

Get in the mood... you gotta get in the mood to do this thing. Well, suppose I do get in the mood...

IRONIC MOOD: After all the brow-wrinkling, heavy thinking and weighing the pros and cons we men did while considering a frozen foods plant in Prestonsburg...

COMPLIMENTARY: Those young women of the Junior Woman's Club here richly deserve the support of Prestonsburg and Floyd county in their sponsorship of an Artist Series here...

SENTIMENTAL: One of the few quiet moments one finds in town. Late at night, a hound, far off, giving chase to a fox. How do I know it's a fox? I had a hound, once. And this bugling along the distant ridge brings up memories...

HAPPY: Yes, now that this thing draws near the close. SATISFIED: No! FOOLISH: Who said that?

WARNING: My neighbors are hereby warned that, any day now, I may go into the duck business. They should not be noding on their fowling pieces...

AS ANY FOOL OUGHTA KNOW: One lives and learns. Last week swam into my ken this profound bit of lore: "If you make gravy from your cow's milk, the cow will go dry."

Court House Happenings: SUITS FILED: John Compton, etc. vs. James P. Osborn; Joe Hobson, atty. Myers Drygoods Co., Inc. vs. M. C. Hall, et al.

MARRIAGE LICENSES: Ray Burke, 57, Chillicothe, O., and Myrtle Burke, 42, Auxier; married at Auxier Oct. 7, the Rev. Dewey Fraley officiating.

In the rate reduction case the commission decided against a similar order for Pittsburgh & West Virginia Gas Company, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The Pittsburgh company's income from sales in interstate commerce would have exceeded its 1945 cost of service by only $23,605, the commission said.

The commission said the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company had agreed that if any rate reduction were found necessary, the reduction should be allocated three-fourths to the Pittsburgh firm and one-fourth to Louisville Gas & Electric Company, the largest purchasers.

The annual reduction to the Louisville company, under the new rates starting Nov. 1, would be $142,821.

The Pittsburgh & West Virginia Gas Company reduction would be $428,463, the commission said.

The order further explained that "Pittsburgh's costs of service for the test period exceeded its utility revenues by $402,169" and that assuming it gets the reduction ordered its income would exceed cost by $23,294.

The commission started its proceedings in 1945 after the city of Pittsburgh complained that "Kentucky's rates for gas sold to Pittsburgh & West Virginia Gas Company, and the rates at which the latter then sold to the Equitable Gas Company for distribution in the Pittsburgh area, were unjust."

U.K. Researchers To Study Home Heating from Earth

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 9—Engineering research scientists plan experiments aimed at determining whether the earth is a practical source of heat for the average size dwelling or small commercial building.

Test with an earth heat pump may begin by next Jan. 1 at the University of Kentucky, E. B. Penrod, head of the mechanical engineering department, said today.

The Kentucky Utilities Company has donated the $6,000 device which takes heat from the earth in the summer and returns it in the winter to perform the functions of heating and air conditioning with the same equipment.

The earth heat pump will never entirely replace conventional types of heating and air conditioning equipment, Penrod said. Its many unusual advantages may bring it into close competition with ordinary coal, gas and electrical heating and artificial cooling field.

Using the earth as the source of heat and utilizing electricity only to power circulating pumps, it is estimated that as much as four times the amount of heat may be made available as would be produced by the same amount of electricity used for direct heating.

Heating is accomplished by the pump through a process involving circulation of an anti-freeze solution, a refrigerant and air. The anti-freeze passes from the main unit through 500 feet of one-inch copper tubes buried five feet under ground. Heat is absorbed by the solution due to its temperature being lower than that of the earth at the five-foot level. Returning to the main unit, the solution boils and gives off heat through a compression and refrigeration process. The vapor is mixed with fresh air and circulated by an electric fan to enter the room at about 96 degrees. Loss through walls, windows and and doors gives the room an average 70 degrees.

