

FISCAL COURT ORDERS SUITS

Okay Condemnations
In Special Session
Here Wednesday

Condemnation proceedings to procure sufficient right-of-way as determined by the State Highway Department for widening and straightening the David road was authorized in a special meeting held yesterday (Wednesday) by the Floyd fiscal court at the courthouse.

The right-of-way referred to pertains to the three-mile "missing link" commencing at the forks of Middle Creek and running to the upper end of the Harrison Stone farm just below the mouth of Buckeye Creek.

The order instructed County Attorney W. W. Burchett to "proceed with a good faith effort to purchase said right-of-way and, unable to do so, he shall file suits against any and all landowners with whom he's unable to agree for the purpose of condemning right-of-way."

Burchett and county officials stated today that repeated trips to see landowners had failed to get a reasonable settlement. He announced that seven suits have already been filed.

MOTOR CRASH HURTS FOUR

Speeding Automobile
Rams Rear of Bus
Heavily Loaded

Four people were injured and several badly shaken in a near-tragedy at 4:20 p.m. Monday near Boldman on U.S. Route 23 when a car occupied by Ershel Goble and Ooid Thomas rammed into the rear of a heavily loaded Pikeville city bus going north on its interurban route to Floyd county.

Goble and Thomas are recovering in a Pikeville hospital while two of the bus passengers, Vannie Turner and Connie Bush, both of Harold, were released a short time after being rushed to the hospital. Goble, a former resident of Floyd county, and Thomas, gave highway patrolmen their address, at present, as Detroit, Mich., where they are employed. They have been visiting relatives near here.

Highway Patrolman Carl Justice reported the impact knocked the bus approximately 23 feet and left the automobile a total wreck. Justice said the bus had stopped on the pavement to discharge passengers when hit and that the car was traveling at an excessive rate of speed. It has not been determined which of the two was driving the auto, he said.

CONGRESSMEN AND ENGINEERS MEET MONDAY

Plans for Canalization
Furthered In Meeting
At Paintsville Club

The Big Sandy Valley Association was host to a Congressional party, on an inspection tour of the Big Sandy river in connection with the proposed canalization of the stream for navigation purposes, at their annual meeting Monday at the Paintsville Country Club.

Over 200 members and their guests attended a luncheon meeting highlighted by speeches from Governor Simeon S. Willis of Kentucky, Hon. Colonel Frederick A. Muhlenberg, of the House Public Works Committee, Colonel Harry Pockras, principal engineer of Huntington district corps of U.S. engineers, Gen. Douglas L. Weart, Ohio River Division engineer, Col. A. M. Nielson, district engineer of Huntington, M. L. Garvey, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors.

This gathering was cited as the most enthusiastic meeting of the group recorded to date as Governor Willis predicted that, if the project is completed, Big Sandy would become the leading industrial center in the state if not in the United States. Col. Pockras termed the canalization project "economically sound," and declared after an exhaustive survey recently completed that there was enough coal within a 10-mile radius of the Big Sandy river to last several thousand years. Congressman Muhlenberg in his address made no promises and declined to make any comment on the likelihood of the project being approved until he returned to Washington and reported to his committee.

After the Paintsville meeting adjourned the visiting Congressional and engineering group moved on up the Big Sandy, inspecting the various proposed dam sites with a designated stopover in Williamson, W.Va., Monday night. Completing their inspection, the visitors will return to Washington this week with another stopover scheduled in Huntington.

Attending the meeting from here and Floyd county were all the county officials and members of the Floyd county board of directors of the Association and their guests.

In a business session at the meeting W. S. Harkins, Prestonsburg attorney, was added as a new member of Floyd's board. The Floyd board is now composed of N. M. White, Jr., J. D. Harkins, Jr., B. R. Spurlock, Dr. O. G. Pennington, Marvin Music, W. S. Harkins, of Prestonsburg, and W. A. Malone and Henry Porter, of Allen.

NEW METERS BEING SET

Locating Parking Zones
With View to Safety
At Intersections

Installation of the new automatic parking meters, replacing the crank-type formerly in use here, is expected to be completed this week, city authorities said today (Thursday). Where approximately 220 old-type meters were in use the new meters will number about 184.

They are being set 30 feet from each corner so that parked cars will not interfere with traffic negotiating the intersections. The meters are being re-located with a viewpoint to safety around the busy corners in the business section and adjacent areas. City Attorney W. S. Harkins explained.

