POWER TELLS FOR P'BURG

Prestonsburg Team Defeats Newport For State Title

The Black Cats of Prestonsburg high school last Thursday night won at Parkway Field, Louisville, the high school baseball championship of Kentucky.

Undefeated in regular season play and on their fourth trip to the state tournament, the Cats, except for one close call in the first round against Ft. Knox, literally swamped all opposition with a display of terrific power at the plate and strong defensive play.

In the championship round they defeated Newport Catholic, 12 to 3, after Newport had on Thursday afternoon ousted Louisville Manual, 2-1.

Coach John R. Eibner's boys, unshaken by the tension of a title contest, slammed Macke, star Newport southpaw, for six runs in the very first inning and, moving smoothly behind the seven-hit twirling of Howard Burchett, were never threatened.

Through the three games they played during the meet the Cats made only seven mistakes, three of these in the first game against Fort Knox. Their power was shown in the statistics. They scored 35 runs in the three contests, treating all opposing pitchers impartially—14 hits and 13 runs off Ft. Knox' Epperson, 12 hits and 10 runs off Gray and Edwards of Central City, and 15 hits good for 12 runs off Macke and Monroe of Newport Catholic.

The team as a whole batted .402 for the series, with Bill Goble's nine safeties in 12 times at the plate leading the team.

The big gold-plated trophy represented the first championship ever won by a Floyd county high school team.

Although every boy on the team played championship ball, the work of Goble in left field and Brannan behind the plate was such that they were hailed by Earl Ruby, Courier-Journal sports editor, as "great prospects."

The tournament at Louisville provided appropriate climax to the high school baseball play of Goble, Porter, Burchett, Burkett, Garber, Weddington and Williamson—the nucleus of a good ball team.

PLAN SUITS TO CONDEMN Board of Education Preparing Actions To Acquire Land

The Prestonsburg City Board of Education moved this week toward condemnation proceedings to acquire parts of three lots bordering the board's property and that acquired from B. L. Sturgill for the Floyd playground project here.

Condemnation suits were being prepared against C. P. and Bess Stephens, Douglas Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Johnnie Hollifield after efforts to purchase parts of their lots had failed.

In addition to the Sturgill property, principal part of the playground, the Floyd County Playground Association, Inc., has purchased from J. E. Conley the part needed from one of his two lots, with Mr. Conley donating a part of the other lot.

A spokesman for the Association said every property-owner is being accorded the same treatment, with values of each property, including the larger Sturgill tract, set at approximately 20 cents per square foot.

County Judge Alex M. Davidson named Curtis Clarke, J. M. Parsley and Richard Spurlock commissioners to evaluate the three properties in question, and condemnation suits were expected to be filed by today (Thursday.)

PARLEY FAILS AS COAL MEN IN WALKOUT

Operators Say Talks Ended Because They Were to No Effect

Negotiations toward a new coal contract broke down Tuesday—and this time it was the operators who walked out.

With the new crisis, however, the federal government promptly stepped into the dispute and a meeting was called for this morning (Thursday) by Cyrus S. Ching, head of the Mediation and Conciliation Service, who expects both sides to be present to discuss matters.

The operators announced that the talks had been shut down because they were getting nowhere. They said it was all the fault of the United Mine Workers' chief—that he wouldn't even talk terms without first getting his royalty-financed union welfare plan in operation.

The Southern Coal Producers Association left the meeting, too, but said it did not concur in the move. The Southern group said it was available for bargaining.

Lewis promptly charged that the operators "under the Taft-Hartley slave law and at the expense of the taxpayers" were trying to "beat" the coal miners into submission. He said the union negotiators had been "bored" talking to operator-spoken-men who, he implied, spoke only on orders from higher up. Then Lewis

MIDDLE CREEK GETS PRIORITY

In Floyd Road-Building Plans; Ky. 114 May Be Surfaced During 1948

Top priority among Floyd roads has been given the Prestonsburg-Salyersville highway and the route from a point near David via Brush Creek to Northern on Route 80, County Clerk Jarvis Allen said this week.

The official's statement was based on information supplied him in a recent memorandum from R. L. Parker, Pikeville, district engineer.

This official memorandum stated that the Governor has expressed a desire that Ky. 114 (The Prestonsburg-Salyersville road) be surfaced this year. As early as his primary campaign last year when he traveled the road, the Governor was reported here to have promised that this route must be improved.

