

This Town-- That World

TO THE DESERVING

THE TIMES joins everybody else in congratulating each of Floyd county's high school seniors. You have made a good start. Those of you who went to school under handicaps of distance or physical disability or financial strain deserve the highest praise of all. Boys and girls of this type have, literally, what it takes.

And of those scholarship winners—I am downright envious. No empty honors, these—and no empty heads wear 'em.

Somebody recently echoed that moss-grown sentiment of mossbacks which runs to the effect that the younger generation is going to hell. Well, it would be a heck of a world without the youngsters, wouldn't it?

OH, BROTHER! It has been agreed among those who should know that if you have a mortal enemy and you want to wish the worst upon his head, you have only to wish that he had a sawmill. I beg to differ. I have a more fiendish idea.

If I have an enemy and if it's necessary for me to wish that the worst overtake him, I'd say, "Tie this onery skunk to a chair, jam a typewriter down in front of him at a time when he hasn't an idea in his head and tell him release will come when, and only when, he writes a column."

(From The Reader's Digest)

My English class was reading from the Journals of Louisa M. Alcott. We came to the section where Miss Alcott wrote, "I keep busy writing short stories which I hope to sell for $5 or $10 to keep the wolf from the door." I asked the boy reading, "What do you think Louisa Alcott meant by saying she was trying to keep the wolf from the door?" "I suppose she just didn't want the guy bothering her," he replied promptly.

CITY COUNCIL IN TAX MOVE

Names Assessor Here; Plans Upward Trend Of Tax Assessment

The Prestonsburg City Council Monday night took its first step toward its announced plan of revising tax assessments upward here with the appointment of an assessor.

Clyde Spurlock was named to that post. Meanwhile, the Council is looking about for three Prestonsburg residents to do the tough job of equalizing assessments after Spurlock completes his work.

An ordinance voted at the Council session provides for a fine ranging from $10 to $25 for persons found guilty of "slugging" parking meters. A sizeable part of the "take" from the meters has been slugs, it was said.

Operation of the city's new street sweeper is expected to begin this week on a full schedule with the employment of Bun Montgomery, West Prestonsburg, as operator.

The Council adopted two resolutions—one endorsing the canalization of the Big Sandy river, the other asking local enforcement of the state law which requires that all motorcycles have mufflers installed.

STUART TELLS GRADS FUTURE IN THEIR HANDS

242 Receive Diplomas; Nine Seniors Selected For Scholarship Honors

Floyd county's 242 high school seniors received their diplomas here Wednesday evening in the 12th annual county-wide graduation exercises, and from Jesse Stuart, native Kentuckian and noted poet-novelist, they received this incentive to ambition:

"Any boy or girl in America can make something of themselves, if they will."

And nine of the 242 capped-and-gowned youngsters left Prestonsburg high school gymnasium, scene of the colorful graduation program, with more than the bright hope of ambition. Each of these were awarded scholarships, ranging from $100 to $400 a year. Two others were nominated to compete with Pike and Knott county high school seniors for Inland Steel Company scholarships.

"This is your night," Mr. Stuart, the writer from W-Hollow, Greenup county, told the graduates. Speaking with an earnest sort of vehemence, the author urged patience with youth, citing one example of a boy who had been ejected or expelled from several schools, delaying his graduation from high school till he had reached the age of 26, only to become, later, a city school superintendent and an educational leader. Other instances pointed to early success such as Bryant with his "Thanatopsis" and Washington in his military career.

On behalf of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, donor of seven scholarships, Max Burns, the company's personnel director, presented scholarships, as follows:

Two-year scholarships to Pikeville College to Geraldine Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carver, and

Dutch Housewife to Visit Parents of Slain Soldier

Salyersville, Ky., May 18—A 42-year-old Dutch housewife for many months made daily visits to the grave in Holland of a Salyersville soldier soon will be calling on his parents here.

Mrs. Mary Krigger, of Bergen Terblijt, Holland, arrived in this country last month for an extended visit with the nearest of kin of Americans buried near her home. She has toured New York and Washington, visited families of three of her "boys" at Frankfurt, Ohio, spoken at a public celebration in Chillicothe, O., and is to help dedicate a memorial shaft there Memorial Day.