The function of air conditioning is essentially a reverse of the heating process, said U.K. engineers. Heat is drawn from the room, given off into the earth and fresh, cooled air is returned into the room.

Researchers hope to study the transient flow of heat in the ground as the possible key to improved types of heating apparatus and to gain knowledge of the amount of heat needed each month to heat and cool the equivalent of a six-room home. The project is tentatively slated to continue for two or three years.

Railroads File New Rail Rate Hike

Washington, Oct. 12—The railroads today formally asked for a 13 per cent increase in freight rates, and petitioned for authority to make a portion of the advance effective at once.

The actions were taken before the Interstate Commerce Commission, where the rail carriers already had pending an October 1 petition for an eight per cent hike in hauling charges.

In line with an announcement made yesterday, this petition was amended to request a 13 per cent advance—estimated by the roads to add $1,050,000,000 a year to rail freight charges.

At the same time the industry said the continuing rise in operating costs—as evidenced by new wage increases granted a week ago to conductors and trainmen—justified an immediate grant to raise current rates.

WANTED . . .

I thought I had come up with the latest theory on why fish bite or don't bite with the idea that the pesky critters feed in three-day cycles—that is, gorge themselves today, hitting every plug, minnow, etcetera in sight, then while their feast is digesting lay off the proventer tomorrow and the next day.

But County Conservation Officer Bernard Baldrige came through this week with a newer one in discussing why you catch fish or don't catch fish. He says he read an article saying you catch fish where you can smell fish and that where you can't smell 'em you may as well row on.

With this cold I have and that theory he has, I'm in a bad fix. Wanted: a fishshund.

posed jumping the dues up to $4 a month and the initiation fee from $10 to $50. The committee is willing to recommend those increases, with the provision that miners pay only $10 a month while their pits are idle. The dues vary by localities, but average about $2 across the nation.

Scores of resolutions would boost Lewis' home pay, but the one favored by the constitution committee would double his old salary to $50,000. Vice-President Thomas Kennedy and Secretary-Treasurer John Owens would be increased from $18,000 to $36,000.

The new salary, if approved by the convention, would make Lewis the highest paid labor union leader in the country so far as publicly announced income is concerned. Several receive $35,000 a year.

AFL President William Green receives $25,000. CIO President Phillip Murray gets $18,000 as head of the steelworkers, and only expenses from the CIO.

The UMW committee is reported to have rejected a resolution to give Lewis lifetime tenure as head of the union. He has had no opponent since 1931, when John Brophy, a former miner and now the CIO's director of industrial union councils, was overwhelmingly defeated.

11 JURORS ARE SEATED FOR LETCHER TRIAL

Whitesburg, Ky., Oct. 13—Eleven jurors were seated today to try Earl Bentley, Hemphill, for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Hillard Bates last April.

Letcher Circuit Judge Sam M. Ward adjourned court until tomorrow morning when the 12th juror will be chosen and testimony is expected to begin.

Bentley, a World War II veteran, is accused of the fatal shooting of Bates near Fleming. The officer was shot from ambush. He drove his car to a Fleming hospital where he died two days later.

CONSERVATION IN RETREAT
WHEN it was recently decided to abandon the Flatwoods game preserve in Pike county, the first big retreat of conservation before the encroachment of industry was made. This one instance would not be alarming, did it not present, in miniature, the picture of what has been happening in other states, even in some sections of Kentucky, and of what can happen here.

Generally speaking, the mining industry has hitherto offered no serious threat to the cause of conservation in Eastern Kentucky. Whatever the section's shortcomings in the protection and propagation of wildlife, the fault has lain not with industry but with officials and citizens.

But that retreat from the Flatwoods was beaten as strip mining bulldozed its way in. How many similar areas will be despoiled, how many streams rendered unfit for fishing, how much erosion will result from further strip operations—this, nobody can now foretell.

