given Contract For Drift Span, On Bid Of $9,953

After W. T. Mellon and W. E. Boyd, low bidders on the construction of the bridge across Left Beaver Creek at Drift, had "refused" to perform the provisions of their contract, the Floyd fiscal court, in special session Tuesday, awarded the contract to Tony Ranier and W. B. Boyd whose bid was second to the original successful bidders.

Mr. Mellon and Mr. Boyd received the contract last week on their low bid of $9,288.80. The bid of Mr. Ranier and Mr. Boyd is $9,953.37.

Bond in the amount of their bid was executed by Ranier and Boyd, and work is expected to be begun at once on this project which has been sought for some time by residents of the Drift community.

Plans submitted to the Works Projects Administration for the bridge at McDowell having been declared unacceptable, the fiscal court recently directed that new plans be submitted.

NAMED POLICEMAN

Beverly "Pony" Thompson has been appointed a member of the Prestonsburg police force, to succeed Bill Spradlin.

Blackcats Hold Foe Scoreless 2 Periods; Beaten In 2nd Half

After battling the strong Catlettsburg Wildcats to a stand-still during the first half, the Prestonsburg Blackcat eleven wilted and allowed the visitors to score five touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters for a 31-0 win, on the local field Saturday afternoon.

Handicapped by the lack of capable reserves, Coach Harlowe's team was unable to withstand Catlettsburg's repeated thrusts during the second half. The winners substituted freely throughout the game, and all their players saw action. Ewing, Catlettsburg's outstanding ground gainer, crossed the Prestonsburg goal line three times. Mulvaney made the other two touchdowns on short runs.

Prestonsburg came closest to scoring late in the third period when the Heinze-Damron passing combination took the ball to Catlettsburg's nine-yard line, with a first down coming up. Heinze faded back for a pass and was unable to locate a receiver. Attempting to run the ball back, he was caught for a two-yard loss. Then, after an incomplete pass, Prestonsburg fumbled and Catlettsburg recovered on the 13, and the only Blackcat scoring threat ended.

In the opening quarter Bailey, of Prestonsburg, kicked-off to Ewing, who received on his own 23 and returned 10 yards. After carrying the ball to midfield Catlettsburg fumbled and Prestonsburg recovered. Hunter hit the line for no gain, but Catlettsburg drew an off-side penalty. J. Herald carried the ball to the Catlettsburg 43 and on the next play the visitors were penalized five yards for off-sides, giving the Blackcats a first down on the Catlettsburg 38. At this point Catlettsburg took time out and on the next play Prestonsburg fumbled and recovered, losing four yards. Two line plays failed by inches to make a Prestonsburg first down, and Catlettsburg took the ball on their own 37. Ewing, Mulvaney and Pack, on seven plays, carried the ball to the Blackcat eight-yard line, where it was first down and goal to go. On the first play Pack fumbled and recovered on his 15, for a seven-yard loss. As the first quarter ended Sturgill broke through and tossed Pack for a three-yard loss, back to the Catlettsburg 18.

On the first play of the second quarter Ewing tore around left end and over the Prestonsburg goal line. The play was called back and Catlettsburg given a five-yard off-side penalty. Then K. Snyder fumbled and recovered on the Catlettsburg 29, for a six-yard loss. On the fourth down Snyder completed a pass to the Prestonsburg 12, not sufficient for yardage for a first down.

BERNARD BRANHAM SUCCUMBS TO T. B. TUESDAY MORNING

Long ill with tuberculosis, Bernard Branham, 22 years old, died Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock at the home here of his mother, Mrs. Fanny Robinson Branham.

A former athlete in the Prestonsburg schools, young Branham became ill about five years ago, shortly after the death of the same disease of his father, Lewis Branham, and his case, because of his youth and popularity, attracted the sympathy of the entire town. After spending a few months in the west, in search of health, he returned to his mother's home here more than a year ago.

Surviving the victim are his mother, one sister, Mrs. Hazel Branham Harmon, and two brothers, Robert Clay and Franklin Branham, all of Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist Church, the pastor, the Reverend Garriott, and the Rev. Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial was made in the May cemetery under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

RED CROSS ASKS ADULTS TO JOIN

Rollcall Drive Starts Armistice Day; 'Every Adult a Member,' Slogan

The American Red Cross, in its 1939 Rollcall campaign in Kentucky, has no fixed goal this year, but every effort is to be made to enroll every adult person in the state before the close of the rollcall November 30.

Starting on Armistice Day, this gives the workers in Kentucky nineteen days, or nearly three full weeks, to put into effect the 1939 slogan: "Every Adult a Member." Prospects for success are enhanced by recent work of the Red Cross in relieving distress due to floods, which was, as usual, first to come to the rescue in early 1937 along the Ohio river and first on the scene with help for the sufferers in the "flash" floods in 1939.

Heaviest losses were caused by the "flash" floods in Eastern Kentucky, caused by cloudbursts which turned small creeks into raging torrents which swept houses from their foundations and washed away gardens and crops, as well as drowning many who were caught like rats in a trap. Even livestock in the fields was drowned and the Red Cross had to replace furniture in many homes in the stricken area.

Red Cross workers all over Kentucky are preparing for the campaign which is to give every adult in the state an opportunity to join the organization. By November 11 everything will be in readiness to start actual work of "signing up" the people. The Junior Red Cross, in which many young Kentuckians are enrolled, is not to be neglected and the work of the Red Cross in every department will go on as usual.

A widespread outbreak of typhoid at Auxier has been reported to the health department here.

The victim had been employed in the mines of the North-East Coal Company at Auxier for the past two years. He had worked in the mines at Wayland before he began working at Auxier.

Surviving, besides the parents, are one sister, Mrs. Vernie Goble, Auxier; three brothers, Luther, Samp and Estill Delong, all of Auxier.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon, and burial was made in the family cemetery on Johns Creek.

SPECIALIST SENT BY STATE BOARD TO STUDY POLIO

Nurses Also Come From Louisville To Assist In Survey Here

EPIDEMIC FEARED IN LEFT BEAVER STCTION

Dr. Ransdell Urges Immediate Reporting of All Cases to Health Dep't

Miss Vera P'Pool, and Miss Jean Merrill, of the Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission, making a survey of the infantile paralysis situation, said that Dr. W. D. Osborne, Bypro, told them that he had seen 23 polio cases himself in that section. Other physicians in the Wheelwright-Weeksbury area reported that they knew of approximately 30 cases, but it is believed some of these may be the same cases known to Dr. Osborne. "The disease is unquestionably in epidemic form in upper Left Beaver," Miss P'Pool said.

The survey is being made by the Crippled Children's Commission with a view to making available to sufferers immediate treatment of the crippled condition in which the malady leaves them.

To conduct a survey of the polio-stricken sections of this county, Dr. Fred Caudill, epidemiologist, State Board of Health, was scheduled to spend a major portion of this week in Floyd county, Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd county health department, announced Monday.

Though the number of infantile paralysis sufferers in this county had been set at 23 two weeks ago, Dr. Ransdell this week estimated that the total should have been nearer 35, holding that 10 or 12 cases have not been reported to the health department.

