

SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

MAY 23, 1946

THURSDAY

RAIL STRIKE STARTS TODAY

This creeping inflation is not unlike creeping paralysis. We victims know the blow is coming but we don't know how long it'll be.

A SUGGESTION
Prestonsburg's civic clubs are reminded, in particular, of Circuit Judge Hill's suggestion that this county should send to Judge Green Haywood Hackworth when he receives an honorary degree from the University of Kentucky June 7, some token of esteem. Certainly, a gift of flowers or some other memento of even greater cost would not be too much for Floyd county to offer a native son who has brought home not disgrace but great honor.

EDUCATION THROWN FOR LOSS IN POLITICAL FOOTBALL GAME
The board of regents of Morehead Teachers College, by refusing to re-employ as president Dr. William H. Vaughan, has committed a crime not only against the institution it is its duty to preserve, but also against Eastern Kentucky. What benefit can accrue to education, though Kentucky appropriate a billion dollars for schools and teachers, if it must be vitiated and disgraced by politics and politicians?

THE THREE LITTLE PIGS AND HOW TWO DIDN'T GROW
Once upon a time—to be more exact, only a few weeks ago—there were three little pigs. And a mother pig. They lived in Prestonsburg.

When Mother Pig read in the newspaper (you know which paper) that the Board of Health had forbidden pigs to be kept in towns unless a permit was granted, she decided to move. She told her three sons this was no place for the likes of them, tearfully kissed each of them and sent them out to shift for themselves, thus further increasing the meat shortage locally.

The first little pig met a man carrying a load of straw (this was while the freight embargo was on) and he promptly and at some length described the trouble he was having with FFA, W.F.B., A.A. and other agencies in getting materials for a house. The man was tired, anyhow, and so he gave the pig the straw with which to build a house.

Now, a certain wolf, who stood on street corners and ogled and leered at the girls as they passed by, became more interested, with the shortage of meat, in pork chops than in catching little pigs. So it happened that, just as the pig had finished his neat house of straw, the big bad wolf came along.

"Little pig, little pig," quoth he, "let me come in."
The pig laughed in his face and replied, "No, no, by the hair on my chinny-chin-chin."

"By the way," the wolf remarked, "the hair on your chinny-chin-chin seems rather long, these days."

"Yes," mourned the pig, "the barbers have their prices so high for my poor purse, made from a sow's ear."

The wolf didn't quibble about the price of shaves and haircuts. "Then," he announced, "I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house down."

The next little pig met a man with a load of wood. But there's no need to give you all the gory details. It took the wolf a couple of huffs and puffs more to do the job than on the house of straw but it wound up with another construction job wasted, as well as one less pig to eat these days when wheat and corn are wanted so badly for overseas shipment.

The wise brother of the late little pigs began casting about for building materials and he never stopped till he had a brick house. It's a matter of record that the wolf huffed and puffed till he was out of breath and black in the face, but he was naught. The pig had built well—sturdy material, sound construction, full insulation, built-in cabinets, garbage disposal and all.

So the wolf tacked and filled and decided to resort to a bit of strategy.

"By the way, little pig," he said, "do you like turnips?"
"Do I like turnips? Don't be silly! What's the ceiling on 'em?"

"I am happy to say," smiled the wolf, "they're for nothing. If we can slip into Squire Brown's field, two farms away."

233 Floyd Seniors Hear Pikeville College Prexy In 10th Mass Exercises

"The world challenges you as it has never challenged any other group," Dr. A. A. Page, president of Pikeville College, as commencement speaker told the 233 Floyd county high school seniors who last Friday evening received their diplomas in the county's 10th countywide graduation exercises here.

Developing the theme that freedom is the most precious thing in America, Dr. Page pointed out that Christ was the great exponent of freedom. "Every man is made in the image of God; man is free." "Wherever," the speaker continued, "the Bible is read by the rank and file, there is the greatest freedom; wherever in the world the Bible is suppressed, there is the least freedom."

"When you begin to surrender your freedom because it seems to be the easier thing to do, some morning you will wake up a slave." Of religious freedom and the divergent beliefs men hold, Dr. Page said: "It is like being at the foot of a beautiful mountain. We climb its slopes from different sides—to meet at the top."

