

THEY REMEMBER-- DO YOU?

Every one of the thousands of young men in the armed service of their country can envision by aid of "the mind's eye" the home he left and how everything looks back there. It's a pity the millions of their relatives left behind can't see as clearly the boys in their barracks, at training and in battle. That might stir some folks into buying War Bonds and Stamps and helping to gather rubber and scrap--all of which is absolutely necessary for these boys to return home victorious.

WE WERE HALF RIGHT

THE TIMES was wrong about neither the Democratic nor the Republican candidate for Congress in this district having primary opposition. Carl L. Sentes, the Republican candidate, is opposed by E. E. Gabbard, of Perry county. Congressman A. J. May, Democrat, is unopposed.

ADVICE

Don't gripe about sugar rationing. Doing without it will make victory all the sweeter.

ADD SMILES: She's as ugly as six miles of WPA road depending on the Rural Highway Department for face-lifting.

IN THE SOUP

There was a man who seems to have got himself badly tangled in government alphabet soup.

From morning to night, all he could hear around the house was O.P.A. His family, what with his daughter continually humming CCC, had him NYA stroke. Finally, he thought he had solved his troubles by buying a truck and getting away from home while hauling nitroglycerin around over bumpy roads. But along came the restrictions on the operation of trucks. And now the poor man has the ODT's.

HARMFUL RUMOR

A newspaper or radio in the hands of some folks is positively a dangerous thing. Some of the wildest rumors start because folks don't understand what they hear or read. But one of the zaniest of all these rumors is the one somebody started to the effect that the government may confiscate bank deposits.

We repeat--that's rumor, nothing else. Don't be simpleton enough to believe it. With such false reports the Nazis bewildered France and other nations they have conquered.

SABOTAGE

There is another report received here to the effect that a Floyd county payroll clerk told miners that, if they died, their families could not collect on the Defense Bonds the miners are now buying. I can't conceive of any man qualified to hold such a job as displaying ignorance of this sort. If any payroll clerk did make such a statement, he should be under surveillance as a wilful saboteur of the war effort.

DISFRANCHISE THE REST OF US!

Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher expresses his regret that Kentucky has no "absentee voter" law to enable the boys in the armed forces to vote.

Our regret extends farther than that. We are sorry that the state hasn't a law giving the boys in the service the full power to elect officials back home, leaving the rest of us out. They are faced with stern realities and the rotten side of politics is scorned by men fighting and dying for their country. Besides, they couldn't do worse than their fathers and mothers usually do. At worst, they would not be led around by the nose to vote.

DRAFTED--DERN IT!

Yep, I went to the carnival--even if I did write that editorial, a few weeks back. But, my friends, I was drafted. Inducted by a 3 to 0 vote of my "neighbors," and they are "close" ones, too. Daughter and two sons.

AUTHOR! AUTHOR!

Don't blame this on me. I found it in my typewriter. Will the author please step to the edge of the stage and receive a bouquet of ripe (very ripe) fruit? This is it:
I bought a wooden whistle but it was wooden.
I bought a steel whistle but it steel wood.
I bought a tin whistle and now I tin whistle.

ENTERTAIN TO DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bond entertained to dinner Tuesday evening at the Valley Inn, having as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Bond, Mrs. Oscar P. Bond and children, Miss Dixie Bond and son, all of Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Meers and baby daughter, of Pittsburg, Pa., and F. M. Burke, of Pikeville.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES HEALTH AID AGENDA

Free Dental Clinic To Be Maintained In This County

Measures to insure better health for Floyd county's school children were taken Tuesday by the Floyd County Board of Education, County Superintendent Town Hall announced.

These include an appropriation of $1,500 as the Board's contribution toward maintenance of a fulltime dental clinic for the benefit of indigent school children and an order requiring physical examination, including blood tests and x-ray examinations, of all teachers and other school employees.

The Board's appropriation for the permanent dental clinic will be augmented by federal and state funds, and the clinic is expected to be in operation by August 1.

Blood tests, x-ray examination for tuberculosis and a general physical check-up of teachers, bus drivers, janitors and all others employed by the Board will be required before the opening of school or as soon thereafter as possible. Dr. Marvin Ransfield, director of the Floyd County Health Department, said this week that an x-ray clinic will be held here in August for the benefit of those required to undergo such tests, and that they will be given their blood tests at the same time.

One dentist named by the State Board of Health will operate one dental clinic, using an electrically operated trailer such as that stationed here last year. The point was stressed that this service will be only for indigent children, and teachers will be required to certify the names of those eligible to the clinic.

Although the dentist will visit all schools to make preliminary examinations, the trailer unit will be taken only to points where electricity is available. Pupils residing in sections where there is no electricity will be transported to clinic centers for treatment.

"The co-operation of parents and teachers is absolutely necessary to the success of this work," Dr. Ransfield said.

HAROLD MAN SUCCUMBS

Riley Reynolds Dies On 75th Birthday Of Neuritis

Riley (Dock) Reynolds, prominent Floyd county merchant and farmer, died Sunday night on his 75th birthday anniversary, a victim of neuritis from which he had suffered for the last eight months.

Death came at his home at Harold where he had moved from Beaver after years in the mercantile business in the latter community.

Mr. Reynolds was one of the section's best men and his friends were all who knew him. He had been a member of the United Baptist Church for several years.

He was thrice married, his first and second wives, Mrs. Emma Hanson Reynolds and Mrs. Rena Mitchell Reynolds, preceding him in death. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nannie Frazier Reynolds, of Harold; one son, J. S. Reynolds, of Teaberry; one brother, Marion Reynolds, of Beaver, and three sisters, Mrs. Liza Jane Hamilton, of Teaberry; Mrs. Alafair Reynolds, of Beaver, and Mrs. Malinda Tackett, of Halo.

Funeral rites were conducted from the residence Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, the Revs. S. G. Rice, C. F. Conn and Johnny King officiating. Burial was made in the Hamilton cemetery at Harold under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

RETURN FROM OKLAHOMA

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Auxier, Mr. and Mrs. Gwynn Ford returned last week from Oklahoma, where they were called by the death of Mrs. Auxier's brother, Argie Lee Tucker.

Daughter's Curiosity Saves Mother's Life After Car Wrecks

To the curiosity of her 14-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Boughton, Mrs. Thomas Patrick, of Langley, probably owes her life.

When Miss Boughton saw her mother drive past the Patrick home after taking her husband to work early Wednesday morning, then a few minutes later could not see the auto in its accustomed place, she laid aside the book she was reading and hurried outside.

The auto lay on its top in Turkey Creek and Mrs. Patrick, pinned inside, was almost totally submerged, breathing with difficulty. Her daughter's calls for help were answered by a number of Maytown citizens, and Mrs. Patrick was finally extricated after the car door was pried open. Mrs. Patrick suffered severe shock and bruises.

Maytown Homecoming To Be Held Sunday

Maytown's Methodist Church will observe its annual Homecoming, Sunday, and the occasion is expected to be marked by the largest attendance in the history of the church.

The Rev. H. L. Clay, Ashland, presiding elder of the Ashland district, will deliver the morning sermon; the Rev. J. B. Hahn, pastor of the Maytown Church, the afternoon sermon. Twelve committees have been busy for days making arrangements for the entertainment of visitors.

SCHOOL DAYS FOR 7,000

To Begin July 21 In Rural Sections Of Floyd County

Approximately 7,000 Floyd county youngsters will return to school Tuesday, July 21, when rural schools of the county begin their 1942 term.

Although the term officially begins July 20, pupils will not report to school until the following day. Monday, the first day, will be spent by the approximately 150 rural teachers in visiting the homes of their respective sub-districts, getting acquainted with the parents, enrolling students and making complete preparations to start the next day off with work in the schoolroom.

Palmer L. Hall, rural school supervisor, announced this week that the school opening will be preceded by a rural teachers' conference to be held in the auditorium of the Prestonsburg grade school Friday, July 17.

