

McNUTT RULES THAT ONLY ESSENTIAL WORKERS ARE DRAFT-EXEMPT

Dependency draft deferment—even for men with children—will be wiped out for countless thousands under a new order issued by the War Manpower Commission's selective service bureau Tuesday to take effect April 1.

Although selective service boards were instructed to start on that date reconsidering the status of "non-deferrable," workers in that classification will be given an additional 30 days to find essential positions providing that they have registered with the U.S. Employment Service for a job transfer.

The list, which WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt called "just a beginning," in a broad hint that dependency deferments are being narrowed generally to relieve labor shortages in war industries, covers:

1. All job-occupations in 19 manufacturing, eight wholesale and retail trade, and nine service activities.
2. Twenty-nine job occupations "non-deferable regardless of the activity in which they are found."

In the first group are: Manufacturing—Curtains, draperies, and bedspreads; pleating, stitching, tucking, and embroidering; trimmings, stamped art goods, and art needlework; cut, beveled, and etched glass; cutware; glass novelties; mosaic glass; stained, leaded, ornamented, and decorated glass; jewelers; fixings and materials; jewelry, lapidary work, ornamental gold and silver leaf and foil (non-industrial); silverware and plated ware (non-industrial); costume jewelry and novelties; decorative feathers, plumes, and artificial flowers; frames, mirror and picture; greeting cards and picture post-cards; jewelry cases; and sign and advertising displays.

This Town-- That World

Almost 14 months now since the crafty Jap sneaked up behind us and cut his own throat.

Hitler seems to be afraid Russia is going to lose this war—for Germany.

LET US IN ON THIS

Blood plasma is one of the great lifesaving media of this war. Blood donors are eagerly sought, for the plasma supply is not sufficient for the harrowing months of battle ahead. Then why don't "they" arrange to tap the blood supply of sections like this? We've got some good mountain blood we can spare, since good mountain boys are spilling theirs, and there should be some arrangements made to let us get our blood into this war.

WON'T BE 'PECKED' AROUND

North Africa, it would seem, appears as heaven from the storm to at least one Floyd county man. His draft board here this week received the following letter: "Will you please send me my call to the army? My wife has hit me in the head with a stick of stove-wood. We can't agree and I won't live with a woman and let her peck around on me that way. So send me my call just as quick as you can. I'm rarin' to go."

WHEREIN I CATCH IT

There's one thing you can say for John L. Lewis. Those who like him like him a lot, and they don't like for anybody to hint even that he sometimes is "off the beam". Take those letters I've received from readers giving me hell Columbia for that editorial of a couple of weeks ago. And not a soul to give me any support, moral or otherwise. Maybe I was wrong. Oh, well.

LIFE, Take a Look!

Life Magazine recently gave a woman nation-wide publicity—as having set a record by knitting 58 sweaters for men of our armed forces. It's a pity Life didn't know about Mrs. C. W. May, of Prestonsburg. Ruth (Mrs. C. W.) works a full 40-hour week in the office here of the Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company, since Pearl Harbor has knitted 79 sweaters, also does her volunteer stint, of evenings, sewing on surgical dressings for the Red Cross. In her spare time she also has knitted several helmets and mufflers.

G. B. HALL DIES AT 77

Superintendent Hall's Father Is Claimed By Death Sunday

G. B. (Greenbury) Hall, prominent Floyd county man and father of Town Hall, Superintendent of Floyd county schools, died late Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. D. Ramsey, on Frazier's Creek, near McDowell. He was 77 years old.

Mr. Hall had been in failing health for several years but had been critically ill for only a few days, his last illness having had its inception in a cold which was followed by complications.

A farmer, and in earlier years a carpenter and timberman, Mr. Hall was one of the section's best citizens. His religious faith was that of the Regular Baptist Church. He was a son of Owen and Mrs. Juda Stumbo Hall, pioneer Floyd countians, and was born and reared in the community where he died.

Besides Superintendent Hall, he leaves four other sons and daughters: Milford Hall, McDowell; Mrs. Ramsey, of McDowell; Mrs. A. J. Martin, Betsy Layne, and Prof. Boone Hall, Wayland. He is also survived by four brothers: John Art Hall, McDowell; James E. Hall, Frazier's Creek; Willard Hall, McDowell; and Floyd Hall, of Greenup county; also 19 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

PLANS TOLD FOR 'POINT' RATIONING

Canned Fruit, Vegetable Sales Will Be Halted From Feb. 20-Mar. 1

Public sale of canned fruits and vegetables will stop throughout the nation at midnight Feb. 20 and will resume on a tightly rationed basis March 1.

These official dates for starting the drastic innovation in grocery shopping were announced Tuesday by the Office of Price Administration. The order also applies to all frozen fruits and vegetables, dried fruits—(but not dried vegetables, canned soups and canned baby foods.)

Canned goods rationing has been on the way for several months because of the quantities needed by the armed forces and lend-lease operations.

The new ration system will be even more complicated than the controversial rationing of gasoline, oil and other products.

Canned goods rationing will, in fact, involve a dual currency system. Starting March 1, every time the housewife goes to the store for canned goods, she will have to pay not only the usual money price, but also a value in coupon points.

For March, the first ration period, she will have 48 points for every

FLOYD SAILOR IS MISSING

Wallace, Pinks Safe Tho First Reported Missing in Battle

As word reached Mrs. Darliss R. Benner at Wheelwright this week that her husband, Harry R. Benner, a sailor with the U. S. fleet, is missing, it was announced here that two other Floyd countians, previously reported as missing, are alive.

Pvt. Fred Wallace, his brother James at Garrett has been notified, has been located. He was first reported missing after the final surrender at Corregidor, but the War Department recently learned that he was not there at the time of the surrender.

Pvt. Glenn Pinks, son of Mrs. Darcus Cole Patton, formerly of Prestonsburg, now of Royalton, it now is known, is a Jap prisoner of war. He was reported missing while the Philippine fighting was in progress.

Further information concerning the Wheelwright man reported missing is unavailable.

Over the desk here of Miss Ella Noel White, Home Service secretary of Floyd Red Cross Chapter, are poured the troubled stories of Floyd countians in uniform and of relatives of these men in their country's armed forces.

These stories which come to Miss White are in the same vein as those which reach Red Cross workers in every other county and city of the United States and in the country's overseas bases. And they add up to round-the-clock service by the Red Cross, now doing its heroic bit in the war as it has previously done during times of flood, famine and other disaster.

Home problems—illness, marital troubles, legal tangles, financial affairs—all these human snarls are dumped in the lap of the Red Cross. Miss White said this week that she has handled 376 such cases since Pearl Harbor—cases requiring visits to the families of soldiers, responding to urgent telephone calls and telegrams, gathering and receiving information, always serving in the morale-building program of the Red Cross.

Miss White made no attempt to estimate the number of cases in

Serbian Miner Kills Self at W'wright; Was Ill 2 Years

Despondent because of ill health, Vladimir Vidanovich, 50-year-old miner and native of Serbia, ended his life at his Wheelwright home Friday night by firing the charge of a .410-gauge shotgun into his throat.

Members of the family told the Ryan Funeral Home at Martin, where the body was prepared for burial, that Vidanovich had been ill two years, despondent for more than a year and that he had previously attempted to end his life.

