Vernon Blackburn, carrying a concealed deadly weapon; Bernard Martin, storehousebreaking; Albert Hall, unlawfully converting property of another to his own use and malfeasance in office (two indictments), accused by K. Moore of collecting on a $75 attachment and keeping greater part of the amount.

Troy Johnson, reckless use of a deadly weapon; Silas Holbrook, shooting at without wounding Oliver Hughes; Willie Waddles, child desertion; Jack Bailey, killing cow of Oralee Shepherd; Rufus Reed and Scott Isabel, taking auto of Jack Patton; Fred Shepherd, carrying concealed deadly weapon; Albert Allen Meade and Jack Music, taking auto of Ezra Osborne.

In closing days of the court term William McKinley Hall was given his second trial of the session for the same offense, that of carrying a concealed deadly weapon. Joe Hobson, Prestonsburg attorney, presided a special judge by agreement of Commonwealth's and defense counsel. Hall won an acquittal.

Given fines of $50 on guilty pleas to charges of permitting gaming on his premises and assault and battery, Charley Graves was acquitted of a pistol-carrying charge and the indictment charging him with shooting at another without wounding was dismissed for lack of evidence.

The grand larceny trial of Walter Horn and Lloyd Daniels growing out of the alleged theft of a car at West Prestonsburg resulted in a "hung" jury. The charge against Denver Martin of selling whiskey without license was dismissed.

Another "Hard" Law Is Needed

KENTUCKY legislators at the last session of the General Assembly got tough and enacted a pistol law that is making the six-shooter an unpopular part of our accoutrements. With courts cracking down on violators of this law, there will be fewer pistols to crack.

Now, it becomes apparent that the Legislature, while about it, should have made another offense punishable by penitentiary sentence, also. "Drunk driving" can be made an unpopular sport, too, with that sort of penalty.

The usual fine of $100—it could be more but rarely, if ever, is—and suspension of driving permit for a six-month period doesn't quite hit hard enough. A sentence that can't be paid by reaching for the wallet must be provided for those who, dazed or crazed by drink, drive at the risk of their own lives and of all of those whom they meet.

A mere pistol, with its six bullets or so, and requiring a rather steady aim, is a harmless weapon alongside the projectile of steel that is an automobile or truck when it careens along a highway or street to strike blindly and with awesome effect.

The drunken driver, in one moment, may kill or maim a dozen. Floyd county has had its horrifying examples. It will furnish more. The death list will grow until the law becomes ruthlessly exacting of those who, fired with whiskey and powered by gasoline, are potential killers.

True, this would be a difficult law to enforce. "Good" citizens would be caught. But the life of many the really good citizen would be saved.

WHY GILD THE LILY?

IT IS only natural that the Kentucky Department of Highways cannot avoid mistakes. Road-building is a tremendous job in Kentucky, with so many roads urgently needed. The department cannot be all things to all men, and the impulse to criticize should be more often stifled than exercised.

But some mistakes—boners, shall we say, that work injustices—should be called such. And one such The Times is here calling.

Whatever the circumstances under which the mistake was made, whether the error was of heart or mind, the Department has not only wrought an injustice but also is about to waste precious highway funds in its handling of two roads of this section.

The waste of money is about to be made in re-surfacing of Highway 40 between Paintsville and Salyersville.

The injustice comes from the failure of the Department to surface with money to be wasted on Route 40 the Prestonsburg-Salyersville road, an improvement in the state's highway system that is really needed.

This road linking the county seats of Floyd and Magoffin passes through rich sections of the two counties. In good condition, it would be much more heavily traveled than Route 40, between Paintsville and Salyersville. It would provide a short route for every automobile and truck traveling from that vast area south of Prestonsburg into the Bluegrass and beyond. And that road has only a thin coat of gravel—and that coat full of holes. It is traversable in dry weather at great discomfort and at no inconsiderable danger to the motorist.

Route 40 between Paintsville and Salyersville, on the other hand, is one of Eastern Kentucky's very finest highways. By comparison, the Mayo Trail between Prestonsburg and Paintsville is a farm-to-market road.

Route 40 is a good road. Good weather and bad, it offers all the comfort and safety any road in this section offers.

Then why does the Highway Department propose to re-surface it while doing nothing for an equally important route that, in all justice, already should have had a macadam surface?

To resurface Route 40 now would be but to gild the lily. To neglect longer the Prestonsburg-Salyersville road would be a crime.