Checking out of textbooks to teachers will begin next Monday and continue through Thursday. Books will be issued Monday to schools in sub-districts 1 to 35, inclusive; Tuesday, to sub-districts 36 to 63; Wednesday, to schools 64 to 90a, and Thursday, to school sub-districts 92 to 118.

SIX NAMED IN WARRANT, AFTER TWO SHOT ON JULY 4 AT WHEELWRIGHT JUNCTION

Left Beaver Situation Described as 'Worst' To Rise in County

Authorities here expressed the fear that large-scale violence may break out in the Wheelwright vicinity as an aftermath to the shooting and wounding from ambush early Saturday night of Constable Willie Johnson and his truck driver, Woodrow Nickles, at Wheelwright Junction.

Both men are recovering--the officer at his home with a rifle bullet through his left thigh, young Nickles, at the Martin General hospital with a bullet through his side and arm.

Officers and other authorities visiting the scene of the ambush Sunday returned here to describe the situation as "the worst we have

Sam Dillon, 92-Year-Old Floyd Man Dies on Site of Battle He Saw

On the site of the Civil War battle which he witnessed as a youth, Sam Dillon, one of the section's oldest men, died Sunday at his home at Ivel after an illness of four years. He was 92 years old.

Born and reared near Ivel, he had resided on the S. P. Davidson farm for many years and was one of the county's best citizens.

Although he could neither read nor write, it was said that his proficiency in mathematics was such that he had assisted educated persons in the solution of problems. He retained his remarkable memory during his illness and spoke freely of his recollections of the battle of Ivel.

TRAFFIC LIGHT VOTED BACK

City Council Meet Here Featured By Arguments

The Broadway and Dingus street traffic light, blacked out by action of the City Council a few weeks ago, was restored to operation by the same body's action Monday night.

This was removed an issue which has been widely discussed here recently. The vote to restore the light was 5-1 but preliminary discussion of the matter was heated.

Altogether, the Council meeting Monday evening was not the most harmonious held here.

After dispensing with the services of Irvin Ford as nightwatchman here and Charlie Osborne as policeman in West Prestonsburg, the Council employed Ex-Magistrate Joe Prater, of Hueysville, to patrol streets here at night.

The Council also voted to change the name of the route followed by the Mayo Trail through Prestonsburg from Carter Boulevard to Broadway.

Farm Folk Tell of Their Activities While Working To Get Rubber

Farm folk of Floyd county have, on their own initiative, contributed 10,000 pounds of rubber to the Floyd county rubber salvage drive. County Agent S. L. Isbell estimated Wednesday.

His estimate was based on reports reaching him from almost every section of the county in response to letters to farmers and 4-H club boys and girls or following personal contact with them.

One small community, the Edgar neighborhood on Johns Creek, contributed 1,000 pounds, he said. Henry Collins trucked the rubber here.

Wm. Haywood, veteran postmaster at Dock, reported several hundred pounds delivered and the postoffice crowded as citizens joined in the work.

W. H. May, of Langley, reported he had contacted 30 neighbors, all of whom had indicated eagerness to join in the drive, and said that one small boy, Thomas Smith, had accumulated 130 pounds of rubber and now is trying to bring his total to 200 pounds.

This rubber, Mr. Isbell said, is in addition to that gathered by WPA trucks while they were hauling scrap iron and other metals accumulated in rural communities. Neither is it preponderantly of auto or truck tires. The rural rubber contribution includes jar rings, rubber heels, boots and a few tires.

JOHN MOORE IS VICTIM

Well-Known Citizen Dies at Gearheart In His 81st Year

John R. Moore, 80 years old, well-known Floyd county man, died Saturday at his home at Gearheart after an extended illness.

Mr. Moore, one of the county's best citizens, was married 55 years ago, his widow, Mrs. Josephine Moore, and seven children surviving. His sons and daughters are Alvin Moore, McDaniel, Ky.; Ed "Chick" Moore, Drift; Sherman Moore, Shelbiana; McKinley Moore, McDowell; Mrs. Dollie Mosely, Minnie; Mouse Moore, Gearheart, and Birdie Moore, Orkney.

Following services conducted from the home Saturday night by the Revs. Willie Collins, S. C. Crum, John Fautsch and E. H. Howard, the body was taken Sunday to the Lucy Hall cemetery where last rites were conducted by the Revs. Troy Nickalls, Aaron Pack, Tack Hall, Thomas Mosley and E. H. Howard.

Mrs. Wilson Clark spent the weekend at Allen, guest of her sister, Mrs. Rufus Crisp, and Mr. Crisp.

Constable Johnson, Truck Driver Shot From Ambush

Nickles. He alleged that Marion Martin and Cora Hatfield "associated with the defendants and abetted them."

Adding to the seriousness of the situation in the head of Left Beaver are the recent Bates-Cook trouble and the ambush slaying of Noah Johnson on Jack's Creek, with Johnson's slayer yet unapprehended.

No explanation of the transition of the long friendship of Willie Johnson and Frank Hatfield to what is described as a bitter enmity has been given.

There had been no arrests in the Wheelwright Junction shooting officially reported Thursday morning.

Floyd Man, Victim In British Isles; Another Killed

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Terry, of Garrett, were notified this week that their son, Sgt. Dan Terry, is dead in the British Isles, a victim of poisoning by carbon tetrachloride.

Young Terry enlisted in the army in 1940 and was connected with an armored division. When his parents last heard from him, he was in Ireland. The War Department message stated that the body cannot be returned to this country until the cessation of hostilities.

It was also learned here this week that the former Georgia Sallsbury, of Hunter, this county, was widowed when her husband, W. H. Davis, of New Boston, O., was killed in the crash of a bomber at March Field, Calif., June 30. G. D. Ryan, of the Ryan Funeral Home, Martin, left Thursday to bring his ashes to this county for possible interment.

Legion To Elect Officers at Meet

W. I. Myers, Commander of Floyd Post, American Legion, announced this week that the Post will hold its annual election of officers Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. The new officers will be installed at the same meeting, which will be held in the courthouse.

All Floyd Legionnaires have been asked to attend and to assist in the election of an able Commander and other efficient officers for the coming year.

AAA WORK SUCCESSFUL

Says Group Leader, Pointing to Aid Given Farmers

The program year of 1942 (July 1, 1941 to June 30, 1942) has been the most successful year in the life of the AAA in Floyd county, County Committee Chairman James Stephens said this week.

During the year farmers received, as a grant of aid, through the county AAA office the following materials:

Three hundred forty-two farmers received 297,500 pounds of 48 per cent triple superphosphate; 634 farmers received 1,018,800 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate; 667 farmers received 4,727 tons of agricultural limestone; 240 farmers received 40,000 pounds of rye grass seed, or enough to seed 2,667 acres of pasture; 489 farmers received 39,975 pounds of hairy vetch seed or enough to seed 2,665 acres to winter legumes.

In addition to all this, farmers purchased enough grass and lespedeza seed to sow approximately 1,500 acres of pastureland and meadows.

Many farmers visit the county AAA office daily to talk over their farm problems and make plans for next year. They all report that great success has been derived from the use of grant of aid materials, Mr. Stephens said. He expressed the hope that in 1943 every Floyd county farmer will take advantage of the opportunities offered by the AAA program in improving his soil and increasing his income.

3 Children Bared In Powder Blast At Banner

Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Hamilton, of Banner, were burned, two seriously, Monday when a pint of blasting powder with which they were playing during the absence of their parents exploded.

Two-year-old Curtis J. Hamilton was most seriously burned, his face, chest and arms being seared. Bub Ray Hamilton, 8, was burned on his chest, arms and legs. Norman Banner Hamilton, 10, suffered slight burns on his back.

The children were rushed to the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, by their grandfather, T. F. Hamilton, and will recover, barring complications, it was said Wednesday.

TRAFFIC LINES BREAK, HOMES ARE FLOODED

Crop and Property Damage Believed Floyd's Worst

Rainfall of cloudburst proportions early Wednesday morning sent Eastern Kentucky streams pouring over their banks into lowland crops and homes, damaging roads and bridges and cutting traffic communications for hours.

