SIX INDICTED IN JOHNSON SLAYING

Harris Denied Bond; Grand Jury Advises Action Against Idle

Four of the six Left Beaver Creek men named by the Floyd circuit court grand jury Friday in new murder indictments for the slaying of Noah Johnson, Halo merchant, gained liberty Tuesday under bond, while one remained in jail and the sixth had not been arrested.

Indictments were returned against the six after the original murder bill charging Estill Harris with the assassination of Johnson had been dismissed. Named in the new indictments are Harris, Ted, Allen, Gomer, Mitchell and John Martin. The Martins were named as accessories to the slaying.

Harris' motion for bail was denied Tuesday, since he is to be returned to the custody of federal authorities to answer a draft evasion charge upon his release here. The bench warrant issued for Gomer Martin had not been executed. Ted Martin's bond was placed at $10,000; Allen Martin's, $5,000; Mitchell and John Martin's, at $3,000 each. Gomer Martin will be admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000 when he is brought before the court.

The grand jury adjourned Saturday after returning 37 true bills during a nine-day session. It examined 54 witnesses.

DAN MARTIN DIES IN BOYD

Ex-Sheriff's Father Succumbs Wednesday; Burial in Boyd-Co.

Daniel D. Martin, native Floyd countyman, and father of Ex-Sheriff T. Y. Martin, of this county, died Wednesday at 12:45 p.m., at the home in Ashland of his daughter, Mrs. B. S. Geiger, after a long illness. He was 89 years old.

A native of the present town of Wayland, he was a son of the late John Martin and Rhoda Gearheart Martin. His family at one time owned the land on which Wayland and its mining activities now stand. Mr. Martin in 1914 sold his land in this county and bought the Music farm near Cannonsburg. He resided on the farm, one of the largest in Boyd county, till six months ago when he became ill and moved to the home of his daughter.

He is remembered in this county, particularly by older residents, as one of the section's best citizens. Surviving are two sons and one daughter: Ex-Sheriff Martin, of Banner and Ashland; Rufus Martin and Mrs. Geiger, both of Ashland. He also leaves 10 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) from the Cannonsburg Methodist Church, the Rev. W. K. Wood, pastor of the Pollard Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery on East Fork, Boyd county.

Approximately 500 students of Prestonsburg's grade and high schools attended the service. During the hour all Prestonsburg business houses were closed.

Sunday morning, Easter services were conducted at the several churches here.

State Sunday Schools Prepare for Increased Attendance May 2

Hundreds of Sunday Schools over the state are preparing for increased attendance Sunday, May 2, which is Go-to-Sunday-School Day in Kentucky. The promotional campaign has been under way since early in April.

Inaugurated on May 3, 1914, by the late Dr. George A. Joplin, at that time general secretary of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, the first observance of Go-To-Sunday-School Day resulted in an attendance of 650,000 in the Sunday Schools of the state, which was near double the number ever present on any previous Sunday. The movement attracted attention all over North America. Within a few years 26 states and some provinces of Canada were following Kentucky's lead in observing Go-To-Sunday-School Day.

FLOYD HEMP-GROWERS MEET, SEEKING GOAL OF 400 ACRES

On notice by County Agent S. L. Isbell, Floyd county hemp growers met at the courthouse here Thursday, April 22, with the following old and new growers present:

Tom Harris, Emma; Wm. Hicks, Hippo; Hiram Salisbury, Printer; Joe Reynolds, Beaver; Lack Hunter, Woods; Wash Miller, Cliff; Webster Akers, Grethel; Dick Spradlin, Auxler; Darce Montgomery, Blue River; James Hunter, Printer; Jim Stephens, Cliff; Edison Moore, Hueysville; Henry Stumbo, McDowell; George Sherman, Auxler.

Names of others who attended were unavailable.

A check-up of the county's proposed production this year shows that the Floyd acreage has increased from 25 acres to about 200 acres. Since the goal for the county is 400 acres, it is expected that additional sign-up between this date and hemp planting time will bring acreage up to the 400-acre goal.

Hemp is definitely a war-time crop, Japan having captured America's best source of imported hemp, and now every effort is being made to reach the wartime production goal sought. Floyd growers present, who produced hemp seed last year, plan to increase their acreage this year and urge other farmers to do likewise, County Agent Isbell said.