During Monday a nurse of the health department was on Left Beaver Creek, the section bearing the brunt of the polio attack, checking on all cases not reported.

Floyd's only reported infantile paralysis case within the last two weeks was that of the nine-months-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burchett, of Cow Creek.

Dr. Ransdell's comment on the situation cited the fact that the disease had appeared in epidemic form only in the upper Left Beaver Creek section, and that other outbreaks had appeared sporadically in other sections.

FARM LAND OF SOUTH TO GO UNDER WRAPS

Farm lands of the South will be under wraps this winter as never before, according to Manuel B. Arnett, FSA county supervisor.

The Farm Security Administration is helping eligible low-income farmers to secure loans to pay for seed and fertilizer for winter cover crops, he pointed out. These loans are made on the basis of sound farm and home management plans prepared by the farmer with the assistance of the FSA supervisors.

"No practical farmer denies the fact that winter cover crops are important and should be grown on farms," Mr. Arnett said. "These crops have many advantages. In the first place they supply a badly needed source of fall and spring pasture and in some cases winter pasture. In the second place, they provide a cover for the soil to prevent washing and leaching during the winter season when the land otherwise would be bare."

He added that State Agricultural Experiment Stations have shown that land allowed to remain bare during the winter may lose the equivalent of 300 pounds of nitrate soda per acre during the winter season. This represents a real money loss in soil fertility and plant food as well as a great loss of soil and organic matter.

Some of the most appropriate winter cover crops are: crimson clover, vetch, and in some sections Austrian winter peas, all of which are leguminous, and wheat, barley and rye, which are non-leguminous but may supply grain as well as serve as a winter cover crop and furnish fall, winter and spring grazing.

Farmers in need of financing for their farming operations and the purchase of livestock and equipment and desiring information on the growing of winter cover crops should see the local Farm Security Administration Supervisor, Manuel B. Arnett, Pikeville, who will be in the County office, postoffice building, here, every Friday morning from 10 a. m. to noon.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

STONE BRUISES

Has the human race grown tougher, or have more of our generation put on shoes? Something is wrong, for I never hear now of stone bruises, fearful things that all boys and some girls of another time expected to have as a matter of course. My father was fond of telling how some older man who had moved to the county seat once remarked that no boy was worth killing if he had never had a stone bruise. One of the man's own sons heard the remark and went out at once and stomped on the sidewalk until he apparently was worth much, to judge by the size and ache of the bruise. Frankly, I do not know what a stone bruise is, but I know it can cause lots of trouble, even though it may be the badge of a regular fellow.

Some years ago doctors told us also that the toe itch is athlete's foot. Back in the nineties no one ever heard of such a thing; toe itch was just toe itch, a disease that any person who went barefooted (and who didn't?) could expect to have. Now all sorts of disinfectants and other things are used to stop the dread athlete's foot; then all that was necessary was to tie a yarn string around the toe affected, with a bit of fried meat grease added for good measure.

Flaming advertisements tell us all sorts of things to do for itching or offensive feet. What we used to do is still a good remedy: We soaked our feet in borax water, the very thing that doctors advise us to do today. An ignorant cobbler once told me a valuable secret; he said that the perspiration of the feet reacts on the shoe leather to form an acid that hurts the skin; borax neutralizes this acid. How simple, but how few people can reason it out so well!

Another ailment that I rarely hear of now is the stumping off of toenails. Again this may be due to the prevalence of shoes, but it may imply also a greater care on the part of children than we once knew. People are always pointing with pride to something. Every boy pointed with pride to the dirty rag that wrapped up a toe from which a nail had been stumped. It is amazing how easy it is to catch a toenail under something and rip it off. The pain is severe, but ordinary boys can stand it and have some energy left to boast about how little it hurt. My most vivid experience with toenails came when we were playing Hide and Seek once at a neighbor's. In order to reach "home," we had to run around a large house or through the passage, or "dog trot." I chose the latter way and failed to pick up my feet properly. That toe still looks somewhat like the fingers of old people who fed the old-fashioned sausage mill not wisely but too well.

Nails are still mashed, especially since we have so many kinds of machinery. But there is small fun in hearing some grown man telling how he got his finger caught in a machine at the shop; men ought to know better. Besides, it is a little too late for them to live a whole lifetime of pride in the cuts and bruises they have received and borne nobly.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS FINISHING 1,200 CALVES FOR SHOW

Members of 4-H and Utopia clubs in 41 Kentucky counties are finishing nearly 1,200 calves for the 18th annual Fat Cattle Show to be held at the Bourbon Stock Yards in Louisville November 8, 9, and 10.

Nearly 700 of the calves on feed are of the Angus breed and about 300 are Herefords and 100 Shorthorns. The rest are of mixed breeding. Approximately 100 head will be exhibited by 4-H club members who own cows and raise calves instead of buying them. The College of Agriculture which directs the feeding work, is endeavoring to have more cattle raised in Kentucky.

Wayne county 4-H club boys and girls are fattening 141 calves. Other counties feeding large numbers include Henderson, 81 head; Caldwell, 63 4-H club calves and 30 Utopia calves; Shelby, 55; Boyle, 52; Grayson, 50 4-H calves and 15 Utopia calves, and Garrard, 47 4-H calves and 15 Utopia calves. Eight carloads of Utopia calves will be exhibited.

Counties in which calves are being fattened by 4-H club members for the first time include Adair, Edmonson, Green and Taylor.

A total of $3,636 in cash prizes and educational trips and other awards will be made to winning 4-H club members.

EROSION REDUCES PROFITS ON FARM

Seventeen men on farms having little erosion had nearly three times the labor income of 17 men on eroded farms in Logan county, Ky., in the years 1935 to 1938, according to a survey made by the Kentucky College of Agriculture. The average labor income on the good farms was $720; on the eroded farms, $251. This was the amount the farmers received for the year's work, in addition to a house to live in and farm products to use in the home.

Receipts on farms of little erosion averaged $2,534 a year; on the other farms, $1,516. The difference of $1,018 says John H. Bondurant, of the College, was due principally to higher tobacco receipts per acre of tobacco and higher receipts from livestock. Tobacco receipts per acre on the 17 good farms averaged $105, against $75 on the other farms. Higher receipts from livestock, mostly cattle and hogs, were due principally to higher yields on feed and crops and better pastures, which enabled farmers to keep more stock.

Month-End Reports List Completions Of Wells

A month-end drilling report, including the majority of the completions, indicated that, while drilling operations were maintaining the same general level in this section, some operators were considering new locations for wells.

One company, however, indirectly revealed it would wait for an improvement in the oil situation before starting drilling at a well where the rig is already up. Unofficial sources have stated in recent weeks that the current situation undoubtedly has caused some reduction in field operations.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company reports the completion of well No. 530 on the H. H. Smith land on Caney Creek in Knott county. The well was completed at a total depth of 2968 feet in shale with a production of 133,000-R.P. 385 56 hours.

