BIDS SOUGHT ON 2 SCHOOL STRUCTURES

Mrs. Hall Quits, Husband Back As Superintendent; Building Here Planned

Mrs. Hollie B. Hall, wife of Town Hall, Tuesday tendered to the Floyd County Board of Education her resignation as Superintendent of Schools, at the same time temporarily terminating any official connection with the school system.

Had she continued in office three days longer, her connection with the Board of Education as secretary and later as Superintendent would have extended over exactly 10 years. Mr. Hall was promptly re-instated by the Board as Superintendent.

Mr. Hall was given a leave of absence in August, 1944 when he volunteered for navy service and since that time his wife had been Superintendent. Mrs. Goldia Porter Short, who has been employed as a helping teacher, will assume the duties of secretary to the Board.

The Board at Tuesday's meeting directed the Superintendent to advertise for bids on construction of a 10-room brick-and-tile grade school and auditorium at Betsy Layne, a project interrupted by the war in 1941 after the foundation had been constructed and a considerable supply of materials had been purchased. At the same time advertisement for bids on a seven-room fireproof school building of brick and concrete re-inforced by steel was directed for Weeksburg.

The Weeksburg structure, originally planned for 10 rooms, will replace the building destroyed by fire. The Board decided to reduce the size of the building there and to erect a six-room school at Melvin, a community which has in its active school census 20 more pupils than has Weeksburg. Architect Levi J. Dean, Huntington, W. Va., is now working on plans for the Melvin building.

Within six weeks, it was said, Mr. Dean will have completed plans for the Melvin and Lackey six-room buildings, each with auditorium, and a 60x110-foot Arts and Sciences building for Prestonsburg high school. Soon thereafter, bids on the three structures will be sought.

The building planned here will be erected alongside the present high school.

WAR VETERAN TRAIN VICTIM

Taylor Skeans Dies At Hospital Here Wednesday Night

Taylor Skeans, father of 13, who volunteered for army service in 1942 at the age of 44, died in the Prestonsburg General hospital at 10:30 Wednesday night, two hours after he had been struck by a coal train on the Middle Creek railway.

Skeans' right leg was severed and it was held that he died from loss of blood and shock.

The veteran was walking along the tracks near the mouth of Caney when struck and it was said at the Arnold Funeral Home that he apparently did not hear the train as it was hauling a load of cars toward the main line at West Prestonsburg.

Mr. Skeans was discharged last June after a few months' service overseas with an engineer construction battalion. Two of his sons at the same time were in the armed forces—Robbie, with the 82nd airborne division, and Sol, with the navy.

The victim was a son of the late George Skeans, of Dock, a former Floyd county magistrate. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Callie Derosssett Skeans, and 12 children. Among these are the following, listed as dependents when he entered the army: Ted, Rhoda, Marie, Bill, Vernon, Fay and Bessie. He also leaves six sisters and one brother: Mrs. John Hayes and Mrs. Eliza Blackburn, both of West Prestonsburg; Mrs. Ollie Ousley, Glo; Mrs. Bill Reffitt, MacArthur, O.; Jonathan Skeans, of Ohio; Mrs. Julia Porter, Ashland, and Mrs. Lizzie Wright, Bonanza.

The body was prepared for burial by the Arnold Funeral Home and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Hayes, at West Prestonsburg, where it will remain until Friday, and from there to Dock for burial in the family cemetery. The Revs. Robert Martin, Minn and Mrs. Cora Fannin will officiate at the funeral.

Final Flood Relief Figures for Floyd Cited at Meeting

Final figures on the recent flood disaster were reported by the Floyd County Chapter, American Red Cross, at a meeting held Friday, Feb. 1, at the chapter offices here.

J. B. Clarke, disaster chairman, presiding, gave an account of the work of the local community units during the emergency period. He paid special tribute to the local advisory committees who passed on all recommendations for assistance to persons living within the community limits.

"A total of $2,390.69 was spent in Floyd county," Mr. Clarke said, "covering orders given to 45 families." This relief was given in the form of orders to merchants chosen by the beneficiaries to purchase food, clothing and household goods.

The two National Red Cross workers, Mrs. Madeline Blalock and Lewellyn Baer, who have been in the county for the last three weeks assisting the chapter, left February 5 for Pineville to assist in completing the two disaster operations made necessary by a mine explosion and flood.

