

This Town-- That World

POLITICS ARE AREN'T THEY?

No, all the zany things attendant on elections do not happen in Floyd county, or even in Kentucky where politics are admittedly the confoundest. All the way from Maine to California the boys are out-doing in the matter of pure nonsense the professional jokster who sat two weeks on a setting of eggs to see if he could make them hatch.

Floyd countians are going around with a wild glint in their eyes, these last days of the campaign, but none have come up with anything to equal--nay, compare with--these examples of pixilation:

One politician, a Mr. Arthur W. Coolidge who seeks the Governorship of Massachusetts on the Republican ticket, has issued a public challenge to his Democratic opponent to run a hundred-yard race--this to prove to the electorate that at 69 he is not a man of "advanced years" as his 47-year-old rival apparently has hinted.

In North Dakota the Democratic campaign manager got so steamed up because the GOP manager would not debate him on campaign issues that he challenged the Republican to a wrestling match. The Republican retorted that was reaching "a new low in political history" and to date has kept out of his rival's embrace.

Governor Williams of Michigan is gathering crowds with nightly square dances. He gives a short-talk, then somebody produces fiddle and bow and "Soapy" calls the set. Typical of Republican rallies in Connecticut, they say, was a show consisting of vaudeville, boxing bouts, introduction of Miss Connecticut, award of a television set, target shooting (under careful supervision, of course, when Democrats are in range), an old-fashioned square dance and the awarding of two tickets to a college football game.

From coast to coast candidates were dropping in by helicopter to see the voters.

Worst situation of all perhaps was faced in Marquette county, Mich., where the Democrats' candidate for County Treasurer went off his rocker too late for his name to be kept off the ballot and will ponder the political situation from a ward in a hospital for the mentally insane.

Oh, well! It's a crazy world, anyway.

P'BURG HAS MORE DOCTORS THAN AVERAGE

Gain of Four in 8 Years Shown by AMA Figures, New York Release Claims

(Special to The Times) New York, Oct. 26--With President Truman, under authorization of Congress, moving to draft doctors for military service, a survey of the medical resources of the nation's cities shows Prestonsburg to be better off than most in that respect.

To what extent doctors will be drafted and how many of the local physicians will be affected is a matter of pure conjecture at this time.

There are now in Prestonsburg a total of 11 medical men, according to data published by the American Medical Association. This means one doctor to every 490 local residents, which is better than conditions in most of the cities of the country, where the average is a doctor for every 750 people. In Kentucky the ratio is one doctor per 1,145 inhabitants.

The AMA's tabulation of the nation's doctors is the first it has made since 1942, at which time the count was 189,486. This was equivalent to a doctor for every 745 people. Since then there has been an increase of 20,781 physicians, an average yearly gain of 2,598. The gain was not sufficient, however, to keep

MARTIN VOTE IS CANCELLED

Court Decision Holds Mayor, Council Vote Not Due Next Tuesday

There will be no city election in Martin next Tuesday, so ruled the Court of Appeals Tuesday on a suit originating recently in the Floyd circuit court.

One candidate for Mayor, D. P. Dingus, and two for Council, Henry Mace and Felix Hamilton, had filed to fill offices to which Martin men had been appointed after the community became a city of the fourth class. They were unopposed until the present Mayor, J. H. Osborne, and the two Councilmen they would have succeeded, Denzil Halbert and E. P. Grigsby, filed suit to enjoin County Clerk DuRan Moore from causing the candidates' names to be printed on the ballot.

Last week Circuit Judge E. P. Hill ruled that names of the two Council candidates should not be printed, but held that the candidacy of Dingus for Mayor was valid.

The detailed Appellate Court opinion had not been received here today.

DAWSON SAYS ADS UNTRUE

Sims Advises Editors Not To Be Alarmed As Dawson Hints of Libel

"I hope you will not be unduly frightened by Judge Dawson's bulldozing tactics," J. Baxter Sims, state Democratic campaign chairman, wired this and other Kentucky newspapers after learning they had received from Charles I. Dawson, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator, a telegram threatening libel action if a Democratic advertisement questioning the part he played in amending the local option law and in the defeat of the mine safety bill was published again. "He must still think he is a federal judge," commented Sims. "Incidentally, he still hasn't answered the questions."

Judge Dawson's telegram read: "Local Democratic committees carried in most county newspapers last week two paid advertisements, one of which, among other things, charged me with helping pass in 1948 a bill amending county unit local option law, the other charging me with helping defeat in the 1950 legislature the mine safety bill. Each advertisement is false in its entirety. If your newspaper carried either, I request you furnish me name of person inserting same and that this telegram be published. A repetition of this advertisement will be considered and treated by me as libelous."

HOMAN SAYS COAL READY

To Meet All Demands In Address Made Here Before Kiwanis Club

The coal industry is ready to go into full emergency production without a "conversion time-out," J. H. Mosgrove, safety director of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators' Association, told the Kiwanis Club of Prestonsburg at tonight's (Thursday) meeting at the Brown hotel.

"The automobile industry must re-tool when it turns to the manufacture of implements of war," Mr. Mosgrove said. "The same is true for most other industries, and the change-over necessarily involves delays. There are no such problems in coal, which provides heat, energy, chemical products and other essentials in the same firm in both peacetime and wartime."

"As for the increased output that an all-out mobilization program would require, we are fully prepared, regardless of the size of the demands. During the interval since the cessation of hostilities in 1945, progressive producers have mechanized to a point where almost any amount of coal can be made available for the country's needs."

While emphasizing his industry's "virtually unlimited" capacity, the speaker declared that such achievement can be made possible only if key manpower is left intact, mine supplies and machinery are given priority and sufficient railroad transportation is available to move the mined coal.

The Kiwanians were also reminded that nature has also dispersed coal-producing centers in the United States that the camouflage and military protection necessary in other industrial areas need not be utilized for the coal industry's "underground factories." Such involuntarily further insures a continuous supply of the coal so vital to national defense and welfare, Mr. Mosgrove added.

Parent-Teacher Group Here Opens Fund Drive; Year's Objectives Told

The Prestonsburg P-T.A. opened its drive Wednesday to raise sufficient funds to carry out its projected program for the year. The finance campaign will center around a birth-dated calendar in which an effort will be made to get everyone to give his name, birth date (month and day only, year not necessary) and 25 cents. This will also entitle them to a copy of the calendar. One page will be devoted to listing the names of persons who donated $5 under the heading of "Patrons," and those who give $2 under the heading of "Sponsors." There are 36 ad spaces in the calendar which will sell for $5 each. It is hoped that $600 net, above expenses, will be realized.

Tuberculosis Claims Betsy Layne Girl, 18, After Year's Illness

A year's illness of tuberculosis resulted Sunday in the death of 18-year-old Georgia Allee Hall, at the home at Betsy Layne of her mother, Mrs. Eliza Hurd Hall.