REAL ESTATE TAXES UNJUSTLY COLLECTED REVENUE DEPT. SAYS

Frankfort, Ky.—Approximately $1,750,000 in real estate taxes is "unjustly collected annually from Kentucky taxpayers whose property is assessed too high and is escaped by others whose property is assessed too low," a revenue department report said.

Small properties, the report declared in asserting "few counties even closely approach" uniform assessments, are assured at a higher percentage of full market value from large properties, and their owners pay "at least one-fifth more than their share" of taxes.

For the state as a whole, the report added, farm property is assessed at a "slightly higher level" than urban property.

The report cited a constitutional reassessed uniformly at its full market value," and said the "low assessment level" is "primarily of local concern" because real estate provides much of the finances of local governments but little for the state.

SACRAMENT SET STOLEN

Paintsville — Warrants were issued this week for two Paintsville boys charged with the theft of a silver sacrament set taken from the United Baptist Church on the corner of Church and Second streets. The set was used for taking the sacrament by members of the church.

The utensils were taken to the Paintsville Hatchery where the boys are alleged to have offered to sell them as old metal. Mrs. Laura Pruner, suspecting something amiss, notified Judge Buckingham, who issued warrants for the youngsters, who are in their teens.

CONVENTION CITY

Prestonsburg this year is Eastern Kentucky's Convention City.

There was, first of all, the Grand Lodge of Kentucky Odd Fellows.

Followed the Girl Reserves of this district, representing high schools of all parts of this section.

Coming is the district meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

In between all this is the Floyd County Fair, most important of all to Floyd county when Floyd itself is considered alone.

And, to date, Prestonsburg has acquitted itself admirably in the entertainment of visitors. The Kentucky tradition of hospitality has not been violated to the least iota by any of us. We have not been "high-hat." We have met our guests as folks who recognize true hospitality like to be met.

In the future, for those forthcoming events, we plan to do likewise. Talk about us, write about us all you will and as long as you care, but never—never say that we failed to give you the best we had; never say that the poorest you had to come among us was not greeted with our best.

WE STILL LIKE LINDBERGH

Let it be understood, right here at the outset of the whole thing, that the writer honestly believes that the President of the United States is right in his attempt to repeal the present Neutrality Act.

But let us also make it plain, at the same time, that THE TIMES has no sympathy with those who brand Charles A. Lindbergh as a private citizen with being pro-Hitler, simply because he opposes repeal of that same Neutrality Act.

THE TIMES believes that repeal is justified on one ground—that the present neutrality law permits American ships to go into foreign waters, exposing themselves to attack while bearing raw materials of any kind which may become as important or as lethal as goods we may manufacture; while the "substitute," or repeal, act would permit the manufacture of war materials here in our own country, then only the "cash-and-carry" sale plan to be followed. In other words, we make and sell the materials—they come and get them and take them away, without our merchantmen plying their way into foreign ports, possibly be sunk and thus to draw this country into war.

That being off our chest briefly, let us recite our reason or reasons for resenting the harsh criticism of Lindbergh.

First of all, THE TIMES believes the Lone Eagle is honest in his belief. His father before him as a Congressman was as severely censured for his vote, back in 1917, against the United States going to war with Germany. Later, instead of being exorcised, his memory was almost idolized as folks over the nation began to realize that he was right.

Next, it should be apparent that the aviation corps of the U.S. Army would not have called Lindbergh to do duty recently, had he been considered, or were he, a friend of Hitler-Germany.

Thirdly, Lindbergh merely joins, by his statements, with the sentiments of numerous Senators and Representatives of our national Congress. He has the same right to his opinions as have these electors of the people, even if his ideas do vary from the path we ourselves follow.

As this newspaper views the whole matter, the man who has been idolized most by us and who has suffered most from us is wrong basically only because he suggests that this country should annex parts of the Western Continent which now belong to European powers. If he had stopped before he reached that "crucial" point, his words might have carried more weight. But he overstepped our own boundary lines in arguing for the peace and protection of those within those boundary lines. In short, he "bit off more than he can chew" and, also, he bit off more than this nation will swallow.

MR. TAXPAYER!

Do you think the present City Council deserves any credit for the paving of certain streets? Ask the property owners and the W.P.A.

Do you think you ought to continue paying out almost half your city revenues in salaries and fees?

Do you think you ought to continue paying $600 a year to a purely honorary position, namely, the Mayor; $600 to the Police Judge who himself collects fees and costs; $300 to a clerk, who gets his fees on licenses; $570 a year to the Council for its meetings; $720 for one more policeman than is necessary?

In short, do you favor the continuance of reckless expenditures of the public money for soft jobs and the keeping of favored parties and relatives on the payrolls?

Are you satisfied with a fire department which is no fire department at all?

Do you think you or your children have any safety on the city streets and highways, and particularly corners, where a progressive City Council would maintain stop signs?

Are you satisfied with dump and trash heaps which clutter up your city and are an eye-sore to visitors?

HE IS AN AMERICAN

He is an American. He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all he does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector.

His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her needs, her tastes, her budget, but not by decree.

He comes home of an evening through streets which are well lighted, not dimly in blue.

He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not conceived by a bureau, but an honest, untrammelled effort to present the truth.

He has never had a gas mask on. He has never been in a bombproof shelter.

His military training, an R.O.T.C. course in college, he took because it excused him from the gym course, and it was not compulsory.

He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes.

He adheres to a political party to the extent that he desires—the dominant one, if that be his choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—any other as his convictions dictate, even if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the country is wrong and should be scrapped.

He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is through a bloody revolution.

He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject, without fear.

He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt, nor his telephone to be tapped.

He changes his place of dwelling and does not report so doing to the police.

He has not registered with the police.

He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident.

He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a state line, rather than as foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war.

He worships God in the fashion of his choice, without let.

His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater safety, if young, nor, if older, ordered ready to serve the state with sacrifice of limb or life.

He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the imminence of battle and sudden death.

He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless privileges.

He is a fortunate man.

WHERE THE CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT BREAKS DOWN

The decision of the Court of Appeals in a Montgomery county election contest that a candidate is not disqualified for violations of the Corrupt Practices Act by supporters unless the candidate had actual knowledge of the violations follows the original construction of the act. The Courier-Journal repeatedly has urged the need for strengthening the law.

In this case, the court said, "There is no doubt that the Corrupt Practices Act was violated" by "supporters and workers," but there was no proof that the candidate had knowledge of it.

Granting the assumption of innocence, Montgomery county has an officer whose election, if not accomplished by, was aided by means the statutes denounce and which, if known to the candidate, would be disqualifying. The object of the law obviously is to protect the fairness of elections by making certain corrupt practices defeat their own end; and, obviously, the object of the law is nullified when the candidate, innocent or guilty, in whose behalf such practices were employed, is seated.

Of course it is the personal choice of the successful candidate, conscious of his own innocence and integrity, whether he declines or accepts the office after the judicial determination of the facts; but the trouble with the law is that it offers a convenient hiding place for a guilty candidate. If he takes particular pains to avoid suspicion and leaves the details to a trusted friend, it is almost impossible for a prosecutor to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that he knew something he denies any knowledge of.

