This Town-- That World

ONLY 499 TO GO

To Walter Price, of Prestonsburg and Wheelwright, goes the honor of making the first cash contribution toward the "honor roll" of Floyd countians in the country's service. His contribution goes into a special account where others will be placed—we hope. Mr. Price's accompanying letter is almost as helpful as his check. It reads:

"Dear Town-World:
The enclosed check for one dollar leaves only 499 to go on the "honor roll" to be erected in the courthouse grounds.
I reckon maybe I still got a lot of "backbeat" blood in me. I'm just not satisfied that Paintsville can do anything better than we can.
Then, too, I like the idea of putting the "boys' names up where everybody can see them."

BOB'S A JOKE?

Colonel "Bob" McCormick, Chicago publisher, whose contribution to the war effort to date has been such as Sylvester Vierick's, Wendell Willkie "a joke."
One of the biggest and best jokes ever run across is William and millions of Americans may just for a joke.

Within recent weeks Eastern Kentucky journalism has lost two beloved oldtimers—Sherman Gullett, of the Paintsville Herald, and Waldon Carter of the Carter County Herald.

WILLIAMS DIES IN JAP PRISON

Lt. Hereford Reported Missing as 'Fortress' Fails To Return

Two dead of wounds, one missing and a fourth wounded in action formed the Floyd county casualty list this week from the battlefronts, as reported by relatives of the soldiers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, of Wayland, were notified recently by the War Department that their son, Sgt. Fred Williams, 25, had died in a Jap prison of dysentery.

Sgt. Williams was serving his second enlistment when taken prisoner by the Japanese in their conquest of the Philippines. At first reported missing in 1942, he was later listed as a prisoner. He died April 22, but news of his death was not received by his parents till July 4.

The victim was one of three brothers in the armed forces—Warrant Officer J. T. Williams, now serving his 17th year in the army, and stationed at Durham, N. C., and Woodrow Wilson Williams, whose navy service began only a few months ago.

Native of Knott Dies Saturday on Bull Cr., After Long Illness

Wesley Pigman, 79 years old, and one of the county's best citizens, died Saturday night at 11 o'clock at his home on Bull Creek, victim of an illness of two months.

A native of Knott county, Mr. Pigman was a member of a well-known Eastern Kentucky family. He had resided in this county for several years and had many friends throughout this section.

MYERS CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE (Pol. adv.)

Navy Recruiting Officer Resumes Regular Visits Through This Section

Regular recruiting visits to this section by Specialist 1/c Finn, U. S. Navy, were resumed this week and it was announced that Specialist Finn will be at the postoffice building here each Wednesday afternoon to receive applications for service in the WAVES and SEABEES or for regular naval service.

Only youths of 17 may enlist in the navy, those older being within the draft age, he said. A special need exists for WAVES, the woman's naval auxiliary which provides women to do many kinds of work, thus releasing for active duty men assigned to such tasks.

The SEABEES seek men from 18 to 38 years old on a voluntary induction basis. A similar plan is also offered by the army engineers. Service with the SEABEES is open, however, to all men between the ages of 17 and 50 who have had construction work experience.

Full information concerning all three branches of service and applications for enlistment may be procured from the recruiter here each Wednesday afternoon.

D. B. STEPHENS DIES AT 65

Veteran Hardware Man Is Victim July 15th At Pike Hospital

Dock Balsden Stephens, one of Floyd county's best-known business men, died at 1:55 a. m., Thursday, last week, at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, following an illness of several weeks. He was 65 years old.

He was the son of the late Samuel A. and Sally Osborne Stephens and was one of a family of 14 children. He received his education at Salyersville and Shelbyville, Ky., and taught in the public schools of Floyd and Knott counties. In 1908 he was united in marriage to Miss Myrtle Hall, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Malone Hall, of Allen. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. F. A. Maggard, of Lexington.

In early manhood he united with the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, Prestonsburg, and he held the esteem of hundreds of acquaintances.

In 1912, Mr. Stephens organized the Sandy Valley Hardware Company of Allen, of which he was manager for more than 30 years.

Besides his wife and daughter, he is survived by two granddaughters, Ruth Ann and Sally Frances Maggard; three sisters, Mrs. Rhoda Osborne, Mrs. Mary Johns of Langley, and Mrs. Sidney Dingus, of Martin, and one brother, David Stephens, of Salyersville.

Funeral rites were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home by the Rev. Isaac Stratton, assisted by the Rev. J. B. Hahn and the Rev. J. S. Rose. A large crowd was in attendance and the profusion of floral offerings bespoke the high esteem in which he was held. Burial was made in the family plot of the Jones-Webb cemetery, near Allen, under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

Floyd Countians Cited For Bravery in Action

Three Floyd countians have been cited for bravery in action, one posthumously, THE TIMES learned this week.