The victim was a daughter of the late Alvin Hall. She is survived by her mother, four brothers, Ethar, Glenn J. and Donald, of Betsy Layne, Arnold Hall, Trenton, Mich., and three sisters, Mrs. Esta Case, of Honaker, Mrs. Sylvia Hamilton and Miss Betty Lois Hall, both of Betsy Layne.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday from the Hall residence, the Rev. Henry Parsons officiating. Burial in the Hall cemetery at Betsy Layne was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Six Ministers Urge Support Of War Memorial Hospital

To the mounting list of Floyd county leaders who are offering active support to the Floyd County War Memorial bond issue as a non-partisan move to honor the county's war dead and at the same time provide hospital facilities of the highest type were added this week the names of six ministers.

These six--the Revs. L. W. Benedict, Harold Black and Gerstle M. Haggard, of Prestonsburg, Ted Greene, West Prestonsburg, David H. Perkins, Allen, and W. J. Kenney, Langley--addressed an open letter to the public, urging, "Let every one of us talk and work publicly and privately in behalf of this provision for ourselves, our neighbors and our friends from now until the vote is cast next Tuesday."

The belief was expressed that many other ministers' names could have been added to the letter, had it been drafted in time for them to be contacted. The ministers wrote in part: "There is one issue in this coming election which we feel that every

Frasure's Creek Man Wounded as Shotgun Discharged in Fall

Paul Osborne, 21 years old, of Dony, suffered severe shotgun wounds on his legs and body last Thursday when a shotgun was accidentally discharged as he slipped and fell on wet grass while descending the hill in the head of Frasure's Creek.

As he fell, Osborne hurled the shotgun from him, but the lock hit a stone. The result was a badly wounded left leg, with 200 or more pellets scattered over his legs up to his hips.

He had recovered sufficiently this week to be returned to the home at Dony of his father, Bev Osborne.

Mrs. M. M. Collins, Lackey, was here Monday on business.

2 WILD GEESE COST $311

Assistant Fire Chief At Paintsville Is One Of Trio Nabbed on Lake

Two wild geese killed on Dewey Lake Tuesday morning, out of season, cost three Paintsville men a total of $111 in fines and costs imposed by County Judge Henry Stumbo.

The three--Paintsville's Assistant Fire Chief Lee Howard, Jr., Madison Sublett and Junior Castle--were arrested by County Conservation Officer Bernard Baldrige.

Howard admitted shooting the geese. His companions were booked at the jail as aiding him. The officer, patrolling the lake, saw the birds shot down, and a few minutes later had the men under arrest.

Each was fined $25 and $12 costs, and their boat and motor were being held. Howard was released when he paid his fine, but the other two remained in jail Tuesday afternoon.

EASTERN GAS OFFERS HELP

To Sons of Its Workers; Executive Positions, Aim Through School Program

Executive positions in the coal mining industry for the sons of local mine workers is the aim of a continuing vocational guidance program now being offered to school principals in this area.

The service has been instituted by L. C. Campbell, vice-president, Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, and is offered to local schools attended by the sons of its present mine employees.

Following acceptance of the idea by local school executives, they will be provided monthly with reference material such as booklets, reprints of educational articles from magazines, and motion pictures which will show what the future holds for those who prepare themselves through higher education.

"It requires brains and skill to operate efficiently and productively the mechanized mass-production plant that is a modern coal mine," stated Mr. Campbell. "The need for trained minds in mining has become a serious problem. Changes in the industry have created new opportunities while young men have been turning to other already-crowded fields."

"The possibilities for new uses of coal are virtually unlimited. We need to attract the vision and the skill that will keep our business looking and moving ahead. The best men possible for these jobs are the sons of men who now mine the coal."

"The future of the coal industry is of vital economic importance to this area which depends so much upon the successful operation of the mines in this vicinity. The problem of future engineering and management manpower in mining is one which touches the pocketbooks of every local person."

"If just one student in each of the 106 schools attended by the sons of EGFA mine workers can be given the inspiration to prepare himself for a high position in the coal industry our present efforts will be well worth while," said Mr. Campbell.

P'Burg Is (Town) Lots Bigger Than Known Before Survey

Prestonsburg is 150 lots bigger than it knew it was. This satisfying discovery was made, Mayor Curtis Clark said this week, by Tax Commissioner Olive Akers in making for the city a listing of all property within the corporate limits for tax assessment purposes.

The 150 separate pieces of property, it is held, had previously escaped assessment and had enjoyed freedom from taxes.

Tax Commissioner Akers began the work of listing Prestonsburg property under contract with the city after he had initiated for the first time in this county the new assessment system devised by the State Revenue Department. His findings, including locations, sizes and improvements on these and all other lots in Prestonsburg, will be

DR. THOMPSON, GOP NOMINEE, SPEAKS HERE

Barkley in Two Speeches For Democratic Ticket In Magoffin and Pike

From the Vice-President of the United States to the lowliest precinct worker, folks were engaged this week in Eastern Kentucky in front-line work in a hot Congressional election or in super-heated school races here and there.

Vice-President Barkley made two speaking appearances in the Seventh Congressional district, at Salyersville and Pikeville, Tuesday in behalf of Congressman Carl D. Perkins and Governor Earle C. Clements, who is seeking election to the U. S. Senate.

He passed through Prestonsburg, late Tuesday afternoon, en route to Pikeville, and was escorted through the town by the Prestonsburg high school band. He did not stop. This was preceded by a Republican rally at the courthouse here Saturday when Dr. O. W. Thompson, Pikeville, opponent of Congressman Perkins, spoke to a fair-sized crowd.

Dr. Thompson devoted most of his talk to a discussion of river canalization, pointing out its necessity to the economic future of Eastern Kentucky and alleging Congressman Perkins failed to cooperate in the Congressional fight for the legislation necessary to get the river canalized. "If you send me to Washington, there will be no doubt about what I will do," he declared.

The speaker recounted his work in the field of conservation, telling of his fight for development of the Breaks of Sandy as a park area and of his 10 years of service under three governors as chairman of the Division of Game and Fish. He pledged his support of Dewey reservoir area development to the end that the conservation pool be deepened and that a game reserve be established there.

Dr. C. L. Hutsiniller, Prestonsburg, impressed the crowd with his argument for the Floyd County War Memorial bond issue. Curtis Clark, Prestonsburg Mayor and Thompson campaign chairman in this county, presided at the meeting. Dr. Thompson was introduced by John Marshall, Wayland, a member of the United Mine Workers.

At both Salyersville and Pikeville Vice-President Barkley was greeted by large crowds, among them many old friends. Urging the re-election of Congressman Perkins to the Senate, he declared the Democratic party for years "has promoted the American way of life." He recited the party's accomplishments since the election to the Presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932.

MORGAN-CO. MAN IS SLAIN

Home Where Williamses Slain by Whitt, Scene Of Shooting Sunday

The same house where Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams were murdered, little more than a year ago, was the scene Sunday night of a fight in which another man was fatally wounded.