As a matter of public policy, the law should specifically declare a candidate disqualified in whose behalf the Corrupt Practices Act is violated. Knowledge of what his campaign managers and workers are doing should be imputed to him as responsibility for his servants' acts performed for him are imputed to an employer. Unauthorized agencies should be prohibited under penalty from the collection and disbursement of campaign funds and activities within the purview of the Corrupt Practices Act. Candidates should take an interest in what is being done for them.—The Courier-Journal.

Bennie Banks carpenter for the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company on its building at the lower limits of Prestonsburg, was severely injured Monday when he fell from first-floor scaffolding of the structure onto a steel floor, 12 feet below.

MINERS WIN CLAIMS. WORTH $10,000 FROM WEEKSBURY COMPANY

A total of $10,000 in claims were won before the Workmen's Compensation Board recently, both suits being against the Koppers Coal Company and filed by Joe P. Tackett, Prestonsburg attorney.

The two cases gave Hiram Osborne a $6,000 permanent total disability from slatefall claim against the coal company; the other adjudged Lindsey and Mary Compton, parents of Lonnie Compton, 34, who was killed a year ago in or around the company's mines, entitled to a judgment of $4,000.

RECRUITING STATION IS OPENED THURSDAY IN POSTOFFICE BLDG.

A recruiting station for the United States Army was opened in Prestonsburg today with headquarters in the postoffice building, with Sgt. H. J. Feeney, 10th Infantry, in charge of the station. Sgt. Feeney stated that the office would be located here for seven days.

DO YOU KNOW?

THAT Pikeville pays its POLICE JUDGE a monthly salary of $80.00; Paintsville pays its Judge $75.00 per month while Prestonsburg pays only $50.00 per month; and that the U. S. Supreme Court has held it is illegal to pay any judge a commission on any fine, because that makes him interested in the conviction of the accused; and

THAT Pikeville pays its Chief of Police a monthly salary of $125.00 per month; and its three deputies the sum of $100.00 each per month; that Paintsville pays its Chief a monthly salary of $75.00, and its two deputies the sum of $75.00 each per month, while Prestonsburg pays its Chief a salary of only $60.00 per month, and the two deputies the sum of only $60.00 per month; and

THAT Pikeville pays its City Clerk $75.00 per month, while Prestonsburg pays its clerk only $25.00 per month; and that,

THE LAW provides that the City Council shall publish an annual statement or audit showing all receipts and expenditures by the City Council; and that the present Council did have its City Treasurer prepare and publish such an audit or statement on or about August 10. The Treasurer prepared this statement without cost to the taxpayers, and in order that the people might know what the present council has paid out, if the taxpayers make it known that they desire an audit of the city's books over a long period of time by having a certified public accountant come here and work for from one to three months at a salary of from $20.00 to $30.00 per day, plus expenses, then we stand ready to do it. However, we have thus far believed that the cost would be too great to justify same. We don't believe that the many Councils preceding us have ever done any great wrong. But if they have the Statute of Limitation has long ago barred any recovery or prosecution. If any citizen has any desire to delve into the ancient records of the city, let him go to our treasurer, Mr. W. J. May, who will be more than glad to show him these old records, as well as the records of the present administration, without cost to the taxpayers; and

THAT the public is always welcome to any of the City Council meetings; and that the Council can hold no meeting without admitting the public. Of course, members of the Council, as well as members of all legislative bodies in the world, have the privilege of meeting in private to discuss what actions shall be taken when the Council is in actual session; and

THAT instead of continuing to throw your city into bankruptcy, your present administration, during its short service of less than two years, HAS ACTUALLY REDUCED THE OUTSTANDING INDEBTEDNESS OF THE CITY BY MORE THAN SIX ($6,000.00) THOUSAND DOLLARS WITHOUT INCREASING YOUR CITY TAXES; and,

THAT our present inadequate fire protection is due to a lack of standard fire plugs, for the installation of which we have been fighting since we took office, as well as the lack of a new fire truck. We have tried to get the fire truck, but couldn't find anyone who would credit us. However, that purchase will be provided for in our new budget; and all of this better fire protection is a part of our present platform; and

THAT by distributing the tax burden AMONG THE WEALTHY AS WELL AS AMONG THE POOR, we will reduce your city taxes, while giving you continued improvement.

GARRETT

On Friday, October 13, John Buford Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Martin, celebrated his 11th birthday anniversary and that evening entertained a group of friends at his home. Guests were Agnes Mullins, Jacqueline Moore, Louise and Gladys Murray, Jewel Prichard, Mary Neeville Martin, Stella Jean Cumutte, Harriet Messer, Joy Rasnick, Ruth, Edith and Betty Ann Martin, Virginia Alice and Sue Hornsby, Olive J. Webb, Ray Martin, Tommy Bukovich, Bud Goodman, Shag Campbell, Chas. Hughes, Billy and George Murray, Ned Jackson and several others. Shortly before midnight, delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Martin. At the conclusion of the party about 50 high school students boarded the school bus for Lexington to attend the Kentucky-Oglethorpe football game.

DEEP WELLS MAY BE IMPORTANT
PEPETROLEUM DEVELOPMENT

Drilling in Oklahoma of a new oil well that may soon break all existing deep-well records of the world, and the opening for the first time of commercial oil production in Mississippi, making it the twenty-second oil-producing state, are recent significant developments in petroleum exploration and production that may be great importance to the oil industry.

The Oklahoma deep well already has been drilled to 14,479 feet—within 1,400 feet of the three-mile mark—where it temporarily has stalled. If the drillers can successfully fish out the broken drill pipe that has tied them up, it is expected that they will continue drilling to some distance beyond the 15,000-foot depth of the Kern county, California well which holds the current record as "deepest hole in the world." It is probable, even, that this new well, the Continental Oil Company's No. 1, Proctor, Washita county, Okla., will for the first time pass the three-mile depth a record almost unheard-of 10 years ago. Deep-drilling developments are of the utmost importance to the oil industry as they open up new pools in unsuspected localities, and reveal new producing horizons underlying older fields.

Furthering the search for petroleum in new regions, oil men for years have believed it possible to develop production in Mississippi, and many wildcat wells have been drilled in an effort to find marketable quantities of oil in the state. Within the last few weeks a new wildcat well near Yazoo City was successfully completed, opening commercial production in Mississippi for the first time. Addition of Mississippi to the roster of U.S. oil states brings the total to 22, increasing again the country's growing reserve of petroleum.

We are informed that deep drilling is contemplated by some of the companies in Eastern Kentucky and we await with much interest the developments of tapping the deep sands of our own section.

SLAYER OF FATHER
GETS FOUR YEARS

Louisa—A Lawrence county jury last Friday found Emogene Thompson 17, guilty in the slaying of her father and sentenced her to four years in the reformatory. The jury of 11 men and one woman considered the case two hours.

Miss Thompson told the jury that the shotgun with which she killed her father September 16 was fired to "scare" him because he struck her mother.

The father, Mont Thompson, 56, railroad laborer, came home drinking, she added.

