

his Town-- That World

WHEW! After last week's TIMES had been printed, a Waterfield man pranced in to inform us that our banner headline, "CLEMMENTS, DUMMITT WIN PRIMARY," wasn't correct. We were on the verge of remarking that it was a heck of a time to point out our error with the paper already printed, mailed, and delivered, etc., when the visitor eased matters with his explanation: "It should have read, 'CLEMMENTS - DUMMITT - WINS PRIMARY.'"

ENCOURAGING Whatever some of us, irked to a degree or so beyond the boiling point, have had to say about one J. J. John Watkins, Kentucky commissioner of highways, the guy is, after all, as witness his program against candidates' uses of highway rights-of-way for posting their pictures: "It is a direct violation of law. While we have had an unusually handsome group of political candidates, the signs have encouraged motorists, had insurance and insecticide advertisers to follow the lead candidates."

TESTING CHARACTER-WO? He's not even Superman. He's just Superman's bosom pal and right-hand man. In fact, says this man who is held in the county jail for a lunacy hearing, he and Superman only recently returned from the moon where they sipped a gallon or a bushel of germs with which to destroy the world. "If I had my cape, I could fly right out of here," he told jail attendants. "My youngster caught smuggling a German cape into the jail will be hit with severely.—Ed.)"

FOR this happily demoted soul is altogether a victim of an overabundance of "funny books." He's been reading the sports pages, too—and that's bad! He avows he has knocked out Joe Louis not less than three times, receiving therefor the munificent sum of $25 per fight. "But Joe," he says, "was such a good sport about it, I let him keep 'em."

He hasn't yelled any magic words in an attempt to prove his connection with Superman. But he did demonstrate to Magistrate Roberts the dynamite in his pants. Roberts conceded the point of argument.

WAR VETERAN ELECTROCUTED

John Bascom Clarke Is Victim at David Of Welding Machine

John Bascom Clarke, 29-year-old World War II veteran, was electrocuted Saturday night while doing electric welding for the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David. He died almost instantly. The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Clarke, of the Auxier road, near here, and during the war saw overseas service. His wide popularity in this vicinity was betokened by the large gathering at his funeral Tuesday afternoon, and the profusion of floral offerings. Surviving besides his parents, are six brothers and one sister: Montaine, Clyde, William, Arnold, Tom Ed and Thurman Clarke, all of Prestonsburg and vicinity, and Mrs. Norma Pigg, of Paintsville. His funeral Tuesday afternoon was conducted on the day he was to have married Miss Estella Collinsworth, of Prestonsburg. The rites were conducted from the home of his parents, the Revs. Everett L. Branham, Isaac Stratton and James Roark officiating. Military honors were accorded at the funeral by Floyd Post, American Legion, and Walter K. Bowling Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Burial in the family cemetery on the Auxier road was directed by the Arnold Funeral Home.

GRID PRACTISE GETS TOUGHER

Next Week, Business Of Line Scrimmages In Store for Eleven

Realization of the hours of hard work lying between the beginning of football practise, Monday of last week, and the opening game at Whitesburg Sept. 13 has dawned on the Prestonsburg high school football squad after a full week of warming-up exercises, studying of plays and sitting through long sessions at the blackboard. And going into this, the second week of training, the practise sessions become longer and tougher. Emphasis now will be placed on wind sprints, signal and blocking drills. Next week, the boys will be hard at it in full-uniform line scrimmages, with perhaps one long scrimmage Friday afternoon. The vital importance of this pre-season training schedule continues to be stressed by Coach Elbauer, who is introducing the T-formation to Prestonsburg high school football. "Each individual candidate for the squad, in order to fulfill his obligation to his team, must attend every meeting and practise, and, above all, must be punctual," he emphasizes. "An unexcused absence," he added with finality, "will result in immediate dismissal from the squad."

Early practise sessions indicate that the speedsters in the backfield are "Set" Branham, Bill Goble, Henry Mayo and Robert Goodman. Charles Bradley may be counted on heavily for his blocking ability. The line is comparatively light, averaging around 150 pounds. Paul Harmon and Roger Spradlin should prove to be bulwarks in the line. Others who have shown indications that they will be heard from this fall are: Charles Porter, who handles the ball very nicely from the "T"-formation, and who also does the kicking; Sidney Ball, a rough guard; Herbert Weddington, a hard-working center; Jim Durham, a hard-driving end; Tom Spradlin, a 13-year-old 178-pounder fighting for a regular berth at one of the tackle positions; Wheeler Branham and Don Woods, each striving for a starting guard berth; diminutive Edward Garber, a fast end, and Donald Willis, a shifty fullback. Many other players who have not been mentioned will be, in all probability, in the starting lineup, come the first game. An inter-squad game will be played Friday, Aug. 22. All townswpeople are invited to the practices held at Gasco Park at 2:30 daily. The regular schedule for this year has not been entirely completed. Games already scheduled follow: Sept. 13, Whitesburg, there; Sept. 20, Beltry (pending); Sept. 27, Russell, here; Oct. 4, Hazard, there; Oct. 11, Jenkins, there; Oct. 17, Pikeville, there; Oct. 25, Louisa, here; Nov. 1, Raceland, there; Nov. 8, Fleming (pending); Nov. 14, Paintsville, there; THANKSGIVING, Paintsville, here (pending).