Sportsmen in the neighboring state of West Virginia even now are mourning the "death" of two old friends—Glade Creek and Mann Creek. Others "passed on" before them. Once beautiful streams, meccas for anglers, these once-sparkling mountain waters now are rivulets of mud, unfit for any use but to carry away the washings from the gutted hilltops along their courses.

Coal is an essential industry, in that it provides in peacetime and in war fuel necessary for the industrial life of the nation, and offers gainful employment to many thousands. But strip-mining for this section is not necessary now. Mining by the usual methods, by drift-mouth and shaft, still can reach great deposits of coal. Not yet is it necessary to shovel away the face of the earth, contribute to erosion and defile waterways for scores of miles in order to reach the face of coal.

Moreover, strip-mining is not a phase of a great industry which can be depended upon to supply wide-scale employment. No coal-loaders—mechanized shovels take care of that. The miner is a thing of steel, not a man. Mechanization really reaches its highest efficiency in strip-mining: manpower counts for little. The payrolls left in the community are insignificant as compared with the types of mining we now know.

Strip-mining, then, means the loss of natural resources from the grass-roots on down through the coal and out the length of our streams—to enrich the operator, supply a few technicians with jobs and provide the landowner, if he is lucky enough to have retained title to his coal, with a royalty. Others it does not help; most it harms.

This section stands in the path of this new phase of the industry, however, and it is time we begin thinking of what it will mean. A people aware of what they face, and aroused to the threat, can meet it by demanding of their legislators laws which will give the best possible protection from complete exploitation and despoilation.

Draft Registration Total for County 3,598, Sept. 30th
Total registration for the draft in Floyd county stood on Sept. 30 at 3,598, Miss Imogene Allen, clerk of the draft board here, said this week. The regular registration completed, the Board is now registering young men as they become 18 years of age.

Although most other Kentucky counties have received draft quotas, none such has been received by Floyd, Miss Allen said. The October draft quotas for neighboring Johnson and Knott counties were 15 each, it was said.

The Board was unable to explain why this county had not been asked for inductees unless the number of volunteers has been large enough to make the operation of Selective Service unnecessary to date.

Pike County Man Held in Killing
Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 11—Sheriff D. C. Moore said today that Cecil Crigger, about 23, of Sharondale, was being held in the Pike county jail here on a charge of murder.

Moore said Crigger was arrested in the fatal shooting last night of Melvin Varney, 52, also of Sharondale.

Both men were miners, employed by the Black Gold Coal Company. They lived in houses about 25 feet apart in the mining town.

Varney was a World War I veteran. He leaves a widow and three children.

TO THE PEOPLE OF EDUCATIONAL DIVISION NO. 3:
Most of you know that as far as money is concerned being a member of the Board of Education means a LOSS to a person who is employed, since he gets only $5 and expenses for each day he attends a Board meeting, not to exceed $100 for a year.

Outside of the financial side, however, this is a very important office. Board members elect the Superintendent and work with him in deciding the policies of the school system. Together the Superintendent and Board members decide where school buildings will be built, where school buses will operate, whether children will be furnished shelter while awaiting school buses, what supplies, materials and equipment will be bought, and WHO WILL TEACH YOUR CHILDREN.

I am a graduate of Betsy Layne high school and of the Caney Junior College, having traveled the road that most of your children have followed or will follow. I have taught 10 years in the schools of Floyd county. I have seen them grow and improve during that time. I want to see them continue to grow and improve. During my 10 years teaching I never had to see any one outside the trustee, Board member, or Superintendent about "getting a school" or anything else in regard to my school work. I believe that as it should be and as a member of the Board of Education I would have it continue that way.

I am not running "against" anybody. I have no axes to grind, no peevish nor prejudices to air, no politicians to serve. My only aim is to see our school system continue to improve, to help offer more and better service to our Floyd county children.

Mine Inspectors Say Conditions Improved At Three Operations

Improved conditions in three Floyd county mines are reported in federal mine inspectors' reports, the Bureau of Mines reported this week.

