

THURSDAY

PATRIOTIC NOMENCLATURE

Floyd county's papas and mamas are very patriotic. They're not only sending the older boys to fight; they've named 23 boys, born since Jan. 1--yep, you guessed it--Douglas MacArthur.

PATRIOTIC INVESTMENTS

And, speaking of patriotism, seven-year-old Billy Joe Stephens has already bought two $25 War Bonds with allotment money sent home to him by his dad, Corporal Joe Stephens of the 87th Bomber Squadron. The lad, a grandson of the Rev. Alex Stephens, plans to buy a Bond a month.

STILL HOPEFUL

Wish those whom this newspaper has been a friend to would remember it as faithfully when they have job-printing to do as those who have a grudge against us remember to send their work elsewhere.

BROTHERS STICK TOGETHER

It is true that there in One who sticks closer than a brother, but this is a story of how close brothers can stick.

It is a story of Wayland's Dixon brothers--Thomas, 18; Mervil, 21. A few weeks ago, before the August draft call was announced, Thomas became convinced that his brother would be inducted this month, so he came here and volunteered in the army. But when draft officials notified registrants of their coming induction, Thomas learned that Mervil's number was too high for his inclusion in the August quota. That would have meant a separation after all the younger brother's offer of sacrifice--had not Mervil solved the problem by volunteering, too.

The brothers are sons of Frank Dixon, a veteran of World War I who invariably is here to bid departing selectees goodbye and offer them cigarettes and candy. He was here Monday morning when his volunteer-sons left with the group of selectees from board 44.

BEMEDALED RECRUIT

When Knott county's new crop of selectees line up for the first time at Ft. Thomas (after their present 14-day furlough is over), there's going to be some eyes a-poppin'.

For Pvt. Burbage Gibson "aims," he declares, to step out in his brand-new uniform with all his World War I medals pinned on his breast. All of 'em--the Order of Purple Heart, the D. S. C., and all the rest.

In Prestonsburg Friday evening for a brief visit with his niece, Mrs. W. W. Burchett, Gibson announced his intention of wearing the medals he won in the first World War. He had them all shined up and ready.

Gibson, a resident of Moulie, volunteered at the age of 16 for World War I service, was in seven battles with the Third division. Though now 41, he was never married and so is eligible for a bit more action.

A BIG REASON

Attendance Officer Leonard Martin was recently advised that if eight-year-old Paul Delong, of Banner, doesn't turn up for school there's a big reason. It's because the boy is so big. Four feet, two inches tall, he weighs 162 pounds and wears size 42 overalls. Leather shoes are so uncomfortable on his feet that he wears tennis shoes. The youngster is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Delong.

To Form Service Club At Meet To Be Held Here Friday Eve

The American Legion, all Floyd county civic and social clubs and patriotic citizens were asked this week to meet at the office of J. B. Clarke, Prestonsburg attorney, at 7:30 p. m., Friday to form a Service Club which will function for the duration of the war in providing courtesies to Floyd countians leaving for service in the armed forces.

Funds for this purpose, hitherto gained by contributions mainly of citizens and workers in Prestonsburg, Maytown, Wayland, Drift, McDowell and Wheelwright, now are

3 ARRESTED IN SHOOTING OF BOY, GIRL

McKenzie, Miss Ward Wounded Saturday; Both To Recover

Shooting on the Home Front over the week-end resulted in the wounding of a 16-year-old boy and a 17-year-old girl and the arrest of three persons, including the father of the wounded girl.

The wounded are Austin McKenzie, of Brainard, and Miss Billie Jean Ward, of Garrett.

A .22 calibre rifle bullet said to have been fired by Archie Tackett, Brainard, entered McKenzie's left side, perforated his intestines four times and was removed from his right side at the Prestonsburg General hospital. It was said Tuesday that the youth's condition indicates his early recovery. The shooting took place on State Road fork of Middle Creek.

One of three revolver bullets fired from a window of the home of Mrs. Bertha Sexton, of "Baptist Bottom," Garrett suburb, struck Miss Ward in her hip. She is recovering, it was said at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey.

Both shootings took place Saturday night.

FLOYD MEN ARE MISSING

Two Floyd county members of the county's armed forces, a soldier and a sailor, have been reported within the last week as missing in action.

They are Seaman First Class Clyde Dempsey Petrovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lazo Petrovich, of Wheelwright, and Pvt. Robert Earl Brown, son of Mrs. Ella Brown, of Fed.

Mrs. Brown was notified that her son is missing by wire filed at Ottawa, Ontario. It is believed that he may have been with the American Rangers, stationed in England.

Army and Navy censorship kept secret units to which the two men were attached.

81 REJECTED BY ARMY

Is Floyd Selectees Sent For Induction

Approximately 35 per cent of Floyd county's August quota of selectees were declared unfit for military service by the army examining board at Huntington, W. Va., according to unofficial figures received here.

These figures showed that 36 from Board 44 and 45 from Board 45 were rejected.

Sixteen of the 130 men who left here from Board 45 Monday morning were volunteers.

At the same time, Board 44 announced that 14 draft registrants failed to appear here for physical examination Aug. 20, as notified. Their names and addresses were announced by H. T. Hill, clerk of the Board, as follows:

William Jennings Marcum, Prestonsburg; Warren Steele, Honaker; Lewis Spradlin, Pocatello, Idaho; James Clarence Perry, Auxier; Curtis Elliott, Prestonsburg; Tom Nelson, Prestonsburg; Shelley Branham, Bountiful, Utah; Howard Austin Wilhite, Beaver; Isaac Henry Watkins, East Point; Richard Grant Thompson, Amba; Bert Perry, Harold; Kenneth Eugene Osborne, Osborne; Curtis Hall, Blue Moon; Frank Boyd, 355 Obetz Rd., Columbus, Ohio.

Both boards announced that, until official notice is received ordering discontinuance of the Class B rating of draft registrants, this classification will be continued here. A Washington dispatch recently announced that Class B will be discontinued.

ON HUNTING TRIP

Carl Horn and Magistrate Henry Stumbo went to Nicholas county on a squirrel hunting trip last week.

