The Telephone Service Situation IS IMPROVING

We're On Our Way To Serve Those Waiting For Telephones

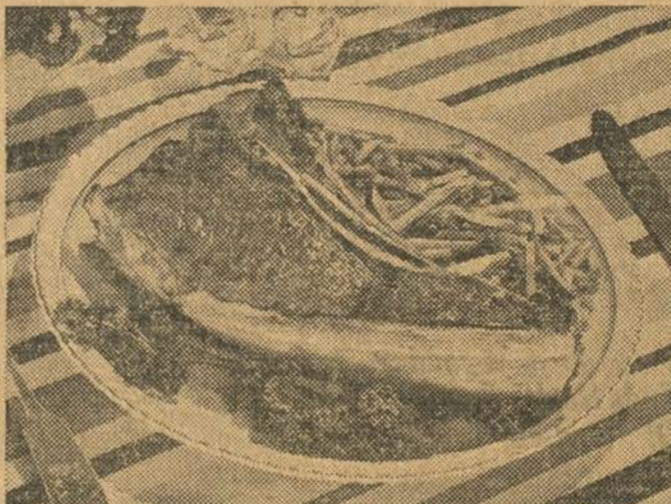

WITH the receipt of increasing amounts of telephone equipment from our manufacturers, we are making progress in catching up on held orders for service.

In many places where new additions to outside plant and central offices were not required we are now installing telephones without delay. But in places where additional outside lines and cables are needed or where central office switchboards must be manufactured and installed it will require more time before we can catch up with orders for telephones now on hand.

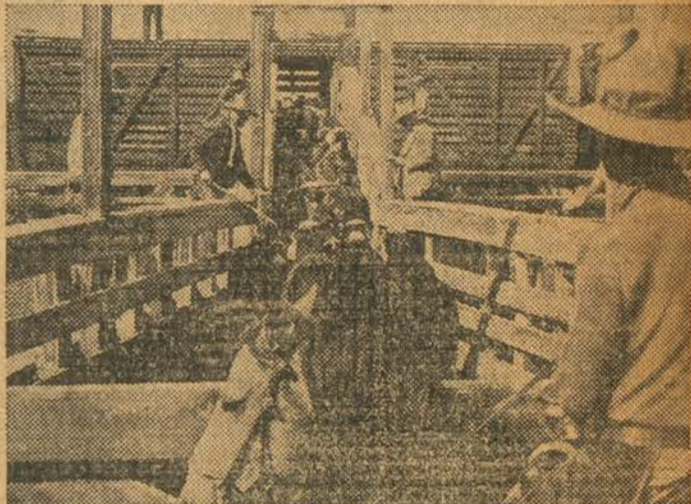

Building new lines, installing new cables overhead and underground and expanding central office facilities, which, in many instances, calls for new buildings or building additions, is a big undertaking. It's a job that requires a tremendous amount of labor and time to complete.

We are anxious for all who want service to get it. And you may be sure that we are doing all we can to hasten the day when no one will have to wait for telephone service.

35% more meat wanted! This means thousands of new jobs!

Jobs on the hoof! Raising more meat means more jobs!

Jobs in packing plants!—As demand for meat zooms!

Jobs in stores! More demand means more workers needed.

Making Postwar Jobs—Out of Meat!

HOW many jobs will there be as this country returns to peacetime production? Will there be enough jobs for veterans, for former war workers?

No one can say, exactly. But this much we know: Many industries along our routes offer amazing possibilities for jobs in the immediate future—thousands of new jobs that have never existed before! These jobs are going to grow out of the gigantic demand for goods and services that exists in this country—and from production that will satisfy that demand.

Consider the meat-packing industry. Meat suffered the greatest shortage and was missed more than any other food during the war. Moreover, meat has become a greater item in our diets—both military and civilian. And new knowledge of the health-giving qualities of meat has made meat more in demand than ever.

Right now, leaders in the meat-packing industry are readying production facilities to take care of a tremendous increase in domestic consumption. They confidently expect a rise in demand of as much as 35%! This will make meat a 4-billion-dollar enterprise, ranking with steel and automobiles in the number of people employed.

It will mean myriads of new jobs on the country's 3,000,000 ranches and farms growing meat, in the 4,000 packing plants, and on the sales staffs serving these plants. It will mean more jobs in the country's 400,000 retail outlets selling meat—and it will mean new jobs in the factories and the service trades that supply or serve people connected with raising, packing and distributing meat!

Meat-packing is only one of many industries along the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Nickel Plate, and the Pere Marquette, that are going ahead with all possible speed, now that Victory has been won.

Bloodhounds Trail Two After Ivyton Home Is Burned

Two Magoffin county youths were arrested after bloodhounds from Lexington had trailed them from the scene of a house burning at Ivyton, near the Floyd-Magoffin line to Royalton, a distance of approximately six miles, it was reported here last week by residents of Brainard, this county.