George F. Adkins testified the quarrel between the mother and father was over whether to send the girl to a reform school.

Defense counsel C. A. Lycan announced that he would file motion and grounds for a new trial and the girl was sent back to jail.

Defense counsel also contended the

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD AND KNOTT COUNTIES:

In view of the fact that it is only a few weeks until the election, and that it will be impossible for this candidate to see in person each of the voters, this method is taken to communicate with the people

What every good citizen desires to know about a candidate is:

1. Who he is;
2. His qualifications; and
3. What he stands for.

He was born and reared on Salt Lick Creek of Right Beaver Creek, a distance of about two miles from the Knott county line. He grew to manhood in the same community with the late Judge Bill Williams. He is one of a family of nine children, and a brother of the late Preacher Sage Allen, who was known and loved by the people of both Knott and Floyd counties. He is related by blood or marriage to most of the old time families of both Knott and Floyd counties, and their names are too numerous to mention.

As to his qualifications, he began as a school teacher on Beaver Creek, and in Knott county, and has been Principal of the Floyd County High School at Prestonsburg, and City Superintendent of Schools. A large number of school teachers in Floyd and Knott counties received their preparation for the teaching profession under him while he was head of the Teachers' Training Department of the old Baptist College at Prestonsburg. He educated himself by working his way through college in the state of Indiana where he received his degree, and later worked his way through the State University at Lexington while studying law. He began the practice of law at Prestonsburg in the year 1917. He was elected State Representative from the old legislative district of Letcher, Knott and Floyd. He served as Assistant Attorney General of the state of Kentucky at Frankfort for several years. He has been appointed by the Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky as Special Judge and has held terms of court under such appointment. DATES APPROVED
FOR A.C.A. VOTE

Community Officers Elected
Tuesday at P'burg and Martin

The 1940 Floyd County Agricultural Conservation Association community elections were held Tuesday, the date being approved by the state A.A.A. James Stephens, Floyd county chairman, said this week.

Present community officials, Mr. Stephens said, conducted nominations and elections on that date at Prestonsburg and Martin. The Big Mud election will be held Saturday, October 21 at the Frasure's Branch school.

Eligibility provisions of the articles of association in regard to officers of the community and county organizations were discussed at the opening of the meetings, and duties of officers and delegates were explained.

Nominations were made orally and votes for the nominees were cast by written ballot.

Each community group elected seven local representatives in the following order: Delegate to the county convention; alternate delegate to the county convention; chairman of the community committee; vice-chairman of the community committee; third regular member of the community committee; first alternate community committeeman and second alternate community committeeman.

All persons voting in the community elections were required to execute a certificate of membership in the Floyd County Agricultural Conservation Association. This certificate was provided at the time and place of the election meetings.

All officers selected in the elections were required to have qualified for payment in connection with the Agricultural Conservation Program in 1939.

On order to be eligible to hold any of these offices, nominees are also required to have qualified for payment in connection with the Agricultural Conservation Program in 1939.

In order to be eligible to hold any of these offices, nominees are also required to (1) derive a substantial part of their incomes directly from farming; (2) to reside in the community and county from which elected; (3) not hold any elective federal, state or major county office and neither have been nor become a candidate for such county office; (4) not be an officer or employe of any political party or political organization; (5) not have been removed for cause from any office in the community.

Commonwealth's Attorney E. Poe Harris told the jury that Emogene Thompson was a wayward girl and that she acted out of resentment to her father's attempt to correct her.

connection with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and (6) not be a member of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee.

In a statement which is being issued to agricultural conservation association members along with the instructions to county offices, state A.A.A. officials emphasize the importance of getting out a representative vote in these elections.

"Your farm program is one of good business for both agriculture and industry," they point out. "Through this program farmers are doing their part to bring about full employment, good wages, and prosperity for your community, town and city.

"However, since the program is guided by farmers selected by you, the program can be no stronger than the men whom you elect to represent you as committeemen in your county agricultural association. It is up to you, therefore, to do your part by choosing the best qualified farmer for each of the offices listed on the ballot.

"We all know that as long as the farmers accept the responsibility of selecting their best men to serve as committeemen, the program will grow stronger and more successful in solving farm problems.

BRUMFIELD FREED IN EIGHT-YEAR-OLD SLAYING

Louisa — Clem Brumfield of near Cabelltsburg, who was indicted by the Lawrence county grand jury last March for the alleged slaying of his brother-in-law, Oscar Boggs, on Caines Creek nearly eight years ago was acquitted by a jury in Lawrence circuit court here Wednesday, last week.

The jury returned the acquittal verdict after deliberating about five minutes. K. C. Elswick, Louisa, and John McKenzie, Ashland, represented the defendant.

Fatal shooting of Boggs, aged 25, took place in the woods near his home on Caines Creek December 18, 1931. At that time the shooting was described as an accident and Brumfield was absolved by a coroner's jury, but new evidence was presented to the grand jury here last March and an indictment was returned naming Brumfield for murder. Brumfield came here from Boyd county and filed $5,000 bond and was released. The case was continued at the June term because of the illness of Brumfield's attorney, John M. Waugh.

Science Finds Common Rat
May Spread Poliomyelitis

Washington, Oct. 13—A discovery that a common rat is susceptible to infantile paralysis and may be the "reservoir" from which epidemics develop was reported today by the United States Public Health Service.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general said he considered the finding the most important contribution made thus far in the study and conquering of poliomyelitis which annually cripples thousands.

Dr. Charles Armstrong of the National Institute of Health, who has done much research on infantile paralysis, found the eastern cotton rat could contact the disease.

Until his experiments an Indiana monkey was the only animal other than man known to be susceptible to the poliomyelitis virus.

While only further research can determine the responsibility of the rat for epidemics, officials expressed themselves as strongly suspicious that the rodent may be the "reservoir" from which the disease spreads among humans.

In any event, the discovery that the rat can contact infantile paralysis is of major importance in the study of the disease because the importation of monkeys from the Far East may be stopped by the European war.

A monkey farm designed to furnish the animals for experimental use is now being developed in Porto Rico, but it may be several years before a sufficient supply is available.

EDWARD L. ALLEN

eral Courts has well equipped him as to court procedure. He enjoys the friendship and respect of every lawyer at the Bar in both the counties of Floyd and Knott, and it could be stated that each lawyer at each of these Bars would admit, if asked, that it is their judgment that if he is elected Judge they each, as a lawyer and their clients, would receive a square deal at his hands as such Judge.

In the courthouse and elsewhere as a lawyer and school teacher he has at all times stood for the rights of the common citizen. Even those who for selfish reasons, are opposing him in this race, are compelled to admit that if Edward L. Allen is elected Judge that all classes, whether high or low, will receive just and fair treatment at his hands. His past life, his qualifications and the things for which he stands, including churches and schools, entitle him to the wholehearted support of every father and mother, and every other citizen who really loves the children of this district, and desires a square deal in the courthouse. Every right thinking citizen, regardless of politics, should rally to his support to the end that the honor, integrity and dignity of the great office of Circuit Judge should be upheld. Certain known, selfish and entrenched interests are seeking under cover to defeat him, and it is respectfully submitted to the good people that he is in truth and in fact making this fight in behalf of the people. He is in this fight to the finish, and CAN and WILL win, and his election in November will certainly mean that RIGHT always prevails against WRONG.

