

War Bond Drive Gains Impetus

TO CORRESPONDENTS
We don't like to keep bringing this up—but, if news-letters are to be published the same week they are written, they must reach us not later than Monday night. And they must be signed! We appreciate your co-operation in giving our readers, particularly the boys in service, the news from their home communities.

DEAR SANTA
After hearing that Will Gearheart and I were lost Saturday night somewhere on Norris Lake, Charles Goble has promised me for a Christmas present a compass. Please, Santa—make it a radar outfit.

COMMUNAVIGATOR MALONE
Which reminds me of Bill Malone, Allen, getting lost while squawking recently down in Fleming county. When he finally happened to Dr. J. H. Allen and their car, he declared: "I'm here to tell you Wendell Wilkie's got nothing on me. I've been around the world."

BUYING AMERICA AT WORK
The boys who are doing the buying could see the children of Floyd county out selling War Bonds. They know there was something back home worth fighting for. These youngsters can't quote "The Four Freedoms" to you; many of them have never heard of the Atlantic Charter. But they know about America and those who are fighting to preserve it.

All the folks, or most of 'em, are buying Bonds. They're not content with merely backing the attack; they believe that in this way they're actually helping make the attack. Just as our country has helped Russia with our guns, tanks and planes, we give back the German invader.

WINTER WEEK
Next week is Newspaper Week. The season is closed for that week by our editors. Leave your shootin' guns at home.

CRIME DECLINE SEEN IN FINAL JURY REPORT

One Murder Bill Returned at Term, New Low in Floyd

After hitting a near all-time low in the matter of returning true bills while in session here nine days during the present circuit court term, the Floyd county grand jury upon its adjournment Friday in its final report declared that "crime is on the decline and fewer felonies have been committed than at any time in the past several years."

Of the 47 indictments returned, only one was for murder—probably a modern record for a Floyd grand jury. The indictment named Jay Burchfield in the pistol slaying of Bill Miller who, though wounded the day before the court term began, did not die until the day before the grand jury adjourned. The jury, as has been the court, was handicapped by witnesses being in the armed forces or at defense work.

The report, signed by Dave Gearheart, foreman, asked authorities to bring into court "persons able to work who are found loafing and loitering about on the streets without any visible income." These should be forced, the jury recommended, "to either get a job at some gainful employment or be dealt with according to law."

Officers and the courts were commended for their work in combating crime, and it was noted that the public buildings are in good repair and that the jail is well-kept.

Few cases were brought to trial during the week. Bev Miller entered a guilty plea to grand larceny in the theft of a calf from H. T. Hill and drew a two-year pen term. Wiley Warrick was fined $500 for cutting and wounding John Branham, and Branham's trial on an assault and battery charge growing out of the same encounter between the two men was continued till January 6.

Major indictments returned during the last three days of the grand jury session follow:

Bert Shepherd, detaining a woman against her will, Lizzie Wicker, cutting and wounding; Dan Collins, carrying a concealed deadly weapon; Elliott Miller, striking and wounding; Mary Mann, keeping a disorderly house; Jack and Thelma Branham, child desertion; James Barnett, forgery; Buck Goble, disorderly house; Anna Prater, disorderly house; Elijah Akers, child desertion; Tobe Salisbury, pointing a deadly weapon at another.

Mrs. Keathley suffered a broken arm and internal injuries. She is expected to recover.

Folding of Dressings Being Resumed Here And at Allen Today

Work of folding surgical dressings for use in army hospitals is being resumed here and at Allen tonight (Thursday) on the September quota of bandage production.

Need for these dressings is so urgent that the War Department has already asked the Red Cross here to ship the September quota at once. Mrs. Lillian Keenan, director of the work, said shipment now, of course, will be impossible, since the new supply of gauze arrived only this week. She expressed the hope, however, that the response of women willing to work will be such that the quota will be quickly filled and shipment made.

The September bandage quota is 16,200. The surgical dressing room here is open each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evening from 7 till 10 o'clock and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 1 till 4.

Second X-Ray Clinic To Be Conducted Here October 7

Second tuberculosis x-ray clinic of the year will be held here October 7 from 8 a.m. till 4 p.m. It was announced this week by Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd County Health Department, sponsor of the clinic.

Dr. John B. Floyd, of the State Board of Health, will conduct examinations. The nominal fee of $1.25 will be charged for x-ray pictures. All physicians are invited to refer patients to the clinic, and it was pointed out that new teachers of the county school system are required by order of the County Board of Education to submit to x-ray examination for evidences of tuberculosis.