Mine Section Foreman, First Floyd Countian To Pass Officer Test

Willie J. Rainey, section foreman for the Inland Steel Corporation at Wheelwright for several years, with only two years of high school to his credit, became the first Floyd county man to pass the rigid mental and physical requirements of the U. S. Army VOC examination for officers training. He took the examination at Fort Thomas and received the final okeh at Fort Hayes a few days ago.

Rainey, 33, who is married but has no children, came to Draft Board No. 45 headquarters to volunteer for the army, believing he would soon be drafted, said Robert Wallace, clerk of the board, but Wallace, sizing him up as likely timber for an officer, suggested that he take the examination.

Officer candidate Rainey left Monday morning to enter a period of three months basic training, preparatory to being assigned to an officer's school specializing in any branch of the service he might choose. Upon his graduation, he will receive the rank of second lieutenant.

JUNK RALLY PLANS LAID

Wheelwright To Supply 50 Tons; 20 Rallies Slated Saturday

Preparations for Junk Rallies Saturday, this week, in 20 Floyd county towns were considered complete, County Agent S. L. Isbell, Floyd salvage chairman, announced with the appointment of committee leaders in the several localities where the rallies will be held.

Success of county scrap collections for the day was assured as two mining towns promised heavy contributions to the junk pile. E. R. Price, superintendent of the Inland Steel Company Wheelwright, wrote Mr. Isbell that his community expects to fill a 50-ton car with scrap, and Russell Harmon, committeeman at David, said several tons will be gathered there.

Names of local committee leaders, most of whom have pledged their full co-operation during the one-day drive, follow:

Moses Johnson, Garrett; Gorman Collins, Lackey; Charles Moore, McDowell; Bill Hall, Ligon; E. R. Price, Wheelwright; Add Thacker, Wheelwright Junction; Frank Hall, Weeksburg; Rev. Will H. Horn, Auxier; Omery Hall, Fed; Earl Castle, Estill; J. S. Hampton, Gio; Ambrose Mandl, Alphoretta and Manton; Delman Howard, Betsy Layne; Claybourne Bailey, Justell; Chas. Horne, Harold; Mrs. S. B. Begley, Langley; Russell Harmon, David; Virgil Smith, Wayland; W. I. Myers, Drift; Monroe Wicker, Wayland.

W. A. Toney, Floyd county WPA supervisor, has promised that metal and rubber collections in the several centers will be picked up by WPA trucks within a week and brought here. All scrap collected will be paid for at the standard price for such material.

With the flow of scrap steel from Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia off 9,000 tons in the last 30 days, all automobile dealers, second-hand car dealers, finance and insurance companies were warned that all junk cars must be sold to wreckers at a reasonable price or be requisitioned.

Man Involved In Injury Of Hunley Is Acquitted Of Drunkenness Charge

Woodrow Osborne, Wheelwright, companion of Junior Elswick on the night when they are alleged to have knocked Deputy Constable Harrison Hunley from the running board of an automobile at Betsy Layne, severely injuring the officer, was acquitted in Floyd county court Monday of a charge of drunkenness.

Both the defendant and Elswick testified he was not drinking, and another witness stated he did not believe Osborne was drinking or drunk. The officer testified that, in his opinion, Osborne was drunk.

The September grand jury of the Floyd circuit court will be asked to investigate the part played in the injury of the officer by Osborne and Elswick. A warrant charged them with an attempt to kill Hunley.

Pre-Flight Aeronautics, New to Floyd Hi Schools

Despite a threatened shortage of teachers, a new course is being added this year to the curriculum of Floyd county high schools, County Superintendent Town Hall said this week.

The additional training is a course in pre-flight aeronautics, available only to juniors and seniors, and initiated as a war-effort undertaking.

Difficulties in teacher-supply are being faced mainly, Mr. Hall said, in sections where schools are isolated. There are some teachers available, it was said, but they hesitate to leave home to teach.

Branham To Coach

Prestonsburg high school will begin its term Monday, Aug. 31; the Prestonsburg grade school, a week later.

The muddled coaching situation here has apparently cleared up, with Estill Branham as coach, and Walter Price, original choice of the Floyd County Board of Education, scheduled to share with Ed Leslie the Wheelwright coaching duties and to take the position occupied on the faculty by Woodrow Taylor, who resigned to attend to business affairs.

Demands of the armed forces have left one school without a teacher, two without manual training instructors and may cut deeper into the teaching ranks before the

Ill Health Held Cause Of Suicide at Allen Of Gas Worker

Wallace Estep, 48 years old, Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company employe, ended his life at noon Friday at his home near Allen by firing a revolver bullet into his chest.

Despondency over ill health was given as the cause of his suicide. He had worked at the Dwaile compressor station, to which he was transferred from Middle Creek, a few months ago, until Monday noon, last week, when he complained of being ill.

A native of Johnson county, Mr. Estep had been employed in this county by the gas company for about 15 years and had many friends in this section. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Goldie Cantrell Estep, three sons and three daughters: Mrs. Edith Massie, Baltimore, Md.; Cline Estep, in the U. S. army; Walter, Junior, Jane and Betty Jo Estep, all at home.

Funeral rites were conducted at Flat Gap Monday and burial was made in the family cemetery there under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

Floyd Countian, Possessor of Certificates Covering 2,950 Square Inches, Given Honorary Title at Camp Craig

At Craig Field, Ala., army air force advanced flying school, they call Sgt. Otis L. Layne, of Betsy Layne, "M. C."

M. C. stands for Master of Certificates, and the title honors the Floyd countian for a lifetime of study.

Beginning with his grade-school diploma, secured when he was but 13 years old, the Craig non-com has been collecting diplomas ever since, until at the present time he has enough certificates of completion to his credit to cover an area 2950 inches square. He has taken and completed every conceivable kind of course from welding to advanced radio engineering. The following is a condensed list of them: Welding, blueprint reading, primary radio course, airplane maintenance, primary radio mechanics, I.O.S. course in heat treatment of metals, advanced radio engineering, mathematics, airplane mechanics course at Chanute Field, Illinois.

The price of higher education is costly, however, and although Sgt. Layne is naturally very proud of his accomplishment, it required a lot of study.

During the past 23 months the Craig non-com has averaged three hours of study every day. From the period beginning October 1, 1940, until June 7, 1942, Sgt. Layne completed and received diplomas for 13 distinct courses.