The meeting was called for the purpose of planning the best approved methods of producing the 1943 hemp seed crop. W. C. Johnson, of the Agronomy Department, University of Kentucky, was present and gave growers benefit of his observation and experimental work in more than 50 counties of this state. Hemp growers present agreed on the following practices as being necessary for making this crop the success that it should and must be:

1. Select a well-drained bottom field, as the creek bottoms and valleys offer the best conditions available to the production of the heavy

Floyd County Is 'Over Top' In New War Bond Drive

Floyd county is definitely "over the top" in its drive to reach the $463,000 quota assigned the county in the nation's campaign to raise $13,000,000 in War Bonds this month. The total of Bond purchases in the county during the month may exceed $800,000.

Two days short of the May 1 deadline, Floyd county Wednesday was forging on ahead beyond the goal established. Prestonsburg's two banks had subscribed their share of War Bonds; at the same time, private citizens had done their part.

Glenn C. Spradlin, executive vice-president of The First National Bank, and drive chairman, said this

Congressman May Says Junkets Should Not Cost Taxpayers

These junkets to North Africa by Congressional delegations are not essential to victory and should not be made at the taxpayers' expense, was the opinion expressed here this week by Congressman A. J. May prior to his return to Washington after spending Easter at his Prestonsburg home.

Said Congressman May: "I made a speech recently on the floor of the House in which I said that, so far as the House Military Affairs Committee is concerned, there will be no junketing by my committee, for the reason that I have control of the funds from which travel expenses would be paid. I said then, and I repeat now, I will sign no voucher to pay out the money of the taxpayers for any such purpose."

Congressman May, who is chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, added that he took his committee to Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, to inspect equipment. "But we all paid our own expenses out of our own pockets," he declared.

Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler, of Kentucky, was roundly criticized recently for his demand that he be placed with a group of Senators to visit the African theater of war. Congressman May made no direct reference to the Senator's "military ambitions."

MINE IS IDLE AS STOP-WORK ORDER, NEAR

Mine Labor Dispute In Roosevelt's Hands; General Walk-Out Seen

First Floyd mine to be idle as a result of the current wage dispute between the United Mine Workers and operators was that of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation at Wayland where 800 miners quit work this morning (Thursday).

The coal case was handed Wednesday to the White House for a final showdown between John L. Lewis, UMWA chieftain, and President Roosevelt.

Before the Floyd miners quit work 8000 miners were already idle in authorized walkouts.

Most of the miners idle this week, "eating the gun" to Lewis' expected stop-work order Friday midnight from Pennsylvania and West Virginia operations.

Lewis refused to appear before the War Labor Board, the agency established as a court of final resort in all wartime labor disputes, and announced the miners of his union refuse to go on company property after midnight Friday in the absence of a contract. He said such action would be taken on the ground that work without a contract would be "trespassing on company property."

The Elk Horn Coal Corporation's mining, Ky., mine became idle Tuesday night.

BIDS SOUGHT ON SURFACING

The State Highway Department, in an advertisement appearing in THE TIMES, this week calls for bids on asphalt surface sealing of approximately 11 miles of the Allen-Lackey highway on Right Beaver Creek.

Surfacing will begin at the end of the pavement, near Martin, and extend to the Floyd-Knott line at Lackey.

Asked what the Department's plans for Left Beaver Creek are this year, Dr. B. M. Brown, Hazard, highway commissioner from this district, said a War Department ruling will not permit any new surfacing and limits road work to maintenance only. Dr. Brown added that, unless these restrictions are relaxed, Left Beaver's unsurfaced portion of highway will remain so for the duration of the war.

(This statement apparently was in contradiction to the report received here recently that the War Department may spend this year under an emergency provision from $20,000 to $70,000 on the road up Stephens Branch on Right Beaver if sufficient right-of-way is procured.)

The Martin Theatre, only movie house in the county to report its collection for the Red Cross fund, collected approximately $165 recently for that cause. Treasurer of Floyd Chapter, Red Cross, has been presented check for that amount by Lawrence Keathley, owner of the theatre.

At the same time the services of the clinic were offered tuberculosis contacts, suspects and others referred to the clinic by physicians.

Purchase of $50,000 worth of bonds issued by the city to pay for the utility has been guaranteed by D. P. Newell, Maysville, Ky., at 103.

Sale of the bonds will be made at the City Hall May 3 when bids are opened. Soon thereafter, actual transfer of title of the property is expected to be made.

THE STEP-CHILD

Left Beaver Creek, unhappy step-child of the state highway system, now has the War Department down on it, so we are told. Bring on the jeeps! It's too rough for cars.

