Unless Sheet Metal Class Is Organized To Assure U.S. Aid

BACK IN PRINT
This column, almost crowded clear out back last week, failed to publish the Sunday School attendance for the preceding Sunday. Those figures are lost now—or are under several layers of paper on this desk. So we'll skip them. But for last Sunday, Feb. 11, the attendance was 416.

THE WHEREFORE
We've often wondered how such things could happen, and Tony Ranier set us straight on the matter with this story, a few days ago.

A one-gallus guy stole a load of hay from a neighboring field, just about the same time a Big Shot was stealing $300,000 from a bank. The two came up for trial. The Little Guy got five years; the B. S. (Big Shot) went scot-free.

Some time later, the man sent up for five years faced his lawyer. "I'd like to know," the convicted man inquired, "how come. I take a load of hay when my horses and cattle are starving to death. And this Big Shot over here, suffering no want at all, he stole $300,000. Both of us are tried before the same judge and the same jury and we both have the same lawyer. But he comes clear while I get five years. Can you tell me why?"

The lawyer gave it to him quick. "Because we lawyers don't eat hay."

A STORY WITH ATMOSPHERE

Up the trail, a hundred yards ahead, squatted the home—settled back like a baseball pitcher ready to deliver the ball. The hound, almost blind, could see that friendly sanctuary. But there was something ominous pervading the scene, something which enveloped the dog as he trotted up the path, flinging his head to clear his nostrils of the miasma that surrounded him.

The dog had never seen the shadows hover so thick around. No scent of bloom or of inviting wild thing to be chased greeted his nostrils. The cabin looked forbidding, a dark thing, even to a dog. No welcome mat had ever graced that door, but always the mister had had a friendly pat for him. With the unerring "sixth sense" of a dog, he sensed that all that was now gone. No living thing stirred beneath this cloudless sky, insular as Old Red could see and hear and smell. The soft pad of his feet sounded frighteningly loud in this thick silence.

The dog knew only this refuge and he kept going sadly, desperately, bravely as if on the way to Golgotha. Then he saw his master dash from the back door and disappear into the surrounding thicket.

What mystery was this? Why the gloom, the heavy atmosphere, this House of Usher ready to fall out here in the wild, free woods where all hitherto had been light and friendly?

Ah, but there was a reason for such a pall of atmosphere, the gloom of the day and the surroundings, the flight of the friendly man who had been his master. Can't figure that one out, can you? Well, never let it be said of THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES it withheld any news from its readers—

Old Red had come off second best in an encounter with a pole-cat and was taking the "atmosphere" home with him!

Mrs. Alice Shipman Dies at Hueysville, Heart Victim at 54

Mrs. Alice Shipman, 54 years old, widow of James Shipman, died suddenly Thursday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Will Gearheart, Hueysville, and is believed to have been a victim of a heart attack. Mrs. Shipman suffered a paralytic stroke 12 years ago and had been an invalid since that time.

A daughter of Steve and Nancy Moore, Mrs. Shipman was a native of Laurel county. She had resided in this county for years and was one of the section's best women. She had been a member of the Christian Church for the last 18 years.

Surviving are two daughters and four sons: Mrs. Gearheart, of Hueysville; Mrs. W. R. Hale, Greenwich, O.; Sgt. William Henry Shipman, of the air forces, overseas; Charles Howard Shipman, of the army, Frederic, Md.; Roy L. Shipman, Hueysville, and James Arthur Shipman, Greenwich, O. The state, Mr. Hurst added, will not maintain a school which has not federal support.

THE TIMES learned through unofficial sources that the Mayo Vocational School at Paintsville is threatened by the same shortage of sheet metal trainees.

The former NYA plant here in which vocational training is conducted has equipment valued at $50,000.

"I don't think I am being selfish in trying to keep the school going in Prestonsburg," Mr. Hurst commented. "Its close would probably merely mean that I would be transferred to another school. But I feel that the shop has a definite part in the life of Floyd county and that it offers something that is really needed." Mr. Hurst added that he plans to contact the school here, the Kiwanis Club and interested citizens in an effort to organize a class in the required work.