Branham's Gaining For Starting Role On Salisbury Staff

"Right in there pitchin'" is a popular expression truly applicable to a Prestonsburg youngster, Ballard Branham, Jr., 19, according to a special dispatch from Salisbury, N. C., where Branham is expected to "make the grade" as a starting pitcher for the Salisbury Pirates of the North Carolina league this summer.

The reporter continues: "The likeable 19-year-old youngster from the mountains is dead determined to make good this year and he has been firing the ball in during practice drills at Newman Park. With the club a short while last year, Branham failed to win a game while losing two but he showed signs last season of having the stuff for a chunker and this year he is one of the hardest workers in camp just to show that he's planning to do some serious work in a stab for a mound position."

"Ballard is bigger this year, weighing 175 and standing three inches over six feet and he claims the mountain air up in his home land is mighty good for getting a fellow into condition."

While he was in school here he demonstrated that he was not only tall in stature but plenty long on twirling talent. He was a prime factor in helping the Prestonsburg high school Blackcats establish themselves as a power to be reckoned with in state high school baseball circles and made an enviable mound record for himself.

"But right now," says the Salisbury sportswriter, "Branham's chief thoughts are centered on making a Pittsburgh Pirate scout sit up and take notice—and like all mountain folks, he'll 'die tryin'."

Cats Look Better In 2 Departments In Last 2 Games

Prestonsburg high school's Black Cat baseball team won two games handily last week behind strong hurling by Harmon and Burchett and a heavy batting attack.

They defeated Garrett Tuesday, 9 to 2, and Friday went to Russell to trounce the Red Devils of that school, 10-5. The Russell game was called at the end of the sixth because of rain. The losers made only one hit off Harmon and Burchett, but errors, hit batsmen, bases on balls and the lone Russell hit scored five runs in that last inning. Burchett's clouting featured the Cats' attack.

The box score:

ed the removal of army-owned machinery from a Garsson plant for transfer to another plant and Campbell promised to bring it to the attention of the proper authorities.
"As I told you," May was quoted in the transcript, "these fellows are good friends of mine and have been very kind to me in the past about some things and I want to help them if I can. I'm not asking any favors for them. I just want them to get equal chances."

Col. Henry B. Sheets, retired, now a Buffalo, N. Y., bank vice-president, told of May's request for a "nice big contract" for the Garssons' Illinois munitions enterprises. Sheets was in charge of administration of the 13 regional ordnance districts during the war.

Henry Garsson first came to him with May's recommendation, he said, and complained of discriminatory treatment by the Chicago Ordnance District. Sheets told Garsson he would have to handle the matter through the district, he said.

"Garsson said he was not satisfied and was going to get a contract," Sheets said. "He said if necessary he was going to use his influence with Congressmen—he mentioned Mr. May—said he had plenty of friends. He said I'd be hearing from him."

Sheets heard from May a few days later, he said. He explained to May that the Garsson firms were to be given no contract at that time because the local office had found them unqualified for the work in question. Later he got the records from the Chicago office and went to May's office to discuss the case.

"He said they were fine contractors, able people and hoped we'd give them a nice big contract," the witness said. He quoted May as having told him at a second meeting:

"Now Colonel, you know how those things are. You go see they get a nice big contract."

Under cross-examination Sheets recalled that Garsson and May had based their complaints on the refusal of the Chicago Ordnance District to put the Garsson firms on the eligible list of bidders and that they claimed their plants were lying idle while a severe shortage of artillery ammunition existed. He could not recall having heard a charge that the Chicago office was discriminating against the Garssons because they were Jews.

Col. Herbert R. White, retired, now a Detroit manufacturer, but wartime special assistant to the chief of ordnance, told of receiving other calls from May on behalf of the Garssons. He first gave aid and comfort to the defense with the statement that he received countless calls from other Congressman about war contracts.

On cross-examination he admitted that May, as chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, might have interests in war production outside his own state.

"But I don't think he'd have called me—a lowly colonel—on an investigation by the Military Affairs Committee. I thought this was a personal and not a committee affair."

One of the six governors elected by the National Sheriffs' Association last week in New Orleans, La., was Sheriff Troy B. Sturgill, of Prestonsburg. The board of governors acts as a national executive committee.

of Brown, and Mrs. Carmody told the grand jury that when the shots were fired they turned to see Brown with the revolver in his hand.