NOT SO BAD HERE

If this story, recently told, is to be believed, rationing here is nothing. The story goes that a citizen of German-occupied Holland decided he could stand the Nazis no longer, so he tried to hang himself. But the rope was so rotten it broke. Then he tried to drown himself but his suit, made of German ersatz wool, kept him from sinking. He took poison, but it, too, was an imitation and succeeded in merely giving a bellyache. It was then that he gave up the idea of suicide and started living on his ration coupons. The poor fellow died of starvation in six weeks.

WE STRIKE . . .

Our pickets are at their posts. Everything is being made ready. We strike at dawn. Nothing shall stop us. They were in the driver's seat, once; now we shall show them. We await only the order, and it will come, and then we shall strike. We sit here now, idle; it is the lull before the storm.

No, our pickets do not belong to the picket line back home. Those whom we shall overthrow are not the owners of a factory. That order we await will not come from any labor leader, and we do not sit here in "sit-down" fashion. And when we strike, come tomorrow's dawn, we will not walk out—we shall wade in on the enemy.

For we are the boys in Tunisia on South Sea isles. When we strike for all.

Represent County at National Festival

Though wartime demands have delayed Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick from her Floyd county Plain-Chanters, the group of singers of old-time tunes she organized here years ago, Mrs. James will represent them this year at the National Folk Festival, Philadelphia, Pa., but most of the other members will not be able to attend because of wartime conditions. Mrs. Fitzpatrick is now a resident of Baltimore, Md., where her husband, Tom, is a shipyard worker.

At Hall, one of the Chanters, Mrs. James at the Festival, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, director of Mountain Crafts, associate of the Chanters, will also represent the group at the Philadelphia where displays of hand-crafts and other arts and crafts of Mrs. Johns and associates have attracted wide attention the last few years, particularly in the east where their products have been displayed.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, I didn't realize till the other night when I ran across an article in the paper what a whale of a lot of industrial alcohol the government needs for the war."

"I should say it does, Chet. I understand the beverage distillers around the country are producing about 240,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol this year for ammunition, tires, and other things. I'd say it's mighty fortunate these distilleries are available to do the job. Otherwise, if we still had prohibition, the government would have had to spend millions of dollars and use up a lot of critical materials to build plants...to say nothing of all the time it would take. It might have been just another case of 'too little, too late.'"

Less Than Two Cents

Per Person Is All That Floyd County Will Lose In State Liquor Revenue When She VOTES DRY MAY 15th

For Less Than Two Pennies, WOULD YOU VOTE TO MAKE DRUNKARDS OF THE BOYS AND GIRLS OF FLOYD COUNTY BY KEEP-ING LIQUOR UNDER THEIR NOSE EVERYWHERE THEY GO?

When Floyd County Votes Dry, it means a loss of less than 2 pennies for every man, woman and child in the county in revenue from the state's liquor consumption and license taxes.

IF YOU WANT THE PROOF

READ THE REPORT OF KENTUCKY'S DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE YEAR CLOSING
JUNE 30, 1942

THE TOTAL WHISKEY CONSUMPTION TAX RECEIVED BY THE STATE:

From all sources, fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, was.....	$2,906,746.05
Total State beer consumption tax, same period, was.....	1,234,273.28
Total State wine consumption tax, same period was.....	182,022.35
Grand total consumption tax for this period was.....	4,323,041.68

This total consumption tax of $4,323,041.68 received by the State if divided by the 2,839,927 people in Kentucky, would amount to $1.48 for every man, woman and child in the State.

At $1.48 per capita, Floyd County's 53,002 population paid into the State's general fund, for the year ending June 30, 1942, a total liquor consumption tax of.....	$78,442.96
She sent the State for whiskey license fees.....	1,800.00
Her State beer license fees at $25.00 per store were.....	1,700.00
Her grand total sent the State for liquor revenue was.....	$81,942.96

THIS $81,942.96 IS THE SUM THE STATE WILL LOSE AND NOT FLOYD COUNTY WHEN THIS COUNTY VOTES
DRY MAY 15

This county is only one of the 120 counties of the state sharing in the general fund. So this county will lose ONLY her 120th part of the $81,942.96, which totals $653.69. This $653.69 is this county's only loss in state revenue—less than 2c per person.

