

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Twenty-five years ago today, the last American boy fell overseas in the first World War. At 11 o'clock a quarter of a century ago, hope flamed anew throughout the world as Armistice Day was born.

This day, a generation later, American boys again are making sacred to this land new battle fields. Then it was Flanders and Chateau Thierry, the Somme. Today, it is Corregidor, Guadalcanal, Faia Pass, Sicily, Italy.

Armistice Day is being celebrated today by men of the United Nations on the war fronts taking no time off in the grim business of beating back the enemy. Here at home, it is our solemn duty to march space with these gallant men—working, producing the machinery of victory.

There burns today the same hope of peace that was realized with the first Armistice. But there will be no second Armistice. This war must end in unconditional surrender of the foes of humanity. Let us all work to that end.

THERE! THERE!

But we really do think the Ashland paper is jumping the gun with its suggestion that Simeon S. Willis is the solution of all the Republicans' worries about a Presidential candidate. Let's at least be realistic.

OF ALL PEOPLE

Ralph Parriott and H. B. Thomas, Cincinnati paper salesmen, are unusual guys. Of all the people in the United States and outlying possessions, they are the only two who remembered that last Friday was my birthday. Anyway, their reminders that I am no spring chicken are appreciated.

AND SUDDENLY, THE QUIET

Dr. Randall most aptly described THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES' job-printing department after the election rush when he drawled, "Dead as a dollar watch."

PLAYS THE CHAMP

In the army, you have a chance, now and then, to enjoy civilian recreation. Some merely go to town, some literally "go to town." Others take time out to meet folks they've wanted to meet.

Down at Camp Berkeley, Texas, Dave Leslie from this county recently ran across Millard Hopper, world champion checker champion. Dave, who often tilted with fellows hereabouts across the board till they tilted the board themselves, promptly played said Hopper to a draw. The checker champ then gave Pvt. Leslie of the medical corps, a dollar bill bearing his autograph, and invited him to enter the national checker tournament—a bit of enjoyment said Leslie probably won't be able to enjoy.

PROOF OF THE ADAGE

Bill Biggers and Doug Hays are living proof of the truth of the old adage, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." Both today, after previous defeats in the political lists, stand elected Representative and State Senator, respectively.

One of the most amusing things about that vote count at the courthouse last week was the ballot from Depot precinct which had been stamped by the voter straight Prohibition and then crossed over for Representative-elect Bill Biggers who doesn't deny that he at one time was a distillery representative.

Don't wait until your name is removed from our mailing list—renew.

4 ELK HORN MINES IDLE FOR A DAY

As Receivers Hold Coal Prices Fail To Be Adequate

Work was resumed today (Thursday) at the Elkhorn Coal Corporation's mines at Wayland, this county, and at Haymond, Hemphill and Fleming, Letcher county, after a one-day work stoppage caused by decision of the firm's receivers that it could not ship coal at existing prices.

Tom Raney, Pikeville, International UMW board member, charged that the 1,500 men employed at the four mines had been "locked out," but W. W. Goldsmith, one of three receivers of the company, declared the work-stoppage was not a lock-out and that work would be resumed "as soon as we can ship coal at a fair price."

It was said at Wayland this morning that prospects of the company and of continued operation now are "much more favorable."

Meanwhile, work during the week had been resumed at all other mines of this and adjoining counties, though some dissatisfaction over ambiguity of the new contract as approved by the War Labor Board still existed.

Notices were posted at the Elk Horn mines Wednesday advising the employees of the shutdown following a few days' operation after signing of the new coal wage contract last week.

Raney asserted that "the corporation is refusing to operate under the Ickes contract."

Goldsmith said Elk Horn "has orders and is anxious to operate" but that "The Office of Price Administration has not granted a price increase necessary to make shipping profitable, and we can not operate at a loss."

He added that under the receivership no funds were available to tide the firm over "until and if" we have definite price figures "and can see where we stand."

The receiver said the OPA had refused to promise a retroactive provision under any contemplated increase.

Elk Horn has been in receivership the past three years. Besides the 1,500 men employed underground, some 200 top men were affected by the suspension.

Betsy Layne Man Is Heart Victim In 66th Year

Hiram Smith, 66 years old, well-known Betsy Layne man, succumbed Friday at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, to a three-weeks illness of heart disease.

A son of the late Jacob Smith and of Mrs. Harriett Williams Smith, who survives, he was born and reared in Pike county. He had resided at Betsy Layne for the last 17 years where he was a miner and farmer.

