

This Town-- That World

RUMOR HATH IT...
How does the "grapevine" operate in Floyd county and how doth it become so twisted at times?

The rumor-factory is always busy and it would make Baron Munchausen tuck his tail, if he had (or had had) one.

Here's a recent story that reached this desk via the grapevine. We recount it in something like the feature story form it would have taken in print, had it been true, only the names of persons being fictitious.

Jim Norton will never know the solution to the mystery of the voice from the depths of his water well on a mountainside of the Clear Creek section of this county.

For Jim Norton died as the voice reached him from deep inside the earth.

Several years ago, a coal company drove a mine entrance into the hillside across the mountain from the Norton home. Last week, miners worked beneath the Norton home. Suddenly water poured into the "room" where they were working.

The miners knew where they were and what the water meant. They were beneath the Norton place. Then they heard a water bailer being let down inside the iron casing of the well. Somebody had a bright idea.

One of the men seized the bailer. Norton, who was at the well, pulled and tugged at the bailer, but it would not budge. Then came a voice:

"Turn me loose," the voice said.

Norton blanched but contrived to shout, "Where are you?"

From below came the voice: "I'm down here in your well!"

Tension on the rope suddenly relaxed. Norton had dropped dead.

That's an example of the stories we chase down and find like the rainbow's end.

You doubtless have heard of the noble dog, wartime member of the K-9 corps, which won a medal for standing at his post.

"SINGIN' SCHOOL" DAYS
Word comes that Prof. W. B. Ward is conducting a "singing school" at David.

And that brings on some more reminiscing.

I am reminded of the singin' school the late Columbus Jackson taught at Bosco, years longer ago and farther away than are consoling to me when I count them. Mr. Jackson was an able teacher, as is Prof. Ward, we are told, and the school went along wonderfully. There was a bit of skylarking and some romancing among the teenagers, but, all in all, the boys and girls learned their fa, sa, la, ti do's well and quickly got so they could carry a tune without the aid of a valise.

All came along well, except one boy who at the time was about ten years old. In his time he learned the shape of the notes, their names and all the other things that were printed. But when it came to singing, he sang not a lick. He was a human grackle receiving instruction in music.

But that would have been all right, had not another complication arisen. He got by, did this mute Caruso, by working his lips while the others sang. But when came the day that the male voices were separated from the girls—that day came trouble to camp, sorrow in Eden and a lot of other things that contribute nothing to peace, happiness and quietude.

The youngster of the muted vocal cords was shunted over onto the girls' side. His voice hadn't lost its soprano qualities (as if it ever had any!), decided Professor Jackson.

Whereupon things happened. The boy gave a glance around the big

GARSSON YET BEING QUIZZED

Reiterates Claim That May Innocent
Of Govt. Charges

Dr. Henry Garsson continued to testify this week in the Washington trial in which he, his brother, Murray, and Ex-Congressman A. J. May are defendants, and all his testimony reiterated his first reactions to the federal government's charges—that the Prestonsburg man is not guilty of wrongdoing.

Daily reports on the hearing: JUNE 9—Henry Garsson said today that Andrew J. May's wartime post as chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee had nothing to do with giving May's son, Robert, a shellbox contract.

He said young May asked him how to make the shellboxes, and that he told him, "It's easy."

Garsson said he took Robert to a Garsson plant to show him how to make the boxes. The contract called for 60,000 boxes for the shipment of shells overseas.

Garsson said he and his associates needed boxes "so badly we were willing to get them from anybody who would make them."

"Did the fact that Mr. May was the son of Congressman May have anything to do with your giving him the contract?" Garsson was asked by his attorney.

"It did not," the witness replied. "We didn't hold it against Mr. May because his father was a Congressman."

Garsson said young May entered a partnership in Miami and ultimately produced 90,000 shell boxes for him, but wound up losing money on the deal.

JUNE 10—Henry Garsson testified today that former Congressman Andrew J. May got him in to see top War Department officials in 1945 after the army withheld $1,200,000 it owed a Garsson firm.

Garsson said May made appointments for him with Secretary of War Patterson and Undersecretary Kenneth Royall after he had tried

$40,000 SPAN IS DISCUSSED

Elimination of Three Dwale Rail Crossings, Task Assigned Court

A suspension bridge across the Big Sandy river at Dwale may be built if the Floyd fiscal court can amicably effect the elimination of three of the four railroad crossings there, Magistrate G. C. Burchett said last week after members of the court and representatives of the C. & O. Railway Company and the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company visited the community in an effort to ascertain what can be done.

The bridge, planned as strong enough to accommodate automobile traffic, would cost around $40,000, it is estimated.

The gas company's compressor station is located at Dwale and it and the C. & O. are interested in the proposed span to the extent of contributing liberally toward construction of the bridge, it was said.

CLUB ASSIGNS ITS MEMBERS

Work of Establishing Playground Program
For Children Here

Directors of the Kiwanis Club here last week delegated to members of the club the task of putting into effect a recreational program here through supervision of play and provision of playground equipment in five areas of the community.

The directors frankly told clubmembers assigned the task that it is up to them to map out their programs, decide what equipment is needed and go about getting it. A safe playground available to every child in Prestonsburg and under the supervision of one or more adults is the Kiwanis goal, it was said.

Areas listed and Kiwanians delegated to make the playground program effective in each follow:

Riverside avenue — Carl Corbin, chairman, Palmer Hall, Claybourne Stephens, Monroe Wicker.

Highland avenue — Curt Homes, chairman, Bob Francis, S. L. Isbell, Richard Spurlock, Bill Sturgill, Russell Hagedorn.

Maple and Graham — Estel McKinley, chairman, N. M. White, the Rev. W. B. Garrigott, C. L. Huttsmiller, Franklin Moore, W. A. Rose, Leonard Martin, Kilmer Combs, W. W. Burchett.

High school — Glen Anderson, chairman, Leroy Combs, Val Strahan, Dr. Herbert Salisbury.

Grade school — James Donahue, chairman, Fred Francis, Marvin Music, Russell Shaw.

A playground site and supervision are sought also for West Prestonsburg.

COURT UPHOLDS FLOYD DRY VOTE

TRAIN KILLS 2 FLOYD MEN AT SALISBURY

Two men were killed at the Salisbury (Printer) railway crossing on Left Beaver Creek Sunday night as the truck they occupied was reduced to twisted wreckage by a locomotive burdened only by the load of a caboose.

The dead are Virgil Allen, 43, of Printer, and Allen Bentley, 58, of Allen. Both died instantly of skull injuries.