He is survived by his widow, Monnie, of Wheelwright; two children, Loga and Yowan, both in Europe; three step-children, Beatrice Vilak, Clarence Carter and Edna Baldwin, all of Wheelwright. He was buried in the cemetery at Martin Monday.

Garrett Woman Dies, Victim of Malady Fatal to Son

Mrs. Millie Laferty, 47 years old, wife of James Laferty, Garrett, died at her home Monday after a long illness of tuberculosis.

Her death followed by only a few weeks that of her son, Darwin, victim of the same disease.

Mrs. Laferty is survived by her husband and the following children: Melvin Laferty, Garrett; Mrs. Kurl Dutton, of West Virginia; Henrietta, Buck, Helen, Mary and Geraldine Laferty, all at home.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday by the Rev. Alex Coburn and burial was made in the Tom Martin cemetery, West Garrett, under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

2 DESERTERS JAILED HERE

Mayo Attempts Escape But Officers' Fire Halts His Flight

Two army deserters were in jail here this week, awaiting arrival of military authorities to return them to army posts.

One of the two, Jacob Mayo, a three-time deserter who escaped from Deputy Sheriff Scott Compton several weeks ago when almost at the door of the county jail, was arrested Sunday on Arkansas Creek by Deputy Sheriff Compton and Deputy Curt Stephens.

Mayo fled upon the approach of the officers but when the officers opened fire he halted.

The other prisoner held as a deserter is George Kidd, of the Mud Creek section, who was arrested Wednesday, last week, by Deputy Sheriff T. S. Salisbury and Elliott Prater.

GERMAN BOMB HITS TARGET—LONDON SCHOOL

LONDON—Although incapable of breaking through London's anti-aircraft defenses to strike at any vital war objective, Nazi airmen were still able to unload their cargoes of death on defenseless schools and kill many children. GRAND JURY INDICTS 37

Final Report Asks Raise in Salary Of Floyd Jailer

The grand jury of the Floyd circuit court filed its final report to Circuit Judge Stephens and adjourned Thursday, last week, after returning 37 true bills in two sessions which totaled nine days. Eighty-six witnesses were questioned.

Commenting on the apparent decline of crime in this county, the report signed by J. W. Hayes, foreman, attributed the decreased number of felonies to the following: that a large number of citizens are absent from the county, in the armed forces or in defense work, and that officers are diligent in their efforts to enforce the law.

After examining the county jail and public buildings, the jury reported that it found them to be well-kept and recommended that Jailer Guy Horn's $50-a-month salary be increased to $75.

70 TRAINEES NOW WORKING

In War Production; Sent in Last Month From P'burg Plant

The 30-day period beginning on Dec. 31 and extending into 1943, local War Production Shop officials announced this week, marked the turnout of 70 trainees from the shop into war plants. These trainees are from several Eastern Kentucky counties. Approximately 25 others lack only the completion of their personal records before being transferred into war work.

The shop is operating at full capacity with about 185 enrolled and distributed among the three eight-hour shifts. A large percentage of the enrollees are girls.

A recent change in the age requirements stipulates that a trainee, upon completion of his or her training, must be 18 years old before acceptance into the Dayton war work. Prior to this change, boys and girls have been accepted at the age of 16.

December 31 highlighted activities when 29 left on the single day for Dayton and Mansfield, O. The following left in that group: To Dayton—Ruby Branham, Edward Clifton, Josephine Goble, Naomi S. Akers, Dwayne, Rudolph C. Baldrige, Dorothy Colegrove, Wayland; Edward Howard, Hippo; Foyster Newson, Melvin; Glenn Pack, Tamara Harrington, Johnnie Pack, Juanita Pack, Lou Verna Parker, Drift; Curtis Jones, Dema; John W. Turkey Creek Child, Meningitis Victim; Sister Recovering

A day after his sister, Peggy Sue, 6, had been returned home from the Martin General hospital as a spinal meningitis convalescent, three-year-old Quentin Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelley Terry, of Turkey Creek, died Friday night of the same disease before medical aid could be summoned. The child became ill at 3 p.m., Friday afternoon, and died seven hours later.

The Terry family has been placed under quarantine by the Floyd County Health Department as a measure seeking to prevent further spread of the disease.

Dream of Orphanage at McDowell Draws Step Nearer Realization

Lee Frazier's years-old dream of an orphanage at McDowell, this county, was a step nearer realization last week.

Folks outside Floyd county have become interested in the undertaking, and those in the county will soon be given an opportunity to show their interest.

Articles of incorporation of the Lee Frazier Memorial Children's Home have been amended and the first annual meeting under its new charter was held last Thursday afternoon.

Plans were laid at that time for completion of the building program begun at McDowell 11 years ago by Mr. Frazier and for putting his dream of aid to orphaned children into operation.

The amended charter has a sponsor in the Pioneer Family Service which, in turn, is operated by the Rest Harbor Rural Association, Inc., Lockport, Ky. Officers of the organization, elected at Thursday's meeting, are Lee Frazier, president and treasurer; I. O. Wallace, Lockport, Ky., vice-president; Iola Crisp, Martin, secretary.

CLOSING ORDER FOR TAVERNS IS UPHELD

Judge Says Regulation 'Will Be Enforced To the Letter'

"The roadhouse closing order will be enforced to the letter," County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., declared after learning that the Court of Appeals had upheld his right to fix the hours during which Floyd county roadhouses outside municipal limits may operate.

The appellate court's decision was handed down Friday by Chief Justice Will H. Fulton, with the whole court sitting.

As a consequence, 30 days after issuance of the court's opinion, no roadhouse in the county outside a municipality may operate during week-days later than 8 p.m., and on Sundays not at all, County Attorney W. W. Burchett said.

The order entered by County Judge Hill early last April was attacked, a week later, by a suit filed in the Floyd circuit court by J. B. Ratliff, Lancer roadhouse operator, who sought an injunction to restrain Judge Hill from making his order effective. The injunction was denied last June by Circuit Judge Henry Stephens, Jr.

Ratliff's petition contended that the law empowering County Judges to fix closing hours for roadhouses outside corporate limits of a town or city but permitting city councils to fix the closing hours for those inside such municipalities "amounted to class legislation."

The Court of Appeals opinion declared, however, that classification

75 ELIGIBLE FOR POSITIONS

Under Teacher Tenure Act; Board Names New Treasurer

County Superintendent Town Hall was formally authorized by the Floyd County Board of Education Tuesday to issue continuing contracts to all eligible teachers under the 1942 teacher tenure act.

To be eligible for such a contract, the teacher must have taught the last four successive years in the Floyd county school system and must possess a standard or college certificate, Mr. Hall said.

Approximately 75 Floyd teachers are eligible for continuing contracts. Upon the resignation of G. C. Spradlin as treasurer of the Floyd County Board of Education, Wesley Campbell, of the First National Bank, was named to succeed him.

Consolidated school tax levies for the next year were adopted, remaining unchanged from 1942 except in the Drift and Maytown districts. Drift's 25-cent levy to retire outstanding bonds was dropped, since the bonds have been paid, and Maytown's rate was dropped from 50c to 40c.