He had to read, digest and study in that time 195 text books comprising 112,500 words and prepare answers to innumerable questions in addition to fulfilling his regular duties. But the Sergeant, an ex-football star when he attended Georgetown University, is big and rugged and can take it. Incidentally, he didn't finish his studies at Georgetown, and this is probably the only time he went away empty-handed when a diploma was available.

Sgt. Layne is a tall, stocky, congenial young soldier who looks like a college football star. He was born Nov. 20, 1918, at Betsy Layne, a town named after his great-grandmother, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Layne. He neither drinks nor smokes and is keenly interested in physical culture. As a matter of fact, he completed the Charles Atlas course, thus adding another diploma to his endless total.

At present he is assigned to Sgt. Parrish's Post Mechanics School as an instructor in hydraulics and engineering. He enlisted in the Army at Fort Knox in 1940. He was sent to Maxwell Field for four months and in January, 1941, was transferred to Chanute where he remained

Women To Register Saturday for Work On Surgical Dressings

Mrs. Lillian Keenon, Prestonsburg, chairman of the Red Cross committee in charge of making surgical dressings for the U. S. army, this week asked all Floyd county women to register Saturday between the hours of 3 and 6 p. m., for work in the making of these hospital supplies.

Those unable to come to Prestonsburg may register by mail, Mrs. Keenon said. Mail registration should be addressed to Mrs. Keenon at Prestonsburg and should designate the days and hours the registrant can be here to render this service. Registration here will be conducted at Lee's Jewelry Store.

"Every woman should be able to give a few hours each week to this cause which is of such great importance to our boys in the service who may at any time need these bandages made by their own folks here at home," Mrs. Keenon said.

MURDER CASE UNSOLVED

Allen Joins in Probe Of Gearheart Murder At The 'Blue Moon'

Returning here Wednesday after co-operating with state and Knott county authorities in a two day investigation this week into the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Delza Gearheart, 34, at the Blue Moon roadhouse on the Hindman-Lackey road last Wednesday night, Commonwealth's Attorney John Allen said the case remains as much a puzzle as ever.

The deputy was instantly killed, around 10 o'clock, in front of the Blue Moon, by a charge of buckshot which entered his face and chest. Mrs. T. M. Mann, who with her husband operates the roadhouse, found the body, a matter of seconds after the shot was fired but told authorities she saw nobody in the vicinity of the slaying scene when she came downstairs to where Gearheart lay.

Den D. Fairchild, of Allen, told of spending the night there without knowing murder had been committed. He was not in any way suspected of a part in the crime, the Commonwealth's Attorney said.

The investigation continues, with a member of the state highway patrol assisting Knott officers. The slain officer was a son of Green Gearheart, of Knott county. He was unmarried, and at one time resided on Left Beaver Creek, this county.

The Morell Supply Company this week completed transfer of hardware stock of the Sandy Valley Hardware at Allen to its store here. The local concern purchased outright all of the Allen store's stock, with the exception of paint and wallpaper.

The Sandy Valley Hardware, one of the oldest hardware firms in the Big Sandy Valley, will continue business, it was stated, supplying its customers with paint, wallpaper and explosives but minus its ordinary line of hardware.

An announcement of Morell's to the customers of both concerns appears on another page of this issue.

LIGHT DOCKET FOR COMING COURT TERM

Ten of 141 Cases Listed Are for Murder; Trial Delays Are Expected

The September Floyd circuit court criminal docket of 141 cases is the lightest in years, officials said here this week.

Although four of the 10 murder cases docketed are "not before the court," four or five persons face grand jury indictment in slayings which have occurred since the last criminal court term.

With six shooting and wounding cases, one shooting at without wounding case and four charges of reckless use of a deadly weapon slated for trial, there are only eight cases docketed for carrying a concealed deadly weapon. A number of these cases were disposed of, however, at the last term of court within a short time after indictments were returned by the grand jury.

The Sheriff's office here anticipates difficulty in locating witnesses both for trials and for the grand jury as a result of many witnesses now either being in the armed forces or at defense work.

Six Floyd county officers, or former officers, are named in 11 indictments returned at the last grand jury and are slated for trial at the September term.

The complete docket will be published in THE TIMES next week.

Get Your Ammunition Early, Wakefield Advises

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 27—All hunters should buy their ammunition for shotguns for the coming season as soon as conveniently possible, S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, pointed out today, relative to a statement received from Federal officials in which they stated that there would be no point in hunters and shooters dropping their sport because of the war.

Ammunition factories have ceased manufacturing rifle, pistol and shotgun ammunition for the duration of the war but enough of this type is on hand in wholesale and retail stores to last through this season and possibly next. For that reason federal officials in replies to queries from skeet and trap organizations urged the continuance of these sports and also of hunting as a wholesale recreation.

Wakefield urged all Kentucky hunters to lay in their supply of ammunition for the 1942 hunting season and the 1943 season also.

LITTLE RED GANDHI HOOD

Once upon a time there was a little boy named Mohandas Gandhi. He reminded people of Little Red Riding Hood in a way. One day he packed a lunch and set off to visit grandma who lived in a cottage away out in the woods. It was a queer lunch consisting of raw vegetables and nuts garnished with queer notions. But Mohandas liked it, so he thought grandma would.

When he neared the cottage a great fire raged all around it and it was plain to see that there was the very devil to pay, but Gandhi didn't bother about that. As he was about to knock on the door he suddenly noticed that there wasn't any door. It had been torn away. But that didn't cramp his style, either.

"Grandma must be in trouble," he mused, but he brushed that suspicion away at once, and climbed across the charred beams into the bedroom.

Then he saw the bed upside down with a figure in it that was plainly not grandma to anybody but Mohandas. He wore thick glasses, you know.

The figure in bed was clearly a wolf that had put on grandma's nightcap and nightgown.

"Gr-r-r-r!" it snarled.

"You don't sound like grandma," said Gandhi, "but I understand. Your voice is changing, that's all."

"You don't look like grandma," said Gandhi.

"Don't quibble," said the wolf.

"And, say, what big ears you have!"

"The better to hear you with!" said the wolf.

"And what big eyes you have!" said Gandhi.

"The better to see you with!" said the wolf.

"What a big nose you have!" exclaimed Mohandas.

"You should talk!" said the wolf.

"What big teeth you have!" said Mohandas.

"The better to eat you with!" roared the wolf, starting to get out of bed.