MILLER DIES OF WOUND

Burchfield's Bullet Fatal to Glo Man; Trial Begins Here

The revolver bullet wound from which he had lingered since Sept. 5 resulted in the death Thursday, last week, at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, of Bill Miller, 40-year-old Glo miner.

Jay Burchfield, also of Glo, was named Friday by the Floyd circuit court grand jury in a murder indictment for Miller's slaying. Burchfield was released under $5,000 bond and his trial was slated to begin today.

The victim was a son of Henry Miller, of Louisa. Besides his father, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Percy Miller, one daughter, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Ed Dye, Wayland; Mrs. Joe Miller, Garrett; Mrs. McKinley Webb, East Point; Graydon Miller, Lowmansville; Ray Miller, Wayland; Mrs. Giles Mitchell, of Pennsylvania.

GOAL REMAINS IN DISTANCE, MAYO SAYS

Work of Schools Is Drive Feature; Reports Lacking

As the end of the Third War Loan drive drew in sight Floyd county was less than two-thirds of the way toward attaining its quota of $893,100, W. P. Mayo, county Bond chairman, estimated Wednesday on the basis of incomplete reports on sales.

But the impetus gained through participation by the county's teachers and school children in the drive may carry Floyd over the top.

There was not a corner of Floyd county that was not being visited this week by youngsters and their elders bent on selling Bonds. Folks were investing their savings in victory; and, as school contests developed between the various grades and rooms, those selling Bonds were doing so "for fun" as well as for their patriotic contribution to winning the war.

Reports from eight companies operating in this county disclose they had purchased $276,000 worth of Bonds. While the comparatively few schools reporting progress of sales showed a total of only $58,475 in Bonds sold, County Superintendent Town Hall said he is confident the schools will reach or pass their $300,000 quota. Personnel of the Superintendent's office themselves had either bought or sold a total of $15,425 worth.

The largest individual purchaser of Bonds, according to available reports, is County Clerk A. B. Meade with $15,000 worth bought. Reported company purchases are: Inland Steel Company and the Warfield Natural Gas Company, $100,000 each; Glogora Coal Company, $25,000; Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, $20,000; Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company, $25,000; Clear Branch Mining Company, $3,000; Beaver Coal & Mining Company, $2,000; Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company, $1,000.

But the real story of patriotic effort was that of the boys and girls in the schools and their teachers. For instance, at Beaver, on the headwaters of Mud Creek, Gladys M. Jones and her pupils of a one-room school sold Bonds totaling $4,175. Norma Stepp reported from her Sowers Creek school on Johns Creek sales totaling $2,675.

Neil Hamilton, teacher of a one-room school on Little Mud exceeded

8 CANDIDATES FILE ACTION

Circuit Court Here Asked To Protect Place on Ballot

Prestonsburg's City Council ticket seeking election under the Democratic device Tuesday filed a petition in equity asking the Floyd circuit court to require County Clerk A. B. Meade to have their names printed on the ballot under that device.

The court action followed a letter from Assistant Attorney General Guy H. Herdman holding that the recent ordinance enacted by the present City Council voiding a partisan ticket is unconstitutional. The ordinance would, if held legal, require the printing of all Council candidates' names in a single column, with the names alternating in the order of their appearance.

Last week, the Council was said to be considering repeal of the ordinance, but that action had not been taken before the suit was filed. Council will meet Monday.

The petition, filed by Atty. Joe P. Tackett, for himself, John Osborne, E. K. Dotson, Mont Gibson, A. C. Carter, Graham Harris, Herbert Salisbury and Thomas Hereford, as candidates, seeks immediate action under the Declaratory Judgment act. It alleges that the plaintiffs would be handicapped by their loss of the use of the Democratic device, since, they claim, Prestonsburg normally polls a Democratic majority of 600.

What Author of Baptist Manual Says on Change of Sabbath

There was and is a commandment to keep holy the Sabbath day, but that Sabbath day was not Sunday. It will be said, however, and with some show of triumph, that the Sabbath was transferred from the seventh to the first day of the week, with all its duties, privileges and sanctions. Earnestly desiring information on this subject, which I have studied for many years, I ask, "Where can the record of such a transaction be found?" Not in the New Testament; absolutely not. There is no scriptural evidence of the change of the Sabbath institution from the seventh to the first day of the week.

I wish to say that this Sabbath question, in this aspect of it, is the gravest and most perplexing question connected with Christian institutions which at present claims attention from Christian people; and the only reason that it is not a more disturbing element in Christian thought and in religious discussions, is because the Christian world has settled down content on the conviction that somehow a transference has taken place at the beginning of Christian history...