'Rupp 'n' Ready' Is Net Coach At University of Kentucky

The most hated college basketball coach in Dixie—and happy to be that—is the University of Kentucky's Adolph Frederick Rupp, says Jimmy Jones of the Louisville Courier-Journal in his article, "HE'S RUPP AND READY," in the February issue of Esquire. Rupp, better known as "The Baron," publicizes Kentucky's team with the help of hecklers. Since coming out of Kansas 12 years ago he has won a large and enthusiastic following of enemies who call him the "Human Loud Speaker." During this time, his boys have piled up 195 victories against 49 losses while meeting the best competition all over the country. They have won six Southeastern conference titles in the last 10 years, and were the first team from the South to play in Madison Square Garden. Three times they have represented the South in the North-Sugar Bowl game, and last March they trimmed Illinois' Big Ten champions in the Eastern NCAA play-offs at New Orleans.

It's a knack of Rupp's, says ESQUIRE, to make a combat out of basketball and to grate up a profitable feud with his adversaries. Most of his crowd-building strategy is based on the idea of getting people to talk basketball. When the Baron, an imposing and dignified figure, enters the gym, there is always a chorus of boos from his renowned "heckling society." He strides onto the floor majestically, bowing to right and left, and casting his contemptuous glares in the direction of his hecklers. People with grating, rasping dispositions always attract attention to themselves, command respect in crowds; and regardless of whether or not this is Rupp's natural characteristic or whether he puts it on as a profitable stage presence, he always has to "take it" on the cage floor. He's willing to take his barbs, though, since it stimulates enthusiasm for his game. To basketball fans, Rupp is a sort of human volcano going around spouting verbiage, and naturally they have to leave their firesides on cold winter nights to go out and boo him.

In the past, points out ESQUIRE, the teams simply came and filled their engagements with each other. The papers dutifully carried an advance story and perhaps a one-column cut. The coaches exchanged perfunctory greetings and that was about all. But the man in the brown suit changed all that. Now, when The Baron brings his boys to town, there is no mistaking that something prodigious is in the offing. The papers for weeks have been writing about him, and the fans and village urchins have been thinking up choice invectives to hurl.

Concludes Jimmy Jones, "Take good material, good competent coaching and good conditioning, and add the psychology and gab of a natural-born showman, and you have old "Rupp and Ready," and the secret of basketball's rise to glory at the University of Kentucky. The Baron has proved by demonstration that a man himself and his game can flower and thrive on controversy."

A GOOD WORD — IN BAD COMPANY —

By the REV. W. B. GARRIOTT Pastor, Prestonsburg Methodist Church

Here is another word which is closely connected with the word, "passion"—Zeal. It means ardor in promoting some cause.

In speaking of Jesus, Alexander White has said, "His holy zeal sustained him and impelled him all through his life, and the same ruling passion was his greatest strength in his death."

Turn with me to Matthew 7:21, "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." There is not only something to believe, but there is something to be done. We bear his name; we represent his life in the world and we are supposed to personify his teachings.

How can we do this if we are not possessed with a holy zeal? I seem to hear some one say, "Yes, I have just been thinking that every preacher should have such a zeal." I most heartily agree that they should, but permit me to ask you a question: What about the laity? Whence came the idea that this should be so for the preacher and not the members of the church? My dear friend and church member, of whatever faith you may be, the day you were received into the church to which you belong, whether you made as loud a profession as some one else matters not—that day you took upon yourself the name Christian and you obligated yourself by being named a part of his church. But some one will say, I do not belong to any branch of the Christian church and, therefore, there is no responsibility on me. Possibly there is not a responsibility

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor.)

There's a story going the rounds up here on Jay Salyers. I won't vouch for it, but it sounds real. It seems that Jay, off on a trip, stopped at a place and asked to stay all night. The people were crowded and offered to keep Jay if he would sleep with the colored hired hand. Jay agreed and, as soon as he was asleep, some of the fellows blacked his face. Jay was up before daylight and off down the road. Just a short distance from town, he took out a pocket mirror to see how he looked; and, seeing the black face, exclaimed, "Now, I'll have to go back—them guys have woke up the wrong fellow!"

Yep, R.H.—I've sure been out of circulation for a while. Glad to know that you missed me. Remember the time you ordered halibut steak—and you almost whipped the water for bringing you fish?

What's this about the Allen family holding a baby derby? A new daughter arrived at the Editor's (Norman Allen's) and two days later one arrived at Commonwealth Attorney John Allen's.

Someone should figure out how to make a bread knife out of a can opener.

F.D.R. should have taken ole yellow Lindy on that hop to Africa. It would have suited me if F.D.R. had taken Lindy, Wheeler, Taft and that few-brained Hoffman to Africa and left them. They are just a detriment to our way of life.

About all John Horn can find to argue about now is the Roosevelt administration. Personally, I think he's all wet, for he's gained 97 pounds since F.D.R. has been President and he's switched from "Hoover Dust."

Rationing To Mean Fair Distribution

With food rationing to start some time in February, so that everyone will get his fair share, folks are wondering just what the food situation is. Home economists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics have this to say: There will be an ample supply of cereals for people at home as well as for lend-lease use, even though the crop this year will be short. The supply of fats and oils is not as large as last year, but larger than in pre-war years. Sugar supplies may be smaller than last year because of transportation difficulties.

More sweet potatoes and dried beans are in prospect for use because of a big carry-over. Should the white potato crop be only average, there will be fewer potatoes available than last year.

The supply of fruits and vegetables will depend on weather, labor and transportation. There will be more home canning than ever before. Gardeners will be urged to plant vegetables with the most food value.

Poultry and egg production will be increased, but so will overseas shipments, hence there will be less for home consumption. Fish supplies will be smaller. Meat will be rationed so that everyone will get his fair share. It is expected that the total supply of milk will be the same, but civilians will probably get less because of large shipments being sent overseas.

1942 Game Kill Reports Needed To Get 1943 Ammunition Supply

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28 (Spl.)—An urgent plea was sent out today to all Kentucky hunters by S. A. Wakefield, director of the Division of Game and Fish, to get their 1942 game kill reports in to the Division as soon as possible in order that this information may be forwarded to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Chicago as a basis for figuring the amount of ammunition that should be released for Kentucky hunters for the 1943 hunting season.

Wakefield stated that he had received a communication from the Fish and Wildlife Service requesting such information immediately so that this organization could present figures to proper authorities to prove that wild game killed in Kentucky and used as a table meat is essential to the all-out war effort and justifies the release of ammunition to hunters for the 1943 hunting season.

Requests have been made already by the Division of Game and Fish a number of times in practically every newspaper in the state for these game kill reports, but to date the response has been very weak, Wakefield said.

On the back of each hunting license is a form to be filled out. State the number of each species of game killed during the season and mail the license at once to Frankfort, in care of the Division of Game and Fish.

In Letcher county, W. H. Gibson has a three-acre field of alfalfa which he cut four times, getting approximately five tons per acre.

“Erwähnen Sie nichts von Amerikanischen Eisenbahnen zum Führer!”

GEN'L VON BLITZ: Don't mention American railroads to the Führer! He has been hearing reports on their wartime performance. He is frantic. The last rug in the War Ministry he has totally chewed up!

UNCLE SAM: General, it breaks our heart to think your boss guessed wrong again. Remember he said that private enterprises like railroads in "decadent" America would think only of business as usual? Does he know now that right after Pearl Harbor, all railroads — like a nationwide machine — swung into the biggest mass-transportation job the world ever saw?