Mr. Parker's note to Mr. Allen also stated that Governor Clements desires that a survey be made of the Middle Creek-Brush Creek route so that bids may be asked on construction of the road. The route is 9.32 miles in length.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Children Are Injured

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howard and children Judith and Jimmy, were injured during Tuesday night's rain-storm when Mr. Howard's truck suddenly skidded from the highway near Knotley Hollow, five miles south of here, and plunged over the steep bank to stop at the river's edge against a tree.

Mrs. Howard suffered a crushed collarbone, the children were badly cut about their heads and Mr. Howard was severely cut and bruised. Cab of the truck was reduced to wreckage.

They are at their home here after having received treatment at the Prestonsburg General hospital.

He was 24 at the time of his death. Military honors were accorded by two American Legion posts, Elkhorn at Wayland and Floyd from Prestonsburg.

Layne was a son of Mrs. Lucille Layne, of Langley, and of the late William Layne. He leaves his mother, four brothers, Troy, Floyd, Orville and Claude, all of Langley, and three sisters, Mrs. Hiram Bentley, of Indiana, Mrs. Sid Frazier and Mrs. D. L. Bentley, both of Langley, also many relatives and friends in this section.

The funeral was conducted by the Revs. E. H. Howard, M. C. Wright, Banner Manns and Walter Webb. Burial on Wilson Creek was under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

TURNER STORE LOSS, HEAVY

Thieves Load Truck With Loot at Drift, Make Clean Getaway

The store of Raymond Turner at Drift was looted, early last Friday morning, of merchandise the value of which may run as high as $5,000.

The thieves forced open a front door to the store and loaded a truck with a wide variety of items. A Drift woman saw the truck parked at the store entrance, around 2 a.m., Friday, but, thinking merchandise was being unloaded by Mr. Turner, gave no significance to the incident until the burglary was reported.

Included in the loot was a large quantity of shirts, dresses, bolts of yard goods, 125 pairs of shoes and 125 cartons of cigarettes. Mr. Turner quickly ascertained he had lost at least $3,000 worth of merchandise and said a full check might bring that figure to $5,000.

There was no clue to the identity of those involved in the robbery.

NAMES PRICE TO REGENCY

Floyd Countian, Three Others on New Board For Morehead State

Naming an entirely new Board of Regents for Morehead State Teachers College which he described as free of the entanglements of the past which resulted in the institution losing its accreditation standing in 1945, Governor Earle C. Clements last week selected a Floyd countian for one of the four places on the board.

To the Board of Regents the Governor named: E. R. (Jack) Price, Wheelwright, Democrat, general manager of the Inland Steel Company's Floyd county operations; James T. Norris, Ashland, Democrat, associate editor of The Ashland Daily Independent; W. W. Ball, Maysville, Republican, and banker, and M. K. Eblen, Hazard, Republican, lawyer.

JOHNS CREEK DAM PROJECT ON FUND LIST

$2,071,000 Grant Believed Enough To Finish Work

The Dewey reservoir project was allotted $2,071,000 in the $22,621,000 total appropriation for Kentucky flood control and navigation work given final Congressional approval Monday. The Congress approved an overall record expenditure for these purposes of $573,000,000.

Although no official statement was available, the belief was expressed here that this latest appropriation is sufficient to see the Dewey dam to completion.

Work on the dam itself was being pushed this week, with only Wednesday's wet weather slowing down operations toward completion of the huge earthen barrier. Johns Creek was diverted last Friday when a 15-foot pool stage was reached to permit the water to spill through the diversion ditch, the bed of which is higher than that of the stream itself. Slack water, as a result of this pool, extends up to the Brandy Keg bridge. The creek channel under the dam has been filled up to 10 feet above stream level.

Saturday saw the start of concreting of the big spillway being constructed to take care of waters when, and if, the capacity of the dam is ever taxed. This is an undertaking which may require a year for completion, but filling of the reservoir will not wait for the spillway to be finished, it was said. Engineers have estimated that the spillway may not be needed oftener than once every 90-odd years.

Transfer of bodies from a number of Johns Creek cemeteries is expected to be made this year, with completion of the dam itself scheduled by year's end. Relatives are now being contacted with a view to relocation of graves in proposed cemeteries. This work will be let to contract, as also will be the work of clearing the reservoir of timber.

Sums provided for Kentucky flood-control projects:

Wolf Creek reservoir, $12,400,000; Louisville, $4,000,000; Ashland, $420,000; Newport, $1,800,000; Unictown, $350,000; Taylorsville, $80,000; Hawesville, $200,000; Covington, $800,000, and Maysville, $400,000.