SLIDE KILLS RELL SPEARS

Betsy Layne Man Dies Instantly As Shovel Buried by Landslide

Rell Spears, 58 years old, of Betsy Layne, was instantly killed near Elk-horn City Monday afternoon when a slide of several tons of earth and stone covered the steam shovel he was operating for the Butler Brothers Construction Company. His skull was crushed.

A resident of Betsy Layne for the last 16 years, he was a son of the late Psalmist and Levena Walters Spears and was a native of River, Johnson county. He was a member of the Regular Baptist Church and the Masonic order and was one of the county's most highly esteemed men.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Ada Layne Spears, four sons and four daughters: William P. and Thomas J. Spears, of Betsy Layne; Raymond and Broadus D. Spears, Pikeville; Misses Betty Lou, Helen C. Nettie Sue and Evalena Spears, all of Betsy Layne. Three brothers and two sisters also survive.

The body, prepared for burial by the Call Funeral Home, will be taken Friday to River, Ky., where funeral rites will be conducted Sunday from the Baptist Church and burial made in the family cemetery.

Hindman High Wins New Conference Title

Hindman high school's basketball team won the first tournament held by the new Mountain Conference at Wayland, defeating Wayland Tuesday night in the finals, 24-20, in a thrilling contest.

Wayland eliminated Carr Creek, 35-33, Monday night in the first round, and Hindman defeated Garrett. These were the only teams entered. The tournament was attended by capacity crowds.

Said he: "Where were these two men killed, if they were killed?" Deputy Sheriff Conn immediately assured him the two men were killed but the auto did not stop for a view of the death scene.

The officers said Robinson talked freely of his case, en route to West Liberty, all the while maintaining his innocence. "I wish those two men were alive to testify," he was quoted as saying.

ELDERLY MAN WITHOUT BOND

Following Hearing In Alleged Attempt To Rape 6-Year-Old

Held without bond in the county jail here is 65-year-old Sam Henwood after County Judge Alex L. Davidson Saturday gave him a hearing on a charge of attempting the rape of a six-year-old McDowell child.

Judge Davidson and a small group of officials heard the shocking testimony of the child. The elderly man, a resident of Indiana before he came to this county as an employee of Richard Wolfe, step-father of the child, denied the charge but admitted he "might have lost my head" while playing with the tot.

A warrant sworn out by the Wolfes also charged Henwood with the attempted rape of Mrs. Wolfe's 12-year-old sister, but the preliminary hearing did not pertain to this case.

Judge Davidson indicated this week Henwood will be held in jail till the April court term when grand jury action is expected.

Floyd County Native World Court Judge

Green H. Hackworth, State Dept. Adviser, International Figure

Green Haywood Hackworth, who was born on Spurlock fork of Middle Creek, near what is now Dock post-office, Wednesday reached another milestone in a distinguished career with his appointment as one of the 15 judges of the International Court of Justice.

News of Mr. Hackworth's appointment reached his uncle, Will Haywood, postmaster at Dock, several miles up Middle Creek from here, via radio.

For almost 20 years legal adviser to the State Department and "man behind the scenes" in many of the international agreements, Mr. Hackworth at 62 becomes a world figure with his appointment to the tribunal.

A son of Jonathan T. Hackworth, Eastern Kentucky teacher, and Lydia Haywood Hackworth, he was born on Spurlock Jan. 23, 1883 and, his mother dying when he was quite young, he lived at Dock with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Haywood, till he was 10 years old.

When his father moved to Green-up county young Green went with him. From there he went to the Willard (Ky.) Normal School, then to Valparaiso (Ind.) University, Georgetown Law School and finally George Washington University.

Starting in the government service as a clerk in 1909, Mr. Hackworth worked seven years before he was paid as much as $2,000 a year. He became attorney for the State Department in 1916 and the Department's legal adviser in 1931. In 1937 he succeeded the late Elihu Root as a member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration, The Hague.

Father of Mrs. Hackworth, the former Miss Clara E. Christy, of Huntington, W. Va., at one time resided in Prestonsburg.

SCENE CHANGE FOR ROBINSON

Alleged Slayer of Two Taken to West Liberty; Asks Deputies Question

As Deputy Sheriff's Harold Conn and Tom Graham Dingsus were leaving Prestonsburg Saturday, taking Lonnie Robinson, handcuffed, from jail here to the Morgan county jail at West Liberty where he is scheduled for trial in April for the killing here of Policemen Albert (Davy) Horn and Orbin Moore, the accused man asked a question.

