

ATTACK MADE ON JUDGE'S ORDER

'Fight to Finish' On Roadhouses Is Envisioned

A fight to the finish over the regulation of roadhouses was in prospect this week as J. B. Ratliff, Lancer roadhouse owner, filed a petition in the Floyd circuit court for a writ of prohibition restraining County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., from enforcing the opening and closing hour order issued by him last week.

A temporary writ of prohibition, granted by Circuit Judge Henry Stephens, Jr., was construed as permitting roadhouse operators to keep their places of business open until April 25 at all hours, if they desire to take the risk of paying the penalty, in the event Judge Hill's order is held valid.

It was explained that granting of the temporary injunction was mandatory and that the possible "open house" period to exist between now and April 25 is a result of the 10-day notice necessary to be given Judge Hill before final hearing of the case.

Judge Hill's order of last week specified that all Floyd county roadhouses may not open before 6 a. m., and may not remain open after 8 p. m.

Mr. Ratliff's petition, filed by Atty. Joe P. Tackett, asked that Judge Hill be prohibited permanently from attempting to enforce either the state law empowering County Judges to regulate roadhouses or his recent order stating the hours during which roadhouses may be operated.

THREE KILLED AT HINDMAN

Martin and Hall, Bystander Die In Affray

Hindman, onetime battleground of feudists, but recognized for years as one of the most peaceful of Eastern Kentucky county-seat towns, was the scene of a pistol battle last Thursday afternoon which cost the lives of three men.

The dead are: Deputy Sheriff Marion Martin, 29, Hindman.

William Hall, of Kite, Ky.

Winton Hale, Hindman.

The affray, as a result of which the three men died, started, it was said here, as Deputy Sheriff Martin and Police- man Monroe Combs, of Hindman, started to leave Bolen's restaurant in Hindman with Earl Martin who had told the officers, this version of the shooting says, he preferred to accompany them than to surrender to them the keys to his automobile.

As they were leaving, the report received here says, William Hall walked from the rear end of Bolen's restaurant, thrust a revolver muzzle against Deputy Sheriff Martin's

To the Democrats Of Floyd County:

Most men who run for office say that their many friends have urged them to do so. It has too long been the custom of some people to try to encourage men to run for office and then assume all the credit and try to dictate the acts and conduct of the fellow in office, for their own selfish gain.

I am not being "run" by any man or set of men, but am entering this race for Sheriff of my own free and unassisted judgment. I believe in public officials being honest with the public always, and above all, honest with themselves. If I, as Sheriff, am to enforce the law fairly, equally, modestly and above all, not for selfish revenge, then let me first clean house at home. I'll never, as an officer, arrest a man for drinking while I drink.

In other words, friends, I'll not be a fanatical fool and get drunk with power when I am your Sheriff, but rather, I'll be fair, reasonable and ready at all times to work.

I'll greatly appreciate your help at the Democratic primary next August.

BILL HALL,
For the Democratic nomination (Pol. adv.) for Sheriff.

Doctor Here Named In $10,000 Suit

Alleging that Dr. D. H. Daniels left a roll of gauze in the incision he made at the Prestonsburg General hospital when he performed an appendectomy on her, Jan. 17, last, and that, as a result, she suffered permanent injury, Opal Hall, of Auxier, this week filed suit in the Floyd circuit court asking $10,000 damages.

The plaintiff, whose suit was filed by Atty. Joe P. Tackett, alleged that the gauze remained till March 9 when another operation resulted in its discovery and removal.

HENRY HARRIS DIES AT 61

West P'burg Man, Paralysis Victim, Monday Morning

Henry Clay Harris, prominent West Prestonsburg man, died Monday morning at 10 o'clock at his home, six hours after having been stricken by paralysis. He was 61 years old.

Eldest son of the late Robert W. and Agnes Fitzpatrick Harris, the victim was one of the county's best-known citizens. For years he was a teacher in the Floyd county schools, later engaging in the lumber and mercantile business at West Prestonsburg. He had, since early childhood, been a member of the Methodist Church here. His friends were all who knew him.

Mr. Harris was married Dec. 31, 1914 to Miss Janie O'Dell, who survives. To this union were born two daughters, Miss Agnes Harris, Norfolk, Va., and Miss Anna May Harris, a sophomore at Lees College, Jackson, Ky. He is also survived by one step-daughter, Mrs. C. F. Rinehart, Mt. Vernon, O., his step-mother, Mrs. Kate L. Harris, West Prestonsburg; one brother, Jim P. Harris, Shelbyville, Ky., and seven sisters: Mrs. Ernest Langley, Flushing, N. Y.; Mrs. J. W. Sutherland, Mrs. W. P. Runnels and Miss Alice Harris, West Prestonsburg; Mrs. F. D. Wellman, Morehead, and Mrs. J. R. Allen, of Hindman.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the home, the Rev. W. B. Garriott, pastor of the Prestonsburg Methodist Church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Campbell Jeffries, pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here. Burial was made in the Fitzpatrick cemetery on Middle Creek, one mile west of Prestonsburg, under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

SALVAGE BODY FORMED HERE

Immediate Action Thruout County Is Asked

Floyd county's contribution of scrap metals, rags and paper to the national war effort was given "high gear" impetus Tuesday evening as organization of the Floyd County Salvage Committee for actual work in the collecting of these materials was completed at a meeting held in the committee's new headquarters in the Nunery building on Third avenue.

Committee members left the meeting with instructions to get the salvage work in their respective sections of the county started immediately. All papers, rags, steel, copper, brass, scrap iron, rubber and tin are to be salvaged.

County Agent S. L. Isbell was named leader of the salvage movement in sections outside of Prestonsburg. C. H. Smith heads the move here. County Superintendent Town Hall, named to work with the county's schools, designated Jesse Elliott, county band leader, to ask every teacher to call on his or her pupils to begin now to bring to their respective schools all items listed as salvage valuables.

J. D. Fitzpatrick, Prestonsburg, county supervisor of highways for the Kentucky Department of Highways, has been assigned the task of arranging for the transportation of

MAYTOWN FLIER, FIRST FLOYD MAN TO GET 'WINGS'

First Floyd countian to win his "Wings" in the air service of his country is William Edward Sutton, 23-year-old son of World War I veteran Ed Sutton and Mrs. Sutton, of Langley.

He entered the U. S. Army Air Corps in August, 1940, after having been graduated from Maytown high school and attending Berea College, the University of Alabama where he studied engineering and George Washington University, Washington, D. C., where he attended night classes after being employed during the day by the War Department.

Lieutenant Sutton, immediately upon his enlistment, was sent to Parks Air College, East St. Louis, Ill., for basic training; was graduated from the Lowry Air Base, Denver, Colo., March 15, last year and received his commission as Second Lieutenant on June 23. From Lowry Field he was transferred to Barksdale Field, La., as a bombardier instructor.

When the Jap "sneak" attack was made on Pearl Harbor he was rushed by plane to join in the patrol of

MADE SIR KNIGHTS

Henry F. Patton and Thomas Thompson, both of Prestonsburg, were initiated into the mysteries of Pikeville Commandery No. 45, Knights Templar, Monday evening. They were accompanied by several Sir Knights residing in and around Prestonsburg. During the evening a banquet was given at Louis' Cafe, in Pikeville.

Alex H. Spradlin, of Prestonsburg, was installed as the new Eminent Commander of Pikeville Commandery, and Claybourne Stephens was duly installed as a line officer of the Commandery.