He pledges, if elected, that every citizen qualified for jury service, regardless of his or her politics, and regardless of where they reside, shall feel at least that he or she have had an opportunity to sit as a juror in the courthouse at Prestonsburg and Hindman.

He is making an appeal to his many friends, to all those who really desire a square deal in the courts, and especially to his many relatives in these counties to stand by him in this fight, and not let up in the least until victory is won in November, which will be in truth a victory for churches, schools, and the mass of the people.

What Infantile Paralysis Is and What to Do

(By DR. MARVIN RANDELL, Director Floyd County Health Department)

This bulletin is issued in collaboration with the State Board of Health of Kentucky in response to the large number of inquiries about INFANTILE PARALYSIS. The questions answered below have been selected as those pertinent to a better understanding of the nature, method of spread and means of prevention of this disease.

1. WHAT IS INFANTILE PARALYSIS? A "catching" disease caused by an infecting agent or virus which gains entrance into the substance of the brain or spinal cord.

2. HOW IS THE ENTRANCE GAINED? Through the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, thence by lymph channels to the nerve tissues.

3. IN WHAT WAYS DO EXPOSURES OCCUR? (1) By contact with discharge from nose, throat or bowels of an infected person either directly, person to person, or indirectly by way of some article of food (especially milk) polluted with these discharges. (2) By contact with a healthy individual harboring the virus in the nose or throat—known as a carrier.

4. IS THE DISEASE AS PREVALENT AS USUALLY REPORTED? In all probability much more so. A part of those affected do not develop paralysis while in some others paralysis is so slight that it is not recognized. It is therefore probable that many mild cases are not recognized.

5. ARE THESE MILD CASES CONTAGIOUS? Yes.

6. IS THERE ANY PREVENTIVE TREATMENT AGAINST INFANTILE PARALYSIS? No.

7. IS THERE ANY VACCINE OR SERUM TREATMENT FOR THE DISEASE? Only the serum from one recently recovered from the disease, the curative value of which is uncertain.

8. WHAT PERIOD OF TIME ELAPSES BETWEEN EXPOSURE AND ONSET OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS? From seven to 14 days.

9. WHEN SHOULD PRECAUTIONS BE TAKEN AGAINST EXPOSURE? Upon the report of one case in the community.

10. WHAT MEASURES CAN BE TAKEN? Any possible avenues by which the virus of this disease can get to children should be cut off (see 3 above). The most important measure of precaution is isolation of the child. By so doing the chances of exposure are minimized. This does not imply that the child should be confined to a room, but rather that its movements should be restricted to the dooryard and association with other children avoided. Contact with adults should be avoided. Milk should be boiled before being consumed by the child.

11. HOW LONG SHOULD THESE PRECAUTIONS BE CARRIED OUT? This period will be governed by the local board of health or until three weeks after the last case develops in the community.

12. WHAT ARE THE EARLY SYMPTOMS OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS? If one or more cases have occurred in the community, a child with fever, vomiting, constipation (or diarrhea), drowsiness and irritability, especially when combined with headache, a transient flushing of the face, unusual sweating, or retention of the urine, should be regarded with suspicion.

13. WHAT SHOULD BE DONE WITH SUSPECTED CHILD? Immediately isolate the suspected child in bed, keeping other children in the household from the room and all other children and adults from entering the house. Call the family physician for the sick child and for instructions relative to preventing further spread of the disease.

YOUTH CHARGED WITH EXTORTION

The Federal Bureau of Investigation Monday announced the arrest of Charles D. Rose, 20 Pomp, Ky., on extortion charges. Officials said he had confessed demanding $200 from the postmaster of Pomp under threat of bodily harm.
The F.B.I. said Rose was to be referred today before the United States Commissioner at Toledo, Ohio. He was arrested yesterday and held in the Sandusky jail.
The bureau said Postmaster A. F. Brown received a letter postmarked West Liberty, Ky., May 31, instructing him to go there and give Rose $200. The letter said if he did not comply the demand would be increased ten times and indicated he might suffer bodily harm. The letter was signed "Mr. X."

Briar Buck's Scratches

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer, and not necessarily those of The Times.

PROTECTION

Perhaps all of you know about the boy from the head of the creek who left old Kain-tuck for Ohio's onion fields. Anyway, on reaching the other side of the Ohio river he turned and bid his homeland a last farewell. Waving his hand sadly, he said: "Goodbye, old U.S.A."
Well, the other day our wandering worker left those onion fields in double quick time. And on arriving home without his baggage and back pay, he explained to the folks that Germany, Europe and some of the other countries over there were at war again, and before the bullets began to fly in his direction he just upped and beat it back to the good old United States!

Beautiful "Miss America of 1939" is just like a hinge—she's something to a-d-o-r-e.

GOOD ENOUGH, OR GREEN ENOUGH?

A friend was kidding a certain man's wife about her husband's "quieting down," and jokingly asked asked her remedy for taming a wayward husband.

"Well," said she, "after seeing me jump the fence a few times, he began to think his own pasture was good enough to stay in!"

At Martin's big household auction sale, Saturday, two fellows were caught, arrested and jailed for stealing books, one of which was titled: "Of Mice and Men."

POP & STUFF

Mrs. Ida Parker laughing at the head-cold victim who, wanting a patent medicine by the name of "Flu-No" and evidently believing very strongly in its curative powers, called for a bottle of "FLU-NO-MORE" . . . Maytown's "Cob" Turner carrying around a Coca-Cola glass with a nipple fixed on its top . . . Churchmen "dunking" a Sister in the cold waters of Beaver Creek Sunday afternoon . . . ooh! . . . A deputy constable at Wheelwright shooting at a fleeing—almost flying—prisoner . . . dear-dear, some people just want to go to jail, especially after being refused bond . . .

QUALIFICATIONS FOR SUMP'N

Should be at least 21 years old with either reform school or penitentiary background; should have had three actual experiences of shooting at human targets, and have been successful in at least one of them; should have shady reputation and be schooled in the intricacies of bootlegging, card playing, and stealing.

LIVESTOCK MADE A DIFFERENCE

A survey of Grant county, Ky., farms of 95 to 110 acres in size showed incomes to vary from $1,217 to $2,165. The amount of tobacco produced was about the same. Livestock, says Richard M. Sandefur, assistant county agent, made the difference.

TRYING TO SAVE SON, GLASGOW WOMAN IS KILLED

Mrs. Mattie Curtis, 35, mother of six small children, died at the Samson Community Hospital here Saturday at 6:50 p. m. of a fractured skull received two hours prior when struck by a motor driven by Franklin Davis, of Gamaliel, near the city limits of Tompkinsville, when she pulled her small son from in front of the approaching car.