The 1½-ton truck the two men occupied was hurled a distance of approximately 30 feet and when it came to rest was such a twisted mass of steel that 30 minutes were required for the bodies to be removed. A mule in the bed of the truck escaped unharmed, it was said.

Deputy Sheriff Ed Craft, who made an investigation of the tragedy, said Allen, driver and owner of the truck, apparently missed or almost missed the crossing. It was deduced that a tire struck a rail, cutting the truck up the tracks. A heavy rain was falling at the time and a wagon partially blocked the road leading to the bridge across the creek, causing the driver to cut to the side of the crossing, was the belief expressed here. The truck had apparently run several feet up the railway tracks before stopping, it was said.

Allen was the only son of Marion Allen, of Printer, and the late Cora Stumbo Allen. He was a timberman and both he and Bentley were widely known in this section. Surviving, besides his father, are his widow, Mrs. Lexie Woods Allen. Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday from the residence at Printer, the Revs. Isaac Stratton, S. B. Rucker, Willard Akers, and E. H. Howard, officiating. Burial was made in the Woods cemetery, near Allen.

Bentley was a son of the late T. J. and Mary Ann Bentley, of Allen. He is survived by three brothers, John and Kit Bentley, both of Allen, Phillip Bentley, of California, and four sisters, Mrs. Abe Parsons, of Martin, Mrs. Thomas Branham, Mrs. Frank Carr and Mrs. Henry Carr, all of Allen. His funeral was conducted Tuesday from the graveside in the Riley Hall cemetery at Allen, the Rev. Wayne Blanton officiating.

DAVID MINE WINS AWARD

Is One of 36 in U.S.
Recognized by Safety Association Committee

The Safety Award committee of the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association has voted to the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company Mine No. 1 at David a certificate of honor for extraordinary achievements in safety. It was announced this week.

To only 36 other coal mines over the nation and to only four others in Kentucky were such certificates issued by unanimous vote of the five-man committee.

The Princess Elkhorn award was for operating without a fatality from Sept. 10, 1942 to Dec. 21, 1946, a total of 2,163,328 man-hours, while an average of 265 employees were producing 1,883,699 tons of coal.

In general, the Association pointed out, it is considered a good job if as much or more than 225,000 man-hours are worked underground without a lost-time accident. The average number of tons of coal per fatality for the coal mines of the United States last year was slightly over 610,000, and the safety award committee pointed out that a record of 1,000,000 tons or more without a fatality (or even per fatality) may be considered a fairly good record.

Other Kentucky mines so honored are:

Consolidation Coal Company Mine No. 207, Jenkins, 2,624,914 man-hours from Dec. 28, 1944 to Dec. 31, 1946, producing 1,562,967 tons without a fatality; the Heller No. 2 mine of the Caudill-Ward Coal Co., working an average of 43 men 269,258 man-hours from June 1, 1944 to Dec. 27, 1946 and producing 251,942 tons without a lost-time accident; and Mines 30 and 31 of the U.S. Coal and Coke Company at Lynch.

DISCUSS AREA AROUND DAM

Recreation Planner
For Army Engineers
Prepares for Study

Meeting of the Paintsville Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening was devoted mainly to recreation possibilities in the Dewey dam reservoir of this county, with Frank H. Bunce, recreational planner, army corps of engineers, as a guest.

Mr. Bunce is here, preparatory to the reconnaissance on which he will lead, Tuesday of next week, federal and state park and fish and game officials, to determine recreational possibilities in the reservoir area.

The Paintsville group Tuesday evening planned to submit with Prestonsburg, and possibly Pikeville, a joint statement of recreational needs in the dam area. Mayor J. B. Wells, of Paintsville, also suggested a joint meeting of Prestonsburg and Paintsville supporters of the recreation move, to plan concerted action through proper channels. Date and place of the meeting has not been determined, but it will not be held till after a tour of the area is made by officials.

BONDS OF TWO UPPED $7,000

Witnesses Tell Story Of W'Wright Slaying
At Hearing Held Here

Bonds of Earl Blackburn, Wheelwright policeman, and Deputy Sheriff Albert Hall, of Melvin, were raised Friday from $5,000 to $12,000 each following belated examining trial here in the slaying at Wheelwright on the evening of May 30 of Bill Bryant, bus driver and former Floyd officer.

Request of Wyatt Bryant, father of the slain man, for hearing of evidence from a list of witnesses he produced to show that the defendants were not entitled to bond, turned into a full-dress preliminary hearing. The new bonds, which were executed, were agreed upon by attorneys for both the Commonwealth and the defense.

Blackburn did not testify at the hearing. Hall was not present. Examination of witnesses produced this testimony:

From Police Judge Robert M. Moscrip, of Wheelwright:

"Policeman Blackburn brought Bryant to the Police Judge's office and charged him with drunkenness. Later, when he attempted to take Bryant to the city jail, Bryant refused to go and the policeman called on Deputy Sheriff Hall for help, whereupon the prisoner agreed to go. Blackburn had unlocked the outside jail door and was unlocking a cage door when Bryant wheeled and ran back into Judge Moscrip's office, seized the cash box he carried as driver of the city bus line owned by Policeman Blackburn. As he went down the street he held the box in front of him.

"Bryant, Judge Moscrip said, was 'pretty well under the influence of liquor.' He said he saw the first two shots fired, after which there was a slight pause, then several shots. He saw nothing in Bryant's hands as he sank down, apparently trying to catch on his hands. He went over to the scene of the shooting from where he stood, a distance of approximately 40 feet, and saw the cash box 8 to 10 feet distant from the body of Bryant. Judge Moscrip added that he saw no weapon other than that held by Blackburn.

"I thought I saw Earl pick up a

DRIVER FIRED, OTHERS QUIT

Bus Line from Ashland To Grundy, Va., Idle;
'Disobedience' Is Cited

A tie-up in bus transportation between Ashland, Paintsville, Prestonsburg, Pikeville and Grundy, Va., and intervening points resulted last Friday when what was described as a walk-out of Kentucky-Virginia Stages drivers and maintenance personnel took place at Paintsville.

The buses could not contact Oakley Sparks, president of the bus line, but he was quoted as saying the work-stoppage followed "the firing of a disobedient driver."

The Paintsville bus terminal which serves not only Kentucky-Virginia Stages but also Greyhound, Sparks Bros., Conley and other bus lines, was closed. Stranded passengers were advised to proceed to the nearest station still open, it was said.

CATS PLAYING FOR KY. TITLE

In State Tournament
Third Time in Row;
Win at Morehead

For the third consecutive year the Black Cats of Prestonsburg high school are representing this region in the state baseball tournament at Parkway Field, Louisville.