N. Y. A. Shop Here Makes U. S. Army Equipment

In addition to field kitchens, state NYA youths are now making gun parts, anti-aircraft pedestals, machine gun racks, gunner case brackets and scores of other articles for the army.

Prestonsburg and Floyd county, through the location of an NYA shop here, are playing an important role in the plans of the National Youth Administration to train war workers and to produce war goods.

In Kentucky's 18 NYA shops 2,300 youths are preparing themselves for war jobs, and for service in the armed forces, by producing thousands of essential articles for the army.

Prestonsburg Man Heads Flying School

Its ground and flight aviation school approved under the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Morehead State Teachers' College last week announced that Charles Meadows, Prestonsburg, will be flight school contractor and will manage the airport on U. S. 60, seven miles west of Morehead. The college itself will be ground school contractor.

Mr. Meadows, a private pilot of long experience, last year trained student-fliers here. He is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Z. S. Dickerson, of Water Gap.

TO ENTERTAIN SELECTEES

Legion Commander Says Floyd 'Boys' To Be Feted

"Boys leaving this county for the army will not, in the future, find the town and county sleeping and nobody around to say a good word to them," W. I. Myers, Drift, commander of Floyd Post, American Legion, declared here Tuesday.

Mr. Myers detailed preparations for entertainment here of the "boys" leaving for induction Saturday morning. He said the Floyd County Band directed by Prof. Jesse Elliott, and the Prestonsburg high school glee club, under the direction of Mrs. Chalmers Frazier, will render patriotic band and vocal numbers; that, at the same time, the selectees will receive doughnuts and coffee.

A drive locally for funds with which to finance refreshments for the selectees Saturday morning was initiated at the Salvage Committee meeting Tuesday evening. Those desiring to have a part in expressing the county's appreciation of the "boys" and the service they will render the country should place their contributions with either Mrs. Chalmers Frazier or Robert D. Francis, it was said. Assisting in collecting funds for this purpose will be the Civilian Defense staff, the American Legion and the Prestonsburg Woman's Club. Teachers in the Prestonsburg schools Wednesday morning asked their pupils to contribute to the cause.

Mr. Myers predicted that, in the future, there will be no shortage of funds for the entertainment of the young men leaving for service in the county's armed forces. "I know the generosity of Floyd county's miners, as well as that of the folks in other occupations, and I know that they will not fail us or our boys in this undertaking."

DEFERRED LIST TO GET 3R'S

Education of Men Being Rejected Is Planned

As the list of men deferred from military service because of illiteracy grows larger, plans are being studied to give these men the basic education of reading and writing.

Floyd is one of seven Kentucky counties, it was said recently, which have more than 100 men who have been rejected because of illiteracy.

It was said at draft headquarters here this week that a study of the situation has not developed any definite action, although the primary education of "innately intelligent" men is expected to be undertaken.

While selective service authorities say the condition in Kentucky in general is no worse than that of the national picture, nevertheless the number of prospective soldiers in the state who are being deferred on this ground represents too much of a manpower loss to be tolerated, it is pointed out.

A group tabulation of counties having more registrants rejected or deferred for not having minimum educational requirements, shows that 53 counties have more than 25 such cases. Twelve have more than 50, and seven have more than 100.

TWO 'CLEARED' OF MURDER CHARGES

Officer Is Named In False Arrest Accusation

Two of the 31 indictments returned this week by the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court named five men on murder charges, and another accused an officer of false arrest.

The murder indictments were returned in the slaying of Willie Shortridge, near here, two weeks ago, and of Monroe Salisbury at Hunter, a few days earlier.

Isaac Stumbo, Joe Wheeler Horn, Jimmy McCown and T. J. Fitzpatrick were named in the Shortridge case. Willie Salisbury was accused of the Monroe Salisbury slaying.

The officer accused of false arrest is Deputy Constable Jim Hall who, it was alleged, arrested C. A. Kidd, of Harold, on a drunkenness charge of which Kidd claims he was not guilty. Kidd also told the grand jury that the officer refused him permission to see Magistrate Dewey Roberts; instead, brought him here to jail where he remained 10 days.

The two murder trials of the week resulted in acquittals. Pert Hall Stone, charged with murder in allegedly abetting the slaying of Levi Taylor at Drift by her husband, Dolliver Stone, was acquitted Monday. Witnesses told of Taylor striking her and advancing on her husband after the latter fired a warning shot in the ground. Dolliver Stone at a previous court term was given a 10-year pen term for the slaying.

Trial of Vernon Cremeans, Garrett, for the slaying of his brother-in-law, James McKee, resulted in his acquittal Wednesday. He contended that he fired in self-defense after having been attacked in his home by McKee.

Next murder case is that of Ben Tackett and his wife, Mary, of Mud Creek, for the slaying of his cousin, Byrd Tackett. The trial is slated to begin Friday. The Tacketts have been in jail here since the crime was committed, several months ago. Shooting and wounding, robbery

BRAZIL—"A WORLD IN ITSELF"

THE DOMAIN OF BRAZIL, the only Portuguese-speaking nation member of the sisterhood that comprises the Pan-American Union, covers only a little less than half the total area of the South American Continent.

Rudyard Kipling, seasoned traveler, wrote of it as "A world in itself." The proportions of the country are gigantic. The consequent variations in life, climate, topography, resources and products are in keeping. Brazil's frontiers are so far-flung that they meet with those of seven of her nine sister republics in South America, and embrace a country larger than our continental United States, larger than all of Europe, excluding Russia.

Nearly half the population of South America makes home in Brazil. From the equatorial jungles of the basin of the majestic Amazon in the north, Brazilian territory, with an Atlantic coastline of 4,300 miles, sweeps through pleasant and productive uplands far into the south temperate zone.

These central and southern uplands are the heart of the Brazil today. Here are the most fertile lands; the best grazing areas. From here comes the famous coffee, base of about three-fifths of the total value of the nation's exports. From here come the cotton, fruit and livestock, hides, wax, tobacco and other items, which, with rubber and nuts from the Amazon country, Brazil offers in exchange for her needs in machinery, tools, fuel, wheat, chemicals, automobiles and iron and steel products. Here, too, in a region of half a million square miles, less than a fifth of the country's area, lives 60 per cent of a population of 44 millions, seventy of every hundred at work in agriculture or stock-raising.

Brazil is sending to the arsenals of democracy manganese for the manufacture of much needed steel; and oil from the castor bean, essential to the lubrication of the high-speed engines of fighters, bombers and pursuit planes. The turn of world events promises to reinstate Brazil as one of the rubber centers of the world.

Rio de Janeiro, the capital, is a city of more than a million inhabitants. But there is no congestion even here. Famed as one of the most beautiful capitals of the world, a city of marble, palms and broad avenues, "Rio" is also a center of commercial and cultural development; seat of a government that has given education high place in its activities.

The Brazilian constitution divides power between national and state authorities. The President is the supreme authority, charged with directing the policies and maintaining the welfare of the state. He initiates legislation, may nominate one candidate in elections to choose his successor, but by a two-thirds vote of a two-house parliament, can be overridden in his veto of legislation.

As in other countries, new or old, Brazil's form of government represents a people's evolution. Unlike that of many of the young nations of the New World, however, from discovery and first colonization by the Portuguese Alvarez Cabral at the turn into the Sixteenth Century, down through the rule of the Marquis of Pombal, "the great marquis," through independence and constitutional monarchy in the reigns of the Dom Pedros, father and son, to the coup d'etat of November 15, 1889, out of which came the federal republic, the romance of Brazil tells of change after change without violence or bloodshed.

