Old Law Limits Juries' Powers

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19-Juries in Kentucky's inferior courts are limited to deciding guilt or innocence and the presiding judges fix penalties of those convicted under the state's revised statutes.

What some officials described as "revolutionary change" in jury duties does not affect circuit courts, but applies to county courts, magistrates' courts and police courts, it was explained.

The strange part about it is that apparently this actually has been the law since 1918, but in the words one official it was not on the tatute books and "nobody knew it." In federal courts and those of many states the presiding judges fix penalties within statutory limits, but Kentucky juries for at least many years have determined also the amount of fine or length of

"It is the only statutory law in Kentucky on the subject now," Attorney General Hubert Meredith said today, "and is as legal as anything else in the revised statutes.' The revisions were adopted by the 1943 General Assembly and went into effect last October 1.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE BIG SANDY BUS STRIKE

Last April a contract was signed between Kentucky-Virginia Stages and Transport Workers Union, Local 214, C.I.O. This contract, which does not expire until April 16, 1943, expressly provides that disputes between Company and Union shall be settled by arbitration and NOT BY STRIKE. The arbitration clause in the contract is in the exact words proposed by the Union itself.

A dispute now exists between Union and Company over a single issue and no other. Union contends that one of Company's recent employees, who wants to become a member of the Union, and--since last November--has tried repeatedly to join, is "undesirable" and has rejected this employee without any opportunity to be heard or even to know the grounds for rejection. Company does not believe that any reasonable grounds exist for denying membership to this employee, BUT COMPANY IS WILLING AND HAS CONSTANTLY URGED THE UNION TO ARBITRATE THIS ISSUE, according to its written agreement so to do. UNION REFUSES TO ARBITRATE. It refuses to tell either the Company or this employee WHY this employee is regarded as "undesirable" and has been rejected. INSTEAD, THE UNION HAS GONE ON A STRIKE. The strike is in violation of the terms of the strikers' own contract. The strike is wholly contrary to the principle now being solemnly urged by the War Labor Board and the President of the United States that wartime strikes gravely endanger the safety of our soldiers and seriously impair the ability of our Government to crush the forces of foreign aggression.

The Company deplores this absolutely unwarranted, indefensible and unpatriotic action on the part of the Union, which can only result in great inconvenience and injury to its patrons and irreparable damage to the War effort. The Company still is, and always has been, entirely willing to observe to the letter all of the terms and provisions of the contract now in force between it and Transport Workers Union, Local 214, C. I. O.

Surplus Foods—Food for Thought

MPLOYMENT of a referral agent by the Floyd fiscal court and its co-operation with the county board of education in sponsoring distribution of foodstuffs the federal government chooses to call "surplus commodities" were steps taken, THE TIMES is convinced, with the best of intentions.

Both court and school board were anxious to have the county's school children benefit from the WPA's lunchroom projects as long as this service is offered, and there are few who would willingly deprive the children of this means of getting cheap but wholesome, bodybuilding foodstuffs at school.

Wide scale distribution of these commodities to others, a heavy percentage of whom do not deserve such help, doubtless was decided upon, on the theory that if we don't accept these surplus foodstuffs, some other county willsince the stuff is to be given away, come

That possibly is sound reasoning, and it is altogether probable that Floyd county's refusal of surplus commodities would not save any of the food that we are told is of such vital importance to this country and all its allies.

THE TIMES remains unconvinced, however, that it is right to shower largess on every Tom, Dick and Harry, deserving or undeserving, while working men and women are enduring rationing, heavy taxes and willingly investing hardearned savings in the Bonds which must be converted into cash in order to carry on the expense of gaining ultimate vic-

The aged, the weak, the blind and helpless should and must be cared for; those able to work but will not, those offered work but content to live on the beneficence of the government and its taxpayers should not have one bite of these surplus foodstuffs.

Then, since we have surplus commodity distribution with us, the referral agent and others invested with the responsibility of doing their duty to their fellows and their country have a big job cut out for them in separating the chaff from the wheat.

SONG FOR AN OLD METAL DRIVE

That good old copper kettle My mother used so long . . . It now will fight the Axis And on it ring the gong; The frying pan she cooked in Has now gone forth to war Where it will do some cooking It's never done before.

Farewell, my third string teapot! You're out for victory; And what you will be boiling For Hitler won't be tea; A thing so calm and placid-So plain and so mundane-

Whoever dreamed you'd ever

Flatiron so prosaic-To war you'll now make tracks-The shirts that you will iron Will be on Axis backs; You now join freedom's battle-I know you've got the stuff; Henceforth no one will tell you You are not HOT ENOUGH!

Old iron bed, get ready! You're just a fine antique But here's your chance, old timer, If you some glamour seek; This job is down your alley-A rendezvous you'll keep: In some new form and model You'll put some Japs to sleep.

Come rake, come hoe, come shovel! The Axis you must mace; And you will look so pretty Smack in the Fuehrer's face. Lawnmower, long you've served

But fighting is the style So go and clip the Jappies On distant Kiska Isle!

And, iron fence so ancient, Around the old estate: At you I blow the bugle-And you won't hesitate; You merely kept out chickens-Now in the war perhaps You'll keep out Nazi madmen And keep out wild-eyed Japs.

Come, bumpers from my flivver-You've found a better job-To help a valiant doughboy Or airman or a gob; You've been a kind protector In many a little wreck, Wrapped 'round an Axis neck!