The two were taken to Salyersville by Magoffin county Sheriff Oliver Patrick but were released by County Judge Lacey who cited the court ruling to the effect that evidence based on tracking by bloodhounds is not recognized in Kentucky courts. Investigation of the blaze is being continued, however.

The residence destroyed was that of Mrs. Mazie Hackworth, wife of Marvin Hackworth, who is based in China with the U.S. navy, and a sister of Mrs. Levi Prater, of Brainard. Mrs. Hackworth was away from home on the night of the fire and nothing was saved. The loss, none of which was insured, was placed at $2,000.

A motive for the suspected arson was found in Mrs. Hackworth's threat to have fingerprints taken after her home had been entered recently, the lock of a trunk forced and $18 in cash stolen.

FLOYD CLUB AHEAD OF OTHERS IN ORGANIZATION AND PLANNING

Aims and purposes of the Floyd County Club, an organization planned and founded before any similar group was organized in the state, were likewise formulated before any other group gave an indication of its purposes, officers of the club recently emphasized. The club's aims follow:

Religious
1. To recognize that Floyd counties have a charge to keep with our God, if we desire the more abundant life. That God has a definite plan for every individual who surrenders his life to Him, "That we have dominion over all the earth." Gen. 2:26.

2. To help see that every community has one Daily Vacation Bible School annually; that Floyd county has a county-wide revival each year, using local talent.

Industrial
3. To boost Floyd county everywhere, all the time, to encourage trade at home, to assist in the development of new industries, in the utilization of native materials, to help the unemployed.

4. To realize the wealth here is being exhausted, though Floyd is one of the richest counties in the state in natural resources. If we replace as we use, we will be blessed, also our children, whom poverty awaits if we abuse and neglect. That a study be made to discover possibilities for further development of resources above and below the ground.

Social
5. To do everything possible to wards assisting veterans. To erect some lasting memorial in honor of our war dead. That they be publicly remembered at least one day each year.

6. To work with groups and organizations in providing facilities for school lunch rooms. To seek to increase community canneries here.

7. To seek increased recreation facilities and playground equipment and to encourage their use the year round under supervision.

Educational
8. That we seek to have an industrial arts program included in the school curriculum, to provide a more varied means of livelihood and greater independence for an increasing population. That we work for the establishment of a centrally located technical high school for those who wish to specialize before reaching college.

9. That we co-operate with the County Health Department in an educational program concerning venereal disease and intestinal parasites, with emphasis on curative measures and improved sanitation. That we assist in a parasitic survey, since former ones showed almost 70 per cent of the mountain population infested.

BIG SANDY BASKETBALL

By OTIS L. LAYNE

MAYO LOSES TO WAYLAND Wayland, Ky., Dec. 1.—The Wayland Wildcats had their hands full when they tackled a big and improving five from the Vocational School at Paintsville. Wayland took an early lead, scoring their first points from the beginning tip-off from center. They went ahead steadily to end the first quarter, 18-9. Mayo came along steadily and at the half the score was 22-16 for Wayland.

The Wildcats were considerably smaller and faster than Mayo but they intercepted several passes and took the ball from Mayo a few times in the first half. Their speed slowed down in the third quarter, however, and Mayo came up close with 31 to their 32 points. The game ended, 31-34, and if Mayo could have had two more minutes of play the ending certainly would have been different from where I saw the game.

Stapleton took the honors for Mayo with 14 points. Caudill came second with 8. Hicks and Castle were high point men for Wayland with 10 points each.

In the last two games Mayo has been considerably stronger due to the addition of two new players. Both are veterans and resumed school work only recently. Harvey Howard comes from Betsy Layne where he was a star for the famous Bob Cats during 1936-37-38. Har- a hard, fast game. After spending 34 months in India he is glad to be back in the States and to participate in basketball. The other addition is Tommy Hill who comes from Ed- monton, Ky., where he played high school basketball four years. He was an outstanding player and it seems he will go places with the Mayo veterans.

Auxier won its first game in five starts Friday to beat Virgie, 37-36. I gather the game was a thriller and full of fight every minute of the game. Daniels and John David Evans were the officials.

Mayo suffered a loss when Roy Colvin broke his arm in practice. He was really going strong and just hitting his stride. However, there is one encouraging fact about the accident—only one bone was broken at the wrist. He should be back in the game by the last of January.

Meade Memorial tromped Garrett by six points. Meade seems to be going strong and will be a big threat to the Mayo boys on their home floor.

Betsy Layne won over the strong McDowell team, 32-27. Betsy Layne has a good chance for the state tournament this year. They beat Wayland one point at home and away. Charles Walters slowed down a bit against the McDowell boys, scoring only seven points. I am looking forward to their Paintsville game. It will be interesting to watch big Martin play against Paintsville's football star, Kirtley, who is center for the Tigers.

