Work on Baptist Church Starts Here Upon Arrival Of Pastor, Rev. Branham

The Rev. Everett L. Branham, new pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, arrived with his family in Prestonsburg last week and are residing in the Ferguson apartments on First avenue.

Sunday evening, he preached his first sermon as pastor here from the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church which the Baptist congregation shares because of the fact that its church was destroyed by fire a few years ago. Next day, ground was broken for a new Baptist Church on the former Marris property on First avenue. The new church is expected to be ready for occupancy by spring, next year.

The Rev. Mr. Branham comes here from Stamping Ground, Ky., where he was pastor of the First Baptist Church. Other pastorates include the First Baptist Church at Guyandotte, W. Va., and the East Williamson Baptist Church, Williamson, W. Va.

A son of the late Robert and Sarah Benjey, he was a native of Elk Valley, Tenn. He came to Prestonsburg in 1913 and, except for brief periods, spent the remainder of his life here. In 1914 he was married to Miss Maude Harris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Harris, of Prestonsburg. He had many friends in this section.

Surviving, besides his widow, are one son and three daughters: Malcolm Benjey, Dayton, O.; Mrs. Angeline Dorsett, of Emma, Mrs. Martella Gumballs and Mrs. Johnnie Marie Brewer, both of Prestonsburg. Three brothers and two sisters also survive.

Library Here, Topic At Club Meeting

The Prestonsburg Woman's Club held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. W. P. Mayo with plans for a public library figuring prominently in the discussions. Mrs. A. C. Harlowe presided in the absence of Miss Alice Harris.

The City Council has approved an appropriation of $25 per month for a librarian here, and Mayor E. P. Arnold has asked that a library board be appointed, club members were told. Other available help includes 1,000 books which the state library will give. A room in the city hall is being considered for the library.

Margerilla Branham was appointed to meet with the Guild of the Methodist Church to arrange for a community Christmas tree. Mrs. W. P. Mayo was in charge of the program on music and art. Each member submitted what she considered an artistic decoration for the interior of the home. A display of the articles was made and the good and bad points were brought out by Mrs. Mayo, who also gave interesting points on flower arrangements. Miss Polly Allen favored the club with two piano solos and Mrs. Wayne Bradley rendered a vocal solo. Eleven members were present. Mrs. J. D. Mayo and Mrs. Shaw were co-hostesses.

Merrill Faces Trial On Forgery Charge; Idaho Claims Hall

John Merrill, 22 years old, of the Left Beaver Creek section, who had been held in jail here, was claimed Tuesday by Huntington, W. Va., authorities to answer to a check forgery charge there. He was accused of passing a forged check for $35 at a Huntington shoe store.

Bert T. Hall, who was arrested here Oct. 21, was returned last week to Pocatello, Idaho, to answer burglary charges. He allegedly looted a home there and shipped the "take" by express to West Prestonsburg where the shipment was claimed by Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn. Held in Chicago for Floyd county authorities is George Conn, of Drift, who is wanted on a charge of carnal knowledge of a female under the age of 16.

Prestonsburg Cadets Lose To College Bears

The Prestonsburg Cadets ventured to Pikeville to play the Pikeville College Bears, last Thursday, a game which was hoped to be a runaway for the Bears but which turned out to be a hard-fought, brilliantly played game.

The game was only a few minutes old when the Cadets took the lead and, despite the Bears' ability to put three full teams on the floor, the Cadets managed to hang on and were leading at half-time by a 21-17 score.

The Bears took the lead within a few minutes after the second half started and from then on steadily pulled away, the final score being 33-35. The Cadets' offensive was sparked by Blackburn, who scored 15 points to carry off high point honors for the night. Crain was the mainstay on defense and Junior Tackett's deceptive dribbling kept the Bears in stitches all game. The Bears were led by Newsome and Williamson who scored 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Although the Bears won the game by an 18-point margin, fans agreed that this was due to the Bears' superior numbers and to the fact that the Cadets with only eight men have had only one regular practice game.

The Cadets play host to the Bears early in December and hope to gain revenge for last week's defeat.