The nation has been a growth, not an eruption. Its natural wealth has hardly been touched; its native genius hardly revealed. Its potentialities are far beyond present reckoning.

Osborne, Graduate Of Technical School

Sheppard Field, Texas, April 11 (Spl.)—Albert B. Osborne, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Osborne, of Martin, Ky., has been graduated from the world's largest air corps technical school at Sheppard Field, Texas, where he has been attending classes for the past several months.

Private Osborne, attached to the 319th Technical School Squadron while in the school here, was graduated April 3. Prior to enlistment he attended Martin high school.

Having undergone intensive training designed to give him a complete working knowledge of the "battle birds," he is now qualified as one of the eight specialists necessary to keep one plane in the air. Graduates of this technical course are eligible to be shipped to any tactical unit.

Dr. Mayo's Condition, Much Improved

Martin, Ky., April 10 (Spl.)—Dr. H. H. Mayo, of Martin, who has been seriously ill in a Huntington hospital of bronchial infection, is much improved. During his illness Mrs. Mayo has been at his bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mayo motored to Huntington to see his father, and spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hobgood.

Hybrid sugar corn varieties will be tested on 32 farms in Boone county.

Approximately 2,000 families have enrolled in the live at-home program in Johnson county.

The Home Front

Here Is a Resume of Important Happenings

"It's going to be harder,"—Donald Nelson. OPA expands. OPA, WPB crack down at hold-ups, chiselers. REA copper supply cut. Bike sales for grown-ups stopped. Lawn mower manufacture cut in half. Farm equipment gets break. Farmers asked to pool trucking. Recapping regulations issued. Toys and coffins restricted. Government squeezes tooth-paste tubes. Orders sporting arms unfrozen. Junk dealers warned.

This week's quote from Donald Nelson, WPB chairman: "Every one of the problems we face is bigger than any of us. That is why we are tackling this thing in the traditional American way—getting together, co-operatively, to fight the thing thru to a finish. Of course, it isn't easy and it's going to be harder. But we've got to stick together. I know there are plants where there has been little management-labor co-operation normally. I am also aware of the tradition of mutual rivalry and suspicion in some plants vital to our war production. . . . but I was never sorer of anything in my life than I am that we either work together for the common good or we shall inevitably share the evil of defeat. . . . This is our last chance to show that a free economy can survive and be strong."

Federal court in Los Angeles indicted a violator of the tire freezing and rationing regulations. He faces $10,000 fine and two years in the pen.

Office of Price Administration, the rationing and price-fixing agency, set up to stop inflation, has a big job on its hands. Sixteen new field offices were opened to carry the work into the communities. Other offices will be set up soon. These offices will handle price administration. Rationing will continue to be done by state administrators and local boards, now functioning in 7,500 communities.

About this inflation question, Dexter M. Keezer, Assistant OPA Administrator, says: "The simple fact is that today we are losing the battle against inflation. Prices are going up all along the line at a dangerously accelerated pace. . . . The nature of this pressure can be indicated by the fact that the national supplies available for civilians are being cut 1 per cent a month to meet military needs while money available to buy these supplies (in the form of wages, salaries, profits, etc.) is increasing about 3½ per cent a month. This sets up a situation which, left alone, can result in a monthly increase or 3½ per cent in the cost of living, a ruinous inflation."

Wilful violators of OPA rationing orders and regulations face prosecution and heavy penalties under the Second War Powers Act, Acting Price Administrator John E. Hamm warned. Signed last Saturday by President Roosevelt, the maximum penalties are $10,000 fines and one year imprisonment. This for WPB priority orders, too.

Owen Eby, one of three brothers owning a farm near Dayton, who had been getting $240 a year from Frigidaries, to let the company dump its celled ice cabinets in his ravine, refused to sell this steel scrap for war purposes. The War Production Board requisitioned the pile containing an estimated 10,000 tons of No. 2 scrap, and is paying Eby $4 a ton net. Government needed it. Eby wouldn't sell. Government took it.

A month ago a Valparaiso, Ind., junk dealer, had the same experience.

Twenty-seven steel warehouses, which handled more steel than their quotas permitted, will be penalized by the WPB. For the quarter 100 to 150 per cent of what steel they handled in excess of their last quarter quotas will be deducted.

Leon Henderson warned junk and scrap dealers that prices of scrap metals will not be raised, so hoarding is unprofitable. All the junk hoarders will profit is "loss of self-respect," said Mr. Henderson.

Some Beau Brummels are buying un-cuffed trousers with plenty of turnup, and figuring on taking them back and getting the cuffs finished. WPB rules that this kind of cuffing at the expense of national safety is unlawful.

WPB notified the Rural Electrification Administration that only 100 additional tons of copper will be allotted to it to complete projects already under way.

WPB revised 1942 farm equipment program to help farmers grow needed food. Order added 25,000 tons mostly of steel and iron to allocation for farm equipment manufacture, for the year ending Oct. 31.

Farmers are asked by Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, to save tires and gas and truck wear and tear by pooling their hauling. This applies to general farmers, truckers, dairy farmers and cattle farmers. ODT urges voluntary co-operation. This is the same as the pooling of auto use, now being urged on factory workers in the city.

Acute rubber shortage brought OPA ruling that recapping materials will be wholly of reclaimed rubber for Class B passenger cars. Tires recapped with this lower grade camelback should be driven not more than 35 miles an hour, OPA reported. At that speed they ought to last 5,000 miles, and even then all care must be taken.

WPB got down to conserving collapsible tubes, like tubes for tooth-paste, shaving cream, ointments, etc. Unless you're getting something by doctor's prescription, you can't get a tubeful of drugs without turning in the squeezed tubes. These tubes contain scarce tin, needed for war production.

WPB stopped sale and shipment, delivery and transfer of all bicycles for grown-ups. Reason: Bicycle have been selling at a terrific rate to people who don't need them and not fast enough to defense workers.

Applications for recapped tires or recapping service for List B passengers, can now be filed, but proof must be shown. For list B trucks, one must file before April 20.

By next Christmas even Santa Claus will be feeling priorities, rations and allocations. After June 30, making of toys, games, Christmas tree ornaments with metal, plastics and other materials needed for good, will be stopped. Electric trains are out. Colors for war-time toys will be duller, light pigments permitted only for stripes and bands.

You can order a gold or silver casket, if you wish, but use of iron and steel is limited, which with the limitation of metals for kiddies' toys, takes war restrictions from the cradle to the grave.

County Judge Ward Jails 2 Justices In Johnson

Paintsville, Ky., April 10—Johnson County Judge W. J. Ward sent two members of his fiscal court to jail for contempt today, but the two, one of them a Baptist minister, subsequently were released and exonerated by Circuit Judge J. F. Bailey.

Members of the six man court and the county judge "have been at odds for some time," Judge Bailey said, and he explained today's clash in this manner:

The magistrates who compose the fiscal court wished to employ a caretaker for the courthouse grounds, but Judge Ward refused to entertain a motion.

The court members met without Ward, elected the Rev. Winfrey Meek, a minister and former circuit court clerk, as judge pro tem and started about the business of naming a caretaker.

