W.P.A. EMPLOYEES ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY

AMBA FARMER, Chanters, Friends and Craft Exhibit WIFE JAILED IN SLAYING

SLAYER PLEADS 'UNLOADED GUN;' DENIED BOND

His plea that he killed his cousin, Byrd Tackett, 55-year-old Amba farmer, Saturday with a revolver he did not know was loaded failed to gain the release from the Floyd county jail of Ben Tackett, 52, and his wife, Mary, 30, when County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., Monday heard conflicting versions of the tragedy. The two were denied bond.

Trouble arising over a footlog which both men and their families used in crossing Mud Creek caused the slaying, it was claimed by County Attorney W. Claude Caudill.

The shooting took place at 3 p.m., and Tackett died Sunday morning at 6:30 o'clock in the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin. His cousin's bullet lodged in his brain.

Mrs. Emma Tackett, widow of the victim, and her son by a former marriage, Joe Lykins, Jr., 11, claimed that after a new log had been placed across the creek Byrd Tackett was hauling the old log to his nearby home when Ben Tackett and his wife accused him outside their home. They contended that while preparations were being made to return the old log to its former site after Ben Tackett and his wife had objected to Byrd's use of it, three shots were fired.

Taking part in the program following the breaking of ground here for a craft shop for the Plainsong Chanters, with products of native crafts displayed in this room of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom James, are, left to right: Mrs. Emma Tackett, Mrs. Maggie Leeete, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, who will direct work in the crafts, Lora Walker, Mrs. Albert Hall. Second row—Mayer E. P. Arnold, Ex-Senator Wm. Dingus, Ed Collins, Albert Hall, Tom James. Third row (standing)—Miss Cecilia Ray Berry, Mrs. Palmer L. Hall, Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James, leader of the Chanters, Mrs. C. P. Stephens, Barbara Jean May, Ethel Clarke, Laura Virginia Roberts, Hilda Grace Ward, Theda Bibb Thomas. Fourth row (standing)—Mrs. J. D. Thomas, Carlos Hale, Minerva Friend, Harrison Elliott, Bobby Salisbury, Harold Wright.

WPA Lunch Program In Rural Schools Is Planned

Bonanza may be the first rural school in Floyd county to enjoy the facilities of a WPA hot-lunch program, it was said here after school, WPA and Rural Electrification Administration authorities met at the school Friday evening, last week. The program will be made possible there first, since it is the first in the county to be reached by REA power lines.

After it was explained that the WPA will supply a cook and the food for the lunch room, with the supplying of necessary equipment the obligation of the school, a Parent-Teacher Association was immediately formed so that necessary funds may be raised. P.-T.A. officers named are Dorothy Burke, president; Mrs. Grace Conley, vice-president; Mrs. Docia Mohle, secretary, and Miss Hazel Hill, treasurer.

Miss Victoria Harris, home economist, REA, A. C. Lockridge, superintendent of the Big Sandy Rural Electric Co-operative Corp., and County Superintendent Town Hall discussed the proposed program. The Big Sandy Rural Electric Co-operative has purchased a small mill which may be used at various points in the county in the grinding of flour; the federal government will supply the wheat which, ground at the schools, will provide whole wheat bread with the children's lunches. The REA co-op plans to demonstrate, in the use of the mill and other equipment, the labor-saving to be attained by use of electric power.

CONTESTANTS SAY WORKERS IN POLL FRAUD

DINGUS IS TOLD HE CANNOT GAIN SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Conspiracy on the part of two Floyd county officials-elect with Works Progress Administration officials to influence and coerce voters to their support was charged this week as three contest suits were filed.

The three contest cases, all prepared by Atty. Edw. L. Allen, were those of Willie F. Clarke vs. Guy Horn, Jailer-elect; Orville Jones vs. Dewey Roberts, winner of the Magistrate's race in District 4; and S. T. Mead vs. Henry Stumbo, Magistrate-elect in District 3.

Plans of D. P. (Perk) Dingus, Republican, either to contest the election of the late Dr. W. L. Stumbo or to mandamus the board of election commissioners to issue him certificate of election were abandoned Wednesday as attorneys acting in his behalf decided that he is without recourse at law in the matter and that the office of Sheriff can be filled only by appointment. County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., will appoint to fill the vacancy till the November, 1942 election.

In all three contest cases violation of the Corrupt Practice Act was alleged, the contestants at the same time denying that they were guilty of such illegal action.

Clarke, in his petition filed Wednesday afternoon, alleging that Jailer-elect Horn entered into "an unlawful conspiracy with his relatives and supporters who were at the time duly authorized agents in charge of the issuance and delivery of commodities to the various relief clients... whereby the said agents or federal employes in charge of... commodities were to use their influence... to force or coerce said relief clients to vote for the contestee...."

The petition further alleges that relief clients were promised additional commodities if they voted for Horn and that they were threatened with no further commodities if they failed to support him.

Mr. Horn received 7,985 votes to his opponent's 4,350.

Jones' suit against Magistrate-elect Roberts contends that, in addition to use of money for the bribing of voters, the election-winner "promised and pledged himself... in event of his election... to cast his vote, as a member of the Floyd fiscal court, for and on behalf of at least two legal voters for the position of Certifying Agent for Floyd county" and that these two voters, their relatives and friends, relying upon such promises, voted for the contestee.

The contestee also, it is alleged, violated the Corrupt Practice Act by promising legal voters that he would use his "influence or prestige" to persuade the Commonwealth's Attorney and Circuit Judge of this district to dismiss pending indictments against said voters.

That Mr. Roberts entered into a "criminal conspiracy" with a WPA

Secretary of State To Address Club Here, Dec. 11

GEORGE GLENN HATCHER

Kiwanians from Ashland, Salyersville, Paintsville, Pikeville and Jenkins are expected to be guests of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis club when Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher, a native of Bonanza, this county, addresses the club at its meeting Thursday evening, Dec. 11. J. D. Harkins, Jr., chairman of the Inter-Club committee, this week mailed invitations to members of the several clubs of the district to hear Mr. Hatcher's address.

SLONE, VICTIM OF WRECK

VETERAN SALESMAN FATALLY INJURED NEAR MAYTOWN

Manuel Slone, 58 years old, of Paintsville, veteran salesman for Wilson & Company, died Tuesday afternoon at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, as the result of injuries sustained early Monday morning when his car crashed into a culvert near Maytown. Chest and head injuries caused his death. It was said here that, after a collision with another car, the salesman's auto struck the culvert.

A native of Caney Creek, Knott county, the victim was a son of the late Henry Slone and of Mrs. Sally Slone, of Pippappass. He had resided at Paintsville for the last 21 years and had been Wilson & Company's representative in this section for 18 years. Mr. Slone had many friends throughout the Big Sandy valley. Surviving are his mother, his widow.

CATS TO OPEN NET SEASON

WITH FLEMING GAME FRIDAY EVENING; STRONG 5 SEEN

The gridiron deserted, the Prestonsburg Black Cats, still striving to get the football out of their systems, take to the hardwood Friday night here for their first basketball game of the season, with Fleming, their conquerors on the football field, their opponents.

Coach Hyden, though making no rash predictions, was obviously pleased with his team's prospects this week after several scrimmage sessions with the Prestonsburg independent team which the 'Cats have consistently outscored in practice tussles.

For the 1941-42 campaign Hyden has Butler, Heinze, Clark, Bobby Salisbury and Oppenheimer back from last year's squad. To these add Billy Sturgill, a stellar performer last year for Berea Academy and one of the best net prospects in this section; Miller, a second squad player of real promise last year with Ashland high school; Whittaker from Vico and others—add these.

Christmas Seal Drive Under Way

The 35th annual Christmas Seal campaign by which funds are raised for the fight against tuberculosis is under way in this county, with Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, chairman of the drive.

It is estimated that there are not less than 10,000 active cases of the disease in Kentucky. The drive, nation-wide, has received the endorsement of President Roosevelt, as well as that of Governor Keen Johnson, of Kentucky.