There was no estimate of the total damage but it was believed to be the heaviest in the history of this section.

Headwaters of both Right and Left Beaver Creeks in this county bore the brunt of the flash flood, and almost all lowland crops along both streams and many of their tributaries are considered total losses.

At Wayland the water rose nine inches higher than ever before. At Glo, where the crest exceeded old high water marks by three inches, only the roofs of houses were submerged in the level part of the town. Three houses at Wayland were reported washed from their foundations, the railway switch line leading to the Glogora Coal Company tippie was washed out, as also was the highway bridge across Beaver Creek at Glo.

Train service above Gearheart railway station was suspended all day Wednesday and part of today, with approximately half a mile of main line track out. Two county bridges between Melvin and Weeksbury were wrecked.

On Jones Fork, near Lackey, the old Wells-Eikhorn No. 5 tippie was wrecked by the water.

Wayland, Glo, Estill and Lackey were hardest hit on Right Beaver Creek, although the water invaded several homes in Garrett and Beson. Likewise, the towns on the headwaters of Left Beaver Creek suffered most. Rapid rise of the water forced scores of families to flee to higher ground, leaving their household furnishings to be flooded.

Floyd Chapter, American Red Cross, today began sending mattresses to stricken families in the county. Miss Ella Noel White, executive secretary of the chapter, inspected the stricken areas Thursday and other needed aid will be afforded, it was said.

The heavy rainfall extended to Elkhorn City and beyond, cutting rail communication with Whitesburg, and to Knott and Perry counties. In Hindman waters of Troublesome Creek flooded the Bank of Hindman Wednesday morning. A dozen small bridges maintained on Elkhorn Creek by the Consolidation Coal Company were destroyed.

ELMER TWITCHELL AND FOOD CONTROL

Uncle Sam has now named a WPBFRC, War Production Board Food Requirement Committee. It will look into the matter of food requirements during the war, with a view to conservation.

A good deal could be accomplished right off the bat by a simple but inflexible rule requiring people to stop overloading the fork.

We are a nation of overloaders, and if we are to guard against food shortages something's gotta be done to check us up. Watch the average American eat today, in the middle of a global war, and would you suspect he was subsisting during a great conflict? You would not. You would imagine he was trying for a new record at a picnic ground.

Elmer Twitchell, famous calorie student, pinochle player and stamp collector, has been studying the food situation, and he thinks that if Uncle Sam wants to avoid waste Step Number One should be the abolition of the Three-Decker Sandwich.

"The upper deck is a mere waste of bread," declares Elmer, "and it also involves a further waste of lettuce. There is little in these modern three-deckers except lettuce, anyhow, unless you want to admit that those tomato slices are food."

"I am for a National Committee for the Control of Lettuce also," continued Elmer. "If there is one thing which lunchroom men are profligate with it is lettuce. Of course, in many cases this comes under the head of second-hand or recon-ditioned lettuce."

"This new Government board should also look into the French fried situation. Boy, there's a food waste for you! The American lunchroom has come to regard French fries as a mere matter of stuffing. They are just plate fillers. They are so greasy that nobody finishes 'em, so the result is more waste. Let us have a 75 per cent cut in French fries at once by all means!"

"Then there is the dining car toast situation. Did you ever try eating the toast you get with a steak sandwich on a railroad train? Mister, it was never meant to eat. Let us do something about this."

Elmer was getting quite excited. "And then there is the chicken pie situation," he resumed. "Chicken is certainly conserved through the average chicken pie, but nobody eats those onions and potatoes with which they are filled to the exclusion of anything resembling meat."

"And, by the way, if we want to save food let's soft pedal all this vitamin talk. Millions of Americans are not eating because they want the food immediately involved. They are on a vitamin binge."

WHO was the toughest piece of rawhide that ever came to the ring?

The recent death of Chuck Wiggins brings this argument into the spotlight. For Commander Gene Tunney says Chuck Wiggins was the roughest piece of human rawhide he ever met in a ring—and Chuck picked Harry Greb.

It might be mentioned that Tunney places Greb a close second to the unbreakable Chuck in the way of toughness—not as a fighter. Greb was the fellow Tunney always placed on top as the best man, pound for pound, he ever met.

Commander Tunney is now helping dynamic Stan Griffis in the Navy Relief drive. We were talking about Wiggins (almost nationally), and about Harry Greb.

"I'll give you two examples," Gene said, "which bring in both men. On my way to my first Dempsey fight I met Chuck Wiggins. At the time I was working on a right uppercut to the body. I was still raw with this punch. As Wiggins came in I happened to hit him low punches on two occasions. Each time the referee warned me. Wiggins could have dropped and claimed a foul either time, and would have been awarded the fight."

"But when the referee warned me, Wiggins turned to him with a snarl. 'Leave us alone,' he said. 'Tunney didn't hit me low. It was a fair punch.' Naturally that stopped the referee."

The Gamest Fighter "About the fifth round," Tunney continued, "I whipped in with a right body uppercut and I used all I had. Chuck had come in fast and the punch landed low—way below the belt. Again the referee warned me and once again Wiggins told him to get away, that the punch was belt high."

"But as we moved into a clinch Wiggins whispered, 'Say, Gene, keep 'em up a little. That last one hurt.'"

"That was Chuck Wiggins, the gamest, toughest man I ever fought. He could have claimed the fight three times against me that night, and gotten away with it. But not Chuck."

"Wiggins always said Greb was the toughest man he ever fought," I suggested to Tunney.

"I can't say he was wrong," Gene said with a grin. "I'll tell you something about Greb, too."

"The last time I met Harry he was blind in one eye. Maybe the other wasn't any too good, but he was still something to handle. In one round as Greb came charging in I nailed him with a full right to the body. I could feel my glove against his spine. I saw his mouth fly open and his eyes start rolling. I stepped back to let Greb fall. I knew this was a knockout punch."

"The next thing I knew Harry had me on the ropes trying to hammer my head off. I felt for a few seconds that I was in a cage with a wild tiger. I had to finish the round protecting myself. That was Harry Greb."

The Making of Tunney

Commander Tunney will tell you that his battles with Chuck Wiggins and Harry Greb were the two main factors in getting him ready for the first Dempsey fight.

Tunney won't admit that he thinks both Wiggins and Greb were even tougher than Dempsey, but that's how he feels down in his heart. I don't mean harder punchers. Neither was a killing puncher. But I mean rough, tough, to-hell-with-the-rules, anything goes.

In getting ready for Dempsey I'll say for Tunney that he never picked the rose-patched or the violet-bordered road. When he selected Chuck Wiggins, Harry Greb and Rubberman Risko he elected to walk through a garden of thorns and poison ivy. Anyone who could wade through this trio, especially the Greb part, even though he was half blind, was about ready to walk into a cage and grab the raw meat away from a Bengal tiger.

Tunney still rates Greb the greatest fighter he ever met. So does everyone else who ever met Greb, especially the bigger fellows who were his meat. Or you might ask Mickey Walker, on the smaller side, and about as good and as tough as they happened to come along.

The ring knows a far longer list of great fighting men under 150 pounds than over that mark—Jimmy Wilde, Joe Gans, Kid Lavigne, Joe Walcott, Benny Leonard, Owen Moran, Frank Erne, Terry McGovern, Driscoll, Welsh, Attell, Nelson, Wolgast, on and on.

And how many fighters, pound for pound, ever could match Harry Greb, Stanley Ketchell, Sam Langford, or Jack Blackburn? Greb at 160 almost murdered such heavyweights as Gene Tunney, Tom Gibbons, Jack Dillon and others from 190 to 200 pounds.

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor.)

Just to make a long story short—this is just a sketch of the biggest slacker in Kentucky—Happy Chandler. Now, this may not set well with a lot of people, but if they will just stop and think, they'll see that the only difference in Bergdoll and "Happy" is his hiding behind an official cloak.