She has another speaking engagement in Chillicothe June 8 and is expected in Kentucky soon thereafter.

Here she is to visit the family of Cpl. Julian Patrick, son of a former Magoffin county judge, who died during the Battle of the Bulge. Julian was about 23 years old. His father, M. F. Patrick, is a Salyersville attorney. The son was just out of school when he entered the army.

He and hundreds of others were buried at Margraten, Holland. Because "they were all gentlemen," Mrs. Krigger said, she became a special caretaker of their graves.

She said her small son, Henric, grew strong with food which the G.I.'s shared with him, and added: "Whenever you saw a G.I., you saw a child. Henric would go away with them in the morning. They would bring him back at night—after dinner. Always, they were kind."

Before she returns to Holland, Mrs. Krigger also hopes to visit two chaplains whom she met overseas. They are a Rev. Whitt of Paris, Ky., and a Rev. Taylor, of Holden, Mo. She did not know their first names.

NO MORE CUTS IN ASSISTANCE

To Aged, Indigent And Blind, Is Word Of Governor Clements

Governor Earle Clements had this week some happy news for folks on Kentucky's public-assistance rolls. He announced there would be no more reductions in grants to old people, indigent children and the needy blind, except for a few cases where grants must be scaled down under the formula set up by regulation.

The majority of those on the rolls will continue to receive what they got in April, when the Public Assistance Division started a program of reducing grants to make its money last until June 30, end of the fiscal year.

During April grants to 17,835 cases were reduced and 701 cases were cut off the rolls. But 1,020 new cases were added during that month, the Governor said. There were 66,564 public-assistance cases in April, 51,552 of them old people.

Clements declared that if any surplus is available at the end of the year, it would be spread among those recipients whose grants were slashed, especially where "inequities exist."

He said $56,575 in administrative economies have been effected and this money will be transferred to the public-assistance cash register for distribution among the needy during the rest of the year. Any other administrative savings made between now and June 30 also will be available for grants, he added.

The statement he issued, Clements said, affirms his earlier denial that a blanket cut in grants had been ordered.

DEWEY DAM SAFE, BELIEF

Even if U. S. Senate Cuts Appropriation For Flood Control

Although an attempt was being made in the U.S. Senate this week to pare $200,000,000 from the flood control and rivers and harbors appropriations bill, any danger of curtailment of operations toward completion of the Dewey dam is considered very remote.

Now almost half completed, with diversion of Johns Creek only a matter of a few days away for the beginning of work on the dam itself, the Dewey reservoir is considered as much a certainty as any operation of its kind can be.

The appropriations committee brought forth a bill calling for $708,566,666 to be spent by the army department for its civil functions. That sum is $102,027,500 larger than was approved by the House for the same purpose.

For example, the House approved $3,500,000 for Louisville's floodwall, but the Senate committee boosted it by $1,000,000 to $4,500,000. It made even larger boosts in numerous other projects.

The fight on behalf of economy was led by three members of the Appropriations committee who disagreed with 16 other members in approving the increases. They filed a motion that the bill be sent back to committee, with instructions to the army engineers to slice $200,000,000 where it would do the least harm.

The three are Styles Bridges, New Hampshire, chairman of the Appropriations committee; Homer E. Ferguson, Michigan, and Clyde M. Reed, Kansas. They had valiant support from Robert A. Taft of Ohio. But the evidence produced during the debate is that more Republicans are going to be swayed by the hope of increased funds for flood-control projects back home than are going to be influenced by economy.

For example, there has been no stauncher foe of government spending than Kenneth S. Wherry, of Nebraska, acting majority leader. But Wherry told Taft, Reed and Ferguson he would vote against them unless he could be assured funds would not be taken from projects already under way.

Wherry has a stake in letting the bill go through in the form produced by the committee, because it added $1,100,000 to the $7,500,000 which the House voted for Nebraska's Harlan county reservoir.

Other Republicans with a similar stake in the Senate figures opposed the economists. William F. Knowland of California got from the Senate committee, of which he is a member, an additional $428,000 for flood-control work and $2,938,000 additional.

OPENING DAY TIFF FATAL TO PARLEY

Lewis Would Rule Southern Producers Out; Shutdown Looms

Negotiations toward a new soft coal contract broke down completely Wednesday over the issue of Southern mine owners having representation at the parley which started Tuesday in Washington, D.C.