The home, which is located atop the hill approximately five miles from Salyersville on Ky. 80, is occupied by Smith Howard, and in Sunday night's affray Howard's brother, Dexter, allegedly shot and fatally wounded Ralph Combs, 25, of West Liberty, Combs died Monday in a Lexington hospital. Howard, who was released under $10,000 bond, was quoted as telling Magoffin County Judge Harry Jock Ramey that Combs and two other young men from West Liberty created a disturbance at his brother's home and that he ordered them from the house. They returned, he added, with drawn knives, and he fired three shots at them. For the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Newby Whitt is serving a life sentence at Eddyville, Whitt was held in the Floyd county jail following his arrest. The Williams' baby, wounded as Mrs. Williams fled with the child in her arms, recovered.

All of these were made possible by the blessings of HADACOL when HADACOL overcame these deficiencies.

Here is Mrs. Clark's statement: "Before I started taking HADACOL I was troubled with nervous indigestion. My stomach was just tied in knots when I would sit down to eat. You can imagine how I enjoyed my food and how much good it did me. It affected my sleep—there was many a night I lay awake for hours and hours. I heard about HADACOL and have been taking it ever since. I have no more stomach distress. I enjoy my food and I sleep like a top every night of the week. I started my husband taking HADACOL and he, too, says that now he has never felt better in his life. I just can't thank HADACOL enough—and, of course, I recommend it to all my friends."

New 'Miracle Drug' Is Hailed Hope for Chest Infection Cure

A white powder that eats up dead tissue and pur in a chest infection, without hurting healthy tissue, was reported this week to the American College of Surgeons.

It promises to become a new wonder medicine to clean up infected wounds, chronic sinus trouble, and other infections.

The powder is pure crystallized trypsin, a natural chemical in your digestion. The trypsin made in your body digests the meat and other proteins you eat. But it doesn't touch living proteins, or otherwise it would dissolve the intestines.

Trypsin has easily dissolved jelly-like masses that sometimes form in the chest cavity, outside the lung, in people with tuberculosis, said Drs. Howard Reiser, L. C. Roeting and George M. Curtis, of Ohio State University College of Medicine, and Clark County and Rocky Glen Tuberculosis Hospitals, Columbus.

This condition, called empyema, is one of the worst complications of lung tuberculosis. The mass is made up of blood, bacteria, pus, serum and dead tissue. It tends to get hard, while the pleura or covering of the lungs may become thickened. Sometimes it is impossible to operate to remove ribs to rest the infected lung.

Trypsin, injected by needle, liquefies the mass, turning it into a tawny, watery fluid which then can be sucked out of the chest cavity. The cavity itself seems to become sterilized in some cases, by a peculiar action not yet understood.

One woman, dying of TB, was helped so much she gained weight and was able to walk around again, the surgeons said.

The trypsin, extracted from the pancreas glands of cows, was supplied by Armour Laboratories, Chicago.

Armour is stepping up production and supplying trypsin to various clinics to study other uses of this new miracle worker.

Coal was first used as a household fuel in the 14th Century.

An Open Letter
Virgie, Kentucky
November 1, 1950

Mr. Tom Raney
Pikeville, Kentucky

Dear Tom:

In replying to your letter of October 25, 1950, which appeared in the Pikeville Daily News, please remember that I have gone to Washington many times at my own expense to work for and fight for the canalizing of the Big Sandy river. Each time I went there, my friend, Dr. O. W. Thompson, the Republican candidate for Congress, was there with a large delegation composed of both Democratic and Republican leaders from Eastern Kentucky—all of them fighting solidly as a unit for the Economic Future of their homeland—The Big Sandy Valley. And, every time, you were there, Tom, Fighting Your Successful Fight Against the Big Sandy Canal.

That was a strange sight, seeing you, Tom, nobly fighting, like a Good Corporation Lawyer, on the side of the N. & W. Railroad together with the Bigges Coal Operators of the state of West Virginia. I don't know your reason, but everyone knows their reason—They Do Not Want Big Sandy Competition!

While you were under oath before the Senate Committee you testified: "The United Mine Workers of America are opposed to the construction of the Big Sandy Canal." This language is printed after your name on page 258 of the Senate Hearings on the Rivers and Harbors Bill, 81st Congress. Perhaps, that was the torpedo that sank the last barge and blasted the Big Sandy Canal in the 81st Congress.

Congressman Trimble from Arkansas, who came recently to speak in behalf of his colleague, owed your Congressman that favor and much more, because Mr. Perkins supported Lock and Dam Bills for the good state of Arkansas. But, Tom, you and I both know that Mr. Perkins has not voted for a Canal Bill for the Big Sandy River of Kentucky.

We must not make light of the fact that the Economic Present and Future of Eastern Kentucky is far from being bright. We need other industry to boost our dwindling coal production, and we need lower freight rates to enable Eastern Kentucky to get her just share of our nation's coal business. This can be done only by canalizing the Big Sandy river. Really progressive people are united in this belief, and many of us feel that Dr. O. W. Thompson should be rewarded for his long, hard fight for this principle by electing him and sending him to Washington as a member of the 82nd Congress of the United States.

Very sincerely yours,
CHARLES F. TRIVETTE

Glasgow Jaycees Say Chapman Is Wasteful Of Taxpayers' Money

Glasgow, Ky., Oct. 28—The Glasgow Junior Chamber of Commerce today charged Senator Virgil Chapman with extravagant use of taxpayers' money to promote his own political ambitions.

In a resolution adopted by the club, the Jaycees criticized the Senator for using government-paid telegrams to publicize sponsorship of a small clinic to be held at the University of Kentucky Oct. 30. Cost of telegrams sent to newspapers and civic leaders in this city amounted to $8.39 for the shortest and $23.79 for the longest.

The Glasgow chapter estimated that Chapman recently spent several thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money to publicize his connection with the small business clinic.

Copies of the resolution were sent to Senators Chapman and Withers and civic leaders throughout Kentucky.

Indians' Savagery Supplied Pioneer Floyd Fighting Men

By HENRY P. SCALF

This is the story of how three men became the implacable foes of the Indians and how their hatred became another bulwark in the defenses of Harmon's Station in pioneer Floyd county.

The Dry Fork of Tug river heads within six miles of Jeffersonville, Tazewell county, Virginia, in March, 1789 there lived in the headwater gap of this stream, the James Roark family, and for him the pass was called Roark's Gap.

It was a time of fear in the Virginia borderland for the fierce Shawnees of the Ohio were wont to descend suddenly upon the outlying border settlements, leaving massacre and pillage in their wake. The cabin home, here on the beaten war trail of the savages was guarded closely by James Roark and his two stalwart sons.

In this month of March, when it is neither winter nor spring in the Southern Appalachians, a skulking band of Shawnees came up the Tug and approached Roark's Gap. Suddenly a snowstorm came and they sought shelter under an overhanging rock near the mouth of Dick's Fork. While sheltering there, they heard the halloo of a man for his dog as they left the sheltered nook, stalking the Paleface. Coming upon him, whose name history records as William Wheatley, of Baptist Valley, they tomahawked him. Carrying his body to the overhanging cliff they chopped it to pieces, taking fiendish delight in scattering the various parts around the vicinity.