Mr. Harkins is supervising the work in behalf of Roe Layre, the city's traffic and parking supervisor, who is absent due to illness in his family.

The new meter will accommodate several combinations of coins. The combinations of two nickels, ten pennies or five pennies and one nickel will provide the motorist with full two hours' parking time. One penny buys 12 minutes and each additional "copper" will provide the same amount of time up to the two-hour limit. One nickel is good for one hour. In this way, the shopper won't be bothered with running to his parking zone every few minutes to check his time, the city attorney said.

W. S. WALLEN, TRUCK VICTIM

Following Accident
Near Banner Home

Final rites for W. S. (Willie) Wallen, 61, Prestonsburg attorney and former Floyd county State Representative, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Banner from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eugene Hall.

The attorney was struck by a Spurlock Food Service truck traveling south on the highway opposite the Banner bridge at 6:35 a.m., Saturday morning and was pronounced dead upon arrival at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, a few minutes later. While awaiting a bus en route from his home at Banner to his office here, Mr. Wallen hailed a ride from an acquaintance and ran across the road into the path of the vehicle, investigating Highway Patrolman Adams stated. The victim, Patrolman Adams said, was very hard of hearing and did not see the truck as it rounded a nearby curve in the road. He said that his investigation indicated that the truck, driven by Earl Griffith, West Prestonsburg, was "travelling a little fast."

Before entering law school at Bowling Green, Ky., and Valparaiso, Ind., he taught in public schools for a number of years. Upon graduation he was admitted to the bar at Prestonsburg. He later practiced his profession in El Paso, Texas and Los Angeles, Calif. Returning here, Mr. Wallen and family established their home five years ago at Banner.

He volunteered and served 18 months overseas during the first World War.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Martha Clark Wallen, Banner; the following children: Mrs. Sylvia Hall, Banner, Mrs. Imogene Landgraf, Portland, Ore., Mrs. Melle Dorsey, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Leslie Clinton, Albany, N.Y., and Nick Wallen, Lexington, Ky.; two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Belle McCloud, Monaville, W. Va., Mrs. Edith Smith, Holden, W. Va., and Norman Wallen, address unknown; and nine grandchildren. Three infant children preceded him in death.

1,000 COMPETE IN COUNTY

Rural School Program
Designated As Means
To Curb Delinquency

Friday afternoon heralds the birth of Floyd county's first full-fledged rural school athletic program with a hundred or more rural schools represented by at least a thousand of Floyd's 6,000 rural students participating. County Supervisor Henry G. Martin announced Wednesday.

About 25 of these recreational meets will be simultaneously held throughout the county in centrally located spots under the direction of Floyd county high school principals and county school supervisors. Wherever practicable, this is judged according to means of travel and accessibility of the schools, each meet will handle two, three and four schools.

Patterned similarly to the intramural activities of larger schools and universities, this plan originated in the rural teachers' conference here this past summer when games were taught the teachers so that they may in turn instruct the children in competitive athletic activity. This recreational program, Mr. Martin stated, was created to develop sportsmanship and a sense of fair play among the pupils and in the community.

The Floyd County Board of Education furnished to the rural schools the necessary equipment including volley balls, basketballs, softballs and bats to carry out the athletic program.

It has made school life so attractive that children have a genuine desire, not previously displayed, to attend school regularly, he said, and has already shown a marked tendency to alleviate the problem of truancy. This program is expected to reduce truancy and juvenile delinquency in that children will enjoy working and playing together. As a result, several schools have indicated an improved attendance over last year.

"Open the Gate" -- Wells Goes Home, Team Wins

Despite a home run by Tommy Blackburn for the American Legion team, David's baseball team trounced the boys at Porter Field here last Sunday in a game that was highly entertaining if not exciting.

A feature of the game was the use of the "Dyer shift" (a move, as we are told, whereby the team prognosticator anticipates the exact spot in short field that a batter is subject to hit and mows his outfielders, sometimes to within a few feet of the infield) — by Hershel Graham, the Legionnaire pilot, on David's outfielder Shepherd. Shepherd, at bat, lined a beautiful drive just in behind second base but Graham's shifting outfielders took only a few steps to close in and rob the batter of a clean hit. For this bit of strategy, the crowd went all out to give Graham a bit hand.