They play one of the other seven regional champions this evening (Thursday) at 5 after having won their way to the state title battle by virtue of an 8-7 victory over Vanceburg last Friday at Morehead.

To reach the finals of the Morehead regional, the Cats played Paintsville, winning as they pleased, 21 to 2.

This year, the Cats have uncovered another youthful hurler in the person of Howard Burchett who has a lot of mound talent. Last year and the year before, it was Ballard Branham, now with the Salisbury team of the North Carolina league.

When Burchett has his control, high school batters find him unhittable.

At Morehead Vanceburg was shut out, 7 to 0, going into the sixth inning. But Burchett became wild and, although only two balls were driven beyond the infield by Vanceburg, the Lewis countians tied up the game in the seventh.

Prestonsburg's team is a harder hitting, better fielding team than last year's. But, as in previous years, it lacks in numbers on the mound.

Youth Suffers Injury In Auto Wreck May 26

Stanley Seiler, 17-year-old son of Oscar Seiler, well-known piano tuner, is recovering at the Prestonsburg General hospital from car wreck injuries which included a broken thigh.

He was injured May 26 on the Middle Creek road when a truck crowded or pushed his father's auto over an embankment. The wreck occurred on his first day of work with his father during summer vacation from school.

Fifty Floyd Junior Sportsmen Among 1,200 To Camp at Lakes

Between 1,200 and 1,500 Junior Conservation Club members from throughout Kentucky will participate in summer camps at Kentucky Lake and Dale Hollow between now and September 1, Earl Wallace, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, announced this week.

From 50 to 60 of Floyd county's Junior Sportsmen will attend the Dale Hollow camp, it was said this week by Winston L. (Winkie) Burke, Prestonsburg, Seventh district Junior Conservation supervisor.

Already some of the boys are enjoying the camp life on the banks of Kentucky Lake, this period having opened on June 1 and will continue there until June 22 when the camp site will be shifted to Dale Hollow where several additional weeks of camping will be held.

The only expense to Junior Club members enjoying the camps is $1 a day for meals. The Floyd County Fish & Game Club is providing free transportation for the group from this county, and all other facilities are made, gratis, through the Division of Game and Fish.

The Junior camping program, under the supervision of Organization Superintendent Ed Adams, is a new project with the Division of Game and Fish and is being offered club members with the hope of teaching the boys to be better conservationists. During their one to two weeks' stay at the camps the boys will be taught, under expert supervision, the game and fish laws of the state, compass reading, how to handle boats, shooting and casting, bird and tree identification. Swimming sessions, with skilled swimmers in charge, will be held each day. Camp games of all types have been provided for the boys, Mr. Wallace pointed out, and the boys will be taught how to play while learning more about conservation.

Boys from clubs in the First and Second districts are attending the camp at Kentucky Lake, and those from the other seven districts in the state will participate in the Dale Hollow excursion.

SLATE KILLS DAVID PARKER

Mr. Parker was a son of Thomas and Sarah Parker. Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Parker, two children, Thomas William and Mrs. Geneva Martin, both of Wayland, two brothers and three sisters, Darb and Perry Parker, Mrs. Ella King, Mrs. Gladys Click and Hattie Parker, all of Wayland and vicinity.

Here, he served as principal and for a time as basketball coach.

Mr. Frazier said this week a principal of the Prestonsburg school has not been employed.

Superintendent Wicker's letter of resignation, dated June 10, follows, in part:

"The decision to leave Prestonsburg has been a most difficult one to make. It is my considered opinion that there is in prospect a bright future for the schools here. I have grown to love the youth and the fine people of this community, and, al-

Lawrence Truckdriver Jailed after Ramming Auto; Fannin Injured

Billie C. Fitch, 24-year-old Lawrence countian, was jailed here late Friday afternoon by Chief of Police Epp Laferty and Deputy Sheriff Ed Craft on a drunk driving charge after his truck had rammed into the rear of a Ford coupe driven by Billie C. Fannin, 22, Prestonsburg, on a curve near Lancer.

Fannin suffered a severe head laceration but it was said at the Prestonsburg General hospital that he will recover. The truck, witnesses were quoted by officers as saying, tore into the coupe at terrific speed, knocking the smaller car a distance of approximately 75 feet from the highway. Fannin had stopped to let a passenger leave his car when he was struck, it was said.

Osborne's Wife, Babe Arrive from England

It was hot in Coventry, England during the days and nights of the late war but it was a different kind of heat to that which Mrs. Gladys Hollingsworth Osborne found in Kentucky upon her arrival here Saturday. She missed the cooling breezes of Merrie England.

Mrs. Osborne and eight-months-old daughter Christine arrived from Coventry to join her husband, Charles Osborne, of Prestonsburg. They made the Atlantic crossing aboard the USS Jarrett M. Hutchinson, army transport.

The English girl became the Prestonsburg man's bride in 1946 in a ceremony in one of the few churches in much-bombed Coventry that had escaped Nazi wrath from the skies. He arrived home, a few weeks ago, and immediately prepared for Mrs. Osborne and daughter to join him here.

Sgt. Osborne, who served in the air corps during the war, will return, June 22, to Ft. Belvoir, Va., for further army service, and hopes to have his family with him there.

Wreck of Tractor Near Alger Fatal To Frank Holbrook

Special to The Times

Alger, O., June 6—Frank Holbrook, 29 years old, formerly of Myrtle, Ky., was killed near Alger at 7 a. m., this morning. He died instantly when the tractor he was driving went out of control into a ditch near the Harlan Hall farm, five miles south of Alger.

Holbrook, brother-in-law of Hall, was driving the tractor on the highway from a field to another part of Hall's farm when the accident occurred. He was thrown from the seat of the machine and crushed beneath its wheels. He was found shortly after the mishap occurred by Jack Rose, owner of a neighboring farm.

The victim is survived by his father, Jake Holbrook, Alger, O., Route 1, three brothers, Jesse and Adam, Alger, O., Route 1, and T. J., of McGuffey, O., two sisters, Mrs. Essie Prater, of Alger, Route 1, and Mrs. Doshie Hall, of Harrod, Ohio, Route 1.

The body remained at the residence of New Prater until Sunday when funeral rites were held in the United Baptist Church, Alger, with the Rev. Andrew Allen officiating. Burial was made in the Preston cemetery near Alger.

Mr. Holbrook was born at Myrtle, Ky., Nov. 5, 1917, and came to Alger in 1938.