Galveston Boy, Missing, Says Recent Report

Tan Howell, of Galveston, last week reported that 15-year-old Emitt Howell was missing from his home and asked that any information as to the youth's whereabouts be forwarded to him. The following description of the boy was given: Five feet, six inches tall; weight, 133 pounds; light hair, grey eyes; scar and knot on middle finger of right hand.

Mrs. A. E. Quinlan, of Ligon, was a visitor here last week. Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan were visited recently by their son, Dr. A. E. Quinlan, Jr., who is a dentist at Jackson, Ky.

CHRISTMAS VACATION--FOR SOME-- TO BEGIN, DECEMBER 24

'PREVIEW' NET TOURNAMENT SCHEDULED TO BE HELD JANUARY 22 TO 24, AT McDOWELL GYMNASIUM

You boys and girls of Floyd county's consolidated schools will start your Christmas vacation on the day before Christmas, and you'll have until Jan. 5 to talk over the Great Day, skylark and visit and such. That was decided Saturday at a meeting of county high school principals at the office of County Superintendent Town Hall.

Your vacation-time will be "up" January 5. But don't think you or your teachers are getting "away with anything." All the days that you and they miss "outside the law" must be made up later in the school term.

Still—don't let that bit of information spoil your Christmas. The Superintendent and school principals agreed on the three days from Jan. 22-24 for the "preview" basketball tournament—and those days should be a welcome interlude to Latin, Geometry and such-like matters that make teachers think some Jacks and Jills are dull boys and girls.

This athletic event, in which all high schools of the county will be represented by their basketball teams, will be held, this year, at McDowell for the benefit of the county school annual, "The Floyd Countian." McDowell won the tournament on the basis of competitive bidding with other schools, Wayland and Garrett being hottest competitors, County Superintendent Hall said. McDowell's bid of giving 90 per cent of gate receipts for the benefit of the school annual's publication after tournament expenses are paid won for the school the tournament.

Even before the tourney, will be the annual banquet at which the County Superintendent, members of the county board of education, high school principals, their wives, and others will be feted. This event will be held Jan. 14 at Martin, with the school's home economics department serving.

NEW COUNCIL TAKES OFFICE

SIX ARE INDUCTED MONDAY; LAFERTY, RE-APPOINTED

An all-Rising Sun City Council assumed control of Prestonsburg's municipal affairs Monday night as six of the eight Council members elected at the November polls took the oath of office.

Mayor E. P. Arnold, whose second term of office does not begin till January 1, administered the oath. Included in the new Council for the first time in the history of Prestonsburg is a woman—Mrs. Ethel Heinze, widow of F. L. (Pick) Heinze.

In addition to Mrs. Heinze, Councilmen taking office at Monday night's meeting were Burl Spurlock, Byron Nunnery, Fred G. Francis, Curtis Clark and J. H. Nunnery, all

PUMPS START AT DWALE

AS WORK BEGUN ON 10-INCH LINE IN COUNTY

As a part of its pumping plant at its new station at Dwale went into operation Tuesday, the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company began stringing pipe for a 10-inch line to connect its Dwale and Maytown compressor stations.

It was reported here that approximately 700 men will be employed on the line which will extend a distance of 7.5 miles. The work is expected to be completed within two weeks, with two and perhaps three crews operating along the line.

The pumping station has only two of its seven pump units in operation, and that part of the plant is 80 per cent complete.

The gasoline manufacturing plant, however, has not been begun because of a shortage of materials. The dehydration plant, an adjunct of the gasoline plant, is halfway to completion, it was unofficially stated.

BOARD PLANS BUILDING

AT BETSY LAYNE, COST ESTIMATED AT $40,000

After discussing its building program for 1942, the Floyd County Board of Education, meeting here Tuesday, voted unanimously to construct an eight-room grade school, with an auditorium seating 500, at Betsy Layne next year.

The structure, it is estimated, will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000. It will be of brick and tile. County Superintendent Town Hall was authorized to procure from Levi J. Dean, Huntington architect, plans for the proposed building, contract for which is expected to be awarded next May or June.

Betsy Layne, it was held, is more crowded than any other school in the county.

"Christmas checks" totaling $36,000 were directed paid to rural teachers for their fifth month work and to consolidated school teachers for the third month.

One of the Lackey bond series issued for the construction of the gymnasium there was paid, leaving

ONE-ARMED ANGELS

Early Bloom, Louisville Times columnist, tells of the devout, old charwoman who, upon losing membership in the Sisterhood of the Angels, also lost her mind. It seems that the old scrubwoman developed cancer of the arm. The arm was amputated and she seemed to be doing fine until other members of the Sisterhood visited her. Then she lost her reason. It developed that they had told her they had searched the Bible from cover to cover and found therein no reference to a one-armed angel, and she, therefore, could not hope to join the ranks of the heavenly host.

HELL TAKE SANTA

When a Prestonsburg father suggested to two of his children that a $25 Defense Bond would be a nice present for each of them, the younger promptly vetoed any such plan. "And not get anything you can play with?" he wanted to know. Reminded that the bond would be his, and worth $25 in 10 years, he upped with the remark that it might not be worth a cent in 10 years. Further told that he would be helping his country as well as himself by accepting a Defense Bond for Christmas, he remained adamant. He still was young enough to stick by Santa.

A SUGGESTION

THE TIMES is constrained to comment that nothing would be better, this Christmas-time, than the purchase of a Defense Bond for your children—if you can keep from having war in your home by so doing. These bonds aren't worth their full face values 10 years from now, what will? And if we don't buy them, we should, what will be worth anything whatsoever as we Americans value things?

BECOME MUSIC-CONSCIOUS

I'm a total loss when my tympanum vibrates to the sound of classical music—Beethoven, Brahms, the like, including any symphony. But, the other Sunday, while the house was quiet—miracle of miracles!—the singing strings of a piano hit the right wave-length for an antenna. Of a sudden, in the solitude invaded by deathless music, I thought of the awful and discordant unquiet in which men are living and dying across the sea whence this music came.

Martin, Boyd Residents Face Conspiracy Charges

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 1—Twelve residents of Mingo county, W. Va., and Martin county, Ky., went on trial in federal court today on an indictment charging them jointly with conspiracy to violate the federal liquor laws.

A second conspiracy case, involving 18 defendants in Cabell and Wayne counties in West Virginia, and Boyd county, Kentucky, is scheduled for trial here Wednesday.

Defendants in the trial which began today were William Green and Neal J. Gardner, both of Williamson, and Pete Oliver, Sanford and Haskell Spradlin, Ershal and Edward McNeely, Grant Goh, Dewey Eblevins, Millard James and Landon Parsley, all of the Mingo county area. All the defendants denied the conspiracy charges when arraigned before Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins.

U. S. District Attorney L. R. Via said the two conspiracy cases were the outgrowth of raids by agents of the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit on two alleged moonshine whisky rings which operated for months in Southern West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky.

The district attorney said the 12 are charged with transportation and sale of illicit liquor in Martin and Mingo counties from August, 1939, to July 1, 1941, and that the 18 defendants involved in the conspiracy case set for trial Wednesday are charged with transportation and sale of illicit liquor in Cabell and Wayne counties in West Virginia, and Boyd county, Kentucky, from Nov. 1, 1940, to July 1, 1941.

Eight of the defendants whose cases are set for Wednesday have entered guilty pleas, but sentence has been deferred pending the outcome of the trial.

697 ACCIDENTS IN MINE FIELD

BIG SANDY RECORD IS BETTER THAN STATE AVERAGE

In the first 10 months of this year, there were 697 accidents in the 34 coal operations of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn field, A. D. Sisk, Pikeville, secretary of the Big Sandy Coal Operators' Association, announced last week.

While these accidents were occurring, the field was producing 8,177,750 tons of coal.

A survey, recently completed, shows that the Big Sandy record is much better than the state-wide average. Last year, 1940, the state mined 379,892 tons per fatality, while for every fatality in this district, 498,050 tons were mined.