"Hold on!" cried Gandhi, "I'm not ready to be eaten yet."

"Why not?" demanded the wolf.

"I haven't got my freedom."

"What of it?" snapped the wolf.

"Oh!" replied Gandhi, "I must have my freedom first. I could never consider being eaten until I have it."

"I don't mind," argued the wolf.

"I will eat you with or without it."

"Hush! I will be much better eating with it," insisted Mohandas.

"Bunk!" growled the wolf, looking skeptical.

At this moment fresh flames swept the cottage, the timbers began falling in. Gandhi and the wolf were running around the ruins at top speed.

"Wait a bit," insisted Mohandas.

"Let's get this thing straight. Am I chasing you or are you chasing me?"

"This is pretty late in life for a man like you to start getting things straight," said the wolf who had now ripped off grandma's nightgown and was wearing a Japanese uniform.

"Something's quite wrong here," said Mohandas.

"Listen," said the wolf, now a little disgusted, "I ain't your grandma. And I ain't going to eat you."

Mohandas looked the wolf straight in the eyes.

"Oh, yes you are my grandma," he declared, "and what's more you ARE going to eat me. Open wide!"

The wolf opened his jaws wide and Mohandas crawled in.

"Freedom is freedom," he announced as he disappeared down the slant-eyed wolf's gullet.

ONLY ANKLE DEEP
I'm up to my neck in coupons—
In taxes I'm up to my chin;
The feeling I'm getting in deeper
Assails me agin and agin.

I'm up to my eyebrows in worries—
In "don't lists" I'm up to my ears;
An undertow seems to have caught me
But that isn't so, it appears.

I'm up to my shoulders in edicts—
My arms from the swimming are sore
Yet Washington says, "Don't be silly—
You ain't ankle deep in this war!"

SERIOUSLY SPEAKING

By E. F. EPLING

It's getting a little touching, isn't it? Have you been out at the bus station and watched the buses load up and pull out? And even if your boy wasn't in the bunch, wasn't it hard to force that something down that came up to choke you?

I'd like to be able to express this feeling for the benefit of those who can't be in town and see our boys going to be examined for Uncle Sam's forces. Some of them will come back, they'll not pass the examinations. The others will go on.

Some of these young men will not return—such is war, whether they're related to you or me, or not, we count.

search and wonder what we might be doing to support them in their struggle to retain our "way of life." Those who returned, some day, will say, "They died not in vain and we backed them to the limit." This will be the returning victorious front line. Can we, the "home front," say something along this line, and will our conscience be at ease?

Uncle Sam must have them. It's your country and mine. But we, who would be shirkers, should not falsely claim a country.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TWO EXAMPLES OF SACRIFICE

EDITOR, THE TIMES: It occurs to me that the following might be of interest to all persons interested in the war effort. Among the large number of fine young men from the two Beavers, including such ones as Claude May, sent to Huntington on Monday, Aug. 24, there were members of two families who, in my judgment, deserve special mention. I personally talked to Jesse James Napier, of Wheelwright, one of the number. Mr. Napier is a veteran of the late World War. He informed me that his only two sons, James H. Napier and Carl Y. Napier, while in high school volunteered and that one is in the army and the other in the navy. Mr. Napier stated that, after giving both of his fine boys to the service, he was not satisfied and that he claimed no exemptions, and, using his own words, "I just wanted to get in, and me and my boys will give them hell!"

The other instance to which I refer is that of the sons of Joe Salisbury, deceased, and Rebecca Osborne Salisbury, his widow, now aged 72, living alone at Printer, Ky. The three eldest sons, Lackey, Dave and George, were overseas veterans of the World War, and Lackey will be remembered as the efficient office deputy sheriff who served for the past four years. The three youngest of the family, Edward, Walk and Frank, are now in the service, Edward and Walk going to Huntington with the other boys on the 24th and Frank being now stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

I was informed that "Aunt" Rebecca, as she is called, sits in her rocking chair at home alone and continually prays for "The Dawn of Peace" and the safe return of her boys, and that she says her prayers during the late World War, regardless of Argonne Forest, Ypres, St. Mihiel or Flanders Fields, were answered, and that she is confident her three youngest will return home.

It occurs to me that right here in Floyd county, with sacrifices such as these, the scenes at Valley Forge are being re-nacted. How little and inconsequential are the efforts of us all in the war effort when compared to instances such as these.

EDWARD L. ALLEN

FLOYD GETS CREDIT

EDITOR OF THE TIMES: I note in the issue of the Times dated August 6 mention was made of the purchase of $10,125 of war bonds by employees of our Company through a source outside the county. The Inland Steel Company has been named an issuing agent by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland for the purpose of selling bonds to its employees, and the bonds we purchase for sale to our employees are all credited to Floyd county's quota by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

We will report our bond sales to the Floyd County chairman each month, and those sales should be included in the published total of the Floyd county sales just the same as the bonds sold through either of the banks at Prestonsburg that also have been named issuing agents by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

Yours very truly
E. R. PRICE
General Superintendent
Inland Steel Company

Steel-Top Automobiles In Low-Price Field Frozen to Civilians

Sales of all Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth automobiles with steel tops to civilians are frozen till Oct. 31, so that military needs may first be filled, it was announced this week by the Floyd County Rationing Board.

At the same time the Rationing Board said that consumers' service reports are to be filed on or before September 1 by garages affording auto repair service, filling stations, dry cleaners and laundries. The report is to show the March ceiling prices of each such place of business and a full description of services rendered.