The Southern Coal Producers Association sought representation through its president, Joseph E. Moody. John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, contended Moody isn't eligible to participate because the Association did not sign the present contract which expires June 30. The operators said he is eligible. And so the threat of another industry-wide strike looms.

Southern mine owners, blaming John L. Lewis for the collapse of negotiations, filed unfair labor practice charges against the chief of the United Mine Workers.

"The consequences can only be guessed," Charles O'Neill, official spokesman for the operators, told reporters. "Whether this will drift into a strike I do not know. What the government will do about it I do not know. Personally, I view the situation as a very serious one."

The association, Lewis contended, is a "holding company" which did not sign the present agreement. Joseph E. Moody, association president, replied that Lewis wouldn't let his organization sign. Instead, Moody said, Lewis forced smaller groups of Dixie operators to sign up, thus bypassing the association.

The present contract between the soft coal miners and the operators expires June 30. Traditionally, they follow a policy of "no contract, no work."

In a statement addressed to the operators, Thomas Kennedy, vice-president of the union, said: "Gentlemen, the responsibility is yours. We want to get down to business."

"The association wants to force a lowered wage scale on Southern coal miners," Kennedy said.

Southern mines employ about 160,000 of the 400,000 soft coal miners.

Moody asked Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, to seek a federal court order compelling Lewis to re-

AUDIT CITES OVERPAYMENT

Rousseau Says County Owes Sheriff on Tax Payments for 1946

Sheriff Troy B. Sturgill is given a clean bill of health in his handling of tax collections by the audit of the county's fiscal affairs for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, which was prepared by James A. Rousseau, of the office of H. N. Jones, Auditor of Public Accounts.

Said the auditor: "The Sheriff has settled in full for taxes due the county on the basis of the total tax bills prepared by the County Clerk and turned over to the Sheriff. The total amount of these bills agrees with the assessment for county taxes as certified by the State Department of Revenue."

In fact, according to the audit, Floyd county owes Sheriff Sturgill $45.24. This figure, it was said, varied only a dollar or two from that reached by W. J. May, county treasurer. Rousseau showed that the total of net taxes due the county was $201,904.44, and that Sheriff Sturgill paid the county treasurer $201,949.68.

Sheriff Sturgill's settlement for 1946 tax collections was questioned, early this year, by O. H. Stumbo, who was named to make settlement with the Sheriff for the county, and the fiscal court later asked the State Auditor's office to make an audit.

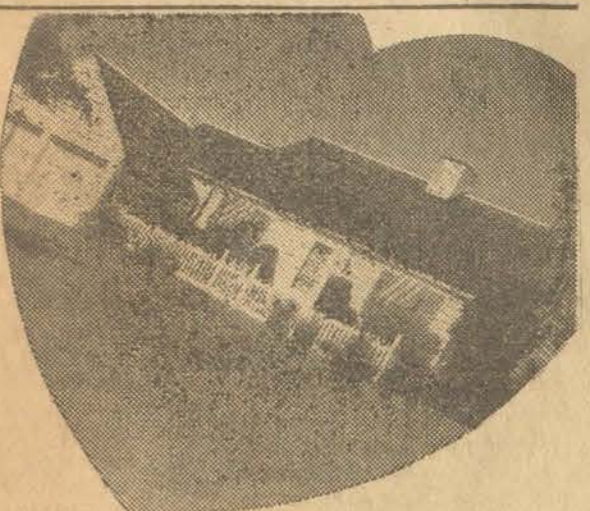

Mr. Stumbo claimed he found the tax receipts totaled around $3,000 more than were charged to the Sheriff. He also alleged that changes had been made in the assessment figures for certain taxpayers.

At that time Sheriff Sturgill declared, "An audit will be made. I will insist on it."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ON TEACHER UNION
 Editor, The Times:

The Floyd County Federation of Teachers is nearing the completion of its first year. Despite the handicaps of a severe winter, transportation problems, and the fact that relatively few teachers are willing to take the initiative, the organization has made some progress. We predict that during the next school year great progress will be made.