Having committed this horror, they returned to their shelter. Of this the Roarks knew nothing. If there was any disquiet around the cabin, we may imagine Roark threw it off with the thought that it was too early for Indians to appear in the Tazewell country. They came only in the spring, when released from the confinement of their Ohio winter.

So James Roark, with his two sons, went off this day, leaving the cabin unprotected. The mother, resting perhaps, too, in the illusion that it was too early for Indians, went about her household chores, chief of which was attending to the several small children.

Suddenly the dreaded Shawnee yell was at the crashing door. The tomahawks tore through the oaken plank, the door fell. Mother and children fell quickly under the flashing tomahawks.

Roark and his sons came home late in the afternoon, but the organized pursuit failed to overtake the Indians who had fled hurriedly down the east fork of Sandy. After this, James Roark and his two sons became deadly enemies of the Indian race. Wherever they came into contact with the savages there was fierce exultation on their part in destroying them.

They became wanderers over the border. Sometime after the founding of Harmon's Station they came to Blockhouse Bottom. We do not know the year but we do know it was soon after the outpost was founded. Here the Indians were ever skulking around the mouth of Johns Creek and Roark with his two sons added to the defense of the fort. One day, the exact circumstances unknown, James Roark and his son, John, were killed in a fight with Indians. Living now was an only son, his name unknown. He disappeared into the lost pages of history after this for we hear no more of him.

It may be that he too died under the Shawnee guns or it may be that he lived and reared a family himself, somewhere upon the fast-expanding border, perpetuating the Roark name through his descendants. Who knows?

Floyd County's 'Lost Battalion'

During World War I an American infantry unit which was cut off from others of our armed forces but survived, despite all, to fight another day became famous as the "Lost Battalion."

We knew the enemy which sought to annihilate those brave men as the Hun.

Did you know that Floyd county has its Lost Battalion, too? Not soldiers but teachers. Men and women cut off from their own native soil, their boyhood and girlhood homes, their schoolday friends.

These of the Floyd county Lost Battalion are teachers who within the last 15 years have been expatriated, you might say — forced to leave their home county for other counties or other states in order to continue in the teaching profession.

For one reason or another they—good citizens all, the type Floyd county needs to retain — became teaching exiles. Why? Let us say, they were not "harmonious" as the Hall Boys define harmony.

Their own blood remaining here in the county and their friends know exactly why they were forced to find teaching jobs elsewhere. These could tell you their names. They might tell you how they wish they could have stayed at home.

But you folks who are entitled to know who they are have not the time or opportunity to inquire after their names. So we list here some of the Lost Battalion who dared to incur the displeasure of the Halls and paid therefor by finding positions elsewhere:

- |                  |                       |

| • BILL ADAMS     | • POLK SAUNDERS       |
| • JERRY SAUNDERS | • "REB" HALL          |

That list does not include Jarvis Allen, who found employment as a teacher in Greenup county, or Alton Crisp who gave up the schoolroom for work more pleasant, or perhaps others who have failed to bow the knee in utter subservience to the Halls and paid dearly for their independence of thought and action.

Others will join the Lost Battalion next year, and in years to come, unless we fight back against this tyranny with the ballot which will be in our hands next Tuesday. Use that ballot to put a stop to such spiteful vengeance brought on good citizens in the name of education in Floyd county. Vote that ballot for

Black Cats Chalk Up Eighth Straight Win

ELEVEN WHICH BEAT FLEMING DOWNED, 20-6

Wayland High Is Next On Cat Schedule, Then Paintsville Tigers Here

Lengthening its victory-streak to eight wins in a row with not a dropped stitch—except that much-disputed forfeit to Fleming high school—the Prestonsburg Black Cat football team Saturday night defeated Belfry high, the lone team to upset Fleming during the season, by a 20 to 6 score.

The Cats will attempt to make it nine straight in their annual meeting with Wayland, the only other Floyd county grid eleven, at Wayland Saturday night. Then comes that all-important do-or-die struggle with the powerful Paintsville Tigers on the home field, the following Friday, to end the season.

Although the score was close at the end of the first half—only 13 to 6, Prestonsburg—the Cats were never in danger in the Belfry game which was played on the Williamson, W. Va., field. Two passes from Hughes to ends Hill and Patten for 25 and 20 yards, respectively, paid off with touchdowns before the half was up, with Hughes' pass to Hill converting on one of the two. Belfry came charging back to score, with Varney, fullback, hitting tackle for a 35-yard touchdown run. The conversion attempt failed.

Myrtle School, Not Bonanza Won One-Room Contest

The winner in the Field Day one-room school contest was School No. 25, Myrtle, not Bonanza, as was reported recently in The Times. This, believe it or not, constitutes the second error which cannot be laid at our already overburdened doorstep.

AN APPEAL

I wish to appeal to all citizens of Floyd county. I would be thankful to God if they would all go out on Nov. 7 and vote a straight Democratic ticket.

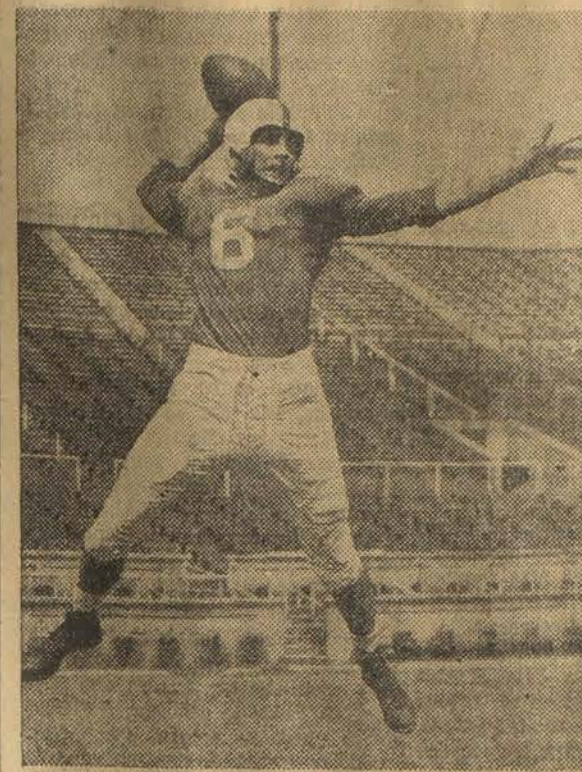

I feel sure to tell you that Hon. Earle C. Clement's will acknowledge and appreciate the votes of women as much as he does men. "Awake, awake, Deborah! Awake, awake!" (Judges 5th chapter, 12th verse.) "Arise, the queen of the South and condemn all men that fight the good works of women." (St. Luke, 11th chapter, 31st verse.)

Having confidence in you women voters, it is high time you awake, arise and shine.