Next week the Goop will be back with more basketball news of our schools and from our neighboring counties.

Flat Gap floored Oil Springs when they invaded Flat Gap territory Friday night, January 12 Oil Springs will tackle Russell at Oil Springs.

HOW MANY CALLS
KENTUCKY MADE THIS YEAR

As Telephone Tommy points out, Kentuckians did a whole lot of talking from January through November of this year. Fact is, more local and long distance calls were made than in any other similar period in the entire history of the telephone in Kentucky.

We wish you could have seen the rush of these calls through our telephone exchanges. They made the sign lights dance across our switchboards with such speed and sparkle as to turn the lights on Broadway green with envy.

You might have felt that with so many calls being handled, the telephone folks were making money because of the war. The best way for Telephone Tommy to prove the company did not profit by the war is to tell you the startling fact. And that is "telephone earnings in 1945 will be the lowest in the company's history, except for the worst of the depression years."

This is because our expenses—wages, taxes, cost of materials, cost of services—increased at a greater rate than our revenues.

Telephone people, however, were glad to be busy handling Kentucky's calls. They were not concerned primarily with figures. Instead these 3,326 busy Kentuckians were concerned with service—getting your calls through and seeing that lines were kept in order. They knew their job was to serve you well and with a pleasant "thank you".

What Helps Agriculture Helps All of Us

WHAT is it that helps agriculture? We know that to grow good crops it takes good seed, fertile soil, a favorable climate, and the skill and experience of the individual. Likewise in the production of livestock you need well-bred animals, proper care and feeding, plus intelligent management.

Through better seeds and new types of plants like hybrid corn, through soil conservation methods, better management, and improved machinery, through more effective control of pests and parasites, America has reached a level of food production never before achieved by any nation in history. Therein lies much of America's strength for the future.

By many a tragic example, history teaches us that when food supplies fail, nations fall. We of America must see to it that our agriculture becomes always a stronger, surer base for the economy of our nation. This is a task not only for you as producers but also for us who, by providing nationwide facilities and services, bridge the gap which separates farmers and ranchers from the distant consumers who must have their products.

And because our business is so closely linked with the land, we at Swift & Company are vitally interested in all developments that help agriculture. And so in these Swift pages we publish helpful information, knowing that a prosperous agriculture is essential to the livestock and meat industry—and to the prosperity of the nation as a whole.

OUR LIVESTOCK JUDGING METHODS

By R. G. JOHNSON

Head, Department of Animal Husbandry, Oregon State College

Domestic animals are machines for converting plant material into meat, fibers, and other human needs. Competition forces the modern farmer to evaluate efficiency in terms of tons or bushels per acre, dairy production in pounds of butterfat per cow per year, and poultry results in number of eggs per year. Thus, since the basic resource is feed and not animals, shouldn't livestock producers evaluate breeding stock on the basis of meat or of wool their offspring produces per 100 pounds of feed consumed?

The show ring standards for judging animals by external appearance have given us advancement up to a certain point, but breeding for the show ring does not always lead to efficient feed utilization.

A step in the right direction is the increasing use of proved lines. Today, through use of artificial insemination, the purebred breeder is greatly assisted in the establishment and increase of efficient blood lines.

Tomorrow's "yardstick" will not only be bigger yields per acre but also more pounds of meat and fiber per ton of feed.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW? How many of the amino acids essential to health are found in meat?
What governs the price of livestock?
In what dessert is meat an important ingredient?

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

A smart steer on range goes to where the forage is best. A smart livestock producer sells where the market is best. There are many sources of information to help him decide where that best market may be. Radio networks and nearby stations report daily on receipts and prices at central and local markets. Commission houses and their field men are ready to give personal advice on the best time and place to sell. Newspapers publish detailed descriptions of market conditions. Various timely reports are available from the U. S. D. A. and other impartial sources on trends and developments in the livestock-and-meat industry.

In making their bids, livestock buyers also use current market information. Acceptance of any price offered is entirely up to the producer or his sales agent. Meat packing plants and their buyers are located at so many widespread points that if a producer is not satisfied with prices offered by any one buyer, he has a choice of several others to which he may sell his animals.

Moreover, with 3,500 meat packing plants and 26,000 other concerns and individuals who slaughter livestock commercially, there is bound to be keen competitive bidding for your livestock. Barring meat rationing and price ceilings, livestock prices are governed by what the packer can get for the meat and by-products.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

"AMINOS" ARE IMPORTANT TO YOU! From the nutrition research laboratories comes the story of amino acids, mysterious substances found in the proteins we eat. Aminos are used by our bodies to build and rebuild our tissues, organs, and blood. They also help fight off infections.