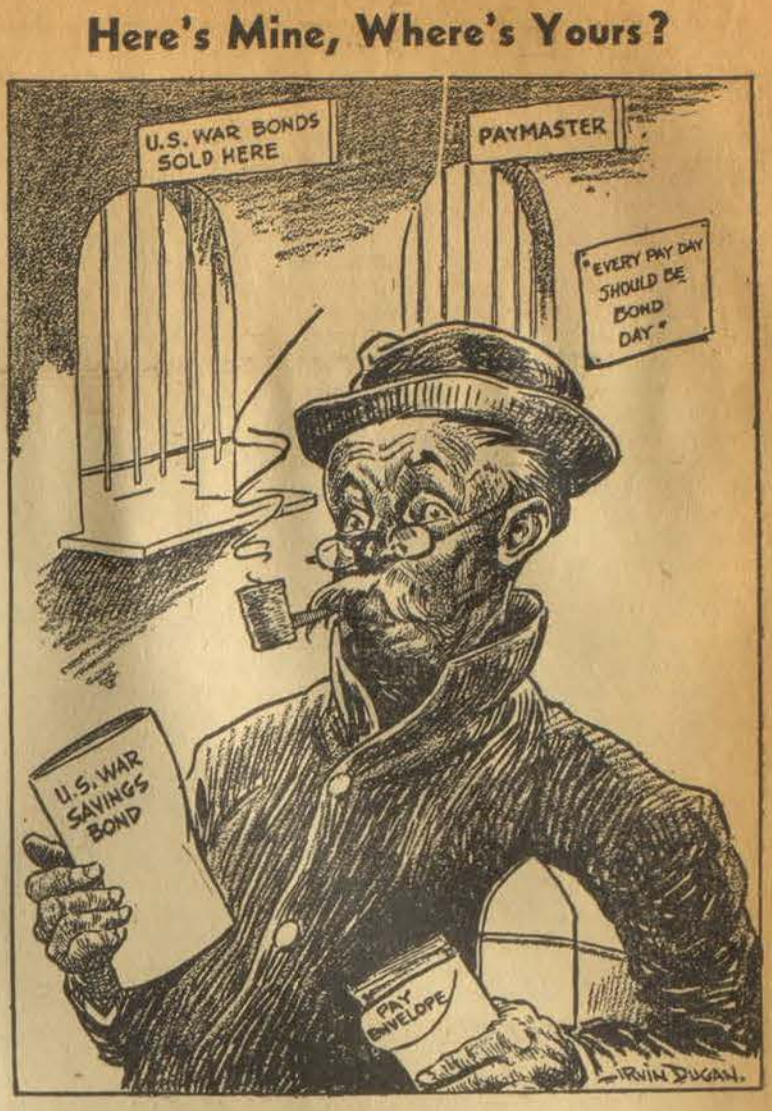

The Board asked that all War Ration books issued to men later inducted into the armed services be turned in at once at the Rationing Board office here.

Old tires and tubes traded in by persons receiving new tires or tubes or retreaded or recapped tires are to be held 10 days before their disposal, subject to inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

Under a new interpretation of rationing rules sugar allotments are available to civic, educational, charitable, benevolent, religious and social welfare organizations serving meals to obtain revenue for such an organization, regardless of the number of meals served.

No. 8 sugar stamp, the only stamp now effective, is good for five pounds till Oct. 31.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

BROKEN POTTERY
MODERN children have so many playthings that they must get pretty tired of them. Almost every year brings some fad that surrounds most children with dozens of new contraptions, many of them miniatures of real man-sized bits of machinery. All of this is good; I am not begrudging the children all they want and can enjoy. But somehow I cannot help remembering the days when it took a lively imagination on the part of children to play with the toys they had. And nothing brings finer memories than bits of broken pottery, such as those we played with in the last century.

As ancient as were the houses we lived in, there were predecessors that had vanished before our time, leaving a few bricks at the site of the old chimneys and kitchen middens, as archaeologists would call the refuse from the house itself. Ashes, broken glass, bones, rusty iron, and broken pieces of plates and other dishes could be found in many a place where a house had stood. We children loved to visit these places after the winter rains had washed the dirt off some more of our treasures. Little chips of old blue plates no bigger than my thumb were collected and highly treasured. By accident one of our places to explore was not only the site of a pioneer cabin but the camping ground of Indians long before the white man had come to the purchase. Thus we picked up arrow heads and chips of flint right among the partials of blue china. Everything seemed equally old, as if the pioneers and the Indians had lived back in the days of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

These ancient dishes were not merely to look at; they formed the basis for playing house. Vands that one tastes may be good enough, but the real vands are those that one imagines that he tastes. Keats says that "heard melodies are sweet, but those unheard are sweeter." When we played house we "played like" we were eating things out of these little scraps of pottery, and the taste was of nectar and ambrosia or whatever gods eat. There were things that we tasted but seldom in our remote section; how easy it was to imagine foods such as angels have on their tables! This old fragment might hold ice cream, this other one oranges, and still another candy of many a fancy kind. It must have been hard on the family larder after a day of play such as this, for our childish appetites, good enough at any time, had had a workout while we "played-like" eating the things we most wanted. After such a feast, of course, bread and meat seemed course and tasteless, but served to fill an aching void.

We did not know it, but our probing around in old ashes was a species of archaeology, related to Howard Carter's unearthing old King Tutankhamen. We reconstructed the remote past from the few things that escaped destruction when a pioneer cabin burned down or was removed to convert into a smokehouse or a stable. Every time I see whole blue plates in some antique collection, I fill out another chapter in the imagined life of the people who lived before my time and left me only a few broken bits of pottery to remind me that they had their three square meals a day and lived and died just like other folks.

MONEY TALKS

By FREDERICK W. STAMM
Economist and Director of Adult Education
University of Louisville

A recent Department of Agriculture survey showed that American farm families are relatively better off than they have been for some time. The survey pointed out that the net income of farm families averaged 46 per cent higher during 1941 and the first three months of 1942 than in the comparable period of 1935-1936. If we were to extend the figures to cover the first six months of 1942, the increase would be even greater.

For example, the tobacco markets are just opening up, and prices are good. Frank O. Black, Federal Agricultural Statistician, recently stated that in South Carolina, if current tobacco prices are maintained throughout the remainder of the selling season, the farmers would receive upwards of $35,000,000 for their crops, or some $13,000,000 more than in the previous peak year of 1937. The outlook for other tobacco states is equally bright. With no price ceilings to stop them, butter and eggs are soaring and are at their highest prices since 1929. Farm income is on the rise and not likely to be slowed down soon.

But there is another side to the picture—for the farmer, living costs have gone up 33 per cent during the same period. When he goes to the store, he finds he can't buy as much with his dollar as he could several years ago. But even so, he can't complain, for his income has gone up 46 per cent on the average while his living costs have gone up 33 per cent. He has gained, on the average, 13 per cent.

Now what are the farmers doing with this extra 13 per cent? The report showed that despite increased cost of living farm families put more than twice as much in savings in 1941 than they did in the 1935-1936 period. The farmers are not only making more money, but they are using it wisely.