Said he: "Where were these two men killed, if they were killed?" Deputy Sheriff Conn immediately assured him the two men were killed but the auto did not stop for a view of the death scene.

The officers said Robinson talked freely of his case, en route to West Liberty, all the while maintaining his innocence. "I wish those two men were alive to testify," he was quoted as saying.

Engineers Establish Office In Fitzpatrick Building

Youth Says He Spent Four Hours in Store He, 2 Others Looted

"I spent from 11 o'clock till 4 the next morning in Richmond's," Roland Sizemore who, with Abe Stone, was returned here Monday from Louisville by Sheriff T. B. Sturgill and Deputy Sheriff Tom Graham Dingsus, was quoted as telling the officers in a discussion of the store looting charge he, Stone and Joe Cooley, all of the Town Branch section, face.

The youth told of "trying on" several suits before reaching a decision as to which he would choose for his own, officers said.

The three are accused of burglarizing the I. Richmond Company store (See Story No. 4, Page Four)

War Brides Arriving

Melvin, Wheelwright, Estill, Betsy Layne Homes Plan Welcome

Four discharged veterans of World War II either were on their way to New York this week to meet their war brides arriving from overseas or were preparing, with the help of homefolks, to give them a joyous welcome when they reach their new homes in this county.

The American Red Cross in New York wired Floyd Chapter that three of the war brides will arrive Saturday on the Queen Mary and that their transportation to their ultimate destination will be provided by the military unless relatives meet them in New York. In that event, transportation will not be furnished.

The four soon to arrive in the county are: Maria, wife of Homer Tackett, of Melvin, who comes to this country from Cairo, Egypt; Gurro, wife of Hentzel Amburgy, Estill; Martha Charlotte, wife of Pvt. W. W. Combs, Wheelwright; Ivy Mae, wife of Cpl. Samuel Crum, Betsy Layne.

SCHOOL TERM OF 8 MONTHS

Seen If Budget Bill Proposed by Howell Okeed by Assembly

The 1945-46 term of seven months was drawing to a close this week for most of Floyd county's rural schools, but if the budget bill proposed by Representative Jerry F. Howell passes the State Legislature an eight-month term is in prospect for next year, it was said at the County Superintendent's office Tuesday.

Little trouble winning approval of the budget bill is anticipated, it was said here last week by the county's representatives in the General Assembly.

Some of the county's 119 rural schools may not close till next week because of gaps in the teaching schedule caused by illnesses, flood and other emergencies. When all are closed approximately 7,500 pupils will enjoy a vacation from the school-room.

Several teachers have already indicated plans to enter college to renew their certificates or improve their status in the school system.

Fulltime Nurse for Work With Tuberculars, Plan

Association Dream Discussed as Seal Fund Reported Shy

As Miss Blanche Garrett, of David, secretary of the Floyd County Tuberculosis Association, reported this week that the county is still shy of the $2,500 hoped to be raised during the drive ending Feb. 1 for the purchase and equipment of an x-ray for examination of tuberculars and tuberculosis suspects of the county, Dr. Marvin Ransdell told of the Association's dream of eventually raising sufficient funds to employ a fulltime nurse for specialized tuberculosis work.

BIDS SOUGHT ON JOHNS-CR. DAM MARCH 1

Witte To Represent Federal Government In Dam Construction

Herbert W. Witte, resident engineer here to represent the federal government in the construction of the 2½-million-dollar Dewey dam, established offices in the Fitzpatrick building, Prestonsburg, today (Thursday), it was announced by Capt. L. P. Kirwan, of the Huntington district office, U. S. army engineers.

Thus were answered rumors circulated here to the effect that the office would be located in Paintsville or some other town of this section.

Work on construction of the huge earthen dam and the dike in the gap at the head of Brandy Keg Creek, six miles upstream from the dam itself, is expected to begin soon after March 1 when contractors' bids will be received. Advertisement for bids was made last Thursday.

Engineers now here are engaged in survey work, staking out the reservoir to be formed by the dam. Even with the comparatively small group here at this time, Prestonsburg's limited housing facilities are sadly overtaxed.