Several proposals were made to the local administration this year. Among them was the request that we be given our few dollars within three days after sending in our monthly reports. These requests were all shrugged off with the excuse of inconvenience. During the next year we will attack some of the same problems more strenuously.

At one of our meetings prior to the meeting of the General Assembly, we asked Doug Hays, Henry C. Hale and Milton Stumbo, our State Senator and Representatives, to cooperate with the teachers on all constructive teacher legislation. According to Patrick Kirwan, president of the Kentucky Federation of Teachers, these men were solid for labor and education.

We saw the ineffective job done by the administration-dominated KEA during the last meeting of the Assembly. They won nothing for teachers. In fact, we will be paid less next year than this year, unless we get busy.

Teachers have the backing of all labor. Since this is a labor section, all we have to do is back ourselves and our gains will be rapid. Our children will gain, too.

How can the public be satisfied with the condition of our schools? How can we teachers be satisfied to have schools taught by people who do not MAKE A LIVING?

At least two hundred of the teachers we talked to this year regarding the Union were in favor of it, and appeared anxious to join. However, many of them did not get around to becoming members.

We would like everyone who plans to teach next year to give the Union serious consideration. We feel that education is a lost cause unless the teachers salvage and rebuild it.

What can the Teachers' Union do? It can do what you want it to do.

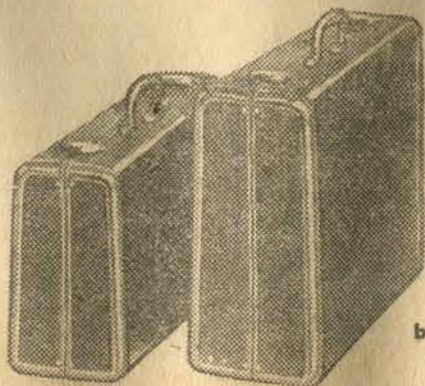

- Here are just a few of the many things for the Union to work on:
1. Increased state aid.
 2. Federal aid.
 3. A more accurate tax assessment.
 4. A greater voice for the classroom teacher in planning the school program.
 5. Complete political freedom of the teachers.
 6. Fair tenure practices.

"Let us then, be up and doing, With a heart for any fate; Still achieving, still pursuing, And we won't have to wait."

Our next meeting will be Saturday, May 22, at 1 o'clock, in the Prestonsburg grade school building. All teachers are invited to come and help plan for the next year.

House Votes Station In Appalachian Area For Fuel Experiments

Somewhere in the Appalachian region an oil and natural gas experiment station will be established, if the Senate concurs with the action taken this week by the House of Representatives.

The Appalachian region as contemplated in the bill includes Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. The bill does not say where the station would be located.

The legislation, sponsored in the House by Congressman Griffiths, of Ohio, would authorize $1,000,000 for construction and half a million dollars annually for maintenance and operation.

Last month Welfare Commissioner A. Y. Lloyd, in a letter to Clements, said downward adjustments would have to be made in grants to keep the assistance program going until the end of the year.

Lloyd had said the 1948 Legislature failed to make a deficiency appropriation large enough to maintain old-age grants at the March average of $17.40.

Lloyd had added that one-third of the cases would be reduced in April, one-third in May, and one-third in June.

April's reductions to old folks totaled about $45,000 and the individual cuts generally ranged from $2 to $4.

But Clements explained that he has looked into the public-assistance fiscal picture. At the rate the Public Assistance Division was reducing grants there was a strong possibility that the program would end up with a fair surplus, he said.

That's why the no-more-reduction announcement was issued.

The Governor gave credit to the 1948 Legislature for approving a $600,000 deficiency appropriation for public assistance for the remainder of the fiscal year. Unless the Legislature had done that, Clements said, the aid program would have stopped during May and June.

C. O. Burchett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burchett and daughter arrived here last week from San Diego, Calif. Jack Burchett, an electrician, will locate here.

Mrs. B. L. Sturgill is in the Prestonsburg General Hospital suffering from a broken hip as the result of a fall at her home on Broadway Saturday. The injury will necessitate confinement to her bed for many weeks.

ditional for rivers and harbors work, including $2,128,000 to start building a waterway between San Francisco and Sacramento.