Dale Hollow reservoir in Kentucky and Tennessee was allotted $200,000. A sum of $199,500 was provided for Ohio river open-channel work bordering Kentucky, Indiana, West Virginia, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Senate and House conferees decided on the $12,400,000 figure for Wolf Creek as originally proposed by the House, instead of $17,600,000 recommended by a Senate subcommittee.

The $4,000,000 for Louisville was a compromise between the $3,500,000 originally proposed by the House and $4,500,000 proposed by the subcommittee.

The $420,000 for Ashland was put into the bill in the Senate. The House bill at first had not contained anything for this project.

HE CONFESSES FOR 3RD TIME

New Smith Story Accepted As True; Craft Exonerated

Oliver Smith, the 15-year-old boy who has been held in jail here since May 22, day following the burning at Glo of the Glogora Coal Company's store and office building and the U.S. postoffice, made a third confession Saturday—and this time his story was accepted by postal authorities and officials here as the truth of what happened in the $80,000 blaze.

Saturday morning, he told Special C. & O. Officer G. L. Gray, of Allen, who has been working on the case since the fire, that he and his brother, James, were the only persons involved and that they robbed and burned the store. This confession was reduced to writing and signed by the youth.

In an earlier "confession" Smith had sought to implicate a young man whom he named as Ellis Craft. He admitted to Gray that he did this because he "didn't like Craft." Falsity of the accusation against Craft had already been established by the Allen man through a check into his work record in a Clear Creek mine.

So thoroughly did Smith's third confession check with known facts that postal inspectors immediately left for Maryland to arrest his brother. The capture was made Wednesday, Mr. Gray said he had been notified, and the younger Smith was removed from the county jail here by a postal inspector.

Gray gained the confidence of the youth who had defied interrogators and had repudiated his original statement admitting his and his brother's guilt. The boy told the officer that after stealing the auto of John S. Hampton, Glogora superintendent, he was arrested and handcuffed to a pipe in the Wayland jail but that his brother freed him at night. After that, he said, they left Wayland with the intention of going to Ohio. They got as far as Jenkins, he related, but turned back when they found they did not have enough money. On the way back, his older brother got drunk and they went to Left Beaver Creek instead of Glo. There they caught a ride home.

Back in Glo, he said, they decided to rob the store and burn it. The officer learned that waste from a C. & O. car was used to start the blaze.

KNOTT NATIVE GUN VICTIM

Combs Slain, Brother Wounded at Huntington In Dispute Over Debt

Two former Knott county men were shot, one fatally, Monday night in a second floor apartment at 37 25th street, Huntington, W. Va., as the result, it is believed, of an argument over a debt.

Killed almost instantly was Alex Combs, 52 years old, an employee of the American Car & Foundry Co. His brother, Thomas Combs, was wounded in the region of his heart and in his left arm and was described as being in a serious condition. A third man, Charlie Stepp, was wounded in the forearm.

Denver Stepp, 25, son of Charlie Stepp, was held for questioning. When arrested, police said, he had a revolver from which two bullets had been fired, with four loaded cartridges in the cylinder.

Huntington officers said Combs went to the apartment to talk with another man who, he claimed, owed him money. The two quarrelled and Charlie Stepp joined the argument.

In addition to the widow and children, Alex Combs is survived by six brothers, Thomas, William, Cecilia, James, Adam and Robert Combs, all of Huntington; two half-brothers, Clay and Chester Combs, of Knott county, and three sisters, Mrs. Rosa Napier and Mrs. Olive Langley, of Huntington, and Mrs. Polly Tull, Springfield, O.

Milroy Dameron, 24-year-old Harold war veteran, died last Saturday afternoon, 30 minutes after he was struck by an automobile near Harmon's Branch, Pike county, when the bicycle he was riding suddenly swerved onto the highway. His skull was fractured.

It was said here that Dameron, a truck driver for the United Carben Co., was riding the bicycle from his home at Harold toward Blairtown, two miles distant, and that his foot slipped from a pedal as the auto was near. He died, en route to a Pikeville hospital.

The victim was a son of the late Spurl and Esther Blair Dameron and was a grandson of the late Whetsel Blair, widely known mountain preacher. He had many relatives and friends in this section. AWAIT RULING ON SUIT FILED IN FRANKFORT

Wednesday Last Day For Court Sessions Until Decision Made

The machinery of trial courts in judicial districts over this section ground to a full stop Wednesday as uncertainty prevailed over the legality of old and new statutes as to boundary lines and court terms.

The 1948 General Assembly's act, establishing new boundaries, creating a new district and providing for a court of continuous session in Boyd county, has been attacked in Franklin circuit court and Governor Clements has been enjoined from making an appointment of a Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney for the new Powell-Clay-Breathitt district.