Fall Injuries Fatal To Dick Moore, 74; Rites Held Sunday

Internal injuries suffered in a fall at his home at Dony, August 2, resulted in the death Friday at the Greenheart hospital, Martin, of Dick Moore, 74-year-old farmer. Mr. Moore, a native of this county, was a son of the late William and Jane Moore. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and was highly esteemed in his community. EXPECT 200 TO ATTEND LUNCHEON

Five Congressmen, Engineers To Tour Big Sandy Section

A tour of inspection by a Congressional group and U.S. engineers of the proposed Big Sandy canalization project will be highlighted Monday at a luncheon given by the Big Sandy Valley Association at the Paintsville Country Club. Five Congressmen—Frederick A. Muhlenberg, Reading, Pa., member of the House committee on public works, W. Howes Meade, Paintsville, Joe B. Bates, Greenup, T. A. Jenkins, Ironton, O., and Hubert S. Ellis, of West Virginia—will be accompanied on the tour by Col. A. M. Neilson, chief of the Huntington office, U.S. district engineers, and others of the corps of engineers. These and Governor Simeon S. Willis are listed as among the 200 persons expected to attend the Paintsville luncheon. The official party will attend a conference in Col. Neilson's Huntington office Tuesday relative to the proposed $85,000,000 lock-and-dam project on the Big Sandy and its two tributaries, the Levisa and the Tug. Following the Paintsville luncheon, the party will inspect the head of the Big Sandy area, and from there go to Pond Creek to inspect the Eastern Coal Corporation's mines. From there the tour will touch Sprigg, W. Va., and back to Ashland Tuesday. Congressman Muhlenberg, head of the inspection trip, is a former U. S. district engineer. A number of Floyd countians interested in canalization of the Big Sandy plan to attend the luncheon at Paintsville.

VANCE, DIALS FLEE PRISON

Is Word from LaGrange; Floyd Lifer in Break For Liberty Saturday

Floyd county authorities have been notified by LaGrange reformatory officials to maintain a watch for two prison inmates from this county who fled the reformatory last Saturday night. The fugitives are Curt Vance, who was serving a life sentence for the murder of his cousin, Sallie Tendzowski, and Jimmy Dials, under one-year sentence for house-breaking. Particulars of the convicts' escape were not given. Vance was convicted of the Tendzowski slaying Sept. 24, 1946 after a jury here had deliberated 10 minutes. He pleaded self-defense, contending the woman was punching him with a revolver while her daughter was hitting him with a bucket and a club, but the Commonwealth offered evidence to the effect that Mrs. Tendzowski was unarmed and that Vance was standing when he fired at her. He began serving his sentence, early last October. Dials was convicted April 19, this year.

P'BURG SPLITS TWIN BILL

Stumbo's Arrival in Time To Save Second Contest For League 2nd Placers

Prestonsburg won the first game of a doubleheader here Sunday over Pikeville and, but for the ride of Buck Stumbo from McDowell, twenty miles away, would in all probability have taken the seven-inning nightcap. As it was, Prestonsburg retained its Eastern Kentucky Baseball League leadership with an easy 11 to 4 win in the opener, despite Pikeville's 7-4 victory in the last game of the sunny, sunny afternoon. The loop-leaders ganged up on Luke Kidd, Pikeville righthander, to score five runs off him in five innings, at the end of which he called it a day because of the heat. Vance left his place behind the plate to take the mound in his stead and got by well until the eighth when a spell of wildness and his teammates' errors got him in trouble. Elkins came on to finish up. Hammond, a 13-year-old 178-pounder fighting for a regular berth at one of the tackle positions; Wheeler Branham and Don Woods, each striving for a starting guard berth; diminutive Edward Garber, a fast end, and Donald Willis, a shifty fullback. Many other players who have not been mentioned will be, in all probability, in the starting lineup, come the first game. An inter-squad game will be played Friday, Aug. 22. He is in the Prestonsburg General hospital, where it was said he will recover. He was burned from his waist down and on his hands. Mrs. Miller, a native of Perry county, was a daughter of Sterling and Anna Daniels, of Minnie. She is survived by her husband, her parents, and two sons, Arnold and Raymond, Jr. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the residence at Minnie, the Revs. Perry Sexton and Merlin Mullins officiating. Three Killed in Wreck

First Guaranty Bank Now in New Building Considered Fireproof

The First Guaranty Bank last Thursday moved into the new building which had been under construction at Martin since the bank's founding, 15 months ago. The bank opened in the former Mahood drugstore building and because of inadequate accommodations was unable to handle all available accounts. G. C. Spradlin, cashier, explained. "The larger space in our new, fireproof building and complete furnishings, however gives us all the facilities of any modern bank," he added. The new building, erected by W. J. Turner, of Drift, president of the bank, is 30x65 feet and has a vault, 18x24 feet, with Mosler doors.