Sheet metal trainees must be at least 17½ years old and will be accepted up to age 45. Upon completion of training, they can be placed in war jobs immediately.

OLIVER LITTLE, TRAIN VICTIM

STATE ROAD LOSS SEVERE

Watkins, Cutler Visit Floyd During Tour; Heavy Loads Hurt

Kentucky's war burdened roads suffered worse damage this year from freezing weather and snow and ice than any time since 1936. State Highway Commissioner J. Stephen Watkins said last week.

Watkins, who with Highway Engineer Thomas H. Cutler made a trip through Eastern Kentucky, said it was impossible yet to put his estimate into dollars and cents, but that the loss "is severe and it will take a lot of maintenance money to put them back into the condition they were in last fall."

Repairs are handicapped by war conditions and it may become necessary to bar more secondary routes to heavy trucks, he added. War's heavy loads already had damaged many routes.

Trucks exceeding 28,000 pounds gross weight are confined chiefly to the heavier surfaced main routes and the commissioner recently ordered the state highway patrol to be diligent in enforcing this rule.

Temperatures low enough to freeze the earth under the paving have alternated with milder weather since December, Watkins explained, adding that warmer spells moisture from the abundant snow and ice seeped into the ground and then froze as the mercury again dipped to near zero.

Greatest damage has been in northern part of the state.

Minister 67 Years, Rev. Mosely, Victim At Age of 89 Years

He was 89 years old.

Request for Miners to Work Following Fatality Draws Fire

A proposal by representatives of the mining interests of this section that miners forego the practice of stopping work when a death occurs in a mine drew the ire last week of Tom Raney, Pikeville, international board member, U.M.W.A., who declared the suggestion was a reflection on the miners.

The men who work in the mines traditionally have stopped production when a buddy has been killed, and large numbers of them usually take time off to attend the funeral.

The board of directors of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute, representing operators of this Eastern Kentucky field, adopted a resolution recommending that "the custom of closing an operation following a fatality among employes" be discontinued "in consideration of the nation's need for coal."

The resolution referred to the miners' willingness to produce, "as evidenced by the recent agreement to work on Sundays."

It also estimated that in the Big Sandy field alone, the production of approximately 30,000 tons of coal was lost in 1944 as a result of stopping work, and added:

"It is not the intention of the institute to refrain from honoring our heroes, both military and industrial. We further recommend that at the end of the national emergency we set aside a day on which to pay honor and tribute to our war heroes, both military and industrial."

Tom Raney said in a statement that he "resented the implication of the institute that the mine workers are anxious to lay off" at this time.

Raney pointed to the production record of the past several weeks and said further that the "custom of stopping work when a buddy had been killed" is covered in the joint contract between the union and the operators.

He added that "necessarily any official reaction, however, would come in the negotiations for a new contract" to replace the one which expires next month.

TOT DROWNS AT M'DOWELL

Hall Child Found In Shallow Hole; Funeral, Sunday

Two-year-old Carl Gene Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verman Hall, of McDowell, drowned Friday afternoon in two feet of water in the garden of the Hall home.

The tot had been playing with other children outside the home where Mr. Hall was working and had been missing about five minutes when found in the water. Scene of the tragedy was a hole which Hall, a miner, had excavated in preparation for construction of a bathroom.

Surviving, besides the bereaved parents, are two sisters and a brother, Eula Vene, Loretta and Phill Maurice. The little victim was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Duran Hall, of Martin, former Prestonsburg residents.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday, the Revs. Johnny King, Alex King, Buell Ferguson and Wayne McCarty officiating. Burial in the Boyd cemetery at Hi Hat was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

Many Attend Rites For 'Dad' Watts

Although he was a native of England and without known relatives in this country, several hundred persons paid homage Sunday to 66-year-old "Dad" Watts, drift miner, who died Friday of pneumonia at the Martin General hospital.