Line-ups:
 Bears (53) Pos. Cadets (35)
 Mullins (7) Mellon (7)
 Newsome (11) Blackburn (15)

FELLOWSHIP MEETING

Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28th

WEST PRESTONSBURG, KY.

Again this year we are planning and praying for a gracious outpouring of the Holy Ghost, as we gather for our annual FELLOWSHIP meeting. This is our annual homecoming of Missionaries, Ministers and Christian laborers from the District of Kentucky. This is a wonderful opportunity for the people of Floyd county to meet with our friends from all over the state and enjoy a full day of FELLOWSHIP.

You do not have to arrive at a certain hour of the day. If you have another engagement, when it is finished, COME, for we will be worshipping the entire day. You will want to hear the inspiring messages and testimonials and enjoy the music and singing.

IF IT IS AT ALL POSSIBLE, MAKE PLANS TO SPEND THE ENTIRE DAY WITH US.

THIS OPPORTUNITY COMES ONLY ONCE EACH YEAR—WHY MISS IT?

The day will close with an evangelistic service beginning at 7 p.m. Rev. A. C. Trimble, Louisville, Ky., our District Superintendent, will be one of the speakers. We are expecting a good representation of both students and faculty of The Peniel Bible Institute, Stanton, Ky. We heartily invite all, irrespective of CREED or COLOR.

Belfry was stopped on the Prestonsburg 10 to begin the fourth quarter. Blackburn picked up five yards and Porter quick-kicked to midfield. Crain intercepted a Pirate pass and that touched off another Prestonsburg touchdown march. Fannin going over from six yards out. The conversion attempt failed, leaving the final score: Prestonsburg 19, Belfry 0.

Outstanding was the play of Howard Burchett, who turned in the best afternoon's work at end to be played by any Prestonsburg end in years. Also tough on the defense were Hagewood, Woods and Crain in the line, Hall and Blackburn in the backfield.

And now for that game here Friday with their traditional athletic rivals, the championship Paintsville Tigers.

carefully its soft coal stockpile. A steel industry source estimated a complete stoppage would shut down 50 per cent of the mills within two weeks and make the entire industry idle by the end of 30 days.

Railroads also prepared to survey their stocks, and planned to conform to Office of Defense Transportation order for a 25 per cent reduction Sunday in passenger service performed by coal-burning locomotives.

At Paducah, Ky., an official of the Illinois Central shops there said the shops would close after next Monday's midnight shifts because of work stoppages at the coal mines. Shop Superintendent John Weisch asserted this would involve a layoff of 1,100 out of 1,173 men employed.

A new development came with the report that the government is readying an embargo on all freight shipments by rail except for essential commodities.

All commodities except food, clothing, medicines, fuel, etc., would be kept from the trains.

Another government official speaking privately said he feared the possibility of a general demonstration by union members if Lewis should be jailed.

Lewis has called no strike. He didn't have to, in view of the miners' traditional slogan, "No contract, no work." They take Lewis' word for it as to whether there is a contract.

President Truman, who personally directed the legal action against Lewis, and his cabinet say there is a contract—the one Lewis signed with Secretary of the Interior Krug last spring—and that Lewis cannot open it at his convenience.

Lewis obviously is out for more pay. The commonly accepted guess is that he wants pay for a 40-hour week equivalent to what the miners now get for a 54-hour week. The top now is $75.25.

The Washington Evening Star reported that another demand is an increase to 10 cents in the present 5-cent royalty on every ton of coal for the union's welfare and retirement fund. This would double the annual income from this fund to $56,000,000.

There is now, according to the UMW, about $13,500,000 in the UMW treasury. However, the UMW has never paid strike benefits for the simple reason there are so many miners that the fund would promptly vanish if an attempt were made to spread it around among 400,000 workers and their dependents.

Mrs. Derossett Dies At Bull Creek Home

Mrs. Eula Mae Derossett, 25 years old, wife of Bill May Derossett, died Tuesday morning at her home at Water Gap following a long illness of tuberculosis.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Camillus Scutehfield, of Bull Creek, and was one of her community's best women. She is survived by her husband, three children, Bill, Jr., David Harmon and an infant son, and her parents.