Terrific pounding the Ford station wagon took in last Saturday morning's wreck, near Salyersville, with three persons killed, is evident in this picture. The twisted remnants of the car attracted a steady stream of the curious to view it here over the week-end.

CAR WITH FIVE PLUNGES DOWN MOUNTAINSIDE

Democratic Nominee, Wife Escape Death Near Salyersville

A 1,400-mile trip to and from Missouri by Henry C. Hale, of Blue River, Democratic nominee for Representative from this legislative district, ended within 20 miles of his Middle Creek home shortly after daybreak last Saturday morning in the plunge of his station wagon over a 200-foot precipice outside Salyersville and the deaths of his five-months-old daughter, his mother and his great-uncle. The dead: Mrs. Susie Stephens Hale, 51, of Blue River; Sam Stephens, 81, Seymour, Mo., and Carla Lynn Hale, 5 months.

Mrs. Winifred C. Osborne, wife of Henry Hale, was seriously injured, and Mr. Hale suffered chest injuries and shock, but neither was critically hurt. Mr. Hale, shaken by the tragedy, told friends that as he rounded a sharp curve on the mountain looking Salyersville a heavy log bore down on him, crowding off the edge of the highway. Feeling his peril, he vainly attempted his car back into the high cut. "It sounded like a house falling down the cliff," said Ambrus A. Prestonsburg barber, who resides in the Dixie suburb of Salyersville across the Licking river from the scene of the tragedy. He was one of the first to reach the stricken party. The station wagon careened toward the river, riding over bushes and rocks until it struck a tree almost at the edge of the river. Before or as the car stopped, all five of its occupants, except the baby, were thrown clear of the wreckage—Mr. and Mrs. Hale into Licking river.

Mrs. Hale floated some distance before her cries for help led a young man named McFarlane to where she had grasped the overhanging branch of a tree. Her baby was pinned beneath the wreckage. It died instantly of a crushed skull. Mrs. Susie Hale was also instantly killed, her neck broken. Mr. Stephens succumbed shortly after reaching the Paintsville hospital, two hours later, of head and body injuries. Mrs. Henry Hale suffered a fractured pelvis, it was said. (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

NOW IT'S ALL CLEAR WHY PRISONERS AT COUNTY JAIL WERE IN FOG; ONE ARRESTED ON 'DOPE' SMUGGLING WRIT

The mystery surrounding the spillification of some of the prisoners at the jail over the last several weeks is out, and another citizen is in. Jailer Everett Collins and his assistants were briefly puzzled by the "hopped up" condition of some of the prisoners, weeks ago. "They would walk over an elephant," one of his assistants said, describing the prisoners' actions. They were strangely restless, sometimes pugnacious; the pupils of their eyes were abnormally dilated. It didn't take long to discover that the prisoners were getting on cheap jags by the use of inhalator sticks containing benzedrine. A strip or so peeled off a stick, chewed and swallowed with coffee for a chaser—and your prisoner was off on a "high lonesome" from which he didn't fully recover for a couple of days. Tuesday night, one John D. Collins, of the Beaver Creek section of the county, was searched at the jail. One of the inhalator sticks was in his possession. Questioned, he confessed taking them into the jail. He was booked on a charge of smuggling dope to prisoners.

AMERICA CAN RIDE STORMS

If People Stay Awake And Unafraid, Vinson Says in Louisa Speech

Louisa, Ky., Aug. 10—Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson declared today this nation "can ride through storms as long as the American people are awake and as long as there is no fear." Speaking from the steps of the building in which he was born 57 years ago, "a very tender spot" for Vinson, the Chief Justice dedicated the Vancouver Memorial Marker, commemorating the first white settlement in this area. A crowd of about 500 was on hand for the occasion, sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution who erected the monument. The monument is across the street from the building, the home of Louisa's American Legion post. At the time of Vinson's birth, the building was a jail and his father was the jailer. The Chief Justice related that his grandfather, James Vinson, had settled here in 1800, eleven years after a group led by Charles Vancouver established a fort which took Vancouver's name. He said "Our forefathers had courage," and added that, then as now, "it does not pay to be afraid." "We want nothing others have," Vinson asserted "but we are not going to permit our rights and liberties to be impinged upon by others." The Chief Justice described an optimist as "one who can see a little light." "A pessimist," he said, "is one who comes along and puts out the light. I am an optimist." He added: "If there is a sedative given the American people, something will happen, but if the American people stay awake and do not snooze everything will be all right." "We will not permit the world to be revolutionized. We, as a people should not be material. It is our obligation to keep for our children the liberties that our parents died for us. Let us keep our aims high."