William Watts came to this county in 1925. Little is known of his antecedents, but his cheerful nature won for him a wide circle of friends. The funeral from the home of a friend, C. Hale, of Drift, was under auspices of Prestonsburg lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Moore, Oliver Elam, L. Z. Oppenheimer, Bill Daniels, M. K. Howell. Burial in Drift cemetery was under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

$3,000,000 Allotments Suspended By REA; Co-Op Asks Re-Hearing

The Rural Electrification Administration Monday suspended further loan allotments for Kentucky until it, and if it is denied, the co-operatives have 20 more days in which to appeal to the courts. The other three co-operatives directly affected are the Fleming-Mason, Licking Valley and Cumberland Valley.

It is the contention of the co-operatives that they cannot extend service to sparsely settled rural areas if the Public Service Commission allows private utilities to tap densely settled rural areas. This practice is what the co-operatives call skimming the cream off the milk. It was on this issue that four Eastern Kentucky co-operatives fought Kentucky and West Virginia's application at the hearing last July.

Kentucky is the third state in which REA has suspended loan allotments after state utility commissions attempted to hamstring expansion of co-operatives, Sturdevant said. Allotments were suspended in West Virginia for four months and in Virginia for seven months before conditions were corrected, he added.

Action of the commission was attacked by W. C. Dale, manager at Shelbyville, "as the most retrogressive act against REA since it came to Kentucky."

"The Public Service Commission,"

Dale said, "was set up to protect the interests of the public as a whole. But we now see the commission, allowing private utilities to build lines up the main roads, while farmers on the hilltops and up the state roads sweat it out."

Sturdevant told the managers that $750,000 allotted the four East Kentucky co-operatives last July now "is not worth the paper it is written on" because the Public Service Commission has decreed expansion may be made by Kentucky and West Virginia instead of the co-operatives in whose territory the proposed new service lines.

Neal's order suspending loan allotments explained that REA cannot make loans unless they appear to be self-liquidating. If power companies are to be given the cream of rural service in Kentucky, he added, future loans must be examined in that light to determine if they are good risks. The REA Act, he explained, makes it mandatory that loans to co-operatives be self-liquidating.

As of October 31, 1944, Sturdevant said, REA had allotted to Kentucky co-operatives $17,263,855, of which $12,103,382 has been advanced. As of the same date 13,427 miles of

HOME SERVICE WORK TAUGHT

Red Cross Prepares To Assist Men, Women Back from Overseas

American Red Cross Home Service workers in Floyd and surrounding counties are attending a training conference at the Howard hotel, Paintsville, today, with A. E. McGuire, field director, Veterans' Administration, Lexington, instructing the group in claim and case work.

As more and more men and women are returning from overseas, many of them disabled, the responsibilities of the American Red Cross on their behalf are becoming increasingly greater.

Home service through its workers assists with communications between servicemen and their families; supplies information on government regulations and legislation affecting servicemen, ex-servicemen and their dependents; transmits social histories needed by medical officers in determining medical or psychiatric treatments; consults with those faced with personal and family problems. Another phase of this service is to verify the need of a furlough in case of critical illness or death in a serviceman's family.

Home Service workers assist servicemen, ex-servicemen and their dependents in applying for family allowances, assist with applications for claims or other benefits and give financial assistance to servicemen, to disabled veterans and their families, and to the families of deceased servicemen.

Approximately 15 Red Cross workers will attend the training conference, The Johnson County Chapter, with Mrs. E. J. Evans as chairman, will act as host to the representatives of the chapters attending.

ATTEND FOUNDERS MEET

Mrs. C. P. Stephens is in Lexington this week attending a meeting of "The Founders and Patriots of America" which convened in the Lafayette hotel. She also attended a committee meeting of the "Daughters of Aeneas Colonists."

BUY WAR BONDS!

Floyd Troop Scores At Scout Field Day, Excels in First Aid

Wheelwright's troop of Boy Scouts, the only troop representing Floyd county at the Scout field meet held in Pikeville Saturday for the Big Sandy area, gained a tie with Troop 14 of Pikeville by virtue of a burst of efficiency in the last event—outdoor cooking in which each boy was required to build a fire with two matches and fry a pancake.

