SCHOOL MEN SEEK HIGHER TEACHER PAY

Constitution Cited By Hall in Asking Special Session

Following up the petition of the Kentucky Education Association calling on Governor Keen Johnson to call a special session of the General Assembly to increase the salaries of Kentucky's underpaid teachers, county school superintendents of this section joined school officials of the state this week in either calling on the Governor in person or transmitting to him their views by letter.

James A. Cawood, K. E. A. president, called the situation critical. He said half the schools may not open this fall unless the state helps local districts pay a scale sufficiently high to discourage teachers from taking other jobs.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction John W. Brooker, asked to comment on Cawood's prediction, said the latter's percentage may be a little high for the entire public school system.

But, Brooker added, he will not be surprised if from 1,500 to 2,000 of the state's 4,000 one-room schools fail to open this fall for want of teachers. Many two-room schools, likewise, may not open for the same reason, he declared.

Floyd County Superintendent Town Hall wrote Governor Johnson, pointing out that the state is obligated by the Constitution to provide an efficient system of public schools. Mr. Hall's letter follows:

POINT RATION REGISTRATION

Results in County Unknown; Milk Price Rulings Clarified

The Floyd County War Price and Rationing Board remained buried deep this week in work piling up as a result of the new point rationing and, kept busy by a steady stream of callers, had not ascertained how many citizens had registered under the new ration set-up.

G. R. Allen, price ceiling clerk, Tuesday offered the following to clarify the milk price situation:

The retail price of fluid whole milk (sweet milk) in Floyd county is controlled by Kentucky Milk Price Order 26 which follows—1 gallon, 64c; 1 quart, 17c. If the retailers or dairies choose to do so, they may sell at lower prices. Price Regulation No. 329 applies only to prices paid to producers of milk by distributors. Pints and half-pints of milk may be sold only to hotels, restaurants and like institutions for consumption on their premises.

It also was pointed out that no ration certificate is necessary for the farmer or gardener who wishes to buy seed beans, peas and the like.

A resident of Ashland for the past 19 years, Mr. Litteral was born May 28, 1910 at Oil Springs, Ky., a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Litteral, who survive. He had been employed at the Ashland plant of the American Rolling Mill Co., for 15 years.

P'BURG NEAR HALF OF GOAL

W. P'burg, Only Other Community To Report On Red Cross Drive

With total contributions of $1,399.88 reported as of Tuesday, this week, Prestonsburg was barely short of the half-way mark in its drive for $3,000 for the American Red Cross war fund, Mrs. J. R. Hurt, community chairman announced.

Of the several other Floyd communities where Red Cross drives are being made, only one, West Prestonsburg, had reported Tuesday, W. S. Harkins, county chairman said.

"Many citizens all over the county," it was pointed out this week, "are making their contributions to the Red Cross in honor of sons or other relatives in the country's armed forces."

The Nashville, Tenn., Red Cross chapter recently received a $25 contribution from a soldier with the U. S. air corps overseas which spurred those learning of his donation to give a total of $725 to the fund. The soldier was Sgt. T. E. Doss, Jr., a brother of Mrs. E. P. Hill, Prestonsburg. His father promptly matched that amount. "I cannot let my boy do more than I am willing to do myself," the elder Doss remarked.

Mrs. Frances Bowling, mother of Walter Karr Bowling, the first Floyd countian to lose his life in the present war, is the Red Cross chair-

NEW BUILDING IMPOSSIBLE

For Duration, Citizens Of Lackey are Told At Mass Meeting

Citizens of Lackey who were told by County Superintendent Town Hall at a mass meeting there Tuesday night that construction of a new building is a possibility for the duration of the war, but that their children have a school.

In fact, Lackey's pupils were back in school next Monday. Hall announced that the gymnasium which escaped the blaze destroyed most of the classes and the old teacherage there will be for classrooms for the smaller children.

Seats have been shifted from schools to Lackey, and the teacherage is undergoing repairs.

Mr. Hall said nothing was known this week than last week, the origin of the fire which reduced the 10-room brick school to ruins. A witness at the school said she had left a stove on in the principal's office, but the fire did not start in the side of the building which that office was located.

The Superintendent said he did not believe the blaze was of incendiary origin.

2 ARRESTED AS DESERTERS

Take Sergeant's Car, Travel in Style During Getaway

Two army deserters traveling in style—in a Top Sergeant's automobile—were arrested Wednesday afternoon at Water Gap by Deputy Sheriff T. J. Salisbury and Highway Patrolman Harold Conn.

The two, Burl Prater, of Water Gap, and Phillip Perry, of Tennessee, were said to have left Fort Knox, Ky., Monday night after stealing the sergeant's car. With them when they arrived here was an Index, Ky., girl who gave her name as Nora Sherfield and who told officers that the two had forced her to accompany them.