Prestonsburg gymnasium was a packed for the occasion. The capped-and-gowned graduates entered to the strains of the "Processional," played by the Floyd county band, and occupied pre-arranged sections on the floor of the gym. Following the invocation by the Rev. W. B. Garriott, pastor of the Methodist Church, and band numbers, Mayor E. P. Arnold, of Prestonsburg, extended greetings to graduates and visitors.

Scholarship Awards

Palmer L. Hall, assistant superintendent of county schools, announced that Cleatis Crain, Dolores May, Jackie Conley and Evelyn Fraley, all Prestonsburg high school seniors, had won the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company two-year scholarships to Pikeville College.

L. C. McCloud, Jr., Martin senior, and Eckener Pandzic, Wheelwright, were selected from this county to compete with two graduates from Knott and two from Pike for the two four-year scholarships to the University of Kentucky, Lexington, which are given annually by the Inland Steel Company. Wheelwright. They and the four grads from the other two counties will enter a competitive examination at the University, with the two scholarships the prize for highest ratings.

For the scholarship offered by Pikeville College to the Floyd graduate qualifying as the best teacher prospect, six were nominated, later competed tests conducted by Mr. Hall and their work has been sent to Pikeville for grading. These six are: Lorena Wells, Auxier; Gladioli Case, Betsy Layne; Betty Jean Martin, McDowell; Donnie Jean Newson, Wheelwright; Arnold Davis, Wayland; Veneda Owens, Garrett.

PIKE TEAM TAKES LEAD

Hands Prestonsburg 1st Defeat of Year; Other Loop Results

Had those April showers that have been falling all through May re-appeared Sunday, any time before the seventh inning, Prestonsburg would still be on top of the Big Sandy Baseball League standings, but they didn't—and so it's undefeated Pikeville in the No. 1 spot.

Trailing, 3-2, Pikeville came with a surge of batting power in the seventh, and this, coupled with Charlie Patton's first mound ineffectiveness of the season and the team's first collapse on defense, let the visitors through to an easy 9 to 3 victory.

Weddle, tall Pikeville righthander, was wild, particularly in the early innings when Prestonsburg scored all its runs, but improved as the game wore on. Fielding features of the afternoon were Roark's two fine running catches in the outfield. David unleashed a power attack on Harold at Harold, scoring 19 runs in 18 hits, while the losers were scoring eight times on 16 safeties. The David team, strengthened by the return of Ora Curmiste and "Ty Cobb" Montgomery, was never in danger and hopes to upset Prestonsburg in their game here next Sunday afternoon.

1540 Receive Exams As Travel Facilities In County Curtailed

Although lack of bus and train transportation is estimated to have cut in half the number who under normal conditions would have attended the x-ray clinic which ended last Friday, a total of 1540 persons received chest examinations during the two-week stay here of the State Board of Health mobile unit.

Between 75 and 100 persons, Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the county health department, said, were notified to return for chest picture re-takes when the first x-rays indicated they might be tuberculosis sufferers, or potential sufferers, and of these 50 returned.

Lawrence Hill, State Board of Health technician, went from here to Hazard and will be in Hindman from June 4 till June 8. During this time, those who were notified to return here for re-takes and did not do so may receive further service at Hindman, Dr. Ransdell said.

CATS SUFFER FIRST DEFEAT

Williamson Wins, 9-6; District Tournament Starts Here Today

Prestonsburg high school's baseball team saw its unblemished record for the season kicked and scuffed all over the Williamson, W. Va., field Monday afternoon as the Cats suffered an attack of jitters, permitting the West Virginians to avenge an earlier loss here. Williamson won, 9 to 6.

Ballard Branham, Prestonsburg mound ace, was wild, walking four and hitting two batters. His mates contributed at least seven errors at inopportune moments. And, worst of all, the boys got together to put their erratic play mostly into one inning, the second, when seven Williamson runs crossed the plate. Although he did not have his usual stuff, Branham allowed only four hits as compared with Prestonsburg's nine.

Performances at bat and afield of Burkett and Childers were redeeming features of the game from the losers' standpoint.