Regional Scout officials noted that the Wheelwright troop's leadership in First Aid was nothing new, since the same boys last summer in the state meet at Lexington were winners in that department while competing with crack Scouts from all sections of Kentucky.

Approximately 200 Scouts and Cubs were present for the day's activities. Next spring, it was announced at the close of the day, Wheelwright will be host to district Boy Scouts in a program far more elaborate than that offered at Pikeville.

He added that "necessarily any official reaction, however, would come in the negotiations for a new contract" to replace the one which expires next month.

TEACHERS MAY AID OPA PANEL

Instructors, Students To Check Businesses As Price Assistants

To assist in the price control program in this county, 10 Floyd teachers have been named by the OPA district office, Lexington, to act as price panel assistants in their communities, it was said at the Floyd War Price and Rationing Board here Tuesday.

Duties of the teachers will be to check stores and restaurants of their communities, or to have them checked as a part of the statewide survey made by the Office of Price Administration each month.

John Stephens, of the rationing board, explained that the teachers are performing this service on a voluntary basis, not because they are sought to act in that capacity, but because they had been asked to do so as a patriotic duty. The teachers may designate students to check business places.

The following teachers were named as price panel assistants at a meeting here Saturday with OPA officials: Lawrence Price, Wayland; Everett Hall, Garrett; Madge Mullins, Hueysville; Gorman Collins, Lackey; V. O. Turner, Langley; Monroe Wicker, Martin; George L. Moore, McDowell; Wayne Ratliff, Wheelwright; Weeks, Melynn and Bypro; Delmon Howard, Betsy Layne; James Salisbury, Auxler.

Basketball Picture Is Further Muddled By Recent Results

Prestonsburg and Paintsville staged a two-overtime thriller Tuesday night at Paintsville, the Blackcats downing their traditional rivals, 40 to 38.

Wheelwright got back into the victory column with three wins in a row last week to muddle even further the minds of fans trying to pick a winner at the district tournament which starts at Maytown March 1.

Meanwhile, McDowell picked up two out of three to continue a decided improvement in play as tournament time approaches. Garrett, a consistent performer all year, won two of three games played but the game lost was the Devils' worst defeat of the season, Hindman's up-and-coming five licking them by a 17-point margin.

McDowell defeated Prestonsburg at McDowell Friday night, 29 to 25, and followed up at Maytown on the next night with a 26-22 defeat of the Right Beaver team. The McDowell loss was to the famed Carr Creek team; the score, 46 to 29.

Wheelwright's winning streak started off Feb. 6 with a 27-23 victory over Dorton. Last Friday night, Walter Price's boys defeated Auxler at Wheelwright, 29 to 19. Saturday night, they edged out Virgie at Wheelwright, 34 to 32.

McDowell and Wheelwright play at McDowell Friday night, and McDowell goes to Dorton on the following evening.

The Garrett victories were over Meade Memorial, 54-43; over Maytown, 59-33, and Viper, 33-31.

TO OBSERVE WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

World Day of Prayer will be observed here Friday at 7:30 p.m., at union services of all Prestonsburg churches at the Methodist Church. The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. A. J. Davidson, chairman, assisted by members of other church organizations. Special music will be given by Mrs. Ward Rees, of Millersburg. The church will be open for meditation and prayer.

"Shellfire is the worst we get from the Germans," Sgt. Norman Conn said here recently while on furlough after six months' service with General Patton's army in France. "But," he added, "my idea of the worst may be because I am with a service company, usually about three miles back where the shells hit often."

The Germans call Sgt. Conn's division "The Bloody Patch." It is known in U.S. army circles as the Fifth or "Red Diamond." From his service with the "Bloody Patch" Sgt. Conn emerged unscathed.