Sgt. Charles J. Wells, 21, son of the late James E. (Boy) Wells and of Mrs. Bessie Wells, of Auxier, was cited for decoration for heroism as a tank commander in action near Chouigui, Tunisia, November 27 last. Five others were named in the same citation.

"After their tanks had been hit and knocked out of action by enemy fire," read Maj. Gen. Lunsford E. Oliver's commendation, "these men dismounted from the protection of their armor and moved forward on foot in the face of heavy enemy fire to rescue Lieut. Albert Daubin and members of his tank crew who had dismounted from their tank and seemed to be wounded. Finding Lieut. Daubin wounded, these men carried him back to safety through machine gun and artillery fire.

"This display of bravery and disregard of personal safety reflect the highest traditions of the armed service and is deserving of the highest praise."

To Mrs. Frances Bolling, West Prestonsburg, recently came from the Navy Department the Purple Heart awarded posthumously to her son, Walter Karr Bolling, fireman

4 STATEMENTS PUBLISHED

By Floyd-Co. Towns; State Law Requires Publication by Aug. 31

Of the eight incorporated towns in Floyd county, only four had, as of this week, published financial statements as required by law.

Allen, Martin, Weeksburg and Prestonsburg (the latter publishing its statements at least quarterly) had complied with the law. Weeksburg's statement, because of its condensed form, failed to show in detail its receipts and disbursements.

The Kentucky statutes provide a penalty for failure on the part of any official receiving and disbursing public monies to publish such a statement and file a copy of the published statement on or before August 31 of each year.

The Floyd County Board of Education published its statement, some time ago. Floyd county treasurer's statement is being prepared for publication. The Prestonsburg Board of Education did not publish a statement last year.

The law provides that such statements shall detail amounts of money expended, to whom and for what purpose.

SIX LOSE APPEALS

From Local Board Classifications; One Deferred

Of seven draft classification decisions made by the board of appeals within the last week affecting Floyd county registrants, all save one affirmed the 1-A classifications made by Draft Boards 44 and 45 here.

The lone reversal was in the case of Tom Oak McGuire, of Lancer, who was placed in II-C as an essential farmer.

Those remaining in 1-A, their addresses and grounds on which appeals were filed follow:

Ollie Wallen, Water Gap, farming; Edgar Laferty, Edgar, farming; John Bascom Clark, appeal filed by his employer, the Welding Shipyard, Inc., Norfolk, Va.; D. B. Leslie, Emma, dependency; Leon Ernest Porter, Wheelwright, appeal filed by Inland Steel Company on the grounds he is foreman of a mechanical coal loading unit; Don Meade, Fed, farming.

All registrants, except Porter and Meade, are registered with Board 44. Young Meade's appeal was filed by his father and the Agricultural War Board after the registrant had volunteered for service. It was said.

Manpower Pools In 18 Counties Exhausted By Draft Demands

Draft eligibles in 18 Kentucky counties have been exhausted, state Selective Service officials reported Monday as they announced that the August call will be filled from the boards of 102 other counties, whose manpower pools "are mighty slim."

Major Russell said Selective Service officials are now trying to "clean up" the areas which have single men, which, he said, are "very few," and men in the other categories.

He said: "We've been scraping the bottom of the manpower barrel for some time now and we can't dig any deeper."

Floyd county next month will undergo the "cleaning up" process in part when 407 selectees will be called up.

Those counties which have exhausted their manpower selection, Major Russell said, now must depend upon 18-year-olds who come of age within the next 30 to 60 or 90 days "if they are to supply any selectees."

Throughout the state, community draft boards began to re-open the cases of federal employes whose draft positions have been governed by their occupations. They have been reviewed by special committees, and the new policy is to cut these deferments to a minimum.

In Washington, draft officials ordered postponement of the induction of 18 and 19-year-olds who are in the last half of a school year.

GUNMAN HERE UNIDENTIFIED

After Woman Wounded; Bullet-Thru-Window Story, Unconfirmed

Identity of the person who shot and slightly wounded Tootsie Warrick at the Woodland Inn, below the city limits here, Sunday night remained unknown this week following an investigation.

Miss Warrick left the Prestonsburg General hospital after receiving treatment for a flesh wound in her leg.

She and another girl told Deputy Sheriff T. S. Salsbury they were lying on a bed when the bullet was fired through a window. The officer said examination of both windows in the room where they said they lay, as well as the window screens, failed to disclose trace of a bullet.

Reuben May, of Langley, was in the county jail this week, charged with striking in an attempt to kill his father, G. A. May, Sr., prominent Maytown man. A peace bond of $5,000 was asked for his release. He was arrested by Deputy Constable Rich Hall Friday.