The average for the first 10 months of this year maintains that ratio, it was reported.

During the month of October, eight mines in the area were without accidents. They mined a total of 103,235 tons in that period. Operations with perfect records were: Elkhorn Coal Company, Kona; Elkhorn Collieries Corp.; Goose Creek Mining Company; Elk Horn Coal Corp.; Garrett; Central Elkhorn Coal Company No. 5; Utilities Elkhorn Coal Company, Boldman; Turner Elkhorn Mining Company, and Elk Horn Coal Corporation, Mine No. 1.

For the first 10 months, 19 deaths were reported in the field. Three of these occurred in October.

The ten months' report follows: Elk Horn Coal Corp., No. 4, mined 178,877 tons coal with two injuries. Elkhorn Collieries Corp. mined 127,552 tons with two injuries. Elkhorn Collieries Corp. mined 127,552 tons with two injuries. Elkhorn Coal Company (Kona), mined 234 tons with seven injuries. Ruth Elkhorn Coals, Inc., mined 59,603 tons, with three injuries. Goose Creek Mining Company produced 121,238 tons, with four injuries. Consolidation Coal Co. (204-7) mined 1,128,960 tons with 73 injuries.

Koppers Coal Company mined 402,699 tons with 36 injuries.

Clear Branch Mining Company mined 224,171 tons with 16 injuries. Central Elkhorn Coal Company No. 6 mined 65,638 tons with four injuries.

Inland Steel Company mined 1,381,236 tons with 86 injuries.

Utilities Elkhorn Coal Co. (Martin) mined 196,278 tons with 14 injuries.

South-East Coal Company (Seco) mined 333,484 tons with 15 injuries.

Central Elkhorn Coal Company No. 3 mined 16,851 tons with two injuries.

Elk Horn Coal Corp. No. 6, mined 196,916 tons with 17 injuries.

Sandy Valley Coal Company mined 76,876 tons with seven injuries.

Consolidation Coal Co. (214) mined 816,622 tons with 71 injuries.

Utilities Elkhorn Coal Co. (Boldman) mined 53,436 tons with six injuries.

Glogora Coal Company mined 124,777 tons with 13 injuries.

Beaver Coal & Mining Company mined 92,143 tons with 11 injuries.

Elk Horn Coal Corp., (Wayland) mined 359,680 tons with 33 injuries.

Elk Horn Coal Corp. No. 1, mined 52,144 tons with five injuries.

Samson Elkhorn Mining Company mined 172,409 tons with 15 injuries.

Consolidation Coal Company (206) mined 109,161 tons with 14 injuries.

Central Elkhorn Coal Company No. 5 mined 54,627 tons with six injuries.

North-East Coal Company (Auxier) mined 157,041 tons with 25 injuries.

Stephens Elkhorn Fuel Corporation mined 134,621 tons with 18 injuries.

CHRISTMAS IS MORE FUN FOR YOU THAN IT IS FOR THE YOUNGSTERS

When Electricity does the work it is easy to stay Young....

TO STAY pals with your children, to keep your own youthful enthusiasms so as to instill them in maturing minds... fortunate, indeed, is the parent who can realize these ideals. Mothers, especially, so often long for the energy to keep up with their youngsters, but find that housework kills their interest... This is where Electric Service comes in.
Let Electricity release you from drudgery for the important things of life. Take Elec's slogan seriously.

FLOYD COUNTY WAS FIRST TO ORGANIZE JR. SPORTSMEN

Editor's note: The following news release from the Division of Game and Fish, Frankfort, is a sequel to a news-story recently published in The Floyd County Times.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 29 (Spl.)—On Nov. 6 a Junior Sportsmen's organization was formulated at the Second Street School here in Frankfort by the Franklin County Game and Fish Club, with the Division of Game and Fish being represented at the first meeting of the young sportsmen.

A news release, stating that the Junior Sportsman's Club in Frankfort was the first in the state as far as was known, was sent out to all newspapers in Kentucky. A large number of the papers carried the article and on Nov. 17, the Division of Game and Fish received a letter from Robert E. Bills, Science teacher at the Breathitt high school, Jackson, Ky., in which he stated that his school claimed the honor of organizing the first Junior Sportsman's group on Oct. 3 with 173 students attending the initial meeting.

On Nov. 20 the Division received word from the Floyd County Game and Fish Club that it was the first to organize the schools into Sportsman's clubs. They stated that a club was formed at the Maytown consolidated school last March followed within two or three weeks by organizations in the Martin, Prestonsburg and Wayland schools. Following the organizations effected in the four Floyd county schools, members were drilled in the use of firearms, and at the close of the school year they competed in marksmanship.

School champion shots and runners-up competed in a "grand" shoot for county-wide honors in this classification. The groups were also instructed in bait-casting.

Thus, to date, the Floyd County Fish and Game Club holds the honor of forming the first Junior Sportsman group in the state. The Division of Game and Fish would like to find out if any other group was organized prior to March, 1941.

Green County Women Can 600,000 Quarts

Green county homemakers, answering a questionnaire in regard to home canning of fruits and vegetables, reported a total of 593,796 quarts in 1941, compared to 487,283 quarts canned in 1940, which is a 22 per cent increase for 1941. This figure represents approximately 95 per cent of all the home canning done by the rural wives of Green county.

In order to get an idea as to the amazing quantity of food canned in Green county, County Agent John H. Ewing, Jr., has calculated that by placing quart fruit jars side by side they would reach a distance of 37½ miles, or almost from Greensburg to Elizabethtown, or that this amount would equal 3,958 barrels of food or 24 8,000-gallon gasoline tank cars of canned food. County Agent Ewing reports that this is one way that Green county wives have done their part in the food for freedom campaign. A 22 per cent increase in home canning will enable the citizens of Green county to have a healthful diet during the coming winter and also release several thousand cans of food to be shipped to the British that would otherwise be bought by the citizens of Green county.

The total home canning of Green county represents approximately 50 quarts of canned food per person for all the 12,321 rural people in the county. The 22 per cent increase is the result of a county-wide educational campaign carried on throughout the year by the extension division of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics and the Farm Security Administration.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Commonwealth of Kentucky FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

Dave Branham, Plaintiff Vs.—NOTICE OF SALE Ernie Branham, Etc., Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court, rendered at the October term thereof, 1941, in the above cause, directing a sale of certain real estate and personal property for the purpose of division of the proceeds thereof, which said personal property and real estate are herein described, and whereas I have been designated by the court as Special Commissioner to make said sale and take sale bonds to myself as such commissioner, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on Monday, December 22, 1941, it being County Court day, at about the hour of 1 o'clock, p.m., upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Personal Property: 2 iron beds, 3 springs, 2 mattresses, 1 green vanity and stool, 1 Singer sewing machine, 1 dining room table, 4 dining room chairs, 1 buffet, 1 china cabinet, 1 9x12 rug, 2 scatter rugs, 1 porch swing, 2 porch rockers, 1 linoleum rug, 1 couch, 2 small tables, 1 green table, 1 kitchen table, 1 gas cook stove and skillets, 1 3-piece living room suite, 1 library table and lamp, 2 odd chairs and stool.

Real Estate—That certain real estate located in Garfield Addition to Prestonsburg, Ky., and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the West side of Garfield avenue of the Garfield Addition of the town of Prestonsburg, Ky., and directly opposite the southern corner of Block No. 16 of said addition; thence a southeasterly direction a straight line across the bottom and down the river bank to a stake at low water mark of Big Sandy river, said line being an extension of the north line of Seventh avenue; thence a northwesterly direction with the meanders of Big Sandy river, down the river a distance of one hundred (100) feet measured in a straight line to a stake; thence in a north-easterly direction up the river bank and across the bottom to a stake on the west line of said Garfield avenue; thence a south-easterly direction along the west line of said Garfield avenue one hundred (100) feet to the beginning, being a strip of land one hundred (100) feet in width fronting on Garfield avenue and running by parallel lines back to low water mark of Big Sandy river and directly opposite Lots Nos. 17, 18, 19 and 20 of Block No. 16, of said Garfield Addition, as shown by the plot of said addition now on file in the office of the Clerk of the Floyd County Court.