Floyd County Goes To War

Where Floyd Countians in Armed Forces Are, What They're Doing Told

Three Floyd county men recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy, and last week were received at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., where they are to undergo recruit training.

These latest recruits from McDowell are: Arthur SESCO, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne SESCO, and Frank Moore, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore. The third Floyd recruit is Ralph Clark, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Clark, Lancer, near Prestonsburg.

Well-known in Floyd county and a former dentist at Wayland and Garrett, Arthur Elmer Quinlan, Jr., is awaiting his orders to report for active duty in the U. S. Army. His present home is at Jackson, Ky.

Young Quinlan, a graduate of Wayland high school made an outstanding record at the University of Louisville. For four consecutive years he was president of his class and the 1941 issue of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" gave him honorable mention for his campus activities. Following his graduation, he practiced his profession on Right Beaver for a short time before going to the Breathitt county seat.

Sworn into the army recently at Fort Knox, Quinlan was commissioned a lieutenant.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Quinlan, Sr., were residents of Ligon before Mr. Quinlan's recent transfer by the Elkhorn Coal Corporation to Fleming, Ky.

"Hi, Ed," says "Gabe", on a postal card to the editor. "Gabe" is Cpl. Earl Martin, who was associated with the Times before entering the armed forces. The card was from Denver, Col., and he stated that he was on his way back to Fort Thomas from a jaunt out West to Cheyenne, Wyo., "Might see you in a couple weeks," he says in closing. Be looking for you, Gabe!

Son of a dad who saw action in the first world war, Arnold Thurman Thomas, 20, enlisted in the Marines and is now stationed at Paris Island, S. C. He writes that he likes it fine. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thomas, Prestonsburg.

Lt. Walter Preston, 27, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Mann Preston, Martin, is stepping along in this man's army. In the service for a relatively short time, Preston received the silver bars only recently after working his way up from the rank of a "buck". He is a former teacher at Martin, Garrett, Wheelwright and Wayland. Prior to being a school teacher he was employed by the Kentucky-West Virginia Power Co., and there might have developed extra ability to "climb" in addition to his natural talents.

Lt. Preston was home last week, visiting his parents at Martin and friends and relatives in the county. He is now stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., and showing some of the boys who are candidates in officers' training just "how to do it".

His brother, Jay Warren Preston, is at the U. S. Submarine Base, New London, Conn., learning the "antics" of Uncle Sam's death dealing "fish".

The following newly inducted personnel of the army have been sent forward from the Reception Center at Fort Thomas, to the stations and addresses indicated, on August 20:

Sent to Branch Immaterial, Replacement Training Center, Camp Walters, Texas: Ralph Hammond, Calf Creek; Virgil Moore, Wheelwright; and to Infantry RTC, Camp Wolters, Texas—Nero Wadkins, Blue River.

Private First Class Franklin C. Allen, Printer, son of Mr. C. S. Allen, is now stationed at Camp Campbell, Kentucky, with the Fifth Service Command, says a release from the camp public relations officer.

Notices from Camp Pickett, Va., reaching here state that Dick M. Allen, Prestonsburg; Robert L. "Bob" Spurlock, West Prestonsburg; Darwin Caudill, Garrett; and James H. Hatcher, of Broadway, Prestonsburg following their induction into the army, are now stationed there with the Medical Replacement Center.

Their training will consist of actual maneuvers illustrating medical and evacuation problems encountered on the battlefield as well as basic military work.

The following newly inducted personnel of the United States Army have been sent forward from the Reception Center at Fort Thomas.

Branch Immaterial, RTC, Camp Wheeler, Ga.; — Willie Crum, Calf Creek.

95th Division, Camp Swift, Texas;— Edgar H. Hall, Banner; Stanley Peyton, Osborn, Graydon Turner, Cow Creek.

Sent to Medical Section 1550th Service Unit, Ft. Knox, Ky.: Joe Wallen, W. Prestonsburg, Sent to American Air Force RTC, Atlantic City, N. J.: Howard C. Parsons, Grethel.

Sent to Headquarters 1540th Service Unit, Ft. Thomas, Ky.; Carmel G. Clark, Harold.

Sent to Branch Immaterial, Fort Bragg, N. C. (RTC): Leonard I. Osborne, Allen.

Pvt. William T. Archer, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Archer, Sr., of Prestonsburg, was recently graduated from an intensive course in aviation mechanics at Shepherd Field near Wichita Falls, Texas, one of the many Army Air Forces Technical Training Command schools which trains the ground crews to "Keep 'em Flying."

Sent to 727th Engineer Railway Operating Bn., Camp Shelby, Miss. is Kimber Caudill.

Technician 4th class, Garland Vaughan has arrived at Camp Polk for duty with the 11th Armored Division.

He has been assigned to Hqs. Co. 55th Armored Infantry Regiment, commanded by Major General Edward H. Brooks. The 11th is one of Uncle Sam's newest armored divisions.

Technician Vaughan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vaughan, of 6th St., Prestonsburg. His brother, Harry Vaughan, Jr., was recently raised in rank from "Tech Sarge" to a staff sergeant at Camp Claiborne, La.

HERE'S a free tip on how to find something hotter than a desert sun in midsummer. Sit on the bench during a ball game with either Leo Durocher or Billy Southworth. We gave it a try. If you're not on fire within five minutes you must be wearing asbestos underwear.

They had the two hottest teams, emotionally, in baseball last season, and they are liable to have the two hottest this season. Neither manager misses a trick or a turn of any sort from the bench, and both unravel a vocal cataclysm that stuns your eardrums. They keep on top of their men, roughly or soothingly, harsh or gently, through the entire game.

Neither the tumult nor the shouting ever dies with this pair. And as their hired men happen to believe in the sagacity and smartness of both, they get winning results.

Durocher Speaking

"You've got to have the right man for the right job at hand—some batters can hit the ball on a hit and run, others can't—that Brown of the Cardinals can do anything—so can Arky Vaughan—you're looking at two great third basemen when you see these two fellows—I wouldn't trade my infield for any infield in either league—watch Camillil this year—watch Reiser and Reese—watch 'em all."

You get about the same brand from Southworth.

"I'll keep my infield and let Durocher have his. I'll keep my ball club and let Durocher have his."