Ward appeared at the session, declared Meek was attempting to usurp his (Ward's) authority, held him in contempt of court and fined him $10 and sentenced him to six hours in jail.

The other court members then proceeded to elect Magistrate Randall Daniels judge pro tem, with the result that Judge Ward took the same action against Daniels he had against Meek.

The two began serving their six-hour jail terms, but at the same time they filed motions for writs of habeas corpus and dispatched this telegram to Attorney General Hubert Meredith:

"Winfred Meek and Randall Daniels are in jail for contempt of court. Judge Ward refused to act as judge of fiscal court. Are we under dictatorship? Can we have assistance from you immediately?"

Judge Bailey conducted a hearing on the motions this afternoon and granted the writs. In freeing the two, the circuit judge held that Ward had acted "unconsciously and without proper authority."

So far as was known, Meredith had not replied to the wire tonight.

A cannery in Hopkins county is planning to put up approximately 40,000 cases of tomatoes.

MAYTOWN

Bobbie May left Monday for Blackstone, Va., where he is employed.

Mrs. Arnold Cooley was called to Huntington Sunday evening to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. W. A. Rose, of Prestonsburg, a patient in a Huntington hospital.

Spence Combs and Ed Stewart and Miss Peggy Jo Allen, all of the University of Kentucky, spent the week-end with their respective parents.

Miss Peggy Jo Allen had as her houseguests this week-end her friends, Misses Agnes Sublette and Esther Kaub, of the University of Kentucky, all of whom motored to Hyden, Ky., Sunday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Allen and Miss Harriet Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. May, Jr., motored to Huntington for shopping Friday, visiting Mrs. May's father, Theo Snoddy, in Ashland, before their return.

Miss Harriet Allen attended a defense benefit dance and bridge at the Pikeville Country Club Saturday evening.

Miss Lucille Hyden, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hyden, Warco, is able to be in school again, following a severe illness.

Little Miss Joyce Cobb, daughter of Mrs. James Webb, of Warco, is ill in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gazay, of Jeff, Ky., were called here Monday by the death of Mrs. Gazay's grandmother, Mrs. John Amburgy. Mrs. Gazay is the daughter of Mrs. Dean Amburgy, whom she is now visiting.

Sgt. Bernard Balderige, of the U. S. Army Air Corps, Montgomery, Ala., is visiting relatives here with his bride, the former Miss Fannie Halbert.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Hahn and children were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. May Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Webb, of Allen, were visiting here Sunday afternoon.

Earl Webb, who has been confined to his home for the past few weeks, is now recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Hayes and Mrs. J. B. Hahn were shopping in Huntington Saturday.

Mrs. Mark Reed and daughter, Barbara Kay, have recently returned from a visit with Mrs. Reed's sister, Mrs. Martha Stith, in Ashland. Mrs. Reed attended the meeting of her club in Drift Wednesday evening.

HERE IS A BOUQUET

From many Maytownites, who appreciate the services extended the sick, afflicted, needy, dying and bereaved, by one whose efforts have won her a place in the hearts of all who know of her thoughtful kindnesses. The weather is never too bad, the home too distant; she can and does go, often into poverty-stricken homes, which know no other help. She never asks about dollars for pay—generally, there are none—she just serves willingly and faithfully, giving a part of herself to the suffering. Most of you know her. If you do not, this clue may help you identify her. She is the daughter of a former pastor of the Maytown Methodist Church.

Floyd County Idle Receive Benefits Totalling $4,153

Unemployed workers in Floyd county, covered by the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Law, received benefit payments totalling $4,153 during February, Executive Director V. E. Barnes, of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission, announced last week. A total of 30 new claims were filed in the county during the month, Barnes said, while 148 unemployed workers continued claims which they had previously filed. The cumulative state total for February, Barnes said, was 8,248 new claims filed; 36,740 continued claims filed; and $269,697.22 in benefits paid. Generally speaking, Barnes said, an unemployed worker who during the year 1941 earned as much as $200 in wages from employers subject to the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Law (for the most part this includes employers of four or more regular employees), and who are unemployed through no fault of their own, are now eligible for unemployment benefits.

DWALE

(Last week's correspondence) The health nurse visited the Dwale school this week. Several of the children were inoculated against diphtheria and typhoid.

Both classrooms enjoyed an "Easter Egg" hunt Friday.

Billie Jean Goble has entered school again, after being ill for two months.

We have a decrease in our attendance, due to the farming season.

We greatly appreciate the health poster Mrs. Layman, the health nurse, gave us.

Ralph and Herman Lafferty were out of school a few days, because they were ill with mumps.

Members of the eighth grade class are working hard, preparing for their examination at the end of the term.

The fourth grades have begun their insect collection again. They started last fall.

DRIFT

(Last week's correspondence)

The Sunday School here is progressing nicely, with Mrs. Glenn Matingly as superintendent. Average attendance is around 75.

On Easter Sunday a program was arranged in which about 50 children participated, followed by an Easter egg hunt.

People in this vicinity not attending our Sunday School are invited to attend—you are all welcome.

Misses Claire and Ruth Ulmer, missionaries who assist in church and Sunday School in this vicinity, who have been vacationing at their homes in Pennsylvania for the past several weeks, are expected to return Wednesday.

The weekly prayer meeting will meet Thursday of this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Shannon. Next week, April 16, the meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fraley. All are invited to attend these meetings.

SOCIAL ITEMS

The final meeting of 1941-42 Drift P.-T. A. was held at the schoolhouse Monday night, April 6. A delightful program was presented by the school children.

Later, a business meeting was held at which new officers were elected for the coming year.

A surprise birthday party honoring Mrs. R. E. Shay was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Jones Friday evening, April 3. Mrs. Shay was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

ALL OF US ARE INVOLVED

CURRENT platitude No. 1 is, We are at war.

No exclamation belongs after that sentence, it is a mere statement of fact.

It is not news to the county, the town or nation.

So what! What is our reaction to that news? That is what counts.

Must you see enemy aircraft winging overhead, hear enemy bombs and shells bursting in your own backyard before you can realize that your own little corner of the world is involved in this fight to the finish?

Have you so little imagination that you see civilians leaving today to become the soldiers of tomorrow, without thought of them or their importance to you, your community, county and nation?

Must the crack of doom resound in your ears before you can realize there can be a doom for you and all of us? Must a medal appear on the soldier's breast before you can imagine him heroically breasting the foe?

We are at war.

You and all of us—all in the maelstrom that will seethe and surge, and from which the strong, the winner who breasts the current fearlessly, will emerge victorious.

When the victory is won, as surely it will be, then men will take an accounting. Their broad perspective in that great day will not include only the obvious hero; over the years, we all shall be remembered for what we did as opportunity was offered.

(By NEIGHBOR)

I hear (via the Big Sandy News) that "the Louisa City Council at its monthly meeting Tuesday, voted to quarantine dogs because of a threatened spread of rabies and directed Mayor C. T. Britton to dispose of the old city cast iron light poles for scrap iron." Tch! tch! no wonder the little critters are gettin' mad—they'll probably be left without a pole to stand beside!

The Lawrence county fiscal court, at a special one-day meeting, granted the Hope Engineering Company, Parkersburg, W. Va., permission to lay pipe lines under the roads in the Webbville and Straight Creek section. 'Tis said, the line being built from the middle West to the East coast, will aid in alleviating the oil shortage on the eastern seaboard due to "sub sinking" of coastwise tankers.