Authorities said it was Prater's second desertion.

Shortly before the two were arrested, military police called at the county jail to inquire if any deserters were being held. Finding none there, they left with other prisoners they had picked up in this section. Deputy Sheriff Salisbury and Patrolman Conn took Prater and Perry to Pikeville, hoping to overtake the army truck but failed. The two were jailed at Pikeville.

Henry Allen, of Lackey, was jailed here last week on a child desertion charge.

38-Year-Old Men Lose 4-H Status; Army of 15,000,000 Seen by Downey

Men over 38 have lost their draft classification.

Selective Service this week ordered local boards to put no more 38 to 45-year-old men in class 4-H and to transfer men now in that classification into the regular classes (such as 1A, 3A, 4F, etc.).

The action has the effect of establishing an order in which men over 38 would be inducted "if and when the armed forces determine they can be used in the military establishment," as the War Manpower Commission put it.

This order was followed Wednesday by a prediction from Senator Downey, of California, that America will have an army of 15,000,000 men by the end of the year. Senator Taft, Ohio, same day predicted that all men in 3A will be called for service by mid-summer.

The men in 4H are to be reclassified on the same basis as younger men but with special "H" designations. Some will thus be put in 1A (H) 2B (H), 3A (H) and similar classes. This procedure, the Manpower Commission explained in a press release, means that men "who have no cause for deferment other than age will be placed in class 1A."

The "(H)" designation denotes merely a sub-division of the particular draft class. Thus a man classified 1A (H) actually would be in Class 1A, although he would not be liable to immediate induction like another man in that class lacking the additional (H) rating.

There was no indication from Selective Service or from the War or Navy Departments as to whether this actually foreshadows a call to the colors for men over 38, who are technically eligible for military service to the age of 45. Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) and some other members of Congress have urged that single men over 38 be drafted ahead of younger fathers but the army opposes this.

A chief aim of the new order is to induce men over 38 to get into farming. The order provides that any man over 38 who farms now or takes up farming by May 1 shall be reclassified promptly into the farm deferment classes, 2C, if single, and 3C if married, if he meets the other farm-deferment qualifications. Other men over 38 are to be put into the regular classifications "as soon as possible after May 1."

The order did not make it clear whether it would be too late after May 1 for a man over 38 to get a

The flood of mail reaching committee members, at first favorable, turned round and showed conclusively that the country was against outright postponement of taxes. Underlying sentiment expressed in the mail was that although high taxes hurt, it was unfair to postpone too much of the war cost to the next generation.

Also the committee became more and more convinced that the Ruml plan was largely cooked up for the benefit of top bracket incomes, and if taxes were forgiven one year, it would mean shifting a much greater burden to lower income groups to make up the deficit.

This, they concluded, was just what Mr. Ruml's war wealthy clients wanted.

CURE FOR TYPHUS

By way of London has come word that the Germans have evolved a cure for the dread disease typhus. If so, it is a discovery meaning the lives of thousands of men in the eastern front. In 1914 "General Typhus" was responsible for more lives than machine gun fire, and from time to time it has ravaged the Balkans, Russia and eastern Europe ever since.

The German cure was discovered by a Dr. Van Meerdock and is a combination of stebrin and plasmochin. U. S. Public Health officials have their fingers crossed regarding the cure, but British medical circles seem to be favorably impressed.

FOR SHERIFF

We are authorized to announce

BILL HALL

of Ligon, Ky., as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for SHERIFF OF FLOYD COUNTY at the primary election August 3, 1943.

What Our Boys Would Really Say

No doubt most of the readers of The Floyd County Times noticed the advertisement of the distillers against the drive we are making to vote whiskey and all other alcoholic drinks out of Floyd county.

This advertisement seemed to be an appeal for our soldiers who are fighting in the front lines to save our country, and not to destroy it. You all know that in order to save our country from destruction, we must vote it dry. As you all can see and know from experience, we must vote Floyd county dry in order to make it pure and clean.

I feel sure that if our boys who are in service, after having all the experiences they have had away from home—if they could only be here on the day the vote is taken on this question, more than two-thirds of them would vote dry, knowing that they would be doing the best thing they could to save their country from destruction, just the same as they are doing in the front lines to save our country and us from destruction.

I am sure the boys would say, "Vote Floyd county dry and save our youth—that is all we have left." I believe most of our boys in service would say what one said when he started to leave home: "Don't pray for my return, pray for the good that I can do."

You see, our boys are thinking of the good things they can do. They want us to pray for them and the good they can do for their country and ours.