The cost of this proceeding will probably be about $65.00.

For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond with approved securities, bearing legal interest from day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with lien on the property for the payment of said sale bonds. Bidders will come prepared to comply promptly with these terms. Given under my hand, this Dec. 1, 1941.

S. C. FERGUSON, Special Commissioner, Floyd Circuit Court

Martin Five To Meet Cumberland, Friday

Special to The Times
Martin, Ky., Dec. 2—The Cumberland high school of Elkhorn City, Pike county, will bring its basketball quintet to Martin Friday night to meet the Martin Purple Flash on the local floor. Last year Martin took two close, well-played games from the boys from the "Head of the River." The visitors will try to turn the tables this season. Coach Looney is reported to have one of the strongest teams in Pike county. They were runners-up in that district last year. With most of Cumberland's boys of last year's squad on the team directed by an experienced coach, the Purple Flash will enter the conflict rated as an underdog.

Wednesday night, the Purple Flash dropped a hard-fought game to McDowell on Martin's floor, 25-21, before one of the largest crowds of the season.

The line-up:
Martin (21) Pos. McDowell (25)
Beckett F Stumbo
Marshall F Stuart
Ryan C Hall
Tackett G Hall
Osborne G Reitz
Substitutions: Martin—Allen, Johns, Caudill; McDowell—Collins, Moore. Referee—Stuart.

225 Floyd Countians Are Paid $2,270 Idle Benefits

Money continues to flow into Floyd county in the form of benefit payments to unemployed workers, according to R. F. Fields, manager of the Pikeville employment office of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission which serves Floyd county.

October payments to the unemployed of this county totaled $2,270 with comparisons of 40 initial claims filed to 185 continued claims for unemployment benefits. According to reports of Robert B. Hensley, acting executive director of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, benefit payments to Kentucky workers and persons who have moved out of the state totaled $150,987 for October, decreasing from $160,212 for September and was 58 per cent under the $1,931,800 in benefits which had been paid out to unemployed persons since the inception of the Jobless Insurance program in Kentucky. During the first 10 months of 1941, $2,281,242 has been paid out in benefits from the Kentucky Unemployment fund.

The homemakers' curb market at Henderson has not been able to supply the demand for eggs and other products.

Defining the "Reason Why"

WHEN, and if, the war with Japan does come, the people of the United States should accept it as a necessity for the very life of all of us as a nation dedicated to the principles of liberty defended by the free-will of free men.

During the long months behind, Nazi Germany over-ran most of Europe, stretched her tentacles out into Asia and Africa. At the same time, China was fighting aggression from Japan. And Japan, meanwhile, aligned herself with the Nazis...

While all this was going on, both this country of ours and England, as well as all other nations subscribing to our doctrine of freedom, realized that for either Nazism or Japan to gain domination over the tremendous manpower of China would be fatal to every freedom-loving people on the globe...

And so it comes about that neither the United States nor England can afford to sit idly by while Japan makes new onslaughts on China, the Dutch Indies and other Pacific territories.

Japan as a tentacle extending from the Nazi octopus may have to be cut off. America may have to do it. It is well that we all understand why, so that we all may join in the operation and have a hand in a work well-done.

Good News

NEWS of the National Youth Administration machine shop location here is good news. It's the nearest Floyd county or any other county of this section has come to having a direct part in the industrial program for national defense.

In this shop 300 young men at one time may receive specialized training that will enable them to do future work in the production of tanks, airplanes and other items of mechanized warfare.

Realistically speaking, this shop, with all its potentialities for help to young men and service to the country, will mean not a great deal, industrially and financially, to the section. Yet it is a welcome addition to the community and the county.

And Floyd county officials are to be commended for their prompt action in providing the site for the building necessary for such a project.

Floyd county would, if given the opportunity, be equally as prompt and co-operative in locating a real defense industry within its boundaries. We have everything here that is needed for a defense plant — everything except the plant.

CHANTERS COME TO TOWN

FLOYD COUNTY'S Plain Song Chanters will practice mountain crafts in a log cabin that is to be built in Prestonsburg, and "will become self-supporting as a group," an announcement says.

They will weave blankets and rugs and manufacture fiddles and dulcimers, while perpetuating chants dating back to Chaucer's time, and the "olden ballads and hymns of the hills."

If the cabin is built in faithful imitation of those which are built on mountainsides and streambeds in Eastern Kentucky it will have tourist revenue value to Prestonsburg.

Possibly the art of singers who were trained in the hills their sires knew may live amid the distractions of a county capital on Big Sandy River.—The Louisville Times.

THE PRICE OF FREEDOM

SCARCELY a heart in America but was sick when reason failed and the captive mine controversy came to a strike instead of peaceful adjustment. Scarcely a heart but is sick to read the news of men shot down in bitter clashes that followed.

As we write, we mutter to ourselves, "Why doesn't somebody DO something?" "Why is this sort of thing permitted?"

Six or seven years ago a certain young German in this country was surveying the strike situation, reading of the bitterness and disorder. He tossed it all in our face with a triumphant grin: "You see? This sort of thing is not permitted in Germany."

We answered, "No. But bad as it is, we believe here that it is all a part of the price of freedom, and that it is worth the price." The words came back to us, reading the current news of the spreading mine disturbances. They are all true words. Certainly it would have been better had John Lewis seen the light earlier, and agreed to arbitration before 30,000 tons of steel production were irrevocably lost. Certainly the time must come, and the sooner the better, when the "I want what I want when I want it" attitude in all men wielding a powerful influence on the general welfare must yield to a sense of proportion, a broad view of the whole people's necessities. But in the meantime—The President was patient, long-suffering, and careful to secure to the miners and to Lewis every inch of their democratic rights in the face of what most of the country believes to have been a misuse of those rights.

Other people have rights, too, and it is their right to be assured that a mighty effort being made to create defense force as a national policy is not nullified by the capricious exercise of technical rights by a small group.

The "easy" solution, on the face of it, might have been to clap Lewis into a concentration camp at the outset, and drive the miners to work at bayonet point. But that would not have been a wise, long-term solution, and it would not have been a democratic solution. Further, it wouldn't have worked.

With all our blundering, all our turbulence and lack of order, we have solved this problem, too, as we solved worse problems in the past. Even the sick feeling we have when we see temporary disturbance and disruption does not justify lack of faith that in the long run it is the better way; that it is a part of the price of freedom; and that looking at it the long way with all the future before us, it was worth the price.—Ashland Daily Independent.

TAKE TIME TO—

By The Rev. J. W. HOLLAND, in the Progressive Farmer

WITH CHRISTMAS and New Year's just ahead, it seems an appropriate time to quote this paragraph from a letter of one of our readers: "There is no time, it seems, in our fast way of living, for people to really enjoy the important and essential things."

This woman is not alone in her ideas. We are all rushing along too fast. A minister friend told me that on a return from a vacation he drove 500 miles one day. I asked him what he saw on the journey. He answered, "I saw 500 miles of pavement." What on earth is the sense of going so fast we see nothing?

LET'S TAKE more time off for friendship. It is worth it, and what is of so much value to us without friendship? Acquaintances are friendships in embryo, needing a little time and cultivation to hatch them out.

LET'S TAKE a little time out to think. Much of our life is hostile to thinking. Have you ever watched cows lying peacefully chewing their cud? The cud is called a rumen. From this word we have the longer word "ruminant." It means the mind's process of chewing over the events and ideas of the day, and "ruminating" them over and over.

LET'S TAKE a little time to express the love we bear for our loved ones. If this were done, many homes now torn and full of unrest could be filled with an almost infinite contentment. A busy wife once said to me, "My husband and I had gotten so busy working for our children that we almost forgot that we were supposed to remain lovers."