Thomas Riley was jailed by Deputy Sheriff T. S. Salsbury and Elliott Prater Monday as an army deserter.

Game Club in Meeting At David Wednesday

July meeting of the Floyd County Fish & Game Club was held at David Wednesday evening, with good attendance and the result that several new members were added to the Club.

Talks were made by Lon Hill and Ray Stambaugh, of David, club directors, and L. J. Gerlach, of Allen, conservation officer. The meeting was held outdoors and fishing and war films as well as color pictures of the 1942 fish fry at Allen were shown. Paul Jarrell and Henry May brought to the meeting a carload of sportsmen from Langley. Attending from Prestonsburg were Merle Wilson, Herschel Graham, Ernest Hopkins and Woodrow Greenwade.

Osborne Suffers Burns In Gas Explosion

Weeksbury Team Shades Emma in First Game Here This Season

Baseball returned to Prestonsburg Sunday for the first time this season, and a sizeable crowd saw Weeksbury edge out Emma, 6 to 5, in an interesting game.

Each team made 12 hits and nine of the 24 safeties of the afternoon were for extra bases, including seven two-baggers, a triple and a home run.

Weeksbury got off to a one-run lead in the first inning, but Emma tied the score in the second. The Left Beaver team in the third scored two more runs by virtue of Lewis' double and Middaugh's

INDEPENDENT CITY TICKET IS ELIGIBLE

To File in Election Here, Herdman Says In Recent Ruling

That candidates for City Council of a city of the fourth class may run for the office on an independent ticket "is expressly permitted by statute," was the opinion expressed last week by Assistant Attorney General Guy H. Herdman in reply to the request of City Attorney W. S. Harkins for a ruling on the muddled political situation here.

An independent ticket can be nominated by a petition signed by 20 petitioners, Mr. Herdman wrote. Such petition must be filed not less than 15 days nor more than 60 days before the November election.

In asking Herdman for a ruling, Mr. Harkins cited Kentucky Revised Statute 118.080 as an authority for his contention that the Council ticket which filed before the primary deadline under the Democratic party device may be opposed by an independent ticket. The Assistant Attorney General agreed that this section covers the right of an independent ticket to run.

Both factions in the looming Council race agree that the eight candidates who filed under the Democratic emblem for the coming primary election are entitled to certificates of nomination. The candidates filing under the party device had, at least temporarily, held that the revised Kentucky statutes make no provision for independent tickets in towns of this class.

Cow Creek Farmer Is Stroke Victim In His 61st Year

James Goble, 60 years old, well-known Cow Creek farmer, died at his home Tuesday of a paralytic stroke suffered on the preceding day.

A son of the late Charles and Susan Clay Goble, he was born and reared on Sugar Loaf Creek. He was married Oct. 6, 1926 to Miss Beulah Jane Sexton, who with their six children survive. Surviving sons and daughters are Delmon, Avo, Artie, Charles, Birdie and Dona, all of Woods. One brother, Alex, of Ivel, and a half-brother, L. V. Goble, of Lancer, also survive.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday from the residence by the Rev. Isaac Stratton and burial under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home was made in the family cemetery.

World War Veteran Is Heart Victim At Weeksbury

Robert Lee Myers, 52 years old, veteran of World War I, died at his home at Weeksbury, Thursday morning last week, victim of heart disease from which he had suffered for the last year.

Mr. Myers was a native of Marion county, Tenn., and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Myers. He had resided at Weeksbury for the last 10 months of his life.

His widow, Mrs. Ruby Pennington Myers, one son, Wilburn Myers, Daisy, Tenn., two brothers and two sisters survive. Funeral rites were conducted from the residence Saturday, the Reverend Ousley officiating, and burial was made in the Melvin cemetery under direction of the Call Funeral Home.

Weeksbury Team Shades Emma in First Game Here This Season

Baseball returned to Prestonsburg Sunday for the first time this season, and a sizeable crowd saw Weeksbury edge out Emma, 6 to 5, in an interesting game.

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—
Editor.)

Boy, the next time "Peachy" starts to leave—let's hope he takes along some clothes to fit him. I'm of the opinion he took the misfit clothing so he wouldn't have to stay long.

Wanted to Buy—one goat giving milk. See Hez. Yep, Hez sez the doctor told him to drink goat's milk.
That's a far cry from his diet of hog's ears.

After August 7th a lot of these candidates' pictures will be "tombstones." I'm speaking from experience.

I'm not supposed to write anything politically in this column, but when I see a 100 per cent Democrat like Doug Hays approaching the apex of his career I feel that we all owe him the nomination for State Senator. (I'm paying for this ad myself.) Doug is just what he is.
He's not "How Beautiful Heaven Must Be" one day and "Walking the Floor Over You," the next.