To me it seems unaccountable that Jesus, during three years' intercourse with his disciples, often conversing with them upon the Sabbath question, discussing it in some of its various aspects, freeing it from false glosses, never alluded to any transference of the day; also that during forty days of his resurrection life, no such thing was intimated. Not so far as we know, did the Spirit, which was given to bring to their remembrance all things whatsoever that He had said unto them, deal with this question. Nor yet did the inspired apostles, in preaching the gospel, founding churches, counseling and instructing those founded, discuss or approach this subject.

Of course, I quite well know that Sunday did come into use in early Christian history as a religious day, as we learn from the Christian Fathers and other sources. But what a pity that it comes branded with the mark of paganism, and christened with the name of the sun god when adopted and sanctioned by the papal apostacy, and bequeathed as a sacred legacy to Protestantism!—Dr. Edward T. Hiscox, author of "The Baptist Manual," in a paper read before a New York Ministers' Conference. From a copy of the paper furnished by Dr. Hiscox.

AN OPEN LETTER TO EVERYBODY

Please Look Up Each Reference in Your Bible

Dear Friend:

As a Christian, it is your desire and purpose to obey the Lord Jesus Christ. It is by obedience to His commandments that we prove ourselves to be His true disciples. (Jno. 15:14, 14:15, 21:23; 1 Jno. 2:3, 4.)

Have you ever really searched the Bible to find out which day of the week Christ wants you to keep? Very few have. Most people take it for granted that the first day of the week, or Sunday, is the right day to observe, because they have been brought up that way, and because the vast majority observe that day. But we must never forget that the Bible, and the Bible only, is the correct guide for the Christian. (Acts 17:11, 2 Tim. 3:16, 17; Jno. 8:31,32.)

If we do not know what the Bible says, we will go wrong. (Matt. 22:29.) The fact that Sunday is observed by the majority of Christians today, and has been handed down from generation to generation for centuries as the so-called Christian Sabbath or Lord's day does not make it the right day for us to observe, unless it will bear the test of the Holy Scriptures. It is the Bible, and the Bible only, that can settle which is the right day for Christians to observe.

EIGHT TEXTS SETTLE IT

It is a very simple matter for you to find out for yourself which day Jesus Christ wants you to keep. The first day of the week, which is now called Sunday, is mentioned only eight times in the New Testament. (Mark 16:1, 2, 9; Luke 23:56; 24:1; Matt. 28:1; Jno. 20:1, 19; 1 Cor. 16:2; Acts 20:7.) It is self-evident that if there is any proof in the Bible for the keeping of the first day of the week, or Sunday, it will have to be found in these eight texts which alone mention the first day of the week in the New Testament. But read them carefully for yourself, and you will find that these texts do not contain one word to the effect that Christians should keep the first day, or Sunday, as a holy day in honor of our Lord's resurrection. The very fact that the only eight texts in the New Testament which mention the first day or Sunday, do not say anything to the effect that Christians should keep the first day, is conclusive proof that there is absolutely no Scriptural authority for the observance of Sunday.

SIX TEXTS AGAINST SUNDAY

The first six of these eight texts refer to that identical first day, or Sunday, on which Jesus rose from the dead. These six historical texts were written for Christians years after the Lord's resurrection. Hence the very fact that these six first-day-resurrection texts do not contain one word about the first day becoming a holy day at that time in honor of our Lord's resurrection, or about the first day being instituted as the Christian Sabbath or Lord's day at the time of the resurrection, makes these six texts, six conclusive proofs that Jesus Christ nor His apostles ever instituted the keeping of Sunday, the first day of the week, and it did not become, and is not, a holy day in honor of our Lord's resurrection.

Let us look at the two remaining texts that mention the first day of the week. In Acts 20:7 we merely have the record of an incidental meeting at Troas on a farewell occasion, when Paul preached all night long, on what we would call Saturday night, and then took a long journey by foot on Sunday. In 1 Cor. 16:2 we have Paul's instruction concerning a private laying aside of a donation, that the believers in some places were to do, in order that they might have something to turn over to Paul when he came, so that he could carry it on to the poor saints at Jerusalem.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE NOT A PART OF CHRIST'S WILL

It is true that Jesus rose from the dead on the first day of the week or Sunday, but there is not one word in the New Testament which says that we should keep the first day of the week, or Sunday, in honor of His resurrection on that day. If Christ had desired that Christians keep the first day of the week or Sunday in honor of His resurrection, would He not have told us so in the New Testament?

Since Jesus Christ has never told us in the Bible to keep the first day or Sunday, it is not and cannot be, a part of His will for us to keep Sunday. It cannot be a part of our religious duty since it is not contained in our Guidebook, the holy Bible. It cannot rest on anything else than human authority and custom.