LET'S TAKE a little time to cultivate the higher ideals, and keep up the beauty side of the mind and heart. The English have an ugly word that I do not like. It is "slattern." It has a snake's hiss in it. It is applied to people who have let carelessness and neglect injure their moral standards and their very posture and appearance. We must always avoid the "don't care" attitude.

FINALLY, let's take a little time for prayer and worship. I have a good Catholic friend who every day steps in at his church for a few minutes on the way to work. He offers up his prayer for the day's guidance. What a fine fellow he has gotten to be with years of practice! This practice is possible for all of God's children, whatever their "name or sign." It is time well spent. And in cultivating prayer and worship we cultivate the things we are going to take with us on our eternal journey. We shall take with us no money but only the love we have liberated, the characters we have developed, under the example, spirit and guidance of the Christ.

Let's take a little time off for these things during 1942—and start getting into practice now.

COUNTY CONSOLIDATION IS HEARD FROM AGAIN

EVERYBODY admits that Kentucky would benefit by county consolidation, but few politicians have ever been brave enough to say much about it, at election times at least.

It now seems that increasing federal control of areas in Kentucky might win favorable consideration for some consolidation plan, since areas of greatest expansion, such as Fort Knox, not enough of some counties will remain to pay the expenses of a courthouse.

The matter is being discussed with extreme caution, it goes without saying, by the state Legislative Council, which has been urged by Lieutenant-Governor Myers to pass permissive legislation for counties which wish to avail themselves of it.

It would of course be wonderful if a minor stampede resulted, of small and debt-burdened counties anxious to eliminate their duplicated expenses. But it would be extremely unlikely. In such counties, the county offices represent for the most part the only paying jobs. And county pride would always step in to forbid each from merging its identity in another. Indeed, it is not unlikely that even the fragments of Bullitt and Meade that are left over when Fort Knox has reached its expansive limit, will insist upon preserving their minute individuality, regardless of expense and the dearth of taxpayers.

Local pride is a strange and wonderful thing, and Kentuckians have it, full measure and running over.—The Courier-Journal.

THE TWITCHELLS

There is trouble in the home of the Elmer Twitchells. Ceiling trouble.

Elmer is establishing ceilings. Not that there haven't been ceilings in the Twitchell residence. The issue just now is a different kind of ceiling. The Washington kind. The prevailing type.

Elmer is trying to put a ceiling on Mrs. Twitchell's hats, for instance. (We heard that crack about them being funny enough as is.) He wants the ceiling established at two hats per season, a drop of about eight. And he thinks there should be a price ceiling too; somewhere around $3.50.

Elmer is for a fur coat ceiling, too, but the crisis hasn't arisen this season, because Mrs. Twitchell got a new coat last winter. She got it wholesale at above twice what it would have cost elsewhere.

And he thinks there should be a ceiling on all the wife's expenditures. "I told her last night that there must be a ceiling on bridge losses," said Elmer today. "Every time she goes to one of them Tuesday Ladies Bridge parties she loses money on a pre-defense emergency level. Maybe the best way to solve this would be to put a ceiling on her bids."

He wants a ceiling on the wife's contributions to causes, also. "I am all for being charitable and fair," he explained, "and my heart is no mustard seed when it comes to reacting to the worthy appeals of today, and there has gotta be some limit. The old lady just subscribes to everything. Last week she put me down for $10 to the American Fund to Save Icelanders from American Army Slang. She ain't got no judgment. I've imposed a ceiling. Everything she subscribes above $4 a week is void."

"Me and the wife ain't speaking just now," confessed Mr. Twitchell. "Yeah, it's more ceiling trouble. Pin money ceiling. I used to give her $10 a week, but this is a time of crisis. The future is uncertain. Nobody can tell what may happen next in this world war. So I told her the new ceiling on pin money would be $7.50."

"What did she say?" we asked. "What didn't she say!" exclaimed Elmer.

"Did you explain inflation to her?" "No." "Why not?" "I don't even understand it myself," concluded Elmer.

R. Roelofs Jr. says he knows a man who is so rich he can afford to take the ladies for cocktails and dinner in the ladies' dining room at a man's club.

John Cudahy says that Hitler looked to him like a man with a malignant disease. He's a victim of geographical indigestion, hardening of the head and retarded moustache.

"What Mr. Lewis fears is that he would lose face." News item. We can think of no face which could stand it better.

THE MENACE

The cops should paddle Henry Snipes. He drives a-straddle Highway stripes.—Merrill Chilcote.

The Journal of the American Medical Association reports that experiments at Harvard prove that women suffer from cold and heat more than men because they do not dress as warmly. This makes the opinion unambiguous and presumably official.

C. P. Yaglou and Anne Messer who conducted the experiments had a group of men sit in an air-conditioned room in men's trousers and then change to women's lingerie. Then they had women go through a similar test. Nothing can convince us that the whole thing wasn't arranged by a couple of Yale men.

Washington, in its new tax proposals, may subscribe to the notion that it is impossible to get blood from a stone. But it thinks the idea is good.

The Wireless: All the grumbling you hear about the Army's morale being way down here is German cooking. Gen'l Marshall, Army Chief of Staff, made that warning in his speech. It's all tricked up to disturb the soldiers' loved ones, and it's surefire with the stupider Congressmen... Clark Gable's nifty via a Red Cross show: "Our ancestors lived in log cabins and sod huts to establish a gov't based on the theory of 'We, the People,' and not 'I, the State'..." Many of the afternoon dramas contain some of the theater's best players. Why don't the sponsors also try to hire a better grade of writers?... One place where a writer is needed—but needed—is on the "single" shows. The patter the announcer and artist swap between numbers always sounds as if they'd lost the script and are covering up the wait... One headline explained the reason he never used guest stars is because he's never met a star who knew how to behave like a guest.

The Story Tellers: Correspondent James Young, who was jailed by the Japs for reporting what he saw in China, gives them real reason to holler copper in a Reader's Digest article. In "Japan Risks Destruction," Young should raise lots of blood pressure in Tokyo... Clarke Robinson, profiling Admiral Harold R. Stark in World Digest, reports that the present Chief of Naval Operations made his first hit with FDR by defying him... No punch-puller is Time, which describes publisher Douglas M. Stewart of Commentator, to wit and to wow: "stocky, heavy-lidded Boston aesthete with a taste for antiques and Aryans"... Collier's editorialist (is that you Maury?) for Nov. 13 has a punchy crack... He calls Nazi-occupied Yurrop: "The New Disorder."

When the news first came through that those 95 refugees from Nazi-land had been refused permission to land in Argentina, and faced the fate of being returned to concentration camps, Selwyn James, a scrappy Britisher on PM, boldly called Sir Gerald Campbell, chief of the British Press service. He urged him to have the refugees admitted to British Trinidad. It would be excellent publicity for the British, James said, aside from being a decent and not too unlikely act of humanity. He got a polite brush-off... The gloomy ship started for Europe, and Rep. Sol Bloom rushed in protest to the British Embassy. He was turned down, too... When that happened, cocky newspaperman James got Campbell on the phone again, and ranted and roared for half an hour... It must have been tophole as far as accents and persuasion go... Because, finally, Campbell promised to have another go at the Embassy... Result: The refugee ship has changed course again, and British Trinidad will be at least a temporary haven for those ninety-five pushed-around outcasts.

Ed Howe, the late editor of an Atchison, Kansas, daily, was always envied for his serene outlook on life... Celebrated writers read his stuff and wished they had his peace of mind... Now his son, Gene, writes in a magazine: "My father was the most wretchedly unhappy man I ever knew"... At the same time, H. L. Mencken, the Baltimore journalist, was hollering his head off... People were clucks, he yelled, and the world was a hoosegow... Now, in his fascinating memoirs, "Newspaper Days," Mencken confesses he was always as happy as a kid with his first long pants, all day long.

