AMBURGY GETS 5-YEAR TERM AS SLAYER

MORRIS ACQUITTED IN FIST-SLAYING OF GOBLE HALL

The months-long fight of Bordie Amburgy, miner-son of "Bob" Amburgy, Hindman bank president, as the law sought to convict him in the slaying at Wheelwright, Aug. 12, 1940, of Clyde Robinson, miner, reached a climax Monday afternoon when a jury of the Floyd circuit court after four hours' deliberation fixed his sentence at five years in the penitentiary. Amburgy's first trial resulted in a hung jury. As his second arraignment was ready to start, the indictment was quashed, only to be re-instated. Then his third arraignment, which began here Saturday.

Remaining against him on the circuit court docket here is a murder charge resulting from the death of Clarence Little, 18, Wheelwright, who is said to have been accidentally shot by Amburgy fired at Robinson.

After the regular jury panel had been exhausted, names of 53 other talesmen were drawn from the jury wheel before a jury was selected to hear the trial.

Amburgy claimed he fired only when Robinson drew his pistol. He added that he thought Robinson fired a shot before he began firing. Green Gray, a defense witness claimed Robinson threw his hand to his hip as if to draw his gun.

Commonwealth witnesses testified that Amburgy fired on Robinson while the latter was playing cards with friends, and without provocation. This testimony showed that one of Amburgy's bullets struck the victim from behind.

Assisting Commonwealth's Attorney John Allen in the prosecution were County Attorney Forrest D. Short and City Edward L. Allen, H. H. Smith, C. P. Stephens, Joe P. Tackett and Carl D. Perkins were defense counsel. "Red" Morris was acquitted Friday of a charge of killing Goble Hall at Buckingham with a blow of his fist. He claimed self-defense. Commonwealth testimony contended that Hall died 14 days after having been struck by Morris on Dec. 1, last year. Dr. W. D. Osborne, Hall's physician, told of Hall's head being swollen, but declined to state the exact cause of death. Morris said he struck Hall with the latter struck him with a kick of stovewood.

Lawson Brown, on trial on a murder charge for his connection in the slaying of Lawrence Collins at Drift, drew a three-year term last Wednesday. The Commonwealth contended that Cecl Newsome pursued Collins, Brown followed, urging Newsome to catch the fleeing man. This testimony sought to prove that Brown stamped

This Town-- That World

There's lavender and old lace in the hills, these days. The rose buds and the ferns. Lovely together or apart.

ONE LIVES AND LEARNS-- MAYBE

Born and "raised" as I was on Salt Lick Creek, this county, I had to wait years to read in a Commissioner's sale printed in this very newspaper that my favorite stream has a Bull Tail branch.

FLASH!—RAT CATCHES DOG

Operating on the premise that it's news when a man bites a dog, we've decided that this is news. A two-weeks-old shepherd puppy was caught by a rat (or rats) at the home of Clayborne Bailey, of Justell, last Friday night and was dragged into a nearby hole. When found, next day, both of the pup's hind legs were broken and gnawed and the tip of its tail had been eaten away.

MATERNAL OLD CLUCK

And there's that hen on Salt Lick that doesn't mind being "set" but does have her mind on "settin'" on something other than the customary eggs. When a mother cat lugged in her kitten by the scruff of the neck and placed it in a hen's nest near the Turner home, the hen promptly began "setting" on the kitten. Moved last week to another nest and to a setting of eggs, the maternal old cluck squawked and wound up by going right back to keeping the kitten warm.

East Point Resident, Struck By Auto, Dies Instantly

Harry D. Auxier, 64, East Point, was instantly killed April 15, when he was struck by a car on the Mayo Trail near the old Hell's Gate steamboat landing.

He was the son of the late J. D. and Charlotte Spradlin Auxier, long prominent in Johnson county. Surviving are his widow; two sons, Virgil Auxier, Cliff, Buster Auxier, East Point; three daughters, Mrs. May Hereford, and Mrs. Lucy Burke, both of Trimble county, Ky., and Mrs. Tava Blanton, East Point. Also surviving are six brothers: W. D. and Tobe Auxier, both of East Point; George Auxier, Allen; W. D. Auxier, Paintsville; Sam Auxier and Down Auxier, both of Madison, Ind.; and one sister, Mrs. Ethel Hughes, Jenkins, Ky.