The Pike-Floyd district tournament which begins here this morning at 10 o'clock is an all-Floyd affair, with five teams scheduled. Wayland plays Garrett in the first round. At 2:30 this afternoon Martin and Auxier, who drew first-round byes, meet in the semi-finals. Prestonsburg plays the winner of the Garrett-Wayland game Friday morning at 10, and the finals will be played that afternoon at 3:30.

VETS TO MEET HERE, JUNE 8

Floyd Post, American Legion, was notified Tuesday by J. H. Rees, Hazard, district Legion commander, that Prestonsburg has been selected as the site for the district Legion convention to be held June 8.

Despite present transportation difficulties, 2,000 veterans from the several counties of the district are expected to be here for the convention. It was said.

Prestonsburg was chosen at a meeting of district Legion commanders in Louisville. In addition to the annual election of district officers, a program of general interest to the public will be prepared, it was announced.

Committees for Memorial Day and Fourth of July observance preparations have been named. The Memorial Day committee is composed of Carl Comstock, George Sizemore and Denver Calhoun; the July 4th committee, of Dr. Earl T. Arnett, Alvin Taylor and James H. Hatcher.

National Folk Festival Invites P'Burg Woman

Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James is in Cleveland, Ohio, representing this section in the National Folk Festival at the invitation of the Cleveland Sesqui-centennial Commission and Western Reserve University.

Mrs. James' entire Plainsons group from this county was invited to appear on the festival program but travel conditions prevented all except her from attending. In Cleveland, she will also take part in the conference on national folk music and appear on a radio program. Her part at the conference will be a discussion of balladry.

MAY RESIGNS A-BOMB POST

Foregoes Pacific Trip To Be in Washington For Pending Scrap

Congressman A. J. May has resigned, THE TIMES learned this week, from the Atomic Bomb Commission which will appraise effects of the A-bomb tests in the Pacific, in order to be in Washington ready for any legislative fight that may arise on the floor of Congress over the proposed rivers and harbors improvement, which includes canalization of the Big Sandy river and its two tributaries.

Fearing that such a legislative crisis might arise during his absence in the Pacific, Mr. May tendered his resignation from the Commission to President Truman last week.

An old-fashioned debate on the question looms in Congress, it was said in Washington this week. Just when the legislation will reach the floor is not known here.

The bill, biggest of its kind ever brought before Congress, proposes navigation, irrigation, hydroelectric power and flood control development that would cost ultimately at least a billion dollars.

As a starter, the measure covers projects estimated to cost initially about $600,000,000. It's a gigantic, long-range program for which new legislation would be required later as the army engineers proceed with construction.

Carrying forward an oft-repeated suggestion of the late President Roosevelt, President Truman has recommended such programs not only to develop the country's vast water resources, but also to create a huge backlog of public works to provide jobs in slack time.

The Jobs Rivers and Harbors Committee approved the bill after lengthy hearings. After action by the House, the measure will go to the Senate Commerce Committee for further hearings, then to the Senate and finally to the White House.

Passage of the bill and approval by President Truman would not mean immediate expenditure of money because such legislation makes no appropriation. It merely authorizes the projects. Money must be appropriated in later legislation.

While some railroads and private power spokesmen opposed the bill, the House committee left no doubt that it considered the projects essential to the national welfare in war or peace.

The report noted that water-borne commerce, excluding the Great Lakes and ocean traffic, increased from 7,826,000,000 ton miles in 1931 to 31,343,000,000 ton miles in 1944.

100-YEAR-OLD NEGRO SEEKING WIFE, LONG DEAD, FINDS SANCTUARY HERE IN COUNTY JAIL AFTER WANDERINGS

Lost while searching for his long-dead wife, Henry Gray, Johns Creek negro whose age is somewhere between 100 and 124 years, was found last week in a field near Allen by Special B. & O. Officer G. L. Gray, of Allen, and brought to the county jail here which is serving him as a home until he can be returned to Johns Creek.

The white-haired negro, a typical Uncle Tom, has no complaint. "They's feedin' me good. I'm all right, 'cept a pain in my stomach," he said.

When found, he was in a field outside Allen, preparing to build a fire. He had wandered across the hills from the farm of John Leslie on Johns Creek, Pike county, but denied being lost. It was said here he had left home, several days earlier, and that he had apparently spent this time without sleep. He, however, showed no ill effects from his experience.