All the members of Congress holding commissions in the army, navy or marines have gone to the service. We have members of Congress on "submarine patrol" in the Atlantic—all but "Happy." And, even if he is a "campus commission," after the way he bragged before Pearl Harbor that in case of war he'd resign and take up his commission, one might have expected more of him. But we haven't heard a darn thing from him since Pearl Harbor, except to try and slip through a bill raising the Senate clerk hire by $4,600—to get Mrs. Chandler a job. And he dropped that like a hot potato when the public became aroused.

Right here at home, it takes about 120 days to get a car of mine steel—which we all know is vital. A school building at Betsy Layne (badly needed) had to be discontinued for lack of steel. But we don't care for that, just so we lick the Axis. Take it all and tear down some buildings for the steel, if necessary. But our "great patriot" gets a $10,000 swimming pool containing tons of steel, with ornate brass plates and rubber mats. Remember what the War Department had to say about rubber mats last week.

No, our boys, our own blood, can suffer and die on Bataan and other points in the Pacific, yet our little 2x4 Senator gets priorities on brass, steel and rubber for a swimming pool. Is that man worthy of serving in the Senate? I say, No! We all remember how he got to be Senator—he was all over Kentucky shouting from the housetops that F.D.R., Barkley, etc., didn't know how to run the government.

Happy is and always will be an isolationist, along with the other numbskulls, but the people slapped him down by 75,000 votes. Then one of Kentucky's statesmen died—a great man, M. M. Logan—and all rules of decency were violated in not appointing some of Senator Logan's people to serve out his term. But we all know what happened.

In a newspaper poll, a few years back, Senator Rush D. Holt was voted the most unnecessary man in the Senate, with Happy second. Now Rush is gone and that leaves Happy first. A public official who will knowingly accept anything for his personal use that is so badly needed by our sons, brothers, fathers, and uncles fighting to preserve our way of life at the cost of theirs is, in my book, just a plain slacker.

What other name could you call a fellow that the whole public knows is shirking his duty?

I believe we have found out the reason Harve's watch won't run—but we're not tellin'.

Big John Horn got a lot of splinters in his hide trying to attend the ball game at Prestonsburg—and he didn't get 'em from settin' on the rough boards. He got them from trying to climb over the fence.

I see where they intend to make auto tires from alcohol. "More alcohol for tires and less for the drivers" would be a good slogan.

I see where 206 of our boys have been called to the colors this month. Just 206 more headaches for the Axis.

I have just received a letter from our friend, Paul Bentley, "somewhere in the Pacific." He's from Martin and he sez at times the war out there is almost as dangerous as "Shingle-Top" on Saturday night. More power, Paul—keep 'em groggy.

Boy, those "Jerries" had better not try anything up there in Iceland. There are 20 or 25 boys up there from Floyd county.

THE HOME FRONT

THESE THINGS AFFECT YOUR HOUSEHOLD

- Production tides rise. Salvage drive coming. Canned fruit jump looms. Ceiling put on services. Meat to be stamped. Hope for more sugar. Rationed tire use cut. Price Control to stay. Ceilings must be posted. Lingerie order is out.

The news from the fighting fronts has been bad, but there has been inspiring news from the Home Front: The tide of American production that will eventually wash out the Axis powers is rising relentlessly.

War shipments by the automotive industry in April were 46 per cent greater than such shipments in February and war plants in other fields also continue to smash records.

The government this week is giving special attention to three factors which will help insure that the tide of victory is irresistible. It is trying to keep up the necessary flow of manpower, transportation and scrap metals. More and more women are sought for industry. It has been asked that unnecessary travel be avoided for the duration, and the War production Board has called for an intense renewal of the campaign to get scrap metals and materials back to the furnaces.

When the scrap rubber drive is over, we are to begin an intensive salvage campaign. It starts July 13 and is expected to reach into every home and factory for iron, steel, copper, aluminum, fats and greases—and, from selected metropolitan areas, tin cans.

Retail prices of the 1942 pack of canned and dried fruits will be raised as much as 15 per cent. Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced. In a statement addressed to American housewives, he characterized the move as "a serious setback in the battle being fought by OPA to maintain stability of the cost of living." He attributed his action to the special agricultural provision of the price control act and inability to work out arrangements for direct absorption by the government of higher fresh fruit costs as was done in Canada and Britain.

Household budgets got another first aid treatment late last week when ceiling prices became effective on special services offered by nearly 1,000,000 retail establishments. Prices are controlled only on services offered in connection with a commodity. Barber and beauty shops, for instance, offer purely personal services and their prices are not controlled. Among controlled services are shoe shining, dry cleaning, fur, radio, vacuum cleaner, washing machine and hosiery repairing.

Housewives can help win the war by keeping their families well fed. OPA is making their job easier by specifying that beginning July 13 beef and veal must be graded by government standards. From then on housewives will know exactly what they are paying for—and no guesswork.

More of the better "fast" dyes will be available for civilian use later this year through an amended conservation order. Your next safety razor probably will be a plastic one, but production of razor blades and straight razors will continue to be manufactured at the 1940 rate through July, at least. Makers' and jobbers' stocks of safety razors were unfrozen.

Rationing figures and prospects for importing sugar are being studied by OPA to determine whether the prospects will justify a moderate increase in the sugar ration.

Tire rationing amendments, say doctors, ministers and veterinarians, must use their automobiles "exclusively" for professional purposes instead of "principally," to be eligible for tires and tubes. Chiropractors and osteopaths are recognized as eligible for rationed tires. Public schools officials and teachers become eligible for recaps and obsolete new tires for necessary travel between school.

Voluntary plans for more than 200 milk dealers to conserve trucks and tires have been approved by the ODT. The majority put deliveries on an every-other-day basis. Areas affected included Indianapolis, Ind., 19 dealers; Detroit, Mich., 15; Flint, Mich., 9.

A larger tire and tube quota for July than for June has been allowed in recognizing normal seasonal factors in increasing employment of workers in war occupations. July passenger car quotas were set at 25,000 as against a June allotment of 40,000. The original inventory of 402,000 cars has been reduced to about 260,000.

The new coupon gasoline rationing system which goes into effect in the East on July 22 will give less

Little Stories About Well-Known Peoples

Pearson and Allen like to tell this story about F. D. R. When he was a young lawyer he was retained to handle a difficult civil case. The rival attorney was an effective jury pleader and he completely outshone his youthful rival in the argument to the jury. However, he made one fatal mistake. He orated for several hours. As he thundered on, Roosevelt noticed the jury wasn't paying much attention. So when his turn came he rose and said: "Gentlemen, you have heard the evidence. You also have listened to my distinguished colleague, a brilliant orator. If you believe him and disbelieve the evidence, you will decide in his favor. That's all I have to say."

The jury was out only five minutes and brought in a verdict for F. D. R.'s client.

This is the reason for the H. L. that goes before Mencken's name. As a youth he had a little printing business and used to print cards with his name on for advertising purposes. But his father smashed all his black letter lower case "r's"—so he had to print his name H. L. Mencken—instead of Henry L., and that's the way it has remained.

Years ago in Wisconsin, a young man was chopping wood and accidentally hit himself in the foot with the axe. He moaned and groaned and his face was contorted in pain while his shoe was slowly being removed—so the wound could be treated. However, when the shoe was taken off it was revealed that he wasn't even scratched. One of the onlookers commented that he had a wonderful imagination and would make a great actor. His name—Alfred Lunt.

When the piano Beethoven composed his music on was exhibited in a European museum, visitors were given the thrill of sitting down and playing it. Everybody took advantage of that honor—except Paderevski. When the museum guard asked him why he didn't sit down and play, he replied: "I do not feel worthy enough to touch it."

Henry Clay, the eminent statesman, knew how to say the right thing at the right time. A pretty young thing once reproached him for failing to remember her name. . . . But Clay was equal to the occasion, replying gallantly: "I didn't recall your name, because when we last met I was sure your beauty and talent would soon compel you to change it."