It is a serious thing to neglect to keep the seventh day or Saturday, which the Lord has plainly commanded in the Bible (Ex. 20:8-11) and which He blessed and sanctified at the very beginning (Gen. 2:1-3), and to keep in its stead, the first day, or Sunday, which Christ never has commanded nor sanctified nor hallowed for men.

Jesus says, "But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the first commandments of men." Matt. 15:9. "And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" Luke 6:46.

SUNDAY NOT A HOLY DAY IN HONOR OF THE RESURRECTION

It is not necessary for us to keep Friday in honor of His crucifixion on that day, because Christ has instituted the Lord's supper as a memorial to commemorate His death. (1 Cor. 11:26.) In the same way it is not necessary that we keep Sunday in honor of His resurrection on that day because He has given us Christian baptism as a means whereby we do commemorate His burial (Rom. 6:4), and resurrection (Col. 2:12.) And so according to the New Testament it is no more necessary that we keep Sunday in honor of His resurrection, than to keep Friday in honor of His crucifixion.

Christian baptism and the Lord's supper came in as new ordinances under the new covenant, and they are plainly commanded in the New Testament. If the keeping of the first day of the week instead of the seventh had come in under the New Testament, it would have likewise been plainly commanded. The very fact that there is not one word in the entire New Testament about keeping the first day of the week as a holy day proves that it did not come in as a divine ordinance under the New Testament.

NO BIBLE PROOF FOR SUNDAY

You can read your Bible through one hundred times and you will find that:

1. There is not one text that says the Sabbath was ever changed from the seventh day to the first.
2. There is not one text where the first day or the day which we now call Sunday, is ever called the Sabbath, or given any sacred title.
3. There is not one text where the first day or Sunday was ever appointed to be kept as the Lord's day.
4. There is not one text where Jesus or His apostles ever kept the first day or Sunday, or ever taught Christians to keep it.
5. There is not one text that tells us to keep the first day in honor of the resurrection of Christ.
6. There is not one text that ever tells us to keep the first day or Sunday as a holy day of rest and worship.
7. There is not one text where we are instructed not to work on Sunday.
8. There is not one text which says that God or Christ ever sanctified or set apart the first day or Sunday for men to keep.

And remember, that after all that may be said or written on this matter, these eight propositions will still stand true. No one ever has or ever will be able to give you one text, which says any of the eight points mentioned in these eight propositions. Read these over again carefully and let their full significance sink deep into your mind. These eight propositions show everybody that Sunday-keeping stands without any Scriptural warrant or divine authority. They are sufficient to convince anyone that Sunday keeping is not Scriptural. Why not then turn and keep the seventh day, which Scripture does command?

SATURDAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

The Lord has made this matter of which day we ought to keep doubly plain. In the only eight places where He ever mentions the first day of the week in the New Testament there is not a single word to the effect that Christians should keep that day, and two of these first-day Scriptures show that the seventh day or Saturday is the right day for Christians to keep.

Mark 16:1, 2 says that the Sabbath was past, when the women came to the tomb at the rising of the sun on the first day of the week. This shows that the Sabbath or God's holy day is the day which comes just before the first day of the week, which as everybody knows is none other than the seventh day or Saturday.

In Luke 23:56, 24:1 the Scripture plainly declares that Christ's followers had kept the Sabbath according to the Lord's commandment before they ever came to the tomb at the break of day on the first day of the week. This is another New Testament proof that the Sabbath which the Lord commands us to keep is the day before the first day of the week, which is the seventh day or Saturday. If you will obey the Lord in the day you keep, it is plain that you must keep the day before the first day or Sunday.

It is a well-established fact that Jesus Christ was crucified on the day we now call Friday and resurrected on the day we call Sunday. If you will read Luke 23:54-56; 24:1 you will see that Sabbath according to God's commandment came in between the crucifixion on Friday and the resurrection on Sunday. So here is New Testament proof, that the day which God commands us to keep is the day which comes in between Friday and Sunday, which is the seventh day or Saturday. Shall we not turn from the man-made Sunday Sabbath, and keep the true seventh day Sabbath according to the Lord's commandment, on the day preceding the first day of the week, just like Christ's followers did according to both Mark 16:1,2 and Luke 23:56; 24:1?

ACTS OF APOSTLES SHOWS THAT SEVENTH DAY OR SATURDAY IS SABBATH DAY

In Acts 13:14 we have the record of Paul going into the synagogue at Antioch on the Sabbath day where the Jews were assembled for worship, in year A.D. 45 or fourteen years after Christ's resurrection. None can deny but what this Sabbath day on which the Jews were assembled was the seventh day, our Saturday. Some will say, Paul went there on the seventh day solely to preach Christ to the Jews. Granting this to be the case, it does not change the fact that the Holy Spirit in speaking through Dr. Luke, who wrote the Book of Acts, calls this seventh day or Saturday, on which the Jews were assembled in this synagogue some fourteen years after Christ's resurrection—the Sabbath day.