Surviving are his mother, his widow, Mrs. Orga Smith, one son, Shirley Smith, Regina, Ky., and one daughter, Mrs. Nona Lowe, Mossy Bottom. He also leaves one brother, Arthur Smith, of the highway patrol office, Pikeville, and one half-brother, Andrew Smith, of Bishop, Virginia.

SCHOOL SCRAP YIELD HEAVY

Reports are Lacking From Many Schools; Jalopy Hunt, On

Results of the recent school scrap drives over the county remain unknown, although reports received at the Superintendent's office indicate a heavy volume of metals have been salvaged.

Wayland reported the collection of 30 tons of scrap during its school drive. "I feel certain other schools have, or will, do as well in covering their areas, even if not every school can expect to find as large a store of scrap left untouched after previous drives," County Superintendent Town Hall said.

The drives of the schools over with the exception of Prestonsburg, an intensive search for jalopies to increase the number being turned over to auto wreckers is imperative, W. W. Burchett, chairman of the Floyd County Salvage Committee, declared this week.

Making a public appeal for more jalopies, junking of which is a part of the present nation-wide "Victory Scrap Bank" campaign, Mr. Burchett announced that the Floyd County Salvage Committee will give the public active assistance in locating and moving "junkers" toward the war production front.

Any citizen who owns, or knows the whereabouts of a jalopy that could be added to the scrap bank is asked to immediately pass this information along to the Floyd county committee, Mr. Burchett explained.

Armed with this particularly-supplied information from the public, the committee will check the cars and contact wreckers to see that the jalopy reported is quickly hauled into the scrap yard for conversion into war materials.

The auto-wrecking industry is playing an important role in the nation's scrap battle and is paying fair and equitable prices to jalopy owners, Mr. Burchett declared. A jalopy that has no salable parts has a scrap value of $5 to $10. Those with salable parts are worth somewhat higher prices. Only cars no longer usable and not economically repairable are wanted, Mr. Burchett emphasized.

Help of the public in the jalopy hunt is imperative, since there has been a serious slump in the number being turned over by the owners to processors for scrapping, Mr. Burchett reported in explaining urgency of the campaign.

Unique Scrap-Hunter is Victim Of Cancer at Pikeville Hospital

Jefferson Davis Burchett, the former Floyd countian who gained considerable local renown in the early days of the present war by taking to the Big Sandy river in a boat to collect scrap for use against the Axis, is dead.

He died Thursday morning at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, after an illness of two months of cancer. He spent much of his life on the Big Sandy, beginning in the rafting days of the Eastern Kentucky timber boom, and he was a picturesque figure along the reaches of the Big Sandy, from Pikeville to Lawrence county, while he pined his boat high with scrap during the months after the war began.

A son of the late John and Fanny Patton Burchett, he was born at Banner, this county. After his marriage 47 years ago to Miss Millie

NEW SHERIFF TAKES OFFICE

Sturgill Takes Oath Of Office Friday; Appoints Deputies

Troy B. Sturgill, Prestonsburg Democrat, remained Sheriff-elect of Floyd county less than one day. Completion of the vote count revealed Thursday afternoon, last week, that he had defeated D. P. Dings, Republican, for the office. Next day, he took the oath of office to become Sheriff.

His election to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. W. L. Stumbo made his entrance to office possible immediately upon executing bond and taking the oath. He succeeds Mrs. Annie Stumbo, who was appointed to serve as Sheriff till a successor could be elected.

Legal action between the new and outgoing Sheriffs is a possibility as each claims authority to act as collector of 1943 taxes. Sheriff Sturgill's request for the tax books was denied Monday and a court opinion may be necessary to settle rights of the outgoing and new officials in the matter.

Mr. Sturgill was sworn into office by County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr. He had named four deputies Tuesday: B. L. Sturgill, Prestonsburg; T. Y. Martin, Banner; Jim Crager, Cliff, and Ellis Martin, of Minnie. Deputy Sheriffs Sturgill and T. Y. Martin are former Floyd county Sheriffs.

Mr. Funk, however, will continue to serve as vice-president and a member of the board of directors of the Ashland firm and will continue to make his reports to N. M. Argabrite, vice-president of the American Gas & Electric Service Corporation and the American Gas & Electric Company in New York.

GOP SWEEP OF STATE, POSSIBLE

Democratic Candidates Pile Up Majorities In Floyd County

Although voters over the state may have returned a majority for only one Democrat, Charles K. O'Connell, candidate for Secretary of State, Floyd county voters gave every candidate on the Democratic ticket leads over their Republican opponents ranging from 1,000 to above 2,000 and elected every candidate for county or district office.