Jailed YOUTH TRIES SUICIDE

Indiana Boy, Jailed In Car Theft, Tries To Hang Self Monday

Don Ringland, 17-year-old Indiana youth who was arrested Sunday and held for investigation in the theft of an automobile, attempted suicide by hanging himself in the county jail Monday night. The youth had fashioned a noose of his belt, tied the free end to a cell bar and jumped from his bunk. He was freed by Deputy Jailer Bill Potter, after other prisoners called for help. Placed in solitary confinement and his clothing removed, Ringland then began tearing strips from a mattress, declaring his determination to end his life. The mattress was removed. The youth claims the automobile, of alleged theft of which he, Azzie Newsome and Tramble Tackett, of the Mud Creek section, were arrested, belongs to him.

MAY ABANDON NEGOTIATIONS

For Road Right-of-Way To David; Court Says Prices Asked Too High

There is a strong possibility, county officials said this week, that the Floyd fiscal court will drop all negotiations toward procuring right-of-way for completion of surfacing of the David road. Unless rights-of-way are procured by the county for widening and straightening of the route over a dozen or more tracts of land, a state will not surface the road, three-mile "missing link." The county has budgeted only $10,000 for right-of-way purchase, and officials said the fund could not be exhausted on this one strip of road while other sections of the county are without roads. Officials termed amounts asked for David road rights-of-way unreasonable. Meanwhile, the state was nearing completion of grade and drain of the State Road Fork route which connects the Cliff-Bonanza road with the Prestonsburg-Salyersville highway and which reduces the distance from Prestonsburg to Salyersville to a mere dozen miles. Gravel surfacing has been promised the new road by the state. Approximately two miles of the Spurlock road has been graded, and 1,000 tons of gravel have been allocated for its surface. The county, it was said this week by County Judge Alex L. Davidson, will grade the road on beyond the point where the state recently stopped. Work by the state Highway Department may not be resumed on the road until next spring.

WOMAN'S WORK IS SOONER DONE ... WITH ELECTRICITY!

GO ALL-ELECTRIC

INVESTIGATE OUR PURCHASE PLAN

THE modern Farmer's Daughter enjoys all the comforts of a city home, all the release from drudgery that her city rival has, plus the joys of the wide open spaces . . . for the successful farm of today uses electricity all around the farmstead as well as in the house.

The same Electricity that lights your house and farm for convenience and safety, runs your refrigerator, range, water heater and innumerable small electric appliances that make housework easy. Around the farm, portable motors are indispensable and profitable. And speaking of profits—refrigeration lowers the bacteria count in your milk, milking machines save labor, and feed grinders help to fatten your livestock.

This is the Electric Age—Keep your farm up to date by utilizing Electricity to the fullest. The more you use, the lower the unit cost.

THE MORE YOU USE - THE LOWER THE PRICE

Attend Dedication Of D.A.R. Marker

Members of John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, attended the unveiling and dedication of the monument on the site of Vancouver Fort at the end of the Louisa-Fort Gay bridge Sunday. The marker, dedicated by the Louisa Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, memorializes the first white settlement in this area. Charles Vancouver in February, 1789, led a small group in building a fort which took his name. It consisted of three cabins surrounded by a log stockade. A month after work on the fort was begun an Indian attack caused abandonment of the settlement.

The program began with bugle call by Joe Carter, followed by the invocation by the Rev. L. M. Rogers; Pledge of Allegiance, led by Mrs. Elie McGuire, organizing regent; unveiling the marker by Ann Beth Curtright and Sidney Burns Lindsey; presentation of the marker to the city of Louisa by Mrs. H. H. Curtright, retiring regent; acceptance by Mayor C. T. Britton; introduction of distinguished guests; Mrs. James Wiley Jones, state regent, Daughters of the American Revolution, gave a brief talk. Other D.A.R. state officers present were Mrs. Stephen T. Davis, treasurer, Mrs. Collis P. Hudson, recording secretary, Mrs. Iley B. Browning, a national vice-chairman, Mrs. Sidney Trivette, regent of Pikeville Chapter, Mrs. Davis M. Howerton, regent of Poage Chapter, Mrs. Dudley Gardner, regent of Indian Mound Chapter, Salyersville.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson and Mrs. Vinson were guests of honor. Chief Justice Vinson gave the address from the platform of the old jail where he was born 57 years ago. Those attending the dedication from here were U.S. District Attorney C. P. Stephens and Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, Mrs. Jo M. Davidson, Mrs. Lida D. Spradlin, Mrs. Everett H. Sowards and George Herman Fitzpatrick.

PONTIAC
A fine car made finer

Luxe Convertible Coupe has been made more beautiful by the instrument panel in colors harmonize with body colors; by lines of deep-pleated, custom-holstery; and by the tasteful use of chrome on windshield, rear view and interior garnish mouldings.

A Product of General Motors

So many things in its favor!

Ask a Pontiac owner why he recommends a Pontiac and he will likely tell you there are so many things in its favor that he finds it difficult to enumerate them all.

He likes its "Silver Streak" styling—so distinctive that you can recognize a Pontiac as far as you can see.

He likes its eager, smooth, quiet performance. He likes its comfort and handling ease. He likes the many fine-car features which make it such a pride to own and such a pleasure to drive. He likes its faithfulness—its ability to stay on the job for year after year with undiminished performance. And, of course, he will mention that he gets all this at a price within easy reach of any new car buyer.