VIII. Farewell, perambulator! You've been our joy and pride But soon you will be taking Some adults for a ride; It seems that I can vision (Oh, how my fancy spins!) Adolf and Tojo in you-

Help out some bombing plane!!! Martin Splits 2 Games. Losing to Hindman 5, Defeating P'burg

Martin, Ky., Jan. 25 (Spl.)-The Martin Purple Flash divided two pasketball games over the week-end with two strong teams of this section. Friday night the Martin boys held the strong Hindman team, one of the state's tourney entrants last year, to a 34-26 score on the home floor. Saturday night, the Martin quintette went to the county seat and upset the dope bucket by trouncing the Prestonsburg Black Cats, 35-31, in a thrilling game.

Friday night, this week, the Wheelwright high school team coached by Ed Leslie will invade Martin. The visitors can be counted on to put up a strong game any time these two schools pair off for a basketball game.

Desirable applicants for these specialist activities who are above 37 years of age should make inquiry at the U.S. Marine Corps induction and recruiting station located in the basement of the postoffice building, Harlan, Ky., between 8 a.m., and 4 p.m., any day except Sundays. Such applicants should not be over 45 years of age.

WAR GOES ON IN THE SOLOMONS

War goes on in the Solomons with planes, warships and troops of both sides fighting every day. Sometimes fleets clash in major naval conflicts, but for the most part it is troop battles on Guadalcanal and raids on enemy bases by our big bombers that keep this vital front from Rabaul to Henderson Field alive with action.

MY LAST TOBACCO CROP

SINCE hundreds of the people who read this column were farmer boys and worked in the tobacco fields, an account of my only full sized and worked in the tobacco fields, an account of my only full-sized tobacco crop may bring back memories to some and seem queer to others who never knew this type of tobacco-raising. For some reason not now apparent I didn't raise a tobacco crop the first two of the three years that I made a full crop before I left the farm. However, I had helped my brothers with theirs, from plantbeds to delivering the finished crop to the factory. I had known all the intricate ways of growing and curing tobacco, ways that vary enormously with different parts of the country,

Early in the spring of my last farm year I had determined to make some money for schooling and so had a plot of land of nearly two acres in extent for my very own. By referring to my old diary I find that on May 21 and 22 we set out my crop of 7,000 plants. On June 2 I reset such hills as were vacant from attacks of cutworms. Throughout the next twelve weeks there are frequent references to the patch and Johns ...... 2 0 4 the work I had just done, ending with August 30, when the crew ...... 5 3 13 with which I was working cut the patch, nearly 800 sticks. After an occasional word about firing the crop, for I lived in the fire-cure area, Elliott ...... 0 1 1 nothing much is said until Nov. 19, when we started stripping, a task McGlothen ...... 2 1 5 finished on Nov. 22. A sudden change of weather necessitated our Maddox ...... 0 0 0 hanging it up in the barn for a few days.

And here is the reason for my writing this particular article today, fg f t December 4, 1941. Just 35 years ago today I took to the factory my crep, 0 0 0 previously sold. There were 1,269 pounds of leaf and 36 pounds of lugs, which at 7 1-4 and 21/2 cents, amounted to $92.90. Now wasn't that a

> No further references in my diary are about the tobacco or money, ut I recall all too well that the $92.90 received for the little crop and he $100 that my little red mule brought went into my education. There were no high schools then, and I figuratively put the tobacco and the nule into my head, first at a private school and later at the college with which I have so long been associated. Money meant so much in hose days that I was very nearly an independent gentieman, My first ive months away from home actually cost me $70, so that I still fairly olled in wealth when in July, 1907, I started teaching school at $34,20 month. I was so well off, in fact, that when I drew my first pay check. ome three and a half months after I began teaching, I turned all of it ver to my landlady. THE first year of World War II is now history, and the Department of Commerce has released some figures on national income which should be of interest to everyone.

Our total national income for 1942, will reach an all-time high of $117,000,000,000, according to government estimate. This is an increase of $22,000,000,000 over 1941, and three times the depression low of $39,-000.000,000 in 1932.

This increase in national income is due in part to the production of more goods, but some of it is due to higher prices only, and not to any Particularly in this category are increase in production. If we have any inflation it will be due to increases in prices without any increase in the production of goods.

Wages and salaries of employed people make up the largest share of our national income. Of the estimated 117 billions, wage earners will receive over 80 billion as compared with 61 billion last year. Factory workers' wages have advanced much more than the wages of salaried The station of duty will be assigned employes, and consequently the factory workers are much better off now than they have been for a long time. Employes on a fixed salary-especially professional people like school teachers, lawyers, etc.-are hard hit because their salaries have not increased enough to make up for the increase in prices. Thus their purchasing power is down.

The farmers have made the greatest gain of any class. The picture is not so bright when we turn to business and industrial concerns. Although their sales and gross income are up from last year, it is estimated that because of higher operating costs and higher taxes their average net income will be down from 5 percent to 7 percent.

This gives us a bird's eye view of what has happened to income during our first year of war. The outlook for 1943 is bright as far as national income is concerned, for the Department of Commerce now estimates it will reach $135,000,000,000. But if prices go up a large part of this will go to buy more goods than this year and our net savings will not go up. This, however, is to be expected in war times.