Wal, shuffle my bustle! The same paper recounts this from its files of April 7, 1889: "A young lady who responded with the cash to an advertisement of a means to keep her hands soft received the following reply: 'Just soak them in dishwater three times a day while mother rests!' To say the least, advertising paid even in "them days"! Also, another line dated dated April 7, 1887, 53 years ago, laconically, states, "Salt sells at 51 cents a barrel in Michigan, the barrel thrown in!"

Ps-st! The Eloise correspondent sez, "The stork flew over Eloise Friday, April 3, and left a boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller." Say, if that wasn't a little "hit-and-run accident" why—er—and—well, keep 'em flyin'!

And the Paintsville Herald said that Dr. W. E. Akin, who used to be located up around Wayland, will leave the Paintsville hospital staff and report for active duty in the United States navy at Charleston, S. C., on May 1. "Doc," then will be known as Lieutenant Commander W. E. Akin.

'S a fact! The Paintsville Country Club is organized for 1942, with E. J. Evans as secretary and treasurer. Coach Mont Weaver resigned as Paintsville high school's coach and left Sunday for Chanute Field, Ill., where he will take a four-months course as instructor in airplane mechanics.

The warrior's Valhalla is not for all of us. The slacker's role must not be for all of us; else, there will be no Valhalla.

That rusted plow share in the lot—let it be a piece of shining armor for the national defense; that blackened bit of rubber, that forgotten rag—make them a part of the victory effort.

In the mountains of Serbia a patriot general leads his fellow-mountaineers in relentless battle against Hitler's legions. Others have fawned and bent the knee before the conqueror. But not these Serbs.

With the fierce, flaming spirit of independence and the hatred of oppression by which these mountaineers are imbued there is a kinship in America wherever mountaineers dwell. To such as these liberty is as necessary as air and food and drink.

Not all of us, however, will carry a rifle or fly a plane in this war. Some of us must do the humbler, though none the less patriotic chores.

Then let us be doing them.

HOW TO CURE THE EVIL

SHERIFFS in Virginia will go on a salary basis next January as a result of a 1942 law abolishing the ancient fee system for these officers and city sergeants.

The measure, abolishing the fee system, which always injected a profit consideration in handling of prisoners, was one of several bills sponsored by the Virginia Advisory Legislative Council to modernize the state's penal system. The other bills, also enacted, established a state department of corrections and a system of probation and parole, and abolished the office of constable.

Maximum compensation of sheriffs and city sergeants was set by the new law at $6,000 a year, with salaries graded according to size of jurisdiction. The Commonwealth will pay two-thirds and localities one-third of the salaries, and will divide fee collections similarly. The fee system of paying county officers still is found in about half a dozen states—including West Virginia—despite its elimination in many places during the last several years. The system is a relic of early days of the country, when many public officers received fees or commissions and were allowed to retain them as compensation without reporting the amount.—Huntington (W. Va.) Herald Advertiser.

BETSY LAYNE

By JAMES BLEVINS

The sophomore class of the Betsy Layne high school was honored at a party on Thursday night, April 2, in the high school gymnasium by the sponsor, Mr. Dingus. Games were played and refreshments were served. The following faculty members were present: Mr. Howard, Mr. Haywood, Miss Hale and Mr. Hayes.

The sensational basketball game of the year was played at the high school gymnasium here Friday night on donkeys. Male faculty members opposed the P-T. A. men and were defeated by a score of 10 to 6.

$400 Loot Reported As Business Firms, Car Owners Raided

A series of petty robberies were committed in Prestonsburg and vicinity during the past week. Two entries on Saturday night involved an estimated loss of $400 at the new Purol service station and an undetermined loss at Morell's hardware store on Court street. Howard Brown, service station manager, said the robbers took a cash register containing $125 in cash, a radio, candy, soft drinks and an unknown amount of oil.

Chief of Police Epp Laferty said that three tire thefts had been reported to him. Recently, thieves jacked up the truck belonging to Solly Derossett and removed the four tires from the wheels. A resident of Little Paint reported the loss of three tires and two new tubes. Green Cooley, Chief of Police Laferty said, was a victim of tire thieves to the extent of two new tires.

Floyd Registrants In Third Draft Are Questioned

Nine hundred Floyd countians between the ages of 20 and 45 who registered Feb. 16 under selective service for possible military service this week received their questionnaires from Selective Service Boards 44 and 45 here.

The boards were also preparing to mail to registrants a special occupational questionnaire, it was announced.

Board 44 mailed 400 questionnaires, Board 45, 500, which are to be filled out and returned within 10 days to the applicants' respective boards here, so that a conception may be gained of registrants' fitness for military service. The occupational questionnaire is for the purpose of determining the fitness of registrants for specialized work, in industry or with the armed forces.

Draft officials stressed the importance of careful filling out of these questionnaires and their prompt return to their proper draft board.

Draft Board 44 Monday released the list of registrants and the places where registration of the 45-65-year age group will be held April 27. The list follows, the first individual named in each case being chief registrar:

By "DICK" DICKERSON Richmond, Ky., April 14 (Spl.)—Now enrolled in the Eastern State Teachers' College here are 19 Floyd county students. They are:

When Earl Leslie, who hails from Estill, was enrolling for his classes he was asked what he would like to major in. Earl thought for a minute and then remarked, "Art." Someone asked him why he chose that subject and he quickly remarked, "I heard about an artist who worked his way through college by painting eyes on students' eyelids so they could go to sleep in class without being noticed, and I think that is a good way for me to earn enough money to come to school."

The Floyd County Times has the largest circulation of any paper on the campus. Yeah!—one person gets the paper and 18 others read it in succession. For instance, just today finished reading about the storm that did some damage to Floyd county. We really like the advertisements, too. Anyone wishing to contribute a subscription, please call The Floyd County Times at once.

April 9 was Floyd County Day on the campus, but we didn't see any students. Guess the school buses must be leaking, as it was raining that day.

TO HER MEMORY

Lula Davidson Trautman, daughter of the late John P. M. Davidson, and Judith Mayo Martin Davidson, was born Dec. 16, 1884, past 57 years old. She joined in holy wedlock with Rev. H. M. Trautman, Methodist pastor, March 1921, by Dr. E. W. Stevens, District Superintendent, Altoona, Pa. She was active in church work whenever her health permitted. She was a great lover of children and young folks and whenever able would organize them into clubs for action. On several charges she organized Girl Scout troops, and she had great times with them. She was in such poor health most of the time she could not carry out her ideas. She joined the Woman's Christian Service Society at Newton-Hamilton, Pa. She was one of the charter members.

She belonged to the Red Cross division of the Methodist Church Camp. She entertained the Society on March 17 with a St. Patrick's Day program, and the Red Cross unit, at the training camp. She was too ill to do it, but she carried it out and went down in two days with the dreaded pneumonia to her sad fate. But we hope a glorious victory through the King of Kings.

She had great social qualities, and wherever she went she soon got in touch with folks and formed lasting friendships. She loved to see people and talk with them and enter into their doings.

She was a great reader of history and poetry, especially, and wrote many articles.

How she loved to talk about her Kentucky friends and relatives! I learned a great deal about the history of her family connections, so the names seem so familiar that I seem to know them all. She always had a good word for every one of them.

She was a member for many years of the D.A.R. Society and was deeply interested in it. She was a member of the Prestonsburg Chapter, and an auxiliary member of several chapters in Pennsylvania.