Mrs. Curtis, accompanied by her husband, Loallen Curtis and two small children, were en route home from Tompkinsville when the accident occurred. According to reports Mrs. Curtis was carrying her one-year-old baby and Mr. Curtis was leading their son. They were in front of their home when the little boy started across the road in front of the approaching car. Mrs. Curtis grabbed the boy and pulled him to safety, but was struck by the car herself. The baby girl in her arms also suffered cuts and bruises about the body.

A Monroe county deputy sheriff, who accompanied Mrs. Curtis to the hospital here, said the accident was unavoidable on the part of Davis driver of the machine. — Glasgow Times.

P.-T. A. PROGRESSING

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first regular meeting on Wednesday. A large crowd is expected, since a school bus will bring members from out-of-town. The membership committee, composed of Mesdames Sid Begley, Henry May and Chille Prasure, is hard at work. Letters have been sent to various homes. School students staged a parade on Monday, with Bandmaster Elliott and his band leading, and posters are on display. The program committee has completed the original year book, which will be available for members in November. Plans for the Halloween Carnival are nearing completion.

BUILDING SOON TO BE READY

The new high school building, one of the finest in this section of the state, will be ready for occupancy early next month, and its formal dedication is scheduled to take place soon afterwards. The building has many improved features not found in the one lost by fire last March.

LAWRENCE COUNTY FAIR IS A SUCCESS

Louisia—Gratified by the unusually fine agricultural and livestock displays and the wide interest exhibited at the annual fair and homecoming here last week, the Lawrence County Fair Association at a meeting Monday decided to commence preparations immediately for an even bigger and better fair next year. The meeting was held in the office of County Agent Carl B. Day here.

DO YOU KNOW?

—THAT BETWEEN 1933 AND 1937, (THE LATEST FIGURE AVAILABLE) THE VALUE OF KENTUCKY MANUFACTURES ROSE FROM $298,000,000 TO $505,000,000?

—THAT A GREAT PART OF THIS RISE IN KENTUCKY'S INDUSTRIAL IMPORTANCE WAS DUE TO THE KENTUCKY DISTILLING INDUSTRY ALONE?

—THAT THERE IS NO FARMER, MERCHANT OR WORKING MAN IN THE STATE WHO DOES NOT BENEFIT FROM KENTUCKY'S NEW-FOUND INDUSTRIAL LIFE?

A GOOD PART OF KENTUCKY'S PROSPERITY HINGES ON KENTUCKY'S DISTILLING INDUSTRY

diately for an even bigger and better fair next year. The meeting was held in the office of County Agent Carl B. Day here.
The fair last week was declared a success in all respects. Exhibits of products of the farm, home, schools and 4-H clubs were described as better than for a number of years. Attendance was large, particularly on the final two days.
An important part of the fair this year was taken by schools and 4-H clubs. Displays by various schools and clubs elicited much praise and on Friday morning a county-wide school parade was staged through the streets of Louisia, led by the crack L. H. S. band.
Following the meeting of the fair committee Monday it was announced that meetings would be held from time to time to arrange plans for a fair next year.

The health director added that every child afflicted with the malady should be reported immediately, so that proper home treatment for restoration of use of the limbs may be instituted prior to treatment, if necessary, in the Crippled Children's hospital.

Blackcats Lose to Gate City

Salisbury punted out of the danger zone and, after bringing the ball to the Prestonsburg 32, Catlettsburg fumbled. Prestonsburg recovered on the 26, and three plays netted four yards. Salisbury punted on the fourth down, and Catlettsburg was off-side. Salisbury punted again and again Catlettsburg was off-side, giving the Blackcats a first down on their own 40. Layne hit the line for no gain and on the next play he fumbled, with Catlettsburg recovering at the line of scrimmage.

On the first play of this series the Wildcats were penalized 15 yards, making it first down and 25 for Catlettsburg on their own 45. Pack was hit three yards behind the line of scrimmage by several of the Blackcat forward wall. On the next play Catlettsburg was off-side, making it second down and 33. Robins started around end and was nailed by Burdall for no gain. Catlettsburg then punted, with the ball bouncing out of bounds on the Prestonsburg 20.

After the Blackcats gained five yards on three plays, Salisbury punted over the Catlettsburg safety man's head. Snyder finally got the ball and was hit hard on the Catlettsburg 27. He was carried off the field. Ewing, after gaining one yard, was jarred by Bailey, then Abbott carried the ball to the Catlettsburg 37. Abbott then went to the Catlettsburg 42, and Herald intercepted a long Catlettsburg pass on the Prestonsburg 30, as the first half ended.

To begin the second half Catlettsburg kicked-off to Prestonsburg, receiving on the 30 and returning to the 36. Hunter lost three yards and then Salisbury punted, Catlettsburg downsing the ball on their own 44. In three plays Ewing carried the ball to the Prestonsburg 37, from where he went wide around end over the Prestonsburg goal line, to score standing up. His placement kick was wide, making the score 6-0.

Catlettsburg again got possession of the ball on the Blackcat 39 and, with Ewing, Mulvaney and Pack in a sustained drive, carried the ball to Prestonsburg's five-yard line. From there Mulvaney skirted left end for the second touchdown. The placement kick was again wide. It was after Catlettsburg's kick-off that the Blackcats made their unsuccessful bid for a score.

Early in the fourth period Mulvaney went over from the Prestonsburg seven-yard line for the Wildcats' third touchdown. An attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete, leaving the score 18-0. Catlettsburg kicked off to Hunter on the Prestonsburg 20, and he returned to the 33. After three incomplete passes Heinze got off a short punt, which was returned by Catlettsburg to the Prestonsburg 38. Ewing completed a pass to the 25, and then ran for a touchdown. Abbott kicked extra point making the count 25-0.

Late in the fourth period Ewing ran 49 yards for his third touchdown. The kick was no good, and the score stood 31-0. Catlettsburg's kick-off was received on the Prestonsburg 20. Clarke began throwing passes, and Prestonsburg had the ball on the Catlettsburg 48 as the game ended.

Blackcat Captain Russell Rice, who is being mentioned over the state as a possible all-state tackle selection, played his usual outstanding game. The line play of Sturgill, Bailey and Sloan also stood out.

Saturday afternoon the Blackcats will meet the Russell eleven on the local field.

Town-World

We're not asking you Floyd county folks that question—we're asking "the powers that be" who couldn't see this small-town boy, simply because his team in high school hadn't defeated Ashland, Manual, Male, St. Xavier or Paducah.

Oh, you guys that wouldn't take our word for it—you should have seen him kick, pass and run.

How many times have you failed in your task of omnipotency? Look the pros over and see how many small schools are represented by the ablest football players in professional football to ascertain just how ridiculous these "all" teams are.

All of which is a mere foreword, gentlemen, to the fact that Prestonsburg this year, has in Russell Rice a lineman who might—if given a chance—be in that all-State team line. Pooley!

TO CHARLES A. LINDBERGH:

You who rightly may be called the Lone Eagle, you are flying uncharted skies in your plans to make the Americas wholly American. Though you are not landing on foreign soil after long hours over dark, fathomless waters, your ideas in this endeavor are falling on fallow ground. You are something of a pioneer, at least, in this respect, just as you pioneered the air route from this land of ours across the Atlantic to France.