Funeral rites were conducted this afternoon from the Methodist Church at Emma, the Revs. B. W. Craft and C. F. Conn officiating. Burial in the Mayo cemetery was directed by the Arnold Funeral Home.

MRS. ARNOLD

Greenville Davidson Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. E. P. Arnold on Second avenue. The president, Mrs. Lida D. Spradlin, presided. Mrs. Lida D. Spradlin conducted the ritualistic service which was followed by salute to both the American and Confederate flags. Mrs. John W. Hensley presented an interesting program on "The First Thanksgiving Proclamation" which was written Sept. 25, 1789 by Wm. Jackson and other members of the committee and signed by George Washington Oct. 3, 1789. This valuable document was lost more than 100 years ago and at an auction sale at the American Art Gallery in New York in 1921 Dr. J. C. Fitzpatrick purchased it for $300. It is now housed in the national archives of the Library of Congress.

Mrs. Hensley read an interesting article on the life of Rear Admiral Raphael Semmes, captain of the Alabama. A poem, "Women of the Confederacy," was read by Mrs. E. P. Arnold. The program was concluded with an interesting turkey contest, the prize being won by Mrs. Lon S. Moles. Each member brought a "white elephant" which was sold for a quarter, the sum realized to go for U.D.C. causes. The hostess served a salad course to the following members: Mesdames Luther Shivel, Roy Perry, John W. Hensley, Everett Sowards, Lon S. Moles, Joe Hobson, Lida Spradlin, Miss Josephine Davidson, Mrs. E. R. Burke was a refreshment guest.

TO THE PUBLIC:

As Christmas approaches, one naturally thinks of their neighbors and wonders particularly about families that have had sickness.

A neighbor of mine, Theodore Holbrook, has been sick for months, is still in poor health and unable to work. There is nobody to help the family except his wife who works every day. They have two children. I hope the people of Prestonsburg and vicinity, at least, will feel like helping this family through Christmas.

THREE QUALIFIED

Emergency Teacher Numbers Increase Over Last Year

Two out of three Kentucky teachers are properly qualified and are not even high school graduates.

It was one of several unfavorable facts considered this week by a board of directors of the Kentucky Education Association.

The emergency teachers number 10 out of 18,000, compared to 10 last year. An emergency teacher is one called in to keep the schools open when no regularly qualified teacher is available.

Some are excellent teachers, Adrian Doran, of Wingo, president of the K. E. A., and chairman of the board, said. He explained they had their qualifications because of their five years to engage in teaching. Others are college graduates, but did not earn sufficient credits in educational subjects.

But these are the exceptions, Doran said. Blame for the situation is placed on the fact that living conditions are increasing and teachers' salaries, particularly in rural areas, are not keeping pace. In 1944-45 was $960 a year for 12-month teachers.

It is not available for this year, but it was estimated the average salary for all Kentucky teachers would be $1,375, compared to an average of $1,202 for all Kentucky teachers last year. Doran said it was difficult to hold teachers in view of increases in living costs.

What is the solution? Doran and other K. E. A. officials said they do not have the answer.

But they are preparing for some part of action. To that end a series of conferences has been arranged jointly by J. F. Williams, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Doran.

The conferences on School Problems will be attended by school administrators, principals, attendance officers, superintendents and representative classroom teachers. One of these meetings will be held in Ashland Dec. 10.

TIDBITS OF KNOWLEDGE

By GORDON

Western Kentucky Teachers' Co

EDUCATION

EDUCATION is now, I sometimes think, not alone graduate work even high school. Everybody has a radio and a telephone party line to ask about the weather, the news of the day if you know how to use them, while you are talking, you might be listening to a program of Somebody-or-other and at the end of the line from hearing the same thing.

When books were scarce and reading took on a more communal character, usually worn out from use, not hard to find. If the paper of the book was usually, it might be badly torn or the type finally disappeared as kindling. A story magazine, even the pulp-paper, after every member of the family had read the advertisements, the magazine was less fortunate, or it was folded carelessly and things too dear to burn.

No one household had many books, but all had some books, so rather representative group of books accepting others from the neighbors, return or to borrow books would have been as just that sort of thing took place of poems, travel books, biographies, and way around, the fingerprints showing understood or not.