This is one of the best squelches we have ever come across. A friend once told Voltaire: "It is good of you to say such pleasant things about an enemy when he always says such nasty things about you." To which Voltaire replied: "Perhaps we are both mistaken."

When Marshal Foch visited America he went to see the Grand Canyon. As he stood looking down into the depths of the amazing natural wonder, reporters all around him waited breathlessly for a comment that would go down in history. After a few minutes of dramatic silence, the Marshal observed: "What a beautiful place to drop one's mother-in-law!"

Among other things, Oliver Wendell Holmes was a doctor, but he wasn't very successful in that profession. Seems that people were a bit doubtful about the flippant medico who posted this sign above his shingle: "Small fevers gratefully received."

Among the better tales about Calvin Coolidge's brevity is this: A reporter was interviewing him. "Do you wish to say anything about prohibition?" he asked.

"No." "About the farm bloc?" "No." "About the World Court?" "No." The reporter turned to go. "By the way," said Coolidge, "don't quote me."

Albert Einstein once had the misfortune to be a guest at a very dull party. Throughout the evening yawns ran wild. . . . At the end of the affair, the host remarked sympathetically to him: "I'm afraid you were terribly bored." Einstein smiled and replied: "No. On occasions like this I retire to the back of my mind, and there I am happy."

For the last five months of her life Marie Dressler's illness let her be up for a few days, then down again—getting worse all the time. Each week, no matter how busy he was, Louis B. Mayer used to take a brief case full of scenarios to her home. Her illness was never mentioned. Mayer merely discussed stories and plans for the future, exactly as if she were still working. Right through the last week of her life, Miss Dressler remained cheerful and happy because of Mayer's thoughtfulness.

Johnson Suggests 'Victory Signal' For Speedsters

Frankfort, Ky., July 6—A suggestion that forty-mile-an-hour motorists toot the "Victory Signal" at speedsters was made by Governor Keen Johnson today. The plan, involving use of the now well-known three-short and one-long blasts, has been put into effect in some of the other states and is working well, the chief executive learned at the recent annual Governors' Conference. "Kentuckians driving at 40 miles an hour might try it upon those who pass them," the Governor said. "It might help remind the speedsters that we are at war and need to conserve rubber and gas."

than four gallons a week. Few motorists will be able to meet requirements for obtaining extra motor fuel. "Price control is here for the duration—that's official." This was the answer of OPA officials of the Ohio-Kentucky-West Virginia - Indiana-Michigan area to what they termed "widespread propaganda" against the posting of ceiling prices in stores. The propaganda, they said, was to the effect that the ceilings were only temporary. Restrictions were removed from the manufacture of lingerie for maternity wear in a new WPB order which also permits double yoke material for flannelette gowns and pajamas and ruffles in children's sizes 3 to 6 and girls' sizes 7 to 14 on a two-seam garment. Evening slips are given the same sweep and length measurements as nightgowns. July 9 will see the start of bicycle rationing to persons who need wheels to get to work. About 240,000 adults' machines are on hand. A higher percentage of the 1942 pack of certain fruits and vegetables has been set aside for lend-lease and army-navy requirements. Toys and games will be brought under a separate price control shortly. One hundred and fifty milk distributors, dealers and haulers of Northwestern Ohio met in Cleveland last week and volunteered to form their own committees to work out a tire and truck conservation program. Because ice prices prevailing during March were at the lowest levels in some years and did not reflect the increases occurring since the beginning of the 1941 summer season, the OPA has shifted the base period for price ceilings on ice from March to April. Actually, about two-thirds of all American families light their homes and run radios, cleaners, toasters, percolators, clocks and washers for a dime a day—or less! What's more, that dime buys just about twice as much electricity for the average family as it did fifteen years ago! These bargains don't just happen. They come from the electric industry's constant effort to give you good service at low rates. They are made possible by practical, efficient business management. That's the American way—and it works! NYA War Production Shop News

By WILMA HORTON

The machine shop unit lost six more young men Tuesday for Eastern transfer. The boys are Ollie Lewis, Paul Huffman, Cleotis Setser, Eiford Holbrook, Delmon Kendrick and James Ed Alley. The entire shop wishes the boys success and hope they will be "stickers."

Raymond P. Wilson is still working on the new offices. The superintendent's office is not entirely complete, but it is already occupied.

Mrs. Minerva Spradlin, representative of the U.S. Employment Office, Pikeville, was here again Tuesday, referring young men as trainees in this shop.

All young men between the ages of 17 and 25, who are interested in training in the fields of sheet metal, machinist, and welding, should report at once to the shop between the hours of 8 a. m. and 3 p. m., Tuesdays, to be referred by Mrs. Spradlin and certified in the shop for training.

Among encouraging letters received from our boys who have gone out on defense jobs, special mention is made of Claude Roberts, New Britain, Conn.; Forrest Coburn, Essex, Maryland; Alex Allen, Baltimore, Md.; Clarence Hicks, Hartford, Conn.; Denzil Hamilton, New Britain, Conn.; Adam Osborne, Essex, Md.; Bradis Calhoun, Baltimore, Md.; and Don Carlos Childers, Baltimore, Md. These young men are making good and they have already had some advances in salary and are now making from $50 to $55 per week. We hope they will keep up the good work.

Very few of the Prestonsburg boys are "quitters." We may not be sending out as many boys as other shops in the state, but none are sending out more "stickers" than our shop. As one of our boys wrote back, "We see boys from other shops in Kentucky and other states quitting every day." This shop is proud of the high standard of its boys.

From 12 to 15 young men have their records complete and they soon will be ready for transfer to defense work.

Johnson and Floyd Family Organizes At Paintsville

A meeting held in the Paintsville city hall Sunday resulted in a Johnson county and a Floyd county family that is the same except in the spelling of the family name perfecting an organization which is intended to unite the ties of kinship through this state, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The family is the Stumbos of Floyd county and Stambauchs of Johnson. Heading the family organization is J. M. Stambaugh, of Paintsville, chairman; O. H. Stumbo, Minnie, vice-chairman; Mrs. Kelly Stambaugh Rothwell, Stambaugh, Ky.; secretary; Mrs. Kathryn Stumbo Frazier, Prestonsburg, assistant secretary and treasurer.

A family reunion will be held Sunday, Sept. 27, at the Beech Grove church on Tom's Creek, Johnson county. The occasion will be marked by preaching, an old-fashioned basket dinner, music and the forming and renewing of acquaintances.

Prater Creek Home Destroyed by Fire

Home of Ike Hall on Prater Creek, near Dana, was destroyed by fire, with all its contents, Sunday morning. Also destroyed was a smokehouse from which little was saved.

Interior of the structure was ablaze when the fire was discovered by a neighbor, T. F. Hamilton. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were not at home when the fire started.

Mr. Hall said there had been no fire in the building since Friday. Arson is suspected, it was said.

BODY OF BABE TAKEN TO MORGAN COUNTY

Phyllis Ann, five-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Williams, died at the Prestonsburg General hospital Wednesday, last week, of colitis.

Body of the little victim was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Moore, of Lancer, thence to Morgan county where burial was made near West Liberty under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home. Surviving are the bereaved parents and one sister, Octavia Jane.

RETURN FROM VACATION

FISCAL COURT BOND ISSUE OF $75,000 IS VOTED

Approval of a $75,000 bond issue with which to pay old indebtedness incurred by Floyd county was unanimously voted Thursday, last week, by the fiscal court in special session here.

The bond issue plan supplants that agreed to by the court last January and cancelled last week. The original issue of bonds was planned to total $65,000.

The bonds which mature in 20 years, bear 4 1/2 per cent interest. The plan for future conduct of the county's financial affairs, as sketched by a county official, is to work on a "pay-as-you-go" plan, paying off the old indebtedness with proceeds from the sale of the bonds and incurring no debts that cannot be paid when due.

