Garrett Scores Sixth Consecutive Net Win In Betsy Layne Game

Garrett, Ky., Nov. 18 (Spl.)—The Garrett Black Devils racked up their sixth straight win of the season by trouncing a spirited Betsy Layne team, 39-33, in an overtime period. The Bobcats broke the ice when they tallied two field goals in succession before the Black Devils could register a marker. However, Coach Claude Frady's boys began climbing and were leading, 21-17, when half-time was called. During the first half, the score was tied up several times and remained at 13-13 for about five minutes of the second quarter.

With the score tied and 30 seconds remaining in the ball game, substitute James Mullins made what seemed at that moment the winning basket, but the Bobcats just as quickly matched that field goal and the game ended all tied up at 31-31. With the three-minute overtime period the fast-moving Black Devils tallied four baskets for a total of 39 while Betsy Layne collected only one, making their total 33.

This win stretches Garrett's victory string to six with no defeats. The Black Devils hold victories over First Creek, Caney Creek, Maytown, Wheelwright and Meade Memorial.

The Black Devils face two tough games this week-end. Tuesday night they play host to a strong Hindman five, and Saturday night Coach Frady and his boys travel to Meade Memorial for a return game.

You ought to get a look at that new front. It's REALLY built!
This beats any truck I've ever seen! Why, it's built to do ANY job!
That's the new cab that "breathes" it "inhales" fresh air — "exhales" used air — draws in fresh air that's heated in cold weather, and forces out used air.
Have you seen that new Chevrolet truck, Mac? It's the truck with Advance Design!
The cab's specially mounted... on rubber! It practically eliminates road-shock and vibration!
I took a look under the hood — and, boy, it's still got that valve-in-head engine! It does more work on less gas than any other engine of its size!

Wheelwright Club
Awards Two Prizes To School Essayists

Wheelwright, Ky., Nov. 17 (Spl.)—Much is being planned about raising the standard of education in the state of Kentucky, and the Wheelwright Woman's Club is doing its bit in forwarding the movement.

The Department of Education in the club, whose chairman is Mrs. Wayne Radliff, sponsored an essay contest in the local high school, the essay to be written on some phase of education. Several children entered and many good pieces of work were finished. The Wheelwright school faculty weeded out the poorer ones, leaving five which were read to the Wheelwright club members by the young authors. Miss Jacqueline Holbrook won the first prize of $5, while second prize of $3 went to Miss Ordell Ray.

During the business of the meeting plans were laid for the December meeting, at which time the subject, "America's Place in a Well-Fed World," will be developed by Mrs. J. T. Parker, chairman of the American Home department.

The Club was called upon to assume the task of conducting the March of Dimes campaign to be held in January. A letter was read by Mrs. Stephen W. Clark from Mrs. Inez K. Ligon, state director of the March of Dimes, asking the Wheelwright Club to join with other clubs in the county in making this a successful drive.

The Club gave a $20 donation to the local Girl Scout drive now under way. Plans were announced by Mrs. Arthur Bradbury, chairman of the Department of Youth Conservation, for several benefits to raise money for the drive. Included were a tea and a benefit card party to be held in Community Hall, Nov. 22.

At the close of the business session, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames C. C. Dickerson and R. L. Jones.

Dr. and Mrs. John G. Archer left Sunday to spend a week, shopping and on business, in Cincinnati.

Mrs. E. S. Collins and Miss Garnet Witten were in Lexington, the first of the week.

HOSTESS TO CLASS

Mrs. Martin Lee May entertained at her home on First avenue the Reba Mayo class of the Methodist Church Thursday evening. The devotional was led by Mrs. Frank H. Layne. Business was discussed and plans made to send something to Europe in the way of food and clothing. The program was led by Mrs. Ray Stephens, which was a Bible discussion. At the close refreshments were served to Mrs. George Archer, a new member, Mrs. R. V. May, Mrs. Frank H. Layne, Mrs. N. L. May, Mrs. Ernest Hopkins, Mrs. Reba Mayo, Mrs. Eddie Worland, Mrs. Harry Raner, Mrs. Claybourne Stephens, Mrs. Stella Spurlock, Mrs. E. S. Collins, Mrs. Burl Spurlock, Mrs. Len Hill.

Floyd County Times

Official Organ for Floyd County, Ky.

Published Every Thursday by Prestonsburg Publishing Co.

Norman Allen, Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the act of March 3, 1879.