The old custom of reading aloud to people could not read well enough, easy to sit and smoke or dream and there would be interruptions and children were not the only ones who listened with joy, and interest. As I have said long ago, my mother with the sonorous lines of "Evening" some of Mary Jane Helmes' tearful novels, I have been glad, for probably many of the essays of this column were written with oral reading in mind. Certainly I could never have thought of some of the cadences, good or bad, if I had not unconsciously or consciously said the sentence half aloud as I typed.

And then there were many places where literature was discussed. At school we heard a lot about some of the things we read; sometimes the neighborhood literary society, which met at homes through the winter months, discussed some genuine literature; and around the fire when neighbors came to sit till bedtime the books that everybody knew got many a re-telling and discussion. We did not live in a vacuum; everything we did had a neighborhood or communal significance. In that way there were hundreds of things that even bookless people knew, though they probably did not think of themselves as lovers of books or what books contained. Aside from discussions about disputed passages in the Bible there was always an astonishing breadth of view about these round-the-fire book or story reviews. Viewed from the vantage point of forty years, there were entirely too many communal things, but by contrast our individual lives seem pretty selfish, our culture tentuous, our interests narrow.

May Is Among Those Eligible To Legislator Pension Pay

Of the 121 present members of Congress who won't go back to Washington next year for one reason or another, only 28 will be able to start drawing pensions immediately when their checks as lawmakers quit coming.

Thirty-three others — now too young — will qualify as soon as they reach 62.

But none of the remaining 59 "lame ducks" is eligible under the Congressional Reorganization Act passed in the closing days of the last session. The 62 who are have until January 2 to decide whether they want to accept the retirement pay.

The principal requirement is six years of Congressional service, not necessarily consecutive. The pensions vary according to the length of service, age at the time of retirement, and the amount contributed.

No one can receive a pension while still in Congress or while holding any federal position. Neither can anyone receive it until he becomes 62 years of age.

Generally speaking, members participating must contribute six per cent annually of their congressional salaries and may not draw in excess of three-fourths of their pay at the time of retirement. Payments are computed on the basis of two and one-half per cent of annual pay for each year of service.

The 18 retiring House members with enough service and age to start receiving payments next year include Congressman A. J. May, Prestonsburg.

Thirty other House members who won't be back next year have the required six years of service and aren't 62. They include O'Neal of Kentucky.

For some of the eligibles, annual benefits for the rest of their lives will exceed the entire amount of payments, since the law requires a minimum contribution of only $2,716 to cover the last five years of service.

For example, by paying the $2,716, 71-year-old Rep. Summers, with 34 years of House service, can draw $6,182 a year, if he signs up. And Rep. May, also 71 with 15 years in Congress can draw $3,376 annually. Each could increase the benefits by paying contributions for the entire length of their service. Summers could draw $7,500 annually if he paid in $14,789; May could draw $3,958 by paying $8,463.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Lesson In Conservation

We were sitting on Bill Webster's porch the other night, chatting over a glass of beer—when the talk turned to forest preservation, soil erosion, and other things that affect a farming community.

Judge Cunningham speaks up: "It's all right to worry about conserving our natural resources," he says, "but there's a far bigger problem when it comes to conservation—and that's preserving our democratic way of life, our sense of personal freedom, our respect for one another's rights."

From where I sit, the Judge is right. All America's great resources, our abundant natural wealth, are lost the minute we lose the right to work them as free people in a free land!

Whenever you see or hear of an encroachment on our rights—whether it's the right to free speech, or the right to vote as we see fit, or the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer in licensed, law-abiding places... watch out!