The State Finance Company, Maysville, has been authorized to proceed with the handling of the bonds and it is expected that their sale will be effected this month.

Re-instatement of the Works Progress Administration in this county was not made at the meeting Thursday, and predictions as to when the county will resume WPA sponsorship were vague.

As a result of the court's vote to discontinue the WPA, distribution of commodities is expected to cease soon, and the referral agent's work, as well as all works projects, already has been suspended.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SOLDIER WRITES HIS SISTER

Editor, The Times: Will you please print the following letter written by my brother, Walter Goble, before his departure from Fort Dix, N. J., for an undisclosed destination?

"Dearest Sis, "Will answer your letter tonight. I sure was glad to hear from you. I won't be here long now, but wherever I go or wherever I may be I will always be thinking of you all. "I am leaving to fight a winning battle, I hope. Anyway, whatever happens, I want you to know that you have been the one we looked to and I put all my faith in. This will be the last letter from me until I get back. Take care of the family as much as possible. I know you will. "Take care of yourself—and keep your fingers crossed for me. "With all my love, and I hope that God will keep you safe till we meet again. Goodbye and good luck."

Carter County Native Succumbs at Ligon

Perry Lucas, 70 years old, Carter county native, died Monday at the home in Ligon of his daughter, Mrs. Joe Akers, a victim of a stomach ailment.

Surviving are seven sons and three daughters: Mrs. Akers, Mrs. Robert Jones, Arthur and Delmar Lucas, all of Ligon; Hansel Lucas, of Lancer; W. H., Lon, Haskell, James, Misses Zella and Lucy Lucas, all of Burnwell, W. Va.

The body was taken to Denton, Carter county, by the Ryan Funeral Home for interment Wednesday in the family cemetery.

Clinic for Cripples Scheduled July 15 At Paintsville

The annual clinic for crippled children in four of the Big Sandy counties will be held in the public school building, Paintsville, on Wednesday, July 15.

The clinic will be conducted by the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission, with Dr. M. D. Garred, Ashland, orthopedic surgeon, in charge of examinations. He will be assisted by nurses on the Commission's staff, members of the county health department staff, and committees of volunteer lay workers.

Counties for whose benefit the clinic is planned are Floyd, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin. Committees in each of these counties will help provide transportation to Paintsville for needy cases. Mrs. O. N. Evans, of Paintsville, is general chairman of arrangements and chairman of transportation committees are as follows: for Johnson county, Warrick Bailey, Paintsville; for Floyd county, Mrs. Ambrose Mandt, Prestonsburg; for Martin county, Russell Williams, Inez; for Magoffin county, O. C. Williams, Salyersville. In all counties except Magoffin the children needing transportation are to meet at the office of the health departments at 8 a. m., July 15; in Magoffin county the children in need of transportation are to be at the courthouse in Salyersville at 8 a. m.

Notices of the clinic have been mailed to previously treated cases in this district. The clinic will begin at 8:30 a. m., and cases will be examined in order of their arrival. Upon recommendation of the doctor children in need of treatment will go to the King's Daughters' hospital, Ashland, as soon as beds are available. The Crippled Children Commission administers a state appropriation and has financed the care of more than 8,000 physically handicapped boys and girls.

District 12, Rebekahs To Meet at Wayland

Bulletin Tells How Abandoned Kentucky Farm Was Restored

How land abandoned to briars and persimmon bushes was made to produce profitable crops, is told by J. S. Lowry and L. M. Caldwell, operators of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Substation at Princeton. Using limestone and phosphate that cost them $8.65 an acre in six years, they got back increased crop yields worth $58.11 an acre.

Corn yields were increased 20 bushels an acre; wheat, 15 bushels; hay, a ton and a quarter, and great improvement made in pasture. The average annual value of the increased yields was $9.68 an acre, the cost of limestone and phosphate, $1.48 an acre, leaving a return of $8.20 an acre a year, over the cost of soil treatment. These results were obtained where limestone and phosphate were used in a six-year rotation of corn, wheat, hay and three years of pasture.

Fifteen years ago, there was no grass on the farm, except in one spot of the better land. Now every field not used for experiments is in alfalfa, bluegrass pasture, mixed clover and grasses, or corn or wheat in a rotation of corn one year, wheat one year, and clover or grass three years or more.

The complete story of the regeneration of this old, worn Caldwell county farm is told in a bulletin called "Grass Farming for Improving Depleted Soil." Copies may be obtained from county agents or by writing to the Western Kentucky Experiment Substation, Princeton, or to the Kentucky Experiment Station, Lexington.

Members of Anna O. Young Chapter No. 28, Pikeville, presented a "Best Wishes" addenda and Mrs. June Corbin Fields, accompanied by Mrs. Newton Horne, sang "Garden of Old-Fashioned Roses."

Ashland Chapter honored Mrs. Browning in a "Horse-Shoe" addenda, wishing her good luck for the coming year. Miss Virgie McCombs extended greetings from the past matrons and patrons club of district 5.

Mrs. Esther Hilsenbeck, deputy grand matron of district No. 5, brought greetings from West Liberty Chapter.

Many guests paid glowing tribute to the guest of honor both in poetry and addresses, after which she was presented a beautiful three-tier cake bearing 16 candles, also baskets of lovely gifts which she opened and acknowledged, with all other courtesies, in her very charming manner.

At a late hour individual molds of emblematic ices, cakes, mints, and coffee were served to about 150 guests.

Grand officers attending were: Mrs. Josephine Harkins Browning, associate grand matron; Mr. Ernie Beatty, worthy grand patron, Beattyville, Ky.; Mrs. Lattie K. Dunkle, grand conductress, Covington; Mrs. Lorraine Payne, associate grand conductress, Louisville; Mrs. Alice Cook, grand chaplain, Ludlow; Mrs. Catherine Reichle, grand ebner, Louisville; Mrs. G. P. Congleton, Home and Relief Board member, Beattyville; Mrs. Effie McGulre, past grand matron, Louisa; Carl King, transportation and rates committee, Lexington; Mrs. Dorothy Holbrook, welfare committee, Morehead; Mrs. Josie D. Harkins, grand representative of Florida, Prestonsburg; Mrs. Esther Hilsenbeck, deputy grand matron, Jenkins; Irvin Arrowood, deputy grand patron, Paintsville.

Others attending the party: Mrs. Wischart and Miss Mary Lena Wischart, Ft. Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, Huntington, W. Va.; Mrs. E. R. Wright, Mrs. Thomas Birchett, Mrs. Guy Tredway, Mrs. Wilmet McNeely, Mrs. R. L. Fidler, Walber Scott Browning, and Hey B. Browning, Jr., all of Ashland;

Mrs. Mary D. Allen was escorted to the east by conductress Mrs. Genevra M. James and welcomed by the guests, many of whom were from distant points. The guest of honor was presented in a beautiful heart addenda participated in by 16 members of the hostess chapter, with Mrs. Jean Alley, associate matron, extending felicitations. She was then escorted to the station of worthy matron which she occupied here in 1917. Mrs. Virginia D. Shivel, accompanied by Mrs. Lack D. Roberts at the piano, rendered two appropriate solos, "Memories" and "Wishing."

Mrs. Browning Honored With Birthday Party By Eastern Star

Mrs. Hey B. Browning (Josephine Harkins Browning), of Ashland, associate grand matron, Order of the Eastern Star of Kentucky, was honored on the evening of June 29 by a birthday party given by Adah Chapter No. 24, of which she is a member.

Joining in the function, one of the year's most interesting, were dignitaries of the Order from various parts of Kentucky.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Stella Spurlock, Mrs. Anna Branham and Miss Josephine Davidson, who pinned a miniature wishbone on each, and escorted them to the register presided over by Mrs. Winnie F. Johns and Mrs. Grace D. Ford. Standing in the receiving line were Mrs. Dora Spradlin and Mr. Victor Glazer, worthy matron and worthy patron of Adah Chapter, and the charter members, Mrs. Josie D. Harkins, mother of Mrs. Browning, Mrs. Mary D. Allen, Mrs. Lida Spradlin, Mrs. Lida Cottrell and Mrs. Annie L. Davidson.