Yes, there are so many things in its favor that your next car should be a Pontiac. You can never do better than a Pontiac!

THE SOONER YOU PLACE YOUR ORDER for a new Pontiac, the earlier you will get it. In the meantime, take care of your present car—you will get more for it when your new car is delivered.

Prestonsburg Girl Wins Camp Honor

Miss Nancy Hughes, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hughes, of Prestonsburg, was signally honored at the Girl Scout camp Sunday by being elected Miss Camp Arrowhead for the week. The election meant that a majority of the campers considered Miss Hughes the best all-around camper among the 65 girls who attended Camp Arrowhead the week of August 3-10.
 Miss Hughes is a member of Troop 40 of Prestonsburg and is in the eighth grade. She spent two weeks at Camp Arrowhead in 1946 and is also spending both weeks at the Sandy Valley Girl Scout camp this year. After the announcement was made that Miss Hughes had been elected, a crown was placed upon her head, she was presented with a ribbon on which "Miss Camp Arrowhead" was printed and was required to carry a bouquet of dahlias during the day.
 Saturday night, the campers observed stunt night. Each of the six units presented a challenge, a funny stunt and a pretty act. After these were completed, a candlelight service was held.
 Sunday, camp was set up for the second week. Those attending are: Misses Mildred Barrett and Doris Rogers, unit leaders; Phyllis Maynard, Barbara Huffman, Donnie Durie Mater, Robin Ann Mayo, Virginia Ann Curry, Lucia Lee Stratton, Phyllis Ann Wright, Judith Carol Walters, and Eleanor Kesse, all of Pikeville; Sarah Gregory and Benjie Honaker, Honaker, Va.; Miss Fae Lou Barrett, camp director and unit leader; Sally Ann Hudson, Joan Moore, Marianne Auxler, Phyllis Ann Faulkner, Wilana Call, Anne Jeannette Dalters, Dolores Johnson and Jean Kesse, all of Pikeville; Miss Blanche Garrett, unit leader; Lila Mae Durham and Barbara Thompson, of David; Alice Kelly, of Jenks; Ann Parker and Patsy Rattiff, of Wheelwright; Miss Fanny H. Howell, unit leader; Jo Linda Seages and Virginia May Bowling, of Pikeville; Emma Joyce Begley and Anita Reed, of Wheelwright; Miss Mary Allen, unit leader; Holley Sue Miller, Louise Layne, Elizabeth Ann Prater, Jeanne Woody and Karen Souder, all of Pikeville; Nancy Albert and Edna Brown, of Honaker; Mrs. E. Driver License Check In Kentucky To Start Friday, Announcement

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 12—Col. Hayward Gilliam, director of the State Highway Patrol, announced today a checkup on drivers' licenses will start Friday.
Drivers found without proper licenses may be subjected to fines from $2 to $500 and imprisonment up to six months, he said.
Gilliam said terms of many insurance policies nullify protection if the insured driver does not have a proper permit. "It is also very often considered in evidence against the driver in case of accident when he is not properly licensed," the Colonel said.
The Attorney General today issued two opinions on motor-vehicle operator licenses.
Otho L. Compton, Phil. Casey county, was advised an operator's license issued by West Virginia is good for 90 days in Kentucky and that West Virginia recognizes Kentucky licenses for 90 days. A holder of a West Virginia license in Kentucky must get a Kentucky license after the 90 days expire, the opinion said.

The dead and injured were removed from the scene of the wreck to the Praeger Funeral Home, Salversville, and from there by Arnold Funeral Home Ambulances.
The almost new station wagon was reduced to a mass of wreckage (see cut), and drew the attention of scores here Saturday afternoon and Sunday.
Mrs. Susie Hale was the widow of the late James Hale, prominent Blue River farmer and business man. She was born at Alpharetta, this county, the daughter of I. N. and Anna Planery Stephens, now residents of Martin. Since early womanhood she had been a devout member of the Mormon Church. She is survived by three sons, Sam, Henry C. and Edgar Hale, all of Blue River, her parents, three brothers and two sisters: William (Bill Jack) Stephens, West Prestonsburg, Willard and Alex Stephens, Mrs. Lewis Dingus and Mrs. Will Barnett, all of Martin.
The infant-victim of the wreck survived only by the parents. Joint funeral rites for Mrs. Hale and her granddaughter were conducted from the Hale residence at Blue River Tuesday afternoon, the Revs. Bill Planery, M. C. Wright, Alex Stephens and Mrs. Cora Fannin officiating. The rites were attended by several hundreds of friends and relatives. Burials were made in the Hale family cemetery, the Arnold Funeral Home directing.
Body of Mr. Stephens was sent to his home in Seymour, Mo., Monday by the Arnold Funeral Home for burial. Mr. Stephens, a son of Bill and Mary Bradley Stephens, was a native of this county but has resided at Seymour, Mo., for years. At the time of his fatal injury he was en route to this county to visit relatives, particularly a sister, Mrs. Susan May, who has been seriously ill at her home near Langley.
Surviving him are five daughters, Mrs. Viola Webster and Mrs. Lillie Williams, both of Fordland, Mo., Mrs. Bertha Whitaker, Seymour, Mo., Anna Stephens, of California, and Mrs. Darcus Jennings, Seymour, Mo.; three sons, Beriah Stephens, Seymour, Mo., Fred and William Stephens, both of Alabama; two brothers and one sister, I. N. Stephens, of Martin, Felix Stephens and Mrs. Susan May, both of Langley. His wife, Mrs. Mary Hale Stephens, died in December, 1945.