NEWS FOR THE VETERAN
 National Service Life Insurance files for World War II veterans of Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky are now located at the Veterans Administration Branch Office No. 6, 52 South Starling Street, Columbus 8, Ohio, VA officials announced recently.
 With the transfer of over 1,700,000 NSLI accounts from the New York office to Columbus, World War II vets in the three-state area will now send their premium payments to the Columbus Branch Office address. As a matter of convenience veterans (or their dependents) can pay insurance premiums at the nearest VA pay-station.
 The correct procedure for all Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky veterans to follow in paying their insurance premiums was outlined by VA officials as follows:
 1. World War II Vets: Those holding NSLI policies (for World War II vets) use the nearest VA collections office or mail check or money order to Collections Division, Veterans Administration, Branch No. 6 52 So. Starling Street, Columbus, Ohio.
 2. World War I Vets: Those holding United States government Life Insurance policies (for World War I vets) send premiums to Veterans Administration, Collections Division, Washington 25, D. C.
 3. Military Personnel: All military personnel on active duty status, including veterans who have re-enlisted, may have their premiums deducted through Army Finance channels, or mail premiums to Veterans Administration, Collections Division, 346 Broadway, New York 13, New York.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Q. I understand that term insurance which has lapsed can be reinstated before Feb. 1, 1947 by paying two premiums without interest and submitting a statement as to the insured's health. What is necessary to reinstate a lapsed converted policy?
 A. A lapsed converted policy may be reinstated at any time by payment of all monthly premiums in arrears, with interest at their several due dates at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, and by submission of insurability satisfactory to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs.
 Q. Can I change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of my National Service Insurance without letting the beneficiaries know anything about it?
 A. Yes. A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his NSLI at any time without their knowledge or consent by notifying the Veterans Administration. For further information the veteran should consult the nearest Veterans Administration office.
 Q. How can I arrange to have my National Service Life Insurance premiums deducted from the disability compensation checks I receive from the Veterans Administration?
 A. You can do this if you will go to any Veterans Administration office and fill out a form authorizing the VA to make deductions from your compensation payments.
 For further information get in touch with the nearest Veterans Administration office. Estel L. McKinney, Contact Representative, is in charge of the local contact office which is located in the U.S. Employment Service office, First avenue, Prestonsburg, Ky.

HOTELS for LIVESTOCK
 The central livestock market is as American as the "hot dog." No other country has the like of it. European sellers and buyers haggle over individual animals. In South America most of the dealing is done right on the estancias, where the livestock is raised. But here in the leading livestock nation of the world, for 75 years central markets have played a big part in the job of moving meat toward dinner tables of the United States.
 When a carload of livestock rolls off the prairies or out of the mountains into one of the 65 or more great central markets, the animals are "greeted" and "registered" at the unloading dock, much as travelers are received and registered in hotels. From there they are sent to their "rooms"—the pens assigned to the commission man to whom the owner has shipped his animals. There these hogs, cattle, calves and lambs are rested and given food and drink.
 Just as hotels compete for guests, so these central markets compete with each other for the business of accommodating the 88 million head of livestock which come in each year. Thousands of livestock buyers and order buyers bid against each other and the sale is made to the highest bidder. With 26,000 meat packers and other commercial slaughterers active in livestock buying, it is easy to see that the American livestock marketing system is the most competitive in the world.

 These "livestock hotels" are a separate branch of the livestock-meat industry. They are privately owned. Swift & Company does not own a single share of any stockyards company.

Thanksgiving
 In this Thanksgiving month, the people of our nation—and of many other nations—owe a debt of gratitude to the ranchers and farmers of America. All through the war, in spite of its tremendous requirements, our people ate well. And in spite of sharing with the earth's hungry, our people are still eating well. Today, to be sure, not all the meat they would like to have... but plenty of nutritious food to keep them well and strong. That is because for long years millions of farm and ranch men, women and children have kept the food supply up, working harder than ever before, overcoming shortages of help and machinery and many other obstacles. Yes, Americans may well offer thanks this month to all those who produce our food.