I was just getting worried about "Briar Buck" when he appeared on the scene. Didn't I tell you so, four years ago, Briar Buck?

It seems I've kinda been chastised for writing about ole Lindbergh—the yellowest guy in the U.S.A. And just as a refresher let's just quote some of his remarks. When he sailed to England to live, he said,
"The United States is not a safe place to raise children." But when the first shot was fired he came back on the first boat to hide behind Old Glory. He said at an America
First meeting that the R.A.F. couldn't cope with the German air force and he said the Russians were a joke. Everybody knows how wrong all the Nazi sympathizers, including Lindy, were, just a few short years ago. Lindy was being boomed by Republican newspapers for vice-president and as the greatest aviator in the world. Bull!—just any of our 20-year-olds could show him up, for they've got backbone. All Lindy has is a pumpkin vine for a backbone. I was arguing with one of those fellows the other day, that would rather see Hitler in New York than Roosevelt President, and he said Lindy was too old for actual combat. More Bull. Look at Jimmy Doolittle—he's older than Lindbergh and he's not hiding behind a petticoat.

Our domestic war effort would be a lot better off if Congress would appoint the following men as a committee to investigate conditions
at the South Pole for the duration of the war: Representatives Lamberton, Hoffman, Smith and Robson; Senators Taft, Chandler and Cotton Ed, all of the members of the War Labor Board, and put Col.
McCormick and Willkie in as co-chairmen. And just to complete the picture, let Lindbergh fly them down.

Say, just what in the hell has happened to OPA's roll-back on meats, etc? Don't they know that meat has risen about 5c per pound in the past two weeks? And just what happened to those guys who were going to check on the selling above ceilings?

We have a report that "Chub" is in training for the heavy artillery
by dodging those sandstones.

I have always argued that it was best to fight an enemy with his own weapons—an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. But I've been kinda stumped—how am I going to sting a wasp?

If you can all you can now you can eat all you can this winter.
Yep, I see the points.

Well, another election is drawing near. Seems as though it's about time for Henry Campbell to start passing out 10c cigars as souvenirs.
How about it, Henry?

Boys, I'm in favor of electing as Lieutenant-Governor the best Commissioner of Agriculture the state of Kentucky ever had—a citizen of ole Floyd who came up the hard way—a gentleman and we know
he's our friend—Bill May.

Frank Click swapped Mack Lewis out of his pony and he lost two days work over it. It took him from

Cooper Stresses Urgent
Need of Feed Crops

The urgent need of sowing small grains and other pasture and feed crops in late summer and early fall
is stressed by Dean Thomas P.
Cooper of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

"In face of the demand for food,
every acre possible should be seeded to small grains and other feed crops," he said. "A great amount of food will be needed for the large numbers of livestock in the state the coming winter. Until the war is over, we will need all the meat, milk
and eggs that it is possible to produce."

Feed crops which can be seeded in Kentucky in the next few weeks include rye, wheat, winter barley and oats, alfalfa, crimson clover and vetch. Most of these crops produce feed in six weeks, under favorable growing conditions.

Other small grains may be seeded
as follows: Wheat, one to two bushels to the acre, from Sept. 1 to Oct.
15; winter oats, a bushel and a half to two and a half bushels, from Aug. 15 to Oct. 1; winter barley,
two bushels to the acre, from Aug.
15 to Sept. 15.

Alfalfa should be seeded at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds to the acre, from Aug. 1 to Sept. 1. When sowed with small grains, it can be sowed later than Sept. 1.

Mixtures of vetch and small grains and of crimson clover and small grain make excellent feed crops.

Several times as much barley was grown this year as heretofore in Robertson county, good yields being anticipated.

A GOOD WORD

By the REV. W. B. GARRIOTT
Pastor, Prestonsburg Methodist Church

Let us turn to Jno. 8:31-32. "Then, said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, if ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed. And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

No doubt some person will think of the things which I wrote last week as existing only where the extreme dances are practised only in the low dance halls. Our college students and our high school students, the most select, are dancing these modern dances with all of their jazz accompaniments. Let me quote again from Mr. McMahon's article: "In a small town in Arkansas where they did not know what the ultra dance was until the daughter of a local minister came home from college and, with a young college boy as a partner, demonstrated it at a summer hotel.
The people were mortified." Just here then Mr. McMahon added that it would take a lot of preaching by the minister to counteract the influence of his daughter. At Marshalltown, Iowa, a town of 15-000, a country club was organized and some nice dances were held. It was a great success until the young people came home from college and introduced the jazz. Winona, Minn., has been trying to improve its dances, which, Mr. McMahon says, at last reports were somewhat below the Chicago level." He said that the officials of Northwestern University admitted that they had a serious dance problem. He said:
"Ann Arbor has its trouble with the jazz. The dean of women in the Eastern Colleges, though deploring the modern dance, have fairly been forced to surrender to it; the universal fashion has been too much for them."