No Local Revenue Is Lost

TAXPAYERS WILL SAVE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS WHEN FLOYD GOES DRY MAY 15

The small license fees charged the beer and liquor saloons in Floyd County, to help pay for damage the liquor outfit creates NEVER HAS paid for the care and maintenance of the DRUNKS THE SALOONS MAKE.

Floyd County--Wet or Dry

WILL CONTINUE TO RECEIVE HER SHARE OF $9,157,255.20

In Liquor Revenue pouring into the State's general fund from 7 breweries, 200 wholesale distributors and 4,500 beer and whiskey saloons. A COUNTY VOTING DRY DOES NOT DISTURB THIS REVENUE. Dry Floyd will get her share.

FLOYD'S LIQUOR BILL IS $1,241,836.86

FLOYD COUNTY'S LIQUOR BILL LAST YEAR WAS APPROXIMATELY $1,241,836.86. This equals $23.43 for every man, woman and child. Figure for yourself how much this staggering sum would have contributed to the peace and prosperity of the County, had this amount been spent for useful things.

THE LOCAL LIQUOR OUTFIT

And the Distillers and Brewers of Louisville, Milwaukee, St. Louis, and Chicago are itching to keep their hands on this enormous sum for three more years.

LET'S VOTE LIQUOR OUT OF FLOYD COUNTY ON MAY 15

TO VOTE DRY, VOTE YES. GIVE OUR BOYS AND GIRLS A BREAK!

United Temperance Forces of Floyd County

To the Citizens of Floyd County: Should We Vote Wet or Dry at the May 15th Election?

When prohibition or local option is discussed in nearly every section of our country, we Americans divide ourselves into different schools of thought. The wets call the drys radicals and the drys denounce demon rum and brand everyone who is in favor of the legal sale of liquor as an enemy of the community. To call one who is opposed to your side of the question ugly names may end the argument, but it does not solve anything. A correct solution of any great problem can be reached only when our citizens are able and willing to discuss the matter in an intelligent and logical manner. Then, after all of the arguments are presented, reach the conclusion which appears to be to the best interest of all concerned. There is, however, one outstanding fact with which all, both wets and drys, can agree. It is that the legal sale of alcoholic beverages produces an enormous sum in taxes for the federal, state, city and county governments.

FEDERAL REVENUE
During the year 1942 the alcoholic beverage industry paid in taxes to the federal treasury the total sum of more than a billion dollars. Most of us are unable to understand how much a billion dollars is unless it is broken down in a way to enable us to grasp its significance. Perhaps it would be more impressive if it were stated that the taxes imposed by the federal government on alcoholic beverages produced for the federal treasury in 1942 an average of $2,700,000 a day for each and every day of 1942; or, to put it another way, the revenue received by Uncle Sam in 1942 from the taxes imposed on alcoholic beverages was enough money to pay the entire salary for all 1942 of a standing army of 1,600,000 private soldiers. We are now engaged in the greatest war of all times, testing whether or not the American government and the American way of life shall survive. Every penny received by Uncle Sam by the sale of bonds or through the medium of taxation carries us one step nearer final victory. In view of our great need of money in this crisis, and in the light of our experience under national prohibition, is it unreasonable for one to ask, "Is it advisable at this time, when revenue is needed so badly, to vote the nation dry and divert a billion dollars from the pockets of Uncle Sam into the pockets of the bootlegger, the moonshiner, and the racketeer?"

REVENUE PAID TO KENTUCKY

In addition to the billion dollars collected in 1942 by the federal government from the legal sale of alcoholic beverages, the Commonwealth of Kentucky also collects annually a large percentage of its revenue from this same source. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, the state of Kentucky collected in taxes from the alcoholic beverage industry, $9,157,255.20.

Neither the state property taxes nor the state income taxes paid by the distillers, the brewers, the wholesalers, the retailers, and others engaged in the alcoholic beverage business are included in the nine millions of dollars in revenue above mentioned. If the state taxes paid on income earned from the business and the real and personal property taxes paid on property owned and used in this state in connection with the business were added to the nine millions of dollars above mentioned, it would materially increase it.

However, let's forget the property taxes and the income taxes paid into the state treasury by those engaged in the business, and let's analyze the $9,157,255.20 which the Commonwealth received in revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, from the manufacture, sale and distribution of alcoholic beverages in Kentucky. This nine millions of dollars played an important part in the operation of our state government. It, like most other revenue, except road taxes, went into the general fund of the state treasury. It amounted to 28 per cent of all of the revenue collected by the Commonwealth for the general fund for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942. It, then, like all other general fund revenue, was used to pay for public health, public schools, free text books, the cost of operating the courts, old-age pensions, and many other worthwhile purposes.