SPREAD
 When visiting with livestock producers on farms or ranches, or at meetings, the subject of "spread" often comes up for discussion. Then I give them an explanation of the difference between the price they get for livestock and the price meat packers receive for the meat we sell.
 To me it is a source of continual surprise that the spread is not greater than it is. During my years of experience in the livestock-meat industry, here is what I have learned about spread. We at Swift & Company have been paying farmers and ranchers approximately 76¢, on the average, out of every dollar we receive from those to whom we sell, for all products we process and handle, including hides, glands, and all by-products. That leaves us 24¢ to cover the cost of processing and marketing.
 Out of the 24¢ comes the cost of buying livestock and other agricultural products. The cost of preparation and refrigeration. The cost of loading them into cars and trucks. The cost of transporting them to our branch houses or to retailers. The cost of branch house operation and of selling and delivering the products to the retail dealers. In addition, we have taxes to pay; plus insurance and all the other necessary costs of doing business. When all these expenses have been paid, we make a profit, which over a period of years has averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the 6 1/2 billion pounds of products we handle annually.
 There is no other business in the country that does so much for so little.
 F.M. Simpson,
 Agricultural Research Department

Soda Bill Sez:
 ... to be a success at farming, you have to dig in.
 ... if you want to realize that cattle in the air, you had better get down to earth first.

The mechanical device pictured above shoots the ball marked A and at the same instant drops the ball marked B straight down. It certainly looks as if B will hit the ground first, since ball A has so much farther to go. But the fact is that they will both strike the ground at precisely the same instant.
 In our business, too, things are not always as they seem. On September 1, 1946, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reported that in the entire country there were 356 million pounds of meat stocks in cold storage. That is a lot of pounds. But actually it is the lowest on record for that date... and compares with 626 million a year ago and a 631-million average for 1941-1945. Here in America we eat about 50 million pounds of meat a day, so the September 1 supply of meat in cold storage was barely enough to feed us for seven days.

PREPARATION OF CORN FOR CATTLE FEEDING
 by P. S. Shearer
 Iowa State College
 How should Corn Belt cattle feeders prepare corn to get best results from their feeding? As ear corn, shelled corn, corn-and-cob meal, or ground shelled corn? The following may be helpful in deciding:
 1. Are hogs following the cattle? If not, the evidence seems clear that grinding either the whole ear or shelled corn will pay. Feeding ear corn is especially wasteful if hogs are not following the cattle, or if lots are muddy and the hogs have little chance to salvage corn thrown out of the bunks or passed through the sters.
 2. Is the corn hard or soft? Corn varieties differ

In the greatest peacetime expansion of its officer corps in history, the army is now seeking candidates for 25,000 regular army commissions in the grades of second and first lieutenant, captain and major, it was announced by Major General Edward F. Witsell, last week.

All new applications must be forwarded by Dec. 31, and the supplemental applications of previous candidates by Nov. 30.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY
The new heading for my weekly pieces in this newspaper is right. Kentucky is on the march. It is moving toward better things, toward a place in the sun.
After 50 years of limping behind the more progressive states our Commonwealth has thrown away its walking cane.
Yes, we are going places. The progress made thus far by the Committee for Kentucky certainly has made a convert of me, and that is a notable accomplishment, because up to 11 months ago I was a chronic skeptic. I had always felt that Kentucky had too many lazy people, family tree leaners and bankroll sitters to ever get in step with the more progressive states until a new generation was born.
I diagnosed the state's ailment incurable hookworm.
In concrete results we have not startled the world as yet, but the groundwork for progress is done. Getting the old rural school tax limit of 75 cents per $100 worth of assessed property, which kept our schools in poverty, raised to $150, was an achievement that made educational history. And it is only a first step in the Committee for Kentucky's march in behalf of better schools.
The committee's revelations have turned the spotlight on the deplorable condition of our welfare institutions and our public health service. It has given the public a liberal education in the matter of public roads.
And local work for improvement in all these fields is beginning to yield results.
The Committee for Kentucky has made more headway in organizing the state for civic betterment than was ever made in one year in any state, city or county.
Our army of marchers numbers upward of 400,000 people. They include representative individuals and such representative state-wide organizations as: Kentucky County Agents Association, Kentucky branch of American Association of University Women, Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Kentucky Association of Colored Women, Kentucky Conference of Social Welfare, Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, Kentucky Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, Kentucky Merchants Association, Kentucky Municipal League, Kentucky Negro Education Association, Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association, Kentucky Press Association, Kentucky State Building and Construction Trades Council, Kentucky State Federation of Labor, Kentucky State Medical Association, Kentucky State Dental Association, Kentucky State CIO, Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, Kentucky Vocational Association, Kentucky Workers Education Council, Kentucky Education Association, Kentucky Retail Lumber Dealers, Kentucky Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, Kentucky School Boards Association, Kentucky Association of Deans of Women, Girl Scouts of Kentucky, Kentucky Library Association, Consumers League of Kentucky, Kentucky Drug Travelers Association.
And the enlisting of organizations in the Committee for Kentucky probably isn't much more than half done.
And we must not overlook the support given by daily and weekly newspapers and most of the state's periodicals. The daily and weekly press demonstrated their faith in the movement for a better Kentucky when over 100 of them gave space to this column. Scores of papers are backing the Committee for Kentucky editorially.
Yes, Kentucky IS on the march!