Where can you find more exclusive or more cultured young people than in our colleges? And yet that is where the modern dances with all of their jazz accompaniments are running rampant. There is a serious doubt if it is any better in the exclusive sets of grown married people. Mr. Chambers, a leading dancing master of Omaha, told Rev.
Chas. W. McCaskill, and said that he might quote him if he liked, that he had more trouble keeping the dance decent among the aristocratic club people than he did in the downtown public dance halls. He said:
"I never had such a time in my life
to keep people decent on the dance floor as I have had with these exclusive club people." Listen to another statement from Mr. McMahon: "From the dive to the genteel dance floors of Kansas City's best hotels there is a great contrast.
What a gulf separates the top from the bottom! There is an immense difference—PHYSICALLY, none at all MORALLY." I quote here from an article written by Rev. McCas-kill: "Men and women, I want to ask you in all seriousness, what are we coming to? Where are we drifting? What is to be the future of our country? Rome went down because of the immorality of her people.
Every great nation of antiquity went on the rocks because of moral rottenness. Are we going the same way?"

I am quoting from statistics which were made before the outbreak of this war and I am sure if we could have them revised to bring them up to date that it would startle us.
Immorality is on the increase in this country beyond what most of us dream. There were then 300,000 white slaves in the country and the police estimated that there were at least 1,000,000 in our cities not registered, to say nothing of the hundreds of thousands more scattered all over the country in every small city, in almost every village and in many country districts. For every fallen woman it is safe to say that there are at least two or three fallen men. Immorality among young people, even among the young people of our local communities, is in many cases appalling.
Some years ago it was said that Judge Lindsay, of Denver, said that he had the sworn confession of more than a thousand young people of Denver, most of them high school and public school young people, acknowledging that they had immoral relations. Wilbur H. Craft, of the Reform Bureau, says that "seven minors to one adult is the ratio of those arrested for crime." Again this same man says "... for every boy arrested for crime ten girls are taken into court for immoral acts." He said at that time
"the average age of fallen women had dropped from twenty-seven to seventeen and in some places fourteen years."

You know that one fallen girl in a public place will often lead eight or ten young men astray, if undetected by the authorities, may through the dances and joy rides lead many times that many boys and also girls into wrong. I hear some one saying, "My girl would not go this road for she is a good girl."
All of these girls were once good girls
until they fell into wrong company and you have no assurance that your daughter may not be among the next to go.

Ration Stamp Misuse
May Cost Offenders
Heavy Penalties

Federal law carries heavy penalties for misuse of ration stamps,
certificates and for various other misdeeds in connection with rationing programs. War ration stamps and books remain the property of the government even though they are distributed for use by the general public. In that way the government retains control over their use. The Second War Powers Act, covering such subjects, carries a prison sentence and a fine up to $10,000, or both, upon conviction.

A great many malpractices in connection with ration programs might possibly be viewed in the light of thoughtlessness rather than premeditation. In any event the public is harmed. Misuse of ration stamps makes a direct contribution to black markets with all their resultant evils. In fact, their misuse is responsible in a large degree for the operation of black markets which, by and large, throw the whole plan of equal division of available foods and goods out of line, cause shortages and bring avoidable discomfort to the people.

The most serious violations are:
Theft and illegal possession of ration books, stamps and certificates.

Using stolen stamps in purchasing food, gasoline or other commodities.

"Shop-lifting" rationed goods
without giving up legal stamps.

Making false statements in applying for ration stamps or certificates.

Selling or purchasing of rationed
goods without the proper certificate or ration stamp.

Trading or exchanging or giving away unused stamps.

Purchasing commodities sold by a store only on condition that certain other goods are purchased.

Soldier Takes Time Off From Warring To Visit Ancient Religious Shrines

(The following letter from Sgt. J. G. Burns, Jr., to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Burns, Louisa, describing his experiences in the Holy Land, was originally published in The Big Sandy News, Louisa, and is brought to the attention of THE TIMES by Sgt. Burns' kinswoman, Mrs. Josie D. Harkins, Prestonsburg.)

I arrived in Tel-Avin about 8:30 Monday morning. (Sorry I can't tell you what time I left camp.) Tel-Avin is a very modern city. It is only 25 years old. It is inhabited by Jews and a few Arabs. We stayed in the largest building in Tel-Avin. The building is the Palatin building and is being operated by the American Red Cross for the benefit of service men.