This proves that the Holy Spirit who makes no mistakes, recognized the seventh day or Saturday as being the Sabbath of the Lord fourteen years after Christ's resurrection and that the Holy Spirit was to us to regard the seventh day as the Sabbath. There could be no divine authority for men to change or abolish the Sabbath this side of A.D. 45. Therefore since the seventh day or Saturday was the Sabbath fourteen years after the resurrection of Christ, it must be the Sabbath today.

There are seven other places in the Acts of the Apostles where from fourteen to twenty-three years after Christ's resurrection the seventh day is mentioned as being the Sabbath day. (Acts 13:27, 42, 44; 15:2, 16:13; 17:1-3; 18:4.) This shows that the apostles of Jesus Christ, during the years that followed the death and resurrection of Jesus, recognized the seventh day—the identical day on which the Jews met in the synagogues—as the Sabbath, God's holy day under the Christian dispensation.

If the first day of the week had taken the place of the seventh day as the Sabbath or Lord's day at the resurrection of Christ, or in the days of the apostles, the Acts of the Apostles would not, and could not, mention eight times over all the seventh day Sabbath fourteen to twenty-three years after Christ's resurrection.

These eight references in the Book of the Acts in which the seventh day is referred to as the Sabbath are eight solid proofs that the seventh day Sabbath did not come to an end at the cross. It also shows that since the seventh day was the Sabbath in A.D. 41, when the Book of Acts was written, it is bound to be the Sabbath day, or the Lord's holy day, now. All Christians ought to follow the Book of Acts and keep the day—the seventh day—which this book distinctly refers to as the Sabbath eight different times.

I was brought up to keep Sunday and honestly believed that it was the Lord's day. But when I searched the Bible on this question, I found that there was no Scriptural authority for the observance of the first day of the week or Sunday, and that the seventh day, the day we call Saturday, is the only day that Jesus Christ has ever blessed, hallowed, or set apart for man, or commanded man to observe. There was only one thing I could do and that was to turn and keep the seventh day. What else can we do if we obey the Bible and follow the example of Jesus on the matter of the day which we keep?

Yours in the Master's service,
J. S. JAMESON

Knott County Bombardier Comes Home To Tour U. S.

Three battle-scarred bombers and their veteran crews, returning from operations over North Africa, Sicily, the Rumanian oil fields and the Middle East, landed at Washington National Airport last week to be welcomed by a cheering throng of spectators.

The planes were two Liberator bombers, the "Wash Tub" and the "Squaw," and a Mitchell "Desert Warrior," all members of the U. S. Ninth Army Air Force.

The airmen, among them First Lieut. Theodore R. Tate, of Hindman, will be allowed three weeks furlough, to visit their homes. After that, they will re-assemble as a group and make a tour of the United States.

The three planes are credited with downing 31 enemy planes and dropping 469 tons of bombs over a stretch reaching from El Alamein across Africa to Sicily, and on Italy, Greece, Crete and Rumania.

The "Wash Tub" dropped 219 tons of bombs, participated in 73 combat missions, flew 551 hours for a total of nearly 100,000 miles, and shot down 22 fighters.

The "Squaw" dropped 180 tons, participated in the daring low-level attack on the Ploesti oil fields in Rumania and destroyed six enemy aircraft.

The "Desert Warrior," a twin-engine bomber as contrasted with the two other four-engine planes, was flown in 73 combat missions, dropped more than 70 tons of bombs, and shot down three enemy fighters. Tate is the bombardier.

Community Cannery At Maytown Gets Final Equipment

Although in operation for the last three weeks, during which it has canned approximately 15,000 quarts of fruits and vegetables, the community cannery at Maytown was not complete until this week with the arrival Monday of the last scheduled shipment of machinery for the year. R. L. Shepherd, director of the cannery, said.

The cannery has a capacity of 239 quarts an hour. Canning, including the cans, is done at a cost of five cents per can for residents of the community. Owners of products to be canned assist, however, in preparation of the foodstuffs.

The cannery is located on the campus of the Maytown school. Miss Peggy Jo Allen is assistant to Mr. Shepherd. Canning machinery was procured through the State Department of Vocational Agriculture. Next year a meat grinder and tomato juicer have been promised as additions to the enterprise.

Henceforth, Mr. Shepherd announces, the cannery will be operated only on Saturdays in the canning of meats and late fruits and vegetables.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WHAT REALLY HAPPENED Editor, The Times:

I have often wondered how a fellow would feel if he was in the army in this period of warfare and destruction, and be lucky enough to get a furlough, and while on the way home run short of money, maybe, or just want to hurry home to see his wife and children, parents or sweetheart and a few friends before his furlough ended.