GEN'L VON BLITZ: Please! Don't speak of—

UNCLE SAM: But your Führer ought to know. Tell him that in 1942 our railroads rolled up some 640,000,000 ton-miles of wartime freight—one-and-a-half times the volume carried in 1918! Remind him that much of this freight was for civilians — keeping them the best-fed, best-housed, best-clothed nation in the world! Tell him that, since Pearl Harbor, more than 11,000,000 railroad trips were made by soldiers moving in organized groups—not counting men under individual orders or on furlough. And vastly increased civilian travel was handled at the same time. Tell him that when his U-boats were sinking coastwise shipping, the railroads pitched in and delivered more than 18,000,000 tons of coal to New England.

GEN'L VON BLITZ: Please! Such figures—they give spells by the Führer!

UNCLE SAM: So sorry! But tell him if he's still around at the end of 1943, he'll hear a story of American railroad performance that will twist him like a pretzel. Along with our fighting men, our railroad men are all-out for victory. And they're not foolin'!

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE BIG SANDY BUS STRIKE

Last April a contract was signed between Kentucky-Virginia Stages and Transport Workers Union, Local 214, C.I.O. This contract, which does not expire until April 16, 1943, expressly provides that disputes between Company and Union shall be settled by arbitration and NOT BY STRIKE. The arbitration clause in the contract is in the exact words proposed by the Union itself.

A dispute now exists between Union and Company over a single issue and no other. Union contends that one of Company's recent employees, who wants to become a member of the Union, and--since last November--has tried repeatedly to join, is "undesirable" and has rejected this employee without any opportunity to be heard or even to know the grounds for rejection. Company does not believe that any reasonable grounds exist for denying membership to this employee, BUT COMPANY IS WILLING AND HAS CONSTANTLY URGED THE UNION TO ARBITRATE THIS ISSUE, according to its written agreement so to do. UNION REFUSES TO ARBITRATE. It refuses to tell either the Company or this employee WHY this employee is regarded as "undesirable" and has been rejected. INSTEAD, THE UNION HAS GONE ON A STRIKE. The strike is in violation of the terms of the strikers' own contract. The strike is wholly contrary to the principle now being solemnly urged by the War Labor Board and the President of the United States that wartime strikes gravely endanger the safety of our soldiers and seriously impair the ability of our Government to crush the forces of foreign aggression.

The Company deplors this absolutely unwarranted, indefensible and unpatriotic action on the part of the Union, which can only result in great inconvenience and injury to its patrons and irreparable damage to the War effort. The Company still is, and always has been, entirely willing to observe to the letter all of the terms and provisions of the contract now in force between it and Transport Workers Union, Local 214, C. I. O.

MAKE A DREAM COME TRUE

ANY Floyd countian who is not impressed by the zeal of Lee Frazier, one of our own, to build at McDowell an orphanage is but a living symbol of the truth that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

Floyd county should be proud of the spirit of the man. Its citizens and officials and businesses should recognize that fine spirit with very real assistance.

The steamboat was called "Fulton's Folly," and certainly there have been those who would dub Lee Frazier's dream as folly. But these few have not the ability or the imagination to see farther than drab surroundings, look higher than their own narrow horizons.

Can any doubt the sincerity of a man who has not only dreamed over the years of helping orphaned children but who also has done backbreaking work and spent his own money to make that dream come true?

Do any doubt that a thing, conceived so nobly, could come to Floyd county, from the mind and heart of a Floyd countian?

Certainly, Lee Frazier is something of a dreamer—and all the better for it. Some men, you know, dream of riches and work for them and get them. They are called practical men. Then a few dream of doing for others, forget self. They are called idealists, just dreamers.

Plain Lee Frazier, whom hundreds of us know as Lee, accepts the accolade. Dreamer.

Then why not let us all join him in his dream? It will not hurt us, THE TIMES assures you.

FLOYD LOSES TO PIKE

UP in Pike county they're calling John D. Steele, marine, "Pikeville's one-man army."

Steele is the man who accounted personally for 33 Japs on Guadalcanal.

At Pikeville he has been greeted as his due, as a hero. He has been honor guest at the town's Victory Sing, has been honored at Pikeville churches—in brief, has been the toast of the town. Patriotic folks and nice folks, those Pikeville people.

John D. Steele, however, by virtue of the few yards from his parents' home at Boldman to the Pike county line, is not a Pike countian at all. He is Floyd county's "one-man army."

But has Floyd county awakened to that fact? No. And so Pikeville has adopted him. If Floyd county does no more than it has to date to claim its heroic own, young Steele will indeed be Pikeville's, even if he is an adopted son.

John D. Steele leaves for his post of duty Feb. 12, in case Floyd county folks would like to know.

Prestonsburg Team Loses in 1st Round At Conference Meet

Prestonsburg defeated Auxier high school here Wednesday night, 52 to 36.

After losing its first encounter in the Big Sandy Conference tournament at Betsy Layne Thursday night, last week, to Van Lear in two overtime periods, the Prestonsburg Black Cats came back Monday night to blast Pikeville Academy, 47 to 27.

Prestonsburg's loss to Van Lear was a thriller all the way. The Cats kept the lead through the entire game and with only two minutes and 40 seconds to play had a 24-19 margin. At that point the Johnson countians went on a scoring spree, the regular playing time of the game ending with the two teams in a 24-all tie. At the end of the first overtime, the teams were still tied, 29-29. Then, in the next play-off period, Van Lear scored three points to Prestonsburg's two. It was Van Lear's third triumph over Prestonsburg this year.

On the same evening Betsy Layne eliminated Fleming high school in the same kind of contest—two extra periods. The Paintsville Tigers won the conference tournament, meeting Jenkins in the finals. Pikeville high school eliminated Betsy Layne in the second round. The tournament drew large crowds. Scores of all games were not made available to THE TIMES.

Elsewhere on the Floyd county basketball front, the Martin Purple Flash will attempt to get back in winning stride Friday night in a game at Martin with the Garrett Black Devils. The Flash lost last week to Wheelwright, 21-19. Prestonsburg plays Wayland Friday night and is at home Saturday night to the barnstorming Chapmansville, W. Va., team. The West Virginians have to their credit this year a win over the Logan, W. Va., high school five.

Beauty Shops Here Close Wednesdays, To Aid Red Cross

All Prestonsburg beauty shops will close each Wednesday afternoon, it was announced this week, so that their operators may join in the making of surgical dressings to be used in U. S. army hospitals.

At the same time Mrs. Lillian Keenon, leader of the Red Cross surgical dressings work, said that attendance at daily sewing sessions has been splendid this week. Tuesday (Mother's Day each week) saw a record set for the sewing room here when 2,058 dressings were made.

The Allen delegation of volunteer women workers is growing weekly. Mrs. Keenon added, the town of David sent a sizeable group of workers this week, and West Prestonsburg women are working every afternoon.

The sewing room is open every afternoon except Saturday and is open all day on Mother's Day each Tuesday. Work is also done on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, beginning at 7.

Plans For Rationing

member of the family to spend on rationed goods. She will have to budget herself on canned goods according to the family's likes and dislikes.

For instance, a medium can of peas may require ten points while a can of spinach may cost five points, and so on. She will be able to buy any kind of canned goods she chooses, as long as she stays within the family's points budget—and also has the money to pay for the cans, as usual.

The eight days between February 20 and March 1 will be used for two purposes:

Grocers will stock their stores, mark point values, on either cans or counters, train employees in the rationing method, and make other preparations.

The public will use the period to line up at schools, churches and other public places to get new ration books. This registration, to be handled by 1,500,000 volunteer clerks, will begin Feb. 22 and run for six days.