"Toodles" Wells, the David pepper-box, and sometimes the main attraction at local games, who continually needles his opponents with his battle-cry of "Open the Gate and Let Him Ooo-uu-uu!" — He's a

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED FOR REA MEETING

Prizes To Be Awarded;
Interesting Program Is Planned for Meeting

A huge crowd, representing members and prospective members and their families of the Big Sandy Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, is expected to attend the annual meeting and anniversary celebration of the Cooperative at Saturday at Prestonsburg grade school building. In addition to the entertainment, there are four important items of business to be voted upon by the members: Charlie Turner, local manager, announced. These are (1) increasing the debt-limitation as set up in the Co-op's present articles of incorporation; (2) election of the board of seven directors for the ensuing year; (3) change in location of the main office; and (4) joining East Kentucky Generating & Transmission Cooperative.

In commenting upon the entertainment features Mr. Turner stated that he had invited as principal speaker for the occasion Claude R. Wickard, administrator, Rural Electrification Administration. The Prestonsburg high school band will render the music programs. Doors to the gymnasium, which will be converted into a exhibition hall, will open at 10 a.m., and representatives of the 18 local firms displaying items for electrified farming and electrical living in the home will be on hand to explain these conveniences, new methods of time-saving, and more economical operation. Registration for the business meeting, which is to be held in the auditorium, will begin at 12:30 p.m. Manager Turner said, "We have arranged with Parent-Teachers to serve sandwiches and cold drinks, but family groups may bring picnic lunches, if they wish."

The concluding feature of the program will be the award of 20 prizes, valued at $1,500, which have been donated by cooperative dealers, as follows:

Hotpoint electric range by Town & Country Supply, electric refrigerator by York Furniture Company, Philco (cabinet) radio by Hardware Charlie, W.M. ## Wild Man, refused to take him turn at bat as a result of Graham's move. He candidly confided to The Times that he "opened the gate" and let himself out! Said Wells, "I was ready to go home."

The more serious portion of the afternoon play is well defined in the statistics and box score given below:

David pitcher May allowed only two hits in five innings and his pitching mate, Miller, allowed three hits in four innings, while the Legionnaire pitchers weren't so fortunate—Harmon permitted five hits in five innings, Burchett was tapped one in three innings and Goble one in two innings.

The Legion boys got one run off May in five innings and one from Miller in four innings. The big sticks of David rapped Harmon for seven runs in five innings, Burchett for one in three innings and Goble for another run in one inning.

is Town-- That World

OSPEL ASSOCIATION AND THE "GOSPEL TRUTH"

The Rev. W. B. Garriott, pastor of the Methodist Church here, got his dander roused last week, and this column enjoyed the result.

He had just read in "The Voice," a Chicago religious publication, an advertisement of The Rural Gospel Association, asking folks if they were "concerned about the lost in the hills of Kentucky" and reminding the reader that it has five missionaries working in southeast Kentucky, "reaching the underprivileged people."

That would have got by, but the picture of a boxed house, propped up by two rough poles, and marked as a "Typical Kentucky Mountaineer's Home"—that was what riled the Rev. Mr. Garriott and inspired him to rise to the defense of the people of this section.

These excerpts are from his letter "The Voice" and "The Rural Gospel Association":

"My mother and father taught me that one of the first principles of the Christian religion was truth. I have always believed that, and I found in the Bible this statement: 'Know the truth and the truth shall make you free.'"

"Seeing this picture and the wording under it, one is to come to one of two conclusions—either that the person who did it is uninformed or willful in their statement. If you have five missionaries in this section, they should know better. You infer in your ad that you have many such pictures and I wonder if you have any pictures of the better homes, even in the same community where this one was taken. One could find a few of these houses in these mountain counties and I have an idea that some could be found in Chicago as well. This is in no way a typical mountaineer's home and to make that kind of a statement is to reflect on a great people and state and reveals either a lack of information or willfulness on the part of the person writing it."

There are many who need to be reached in this section and the few are few. But where is the harm in this? Is it not true? I feel it is unfair for you people to show pictures like these and then as you are using them, people resent it, justly so. It is a more serious side to this than that and that is the selling of people who make a business of the Gospel.

Roll Up Shirtsleeves" -- Jaycees Live Up To It

Roll up your shirtsleeves—and that white collar, if necessary! is the working slogan of the Junior Chamber of Commerce following their meeting at the Brown hotel here Tuesday night. Furthermore, they are going to "practice what they preach."