Midtown Vignette: The other middle-of-the-nighttime, a Canadian soldier went into Hamburger Heaven and wolf'd about five hamburger sandwiches, so hungry was he... As he went to the cashier's desk, he was told: "Oh, I couldn't think of taking money from you. You're doing something to make it a better world, and all I can do is wish I could. Sorry, no money from a soldier. And whenever you are in the neighborhood again, please come here and eat all you want!"... The Canadian said he'd like it lots more if he could pay his way... "I have the money!" he said, displaying a wad... "Sorry," said the cashier, "wouldn't think of it!"... The Canadian is one of the wealthiest men in the world. His name is Duncan McMartin. Has about 40 million smackers.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D. Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

POSTOFFICE—R.F.D.

RECENTLY Hickory Flat postoffice, in Simpson county, went out of existence after more than a century of life. It was in the administration of Andrew Jackson that the postoffice was established in what was then almost pioneer country. Around it grew up a prosperous farming community, one of the best in the state. Never large, the little postoffice served the neighborhood throughout its long lifetime, bringing in its quota of letters and newspapers and magazines, taking away the letters to far-away friends and relatives, some of whom had pioneered the West. As time went on, the once-a-week mail grew to be daily, and the almost-unheard-of daily newspapers became a large part of the bulk of the mail-carrier's pack. Boxes were put up along the road, often bulging after the carrier's journey with packages from mail-order houses. The daily event that joined Hickory Flat to the world was the coming of the mail. Changes took place all over the world, properly chronicled in the papers and later over the radio, but the solid farm community still got its papers and letters and catalogues from Hickory Flat. Good roads began to creep in to take the place of the pioneer trails and later dirt roads. Then, almost without warning, one fine day the little postoffice cancelled its last letter, and the numerous people served by it began getting their mail from Franklin by R.F.D. And this is a chronicle of many another place besides Hickory Flat.

When I get hold of a map and try to get my bearings on the country in the Jackson Purchase, I am fairly well pleased, for most of the county stores and small hamlets still bear their names just as they did in the early years of the century. When I ask people for their addresses, I am completely at a loss, for R.F.D. 10 means nothing to me. Fortunately, old Fidelity still gets its mail in its own name, but nearly all other places on that side of the county, formerly twenty or so, are served now through an address nobody could recognize. The country stores that used to house the small postoffices, remain, often with no more paint spread over them than they had when I rode my mule bareback to Fidelity after the mail; but the mystery of the mail is now centered in the good-sized town. In olden times we boys loved to arrive at Fidelity a few minutes before the mail-carrier came in on horseback or in a rickety buggy. Then we could get into the store in time to see the postmaster unlock the sack and shake out the few letters and Augusta, Maine, pulp magazines and sort them out with the air of a Houdini or other magician performing a great bit of hocus-pocus. And then we got our "Comfort" or "American Woman" and rode back on the mule, reading as we went, to get ahead of the rest of the family.

The mail, like all other human institutions, must change with the development of our country. Hundreds of little postoffices, like hundreds of little schools, became more expensive than could be justified. But with the passing of the smallest unit in the postoffice department has gone a flavor that many of us regret to see disappear. Finer government buildings appear in county seat towns, better facilities are offered the people who want their mail when they want it, but for many of us the word "postoffice" will suggest only the nook in the country store where the stamps were kept and the incoming mail was sorted out and the letters we had written began their long journey to the people in far-away places, who would also marvel when they received them.

MONEY TALKS

By FREDERICK W. STAMM Economist and Director of Adult Education

SEVERAL DAYS AGO the House of Representatives defeated a bill to freeze wages, rents, and prices at their present peaks until 1943. This bill, sponsored by Representative Albert Gore of Tennessee, was too severe for most of our political leaders.

Congressmen from the farm belt argued against the bill because it regulated farm prices; one Congressman from the industrial area voted against it because "it would put industry in a strait jacket;" pro-labor leaders were opposed because it would stop higher wages.

While Congress argues, all kinds of inequalities are cropping up in our economic life. The dairy, beef, and hog-producing regions are prospering, for the prices of these products are up sharply. The tobacco, cotton, and wheat regions are not faring so well, for the price of these products has not increased to any extent. Yet the farmers of these sections are paying as much for the manufactured products that they buy as are the farmers of the dairy, beef, and hog sections.

Then, too, the wages of city workers have risen much faster than those of the small town workers. In many of our smaller communities wages have not gone up as much as five per cent. With the cost of living increasing each month, you can readily see the unfavorable position these people are in today.

Let me cite one more example. I noticed recently that the Office of Price Administration in Washington recommended that the retail price of new automobiles be fixed at present levels. Now why should this be done if it does not also fix the wages the automobile dealer pays his mechanics, the rent he pays for his salesroom, the price he pays for his gasoline and oil? Why regulate one or two prices and let the rest run wild?

Officials in Washington realize inflation is disastrous economically. They realize it should be stopped, but they lack the courage to act.

War and the preparation for war call for stern measures. Congress recently passed the stiffest income tax bill in our nation's history. The tax bill will cut down the savings of thousands and undoubtedly will affect their economic and social life. It seems to me a price and wage control law is no more of an economic "strait jacket" than many other laws which have been passed. If we are to have any semblance of economic equality, we must have a strict control of all prices and wages.

THREE OF A KIND

To the population of Indiana, Floyd countians Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Snipes on Sept. 20 added three triplets. The mother and babes, with the attending physician, are shown above at Woodland hospital, Chester, Indiana. The babes, Alice May, Bernice Fay and Catherine Gay, are doing fine. Mrs. Snipes is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Osborn, Prestonsburg; Mr. Snipes, a son of Mr. and W. T. Snipes, of Bonanza. They have been residents of Tiptopcanoe, Ind., for the last five years.

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times)

I heard a speech last week by Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, speaking in behalf of the "Fight for Freedom" group and she said the "America Firsters" should be "pitted," not "petted." I figured that was just her way of saying that the Devil owed her a debt and paid it off in a son-in-law—Lindbergh.

I'm of the firm opinion that the Nazi agents in this country are paying the $10,000 for Senator Wheeler's and Lindbergh's speeches.

Everyone is glad that the so-called sympathy strike is over with. We wouldn't win for losing. It was the st miners' strike in this section here public opinion was against us. A lot of the miners were "stumped"—they were good union men who didn't want to let the greatest friend labor ever had down—Roosevelt. There is no more patriotic group in America than the miners of the two Beaver Creeks.

They will go the limit in everything it takes—and the settling of the "walkout" certainly averted trouble, for no miner that I know would be accused of "sabotage" and this is to let the world know that the U.S. government will get the 100 per cent co-operation from every miner on the Beaver Creeks.

According to the papers—the Italian newspapers have been ordered to dig up a lot of jokes and quips about "hard times." Huh! We can send them several carloads that we have saved from "Hoover times."

We miners celebrated Thanksgiving last week (Nov. 20). One of my very good friends advised me that it wasn't Thanksgiving. When I found out his politics was Republican—I advised him to take it any time he could get it. It wasn't Brad Boyd, either.

Harve McKinney has some of that Hoover-promised prosperity—he has two cars in his garage and they are both his—and Mack sez he has the full dinner pail—of—yep, you guessed it—pickled beans.

The Greaser has moved to Johns Branch and we don't know whether he got that rockin' chair saddle.

Talk about a basketball game where there will be S.R.O., just wait till W. L. Reid's team from Left Beaver meets M. K. Reed's team of Maytown. It will be worth seeing—and I'm sure it will be a bad night for Ward's shoe leather and Mark's cigars. And ust think that a day after the night before that will be—more aspirins, Lak!

I see in the paper where the Japanese fleet is "itching" for a fight. They don't quit messing with people Sam they will get the "salt water cure." I'm sure it will cure their "itch"—there won't be enough yellow heathens to scratch.

Well, our local election is over. Oh, Mack Lewis was elected poleman of "Kershaw." But he's still imploring someone will have to mop up the patch off his beat.

One asked Estill Delong if his temper yesterday, and he said "Yes—but she will be back."

Dochrane has been off from work a week—sick. Maybe he smoked that box of cigars, or his badge arrived.