TERRY MOORE
"He can go further and faster."

Yeah, he's got Pete Reiser. But what about Terry Moore?"

So I asked Durocher, "What about Terry Moore?"

Leo ducks no query of any type.

"I'll tell you about Terry Moore," he said. "As a defensive outfielder he is the greatest I ever saw, and I'm barring neither Tris Speaker nor Joe DiMaggio. He can go further and faster than either, can cover more ground, and kill off more long hits. Terry Moore is an outfielding marvel. That's how good Terry Moore is. But for all that no outfielder in our league is going to match the 360 or better Pete Reiser may hit this year. And don't think Pete is any fly-ball punk."

With Lou Boudreau

We spent a much quieter day with Lou Boudreau, the Cleveland Kid, who as far as one can judge at this spot is turning out a fine piece of managerial work.

Boudreau is a good-looking young fellow with a keen, determined-looking face. He isn't worrying about his youth—or his job. At the age of 24—he won't be 25 until July 17—the ex-Illinois star has full command of his men. They like him and respect him. So far they are giving him the best they have, which may not be too much.

"The best we can hope for," he said, "with Feller missing, is to give the Red Sox a battle for third place or stave off some first-division drive from the Browns or Tigers. Outside of the Yankees we should have a good scramble in this league, with the White Sox rated second.

"Whatever happens or wherever we finish, I think you'll see this Cleveland club giving the best it has all year. As a matter of fact, I believe you'll see a better spirit in baseball this season everywhere than you've seen before. Players are beginning to realize these are serious times for everybody. It is certainly no time for anyone to start loafing or to break training."

Joe Cronin, like all other seven American league managers, knows that the chance of beating out the Yankees moves over into the supermarble class. While anything can happen in this bizarre world, the heavens still haven't fallen.

On to Joe Cronin

"Outside of first place we should have a good race," the Red Sox leader says. "I suppose everyone will pick the White Sox to finish second through their pitching. But we might get there, although like many others we've lost good men to the services.

"Under the conditions that govern things this season it is hard to say what will happen. If Ted Williams has another year even close to 1941, we can't furnish our share of trouble—to anybody. We have been getting better pitching than expected.

These Things Affected Your Household

- Watch those prices Write V-mail Boy Scouts Praised Gathering Rubber Colorfast Clue Junior Scrap Corps Fire Prevention Week More Rent Areas Turn in Memorials Sugar Stamp 8 The Crippled Help Loads for Buses

A dangerous pattern is being drawn by the continued advance in those food prices over which Office of Price Administration has no control. Price Administrator Leon Henderson declared late last week...

According to the bureau's cost-of-living figures, those food prices that are uncontrolled rose 2.5 per cent between June 15 and July 15 on top of a 4.8 per cent advance the previous month.

In the same period prices of all unregulated goods and services advanced 1.6 per cent, while prices of controlled items showed a nominal increase of one-tenth of 1 per cent.

If these food-price advances were to be projected over a year—and Mr. Henderson called such a projection anything but fanciful, we would be paying an average 30 per cent more for many important foodstuffs 12 months hence.

So you want to write to the boys overseas? The Post Office Department announces that V-mail service, inaugurated on June 15, is now past the experimental stage.

Because the film takes up so little space it frequently gets air service to its destination. V-mail has been given priority over all other kinds in handling.

The letters are photographed on micro-film at the rate of 2,500 an hour. Each film carries 1,500 letters. Letters are automatically reproduced and delivered in sealed window penalty envelopes.

The Boy Scouts of America have won high praise from Price Administrator Henderson for their job in...

distributing price control information to 25,000,000 homes.

Two hundred railroad cars every 24 hours carry rubber collected in the recent salvage drive to reclaiming plants. This represents 4,000 a day. The drive collected 454,155 tons.

The enterprise of the Federal Trade Commission in proposing to control textile labeling according to degree and kind of colorfastness has been welcomed by the OPA as "an important advance in the battle we are waging to keep down the cost of living."

The Conservation Division has announced plans for organizing a Junior Salvage Corps which should play a big part in the war effort. The corps will begin operations Oct. 5, when all schools have opened.

Acting to halt outflow of a dwindling inventory of 1942 Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth four-door, hard-topped sedans until Army and Navy requirements have been filled, OPA has frozen until Oct. 31 all sales to civilians of cars of that description that have been driven less than 1,000 miles.

Allocation and other authority of the WPB has been delegated to the Commodity Credit Corp. in respect to vegetable oil seeds and oil seed products. This year's crop of cotton seed, flaxseed, peanuts and soy beans is expected to be a bumper one.

For the first time in the history of Fire Prevention Week, the federal government will take an active part in that annual safety observance, scheduled for the week of Oct. 4-10.

Residential rents in 38 more defense rental areas will be cut back and brought under federal regulation on Sept. 1. This order, the fourth in OPA's fight to control rents against inflation, brings the coverage to one third of the nation.

Memorials of America's past victorious wars can help win the present one. Salvage experts are appealing to local governments to turn in old cannon balls, cannon and heavy howitzers of 1918.

Stamp No. 8 in your sugar rationing book, which became valid Aug. 23, will get you five pounds of sugar—but that sugar must last you for 10 weeks.

One-armed men are becoming welders, one-legged men work as drill press operators, deformed persons as sheet metal workers, midgets as aircraft riveters and deaf mutes as machinists—all for the sake of defense.

The nation's local transport systems face the heaviest load in their history by mid-summer, the ODT warns. Already loads are 40 per cent greater than a year ago.

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor.)

Well, the first game of the Prestonsburg-Drift 5 game series is history—a grand ball game played on a rather damp field. Drift won, 3-0. Big Ray Patton and Kit Stumbo were the opposing pitchers.

The most useless job I saw at the game was W. C. Rimmer coaching at third. Only one runner got around that far for Prestonsburg.

Feature of the game was umpire George Belcher and Drift center-fielder Ted Stumbo challenging each other to a four-round bout, no holds barred. They were reminded to save their fighting for the Japs.

"Slim" Ratliff just came along for the ride.

I Tho't Squire Stumbo "stole" home (a squire trying to steal something) but George said he NEVER—and, as usual, George WON. All I got out of it was the fun of arguing.