J. Lyter Donaldson, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, ran far back of all others on the Democratic state ticket in this county, with a lead of 1,077 votes over Judge S. S. Willis, Republican. Douglas Hays, of McDowell, Democratic Senator-elect, led the Democratic ticket in this county with a majority of 2,033 over Tilden H. Jones, Republican. W. H. (Bill) May, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, though losing to Kenneth H. Tuggle, Republican, over the state by approximately 1,200 votes, polled a Floyd county majority of 2,033.

Troy B. Sturgill, Democrat, was elected Sheriff over D. P. (Perk) Dings by a 648-vote majority. The 29 precincts in Legislative district 99 gave Bill Biggers, Democrat, a majority of 763 votes for Representative over his Republican opponent, Robert Hicks, and District 97 with 25 precincts gave Jerry Fonce Howell, Democratic incumbent, a lead of 924 votes over Clarence Mullins.

Official figures on 100 counties, as tabulated by Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher, upset the won-and-lost records in state races, apparently shoving Brooks L. Hargrove, Democrat, for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and A. E. Funk, Democrat, for Attorney General, below their Republican opponents, E. E. Hughes and Eldon S. Dummit after Funk and Hargrove had on the face of the unofficial returns been declared the winners.

Funk, an assistant attorney general, contesting with Republican Eldon S. Dummit of Lexington for attorney general, said it looked as if the final official count would put him around 300 votes behind. He said apparently errors in unofficial tabulations of Greenup and McCreary counties had made it appear at first that he had an impregnable lead.

Hargrove, candidate for clerk of the Court of Appeals, said it appeared that E. E. Hughes, of Smithland, his Republican opponent, would be in by some 800 votes when official tabulation was completed.

Based on official returns from clerks in 100 counties, Secretary of State Hatcher tabulated four races, Attorney General, Clerk of the Court

MURDER PLOT IS ALLEGED

As Carlos Arrested In Martin Death As Conspirator

Gus Carlos, owner of the Allen liquor store from the steps of which Dr. Ernest E. Martin fell or was pushed and fatally injured Oct. 20, was arrested Friday on a warrant charging him with conspiracy in events leading to the physician's death.

W. L. (Levy) Rice, of Allen, was arrested a few days after Dr. Martin's death, on a warrant charging him with the physician's murder.

Arrest of Carlos was made on a warrant issued by County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., on information supplied by the same persons whose affidavits led to Rice's arrest. Carlos waived preliminary hearing to the grand jury and executed $2,500 bond.

Both he and Rice maintained their innocence, claiming the doctor's death was the result of an accidental fall and that Rice sought to check Dr. Martin's plunge from the doorway of the building onto the pavement outside. Others claimed Rice and the doctor quarreled and that the victim was pushed or flung from the doorway.

Dr. Martin died at the Martin General hospital, without regaining consciousness, of injuries in the region of the base of the skull.

Mrs. Laura Cecil, of Wellston, O., has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Collins for the past week.

Effect of the election has been most noticeable in this section. Some of our good citizens are getting it "rubbed in," right much. Thoughtful persons have sent two of the cartoons (Elephant and Donkey) in the recent Louisville Times of Pistol Packin' Mama to some in this neighborhood who would expect to have it rubbed in right much. Then there are the more thoughtful ones who, back in the squirrel season, canned squirrel for the losers; so, a few days after the returns were all in, two of our citizens, were eating squirrel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hatcher entertained to dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Beckham Combs and children, Nancy and Jack, of Hindman, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hatcher and children, Bob and Maude Ellen, of Estill.

THE WEEK IN WPB

(Facts You Need to Know About Rationing and Price Control.) IF YOU FAILED TO GET BOOK IV

Persons who failed to secure War Ration Book IV during the regular registration period and who wish to secure Book IV may apply at their local rationing boards.

SHOE RATION RELAXATIONS

Certain types of shoes are released from rationing, beginning Nov. 8. Included are tennis shoes, gym shoes and sneakers. Obsolete shoes and single shoes may be sold as non-rationed on approval of the OPA district office, but these shoes must have the official OPA non-rationed sticker and cannot be sold for more than $1 a pair.

Some children's shoes, containing no leather and no rubber except scrap rubber, are to be manufactured for non-ration sales. Children up to about eight years of age will benefit chiefly.

Starting Nov. 9, special shoe stamps which dealers issue to customers for refunds will no longer have a 30 day time limit, but will be good indefinitely. Dealers will write on the stamp the number of the war ration stamp that last became valid for shoes.