To the People of Floyd And Knott Counties:

I would like to take this means to tell my friends in Floyd and Knott counties about an experience I have just had in an automobile accident over in Ohio, near Dayton.

I was over there on my vacation, about 600 miles from home and among strangers, it seemed, until I had this accident. Then, when that happened, I figured, well, this means the courthouse for me, because I knew I had no one in particular to turn to for help. But suddenly, and in my fear of what was going to happen to me and my car, I thought of my car insurance policy, which I had purchased through Allen & Hall Insurance Agency, Prestonsburg, Ky. I took this policy to the company agent for Dayton, Ohio, which was located on Main street in the Miami Building.

It was here that all my troubles were handled for me and I was released, without any charge against me. So I wish to thank John Allen and Wade Hall for insuring me in such a well-known, reliable company and I greatly recommend these boys to my friends and folks in Floyd and Knott counties as the men to see for automobile insurance or any kind of insurance that you may desire to buy.

Signed:
C. M. TRUMAN

Veterans May Get Disability Insurance

Many veterans of Floyd county who hold G.I. insurance are not aware that they may be insured against total disability, Estel L. McKinney, of the Veterans Administration Office here, said.

Total disability income benefits authorized by legislation may be added to any plan of G.I. insurance upon application, proof of good disability coverage range from six to ten percent. Premium rates for disability coverage range from six to ten percent of the insured's gross income, depending on the insured's age and type of policy.

The disability benefits are at the rate of $5 a month for each $1,000 of insurance and are payable after the veteran has been totally disabled continuously for six months or more. The monthly benefits will continue to be paid as long as the insured remains totally disabled. The disability must commence, however, before the veteran's 60th birthday and while the policy is in force.

One of the principal features of the new disability benefit is that the face value of the veteran's policy will not be reduced by any disability payments he might receive.

Mr. McKinney said veterans with service-connected disabilities less than the total in degree are not prevented from taking advantage of the new provisions, provided they apply for it before Jan. 1, 1950. In these cases, such disabilities are waived if they are the only bar to meeting the health requirements.

Veterans were reminded they have until Aug. 1, 1947 to reinstate G.I. term insurance by submitting a comparative health statement and by paying two monthly premiums, regardless of how long their policies have been lapsed.

Detailed information on all phases of G.I. insurance is available at the VA office, Midland building, Prestonsburg.

Parking Meters, If Too Lucrative, Can Nullify Law

A parking meter ordinance that brings in an excessive surplus is actually an invalid revenue measure, the Attorney General's office said this week.

A city may install parking meters and exact fees which cover only costs of regulating the parking problem, the office said. Any small surplus existing at the end of the fiscal year can be used in liquidating other legitimate expenses and obligations of the city, it added.

The opinion was written for Leon H. Preston, City Clerk of Paintsville, who wondered if parking-fee surpluses could be put in a special fund for the purchase of fire-fighting equipment.

The levying of parking fees is not for general revenue purposes, the opinion said.

Baptists To Organize New Church at Martin, Allen Pastor Announces

Allen, Ky., Aug. 11 (Spl.)—The Rev. Wm. T. Barr, pastor of the Allen Baptist Church, announced in his services Sunday that a new Baptist Church will be organized in Martin on the afternoon of August 24.

Baptists have already opened a full church program in Martin, with Sunday School and preaching each Sunday afternoon at 1:30, and preaching again each Tuesday night. At present, they are in a revival meeting, with the Rev. Ralph Webb, of Paintsville, as evangelist.

The meeting place for both the regular and revival services is the Martin high school auditorium. The Reverend Barr emphasizes that all are invited and visitors from other denominations are always welcome.

"One of the main principles of Americanism," he declared, "is the right and duty of the citizens to worship God according to the dictates of conscience." He stressed the fact that, while the "family of God" is larger than any denomination, still the individual is obliged to join the church that he believes is closest to the Bible.

The Reverend Webb is deeply stirring his revival congregations. The revival will close on the afternoon of August 17.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D. Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

CHICKEN HAWKS AND TOM PAINE

IN No. 568 of this series of essays I spoke of not having had a single curt or discourteous letter from the people who read what I write. Then in 570 I spoke a good word for most of the hawks and in 571 praised the much-misunderstood Tom Paine for his help to America when it needed a good fighter. Those two unpopular things touched off the fireworks for some reader who forgot to sign his name to my one unpleasant bit of correspondence about "Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore." Thus I cannot write him directly, but I will speak here, hoping that he and others may try to get a few new ideas of their own and not forever quote some legend or tradition that was disproved for reasonable people ages ago.