Some time during those eight days, also, OPA will announce what the point value of different cans, frozen packages, or dried fruit packages will be worth during March (values may change from month to month.) To announce these values beforehand, officials said, might tempt the public to hoard these types of foods which will cost the most points.

Point values will vary according to the sizes of cans or packages, and also according to the relative scarcity of the particular types of fruits or vegetables. These variations will be somewhat similar to the variations in money prices. Large cans will cost more points than small cans. Peas and corn will cost more points than tomatoes.

The first duty of householders will be to take an inventory of their pantries Sunday morning, Feb. 21. OPA suggested householders lay out on a table all the foods which will be on the March 1 ration list. From this layout they should take away without counting any cans containing less than eight ounces—these are mostly small size baby foods. Then they should take away five cans for every person in the family, regardless of age. The number of cans or packages left over is the number which will have to be reported when some representative of the family goes to get the family's new ration books.

This pantry count will pay no attention to any home canned goods nor to unrationed articles such as jellies and olives and potato salad.

The rationing clerk will want one other piece of information—the amount of coffee the family had on hand last Nov. 28, when coffee rationing started. Those who last Nov. 28 had more than one pound of coffee for every adult in the family will have some coffee stamps removed from their sugar-coffee book. Similarly, those families which had any cans or packages left over in their count of the pantry shelves Feb. 21—in other words, had more than five cans per person—will have one-eighth point stamp removed from ration book No. 2 for each of those excess cans.

Retail stores will have to take inventories of their stocks or rationed merchandise as of the beginning date of rationing and also March 31, and thus be able to report to OPA on their first month of operation under the system and also to provide a base for an authorization of how much inventory each store will be allowed to carry.

Restaurants, hotels, hospitals and other institutional users of canned goods will apply for special rations during the first 10 days of March. Tentatively, OPA will not require the public to use their coupons when eating at such places, however.

February 6 to 12, Boy Scout Week; Troop Work Cited

Two million men and boys will celebrate a birthday on February 8, the 33rd anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America. The week of February 6 to 12 has been designated Boy Scout Week.

Troop 20 of Prestonsburg has made every effort in participation of the salvage drive for the prosecution of the war. In 1942 Troop 20 collected and sold over 12 tons of newspapers, magazines and cardboard. They have distributed circulars for the Office of Price Administration, posters for the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. They made the only drive for the collection of aluminum in Prestonsburg. In addition to these activities, they volunteered their services as messengers for the Civilian Defense Council. All of this work has been accomplished by 15 boys.

The Prestonsburg Troop is sponsored by the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club. The following men compose the troop committee and troop leaders: Woodrow Burchett, chairman; Town Hall, Ambrose Mandt, S. L. Isbell, Robert D. Francis, J. H. Keenon, scoutmaster, Ralph Taylor, assistant scoutmaster, Joe Berry, assistant scoutmaster.

During Scout Week is the time the boys call on the citizenry for help. This is the time when funds are raised to continue the program for the coming year. Last year, Prestonsburg raised $500 and David $200 for the Boy Scout movement. The funds are used to train leaders and to continue the work that has been started. None of the local men receive any salary for their work in Troop 20.

Allen, David, Auxier and other communities of Floyd county have Boy Scout troops that are doing unheralded war work, the molding of character and building citizens who will command the respect of their fellowmen.

Farmers Needing Tools Told To Make Application With County War Board

A reminder to farm residents in Kentucky that they must get in touch with their County Agricultural War Board when they decide to purchase farm machinery or equipment was issued recently by the Kentucky bureau, Office of War Information. According to H. Dale Rue, district manager of the War Production Board, many farmers have been making applications to their local rationing boards or to the War Production Board, due to a misunderstanding of requirements.

"Instances have been reported of persons driving many miles to the nearest WPB office, asking for a certificate to purchase equipment, only to find that they had gone to the wrong agency," he said.

Such applications have been handled by County Agricultural War Boards set up in each county by the Department of Agriculture since September 17, 1942. More recently, applications for plumbing and heating equipment, fence, wire and building construction for rural homes and farms have been bought under the Agricultural War Board's jurisdiction.

"Farmers should remember," Rue said, "to get in touch with the Agricultural War Board in their home county whenever they wish to purchase any type of machinery for the farm or farm home."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

"NOT GUILTY"

Editor, The Times:

I have been told that I was accused by Mr. Town Hall, in the presence of several of his teachers, of doing the write-up about Bosco school that was in the paper a few days ago.

I hereby state that I had nothing whatever to do with it, directly or indirectly.

MRS. LEORA B. MULLINS

BLAMES A.F. OF L., AND RADICALS

Editor, The Times:

I notice the article in THE TIMES of Jan. 21 issue concerning John L. Lewis and the strike in Pennsylvania. Let me say, as for these miners, that have been on strike and to make it clear that John L. Lewis does not approve of "wildcat" strikes, as a delegate to the convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, in October, some of these same miners were on strike then and were ordered by John L. Lewis to return to work.

These miners haven't been out on account of the fifty cents hike in dues, but because of progressive organizers sponsored by the A.F. of L., and a bunch of radicals.

I feel that I would not be doing my duty if I didn't answer this on behalf of the greatest labor leader this country will ever know. I don't follow his leadership in politics, but I do believe in him when it comes to dealing for a contract for all of us who have to live by the sweat of our faces.

Now, when you go out on these defense jobs, you don't hear much said of the A.F. of L. holding me up in order to get a job, anywhere from $25 to $100.

There is a bunch of politicians in Floyd county who would like to see labor back to where they could buy them for a quarter a vote and the coal operators could post a notice our wages were reduced 10 to 20 per cent, and make us afraid to say we wouldn't work for it.

Now, Mr. Allen, I am a citizen of Prestonsburg. I would like very much for you to have my views of this in the Feb. 4 issue of THE TIMES. There is nothing in this that the public wouldn't want to know. I have been an officer in David Local Union for over a year and was president of that Local till Dec. 1942, when I came out here on defense work, and we never had a wildcat strike while I was an official of that Local.

I am looking for this in THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES as true facts as I know them.

KENTUCKY CLOTHES FOR RUSSIA COLLECTION

Editor, The Times:

For several weeks the schools of the state have been collecting clothes for Russian civilians. This project originated with the Versailles high school Versailles, Ky., on Armistice Day. Every public school in the state was contacted.

The initial success indicated that much more could be accomplished. Russian War Relief sent their regional director, Thomas Byrd, to Kentucky for the purpose of organizing a clothes collection. Discovering the project had already been started, George Yates, principal of the Versailles high school, was asked to head this drive. The Versailles Board of Education gave Mr. Yates a month's leave of absence to devote full time to this most worthy project. A state committee composed of outstanding educators and well-known men and women of the state was then appointed.

It is estimated that between sixty and a hundred million Russian civilians have been evacuated. When they left their homes everything was burned except what they could carry on their backs. These Russians are without adequate clothing in a land which is known the world over for its severe winters—40 below zero is not uncommon. Not a single textile manufacturing plant in all of Russia is allowed to manufacture clothing for civilians. All resources and energies of the nation are devoted to maintaining the Russian army. No amount of money can buy clothing in the United States for them. Their only source is second-hand, discarded clothing which our state and nation can and will supply.

It has been the willingness of the Russian civilian to sacrifice their comforts and bare necessities of life that has enabled our allies to so successfully withstand for over a year and a half the strongest army the world has ever known. So successful have they been that even Hitler no longer predicts a successful termination.