So, just to try to make it a way that should be faster for a soldier, he hitch-hikes so as to keep from laying over for hours waiting on a train or bus.

Well, here is a "compliment" from a paratrooper on his way home from Ft. Benning, Ga., on a 10-day furlough. I picked this soldier up Saturday, Sept. 4. He was trying to get a ride down to Harold from Pikeville.

When he got in the truck with me, he said, "Boy, I sure do feel like fighting for those good, patriotic people around here." I asked him why. So he told me that he had been trying to catch a ride for exactly two hours and 45 minutes. "And not a d— one would stop and pick me up or even stop to find out where I wanted to go." Just place yourself in a position like this and see how you would feel.

I don't think any one driving a car should ever pass a soldier on the road without finding out where he is going or what his troubles are. I for one never have and never will pass a soldier if there is any chance at all to crowd him in, for I think if he can sacrifice his life for my country, I can sacrifice a little time and gas to find out his troubles, and maybe do him a favor in the meantime.

And to all taxi-drivers—try not to rob the soldier because you know he has a little money. Be a little lenient with him, haul him free if you are not loaded. You should charge him only half-fare.

This same soldier I am speaking about told me that he caught a cab in the state of Georgia and the driver charged him $9 for taking him a distance of 10 miles. I think this is highway robbery. What else is it? Some people think that a soldier has plenty of money. Maybe so, but don't try to take it away from him without giving him full value, cent for cent.

Although you may not have a brother or kin on the far-flung battlefields, remember that other people have—maybe your next-door neighbor. So don't ever think that whatever you do for a soldier won't be more than appreciated.

JESSE WALLEN

A LETTER TO THE SPORTSMEN OF FLOYD COUNTY

Effective Oct. 1, the Governor has appointed me as full-time Senior Conservation Officer, to serve in Floyd and Pike counties. This office I held from Sept. 16, 1940, until Aug. 31, 1942. During this time I was on a salary and a limited expense account. In performing my duties as game warden I am ordered to co-operate with the local fish and game clubs in my territory, but not to take any active part in the activities or business of these clubs.

Contrary to my instructions, I took an active part in the affairs of my local club and spent a good part of the time I was being paid by the Division of Game and Fish in working for the game club, and due to this work I often exceeded my expense allowance from $20 to $30 a month, this amount coming out of my own pockets, and never one cent from the local club; and due to the time and work I was donating to our club we made hundreds of dollars that went into the treasury of our club that was spent to restock fish and game in our county.

Some clubs in our state say, "Kill the red foxes because they destroy the game birds and other small game," or re-stock with certain game that the officers of the club happen to be most interested in, but Floyd county's club was a sportsmen's club and was interested in any form of game that its members wanted and our money was spent for red foxes for the fox hunters, raccoon for the 'coon hunters, and quail for the quail hunter; We had one of the most active fish and game clubs in Kentucky, and due to this fact the Division of Game and Fish gave us more than our share of fish to re-stock our streams, extra quail each season, and on numerous occasions helped us in purchasing raccoon and red foxes.

As I have said before, the work I was doing was contrary to the rules of the Division of Game and Fish but due to the success of our club and the co-operation we were getting from the sportsmen in our county I was permitted to carry on my work as I pleased. After all, we were getting results and that is what counts. This time I intend to carry on my work as near as possible in the same manner as before, but as we are in a war our travel and activities will be limited, and if I am given the support of the sportsmen of our county, and I am sure that I will get this support, also of our local officials, I am sure that Floyd county can again open the eyes of the sportsmen all over the state of Kentucky.

When I was warden before it was seldom that it was necessary for me to make an arrest. Everybody you saw fishing or hunting had a license. A warden's record is not based on the number of arrests he makes. If everybody who hunts and fishes buys a license and hunts and fishes according to the laws of our state, then a warden is getting results.

I am asking the sportsmen of my district to buy licenses and abide by our fish and game laws. I will be on the job every day and I am promising to perform my duty as best I can. And if it is necessary for me to make arrests, this I will do.

ABOUT THE BLOOD BANKS

Editor, The Times: I read in THE TIMES this morning about the proposed Floyd county "blood banks."

It is true, we have no such bank in our county while many of our boys have given their lives for our country and county. I gave a pint of my blood to the Indianapolis Chapter of the American Red Cross at Billings General hospital, February 24, 1943. Perhaps many other Floyd county boys have given their blood for plasma.

I am also a member of the American Red Cross for the year 1943.