Folk prejudices are about the hardest of all to eradicate. If Grandfather casually believed something, often that is proof enough of its validity, without any further investigation or thinking. You see, Grandfather was a big man in his time, and big men think big things. It is true that he had no screens on his house and felt that doctors were wrong in attributing malaria to mosquitoes; he often, on Sunday afternoons, when the neighbors assembled for a visit, said that the Bible very plainly regarded slavery as right; he had never been twenty miles from home in his life; his education was less than a good eighth-grade one. All this is beside the point, for he was the grandfather of the offended person and was, therefore, a sort of super-man, who knew all the answers or at least the answers to all questions that ought to be asked. By the same reasoning, why labor to buy modern things, for poor old Grandfather, with all his wisdom, did not have them for the simple reason that they did not exist or were not for sale near his part of the woods?

Every true-born American loves to preach. I am in no sense a forger. But I have always been slightly opposed to preaching that is to direct. In the first place, such preaching usually meets ears that are already stopped to the remembered phrases and are not likely to open. Long ago I tried to wrap up some of my preachments in unfamiliar wrappings and have them unexpectedly explode right under the nose of the fellow who was on guard against the standard or garden variety of preaching. Maybe that is playing the game against the rules, but what better place to laugh at your foibles and mine than in a perfectly disinterested column whose author expects no rewards, material or otherwise?

If one person after reading one of my brief essays learned to regard a little more kindly some human trait that is neither very, very bad nor very angelic, either, then my daily or weekly lesson might have served some useful purpose. Frankly, and this is for the benefit of my nameless reader who wrote the curt note, I deliberately bring in occasionally some appeal for the downtrodden hawks that suffer from ignorance and prejudice and equally for the Tom Paines that tradition assigns to doubtful categories of Americans. When I defend Grandma's style of talking, I am aware that she deserves some consideration; but who wants to hear granddaughter, who has had all the advantages, use the same day-before-yesterday language? When I laugh at our antics as country hicks, I am laughing on only one side of my face, for there was little difference between the ones who laughed at us and the funny creatures that we were. In fact, the years have often reversed the fun, so that the joke is now on the fellow who laughed first.

What I'm trying to say in this little sermon is that it is a short-sighted person who imagines that he is far removed from the folk; he is right in the midst of folk thinking, folk habits, folk words and phrases. High-and-mighty airs become none of us who live in any part of the state that I have seen; by searching you might find some of the mud from Fidelity mud on your shoes.

Are You A Teacher? Teachers are not exactly born but some people are born with the personality traits that will enable them to become GREAT teachers. People who have those traits will LIKE teaching and will do a great service to the youth of the country in that field. Sometimes people do not recognize that they are potentially good teachers. Floyd County still has need of a few good teachers. Positions both in High School and in the elementary fields are open to promising teacher-prospects. Some rural positions may be open to people with as few as 82 qtr. hours of college work provided they are 18 years of age, show the qualities of a good teacher and their grades are not below a "C" average. If you feel that you would like to be a teacher why not investigate the possibilities that the field offers? PALMER HALL, Supt. Floyd County Schools

Inspectors Recommend Lackey Mine Changes

Safer timbering and haulage conditions, together with several improvements in electrical installations, are recommended for the Evans Elkhorn Coal Company's Lackey No. 5 mine at Lackey, in a Federal coal mine inspection report released by the Bureau of Mines. This mine employed 18 men and was producing 150 tons of coal daily when the initial Government inspection was completed in June by Russell Shaw.

For adherence to the standards of the Federal Mine Safety Code, Inspector Shaw recommended uniform use of safety posts at the working faces, removal or support of all loose roof, clean crosscuts for use as shelter holes and unobstructed clearance along haulageways, enclosed trip lights, and effective blocking of all standing cars. To minimize electrical fire and shock hazards, he proposed insulators for trolley power wires, guards for surface trolley lines, and fuse and ground-circuit protection for electrical equipment.

Several safety improvements made during or immediately following the inspection were commended by the inspector, including the introduction of preshift examinations of the mine for hazards, removal of coal-dust accumulations from the tipples and haulageways, good rock-dusting, elevation of the transformers, a guard for the exposed shaft of the rotary converter, and covers for repair pits.

TIMES to Publish Series of Articles To Benefit Veterans

The Floyd County Times presents this week the first in a series of articles on Government benefits available to World War II veterans. This week's article presents answers to questions on the subject of G. I. loans, subsequent articles will cover G. I. insurance, hospitalization outpatient medical treatment, education under the G. I. Bill, and on-the-job training.

The series is designed to answer questions most frequently asked by veterans according to Estel L. McKinney, who is in charge of the Veterans Administration Contact office here.

Mr. McKinney reminds the 4,583 World War II veterans of Floyd county that they should clip the articles and hold them for further reference.

Additional information pertaining to rights and benefits of veterans and their beneficiaries may be obtained at the Veterans Administration Office which is located in the Kentucky State Employment Service Office on First Avenue here.