As the "old order" was scheduled to pass on effective date of this act at midnight Wednesday, the new act was stalled because of the injunction to which no answer had been made at Frankfort. So officials where circuit court was in session under the old law held court till adjournment Wednesday, then decided to wait for a ruling before operating under the new. In Lawrence county, for instance, circuit court was held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, then adjourned.

It was said here today (Thursday) that counsel for the Governor filed a motion to dissolve the injunction as of next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Joe Hobson, Prestonsburg attorney, announced that the petition attacking the constitutionality of the 1948 redistricting act has been amended to cover this point:

A law in effect for years provides that a court of continuous session in a county of less than 150,000 population shall be in session for at least two weeks three times a year in the county seat, that in such a county litigants living nearer the county seat than to the second class city designated as a place for holding court may demand trial at the county seat and that non-residents and corporations may also demand trial at the county seat. The 1948 act, though not superseding this previous act provides that the court of continuous session in Boyd county, in violation of the Constitution.

There was no indication here of a reason for the delay in the answer to the injunction action. Meanwhile, attorneys for Commonwealth's Attorney John Chris Cornett and others attacking the 1948 legislation continued to take depositions, preparing for the Frankfort hearing.

BOARD HIRES 1948 FACULTY

Eibner Declines Post Of Head Ashland Grid Coach; 17 Are Named

Faculty of the Prestonsburg grade school has been employed by the Prestonsburg City Board of Education. Chalmers H. Frazier, superintendent of city schools, announced this week, and teachers for Prestonsburg and Floyd county high school are expected to be hired within the next few weeks.

Continuance of his work as athletic coach here has been assured by John R. Eibner, who during the high school baseball tournament at Louisville wired Ashland high school officials, declining an offer of the post of head coach there and announcing his decision to stay in Prestonsburg. It had been known here for weeks that Eibner was the No. 1 man on Ashland's list for the coaching job.

Teachers employed and grades to which they have been assigned: Minerva Cooley, kindergarten and librarian; Billie Moore Stevers and Shirley Huzge, first grade; Frances Jones and Anna Laura May, second; Anna Mae Mellon and Evelyn Salisbury, third; Barbara Carter and Roberta Wells Hubbard, fourth; Edna Collins and Fanny Jarrell, fifth; Victoria Spradlin and Marguerite Jones, sixth; Leona Cooley and Ruth Wells, seventh; Anna Martin and Pauline Hereford, eighth.

MIXED EMOTIONS

Jubilant because of the state baseball championship won by their Black Cat baseball team, Prestonsburg fans growled in low register at the failure of the Louisville newspapers to give the team the publicity expected for a title-winning outfit, especially in view of the fact that a Courier-Journal photographer had planned to take pictures of the Prestonsburg and Manual coaches, and perhaps the teams, after the finals last Thursday night. That plan was hatched, however, early Thursday afternoon. An hour or so later, however, Manual was no longer in the tournament, and so no photographer was around for the Prestonsburg-Newport festivities, fans say.

And, continue these fans, the presentation of the trophy was so unlike that of the preceding year when considerable ceremony prevailed. As the matter is reported to us, the presentation this year consisted, in effect, of:

(a) Here's your trophy; and

(b) Get the heck home, we're turning the lights out.

And, b'gosh, the lights were turned out before the fans could find the exits.

We don't like to conduct a clearing-house for complaints but we don't like such treatment, either.

THE CINDERELLA KIDS

And while complaints are being lodged, we'll chime in with our very own.

We don't like the way the baseball team was treated by the school. First of all, the boys had to go out and solicit money with which to buy balls and bats, even though baseball is the great American game and though it is as a part of the athletic program is supposed to be a character-builder as great as football or basketball, even if not profitable financially.

Then, to cap it all, the boys, the high school baseball champions of Kentucky, were dressed in a Joseph's coat color scheme which resulted in them being dubbed "the Rainbow Division." The un-uniform array the boys appeared in ran like this:

Six Prestonsburg, one David, four Emma, two Weebury and one American Legion.

Isn't it a grand thing that clothes do not make the man and that, by the same token, uniforms do not make the ball team?

called his 200-man policy committee to a June 24 meeting for "instructions."

It was taken for granted those "instructions" will deal with whether the miners shall work when they come back July 6 from their annual two-week vacation. The layoff starts June 25 and the current working agreement ends June 30, before they are due back.

Ching, in a telegram to the union and the producers, reminded them of the Taft-Hartley law section which says his office should move in if a work stoppage threatens to interrupt commerce.