Tossing brickbats and bouquets, he illustrates Times editorials

EDWIN A. FINCH . . . The Louisville Times' editorial illustrator and cartoonist sees the funny side of even the most serious editorials, and helps you get the point with a few deft brush strokes. Born in a suburb of Cincinnati, Ed swept into Louisville just ahead of the flood in 1937 and soon after found himself high and dry when the promotion scheme he had undertaken failed completely. That's when he joined the newspapers, where he soon reached peak popularity with his Roto comic strip character "Sergeant Cinch."

As America armed for World War II, Finch, who had been a sergeant with Company D, 330 Infantry, in World War I, put his proxy into the thick of rookie training, via the comic strip, and himself spent many a rough week-end at Fort Knox and Bowman Field sketching comic situations on the hoof. Using actual names, the "Sergeant Cinch" cartoons appealed to old vets and new rookies alike.

The man who signs his daily cartoons simply "Finch" is a finely drawn, handsome gentleman with a prematurely white crest of hair. At home he has six charming young Finches, ranging in age from a nine-month-old baby to a glamorous sixteen-year-old deb.

A TRIBUTE PAID
DR. ROSCOE C. ADAMS

By JUDGE A. T. PATRICK

Cruel death came again to my family and took Dr. Roscoe C. Adams from Lenore and Richmond (his wife and son) and the rest of us. He was in the prime of life, and had by his earnest toll prepared conditions for himself and family's enjoyment and happiness in their spacious new home in the beautiful city of Lexington. He proved by his generosity and magnanimous kindness he was living for them whom he loved with devotion. They loved him dearly and his quiet passing leaves them broken hearted, despondent in mind and soul. We know death is a gateway we all must sooner or later pass through to the beyond, and there is no escape for us only to meet it bravely. Dr. Adams believed in the immortality of the soul. He affiliated with the Methodist Church and was a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the Odd Fellows and other societies. Death only released him from his natural body and he went to a place where he now abides in a perfect realm of celestial happiness and glory. And we have the consolation that he still lives in the hearts of the many who loved him while he was here with his family and unnumbered grateful friends.

After graduating from the Medical College in St. Louis he became a successful doctor by devoting his medical practice among the people of his home town and county. He always responded to each and every call, regardless of the person's station, rich or poor, and his patients remained his loyal friends through life. I dare say no man in his native county had more friends than Dr. Adams. He never had any enemies.

"And the tale can as noble a thrill awake,
For he offered his life for the people's sake."

When World War I came, he soon enlisted in his country's service and went to France with General Pershing's army and remained there one year before peace was declared, and worked there one year after hostilities ended. While in Europe, giving aid to the sick and wounded soldiers, he gained a great deal of valuable skill and knowledge and experience. He was Lt. Colonel when he returned to the States, and was retained in the government's service in the Veterans' hospital at Louisville for over 20 years; and four years ago he was called from Louisville to Lexington Veterans' hospital where he faithfully rendered service until a few months before his last illness, when death came on the 2nd day of January, 1945, at the age of 67. His funeral was held in Lexington. It was attended by many kind and loving friends. They came from Salyersville, Prestonsburg, Paintsville, West Liberty, Mt. Sterling, Winchester, Wilmore, Hazard, Paris, Georgetown, Louisville, Lexington, and other towns. The floral wreaths that clustered around the bier were many and most beautiful, expressing the admiration and esteem of his friends for him and his family. His body was buried in the Lexington cemetery, near a beautiful, picturesque lake, fringed with lovely trees, and the driveways were shaped with winding curves, and the sodded grass reached to the water's edge. It was most beautiful, yet calm, silent and peaceful, the city of the dead. The Legionnaires took charge of the corpse at the cemetery and buried it with high military honors, worthy of a brave, patriotic Lt. Colonel and comrade of the United States army. The bugle call vibrated through the waving branches of the lovely and stately trees, marking the occasion with impressive sanctity and solemnity, and we were made to feel that our dear ones were there, who had met him on the blissful shores beyond the mystic river to greet him among the redeemed.