The most good we can do is in our own community, where we have our individual rights. And that is our country. Now is our time to get busy and vote this county dry.

You will hear some people say, "Well, if we vote whiskey out, the bootleggers will be worse." Listen!—when you hear people say this, they are the ones who will break the laws with the bootleggers.

Vote this county dry and the bootleggers will be taken care of by the laws that are made for them.

Our petitions have been filed. We are now ready to work, fight and pray to win the race we are in for the greatest cause we can hope to accomplish for Floyd county.

Come on, writers, and voice your sentiments in The Floyd County Times, and work for a good cause. Yours for a dry county.

Grantland Rice

NOT even the march of 50,000,000 armed men can shut out your dreams. I was thinking about this while sitting at lunch with Frank Frisch.

"You are a long way from that dream you had at Bradenton, Fla., in 1935," I suggested.

Frisch smiled wanly. "I remember that one," he finally added.

"Yes," Frank continued, "that was quite a dream. Remember the night we sat under that Florida moon and you had me picked to be the first manager to win five pennants and five world series in a row? I even believed you."

"We had just beaten the Tigers in 1934 with a great young ball club. Back of the bat I had Bill Delancey, around 22, one of the greatest young catchers baseball ever saw. Smart, game, everything."

"In the box we had the two Deans, Diz and Paul, both young and strong and both great pitchers. And don't forget Pepper Martin. What a guy. I had Durocher at short, one of the best even if he never batted much over 300."

Coming Up

"And don't forget," I suggested, "the men you had coming up next year."

"I haven't forgotten that either," Frisch cut in.

"One of them was a young race horse by the name of Terry Moore, coming on from Columbus. Another was a pretty fair hitter by the name of Johnny Mize, heading in from Rochester. That wasn't all. We had a lot of good young farm ball-players on tap, who have since been stars. We had everything going our way for the next four years. Don't forget a fellow named Joe Medwick. I could name you many others. And then the fuse blew out."

What Happened

What happened after that was entirely too morbid for Frisch to discuss at any length, as he stared out across New York snow in place of Florida's palms and sunshine.

Twenty-two-year-old Bill Delancey, the catching find of the day, developed a lung ailment and had to quit active play.

The two Deans, each over 6 feet 3, weighing 185 and 190 pounds, lost their arms.

Each should have been good for 10 more years—and don't forget together they were good for 50 winning games.

After this, one thing and another began to happen as the Cardinals finally had to wait eight years before they finally overhauled the Dodgers to win last fall.

They put Frisch out, although he had turned in a great managing job, and struggled along with others until they finally came to Billy Southworth, another able manager. And all this was something that Fate, not Frank Frisch, controlled along the rocky road to destiny.

Diz and Delancey

"There was the battery," Frisch said. "Dizzy Dean and Bill Delancey. I'd say in 1934 when Diz was right that he was the greatest pitcher I ever saw. Especially in a hot spot."

"Don't forget he gave me and left me many a headache. He was about as easy to handle as a king cobra."

"But he could pitch. Any time for my money. You know he wanted to pitch the entire series against the Tigers? I can't beat 'em four straight, Diz said, but one can win four out of five. I believe he could. Killing speed, a great slow ball, perfect control, any sort of curve, a cool head and a stout heart—and perfect confidence in himself. He should never have quit baseball. He still would have made a fine first baseman or a good outfielder."

"Delancey? The greatest young catcher baseball ever looked at. Another Dickey, Cochrane or Hartnett. Maybe better."

"Let's wake up," Frisch said. "The dream ended eight years ago." Frisch was one of the brightest football and baseball stars our two leading games have ever known.

Favored with physical skill, Frisch was even more important on the quick thinking, competitive side.

"Too many people forget," Frank told me. "Just how important any competitive sport is. Competitive sport has a side that has been badly overlooked. And I mean in connection with any form of the war game we face today."

What Competition Means

"Hard competition," Frisch said, "means, first of all, complete concentration under fire. I mean the fire of the football field, baseball, basketball, boxing and other games."

"In these games you are taught and trained to think in a split second. If you are wrong, you are generally beaten. And in this country no one likes to be beaten. This is the finest sort of training for the individual ability that Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker talks about. He is 100 per cent right."

THE SHE-MARINES

From the halls of Montezuma To the shores of Tripoli We will fight our country's battles Any way the rules decree; Though we cannot leave the country In far places we'll be found— In the spirit that the ladies, When aroused, can toss around.

Oh, we can't get into battle— That is what the rules now say, But it wouldn't be surprising If we somehow found a way; We will do all we are asked to— We will help 'em everywhere In a way to make our buddies Feel that we are with 'em there.

