

Mysterious Fire Leaves
Large Family Homeless;
Furnishings Total Loss

Flames of undetermined origin at 3 o'clock this morning (Thursday) destroyed the home of John "Red" Burchett at Woods on Cow Creek near Emma and left the large family homeless.

The fire was discovered with barely enough time for members of the family to escape with their lives. The three-room house, owned by Tom Hunter, and all of the Burchett household possessions are a total loss, it was reported.

The loss, difficult to estimate in dollars and cents, took on a tragic aspect with the report that both parents are unable to work and the family is dependent to a large extent upon public assistance.

Mrs. Burchett, here today soliciting aid among friends and relatives, said the cause of the flames was a mystery inasmuch as the house has no electricity and there had been no fires burning in grates or stoves. She voiced no indication of arson.

To this figure was added $23,800 allowed three landowners who settled with the government without trial.

Jury verdicts follow:
Ballard Lowe, 458 acres surface and improvements, $16,000; Win Wells, 77 acres surface and improvements, $6,900; Romie Crider, 13 acres, surface, improvements and mineral, $11,500; Willie Hall, et al, 200 acres, including mineral, $29,500.

Cases settled out of court and amounts allowed:
Russell Wells, administrator, 24 acres, $3,000; John and Millie Wells, two tracts, $12,000; Elsie Burchett, 46.66 acres, $8,800.

At least one of the defendants, Ballard Lowe, was reported to have filed motion and grounds for an appeal.

Several other Floyd condemnation cases yet remain to go into court, it was said, but these are within a mile or two of the Floyd-Pike county line.

Deed to five blocks of Bridge street extending from Second avenue to Railroad avenue in West Prestonsburg and out to the city limits in West Prestonsburg was granted by the City Council at its Monday night meeting to the state in return for state maintenance of the thoroughfare.

Blacktop surfacing of the street was promised, and the same improvements by the state were pledged for Third avenue and one block of Eighth street from Harvey Patton's place to Second avenue, then two blocks up Second to Dingus street.

The city reserved the right to police the streets affected by the agreement.

The Council also extended the city garbage collection service to include recently annexed areas and ordered 20 of the new lights to be installed in these sections of Prestonsburg.

A new police cruiser has been ordered, with the old police car traded in, Mayor Curtis Clark said.

To Arm Country

Armor-led North Koreans, launching their first major attack south of the Kum river, met stubborn opposition today (Thursday) from the American forces as the western front suddenly became aflame after a three-day lull.

This was the first tank attack the Communists had been able to mount since they forced across the Kum Sunday night. The river defense line was temporarily overwhelmed and thrust back to new positions near Taejon.

The American defenders of Taejon, using 3.5 rockets for the first time, knocked out all seven of the Reds' spearheading tanks. Allied aircraft had shot up the few tanks the Reds had sent across the river during the lull prior to today's fighting.

Floyd's First Casualty

Floyd county's first officially reported casualty in the Korean fighting is Denzil Vanhose, of Allen, who was listed this week as "injured." He is a son of J. C. Vanhose, who formerly resided at Martin.

Two divisions of newly-landed American troops rushed west and northwest from the east coast to safeguard Allied supply lines to the front, according to reports reaching here.

Dave Handshoe Victim
As Truck Overturns
On Bald Alley Curve

Dave Handshoe, 88, was killed in a highway accident near here at noon today (Thursday) while en route to Huntington where he was taking his wife, Verliele Beverly Handshoe, for treatment at a Huntington hospital. Mr. Handshoe died shortly after arrival at the Prestonsburg General hospital of a skull fracture and broken neck.

According to Mr. Handshoe's granddaughter, the truck, driven by Ralph Beverly, of Vincennes, Ind., struck some dirt on the highway at Bald Alley curve, causing the accident. Beverly, fighting for control of the wheel, prevented the truck from going over a bank, but struck a ditch which turned the truck over and threw Mr. Handshoe from it.

His granddaughter estimated that they were traveling at not more than 25 or 30 miles per hour.

Suffering minor bruises from the accident were Barry Hoover, Myrtle Beverly, Floyd Handshoe, Cordelia Hicks, Junior Thornsberry, Arnold Perry, Joe Smith, Jennings Richie, Verliele Handshoe, and Ralph Beverly.

Mr. Handshoe, a farmer and native of Handshoe, Ky., was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brice Handshoe. He is survived by his wife, four sons, Amos Handshoe, of Stroh, Ind., Floyd, Joe, and Brice Handshoe, of Handshoe, and six daughters, Mrs. Cordelia Hicks, Mrs. Polly Smith, Mrs. Parrot Green, and Mrs. Nancy Jane Terry, of Handshoe, Mrs. Lula Young, Portsmouth, Ohio, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hanners, of Ironton. Also surviving are 38 grandchildren.