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will, pursuant to an order and resolution duly adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Martin, Floyd county, Kentucky, at the door of the Town Hall of said Town between the hours of 9:00 and 11:00 in the forenoon on the 26 day of November, 1946, offer for sale to the highest and best bidder, and receive bids for the right, privilege, franchise and authority to acquire, construct, maintain, and operate in the streets, alleys and public places in the Town of Martin, Floyd county, Kentucky and its successors pipe lines, service lines and other necessary appliances and fixtures for the distribution of natural and artificial gas to the town of Martin and the inhabitants thereof, and persons and corporations beyond the limits thereof, for light, heat, power and any other purposes, and for the transmission of same with in, through, or across said town, subject to the following conditions, to-wit:

(b) The right, privilege and franchise shall be in full force and effect for a period of twenty years from the date of the ordinance granting such Franchise.

(d) The grantee of such franchise shall have the right to make excavation in the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places (as the same now exist or may hereafter be laid out), of the Town of Martin, Kentucky, as may be necessary for the construction, maintenance, operation, repair or removal of any part of its plant or distribution system, at any time, and for such purposes may obstruct said streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places, provided, however, that whenever the said grantee of this franchise shall begin such excavation it shall promptly and diligently prosecute the work to completion and leave the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places, where such work was done in as good condition of repair as before such work was commenced.

Each person or corporation desiring to bid for said franchise shall deposit with the Treasurer of the Town of Martin, cash or certified check drawn on a bank of this Commonwealth or on a National Bank in the amount of $1,500.00 being five (5 pct.) per cent of the fair, estimated cost of a plant required to render said service. The said deposit shall be forfeited to the City in case the bid is accepted and the bidder making such deposit fails for thirty days after the confirmation of the sale to pay the price bid and to give good and sufficient bond in a sum equal to 1/4th of the fair estimated cost of the plant to be erected as aforesaid; the said bond shall be conditioned that it shall be enforceable in case the party giving it should fail within a reasonable time to establish a suitable plant for rendering the service and to begin rendering the services in the manner set forth, according to the terms and conditions thereof. Provided, however, that the provisions as to deposit and bond shall not apply to any bidder owning in the said Town of Martin, a plant and equipment sufficient to render the services required under the terms and provisions thereof and the franchise to be granted.

The Board of Trustees of said Town of Martin reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Two Dead, 64 are Homeless In Ashland Apartment Fire

Ashland, Ky., Nov. 17.—Fire swept through two frame apartment houses here early today, fatally burning two tenants and leaving two nearby houses which were destroyed, leaving 18 families homeless.
Several other persons were burned or hurt in jumping to safety from the second floors of the adjoining two-story apartment buildings. None of the persons were injured seriously.
Fire Chief Burris Henley identified the fatally burned victims as Arthur Henry Bolton, 67, house painter, and Mrs. Hilma Hall Boggs, 39.
George S. Kimblen, owner of one of the apartment buildings, said Bolton and Mrs. Boggs apparently were trapped by the flames. They had apartments on the first floor of one of the structures.
Kimblen estimated his loss at $60,000. There was no over-all estimate of the damage, which included virtually all the clothing, furniture and other household effects of the occupants.
Chief Henley, who said the origin of the fire had not been determined, gave credit to an attendant at a nearby filling station for turning in the alarm. The blaze broke out about 1:14 a.m.
Although the firemen concentrated on saving structures near the scene, one cottage and another house in the rear of the apartments also were destroyed.
The homeless families, numbering 64 persons, sheltered about in small groups or found shelter with friends and relatives.
A five-month-old baby girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, was tossed to safety by her father from the second floor of the Kimblen apartment into the arms of Ed Johnson, her uncle, who occupied other rooms in the building.
Mr. and Mrs. Johnson then saved themselves by jumping to a low roof and climbing to the ground. Mrs. Katherine Bostic, 16-year-old sister of Mrs. Johnson, and wife of a navy man in service, was bruised and cut in jumping to the ground.
The fire made Ashland's acute housing shortage still more serious. Few of the families had any immediate prospect of finding new homes.
The Ashland Red Cross announced, after an emergency meeting, that housing and feeding would be