TRUCKS ELIGIBLE FOR TIRES

Grocery trucks, dry cleaners and laundry trucks became eligible November 1 to receive used passenger car tires or used truck tires of size smaller than 7.50-20 to replace tires no longer serviceable. Previously vehicles used in retail delivery of items other than ice, fuel or milk were ineligible for tires.

FOOD RATIONS FOR SERVICEMEN ON LEAVE

Beginning Nov. 11, servicemen on leave may in an emergency get temporary food rations without the application forms furnished by the armed services, by making application in person to their local rationing boards. If the host applies for the ration points, only the army form will be accepted by the board.

NOT TO BE RATIONED

Current rumors have it that cigarettes will be "next on the rationing list." This is definitely not so. OPA has received no authority to ration cigarettes. Even if there were a shortage, rationing would not be contemplated, since cigarettes are not a necessary commodity.

The "wheat symbol" on the blue stamps of Book IV has created the impression in some minds that cereals will be rationed. There is no thought of rationing cereals. The blue stamps will be used for processed foods early in 1944.

As for the coffee rumor, Chester Bowles, general manager of OPA, said, "There is not the slightest intention of rationing coffee again." When Book IV was designed many months ago, coffee was being rationed. That explains the "coffee" label on certain coupons in this book.

NO MORE BOOKS I AND II

No more copies of War Ration Books One or Two are to be issued for any purpose. All stamps in these two books have expired except Stamp 18 in Book One, used in buying shoes, and blue stamps X, Y and Z in Book Two, which are valid until Nov. 20 for buying processed foods. These stamps should be safeguarded against loss as ration boards are no longer authorized to replace them if lost, stolen or destroyed.

When all stamps in Books One and Two have expired, the books will cease to have any value. Covers of these books will not again be used for rationing purposes.

JAMS, JELLIES, PRESERVES

Jams, jellies, fruit spreads and preserves, which went under rationing Nov. 1, may be bought with your processed food stamps. Your grocer's point value chart will show you their point values. With rationing, you will be able to get your share.

NEW CAR QUOTA

The 63 counties of the Louisville district, excluding Jefferson county, will have a quota of 138 new automobiles for the month of November. The November quota, which represents a reduction of 33 1-3 per cent from October, allots 203 new automobiles to the Louisville district, 65 of that number going to Jefferson county.

The 46-ounce size of grapefruit juice now "costs" only four points, since the government has turned back more than 1,000,000 cases for civilian use.

The price of peanut butter has been reduced 6 1/2 to 7 cents a pound, effective November 1.

You can get about 6 per cent more meat this month with your points than you could last month.

RATIONING AT A GLANCE

Processed Foods Blue stamps X, Y and Z in Book 2 good through Nov. 20. Green

Gasoline Stamp A-8 good for 3 gallons through Nov. 21; B and C stamps good for 2 gallons until used. Where requirements are affected by reduction from 3 to 2 gallons, fill out new supplemental form R-535 and mail to board when you do not have enough gas to last 30 days.

MINE INSPECTOR SUGGESTS FLOYD MINE IMPROVEMENTS

Federal coal mine inspectors have recommended additional safeguards to protect life and property in three Kentucky coal mines employing 628 men and producing 2,840 tons of coal daily. Dr. R. R. Sayers, director of the Bureau of Mines, this week informed Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes.

They are the Clear Branch Mining Company's mine at Ligon and the Sampson Elkhorn Coal Company's Colara mine near Drift, both in Floyd county, and the Columbus Mining Company's No. 10 mine at Bargee, Perry county. Formal reports prepared after recent routine inspections of the mines have been transmitted to the companies, Dr. Sayers said.

Clear Branch Mine

Better ventilation, safer timbering and haulage practices, control of coal dust, and the elimination of ignition and electrical fire and shock hazards were among Inspector Albion V. Faull's suggestions for the 1,440-ton-a-day Clear Branch mine which employs 378 men. Proposing reversal of the air current and adoption of a split system of ventilation, together with detailed improvements in ventilating facilities, the inspector explained that the volume of air in working places should be increased to assure dilution of the small liberation of methane, an explosive gas. He suggested adopting rules for systematic timbering, instructing all workers in the vibration method of testing roof, correcting hazards observed along haulageways, and prohibiting risky haulage practices. Company records disclosed that 20 lost-time accidents occurred in the first six months of 1943, compared with 30 for all of 1942, the inspector said, and he suggested safer transportation and storage of explosives, better guarding of belts, shafts and trolley wires, closer supervision in working places, fire protection underground, annual renewal of first-aid instruction of workers, a safety organization, and precautions when approaching adjacent abandoned mines in which fires are believed burning.