And both union and management, he said, have a "duty and responsibility" to try to break the impasse.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the operators, issued a lengthy statement.

The chief obstacle, he said, was the UMW head's insistence on putting the 1947 welfare fund, now built up to $40,000,000 on a 10-cent per ton royalty on coal, into operation before anything else is done.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who ordered Lewis into the talks which blew up, will hear arguments Saturday on spending the fund. Ezra Van Horn, as operator representative on the welfare fund board, is suing to stop payments under a plan agreed to by Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-NH), third board member.

85 Alumni Gather For Annual Fete At Betsy Layne

Betsy Layne, Ky., June 14 (Spl.)—Annual alumni banquet was held in the school gymnasium last Saturday night with approximately 85 alumni and guests attending. A section of the gym was decorated and arranged as a one-room schoolhouse and the program centered on the theme of School Days. The tables were lighted by candles.

The president, Jack Branham, acted as toastmaster and presided for a brief business session, at which time Gearl Hunter was elected president for the next year, Glenn Blackburn, vice-president, and Lora Jean Clark, secretary-treasurer.

Following the program and banquet, old friendships were renewed and dancing was enjoyed. The two persons attending, who had been absent from Betsy Layne longest, were Martin Collins and his sister, Mary, of Columbus, O. This was their first return in 20 years. They and several others spent the week-end with friends and relatives here.

Credits granted to soldiers for knowledge acquired while serving with the armed forces are giving them a headstart toward college degrees and professional studies.

former superintendent of Consolidation Coal Company mines at Van Lear, the Floyd county member of the Board of Regents has for many years been head of Inland Steel's model mining town, Wheelwright, which is declared to be one of the best in the United States.

The Governor said it was his desire that Morehead, long engulfed in controversy, be given a fresh start under the guidance and control of men who have been entirely free of the school's entanglements and past feuds.

It was his desire to name a group of men of high caliber "the quality of which is the best assurance it was appointed in the interest of education," he said.

"The present and future welfare and development of Morehead State College is a matter of deep concern to me," said Governor Clements. "I am vitally interested in seeing its early restoration to a position of greater importance and usefulness. Anyone who has studied the history of the institution will know it has had its ups and downs, and I am determined that no act of mine will retard its growth."

The Governor revealed that he had been in conference with leading school officials since last November in the interest of reaccrediting Morehead State College, and that it was his firm belief that the first step to be taken was the appointment of a completely new Board of Regents.

"Prompted solely by this thought, the resignations of two holdover members who were likewise members of the board when action was taken against the school by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, were requested," said Governor Clements.

Resignations of Dr. J. M. Rose, Olive Hill, and Mrs. Allie W. Young, Morehead, were requested. Mrs. Young resigned. Dr. Rose refused, suggested that he be "fired." The Governor fired him.

"As further and full proof of my determination to aid and not retard Morehead, four outstanding citizens, two Democrats and two Republicans, have been appointed as regents at that institution," the Governor said. "It is sufficient to say the group collectively would do credit to membership on any board. I have asked of them that they give to those young men and women who attend Morehead College the strongest institution possible within the limits of our resources."

"The quality of the membership of this board is the best assurance it was appointed in the interest of education," the Governor concluded. "The school was deprived of its accredited standing in the Southern Association in 1946 after the Board ousted its president, Dr. William H. Vaughan. The Association blamed Kentucky's ouster law by which officials may be removed without cause."

The law was repealed last winter in Kentucky insofar as it affects members of governing boards of institutions of higher learning.

Officials To Discuss State's Assessment And Tax Problems

Kentucky's assessing and property tax problems will be discussed during the annual meeting of County Tax Commissioners to be held June 21-23 in Lexington, H. Clyde Reeves, Commissioner of Revenue, said in announcing dates for the meeting.

Al Noonan, executive secretary of the National Association of Assessing Officers, Chicago, and George Mitchell, tax consultant, Chicago Federal Reserve Board, president of the National Tax Association, and former member of the Illinois Tax Commission, will address the meeting. Governor Earle C. Clements and Reeves will also talk to the tax commissioners.

June 22, Noonan, Mitchell, Reeves and Waverly Crafton, Henderson county Tax Commissioner, will lead a panel discussion of Kentucky's tax laws and equalization of assessments.

"Because of the apparent need for a revision of Kentucky's property tax assessment laws this year's meeting of tax commissioners will be one of the most interesting we have ever had," Reeves said.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

Fellow columnist Bob Smallwood (Beattyville Enterprise) thinks I was unfair to Ladino clover and 31 fescue in a recent article. I offered no criticism of these two forage crops. What I tried to do was to caution farmers against believing sowing Ladino or fescue was like scattering lead birdshot on the ground and harvesting gold nuggets as big as grapefruit. I passed along a report from a test fescue is not as high as it might be in feed value. All I said about Ladino was that I had sowed it and was awaiting results.