Of the 23 known aminos, ten are absolutely essential to health and even to life itself. Meat is rich in all ten of them. That's why doctors, working to rebuild the shattered bodies of wounded servicemen, order diets with large amounts of meat. That is also why everybody should eat meat for health as well as for its fine flavor and its "stick-to-the-ribs" food value.

Swift and other meat packers, through The American Meat Institute, are telling this vital story of meat and its health-building aminos in many millions of advertising messages. As people read this story, there will be wider markets for meat—and the livestock you produce.

LIVESTOCK EXPANSION IN SOUTH

By J. B. FRANCONI, JR., Head, Department of Animal Industry, Louisiana State University and A.M. College

Livestock last year furnished 39 per cent of the cash farm income for the South, as compared to a previous ten-year average of 37 per cent. It can also safely be said that no other section has made livestock gains during the war period equal to those in the South.

The southern states have many natural advantages for livestock production—the mild climate, long growing season and rich vegetation providing good pasturage for a greater part of the year. And now that the crop control and soil conservation programs are making it possible, many planters are changing over to livestock, beef cattle in particular.

Improved pastures are being developed, producing more feed for cattle than can be obtained from natural pastures only. And as the feed situation improves, purebred breeds are being introduced. Louisiana alone has imported at least 24,000 bulls and many good females during the last ten years. The state now boasts over 200 purebred breeders, utilizing to the fullest extent better pastures and approved land management practices. The use of good bulls has raised the quality of the grade of offspring and has increased their value when marketed.

Lecturer Says China's Fight To Finish May Be World War II Highlight

"Why China did not go down during the war will probably be the most brilliant chapter of the history of World War II when it is written," Josephine A. Brown, author-social worker-lecturer, told her hearers recently in Community Hall, Wheelwright, when she appeared under joint auspices of the Wheelwright Woman's Club, Wheelwright high school and the Inland Steel Corporation. The large group which heard Miss Brown was composed of both Floyd and Pike counties.

Supplementing her talk, Miss Brown showed koda-chrome slides depicting every walk of life in China. Slanting her discussion to the work of women, she told of the part Chinese women played in winning their war against the Japanese aggressors; how in one year the Women's Industrial Co-operative of China made three and one-half million blankets for Chinese fighting men.

Miss Brown during her stay in Wheelwright also addressed miners on the subject of "World Safety Lies in Understanding," and appeared at the high school where her topic was, "Land of the Chinese People."

After her lecture in Community Hall, Mrs. Blaine Smith and the Woman's Club social committee, Mesdames Arthur Bradbury, J. H. Cantrell, Stephen W. Clark and F. E. Conley, entertained members of the Woman's Club and the following guests: Mrs. Leroy Dorsey, Humphrey Olsen, Misses Nora Carpenter and Ruth Harman, all of Pikeville, Mrs. Tom James, Prestonsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ratliff, Misses Ruby Conley, Anna Mae Bailey, Mesdames G. N. Wilkinson and Joe Perlano, of Wheelwright, and the guest of honor, Miss Brown.

County Has Huge Job Ahead on Home Repair, New York Firm Holds

More than $960,000 will be spent during the next five years by Floyd county home owners on remodeling and repair work, the Title Council of America estimates.

(How this New York firm, obviously seeking free publicity, knows this The Times has not the slightest idea.—Editor.)

Because of lack of materials and manpower during the war, majority of the county's 10,792 dwelling units are in need of some kind of repair or remodeling work. Kitchen improvements and modernization of bathrooms, installation of tiled showers and in some homes addition of a second bath top the nation's list of most wanted major improvements, the release said.

Outside paint jobs are needed on more than 50 per cent of homes, and addition of rooms and construction of porches also rank high in remodeling plans, according to the report. New roofing and heating plants are required by many dwellings.

Home owners in Kentucky will spend an estimated $64,900,000 and those of the nation more than $5,500,000,000 for major repairs alone in the next five years, according to Jordan.

FBI Agents Hold Two Magoffin County Men In Theft of Guns

Pikeville, Ky., Dec. 1—Two Salversville youths were held by FBI agents in Pikeville following their arrest last night on charges of stealing government property, Capt. Ford Hall, of the Kentucky highway patrol, said today.

Roy Holbrook, 17, and Paul Howard, 21, a war veteran, were charged with breaking into the veterans' building at Salversville Wednesday night and taking six Thompson sub-machine guns and three .45-caliber army revolvers, along with 700 rounds of ammunition.

The guns had been issued to Company "M" of the Second Active Kentucky Militia. All loot was recovered. The youths will await trial at the December term of federal court at Catlettsburg. The FBI is checking a contention of the two that they stole the guns to sell them to another man. They did not identify the person referred to.