The dam, a unit in the general plan for flood control in the Ohio basin, will on completion control 207 square miles of flood area. The earthen barrier, 890 feet long and 105 feet high, will store 88,000 acre feet of water below the stage where water passes through the spillway.

Even in times of drought a pool of 11,000 acre feet extending 11 miles up Johns Creek from the dam will be maintained for conservation purposes. In time of flood the maximum capacity of the dam would extend the pool 30½ miles up Johns Creek over an area of 3,100 acres.

Capt. Kirwan indicated that offices are being opened here by the resident engineer, rather than at the Clark school, near site of the dam, because the road to the school is in bad condition.

RECEIVES BURNS IN FALL Martie Corbin is suffering from arm burns received when she fell against a stove at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Corbin, on Riverside avenue.

Mrs. Grace Neeley, Anna Lou, Barbara and Loretta Neeley and Sgt. Chester Mullins visited friends in Wayland last Sunday.

TOURNEY CARD DECIDED HERE

Coaches, Principals Meet Here To Prep For Net Tournament

Representatives of the nine Floyd high school basketball teams met in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools Saturday morning to draw for positions in the district net tourney to be held at Garrett March 7-9 and to make other arrangements for the three-day event.

"Reb" Hall as coach of the host team presided at the meeting.

Thursday's only game will be at 8 p.m., between Garrett and Betsy Layne, all other teams drawing byes.

SQUAWKING, NOT HONKING

If you were a mile, say, from Prestonsburg and heard faintly on the breeze a distant squawking—that wasn't wild geese; it was Prestonsburg gas and water consumers voicing complaints about last month's bills. Of them all, Penn Fitzpatrick, grocer, was probably most articulate. Sputtered Penn when he saw his bill for water:

"I knew the flood got in my store but I didn't think it came through the meter!"

AND SAW OUR SHADOW

Ground Hog Day, they say, was last Friday. Changes were made in this office three days later and I emerged from my old den.

DON'T BE TOO SELFISH

Now we have inflation. Many have been wondering what it would be like. If they'll pause to think and look around, they'll know. The "vicious spiral" is not pronounced in every phase of living, but here in Prestonsburg inflation, the real article, has real estate in its grasp. Building lots that sold for $500, now $1,500 and $2,000; residences that normally sold for $2,500 going for $5,000 and $6,000. Folks who don't want to sell afraid to name a price.

And rents—don't mention 'em! Now, the business of any property-owner is none of ours, but we would remind all and sundry that it's quite possible that this high-rent business will, in the long run, hurt you and all of us more than it helps temporarily. Just because a small percentage of the population of the town—newcomers—have no places of abode and must have them, is no reason for us who have property to rent to be unreasonable. The stranger within our gates is finding little of Kentucky hospitality here, these days.

Instead, we are standing with outstretched hands; our theme song, like that of the leech doctor's daughters—"Give, Give."

Most of these folks are not here of their own choice. They are here on business. Some of them might stay—if they are treated right. And most of them might go elsewhere—if they're not. Remember that.

THIRD STREET BLUES

Third Street has the "blues" again. It's not (to turn an old phrase around) so righteous, but it's very, very hokey. City, state, county—anybody, come to our rescue before we have to report somebody to the Missing Persons Bureau.

Ex-Sheriff B. L. Sturgill much to the credit goes for starting the drive resulting in the fiscal court decision to maintain and help build a road connecting the Johns Creek dam with Floyd county. Importance of this may not be realized unless you are reminded that Pike county already has a good road down Johns Creek to what will be known as slack-water and that Johnson county is planning a road across the hill from Van Lear to the site of the dam. In a word, our neighbors are on their toes and, if we aren't, too, we'll be left on our posteriors.

NOT TOO LATE TO GIVE

Prestonsburg folk who haven't contributed to the drive for funds for the fight on infantile paralysis may yet do so by handing or mailing the money they wish to give to Mrs. Dick Davis or Mrs. A. V. Faulk.

'... a State of Lawlessness Exists ...'

WHEN Commonwealth's Attorney John Chris Cornett last Thursday morning moved that the Commonwealth be granted a change of venue for the trial of Lonnie Robinson on a charge of murdering two Prestonsburg policemen, much of the import of his words did not "register" with courtroom spectators and with others who later read and heard of his statement.

