If you get overwrought about the condition of your road and want to pan it publicly, you might model your remarks after these, taken from a Grayson newspaper:

The road from Grayson, Ky., to Sophie, Ky., is in terrible condition. The mail goes from Grayson the first four miles by car, the next three miles by horseback, the next two miles by Billy Goat, the next two miles the mail carrier walks, and the last two he swings in on a grape vine. That is the condition of the road from Garyson to Sophie, Ky.

There IS a Law "Agin It"

MOST encouraging feature of the federal court trial of Harlan countians, charged with fraud in the election of Senator A. B. Chandler in 1942, is found in the court holding that the "big-boys", those, organized the one-gallus ers into an election crime-ring, offer the heaviest penalties. Clarence Poer, former Harlan county Jailer, received the heaviest penalty of two years in prison and a $5,000 fine as ring-leader; and Clyde Saylor, a former state employee, the next stiffest of two years in prison and a $100 fine as Poer's lieutenant. The other fifteen, "buck privates" in the war of politics, got off with a year and a day in the federal penitentiary and fines of $100 each.

But the startling feature of the entire proceeding to those ordinary citizens and voters who have despaired of election crookedness finding its just desserts is the fact that anybody at all was con-

These skeptics are the voters and citizens who have seen elections in their home counties dominated by money and by the thievery of election officials, with the law never overtaking any individual

Said Federal Judge H. Church Ford, in imposing sentences:

"Harlan county has arrived at the point where public officers do not feel any responsibility to enforce the law . . . I want it clearly understood by every election officer from Harlan county who comes into this court that the penalties of the law will not be sidestepped . . There is no diffrence between election thievery and the theft of an automobile."

And so the voters do at last see the law exacting just penalty from violators of a law which intimately concerns the lowliest and the greatest among us.

County and state courts have utterly failed to curb election fraud in local elections. In Floyd county, for instance, a scattered few are indicted from time to time for vote-buying or vote stealing; but-many may be called for prosecution, yet few are chosen to suffer the con-sequences they richly deserve.

If the Harlan county election fraud case can be followed up over the counties of Kentucky and throughout the nation in every federal election, a clearer expression of the will of the people will result in all elections. Morever, Senate committees will not be blandly reporting, as they did last week, the expenditure of near fifty millions of dollars in a national election without a trace of law

Lt. Col. George W. McCoy, a 10-year veteran of the army medical corps, hospital commander, said that killed surgery and the use of blood olasma, whole blood, penicillin and sulfa drugs to prevent infection and build up the condition of the wounded, had produced an extremely low mortality rate for his hospital. Only four out of the first 2,000 patients

"I am particularly impressed by the guts of the American soldier," the colonel continued. "A soldier with the hell shot out of him will be brought in from six to 24 hours after he was wounded, and you'll never hear a whimper out of him. S-Sgt. Prater Makes Battlefront Tour

CPL. PRATER

One of several Floyd county soldiers who have made a "tour" of all battlefronts in this country's war with Germany is S/Sgt. Frank J. Prater, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prater, of Edgar. In the army since 1940, he has seen action in Africa, Sicily, Italy, hit a Normandy beach on D-Day plus four and is now with an infantry unit of the First army in Germany. Through all this he has escaped un-

Scalf Mounts 20-mm Gun In Invasion of Luzon

LINGAYEN GULF, THE PHIL-IPPINES, Jan. 9 (Delayed)-As battleship and cruiser big guns blazed a trail for the Allied assault on Luzon today, Seaman 1/c Earl Jason Scalf, 20, harnessed himself behind a 20-millimeter gun aboard his LCI,

Although little action was encountered aboard the LCI as more than 800 ships, under the command of Seventh Fleet's Vice-Admiral Thomas C. Kincaid, moved in on Lingayen Gulf, a vigilant watch was maintained for Jap resistance. "I sure expected more aerial attacks, but was just as happy the Japs didn't have anything to give us," Scalf commented.

Scalf, one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Ballard Scalf, Tram, Ky., has been through two other southwest Pacific actions. The first was the all-important strike at Ormoo behind the last remnants of the folding Yamashita lines on Leyte. A week later aboard the LCI, he participated in the strategic landings on Mindoro Island where airstrips added much to the success of today's Luzon strike

1. Four years ago I promised you a sober and honest administration. I have kept this promise, and feel very grateful to the people of Floyd county for the privilege of serving them.

2. My office has been open for the transaction of business every day since I was elected. I have always been ready and willing to serve and accommodate the public.

3. Since I have been your County Attorney it has not been necessary for Floyd county to incur any expense by hiring another lawyer.

4. Enough omitted and delinquent taxes have been collected, without cost to the county, to pay more than twice the amount of my salary.

5. For the first time in many years Floyd county is on a cash basis financially and does not have any floating debt.

6. Violations of the criminal laws have been diligently, but fairly, prosecuted, and the experience I have had will enable me to make you a better officer in the future.