The Marines are noted scrappers— This their slogan "Give 'em H—!" And the "She-Marines" will surely Have that quality as well; Oh, we can't do foreign duty— On this point the book is clear— But we'll have that certain something That will keep us pretty near.

WAACS and WAVES and SPARS... they're dandy! And we know they'll bravely score But Marines are legendary And they do a little more; Oomph and wallop are traditions When the male ones stage a fuss And before this war is over They will say the same of us.

"First to fight!"—Well, now a lady Doesn't stress that point a lot, But the spirit may be catching When the Leathernecks get hot; Work behind the lines is scheduled— Foes were not supposed to smack— But when Nell's a Devil-Doggie Who is gonna hold her back?

Play that "Halls of Montezuma," And we'll proudly take our place; With a very little training We'll be singing it in bass; We're Marines—we have our papers— We are in a conflict grave; If it helps we'll get a haircut— And we'll even get a shave!

Shoot the works and call us buddies! That's our plea to the Marines; They can always count upon us Even if behind the scenes; And when they get in there swinging They may find us at the bat; All the foe need to be below, "Girls, where did you get that hat?"

We've a uniform authentic With a scarf of flaming red And it helps provide the color That will knock the Axis dead; We are not equipped with weapons In the strictest sense, that's true, But a woman is a woman— And she's bound to have a few!

Ad smiles: As semi-conscious as a playboy in Miami Beach this winter. New York laundries may close as a result of an oil shortage. From the way our shirts come back we assumed they were all using soft coal.

A Washington bureau has now issued a list of directions to the public on how to make a pair of shoes last longer. It says in part that they should be kept dry, clean and in repair. And Washington says there is a paper shortage!

"Washington is a most astounding place. Early in the morning I think there is no one in town and then I discover that the editorial writers are having a dinner in the evening and gradually I accumulate six or eight people at lunch. I want to see them all but sometimes I wonder if they will get enough to eat."—My Day.

Would you mind going over that again, please, a little more slowly? Archibald MacLess has left the OWI and gone back to his old job as national librarian and poet. From bad to worse, as it were.

The boys on information Please were harassed by a recurrent nightmare. Every few minutes the announcer said: "The best pickles in the vat Got to Carnegie's Flat."

BUSINESS MAN'S PSALM OF LIFE A lot of work, a lot of pain, A lot of sweat, a few gin fizzes; Some fun, some tears, a grassy mound... And then (I hope) the end to quizes!

Hitler at the tomb of Napoleon: MOVE OVER! Homer Twitchell wants to know if he must take his shoes in for a daily inspection to prove they are being worn evenly.

Bombers are now rolling off the production lines of the Ford plants. And this fact won't make the Axis feel any better. We can imagine nothing so alarming as the air full of Fords.

Well if you can't send your son to college these days you can fairly certain the army or navy will.

...small sums added to the time to time, but you will readily see the money is available appropriated for public use. The state of Kentucky should appropriate four million dollars on a per capita basis for the school year 1943-44. Last week, we are losing $100,000 because of low salaries. We need leadership now, rather than excuses.

Floyd county school system 360 teachers urge you to assist this leadership, and call a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of appropriating extra money for teachers' salaries for the coming school term."

...action now under way has been under discussion in K.E.A. since the January meeting of the board of directors at Louisville. While, the Eastern Kentucky Education Association, meeting at the end, adopted a resolution calling for a special session of the Legislature to raise teaching salaries to parity with the increased cost of living.

The Ashland resolution points out that a special session could appropriate supplementary salaries out of the cash surplus now on hand. Treasurer Ernest E. Shannon's net worth balance, as of close of business on Feb. 27, was $8,605,971. The anticipated surplus at close of this fiscal year, June 30, has been set from $600,000 to $9,000,000.

Gov. Wood's action is not an isolated example of unrest within Kentucky teaching circles. Franklin county teachers $18 a month. City teachers Newport have requested a raise of 1 per cent. Teachers at Ashland have asked for a restoration of their 1930 salary standards. A salary increase at Lexington became effective March 1. It will amount to $24,000 a year.

Only eight states pay lower teaching salaries than Kentucky. The average salary of teachers, supervisors and principals in this state is only $826 a year, according to the National Education Association.

George L. Evans, director of finance for the Department of Education, has calculated the average annual salary of county system teachers at $611; independent districts, excluding cities of the first four classes, $837; and cities of the first four classes, $1,286.

Governor Johnson, citing the fact that 50 cents out of each of the state's general fund dollars already appropriated for education, said there is not enough money available to raise teaching salaries to the level of war wages.

"I am sorry what we are doing to them is not enough," the Governor said.

The Governor added that other state employees are underpaid, when their salaries are considered in comparison with war wages.