"O hark, O hear! how thin and clear,
And thinner, clearer, farther going!
O sweet and far from cliff and scar
The horns of Elfanag faintly blowing!

Blow! let us hear the purple glens replying!
Blow, bugle, answer echoes—dying,
dying, dying."

His comrades sadly and slowly laid his body in the tomb, to rest peacefully from its labors on earth. Then we left the sad scene with arching hearts. In our slow moving way we looked back at his last resting place, saying to ourselves, is it true what Thomas Gray wrote?—"The paths of glory lead but to the grave." Dr. Adams brought back from the fields of battle in France honor and distinction. Why? When he was a young man he repelled danger, peril and exposure before himself by joining the American army in the cause of liberty and freedom and democracy and went to foreign battlefields to help give medical aid to the wounded and dying American sons. That is not all he did. After returning to his native country he used his skill, knowledge and experience to cure and heal the sick and wounded soldiers who were sent to the hospitals in Louisville and Lexington. He was a plain, sociable, clean, tender and big-hearted man, and loved to help those who needed his services.

His death was the nation's loss and his family's loss cannot be measured. He was a good citizen and a useful doctor. His aged father mourns his death, yet the venerable man can have the satisfaction that his son adds another lustrous page to our country's history. May Dr. Adams' bones rest in peace and his soul live in the realm of eternal happiness and glory. May God bless all who mourn his death. (1)

“50 Years of Progress Thru Security”

One of America's Leading Insurance Companies---

KANSAS CITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

(With $555,000,000 Insurance in Force. $158,000,000 in Assets.)

Announces its “Product of 50 Years Experience.”

“The Golden 50 Policy”

(Copyrighted 1944)

A New Copyrighted Policy, Never Before Offered to the Public by This or Any Other Company!

IT SAVES (and Returns to Beneficiary) EVERY DOLLAR OF PREMIUMS PAID UP TO AGE OF 60 PLUS THE FACE OF POLICY WHEN YOU DIE

Yes, “THE GOLDEN FIFTY POLICY” actually and literally RETURNS to your Beneficiary EVERY CENT you have paid in premiums PLUS the actual face of the policy which you have taken. Never before has such a wonderful protection-savings insurance policy been offered by the KANSAS CITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY or for that matter ANY other insurance company in the world. If you die BEFORE you are 60 you get back EVERY CENT paid in plus the insurance. If you do not die until after 60, you still get every cent paid in premiums (up to age 60) PLUS the face of the policy.

PROTECTION THROUGH SAVINGS!

It would take you YEARS and YEARS to actually save as much money as this insurance-savings GOLDEN FIFTY POLICY guarantees to your family. Most men and women would NEVER achieve it in a lifetime... now YOU CAN and still have the full INSURANCE while you are saving the money... every cent you pay in.

PROTECTION THROUGH INSURANCE!

This GOLDEN FIFTY POLICY protects your family to its FULL AMOUNT even if you die shortly after you have taken out the policy. Every year that you live INCREASES THIS by EVERY CENT you pay in premiums. Never before such life insurance protection!

THE GOLDEN FIFTY POLICY is a special policy... designed and offered during the KANSAS CITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY'S “50 Years of Progress Thru Security.” You must qualify for it (no amount offered less than $2,000, and the minimum age is 15). It is copyrighted by our company and is offered ONLY during the calendar year of 1945... IT SAVES AS IT PROTECTS! Fifty years of insurance study has gone into the making of the “GOLDEN FIFTY” to make it the most effective policy at the least cost to you. It's truly your GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY of a lifetime. May we tell you more about it?

SOME THOUGHT IT COULD NOT BE DONE BUT WE'RE DOING IT FOR JUST ONE YEAR—1945—MINIMUM POLICY OFFERED $2,000... MINIMUM AGE 15

Yes, some folks (and some experienced insurance folks, too) thought the KANSAS CITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY couldn't offer such an insurance-savings opportunity like this... but we did! And we're doing it ALL THROUGH THE YEAR 1945. But ONLY for this one year will we offer you this GOLDEN FIFTY POLICY (and no policy will be written for less than $2,000, minimum age 15 years). It's your FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY and we're celebrating IN YOUR FAVOR. But remember THE KANSAS CITY LIFE has insurance IN FORCE right now of $555,000,000 and assets of $158,000,000... that GUARANTEES the contract for you.

