While other men were devising ways and means for rehabilitating the state's and charitable institutions, and working day and night to raise Kenfrom the low level to which she had sunk through years of neglect, thereby ing a chance for the mentally unfortunate to live, as near as human iny and care can help them, happy, normal lives, Mr. Henderson still sought hile other men were building more and better roads in Kentucky, and for oney than has ever been known in the history of road building in the States, thereby furnishing to hundreds of thousands of men, women and n of Kentucky the opportunities to reach markets, schools and churches months in the year, Mr. Henderson still sought material for his plathile other men saw the great need of assistance for the state's aged needy nd women, and had the courage to put a tax on luxuries to provide money paying these old people a monthly pension, Mr. Henderson still sought mafor his platform

But now, however, after all these years, Mr. Henderson seemingly has ned his goal. He has blossomed forth with a brainchild. He has at long last himself a platform; and through The Courier-Journal he has announced hosoever will may come and stand on it with him.

d what a brain-child it is! What a father Mr. Henderson has turned out He readily professes to believe that he has something unique, something before seen in Kentucky. He has a streamlined platform—a one-plank m. His whole being has gone into one child, one magnificent scion. He very candidate for the forthcoming legislature to declare himself upon is spending her vacation here with her | Marie Hall, of McDowell, visited the banquet tables, 3 wooden bowls, 48 new | 1 cash register, 9 reading or desk position and one proposition only—the proposition of not accepting, if parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Smith. Synter theater Sunday with Elmer Els- chairs, 6 assorted baking pans, one lamps, 10 twin beds, mattresses and a job for himself, nor for any of his kinfolk.

, sir, dear reader; this is Mr. Henderson's work of his lifetime—his longfor one-plank platform. As he sees it, there is only one all-important icing the people of Kentucky in the legislative canvass this year. They ect men who will go to Frankfort upon the sole proposition of not having put on the state payroll. Other matters are of no concern; at least, derson has no others in his platform. He says the candidates for the slature must be elected or defeated upon the sole proposition of whether ill or won't accept jobs of some kind for their kinfolk-not even a job orty-second cousin.

t tock Mr. Henderson to produce the one big proposition of the Commonth's history. He alone was big enough to produce the one all-important sition—a propoition which, in his opinion, and, in the opinion of the disished editor of The Courier-Journal, for he has endorsed it, overshadows

The whole thing is a bit disconcerting to us. We had made up our mind ther things were all-important in this year's legislative canvass. We ght the continuation of good government—the kind of government now in tion under Governor Johnson-was the major issue. Inded, we were firmly e opinion that the next legislature should be elected upon the proposition t only maintaining the advances made since 1935, but of broadening and nding the programs already in vogue. We had thought that we would ask eaders to elect decent representatives who would go to Frankfort to help a nt Governor do a decent job for the people of Kentucky. We had thought we would ask the people to vote for those candidates who would pledge selves to legislate for good health, continued good credit, further rehabilon of Kentucky's penal, mental and charitable institutions, better schools, and better main and rural roads, and many other things which seemed

But, alas, our mind seems to have been taken up with little things. Indeed, it seems that in promoting these things we have been wasting our time. We didn't know until a few days ago how wasteful we had been-not until Mr. Henderson dropped his one-plank platform into our midst, got the editorial endorsement of The Courier-Journal, and then started broadcasting in monotone from

Now we are in a great dilemma. Whether to lay aside our previous plansplans which involved so many things we thought of the greatest importanceand give our all to helping Mr. Henderson elect a one-issue legislature; that is the question which perplexes us. It is a question which must be carefully and considerately dealt with. Other things must wait while we determine our future course and satisfy ourself that we are making no mistake.

Maybe Mr. Henderson has something. Maybe his long period of research has produced a proposition which transcends all others. Far be it from us to wilfully or inadvertently become a party to killing his life's work by refusing to even so much as consider it before making up our mind upon a program for the future wefare of the state. Who knows? Perhaps it may prove the better course evote our editorial columns to helping Mr. Henderson keep Cousin Sue off state payroll, rather than to promoting good health, good credit, good schools, better prisons and asylums, more and better improved roads and old-age pen-

Yes sir; who knows? Mr. Henderson may be right.—Somerset Journal. (Advertisement)

ODDS, TOO GREAT

WITH Judge Stephens' recent suggestion that the number of defense challenges of jurors should be reduced from fifteen to ten THE TIMES is in slight disagreement.

The number of challenges should be cut to fiveexactly the number of challenges enjoyed by the prosecution.