At the time of the re-inspection, the tipple was reasonably free of dust accumulations, no employees were observed working under loose roof and all unsafe roof had been taken down or timbered, unnecessary back-poling was not noted, and coal dust was not permitted to accumulate excessively on the roadways, the inspector reported.

More effective ventilation and control of coal dust, compliance with systematic timbering rules, and the elimination of several sub-standard haulage conditions and practices were among the chief safety measures proposed along with other safeguards for the Turner Elkhorn Mining Company's 300-ton-a-day Columbia No. 1 mine at McDowell. A few recent improvements were credited to the mine, which had 52 employees when it was examined in July.

Although commending more than a dozen recent safety advances in the Floyd Elkhorn Coal Company's Liberty No. 2 mine at Samson, a federal coal mine inspector recommends additional rock-dusting and other safeguards. This mine employed 49 men and produced 450 tons of coal daily when re-inspected in August.

Most of the mine had been rock-dusted, but Inspector Vittow advocated rock-dusting to within 80 feet of the faces in mechanical working sections and thorough rock-dusting along the main haulage way, in addition to the use of water or other means to alloy coal dust during cutting.

Hatcher Elected to Post By Officials' Group

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 11—Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher was elected vice-president of the Southern region of the National Association of Secretaries of State at its annual meeting in Charleston, S.C., last week. Ben W. Fortson, Jr., Georgia secretary of state, was named president.
Hatcher, who returned this week, was named to the national association's committee to study election laws and make recommendations. He was named chairman of its auditing committee.

Awaiting their removal to the state reformatory at LaGrange are two women, a mother and her daughter, held at the county jail here under manslaughter sentences. Mrs. Ritter Hall, elderly Jack's Creek woman, was sentenced Wednesday by Circuit Judge E. F. Hill to a five-year pen term for the slaying of Mrs. Polly Johnson. On the preceding day her daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, was given a two-year sentence in the same case.
The two women and several others, among them men returned here from LaGrange as witnesses, were slated to be taken today, but the fact that several officers are under bond for their appearance Friday in a liquor trial may delay their departure till Saturday or next week, it was said.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

My offhand guess is that less than half the Kentucky towns of from 2,500 to 6,000 population have hospitals. Probably less than half a dozen under 2,000 have hospitals. In the latter bracket is Hardinsburg with the Breckinridge County Memorial hospital, and I gather from Col. George M. Chancellor's Breckinridge county News that the community is as proud of the institution as it would be if it had a $10,000,000 oil pool.

Cynthiana, in the upper bracket, and Harrison county set out to raise $75,000 to build a war memorial hospital and in 10 days got $105,000. That is civic progress to write home about.

Harry E. Leath, of the News-Journal, reports that public-spirited Campbellsville and Taylor county citizens raised a considerable fund to help a catholic group build a fine new hospital this year.

Hospital service for the middle and poorer classes is one of the major needs of Kentucky. If there were as much interest in building hospitals as in costly arenas for football and gyms for basketball it wouldn't be long before there would be hospital beds for everybody who needed them.

Not long ago a new baby cost a farm worker on our place $140—$75 to the physician, $40 for four days in a hospital. I told one of my office staff in New York about it, and he said a baby cost him $250. Aspirin tablets for the mother were $1 apiece.

You don't have to know all about hospital management to feel certain that rooms in hospitals should be available at rates comparable to average hotel prices, with food charged for according to expense involved per patient. Since most hospitals are operated on a non-profit basis, service should be available to people with low incomes at less than current rates.

In the last three years a large hospital in West Kentucky lost money. What's more serious, it lost the confidence of the public as an investment. The trouble was poor business management, due to political control, with city and county politicians influencing the appointment of nearly everybody but the nurses. Political control will nearly always result in padded payrolls and general inefficiency. All of which means that any community wanting a new hospital should start looking for a good manager the day the money drive is inaugurated.