Fescue and Ladino seed are selling at fabulous prices, which may account in part for the ballyhoo. Two years ago I visited a fescue seed farm in Christian county and saw the stuff growing on four fields varying in fertility from ground that seemed to have been worn to a frazzle with wheat or corn, or both, to fairly good ground. The growth varied with the soil, but the poorest field, where seed was sown on hard stalk land, had a surprisingly good stand and the grass looked almost as high as that on the best field. It was doing well on soil that probably would not have sprouted lespedeza.

As a cover crop, particularly on thin land, and as grazing for cattle, fescue has my wholehearted endorsement. I would recommend it for 40 per cent of the farms in Kentucky. It will enable farmers with thin land to raise cattle or sheep cheaply, and to check erosion.

In an article last fall I figured that Kentucky farmers could increase beef cattle production $60,000,000 by utilizing the grass and other forage they already have. Nobody accused me of exaggerating. Fescue, when the seed is cheap enough for farmers with thin land to afford it, should double my figures.

I don't like to hear press agents, hired or voluntary, claim miracles for anything farmers have to buy. Last year a chemical weed killer was tried out with considerable success in growing corn, and the ballyhoo was loud and long. I am going to wait a year or two before spraying my cornfields with a weed killer.

The other day I asked a very able county agent what our corn land, particularly bottom land, would do for humus if there were no weeds plowed under. I mentioned fescue and ladino clover also.

"These things look good, thus far," he replied, "but the answers are not all in."

In the meantime, I'll back up my approval of fescue.

SMOKY!

Comes to this onetime immaculate desk a letter from a lady informing us that exactly a year ago she sent us $1.50 for a six-month subscription to The Floyd County Times, and that she received exactly one copy of the aforesaid newspaper. She continues, convincingly:

"Being a Floyd county native, I'll admit I like your paper—but it is hardly worth $1.50 an issue to me. Will you please look into this and let me know why your 'Light of Floyd County' should cost me more than it does any other native?"

Now, I'm frank to admit I can't answer that one. But I'll lay you a free subscription that the lady's postoffice address has lived up to its name while we have had her money and she has had no paper. Her post-office is Smoky Valley, Ky.

WE GET THE RED RIBBON

Life is a matter of bitter-and-sweet, checks and balances, and without such matters a-body likely would become unbalanced. So when we get our rather generous ears pinned back, deservedly or not, from one quarter we cast about in another for some sunshine and sweetness—and, believe it or not, we usually find it. Such as a recent note from Mrs. Angeline Layne Chaloupka, former Prestonsburg woman who now resides in Pushing, New York. She writes, in part:

"I've been away from home over a year now, and my family keeps promising to mail The Floyd County Times to me, but I suppose they forget. In our Christmas package they enclosed a copy and Betty and I were so happy to get it we hung it on the Christmas tree, all tied up with a red ribbon."

THE VIEW ENCHANTING

The matter of smoke reminds me that the most beautiful view I've ever caught in Kentucky is seen as you leave Mt. Sterling, traveling toward Frenchburg. The fields are broad and rolling and green, down there, and the grazing cattle and sheep lend a pastoral air that is quietly enchanting. But that isn't what makes the view so wonderful to the resident of this section. It's the way, blue line, bluer than the sky it meets, 'way, 'way along up the pike, that's the hills.

Preacher Since 15, Rev. Sims To Begin Revival Here Sunday

The Rev. Harry C. Sims, Westview, Ky., who began preaching at the age of 15, will be evangelist in charge of the revival which begins at the Methodist Church here Sunday, June 20. It is announced by the pastor, Dr. G. D. Prentiss.

For 14 years the Rev. Mr. Sims served a pastorate and after that was a district superintendent for six years. He was appointed to fulltime evangelistic work in September, 1937, and has been widely recognized as a pulpit leader.

The revival will begin with the Sunday morning worship at 11, and will continue each evening at 7:30. An invitation is extended to all to attend.

Betsy Layne Club Sponsors New Troop, Weekdays Re-Organizes

A new Scout troop, sponsored by the Men's Club of Betsy Layne, has been registered as Troop No. 58. Floyd county district headquarters announced this week.