Sincerely and prayerfully,

VITO (BABE) PARILLI

KENTUCKY PASSING ACE—Opponents of Kentucky's high-ranking gridiron Wildcats have made the name of Parilli famous as the most feared and respected performer in the South. The Rochester, Pa., ace led the conference in passing as a sophomore last season and competent observers predict top national honors for him on the basis of his continued improvement in passing ability and ball handling deception.

BOB GAIN

KENTUCKY ALL-AMERICAN—One of the principal reasons for the University of Kentucky's outstanding defensive success last season and to date in the current campaign is the 230 pounds of gridiron muscle from Weirton, W. Va., shown above. Gain, recently named by the Associated Press Sports Editors of the nation as the probable outstanding lineman of 1950, already has garnered more honors than most can remember.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Ray Holland is one of this country's top bird shooters, and this week he's given us some tips that should help you get your limit of pheasant this fall.

First, the two fundamentals in locating all game are food and cover. The feeding habits of the ringneck are similar to those of other gallinaceous game birds and the place to hunt him mornings and evenings is where he feeds. In the middle of the day he is usually in the most impenetrable cover he can find—willows, blackberry thickets, patches of hardhack or bog swamps.

The pheasant will eat anything that a domestic chicken will eat. That certainly gives him plenty of variety, but in a country where grain is raised look for him around these fields. When he can't get grain he does right well on weed seeds. I once killed an old cock out in the deep hardwoods when hunting grouse; he had acorns in his crop. A friend told me he kills his pheasants near a garbage dump belonging to a small town in which he lives. He says the birds come twice a day to sort over any new and choice bits.

A good bird hunter spends much time looking at the ground. It pays, and the better you are to read signs the larger your dividends will be.

To the seasoned scatter-gun artist the ringneck is an easy mark, yet beginners often have a terrible time hitting a long-tailed rooster. I've seen youngsters who could tumble a woodcock with regularity miss pheasant after pheasant. The bird dog is big and gaudy, and he makes a racket when he comes out, usually adding a raucous cackle to the noise of his wings. That's hard on the nerves. More important is the fact that he flies faster than most people realize and to kill him it is necessary to put shot in the front third of the target. That long tail makes many a man shoot behind a pheasant or hit him so far back that it won't stop him.

Just a word or two about your dog. Give him a chance. When you knock down a bird, don't plow into the cover where the bird fell and try to show your dog how to smell and find it. If you have a dog that does a halfway good job at retrieving let him alone. If the bird is dead and was quickly killed there may be very little scent for the dog to work on. When you wade around kicking in the grass or may be very little scent for the you dissipate what little scent there is and fill the whole place with man scent.

Sportsmen Asked To Heed Rules of Hunting Safety

This month many sportsmen will take to the woods and water in search of game. And this month, also, newspapers will probably carry numerous accounts of hunting accidents and other catastrophes involving the use of firearms.

Occasionally such an accident is unpreventable, but most of these injuries and deaths might have been prevented by the observance of such basic rules of hunting safety as the following:

(1) Guns should be pointed only at the object to be hit, never at a person.

(2) Before loading a gun, the barrel should always be inspected to make sure it is free from obstruction. Such inspection should be made only by looking through the breech end—never through the muzzle end.

(3) Every gun should be treated as though it might be loaded.

(4) Never climb fences or trees with a loaded gun.

(5) Carry only empty guns in an automobile or other conveyance, since a sudden jar might cause a loaded gun to be discharged.

(6) When hunting from a boat, guns should be left unloaded with muzzles pointing away from the boat until the destination is reached, and the hunters are in position.

Observance of these and other allied safety measures can do much to reduce the number of accidents annually in Kentucky. Last year, for example, a total of 60 deaths resulted from the use, or misuse, of firearms in the state.

Safety education is one of the many responsibilities of your county health department, but it is yours, too.

LET'S CALL A SPADE A SPADE

There is no such thing as "free service." When a business firm or an individual offers you so-called "free service," you can bet your bottom dollar you're paying for it. Otherwise someone would lose money, and it is fundamental economics that you can't run a business successfully losing money. So, when you are offered "free service"—by photographic studios or anyone else, take a close look and you'll find the cost of that "free service" reflected in the merchandise you receive. This is not axe grinding. It is simply calling a spade a spade in an effort to help the public skirt the pitfalls which are baited with "free service."

TO THE VOTERS OF THE PRESTONSBURG INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT:

Next Tuesday nearly all of you will (and ALL of you should) walk into a voting booth and cast a SECRET BALLOT. Whether you vote for us and the things we stand for or the "other side" and continued policies of long standing, no one should ever know. It is for you to decide whether you have had enough of the sort of management and control which, in all probability, our opponents would like to continue if elected.

We have during the last six weeks talked with a lot of you regarding our schools. We wish there could have been more time to talk to each of you at length about the many problems the "old crowd" has failed to solve. We cannot, of course, promise a miracle overnight. But we promise at least an application of commonsense and honesty to each problem that comes before us. And we believe each problem can best be solved by open discussion, "from scratch," in legal board meetings. We believe that each of you already knows that we would do only that which is best for our children. We feel that that is the greatest requirement of this office.

Two years ago you voted a small change in the Board of Education. As it turned out, your selection at the polls by ballot only replaced a member who had moved out of town. Then, by a series of resignations, moves and counter-moves the board was restored to almost its original membership. Can you be sure this won't happen again if the "old crowd" is re-elected?

We earnestly and prayerfully ask that before you make up your minds how you are going to vote in this election, that you ponder this question:

Is the present administration giving me what I should expect scholastically for my child?

As we have no interest in this election other than the welfare of the children, we frankly state that if your answer to the above question is "Yes," then you should rush to the polls and shout your intentions to vote against us. If your answer to the above question is "No," then you should just as determinedly make it possible for your vote to be counted for us. It is your election; we would receive no pay whatsoever if elected. We have promised to serve you. We will to the best of our ability.

We urge you to vote on this and all election days. Remember that your ballot is seen by you alone. We beg you to vote the conviction of your own heart and mind. We shall respectfully abide by your mandate as given on November 7th, be it for or against us.

Sincerely,

How the Candidates Stand

I, as president of the Floyd County Federation of Teachers, wrote to the candidates for Board of Education asking their position concerning the organization. J. H. Allen and James Greene gave their answers in last week's Times and we are publishing W. A. Malone's answer at this time.

EDWIN STEWART

Edwin Stewart
Langley, Kentucky
Dear Mr. Stewart,

In reply to your letter of recent date I should say to you that in making the race for membership on the Floyd County Board of Education my sincere and only reason is for the betterment of the schools. I am, therefore, for any organization which will be for the good of our teachers and our children.

Yours very sincerely,

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

"So you are selling me down the river. To be more exact, more literal, you are swapping me for a sorrel saddle horse to ride when rounding up the cattle."

Henry, the 11-year-old black mule, was talking. I had approached him for an interview before he was led to a truck that George Clements, Madisonville livestock trader, had brought a horse in.

"I'm not sorry to leave this place. Life here has been too dull. Hardly enough work to keep me healthy, I am humiliated by being traded for a horse."