We left Tel-Avin by bus Tuesday morning and drove to Jerusalem. On the way to Jerusalem we passed through some very beautiful country. There were plenty of orange and olive groves. Some of the orange groves were in bloom and the odor of the blossoms was very nice. We arrived in Jerusalem in time for lunch. After lunch we visited a large Jewish hospital on Mt. Olive. The hospital was very modern and was built and is operated on American money. We then visited the old section of Jerusalem and walked along the street where Christ carried the cross. We then visited the place where Christ was held prisoner and the place where He was tried. After that we visited Rachel's Well and the Church of St. Anne. The Church of St. Anne stands on the spot where Mary, Christ's mother, is said to have been born.

We then drove by bus out to the Dead Sea. The Dead Sea is 1,500 feet below sea level and it is very hot there. We then left the Dead Sea and drove to the River Jordan. The River Jordan is very disappointing. It is a narrow stream about the size of a small creek. It is just about the size of Blaine Creek. It is also very muddy.

We then left the River Jordan and drove to the old town of Jericho and looked at the ruins of the old walls. We then left Jericho and drove back to Jerusalem where we spent the night in San Remo hotel.

The next morning we visited the Church of the Holy Sepulchre which houses the Tomb of Christ. This place also is the place where Christ was supposed to have been crucified. This is the place recognized by the Roman Catholics as the site of the crucifixion. There is another place not far from there called Gordon's Calvary which is recognized by the Protestant churches. We then visited the Garden of Gethsemane and the Church of All Nations built at Gethsemane. After visiting the Garden of Gethsemane we drove to Bethlehem and visited the Church of the Nativity which houses the birthplace of Christ. The church is a very old place dating back to the year 300 A.D. On the way to Bethlehem we stopped and visited the tomb of Rachel. We then drove to Jerusalem where we had lunch at the British Service club.

After lunch we started by bus for Haifa. We drove all afternoon. While driving we passed through some beautiful countryside. The hills are all terraced and are supporting large olive and orange groves. The hills of Palestine are all bare. You never see a tree except in what you see in cultivated groves. In one section the Jews have started re-forestations of their hills and have some nice pine woods started.

About halfway to Haifa we stopped and visited a tribe of Bedouins. I couldn't start to describe them to you except they are a very dirty and filthy people. After driving for quite a distance along the shore of the Mediterranean sea we finally arrived at Haifa which is built on Mt. Carmel. We had dinner at the British service club and after dinner we went to our hotel and, being tired, we immediately went to sleep.

The next morning, which was Thursday, we toured the beautiful city of Haifa. The center of the city is on top of Mt. Carmel. From the top of Mt. Carmel we could see the beautiful harbor of Haifa.

We soon left Haifa behind and started inland to visit the city of Nazareth. We reached Nazareth about 10:30. There we visited the Church of the Annunciation which is built where the home of Joseph stood and where Christ spent His childhood. It is also the place where the angel told Mary that she was to be the mother of the Christ Child.

After leaving Nazareth we visited the town of Tiberias which is located on the Sea of Galilee which is now called Lake Tiberias. We then left the Sea of Galilee and proceeded down the Jezreel valley. The valley is very beautiful and has wonderful farms. It is dotted with Jewish collective settlements at one of which we had lunch. After lunch we started back to Tel-Avin, arriving in time for dinner, and so to bed.

Friday morning I went horseback riding. The horse I was riding was an Arabian horse and very good but they are too small. Friday afternoon I spent on the beach and went swimming in the Mediterranean sea. Saturday I started back to join the outfit.

THE GARDEN

By JOHN S. GARDNER
Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

FOOD FOR NEXT WINTER

Last week, a start was made to discuss ways for gardens still to make good despite their poor start, in some portions of the state. Here follow a few more suggestions to that end.

Another garden staple is beans. Fortunately, the bean picture is not dark yet, as all the month of July offers a possibility for planting. Green snap beans may be produced before frost if planted to July 31, and green shell beans the same.

Beans to be used in dry form (Navy, Great Northern and the like) will be far enough along to save, planted July 15, although perhaps not enough mature for seed. The situation is that the armed forces and our Allies may make "commercial" dried beans scarce, and even dried beans salvaged from spent rows of green snaps may become valuable. Thus, the stragglers forming on rows already picked and abandoned for fresher beans will bear protecting from the Mexican beetle, this year.

Even bush limas can be produced, albeit not a full crop, planted July 15, and with favorable weather; but gardeners and farmers must, and always do, assume that the weather will be kind.

To make any crop sure, plant food must not be lacking, land that has already made a crop this year should be re-fertilized, particularly with phosphorus, as this is the food element that hastens maturity. Also, land preparation should be of the best; a good seedbed, "all the way down," so that any chance showers may take effect. Best of all, of course, is to use fresh land, which has been kept stirred, successive crops of weeds throttled as they start, to save moisture that fell last winter and early this summer. Crops have been made with no shower rain at all, only the winter reserve.