What Might Have Been

THE shooting and wounding recently of two Floyd county officers while in the ordinary discharge of their duties causes one to wonder what might have been.

Wonder . . . if these officers who called on Walter England in this county three weeks ago had seen his move for a gun in time to open fire first and had killed him—what might have been the public reaction?

"Poor, helpless man, shot down like a dog by pistol-totin' deputies, without a chance for his life"—can't you hear the Voices?

But the "poor, helpless man" wasn't shot down like a dog. He shot two officers down and they are alive today because of no good intention of his. He is alive today, also, and lives as a threat to peace-loving citizens and to any officer who may chance upon him, if officers' claims that he has vowed not to be taken alive are correct.

THE TIMES does not go in for hero-worshipping when it aligns itself with the officers of the law in most cases. It takes this position because it has little sympathy with the lawless and even less with those who, posing as tender-hearted citizens, side with the criminal.

It is not to be denied some officers abuse their authority, that some even are criminals in the uniform of the law. But that must not poison the public mind against every officer to such an extent that the majority of the people assume the "copper-hating" attitude of gangland.

It is a foolish parent who hears little Junior's tearful complaints of mistreatment when teacher finds it necessary to take him to task and in turn takes the teacher to task, readily doubting the purpose of the teacher and holding that Junior can do no wrong. Equally foolish are those who make of every tough at odds with the law a little Junior and of every peace officer a Simon Legree armed with a gun instead of a whip.

This we have argued in years past. It would seem to be the way of thinking of every citizen worth his salt. Yet we wonder . . . if the criminal, not the officers, had fallen—what the public's reaction would have been.

Name the Traitors' Names

HOUSE SPEAKER MARTIN is right in demanding that the U.S. Civil Service Commission make public the names of the 811 persons the federal government has dropped from its payroll for security reasons.

To challenge the loyalty of an American citizen is to make an indictment as serious as any in the book. Presumably these men and women were not classified as traitorous on mere circumstantial evidence. Their perfidy, black as Satan, must be a matter of record in government files.

Then there is no reason that the entire country should not know the names of those who are not considered worthy of any position of trust with their government.

For there is more to the United States than mere office work. A lathe is more important than a filing cabinet in the making of a gun for protection of American citizens and the defense of the country. That lathe will not be operated properly by one whose loyalty was so doubtful he or she could not be trusted with the filing cabinet.

ENTERTAINS AUXILIARY

ORPHAN OF STORM DIES

Cyclone, the canine orphan of the storm which G. D. Ryan, of Martin, picked up at Clyde, Texas, from the debris of the great hurricane of 1938, died at Mr. Ryan's home last Friday. The little terrier, only survivor of a homestead of five humans, a horse, a cow and a dog, found home in Kentucky a place to make one forget all past vicissitudes. He was buried in the yard of the Ryan home. By way of coincidence, his master left Wednesday on a trip which will take him again to Texas—and, maybe, to Clyde.

The other charge was that Stump offered to produce evidence in a will case provided another attorney gave him half of the fee. In 1938, Appellate Court refused Stump's request for reinstatement, but commented then that "although the door to re-entrance in the profession is not forever closed, its opening is not a matter of grace or pardon for past offenses."

PLACE AT BAR IS REGAINED

Court Restores License Of 75-Year-Old Lawyer, Former Pike-co. Official

O. A. Stump, of Pikeville, who was disbarred from legal practice in 1933 on grounds of unethical conduct, was restored to good standing as a lawyer last week at the age of 75.

The Court of Appeals yielded to pleas of friends and recommendations of the State Bar Association that the Pikeville man has acted with "propriety" for many years. He has operated a hotel in his home city and pleaded that he wanted his penalty removed before he died.

Stump was Commonwealth's Attorney of the Pike-Letcher judicial district when the Pike County Bar Association brought 11 charges against him. Pike circuit court dismissed them, but the Court of Appeals declared "at least two" of them were "overwhelmingly proven."

One of the two charges was that Stump accepted a $1,000 fee for discontinuing investigation of a charge that a woman stole $7,000 from Noah Mullins, a middle-aged man, and of making efforts to have police court charges of misconduct against the man and woman dismissed. The Appellate Court said it could not accept Stump's statement that he became convinced of their innocence.

Governor Cuts Prison Terms Of Two Slayers

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 13—Governor Simon Willis reduced the terms of two slayers today, making them immediately eligible for parole consideration.