Mrs. Gardner Succumbs At Daughter's Home In Her 86th Year

Heart complications and the infirmities of age Monday claimed the life of Mrs. Laura Belle Gardner, one of Prestonsburg's oldest and most revered women, at the age of 85. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Combs, following several years' semi-invalidism and a serious illness of 10 days.

A native of Phillipi, W. Va., she was the daughter of the late Dr. Charles S. Callihan, pioneer Floyd county physician, and Mrs. Maggie Daniels Callihan. Since childhood she had resided in Prestonsburg where she held the deep regard of all who knew her. She had been a member of the Baptist Church here since the early days of its founding.

Mrs. Gardner was first married to William Cassidy and after his death to George W. Gardner, who also preceded her in death. She at one time was postmistress here and for years operated a millinery shop on Graham street.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Combs and Mrs. Maude Nunnery, both of Prestonsburg; one brother, Dr. G. D. Callihan, Prestonsburg; and three sisters, Mrs. Mary C. Martin, Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. Anna Carter and Mrs. Byrd C. May, both of Prestonsburg.

The funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon from Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, the Revs. A. C. Harlowe, L. W. Benedict and M. Robert Regan officiating. Burial in the Weddington cemetery here was under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

Mrs. J. D. Mayo was hostess last Thursday evening to the Irene Burke Bible class. The meeting was held at the Methodist parsonage, with Mrs. Yates and Mrs. Kendrick, served refreshments to Mrs. Lucy Cahall, of Cincinnati, Mrs. Niece Kinney, Mrs. J. E. Ball, Mrs. R. D. Ball, Mrs. Ike Lockwood, Mrs. Dove Vaughan, Mrs. Anna Woods, Miss Myrtle Pugsley and the Rev. C. M. Yates.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Prior notice from the Veterans Administration Branch Office in Columbus, Ohio, will be sent to veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky whose National Service Life Insurance term policies expire after October 8, 1948. VA officials said notice will be sent two months before the expiration date of the original policies. This will give the veterans time to convert their term insurance to a permanent NSLI plan or renew their term insurance for an additional five-year period. Renewals may be made without a physical examination, but at a higher premium rate based on the veterans' attained age at the time of renewal.

VA stressed the fact that veterans who plan to renew their term insurance should submit their renewal applications, plus a premium payment at the advanced rate, prior to the expiration date of their term policy.

Veterans enrolling in colleges and universities this fall may not receive their first subsistence checks until the week of Nov. 7. Veterans Administration Branch Office in Columbus, O., said this week. First checks will include all subsistence payments due from the date of enrollment through the end of October.

In most areas the first payments cannot be made before that date because of the heavy workload the colleges and VA face in processing extremely large enrollments. Veterans are urged to make arrangements to meet their financial obligations until their first checks are sent out.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q My father is supporting a large family. May I claim him as a dependent while I am in training under the G.I. Bill?

A Dependency will be held to exist if your father does not have an income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for himself and members of his family under legal age, or members of his family otherwise dependent by reason of mental or physical incapacity.

Q Is the amount of disability compensation in any way affected by the amount I earn or receive from other sources?

A No.

Q I am going to college under the G.I. Bill and would like to know whether I will have to refund the tuition if I leave school before the end of the school year?

A If you drop out of college before the end of the period for which tuition has been paid by VA, you will have to pay VA for the time you did not attend school or you will lose the training time covered by the payments.

Two Letcher Men Named in Slaying

Whitesburg, Ky., Oct. 11—Murder indictments were returned today by the Letcher county grand jury against John P. Marcum and Dock Bentley, Jr., both of Neen.

They are charged in the robbery-slaying of Lena Harris, whose body was found last Monday at Acme Hill, near Neen.

Coroner Archie Craft said the victim had been stabbed several times with a knife or a razor. Her empty pocketbook was found near the body.