But, dauntless flyer that you are, illustrious son of a noble and berated father, don't you think the United States that is already ours is sufficient problem for our hands, these days? Your ideas indirectly encourage a plan to seize something that is England's in payment of the British debt to us? Why should I without recourse to law, seize and drive away my neighbor's car in payment of his debt to me? Is there not some more sensible solution to all these matters?

Yes, you are entitled to your own personal ideas as to the Neutrality Act; your ideas are shared by some good and honest men, they are opposed by some good and honest men. But your ideas of conquest do not "jell" when you have the ingredients of neutrality and peace in the one mixing cup and the witches' broth of conquest in the other.

Try again, Lindy. Any idea you can make effective for peace—we're with you on that; but discard, please, that idea of taking what we haven't, even if it is due us. Hitler has made the same claims before, you know.

PARTY LEADERS, SPEAKERS HERE

Swope Speech Thursday Followed Few Hours Later by Johnson

Judge King Swope and Governor Keen Johnson, Republican and Democratic nominees, respectively, for Governor of the Commonwealth, Thursday afternoon and night, in addresses here, told Floyd county voters of their own merits and of the demerits earned by the opposition.

"Now that Keen is Governor, let him quit promising and start performing," was the Republican's battle cry sounded at the courthouse Thursday morning.

The same afternoon, a few hours later, Governor Johnson responded with a citation of the present administration's record in reducing the state debt and a plea for Democratic unity, without which the party will be severely handicapped next year in the Presidential campaign.

"We will swamp Swope," Governor Johnson declared.

In his address Thursday morning, Judge Swope attacked the "assessment" policy of the Chandler administration in exacting contributions from state employes for political purposes. He promised an end to this.

The speaker also accused the Chandler administration of "high crimes and misdemeanors" in its conduct of the charitable and penal institutions of the state. Improper care of patients, inadequate attention and actual physical abuse of inmates of state hospitals for the insane were alleged.

He recalled that Governor Johnson, in appointing Former Governor A. B. Chandler to the Senate, said he and Chandler had been "yoke mates" in politics.

"Yes, they have been yoke-mates, and Dan Talbot has driven the team. I've got nothing against Johnson or Chandler, but Talbot is going to run things if Johnson is elected," Judge Swope charged.

Speaking before a packed circuit courtroom, with his address carried to those in the courtyard and streets outside, Governor Johnson pleaded for a straight Democratic vote, stressing the claim that the General Assembly will be Democratic under any conceivable results of the election and pointing out the fact that a Governor of one party with a Legislature of another political faith never achieves much.

"It promotes harmony and better government when there is no disunion," he said. "With a Governor pulling one way and a Legislature pulling another way, there is likely to be disorder. It almost always follows when the two branches are in the hands of rival political forces.

"In these days of distressed world conditions we have seen how the arbitrary position of one autocratic man can upset the peace of the whole world. We know what a dictatorial man can do to a whole people, and the people of other countries," he said.

"Not all the men of that type are in foreign countries. Some might live here and might aspire to the Governorship. It would be bad for the people of Kentucky if a man disregarded the rights of the people to get control at Frankfort."

Governor Johnson said the Democratic ticket offered more experienced men "and men with superior capabilities for service to the people."

Listing the Democratic accomplishments, he cited a $20,000,000 reduction in history for public education, increased expenditures for road building and maintenance, and the expenditure of $11,000,000 for old age pensions.

"The Democratic party pledges a continuance of all of that program, with expansion of it as rapidly as revenues and condition of the state treasury will permit," he continued.

To The Citizens of Prestonsburg . . .

The present city administration, through its untiring efforts and co-operation with the W.P.A., has secured for our town MORE STREET PAVING THAN HAS BEEN SECURED BY ANY OTHER TOWN IN KENTUCKY OF THE SIZE OF PRESTONSBURG.

The streets paved are so numerous that space won't permit us to enumerate them. Those of you who live on them and use them know how well you like them.

We have almost completed a fine system of new sidewalks.

While securing all these improvements and at the same time paying in CASH all salaries of officials, as well as the current running expenses of the city, we have, through economy and systematic budgeting, actually REDUCED THE INDEBTEDNESS OF THE CITY BY MORE THAN ($6,000) SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS.

WE HAVE DONE ALL THESE THINGS WITHOUT RAISING YOUR CITY TAXES.

With the exception of one councilman and the Mayor, the present administration, along with E. P. Arnold and W. V. Bunting, asks for your vote, not only for endorsement of the above record of achievement but in order that we may secure the following things, which we promise to do when we are again elected:

- (1) Paving of the few remaining unpaved streets — including the repaving of Third street from the postoffice to Nunery's store; (2) Completion of our new sidewalk system; (3) Sewering and sidewalking in West Prestonsburg; (4) The building of an incinerator; (5) Co-operation with business and professional clubs, and other civic groups, toward the accomplishment of any needed improvement, including the modernization of our fire department by purchase of a new fire truck, together with standardization of fire

KEEN-O-GRAMS

(Excerpts from the speech of Governor Keen Johnson).

"The name of the state we love has not been besmirched by any scandal in high places or disclosures of crookedness in public office."

"The credit of the state is sound."

"No bitter animosities divide our people."

"I thought everyone . . . knew and understood what was being done by the state government until the Republican nominee made the opening speech of the Republican campaign . . ."

"In plain language, the opposition . . . presents as its main feature a stark and naked political appetite . . ."

"The first big job of the next four years should be to continue the worthwhile progressive and constructive activities of the state government that are already under way."

"Contrast . . . Republican straddling with the definite accomplishments of the Democratic ticket."

"I am pledged to conduct my administration in the spirit and practice of equal opportunity for all and special privilege for none . . ."

"Broad benefits result when . . . administrators of government clearly proclaim and protect the rights of both labor and industry . . ."

"I am opposed to any increase in the tax burden."

"The burden of state taxes today rests more lightly on the individual in Kentucky . . . than in nearly any other state in the Union."

" . . . the Democratic party has done all the worthwhile things Judge Swope now says he will do."

"I advocate selection of personnel for public service on a basis of competency and do not believe in pernicious political activity."

"My opponent . . . would like to . . . return Hooverism to the Nation and Sampsonism in Kentucky."

"My opponent . . . is only running to be elected caretaker of the Republican Log Cabin."

"For nearly four years . . . he wrapped himself in his judicial robes and engaged in political sniping."

"When I am elected . . . the full cooperation and assistance of the state government will be accorded the federal program."

"I have been cautious about the promises I have made . . . it is my determined purpose to fulfill every pledge that I have made and that I may make in this campaign."

"I will be guided solely by the determination that our own peace must be preserved."

"There are no winners in war, only losers."

" . . . it is not our war and . . . we intend to stay out of it unless our own shores are threatened."

"I have no resentment against those Democrats who exercised their right . . . to vote for another in the primary."

"There isn't going to be any bolting and there isn't going to be any (party) strife . . . we shall march to an old-fashioned Democratic victory."