"By the way," Henry continued, "don't double the humiliation by using the always inept term, 'horse sense,' in whatever you write for the papers. Horses are only one notch above cows in animal intelligence, and cows are the dumbest creatures I know about."

"But, Henry, your mother was a horse. You seem short on filial respect."

"Yes, my mother was a horse. I can't help that. Fortunately, like all mules, I took after my daddy, who was a jackass. I inherited few of my mother's traits."

"But your work was light. We worked you to a wagon when hauling corn to a drill when planting corn. Also to a manure spreader. The rest of your time has been spent in a little pasture here by the feed barn."

"Too little work was my big worry. What saddens me about farming is the growing use of machinery. This is unfortunate for both mules and farmers. In a few years the mule population will have dropped to as low as 10 per cent of what it was 30 years ago. In the next 10 years there may be depressions that will throw highly mechanized farms into bankruptcy. Low prices for farm stuff, high prices for machinery will make a lot of you farmers wish you had mules to do your work."

"Do your work is right. Certainly these times you don't do much yourselves. The hardest work you do here is shoveling up manure and heaving it into a spreader. I hear the word work more often than any other word, yet there is hardly enough of it done by you and your crew to moisten your shirt collars."

"You seem to be dashing here and there in motor cars most of the time. It looks like haste but it is not the real article. You are always going or coming on gasoline power. When you get out of the cars the slowdown is so sudden I'm always expecting your feet to skid. You love speed so long as it is not your own physical exertion."

"Your haste all seems foolish. It profits you little. If you did less rushing and more thinking, you might be better off. Your haste is leading to a long, cloth-covered box with silver handles in it."

Whereupon Henry stepped briskly into the truck and Clements latched the gate.

Some Interesting Facts

From the school year 1941-42 to the end of the school year of 1946-47 Pike county increased the amount of money paid teachers 119 per cent while at the same time Floyd county increased the amount paid teachers 91 per cent. Wonder if the Floyd county teachers are satisfied with this.

At the same time Floyd county was increasing the amount of money paid the school teachers 91 per cent it was increasing the amount for General Control, which means running the office, 132 per cent.

Floyd Sunday Schools In Martin Convention

The annual meet of the Floyd County Church Schools Convention was opened Sunday by Rev. R. L. Anderson. The devotion "Thou who teachest another, teachest thou not thyself?"—Romans 2:21, was the theme.

Reports on the best things we have done this year were made by Mr. Dingus, Little Paint Church of God, and Mrs. N. L. May, Prestonsburg Methodist. Rev. Anderson gave an excellent definition of Christian education. Our greatest problems were discussed by Mr. Jesse Elliott and Mrs. Joe R. Allen. Rev. Haggard made excellent brief suggestions on "Making Christian Education More Effective."

Rev. Smalley, from Belgian Congo, Africa, reviewed the Christian Education problems of the mission field.

Last, Rev. Black presented a challenge to the group in his discussion "Look ahead and plan for future family Christian education."

The convention elected the following officers for 1950-51: Sillas Tackett, president; Thomas Patrick, vice-president; Clarence King, 1st vice-president; Dortha W. Allen, sec.-treas.

For the 1951 convention the last Sunday in October, the kind invitation of the Prestonsburg Presbyterian Church was accepted.

Sitting on the platform with Barkley and appearing as a speaker, Ex-Congressman A. J. May, Prestonsburg, drew applause which rivaled that given the Vice-President at Salsersville. Friends of both sexes rushed to shake his hand on conclusion of his speech.

Among others on the platform and speaking were Congressman Perkins, State Senator Doug Hays, of McDowell, and Kash Holbrook, Salsersville.

The campaign waxed hotter through the week, with Board of Education races in two educational divisions of this county promising to draw a heavy vote to the polls next Tuesday.

The regular ballot will offer the voter these choices:

For U. S. Senator (both long and unexpired terms): Democrat—Earle C. Clements; Republican—Charles I. Dawson.

For Congress: Democrat—Carl D. Perkins; Republican—Dr. O. W. Thompson.

The ballot also will ask the voter to make his choice, yes or no, on a $400,000 bond issue as the county's part in the construction of a Floyd County War Memorial Hospital.

In Educational Division No. 1 the opposing candidates are James Greene and Estill Howell; in Division No. 2, Dr. J. H. Allen and W. A. (Bill) Malone.

In Prestonsburg three members of the City Board of Education are to be elected. This ballot will present two tickets—Dr. George P. Archer, W. A. Spradlin and Bill Bunting on one; Z. S. Dickerson, Okie Dorton and McKinley Sparks on the other.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.

SNAKY PLACES

As I so often do, I have just been out wading dense vegetation and swampy mud on one of my bird-observation trips. When I was going through some of the densest weeds and grass, I recalled how often people pick out just such places for snakes and fairly fly through the vegetation, scared to death. From many years of experience I would say that such scary people were safer right then than when they were walking through an open wood, with little or no undergrowth. Only down in the extreme western end of the state, where the cotton-mouthed Moccasin lives and strikes does one need to fear thick undergrowth when he is out walking around. Our only two poisonous snakes in central Kentucky, the Rattlesnake and the Copperhead, frequent open woods and dry places, not dense growth along the creeks or heavy pastures. And yet few of the numerous people who have walked with me felt any fear in the open woods but got watchful or even panicky in the weeds. Wild stories told in the Purchase about the numbers of people who have been bitten by Cotton-mouths would make it appear that it is a miracle that any of the people there ever grew to manhood. When I have tried to pin down people in this area where I live, I have never yet found one who could give the name and address of anyone bitten by a snake in swampy or weedy places and very, very few bitten anywhere. But this folk attitude toward snakes crops up every year, apparently getting no better, in spite of many popular lectures on reptiles that state very frankly the habits of our poisonous snakes. If Grandpa said that a snake, actually as harmless as a chicken, had bitten someone, away back in the ancient days of the state, that settled the matter for all time. No amount of reading in books or listening to lecturers has changed the fear of snakes.

On numerous occasions I have camped in what purported to be the snakiest of snaky places. To date I have never seen a snake of any kind in this camping place, even though some of the natives who saw me spreading my tent expected to find me a dead man the next day. In fact, the number of live poisonous snakes of all kinds that I have seen in my part of the state has now risen to exactly four, two each of the Copperhead and the Rattlesnake. And yet I have been out at every season of the year for forty years and in just about every kind of habitat. When I tell scary people this, I get a cold stare as a reward; they know that snakes are just lying in wait behind every log in the woods and are already coiled to strike in dense grasses or weeds. One friend of mine, who went walking in the woods with me, would gaze over a log or even rake with a stick the leaves on the far side before he would step over. And you should have seen him step! If three-league boots would do half so well, they would be priceless.