Every month my pay is $3.75 short—which goes into or for War Bonds.

So, you see, soldiers who are not yet in battle can contribute something toward victory.

I am a former Floyd county boy; am a nephew of Duke Griffith, Prestonsburg jeweler.

Tankman, flier, doughboy—Pete and John and Bill—are waiting tonight to hear a certain voice on the wires. It's a voice that can put more spring in their stride, give them more determination to do their best until firing ceases. For Pete, John and Bill are waiting to hear—a voice from home.

When you're about to place a long distance call, won't you please remember these fellows who need a few minutes—before tomorrow's hard assignments—to talk to the homefolks? Won't you remember, too, that most of these men have to call in the evening, during that crowded period from 7 to 10? And because burdened lines can't be expanded now to meet all demands, won't you postpone your call until the less-busy hours?

When you avoid making long distance calls, or speak briefly if you talk, you're helping relieve the nation's war-crowded communications system. You're also helping bring "a voice from home" to the boys awaiting it. Pete, John and Bill will be grateful.

Don't Waste Electricity

Use What You Need but ... Need What You Use

ELECTRICAL appliances contribute to health and morale—by saving labor at home they make possible greater factory production. This is recognized by the War Production Board in its voluntary conservation program through which all citizens are asked to conserve coal, petroleum, gas, water, and electric services, transportation and communications. "Eliminate all waste in the use of various electric appliances," says the W.P.B. but states further that no effort should be made to curtail uses of electricity essential to safety and health, including eyesight conservation.

There is ample electrical capacity to supply both war and essential civilian requirements—the need for conservation comes from a shortage of the resources from which electricity is made and for its use. Use what you need; don't waste it.

Some Conservation Suggestions

RANGE

Use smallest surface units needed for cooking operation. Cook on stored heat—or lowest heat possible. Plan menus so that entire meals may be cooked in thrift cooker or oven. Do not open oven door for "peeking" more than necessary.

REFRIGERATOR

Defrost your refrigerator regularly. Do not place hot left-overs in refrigerator . . . allow them to cool to room temperature before inserting. Do not overload your refrigerator . . . keep all foods in covered dishes or wrapped in wax paper. Keep temperature control set for 45° unless you are freezing foods or desserts.

WATER HEATER

Do not waste hot water. Do not let water run when washing dishes, shaving, etc. Have all leaky faucets repaired.

WASHING MACHINE

Do not overload washing machine. Do not run machine oftener than necessary. Do not run machine longer than necessary to clean clothes.

SMALL APPLIANCES

Eliminate all waste in the use of various electrical appliances such as radios, space heaters, electric irons and toasters, and so forth. Turn them off when not actually needed.

FLOYD COUNTY GOES TO WAR

Where Floyd Countians in Armed Forces Are, What They're Doing

Promotion of Vernon Allen from the grade of private first class to corporal was announced recently at a base "somewhere in England." Cpl. Allen is the son of Henry H. and Lizzie Allen, of Martin. He was born at Printer and attended school at Maytown. He entered the army Dec. 30, 1942, at Ft. Thomas, Ky.

Pvt. George Wadkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Wadkins, of Blue River, has been transferred to 63rd Infantry Division, Camp Van Dorn, Miss., for basic training.

Cpl. John L. Herald, son of Jeff Herald, of Dwayne, recently completed advanced ground crew training at the army air forces technical training school at Douglas Aircraft Corporation, Santa Monica, Calif. This is one of the special aircraft factory schools in the Command's

Los Angeles civilian area.

Cpl. Herald has been transferred to an army air forces station for active service, taking his place in the vast army of expert mechanics who keep our combat planes in fighting trim. Previously he had qualified as an army air forces technician through general airplane mechanic training at a technical training command school. He was especially chosen for the advanced course.

Pvt. Emit Reynolds, son of Joe Reynolds, of Dony, has been transferred to BI RTC, Camp Flannin, Texas, for basic training.

T/Sgt. James D. (Dogg) Fitzpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fitzpatrick, of Garrett, is in the southwest Pacific where he is in the air corps with a troop-carrier battalion. His cousin, T/Sgt. Eugene Hyden, of Auxier, is in the same area with a bomber squadron. The two have not yet met, relatives are told.