The hall presented a beautiful scene, with summer flowers artistically placed throughout, the words, "Happy Birthday, Josephine," in the honoree's chosen colors of red, orchid, gold and blue appearing in the east over a wishing well which was decorated with vines and flowers.

Officers were escorted to their stations by the marshal, Mrs. Stella Spurlock, after which the invocation was given by the Rev. W. B. Garriott, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Mary D. Allen was escorted to the east by conductress Mrs. Genevra M. James and welcomed by the guests, many of whom were from distant points. The guest of honor was presented in a beautiful heart addenda participated in by 16 members of the hostess chapter, with Mrs. Jean Alley, associate matron, extending felicitations. She was then escorted to the station of worthy matron which she occupied here in 1917. Mrs. Virginia D. Shivel, accompanied by Mrs. Lack D. Roberts at the piano, rendered two appropriate solos, "Memories" and "Wishing."

Paintsville Chapter No. 320 presented a sunrise addenda which was very impressive. Dr. H. G. Hazelrigg, accompanied by Mrs. Nelson Howard, sang "All the World is Waiting for the Sunrise," after which Mrs. Murah Hazelrigg crowned the honoree with a coronet of gardenias and dollar bills.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

ALL DRESSED UP

ALMOST complete freedom in dress in our time seems queer in the light of the clothes we used to wear. Except when the temperature is in the neighborhood of a hundred, it is possible for me to go where I need to go without fearing that I may be carried out in a dead faint. Probably there is too much comfort today; even the preachers cannot reach us by detailing certain forms of punishment in the hereafter.

Light summer clothes are decidedly modern in our part of the world. Our suits were once both summer and winter, and there was nothing much worse than for a man to shed his coat in company; it was practically the same for a woman to take down her hair in public. Neither the man nor his family would have soon lived over such a boorish act. It might not have been so bad to have heavy summer suits if only the underwear could have been light, but it was long and thick, the same that one wore in the dead of winter. To make matters nearly as bad as they could conceivably be, collars were starched, and starch becomes soft goo when saturated with sweat. Put all of this together and you have a condition that is a pretty good likeness to the discomfort those same preachers pictured rather too frequently.

Suppose we bring back from the past some terms that may have escaped your notice or may have been covered up by later styles. Just what would a bib or a tucker be in the phrase "best bib and tucker"? Can you remember the fascinator, the shawl-like thing that girls used to wear on their heads and men later acquired to wrap up head and ears and neck? Were we tenderer then to require such care? Do you know what a tow string is, especially when it serves as a garter? Before webbing was common, it would have been easy to find such an article in every neighborhood. Colors amuse me, particularly those that are "just the thing." I always think of Oxblood shoes when I learn of the rage for some queer color. When you walked down the aisle at church with a pair of oxbloods squeaking, people could almost hear the odor, too. Quite as funny in another way were the toothpick shoes, long as sled-runners and coming to a point; hence the descriptive name. Did you ever see a false shirt bosom? It served the same useful purpose as detachable collars and cuffs but seems to have departed sooner from the realms of style. And do you remember the old watch chains that looked like only slightly smaller log chains hung across the vest? To own one and to wear it made the owner stick out his chest permanently in the manner requested by the photographer when we got our "beauties snatched." And why should I mention bustles and hoop skirts and choker collars and hobble skirts and paper or celluloid collars? Probably any article of dress is funny after it disappears and rarely funny while it is in style, but it does seem to me that in general our styles are much more sensible and hygienic than they used to be.

A Gift From YOU To The Axis!

HERE IT COMES HIROHITO!--SO SOLLEE!

NOW is the time—TODAY—when you and your neighbor and all the rest of Prestonsburg and Floyd county should honor our VERY OWN heroes of this war. You can honor that boy of yours in Alaska or Australia or England, or wherever he may be in devotion to his country and his people . . . you can honor him AND HELP HIM today.

This is not a "word tribute," but an ACTION tribute. Words won't buy the gun your boy needs to fight the enemy . . . words won't buy the clothing that protects his health. Words won't buy planes, guns, tanks, ships, gas masks, trucks, ammunition, bombers or the thousands of other items needed to insure victory.

Words won't buy these things . . . only your buying of War Bonds and Stamps will. Remember that when you buy War Savings Bonds and Stamps, you're not buying bits of paper . . . you're buying bullets for the gun someone dear to you may be defending himself with . . . you're buying planes that will ward off death-dealing bomber raids . . . you're buying all the things a fighting army and a fighting people need.

All of us are out to honor our heroes by buying bonds and stamps . . . to make and exceed the quotas set for this county! Let's buy, BUY, BUY and show the world what we think of our American fighting men! Let's BUY, BUY to show that Prestonsburg and Floyd county are not exceeded in spirit and patriotism by any other place in this country!

This is the biggest townwide, countywide patriotic event in the history of our community. Help put it over . . . BIG . . . by buying all the War Bonds and Stamps that you can . . . buy till it hurts! Your neighbors and friends are . . . everybody will. Get out today and shop in the biggest bargains your merchants have ever offered . . . bonds and stamps that buy the way to freedom and happiness for you, your family, your town, county—and country.

WAYLAND HOT SHOTS

By R. H.

The news of Wayland is so scarce that you can't even get a good story. I know plenty to write, but am afraid of causing family trouble. Freddie Franklin and Charlie Lykins are having their hands full, the way it is. You know, they are the "home committee" here. They settle all grievances in the homes.

Some of the folks think Mr. Ladd has calmed down a lot. I think they are wrong. It's that tippie again. It has broken down so much that a man doesn't know when to report for work.

I have been "figurating" out who the old "Sand Dad" from Clear Creek is. I have it now. I wonder if he and C.R.G. caught any fish over the week-end. I saw him going fishing. He took two cans of Log Cabin Syrup for bait.

Jo Demaria just couldn't pass up the Fourth without some fireworks. There was a lead cord running to his radio, and when he turned the thing on the insulation all burned off his light cord. Then the fire siren.

Joe "Jo" Bentley has come back to his little Alley Oops from Portsmouth, Va. Others home over the week-end were Pete D. M. Espy, Ray Fraley, Buskie Goodall, Jack Jordan, Kelly Adams, et al.

Tom Spradlin has returned from Detroit where he built another tank. Paul Hinds has returned also, an airplane for him, I guess. Been gone a whole week.

Members of homemakers' clubs in Graves county attended demonstrations in canning peas and carrots in a pressure cooker.

MAYTOWN

PERSONALS

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Allen returned last week from a motor trip to Lake Charles, La., where they visited Pvt. Savage Cooley, who is in the Army Air Corps.

Sergeant Clarence Hayes, stationed in New Orleans, La., is visiting relatives here.

Little Miss Rosalee Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hayes, has been seriously ill this week with tonsillitis.

Miss Betty Jane Newsome, of West Irvine, Ky., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cassidy and daughters, Thelma and Wilma, and Miss Pauline May are visiting in Detroit, Mich. They were accompanied by Master Billie Amburgy, who is the guest of his sisters in the same city.

Ensign Jones Tallent and Mrs. Tallent, of Jacksonville, Fla., are guests of Mrs. Tallent's mother, Mrs. W. A. Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Combs, of Prestonsburg, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Hayes.

Miss Ivel Click, daughter of Mrs. Minerva Click, recently completed her business training at the Louisville College of Business and is now at home. Miss Click is one of Maytown's finest young women, having been a very brilliant student as well.

Miss Mabrey Frasure, daughter of Mrs. Monie Frasure, is at home from Berea College, where she is taking nurses' training, for her vacation.

Miss Christine Hahn returned Sunday from a two-weeks' visit in Bedford, Ky., where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garriott.