SPECIAL TRAIN TOBRING 125

To Prestonsburg, Other Eastern Kentucky Towns; L'Ville Mayor in Party

Prestonsburg will be visited on Tuesday, June 17, by a party of 125 Louisville business men including manufacturers, wholesalers, bankers, transportation officials and others. The special Pullman train carrying them will arrive here at 4:35 (EST.)

The Louisville Board of Trade is sponsoring the group's four-day outing, June 16-20, during which 24 mountain and Blue Grass cities will be visited. Included in addition to Prestonsburg are Ashland, Louisa, Paintsville, Pikeville, Irvine, Beattyville, Jackson, Whitesburg, Hazard, Jellico, Tenn., Williamsburg, Corbin, Barbourville, Middlesboro, Pineville, Harlan, Manchester, London, Mt. Vernon, Stanford, Harrodsburg and Lawrenceburg.

The group is bringing with it Louisville's Mayor, E. Leland Taylor. Official head of the party will be Bruce Hoblitzell, president of the Board of Trade. C. Hunter Green will be director of the tour.

Immediately upon arrival here, Mr. Green said, the Louisville visitors will place themselves in the hands of the local reception committee. Headed by that committee, the party will march to a meeting place designated by local officials where there may be a brief exchange of greetings.

After that, within the limits of its scheduled stay here, it was stated, the visitors will welcome the opportunity to see the city and its points of scenic or historic interest.

"We regret," says Mr. Hoblitzell, "that our limited time makes it impossible to accept dinner and luncheon invitations. We will make from five to seven stops daily and travel on a close schedule. To conserve time, we carry diners. The meals are served between stops."

"Resuming our annual tours following the war, we have chosen to visit the Mountain and Blue Grass sections because there are no places more popular with Louisville business men. Safety Improvements At Mine Commended But Others Asked

Although commending a score of recent safety improvements in the Ligon mine at Ligon, a federal coal mine inspector recommends better rock-dusting and further haulage safeguards in a report released by the Bureau of Mines.

Operated by the Ligon Company, the mine employed 29 persons and averaged 250 tons of coal daily when inspected in April by Matthew I. Duncan.

Rock-dusting in the face regions was inadequate, and the inspector advocated additional rock-dusting where needed to minimize dust-explosion dangers. To increase haulage safety, Duncan proposed unobstructed clearance along haulage-ways, proper rerailing devices for each locomotive, and the prohibition of coupling moving cars by hand.

Noteworthy recent beneficial changes included the adoption of a systematic timbering plan, setting of safety posts at each working face except one, discontinuance of transporting explosives and detonators on man-trips, safer underground storage of explosives, an enclosed switch at each pump installation, frame-grounds for tippie motors, suitable underground fire-fighting equipment, use only of permissible electric cap lamps, and the wearing of hard hats and safety shoes.

For further conformation with the code, Inspector Duncan recommended added safeguards for the detonator and explosives-storage magazines, separation of explosives and detonators when transported underground in the same container, added safety devices for the main fan, main tenance of at least two permissible flame safety lamps, preshift examinations for hazards, frame-grounds for mining machines and hand-held electric drills, wearing of approved-type goggles for eye-hazardous work and for conformance with Bureau standards, a ban on underground smoking.

Boys at McDowell Ready for Scout Work

A new Boy Scout troop is in process of organization in the county, with McDowell boys benefiting, David Gallagher, who will be Scoutmaster there, said this week. Twenty-five boys have already enrolled and are awaiting their charter.

Sponsoring the troop are B. F. Reed, Douglas Hays and Jake Coley. Mr. Gallagher, a World War II veteran and formerly assistant Scoutmaster at Newcastle, Pa., said the Scout work is being planned to cover not only McDowell but the neighboring towns of Drift and Gearheart.

The group of boys listed as future Boy Scouts have already enjoyed an outing at the Wheelwright swimming pool.

BURG COPS TWIN BILL

First Game Is Gift, 14-13;
Butcher Hits 3 Homers;
Pikeville Still in Lead

Fans who like to see a baseball do like a bird and who like column-filling statistics had themselves a time here Sunday.

Wheelwright and Prestonsburg of the Eastern Kentucky League provided this type of fan big moments a-plenty.

The first game was a thriller-diller, with Wheelwright's Manager Benedict opening the door to Prestonsburg and the local lads walking right through in splendid style. Up till the eighth inning the visitors' Wohlford had Prestonsburg beaten, 13 to 4. Paul Butcher's long drive over the right field fence in the seventh had given Prestonsburg its only lift of the game as Wheelwright had almost certain victory in its grasp.

But, with a nine-run lead and only two innings to go, Benedict made the excusable mistake of deciding anybody could hurl the next two innings and get by.

Excusable or not, it was a big mistake. Bailey came on for Wheelwright, couldn't find the plate except rarely and when he did the results were disastrous as Prestonsburg bats went to work. The game went boom in the visitors' faces. Astor Meade hit a grand slam homer over the left field fence. Kit Stumbo rang up a timely drive—everybody either hit or got a walk. Benedict and Poole shared these mound troubles for Wheelwright, with the latter winding up the losing pitcher. Meanwhile, May moved over from first to relieve Kit Stumbo on the mound and did a good job of it. Once Prestonsburg got that one-run lead, Charlie Patton went in to protect it, and he did.

Poole was also the losing pitcher in the second game, which was never close. Patton went all the way for Prestonsburg.

But the story of that game should be written around Paul Butcher. The star third baseman did nothing but crash two long home runs into the outlying precincts of the Auxier road section in four times at bat, and on another occasion delivered a double, batting in seven runs. The score?—ch. 23 to 5.

Elsewhere in the league, Floyd county's Buck Stumbo, now in a Pikeville uniform, received credit for both Pikeville wins Sunday over though there is much hesitation and regret, I leave with that pleasant feeling that the patrons far and wide have been friendly toward my administration of the school program of the Prestonsburg city schools.

"In retrospect, I take pride in the fact that one may point in many directions where progress has been made during the past three years in this school system. In prospect, many plans have been made to meet the vital needs of Prestonsburg's youth, but time, hard work, patience, and a liberal sprinkling of money are needed to bring these plans to a full realization of completeness.

"May I express my sincere thanks to you for the trust you have reposed in me and for the many kindnesses shown in our relationships with each other? I have tried to perform my duties with the best interests of the school always at heart. If my work here may help others to serve their fellowman better, then, that shall be my greatest reward.

"It is my hope that you find the best superintendent possible to succeed me. You can count on me to stand ready to advise or acquaint you with the conditions and needs of the school at any time."

MAY THEY SEE IT ALL!

WHEN national and state park service officials make their reconnaissance of the Johns Creek reservoir area June 17, we devoutly trust they will see it all—all that is and all that should be.