They intend to apply their slogan to their first project of identifying the Prestonsburg streets at all intersections with painted nameplates. Still in their infancy as an organization and without sufficient funds to launch an expensive civic improvement program, this energetic group of young businessmen voted to do the sawing, nailing, making, painting and erecting on the job themselves. "But," stated Marvin Music, president of the Jaycees, "in executing the planning of our civic project we still had a hitch in our plans—we had no money with which to even buy materials!"

At this point, the Jaycees became very grateful to the Prestonsburg City Council. Informed of the group's intended community improvement and their unfortunate financial state of affairs, the city fathers offered to buy the materials for the Junior Chamber of Commerce and perform the necessary labor. An estimate was made and the city appropriated $60 in their behalf.

It was announced that they are working on a project even if they have to use somebody's backyard and the work will be started and possibly completed next week. The street nameplates will measure six by 18 inches and carry three-inch letters to be easily distinguishable day or night.

With "Operation Nameplate" over the hump and well on the way to functioning smoothly, this hustling outfit, composed largely of veterans, decided, in the Tuesday night meeting, to install large trash cans at downtown street corners in an effort to keep the streets free of the litter of waste paper, fruit peelings and other "what-have-you-to-throw-away" articles. They plan to, at first, purchase three or four of these selling contacts and pay for them by selling 24 by 36-inch ad spaces to the merchants. As soon as these are paid for in full, the Jaycees plan to turn them over to the Council as property of the city.

"We hope," President Music said, "to build up our treasury eventually to where we can afford to undertake several worthwhile projects for the community and to buy the best in doing so."

In the meantime, if you hear a lot of hammering, sawing and building going on in the neighborhood of Prestonsburg and decide to stop and investigate—the Jaycees won't mind a bit. In fact, you won't be refused if you offer to help a bit. They will not only let you work but they will be right there on any project working with you.

Emma Joyce Begley Is Best Camper

Emma Joyce Begley, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Begley, of Wheelwright, was selected by the campers at the Girl Scout camp last week as the best camper of the week. Little Miss Begley was one of the youngest girls at camp and attended for the first time this year. She attended both weeks and ran second in the voting for the best camper the first week. She is a member of Troop 33 of Wheelwright and is in the fifth grade.

The Sandy Valley Girl Scout camp which was held at Camp Arrowhead for two weeks closed Sunday. The girls and staff completed their experience by dismantling all tents, cleaning the grounds and storing all equipment for the winter.

During the last week there were a number of special programs. On Tuesday, a costume party was given at the lodge. Under direction of Mrs. Betty Frazier there were folk dancing, games and singing. On Wednesday, the girls staged a carnival. It began with an outdoor supper which was served by the senior group. Each of the other five units then presented some special carnival feature at their camp site. These included a fun house, fortune telling, acrobatic stunts and side shows.

On Friday night the Scouts had a taffy-pull and sing, and on Saturday they had their council fire with stunts, songs and the announcement of the best camper for the week.

During the week every group spent a night "out" and cooked breakfast before returning to camp. Every group also had a "cook-out" at their campsite.

The waterfront activities were scheduled every morning and afternoon which resulted in a number of girls learning to swim and the others advancing in their swimming ability.

In addition to the special programs the girls participated in softball, volley ball, hiking, vesper services, handicraft, the edition of a camp newspaper, and camp responsibilities.

The staff with the girls included Miss Fae Lou Barrett, camp director, Miss Mary Allen, nurse, Herbert Chaney and Don Trivette, boy assistants, Mrs. Bill Benedette, swimming instructor, Bill Benedette, life-guard, Mrs. Betty Frazier, Mrs. E. C. Cassidy, Miss Fanny M. Howell, and Miss Elvache Garrett, counselors, Miss Patty Riley, Miss Mildred Barrett and Miss Doris Rogers, junior counselors, and Mrs. Cora Branham, cook.

MRS. EVA M. HALL EXTENDS THANKS

I wish to thank God and the Republican party for giving my son, Foster Meade, as first choice for State Senator on the Republican ticket.

As all my influential friends know, I am a Democrat by birth, but I do not disown nor condemn my son for his belief in politics. His father, the late M. V. Meade, of Fed, Ky., (Hi Hat) and also his grandfather, T. S. Meade, his uncle, H. F. Meade, prominent merchants of Hi Hat and S. T. Meade, another uncle, of McDowell, Ky., also merchants, are all Republicans. His father, M. V. Meade, was postmaster and merchant at time of his death.