Korean Situation Result
Is Rise in Prices Locally

The present Korean situation and the threat of deeper involvements of the United States in war are blamed for rising prices here as elsewhere over the country.

Yet there was no rush of buyers, no marked evidence of hoarding locally, retailers reported. Most of those interviewed by The Times Wednesday discounted the threat of shortages.

President Truman in a radio broadcast to the nation Wednesday night declared there are no shortages and asserted hoarding not only "is silly" but is the very act the enemy would want the Americans to commit. "If there were any food shortage, certainly rationing and price controls would be established at once," he added.

Meats, coffee, sugar, lard, furniture and gasoline were among the items listed here as showing price jumps in the last few days.

A meat wholesaler said pork is up an average of 10c a pound and that beef is up 5c, with increases varying

REWARD FUND

August 15 If No Clues
In Murder Uncovered

The sum of $1,680, subscribed in cash or pledged, still stands as a reward offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Muriel Baldrige but will be withdrawn on August 15, it was said here Tuesday morning.

Russell Hagewood, cashier of The First National Bank, who was named trustee of the Muriel Baldrige Reward Fund, said that if the reward is unclaimed by that date, contributions will be returned to the donors and pledges made will be released.

The fund, it was explained, was specifically raised to gain information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer of the Prestonsburg high school girl. Although there has been no visible effort made recently toward a solution of the murder mystery, public notice of the limited time in which the reward may be earned was thought advisable.

And Truck at Melvin

Two Melvin men, father and son, were jailed here Wednesday afternoon as suspects in what is believed to have been an attempt to kill Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson and members of his family at their home on Abner Fork, two miles from Melvin, by a dynamite blast.

The accused men, who were fingerprinted at the Sheriff's office by FBI Agent Harry Campbell, Paintsville, are Elmer Horner, 47, and his son, Elmer, Jr., 25.

Their arrest followed discovery, Tuesday morning, by Deputy Sheriff Johnson of a sack filled with more than 100 sticks of dynamite which had been placed near the wall of his home and also in the vicinity of his truck. The officer said the fuse had

NEGRO, ACCUSED OF STEPSON'S TORTURE,
JAILED AND FINED ON REDUCED CHARGE;
BOYS ALLEGED HOT ICE PICK WAS USED

Although the charge filed against Robert Blackman, 40, Wheelwright negro, of torturing his three stepsons with a hot ice pick was said by officials to have been "pretty well established," the case was changed to breach of the peace at the trial here Friday, and the accused man was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $20 and costs.

County Judge Henry Stumbo said both the prosecution and defense agreed to the change to a lesser offense. He added that Mrs. Blackman had interceded for her husband, asking his release, but that her request was denied.

Two of the boys told Judge Stumbo that their step-father, who was jailed here last Thursday by Police-man Earl Blackburn, Wheelwright, tied their hands with friction tape and laid a hot ice pick across their arms. Judge Stumbo said rings around their arms indicated something of the sort had been done.

Mrs. Blackman said her husband had tied the boys' arms to keep them from "running around at night." Blackman said both he and the boys' mother had tied the boys for that reason.

The boys' ages were given as 11, 12 and 14.

War On V-D
IS PLANNED

In Floyd and Other
Kentucky Counties;
Worker Is Assigned

Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd County Health Department, said this week that Floyd county is expected to be one of the localized battlegrounds in the all-out war planned against congenital syphilis in Kentucky by the State Department of Health and the U. S. Public Health Service.

A worker is expected to be assigned to this county within the next few weeks.

The fight is planned to be centered on the type of syphilis which is passed on to babies from infected mothers. Dr. Ransdell said he had not learned details of the local organization for the work or what part his department will play.

Workers already have been assigned to several Kentucky counties, including Floyd, Bell, Harlan, Letcher, Pike, Knott, Perry, Leslie and Clay. The campaign calls for:

1. Re-examination of all known cases of syphilis among women of child-bearing age.

2. Examination of all children born to such women since they became infected.

3. Blood tests for pre-school and school children.

4. Blood tests for all women who, according to their babies' birth certificates, had no prenatal blood tests.

5. Re-examination of all persons who have had syphilis five years or longer.

Floyd Selective Service Board,
Army Recruiting On Fulltime

PREINDUCTION
FOR JULY 25

4,554 White, 31 Colored
Draft Registrants Here;
Army Quotas Doubled

B. L. Sturgill, a member of Draft Board 25 here, said Wednesday evening this county's quota for the first preinduction call is 15 and that no fees to registrants of the 25-year-old group are to be mailed out immediately.

Floyd county relatives learned last week of the death of a heart attack recently at his home in Fremont, Ind., of Lewis Patton, 66 years old, formerly of Hueysville.

Mr. Patton had resided in Indiana for the last 15 years and was engaged there in farming. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Wireman Patton, three sons and one daughter, one brother, Sol Patton, Hueysville, and two sisters, Mrs. Sophia Gearheart, Hueysville, and Mrs. Martha Handshoe, of Quicksand Creek, Knott county.

Burial was made near Fremont.

Rabies Scare Causes
Action To Curb Dogs
In Vicinity of Printer

Refusal of owners of several dogs which had been bitten by a mad dog in the vicinity of Printer Judge Henry Stumbo entering an order establishing a quarantine on all dogs in a radius of three miles of Printer postoffice.

No humans had been bitten, it was said, but the danger created by uncontrolled dogs which have been exposed to rabies was such that health department and county officials decided some means of control should be undertaken.

The judge's order specified that all dogs found running at large in the quarantine area during the next 30 days be killed and that their owners be fined.

Tuesday, Mrs. T. J. Allen, Prestonsburg, began work as full-time clerk of the Draft Board.

Mrs. Williams said she had learned from state Selective Service headquarters that there will be preinduction examinations in both this month and next, with actual induction slated for September. State headquarters announced last week that Kentucky's quota for the first draft call will be 426 men and that the first preinduction physical examinations will be made, July 25.

The Floyd county Board, however, has not been told the number of registrants it will be asked to call for preinduction physicals.

This county had, as of June 30, 4,554 white and 31 colored registrants under the new draft which includes men aged 18 through 25. Of those registered, 403 whites and one colored registrant are under 19.

At the same time this stepped-up program for the Selective Service system was announced locally came word that army recruiting went on a wartime schedule Tuesday morning, with quotas doubled and enlistment requirements lowered.

The recruiting office in the Post-office building here will be open from 9 a. m. till 3 p. m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Master Sgt. James Carpenter, recruiter in this area, said. The Paintsville recruiting office, area headquarters, will be open seven days a week, he added.

Enlistment requirements have been lowered approximately 20 per cent, it was said this week. Of the 90 points required for entering the army, 19 have been eliminated.

PICK OFFICERS

209 Men, 7 Women
To Serve at Polls;
Campaign Is Quiet

Two hundred nine men and seven women were named Wednesday by Floyd County Election Commissioners Wesley Campbell, J. O. Webb and A. B. Meade to serve as election officials in the county's 54 precincts at the primary voting, August 5.

As this was done little political activity was visible in Floyd county, although the Democratic party has races of it for both a seat in the House of Representatives and the U. S. Senate. The drive for votes was expected to gain momentum through next week and the next.

At Hazard Saturday night United Mine Workers officials urged miners to support Carl D. Perkins, who is seeking the Democratic nomination and re-election to the Congressional post from this district. Otherwise, there was little of the rally type of news about the campaign.

Names of the Floyd election officers follow, the clerk, two judges and sheriff appearing in order in each instance:

3,000,000 Cubic-Foot
Gas Well Reported Here;
Heavy Oil Well Expected

One of the heaviest gas strikes made in this county in months was that of last week when a group of local men drilled in a 3,000,000 cubic foot gasser on Brushy fork of Johns Creek. The big well was hit in the Maxon formation.

Owners of the new well are Sheriff A. B. Meade, John Allen, Wade Hall, Virgil and Estill Goble.

Drilling for a group of local men with whom he is associated in the Elliott County Oil & Gas Company, Smith Bradley this week drilled in an oil well which may reach a 15-barrel production. It was predicted a few hours after the well was shot. This was the fifth producing well to be drilled by the company on the same lease in the last few months.

While Kentucky state police were investigating the accident, Thelma Blackburn, of Endicott, drove a car without brakes through the congested area and was arrested. Only luck prevented a fatality from this incident, officers said.

FEDERAL AID TO STATE UP

Chapman Says Figure Okehed by Committee 2 Million over 1950's

Senator Virgil M. Chapman, announced last Friday that the Senate Committee on Public Works, of which Chapman is a member, had authorized an apportionment of $10,792,000 in federal highway aid for Kentucky for the 1952 fiscal year. A like apportionment was authorized by the committee for the 1953 fiscal year.

Chapman said this figure was $2,814,519 in excess of the apportionment for the fiscal year which began July 1, 1950, and $2,826,328 higher than that for the 1949-50 fiscal year. The apportionment authorized by the Senate for Kentucky also is $1,128,000 in excess of that allowed by the House, which has passed the authorization bill.

The apportionment for various types of highways in the state, Chapman said, was as follows: Interstate system, $1,282,000; primary roads, $4,040,000; secondary roads, $4,329,000 and urban highways, $1,141,000.

No funds were authorized for interstate highways previous to this year. The 1951 apportionment which was made under the Act of 1948 in the other three categories follows: primary roads, $3,772,305; secondary roads, $3,050,595; and urban roads, $1,114,581. For 1950, the apportionments were: primary roads, $3,765,200; secondary roads, $3,045,691; and urban roads, $1,154,581. Apportionments for the last two fiscal years were authorized by Congress in 1948.

Senator Chapman said that the Senate Committee version of the new legislation would allow Kentucky approximately $1,300,000 more for secondary road construction than it would receive this year under the 1948 act. He also said that the $4,329,000 authorized for secondary roads can be used for both improvement of existing secondary highways or for new rural roads, and divided between such uses in such proportion as may be determined by the Kentucky Highway Department and approved by the Commissioner of the Bureau of Public Roads.

The authorization bill is now on the Senate calendar and after Senate action will go to conference. Senator Chapman said he hoped to be able to hold Kentucky's apportionment in the bill as it passes the Senate and in conference with the House.

"The kind mother used to make . . ." Now, that was great stuff. All wrapped up in nostalgia, folded away in a memory book, it lay in ambush for me. That homemade ice cream was great because mother made it, not I. That I learned this week, a bit late.

For the better part of an hour our household was disrupted by what some folks might call the simple job of manufacturing a fraction over a quart of ice cream. While the ingredients were being mixed—not by me, I survive to state—ice trays were being emptied. This, right from the start, created something of a situation as some of the ice got on the floor and I did a Figure 8 on a stray cube. Then, unprepared for this dire emergency we faced, there was the business of reducing those cubes to smaller pieces. A hammer and hard-frozen ice, I learned, do the bottom of a perfectly good pan no good. After that, the cracking up process went on laboriously, painfully, with the cubes held in one hand while the other was employed in whacking the ice with the handle of a knife, which does the holding hand no good, either.

That got us started cranking. We consulted the memory book and it said 30 minutes was plenty long to freeze the stuff. With a watchful eye on the clock, I cranked and grudgingly permitted others to relieve me during the first 30-minute grind. Then we decided a new source of ice was needed. To the salt was added the sweat of honest toil for another 17 minutes.

Then we called it quits. "Pass me a teacup," I panted. "We'll drink the darned stuff, if necessary."

FOR SALE—One slightly used ice cream freezer.

LIFE COULD BE BEAUTIFUL

Just when mankind has things set up in fashion such as would encourage a body to keep on living, we start out on another war which may make life impossible.

At this crucial stage of international affairs, I am reminded by the public prints that science has come up with a concoction which not only makes of halitosis a more or less obsolete word but also kills the fumes of whiskey on the breath. No longer, we are told, need that swain or his sweetie summon superhuman willpower to forego that delicacy, the onion, with his or her beans just before the big date.

This boon to mankind, it says here, comes from chlorophyll, the stuff which makes grass green. I am wondering if this is why my purp when he gets an upset stomach goes on a grass diet.

Then there is another discovery, reached by methods not so scientific but reached, and that is the big issue, which, they say, will take the odor of skunk right out of things. The boys with the test tubes apparently forgot to see if chlorophyll would make a polecat smell any less like a skunk; so a dog warden out in Cheyenne, Wyo., got busy.

The warden, it seems, had the right unpleasant duty, some weeks ago, of removing a defunct skunk from a street of his fair city. He did, and the smelly lingered on. In fact, he threatened to quit his job if the city didn't trade in to a new one the truck in which he had carted away the late Mr. Polecat's carcass.

With things at this crucial stage, somebody came to the rescue of both the warden and the city fathers. The recipe was this: Pour corn meal over a fire of hot coals, then allow the aroma to filter through the stunk-up articles.

The warden doused his truck, good and proper, with the burned meal. And it worked.

So there, just as we are ready to make life sweet and clean for everybody, even to making a skunk a pretty, striped kitty, and the toper's breath a whiff of new-mown hay, the world gets in such a fix nobody can enjoy the halcyon days these discoveries might have brought.

Neeley Skips Out on Raid As Officers Confiscate 40 Half-pints Liquor

A raid last Thursday noon by Sheriff A. B. Meade and deputies resulted in the confiscation of 40 half-pints of whiskey at or in the vicinity of the roadside stand operated by Lonnie Neeley near Knotley Hollow. Neeley was said to have learned of the raid while some distance away in his auto and to have fled the county. A 16-year-old boy told the officers Neeley had left him at the place in his absence.

Other arrests made for alleged dry law offenses:

Ella Blair, last Thursday, by Constable Johnny Caudill, Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson and Deputy Constable Enoch Hatfield, charged with possession of whiskey and beer; Sherman Moore, arrested Sunday by Chief of Police W. M. Griffith, of Martin, who booked him for having moonshine whiskey and beer in his car; John Branham, arrested at Martin Wednesday morning by Chief of Police Griffith, who took from him one half-pint of whiskey. A week earlier, county officers arrested Branham on a liquor charge.

Also jailed during the week were:

Yancy Horn, West Prestonsburg, accused of breaking and entering; Jack Salisbury, drunk driving; John H. Hatfield, peace warrant; James Price, public indecency.

To Get $210,000 Loan For Big Sandy Co-op; Building Plans Told

Legal details were being worked out here this week to make available to the Big Sandy Rural Electric Co-Operative Corporation the $210,000 grant recently approved for it by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Of the total sum thus to be made available, $65,000 will be spent on an office building and site at Paintsville for the Co-Operative, County Attorney W. W. Burchett said. The loan will also make possible installation of a two-way radio communications system to expedite service to consumers, a site and building for the station and also a power sub-station.

A survey is now being made to determine the site of the sub-station. The only sub-station now in use by the Co-Op is located on the Auxier road, near here.

Steps Taken

Authorized the Secretary of Defense to call up National Guard units and army, navy, and air force reservists as required; to exceed the budgeted strength of military personnel and to draft whatever men are needed to reach the increased strength required.

Directed government agencies to review and modify their programs to avoid competition with preparedness drive.

Steps Asked of Congress

Remove all statutory limits on size of the armed forces.

Provide $10,000,000,000 additional military funds; details to be supplied later.

Authorize a priorities-and-allocation system for materials for non-essential purposes; prevent inventory hoarding; authorize seizure of materials needed for the fighting effort.

Empower the government to reinstate controls over consumer credit (installment buying) and credit use for commodity speculation; tighten private real-estate-credit requirements.

Authorize government loans and loan guarantees to spur defense production.

Steps He Will Ask Later

Heavier taxes. Truman said they should be balanced to spread the burden equitably and be designed to prevent profiteering.

A stepped-up program of military assistance to the nation's North Atlantic partners and "certain other free nations whose security is vital to our own."

Possible Step

Drastic price control and rationing, but only if a sharp rise in prices forces such a move.

Abraham Ortellus is credited with publishing the first modern atlas in 1570 A. D.

India had fewer labor disputes last year than in 1948—914 compared with 1,259.

NOTICE

Still Search Starts In Knott But Ends In Mill Creek Raid

Chief of Police Troy Mullins, of Wayland, his brother, Oak, and three Knott county deputy sheriffs captured a moonshine still and destroyed 50 gallons of mash on Mill Creek, this county, Tuesday afternoon.

The Mill Creek raid grew out of a report which had reached the Knott officers, Sam Harris, Paul Harris and Tandy Ramey, to the effect that the still was being operated on Bear Branch of Jones Fork. The deputies learned, however, it was located across in Floyd, and so enlisted the help of the Mullins brothers.

Armed with a search warrant, they found nine quarts of moonshine whiskey at the home of Elliott Wicker, approximately 200 yards from the still, but Wicker was away from home. He has not been arrested. The officers did find and arrest at the Wicker home, however, a man named Hicks for whom they held a child desertion warrant.

WHEELWRIGHT HURLER SETS ELKHORN RECORD

Nudging the record-making boys in their markings, Eugene Mullins, Wheelwright pitcher, has hurled three consecutive shutouts and, on Sunday, at Drift, appeared to be well on the way to a fourth, when rain interrupted proceedings in the early part of the fifth inning.

He has been scored upon only twelve times in 69 innings for an earned run average of 1.7, which is reported here as the Elkhorn league record thus far.

One of his shutouts was a two-hitter against Wayland, one likewise at Omar and another which was three-hit fracas against Stone, according to the Wheelwright score-keeper.

Next time you prepare creamed spinach try flavoring it with a little onion juice and some bits of crisp bacon.

WHY I AM FOR CARL PERKINS IN THE RACE FOR CONGRESS

I am 100 per cent behind Carl D. Perkins for Congress, now and in November, without any personal feeling against his opposition but with a determination to do all I can for his nomination and re-election. These are among my reasons for supporting Congressman Perkins:

1. I was in school for years with his good mother, Dora Calhoun Perkins, and as long as he lived his father, Jim Perkins, was one of my closest friends. These are matters I do not forget.
2. I was born and reared at Hindman, the same place Carl Perkins is from.
3. I have always been a laboring man at heart and not so merely to get Labor's vote. Carl Perkins has been Labor's genuine friend. I was informed on Saturday night, the 15th of June, by a Labor representative from Washington, and I believe he told me the truth, that out of the 435 Congressmen in Washington the different labor groups relied more on Congressman Perkins than any other man in Congress.
4. Carl Perkins is friendly, hard-working, never too busy to listen to the requests of the most humble man or woman, always willing to be helpful to the people of his district.
5. His work for the teachers in the matter of federal aid to education is one which would have resulted in greater opportunity for the children of the nation and better pay for teachers, had there been others as deeply interested in this cause as Congressman Perkins.

I am making this statement to set the record right, since The Courier-Journal and other daily newspapers apparently have not been certain who I am for in this race. I ask all my friends to join me in winning with Carl Perkins.

FLOYD SHARE IS $122,733

Of 1950-51 Equalization Funds for Schools; Year's Total Set at $578,633

Floyd county will receive $122,733 from the 1950-51 equalization fund which will make available to 90 Kentucky school districts a total of $4,287,500.

Although Harlan county again draws the lion's share of the equalization fund, other Eastern Kentucky counties figured heavily in the apportionment.

The figures showing each county's share are preliminary, it was pointed out, since current data on which to base calculations is not yet available. Enrollment and attendance figures used are those of 1948-49 instead of last year's; transportation costs for two years ago also were used; property assessments of some districts and their ratio to fair cash value was estimated, and every district was "assumed" to be levying the maximum $15.00 per $100, although some will not be up to that maximum when the final calculations are made.

With the per capita fund of 455,900 already allotted, the total state aid to Floyd county's school system outside the independent Prestonsburg district will be around $578,633 for the year.

Although this week's equalization figures are not exact, they were released as estimates to enable superintendents to arrive at their 1950-51 budgets.

It was said at the office of the County Superintendent here that the salary schedule for teachers has not been set up. Most rural schools in the county opened Monday.

The equalization fund amounts to 17 1/2 per cent of the $24,500,000 put up for common schools by the 1950 Legislature. It goes to districts unable to place $87.99 of state and local revenue behind each pupil.

Last year the equalization fund tributed among 62 districts, all of which will get extra help again this year.

To qualify for a 100 per cent share of equalization money this year, a school district's property had to be assessed at 63 per cent of fair value and had to levy the maximum tax rates. Only Wolfe county qualified for a full share. Elliott and Jackson counties qualified for shares between 90 and 100 per cent.

The Van Lear, Cumberland county, and Clay independent districts will get less than 90 per cent because their assessments in 1949 were below those of 1948. The remaining 84 districts will get shares of 90 per cent.

Equalization grants to other counties of this area:
Pike, $204,232; Knott, $64,576; Johnson, $60,522; Perry, $220,153; Magoffin, $17,999; Martin, $22,430; Letcher, $172,238.

Allen-Martin Club Okehs Flower, Colors and Plans Annual in Monday Meet

Martin, Ky., July 18 (Spl.)—Discussing preparation for the club's yearbook, selection of the club colors and official club flower highlighted a Monday meeting of the Allen-Martin Woman's Club in the home of Mrs. Mark Reed, with Mrs. Belford Reitz acting as co-hostess.

Nature's Deodorant Ends Bad Breath, B.O.

(From The Reader's Digest for August)

A boon to millions who are handicapped by halitosis or B.O. is a newly discovered use of chlorophyll, ancient chemical of nature that makes grass green and gives trees their verdure. Halting nature's deodorant in The Reader's Digest for August, Paul deKruif says the new remedy is "safe and simple, is taken in the form of a pill by mouth, and costs only a few cents a day." The green medicine, in concentrated tablet form, has been available by prescription since March and is now sold in drugstores with no prescription necessary.

The ability of chlorophyll to stop unpleasant odors was a chance discovery. Doctors experimenting with a substance as a healer of wounds found that it would sometimes close injuries that had resisted sulfas, penicillin and other medicines. The discovery had a by-product: the odors issuing from certain wounds were disappearing.

To put this finding to a controlled test, Dr. Warner F. Bowers and his associates at a U.S. army hospital in wartime applied chlorophyll ointments to odoriferous, wide-open wounds of certain men in a ward, leaving others without the chlorophyll dressings. Within 48 hours all odor had faded away from the chlorophyll-treated wounds. When the green medicine was given to all in the ward, the last trace of stench vanished.

Further experiments have confirmed this result and have extended chlorophyll treatment to the wider fields of halitosis and B.O. Twelve college girls, all embarrassed by B.O. despite frequent bathing, volunteered as human guinea pigs for Dr. F. Howard Westcott. One morning each girl took a pill of Westcott's specially prepared chlorophyll, and at intervals during the day appeared for an underarm test with an osmoscope, an instrument that precisely measures the intensity of any odor. Chlorophyll had no effect on perspiration, but in 11 cases out of the 12 it stopped all traces of offensive odor for 18 hours or more.

Chlorophyll pills abolish tobacco breath and the reek of alcohol, deKruif says, and even ended a bad case of halitosis in the author's dog, a 170-pound Great Dane. In another form, the green substance is now used in some of the air refreshers for homes and public buildings.

DeKruif emphasizes, however, that victims of halitosis and B.O. should get the advice of dentists and doctors. "It is better," he cautions, "to correct dental caries and disturbed body chemistry, if possible, than to mask them with chlorophyll."

FIELD TRAINING

Fifty-four University of Kentucky engineering students will leave July 31 for the U.K. surveying camp in Breathitt county where they will receive six weeks of field training in surveying and mapmaking. The camps are conducted annually at the school's 15,000-acre reservation, Camp Robinson, as a supplement to regular classroom instruction in civil engineering. The party leaving July 31 is the second such group to train at the Eastern Kentucky site this summer.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear mother Aunt Martha Allen, who passed away two years ago this July 23, 1948.

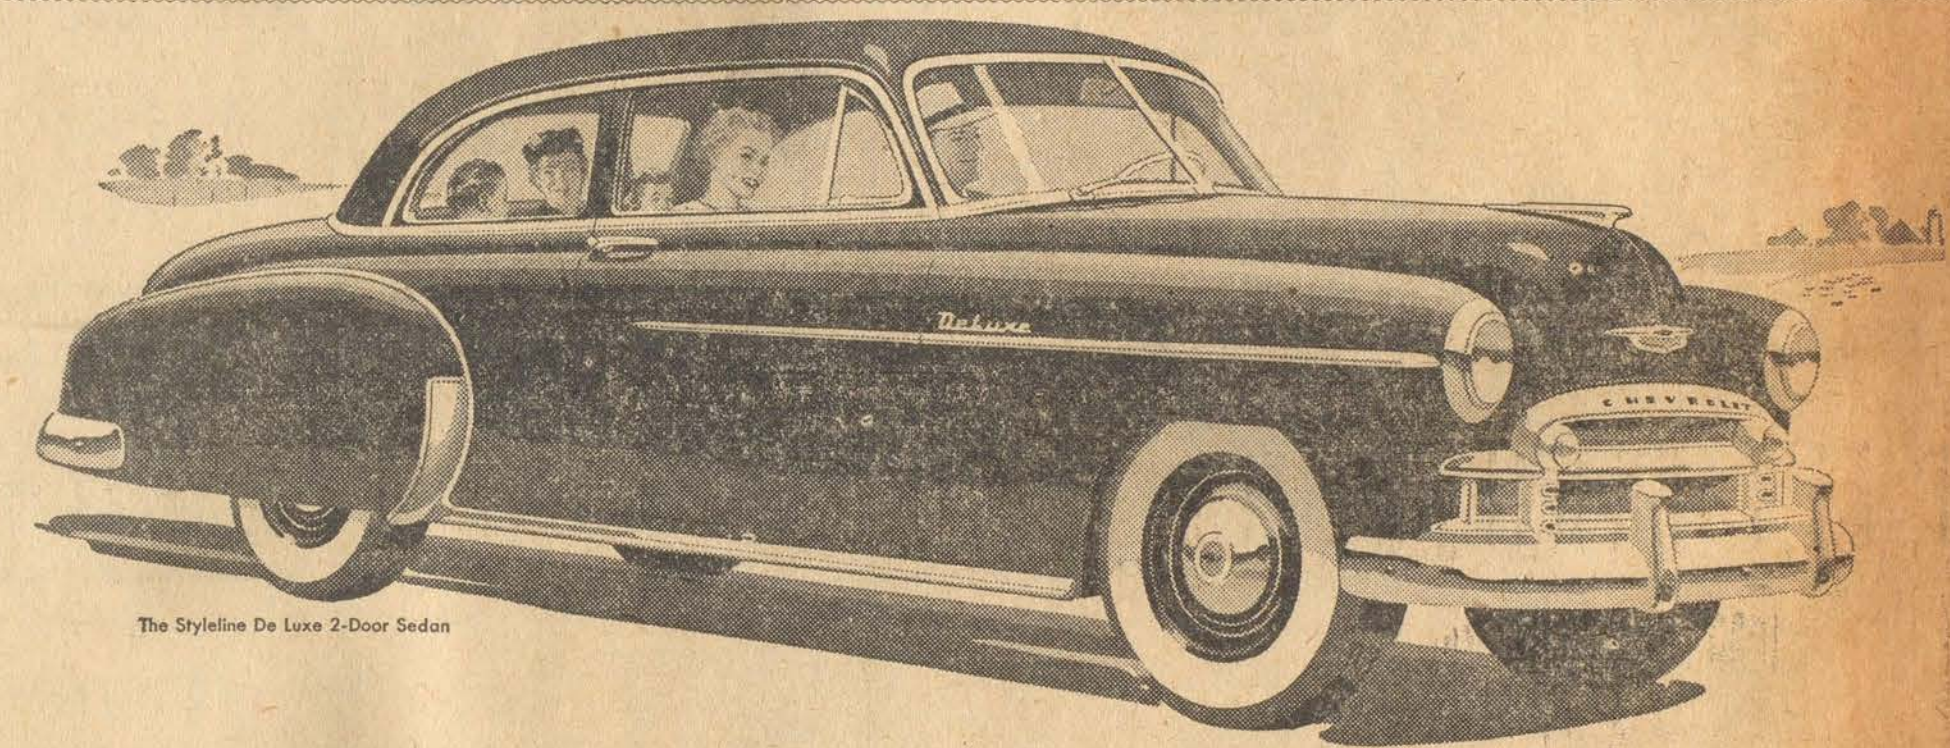

We have a mother now in glory Whom our hearts doth long to see, How we loved her precious memory When with us she used to be.

We think of you in silence, mother, And your name we oft recall; There is nothing to remember But your picture on the wall.

She is gone but not forgotten, And so draws another year In our lonely hours thinking, Thought of her is always near.

Days of sadness will come o'er us, Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow That lies within our hearts concealed.

Sadly missed by all her children—Will Allen, Millard Allen, Henry Allen, Sallie Osborne, and Mrs. Nora Howard.

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

Hugh Collett, Lexington, has been named director of public relations of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, George T. Mascott, executive vice-president of the Chamber, announced this week. He will also serve as editor of Kentucky Business, monthly publication of the organization.

Mr. Collett, a native of Pike county, and former student at the University of Kentucky, served for two years as assistant editor of The Magazine of Sigma Chi, official publication of the Sigma Chi fraternity, and in 1948 he became national secretary of the fraternity, with offices in Chicago. Author of a biography of Fielding H. Yost, late football coach of the University of Michigan, Collett was associated with Life magazine and served on the staff of The Thoroughbred Record. He was also engaged in public relations programs of the Institute of Public Relations of New York City, and Steve Hannigan, famed publicist of Miami Beach and Sun Valley.

While attending the University, he was an editor of The Kentucky Kernel, weekly publication of the school, a member of the YMCA Cabinet, and an officer on the Student Union Board. He was also active in the Guignol Theater and assisted in promotional programs of the University under the supervision of the school's director of public relations.

Dove and Squirrel Seasons Unchanged Bag Limits Stand

Frankfort, Ky., July 10 (Spl.)—The dove hunting season for Kentucky has been announced by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Kentucky Division of Game and Fish as the same as last year, with open dates of September 1 through September 30. Recommendations offered by the Fish and Wildlife Service were approved by Earl Wallace, Director of the Division of Game & Fish.

Daily bag limits again will be 10 with possession limit also 10.

Hunting hours will be from 12 o'clock noon to sunset. The open season and bag limits for waterfowl have not yet been determined by the Department of the Interior due to the late nesting season of ducks and geese. The shooting period for rails and gallinules is September 1 through October 30 with a bag and possession limit of 15 and a bag and possession limit of 25 for sora. Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

Use of Lures Taboo

The dove hunting regulations point out that this species may not be taken directly or indirectly by means, aid or use of shelled, shucked or unshucked corn, or of wheat, salt or other feed that has been deposited, distributed or scattered so as to constitute for such birds a lure, attraction or enticement to, on or over areas where the hunters are attempting to take them. However, the regulations continue, such birds may be taken over properly shocked corn or standing crops of corn, wheat or other grain or feed, and grains found scattered solely as a result of agricultural harvesting.

Kentucky nimrods may take to the fields on August 20 this year in quest of the wily squirrel, the Division of Game and Fish Commission has decided. The season for this year will be the same as for 1949, opening on August 20 and extending through November 5. The bag limit also remains unchanged with the daily limit being six and possession limit 12.

The Commission also has fixed other dates for hunting this season and with the exception of grouse or native pheasant they remain the same as for the preceding year. The grouse season has been extended 10 days, with the season opening on November 20 and extending through December 15. The daily bag limit will remain two with possession limit at four and a season limit of 10.

Dog Training Period Out

A training period for coon dogs was eliminated by action of the Commission. Last year coon hunters were given from October 1 until midnight November 19 in which to train their dogs. During that period no coons were to be taken in any manner by the hunters, the Commission points out, but due to flagrant violations of this order many coons were killed and for this reason the training period has been eliminated for 1950. However, the coon hunter may take coons by dog only during the month of November. During this month he is not permitted to carry a gun or kill a coon in any way other than with his dog. The season in which coons may be killed by gun or dog or trapped opens on December 1 and continues through January 31.

Other hunting seasons as announced by the Commission follow: Quail and rabbit—November 20 thru January 10; possums, coons, mink, skunk, muskrats and red foxes may be taken with traps, guns and dogs, December 1 through January 31. Either a county or statewide hunting license is required of the hunter, while the trapper must have a trapping license.