The life sentence given Dan G. Brown for murder in Lawrence county in 1943, was cut to 21 years. The record stated he killed Harry Akers in the belief that Akers had slain Brown's son. It added that prominent Lawrence county citizens and 10 of the 12 jurors requested clemency.

Cecil Wells, sentenced in Madison county in 1945 to five years for voluntary manslaughter, was given a cut to three years. The record showed he shot a friend, Oscar Beasley, after a hunting trip and there was testimony that the group had been drinking. Delbert Eagle, Wells' attorney, declared Wells said the shooting was an accident.

To start the second quarter, Goble scampered for a touchdown. The conversion attempt was good and Prestonsburg held a 13-0 lead.

Taking the Prestonsburg kickoff, Paintsville began passing. The receiver took a heave while behind the Cat defensive man and was hauled down on the Prestonsburg 30. Two running plays failed of a first down. Taking the kick-off, Paintsville passed to the 30. Prestonsburg's defense stiffened, as it consistently did throughout the game, and on the fourth down took a Paintsville fumble on the Cat 25. From there Prestonsburg was off on another ground-gaining surge from the T, with a series of runs taking the ball to the Tiger 8 where a pass, Porter to Burchett, was good for the fourth Cat touchdown. Mayo hit the line for the extra point. Score—27-6.

Knight started the second half for Paintsville with an eight-yard off-tackle run, but lost on the next play. Paintsville kicked to the Prestonsburg 30. A short pass over the line and thrusts at the line took the ball to the Paintsville 40. From there Branham slipped around end and raced all the way for the touchdown. A pass, Porter to Vaughan, converted, 34-6.

Paintsville's attempt to get an attack under way was met with a pass interception, but Prestonsburg again was penalized and the pass was good. The Cats dug in and held for downs, Goble then got loose for a nifty bit of broken-field running, but this was nullified by another 15-yard penalty. Branham on the next play made up for the penalty with a 20-yard run, and on fourth down Vaughan took Mayo's pass in the Paintsville end zone for touchdown. Mayo ran end again for the extra point.

The last touchdown came on Mayo's run around end from the Paintsville 20. The attempt to convert by dropkick failed. Altogether, Prestonsburg was penalized 115 yards to the losers' 20. The Cats are believed to hold a Conference record for penalties this year with approximately 900 yards lost in this fashion in nine games.

Coach John R. Eibner joined Prestonsburg fans in expressing his deep satisfaction with results of the game. The team, from end to end and through the backfield, clicked as a unit.

Wheeler Branham played his best game of the year at guard and finally came into his own. Mike Horn, all-Conference tackle, was a fifth man in the Paintsville backfield. Don Woods at center played his usual sturdy type of ball. The best offensive ball by any individual this year for the Prestonsburg team was played by Roger Spradlin, who on every play had the opposing safety man on his back. Paul Harmon repeatedly smashed through to throw Paintsville backs for losses, and Johnny Vaughan at end was outstanding on both defense and offense. Howard Burchett at end scored two touchdowns, played his usual bruising type of ball and his performance gave rise to the prediction that he has a brilliant grid future ahead of him. Substitutes in the line, Garber, Durham, Nessler and Weddington, contributed to the all-around brilliance of the winners' performance.

Work of Porter, who did the passing and kicking and handled the ball from the T, end of Branham, Mayo and Goble with him in the backfield was consistently brilliant. But a pass to Daniels in the end zone connected for the Tigers' only marker of the contest. The try for extra point failed.

Prestonsburg roared back and Branham got loose for 35 yards to midfield. Mayo raced 30 yards around end and Branham went over from there for a touchdown. Mayo on his favorite play around end converted. Prestonsburg 20; Paintsville, 6.

FEDERATION HITS McGUIRE

KEA Leader's Position On Tolerance Attacked By Teacher Federation

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 18.—The propriety of Heman H. McGuire serving as a member of the State Textbook Commission was questioned today by Patrick S. Kirwan, president of the Kentucky State Federation of Teachers.

McGuire's resignation as president of the Kentucky Education Association and as Superintendent of Carter county schools was asked by the federation at its convention in Louisville Saturday.

The teachers accused McGuire of "freely and flagrantly indulging in ignorant and bigoted references to a religious faith and to a racial group." They asked his resignation "in the interest of public education in Kentucky and in the interest of racial and religious tolerance." Their action stemmed from a signed political advertisement of McGuire's which appeared in an Olive Hill newspaper.