Quietly, dispassionately, the prosecutor stated the need for a trial outside Floyd county and surrounding counties. There was nothing of the dramatic or sensational about the way he said it—to him it was a plain statement of fact—but the words shrieked a challenge to all law-abiding people in this section.

John Chris Cornett said, in part: "Such a state of lawlessness exists in Floyd county and adjacent counties thereto that a fair trial cannot be had in Floyd county."

The man accused of shooting to death two men garbed in the uniform and vested with the duties of law-enforcement officers did not ask for trial elsewhere. It was the Commonwealth that feared justice could not be had. Thus is the challenge to those who respect the law and abhor lawlessness emphasized.

Some men will say Mr. Cornett would better have served the county had he left this unsaid; they will say THE TIMES would better serve by ignoring it. But we contend that the cry of "Fire!" is justified when the conflagration is apparent; that refusal of those who see the fire to heed will not put it out.

The Commonwealth's Attorney was qualified to speak and was entitled to speak. Although here only a month, he was in a position to know. Daily he saw intimately the activities about him as the circuit court sought to arrive at the "golden mean" of justice for accused and accuser alike. Police here and officers over the county had first-hand information of conditions; their knowledge was available to him.

This statement of Mr. Cornett's does not mean that men are prowling every town and hamlet and countryside, murder-bent, guns in hand. It does not mean that the peaceable citizen cannot go and come without danger of death or injury.

It goes deeper than that—to the spirit that prevails the county and neighboring counties. This is the spirit that is as truly lawless as that of the hair-in-eyes beetle-brow whose intellect has never risen above his bestial instincts. It is the spirit which possesses some so-called "good people"—that the law is a rule only for others, a scrap of paper to be cast aside if it interferes with their own desires. It is the spirit which leads men and women to cast their lot with the criminal rather than with law and order and those who represent such orderliness.

To overcome this "state of lawlessness" the courts will need to dedicate themselves to the high emprise of demanding plain and simple justice for every individual; officers of the law will need to conduct themselves, personally, and officially, with a deeper consciousness of duty and of their obligation to every citizen. And the schools and churches will perform a very real service by emphasizing education in good citizenship.

The cry of "Fire!" has been sounded. It is no false alarm. It will do no good to ignore it.

Sgt. Kidd Decorated For Battle Gallantry

T/Sgt. Hurshel Kidd, of Hunter, who served with Co. B, 350th Infantry, was decorated for gallantry in action May 12, 1944, on Mt. Cianelli, Italy.

Just after the attack started on Mt. Cianelli, his citation relates, Sgt. Kidd assumed command of the platoon when his platoon leader was killed. The platoon advanced 200 yards ahead of other platoons when it was suddenly met by a murderous hail of machine gun fire from the front and both flanks. Amid the great confusion and disorganization caused by the deadly enemy fire, Sgt. Kidd calmly maneuvered his men into position to meet the enemy attack.

During this action he personally assaulted and silenced two machine gun nests located on his right. Sgt. Kidd re-organized his platoon and set up a defense position. When some of his men attempted to withdraw, he bravely rallied them and kept them in position. By silencing two machine guns and holding his platoon in position, he enabled the remainder of the company, with his platoon as a covering force, to take its objective.

"Sgt. Kidd's gallantry, leadership and devotion to duty proved an inspiration to his entire company and reflects great credit on himself and the highest traditions of the armed forces," the citation concludes.

Blaze Destroys Pikeville Theater

Pikeville, Ky., Feb. 2—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Weddington Theater building in downtown Pikeville today with damage estimated by W. J. Ward, lessee, at $20,000.

Police Chief J. C. Williamson suffered a sprained ankle when he fell off a fire truck at the scene of the blaze.

Ward, who said the fire apparently started in the front of the building and made considerably headway before it was discovered, and listed several full-length films in the loss.

Firemen from Williamson, W. Va., 30 miles north of here, were called as a precautionary measure, but the blaze was under control before they arrived.

Nearby buildings escaped serious damage.

The 20-year-old theater building was owned by Ballard Weddington, who said it was only partly insured.

More Headaches for the Farmer

Once more the farmer is being asked to break all food production records. To plow more acres, feed more livestock and harvest more crops than ever before. He is being asked to do this so that America may continue to feed and clothe the needy throughout the world, as well as our own folks at home.

To carry out this job the farmer must have tools of production. Most of those he owns have taken a terrific beating. They can't be tied together much longer with rusty fence wire.