AND SAVES YOUR PREMIUMS!

Imagine saving EVERY CENT in premiums you pay on this GOLDEN FIFTY POLICY even if you die at age 60. And if you die after 60, your estate is paid every cent you have paid in premiums up to the time you were 60 years old PLUS the face of the policy... YOU REALLY and ACTUALLY SAVE YOUR PREMIUMS just like a savings account.

PREMIUM DEPOSITS ADJUSTED!

After 60, if you want to keep your premiums at the same amount, will reduce the face of the policy to make that possible (most need the maximum protection before they are 60). That's why premium deposits before 60 are ONLY ONE-HALF those after 60.

I'M SICK AND TIRED OF COOKING

CHEER UP LADY A BETTER DAY IS COMING

THE never ending round of food preparation... of cooking... washing dishes... disposing of garbage... the old applesauce about the joy of cooking for the better half is getting played out and housewives are from Missouri. They want to be shown.

The good news is that you don't need to wait for guesses or impossible dreams about fantastic post-war kitchens. Former RKO Artist
To Feature Rally
At Betsy Layne

MR. LUTZWEILER

The Youth for Christ rally at Betsy Layne Monday and Wednesday, Feb. 19 and 21, will feature Adam Lutzweiler, merimbaphone artist of Newport, N.J. It was announced this week by the Rev. William Stevens.

After his conversion, the former RKO theater circuit and vaudeville star became a preacher, singer and evangelist. Due to increasing demands for his appearances, pastoral work was given up for full-time evangelistic services. Not only does Lutzweiler delight his audience with music from his merimbaphone, playing with four mallets, and singing, but he also brings an inspiring message to youth.

LETTERS FROM BOYS TO HOME CHURCH

France
Jan. 6, 1945
Rev. Robert Weedman, Pastor
Pilgrim Holiness Church,
Prestonsburg, Ky.

Sir:
It is impossible to express my appreciation of your kind thoughts and prayers at your services Dec. 20, 1944. To be remembered in prayer by friends and relatives at home means much to us and to be remembered at a time so critical by strangers is extremely gratifying. Inspiration such as yours is doing a great deal to lift the heavy burden that rests upon the weary shoulders of so many.

Please accept my humble thanks for your kindness and consideration.
Sincerely,
ALTON J. KINSEY

March 15-44
Somewhere in England

Dear Sir:
I received your card stating that my name had been drawn for prayer at your church and prayed for by Mr. Hale. I want you to know that I appreciate it to the depths of my heart. You know, it makes a fellow feel better when he is over here to know that there are good Christian people back home thinking of his welfare. I think if there was more praying people back on the home front, there would be more of us coming back home and a lot quicker. Thanking you again, will close.
Sincerely yours,
PVT. JAMES W. CRAGER

This agency does not stress volume of life insurance except as volume protects the largest number for the largest amount. What we strive for most is to keep insurance in force for the benefit of those who buy it.

We prefer to submerge our personal records and elevate the welfare of those who trade with us. We feel that a good life insurance agent should conduct his business, without fanfare, on a confidence-inspiring dignified basis as other legitimate professions are operated. We feel that the public is entitled to look upon a life insurance agent as a normal human being who does not spend half of his time running around the country exhibiting a score of personal "achievement records." We do not wish to appear to be high-pressure crack salesmen or supermen. We desire to be one of the ranks doing our part to improve the lot of all of us.

Keeping these things in mind, we modestly submit that this agency has approximately $4,000,000 life insurance in force. Last year the business of this agency's members renewed from 84 to 96 per cent.

We are looking for two men, or women, in Floyd county who can sell insurance to the right people in the right way. We will train them and show them how and pay them well.