Chapman Revercomb took his stand against the economizers. His state, West Virginia, got from the Senate committee $4,150,000 for the Morgantown lock and dam on the Monongahela river, plus $1,113,000 for flood control above the figure granted by the House.

Guy Cordon, a committee member whose state of Oregon was treated $10,000,000 better by the Senate committee than it was by the House, was against the economizers. So was Chan Gurney, of South Dakota, chairman of the subcommittee which considered the civil-functions appropriations bill. His state fared $4,800,000 better under the Senate bill than it did under the House measure.

Mixed with the fight over economy was the question of opposition on the part of private utilities companies, the railroads, and the coal companies to the extension of government-constructed hydroelectric dams. Reed put it flatly, in this way: "Forty per cent of the total for construction in this bill will go to make power projects which won't produce power until 1953. If we need electric power for national defense purposes in the near future, we must seek other ways of securing that power. Large hydroelectric projects cannot be constructed quickly."

Taft, warning of the inflationary effects of large expenditures on public works, said

"The whole question of flood control is important. But some of these projects waited a number of years and can wait a while longer. We have had floods for 160 years. Whether we build the protection this year or later is not a vital question. But whether we exceed the budget is a vital question."

Taft said that every economist, of the right wing or the left wing, is agreed that public works should be restricted in time of full employment and expanded in times of unemployment.

Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, took issue with that viewpoint as applied to flood control.

"The purpose of flood control is not to give people work," Barkley said. "It is to protect lives and property. Floods go on during depression years and during prosperity. I can't accept the theory that we want to cut down on such projects just because people are at work."

STRICKEN BY HEART ATTACK
Friends here will regret to learn of the illness of C. C. Hunter, who formerly resided here, but who now lives in Lexington. Mr. Hunter was in Louisville when stricken by a heart attack and was admitted to a Louisville hospital for treatment.

ALL-DAY MEETING

An all-day meeting, with dinner on the grounds, will be held at the Pruitt cemetery on Abbott Creek, May 30, with singing by visiting choirs.

GOBLE HURLS NO-HITTER

As Cats End Season At Stone Undefeated; Go to Grayson Friday

Bill Goble, Jr., who confined his baseball activities through his four years of high school to patrolling an outfield post, turned his attention to mound work Tuesday night, 24 hours before his graduation, in the Black Cats' encounter with Stone—and all he did was twirl a no-hit game. The Cats wound up the regular playing season undefeated, trouncing Stone, 14-2.

The runs scored by Stone resulted from errors.
Friday, the Cats enter the regional baseball tournament at Grayson and the winner of the meet will go to Louisville as regional representative in the state tournament.

Catlettsburg high school's Wildcats are rated the team to beat in the regional, with big Ed Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moore, Sr., formerly of this county, their mound star. Prestonsburg, with the development of Goble as a pitcher, has a four-man mound staff: Burchett, Harmon and Goble, righthanders, and "Blue" Childers, a southpaw.

C. & O. To Match Funds For Martin Sports Program

A sports program, with a playground fully equipped, is planned at Martin this year under sponsorship of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company, it was learned here last week.
The rail firm's contribution to the movement is land for a playing field to accommodate baseball, tennis, croquet and other sports and to match up to $1,000 funds raised by residents of the town.
The baseball park, located at the lower limits of New Martin, will be enclosed by a fence, it was said.

FISH AND GAME NOTES

The bass hatch from the Commission of Game & Fish hatcheries is described as excellent and to date more than 425,000 of these fry have been placed in rearing ponds and farm ponds. Minor Clark, superintendent of hatcheries, declares. From the Williamsburg hatchery 300,000 fry have been placed in ponds in the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth districts, while 150,000 of these youngsters have been kept at the rearing ponds of the hatchery. From the Trigg hatchery, where the hatch was later, already 125,000 have been distributed, while at least 350,000 additional are expected, and probably more than 100,000 additional will come from the Williamsburg hatchery. Counting the number of fry to be kept by the Division for rearing and for brood stock the total for the season is expected to surpass the million mark, which will far exceed the greatest distribution in the history of the state hatcheries. Clark declared that the price of commercial fry is $30 per thousand and at this rate fry valued at approximately $30,000 will have been distributed by the Division this season. Deadline for application for stocking of ponds was April 15. This date was necessary so that distribution routes could be mapped to prevent overlapping of truck trips. More fish will be distributed in districts which already have received fish and those districts not yet touched will receive their bass within the next few weeks.