In the teeth of this situation, the farmer ran into a strike in the steel industry—a strike which hit at the heart of food production.

When the steel plants shut down manufacturers of farm machinery and equipment, farm trucks and tractors cannot get steel for their products.

This year the farmer won't receive as many of the replacements he desperately needs. He'll fight ahead with his old, broken machinery trying to crack another food production record, but the cards are stacked against him.

All this means more headaches for the farmer—loss of vital food production, and a bad dent in his pocketbook.

Facts Too Frequently Omitted

The steel strike was called by the United Steelworkers of America—CIO, which insists on a wage increase totaling $166,000,000. The U.S. Steel Corporation has offered a wage rise which if applied throughout the industry would amount to $135,000,000.

Steel workers are already among the highest paid wage-earners in America. Before the strike their average earnings were approximately $1.16 an hour, $9.26 a day and $46.32 a week—on a forty-hour week. The U.S. Steel offer would have given them about $1.31 an hour, $10.46 a day and $52.32 a week. But they refused it, and accused the steel industry of conspiring to ruin the union with an offered wage increase of $25 a month, the highest increase in the industry's history.

The strike is a direct violation of contract between the union and the steel companies. The union wanted a long-term contract and got it. The union agreed not to strike during the life of the contract. Yet, the union struck on January 21.

Fighting for a Way of Life

Farmers have a big stake in continuous steel production. They have an opportunity to say what they think about unchecked labor monopolies which bring to a stop the nation's recovery efforts, through excessive wage demands which could only add to inflation and cause soaring prices.

Not until enough of them protest unfair, dictatorial actions and urge proper safeguards against arrogant, heedless union leadership and one-sided labor laws will the country get back to sane, profitable production where everyone works together toward a better standard of living.

Black Cats Shock McDowell, 52-22; Defeat Maytown

McDowell's high-scoring basketball team caught Prestonsburg on the rebound from the Big Sandy Conference tournament defeat the Black Cats sustained and were swamped here Saturday night, 52-22, in one of the season's most startling net upsets.

Only a few nights earlier, the Left Beaver boys had defeated Wayland, a five which the Cats had barely managed to outstay here recently. But Saturday night they were never close. The Cats were in high-scoring form, clicked as a team and their lowest scorer amassed more points than the visitors' highest.

Prestonsburg jumped off into a 15-7 lead in the first quarter, extended it to 29-10 at the half. The third quarter ended, 44 to 18. Tight guarding held the visitors fairly well from the basket and the winners excelled at taking the ball on rebounds.

Friday night, Prestonsburg defeated Maytown, 43 to 25, away from home.

$12,000 TOTAL BONDS ASKED

For Release of Calhoun, Charged with Shooting Four; 79 Are Indicted

Bonds totaling $12,000 were asked last week for the release of Arnold Calhoun, of the Jack's Creek section, after he had been indicted on four shooting and wounding counts and on another for shooting into an automobile. He remains in jail.

Calhoun, accused of wounding Wid, Mallie and John Henry Hatfield and Estill Osborne with shots from a shotgun fired into their automobile, entered a not guilty plea and his trial was set for April 4.

The grand jury concluded its work Saturday after two sessions which totaled nine days. During this time the jury examined 118 witnesses and returned 79 indictments.

In its final report, signed by A. J. Gearheart, foreman, the jury noted that "there is a crime wave beginning to spread over Floyd county, and that we recommend that the officers be more strict in the performance of their duties, and that jurors... in the future resolve to be more strict in the performance of their duties, both in the inquiring into the crime situation and in the trial of cases."

The jury's final report to Judge E. P. Hill noted that the jail is well-kept and praised the efforts of officers and court officials to enforce the law.

For the third time during the term the grand jury was re-instructed and re-sworn Friday as illness forced the absence of members. When Sam Calhoun became ill Lewis Robinson was transferred from the petit jury to the grand jury.

One of the last acts of the term was that of Judge Hill in probating the one-year pen term of Tom Miller, convicted of grand larceny. The order pointed out that Miller had never hitherto been convicted and conditioned his probation on his good behavior.