Since 28 per cent of the general fund revenue in 1942 came from a tax on alcoholic beverages, it necessarily follows that 28 cents out of every dollar spent from the general fund by the state of Kentucky in 1942 for schools, for free text books, for old-age pensions, etc., came from taxes paid by the alcoholic beverage industry.

In view of the failure of local option in every county in which it has been tried, and since the revenue paid into the state treasury by the alcoholic beverage industry is so large that it amounts to 28 per cent of Kentucky's whole general fund revenue, is it unreasonable for a Kentucky taxpayer who believes in temperance and who is sincerely interested in doing that which is to the best interest of the state, to ask, "Should we vote dry, divert the revenue from the state treasury of Kentucky into the pocket of the bootlegger and tax the people of Kentucky an additional nine millions of dollars to supplant that which will be lost by voting the state dry; or, should we vote wet, use our influence in co-operating with local and state officials in an effort to properly control the business and continue to collect the revenue?"

CITY AND COUNTY REVENUE

The various cities and counties of Kentucky collect thousands of dollars in license fees and property taxes from those who are engaged in the alcoholic beverage business, but this is only a drop in the bucket as compared to the financial benefit which the citizens of the various cities and counties of Kentucky receive from the alcoholic beverage revenue collected by the state of Kentucky.

The Legislature of Kentucky appropriates millions of dollars annually from the general fund of the state treasury which directly benefit the citizens who live in the various cities and counties of the state. A few of these appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, are mentioned below. These appropriations are always made from the general fund; they are approximately the same each year, but since we are discussing the revenue collected for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, we shall discuss only the appropriations made for the same year.

PUBLIC EDUCATION

For the fiscal year ending June, 1942, the Legislature appropriated from the general fund $9,700,000.00, known as the $12.80 school per capita appropriation. This appropriation helped finance the schools in every county of Kentucky and 28 per cent of this appropriation, or, $2,736,000, came from a tax on alcoholic beverages. OF THIS SUM THE FLOYD COUNTY SCHOOLS RECEIVED $222,000, AND ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES PAID $62,000 OF THE BILL.

FREE TEXT BOOKS

For the fiscal year ending June, 1942, the Legislature appropriated from the general fund $500,000 for free text books. Twenty-eight per cent of this sum, or $140,000, came from a tax on alcoholic beverages. OF THIS SUM, FLOYD COUNTY RECEIVED $9,400, AND 28 PER CENT OF THIS $9,400, OR $2,600, CAME FROM A TAX ON ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES.

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENCIES

For the fiscal year ending June, 1942, the Legislature appropriated from the general fund $130,000 to help pay the salary and to finance the cost of operating a county agricultural agent's office in the various counties of the state. Twenty-eight per cent of this appropriation, or $36,400, came from a tax on alcoholic beverages. FLOYD COUNTY RECEIVED ITS SHARE OF THIS FUND.

PUBLIC HEALTH

For the fiscal year ending June, 1942, the Legislature appropriated from the general fund $244,500 for county health offices in the various counties of the state. Twenty-eight per cent of this sum, or $68,460, came from a tax on alcoholic beverages. FLOYD COUNTY RECEIVED ITS SHARE OF THIS FUND.

COUNTY TAX COMMISSIONERS

The counties of Kentucky are relieved of the cost of assessing property for county purposes as the Commonwealth of Kentucky pays the entire salary of the various county tax commissioners of Kentucky for assessing property. For the fiscal year ending June, 1942, the Legislature appropriated from the general fund $307,000 for this service. Twenty-eight per cent of this appropriation, or $85,960, came from a tax on alcoholic beverages. FLOYD COUNTY RECEIVED $2,300 OF THIS FUND.