BIBLE SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Commencement exercises for the Maytown Bible School were held Sunday morning preceding Sunday School. An interesting program was rendered by the children, whose handwork will be in use next Sunday on Homecoming Day. A large number of pupils received certificates. Rev. J. B. Hahn, in charge of the school, spoke a special word of commendation for the Senior and Intermediate girls, Misses Marjorie Ferguson, Rhodora Hahn, and Joyce Stewart, all of whom were instructors in the school.

SERVICE MOTHERS

All mothers of Maytown service boys, whose names failed to appear last week, please accept the invitation to attend Homecoming services Sunday, July 12, in the Methodist Church.

HOMECOMING ANNOUNCEMENT

The invitation committee did not send invitations to local persons. All connected with the church and others who are assisting and donating in any form or fashion, or who are otherwise entitled and expected to attend, are cordially invited. Unless out-of-town guests far exceed the number anticipated, there will be luncheon for all.

IS CONTRIBUTOR

G. D. Ryan, of Martin, kindly volunteered to provide carnations for the decorations to be used Homecoming Day.

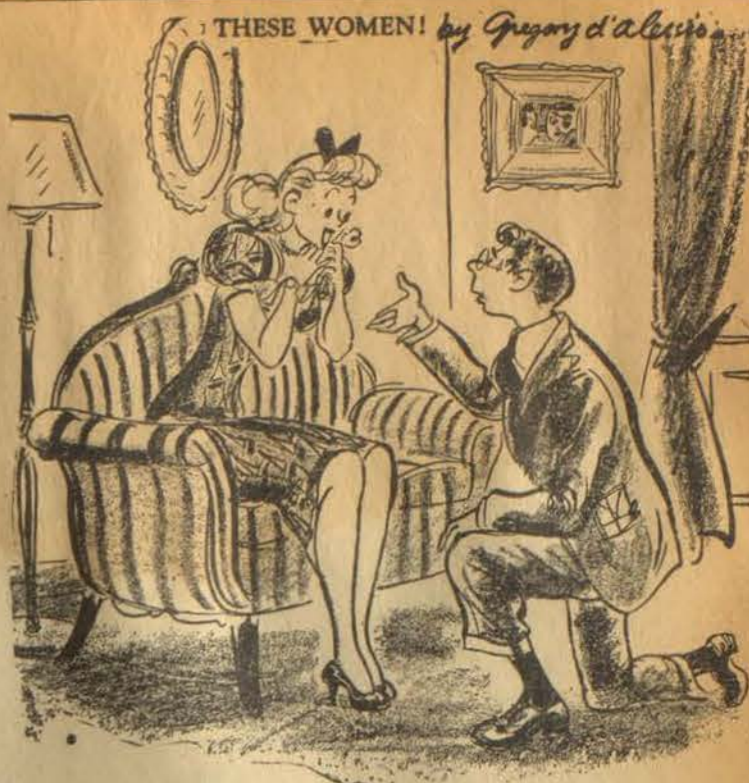

PASTOR TO OPEN REVIVAL

Rev. J. B. Hahn will begin a revival in Garrett Sunday, July 12, at the evening service.

ALLEN-BAYS NUPTIALS

Miss Ruby Allen, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Allen here, became the bride of Mr. Claude Miller Bays in Danford Chapel, Berea, Ky., on June 19th at 4 p. m. The bride, who received most of her high school education here, later finishing at the Berea Academy, was graduated as a chemistry major from Berea College in June, receiving her A.B. degree, as did Mr. Bays, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Bays of Gauge, Ky. The following members of the two immediate families were present: Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hughly, Berea, Ky.; Miss Juanita Bays, Gauge, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Turner and son Justin, of Berea.

Shortly after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Bays left for Baltimore, Md., where he is enrolled as a student in the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine. The groom will be subject to military service following his graduation from that institution.

4-H Camp Programs To Stress War Work

How farm boys and girls may be of still greater help in the fight for freedom will make up the principal features of the programs of 12 camps for 4-H club members in Kentucky. J. W. Whitehouse, state club leader, said club members in every county in the state, totaling 50,000, had already done an invaluable job in collecting scrap iron, rubber, and other salvage, and in the production and preservation of food.

In addition to a state conservation camp at Camp Bingham July 6-10, camps have been scheduled at Bingham July 20-24, July 27-31, August 10-14 and August 17-21. Other camps will be at the Blue and Gray park in Todd county July 13-17; Big Sandy, July 20-24; Green River and Quicksand, July 27-31, and morehead and Cumberland, August 3-7. A camp for Utopia club members was held at Bingham June 29-July 4. All programs stress individual health, nutrition, the production and preservation of food, and the collection of salvage. Assisting in the programs are the Kentucky State Board of Health and the State Division of Fish and Game.

About 500 acres of vetch was plowed under for corn and tobacco in Fleming county.

OFFICIAL U. S. TREASURY WAR BOND QUOTAS FOR JULY

The above map of Kentucky shows the War Bond quotas, by counties, for the month of July, 1942. Total War Bond quota for the state is $9,504,000. With the National quota total placed at a billion dollars, the nation goes into high gear in its support of the War financing and to give our fighting forces adequate implements of war which will bring ultimate Victory. American Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Airmen are on every front. They are giving 100 percent for their country. What are we doing here on the home front? Are we lending at least ten percent of income to help them? It's very little. But to fight this war successfully our country needs a billion dollars in War Bonds every month from us—the People. Let's Go, America. U. S. Treasury Department

Caldwell county children are to have better lunches in the school year already begun.

The Kraft Cheese Company has placed a dairy bull in the Lusby Mill community in Owen county.

Five Logan county 4-H club boys have started herds of registered Poland-China hogs.

Meadows Here Sunday, Tells of Pilot Training

The Morehead State Teachers College, in conjunction with the Licking Flying Service, July 1 inaugurated a course in civilian pilot training available to men who have reached the age of 18 and have not passed 37 years of age, Charles Meadows, former Floyd resident, who is airport manager and chief instructor, said here Sunday. Mr. Meadows said that the training program would be conducted under the direct supervision of the U. S. Army examining board.

A demonstration in making sugarless cake took second place in 4-H club contests in Fulton county.

About 75 farmers in Trigg county are growing soybeans for oil.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

P'BURG DROPS TWO GAMES

But W'wright Team Keeps Slate Clean With Two Victories

Prestonsburg had a bad week-end, baseballically speaking, dropping both its Fourth of July and Sunday games.

Sunday's game with Drift went 11 innings before the visitors won out, 5 to 4. It was a heartbreaker for Patton, local righthander, to lose. During the entire route he allowed only six hits and struck out 13 batters while walking four. C. Patton, Price and K. Stumbo shared the Drift mound duties, scattering 12 Prestonsburg bingles.

Jess Ratliff, Sr., whose heyday was spent behind the plate, won both week-end games in relief roles on the mound for Wheelwright. His Independence Day win was at the expense of Drift which went into the ninth inning enjoying a 3-2 lead.

Next day, with Thealka ahead, 4 to 1, and Ratliff again on the mound after having relieved Stevens in the fifth, Wheelwright went on a six-run rampage in the ninth to make their record 10 straight.

Five Floyd Countians Answer Navy Call For Recruits

Great Lakes, Ill., July 7 (Sp.)—Answering the Navy's urgent appeal for more men, five Floyd county men recently enlisted and reported to the U.S. Naval Training Station here to begin recruit training.

During this recruit training, these men will be initiated to navy life along with thousands of other men from all parts of the country. Soon, they will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether they will be held for further specialized training at one of the navy's many service schools, or assigned to duty at sea or some other naval station.

The Floyd county recruits are: Charles George, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve George, and Albert Shuffelbarger, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shuffelbarger, both of McDowell; Joe Johnson, Jr., son of Joe Johnson, Sr., Harold; Ballard Mullins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mullins, of Drift; Clyde Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Green Hale, of Hueysville.

Husbands and children of members of homemakers' clubs will be invited to a recreation day program in Barren county.

Food canning and drying demonstrations will take the place of homemakers' tours in Caldwell county.