The veteran Kit Stumbo took Pburg like the Leathernecks took the Solomons—one at a time. Rimmer got all crossed up on his signals—his hitters were swinging at sharp-breaking curves and "taking" the fast ones down the middle.

Something for Ripley's "Believe it or Not": Ora Curmutte catching and not speaking above a whisper—"ton-sollitis."

H-m-m—I'm late getting news from our boys in the armed forces. They're all, or most of them, are overseas and it takes longer to get a letter. I'll bet it's never dull in Iceland for "Lightnin'" is up there.

All I know is what I read in the papers, but it seems that this new parole law under Johnson and Frost just plain stinks. And there's an election next year, too.

When your sight commences to go back on you, it's not always your glasses you ought to change—but what you put in them.

With 90 per cent of the distillers going into the manufacture of alcohol for the Government, this might be a good time to take the pledge. There might be a shortage of sugar but not a shortage of corn and sorghum. Guess I'll put it off awhile.

"Slim" Ratliff advised Rimmer to convey his base runners last Sunday as most of them were torpedoed between 1st and 2nd.

I'm going to get Chub to see Kennel Smallwood about that hat insurance policy. Kennel had a lot of trouble until he insured his hat. Tilton sez Chub lost two in one night.

For a few hours last week, we were as badly fooled as the Germans—we sure thought it was the "Second Front."

The headlines said that Major Roosevelt led the raid on Makin Island, Oh yeah!—in my book FDR is the major Roosevelt, and I'll bet the Republicans agree with me.

I see where the Courier-Journal editorially takes a few digs at Jack May, our Congressman—and I felt we can return the compliment. I don't believe O'Neal could beat Tom Hawkins in this district. The Courier-Journal should tend to its own knittin' in its district. We'll take care of district 7. And what about those two isolationists, Robinson and Chapman? That Louisville outfit had better clean up their own back yard before talking about ours.

It would be better if these Left Beaver highway signs were taken down and donated to the scrap metal drive. The weeds are so high nobody can see the signs. Those signs are helpful when they can be seen, but what good are they hidden from view?

I guess they'll leave the weeds to go to seed—they'll need plenty of weeds next year in the election. How much an I offered for four gallons of jimson weed seed?

Isbell Holds Cholera Outbreak in County Was Waterborne

That hog cholera appearing in nine Floyd county communities was largely water-borne was the belief expressed here this week by County Agent S. L. Isbell. This theory was developed from the fact that practically every cholera outbreak in the county occurred in communities along the Big Sandy River. Carcasses of hogs are believed to have floated downstream, spreading the disease. Fifteen cholera cases in all have been reported within the last fortnight at Auxier, Cliff, Prestonsburg, Emma, Ivel, Betsy Layne, Harold, Spurlock fork of Middle Creek and Martin. Eight of a herd of 20 cattle owned by A. Damron, of Harold, died recently of blackleg before Mr. Isbell brought the disease under control. The county agent said Mr. Damron had been buying cattle in Pike county where there have been cattle losses from blackleg.

The girl and her mother, Mrs. John Ward, said they were looking for Mr. Ward when they approached the Sexton home and called for him. Mrs. Sexton said she fired in defense of her home, acting in the belief that somebody was attempting to break into the house. The warrant for Ward was issued after officials were told Richard Trusty had been outside the home for some time, calling for Ward, prior to arrival of Mrs. Ward and daughter. Ward claimed he was not there and knew nothing of the affair. Tackett was quoted by Deputy Sheriffs A. C. Carter and B. L. Sturgill, who arrested him shortly after the shooting, as saying that he did not know if his bullet hit anybody but that if it had, he had a right to shoot, since he had been fired upon. McKenzie was said to have been one of a group into which the shot was fired. The wounded youth is a son of Bill and May McKenzie, of Brainard. The Garrett shooting was investigated Sunday morning by County Attorney W. W. Burchett and Deputy Sheriffs Sturgill and Carter. Mrs. Sexton, mother of four, was not arrested at that time.

MacArthur's Cousin Commends Minister To Floyd Citizens

Recommended to the people of Floyd county by E. A. MacArthur, Bensenville, Ill., a cousin of General Douglas MacArthur, is the Rev. Carl E. Ruppelt, a Baptist minister who has been doing missionary work in and around Fed, this county. Mr. MacArthur was a member of the church examining board which signed the Rev. Ruppelt's ordination certificate. The ordination of Mr. Ruppelt took place in June at River Grove, a Chicago suburb. Following the ordination service, General MacArthur's kinsman spoke in commendation of the work performed in this section by the newly ordained minister. "Go back to the good people of Kentucky," said Mr. MacArthur, "and tell them that their hospitality toward you is appreciated by the churches of Illinois, and that the children of today are the citizens of tomorrow who must carry on the honor and traditions of the Kentucky commonwealth. If you were a soldier I am sure my cousin would be glad to pin a distinguished service medal on you."

John B. Evans, Jr., of Hickman county threshed 338 bushels of Thorne's wheat from 8 1/2 acres.

TRAVEL BULLETIN TODAY'S ROADS AAA Prepared By Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club

While the order to reduce speed has been welcomed by many as a good thing in our National Rubber Conservation Program, and it has been advocated that the motorists will become more familiar with the country side; and finally that traffic at slower speed will cut the accident total. "DON'T BE FOOLED"—this may be true, however, the same thing that happens at higher speeds can also happen at 40 mph. To the driver who has been accustomed to traveling at a high rate of speed, 40 mph seems exceedingly slow and may become monotonous. It is also true that at this speed there is a tendency for one to relax his usual vigilance. Therefore, we say, "Greater care should be exercised at 40 than at higher speeds which keep us alert."

THE GARDEN

Knowing what are the principles of vegetable storage (last week discussed) it is an easy matter to apply them. So, now will be treated, sketchily, the various types of structures in which gardeners have successfully kept their winter vegetables. For greater detail, the storage circular, Kentucky Extension Circular 266, should be procured from county and home demonstration agents or from the College of Agriculture, Lexington. Because storing places for the "warm" vegetables (squash & sweet potatoes) are needed first, they will be discussed first; those for the "cool" ones, next week. An ideal place for just a few bushels is a concrete-floored house basement with a heating plant, to keep it dry. There, the best place is at the ceiling, in baskets hung by spikes driven in the floor joints. Inasmuch as the vol-