A word is in order relative to cultivation. With continued dry weather at least a possibility, moisture conservation must go on, the soil kept stirred only enough to upset weeds as they start, but never even approaching the level in which the vegetable roots lie. One-half inch in right.

During the rooster selling campaign in Clark county, 796 roosters, weighing 3,980 pounds, were sold.

Sixteen Floyd Students Register at U. of K.

Approximately 1,565 students, which number includes around 500 enrolled in the off-campus work-shops being conducted in six counties, have been enrolled by the University of Kentucky for the first term of the 1943 summer quarter. The second term will open July 22.

Despite the drop of approximately 250 from the number enrolled for the first term last summer, at which time the figure reached 1,814, 25 Kentucky counties showed slight increases in representation on the state university campus. One student each from the Canal Zone, Central America, Costa Rica and Puerto Rico, are registered for the first summer term, as are approximately 135 students from 26 states besides Kentucky.

BUY WAR BONDS

Many Found Violating Rationing Regulations

The Lexington District Office of OPA has found many persons dealing in the sale, gift or exchange of meats, fats and cheeses without proper registration. Those persons not properly registered and accounting for rationing points are in violation of the law and are subject to penalty and punishment for such violation.

As explained by F. P. Fish, food rationing representative in charge of the meats-fats program, all persons dealing in meats, fats, canned fish, butter and rationed cheeses are required to register and account for their transactions in those commodities. Any who have not registered with the local War Price and Rationing Board are in violation of Rationing Order 16 of the OPA regulations. Any persons dealing commercially in those commodities by sale, gift or exchange are required to collect rationing points and account for them. Any retail grocer, wholesale grocer, commercial slaughterer, restaurant, dairy selling butter or rationed cheeses, farmer selling fresh or cured meats, butter or rationed cheeses can obtain information from their local War Price and Rationing Board.

A complete check will be made as rapidly as possible, and all non-registered commercial dealers will be held in violation. All commercial dealers are urged as a matter of cooperation with the national war effort to register at once; then operate only under proper qualifications. Any not doing so are willfully contributing to Black Market practices.

THE FATAL BLOW

SINCE the days of Henry Watterson the Courier-Journal has been recognized as Kentucky's "Democratic Bible." Even though Marse Henry refused to support Bryan and Free Silver and threw the influence of his trenchant pen to Alton B. Parker, even though the paper has always reserved the right to "be itself" rather than the tool of the party, it has been looked upon as the Democratic party's journalistic strong right arm.

Then came, as they say in the movies, the good year 1943. And, lo! The Courier-Journal fell from its high estate in the party.

Instead of rallying 'round the Democratic banner, it sought out the chink in its armor. It, through editorial naivete or a mischievous sort of sophistry, sapped the party's strength for the all-out campaign that comes in November.

How did it do it? But how! . . . Its news-stories imputing political wrongdoing to its chosen candidate could be excused, since it does function as one of the nation's great media of news dissemination. But, editorially—there the fatal blow to Democracy was struck.

Following up its news-stories which presented allegations that its candidate, J. Lyter Donaldson, had violated the law, along with Governor Keen Johnson, in filing a falsified election expense account, The Courier-Journal roared back with an editorial, suggesting grand jury action. And grand jury action, sometimes, results in trials.

In one editorial breath this powerful champion of the Democratic party infers Lyter Donaldson should be convicted, if guilty as charged; and it follows in the reader's mind that The Courier-Journal would recommend penal stripes for him, if indeed he has been such a bad boy.

Then, with no appreciable pause for breath, this Goliath among the state's newspapers re-iterates its statement that it considers J. Lyter Donaldson the best timber offered by the Democratic party for nomination for Governor at the coming primary—whether innocent or guilty, convict or free.

It probably fears libel action and therefore does not express its opinion of Ben Kilgore and Rodes K. Myers, the other Democratic candidates, since it infers they are farther beyond the pale than Mr. Donaldson.

But, worst of all, unless it can dig up a murder charge against Judge Willis, the Republican candidate, it leaves the Democratic party without a candidate worthy of opposing him in November.

Now, we ask you, is that any way for the "Democratic Bible," even in a modern version, to read?

Where Floyd Countians in Armed Forces Are, What They're Doing

Pvt. Frank Heinze, son of Mrs. F. L. Heinze, Prestonsburg, reported July 14 at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., for re-classification in the army specialized training program. He received his basic training at Fort Belvoir, Va. Prior to his admission to the army Pvt. Heinze graduated from Prestonsburg high school and later attended Berea College. At both schools he was a prominent athlete.

While at Georgetown he will be classified for higher studies in some university or college under the auspices of the army.

Joe M. Prater, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. (Dock) Prater, of Lackey, was recently appointed a naval aviation cadet and was transferred to the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla., for intermediate flight training.