COST OF COURTS

For the fiscal year ending June, 1942, the Legislature appropriated from the general fund the following sums to pay the cost of operating the courts of Kentucky: To pay grand and petit jurors in the various circuit courts . . . $ 500,000.00 To pay cost of criminal prosecutions in circuit courts of our state, such as witness fees in criminal cases, etc. . . 500,000.00 To pay salaries of circuit judges, Commonwealth attorneys, and judges of Court of Appeals . . . 278,000.00 Making a total appropriation for this service of . . . $1,278,000.00 Alcoholic beverage taxes paid 28 per cent of this sum, or $357,840. FLOYD COUNTY RECEIVED $15,000 TO PAY FOR GRAND AND PETIT JURORS ALONE. IT ALSO RECEIVED ITS SHARE OF THE REST OF THIS FUND.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

For the fiscal year ending June, 1942, the Legislature appropriated from the general fund $4,590,000 for old-age pensions. The federal government matched this sum with a like appropriation, but if the state appropriation is cut, the federal appropriation for old-age pensions is automatically reduced to the exact amount paid by the state. Twenty-eight per cent of the $4,590,000 paid by the state, or $1,285,200, came from a tax on alcoholic beverages. If Kentucky should vote dry and no new taxes were imposed, the check of every old-age pensioner in Kentucky would necessarily be reduced by 28 per cent. FLOYD COUNTY RECEIVED APPROXIMATELY $72,000 FOR ITS OLD PEOPLE. IF THE STATE SHOULD VOTE DRY AND NO NEW TAXES WERE IMPOSED, THE OLD PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY WOULD LOSE $20,000 IN PENSIONS ANNUALLY.

Can we afford to lose this revenue, when, after all, we know that we cannot prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages? We may vote a county dry and reduce its consumption some, but isn't this virtue offset by the cheap, rotten, and poisonous liquor sold by the bootlegger and by the encouraging of a disregard and disrespect for law and order? Our government is built on a decent respect for law and order. When people by the wholesale violate the prohibition law, and they do in every county that is dry, they often go to the point where they have no respect for any law. This, we contend, undermines the very foundation of our government and is a greater evil than the legal sale of alcoholic beverages, properly controlled, ever dared to be.

J. W. Prater, foreman, recommended "that persons able to work who are found loafing and loitering about on the streets without any visible income be brought into court and forced either to get a job at some gainful employment or be dealt with according to law." The jury's report stated that a decrease in crime was noticeable and commended officers, the courts and the manner in which the county jail and public buildings are kept.

Circuit Judge Stephens dismissed petit jurors Monday after trial of J. M. Whitaker, Hueysville, on a striking and wounding charge failed, in the absence of the defendant, to materialize as scheduled. All that remained of court for remainder of the week was the passing of the few sentences imposed during the term and the hearing of a motion for bond for Harris and the Martins.

Last pen term meted out during the session was a three-year sentence to Hosea Williams, Wheelwright negro, who Saturday entered a plea of guilty to a bigamy charge.

Teddy Frasure was acquitted, two days earlier, of a manslaughter charge in the death of six-year-old Walter Salisbury, who was struck and killed at Hunter by a truck driven by Frasure.

Major indictments returned by the grand jury during the last three days, in addition to the Harris-Martins, follow:

2. Use plenty of commercial fertilizer if barnyard manure is not available, the use of phosphate being especially important, since the phosphate aids in the development of the seed and plant. From 300 to 500 pounds of acid phosphate should be broadcast and worked into the seed beds before planting the hemp; also 200 pounds of a complete fertilizer, such as 4-8-6 or 3-9-6 applied in the rows gives a needed amount of plant food nutrients. The complete fertilizer can be applied after the hemp is up and growing by dropping by the side of the hemp hill. Since hemp seeds are very small, being about the size of sorghum seed, a loose seed bed is absolutely necessary.

3. It has been found by the experience of several hundred growers that the rows should be about five feet apart in the rows. A bull-tongue or single shovel plow is best for laying off the row and a marker that will mark two rows at a time is recommended for marking the hills. The amount of seed that can be picked up by the thumb and forefinger (from 10 to 14 seed) should be dropped in each hill and your foot used to press the soil firmly down over the seed, either before or after covering. The seed should be planted in late May or early June. Earlier planting does not produce a large quantity of harvested seed.

4. When the plants are from six inches to two feet high they should be thinned and not more than four plants left in each hill. The surplus plants removed can be used to replant any missing hills.

5. Cultivation should be often and shallow, just enough to control the weeds and grass. Since hemp grows very rapidly, cultivation is necessary only in its early growth, as it is soon able to shade the ground and that prevents further weed and grass development.

Farmers interested in growing hemp should apply to the A.A.A. office here to sign contracts and applications to receive seed and permit to grow the crop at no initial cost. Cost of the seed and permit will be taken out of the crop when it is harvested.