Safety practices of the mine included wearing of protective hats and safety shoes by all workers, employment of an effective checking-in-and-out system, and use of permissible explosives which company officials said would be handled and fired in a permissible manner. The company has purchased 370 permissible electric cap lamps, but no employees used this safety equipment, the inspector said.

Colara Mine

The Colara mine, employing 100 men and producing 650 tons of coal daily, should improve ventilation, adopt safer blasting, timbering, and haulage practices, and control coal dust more effectively, Inspector Harvey P. Landis stated. He suggested safeguards for the ventilating fans, detailed changes in air-courting facilities, tests for explosive gas at least once a month, and the elimination of gas-ignition hazards. All coal should be cut or sheared before blasting, and only permissible explosives, handled and fired in a permissible manner, should be used, he said. Other recommendations called for enforcing timbering rules requiring permanent and safety posts nearer the face with a cap piece on each post, providing adequate clearance and shelter holes along haulageways and eliminating risky practices, minimizing electrical fire and shock hazards, exercising closer supervision, holding joint safety meetings of officials and workers, and the wearing of special protective clothing by all employees.

Last-time injuries during the first five months of 1943 totaled seven, compared with 18—including one fatality—in all of 1942, and both accident-frequency and severity rates were lower, the inspector said. He commended employment of shot-firers, "good housekeeping" in the surface plant, first-aid instruction for all workers, and the printed safety rules which were posted in several places.

Mrs. Palmer L. Hall, club president, was in charge of the business session. The side having the largest number of members at the close of the year is to be entertained by the losing team.

Each club member agreed to contribute a gift for needy children at the December meeting. It was also decided to have a fund for the purchase of flowers to be sent to members who are ill.

Miss Carlos M. Hale had charge of the program—"Kentucky's Music"—featuring the songs of Stephen Collins Foster. Miss Hale presented some of her music students, Lon Edward Roberts, Ambers Roop, Jr., Glenn Layne and Gerald Roberts, of Betsy Layne high school, who rendered a number of Foster's songs along with Miss Hale's biography of the composer.

Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James gave an interesting talk, entitled "Homespun," emphasizing Kentucky's ballads and folklore.

"My Old Kentucky Home" and "Swanee River" were sung by the group.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames B. F. Combs, Dick Davis, Winston Ford, Billy Goble, Town Hall, Ralph Davis, A. C. # Armistice Day • 1943

One Picture Is Worth More . . . Than A Thousand Words

. . . or a million words. Nothing we could say would illustrate more clearly the desperate need for supporting our boys on the battle fronts than this picture . . . a picture of a dying American . . . your son, brother, husband or dear friend. It makes you wonder, "Am I doing my part? Will the war be over sooner because of a anything I am doing?" They work, fight, bleed and die. All we are asked to do is put out a little effort, then buy War Bonds, collect a little scrap, save a little grease, donate to the various causes that help our boys so much . . . for their comfort and life itself. Listen, mister, you've got to help.

ALASKAN HIGHWAY
 After all the hullabaloo about the vitally needed military highway to Alaska, it now looks as if it would take at least two years, perhaps nearer three years to build it. One trouble is there is still an argument about the route.

To date the army has picked a route by way of Edmonton, center of the prairie state of Alberta, which is longer than the route advocated by Alaskan territorial officials.

The Alaskan officials propose a short quick route straight up from the state of Washington to Prince George, then on to White Horse. Part of this—about 400 miles to Prince George—already is built. And if interned German, Italian and Japanese prisoners were put to work on the remaining link, it might be finished before winter.

However, both the army and the Canadian government favor the longer route via Edmonton. This would follow the chain of Canadian airports to Alaska. These airports are operated by the Canadian Pacific railroad, which may be one significant reason why the Canadians want a road to link them up.

The army originally picked this route because last summer some of its planes, en route to Alaska with green pilots, got lost and cracked up. So it was suggested that a highway linking the airports would serve as a guide to airman. The army also favored this route in order to send gasoline and supplies by truck to air bases. The war may be just about over, however, before this interior highway is built.

JAPANESE PROPAGANDA

Inside intelligence information is that Japanese propaganda agents are now marshalling their forces for a concerted attack against the United States in Latin America, with Argentina, Brazil, and Chile as focal points.

Japan will resort to a number of typical Axis methods to sway neutral countries away from collaboration with the United States, including the Axis-worn tactics of making overtures and giving assurances that she has no imperialistic aims toward these countries. On the other hand, the Japanese will emphasize that the United States has been greedy in her international trade relations and has imperialistic designs on Central and South America.