The "boy" kept asking for me to knock him a peach off the tree. I wouldn't do it. I kept putting him off. When he became insistent, I advised him that he would have to wait until next year—but he kept insisting that there was one big yellow peach on the tree. I investigated and what a peach I found—about eight inches in diameter—yep, a pumpkin vine had run from the garden up into a peach tree and there, about 12 feet off the ground, was a big, yellow pumpkin. What a peach!

I see by the Huntington Herald-Advertiser that our army has been weakened—Henry A. Howard has been honorably discharged.

Wonder what "Ole Muss" thinks of his African empire? "Gone with the wind," is my opinion.

I see by the papers where the Russian women are fighting in the trenches beside their men. Huh! It's gettin' so a man can't even fight in peace.

Mr. Wheeler and "Yellow Lindy" should know that the present tragedy in Russia proves again to every sensible person that you can't appease Hitler.

It doesn't do the "Beefhead" any good to buy new clothes—he never gets them home. He even lost his new "winters," which is a calamity—what with these cold, frosty mornings.

We have a report that Doc Collins will have "air cured" meat. He built his smoke-house on top of his two-story building.

New Council

of whom, except Mr. Nunnery, are new members. Roe Layne and Bill Fitzpatrick, re-elected to the Council, were absent.

Before inducting the Council into office, Mayor Arnold, in a brief talk, praised the work of the preceding Council, saying, "The old Council did a good job—as good a job as was ever done in Prestonsburg in two years. As Mayor, I will co-operate with you, any way on earth—if you're right," he added.

First official act of the new Council was the re-appointment for a full two-year term of Chief of Police Epp Laferty, who at the same time was named for the same period city tax collector. Laferty's salary as police chief remains unchanged at $100 a month and his commission as tax collector remains at 5 per cent. Re-employment of the other two policemen was not discussed.

Atty. Leroy Combs, a member of the preceding Council, was named to assist City Attorney J. D. Harkins, Jr., in the preparation of a suit against creditors of the town who have refused to join with other creditors in discounting their claims so that refunding of Prestonsburg's $114,000 indebtedness may be achieved. Immediate filing of the action is desired, so that the case may have an appellate court decision as soon as possible. Mr. Combs offered his services without charge.

Chief of Police Laferty paid into the treasury, for the month of November, $229, the amount of fines collected. The board bill for prisoners for the month was $47, approximately the same amount as fines reprieved.

The Council will continue to meet on the first and third Mondays of each month, at 7:30 p.m.

Red Cross Reports On Floyd Drive Encouraging

In addition to the $115 received this week from the Beaver Mining Company at Drift, other encouraging reports on the success of the Red Cross Recall in Floyd county are expected within the next few days from other communities. Salisbury Group Sets and Breaks County Records

That sewing group of 13 women of the Salisbury community, according to Miss Ella Noel White, executive secretary, Floyd Red Cross Chapter, not only has set sewing records for this county but continues to break them in the preparation of Bundles for Britain.

Last month, these 13 completed 125 garments, including women's dresses, pajamas and layettes. Their production also included nine dozen diapers.

The women meet one time each week for the purpose of receiving materials which they take to their respective homes and make into garments. They are Mrs. Troy Allen, chairman, Mrs. Herb McGlothen, Mrs. Hollie Hall, Miss Bonnie Allen, Mrs. Wilson Allen, Mrs. Dan Collins, Mrs. Harry Cox, Mrs. Mexie Cox, Mrs. Morton McGlothen, Mrs. J. D. Says Miners To Ask Pay for Three Idle Days

Hazard, Ky., Nov. 29—Edgar Reynolds, local field representative for the United Mine Workers of America, today said UMW miners would demand refund of any deduction from their pay for the three days they were absent from work last week.

Men from most of the mines in the Hazard field, Reynolds said, have informed him that pay checks would amount to $6, and that $2 per day would be deducted from pay due Dec. 15, because of the shutdown last week during the dispute over a closed shop contract for captive mines.

Should this sum be deducted, Reynolds declared, the miners of this district will strike, if necessary, to enforce their demand for a refund.

HAYES IS PROMOTED TO RANK OF SERGEANT

Clarence E. Hayes, son of Mrs. W. H. Hayes, of Langley, has recently been promoted from corporal to the rank of sergeant, according to an announcement by the authorities at the Air Corps Proving Ground, Elgin Field, Florida.

Sergeant Hayes, who has been in the army since July 2, 1940, is in the 385th School Squadron, Air Corps, at Elgin Field.

The tremendous increase in army personnel has created a great opportunity for men who can prove themselves capable of holding the ranks of non-commissioned officers.

TRAVEL BULLETIN
TODAY'S ROADS

Prepared By
Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club

"CAUTION!"

THIS is a bad time of the year for automobile drivers. Figures show that November and December are the most hazardous months of the year.

An automobile engine manufactures carbon monoxide gas every time the motor turns over. But this is the season of the year when we begin to bottle it up in deadly doses. A motor should not be warmed up in a closed garage. Make sure that the exhaust system of your car doesn't leak. In cold weather with windows closed, carbon monoxide gas may seep into your car from a faulty exhaust. You can neither smell nor see this invisible killer.

Here is a good suggestion:
"WINTER TIME IS DANGER TIME—DON'T TAKE CHANCES."

BRIDAL SHOWER
Mesdames George Allen, Jones Moore and G. A. May, Jr., were hostesses Saturday afternoon in the home of the latter to a beautiful bridal shower, honoring Mrs. Ted Snoddy, Jr., of Ashland, a recent bride. A large number of guests were present, the honoree receiving many very attractive gifts, which she accepted charmingly. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. H. L. May in serving dainty refreshments to all who came.

YOUNGSTERS ENTERTAINED

Children who participated in the Thanksgiving program in the church Sunday were entertained in the home of their chairman, Mrs. Carl Ferguson, on Friday afternoon, when her daughter, Miss Marjorie Ferguson, conducted games and contests for the large crowd. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

TO FORM ORCHESTRA

Members of the Maytown band who attend Sunday School have been invited to form an orchestra, which will play each Sunday in the Sunday School, before and after services and once during the program, it has been announced. Jesse Elliott, bandmaster, will teach them more religious numbers. Mrs. V. A. Hayes will also assist the children. Special books are being ordered for their use in the church. All members are invited to participate.

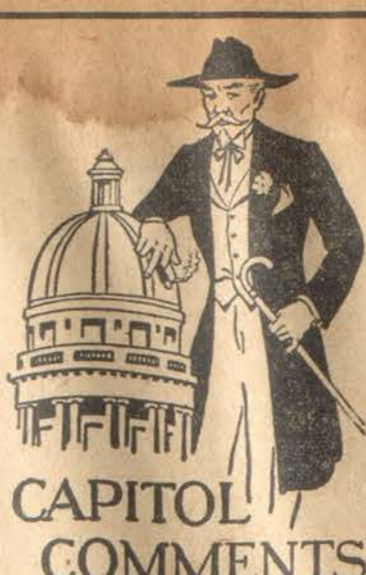

SUNDAY SCHOOL "ON THE AIR"

The Sunday School "goes on the air" locally each Friday afternoon, over the school "mike" for a few minutes, when radio chairmen, Ned May and Miss Marjorie Ferguson, make the announcements for the week. The Junior class of Mrs. Wiley Jones has just one more Sunday to get the attendance banner, then it is theirs permanently. This class recently earned approximately $20 and donated same for church songbooks and other needs.

LODGE MEETS

The Mollie Pitcher lodge met Wednesday evening in the church, with the Wayland lodge as their guests, and State Counselor, Mrs. Gertrude Williams, of Ft. Thomas, Ky., as chief speaker. Mrs. John Hampton, district deputy, of Glo, was also present. Mrs. Dean Amburg, deputy of Maytown Chapter, presided over the meeting. Refreshments were served by the Maytown members at the conclusion of the program. The local lodge has several new members and meets twice monthly.