Neen Police Chief Adolph Phipps said Miss Harris was carrying a considerable sum of money at the time of her death.

Marcum and Bentley will be tried October 21.

The jury also returned a murder indictment against Alvin Gray in connection with the slaying of his wife, Bessie, at Haymond, three weeks ago. His trial was set for October 19.

Circuit Judge Sam M. Ward today ordered Harry Kilbourne, 60, Blackey, Ky., tried on a murder charge October 20.

Kilbourne, former deputy constable and foreman for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, is accused of shooting Curt Bolling, 32, when he attempted to arrest Bolling August 7.

Judge Ward indicated he would set a trial date in the near future for Hassell and Corlis Smith, brothers, charged with murder in the shooting of Constable Matthew Collins at an Isom roadhouse September 19.

The Smith brothers, both of Leathwood, Letcher county, will be transferred here from Pike county jail where they have been held for safekeeping.

Cats Edge Jenkins, 7-6; Play Pikeville Friday

One scintillating 75-yard run by young Joe Stanley on his second play as a member of the Prestonsburg backfield and his subsequent line plunge for the extra point spelled the difference Friday night here between victory and defeat for the Black Cats as they met surprisingly tough opposition in the invading Jenkins high school football eleven.

This long dash through tackle came in the first quarter and the extra point made by Stanley gave the Cats a 7 to 0 edge till the third quarter when Jenkins scored and failed to crash the Prestonsburg line to tie the game. The contest ended with Jenkins hammering away again but short of a marker.

The passing of Howerton made of Jenkins a constant threat. On the ground the visitors gained little, but in the air they were deadly. Only a sensational leap by diminutive Eddie Hill thwarted a certain Jenkins score and victory in waning seconds of the game as a Jenkins receiver stood in the end zone waiting for the ball as it sailed true toward him.

On the whole, it was a mediocre performance by the Cats, to put it mildly. Outside of Stanley's scoring run and occasional line plunges by Gene Boyd and Joe Spears (the latter with only two plays as the sum of his previous experience), the Cats spent a dreary evening. Their blocking was bad, their tackling too high.

The ancient "sleeper" play was hauled out of moth balls by Jenkins to place the ball in scoring position in the third quarter. The play took the ball to the Prestonsburg 10 and it would have gone over except for a burst of speed by Boyd who out-footed the ball carrier from far back to haul him down. An end run on first down scored for the visitors.

Paul Harmon, big Prestonsburg lineman, was lost midway the game through a severe shoulder injury which may keep him out of the game here Friday night with the Pikeville Panthers. With his departure went the team's best punter. A leg injury suffered by Gene Boyd may prevent him also from seeing action Friday night.

One heartening feature Coach Ted Benedette found in the game. The Prestonsburg line showed improvement. Inexperience continues to hinder the team from developing to its potential. For instance, seven seniors started last Friday night's game and of these only two had played prior to this year.

For the game with Pikeville the Cats will have to play their best ball, and to this end Coach Benedette was driving his charges this week. They can win, he is convinced—if they will get down to the business of playing football.

'Possum and 'Coon Season in November

Frank Phipps, superintendent of conservation, Division of Game and Fish, has announced a change in regulations on raccoon and opossum hunting to the extent that these may be hunted with dogs only during the month of November. The amended regulations also provide for the trapping season to extend from Nov. 1 to Jan. 31.

27-Inch Walleye, Best Of Numerous Fish Taken In Big Sandy Saturday.

Fishermen had one of their biggest days of the year on the Big Sandy Saturday, with few coming home empty-handed.

Outstanding catch of the day was a 27 1/4-inch walleye, landed on a shiner minnow between the Mayo farm and Ball Alley, near here, by Bill Wallen, of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company. Bass taken ranged up to 14 inches.

Sunday, however, it was another story—few strikes, fewer fish hooked.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING
 The fast pace of modern living in this atomic age becomes too much for us civilized people every now and then, and one of the finest ways of relaxing and getting away from it all is to go fishing.