Elliott Credits Women Leaders With Floyd School Band Excellence

When Jesse Elliott, Floyd county school band instructor, was congratulated last week on the superb performance at the countywide graduation here of his 65-piece band composed of students from all nine of the county's high schools, he said, "Give the girls credit."

The "girls," he explained, are Mrs. Oval B. Hall and Mrs. Carlos M. Haywood, who continued the band program in at least two schools while Band Director Elliott was in wartime service with the army. Mrs. Hall directed the Martin band while Mrs. Haywood (then Miss Hale) was director of the Betsy Layne band.

"Without their work during the war," Mr. Elliott said, "we could not have possibly trained a band composed of members from so many schools in so short a time."

At the countywide commencement here Friday evening, the band played the Recessional as 19 of its members marched from the gymnasium along with 214 other seniors with their diplomas. These 19 were awarded certificates for satisfactory membership in their respective bands: Ruth Robinson, Auxier; Elice Roop and Ray Calvin Davis, Betsy

BRIDAL COUPLE IN HOSPITAL

Groom Seriously Hurt; Bride and Her Mother Are Injured Near Here

As a result of an automobile wreck which took place late Saturday afternoon near the home of H. L. Mayo, two miles south of here, Frank Hall, 23, of Dry Creek, Knott county, and his 19-year-old bride, Frankie Isaacs Hall, are enduring a honeymoon at the Prestonsburg General hospital this week.

The groom suffered a severe brain concussion in the wreck, which occurred soon after he and his bride had been married at Paintsville, and for 36 hours he was unconscious. Mrs. Hall suffered a broken clavicle.

Now they are spending their convalescent period a-visiting—she in a rocking chair, the groom, swathed in bandages, still in bed. They will go home Saturday.

Mrs. Fanny Isaacs, also of Dry Creek, and mother of the bride, suffered a broken arm but has been dismissed from the hospital. Dona Sliyers, of the same community, was taken to the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, with a broken arm. Gardner Hall, who was bruised in the wreck, was not hospitalized.

Tilton Hall, driver of the car taking the bridal party back to Dry Creek, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn on a drunken driving charge. He was uninjured. The charge against him was reduced Wednesday to reckless driving and he was fined by County Judge Alex L. Davidson.

Officers said they were told the car, being driven upriver at a high rate of speed, plunged from the left side of the highway.

Engineers May Use Pre-Fabricated Units To Solve Housing Dearth

A solution of the housing problem faced by personnel of the U.S. resident engineer's office here may be reached through use of pre-fabricated buildings owned by the federal government.

H. W. White, resident engineer, said sites in both Prestonsburg and Paintsville for such buildings are being inspected but added that the housing plan is merely being considered at this time and that a decision has not definitely been reached.

If the pre-fabricated housing units are used, 15 of them will be brought to the site yet to be chosen. These are now at an Indiana ordinance plant. A location, to be acceptable for this purpose, must be owned under one title, accessible to public utilities, and in town.

U. S. AGENTS PROBE THEFTS

Surveyor's Instrument Disappears at Dewey; Box in Postoffice Looted

An FBI agent and County Attorney W. W. Burchett this week were investigating the theft at Dewey of an item of government property along with belongings of the Ryan Construction Company and a power shovel operator.

The list of missing items includes a surveyor's instrument, government property taken from a locked tool-house; a welding outfit and gasoline. Property of the construction company, and miscellaneous tools valued at approximately $100 and owned by the operator of a power shovel on the project.

Postal inspectors were notified Wednesday morning by Mrs. Bess S. May, postmaster here, that a lock box in the postoffice had been broken into and a government check stolen by an unidentified man.

The check, issued to Ollie Blackburn, wife of Oliver Blackburn and mother of Seaman Oliver Blackburn, Jr., who was lost at sea during a typhoon in the Pacific, was for $26. It was cashed at the Prestonsburg dispensary, where the bearer purchased a quart of whiskey Tuesday evening.

Daniel Goble, manager of the whiskey store, said he did not know the name of the man who endorsed the check but that he could identify him. Goble and others were still seeking the man Wednesday afternoon.

A contribution was made from the Burton school but the amount was included in the Wheelwright school report, Mrs. Clark said.