OFFICE HERE OFFERS HELP

For Veterans Seeking Information on Rights Under Selective Service

The Prestonsburg office of the Kentucky State Employment Service will serve as a point of contact and information for veterans who want to take advantage of their re-employment rights under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940.

Glenn S. Anderson, manager, announced this week. The Prestonsburg office serves Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Morgan counties.

This is a statewide cooperative program established by the Kentucky State Employment Service and the Veterans' Re-employment Rights Division. Each of the 29 offices and all itinerant points of the KSES will serve as veterans' contact and information points in this program, Mr. Anderson said.

C. O. Fields, Louisville, director of Kentucky State Employment Service, in announcing the statewide program, added that this step is being taken to help Kentucky ex-servicemen place their re-employment problems with field representatives of the new federal Division of Veterans' Re-employment Rights in the Department of Labor.

Fields said that the KSES offices will help the Veterans' Re-employment Rights Division inform employers and ex-G.I.s that veterans' re-employment rights have not been eliminated as some people believe. A representative of the federal government agency, John W. Rogers, 611 Republic building, Louisville, Ky., is available to serve discharged servicemen in Kentucky, Fields added.

He emphasized the fact that Employment Centers are only able to serve as points of contact between veterans and the federal representatives and should not be expected to interpret the law or settle re-employment cases. Employment Service personnel will give full assistance to veterans in preparing the facts of their cases for the federal men, who will then proceed to give the returned G.I.s the benefit of their employment rights in co-operation with the federal representative Re-employment Committee in this area.

Committee May Suggest Lifting State Pay Limit

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 19—A member of the Committee of 1,000, which aided in the successful fight against calling a convention to write a new Constitution, was reported to be framing an amendment to the Constitution that would increase the $5,000 state salary limit.

Such an amendment would have to be passed in the Legislature and then submitted to popular vote in the next general election.

One version of the proposed amendment had salaries of the judges of the Court of Appeals at about $10,000 and salaries for top administrators at about $3,000.

Another version had the ceiling lifted to about $15,000, giving the Legislature an opportunity to fix the figure at any sum up to that amount.

Joe Asher, executive secretary of the committee, declined to confirm the amendment report, but he said the group "undoubtedly" would discuss the $5,000 limit when it meets at noon Saturday at the Brown hotel in Louisville.

Asher said the committee also plans to incorporate itself into a permanent organization to keep a watch on amendments that might be suggested by the group's opponents.

The people voted down amendments to the Constitution that would have removed the $5,000 limit in 1925, 1927, 1929, and 1943. Those four did not propose new ceilings, leaving it up to the General Assembly to regulate salaries.

About 1,000 ewes were bought by farmers in Fleming county, where sheep raising is increasing.

Physical Standards For Navy Relaxed

Chief E. W. Clark, USN, of the Navy Recruiting Service, who was in Prestonsburg on Thursday of this week, announced that certain physical standards have been lowered for qualifications for enlistment.

Failure to pass the color perception test is no longer disqualifying, height requirements have been changed to a minimum of 69 inches and a maximum of 78 inches, and eye and teeth requirements have also been lowered. Many men who have heretofore desired to enlist in the navy but were disqualified by reason of slight vision, dental, or height variations from the navy's requirements, may now enlist in the navy. For full information, men interested are asked to visit Chief Clark at the postoffice building from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., on Thursday. Men may now enlist for three, four or six years. Veterans desiring information concerning continuation of their naval career, with their old rating, are urged to contact Chief Clark at this time.

Chief Clark is also authorized to issue World War II Victory Medals and American Defense Medals to qualified ex-naval personnel.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT CLEANS ITSELF!

Your house keeps its freshly painted look when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't become embedded—rains just wash them away!

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful... protects against rust, rot, and decay... gives lasting beauty and protection. Costs no more than ordinary paints—saves repainting bills! Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs, and ask him to use Du Pont House Paint!

Survey Shows Game Supply In State Greater This Year

If a survey conducted by the Happy Hunting Ground, Division of Game and Fish publication, is correct, the hunters of Kentucky are in for some good quail and rabbit hunting this fall when the season opens November 20. Supervisors of the various districts were asked their ideas about the supply of quail and rabbits this year and in every district there were reported more quail, while most of the districts report rabbits are on a par or slightly more than last year.