School children of Kentucky are being asked to canvas their communities in an effort to meet a quota of 250,000 pounds of clothing. No one is asked for money. All that is desired is clothing which they have discarded. Anything suitable for winter wear such as underwear, socks, stockings, girdles, suspenders, belts, vests, trousers, hoods, blouses, jackets, dresses, skirts, topcoats, overcoats, raincoats, capes, and shoes are acceptable. It is not necessary to clean or fumigate. This is done by the Russian War Relief.

Local schools will collect and receive this clothing. They have instructions relative to shipping.

This is an opportunity for the schools and the citizens of Kentucky to help the Russian civilians who desperately need and deserve our assistance. They have held the goal line while we were preparing for our own offense. Let's kick a few goals for them.

RUSSIAN WAR RELIEF

HIS EYE ON FLOYD COUNTY

Editor, The Times:

I gather up every item of news that I can about Floyd county. Of course, about the only source is through THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES. I can hardly wait from one week to the next to get my paper. The column telling where our boys from Floyd county are stationed and what they are doing is very interesting.

I had the pleasure of taking part in the training of one of our newly-commissioned officers, Lt. Marshall. I am a link instructor and at the time was stationed at Columbus, Miss., teaching instrument flying. Many of you perhaps refer to it as "blind flying," but if they know their instruments, it isn't blind flying at all. The pilot knows every minute and at all times the altitude of his craft. Lt. Marshall, I am proud to say, was one of our best students. I attended Caney Junior College with him; he also was an outstanding student there.

As for you Floyd countians, I hope this letter finds you all in good spirits and feeling that you are doing something that helps. Sometimes everything seems to be closing in on us, and to choke out our most strenuous efforts; but this is when we have begun to lose faith in God and forget that we must keep in step with Him. God is not baffled by any emergency, and we, as His servants, can seem to do superhuman achievements if we honestly let God in on it. Usually we begin to feel "shaky" about our ability to do what needs doing and an investigation will show that we have been trying to give ourselves credit that belongs to God—and so have made a mess of it.

To do right, to honor God is more important than our physical lives. Some heroes, perhaps most of them, escape with their lives. God and His men will outlive this war.

Floyd countians, the American way of life will be salvaged because we have you and your kind in the first lines.

ONE-TIME LIEUTENANT IN RUSSIAN CAVALRY DIES IN COUNTY

Felix Standovich, who was said to have been a onetime cavalry lieutenant for the Czar of Russia, died penniless last Friday at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, after an illness of six years.

A Lithuanian, Standovich landed on American soil, he told friends, on the day President McKinley was assassinated. He was about 80 years old. He worked as a miner at Wayland for 20 years.

After he became ill, six years ago, miners at Wayland subscribed funds to pay his fare to Philadelphia, Pa., where a sister resides. But Wayland was home to him, and he returned there to spend his remaining days. After that, he was cared for by Wayland church folk. The girls who work at the company's soda fountain kept a box into which Felix' acquaintances would drop their contributions for him.

And when he died last week, resources of the burial fund of Local Union 5895, United Mine Workers at Wayland, were tapped to provide him a decent burial in the Wayland cemetery. His funeral was under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

Uncle Sam is doing a whale of a job in this global war—and a big part of it is being done by long distance telephone.

That's why we ask you to please use the long distance lines only when really necessary, so as to keep them clear for vital war business. It will be especially helpful if you will, as far as possible, avoid making any long distance calls to war-busy industrial centers.

Material shortages prevent expansion of telephone facilities to fill the general increasing demand for service, so won't you help to make the most of what we have, knowing that in doing this you are making a genuine contribution to the war effort?

Grand Jury Indicts 37

Kelly Adams on Middle Creek and of "Red" Craft at a roadhouse near here remain unsolved after the grand jury questioned several witnesses. The jury's report said it had not gathered evidence sufficient to warrant indictments. Reporting also that evidence was insufficient for an indictment against Joe Ashby, accused of rape, the jury asked that his case, as well as the Adams and Craft deaths, be investigated by the next grand jury. The report listed the names of four others against whom it failed to return bills.

Seventeen true bills were returned by the grand jury on the last day of its session. One charged John Howard with the murder of Melvin Bolen on Salt Lick Creek, a few weeks ago. Another named Dewey Gibson, who recently ended a pen term and was returned here to answer to grand larceny charges, with shooting and wounding Ida Caudill. Miss Caudill was shot before Gibson was sent to LaGrange, officials said. A second shooting and wounding bill named Marcella King.

Woots Smith, charged with shooting and wounding Constable Adam Hayes and Deputy Constable Ransel Marcum at Garrett, pleaded guilty. Smith was given two five year terms, the sentences not to run concurrently.

Lawn Re-Seeding Time Drawing Near

February is the best time to sow bluegrass on lawns, if they were not seeded in September, says Prof. N. R. Elliott of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Select a time when the ground is covered with a light snow or is honeycombed by freezing, he advises. Use only good re-cleaned seed for sowing at this time as seed in the chaff may be killed by freezing before it is covered with soil. If the soil is reasonably good, sow one to two pounds of seed on 1,000 square feet of surface. Bare spots or poor sod should have two or three times that much.

Late February or early March is the time to broadcast a good high-grade complete fertilizer over the entire lawn. Use 10 to 15 pounds to scatter over each 1,000 square feet of surface. One will never have as good a lawn as they should have without sowing seed and feeding the grass.

It will be better to wait until after the middle of March to sow the white dutch clover seed on the lawn, since this seed germinates in a few days and the young plants are easily killed by freezing. The white clover seed is much heavier than bluegrass and therefore must be sown separately; also a very small amount of this seed will be needed, three or four ounces per 1,000 square feet of surface. In order to get an even distribution of this small amount it can be mixed with a pint of dry soil or sand.

PLANS FOR VICTORY

This member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps is one of many who have carried over the skills and experiences of their civilian lives into the Corps. She is a draftsman, and together with women of many other skills, she will use her ability in service with the Army, allowing another soldier to take his place with the fighting men.

Farmers Prepare To Produce All Food Needed

Better management and the use of more machinery will enable Kentucky farmers to make all the increases in production wanted this year, says Dr. Roy E. Proctor, of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Farmers are making careful plans, says Dr. Proctor. They are planning their crops and their livestock production so as to make the best use of feeds and labor.

Dr. Proctor stresses better use of machinery. In many neighborhoods there is a sufficient supply of equipment, if it is fully used, he thinks. It may be necessary for many farmers to rent machinery, or hire its owners to use it to seed, cultivate or harvest crops. In other cases, equipment will be exchanged, or labor traded for machinery.

Many farmers will use more horses and mules this season, in order to use larger machinery. Practical short-cuts will be developed and labor-saving devices used.

Where more livestock can be handled, it is suggested that it may be found on nearby farms, where neighbors have more stock than they can care for.

Farmers are doing much solid thinking and planning this winter, Dr. Proctor has found. They want to produce all they possibly can to help win the war, and to make money with which to buy bonds, pay debts and build up a reserve for a rainy day.

DO YOU WANT A BABY?

New Vitamin Combination Brings Hope to Childless Homes

Nothing equals a baby to bring complete unity and happiness into the home and tie husband and wife together in a stronger bond of enduring love and mutual interest. Divorce is rare in the homes of couples that have children.