Jesse Elliott is scoutmaster and Jack Branham, Jr., is his assistant. The institutional representative is Alex P. Davis and troop committee members are James A. George, chairman, Lon Roberts, Floyd Risner, Clyde W. Blackburn and Earl P. Hays. The troop meets at the Methodist Church, Sundays, at 7 p.m.

The troop at Weeksbury is being reorganized and expects to be registered before camp opens on June 27. In addition to these two troops, it was announced that troops at Garrett, Allen and Auxier are being formed and should be registered within a month.

Prestonsburg Troop No. 20 is being reorganized and an announcement about the troop organization will be made in about two weeks.

At a meeting of the district council here Friday it was decided that full cooperation and assistance be given the troops newly organized and being developed and no immediate effort would be made to start additional new troops until some of the present organizations are far enough along to permit working on other localities.

The committee expressed a desire to form troops at Hi Hat and Drift. There are also several other communities in which Scout troops can be formed and it is hoped that by the end of the year there will be 15 troops in the county.

B. F. Reed, chairman of the finance committee, reported that $5,300 of the $6,000 goal has been pledged and that there are still a few places yet to report. He added that he is confident the goal will be easily reached.

Adam Fugate, fulltime executive, is spending all of his time on the formation of the new troops and can be reached by calling C. H. Hainspiller, Phone 4151, Prestonsburg.

After the meeting the council members visited the camporee at the old ball park here and enjoyed watching the demonstrations of the troops and members.

Miss Spurlock Becomes Bride of Mr. Blackburn In Wedding Here June 11

Friday, June 11, at 10 o'clock, a. m. Miss Margaret Douglas Spurlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spurlock, was married to Mr. Adrian Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blackburn, at the home of the bride's parents on Highland avenue.

The Rev. W. B. Garriott, of Covington, Ky., read the impressive double ring ceremony before an improvised altar banked with Callifolia iris, greenery and candelabra. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Chalmers H. Frazier, pianist, played "Always." Then Mrs. Frazier, accompanied by Mrs. W. B. Garriott, sang "O Promise Me."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white eyelet embroidery. Her veil of white illusion was held by a matching headpiece of eyelet with lilies of the valley and white forget-me-nots. She carried a nosegay of white roses and baby chrysanthemums, centered with an orchid.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Barbara Spradlin, wore a pale green eyelet embroidery with matching headpiece. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses. Mr. Jack Hyden served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for the friends and relatives of the young couple, numbering more than 50.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and was centered with a wedding cake, decorated with silver ornaments and topped with a miniature bride and groom and a floral arrangement. Miss Betty Davis presided at the punch bowl and was assisted by Mrs. Chalmers Frazier and Mrs. Fred Francis at the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn are spending a week's honeymoon at Indian Lake.

Mrs. Walter Martin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Martin and children, Mrs. Clarence Webb and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Houshel and children spent Sunday on a picnic at Ft. Gay, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Williams and Mary Ellen, Mrs. Archie Beverly and daughter, Martha Jo, spent Sunday at Camden Park.

The Army Dental Corps played a significant role in the amazing accomplishments in the new field of plastic surgery.

The Fishin' Not So Good But Bait-Castin' Was Fine

The fishing wasn't what is known as good in waters of this section Sunday, but at least four Floyd county fishermen had a good day of it, anyhow.

These four were the bait-casters who practically made a clean sweep of the bait-casting tournament at the Pike County Fish and Game

Club's fish fry at Elkhorn City. In the Senior department Robert Bunting, Edmund Burke and Ed Stephens won all three prizes offered, ranking one, two, three. In the Junior department Bill Baker Burke, of Prestonsburg, and a brother of Edmund, took first prize as the only Floyd county boy competing.

FISH AND GAME NOTES

The hatching percentage of quail eggs at the Division of Game and Fish farm is unusually high this season and indications are that as many if not more than 25,000 baby chicks delivered to cooperating clubs last season will be available this year, the Division of Game and Fish has announced. The first chicks appeared on May 19, and subsequent hatchings have revealed that about 85 per cent of the eggs have produced chicks. This may be compared to the hatching percentage of 65 last year. The Division brooder houses are being shipped birds right now, it was pointed out. Within a few weeks all the birds will be channeled to cooperating clubs, and with this in mind the Game Management department has sent to these clubs heating elements, thermostats and a complete set of instructions for the rearing of the birds. These clubs will be given ample information as to the dates of arrival of these birds so that brooder houses and keepers may be arranged. If the good hatch continues, it was pointed out, and barring disease in the young quail, the Division feels confident more birds will be available for clubs this season, with the expectant resultant increase in number to be freed in the fields this fall.