Commenting on the urgent need for hemp, County Agent Isbell said:

"It may be well to remind ourselves that the amount of rope needed to equip one large ship, if laid end to end, would be 79,000 feet long, and this is real large rope, so if we are to grow the hemp to produce the rope material needed we must first grow the seed as about one and one-fourth bushels of seed is used to produce each acre of fibre hemp."

THE GARDEN

By JOHN S. GARDNER Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

THE PEST CAMPAIGN

No stretching of the imagination is needed to liken garden insects to collaborators with the Axis. The fight against insects becomes a campaign, fought with insecticides and dust guns and sprayers.

Supplies must be accumulated and strategy developed from knowledge of the enemy's weak spots. The right insect-destroying materials must be procured, effective against some special part of the insect's anatomy or some particular stage of its life history. Here, the "intelligence" consists of the findings of investigators at the Agricultural Experiment Station, and through this information, the development of control measures the Experiment Station recommends. Thus, the Victory gardener is enabled to enter the fray with the odds in his favor. So that he is not caught flat-footed when the first insects come, he should begin accumulating his supplies.

He will need arsenicals to poison the leaf-eaters and a contact poison for the sap-suckers. In a large garden, one-fourth acre, he can economically use a sprayer, but when the garden is too small to support the overhead expense a sprayer entails, he should confine himself to applying his control materials thru an inexpensive dust gun.

In a large garden, in which are included white potatoes, the equipment includes a knapsack sprayer, 2 pounds of magnesium arsenate (effective against potato beetles but safe to use on bean foliage, too) and a pint of Black-Leaf 40 or rotenone concentrate.

For the smaller gardens, only one insecticide is needed, rotenone dust, effective against all the insects at any stage, and safe to use directly on plant parts used for human food, 1 pound for each 1,500 square feet of garden. The apparatus is an inexpensive and easy-to-find plunger-type dust gun.

Labor Supply in East Kentucky

The Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington has just completed a study which indicated that there are many men and women in Eastern Kentucky who are ready to work in war plants or on farms in other parts of Kentucky or in other states.

More than a third of the heads of 359 families visited said their farms were too small to provide them full-time work. On that account they desired work, either on farms in this or other states, or in war plants.

All of these men are familiar with general farming, and many of them can operate tractors and other power farm machinery. All know about crop growing, including tobacco production, and all have had experience raising livestock. Most of them said they preferred farming to industrial work.

The study showed that many Eastern Kentucky farmers have the least to do in July, August and October, which are the months when men are needed in the Bluegrass region and some other farming sections of the state.

Many men and women already have left Eastern Kentucky for work in other regions. In addition to the large number in the armed forces, many are working in industrial plants in Kentucky and other sections of the country. Also a good many are working on farms in other parts of Kentucky or in other states.

"The Sun is MY Time Clock" He is America's GREAT PRODUCTIVE WORKER! THE average farmer works from sun to sun and then some. Last year, farmers of the U. S. A. brought in a bumper crop and now they are being asked to produce even more, so as to feed our armies, our allies and the civilian population. It won't be easy, but with any kind of luck with the weather, the farmers will produce more food in spite of labor and machinery shortages. Certainly farmers deserve and should receive the fullest cooperation in this gigantic task. In so far as electricity can help, we are making every effort to assist in keeping electrical farm machinery running and in developing every possible source of electrical farm equipment. We salute the farmers of America who meet the challenge of the elements, working through torrents of rain or scorching sun with the same faithful dispatch of duty—tending livestock and crops with steadfast efficiency. We are proud to be partners with these "unheralded and unsung" heroes in the attempt to do everything possible to aid in the increasing of food production for the nation. AMERICA LEADS IN ELECTRIC POWER! Wartime shortages that have developed in many other necessities fortunately do not apply to the electric power supply. . . . Thanks to the foresight of American business management, this country has available more power than all of the Axis nations combined—five times as much as America itself had during World War I. FLOYD COUNTY GOES TO WAR

Where Floyd Countians in Armed Forces Are, What They're Doing

PVT. BALL Pvt. Clark & Mule GARRETT SGT. HOWARD

Together at Camp Carson, Colo., are Pvt. Donald B. Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ball, Prestonsburg, and Pvt. George Ed Clark, of Harold. They are the only Floyd countians who are members of an outfit of picked men of an average of six feet in height and above 160 pounds in weight. They claim their "Mule Pack" outfit is one of the toughest branches of the service, their training being for mountain and jungle fighting where the going is too tough even for a tank or jeep, and where nothing but the old army mule will do the job.