To the Men and Women of Floyd County

The election is over. The people have spoken. I wish to thank each and every one for giving to me the opportunity to serve my people. As I write this I can but feel humble as I realize the great indebtedness I owe to you all. I can only hope that you realize that my foremost desire is to serve you as best my abilities will permit me. It is my only way to repay you.

I want you people to call on me, to ask favors, to tell me how you desire me to vote on important issues, and to write me your problems. I ask that you call on me at any time I can be of service to you.

My job is to serve my country and many changes are needed. We must get ourselves back on the track—the track that leads us to the freedom of action that we in this country love. We must remove from our country any taint of any ISM be it one leaning to the left or to the right. Our great constitution does not point either to the right or to the left.

I want to thank the veterans of the district for their support of a buddy. I am glad that I can be of service to you. We need much legislation for veterans and I will be constantly on the alert for my buddies.

I want to thank the miners and the laboring men and women for your support. You have elected a friend. You shoulder the burdens of the world and you need friends in Washington.

To business men and to industry I wish to say that free enterprise is, in my opinion, our very backbone. We must have more business in government and less government in business. We must reduce government spending and in turn lift part of the burden of taxes. We must provide for growth and expansion of private-owned business. We must encourage private business and discourage all leanings toward state socialism. We must all fight to protect the coal industry. We must fight for expanded markets. We must fight for our major industry just as the south fights for its cotton, the midwest for its wheat, and the east for its textiles.

Again I thank all of you, and REMEMBER I am

'Impoverished' Includes Intellectually Starved, Club Speaker Declares
Wheelwright, Ky., Nov. 18 (SpL)—The Wheelwright Woman's Club met in Community Hall Monday evening with 28 members present. The meeting was opened by the flag salute and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Mrs. Yale Rogers. A few minutes of silent meditation was observed in memory of Armistice Day. Twenty-five dollars was donated to the local Girl Scout drive for funds.
Every member came wearing something representing a book in observation of National Book Week. Art and much originality in the representation of books kept everyone busily engaged during the early part of the meeting trying to guess the books represented. A prize was given for the best and cleverest representation, won by Mrs. H. M. Wilkinson, Sr., for her lapel decoration of "The Green Years," written by Dr. A. J. Cronin. A prize was awarded Mrs. P. E. Conley for guessing the most books. Out of a possible 28, Mrs. Conley guessed 16.
Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. W. Turner, who spoke on "Impoverished Children," stressing the plight of those not physically impoverished but those suffering from lack of proper reading material. She called on club members to help the children of surrounding communities by influencing one or more to read a better book. Among books she recommended for wholesome, interesting reading were: "Chicken Every Sunday," "Three Times I Bow," "Roughly Speaking," "Life With Father," "Immortal Wife," "My Chinese Wife" and especially most of the biographies being written.
At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Mesdames Blaine Smith, Yale Rogers, Stephen W. Clark and Hobart Smith. Mrs. Don A. Dennison, mother of Mrs. George F. Leatherman, was a guest.
ATTEND MEETING
State Officers Mrs. C. P. Stephens, historian, and Mrs. Everett Sowards, recording secretary, of the Daughters of Colonial Wars, Mrs. E. P. Arnold, Mrs. Jo M. Davidson and Mrs. Lida Spradlin attended the fall meeting at the Lafayette hotel Wednesday in Lexington.