Unhappy wives, childless due to relievable functional weakness may now enjoy the desires and activity of Nature's most wonderful creation—a normal, fully-developed, vigorous woman. A sensational new vitamin treatment specifically for women may be just the thing needed by the childless wife and quickly bring the happiness of a baby in the home. It is, of course, absolutely harmless.

If you are childless due to functional weakness and lack normal vigor—if you wish to eliminate one of the great causes of unhappy marriages, by all means try Perlex for one week. To introduce this new vitamin combination to a million women quickly, the Perlex Company, 314 N. Michigan Ave. Chicago, Illinois, will send a full $2.00 supply for only $1.00 and a few cents postage. Send no money—just your name and address. Perlex comes in a plain wrapper—directions are very simple and no diet or exercise is required.

Deduction of points from War Ration Book 2 for all rationed canned goods in excess of five cans possessed for each person in the family will be made at the time the new ration book is issued in the near future, the OPA has decided.

Deduction of an 8-point stamp for each can held in the family in excess of five cans per person will be made equally from all ration books in that family group.

In declaring excess stocks of canned goods at the time of distribution of the new ration book, the person registering for the family must state the excess number of cans of rationed foods of eight-ounce size or larger owned in the family.

Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania will be required to produce 21 per cent of the nation's scrap metal output during the first six months of this year.

The monthly mileage which new buses may operate has been increased by the ODT to insure continued movement of war workers.

An emergency procedure which will enable oil-rationed householders to acquire up to 50 gallons of fuel oil in a minimum of time has been worked out. If a householder, without valid coupons, faces a critical need of oil, he may use this set-up once during this heating year.

Regional OPA offices have been authorized to set ceiling prices on all types of coal sold by wholesale or retail dealers in an area.

Whether many rural children attend school next fall may depend on how well school bus drivers observe ODT conservation policies, the ODT says. "Empty" miles must be reduced.

Quotas for the production of repair parts for farm machinery have been increased.

During the week ended Jan. 22, the WPB ordered construction stopped on nine more projects with a total cost of $56,344,612.

More than $25,000,000 will be saved the government and heavy industry this year through reductions in foundry prices ordered by OPA.

Because the packed ceilings on maple syrup for March, 1942, reflected the 1941 crop costs—which were approximately 30 per cent lower than those for the 1942 output—the OPA has established specific dollars and cents maximums for packer ceilings on maple syrup at levels which reflect these higher replacement costs. Maximum prices for sales by producers to packers also have been set.

Nine groups of food products have been added by OPA to the list on which wholesalers and retailers are allowed to pass on "permitted increases" which have already been allowed at the process level to cover higher production costs.

Thirteen hospitals for rapid treatment and rehabilitation of women who have become carriers of venereal diseases to the armed forces are now in operation. One is at Indianapolis, Ind. Total capacity is estimated at about 11,000 patients a year. Vocational training fits the girls for employment upon release.

All men between the ages of 18 and 45 are now required to carry their Selective Service classification cards as well as their registration cards.

Several government agencies have joined in another warning against anti-freeze solutions containing calcium chloride and other salts. Presence of salt may be detected by placing a few spoonfuls of the solution in an iron skillet or dish (do not use aluminum) and allowing it to boil slowly until the liquid has evaporated. A substantial residue of salt indicates that the compound is a brine solution which should be removed from the radiator.

The new 5-cent piece consists of 56 per cent copper, 35 per cent silver and 9 per cent manganese. The WPB almost let the mint use stainless steel.

WAYLAND HOT SHOTS

By R. H.

Strange as it may seem to some folks in Wayland, Deibert Davis and Deibert Suppes went to Sunday School last Sunday. It's a very long road with no turns in it. Hope it's all for the betterment of the boys.

John Turner said, "Gee-o, don't talk to me about defense work. There's an old Lick Bird (brown thrush) that sings up in that hollow every year. It's been coming back to the same place for 16 years that I know of and if I go to a defense job, I could not hear him sing this spring."

I believe a certain collector for a furniture store is hiding behind something, maybe a piccolo and telling his wife he's out collecting.

Fess Roark, they tell me, has gone into the sawmill business. Raising steam is not like hanging paper, Fess; it takes more power.

They tell me the man with a thousand faces and Arthur Haywood are spending lots of their time at the Cream Pitcher.

Johnnie Wallace thinks he can still be a cowboy. I see he has bought a pony. Maybe there's more meat in a pony than there is in a hog.

Bobby Doyle Hicks ought to be a member jiving Jack and Jills. They say he's the best Jitter-Bugger in town. He ought to be; it costs him old man a new pair of shoes each month.

This gas rationing has stopped lots of honky-tonking in the Beaver section. Kindly reminds me of the days when I had to saddle up old grey Beck to go sparking. Maybe the Fountain of Youth that has never been discovered until now makes me feel young anyway.

ADVICE TO FIRST AIDERS

DON'T WAIT TILL IT'S A "STRETCHER CASE"

MAKING your electrical appliances last for the duration is one more way of helping on the Home Front. Electrical helps were never more important. Time and labor saving, they march to work at the twist of a wrist—invaluable aids to homemakers pressed for time by the demands of serving their country in all sorts of war effort while keeping the Home Fires burning, too.

Among the lessons Wartimes teach us is that of how important just a little extra care may be—with an electric appliance it may mean only a drop of oil in the right spot at the right time—a frayed cord replaced before it causes a short circuit, or a blown-out fuse—a tightened screw—to keep an appliance working—these thoughtful preventives are more precious than pearls, in Wartimes. Treat your Electric Appliances with respect.

son's condition and his gratitude were very touching."

All members of the armed forces whose presence at home is required because of illness, death or other emergency require Red Cross services. If, for instance, it was explained, a Floyd soldier is notified of a death in his family, he reports the news to his commanding officer and applies for furlough. Whereupon the commanding officer wires Miss White here for confirmation of the death. In the event that the soldier needs money for the trip he is granted a loan by the Red Cross.

Miss White told this week of another current case that has required much of her attention. A sailor, home on leave, was due to leave here Jan. 25 to return to duty. But he refused to leave. His family was in straitened circumstances, and the young man insisted that he would not leave till his wife received financial assistance, since his allotment to her had not come through. "We think we have that cleared up now," Miss White concluded. "We have loaned him $30 on his written agreement to repay it."

Another service the Red Cross renders is lending assistance to families who cannot locate their kin who are in the army. "Many anxious mothers and fathers come to us for help in such cases," Miss White said.

All this in addition to the work of women volunteer workers of the county who are making thousands of surgical dressings and knitting and sewing for the men in the armed forces.

To prove that no service man is too far away in this world conflict to avail himself of the services of the Red Cross, the worker here pointed to the story of the soldier who, in the South Seas area, wanted his mother in Florida to receive flowers on her birthday. The Red Cross field director at the army base where the soldier was located got the message through to the boy's home chapter. The flowers arrived on his mother's birth anniversary.

Dream of Orphanage

now stands were made by Frazier himself. Labor costs he paid out of his own pocket. Sometimes he stopped work on the building to do concrete work for others, that he might bolster his fading financial resources. When the going got particularly tough during Depression days, he used the Bonus money paid him as a war veteran, so that the work would not stop.

"I never asked anybody to help me, because I'd rather wait till I got it done," Mr. Frazier explained. "They'll know I'm not lyin' then."