She lived with me on the different charges of the Central Pennsylvania Conference for 19 years, then three years in retirement. Here her great task was her home. She loved our little home and delighted in arranging things to suit her taste. She left our home for a better one. I am looking forward to a "glorious reunion in the Morning." May our gracious heavenly Father keep her till then. There will be no severe suffering nor loneliness. God bless and keep you, dear, till we meet in the Morning. Goodbye!

REV. H. M. TRAUTMAN, Newton-Hamilton, Pa. This poem from her pen was read at her funeral services:

TO MOTHER

I love the bluebells growing Down by a purling stream, I love the daisies blooming In the meadow soft and green. I love the blue grass swaying In the summer breeze—I do—I love all these.

I love remembered faces, And old, old precious places Where the "ivy clings." I love the bluebirds singing And the violets peeping through the springtime sod, And little children singing— To me, all these speak of mother and of God.

I love all these more for love of mother, Mother loved all of springtime splendors, Earth and reaching sky, Now these treasured joys are blended With a faith so high. In this world where lack of loving Grieves us, as down life's pathway we tread I am glad for love like Mother's and God's.

SALVAGE BODY

salvaged materials from the several accumulation points to the Prestonsburg storage center in the Salvage Committee's headquarters. Highway trucks, WPA trucks and those of co-operating firms and individuals will join in hauling materials here. Shipments from Prestonsburg, it was said, will be in carload lots.

Designation of central stations over the county where salvaged materials may be picked up was being made this week. Those contributing such materials are asked to make the handling of scrap as easy as possible—to arrange newspapers and magazines and tie them in neat bundles, to cut cardboard boxes open and flatten them.

W. Carey Burchett, Salvage Committee director, presiding at Tuesday evening's meeting, emphasized the fact that the profit motive does not enter into the undertaking—that all contributions and work are free. Whatever money realized above expenses from the sale of scrap will be dedicated to the use of some defense effort—the entertainment of selectees here, the work of Civilian Defense and other causes.

Various members of the committee and interested citizens discussed phases of the salvage work.

Beginning Monday, April 20, a clerk supplied by the Works Progress Administration will be at the Salvage Committee headquarters during each day. Those interested in helping to move waste materials on to the production of tanks and guns and airplanes are asked to telephone these numbers in Prestonsburg, if advice is needed: 3081, Salvage Committee headquarters; W. Carey Burchett, Salvage Committee director, at 6791; W. Claude Caudill, director of the Civilian Defense Committee at 4571. Prestonsburg residents finding scrap materials too cumbersome for delivery at the salvage center here are requested to telephone C. H. Smith at 4961 or 5263 so that trucks may be sent for such materials.

A paper baler, constructed by the NYA shop here, has been installed at the salvage center, so that scrap paper of all kinds can be handled. Other balers for location in yet other communities may be built later.

Committee members and interested citizens attending Tuesday evening's meeting are: Mrs. John Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Myers, Drift; Jesse Elliott and Earl Hays, of Betsy Layne; James Stephenson, Cliff; Mrs. N. Graves Davis, Prestonsburg; Lon C. Hill, David; I. H. Triplett, W. Claude Caudill, Town Hall, S. L. Isbell, Norman Allen, N. M. White, Jr., R. D. Francis, J. D. Fitzpatrick, C. H. Smith, George Straughan, W. G. Africa and Warren Hale, all of Prestonsburg.

The committee's next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, April 28.

DEFERRED LIST

Counties having from 25 to 50 such cases are Adair, Boyd, Breckinridge, Butler, Carlisle, Cumberland, Daviess, Fayette, Fulton, Grayson, Green, Greenup, Harrison, Hart, Jackson, Jessamine, Knox, Lee, Letcher, Leslie, Lincoln, McCreary, Montgomery, Nelson, Powell, Rowan, Russell, Simpson, Taylor, Todd, Union, Wayne and Whitley.

Counties having from 50 to 100 such cases are Barren, Breathitt, Bell, Franklin, Henderson, Hopkins, Knott, Marion, Monroe, Perry, Pulaski and Warren.

Counties having 100 are Casey, Christian, Harlan, Jefferson, Muhlenberg and Pike.

The situation was the subject of a meeting in Louisville recently.

The result of this meeting was the more or less informal launching of the state wide campaign. It was agreed that representatives of various groups that they would start seeking out prospective selectees of their own neighborhoods and urge others affiliated with such groups in other localities to do the same, so that those who are illiterate can be given the required training at once.

"The army's regulations require the equivalent of a fourth-grade education, which for the purposes of induction is held to be mainly the ability to read and write," explained Col. Frank D. Rash, Kentucky selective service director.

"Under these regulations we have found in Kentucky a total of 1,332 prospective selectees already rejected for illiteracy, and another group of approximately 2,404 potential 1-A men now deferred and probably to be rejected for this deficiency. "This is a total of approximately 3,736 men subtracted from the manpower output of the state's draft boards. Besides the lessening of the number of selectees from Kentucky, it throws the number order sequence out of gear and might prove an important hindrance to the maintenance of the best morale among the selectee-aged groups."

It was explained that the army once relaxed its educational requirements, but now was insisting upon the equivalent of a fourth-grade education.

It was agreed by those present that the ideal way to handle the problem would be to induct otherwise qualified illiterate selectees and give them the required training in army classes. This, in fact, has been tried in some instances. The procedure, however, seems in disfavor with army authorities and hence the community campaign plan was decided upon.

Accepting at the Louisville meeting the task of serving on a continuing advisory committee to the state selective service, were George H. Goodman, Kentucky WPA administrator; John W. Brooker, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Mark F. Ethridge, vice-president and general manager of The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times; Robert W. Wilson, Lexington, commander of the Kentucky Department, American Legion, and Stephen A. Burnley, head of the Louisville branch of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored Race.

Mr. Goodman told the meeting of the work WPA has been doing in training applicants for air force examinations and other such personnel and said teacher facilities were available in many localities throughout Kentucky. He estimated that sufficient training in reading and writing could be imparted in four weeks to qualify selectees for induction under army standards. Mr. Goodman agreed to have his organization take charge of such classes wherever they are needed.

Transportation Expert Warns Against Needless Motor Vehicle Restrictions

Handicapping highway transportation with unnecessary rules and extreme restrictions would interfere seriously with the nation's war effort, Professor Harry E. Stocker, of New York University, nationally-known transportation authority, warns in a study just issued on the "Inherent Advantages of Motor Transportation."

"England took the false step, when under peace conditions she relegated highway transportation to an inconspicuous position in the economics of the British Isles," Prof. Stocker declared. "After the war began, she recognized her mistake and acted to utilize the inherent advantages of motor transportation to help win the war."

"When the inherent technical and economic advantages of motor transportation are interfered with by unfair legislation, there is a loss to the nation not alone in higher costs for transportation, and restriction or destruction of superior service, but also in the lack of facilities for modernized mechanized warfare."

"To throttle highway transportation by unnecessary and extreme rules, regulations, priorities and prohibitions, might prove to be one of the greatest handicaps which could be imposed upon the national defense effort."

Beloved Floyd Woman Succumbs Monday At Maytown

Mrs. John Amburgy, 84 years old, died Monday morning at 10:20 o'clock at her Maytown home after an illness of four weeks of senility.