P'BURG QUILTS LOOP CELLAR

With Double Win; Harold, Paintsville Still Share Lead

Scattered and tardy returns from Sunday's baseball wars indicate that the situation at the top in the Big Sandy league remains unchanged, with Harold and Paintsville still sharing the No. 1 spot, but such is not the case in the lower bracket.

Prestonsburg came out of the dungeon with a bang, defeating Clear Creek here in both ends of a doubleheader, 9 to 0 and 9 to 1, leaving Van Lear in sole and dissatisfied possession of the cellar. Harold licked Van Lear in both games, 7 to 1 and 11 to 4.

At Weeksbury Wayland gained an even split, taking the first game in a tight hurling duel between Adkins of Wayland and P. Skiles of Weeksbury, 3-2, and dropping the second, 9 to 5, with Burchett, the winning moundman.

Paintsville kept pace with Harold by defeating Garretts, 7-3 and 14 to 5.

The Pikeville-Elkhorn City doubleheader was reported a clean sweep for Elkhorn City.

Prestonsburg's twin victory Sunday came under new management, with W. C. Rimmer taking over the reins. Patton held Clear Creek to three singles in the first game and was never threatened as his teammates pounded Castle and S. Caudill for 10 hits. Six Clear Creek errors hastened the visitors' downfall.

In the nightcap 15-year-old "Blue" Childers, Prestonsburg high school southpaw, started for Prestonsburg and pitched like a veteran. In his five-inning tenure he was touched for only one run.
Box scores available.

"Drive in Futuramic Style every Hydra-Matic Mile!"
Here's the car that's inspired new words for "In My Merry Oldsmobile." It's the Futuramic '48, a brand new model that's leading the way into a new Golden Era of progress and advancement!

Whirlaway WITH GM HYDRAMATIC DRIVE
It's the smash hit of the year... the big success story of 1948... the car that has all America singing its praises! Everywhere it goes, the Futuramic Oldsmobile goes over in a big way. Watch how people gather 'round to inspect that massive Futuramic front end... those flowing Futuramic fenders... that smartly tailored Futuramic interior.

Then watch the face of the lucky driver. He's got that "Futuramic Feeling." It's more than just the smoothness of a coil-cushioned ride. It's more than just the simplicity of "no-clutch, no-shift" Hydra-Matic Drive. It's even more than the breath-taking thrill of stepping down on the accelerator and feeling that surge of power as WHIRLAWAY goes into action. That "Futuramic Feeling" is a combination of all these Oldsmobile features—topped off with a goodly measure of pride at driving the best looking of all the new cars on the roads today!

LUBRICARE—tailor-made lubrication for Buicks

It's lubrication made to measure for your Buick by the engineers who built the car—with lubricants carefully chosen for just one reason: they are best for your Buick.

Men who know Buicks thoroughly see that all the different points that need it are properly supplied with exactly the right kind and right amount of lubricant.

You're away knowing your car is protected and set to roll smoothly and dependably with lubrication that has been matched to the mileage you have driven.

SEE YOUR BUICK DEALER REGULARLY FOR LUBRICARE

No wonder you grin! There's that zoom again—that go—that flashing spirit that you know is built in Buicks. There's that split-second answer to your call for power, the feather-light response to your finger that makes your two-ton honey handle like a baby buggy.

This is what happens when a Buick is cared for by men who know Buicks best—men who know the height of spirit a Buick can reach and how to bring it out.

Buick men have a way with Buicks no one else can have. That's only natural. Whatever they do, they do as the designers and builders of Buick say it should be done. They use Buick-approved checks and tools. And when time and miles finally take their toll in wear, they have right at hand a stock of Buick-engineered replacement parts.

Wheel in and they'll sweeten your engine to bring out all its surge and go. They'll steady your car's easy gait and make steering limber. They'll even take out your worn engine and give you new-car zing and power with a factory-fresh Fireball.

See for yourself. Bring your car in and get real, understanding Buick car care. You can't buy it anywhere else—and job for job it doesn't cost you a penny more.