In the First district, composed of 14 counties in Western Kentucky, the rabbit outlook was described in every county as better than that for last season, while birds in most counties were reported more plentiful than last year. Hunters will find good cottontail shooting in Crittenden, Caldwell, Carlisle, Calloway, Christian, Ballard, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, Lyon, Livingston, McCracken, Trigg and Marshall counties. In all the counties the quail outlook was described as "good," "fair" and "excellent." The survey showed an excellent supply of quail in Christian, Hickman, Crittenden, Livingston and Marshall counties.

The Second district annually furnishes plenty of game for the hunters and this year is no exception. The district is composed of Warren, Henderson, Webster, Butler, Logan, Daviess, Hancock, Simpson, Muhlenberg, Hopkins, Union, Todd, Ohio and McLean counties. An increased quail supply was reported in each county in the district. Rabbit supply was described as no better than last year in these counties: Warren, Henderson, Butler, Daviess, Hancock, Ohio and McLean. The other counties report an increased number of cottontails.

In the Third district quail outlook was described as good in Oldham, Bullitt and Meade counties, while Spencer, Shelby, and Jefferson will have a fair supply, according to the survey. For the district as a whole, the quail supply was reported as about the same as last year while more rabbits will be found.

In the Fourth the quail outlook was described as very good, with Adair, Allen, Barren, Breckinridge, Grayson, Green, Hardin, Larue, Metcalfe and Monroe counties having a little better prospect than Cumberland, Edmonson, Nelson, Washington, Taylor and Marion. The outlook is not too good on rabbits in this district, with each county reporting about the same number as last year.

"One of the best pieces you have ever written for our local newspaper," says a reader, "was that one about William Creech, the unlettered Harlan county mountaineer responsible for the founding of Pine Mountain School, a model settlement institution, I fell like a ton of brick for both the letter the old man dictated and the two or three sentences describing the school."

If you, dear reader, fell like a ton of brick, I, who knew more about the subject than I could tell in my limited space, tumbled like a cascade peak toppling into Yosemite Valley. So, it is only natural that I should want to give you some more of the story.

In 1913 two women, Miss Katherine Pettit and Mrs. Ethel Zando, both college graduates, started a little school in an isolated district in Harlan county, on 235 acres of land donated by the late William Creech and his wife, Aunt Sal, "to give industrial, moral and intellectual education . . . and to serve as a social center in an intensely rural neighborhood." The school began with a small number of young children of kindergarten age, many of them from broken homes. It grew rapidly—as fast as buildings and other facilities could be provided. Other children were enrolled and the teaching staff was enlarged.

By 1924, when improved public schools were able to take care of the grades, only children ready for the fifth grade were admitted. Beginning with 1930 the school did only junior and senior high school work.

By that time a system of vocational training was well established—courses adapted to the needs of the region. Boys and girls at Pine Mountain now enjoy as good academic instruction as those in modern city schools and vocational training that is a pattern for isolated rural high schools all over the nation.

There is a print shop where youngsters learn typesetting and press work. Every now and then a new building is put up and boys learn stonecutting, masonry, carpentry, plumbing. The dairy farm, with a sizable herd of fine cows, enables students to learn all about the production of milk and butter. Feed crops and extensive truck gardening by the most modern methods suited to the region afford more agricultural training. There is a shop for auto mechanics, where boys take cars apart and put them together again. Girls learn to cook and serve food. They run the kitchen and dining room, and learn dietetics. There is an infirmary which serves several counties. It has two trained nurses under whom girl students learn Red Cross nursing. With hand looms girls learn weaving, and there are classes in sewing, darning.

Students give two and a half hours a day to vocational work which pays for rooms and board. Good manners, most of the social graces, as well as non-sectarian religious instruction are essential parts of the training.

Uncle William Creech's profound statement, "Hit's better for folkses characters if they learn to do things with their hands," is never overlooked by the faculty of Pine Mountain School. Nor is the value of academic training, which Uncle William probably knew less about.

Wouldn't it be fine if there were Pine Mountain Schools in 200 or more isolated Kentucky districts?

Fourteen carloads of limestone were spread in Martin county, or three times as much as was used last year.

WRECKING OF TWO PLANES IN BLAST AT BARDSTOWN LAID TO MOONSHINERS

Bardstown, Ky., Nov. 4.—Destruction of two airplanes and damage to two others in a blast last night at the Nelson County Airport may have been caused by moonshiners, investigators reported today.

Moonshiners for some time have been at odds with the airport management, fearing that planes were being used to spot stills, investigators said.

The explosive was believed to have been but Deputy Sheriff John Wright said it probably was dynamite or some other powerful material. The blast was heard here, 2½ miles from the airport.