In launching this propaganda attack Japan has instructed her agents to do everything possible to solicit the good-will of Spanish and Portuguese representatives in Latin American countries.

In addition to propaganda agents and diplomatic representatives, Japan has recruited agents in commercial firms throughout both Europe and the American countries to propagandize persons of Latin culture and Catholic faith. In this connection, plans have been made to go even so far as to try to exploit his holiness, the pope.

Already $50,000 has been forwarded to Japanese representatives in Chile to be used in attempting to bribe government officials.

One of the most audacious phases of the Japanese plan is the one that calls for an attempt to induce a revolution in the United States by co-operating with factional groups within the country, and creating dissension among the people by sniping at the Roosevelt administration.

ROOSEVELT FAMILY DINNERS

In the usher's office, just inside the front door, an old-fashioned call-board is hung, to indicate when guests are in or out. There is space for 20 names, but on a recent day it carried only the names of Mrs. Roosevelt, Harry Hopkins and Lorena Hickok, long-time friend of both the First Lady and Hopkins, who often stays at the White House. (The President's name is never entered on the board.)

A year ago it was possible to drive along Pennsylvania avenue, turn in at the White House gate, hand a calling card to the footman at the front door and eventually receive an invitation from Mrs. Roosevelt to come for tea.

Today, the gates are closed and heavily guarded. The two avenues flanking the White House are barred to traffic entirely. Never in 100 years has the White House been so heavily guarded. The teas and receptions are cancelled for the duration, and the normally democratic residence of the Chief Executive stands cold and aloof.

NAZI RACKETEERS

Hitler's semi-hysterical demand that his stooge Reichstag vote him more dictatorial powers—which it promptly did—was of particular interest to intelligence authorities in the light of secret information concerning a recent scandal in high Nazi circles.

According to a confidential report it was discovered that a well-organized racket, protected by big-shot Nazis, was looting the food supplies of U-boats when at their home ports.

Night Club Patriot:

MacArthur wasn't the only hero on Bataan Peninsula, as this story, just arrived, reveals. In the early days of the campaign, MacArthur summoned an engineer and asked: "How long will it take to throw a bridge across this stream?"

"Three days," was the reply. "Good," snapped MacArthur. "Have your draftsman make drawings right away."

Three days later, the General sent for the engineer and asked him how the bridge was coming.

"It's all ready," was the answer. "You can send your men across now, if you don't have to wait for them pictures. They ain't done yet!"

Meow! A catty actress visited the "Now, Voyager" set in H'wood and congratulated Ilka Chase on her recent book. "I enjoyed it," she said. "Who wrote it?"

"Darling," clawed Ilka. "I'm so glad you liked it. Who read it to you?"

In Moore's the other dinner-time Eddie Cantor, Lou Holtz and Chico Marx were wondering about Ben Bernie. "Are things all right?" one of us queried.

"Don't worry about Bernie," said an eavesdropper. "I happen to know that whether he works or not, he has an income of $22,000 a year."

"Is that enough—the way he bets?" asked Chico.

"Those who'll suffer," gagged a wag. "will be his relatives."

From Variety: "Only three pictures have played five-week engagements at the Music Hall before 'Reap the Wild Wind.' They were 'Snow White,' 'Rebecca,' 'Phila. Story' and 'Woman of the Year.'"

Isn't show business bad enough without arithmetic like that?

Harry Hopkins is supposed to have asked a Soviet big-shot: "How is it you purged so many Generals—yet you're doing so well?"

"In Russia," was the answer, "we executed the Fifth Columnists. In France they put them in the Cabinet!"

And over here they get on the staff of the hate sheets.

John Gunther, the commentator-war correspondent, was interviewing the head of a gov't bureau, who was complaining about the confusion, red tape, etc.

"What do you really think of Washington?" Gunther asked.

"I think," he said, "it is an insane asylum!"

"Oh, come now," Gunther ribbed, "that's a time-worn phrase."

"You don't understand," said the man. "This is the most different kind of an insane asylum. It is run by the inmates!"

America's Assembly Line.

America's assembly line is complete. It runs straight from the great heart of a free people to the hearts of their fearless fighters. The money streaming into our war bonds is already streaming out of the mouth of the cannon.

The capitals of the enemy are panicky. Dollar for dollar—wheel for wheel—and tank for tank—the enemy is losing the battle of the factories. Which means that man for man the enemy must give final account on his own battlefield.