A total of $1,684.67 was raised by the schools as a whole. Prestonsburg schools won the $25 prize for raising the most money, with a total of $200. The schools and amounts raised follow: Prestonsburg, $400; Wheelwright, $230.39; Wayland, $186.75; McDowell, $147.07; Garrett, $130.50; Martin, $119.52; Maytown, $115.54; Weeksburg, $74.28; Betsy Layne, $67.49; Harold-Laynesville, $42.34; Allen, $39.36; Palmer-Dunbar (Wheelwright) $32.69; Auxier, $30.28; David, $26.97; Lackey, $20.99; Melvin, $20.50.

Motor Firm Owners Begin Construction Of Building Here

Workmen for Ben Stansifer and Frank H. Layne began pouring concrete here, a few days ago, for a 50x22-foot building which will house the Willys Motor Sales Company, owned by Stansifer and Layne.

The structure, being erected on the Harkins lot near the bus station, is expected to be completed by June 15. Owners of the motor company have a seven-year lease on the lot, with renewal option.

The building on which construction has been started will be used, mainly, for display room and offices. The old Harkins stone building at the rear of the new building will be used for a repair shop.

FLOYD POLIO FUND, $4,684

P'Burg Leads Schools In Contributing $1684; State Total Is $220,508

Final reports of the March of Dimes in January show that Floyd county contributed a total of $4,684.50 to this cause.

Total for the state, according to M. C. Browder, director of the drive, was $220,508.96. One-half of this was sent to the National Foundation for research, education and epidemic aid. The research and education are being carried on constantly and intensively, and as an example of the epidemic aid, in 1944, Kentucky had a severe epidemic the foundation advanced $100,000 to the state chapter to help control the situation.

The other half of the money given has been placed in the treasury of the Kentucky Chapter, which is thus in position to give all aid necessary to every case of polio in the state. So far this year there have been few cases, but the epidemic time does not come until late in June and reaches its peak in September.

In this county the March of Dimes was directed by Mrs. Stephen W. Clark, Wheelwright, and the following committee members: Blaine Smith, Wheelwright; Miss Edna Mae Allen, of Allen; Carl N. Woods, of Auxier; Mrs. Otis Bussey, of David; M. E. Reed, of Drift; Mrs. Callie Branham, of Dwale; Buwewet Crum; Betsy Layne; W. D. Steele, of Harold; Mrs. Mark Reed, of Martin; Miss Rose Hagans, of Maytown; George L. Moore, McDowell; Mrs. Willard Castle and Mrs. Thomas Hatcher, of Estill and Wayland; Mrs. Bruce Hall, of Melvin; Mrs. Frank Rasnick, of Garrett; Mrs. Dick Davis, Prestonsburg; E. R. May, Warco; John S. Hampton, Glo; L. B. Brasher, of Manton; Harvey Maynard, Ligon; Gordon Collins, Lackey, and Mrs. Walter Price, of Bybro.

The rail strike scheduled for last Thursday afternoon was forestalled by government seizure of the railroads and agreement of rail workers' representatives to ask the trainmen to continue work for a period of a week. Meanwhile, negotiations between union officials and railway heads continued, with the outlook "none too good." This afternoon (Thursday) at 4 o'clock is the deadline for settlement of differences or a possible rail shutdown.

The Paintsville Bus Company settled, last week-end, with striking employees and is the only motor transportation firm operating in Eastern Kentucky. No progress is reported toward settlement of differences existing between owners and employes of other lines.

GARRETT FIRE LOSS $45,000

5-and-10 Building, Stock Destroyed Last Thursday; Faulty Wiring Blamed

Defective wiring is believed to have caused the destruction by fire early last Thursday evening of the Garrett 5 & 10 Store and Furniture Company at an estimated damage of $45,000.

The two-story, 50x100-foot structure and all its contents were destroyed as volunteer firefighters, unable to halt the spread of flames in the store, worked heroically to prevent destruction of nearby buildings and the Garrett Lumber Company at the rear of the store.

The owners' loss above insurance will approximate $20,000, it was said. Mrs. H. H. Hornsby, wife of the store manager, discovered the fire around 8 p.m., when opening a door of their apartment on the second floor, she was met by a burst of flame. She was rescued from the building with difficulty and suffered bruises in a fall.