Technician Fifth Grade Camden Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Garrett, Lancer, was recently promoted from the rating of private and now is "somewhere on the desert" taking training for armored regiment action.

Somewhere in India, Staff Sgt. Harvey T. Howard, son of Russell Howard, Betsy Layne, is a paratrooper. Before his entrance into the army he qualified for long jumps and quick stops by taking a leading part in Betsy Layne high school athletics. He enlisted July 1, 1940, has 15 months' foreign service and spent a short time in Australia before being shifted to India.

Charged with the vital task of keeping huge B-24 Liberators in the high state of mechanical perfection required for modern aerial combat, Pfc. Otto Elam, son of Mrs. Bessie Elam, Martin, was graduated Wednesday as an expert mechanic from this unit of the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command.

Pvt. Elam has just completed the 17-week course in bomber mechanics, receiving specialized training in B-24 maintenance, hydraulic and fuel systems, propellers, instruments, electrical systems, engines, structures and inspection. During the last eight days he was given a field test under simulated battle conditions, enabling him to apply, as he would in combat, what he had earned from the course.

Eager to get behind the controls of a primary trainer for the first time in their roles as aviation cadets, another large class of Uncle Sam's potential fighters of the air has been advanced from the pre-flight school of the San Antonio (Texas) Aviation Cadet Center.

The cadets will undergo training in the air at primary, basic and advanced flying fields before winning the coveted wings and commissions of flying officers.

One hundred seven Kentuckians advanced from the pre-flight school, including one from this county—Aviation Cadet Lawton E. Clark, Alphoretta.

Pfc. Carl L. Tufts, who has been in the army air forces since Jan. 20, recently completed a course in radio operator-mechanics at the Army Air Forces Technical School, Sioux Falls, S. D. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Tufts, of Prestonsburg. Prior to induction, Pfc. Tufts was employed as machinist by General Electric, Bridgeport, Conn. He is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school, class of '41. His past activities include band and football.

Recently inducted into the Navy as apprentice seamen, three men of the Prestonsburg area have reported to the U. S. Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill., for a period of basic training.

In the 12 weeks of training to follow they will be transformed from civilians into trim Bluejackets, receiving instruction in seamanship and an indoctrination into Navy customs and procedures, along with other prescribed training. They will take a series of aptitude tests and receive a personal interview to determine whether they will be assigned to a trade school for further training or be sent directly to sea upon completing "boot" training. Before their next assignment, however, they will be granted a nine-day leave.

The Prestonsburg area recruits are:

Trenton C. Hall, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, Prestonsburg; John S. Spradlin, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill G. Spradlin, Prestonsburg; and Oakie Goble, 19, son of Mrs. Alice Goble, Dwale.

Pvt. Vernon Allen, son of Mrs. Lizzie Allen, of Martin, is a member of a heavy bombardment army air force group now in training at Wendover Field, Utah. During the period of his training he, along with other members of his group, will receive instructions and practice under conditions comparable to those met in actual combat. Wendover Field, situated on the edge of the great Utah salt flats, is one of the nation's most important centers for the training of heavy bomber crews.

Pvt. Ollie P. Wills, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wills, Water Gap, writes from "somewhere in the South Pacific" to his sister, Mrs. Jesse Wallen, that he is well and likes "the place." He not long ago observed his 22nd birth anniversary.

Not only Pvt. Claude Leslie, but every member of his platoon, has qualified as a sharpshooter at Camp Lee, Va. The platoon's recent score of 96.9 out of a possible 100 was the best ever recorded by a platoon at Camp Lee. Pvt. Leslie is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Leslie, of Emma.

Newly-arrived soldiers at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., are the following from Floyd county:

Pvt. James England, son of Mrs. Anne England, McDowell; Pvt. Gardner Tackett, son of Mrs. Florence Tackett, Melvin; Pvt. Ashland Patrick Compton, Gearheart.

The following newly inducted personnel of the United States army have been sent forward from the reception center at Fort Thomas, Ky., to the stations and addresses indicated:

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Editor, The Times: I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your splendid cooperation during the filing period of the income tax. Your paper rendered a great service not only to the government but to taxpayers in your district.

There was so much confusion coming out of Washington in regard to the "Pay-As-You-Go Bill" that the people didn't really know what to do and the assistance that your paper gave us and gave them finally got the very best results. I want to thank you on behalf of the Collector's Office for this splendid service.