The first contingents of approximately 2,000 Junior Conservation Club boys who will visit camps at Dale Hollow and Kentucky Lake during the summer as guests of the Division of Game & Fish are now enjoying the thrills of out-of-door camping, the Division has announced. Boys from the Fifth district opened their week's stay at Dale Hollow's two camps Sunday, June 6, while boys from the First and Second districts were at Kentucky Lake. Each of the three camps will take care of about 60 boys at a time, making a total of 180 boys each week for the three camps, or a total of approximately 2,000 who will be guests during the 10 weeks of camping. The cost to each boy is $7 a week, for food, with the other expenses being absorbed by the Division.

The camps are under the supervision of experienced campers, with experts in boating, swimming and other recreational phases being in charge at all times. Boys from the Third district will attend the Dale Hollow camps next week, June 13 to 19, while those from the Seventh will be present from June 20 to 26. Other groups from the First and Second districts will attend Kentucky Lake camp from week to week.

3 FLOYD NINES IN TWIN WINS

Harold, Elkhorn City Divide Two Contests In Tussle for Lead

Three of the six Floyd county teams in the Big Sandy Baseball League won doubleheaders Sunday, with Prestonsburg, Garrett, Wayland and Weeksbury the beneficiaries of these diamond windfalls.

Prestonsburg defeated Weeksbury, 7-0 and 5-1, Garrett edged Clear Creek in the first game, 9 to 7, and 10-2 in the second, and Wayland and Van Lear made it a clear sweep, 14 to 11 and 3-2.

Harold split with Elkhorn City, winning, 7 to 1, and dropping one contest, 5 to 4. Pikeville sank Paintsville further with a twin win, 4-3 and 13-7.

Five errors in the first game made Garrett's win doubtful, but a 14-hit barrage behind Mullins' eight-hit pitching won out. In the nightcap Bruce Lyons hurled three-hit ball for Garrett.

Here, Prestonsburg benefited from sterling mound work by Bradley, the veteran, and Harmon, the high school youngster, the latter shutting out Weeksbury and Bradley allowing an unearned run over the seven-inning route.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT CLEANS ITSELF!

Your house keeps its freshly painted look when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't become embedded—rains just wash them away!

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful... protects against rust, rot, and decay... gives lasting beauty and protection. Costs no more than ordinary paints—saves repainting bills! Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs, and ask him to use Du Pont House Paint!

WAYLAND

(Last week's correspondence)

The seniors of Wayland high school have just returned from their tour. The class, which was chaperoned by Thelma Daniels and accompanied by L. B. Price, principal, left Wayland on May 21, visiting Washington, D.C., and historic spots in the South and East, returning May 28. We wish we could remember all of the people who showed us such kindness, hospitality and consideration on our trip. We are glad we worked so hard during the year to finance a trip which none of us will ever forget. We thank our driver, Ernie Clifford, for his patience, kindness, careful driving and consideration. He was an addition to our party. We hope other classes can manage the same trip next year. It is worth all the effort and work. We hope that all future seniors can have our good luck.

Mrs. Arche Hickerson, wife of the Reverend Hickerson, has been ill with a severe cold.

Mrs. Bill Parsley, of Fairmont, W. Va., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Daniels, and sister, Mrs. Willard Castle. She will be joined by her son, Jimmy, early in the week. He is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Wallace Rose, in Huntington, W. Va.

John Wallace and son, Buck, Harry Sherman and son, Tommy, have returned from a fishing trip to Cherokee Lake.

Mrs. Virginia Fraley, Mrs. Burlia Wallace, Mrs. Marie Castle and Mrs. Hazel Parsley spent Friday, shopping in Prestonsburg.

Rosemary Field is home for summer vacation from Bowling Green, also Eddie Craft from Berea and Doyle Cook from Union College.

Charlene Hall is attending summer school at Pippapass.

Billie Lee Dixon is now employed at the Wayland fountain.

A birthday dinner was served in honor of Mrs. R. L. Daniels by her daughter, Mrs. Willard Castle, on June 7 at 7 o'clock.

The Women's Society of Christian Service met Monday, June 7, at the Methodist Church. Mrs. Roy Souleyrette had charge of the program. Mrs. J. C. Wells and Mrs. Ervin Mullins were hostesses.

Dozen Students To Enter For Summer Band Study

At least a dozen members of Floyd county high school bands are expected to attend the Morehead band camp on the campus of Morehead State Teachers College, July 14 to Aug. 4. Jesse Elliott, county school band director, said this week.

The Stephen Foster music camp term at Eastern State Teachers begins June 13. Floyd band students may enter either camp, it was said, by contacting their instructors.