Born Nancy Burgey, May 28, 1857, she was married to John Amburgy, nine children being born to the union. Her husband and three daughters survive. The surviving daughters are: Mrs. Joe Bownes, of Pinetop, Ky.; Mrs. Minnie Smith, of Martin; Mrs. Lije Warrick, of Jaeger, W. Va. She also is survived by 30 grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

"Grandma" Amburgy, as she was affectionately known, joined the Methodist Church 60 years ago, and remained faithful in her belief to the end, serving actively in community and church work until old age overtook her. She had many friends of all ages and from all walks of life. Despite numerous physical ailments and prolonged sufferings, she was bright and cheerful, ever thoughtful of the welfare and comfort of others, concerned only with her loved ones, even to the end.

Mrs. Amburgy had lived in Maytown with the exception of one year since the summer of 1926, making her home in the small residence on the property of her late son, Dean Amburgy. During the last month of her life her relatives and scores of friends had been in constant attendance at her bedside.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon from the Maytown Methodist Church, the Rev. J. B. Hahn officiating. Interment was under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home. The presence of a large group of sorrowing friends and the beautiful floral offerings attested to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

P'burg Man's Brother, Commander of Sub, Considered Lost

Public release of news telling of the loss of the U. S. submarine Perch in Pacific waters was preceded by the receipt here Friday by J. R. Hurt, superintendent of the Sandy Valley Coal Company, Water Gap, of a telegram from the Navy department stating that his brother, Lieutenant Commander David A. Hurt, 38, was reported missing. Lieut. Com. Hurt was commander of the submarine, which had been long overdue after operating in the Java Sea. He was graduated from the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., in 1925 and was transferred to Undersea craft, six years ago. He is survived by his widow and three children. Fate of his crew has not been determined, but relatives have been notified that they are presumed to be lost.

Orator Prizewinner To Buy a Bond With Award

Pretty Virginia Turner, 17-year-old McDowell high school senior, "practices what she preaches."

She did so well preaching the doctrine of "Your American Duty—To Buy Defense Bonds" that she won the Floyd county oratorical contest here Friday night.

She practiced that doctrine so faithfully that she used the $15 cash prize she thus won toward purchasing a Defense Bond.

Miss Turner, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Turner, was coached by Prof. George L. Moore, principal of the McDowell consolidated school. She will represent Floyd county in the district contest at Paintsville, April 24.

Second prize of $10 was won by Gus Blevins, of Martin high school; third prize, $5, by Miss Bobby Hicks, of Wayland high school. The cash awards were contributed by the First National Bank and The Bank Josephine, the state contest being sponsored by the Kentucky Bankers' Association. Winner of the district meet at Paintsville will go to Louisville to compete May 1 with other district champions for the $500 scholarship offered by the Bankers' Association. Twenty-seven other prizes are also offered contestants in the state finals.

Norman Shelton of Logan county reported a net profit of $625 from a flock of 265 pullets, on March 1.

FOR SHERIFF We are authorized to announce FRANK P. HAYS of Hueysville, Ky., as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for SHERIFF at the August, 1942 primary election. TO THE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEEMEN AND COMMITTEEWOMEN OF FLOYD COUNTY: In announcing my candidacy for chairman of the Democratic party in Floyd county, I want to make public three facts concerning myself, which are essential to harmony in the party and honesty in public elections. They are: (1) I am not a professional politician. (2) I have no special candidate or selfish reason for wanting the chairmanship. (3) I am not for sale, and I will not trade on your confidence. Your support will be remembered. Sincerely yours, LON C. HILL (Pol. adv.) BUY DEFENSE BONDS! WE WELCOME YOU R. M. HALL'S BARBER SHOP R. M. HALL, Manager Opposite Bank Josephine PRESTONSBURG, KY.

WAYLAND HOT SHOTS By R. H. Richard Vinson, assistant manager of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation stores here, decided to go to the defense plants. He heard of the "honey pond" and "fritter trees." So he moved out of the camp and stored his furniture. Two weeks later, Mr. Vinson moved back to the same house. I have not interviewed him yet, but I am certain he built three or four bombers or maybe a battleship. Crada Terry did the same thing, only he returned in about one week. I think he built one tank. Otis Bussey and family, of David, were visiting Rufus Bussey, his father, here recently. Pvt. Atlas Gramm, W. S. Warwick's grandson, was back from Ft. Knox for a recent visit. He had a hunting license issued from Uncle Sam, open season on Japs, with no bag limit. The boy said he was going to give his license to Mr. Warwick but I'm afraid Dad would not make much of a Jap hunter. He's sixty seven years old. He might give the license to Flint Johnson or some of the other boys who received their call for sometime this month. Sgt. Terry Bussey has also been back on furlough recently. He is the son of Rufus Bussey, brother of "Fat," Otto and "Bull Dawson" Bussey. SHERIFF'S SALE George Hereford, W. M. Connolly and T. M. Huffman, Jr., Plaintiffs Vs.—NOTICE OF SALE J. B. ATTACK MADE

Constitutionality of the law giving County Judges power to regulate roadhouse hours was attacked in the petition. The plaintiff contends that the permitting of roadhouses in incorporated towns to remain open longer than those outside such towns amounts to "class legislation" and is therefore unconstitutional.

(Regulation of hours in incorporated towns rests with town councils.)

The petition also alleged that Judge Hill failed to provide by the provision in the law that he enter, within 30 days after entering office, an order fixing hours of roadhouse operation. He failed to enter any order of the kind for several months, the petition alleges.

County Attorney Woodrow W. Burchett declared roadhouse operators are "barking up the wrong tree in this case." He predicted that Judge Hill will be upheld in circuit court.

Rath's petition also claimed that the 8 p.m. War Time closing hour is two hours before sunset and that this would deprive the public "of an opportunity to secure recreation during the hours which they, as a general custom, are wont to do."

Right of the Club Rustique here to operate later hours than roadhouses elsewhere in the county because of its inclusion in the city limits of Prestonsburg was challenged this week by Judge Hill by issuing a warrant for its owner, Frank H. Layne.

Judge Hill contends that the Club Rustique is not legally a part of Prestonsburg.

presses, metal shape-, metal lathes, spot and arc welders and other war production machines.

In the Prestonsburg NYA shop, and in other NYA shops throughout Kentucky, the machinery is similar to that used in war industry. When youth have mastered these machines they are ready to take their places on industrial production lines. Three months is the average time required to prepare an inexperienced youth for a war job.

Since the Prestonsburg metal shop is just getting under way, the 124 youth employed there have not yet been engaged in production for the army. However, Herbert Marcum, Area Director, said he expects the local shop to be called on in the near future to help make army equipment.

First of the youths employed in the shop here to be called to war industry work is Alex Allen, Jr., son of the Rev. A. L. Allen, of Allen, after doing 100 hours of work in three weeks. He left April 9 for the Glenn L. Martin Bomber Company plant, Baltimore, Md., and eight other youths are ready for war industry employment as soon as their birth certificates are proved.

Each month approximately 500 youth leave Kentucky NYA shops for jobs. About half of this number are sent to war industries in eastern states. Others are placed in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio war plants. Those sent east are transferred un-the bright coloring of the sunset, her hair is as black as the raven's wing. The young folks of the neighborhood are just coming into this home, being welcomed at the door by this beautiful fairy. Two young men of the neighborhood whose conduct has been so bad that the young lady could not in self-respect invite them to be present on this occasion, are riding by on a couple of mules. They are displeased because they are not invited. It is evident from their countenances, as they look back over their shoulders as they ride on their way to a blind tiger three miles down the creek. Something like an hour has passed from the time they went by this house. The music of the banjo and the shuffle of feet are now evidencing the good times these young folks are having at the home of this young lady. These boys are returning from the blind tiger. And you can hear the jingle of spurs and the whoop of hell and men singing, "When the last gold dollar is gone." Gentlemen of the grand jury, it is your duty to indict these boys. Bring them to me and I will attend to them.