The explosive was believed to have been placed in a plane owned by Miss Teresa Cecil, 26, bookkeeper for a Bardstown distillery. She had bought the plane three weeks ago for $2,600. The craft was blown to bits.

Miss Cecil reported telephone lines between the airport and Bardstown had been cut several times recently.

The other plane destroyed and the two craft damaged were owned by the M. & M. Flying Service, managed by R. L. McDonald.

The blast, about 9:30 p.m., blew out a side of the hangar that housed the planes.

At Frankfort, Jerry O'Brien, director of the Kentucky Aeronautics

Commission, said he believed the total loss might reach $10,000. His estimate was based on a report by Vincent O'Brien, the commission's chief inspector, who had visited the airport.

The director said his commission would aid county officials in their inquiry, but "primarily it's a problem for the sheriff."

ELEC asks you that, Mr. Farmer, for that's what you are doing if you fail to use him to save your own time and labor.

If you do work that an electric motor could do for you, such as pumping water, hoisting hay, or sawing wood, you are working for about 2 cents a day, in terms of what the electricity would cost.

The successful farmer is a successful businessman, too. Hired help can be paid better, profits can be higher, if the cheapest tool—ELEC—is put to work 100 per cent.

A nickel is mighty small change when buying almost everything but—5 cents worth of Electricity will

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky have negotiated 5,885 G.I. loans for business purposes in the amount of $18,769,405, it was reported this week at Veterans Administration Tri-state Branch Office in Columbus, O. VA has guaranteed approximately 40 per cent of the total amount.

The volume includes: Ohio, 2,053 loans for $7,186,766; Michigan, 2,970 loans for $8,790,387; Kentucky, 863 loans for $2,792,252.

Under terms of the G.I. Bill, VA is authorized to guarantee 50 per cent of a loan up to $2,000 on a non-real estate loan and up to $4,000 on a real estate loan. Loans for home, farm and business purposes are made by lending institutions and not by VA.

Veterans Administration recently reported a record enrollment of 328,540 World War II veterans taking educational and job-training courses in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky.

The total includes veterans studying and training under both the G.I. Bill and Public Law 16 (Vocational Rehabilitation Act for the disabled.) The enrollment on November 1 included 156,826 in Ohio, 132,116 in Michigan and 39,526 in Kentucky.

VA officials said the peak enrollment was reached with the entry of 81,387 veterans in schools and colleges in the three states during October, including 33,933 in Ohio, 37,249 in Michigan and 10,175 in Kentucky.

Each veteran in training under the G.I. Bill will receive a notice from the Veterans Administration with future subsistence checks advising him not to cash the check if he believes he is not entitled to the full amount of the payment, VA Branch Office officials in Columbus, O., said this week.

The notices are designed to help eliminate subsistence allowance overpayments and the necessity for refunds by veterans, VA said.

The notice informs the veteran that, according to VA records, he is still in training. It urges the veteran to contact his nearest VA office before cashing the check if he has stopped training or has any reason to believe the check represents an overpayment of his account.

If the veteran is entitled to a part of the money, VA said it will make every effort to adjust his records and issue another check without delay.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I received an overpayment in subsistence allowance after I left school. Will I have to refund the amount I received to the government?

A. Yes.
Q. I am being rehabilitated under Public Law 16 and I would like to know what medical treatment is available to me?

A. Under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16) you are entitled to any kind of medical treatment needed (hospital or outpatient) to prevent interruption of your training.

Q. If I obtain a G.I. loan to go into business and the business fails, is the guaranteed portion of the loan paid by the government charged to me or is it an outright gift to me?

A. A guaranteed loan is not a gift to the veteran. It must be repaid. If the government has to pay the guaranteed portion of the G.I. loan to the lender, the veteran is obligated to the government for the payment.

Q. How and where do I apply for hospitalization for a service-connected disability?

A. See your nearest contact representative or apply at a VA regional office or hospital. A letter addressed to the nearest VA office also will suffice. In case of emergency, you can telephone the nearest VA office collect.

Q. Please tell me what veterans are eligible to have prescriptions filled at government expense?

A. If the veteran's physician has been authorized by VA to treat the veteran, VA will pay cost of the prescription if it is to be used in treatment of the veteran's service-connected disability.

Q. If I go to a private physician to determine whether I need hospital treatment or domiciliary care, will the government pay the cost of the examination?

A. The government will pay the cost of examination by a private physician only if VA has given the physician prior authority for such examination.