Other major indictments returned during the last three days of the grand jury session:

Frank Clay, selling mortgaged property, accused by Arthur Ramey of selling an auto on which Ramey held a mortgage; James F. Burkett, detaining a woman; Joe Smith, shooting and wounding Deputy Sheriff Oak Mullins; Joe Smith, shooting at without wounding Policeman Troy Mullins, of Wayland; Marshall Blair, deserting a pregnant wife; Perry Newsome, carrying a concealed deadly weapon; Belve Shepherd Shepherd (Virson's son), chicken stealing; Hubert K. Hale, removing mortgaged property, alleged by Ted Newman to have taken an auto on which he had a mortgage out of the state; Ernest Reynolds and Frances Owens, housebreaking, accused by Taulbee McGuire of entering his home and taking household effects; Creed Baker, striking and wounding Ella Baker; James F. Burkett, child desertion; Fike Cross, suffering gaming on premises; Bill Crum, forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses, alleged to have signed the name of Joe Derossett to an express bill here and thus obtained a package of clothing and other items of value belonging to Derossett; Charlie Stapleton, cutting and wounding Sandy Goodman.

Mrs. Bill Patton and daughter, Gail Lynn, of Logan, W. Va., are visiting Mrs. Marie Johnson and other relatives.

JOHNSON TOT DIES IN FIRE

Former Auxier Residents' Daughter One of 4 Burned To Death in Pike County

Elzema Ann Johnson, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson, of Elkhorn City, formerly of Auxier, was one of four children burned to death in widely separated sections of Pike county recently.

The child died in a blaze which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. The fire trapped the family in the second floor of the residence and Elzema Ann broke from her 14-year-old sister, Peggy Joyce, when they were driven onto a porch roof, and ran back inside. The sister was burned in an attempt to rescue her. Later, when the family was forced to jump to the ground, Peggy Joyce suffered a broken arm and her father's foot was broken.

Mr. Johnson, who moved to Elkhorn City from Auxier only a few years ago, is a garageman there.

The three other children burned to death were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Colbert Hensley, of Big Creek—Vina, 8, Goldie, 6, and Colbert, Jr., 5—who died when the Hensley's three-room log cabin ignited from a heating stove after Mrs. Hensley and her 10 children had retired for the night. The father, a miner, was at work at the time of the tragedy.

In the upper bracket composed of Maytown, Auxier, Wheelwright and Wayland one semi-finalist is expected to be named Friday night in the quarter-finals when Wheelwright and Wayland tangle. Betsy Layne, Garrett, Prestonsburg, McDowell and Martin form the lower bracket, with McDowell and Prestonsburg favored to reach the semi-finals.

The schedule: Maytown vs. Auxier, 2:30 p.m., Friday; McDowell vs. Martin, 3:30 p.m., Friday; Wheelwright vs. Wayland, 7:30 Friday; Prestonsburg vs. Garrett-Betsy Layne game winner, 8:30 Friday. The semi-finals will be at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m., Saturday and the finals at 8:30 Saturday night. There will be no preliminary game at the opening session nor will there be a consolation game on Saturday night.

Dick Looney, of Elkhorn City, was the unanimous choice of coaches for one of the referee spots and Jack Turner, of Langley, was named the second official. No season tickets will be sold. Adult admission was set at $1; students and children, 40 cents.

Elimination of the time-honored all-tournament team was considered, some coaches holding that selection of such teams has proved harmful to their teams and hurt their chances in regional play. It was finally decided, however, to retain the all-star selections which will be made by a committee, members of which will not be known to players and the public.

Coaches and principals attending the meeting: Carl Woods, Auxier; Sherrill Frazier, Martin; D. W. Howard and Woodford Spears, Betsy Layne; Joe T. Hyden, Prestonsburg; Wayne Ratliff and Walter Price, Wheelwright; Wiley Jones and V. O. Turner, Maytown; Reb Hall, Garrett; Everett Hall, McDowell.

to Register Firearms

Announcement is made of the marriage here Feb. 2 of Miss Elizabeth Webb, of Alphoretta, and Mr. Ralph Webb, of West Prestonsburg. County Judge A. L. Davidson solemnized the marriage.

It is estimated that farm Taylor county lost $50,000 by tobacco seed that was not root resistant.

Tables, desks, chairs and pieces of furniture are being re-finished by Henry county homemakers.

Those firearms requiring registration may be registered with the investigator in charge, Alcoholic Tax Unit, Room 318, Fincastle Building, Louisville, Ky.