Foster was only five years of age at the death of his father. His mother, Eva Gibson, a first-class teacher in the Knott county schools, has done all in her power to train this young man in the way he should go. So let's all forget politics and give this serious thought and look at the strength and ability of this young man and the handicaps he has had in life without an earthly father to assist or advise. His opponent is Doug Hays, McDowell, Ky., a man old enough to retire.

Thanking you all in advance for my fatherless son for State Senator on the Republican ticket.

Sincerely,
EVA MEADE HALL
(Pol. adv.) McDowell, Ky.

Hatfield Held After Fist-Fight Victim Dies

Pikeville, Ky., Aug. 14—Sheriff D. C. Moore reported today he was holding on a murder charge Udy Hatfield, 25, Stone, Ky., who, he said, was captured while trying to escape in an ambulance called for the victim.

Hatfield was held in the death of Noah Mullins, 84-year-old farmer of Ball Fork, who was injured fatally at Stone.

Deputy Sheriff Lon Helm said Mullins was knocked down at his home by Hatfield. Helm said the victim's head hit a concrete sidewalk.

Mullins died en route to a doctor's office.

Hatfield tried to escape in an ambulance which had come to get Mullins, the Sheriff reported.

Mrs. Ora Mullins, 40, identified as a housekeeper in the Mullins home, was injured in the fight, Sheriff Moore added. He said she was treated at a Williamson, W. Va., hospital and released.

Moore said he learned the three had been drinking heavily before the fight.

Says Chestnut Tree May Be on Way Back

The famous chestnut tree, killed several years ago by a blight, may be on its way back, says W. E. Jackson, extension forester for the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Reports are being received of chestnut trees 35 feet tall and five inches in diameter which have grown up as sprouts from trees killed by the blight. Some of the sprouts are eight to 10 years old.

There is a possibility, thinks Forester Jackson, that the chestnut sprouts are developing a resistance to the blight, and eventually will survive and make trees again. At first all sprouts were killed by the disease, but eventually they began to survive, although most of them bear the canker of the blight.

College Says Plant More Cover Crops

Plant cover crops and more cover crops.

That's the advice given farmers by the University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Stating that cover crops would protect the soil, furnish winter feed, and save labor, the college's specialists suggested the following crops and gave latest date for safe seeding:

Crimson clover, September 15; ryegrass, September 15; winter oats, October 1; vetch, October 1 to October 10; barley, October 5; wheat, November 1, and rye, November 1 to November 15. Wheat and barley should not be seeded until hessian-fly danger is past.

Recommended seeding rates for best results are:

Crimson clover, 12 to 20 pounds per acre; vetch, 15 to 40 pounds; winter oats, 1 1/2 to 3 bushels; barley, 1 1/2 to 2 bushels; rye, 1 to 2 bushels; ryegrass, 15 to 30 pounds, and wheat, 1 to 2 bushels.

More pasture and better protection come from heavy seedings, the University report said. Lighter seedings may do if no stock are run in the fields.

A good seed-bed, careful seeding, and proper covering may mean the difference between success and failure, the specialists declared. Early seeded crops especially need good covering, they pointed out.

Fertilizers and lime materials for winter cover crops usually pay and farmers were advised to check the fertility of their soil before seeding cover crops.

Vetch and crimson clover are legumes. Some soils are naturally inoculated for crimson clover, but it is essential to inoculate vetch before planting unless vetch has been grown successfully on that land before, it was said.

To produce more pasture and better protection for the soil, small grain or ryegrass should be seeded with crimson clover or vetch.

Letcher Truck Mines Start Production Under Price-Increase Pact

Whitesburg, Ky., Aug. 14—A trickle of coal began flowing from five Letcher county truck-coal mines today, but a full settlement of the dispute between truck-mine operators and ramp owners failed to materialize.

Luther Bates, operator of the Star-Elkhorn coal mine, one of the five mines producing, said about 1,000 of the truck miners were back on the job following agreement of five ramp owners to pay the operators higher tonnage rates on the coal loaded at their mines.

Bates estimated production from the five mines at about 10,000 tons daily.

It was the first production in 10 days. Four ramp owners agreed yesterday to price increases ranging from 25 to 31 cents a ton and to other concessions, partly breaking a nine-day strike of about 375 operators in Letcher county.

Bates identified mines which were operating as the Star-Elkhorn, which he operates, E. K. Elkhorn, Cooley-Elkhorn, Mayking and P.D., all near Whitesburg.