For the law to presume that a murderer, rapist or any other felon is innocent until proved guilty is enough on the side of the defense. After that, there should be no weakening of the law as it shoulders the burden of "making a case." Odds of three to one on jury challenges provide the "last straw" in many

There is no need for any individual to fear that equalization of jury challenges would deprive the defendant of the right of a "fair" trial. There always is the change of venue to be demanded and gained in cases where it can be proved that an impartial trial cannot be had.

The fact is, it's not a "fair and impartial" trial that most defendants want. They prefer partialityin their favor.

Why, in the first place, was the law enacted giving the defense fifteen juror challenges to the Commonwealth's five? It's a deep, dark mystery to usunless, perchance, some wily criminal lawyer had a hand in writing the statute.

WHILE THERMOPYLAE IS FOUGHT ...

WHILE a hundred Thermopylaes are being fought by the heroic descendants of the ancient Spartans assailed by barbarian hosts, Capital and Labor in this country engage in a war on their own that may not only lose the war for those whom we are pledged to aid but also lose for workers and employers alike all they have gained. THE TIMES has no idea of arguing Labor's case or Capital's case. Already there is too much arguing. Neither has an immaculate record, but both could redeem themselves this month, this year, by forgetting old grievances and turning to the task to which the resources of this country have been dedicatedto making America the arsenal of democracy and to supplying those embattled democracies the materials with which to win their death-struggle with the dictatorships

At this hour America parallels France before its subjugation in the dissension among its people. When France went to war for the second time against Germany, there was little unity; the quarrel between classes was deeper, more bitter, than was the average Frenchman's hatred of the enemy across the Rhine.

From all this bickering in America, however, there has emerged one example of good commonsense. That example was set in the deferment of the proposed strike in the mills of the U. S. Steel Corporation. There, instead of a strike, picketing, rioting, charges and counter-charges, a "breathing spell" of a week is being taken while company officials and union representatives are trying to reason the thing through to a satisfactory conclusion. All that may spell nothing-but, like Americans with democratic principles, they at least are trying in a human and humane way.

If this preparedness program and this aid to Britain and Greece and Yugo-Slavia are worth seven billions of American do'lars in the year 1941, we and they should get value received. This is no pink-tea affair; so this country may as well get hard, now. This government should decide that both Capital and Labor shall work, and should make definite arrangements, without further ado, that both shall be treated impartially.

Seniors To Present 'Antics of Andrew'

"The Antics of Andrew," the story of a philandering husband, will be the stage offering to be presented Friday, matinee and evening, at the graded school auditorium by the senior class of Prestonsburg high school.

The cast is, if anything, unusual as Big Sid Bailey, all-conference football tackle, plays the part of Herb Salisbury's long-suffering wife, and Freddie Cottrell, another gridster, the part of the mother-in-law. Meanwhile, Hershell Tackett, as the timid professor, and Billy Conley (Uncle Isaac to you) try to win the love of the outraged 'little woman' (the aforesaid Sid Bailey). Myra Hill, an old maid teacher, finds the young folks' chatter very annoying, while Vivian Caudill, Madeline Boyd and Sarah Clay Stephens are cute college girls who do nothing but litter up the stage and act dumb (Editor's note: The foregoing is the c'clock, following the dinner to be statement of the school's publicity department and does not express the views of THE TIMES). Ever heard the history of the locomotive cowcatcher? Locomotives belonging to an early railroad suffered so much damage from collisions with trespassing cows that something had to be done about it. A young employee soon invented a small truck supporting two iron spears and attached it to the front of the engines. This was effective but very hard on cows! To avoid lawsuits from irate farmers a crosswise bar was substituted, and from this evolved the present V-shaped cowcatcher.

THE L RICHMOND COMPANY

Prestonsburg, Ky., March 15, 1941 Notice is hereby given that The I. Richmond Company, Incorporated, is closing up its business as a corporation as of this date, and will continue to operate as a partnership thereafter. THE I. RICHMOND COMPANY,

By INEZ R. HEREFORD. President

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on April 4, 1941 at 10 o'clock, a. m., a motion will be entered before Edward P. Hill, Judge of the Floyd County Court, to authorize the acceptance of an offer of $1,400.00 for the stock of merchandise owned by the estate of J. E. Walters at Betsy Layne, Ky. LUTHER WALTERS, Admr.

ago, and the voters of this district are going to keep me on.

I have worked in and around the coal mines on Left Beaver Creek half of my life up to now, and have taken an active hand in our county elections for the past 21 years and have always gone to bat for my friends ever since my uncle, O. C. Hall, made his first race. And now I am asking help to get a job and when I get the job I assure you I will get things done instead of promising to do things.

E. V. (ELLIS) MARTIN (Pol. adv.)