But the task of completing the building and furnishing it finally forced Mr. Frazier to admit grudgingly that the job was too much for him alone. And the years were grudging out.

So he has at last accepted the assistance of others in the undertaking.

"I have traveled all over this section, he said, "and I know hundreds of these orphan children. Somebody should help them, and I feel like I could do nothing better than that. That is why I began this job."

He plans, once the home is a reality, to place an elderly couple in charge—the man to teach the boys manual training, the woman to train the girls in home economics.

In a nearby building Frazier lives alone during week-days. Sundays, his home is not so lonely. For in it, all the years he has been working on his orphanage, he has conducted Sunday School.

Of this last work he said, "Of course, when I started the Sunday School, a few folks called me a crank, but they've quit now. I reckon they've learned I've not hurt their kids any."

Although public assistance has not yet been asked to assure completion of the orphanage, Mrs. Annie Stumbo, Floyd county sheriff, last week contributed generously and gave assurance of her further support.

MODERN FABLE

Once upon a time there was a family of seven brothers. Besides, there was their old man. And this family was having a feud with the Scraggses or some other onery outfit.

These Scraggses were making it hot for this family of brothers and its old man, and our heroes (?) hated the Scraggses for all they were worth. But they were always bickering with each other. They walked their several ways, fought their enemies alone. As a consequence, the boys were getting the worst of it all along the line.

Finally, one day, the old man called his seven sons in for a pow-wow and proceeded to give them some advice. He took a stick, hiked up his knee and snapped the stick in twain without effort. "That's each of you boys as you now are, not pulling together in this here feud we'uns air havin'," he reminded them.

Then he bound the sticks all together and asked each of the boys to try to break them. And each in turn tried, and failed. "That," the old man said, "is how strong you'uns would be efn' you all pulled together."

Which impressed the boys considerably. But, after some head-scratching and tobacco-chewing, the eldest spoke up: "That 'd be good advice, old man—except you're a Democrat and we'uns take after our mammy and air Republicans."

Closing Order Upheld

of roadhouses so as to exclude from the jurisdiction of a County Judge those roadhouses in a municipality was made "on reasonable and natural distinctions, since cities and towns are able to police roadhouses and their surroundings."

Replying to Ratliff's attack on the constitutionality of the legislation which delegated to county judges the power to fix roadhouse closing hours, the court pointed out that this legislation did not empower the judges to make such laws "but merely conferred an authority or discretion as to its execution . . ."

"There is," the statement continued, "no difficulty in perceiving that the closing hours for roadhouses fixed by appellee (Judge Hill) tends towards preventing crime and promoting public morals, safety and welfare. The Legislature, by the Act in question, set the occupation apart as a hazardous one requiring strict regulation in the interest of the public welfare. That its action in so doing was eminently reasonable and proper is hardly subject to doubt. It is common knowledge that since repeal of the prohibition amendment and subsequent liquor sales the roadhouse question has been a burning one in this state. Newspapers are replete with accounts of crimes committed or originating in roadhouses . . ."

The records of this court reveal that in a large percentage of crimes with which we deal there was a roadhouse background, either as the place of commission or origination of the crime . . . It is only where the hours fixed for closing appear to be so unreasonable as to indicate an abuse of this discretion and purely arbitrary action upon the part of the county judge that the courts are warranted in interfering."

J. P. Tackett, who with A. B. Combs represented Ratliff, indicated this week that there may be no further action taken to fight Judge Hill's order.

The Court of Appeals declared Friday in another decision that Dr. J. C. Wheeler, brother of the late Judge C. B. Wheeler, was not entitled to $7,499.99 medical fees from the estate of James Hatcher, former state Railroad Commissioner, owner of a Pikeville hotel and a large amount of lands, leases and personal property, who died in 1939.

Dr. Wheeler, whose home is in Pikeville, presented a claim to Zach Justice and K. L. Arnold, executors of Hatcher's estate, for services declared to have been rendered to Hatcher from 1929 until his death, amounting to $7,499.99.

The executors refused to pay it, denying Dr. Wheeler had rendered such services.

The appellate court upheld Pike circuit court's dismissal of Dr. Wheeler's suit.

Non-Deferables Listed

The job occupations listed as non-deferable regardless of the activity in which they are found were:

Bar cashier, bar boy, bartenders, bath house attendants, beauty parlor operators, bell boys, boot blacks, bus boys, butlers, carmen and cleaners, cosmetics, custom tailors, custom furriers, dancing teachers, dish washers, doormen and starters, elevator operators (passenger and freight, excluding industrial freight elevators related to production), elevator starters (passenger and freight), errand boys (including messenger and office boys), fortune tellers, including astrologer, clairvoyant, mediums, mind readers, palmist, etc.; gardeners, greens keepers, ground keepers, housemen, hairdressers, lavatory attendants, messengers, errand boys, office boys, newsboys, night club managers and employes, porters (other than in railway train service), private chauffeurs, soda dispensers, ushers, valets, waiters (other than those in railway train service).

McNutt said the WMC's U. S. Employment Service would help men in this class with dependents to find war jobs, and added that if they did not take jobs in essential activities they might be caught again by expansion of the non-deferable list.

He urged that they consult the nearest employment service for a war job or training leading to such a job, but warned that they "must not go to overcrowded defense centers" unless the employment service has obtained a "definite job" for them there.

Local draft boards were told to re-consider the classifications of all registrants in non-deferable work beginning April 1, but to consider all cases "with common sense."

They also were told that "the following grounds may be accepted as a reasonable excuse for temporary idleness or for being engaged in a non-deferable activity or occupation:

"Sickness of the registrant or in immediate family of registrant; physical disqualifications; reasonable vacation; compelling circumstances that would not permit the change of employment without undue hardship to the registrant of his dependents."

McNutt, emphasizing that the non-deferable list would be expanded "from time to time" to include other activities and job-occupations, said April 1 was made the effective date of the order to give those affected time to transfer to other work.

After April 1, non-deferables who register with the employment service for transfer and give evidence of such registration to their boards will be given a 30-day draft stay so jobs can be found for them.

But if the employment service fails to get a job for them and they fail to get one for themselves in the 30 days, McNutt said, "it will just be too bad" and they will be liable to immediate induction.

McNutt warned that men 38 or older should make such transfers as well as younger men because, he said, the recent order making 37 the top draft age "may be raised by executive order at any time."

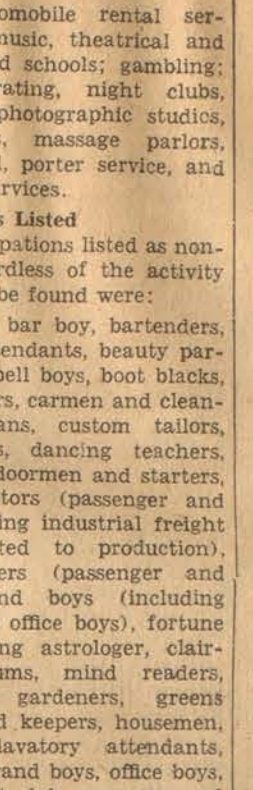

He said the order did not abolish the 3-A classification because the starting non-deferable list does not cover many activities outside the essential list, but he remarked that it cut off "the top of 3-A" and added he would "go after others as (labor) demands become greater."

Previously, local boards had been told they would receive "further notice" before it becomes necessary to call men with children, but McNutt said the new order constituted the "further notice."