The Alcoholic Tax Unit has designated as the enforcement agent of the National Firearms Act, which defines firearms affected by it as follows:

Shotguns or rifles having barrels less than 18 inches long; any weapon, except pistol or revolver, which can be concealed on the person; any machine gun; any firearm with muffler or silencer.

The act does not require registration of any .22-calibre rifle unless the barrel is less than 16 inches long.

A penalty of not more than $2,000 fine and imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, is provided for failure to comply with provisions of the act.

The definition of machine guns include machine pistols and machine rifles that will fire more than one shot with a single pull of the trigger; pistols or revolvers that have stocks that are detachable, and automatic pistols that can be converted to full automatic by adjustment of the gun which would let the gun fire more than one shot without manual reloading with a single pull of the trigger.

Any one seeking information relative to the registration of trophy guns may inquire at Room 112, Alcoholic Tax Unit, Federal Courthouse Bldg., Pikeville, Ky.

What do I think of the servant situation?

Why, I haven't any servants! I do all my own housework. Not quite all, Mrs. Smith. You have some household appliances, haven't you?

Of course, but—OF COURSE—that's the answer, Mrs. Smith. You DO have a servant, but you take that servant for granted. You've got a combination laundress, cook, cleaning woman, lamplighter, seamstress and entertainer—one who doesn't mind a few odd jobs like heating the bath water, guarding your food, fanning your fevered brow—

Oh, you mean ELECTRICITY—Yes, Mrs. Smith, electricity—the universal servant who works 24 hours a day at low pre-war wages—and never asks for time off. Why, Mrs. Smith, your "servant situation" here in America is better than anywhere else in the world.

SHIKE'S POKES
 (Views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor.)

I'm going to nominate Joe Laferty as a detective. He even slept so sound his cook stove disappeared and he didn't know it until the next morning.

Mrs. Columbus Crisp must own "Aching furniture." The other day she started to polish the furniture and instead of getting the polish, she got a bottle of Blair's Liniment. Kinda tough on the varnish.

Poor ole Caner Crisp han't got no salty dog now. Nope—a truck killed ole Salty Dog.

They are calling Alard Dingus "ole Kettle" now. During the recent flood Allard wanted to go to the barn to turn out the mules and he hated to walk 'way round the hill, so he just grabbed one of those large iron kettles, set it in the backwater, picked up a board and started paddling across. At the deepest place the kettle capsized, ducking Mr. Dingus in the muddy, icy water.

I'm in Lexington, sleeping with Noble Hobbs tonight. Not two of a kind or sort—we haven't got around to arguing politics yet.

Now Bill Smith has gone into the goat-raising business and Kelly D. has bought a goat-hound.

Walter wanted to know what I would sit on if the Wolf Woman bit me. Maybe she wouldn't run true to form when biting me!

Johnny Steagall and "Hobe" Spriggs have just bought the Phoenix hotel. I guess I'll be their manager or maybe the chief guest.

The above-mentioned fellows are trying to hire Bart, Carson, Ted, Joe, Harry and Noble as bell hops.

Floyd county's men in the Legislature are really out in front down at Frankfort. They are backing the miners (we feel sure) and that means they'll go places.

D. M. is a Beaver Creeker again. You can't keep a good man down.

Most of us miners have agreed that we should live in Lexington. Yeah. People don't get up till 8 a.m., slow time.

They'll either have to change the law to one inspection of mines a year or indict the Department of Mines for violating the law. Name me one mine that was inspected every three months on Big Sandy and I'll catch you a bird.

Koppers Leases Eccles Coal Property; Faull Reported in Charge

L. C. Campbell, vice-president, Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates, Koppers Coal Division, announced last week that, effective February 1, Koppers Coal has taken over the operation of the Eccles mining properties, 10 miles west of Beckley in Raleigh county, on lease from the Crab Orchard Improvement Company.

A. V. Faull, Prestonsburg, former U. S. Bureau of Mines inspector, will be superintendent at Eccles, it was said here.

The Eccles property comprises nearly 9,000 acres of coal land from which about 1,000,000 tons of coal a year are now being mined.

Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates already has begun plans for improvement of the community, the mining operations and the surface facilities, details for which will be announced as soon as plans are completed.

There are two Eccles mines—No. 5 mine, Beckley seam, and No. 6 mine, Sewell seam. The mines are located on the Virginian and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroads.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED
