

STORE CLERKS RESUME WORK

"Back To Work, And No Known Change In Wages, Working Hours," Is Said

Store, soda fountain and service station of the Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates (Koppers) which have been strikebound for the last three weeks were reopened Wednesday morning, and the labor trouble there was reported at end.

"The pickets simply went back to work, and there was no known change in wages, hours or working conditions," a report from Weeksville said.

The store reopened, Monday morning, but a rush of business quickly depleted its stock so that it remained closed Tuesday while its inventory was being replenished.

About 15 workers were idled by the strike in which recognition of a United Construction Workers local was reportedly sought.

COOK TO GO TO PIKEVILLE

Principal Here Gets 11-Month Work Offer From Pikeville High

John M. York, superintendent of Pikeville schools, announced Friday the employment of Leon Cook, principal of Prestonsburg high school, to succeed Arthur H. Long as principal of Pikeville high.

At the same time Mr. Cook was named to the Pikeville post, York announced that Clayton Powers, assistant coach at Frankfort high school, had been hired as coach of the Pikeville high school football team to succeed Andy Lorentzon.

Mr. Cook had not signed the Pikeville contract, early this week, but the offer of summer employment there is expected to tip the scales in favor of Pikeville.

"Due to the fact that the County Board of Education would not offer me summer work such as other principals are given in Floyd county, I feel that I cannot afford to refuse a place where such employment is offered me," Mr. Cook said here Tuesday.

Principal of the high school here only since beginning of the current term, Mr. Cook was for 10 years superintendent of the Burkesville (Ky.) schools. He is a graduate of Western State College, Bowling Green, from which he received the M. A. degree in administrative supervision.

Chalmers H. Frazier, superintendent Prestonsburg schools, who described Cook as "an excellent man and school administrator," said the City Board of Education had, in an

RED CROSS FUNDS MOUNT

Extra Effort Is Needed To Reach Quota; Halfway Mark Passed With $4,500

A bit of extra effort and Floyd county may attain its Red Cross quota of $7,000, it was said here this week by Miss Ella Noel White, executive secretary of Floyd Chapter, as the rolloff fund had reached a total of $4,500.

The total as it now stands has been reached without any reports from mining communities which always are liberal contributors, it was pointed out. There is a possibility that Floyd county may become the first Eastern Kentucky county to meet its full quota.

Because the goal has not been reached, duration of the drive has been extended, and it is imperative that all workers get their reports in at once, Alvin Reed, Red Cross fund chairman, said this week. Those not already solicited are asked to mail their contributions to Floyd County Chapter, American Red Cross, Prestonsburg.

The teacher's group under the chairmanship of Palmer L. Hall, County Superintendent of Schools, reported $247 collected in the current drive, and Mrs. William E. Stinnette, chairman at Martin, reported $101.85. The drive there was sponsored by the Allen-Martin Woman's Club.

Former Floyd Miner, Serving Life Sentence, To Get Re-Trial In May

Floyd Adams, 53, of Aloon in Greenup county and recently a Floyd county miner, who has been under conviction in the fatal shooting of Millard Wampler, tenant farmer, will get a re-trial during the May term of Greenup circuit court which begins here next week.

Adams was recently returned to Greenup from the LaGrange reformatory where he was serving a life sentence handed him last September by a Greenup circuit court jury.

THURSDAY

NEXT WEEK'S MUSIC EVENT MAY BE BEST

Bnds, Singers, Floats, Scrool Beauty Queens To Feature Festival

Reigning beauties of Floyd county's nine high schools have already been selected, the musicians of those schools are rehearsed and will rehearse some more, the colorful floats have been planned and are a-building—and the symphony of music, color and beauty thus arranged is expected to result, at the close of next week, in the greatest Floyd County Music Festival ever.

This Jesse Elliott, Floyd county band instructor, predicted this week for the festival, the fourth such annual event since the war, after he had observed greater interest than ever before among the several schools and had found that the three-day program would provide more than 100 events.

The Music Festival, which really came into its own last year and became a permanent event in Floyd county school life, is planned and carried out by Mr. Elliott and the music instructors in the various schools, with the cooperation of county and city school authorities.

Last year, a crowd of an estimated 5,000 persons gathered here for the last day of the festival, and this year the galaxy of instrumentalists and vocalists, school floats and beauty queens is expected to attract an even greater gathering.

The festival, in fact, will be a three-day event this year, beginning with rehearsals on Thursday, May 4. Not until the following day, however, will the festival swing into full action. Then all vocal and instrumental solo events will be held at Martin, in the school and

PIKE BALLOTS UNDER ATTACK

Suit Is Filed Monday Seeking To Void March Vote In Local Option

Pikeville, Ky., April 24—A taxpayer's suit to invalidate results of a local option election in which Pikeville voted for liquor last March was filed today in Pike circuit court.

The petition names Chairman Roy Conway and members J. Ervin Sanders and Frank Scott of the County Board of Election Commissioners and Pike county.

It charges that 11 ballots by which wet forces won the election were cast:

1. By persons voting openly before election officers.
2. By persons who did not reside in the precinct in which they voted.
3. By persons not qualified to vote.
4. By persons who accepted money or "other valuable considerations" for their vote.

The petition, filed by A. B. Parson, John Ford and William Rowe, Sr., further alleges that in one precinct 75 persons voted with no attempt at secrecy or in violation of various election laws.

The local option election was held March 23 by direction of County Judge Ervin S. Pruitt after it was

Wheelwright Man Describes Haulage to Mining Congress

(Special to The Times) Cincinnati, O., April 25—George F. Leatherman, superintendent of the power and mechanical department, Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, Ky., described to the American Mining Congress coal convention today the modern underground haulage system used to transport coal from the mines to a newly constructed preparation plant at Price, Ky.

Leatherman said that the company, about three years ago, increased its holdings by about 10,000 acres of coal land adjacent to the Wheelwright mines. To operate in this new territory efficiently, he said it was decided to build a new modern coal preparation plant at a point which would be center to all of the present and future mine workings. The site selected is at Price, Ky., and to reach this location it was necessary to construct a 4½-mile haulage tunnel through the property.

He told the mining audience that the company decided to use rail transportation since it was believed to be best suited to conditions. Accordingly, a modern installation was made, using 80-pound rail laid on creosoted ties.

P'burg Spelling Titlist

Josephine Tackett, Prestonsburg grade spelling champion, will compete Saturday at Huntington, W. Va., with spelling titlists from other Tri-State schools in the regional bee sponsored by The Huntington Herald-Dispatch. The winner at Huntington will go to Washington, D. C., for the national finals. Last year Prestonsburg's Nancy Spurlock missed the regional championship by the proverbial eyelash.

Quonda Martin, of Maytown, will represent the county school system in the regional contest.

CONTRACT LET ON DAVID ROAD

Bids Asked On Another Road; Change of Survey Asked On Steele's Creek

A contract on one Floyd county road was awarded this week and bids were asked on construction of another.

The State Highway Department awarded contract for bituminous surfacing of 3.55 miles of the Prestonsburg-David road to the Kentucky Road Oiling Company, Frankfort, on its bid of $32,101.

Advertised this week for bids which will be opened May 12 were 3.064 miles of the Northern-David road, beginning at Ky. 404, near David and extending up the left fork of Middle Creek. Grade, drain and traffic-bound surface comprise the work to be done.

The sector of the Northern-David route on which bids are asked would extend no farther, it was said here, than the vicinity of Pyramid post-office, but the Highway Department has promised that remainder of the route will be let to contract later this season. When completed, the road will provide a short cut from the upper Right Beaver Creek section to David and on to the Prestonsburg-Salyersville road. It would also give quick access to the Beaver Creek section to the new Breathitt county coal operations, if the road from David to Magoffin county were built.

Rights-of-way on the Middle Creek end of the Northern-David road remain to be acquired from Henry C. Hale and Ark Castle, but this is not expected to interfere with the letting of the work to contract. County Judge Henry Stumbo said Wednesday. Rights-of-way on the Brush Creek end are yet to be procured from Oak Cooley, the Richmond heirs and the Hicks heirs.

The work let to contract on the

Buses Traverse 32,000 Miles A Month Over Mountain Roads To Set 2-Year Safety Record

Traversing 32,000 miles of winding mountain highways a month, without a "chargeable" accident in two years, drivers of the Sparks Brothers Bus Company here have established a safety record hailed as one of the best in the United States, Fred G. Dickerson, the firm's local manager, said recently when six drivers were presented Safety Award pins representing an aggregate of 42 years' driving without mishap.

When four others receive similar awards in September, the company will have put together a total of 65 driver years of operation without accident which is chargeable to its drivers.

The record thus established has been made while as high as 16 drivers were operating the company's buses. At this time it has 10.

Chester Sparks is the dean of the "Safety club" with 15 years of bus-driving without accident, and Bill Allen is close behind with 13.

Veterans Set Date For Officer Election

A special meeting of the "40 & 8" will be held at the courthouse Friday, May 3, to elect officers for the second year of the veterans' group operation in this county, it was announced following a dinner meeting of members last Wednesday at Conley's Cafe on Abbott mountain.

The "40 & 8" is the social branch of the American Legion and dates back to World War I. To be eligible for membership, a veteran must have held membership in the American Legion two years.

Attending the dinner meeting last week were Merida DeCoursey, John Pezzarossi, W. R. Callahan, Jr., Tom James, L. B. Moore, Stacey Salisbury, James Carter, Burnis Martin and C. R. Graves.

MURDER TRIAL BEGINS TODAY

McIntyre, Martin Face Charges In Hall Slaying; Mullet Case Is Re-Set

Last of the murder cases docketed for the April circuit court term is scheduled to begin today (Thursday) with the trial of G. V. McIntyre and Luther Martin in the slaying at Harold, Christmas Day, of Frank Hall.

When the case of Brown Mullet, charged with the murder of Fred Ray at Weeksville, was called Friday, he failed to answer for trial and Judge Edward P. Hill directed that his $15,000 bond be forfeited. He later was arrested and jailed here. His trial was re-docketed for May 10.

The court term continued to move slowly, with continuances numerous. Two men were given pen terms during the week, however. Troy King was convicted of forgery, last Thursday, and given a five-year sentence, and Trent Woods' guilty plea to a charge of breaking and entering drew a one-year term.

Probation of two men hitherto convicted of child desertion and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary was revoked. The two, Clyde Jarrell and Willie Waddle, will be taken to LaGrange.

For shooting into a store building, Billie Joe Hall was fined $75 and given a 30-day jail term, Friday. Ike Case was convicted on charges of liquor possession and selling. His separate sentences were $20 and 30 days and $100 and 30 days. He was released on appeal bond but Judge Hill demanded he execute $1,000 peace bond. Annie Adams was fined $50 and given a 30-day jail term on conviction of selling liquor.

The May term of court, which will be a mixture of civil and criminal cases, begins Monday.

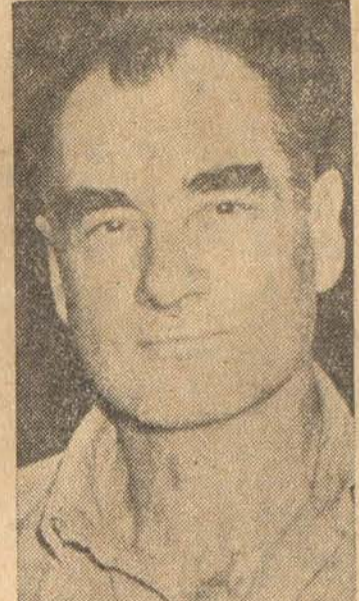

Wheelwright Man Says He May Be Heir Sought Thru Recent News-Story

Earl Hill, of Wheelwright, said Tuesday he may be the man in The Times' March 27 news-story in which a Chicago lawyer sought whereabouts of an Earl E. Hill as the "missing heir" to a $4,000 estate.

The man whose whereabouts are sought by the Chicagoan was described as being between 50 and 55 years old. The Wheelwright man said he is "about 61."

Hill said here that Ed Hill, his uncle, who had in other heirs, died at Sidney, N. Y., some time ago.

Allen and Others Raid Ashland Cafe; Find 136 Half-Pints, Slot Machine

A raid by Sheriff Cornelius Queen, of Boyd county, G. R. Allen, Prestonsburg, State Board of Alcoholic Control investigator, and others last Friday evening resulted in the arrest of W. B. Keeton, operator of the White House Restaurant, Ashland, and the confiscation of 136 half-pints of whiskey and a slot machine.

Keeton's hearing in the Boyd county court has been set for May 2. He is accused of liquor possession for the purpose of sale in dry territory.

Whiskey Found in House, Man Tried and Sentenced on the Spot

Floyd officers headed by Sheriff A. B. Meade had trouble locating whiskey during a raid on four places at Garrett last Thursday, but when it was found there was no delay in getting a conviction.

Magistrate M. C. Wright accompanied the officers to Garrett, and when they found seven half-pints and 31 "empties" in a building occupied by Manley Taylor, the magistrate forthwith set up court on the premises and gave Taylor trial. As a result Taylor is in jail now serving a 30-day term. He was fined $50.

At Martin several persons were trapped inside a service station at the upper limits of the town, but while officers sought entrance whiskey was emptied out a rear window. And while Deputy Sheriff W. J. Sloan and Deputy Constable Scott

13 LAND SUITS ARE DOCKETED IN U. S. COURT

To Acquire 10,854 Acres Of Land on Johns Creek; Continue Anti-Trast Case

Thirteen condemnation suits involving 10,854 acres of land, the acquisition of which is necessary for completion of the Johns Creek reservoir project, are on the docket of the U. S. district court which convened at Pikeville, Monday.

Although the Appropriations committee of the House of Representatives recently refused an additional appropriation the U. S. Corps of Engineers asked to complete the Floyd county flood control project, it is believed trial of these suits will proceed.

Unless the appropriation is made, the reservoir cannot be operated to capacity and cannot serve the full purpose for which it was planned, engineers say.

Largest of the suits on the federal docket is the $180,000 anti-trust action filed by Kenneth, Cecil and Buell Williams, operators of the Royal Theatre at Paintsville, against film companies and W. T. Cain, operator of the Sipp Theatre at Paintsville.

Hearing of the case was continued till the September term.

Film companies named defendants in the suit, which was prepared by J. D. Harkins, Sr., Prestonsburg attorney, are Universal Film Exchanges, Inc., United Artists, Warner Brothers, Paramount Pictures, 20th Century-Fox, Loew's and RKO.

The petition alleges that Cain has been given a "virtual monopoly" on first-run films while the plaintiffs have been restricted to the showing

BARTER GROUP GETS ACCLAIM

Near-Filled House Sees Play; Provides Sponsors Profit On Artists Series

The near-capacity house which saw the Barter Theatre's presentation here Monday evening of "The Show-Off" and the enthusiastic response of all who saw the production, caused members of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club, sponsor of the Artists Series here, to plan the continuance of the series through the 1950-51 season.

The Barter Players are certain to be included in the next series, it was said. This group scored heavily last year with "The Pursuit of Happiness," and this week's play drew even greater acclaim.

The 1950-51 Artists Series will offer at least two attractions, and possibly three as heretofore. Monday evening's attraction enabled the Junior Woman's Club to show a small margin of profit on the series concluded by the Barter Theatre's appearance.

Magistrates' Road Supervision Declared Opening Way to Graft

Frankfort, Ky., April 24 — The system by which county magistrates supervise local road work was attacked today as opening the way for graft.

Trimbale County Attorney J. S. Shaver wrote that Trimbale county fiscal court has refused to appoint a county road engineer or supervisor and that the magistrates "seem determined to arrange so their sons and near relatives can work on the roads."

Assistant Attorney General M. B. Holfield replied the county road laws could not be changed by the courts but he declared such action by a Fiscal Court should warn the taxpayers that "fraud and nepotism and waste of tax funds are deliberately intended."

Holfield declared grand juries in such counties should investigate "every transaction of such officials and their employees," and return indictments where corruption is discovered. Holfield declared a 1950 legislative amendment to the county-road laws was responsible for the condition.

In response to a query, Assistant Attorney General J. M. Ferguson said the 1950 amendment did not change a condition that has existed for years. Ferguson, who drew up the amendment, said a 1946 law keeps magistrates from being paid for supervising local road construction and maintenance but did not prevent their serving as road committees without pay.

This was not changed, Ferguson said, adding that the 1950 amendment enabled two or more counties jointly to employ a qualified road engineer, and also added the classification "road supervisor" to that of road engineer. He said the purpose of that was to enable counties to hire practical road men when they could not get men who qualified as road engineers.

Ferguson said those changes were intended to improve the road-work system in counties and added, "we didn't try to revolutionize things" at one time, but to improve conditions gradually.

Shaver said the County Judge wanted a qualified road engineer, but that the magistrates refused to authorize employing one. The County Judge and the magistrates compose the Fiscal Court.

Holfield, in blaming the 1950 amendment for the situation, expressed the view it was skillfully drawn and said he doubted that the General Assembly which passed it, or its sponsor, Representative Silas Jacobs, Brooksville Democrat, realized the effect it would have.

In denouncing the system under which the magistrates can name themselves to supervise road work in their districts even without additional pay, Holfield wrote Shaver: "When a Fiscal Court refuses to employ a qualified road engineer or supervisor and appoints their respective members a committee to supervise road work, they all know that no one of them could or would attempt to pass an examination required of a road supervisor, and then begin to hire their near relatives or political supporters to work on the roads of the county and build their culverts and bridges.

"This act upon their part should constitute a red flag in the face of the circuit judge as well as the taxpayers of the county that fraud and nepotism and waste of tax funds are deliberately intended by said public officials, and grand juries should be instructed to investigate every transaction of such officials and their employees, and when corruption is discovered, they should be indicted for misfeasance and malfeasance in office and upon conviction they should be removed from the offices they have dishonored."

The county judge in counties whose fiscal courts refuse to approve a qualified road engineer or supervisor and insist upon appointing themselves as committees to perform that service, should take a highway examination required of supervisors and if certified as qualified, should offer himself as a committee to perform road supervising duties, and in employing hands to do the work should avoid nepotism and political favoritism absolutely until the Legislature corrects the error committed in enacting Subsection 5 of Section 179.020 into law."

Workmen's Compensation Nil For County Road Workers

A fiscal court cannot place county road workers under the Workmen's Compensation Law, was the opinion expressed in Frankfort a few days ago.

That opinion has been given by T. H. Demunbrun, Brownsville county attorney of Edmonson county, in another ruling by Assistant Attorney General M. B. Holfield.

The law permits the state and municipal corporations, such as utility boards, to put their employees under the Workmen's Compensation Act. But Holfield declared that law cannot be stretched far enough to include county employees.

Demunbrun said Edmonson county plans to hire five or six men to grade some rural roads.

Edmonson fiscal court is not required to take out insurance policies on these workers, but it can elect to do so, Holfield said.

"The purchase of such policies would be very commendable and would grant a high degree of confidence in the employees," he said.

Companies or governmental agencies coming under the Workmen's Compensation Law are required to pay damages to workers injured during their employment and pay benefits to the families of employees killed while working.

Holfield also advised Demunbrun the Edmonson road crew cannot be worked more than 8 hours a day and five days a week. The road laborers must be paid at the rate that prevails for that type of work in Edmonson and surrounding counties, he added.

Alex H. Spradlin, Prestonsburg, acted as toastmaster.

The guest of honor for the evening was Mrs. Clarice Crow, Beaver Dam, Ky., grand matron of the grand chapter of Kentucky. Other distinguished guests were Mrs. Lola Belle Akin, of Paintsville, deputy grand matron, Wm. RESERVE LACK MAY HURT UK

Bryant Tells Athletic Banqueteers; 22 Boys Awarded 1949-50 Letters

"Lack of reserves may hurt the University of Kentucky Wildcats in this fall's football campaign," Paul "Bear" Bryant, Wildcat grid mentor, told assembled athletes, coaches and sports fans here Thursday night at the annual Prestonsburg high school athletic award dinner. "But, even at that, we should come out with a good SEC record."

Bryant discussed each of his team men individually, his prospects among the freshmen and sophomores and the future of the Wildcats as a whole.

He described big Bob Gain as a "player with the most natural ability and easiest to work with that I've ever seen." He had quite a bit of praise for other members of his blue-and-white squad. Speaking highly of Parell, UK quarterback, he was quoted as adding, "Parell will have to keep hustling for we have a youngster coming up by the name of Farley who shows promise of pushing him for his position." Fucci, who alternated some with Parell last year, has been converted to an "d."

Speaking of the woeful lack of reserves, he stated that the weakest spot was a fullback. "Should Leskovar get hurt seriously, I'm afraid we would be up against a problem unless some of the younger fellows show surprising developments in this department."

Following Bryant's address, Prestonsburg coaches "Doc" Ferrell and Gernis Martin presented letters to the school athletes who earned them during the 1949-50 football and basketball season of the school year.

Those receiving letters for football and basketball were Don Willis, Eddie Hill, Jerry Haeger, William Rannels, Clyde LaFerty and Walter Caudill. Those receiving football letters were Doug Hyden, Jack Crawford, Homer Neely, Jimmy Mayo, Sidney Ball, Tom Spradlin, Bill Jim Compton, Kenneth DeRossett, Morris Isbell, Claude Hopson, and Joe Isbell and William G. Spradlin, managers. Those receiving basketball letters were Junior Hunley, Donald Workman, "Blue" Childers and Glen Dixon.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

BY EWING GALLOWAY

On frequent trips across the Ohio to the Evansville stockyards I get a view of about 10 miles of river, and four times out of five I see from one to three tows of one to 20 barges, some of them pushed by steamboats, most of them by diesels. It hasn't been long since the traffic on the Ohio was so light the tolls didn't pay the salaries of the lockmasters, much less meet maintenance costs and pay a dividend on the 50 dams that give the stream a minimum nine-foot stage.

The canalization story, which concerns the future industrial and commercial growth of Kentucky very much, goes back more than a century. In 1914 Zedak Cramer wrote in 'The Navigator':

"A lock-canal around the falls (at Louisville) would be of immense advantage to the Ohio trade. . . There has been some talk of commencement. . . What jarring and clashing interests prevent the undertaking are not easily to be found out. It can scarcely be supposed to be the lack of public spirit in the Kentuckians or their legislature."

How modern "jarring and clashing interests" sounds!

Further along in his article Cramer said: "This is certainly an important national concern, but the people must begin to act first. It must be done by grants of monies from the state, aided by subscriptions from the people."

The Louisville and Portland Canal Company was organized in 1825 and the federal government took a large block of the stock. The canal was finished late in 1830. It was a highly successful utility—so profitable that Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania boatmen complained of the rates for half a century.

The last three decades of the 19th century were railroad building years. Also, the Engineering Corps had a tough struggle to maintain a four-foot minimum stage in the Ohio. I can remember when, in the 1900's, packets had to be steered with the utmost skill to make the trip between Henderson and Evansville. Earlier than that, the whole nation got a case of speed fever, and wanted railroads for both freight and passenger transportation. Every town and city clamored for railroads, and some of them got more than they needed. In some instances there were two railroads where there should have been only one. So steamboating lost out. Boats rotted on the mudbanks of the river—all but a few packets and two or three fancy showboats.

World War 1 started an upward turn in Ohio river shipping. Railroad tracks and rolling stock had run down at the heel during the war. River transportation had gained considerably, and then from 1922 to 1925 it increased from five million to 19 million tons. By 1947 traffic had reached 41,395,798 tons.

Some of the tows today are around 20 barges pushed by powerful diesel-powered boats. Some tows are 1,200 feet long. The near future will see a multi-decked barge 600 feet long, carrying 600 motor cars of average size.

We read in R. E. Banta's exhaustive book, "The Ohio," that the cost of shipping oil by barge from Baton Rouge to Pittsburgh is $6.02 per ton as compared with $12.62 per ton by rail.

That the great Lighthouse of marine transportation may mean much to Kentucky's business future is obvious, of course. It gives us low rates to the South and makes New Orleans our seaport.

Sheriff Can Have Police Radio In Car If County Owns It, Says Ruling

Frankfort, Ky., April 24 (Spl).—A sheriff can install a police radio in the car he drives if the county owns the car, but not otherwise, Assistant Attorney General H. D. Reed, Jr., said last week in giving a ruling to Montgomery County Attorney Henry H. Bramlett, of Mount Sterling.

Bramlett wrote that the city contemplates putting in a two-way radio system for its police cars. He added that if the sheriff was entitled to one, the county might share the cost of the station.

Kentucky statutes limit use of sets operating on police radio frequencies to publicly owned cars, Reed explained.

On the night of Aug. 1, 1949, Wampler was killed by two shots fired through a window as he moved toward the Adams' house.

Adams was arrested, tried and convicted. However, the State Court of Appeals reversed the verdict on the ground that the jury was not given manslaughter as one of the possible verdicts in its instructions.

Grandmother, 86, Who Started Painting Last Autumn, To Exhibit

Among artists whose work is exhibited in the University of Kentucky's current Central Kentucky Art Show is Mrs. J. J. Porter of Winchester, mother of Paul Porter, former O.P.A. chief. Mrs. Porter, now 86, took up painting only last September when a grandson gave her some paints and brushes. Since then she has completed 20 oil paintings, mostly landscapes, one of which was selected by Artist Ralston Thompson of Cincinnati for exhibition in U.K.'s annual Bluegrass painters art show. Mrs. Porter, who has six great-grandchildren, says she took up painting "so my children would have some reason for being proud of me."

gang of rude boys, one smart aleck, a surly inn-keeper—or a shy non-entity like me who can't show friendliness unless somebody meets him three-quarters the distance—can spoil a whole town.

The Dewey reservoir will attract a fair number of visitors this summer; next year, more. What those folks say about us when they leave depends on us.
Let's make it good.

JEST AMONG US
BY JACK WILD

Did you happen to hear me on Radio Station WHAS the other morning? Cary Robertson, Sunday editor of the Courier-Journal, was showing Paul Hughes Jr., Shively Gazette editor, and me through the handsome new C-J color studios and Cissy Gregg's kitchen. On our way out, to give us a look at some other features of the mammoth building that is shared by the Louisville newspapers and WHAS, he opened a door and led us into a large corridor. The only thing was, it wasn't a corridor. It was a WHAS studio where some morning program — "Coffee Call," maybe — was on the air. If you heard a scuffle of feet and a slamming of door smack spang in the middle of the program, that was us, backing out of there fast. So, in a modest way to be sure, I made my radio debut in the Falls City.

This might be a good place to mention another mistake in which I was involved. In a recent Jest Among Us column there appeared this complimentary item: "Two nicely named Kentucky hamlets—Summer Shade and Fountain Run, both in Barren county." I then received a letter from Clarence Martin, editor of the Tompkinsville News, challenging the veracity of my statement. Barren county, indeed, wrote he, Fountain Run, he said, happens to be in Monroe county, and Summer Shade happens to be in Metcalfe county. Shucks, folks, I knew all along they weren't in Barren county. The trouble was, my secretary, for some reason, couldn't read what I wrote and changed counties on me. What I said was that they were both in Warren county.

RAMBLING: One Wednesday not long ago I wrote that if I had a lucky day, Thursday must be it. . . . Next day I received by mail a genuine 14-pound country ham from Fred Buckhard down in Liberty, Casey county. . . . Students and teachers of Spanish enrolling in the University of Kentucky's third summer session in Mexico, June 19-August 12, will have a chance to visit such tourist attractions as Cuernavaca, Popocatepetl, and Ixtacciuatl. . . . And that's saying a good deal, in any language.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH
BY EWING GALLOWAY

At the last big meeting of the Committee for Kentucky, a few days before that truly great organization wound up its job of telling Kentuckians about Kentucky's shortcomings and pointing the way to progress, the best speech, in my opinion, was that of James S. Gatewood, chairman of the Montgomery Recreational Association. It was the story of how a small group of civic leaders got a recreation center whose present layout involves $62,000. I asked Mr. Gatewood to put the story in a letter. The letter is too good to be boiled down to one column. You will get more of it in installments.

"Thank you for your letter of interest in our move here to make this a better community. We are proud of this movement for several reasons, principally because we accomplished our end without receiving any tax money or public funds from county, city, state or Uncle Sam. Our funds have been raised through outright donations or money raising ventures. Usually when no tax money is involved you find an organization similar to a country club with special privileges to a special group; but yet have managed to hold our functions within the light of a democratic, civic endeavor.

"Wholesome recreation is our aim. Three years ago we started stumbling around in the dark and now we have a 7-acre park with bath house, swimming pool and septic tank, city water and electricity on the grounds. Any other community could probably have the same thing in the same way if a small determined group (and I guarantee you it will be small) was willing to serve without pay during the arduous months and years it takes to cram something down the throats of their neighbors that those neighbors want and do not realize it. It can be had if the community can find an organization that is willing to undertake more hard work than it ever dreamed it would have to tackle.

"Of course, the easy way is to simply hold out your hand for public funds, if available, and then buy what you want and open the gates. It is usually associated with a certain measure of local politics, and our board doesn't relish that. From our investigation it appears probably 95 per cent of the communities that have a recreation project of any size usefulness have been subsidized by taxes. We, however, are not held accountable to any governmental body. We are chartered simply as an organization, whose profit, if any, must revert to the furtherance of our aims, without any possibility of being sidetracked into private pockets. We have what we figure to be a money-making business and we intend to expand into year-round program with unlimited facilities for keeping our youth moving in the right direction."

Agriculture Department Asks Aid of Newspapers To Fight Chicks' Disease

In an effort to keep before the public the importance of purchasing chickens of good quality and free of disease, the State Department of Agriculture is again asking the newspapers of Kentucky to carry articles for them regarding this all important matter.

The Kentucky Department of Agriculture urges each would-be buyer of baby chicks to be certain they are buying from a hatcheryman or dealer that has a state permit to do so. This permit is given only to those handling the best quality chicks and to those abiding by the laws governing the sale of baby chicks. One of the outstanding laws is that all chicks sold in the State of Kentucky must be from a pullover tested flock with less than 2 percent reactors.

The citizens of Kentucky are asked to refuse any chicks shipped to them C.O.D. without their first ordering them. To accept them on this condition would in most cases be a risk to the acceptor.
To ship C.O.D. without having an order is against the Postal Regulations and the Department of Agriculture would like to know of those hatcheries shipping under this condition.

Kentucky Schoolchildren Distributing Leaflets To Aid Polio Fight

Kentucky schools are distributing 750,000 leaflets on precautions to take to guard against infantile paralysis. The first shipments went out this week to rural schools from the Kentucky Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"The four-page leaflet is called "A Message About Polio" and was compiled to help allay fear and panic during a possible polio epidemic and to give a comprehensive list of suggestions of what to do if polio strikes in a community.

Declaring that the threat of infantile paralysis is of particular concern as summer approaches, Earl James McGrath, U. S. Commissioner of Education, said of the suggestions:
"The reliable data in the leaflet, the common-sense precautions, the assurance of medical care will bolster morale should epidemics occur. Fear can be as infectious as polio itself and as harmful, unless people are given the guidance and reassurance they need. If the National Foundation's leaflet is given every pupil to take home, I believe there will be far less anxiety and confusion about this disease."

Kentucky Superintendent of Public Instruction, Boswell Hodgkin, asked the state's school superintendents to cooperate in distribution of the leaflet saying: "I hope you can see fit for each child in your school system to receive one of these pamphlets, with instructions to carry it home to his parents."
Howard C. Orr, executive director of the Kentucky Chapter said additional copies of the leaflets would be distributed through various clubs and organizations throughout the state.

Can't Impose Taxi Fees, Says Attorney General

FRANKFORT, KY.—Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman has advised a Morehead attorney that Morehead cannot legally impose license fees on taxicabs.

Herdman cited Kentucky Revised Statutes, Section 281.570 which prohibits cities from imposing license fees and taxes on motor vehicles operating under a contract carrier permit from the state. Taxicabs are licensed by the state.

TWENTY-YEAR TEACHERS' CLUB

On March 31, at a dinner honoring veteran teachers of Floyd county, the teachers formed themselves into a group of people to be known as the "Twenty-Year Teachers Club."
"The purpose of this club is to keep in touch with each other for friendship's sake, if for no other reason; to furnish some social as well as educational life for the teachers in this age group, with the present twenty-year or more teachers becoming charter members, and as the years pass and more teachers fall into this group they will be welcomed and initiated.
"This is not to be a political group, nor is it to be used as a money-making project. Our chief aim will be to work for the welfare of all teachers and Floyd county schools, giving of our help and advice cheerfully and willingly; to visit and cheer our sick members, helping them in any way possible; giving of our services to the various educational meetings, meeting with and taking part in divisional and state meetings, striving at all times for better conditions in our schools, talking with our local, state and national representatives only to acquaint them with our conditions and needs, and by our experience help and advise them to have laws passed which will benefit all school people in general.
Officers and committees were selected to plan and promote this club to become beneficial to the public in general. The motto for this club is, "There is a power that makes us brothers, We cannot live our life alone, For all that you put into the lives of others Comes back into our own."

Operators License Head Warns Against Boys Under Age Operating Motor Bikes

After July 31, it will be illegal for any one under 16 years of age to operate a motor bike on motor scooter in Kentucky. This was pointed out by Paul Boyd, supervisor of Operators License Section, Department of Revenue, in calling attention to changes in Kentucky's motor vehicle operators license laws made by the 1950 session of the Legislature.

The former provision for a special license to operate motor bikes and scooters by those under 16 years of age has been repealed. Those over 16 may obtain a regular operators license, good for operating any motor vehicle.

Another major change in the operators license law was the elimination of the free extension privilege for licenses of military personnel. This was also repealed by the 1950 Legislature when the war emergency was declared ended as far as the Commonwealth of Kentucky is concerned.

Folk Dances and Games In Preparation for Pike College May Festival

(Special to The Times)

An elaborate program of folk dances and games on the theme "Spring Through the Ages" is in preparation for the 1950 May Festival at Pikeville College on Thursday, May 4th, following the coronation of Jane Crawford, of David, as May Queen. President A. A. Page, of the College, announced this week.

Betty Ann Martin, of Garrett, the three other girl attendants to the queen, and the four boys, including Al Snyder of Betsy Layne, who will serve as their escorts, make up the court. They, as well as the queen, and the May Prince, Bill Conley, Van Lear, will view a colorful exhibition in their honor, Dr. Page said.

Two acts from the era of nymphs and fauns and two depicting the influence of spring during the middle ages, featuring old Scotch and Irish dances, will be staged by the four rooms of the College teacher-training school. A quadrille by college students, and various folk dances, drill and games by groups of students of the college and the Academy, ending with two simultaneous Maypole dances, will complete the program.

Two Floyd Students To Sing With Chorus

Toby Wells, of Wayland, and Sam Paul Combs, of Betsy Layne, will sing over radio station WLSI, Pikeville, as members of the Pikeville College Academy mixed chorus, next Sunday afternoon at 2:30, President A. A. Page, of the College, announced this week.

The group of 21 girls and 18 boys, which was rated "Superior" in the recent Pikeville regional music festival, will be featured on the College Concert Hour, a program which is presented every two weeks by WLSI.

The decision was reached by the Secretary, it was said, after considering the perishability of the commodity, its importance to national economy, and the ability of the department to dispose of stocks acquired through price support operation.

TO CLARIFY SCHOOL LAW

Age Limit for Children Entering School Offers Problem, Keller Admits

Frankfort, Ky., April 16—Parents who are eager to know how the new school-age law will affect their children may expect an interpretation before the coming school year.

Assistant Attorney General W. Owen Keller, counsel for the State Board of Education, made the promise to A. N. Anderson, Hopkinsville, latest of many inquirers.

Keller explained that the attorney general's staff was occupied with many other laws which will affect Kentuckians before the opening of the next school term. He said the school-age opinion will be sent by State Superintendent of Public Instruction B. B. Hodgkin to all public-school superintendents in ample time.

As changed by the 1950 General Assembly, the law now limits entrance to the first grade of public schools to children who are at least six years old "by or before September 1 following the opening of the school year."

Some schools open shortly after September 1, and that one thing that has caused inquiries. The old law made the date January 1 following the opening of school.

There was no change in a provision that schools which have mid-term promotions may take in children who become six years of age within 30 days after the opening of the second semester.

Answering other queries about school affairs, Keller told C. C. Smallwood, Maysville, that since the Mason County Board of Education controls Woodleigh junior high school until it becomes a part of the Maysville school system, that the County Board should have employed its teachers by April 1 for the next school year. If that was not done, then the County Board still may do that until next July 1, when the Maysville board takes over, unless the boards made some agreement when shifting the school to the city system.

Mrs. Nell Thomas also was told that although she is postmaster at Bakertown, she still is eligible to be a public-school teacher. State law prohibits an official, but not an employe, holding a post as a federal official. Schoolteachers are classified as employes, not as officials.

He informed Secretary N. O. Kimbler of the State Teachers Retirement System that a 70-year-old retired teacher may be employed as an emergency teacher if the State Education Department approves. Such a teacher, however, would not be entitled to draw his pension while teaching. He could not be employed on a regular basis because of his age.

City Councilman Harold J. Klosterman, Ludlow, was told that a Board of Education may permit a city to use a school stadium for playground or recreational purposes during times when that does not interfere with any school activities. The law, however, requires that the board retain nominal control and that it be assured of no damage to the stadium.

David road will complete its surfacing. Widening of the road also is embraced in the contract.

Other Eastern Kentucky road projects being advertised for letting, May 12, are: Pike county—bridge over Russell Fork on Pikeville-Elkhorn City road, with traffic-bound approaches; 3.5 miles of the Big Creek-Nolan (W. Va.) road from U.S. 119, bituminous surface.

Johnson-Lawrence counties—bituminous surface for the Paintsville-West Liberty road from Flat Gap road to Ky. 469, 3.86 miles; and the Red Bush-Ky. 32 road from Ky. 172 to Martha, 8.4 miles.

Letcher—Tillie-Elisee road from Ky. 15 at Tillie to Hot Spot, 6.9 miles, bituminous surface; Whitesburg-Harlan road from a point .65 miles east of Whitesburg corporate limits 3 miles toward Harlan, bituminous surfacing.

Lawrence—Blaine-Webbville road from 5.1 miles south of Webbville to bridge over Blaine Creek, a distance of 4.5 miles, reconstruction and traffic-bound surfacing.

The fiscal court here adopted at its Tuesday meeting a resolution asking the Highway Department to change its survey of the Sizemore-Steele's Creek road to follow Hammett fork of Steele's Creek instead of the present route. This change, it was pointed out in the resolution, would serve approximately 70 more families. The original survey, the court declared, does not meet the needs of the people residing on Steele's Creek.

Also on the docket are two $25,000 libel suits brought by former Constable W. Talmadge Jones, of Grapevine, against The Courier-Journal and the Ashland Publishing Company.

Jones charges the newspaper companies published "false and libelous statements" regarding the drowning of Junior Smith, 20, some time ago.

The former constable said stories carried in the papers stated that four shots were fired at young Smith when the youth reportedly jumped into the river to avoid arrest on a charge of drunkenness.

The youth's body was found floating in the river some time later. Coroner John George Call was quoted as saying no wounds were found on the body.

Named as defendants in a large personal injury suit growing out of the reported explosion of a barrel of combustible fuel are Charles F. Adams and other trustees of Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates General Department Stores. The suit, seeking $89,000 for injuries and $12,525.10 for hospital and other expenses, was brought by Roger Johnson, 14, suing by his father, Arlin Johnson, and by the father, individually.

The judgment was asked for permanent loss of sight of one eye, severe burns, and the alleged impairing of young Johnson's earning power.

Suing the C. & O. Railway Company are Charlie Newsome, $15,000 for property damage; Jack P. Greer, $4,000 property damage; Don Phipps, $3,984.65 personal injury; Eddie W. Green, and Dollie Tackett, administratrix, $50,000 personal injury and additional burial and funeral expenses for her husband. Another case is that of the Royal Elkhorn Coal Company vs. the C. & O. vs. Douglas Hays.

Allen, Only Church Loop Team Without Use of Community Gym, Is Winner in League Tournament

Allen, the only team in the league which does not have the use of a community gym, came from a season of practicing in the open when possible and, on other occasions, borrowing the use of neighboring Martin's gym, earned the "A" division championship of the Floyd County Methodist Church Basketball League the hard way Saturday night by edging Wayland, 31-30, in the finals of the loop's tourney at Maytown.

Garrett's "B" boys scrapped their way to the championship of their division, preliminary to the "A" tilt, by bumping Wayland.

Wayland's teams handily latched onto the double-honor of being runners-up in both divisions and offered competition worthy of any league right down to the last minute before bowing. Other team honors saw Maytown's church team win the sportsmanship trophy, the second sportsmanship trophy won by a Maytown team within a few months. The high school Wildcats received a similar trophy in the recent district tournament. The sportsmanship trophy in the "B" division was awarded to Porter Addition.

Twenty additional trophies, instead of gold basketballs usually given at tournaments, were awarded to players selected on the all-tournament teams of each division. This unusual award for the individual performance of each honored player made the meet more memorable than the ordinary.

All-tournament selections in the "A" division, as announced by tournament managers, were P. Gray, Burchett, Baldrige, all of Allen; Branham, Long, both of Wayland; Stanley, Porter Addition; W. Caudill, Prestonsburg; D. Peters, Martin; Rowe, Maytown; and Woods, Garrett.

In the first quarter of the finals featuring the "big boys," Wayland got off to a whirlwind start by ending the period ahead of Allen, 16-7. The half found Wayland still in the lead, 21-15. The third quarter saw Allen narrow the deficit but Wayland held on doggedly, 29-26. The tables were turned in the fourth period as Allen tallied five points while holding Wayland to a single point.

Galloway Lafferty, Allen team manager and coach, reported that Webb, who didn't start the game, came into the tilt and arose to last-minute glory as he made a tip-shot with but 15 seconds of the game to go which accounted for the winning point. It was, incidentally, his only score of the game.

W'WRIGHT NINE EXPERIMENTS SHOW MOTORS NOT HARMFUL TO FISHING

TO TANGLE SUNDAY IN RETURN GAME

Elkhorn League 1949 pennant-winning Wheelwright bettered the league's '49 playoff champ, Drift, by a one run margin, 9-8, in a pre-season exhibition tilt at Wheelwright Sunday.

Offering a preview of what to expect in the Elkhorn league during the coming season, the tilt was packed with suspense and climaxed with a close finish.

Four innings saw Wheelwright get one hit in the first, one hit and one run in the second, four hits and two runs in the third, and one hit and one run in the fourth to lead Drift 4 to 0. Drift had collected one hit for each frame.

In the top half of the fifth, Drift's timber exploded for two home runs which that accounted for four runs which tied the score. Vance homered with two on and Kidd racked up the other round-tripper.

Wheelwright connected with two hits and crossed home plate once to again take the lead, 5-4, in their part of the fifth. Drift went to bat in the upper frame of the sixth and knotted the count for the second time at 5-all with one hit and one run. Wheelwright blanked in both departments in their sixth inning follow-up.

Both teams, in the seventh, registered a hit each but did no payoff chores. Wheelwright operated on the game record books in the eighth for three hits and two runs to go ahead, 7-5, while Drift's eighth inning work consisted of one hit and no tallies.

Not to be outdone, Drift got busy with one of its customary ninth-inning rallies. Drift bats sounded off for four hits and three runs scampered in home as the visiting nine took the lead, 8-7. Wheelwright retaliated with a ninth-inning stint of four hits and two runs in the bottom half and wrapped up their victory package, 9-8, for the first 1950 meeting of the Elkhorn well-timbered teams.

Victory was written as Johnson came home on Riley's single. The other Wheelwright run of the last frame was a four-bagger by Williams.

A return exhibition tilt between the two will find Drift attempting to even up matters at Drift Sunday. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Fishermen and conservationists who have claimed that outboard motors harm fish life and spoil fishing success were proved to be in error through scientific experiments, according to Carl Horn, of the Home Furniture Company.

Conducted under the auspices of the Outboard Boating Club of America, scientists at the University of Michigan gathered information and data which now comprise the first extensive statistical evidence ever tabulated in the hot controversy which has raged for years between anglers and conservationists. These are some of the complaints that were leveled at outboard motors, according to Mr. Horn: Basically, it was charged that the action of outboards retard fish production, keep fish from nesting, cause death of newly hatched fry, prevent insect life from propagating, and cause so much disturbance generally as to spoil angling success.

In setting up experiments to determine whether these charges were founded or not, Mr. Horn said the experimenters used six ponds at Wolf Lake Hatchery near Kalamazoo, Michigan, as their laboratory. Comparisons were made between conditions in ponds where outboards were operated and ponds in which outboards were not operated. Each pond contained a known number of fish.

The first experiment was made to determine the possibility of motorboat effects on the production of bluegills (a representative pan fish of North America). Two closely similar ponds were selected, drained for removal of their present stock and were then stocked with known numbers of bluegill breeders at the rate of 50 per acre.

One pond was set aside as the control pond; the other as the motor pond. The control pond was never subjected to motor use, while the motor pond was established for intensive motor operation daily throughout the experiments. Slight differences in the natural soils, the size of the ponds, the amount of aquatic vegetation were taken into consideration when final results were tabulated. Upon draining the ponds at the end of the experimentation period it was found that the comparison between the numbers of young bluegill recovered from each of the ponds indicated that motor use had no significant effect on production. Largemouth bass were chosen as

IT'S NESTING TIME FOR BOTH QUAIL, BASS BUT WEATHER HAS SET SCHEDULE BACK

Frankfort, Ky., April 25 (Spl.)—"What comes first, the chicken or the egg?" is not the top question around the Kentucky Game farm these days so much as the plain pertinent query of "When does the first egg arrive?"

Usually at this time of year, the quail are laying fluently at the Game Farm but, so far this year, the anticipated "egg number one" has not been received, the Kentucky Division of Game and Fish says. Reproduction among the brood bass has likewise "hit a snag." And, for what reason?—this can truly be blamed on the weather.

The bass and quail stock for redistribution in Kentucky fields and ponds has been delayed, like everything else, by the lateness of spring weather, the Division announced today. This announcement was made to inform those who are to receive the chicks and fry to be patient and stand by for deliveries.

The more than 2,000 pairs of quail have been penned for some time and a little more warm weather should bring on the eggs. The first eggs are expected this week, the Division claims, and since it takes about 22 or 23 days for the eggs to hatch, no young quail are anticipated until well after the middle of May. Each incubator holds 5,000 eggs, and once the production line is in operation, the hatch of young quail is expected to be fast. Clubs which are to receive these chicks will be notified in ample time of the deliveries.

The deliveries will begin in Eastern Kentucky and continue westward.

The brood bass in hatcheries at Glasgow and Williamsburg have been slowed down also by cool weather. Already, the Fisheries Department says, some bass nests have been lost, but so far none of the bass have spawned. A few warm days, the Division states, prompts the mother bass to make her nest, but then, with the return of cold weather, she abandons it. The bass are ready to spawn as soon as the water gets warm enough, which may be expected in the next few days.

BAIT CASTING CONTESTS ON IN 9 SCHOOLS

Winners To Be Awarded Prizes By Floyd Fish And Game Group

BULLETIN

Schoolboy winners of the annual Floyd county high school bait-casting contest, as named by Bernard Baldrige late yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon, and their winning marks are:

Auxier, Billy Cornette, 92; Prestonsburg, David Allen, 90; Wayland, a Pul Long, 86; Garrett, Cletis Hall, 73; Maytown, Buddy Hyden, 70; McDowell, Nick Cooley, 61; Betsy Layne, Leonard Akers, 57. Martin will hold its contest today. Wheelwright does not participate.

Johnny Cook, son of Prestonsburg Principal Leon Cook and Mrs. Cook, was acknowledged the representative of his school in the "Junior," or all 13 years old and under, division. Other winners named are in the "Senior," or over 13 years, group.

Stances, swinging arms, twists of the wrists, judgment of distances and keenness of eyes are keyed to competitive pitches this week among the entrants from nine county high schools with the annual Floyd county high school bait casting contests under way.

The individual school champions will be decided this week according to the schedule of events released by Bernard Baldrige, Floyd County Conservation Officer who is in charge of the contests.

The schedule, timed for April 24, 25, 26 and 27, found Maytown and McDowell picking their champs Monday; Betsy Layne and Garrett, Tuesday; Auxier, Prestonsburg and Wayland, Wednesday; and Martin, Thursday (today).

Each school winner will receive a Shakespeare "Classic" reel. All school winners, Baldrige said, will gather at the Beaver Valley Golf Club course on a later date to decide the county champion. The Floyd county champ will be awarded a Shakespeare glass rod.

All prizes are being furnished by the Floyd County Fish and Game Club, Baldrige explained.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTLING

In my creel there are more articles than in a woman's handbag. They all have a practical purpose, though, and still leave me a little room in case I should catch a fish.

Here's what mine contains, in addition to whatever reels, lines, lures and leaders I am using on a particular trip: A very lightweight raincoat which is about as large as two folded handkerchiefs, a pair of long-nosed pliers with wire-cutting devices, a bit of ferrule cement, a tiny screwdriver, a bit of cellulose tape, a quite small first-aid kit, a piece of cloth about two feet square, line dressing if fly fishing, some extra matches, a small piece of soap, spare hooks and a split shot, a coil of line, a hone.

Most of these are safeguards against the occasional mischance that can ruin a fishing trip; the rest are practical aids for a day afield.

The minute weight of the raincoat is little price to pay for its comfort when a storm breaks, and it's also a good thing to slip into if the day suddenly turns cold. The pliers make a good disgorger, cut wire for leaders when ocean fishing, or the shanks and barbs off hooks when necessary.

Ferrules and tip guides are apt to work loose at the most inappropriate moments, hence the ferrule cement (and the extra matches to heat it). The screwdriver keeps screws tight in the reels and saves the sharp blade of my pocket-knife. The cellulose tape comes in handy for temporary rod repairs and other uses.

The square piece of old cloth has several functions. Dampened, it can be used to wrap fish for carrying in the creel. It's useful for wiping the hands after handling messy bait. It makes an improvised net for catching hellgrammites. The piece of soap, rubbed over leaders that insist on floating when they shouldn't, sinks them—and sometimes it is nice to wash with.

With the extra hooks, line, sinkers in the form of split shot, and the other items mentioned, I can rig up a fishing outfit just in case I should break my rod, or lose my reel and line.

The hone is important. No matter whether you are fishing with bait, artificial flies, plugs, spoons or salt-water equipment, you catch more fish with sharp hooks.

Threat of Grain Shortage Seen Imminent This Year

Farmers are being warned of the imminent danger of a grain shortage this year.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, 10 per cent less tonnage of feed grain is expected this year. With more livestock on farms, and with less favorable weather conditions, such dry areas in the west and southwest at present which may continue to spread, a shortage could easily develop. Seldom has there been more than seven successive years without extensive drought, it was said.

PRESTONSBURG SELECTED SITE FOR TOURNEY

Nine Eastern Kentucky Schools Okehed To Enter Meet Here, May 17-18

Prestonsburg high school has been selected as host to the Kentucky High School Athletic Association district baseball tournament here May 17-18. K.H.S.A.A. Commissioner Ted Sanford informed Leon Cook, school principal, this week.

Selecting Prestonsburg for the second consecutive year, Sanford certified nine schools for district participation. Of those named, it was stated here that Garrett, Martin, Prestonsburg, Wayland, Inez and Meade Memorial have baseball teams afield. The remaining three, Betsy Layne, Auxier and Paintsville, have made no declaration here of having a baseball team in existence.

In order to qualify for participation in the tourney eliminations, under K.H.S.A.A. rulings, a team must engage in inter-school contests as a season's minimum schedule.

The Prestonsburg principal said that he was in the process of contacting the certified schools for verification of teams, eligibilities and intentions of participation in the district meet here. As soon as the replies are received, he said, he will set a date for the tournament drawings and completion of detailed arrangements with representatives of participating schools.

Along with his notification of the district meet site and dates, Sanford also named Grayson as a repeat site for the regional baseball meet there, May 25-26. Winners of the eastern Kentucky district will vie at Grayson for the regional title and the right to advance to the state tourney to be held in Louisville at a later date.

Five Louisa Bulldogs To Enroll at Marshall; Salvatto Is New Coach

Louisa, Ky., April 25 (Spl.)—Five of Louisa high school's Bulldogs, graduating this year, have decided to enroll at Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va., it was announced here this week. They were named as Junior Mellon, right halfback, Jimmie Thacker, left halfback, Jack Curry, end, Bill Fugate, tackle, and George Tackett, tackle. Tom Fletcher, another Bulldog tackle, is expected to enroll at the University of Kentucky.

It was also announced that Tony Salvatto, who was assistant to Jim Caudill, has been named by the board of education at Louisa to succeed Caudill. Caudill goes to Hazard in May to assume his recently acquired coaching duties there.

Wheelwright Women Elect '50-51 Officers At Regular Meeting

Wheelwright, on the regular April meeting which was held in the Woman's club room, nominated and elected its 1950-51 officers.

After the meeting was called to order and the club collect read, club president Mrs. Waldo B. Cummings asked for committee reports. Mrs. E. E. Conley, chairman of the nominating committee stated that she and her co-workers selected the following members for officers for the coming year.

President, Mrs. George Leatherman; vice-president Mrs. Waldo B. Cummings; treasurer, Mrs. G. D. Hall; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. T. Parker; recording secretary, Miss June Staker.

The club appointed and elected these members unanimously. At our annual May banquet they will be installed by our new district governor, Mrs. Carlton Wrightson, of Wayland.

Again, as in the past, the club donated $15.00 to the American Red Cross. Mrs. Clark urged the members to make personal contributions to the Floyd county chapter. The club also showed its generosity in contributions when the members gladly approved a motion to send $20.00 to each, the Pnc Mountain and Caney schools.

A new member, Mrs. Ralph Banks, was welcomed into our group. This makes our total membership 43. April marked another enjoyable evening for us when the Lackey-Garrett club answered our dinner invitation, Twenty Lackey-Garrett and twenty-six Wheelwright members gathered at the Wheelwright Club House dining room, and everyone enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner. For entertainment, Mrs. P. E. Conley portrayed scenes from the play "Madness."

After this happy time, there was still more fun to be had at the Wheelwright Community Hall where a square dance was in full swing. Members that attended this gala affair had quite an enjoyable evening.

JURYMEN RAP INSTITUTIONS

Name Greendale, Eastern; Ask Judges, Others To Be Careful of Commitments

Lexington, Ky., April 22 — The Fayette grand jury this week charged that inmates were being sent to both Eastern and State Hospital and the Kentucky Houses of Reform by relatives to evade supporting them.

The jury also was critical of operation of the Duncan Park Children's Home and the county infirmary.

"Judges or others who handle commitments should be very careful to see that the people who are committed are not committed through the desire of children or parents to evade supporting their parents or children," the jury reported.

The county infirmary was described by the jury as a fire hazard, more facilities were listed as needed at Eastern, evidences of sexual perversion were noted among inmates of Greendale and "deplorable conditions" were reported at Duncan Park.

Repairs are needed badly at the children's home, the jury stated.

At Greendale, the jury said, there is no segregation of first offenders from youths who are habitual delinquents. The jury reported that "boys who had committed no offense at all but were born feeble-minded and unable to care for themselves were committed to the houses of reform."

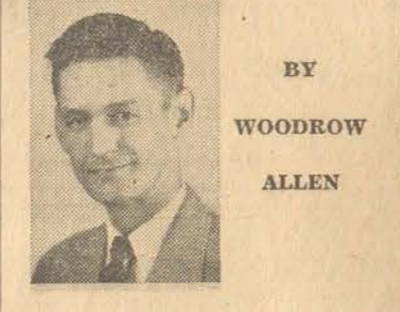

One case of a feeble-minded boy who was committed from Pike county was cited by the jury which said he had been exploited by sex perverts and now is kept in the infirmary under the influence of narcotics because of the lack of adequate medical care and lack of facilities.

The jury said it found "that no evil exists at Eastern State Hospital which adequate appropriations of money would not correct."

The grand jury said a study should be made of the state laws governing commitment of persons to the various institutions. The evils existing are brought about largely by present commitment laws now in effect, it stated.

Nearly 32,000,000 persons visited U. S. national parks in the 1949 travel year.

Do you sleep well at night? I am not selling medicine for insomnia, but, seriously, are you occasionally, or frequently, disturbed at the thought of dying and leaving your family an income insufficient for their needs?

O course, complete peace of mind cannot be bought. But a small, regular deposit into a well planned family life insurance program will relieve you of a great many of your worries.

May I discuss this with you soon?

At this time, the songs "Christ Arose," "Were you there when they Crucified my Lord" and "Have Thine Own Way" were discussed by the entire group. Recordings of the following songs were played: "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "The Lost Chord," "The Rosary" and "Beyond the Sunset." The program was concluded by the playing of the recording of "The Lord's Prayer."

A delicious dessert plate was served the following: Mesdames T. J. Chandler, C. J. Williams, Alex Davis, W. P. Howell, Edward Lykins, R. L. Anderson, Arthur Van Kammen, Glenn Blackburn, Miss Alice Williams and the hostess, Mrs. Dickerson and Mrs. Hardwick.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday night May 18, 1950 at the home of Mrs. A. K. Robinette, with Mrs. Glenn Blackburn program leader.

NOTE TO TEACHER APPLICANTS:

State regulations in regard to the issuance or renewal of Emergency certificates for the 1950-51 school year provide:

1) that "New emergency certificates shall be issued only to persons who have slight deficiencies in qualifying for regular certificates."

2) Reinstatement of emergency certificates shall be considered on the basis of "Successful experience, total training, and a minimum of six semester hours of additional college work in courses, related to the position, earned in the spring or summer of 1950 in residence, or in study center or in workshops." (Correspondence not included)

All teachers who taught the current school year on an emergency certificate and are applicants for the coming year must plan to meet the requirement of six additional college hours.

It should be noted that where an emergency certificate was issued during the current year on less than was required because of special emergency situations or for substitution, these certificates are not renewable for six additional hours. For example, where a new emergency certificate was issued this year on less than the required 32 semester hours of college work that certificate is not renewable on six additional college hours.

It should be further noted that the use of any emergency certificate teachers depends upon a shortage of teachers with regular certificates. If you are in doubt about your situation, don't fail to inquire.

NEWSPAPERS ARE '49 TOP ADVERTISING

Figures Released Based On Survey of Publishers And Radio Trade Paper

New York, April 26—Newspapers regained in 1949, for the first time since 1941, their dollar leadership as a national advertising medium, the A.N.P.A., bureau of advertising, after a far-reaching survey, announced here.

National advertisers' dollar investment in newspaper space last year climbed to $445,015,000, setting a record high for the fourth successive year.

This gave the newspapers top spot over the magazines which have been the ranking national advertising medium since 1942.

Magazine expenditures by national advertisers were placed at $440,795,042, and radio and television combined at $376,400,329.

Radio, Television Short
Radio and television combined fell short of newspaper advertising by an estimated $67,414,671.

The figures were reported by A.N.P.A., as measured by publishers' information bureau and by the trade paper, Broadcasting.

Harold S. Barnes, director of the bureau, said the newspapers' latest gains were accepted as a challenge "to work still more closely with advertisers to help them make their newspaper-advertising a still more profitable investment."

Lending expenditures for 1949 by industry classifications on a national basis, as reported by A.N.P.A., were: grocery, $112,465,000; automotive, $85,856,000; alcoholic beverages, $42,375,000; toilet requisites, $30,549,000; transportation, $20,048,000, and tobacco, $19,970,000.

Chandler Harper posted one of the most erratic rounds in golf history in the 1948 PGA when he shot a 41-29-70.

The Brooklyn Dodgers have not visited the cellar since 1905. Every other major league team has finished last since then.

David Woman's Club Ponders U. N. Question

The David Woman's Club met Wednesday night, last week, at the home of Mrs. Betty Fielder to discuss this month's U. N. question, which was, "How the U. N. Can Enforce the Human Rights Treaty."

The Rev. Father Nerbonne, of Martin, gave an enlightening talk before a large number of members, and a full discussion of the question followed. Each member was asked to vote as individuals and not as members of the club.

The question for discussion at the May meeting will be announced well ahead of the meeting date, so that members may be prepared for the discussion, it was said.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Fielder and Mrs. William Crawford.

Doug Dodson is the only rider to sweep Hialeah's three big stakes—the McLenahan, Widener and Flamingo—in one season; he did it in 1948.

Smallest and lightest member of the Pittsburgh Pirates is pitcher Vic Lombardi. He stands five feet, seven inches and weighs 155 pounds.

No PGA final match ever has gone beyond two extra holes before a winner was found.

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were

REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1943, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT

Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation..."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.