HALL REWARD $100 SHORT

AS FISCAL COURT FAILS TO MAKE APPROPRIATION

In session here Monday, the Floyd fiscal court failed to post reward for the arrest of Joe Hall, who for three weeks has been sought in the slaying at Dwaile of Henry Hale and the wounding of Hale's bride-to-be, Miss Minnie Porter.

Two weeks ago, THE TIMES published an erroneous statement to the effect that the court had already placed with a local bank $100 as a reward for the capture of Hall. Mother of the slain youth posted $50 reward.

See editorial, "A Slayer, the Widow's Mite—and Floyd County"

Floyd county deputy sheriffs this week reiterated stories of unsuccessful raids on Hall's home and other places in the Dwaile community where the slayer was reported hiding. One officer said he had been told this week that he and other peace officers had passed within a few feet of Hall, on a recent night.

It was said this week that Hall is armed with a rifle and a revolver.

COMMISSIONER MAY ACCORDED HONOR

WILLIAM H. MAY

The Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce, nearing the close of its state convention in Ashland Saturday night, gave awards to Commissioner of Agriculture William H. May, of Prestonsburg, E. G. Sampels, of Louisville, re-elected vice-president and to the Jaycee organization of Paducah.

May was presented with a plaque in recognition of his leadership in government, exemplifying Junior Chamber of Commerce ideals. Acknowledging the award, May said that the tribute really should go to his department for its splendid work.

Slain Mine Official Former Manager At Weeksbury

C. W. "Dusty" Rhodes, 45, president of the Fork Ridge Coal Company, Middlesboro, Ky., who was killed in an outburst of violence last week following the mine shut-down, is remembered here and elsewhere in this county as former manager of the Weeksbury operation of the Piney Elkhorn Coal Company. Mr. Rhodes was manager there when the Weeksbury mining camp was built.

Slaying of Mr. Rhodes and others took place so near the Bell county-Tennessee line that services of a surveyor were required before it was ascertained that the violence took place in Tennessee.

PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

LIONS AND KIWANIS COMMITTEES JOIN IN MOVEMENT

Prestonsburg children will have a playground this summer, complete with chutes, swings, bars and every modern equipment, according to plans nearing completion by the Lions and Kiwanis clubs.

At the weekly dinner of the Lions Thursday night at the Auxier hotel, Franklin Moore, chairman of the Lions committee, reported the committee is receiving enthusiastic support of school board members. Present plans are to place the equipment on the grounds adjoining the graded school. It is expected supervisors will be drawn from the NYA and WPA organizations.

Jack Keenon submitted figures on the possible cost after deducting allowance for pipe which, it is expected, will be donated by local oil and gas companies. The welding will be done at the Mayo Industrial School in Paintsville. The cost, according to Mr. Keenon's figures, will approximate $250. This amount will be raised by popular subscription and perhaps a minstrel show.

A resolution was passed in appreciation.

HEALTH BOARD MAY ACT

TO RESTRAIN SPREAD OF HYDROPHOBIA IN COUNTY

Outbreaks of rabies in two or three Floyd county communities within the last fortnight led Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd County Health Department, to issue a warning to the effect that if citizens continue their negligence in permitting dogs to run at large "with no attempt made to confine those dogs known to have been bitten, it may be necessary to have the county board of health to issue a general quarantine of dogs."

Anti-rabies treatments have been ordered for six Floyd countians—two here, the same number in both Wayland and Glo.

Dr. Ransdell's statement follows: "All suspicious-acting or sick dogs should be immediately destroyed or confined in some tight place where it is impossible for them to dig or otherwise break out. Be suspicious of the dog who appears to be choked—it may have rabies. Any attempt to examine the animal will expose you to rabies and necessitate the taking of the treatment.

"The greatest danger lies in letting dogs that are known to have been bitten by a rabid dog run at large. Reports reach this office every week that a certain community has been visited by a mad dog, that all the dogs were bitten and yet nobody is interested enough to kill or confine the dogs that have been bitten, but allow them to run at large, go mad and bite some human or other dogs.

"Rabies present a serious problem, not only from a public health viewpoint, but from an economic viewpoint as well. Every year, a number

PHILOSOPHY OF FLOYD NATIVE RECORDED IN HIS WILL

Though having the ring of sound philosophy to be found in Poor Richard's Almanac, the following paragraphs are taken from the will of the late James Hatcher, Floyd county native, who died at Pikeville in 1939:

"I want to say to my trustees and to my nephews to whom I have willed the Hatcher Hotel, that I want the printed matter on the Hotel Walls to remain as printed, and if for any cause it should have to be removed, I want it replaced as I now have it, except that the color of the lettering may be different.

"I further want to say to each of my devisees that I have given to each of them a sufficient amount of property and land by which each can make a living by staying upon it and working. No one can grow corn, wheat, oats, potatoes and other farm products nor run a hotel or other business by staying on concrete roads.

"I want each of my beneficiaries to bear in mind that a person living on a little farm in the mountains you can make a living and save more money on it provided he stays at home and works. Too many today are looking for a job when they may have one at home on the farm if they would only go to it.

COAL OFFICIAL IS VICTIM

WARREN B. COCKILL DIES AT PIKEVILLE OF PARALYSIS

Warren B. Cockill, well-known coal mine official and resident of Pike county for many years, died at 11:30 April 16 at his home in Pikeville.

Mr. Cockill was 47 years old. He had been in failing health for several months, but apparently was recovering. He suffered a stroke and died several hours later.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cockill, of Minnie, Ky. He was born in Tennessee but moved to this section with his family in early childhood. He was assistant superintendent of the Edgemont Fuel Company mine at Minnie.

Mr. Cockill was affiliated with the Masonic lodge and the American Legion, and was a member of the Methodist Church.

In addition to his parents, his widow, Mrs. Stella Ferguson Cockill, and a sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Cockill, survive.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Methodist Church, Pikeville, with Dr. Virgil Moore, Dr. T. B. Ashley and Rev. E. L. Howerton officiating. Burial was made at Ashland.

BAILEY HELD IN JAIL HERE

AFTER WIFE'S BODY FOUND FRIDAY NEAR WARFIELD

Brought to the Floyd county jail here Saturday for safekeeping, on order of County Judge J. C. Fletcher of Martin county, Wallace Bailey, 23, charged with the murder of his wife, 18-year-old Gladys Chaffin Bailey, told THE TIMES Tuesday that he had been arrested "on suspicion; somebody had to be arrested."

At the same time Bailey was jailed here, Judge Fletcher's order was consigning Doug Chapman to the Johnson county jail to face trial in the same case.

Judge Fletcher's order provided that neither be permitted to execute bond. Body of Mrs. Bailey was found last Friday, below the Kermit bridge across Tug river, near Warfield, by a fisherman, R. L. Fannin. Dr. Wm. Keith, Martin county health officer who conducted an inquest following discovery of the body, was quoted as saying that Mrs. Bailey, an expectant mother, had been strangled, that fingerprints were visible on her throat. Although the body was partially nude, he added that there was no evidence of criminal attack.

Officers Friday sought four men who parked their truck at midnight Thursday at the lunchstand of T. J. Muncy, near the Kentucky end of the bridge across Tug river, with Mrs. Muncy telling them that she saw in the bed of the truck what she believed was a body.

Bailey told THE TIMES that he had driven from his home near the mouth of Big Elk Creek, Martin county, to Warfield, about seven miles away, to attend vocational training classes provided for NYA workers, that he was accompan-

Quail Distributed For Re-Stocking In County

With the distribution this week of 250 quail in Floyd county, District Conservation Officer E. R. Burke, Prestonsburg, announced that 250 more will be liberated later in the week. Mr. Burke said he had been given assurance of the additional quail supply by S. A. Wakefield, head of the state division of game and fish.

The 500 quail thus promised for re-stocking of the county's fields and woods comprise the largest shipment of birds ever sent to this county.

The birds are being liberated on farms where landowners promise protection for them. At the same time, cane seed is now available to farmers who will reciprocate by leaving some of the ripened heads on the ground as a food supply for quail next winter. The seed is being supplied by the Floyd County Fish & Game Club and may be procured from Mr. Burke, here.

BALL SEASON BEGINS SUNDAY

BIG SANDY LEAGUE TO HAVE 2 UNITS IN ACTION

The shootin' starts Sunday on every sector of the Big Sandy baseball front. Make it two fronts, since the Big Sandy Baseball League has been divided into two units.

Maneuvers of Unit A will follow this pattern, if weather conditions permit:

Prestonsburg will defend its own park against Wayland; Drift will invade Pikeville; Clear Creek will attack its neighbor, Wheelwright.

On the other front, Unit B will be engaged with the following undertakings:

Stephens Branch will shove off for Van Lear; Muddy Branch will retaliate in behalf of Johnson county by invading Allen-Martin, and Auxier will essay a blitz at Elkhorn City. Schedule for both units of the League appear this week on page 3.

Wheelwright, according to reports filtering in, appears to be a championship contender. Information on other teams is meager.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. T. J. May has returned home from Paintsville where she has been for several weeks with her niece, Mary Elizabeth Minix, who is seriously ill.

Whoa, Nelly!—This Town's Got a Speed Limit

Speeding was an offense against the peace and dignity of the law, half a century and more years ago, just as it is today, old records being delved into by WPA indexing workers here show.

In August, 1884, Merritt was indicted for "unlawfully riding a horse in a run and in a gallop on and through the streets of Prestonsburg, Ky."

And he was convicted!—fine, $10.

TWO FLOYD CHILDREN TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Two Floyd children will be taken Friday to the King's Daughters' hospital, Ashland, for treatment through the aid offered by the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission, Dr. Marvin Ransdell, Floyd County Health Department director, announced Wednesday. They are Mildred Hobson, 14, Harold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hobson, suffering from osteomyelitis of the jaw; nine-year-old Wm. Lee Wells, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lee Wells, Auxier, who is suffering from a rare bone disease.

Robinson Jailed Here As Robber-Suspect

Ernie Robinson was jailed here Friday night after having been arrested at the upper limits of Prestonsburg while in possession of a pick-up truck loaded with barbed wire, pipe dies and other materials which his captor, Coroner Elliott Prater, said had been stolen.

The wire was that of J. H. Nunneary, Prestonsburg merchant. Coroner Prater Saturday morning had not located owners of the truck and other items.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Announcement is made of the birth on April 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hopson at their home here, of a fine eight-pound daughter. The little miss has been christened Bonnie Joyce. Mother and babe are doing fine.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE OFFERED BY CENTER

9 FLOYD BOY-GRADS TO GET EDUCATION, GIFT OF SCHOOL

Free education extending even to the professions was announced this week as available to nine boys graduating this spring from Floyd county high schools, this further education to be made possible through scholarships offered by the Caney Creek Community Center.

In a letter to Town Hall, Superintendent of Floyd county schools, Mrs. Alice S. G. Lloyd, head of the Center, announces that the Caney Junior College will present a scholarship to one boy from the graduating class of each of the county's nine high schools.

And, if the boys chosen as beneficiaries of the Center's offer maintain the required scholastic and moral standards, they will be sent under scholarships to the University of Kentucky, for an A. B. or B. S. degree—and after that, if they continue to meet specified requirements, on to post-graduate training for the professions.

In return for all this the school asks of the boys only this—that, when their education is completed, they will return to the mountain area to practice their profession or to follow other vocations for which they have been trained.

The scholarship offer was hailed by Superintendent Hall as the greatest opportunity ever presented graduates of Floyd county high schools. To the student setting out to become a physician, for instance, Mr. Hall pointed out, the scholarship offered would mean a saving in cash of at least $6,000.

The scholarship plan, as outlined by Mrs. Lloyd, follows:

"Candidate must be recommended by the principal of the high school, for academic standing of at least a C average; must be recommended morally by a minister of the town in which the high school is located; must be recommended for outstanding manhood by the County Superintendent; must take a straight Arts and Science course at the Caney Junior College; must not smoke and must have good health and pleasing appearance.

"This scholarship includes all fees, room, board, light, heat, books and supplies for two years at the Caney Junior College.

"If the boy acquires an average standing of B, he will be further sent under the scholarship to the University of Kentucky for an A. B. or B. S. degree—provided his moral character has also proved dependable.

TIMES WANT ADS PAY

A COMPARISON of prices will show that the Pontiac De Luxe "Torpedo" does cost a little more than the de luxe models of the lowest-priced three. However, this difference itself is not important. In fact, it is so slight that owners say it's hardly noticeable when spread over monthly payments. But the extra dependability this slight difference buys IS important—and in our files are hundreds of letters from owners indicating that the phrase—"Built to Last 100,000 Miles"—only begins to describe Pontiac's long life and trouble-free performance. And when you add the scores of other advantages Pontiac provides, plus the fact that Pontiac's great reputation for dependability means it's worth more to you at trade-in time, then you'll understand why more people are buying Pontiac this year than ever before. Why don't you see your Pontiac dealer today.

12,000 ACRES ADDED TO PARK

130,000-ACRE TRACT TO FORM BREAKS PARK AREA

Pikeville—The Clinchfield Coal Corporation, of Dante, Va., has sold 12,000 acres of land in the Breaks of the Big Sandy area to the National Forestry Service for addition to Jefferson National Forest, it was announced last week by The Pike County News.

Formal purchase of the tract was announced by Lee Long, president of the Breaks Reserve and Reforestation Association. Mr. Long is an official of the Clinchfield Corporation. The government paid $3 an acre for the tract, it was reported.

Addition of the Breaks area to the Jefferson National Forest has for years been the goal of the Pike County Fish and Game Association, and other public organizations in this section.

While the 12,000-acre tract does not include the entire area sought to be added to the National Forest, it is a healthy start, and local wildlife enthusiasts are receiving the news of the purchase with gratification.

It means that the area will be restocked and cared for directly by the government agency with the result that the future of this section as a wildlife mecca is assured.

The tract purchased by the government is located at the point where the river breaks through the mountains, virtually all in Virginia. It takes in the spot where numerous Fish and Game outings have been held, at the crest of the mountain.

The movement for the addition of 130,000 acres of land in Kentucky and Virginia to the National Park was started by public-spirited citizens of this area in 1936. About three years ago, federal officials approved the purchase of the land "at such time as it is possible."

The purchase announced now is the first definite step in that direction, and marks a successful ending to the entire movement, as it is only a matter of time, according to people who know, until the entire 130,000-acre tract will be added. (This huge tract extends from the Breaks to Jenkins and From Elkhorn Creek to Pound river).

U. S. Forestry officials announced this week that re-stocking activities already have begun in the Breaks area. Forty-seven white tailed deer and about 20 wild turkeys have been freed in that protected area.

Unless defense activities take priority, many improvements, characteristic to national forests, will be made in the section almost immediately. Government-operated fire towers, new roads, lakes, recreation spots, fish and game stocking and timber development probably will be undertaken.

Left now on the general program of the local Fish and Game Association and other associations is the completion of the Flatwoods Game Farm. With the National Forest project out of the way, these organizations will be able to devote all their time to this important move.—Pike County News.

Coal Dust in Stream May Kill Fish, Clark Writes

There is no poisonous matter such as acid or iron in the water which pours from the Elk Horn Coal Corporation's coal washer into Right Beaver Creek but the coal dust in the water is detrimental to fish life and is lethal at times, M. E. Clark, superintendent of state fish hatcheries, wrote District Conservation Officer E. R. Burke here last week after having examined water submitted by Mr. Burke.

The sample was taken at the coal washer at Wayland, Mr. Burke said.

Mr. Clarke pointed out that the coal dust adheres to the mucus of the gill membrane, causing asphyxiation of the fish. "Young fish are highly susceptible to coal dust and are quickly destroyed, as are the eggs," Mr. Clarke wrote.

Mr. Burke said he expected to communicate with company officials at Wayland and ask that steps be taken to filter the water from the washer or to divert it from the stream.

At the same time, the conservation officer said he expected to prosecute sawmill-owners guilty of permitting sawdust to enter Floyd streams. The acid from sawdust is fatal to fish.

REVOLUTIONARY VETS' OATHS SIMILAR TO OLD-AGE APPLICANTS'

Reminiscent of oaths required of applicants for Old-Age Assistance in these modern days, setting forth their assets and denying that they have transferred their property so as to bring themselves within the provisions of the Old-Age Assistance Act, is the following affidavit of pension-seeking Cutberth Stone, a Revolutionary soldier, recently discovered in the office here of the Circuit Court Clerk by WPA indexing workers:

"Cutberth Stone, an old Revolutionary soldier, presented in open court and made oath to a schedule of his property, etc., which is as follows, to-wit:

"State of Kentucky, Floyd County Circuit Court.

"On this day, April 29th, 1823, personally appeared in open court, this being made a court record by the laws of this state being solemnly adjudged to be such by the other tribunals of this state, with power to fine and imprison, always keeping a record of its proceedings. Cutberth Stone, aged about 68 years, a resident citizen of the county aforesaid, who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath declare that he served in the Revolutionary War as follows:

"He enlisted in the service of the militia against the common enemy in the month of March, in the year previous to Gate's defeat for the term of three years or enduring the war, in Capt. Jones's Company, in the 7th Maryland Regiment commanded by Col. Greenbury in the Maryland line, and that he was in the following battles, to-wit: The battle of Gate's defeat, and the battle of Cowpens, in South Carolina, and was there wounded in the thigh by a ball of a musket popping through it, and was there left upon the battle ground, and in consequence of said wound, he never was able to return to the army again until peace was declared, which was the fall following that.

"That it was about eleven months or upwards that this applicant served in the army after his enlistment before he was wounded at the Cowpens, and I, Cutberth Stone, do solemnly swear that I was a resident citizen of the United States on the 18th day of March, 1818, and I have not since that time by gift or sale in any manner disposed of my property, or any part thereof with an intent thereby to diminish or to bring myself within the provisions of an act of Congress entitled an Act to provide for certain persons engaged in the land and naval service of the United States in the Revolutionary War, passed on the 18th day of March, 1818, and that I have not, nor has any person in trust for me, any property or securities, contracts or debts due to me, nor have I any income other than what is contained in the schedule hereto, answered and by me subscribed to, viz: "Two head of horses worth..... $60.00 "Three cows and calves ..... 30.00 "Three calves ..... 12.00 "Eleven pigs ..... 4.00 "Seven other hogs worth ..... 10.00 "Three lambs ..... 1.50 "Four sheep ..... 6.00 "The total amount of household and kitchen furniture .. 5.25 W. Kentucky Woman, 1941 Mother

A twice-widowed mother of four daughters who taught music in order to send her girls through college is the "American Mother of 1941." She is Mrs. Dena Shelby Diehl, a soft-eyed, brown-haired Kentuckian who became music supervisor in her native Danville's city schools after death of her first husband, James D. Shelby.

The American Mothers' committee of the Golden Rule Foundation chose her this week as "representative of the best there is in motherhood." Her four daughters—all of whom are married—were between four and 10 years old when their father died. Her teaching enabled them to attend the University of Kentucky.

After the death of her second husband, Francis Frederick Diehl of New York and Cincinnati, she engaged in civic enterprises and is now active in gardening, public speaking and writing.

ciation of the recent showing before the club of a sound picture by H. L. McCrary of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, the subject of which was, "The New Voice of Mr. X."

Featuring business firms in their contact with the general public through the telephons, the picture graphically showed the friendliness which can be created between the buyer and seller when the employees use the phone for more than just a mere "hello—I'm here—what do you want?" attitude. "Remember," Mr. McCrary said, "a smile carries over your phone, as likewise does a grouchy disposition."

C. D. Milby, co-ordinator of the Mayo Industrial School, Paintsville, spoke of the work being done at the school in connection with America's defense efforts. He stated the school is unable to fill the heavy demand for trained men though working on a 24-hour shift. The school, he said, has the facilities to train thousands of young men and the classes are arranged so one may continue with his regular work while attending sessions.

out one Collins' teeth. The defendant claimed, however, that he went to the scene where Newsome fatally stabbed Collins in order to separate the two men.

Trial of Troy and George Newsome on a breaking and entering charge resulted in a one-year term for the former.

Circuit Judge Stephens probated the two-year term given 62-year-old Andy Johnson, who had been convicted of a shooting and wounding charge. It was claimed that the elderly man fired at Tom Johnson, his son-in-law, but did not hit him. The son-in-law, it was said, had previously killed Johnson's son. The order of probation stated that Johnson had never before been convicted of a felony.

Two charges of voluntary manslaughter filed against Lenville Turner in the death of Grady Hopkins and Ballard Johnson last December in an auto wreck were dismissed last week on the grounds that proof was insufficient to convict. Turner was the driver of a truck which, he claimed, was struck by the automobile occupied by Hopkins, Johnson and George Wyatt after he had attempted to avoid a collision. All three occupants of the auto were killed.

The child desertion charge against Jay Branham, for which he had been convicted, was dismissed this week after the order of conviction had been rescinded.

Murder trial of Ollie Hall was continued till September 10 and his bond reduced from $5,000 to $2,000. Trial of Pearl Salisbury on a charge of murder was set for Sept. 11, and on the same day the trial of B. B. Salisbury, accused of being an accessory to murder after the fact, is slated for hearing.

The charge of cutting timber on the land of another against James (Big Foot) Nunnery was dismissed on the grounds that proof was insufficient to convict.

Brick-and-tile structures are now nearing completion here for occupancy by two new grocery stores.

One of these is the 25x56-foot structure being erected on the Mayo Trail, near the Greenway Service Station, by E. B. Brown, to be occupied by J. E. and Richard Ball's store. The other, on the A. H. The part sold is the ell section extending from the Cash Hardware part of the structure to Graham street. Dr. Sizemore plans enlargement of his part of the building by construction of an addition on the Third street side, it is said.

CHERRY BLOSSOM TIME HERE

What's the use of going to Washington, anyway, unless you're after a defense contract? Prestonsburg has a street that has the same Japanese cherry trees that have beautified and made famous the nation's capital for years. It's Riverside—and, a few years from now, when the cherry trees have grown a bit, the folks on that street, one of the prettiest in Eastern Kentucky, will have something worth seeing. The young trees are now in bloom—so why not take a stroll or drive and see the very same blossoms that many the person has traveled hundreds of miles to see?

FUGITIVE FROM CHAIN GANG NABBED

An unscheduled 'coon chase here on a recent night attracted a gathering of 200 persons on Second avenue as Lee Derossett and Ed Burke's ring-tailed pet did a flagpole-sitting stunt atop a telephone pole in front of Burke's residence. For a time, there were some venturesome spirits who would have laid even money that the 'coon would outlast Lee, but the latter kept the 'coon at a safe distance with a stick and finally drove the fugitive from his perch. Br'er Coon hit the ground a-runnin', and was joined in the sprint by a dozen or more boys who finally corralled him in the high school grounds.

AH, THE SPRING!

This fine spring weather has the unqualified approval of F. D. Ward, the man who delivers your Courier-Journal at your door, every morning of the year. For, all through the winter, it was his unpleasant duty to hit the floor at 5 every morning, then drive back and forth, up and down Prestonsburg streets with the wind whistling through open windows of his car. A man of 65 would begin to appreciate warmer weather, after all that.

During the nine years since Mr. Ward has been here, he has not missed meeting the Sunday train at West Prestonsburg; in fact, has missed only four days' work because of illness. Every day, except these four, of the last nine years, he has driven a total of 16 miles on his rounds.

And he hasn't missed more than two Saturdays of collecting from your humble servant for his weekly paper bill. Even then, it wasn't his fault.