NO. 1 OF A SERIES
The 10 questions most frequently asked by World War II veterans about G. I. home loans were answered today by Veterans Administration.

VA compiled the queries in a survey it conducted recently to learn how much veterans know about their Federal benefits.

The questions and answers follow:

Q. Where should a veteran go to get a G. I. home loan?
A. He first must find a bank or savings and loan association or other private lender willing to make the loan.

Q. Where does the Veterans Administration come in?
A. VA guarantees up to $4,000, but no more than half the loan, made by the private lender to the veteran. This guaranty helps protect the lender from loss. VA does not lend money to the veterans.

Q. How much can the veteran borrow?
A. As much as the lender is willing to lend, but the maximum VA guarantee will be $4,000.

Q. What are some of the advantages of a G. I. home loan to the veteran?
A. (1) Because of the VA guaranty, the lender is more willing to make a loan; (2) the VA guaranty encourages the lender to make the loan without requiring a down payment, and (3) the interest rate (4 percent maximum) is low.

Q. Doesn't the veteran also get a gratuity payment of some kind?
A. Yes, VA pays to the lender, for credit to the veteran's loan, an amount equal to 4 percent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. For example, if the guaranteed portion is $3,000, the lender will receive $120 from VA to credit to the debt of the veteran.

Q. Must the veteran have cash to make a down payment?
A. No. But if a down payment is required by the lender, it will not prevent the veteran from obtaining a guaranteed loan.

Q. Who pays the appraiser's fee?
A. The veteran. This fee usually is about $15 or $20.

Q. Can a veteran join with a non-veteran to buy a two-family home?
A. Yes, provided the veteran's interest is properly protected to prevent any loss to him in event the non-veteran defaults.

Q. How about a loan where the FHA insures the first mortgage for say 80 percent of the price of the house and the veteran wishes to borrow additional money to cover the balance?
A. VA can guaranty a secondary loan for the balance, provided the secondary loan does not exceed 20 percent of the purchase price.

Q. Can a veteran repay all or part of his loan at any time during his life of the loan?
A. Yes, and without paying any fee or premium.

To the Voters of Legislative District 97:

I wish to thank each of you who gave me your support in the recent election and at the same time to assure those who did not vote for me that I have no illwill for any of you. To Mr. Hale, the winner of the Democratic nomination for Representative, I extend my congratulations and best wishes for his election.

Sincerely,
RAY R. ALLEN

Cannonsburg Boy Who Prevented Wreck Gets Reward from C. & O.

It took several months to find him, but the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Friday rewarded the boy who flagged down a C. & O. passenger train near Grayson last March 29 and thereby possibly averted a derailment.

He is Robert Moore, 15, of near Cannonsburg, Ky., who was given a $50 savings bond and a letter of commendation from Robert J. Bowma, president of the company, for his alertness in signaling the on-rushing train after he saw a 65-foot tree topple across its tracks.

Dispatches from Grayson quoted passengers as saying the youthful hunter was responsible for stopping the train before it reached the barrier, but that he wandered away before his identity was learned.

C. & O. officials asked J. L. Lusby, editor of the Grayson Journal-Enquirer, to help locate the youth, and his name was learned as the result of a story printed in the Journal-Enquirer. When C. & O. officials first sought to talk to the boy, he had just left with his parents on a trip to Abilene, Texas, and their inquiry was delayed for several weeks.

Navy Chief Named 'Squealer' On Comrades to Nipponese

New York, July 22—Chief Signalman Harold E. Hirschberg, 29, of Brooklyn, was accused today at his navy court martial of being involved in the death of an American army private who allegedly was trampled by Japanese guards after they had pumped his stomach full of water.

The alleged incident took place at a Japanese prisoner of war camp at Zablun Field on Luzon Island in the Philippines in 1944. The soldier was named at the trial as George Garrett. No address was given.

Hirschberg, the first World War II enlisted man to be tried on charges of mistreating prisoners of war in Japanese camps, pleaded innocent to all nine specifications.

The first prosecution witness, Army Capt. Richard T. Pullen, who was a prisoner with the defendant at Nielson Field near Manila, testified that Hirschberg told him he had a Japanese wife whom he married in Hong Kong before the war.

Hirschberg said he had two children by the Japanese wife and that his Japanese guards permitted him to communicate with her. Pullen said Hirschberg's American wife and child live in Brooklyn.

The prosecution charged that Hirschberg reported to the Japanese March 1, 1944, that Garrett was planning to escape from the camp. The army private thereupon was tortured for three days and died, the judge advocate said.

The specification that the Japanese guards starved Garrett, struck him about the head and body with clubs, rifle butts, straps and fists, placed a hose in his mouth and filled his stomach with water, then laid him on the ground and jumped on him.

In the other specifications, Hirschberg was accused of telling the Japanese of escape plans of two other army privates, William B. Hill and John-L. Baker, both of whom then were beaten and starved by the Japanese.

The defendant was also charged with assaulting six American soldiers and sailors at Nielson Field between November 10, 1942 and June 1, 1943, while he was head of a work section.