He said there were indications that other ramp owners would "come across" within the next few days.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

(No. 2 of a Series)

The Veterans Administration this week answered the 10 questions most frequently asked by World War II veterans about G.I. business loans.

The questions were asked in a survey that VA conducted recently to learn how much the veteran knows about their federal benefits. The questions and answers follow:

Q. How does a veteran go about getting a loan for business purposes?

A. As in the case of home loans, the first must find a bank or other private lender willing to advance him the money.

Q. How much of a business loan made by a lender will VA guaranty?

A. VA will guaranty 50 per cent of the loan up to a maximum of $4,000 if the loan is for the purchase of business real property, and up to $2,000 for non-real estate business loans, such as for working capital.

Q. Can the Veteran get a guaranteed loan for any type of business?

A. If the lender is willing, the loan may be used for any legitimate business purpose.

Q. Is there any limit to the duration of a business loan?

A. Non-real estate business loans are repayable in 10 years or less; real estate loans may run up to 25 years.

Q. Can a veteran enter into business with non-veterans and obtain a guaranteed loan?

A. Yes, provided the interest of the veteran is properly protected, but the guarantee must be limited to the veteran's portion of the business.

Q. Doesn't the veteran also get a gratuity payment of some kind?

A. Yes. VA pays the lender, for credit to the veteran's loan, an amount equal to 4 per cent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. For example, if the guaranteed portion is $3,000, the lender will receive $120 from VA to credit to the debt of the veteran.

Q. What interest rates are lenders permitted to charge on business loans?

A. In most cases, 4 per cent is the maximum. However, the interest rate may be slightly higher for certain types of insured loans.

Q. Must be veteran be experienced in the line of business he proposes to enter?

A. Experience is an important element in the success of the average business. The veteran should be able to show a reasonable expectation of success in his venture.

Q. Can a veteran get a G.I. business loan to buy a pleasure car or furniture for his home?

A. No. The loan must be used by the veteran for business purposes only.

Q. Does the veteran have to operate the business himself?

A. Yes, the veteran must devote his personal labor or supervision to the enterprise, or to the practice of a profession, on a full or part-time basis.

HOLD YOUR WAR BONDS

To the People of Floyd And Knott Counties:

I would like to take this means to tell my friends in Floyd and Knott counties about an experience I have just had in an automobile accident over in Ohio, near Dayton.

I was over there on my vacation, about 600 miles from home and among strangers, it seemed, until I had this accident. Then, when that happened, I figured, well, this means the courthouse for me, because I knew I had no one in particular to turn to for help. But suddenly, and in my fear of what was going to happen to me and my car, I thought of my car insurance policy, which I had purchased through Allen & Hall Insurance Agency, Prestonsburg, Ky. I took this policy to the company agent for Dayton, Ohio, which was located on Main street in the Miami Building.

It was here that all my troubles were handled for me and I was released, without any charge against me. So I wish to thank John Allen and Wade Hall for insuring me in such a well-known, reliable company and I greatly recommend these boys to my friends and folks in Floyd and Knott counties as the men to see for automobile insurance or any kind of insurance that you may desire to buy.

Attendance Officer Praised For Success of Pie Socials

Cliff school sponsored a "pie and box social" Friday night, Aug. 8 at the schoolhouse. A record crowd attended and the proceeds netted $125.50. Credit for the success goes to all the patrons of the community and many friends from adjoining communities, but special credit is given to Paris Conley, Floyd county's attendance officer who acted as auctioneer. His witty remarks and entertaining manner were responsible for many "high bids." After the social he gave a very inspiring talk to the patrons on the "Role of the School in the Community."

Friday night, Aug. 15, Mr. Conley attended the "social" at the Spradlin Branch school on the Auxier road. There, too, he played the role of auctioneer and was well rewarded for his efforts by more than $90. Teachers of Floyd county appreciate Mr. Conley's efforts to help them and surely he shall be rewarded by increasing attendance in schools, which is his greatest interest.

Krebs, of the First Methodist Church, officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

Referendum Act Legality Is Hit

The legal fight to prevent popular voting on the question of calling a convention to revise Kentucky's constitution began this week.

Clemens Noel Gimes, Frankfort, a retired army officer, filed suit in Franklin circuit court attacking constitutionality of the legislative act providing for the referendum and also sought an injunction to prevent Charles K. O'Connor, Secretary of State, from advertising the convention question.