Now I am not a herpetologist—snake specialist—at all and do not pretend that I am not affected somewhat when I see a snake. I usually take a good look at it, noting its markings and features, if it does not have any dangerous signs. I "pass by on the other side" and leave the harmless critter to its own devices. If it has a suspiciously large head or creates a strange rattle in the leaves, I look more closely and avoid getting directly in its path or within reasonable striking reach. Most of the snakes turn out to be very harmless creatures, not warranting any bloodshed or excited nerves. When the snake is really a rattler, which has happened only four times in my entire life, at home and abroad, I try to protect the next comer against it by striking first. And yet I cannot keep from being a little glad that the big rattler that struck at my boots on an unfrequented trail in the Great Smokies got away before I could find a stone or a stick to dispatch it. What right had I in its territory, anyway?

Without question this fear of snakes is not an elemental thing but has been induced by scary stories, told and believed as if they were from Holy Writ itself. Small children that I have known, who had never been told wild tales about snakes, felt no more fear for a snake than for a fishing worm. A few grown-ups feel that way, too, but they apparently had to unlearn the long folk tradition that they learned long ago.

But the constant loss of good teachers from the schools and the loss of the good citizens that teachers are from the county itself after incurring the disfavor of the Halls—this is an expense to our county which is beyond expression in dollars and cents.

TWO BIG QUESTIONS:

would be your superintendent, two years from now, if Dr. Allen and James Greene were re-elected and an appointment should be made in their favor? Salisbury? Turner? Frazier?—?

If it is to be Salisbury then it should be made known so that the people can consider him and his qualifications for the position.

If it is to be Turner the people should likewise be able to consider him. Certainly Frazier and his supporters would like to know it.

If it is to be Frazier let it be known. I am sure that the county people will want to know his plans for the new county high school and for the county schools in general.

is your program Mr. Salisbury, or Mr. Turner, or Mr. Frazier or whoever? Amongst you considerable criticism (most of it unfounded) has been offered. But the people want to know what you would do differently or better? Talk is cheap! It's the doing that counts. The people have a right to an open, public announcement of your program.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Dr. Allen in the illness of his wife and to both our opponents we would say, "Let there be no ill feeling." We are running out what we believe to be the vital issues and are willing to give our time and attention to a worthy cause, the welfare of our children.

It is rumored that the opposition will place in the last issue of The Times some "stuff" that it will be "too late to answer." We know that you will consider it in the proper light. We urge all voters to go to the polls and vote, both on the political ballot and the school ballot. Even though you may not decide to vote for us, vote. When you get your school ballot behind the curtain, with the children in mind—think, consider and let your conscience be your guide.

Are Teachers Citizens?

It is a great responsibility to be a teacher. Few citizens of Floyd county will deny their abiding faith in the role of the teacher and in the power of true teaching. The safety of future civilization depends upon the development of outstanding character, integrity, and citizenship through our schools. Our country's greatest resources in this development is the teacher who will hold up the standards of good citizenship and seek to lift them higher. Do not we as teachers of the youth of Floyd county have the obligation and privilege to approve or condemn those undemocratic practices within our school system which would destroy the rights of members of the teaching profession?

As a teacher in Prestonsburg High School for the past seven years I have tried to the best of my ability to gain and keep the respect of the students with whom I work. I have been reared by a father who has spent his life in the schools of Floyd county as a teacher and superintendent and who instilled in me from childhood the qualities of honesty and straightforwardness. Because of that I feel it my duty to the parents and citizens of Prestonsburg and Floyd county to reveal to them a letter written to me as a teacher by our County Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Palmer Hall—a letter which sought to destroy my self-respect, which sought to humiliate and terrorize me and drive me from the schools of Floyd county. I received this letter upon re-entering Prestonsburg High School as a teacher after an absence from school of 4½ months spent in graduate school at the University of Kentucky, where I completed a fifth year of college in an effort to render better service to the Floyd county youth whom I serve.

The following letter is a duplication of the one which Mr. Hall wrote me:

September 1, 1948
Miss Linda Stephens,
Prestonsburg, Kentucky

Dear Miss Linda,

In as much as you did not tender a resignation nor make application for reemployment to the Floyd County Board of Education, and whereas your attitude during your work last year was in many respects non-cooperative and non-professional, your employment by this Board this year has been placed on a month-to-month basis.

It was with reluctance that I recommended this and only because there seemed little question or doubt as to the truth of the above statements. Only the Board Members, Secretary, myself and the City Superintendent will know of this and if your work and your attitude is what it should be there will be no question raised, and your employment will continue. You will not, of course, sign a regular contract at the teacher's meeting Friday.

Sincerely and educationally yours,
PALMER L. HALL,
Superintendent

ph/

This letter is a direct violation of the ethics of the teaching profession, as Mr. Hall made no effort to talk over with me his criticisms of my work and attitude. This letter is the only contact I have had with him. It is undeniable evidence of the undemocratic measures practiced by Mr. Hall in the name of the Floyd County Board of Education. Members of the Floyd County Board of Education will make affidavits that they did not place my employment on a monthly basis or authorize the writing of this letter. They will go on record as condemning practices such as this which are used to intimidate qualified teachers. Every parent in Floyd county

To the People of Educational Division Number 2:

We appeal to you to give Dr. J. H. Allen your fullest support at next Tuesday's election. We make this appeal, because Dr. Allen, loyal to his wife as all good men should be, is at her bedside in the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., where she is expected to undergo a critical surgical operation.

"Doc" Allen, as most of you know him, is one of you. In sickness and at times when his services were needed in your homes, he has been on your side over the years. It is true, you have paid him for his professional services, but there have been many days and nights when he traveled rough, muddy roads to get to you when he himself was not well; or when, if he had not considered your loved ones above his own comfort, he would have preferred to stay at home.

Now, Dr. Allen cannot come to you in person to ask your help. His duty is to his wife. That is why we appeal to the loyal people of his district to help him at this time when their help is needed, at a time when he cannot be here to fight in his own defense.

We do not believe you will fail him. And we know he will never forget your kindness.

IS THIS REAL ECONOMY?

The Hall administration has talked much about the economy of their school administration through the reign of Town and Palmer, Pike and Floyd counties are two of the largest in the state and the buildings of each county used for school purposes should be about equal in value. Yet it is interesting to note the amount paid for insurance by these two counties over the last few years.

YEAR	FLOYD	PIKE
1941-42	$ 7,913.00	$ 6,843.87
1942-43	8,403.40	7,318.59
1943-44	14,283.27	8,294.96
1944-45	17,081.45	8,294.96
1945-46	11,616.76	9,382.16
1946-47	45,921.41	9,946.93
1947-48	14,782.05	20,041.45
TOTALS	$120,001.34	$ 70,122.92

The above figures were taken from the biennial reports of the State Department of Education. This means that Floyd county spent $49,878.42 more for insurance premiums in seven years than Pike county.

up with the increase of population, with the result that there are now relatively fewer doctors to go around than there were in 1942.

The 11 medical men in Prestonsburg at the present time marks a gain over 1942, when the total was 7.