The Great Smoky Mountains, Norris Park and Norris Lake, Dale Hollow, Harrington—these names of distant places have an allure that is irresistible as well as expensive for an estimated half-million persons living within a hundred miles of this lake of the future and this area here at home that could conceivably bring all the recreation and healthful relaxation of the outdoors that could be found anywhere in America.

All this is merely in the realm of possibility, however. There is work to be done to make it a reality. The lake to be formed by the Dewey flood control dam on Johns Creek and the hill-locked valley that could be a vacation dreamland will remain merely a hidden valley, devastated by water, unless we of this section can cause federal and state park officials to catch our vision of what the area could be scenically and what it could mean to so many recreationally.

THE TIMES is not interested here in pointing out to its readers the financial benefits that would accrue to this section through development of the area's recreation possibilities—camping, boating, fishing, swimming, horseback riding through wooded mountain trails. It believes enough of this angle is known to cause citizens of Eastern Kentucky and surrounding areas to be interested in the undertaking.

Those to whom we would appeal are the individuals who can help through federal and state funds in developing the Johns Creek reservoir into what it should be. Johns Creek, impounded waters of which will form the lake, has for years been termed potentially Kentucky's finest bass stream. The stream is unpolluted by mine waters, oil or the refuse of industrial communities. This is truly virgin territory where there is not even a road worthy of the name. Heavily wooded hills, deep, glenlike hollows that will become arms of the lake, sheltering mountains that will make boating and fishing blissfully safe in contrast to wider lakes in wind-exposed country, every knoll and hilltop offering a view that holds even the eyes of the native, not to mention the visitor new to the section—where could a more ideal spot be found for park and game and fish officials to spend money for the complete enjoyment of thousands?

The forests of the region should and must be preserved. Wherever they are now depleted, they should be restored. Erosion must be stopped if the dam is to serve, in any degree, the purpose of flood-control. Every vestige of prime beauty must be saved to this and future generations. And, added to all this, should be the conveniences expert planning and supervision could provide.

Yes, the Dewey dam and the lake it will form, set in a picture-frame of woodland beauty, could be "something," indeed.

THE TIMES would remind "the powers that be" that the lake will ruin the Johns Creek valley as a productive section. Only full development of the area as a vacation-land and sportsman's mecca will compensate for that.

Moreover, all the thousands who are tied to jobs, with a day or two on week-ends for their only leisure, should be given consideration. They cannot drive to Norris or Dale Hollow or some other distant spot and gain either pleasure or relaxation, meantime. Their leisure hours are too few.

And they do deserve pleasurable outings made possible by the good roads, cabins, and other conveniences the national and state park services could with complete justification provide.

Misses Marian Mayo Salisbury and Charlotte Salisbury have returned home from Lexington where they attended the University of Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hatcher and daughter, Myrtle Grace, of Huntington, spent a few days here recently, guests of relatives and friends.

William Kelly Moore, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore, was rushed to a hospital Friday afternoon for treatment for a severe cut sustained when he fell, thrusting his arm through a French door. He is improving nicely.

Miss Anna Woods and Mrs. Phyllis Ranier, of Prestonsburg, conducted a week's Bible school at the Cliff schoolhouse last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fob Derossett and grandchildren, Jimmy and Athalene Hereford and Jimmy Derossett, visited Mr. and Mrs. Will Stephens Sunday afternoon.

Dr. George Archer called on Mrs. Will Stephens last Monday evening and reports that her condition is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harris and children, of Prestonsburg, visited their daughter, Mrs. Jeff Vaughan, here recently.

Robert Nelson Moore visited relatives on Johns Creek last week. Jack Best is spending a week with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Best, of Harrodsburg. He will return home next Sunday.

The agriculture secretary announced the end of sugar rationing at a news conference. When a reporter asked whether pending congressional action had anything to do with the step, he said:

"A better way to put it would be: Did Congress hurry it because it knew this action was coming?"

He gave three reasons for the move:

1. The International Emergency Food Council said today the United States will get 350,000 extra tons of sugar from Cuba.

2. Cuba has still some surplus sugar which is expected to help cut down demands from other parts of the world.

3. Some 200,000 tons of Javanese sugar—availability of which was in doubt—will definitely be offered to world users now.

Anderson warned industrial users that they will need ration checks to get sugar from wholesalers or retailers.

In addition, he said, retailers will be required to keep records of the name and address of each industrial buyer, the address to which the sugar is delivered, and other information.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Francis entertained as their houseguests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hopkins and daughter, Carol, and Billy Parker, all of Carlisle, Ky.

church in which the classes were held. He could see every eye upon him. This was disgrace—yes, dishonor—for a man to be segregated from his kind and placed among all those females. Besides, he lived in an age when boys of his years found those deliciously beautiful, excitingly strange beings known as girls, things to shy from, to look rapidly upon from afar. He had been known in school, to occupy no more than half an inch of space on the very end of the long recitation seat, to prevent some pestiferous schoolmate from teasing him about sitting "ya-h-h, next to a gurl!" And now this!

The upshot was, the poor fellow gave vent to his feelings. He not only refused to budge an inch toward the girls' side of the room; he got so worked up about it that he disturbed "books" by crying loudly and in an off-key soprano.

There were some so heartless as to punctuate his sobbed protests with heartless sniggers and broad horselaughs. But I, always the sympathetic soul, felt more like crying.

Big Ed DeCoursey, Wayland basketball star, and the only player to win an all-state berth for playing less than a full game in the state net tournament, will be one of the starters on Coach Ed Diddle's Kentucky all-star team which Friday night plays a similar team from Indiana.

DeCoursey will probably start at a forward position with Hal Moberly, of Richmond, the other forward, J. M. Gipe, of Owensboro, will be at center, with Eddie Hamston, Lawrenceburg, and Ed LeForge, Mayesville, at guard.

While Coach Diddle was rounding his squad into form at Bowling Green this week, his high school stars played an aggregation of college stars, and the college players were able to down the high school team only by a narrow margin. In fact, the high school all-stars threatened to win until Odie Spears, of Western State Teachers, was thrown into the collegiate lineup.

Both Adolph Rupp of Kentucky and Diddle of Western are after DeCoursey for next year's net campaign. He is expected to make a decision soon.

SHOE PLACE OF PIKEVILLE
 345 Main Street Pikeville, Ky.

After due consideration, I wish to offer myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of State Senator from Floyd, Knott and Martin counties.