There is yet another circumstance, gentlemen of the jury, to which I invite your attention. There is a little country church by the roadside. Some good Christian mother has planted a little maple tree in front of it to beautify and make comfortable the entrance of this church. It is yet a tender little tree. The good country folks on the inside of this church are earnestly singing praises and uttering prayers to Almighty God. A young feller with a spur on each foot, his hat tilted to one side, a bandana handkerchief around his neck, rides up to the church on a mule. He dismounts and instead of riding out a little distance and hitching his mule to a fence post or to the swinging limb of a beech tree, he hitches the mule to the tender little maple tree and above the sound of the songs and the prayers in the church the bray of his mule can be heard as he gnaws all the bark from this tree and destroys it. Gentlemen, that feller should be indicted and brought before me. I'll attend to him. A man like that would ride a jackass into the garden of Eden, spit in the face of Adam and Eve, and hitch the animal to the tree of life.

Gentlemen of the grand jury, I see an old man going cat-cornered across a meadow field. Across his shoulder he has an old-fashioned rifle with a barrel about ten feet long. Hanging by his side is an old leather pouch containing some leaden bullets and some factory patchin' and attached to this shot pouch is a bull's horn filled with powder. This old gun and shot pouch are at least 100 years old. This old man has started to the woods. Now, gentlemen, I want you to leave that old man alone. He does not mean any harm. He is going to kill a squirrel for a sick child. But there is another fellow and I want you to attend to him. I see a young fellow sitting on a bank on the upper side of the road under the shade of a big beech tree. He is all alone. Across his lap is one of those new-fangled Winchester shot-guns. He has a pretty leather belt around his waist and it is all filled with cartridges. His hat is tilted to one side, a peacock feather adorns it, and he has a red silk handkerchief around his neck. If you get close to him, he smells like musk. He is singing "Sourwood Mountain." I want you to indict him. If he has not already done something, he is fixing to. Indict him and bring him before me and I will send him to the calaboose.

and shooting into an auto indictments against Tuley Salisbury and Oliver Allen, of Garrett, were dismissed this week when witnesses were found to be in the military service and unavailable.

The voluntary manslaughter charge against Ervin Combs was dismissed on the grounds that proof was insufficient to convict.

Although their wives voluntarily appeared as witnesses against them, Grady and Carroll Dotson, Pike county men, were acquitted this week of a charge of breaking and entering a store. The Commonwealth failed to establish proof of how they effected entry into the building; at the same time, the defendants denied their guilt.

Unhappy

When the Mesdames Dotson voluntarily supplied information that their husbands were in possession of items which Add Thacker, Wheelwright, identified as goods from his store, defense attorney B. M. James asked if they did not seek conviction of the two men so that divorces could be had. When the two were acquitted, they indicated that their wives could have divorces without further trouble.

Other major indictments returned by the grand jury follow:

Grady and Carroll Dotson, store-house breaking; George Burchfield, rape; Lum Derossett and Earl Watkins, arson; Clarence Brown, shooting into dwelling house; Willie Cox, shooting and wounding; Jack and Grace Morrow (separate indictments), possessing moonshine whisky for the purpose of sale; Mollie Clay, possessing illegal whisky for the purpose of sale; Ellis Little, carrying concealed deadly weapon; Malcolm Sexton and Ollie Boyd, adultery and fornication; Henry Shipman, carnally knowing a female under the age of 16.

Oma Burke and Dorothy Murphy, permitting on premises a slot machine; Jack and Grace Morrow, permitting on premises a gaming device; McKinley Hunter, cutting and wounding; Arnold Hall, child desertion; Harry Howard, child desertion; Johnie Hancock, forgery; Lawson Brown and Jess Damron, embezzlement; Gus Little, striking and wounding; Sid Scutchfield, shooting and wounding; Robie Harmon, obtaining money under false pretenses; Delbert (Red) Ison, shooting and wounding; Jim Allen, possessing moonshine whisky.

A SOLDIER MEDITATES
By FRANK MUSIC

(THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES has long refused to publish poetry because the rejection of contributions, however unmeritorious, from friends or acquaintances is an unpleasant task. The following, written by an ex-soldier who was discharged Feb. 11, 1941 after three years of service because of an illness of diabetes, and now a senior in Auxier high school, is, in our judgment, of such merit that we feel justified for the nonce in violating this rule.—Editor.)

Six months ago today I raised my hand, And, when the oath was read, replied, "I do." Becoming thus a soldier for my land For three long years, to serve her staunch and true. Six months have gone—long, weary, endless days Of toil in wind and rain and burning sun; Dreaming of home and familiar ways, The family hearthside prayer when day is done. A child's sweet laughter on the evening breeze, A mother's lullaby, the moon-

Hueysville Woman, Victim Wednesday

Mrs. Hala May Prater, 33 years old, wife of Dan Prater, Jr., Hueysville, died at 12:30 a.m., Wednesday, at her home of childbirth complications.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are her three children—her unnamed babe, Dallas and Meredith. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Refitt. Surviving brothers and sisters are Mrs. Anna Ousley and Ellis Refitt, Rlsner; Clyde and Buster Refitt, Alphoneta; Jonah Refitt, McClain, O.; Tommy Refitt, Pyramid; Mrs. Bertha Bradley, Mantion.

The burial was made in the Prater cemetery, near Hueysville, Thursday afternoon, the Ryan Funeral Home directing. Funeral rites were conducted from the home, the Revs. A. J. Moore and Ed Howard officiating.

Naval Recruiting Officer To Be in P'burg 2 Days a Week

There will be a representative of the Navy Recruiting Service at the postoffices in the following towns each week on dates noted for the purpose of examining and accepting men interested in serving their country in either the U. S. Navy or Naval Reserve:

Prestonsburg, Fridays and Saturdays; Pikeville, Wednesdays and Thursdays; Paintsville, Mondays and Tuesdays.

Many vacancies for men between ages of 17 and 50 exist at present. Qualified men between ages of 17 and 36 may enlist as apprentice seamen and sent to the Training Station for regular recruit training, with a prospect of attending one of the specialists' schools, if desired.

From This County In Houston, Tex., Report Says

Missing since late last month, Raymond Griffith, 21, Martin, Edward Allen, 19, Langley; Mary Elizabeth Payne, 17, and her sister, Aletha, 15, both of Estill, were held last week by federal authorities at Houston, Texas, state highway patrol headquarters at Pikeville said.

Griffith picked the two girls up at Wayland high school, highway patrolmen said they were told, and drove southward in a beer-laden Double-Cola truck which he was operating. The company by which he was employed claimed he left in possession of $250 of its funds.

It was not stated if federal charges have been filed against all four occupants of the truck. Patrolmen said the Federal Bureau of Investigation had refused Kentucky authorities custody of the quartette.

Shortly after their disappearance Willard H. Eaves, of the Pikeville office, Federal Bureau of Investigation, entered the case. Violation of the motor vehicle act and the Mann act were seen as probable charges that may be filed.