It was said that the fire apparently started from the rear of a pantry on the second floor where a fuse box was located. The Hornsby's saved nothing from their apartments.

The store building was erected four years ago by W. H. Fields, formerly of Prestonsburg, who sold the business and his Garrett property in April, last year, to Mr. Hornsby, Dr. R. H. Messer and Rudolph Spencer for $34,000. Since that time, Dr. Messer said, the stock had been substantially increased. He said this week that he and his associates may rebuild on the site of the razed structure.

Loss of the business came only a few months after Mr. Hornsby had resigned from the store management of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation at Garrett, a post he had held for 25 years.

June 5 Is Deadline For Vote Registration

June 5 is the deadline for registration of voters for the August primary. County Clerk Jarvis Allen announced this week.

4 OPERATIONS IN FLOYD IDLE AFTER ORDER

Rail Strike Zero Hour Nears; One Bus Firm Resumes Operations

The rail strike went into effect at 4 p.m. (EST) this afternoon. Food, hospital supplies, fuel and feed for livestock are among the few necessities that now may be transported by rail.

Government seizure of the soft coal industry was ordered by President Truman Tuesday afternoon, but four mines of this county and two in Letcher were idle Wednesday. Approximately 3,000 miners remained away from work Wednesday. The miners returned to work May 13 under a 10-day truce.

Idle mines in this county were Inland Steel, Diamond and Floyd Elkhorn. Lay-offs have any connection with the Presidential directive seizing the mines. "Central Elkhorn's miners haven't worked for three days and Consolidation at Jenkins and McRoberts has been idle, except for one day, since last Friday."

The Jenkins-McRoberts miners struck when an employe in the coal clearing plant was discharged. They went back to work Monday morning but quit again that afternoon, it was said.

Although John L. Lewis, UMWA leader, had not indicated what his position will be toward government control of the mines, he is expected to ask the miners to return to production. Mineworkers' headquarters at Pikeville declined, in the absence of Tom Hanes, international representative, to make a statement queried by THE TIMES Wednesday afternoon.

The rail strike scheduled for last Thursday afternoon was forestalled by government seizure of the railroads and agreement of rail workers' representatives to ask the trainmen to continue work for a period of a week. Meanwhile, negotiations between union officials and railway heads continued, with the outlook "none too good." This afternoon (Thursday) at 4 o'clock is the deadline for settlement of differences or a possible rail shutdown.

The Paintsville Bus Company settled, last week-end, with striking employees and is the only motor transportation firm operating in Eastern Kentucky. No progress is reported toward settlement of differences existing between owners and employes of other lines.

HOWES MEADE

After an absence of many, many months overseas, and now having spent most all of the last three months out among the people in our district, either walking or driving the hard-seated Jeep I acquired from the Army's surplus equipment, I have learned much about the problems that confront our people. Those problems become much clearer when one hears it from farmers toiling in the field, or the miners, railroad men, veterans, merchants and all the other hard-working people who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. And I can say to you now that I am down-right mad about the circumstances and conditions forced upon my people in these hills. Conditions forced upon a freedom-loving, hardworking people by a group yelling "democracy" while actually taking away the Constitution-guaranteed rights of Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness. I am determined to devote my life to righting these wrongs to my people.

I will enumerate some of these wrongs and, from time to time, I will cover others.

EDUCATION

Under our hills God deposited the greatest stores of natural resources in the world. The country looks to us to supply their needs with our coal, oil and gas. We are great friends of all when it comes to the depletion of our wealth in resources to carry on the wheels of industry in the East. The East grows rich on our resources while we remain at the bottom of the ladder in educational advantages. To see some of the school buildings our children must attend brings tears to the eyes. To realize the mere pittance of salaries afforded our teachers makes one shrink with shame.

When the country went to war we were called upon to contribute and we were glad to contribute the young manhood of our section, and remember this section had a higher rate of combatant service and Purple-Heart awards than any other. We were great friends of all then.

There is no reason why we should not now receive equal educational opportunities with the rest of the country. There should be no ratings of states whereby we fall 46th, 47th, or 48th. I will introduce and fight through a bill for the Federal Government to equalize the educational opportunities in every state. The per capita spending in each state should be the same. Certainly a child in these hills deserves the same educational advantages afforded any child in New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts or any other state (if not more). The administration of our schools and our school system would remain the same. It would be an equalization of money available for the education of every school child. There is not a service man or veteran in this country who would not agree that this bill is right and there will be many servicemen and veterans elected to Congress this fall.