He knows that more goes into a defense stamp than the 25 cents it costs. And that our men with their hammers are driving home more than rivets. The money pouring into the United States Treasury means Americans have no price on their liberty. Billions for defense means tanks against tyrants and bullets for bullies. . . . American working-men are too busy to look up, but the smoking chimneys of their factories mean the smoking ruins of Berlin and Tokyo.

The American armament program, which includes 185,000 fighting planes, was called "fantastic" by Hitler in a radio speech. This is to report that our plane production will be even greater than Hitler fears.

Midtown Melodrama: The colyum's spy over at B. Altman's department store overheard this dialogue the other afternoon:
 Lady Patron—Please charge it.
 Salesgirl—What is the name, please?
 Lady—Lillian Gish.
 Salesgirl—Would you please spell it?

In Fewer Words: Vaudeville is definitely making a comeback. The showmen obviously figured: If it's so successful in Congress it oughta be a cinch for Broadway.

New York Heartbeat:

 Chet Shaw, new managing ed over at Newsweek. The Purple Heart ribbon in his lapel—means that he was wounded in the last war. . . .

Bare Fact You Paid Over Ceiling Price Doesn't Help OPA

"Numerous complaints are coming to the Louisville District Office of Price Administration from persons who claim to have paid in excess of ceiling prices for essential commodities, yet when asked to divulge their name, also the name of the dealer or merchant, that information has been refused," F. C. Hindsley, district information executive, said last week.

"It seems that the public is taking the matter of price control with considerable indifference, which only means that so long as the public is willing to pay Black Market prices which, in effect, encourages the practice, our efforts in OPA are being thwarted," he said. "For example, a consumer recently and very emphatically reported that she had paid 50 cents a pound for grade A sirloin steak, whereas the legal ceiling price is 43 cents a pound, and 50 cents for grade A round steak, whereas the legal ceiling is 41 cents a pound. We do not yet know who this person is, but she did finally reveal the name of the store from which the purchase was made. The OPA will, of course, make an investigation and very likely it will be found that the merchant will claim that no such transaction was ever made in his store, and since we have no facts upon which to base our charges the OPA position is very thin."

The Price Panels attached to each one of the War Price and Rationing Boards, together with the enforcement division of the district office, are ready to take the steps that are necessary to prevent the sale of merchandise over legal prices and to prosecute under the law if necessary but to do so the consuming public must be willing to help. "It is our purpose to resist inflation but to do so effectively we must have the people's co-operation. Anonymous complaints are worthless from an enforcement angle. Complaints must be supported with factual information such as providing OPA with receipts showing over ceiling prices, the consumer's name along with that of the offending dealer. Definite corrective measures can then be taken," Mr. Hindsley said.

NO ARMISTICE TODAY

TWENTY-FIVE years ago this world went wild with joy. The world tried "Peace". But there was no peace. There was only a truce.

This time there must be no truce. This time we are grimly determined to see the job through. We will make whatever sacrifice is necessary. We won't let it happen again.

Armistice Day this year marks the beginning of a new call upon our patriotism. A call directed especially to the people of this community.

One of the gravest threats to our all-out war effort is a shortage of pulpwood. We who live in the pulpwood-cutting areas are asked to make good that shortage. We will be paid for our wood, of course. But we are asked to do it as our special part in the war—backing up our own boys in the service.

In whose honor will you cut your cord? A son? A brother? A friend? Give us his name, and yours, so that both may be entered on the roll of honor. No boy shall die because we failed.

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor.)

The fellows up this way are taking up a collection to buy Frank Click a rubber shotgun so it won't hurt his head.

I'm just wondering why that kitten dropped out of Bill Moore's pants leg.

Red Goines must have some "straying lumber." He built a chicken yard to keep it in.

Those isolationist Senators and Congressmen are about six years behind the people and just why in the hell are they elected? 'Course, we Kentuckians haven't got much room to talk, for haven't we got Chandler? His only use in Washington is ornamental, if any.

The worst thing about history is every time it repeats itself the price goes up.

Wasn't it about 400 years ago that Shakespeare said, "There's something rotten in Denmark?" How did he know the Nazis would invade Denmark in 1941

Berlin reports from the Russian front every day sez their troops are systematically disengaging themselves from the enemy. Like the farm boy who succeeded in roping the bull calf and then being dragged all over the barn lot.

Ben Martin sure must have been seeing snakes when he had to de- tout a maple tree on his own steps. I thought he had joined the Com- mandos by the artillery he was carrying.

We have a report that Ollie and Levi will give their pork and beans points to Garrett, especially since Ollie and Levi took a backset on their founder.