I am 32 years old, the son of the late Bob Martin, who was born and raised near Drift, Ky. I received my education at Caney Junior College, Morehead State Teachers College, and the University of Kentucky. I taught school for eight years before entering the army in January, 1943. After my discharge in September, 1945, I entered Law School at the University of Kentucky.

I am now studying to take the bar examination in order to secure a license to practice law. This examination will be given on the 25th, 26th and 27th of June. I will not be able to spend much time in this campaign until after that date, but after this examination is over, I will try to meet and talk with as many people as possible. I hope to see you all. I am in this race to the finish and I am going to try hard to win. If nominated and elected, I will work and vote for such legislation that I feel will best serve the people of this district.

I am a firm believer in the expansion and the extension of the Rural Electrification program, so that electricity will be available to every home in this district, and I will not vote for any bill that would tend to hamper or destroy the program of cheap electricity for all.

I will work for an increased appropriation to the Rural Highway Department and control of these funds by our local Fiscal Courts.

I will support an adequate educational program, with at least nine months' school for every child in Kentucky, and a minimum teachers' salary that is reasonable and equitable, and within the dignity of the profession.

I will work and vote for more money to be spent in the Department of Welfare for the aged, the orphan children, and people who are blind; for adequate money to be spent on our state hospitals so that people who are unfortunate, and become patients in the same, may have the best of treatment and a chance to regain their health.

I will at all times support and vote for legislation that will be of benefit to our Veterans and their families.

Your support and influence in this, my first race for public office, will be greatly appreciated, and I promise that if nominated and elected that I will at all times support the interests of the people, and that at no time will I be on the side of those who wish special privileges or advantages from our state government at the expense of good government and the welfare of the people.

Your friend,

Only 6 Weeks Remain For War II Veterans To Renew Insurance

Only six weeks remain in which veterans of World War II may reinstate lapsed National Service Life (G.I.) Insurance without a physical examination, it is announced by the Veterans Administration. After Aug. 1, 1947 a physical examination will be required.

Harry W. Farmer, regional manager, pointed out that NSLI may be reinstated in amounts ranging from $1,000 to 10,000. Veterans need pay only two monthly premiums to reinstate term plan insurance if health is as good as when the insurance lapsed.

NSLI offers such features as lump sum settlement, unrestricted choice of beneficiaries and a wide selection of permanent plans of insurance, Manager Farmer said.

Expert advice and assistance regarding G.I. insurance is available at all VA offices in Kentucky.

It pays to advertise in the TIMES.

Elias H. Tussey, one of the section's oldest men, died at the age of 91 Monday at his home at Dock.

Mr. Tussey was a farmer and had many relatives and friends in this county. He is survived by four sons and one daughter: Fred, Jim and Green Tussey, all of Dock, Butler Tussey, Wheelwright, and Mrs. Jack Stone, of David.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday from the residence, the Rev. Robert Martin officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery, the Arnold Funeral Home directing.

THE PACING MARE

UNCLE BILL CLARK was the biggest natural-born liar I ever knew. He had never been to school and could not have acquired any of his lying from books. He had traveled a little, that is, as a Confederate soldier, and killed hundreds of Yankees, but after the war he stayed pretty close to his little farm over on Pan'ter Creek, except for his Saturday-afternoon trips to Fidelity. Because of his advanced age, he occupied one of the chairs of the loafers' joint and was a sort of a charter member of the liars' bench. Nobody dared contradict his yarns, for it was feared a little bit of skepticism might break the old fellow's heart or at least cause him to quit his inimitable entertainment. Since Uncle Bill was such a brave man, it did not pay to doubt his stories; why, doubting would cast a cloud on his army record, and all of us were true-blue Rebels, glorying in the bloody deeds of the old fellows who somehow lived through the four long years of the Civil War.

Uncle Bill did not have much of this world's goods, beyond a wife and several children. But his mare Daisy was the one member of his family that we always heard of. She was the pacingest animal that ever ate corn or fodder. She really was a trim animal, pretty small and easy to keep. Uncle Bill was himself a small man, probably not weighing over a hundred and twenty pounds, and all of that was sheer muscle. When he came riding into Fidelity on Saturday afternoon, he assumed all the dignity and Civil War dare-devilery that had made him a brave cavalryman so long ago. We would look up from our whittling and envy him, but no word of ours would let out what we really felt. We probably made some catty remark about Uncle Bill and his Daisy that would not look pretty or decent in this essay. When he had tied Daisy to the hitching rack (which happened to be Ed Jones' fence), he came bounding along like a much younger man and joined the perennial whittlers.

Some of us would soon spin some monstrous yarn and declare by all that was holy that it was God's truth. That was just a trick to get Uncle Bill started. It was not especially hard, however, to get him to recount some of his war experiences on his mighty mare. As he grew older, he loved most of all this yarn:

Once he had been up into Henry county to Swor's Distillery to get a jug of apple brandy, for Uncle Bill took a little wine for the stomach's sake in the Biblical fashion and sometimes took even a little more. Now Swor always gave his customers good measure in their jugs and also treated them to a free drink of his best. Uncle Bill got his jug filled and then filled his skin with Swor's Best. These attentions to the inner man were getting in their best work by the time Uncle Bill got back to the Big Hill just south of Fidelity. Daisy pranced along the dusty road as if she, too, had had a swig of Swor's best. Uncle Bill rode along, feeling gay and proud of having the best hoss-flesh on the east side of the county. Just as he was giving Daisy her fanciest tryout as a pacer, he looked from the top of the hill and saw seven covered wagons going down the hill, on their way west. Now Daisy was a spirited animal, according to Uncle Bill, and resented any interference. Uncle Bill pulled hard on the reins when they approached the first wagon, but Daisy was going at too rapid a pace to stop. The road was too narrow for her to go around. Seeing that something drastic had to be done, Uncle Bill kicked her in her flanks. She paced right over the seven wagons and landed, none the worse for her marvelous experience, right in the dusty road ahead of the last one, still pacing for dear life. "And she never missed a lick, I gran- nies," concluded Uncle Bill.

Betsy Layne Alumni Name Branham Head Of Group for Year

Betsy Layne, Ky., June 9 (Spl.)—It's always fair weather when old as well as good friends get together.

This was in evidence last Saturday night at the Betsy Layne alumni banquet. Teachers and graduates from almost every class since 1927 were on hand for the reunion.

This year's banquet, preceded by many others, was held in the school gymnasium which was decorated in harmonious pastels. Harmony other than that of good fellowship was rendered by Mrs. Gene Kelly's singing "Somewhere Over the Rainbow," Jesse Elliott's playing of trombone numbers, and a piano solo by Miss Sally Maggard, of Lexington. The whole group sang their school song, and a recording of it was made to commemorate the occasion.