Seven years a veteran of the army, Sgt. Mose Younts, of this county, is now at Ft. Jackson, S.C., and his training in various camps over the country, ranging all the way from military courtesy and discipline to the use of the rifle, machine gun, 37mm. howitzer and then on thru the various defenses against bayonet, air, chemical and mechanical attacks, has readied him for whatever service the armed forces require. He began training at Fort Thomas, Ky. in 1937 and there was married to Miss Hettie Bryant, of Williamsburg, Ky. His wife, two daughters and son are now at Columbia, S.C., near his Ft. Jackson post. Sgt. Younts is with an armored field artillery unit. He is a son of Mrs. Polly Younts, formerly of Harold, but now of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay May, of Cliff, recently received a letter from their son, Orion C. May, after a long silence. He had been at sea in the Pacific theater of operations. Another son of Mr. and Mrs. May—Clyde G.—is also with the Pacific fleet. A third, Billy, is in the army.

The following newly inducted personnel of the army have been sent forward from the reception center at Ft. Thomas, Ky., to the stations and addresses indicated:

her school's $500 quota by only $25—but how she did it! Folks up there were unable or unwilling to buy more than $325 worth. So Miss Hamilton, teaching at a salary of around $100 a month, made up the deficit herself—she bought for herself the $200 in Bonds needed to "go over the top."

Few of the consolidated schools had reported their sales but their success seemed assured. Prestonsburg high school Wednesday had already sold $22,000 worth—$7,000 more than its quota. Over in the grade school each home room was scrapping to outdo the others.

In Prestonsburg Mrs. W. C. Rimmer and members of the Kiwanis Club are conducting a house-to-house canvass.

Auxier, Wayland, Wheelwright, Betsy Layne, McDowell, Drift, Martin, Maytown and scores of smaller schools in between had not filed official reports.

Other school sales reported to the Superintendent's office as of Wednesday morning follow: Lackey—Lurline Reed reported $1,800 (four other teachers had not reported); Lower Cow Creek, Imogene Caldwell, teacher, $750; Lower Johns Creek, Dorothy Music, teacher, $1,150; Spurlock, Pet Salisbury, teacher, $650; Arkansas, Callie Branham and Rose Hagans, $1,900; Clear Creek, four teachers, $1,375; Salyers Branch, Lola Ousley, $750; Gertrude Gearheart, $500; Johns Creek, Virginia Spears, $900; George school, Robert Marshall, $500; Lower Johns Creek, Arlita Marshall, $425; head of Frazier's Creek, Velma Reynolds, $725; Bonanza, Paris Conley, principal, four-teacher school, $2,600; Drift, Love Clark and Ruby Akers only two of eight teachers reporting, $875; District 84, Frazier's Creek, Stella Howell, $400.

The Third War Loan ends Friday but sales on certain types of Bonds as late as October 16 will count toward the drive.

TROY B. STURGILL FOR SHERIFF

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As the Democratic nominee for Sheriff I think it is my duty to inform the voters what to expect of me when elected to the very important office which I seek.

I am thoroughly acquainted with the duties of this office. I realize that the peace, happiness and property of every citizen depends in a great measure upon the conduct of the Sheriff and the deputies he will have. I promise the people that you will have the following service and protection:

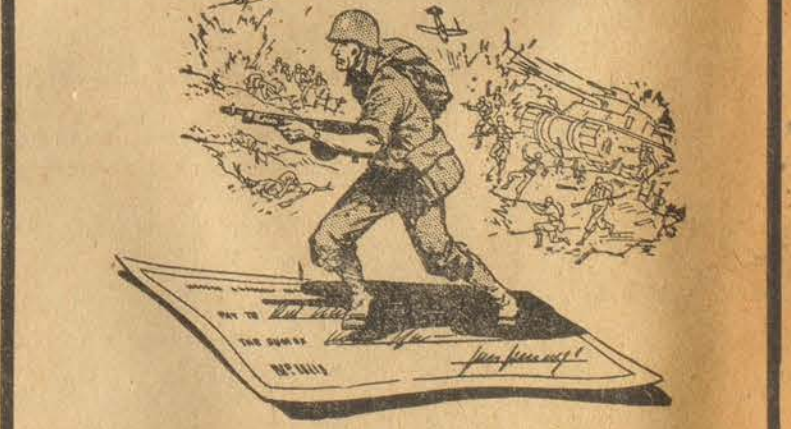

1. I will be sober.
2. I will have sober deputies.
3. I will enforce the law.
4. I will be fair and friendly.
5. The same treatment will be given to poor and rich alike.
6. As Sheriff I will give advice instead of abuse.
7. I will be the same every day.

I desire to thank the five gentlemen who opposed me in the primary and their many friends who are loyally supporting me in this election. I am grateful to the many Republican and Independent voters who have assured me of their support.

I have no doubt as to the outcome of the election, but I want my majority to be as large as possible; and in order to do that I ask my friends to begin now to organize and get their precincts organized to get the voters to the polls.

By your active co-operation and support my majority will be the largest ever given a nominee for Sheriff.

Your friend,
TROY B. STURGILL