Upon completion of the intensive course at the "Annapolis of the Air" Cadet Prater will receive his Navy "Wings of Gold" with the designation of naval aviator, and will be commissioned an ensign in the naval reserve or a second lieutenant in the marine corps reserve.

Selected for training as a specialist in the U.S. Navy on the basis of a series of aptitude examinations given every Bluejacket during his recruit training, Clyde Burton Burchett, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. Burchett, Prestonsburg, is now undergoing an intensive 16-week course in the school for signalmen at the Service School of the U.S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Illinois.

Upon successfully completing this course, he will be eligible for advancement to a petty officer's rating and will then be sent either to the fleet or to an advanced service school for additional instruction.

Preparing for a job with the "front line" of the navy, Warren G. Wohlford, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wohlford, of Hite, is taking a 16-week course for gunner's mates at the Service School at the U.S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill.

Upon graduation he will be eligible for promotion to a petty officer rating, and be assigned to active duty aboard ship or at a shore station.

A. J. Coburn, of Hueysville, received a letter from his son, S. Sgt. Edgar W. Coburn, reading in part: "This place is o.k. except for the heat and sand. I think today is the hottest day I ever felt and it is June 28 and just the beginning of summer and no shade to get under. This is North Africa, not Canada."

Upon completion of an intensive 45-day course in the maintenance and repair of peeps and jeeps, scout cars and trucks that give the hard-hitting Armored Force its speed of movement, a class of qualified automotive mechanics was graduated last week from the Armored Force School at Ft. Knox.

Among the graduates, announced from the office of Maj. Gen. Alvan C. Gillen, Jr., acting commanding general of the Armored Force, was Pfc. James T. Spurlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Spurlock, Prestonsburg.

The soldier students received thorough instruction in the theory of automotive mechanics and fundamental shop practice in the school's wheeled vehicle department. They studied actual engines, skelton vehicles and visual aids of many types.

Stop! Look!! Listen

1. WHO is the only ex-soldier running for Governor on the Democratic ticket?
2. WHO do you think will do more for the dier boys when they come home from war?
3. WHO asked the Governor of the State to let the state so that as Lieutenant-Governor could call a special session of the legislature and pass a law to pay the teachers a wage?
4. WHO pardoned the coal miners of Harlan county, Hightower and others, when K. Johnson failed to pardon them despite the fact that the records showed they were innocent?
5. WHO stands for repeal of the income tax?
6. WHO will build farm-to-market roads for farmers instead of by-ways to by-pass towns and cities of Kentucky?
7. WHO will enact legislation to pay back to railroad men the $1,300,000 that is money and is impounded at Frankfort?
8. WHO will see that the Left Beaver road is completed?
9. WHO will see that every old person's application is considered on the basis of merit instead of paying bonuses to the ones now on the payroll?
10. WHO is the only candidate who can carry the party to victory in November?
11. WHO is against the highway machine, graft and greed?
12. WHO is willing to announce his platform and then get out and speak in every county in the state for that platform?

The answer to all the above questions is

RODES K. MYERS

Young, able and experienced in government administration, he is running for Governor on the following platform—the only logical and sensible platform presented to the people of the state:

1. Relief for the tragic underpaid teachers, first of all.
2. Maintain school per capita to the highest point.
3. Increase and equalize the old-age pensions and aid to the blind.
4. Repeal the income tax.
5. Free toll bridges without waiting till the next election to do it.
6. Furnish hospitals and employment for the war veterans.
7. Pay off county road and bridge bonds.
8. Repeal gas, water, electric "nuisance" taxes.
9. Build highways for farmers instead of by-ways for tourists.

Are you fighting mad about this war? Does it mean anything to you personally? Then dig down and buy more and more War Bonds. For Freedom's Sake

To the Voters of Magisterial Districts 1 and 2 (Legislative District No. 96):

For the simple reason that I am a poor man and not the owner of an automobile, it will be impossible for me to see all the voters of this District and ask them personally to help me win the Democratic nomination for Representative.

I am not calling the other boys rich men because they do have cars and get around quickly and easily to see you; they are merely more fortunate than I, and I want to tell you that any handshake they may give you can be no more sincere than mine would be if I could get around to your homes.

After all, backpating at election time doesn't mean much to me or you, either. I know that. Personally, I wouldn't give the year-round, day-by-day sort of friendship for all this election-time affability.

I am related to a great number of you. I share the same lot in life with most of you. Your interests are mine and when I go to Frankfort I will not forget you. One thing I do not concede to my opponents, all of whom are my friends, and that is in the matter of good common, hoss-sense. I am not boasting when I say I do know I can represent the people of this District as they should be represented.

Whatever you may do for me will be remembered, gratefully.

Your friend,
(Pol. adv.) R. T. ALLEN