SERVICEMEN AND VETERANS

I will introduce solely or jointly with other veterans in Congress a bill to provide for the immediate payment of the accrued and terminal leave earned during service on the basis of thirty days' furlough or leave for each year. If one man deserved it every man deserves this payment. One man risking his life in the service is as good as any other man. Further, I will fight against any and all discrimination and advantages in the service because of rate or rank. Again one man in the service is as good as any other man in the service. I will fight for every right coming to our veterans. I know what the boys had to go through with and I'll fight for their rights as long as I live.

These are but two of the problems and wrongs to our people. I will throughout the campaign cover all the others through the newspapers and in my speeches and discussions with the people all over my district.

Last September when I announced while I was still serving overseas I said that I would get out and see the people and learn of their problems and that is what I have been doing and will continue to do right on through the August Primary until "we, the people," triumph at the polls on November third.

We, the union members of Sparks Brothers Bus Company, want to inform the public of our about a rumor going around that we have been approached by non-union members of said company that, if we CIO members would change from the CIO to the AFL, we could get a contract any time. But we want to tell you that we will not change from the CIO or TWU to any organization during this strike or shutdown.

We also have non-union members say that they are not going to join our union because we have one charter for four bus companies, but who still say they will continue to drive the buses when they start rolling again. They say if we would pull away from the Ky.-Va. Stages drivers, we could also get a contract. But, listen, folks, this we will not do because, as you all know, unity makes strength. So by all four bus companies being under one Local, we are very much stronger than by having four Locals. Therefore, all four bus companies come under Local No. 214.

This too is to let the public know that out of the four bus companies which have been on strike since April 15, there has been one who saw the light or the right thing to do. So he sat down with our president, Mr. Williams Dixon, and our TWU representative, Mr. Jack Ryan, and negotiated and signed a contract on May 17, 1946 and started his buses rolling. This was none other than Mr. Charles Williams, the owner of the smallest bus line which was connected in this strike.

The employees of Mr. Charles Williams are very happy about their increase and closed shop contract, and so is Mr. Williams. And not until the operators of the Conley bus line and the Sparks Brothers bus lines sign a similar contract will any of their buses be rolling.

Allen Baptist Church

The Rev. Roy Pratt, of Missouri, student of the Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, preached at both services Sunday in the absence of the pastor, J. E. Felty, Jr. Rev. and Mrs. Pratt are representatives of the State Mission Board, spending the summer here to assist in daily vacation Bible schools and other phases of work.

Miss Annie Allen announces that the Baptist Bible school begins in Martin at the school building, Tuesday of this week. All children are cordially invited to attend.

Among the students from this church who are graduating this spring are: Miss Elinor Martin and Ernest Powell Clay, Martin High; Miss Rita Porter, Martin eighth grade, and Libby Ree May, Maytown, eighth grade. Miss Martin begins work this week at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin.

Rev and Mrs. Roy Pratt were dinner guests of Mrs. J. E. Felty and children Sunday.

The church bulletin, which was edited and published by the Intermediate girls, contains a beautiful poem written by M. Westfall, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Westfall, during his present service abroad. Young Westfall's brother will be discharged in June. Friends rejoice to see all the boys coming home once more.

The Junior girls' Sunday School class, under Mrs. J. B. Clay, has outgrown the room completely.

Officers of the Intermediate girls' class for June follow: president, Miss Betty Jo Ester; vice-president, Miss Viola Whitt; secretary, Miss Ella Fay Hays; treasurer, Miss Rita Porter; scrap book, Miss Mae Whitt; flowers, Miss Libby Ree May.

Miss Rose Marie Martin has volunteered to distribute flowers used for decorating the church to hospital patients after services each Sunday.

Supt. Clarence Salyers announced in Sunday School that all boys should register immediately in order to vote in the next Floyd county campaign to make liquor selling illegal in Floyd.

The Allen daily vacation Bible school will be held some time in June. Watch this column for announcement.