Mrs. Carmody told Coroner Callahan that the victim had been noisy all night but that she could not say he had tried to start a fight.

A warrant was issued this week for John Carmody charging him with operating a roadhouse without license and with failing to observe the 8 o'clock closing hour.

A concealed deadly weapon charge also was filed against Brown by the grand jury.

The victim, an overseas veteran, received his army discharge April 17. He was a son of the late Roy Stilton and of Mrs. Bertha Layne Stilton Hall, of Tram. His mother, a brother and one sister survive. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon from the school at Tram, the Revs. Carl Layne and Carl Senters officiating. Burial was made in the Layne cemetery under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

NEW DEADLINES FOR FILING BY CANDIDATES CITED

Candidates for state, county, city and district offices have been given earlier filing deadlines by the 1946 Legislature.

Robert K. Cullen, chief statutes reviser and Assistant Attorney General Guy H. Herdman agreed the following would be the final dates upon which candidates' declarations must be in the hands of their county clerks or Secretary of State:

All major-party candidates for the nomination for any state-wide office, or for any legislative or district office which includes more than one county, must file declarations with the Secretary of State before midnight June 7.

All independent and minor party candidates who do not participate in primary elections must file with the Secretary of State before midnight June 7.

All major-party candidates for county, city, district or legislative offices, where the districts include only one county or less, must file with their county clerks not later than midnight June 18.

Candidates for Boards of Education and independent candidates for city offices must file with their county clerks not earlier than Sept. 5 nor later than midnight Sept. 20.

All primary candidates are required to file pre-primary expense accounts, either with county clerks if running locally, or with the Secretary of State if running for state-wide or large district offices, not later than midnight July 18.

Primary election day in Kentucky is August 2. The 1946 Legislature changed filing deadlines when it passed the absentee-voting law, thus giving the Secretary of State and county clerks more time for printing and mailing out ballots to absentee voters.

WAYLAND

The Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Ervin Mullins, April 30, for the monthly program. At a brief business session preceding the program, conducted by Mrs. Fred A. Martin, president, the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read. Plans for entertaining the Wheelwright Woman's Club were discussed. The president announced that the club had won first prize in the Seventh district in the annual Publicity Scrapbook contest. A special vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Carl Wrightson, Misses Lois Hughes and Willa Gay Elkins for their splendid contributions in making this project a success. It was voted to divide the club's annual $10 award to the outstanding senior at Wayland high school between the Misses Doris Allen and Willa Gray Elkins. The president appointed Mesdames Harry Sherman and Ervin Mullins as delegates to the state convention of the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs in Louisville May 22-24. Mrs. Willard Castle presented an interesting program on "Will There Be Peace?" After preliminary remarks by the leader, Mrs. Richard Vinson summarized "Have Faith for World Peace," by Edward R. Every Line is a look at Tomorrow

You spot it on the highway every time a Buick comes along:

Here you meet the future face-to-face.

Here you see the clean, rich, uncluttered design that marks the swing away from what was to what is going to be.

Here's the sweep and flow of fender line that's called for by a streamlined age — here's the solid, steady look that spells roadability — the broad beam that means room — the massive bonnet that tells of Fireball power aplenty.

Here's grace, here's ability, here's sturdy dependability — all wrapped up in one handsome package that's not merely up-to-the-times but ahead of it.

Here are the good looks that bespeak good works; you hardly have to be told of precisions carried to ten-thousandths of an inch, of materials searched out from the finest to be found.

Any wonder that such a creation is America's most wanted automobile? Any wonder people pass up cars that may be easier to get to wait for a car that's going to stay fresh and new and modern-looking?

The simple fact is that you're buying in the future when you buy any good car today.

Why not settle on the one that most obviously foretells what the future will be — that has the most in it of what is to come?

Buick dealers' showrooms are kept pretty bare of display models by the eagerness of Buick buyers to "take over" the first minute they can.

But you'll be greeted in every one of them with courtesy and sincere interest in getting your Buick at the first minute possible.

Drop in — talk it over — and insure yourself a happy future by placing your order now. We'll take it, with or without a car to trade.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WOULD KEEP THEM AT HOME

Editor, The Times:
Floyd county is supposed to be one of the richest in the state. Why can't we have a home for our orphans and aged folks instead of paying some other county to take care of them? Right now we are paying a home in Wolfe county to keep one of our old ladies. Wouldn't it be much better if we had a home for them where their friends could visit them?