One bill that Congress has over- looked in the draft business is the drafting of loafers first—the fellows who never work any. Every draft call takes a bunch of good workers, but you always find the slackers at their regular hangouts.

It's a pity that people nowadays cannot learn as fast as they used to. Look at "General" Happy Chandler. He spent six months on a college campus during the other war and now wants to be a general. What would help "Happy" most in my estimation would be to plant firmly the hard toe of a miner's shoe in the seat of his logic. The newspapermen of the state of Kentucky should tell the rest of the world, and especially the rest of the U.S., that "Happy" doesn't represent the public opinion of Kentucky. The braying jackass even embarrasses the rank and file.

You know, its over a year until the Presidential election, but practically every letter I receive from soldiers overseas always advise me to stick by F.D.R. I read where the Herald Dispatch sez they're conducting a search to find a man among our 130,000,000 population capable of succeeding F.D.R. But just why the search? We've still got F.D.R. He has at least run the polk juice out of the miners' systems.

With the wartime restrictions on travel, I believe "Clie!" will lose that title of "Butcher Boy."

The Stumbo Hollow championship is still in doubt—we had to call Bish and Carl a draw.

I'm of the opinion THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES should carry a column of "Bond Slackers."

I've been promised a job selling hickory nuts on commission for the Foster & Reitz Gathering Company.

Say, just what about this work or fight edict? We still see loafers everywhere. But here's hoping they don't start grabbing up a lot of little, ragged ankle fellows and let the prominent-named men continue to wear out the seat of their pants.

A lot of fellows can afford the sorghum but are having a hard time gettin' the butter. Lasses are n.g. without the butter.

They ought to start rationing Senators. We could get along o.k. with just Alben Barkley—he's the only one we've had since M. M. Logan died.

Your soldier son gets all these things from your electric bill!

If you buy electricity from a business-managed electric company, 24c out of every dollar you pay is promptly passed along as taxes. On an annual household electric bill of $37.50, the total tax is about $9.04.

$3.25 of this goes to local governments for schools, roads, police, etc.—and $5.79 goes to the federal government. At Army prices, the $5.79 paid by one family will equip one soldier with all the things shown here.

The fact that the service supplied by electric companies under business management is the only electric service federally taxed emphasizes even more the outstanding job these companies have done in stepping electric production UP to meet war needs—while keeping prices down!

I never entertained high hopes of victory, yet I fought the fight as best I could. I most certainly am not disappointed in the support of my friends, and I have no ill feeling for those who could not be my friends at this particular election.

of Appeals, Secretary of State and Governor.

When 99 counties had been totaled Funk and Hargrove telephoned the remaining ones and compiled their own totals, resulting in their expression of belief they had lost.

It was pointed out also that many of the counties whose clerks have not yet made their official returns went Republican. On the basis of this belief was expressed that Mary Landis Cave, Leitchfield, Republican, also would win in a close race with Charles K. O'Connell, Democrat, for Secretary of State.

Secretary Hatcher pointed out his totals on the 100 counties should not be regarded as final until there had been an opportunity to recheck the work done in his office.

In addition to that, Harlan dispatches reported Republicans had demanded a re-count in the Appellate Clerk's race in the Pineflat and Clovertown precincts there.

The official returns from 100 counties as tabulated by Hatcher showed the three Democrats, Funk, Hargrove and O'Connell, leading by slim majorities, which the telephone calls by Funk and Hargrove indicated would be wiped out in their cases at least by the remaining 20 counties.

Hatcher's figures on the 100 counties were:

Attorney General—Funk, 183,706; Dummit, 183,072.

Appellate Clerk—Hargrove, 181,906; Hughes, 181,748.

Secretary of State—O'Connell, 183,762; Cave, 183,508.

Governor—S. S. Willis, 195,330; J. Lyter Donaldson, 189,541.

The 20 missing counties were listed by Hatcher as Boyd, Christian, Fleming, Gallatin, Green, Henderson, Hopkins, Jefferson, Knott, Lee, Letcher, Livingston, Lyon, Marion, Martin, Nelson, Perry, Rockcastle, Todd and Warren.

To the Voters of Floyd, Knott and Martin Counties:

I am not only grateful to the Democrats of Floyd, Knott and Martin counties for the splendid majority given me in my race for State Senator, but am also mindful of the fact that many good Republican voters gave me their support.

Your individual contributions to my victory are deeply appreciated and I assure you that I will try my level best to justify your faith in me by trying to serve all the people as I should. I have only one regret and that is that it is impossible for me to thank each of you personally.

Sincerely, DOUG HAYS