Officers elected for another year include: Jack Branham, president; Mrs. James Merrill, vice-president, and Miss Anna Ruth Layne, secretary-treasurer.

The next alumni banquet will be held on the first Saturday night of June, 1948.

Miss Bertha Weddington, of Emma, was here Monday on business.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

In our Commonwealth we have two kinds of people—those who bask in the state's colorful past, and those who are striving to make history.

Or, one might say, the contented and the discontented, the satisfied and the dissatisfied.

To the latter kind belong the hundreds of thousands who have hitched themselves to the Committee for Kentucky's movement for a better state.

At my elbow is a fine non-fiction volume I finished reading less than an hour ago. It is a compilation of letters by the late William Allen White, famous Kansas country editor, which was passed along to me by Louis Ruthenburg, refrigerator tycoon and fellow farmer. As I read the last page it occurred to me that few books have been written about the civic, the educational and the spiritual growth of a small community. Most novels of country-town life have been political or devoted to unusual characters. A novel about the awakening of a country town would be a vital contribution to American literature. And I believe Jesse Stuart, the Greenup author, could write it. What about it, Jesse?

Your correspondent is looking forward to the day when President Harry W. Schacter and a group of the Committee for Kentucky's leaders from all the main walks of life, makes for us what Mr. Schacter calls a blueprint for progress. That document should be a declaration written with Jeffersonian skill and should ring in a soul-stirring tone the Liberty Bell might have sounded if it hadn't been cracked.

The blueprint of progress should be a one-page Bible for all our history makers, all the discontented, and all the dissatisfied.

Material for the document is abundant. And assembling it will not be an overwhelming task. But making every word sparkle like a four-carat blue-white diamond calls for sheer genius.

Maybe Mr. Schacter can find the right person for the job. If he does, we'll insist that Kentucky build itself a Hall of Fame and put busts of both Mr. Schacter and his writer in the middle niches.

Approximately 155 acres of Ky. 31 fescue grass in Warren county will be harvested for seed this year.

Smith D. Broadbent, Jr., contributed hybrid seed corn for Christian county 4-H club entrants in the corn derby.

The Williamsport 4-H club in Johnson county set out 4,000 pine trees on land unsuited for crops.
Kentucky 103 hybrid corn was distributed among 18 4-H club members by the Lurie County Seed Growers Association.

There Are Definite Reasons Why Waterfield Should Be Elected

Again the people of Kentucky face the by no means unimportant task of selecting a Governor.

Some "organization men" over the state advise the voters that there are no issues in this campaign between Harry Lee Waterfield and Earle C. Clements. They would play the angle down, adopt the hush-hush policy—in the interest, they say, of harmony in the Democratic party. Those without an issue would call any frank statement of fact, any effort to produce the record for the benefit of the people, "mud-slinging." It is always so with the group that would depend upon organization and money to dictate the course of politics. The less said, the better for them.

But we feel that the people should know the facts, and so we set down here our reasons for supporting Harry Lee Waterfield for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky.

1. Waterfield is a man of action, as witness his fight against the power interests when Rural Electrification throughout Kentucky was imperiled by the TVA Ripper bill sponsored by Senator Moss—a bill which Mr. Clements voted for in 1944.

DINGUS RADIO SERVICE

Mayo Trail and Dingus St. PRESTONSBURG, KY. Phone 4931

(Now a candidate for Governor, Mr. Clements, a Congressman, speaks in Washington for Rural Electrification. Circumstances alter cases and he seeks, by lip service, to prove that Rural Electrification, lights and power for the fellow out of town, up the creeks and out on the farm, is no longer an issue. But next year another Moss Bill will be back in the hopper at Frankfort, and the Governor of Kentucky will have a lot to say about whether the vested interests or the interests of the common, ordinary citizen win out.)

2. Waterfield has definite plans for Kentucky and he is not afraid to state them: (a) He FIRST called on Governor Willis for a special Legislature session to appropriate more for teachers' pay. Later, Mr. Clements fell in line.

(b) He FIRST set forth the idea that the Fiscal Courts of Kentucky, with proper qualification, should handle Rural Highway funds in the construction and maintenance of their own roads, rather than leave these funds 'in the pot' to be handled by the state and Frankfort officials pretty much as they please. Waterfield believes in Home Rule and is not afraid to be its champion.

(c) He FIRST of the candidates assured teachers of the state that, if elected Governor, he would surrender the power of hiring and firing state college and university presidents at will. This power threatens the standing of every state institution of higher learning. Later, Mr. Clements in effect said, "Me, too."

(d) He FIRST proposed a pari-mutuel tax, a luxury tax on those who follow the "Sport of Kings." The millions in taxes that would thus accrue would provide funds for needed state work, reduce other taxes and attract industries to Kentucky.

Every other state in the Union where horse racing takes place already collects such a tax, and the racing business is flourishing in them all.

3. Harry Lee Waterfield is not currying favors from any "big" group. He is carrying his fight to the people where his interest lies, as his record shows beyond dispute.

4. He combines youth with experience gained in fighting at Frankfort as Speaker of the House of Representatives for principles.

5. He does not seek to damage any certain group. He simply stands for Kentucky and all its people against special interests.

This is the People's fight. The People always get what they want—if they only will fight and vote for it.

No issues in this campaign? The issues are many and they all add up to the general picture of what the common voter hopes to find in the Governor of Kentucky.

Now and every day till August 2 is the time for us all to be busy. Let us not wait till the election is over, then spend four years lamenting our misfortune.

DEPARTMENT CITES RULING

Foodhandlers Required To Procure Permits; Standards Listed

The deadline for the securing of permits by old places serving food and drinks, and in operation at the time the foodhanding regulation was adopted Jan. 1, 1946 has been pushed up until July 1, this year, it was announced last week by the Floyd County Health Department.

After this date all places operating without a permit will be committing a violation making them subject to a fine of $10 to $100 and each day's operation after they have been given legal notice to close will be considered a separate offense.

Dr. Marvin Ransdell, health department director, declared that M. V. Clark, inspector with the department, reports that there will be a very small number that are not ready with their permits by that time and that most of these are planning on closing their business July 1. All places not complying will be visited by an inspector and given a 30-day notice to close out their businesses. After this, they will be prosecuted according to law.

The foodhanding establishment regulation was suggested by the State Bureau of Foods and Drugs. It provides that all places preparing and serving food or drink to the public must have a written permit signed by the county health officer, and that all places shall be in grades of A, B, and C and that placards showing these grades shall be kept by the operators in a conspicuous place so that they may be seen by all customers.