But shortly after Gimes filed the petition, O'Connell sent advertisements to The Courier-Journal and The Lexington Leader, requesting the newspapers to print them for four consecutive days.

The ad tells voters they may ballot yes or no on November 4 as to whether they favor the calling of a constitutional convention.

Gimes' petition contended the 1944 and 1946 acts failed to specify how the Secretary of State should advertise the question. It also charged that the titles of both acts are defective and that their contents are different.

SODIUM PENICILLIN
During World War II, medical science discovered that Trench Mouth, a contagious disease affecting the gums and tongue and prevalent among troops during war time, could be cured with lozenges containing Sodium Penicillin. The infection was checked by this drug in from 48 to 120 hours after treatment was begun—another benefit that medical science gained from the conflict.

Let's Wake Up Rip Van Winkle!

Millions of bushels of food may rot in our fields this harvest time, instead of being available to the markets of the world — because of our shortage of freight cars. Here is a way that thousands of cars can be freed for service—in a hurry.

ARE you interested in the price of food? Does it give you a twinge to see those pictures of mountains of wheat piled on the ground and potatoes going to rot—when there's a desperate world food crisis?

The bottle-neck is our freight-car shortage. But thousands of cars could be freed by a single decision—if old-line railroad managements would act.

Don't Blame the War!

This is hard to believe, but it's true; we have today only three-fourths as many freight cars in our country as we had twenty years ago. This shrunken fleet is now called on to handle the greatest peacetime traffic in history. And the war itself is not to blame for the shortage—for in no single year from 1925 to the start of hostilities did the railroad industry buy as many cars as it junked. Twenty years is a long time for even Rip Van Winkle to sleep!

What Can Be Done?

There is at least one remedy that can be applied at once—despite the steel shortage and other difficulties in car-building. This remedy requires no new equipment, no period of time to work out—nothing but an act of management:

Lift what appear to be agreements between railroads that deliberately slow down many freight trains!

Here is an example. There are eight important schedule routes by which you can ship "fast" freight from California to Chicago. These routes vary in length as much as 450 miles. But, curiously, the time schedule for each of the eight is exactly 118 hours—and 30 minutes!

Similarly, scheduled freight trains moving west over the important routes from Chicago to the Coast areas, despite great differences in terrain and mileage, take exactly 130 hours—in the nose!

Is This Free Competition?

Could it be that these schedules are fixed by agreement? That the trains which could be fastest are held back for the slowest—so that no road can have even the slightest competitive advantage?

Are old-line managements asleep while freight trains creep at a snail's pace—by agreement?

Railroad men know that, in many instances, a whole day could be cut off these schedules between California and Chicago—if managements would simply order it. If that were done, on these roads and on others, it would ease the national car shortage at once!

There is good reason to believe that by lifting deliberate freight slowdowns, on the roads that still practice them, we could provide more cars this summer and fall than our shops can possibly build. And, at this critical time, every car that can be freed for service is desperately needed!

A Call For Action!

The next few weeks will be the most important ones in our food problem. Our wheat crop is estimated to exceed any previous record by 300 million bushels. It is even now being piled in the fields—for want of cars.

If you feel as strongly about this as the C&O does, write to your newspaper and your congressman. Do it today while it is on your mind.

Ask them to stir up Rip Van Winkle—and tell him that time is short. Demand that our trains be scheduled not merely to suit the private deals of the railroads, but so that we can make the best use, for the whole public, of our shamefully depleted stock of freight cars!

Matthews-Stratton Vows Solemnized August 15th

The marriage of Miss Barbara Ann Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Matthews, of Louisville, Ky., to Mr. Hershel Stratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stratton, of Betsy Layne, was solemnized August 15 at 2 p.m., at the home of the Rev. Skipper, of Pikeville, Ky., with parents of the bride and groom and Miss Mary Spillman witnessing the double ring ceremony.

The room was tastefully arranged with cut flowers serving an appropriate background for the bride, attired in a white suit and carrying a bouquet of white roses, and the groom, dressed in gray. Mothers of the bride and groom wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

The bride is a recent graduate nurse from the Kentucky Baptist hospital, Louisville, Ky., where the groom is now serving his internship.

The couple departed for a honeymoon tour of North Carolina and Tennessee, from which they will return to Louisville where Dr. Stratton will resume his duties. They plan to soon reside in Pikeville where Dr. Stratton plans to enter practice of his profession.