The new thousands of angling enthusiasts are worrying fish conservationists, already hard pressed to provide satisfactory fishing for those millions who discovered its pleasures years ago.

Dr. R. W. Eschmeyer, well-known fish scientist, comments that our success in meeting the fish demands of this and future generations will depend upon whether or not we can effectively educate people concerning the problems of fish conservation.

Let's look at the picture. Fish conservation has two major objectives: (a) to provide a maximum number of successful fishing trips without injury to future fishing, and (b) to provide a fair distribution of fisheries' resources.

Our population is increasing continually, and thus increasing fishing pressure. Because of the increase in fishermen, our individual share of the fish resources is becoming quite small and we tend to forget that an acre of water, like the acre of land, can produce and sustain only a limited number of "livestock" fish.

Faced with this situation, there are several approaches open to us. Here are the more important ones:

We can try to educate anglers to fish for fun. But it will take a lot of effort to persuade many folks that fish be returned to the water to provide another thrill later.

We can provide more regulations, but such changes alone will not greatly improve fishing. We can do more stocking, where this method has proved effective. We can improve environment. Erosion control, pollution control and shelter-improvement measures all play a part in increasing fish population.

We can increase the amount of fishing water—create farm fishponds, public fishing waters, and big multiple purpose impoundments managed partly for fishing.

Of the five above approaches, the first and the last are the most significant. We must learn to fish for fun, or must increase the amount of fishing water to a point where we can have reasonably good angling even though the catches are taken home.

Wayland High Scores First Football Victory

Wayland's victory-hungry Wasps are no longer hungry.

Coach Warf's grid eleven hit pay dirt—and delved deep into it—at Wayland last Friday night, upsetting a strong West Liberty high school football team, 25 to 7.

The victory, the first scored by Wayland since football was introduced to the school's sports program in 1947, has been in the making since the upset of the season. A tie with the Paintsville Tigers was the Wasps' first big step forward. As the season wore on, the team developed a scoring punch.

And Friday night the boys got going. It was Fullback Harry Haywood who led his team to victory with three touchdowns. He drove over from the five in the very first period. In the third quarter he scored twice—first from the eight-yard line and again from the four. Doug Castle, who played great ball, added Wayland's fourth touchdown in the fourth quarter from the one-yard stripe. Evans attempted to convert on all four touchdowns by kicking and succeeded on the fourth.

West Liberty scored its only touchdown in the final quarter on a 50-yard dash by its left halfback.

Ineligible Black Cat Athlete Picked by Butts of Georgia

The Big Sandy Conference and outlying precincts have definitely seen the last of an old thorn in the flesh, one "Set" Branham, basketball-football-baseball flash of Prestonsburg high school. But their "loss" apparently is the Southern Conference's gain.

"Set" left Prestonsburg high school last week after it had definitely been established that from the mix-up in his birth date (or dates) he could not be adjudged eligible for further athletic competition in Kentucky high school football. And immediately the University of Georgia's Coach Wally Butts had the welcoming hand stretched all the way from Athens, Ga., to Prestonsburg, beckoning "Set" into the Bulldogs' kennel.

So Set set forth last Friday for Dixie land, guest of Mr. Butts on a plane trip to see the Kentucky-Georgia game Saturday afternoon.

This week Set is in a military prep school finishing up for college—Georgia, that is—next year.

Incidentally, Earl Ruby reported Tuesday that the people of Pikeville are talking about Set's new gridiron affiliation. He meant Prestonsburg—but he wasn't altogether wrong. Many in Pikeville are interested and happy that Set's gone.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT CLEANS ITSELF!

Your house keeps its freshly painted look when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't become embedded—rains just wash them away!

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful... protects against rust, rot, and decay... gives lasting beauty and protection. Costs no more than ordinary paints—saves repainting bills! Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs, and ask him to use Du Pont House Paint!