Before any permits can be issued a minimum requirement has been provided that must be met. They must have suitable housing facilities, approved toilet facilities for workers, a safe and protected water supply, both hot and cold under pressure, lavatory facilities with both hot and cold water connections convenient to the kitchen, a three-compartment sink with both hot and cold water connections to each compartment, and all workers must have health certificates.

All new places going into business after the effective date of this new regulation are required to have a permit before they can open their places for business.

Milk Used in Diet Keeps Eyes Younger, And Hearing Keener

Eyes that stay young longer and the keen hearing associated with youth is retained for a longer time when an ample supply of milk is a part of the daily diet, it was stated by Dr. Statie Erikson, head of the Department of Home Economics at the U.-K. College of Agriculture and home Economics, in calling attention to the observance of June as Dairy Month.

"People who have plenty of milk won't have to wear bi-focals so early," said the foods authority, as she pointed out that milk and milk products are excellent sources of riboflavin, one of the B-vitamins, important in keeping nerves stable and senses sensitive. Riboflavin, she said, is essential in keeping the cornea of the eye healthy.

Because riboflavin is quickly destroyed in the presence of light, Dr. Erikson urged that bottles of milk not be left on porches, but be refrigerated immediately after delivery, if possible.

On the other hand, the home economist explained, riboflavin is not destroyed when milk is processed for later use in products, such as cheese, dried and skim milk and ice cream.

Dr. Erikson, who has studied widely in the fields of foods and nutrition, recommended that one quart of milk be used daily by mothers during lactation, and by children. For other adults, a pint is the minimum amount recommended, while three cups are desirable, she said.

"Men students who were in the service brought back a surprising taste for fresh fluid milk," she noted, adding that in the University Student Cafeteria, it is not unusual to see them take from two to four half-pints of milk on a tray with their food. More men than women students drink milk, she stated.

NEWS FOR THE VETERAN

DISABLED STUDENT VETS MAY GET MEDICAL CARE

The Veterans administration will provide necessary medical treatment or hospitalization to enable disabled veterans to continue their education or on-job training.

Officials at the VA's Columbus, O., Branch Office said disabled veterans who are in schools or job-training courses under provisions of Public Law 16 (Vocational Rehabilitation Act) are entitled to necessary medical care at government expense, regardless of whether the disease or injury is a result of their military or naval service.

Veterans enrolled under the G.I. Bill are entitled to medical care at government expense only for service-connected disabilities.

If a disabled veteran-trainee is injured, suffers a relapse, or if his disability is further aggravated during his period of training and is not the result of his own willful misconduct, he may be granted an increase in the rate of his disability compensation, VA officials said.

1,824 AMPUTEES ELIGIBLE FOR AUTOS IN 3 STATES

The Veterans Administration has authorized 1,824 disabled veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky to purchase at government expense under the "autos for amputees" program, it was announced this week the VA's tri-state Branch Office in Columbus, Ohio.

The total includes 792 in Ohio, 701 in Michigan and 331 in Kentucky. VA said such claims should be filed not later than June 15, inasmuch as June 30 is the deadline for authorizing purchase of vehicles by amputees.

The program to furnish automobiles or other conveyances to World War II veterans who lost, or lost the use of, one or both legs became effective last September. The cost of each vehicle is limited to $1,600, including any special equipment or attachments necessary to enable the veteran to operate it.

WAR DEPT. SEEKS CURRENT ADDRESS OF NEXT-OF-KIN

The War Department has informed the Veterans Administration that survivors of men and women who died while serving in the army during World War II should make certain that two of its agencies have their present address.

Many instances have been found where addresses of next-of-kin in the files of the casualty section of the adjutant general's office and the memorial division of Office of Quartermaster General are incorrect. Letters sent to these next-of-kin by the two offices have been returned, marked: "Moved. Left no forwarding address."

Next-of-kin who have moved since last notifying these offices of their addresses are asked to mail a postcard or letter to each office, stating in effect:

"I am next-of-kin to (name) (grade) (serial number). My former address was (street, city, state). My present address is (street, city, state)." The communication should be mailed to:

The War Department, Adjutant General's Office, attention: Personnel Actions Branch, Casualty Section, The Pentagon, Washington 25, D.C.

Memorial Division, Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington 25, D.C.

MAJORITY OF U.S. VETS SERVED DURING WW II

Seven out of every nine living veterans of the nation's last five wars served in World War II, according to the latest tabulation released by the Veterans Administration.

The table reported an estimated total of 18,188,000 living veterans in May. Of this number, 14,267,000 served in World War II, and the remainder, 3,921,000, in the four prior wars and in the peacetime forces.

Many veterans live outside the United States. More than 100,000 live in Alaska, the Canal Zone, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Some 50,000 live in foreign countries, exclusive of the Philippines, where 18,000 are reported.

FIVE COUNTRIES POPULAR FOR VET STUDY ABROAD

Eight out of every 10 students studying abroad under the G.I. Bill are enrolled in institutions in five countries, according to the Veterans Administration.

VA said the five countries are Canada, Mexico, Switzerland, France and England.

Recent VA statistics show 1,368 U. S. veterans enrolled in 219 foreign schools in 34 different countries.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Are any of the cemeteries operated by Veterans Administration leased from private owners?

A. VA has no such leases.

Q. Can I specify in my G.I. insurance policy that in event my wife re-married after my death, payment of the balance of insurance benefit shall be made to my mother?

A. No.

Q. Who is entitled to the last compensation check due a veteran in event of his death?

A. The check received at the time of the veteran's death becomes part of his estate. The person who bears the expense of his last sickness may apply for the burial award of $150.

Q. Does the veteran have to pay any charges or fees to get a guaranteed loan?

A. The veteran pays no commissions, brokerage fees or other charges for obtaining a guarantee. Fees usually paid by the borrower, such as appraisal, title search, recording, etc., may be charged against the veteran.

Q. I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I can get a guaranteed loan under the G.I. Bill?

A. No. Benefits of the act are for World War II veterans only.

Q. I was discharged from the army in May, 1945. Are readjustment allowances still available to me?

A. Yes, readjustment allowances are available to any eligible veteran until two years after the date of his discharge or release, or until two years after the official end of the war, whichever is later.

Q. I am a World War II veteran and have been ill for five months. At the end of my sixth month of total disability, will I have to continue paying my G.I. insurance premium or is a waiver granted automatically?

A. No automatic waiver of premium is ever granted. A veteran must be disabled for six months before he may apply for a waiver of premium. You are entitled to file a claim for refund of those premiums you paid from the date on which the waiver becomes effective.