Visitors at the Sunday evening services included Mesdames Rosita Hunt, Edith Setser, Sybil Garrett, Clema Pennington, Estie Crum, Tom Branham and Messrs. F. Mosely and James Salisbury.

"When do we start?" the pig eagerly inquired. "H-m-m, lemme see. Squire sleeps late, these mornings. I'll call for you at five tomorrow morning."

The pig said "O.K." and the wolf went back to his street corner to ogle and leer at the gals. But next morning at five, when he called for the pig, he was put out no end to learn that the pig had already been to the turnip patch.

"How come?" the wolf wanted to know. "I've been stood up before, but this is not the usual order. For two cents I'd buy—"

"Oh, but Mr. Wolf—don't you read the newspapers or listen to the radio? Daylight Saving time began at midnight, doncha know, and that's why I went an hour earlier."

After that, the pig doublecrossed the wolf twice again and lied like a dog about it—once when they had a date to go apple-knockin' and again when they went to a neighboring county to the fair.

On this last occasion, the pig scared the daylight out of the wolf and the latter was so hot where his collar should have been that when he got back to the pig's house he forthwith announced his intention of climbing onto the roof, coming down the chimney and committing a bit of mayhem.

But the wise, little pig was equal to the occasion. He set a big pot in the fireplace and while the wolf was on the roof ran out and took a quick look at his water meter.

"Hang the expense!" he exclaimed, filling the pot almost full of water. "If I don't blow myself to a well-filled pot this time, I won't be around next month to see how much the bill is."

Then, as the wolf came down the chimney, the pig lifted the lid from the pot. The wolf fell in and the lid was quickly replaced just as efficiently as that.

Then the pig rushed outside again, consulted the gas meter, muttered again "Hang the expense—I'm hungry!" and turned the gas on, full-blast.

The wolf-stew was fine—er, well, fillin'—and the pig lived happily a while longer, anyhow.

Electrically COOLED PRODUCE
FOR HIGHER FARM PROFITS

GET HIGHER PRICES FOR CREAM

Make more money with electrically cooled milk. Use refrigeration to avoid spoilage—to halt bacteria growth—to get higher prices for premium grades.

COOL EGGS STAY FRESH LONGER

TOP PRICES FOR GARDEN PRODUCTS

ROADSIDE MARKET ADDS PROFIT

Get retail prices for produce and fresh vegetables. With a large electric refrigerator you can keep a big supply in top condition. Bring the market place to your own place. Electricity saves—and pays dividends.

COOL HENS MEAN MORE EGGS

Pamper your hens. It pays. A fan in the poultry house in summer increases egg production. Forced air circulation in dairy barn and milk house pays a profit in summer, too.

There are many ways electricity can help increase your profits. Some, like milk coolers, water systems and lighting, you can add now. Others must wait. Your dealer can tell you what is available. But as soon as you can, utilize Electricity to the fullest for higher profits. Plan today. The Electric Farm is the Profitable Farm.

Truman Signs Bill To Return War Dead From Foreign Graves

President Truman this week signed the bill directing the War Department to return for burial in this country the bodies of approximately 300,000 who died overseas since September, 1939. The bodies, mostly service men but including some civilian government employes, are buried in military cemeteries throughout the world.

Miss Ella Noel White, executive secretary, Floyd Chapter, American Red Cross, said here this week numerous inquiries are being made by survivors of servicemen who died or were killed overseas as to when their bodies will be returned. She explained that the next-of-kin will be the first to be notified and acquainted with the procedure to be followed, which will include filing of application for removal of bodies to this country.

The Red Cross will assist all survivors of those who are buried overseas with necessary application forms when the work is begun, which will probably be in July, it was said.

A Report on HELD ORDERS FOR TELEPHONES

We are filling held orders for telephones as fast as equipment can be manufactured and installed.

262,705 telephones were installed during the past six months—141,659 of them during the first three months of this year—but we still have many thousands of applications for service on hand.

Our program for the next few years calls for an expenditure of $300,000,000 for buildings, switchboards, wire, cable and other equipment to provide more and better local and long distance service.

There is yet a long way to go to catch up on present held orders for service, but we are moving full speed ahead and looking forward to the day when all who want service can get it without delay. In the meantime, your cooperation is appreciated.