CAPITOL COMMENTS
By David M. Porter

The Legislative Council is meeting here in Frankfort. Most of its work will be on the state budget bill to be acted on by the Legislature.

Governor Johnson has expressed the belief that taxes should not be reduced and that expenditures should not be materially increased; that any surplus money in excess of the budget should go to the state institutions, and his plan is to set up a three-man advisory board to supervise these expenditures.

The Council could really be of great service to the state if all the Senators and Representatives would co-operate with it and send in their proposed legislation for advice and suggestions. If this were done, a bulletin could be sent out by the Council to all the members of the General Assembly, telling which proposed bills were unconstitutional, or a duplication could be designated as such and, most important of all, the Representatives and Senators would have a chance to talk the proposed legislation over with the people they represented at home. There would be no long delays of bills in committees, and all the members would know about the bills and how their constituents stood on them. More bills would be passed on their merit and less from the pressure of political bosses or lobbyists.

The Council is composed of eight members of the Senate, eight members of the House and five heads of state departments, with the Lieutenant-Governor as chairman.

Here are the members of the present Council: Senators Ray B. Moss, Pineville; Elmer D. Stephenson, Pikeville; Paul M. Basham, Hardinsburg; W. E. Rogers, Guthrie; E. J. Stahr, Hickman; Ira W. See, Louisa; N. F. Harper, Scottsville, and F. M. Tapp, Dixon; Representatives Henry Ward, Paducah; Cass Walden, Edmonton; Harry F. Walters, Shelbyville; Clyde Smith, Barbourville; Faust Y. Simpson, Morganfield; Joe E. Robinson, Lancaster; Stanley Dickson, Paris; George Anderson, Whitley City; Dr. B. F. Shields, Taylorsville; Speaker of the House and ex-officio vice-chairman of the Council; Public Utilities Commissioner John Kirtley; Commissioner of Revenue H. Clyde Reeves; Commissioner of Welfare W. A. Frest; J. Dan Talbot and Sherman Goodpaster, director of the Division of Insurance.

When Norman Braden was fired as acting head of the Reform School at Greendale, General Meredith stated it was because of his testimony against the purchasing department. Braden did testify against the purchasing department and was fired. Braden had, however, told the committee appointed by Governor Johnson to investigate conditions at the Reform School, that he did not like the work or want to make it his career, and Governor Johnson had been looking for a man to replace him for some time. He had offered the place to Coach Adolph Rupp of the University of Kentucky (the best basketball coach in the country) and Rupp had turned it down.

NEW REVENUE BILLS
A bill is proposed to put a 3 percent tax on pari-mutuel betting, requiring that totalizers be used at each track. The tax can be easily figured then and the public will be protected from mistakes.

This type bill has been a source of much revenue for other states and is the least burdensome of all taxes. The winner at a race track won't mind the assessment and it doesn't make any difference to the loser and, most of all, the public will know it has had a fair deal if a horse brings a short price, and will not be dissatisfied.

I see the Great Bird, Shikepoke, did make a safe return. It seems that he is like a Canadian dime—they show up once in a while.

Now that the mines have resumed operation, the press and news commentators will have to get back on Lindy and Burton K. Wheeler and let John L. Lewis rest for a while.

Too bad the miners got a fine from $4 to $6 against them for refusing to work in violation of contract. But it was worth it, and we don't believe the fine will stick.

Delbert Webb, one of our section foremen, would make a pretty superintendent. But I don't believe they would fit him up with a mining cap—they would be all too small.

Sorry to hear of the death of Dave C. Cooley. I have known Dave for 25 years.

WEEKLY TRUE STORY

Freddie Franklin has more grandpas than McKinley Parrigan has uncles. One of Freddie's grandpas went to Pennsylvania last week deer hunting, poor fellow, and his chance came. A big buck came down the ridge toward him and stopped about 20 yards, so he took dead aim, right between the eyes, and the deer wheels around so quick the bullet went right through the deer and came back and killed Freddie's grandpa.

I see that D. J. Harman did not take his motor boat down on the Ohio this week-end. Better stay away until spring, Dan, you know you can't swim—you are too fat.

Belcher In Training As Dental Technician

Private Marion E. Belcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Belcher, of Prestonsburg, has been placed on temporary duty at the Station hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

After completing a three-months training course as a dental assistant, he will return to his original company as a dental technician and will receive additional pay, plus an army specialist rating.

Private Belcher volunteered his services to the army through Floyd county Draft Board No. 44 on April 7, 1941 and was sent to the 113th Medical Regiment of the 38th Division at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Farmer, Wife Jailed

The accused slayer claimed that he snapped the weapon five or six times, merely to show Byrd Tackett that it was not loaded, after Byrd had accosted him and his wife as they started to a nearby store and had asserted that he was not afraid of any man or "that little old gun of yours." He added that Byrd Tackett seized his arm, jerking it up and causing his finger to contract on the trigger, firing only one shot.

"The Lykins boy said that when Ben Tackett, after repeatedly cursing Byrd, began snapping the pistol in a direction away from Byrd, Mary Tackett said, "Don't snap it that way—if you can't kill the——, give me the gun and I'll bust it over his head."

Ben Tackett said that when he attempted to help his kinsman with the old footlog it slipped from his grasp and Byrd struck him on his head with a hammer. Young Lykins admitted that his step-father struck Ben Tackett but claimed that he did so only after Ben had cursed him, calling him a vile name.

Surviving the victim are his widow, three sons and one daughter: Richard, Willie, Ermaline and Donald B.; three step-children, Taulbee Curtis, Clara Gladys and Joe Lykins, Jr.; and four brothers, Tapley, Emmitt, Joe and John Tackett, all of the Mud Creek section. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Free Tackett.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday, the Revs. Evan Hamilton, Squire Hamilton and Bill Martin officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery at the mouth of Branham's Creek under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

INJURED IN WRECK

Mrs. Maggie Hicks, of Lancer, was treated at the Prestonsburg General hospital Tuesday night for a severe head injury sustained in a car wreck, near here. Her husband suffered lesser hurts.

WPA Employees Accused

timekeeper and a superintendent of WPA road construction on Big Mud is alleged in Jones' petition. Under the alleged arrangement the two WPA employees were to use their influence by giving or promising employment on WPA projects to voters in return for their votes in support of the contestee. The two on election day, in the discharge of this alleged agreement, used money and whisky in bribing and influencing voters, it was charged. One WPA employee also acted as an election official at Antioch precinct, although he had not been appointed by the election commissioners, and the timekeeper on the Big Mud road project acted as Democratic challenger at Toler precinct, it was stated in the contestant's bill of complaint. It was also claimed that the contestee was permitted to go to various applicants for WPA jobs and promise them he would use his influence to procure for them such employment if they would vote for him.

Roberts received 1577 votes to Jones' 931.

In the action of Mead vs. Stumbo, it was alleged that the contestee was personally guilty of bribing and influencing voters by the use of money, the total sum of which was in excess of $2,500. Stumbo's vote total was 2,318 to Mead's 1,095.

2 BLACK CATS ON 'ALL'-11

TWO OTHERS WIN BERTHS ON 2ND ALL-STAR TEAM

Two Prestonsburg football players were accorded berths on the mythical all-Conference team when grid coaches of the Big Sandy Conference met at Belfry Monday night to make the annual all-star selections.

The Pikeville Panthers, Conference title winners, predominated the first-team line-up, however, with five men achieving all-stardom. Billy Sturgill, center, and Senters, tackle, represent Prestonsburg on the all-Conference team. The first team selections follow:

By the margin of only one point out of a possible 40, Butler of Prestonsburg lost the first-team quarterback post, Ishmael and Anderson, of Pikeville, were unanimous choices, and Sturgill, of Prestonsburg, received the next highest vote.

Floyd and Johnson May Form New District

Floyd and Johnson counties may form a new senatorial district, if plans for re-districting the state materialize. Pike and Knott counties, now with Floyd in the 13th senatorial district, would be shifted into other district alignment.

The same plan provides for Mar-