The outlook for the graduation of more doctors to safeguard the health of the American people is better than it has ever been, according to the annual report of the AMA's Council on Medical Education. It is expected that more than 6,000 medical students will be graduated this year, the most since 1946 and 1947 when several schools produced more than one class a year under the wartime program.

The objectives of the Prestonsburg P-T.A. for the year are the following: One—Remove the need for various classes and grades to put on money raising projects in order to raise money for school materials and supplies by paying for the needed supplies through the P-T.A.; Two—Make it possible to develop an appreciation of good music by purchasing a portable record player and a large selection of good records; Three—Improve the stage and dressing rooms and encourage more students to participate in dramas by purchasing additional stage props and necessary equipment; Four—Continue to develop the costume wardrobe in order to permit any child to participate in the various programs and especially those children whose parents are not in a position to buy or make the necessary costumes; Five—Introduce finger painting to the school curriculum on a trial basis and if it proves successful advocate it for a regular school function. Finger painting gives children an emotional outlet which permits the teachers to learn better how to handle the child and also tends to make the children more stable emotionally; Six—To assist the school principals and superintendents in any endeavor which will be beneficial to the school and children; Seven—To make more parents aware of the need for their interest and participation in the programs and problems of the school.

All of these projects will cost an estimated $500 and all funds raised by this project will be spent only for the betterment of the schools and for the benefit of the children. All expenses of operating the P-T.A. are paid from dues collected from the members.

All parents are urged to attend the P-T.A. meetings held on the third Thursday of each month and to join its membership.

LEM 'REEPORTS' to TIM
(Like He Sed He Wood)

It wuz way past midnite. Lem had bin out seein his frends fer Bill Malone an Estill Howell in the schul race. Lem nocked on Tim's dore!

"Who is it?" sez Tim. "It's me, Tim," sez Lem. "I've cum to report on the schul race like I sed I wud." Tim opened the dore, an Lem wint inside. "I'm glad you've cum, even if it IS atter midnite!"

"Well, Tim," sez Lem, "it's this way with me. Midnite don't spell no odds with me when I git riled up over good schuls fer my youngins. Ye no verry well we'd fite fer ar kids at the drap uv a hat. Well, we can fight fer em with ar votes fer Bill an Estill and the Hall boys, same as fitin with ar fists."

"You're adzactly rite, Lem," sez Tim. "Go ahead with yer reeportin."

"Well, Tim," sez Lem, "it looks plum good fer Bill an Estill both. Neerly ever feller I see sez Bill an Estill ar gittin up a lot uv steem, like reel race hosses. Everybody sez Bill an Estill will stand up to the word like Doc Osborn an Stratton, an do the rite thang in the schuls. Lots uv people ain't likin it cause doc allen an jimmy ar runnin agin us, when they run fer us five years ago. doc allen an jimmy say the Supt. needs changin off, but most fellers I see ar fer swappin doc an jimmy off, an puttin Bill an Estill on the Bord. They say these changes wud remidy the hole sit-uashun."

"They're rite, Lem," sez Tim. "An another thang, Lem, people ant likin it, cause doc an jimmys fellers ar sayin bad thangs agin Town an Palmer, whin them same fellers aint never offered no schul program uv ther own atall fer ar younguns. Me an you both no, Lem, that the Hall boys ar the best frends ar youngins ever had in the schuls. Fer instand, who ever seed a yaller schul bus in Floyd county till the Hall boys cum in? The Blue Grass had schul busses nigh onto forty years before the Hall boys got em fer ar youngins up here. Now days the yaller schul busses run up an down ever gud rode in ar county fer the county youngins. I aint fer sartin where salsberry er turner er frazier ar fer schul busses, er agin em, cause they aint never put out nary platform to run on; the Hall boys have proved thay ar fer runnin the busses, an Bill an Estill ar fer um too; Why, Lem, them yaller schul busses ar wurth more to the youngins than all the schul taxes we pay, not mentionin the nine munts free schuls ar youngins git; an all the big schul buildins the Hall boys have bit with ar tax money. Speakin serious to ye, Lem, I aint fer hoss swappin a shore thang under the Hall boys to a pig in a poke under them other fellers. If all the schul provemints the Hall boys hav give us wuz took out out uv ar county, ar schuls wud be like deeserted graveyards, Lem, shore as shootin. Doc an jimmy's little sign in the paper seems to be prayin fer ar kids. Thay better be prayin fer themselves, Lem; ar youngins ar already saved! Of course we need Bill an Estill lected, so ar kids schoolin wont be innerfered with."

"Doggone if ye aint tellin God's trut', Tim," sez Lem. "Them schul provemints the Hall boys have give us ar causin Bill an Estill to run ahead uv the hounds. A big majority uv people will vote fer Bill an Estill, cause ye jist cant git a good thinkin feller to vote agin his youngins welfare. In fact, doc an jimmy ar goin to be furder behind then ever, if they dont get em a bottle uv that ther Hadacol!"

"An another thang, Lem," sez Tim. "doc an jimmys fellers ar tryin to re-elect themselves on big scary tales an proper gander. They're tellin thet Bill an Estill an the Hall boys aim to move the Martin schul an Dinwood to Allen; an thet Auxier an Prestonsburg schuls will be moved to Allen too. Sich tale and proper gander as this aint foolin me an you, Lem, ner nobody else. In fact I aim to fite harder'n ever fer Bill an Estill, cause doc an jimmys gang started sich outragus, fectishus, home-made lecticneering schem, tryin to fool us good onest taxpayers. Sich tales ar nuthin but sassafra an baloney. Lem, thet's it, sassafra an spiled baloney! It wouldn't sprize me much if them felers tell thet Bill an Estill and the Hall boys wuz aim to put horns on the MOON, an move it somewhere."

"You're rite, Tim," sez Lem. "An heres another BIG ITEM us county taxpayers better watch like a hawk! frazier is runnin a city schul bord in Prestonsburg an hes mighty intersted in gettin doc an jimmy lected out in the county too. Now, Tim, if frazier gits both bords lected like he wants it, thay may take a lot uv ar county tax money an dump it in Prestonsburg fer the city children, instid uv usin it fer the county youngins whose paws an maws ar payin the county schul taxes. Alredy sum fellers frum Prestonsburg hav been out in the county fer doc an jimmy, agin Bill an Estill, an I'm gittin mighty spichus uv en. Us county fellers might neart keep all the business up in Prestonsburg as it is, but we ort not let them city fellers lect ar county schul bord. frazier an his bunch may have evil deesines on us, Tim, that's it, evil deesines! Bill an Estill an the Hall boys stand fer bildin a big schul on that peace uv ground they bot below Glen Spradlins, for ar COUNTY youngins, but the city will have to pay toution if ther kids cam to ar schul! Us county fellers aint sposed to bild a high school fer the CITY youngins, Tim, nosree, jist ar COUNTRY youngins! I say let Prestonsburg look after its own youngins, Tim, dont you, unless they merge with the county."

"Shore I do! An another thang, Tim," sez Lem! "A big lot uv them war veterans ar fer Bill an Estill, cause thay stand fer the Hall boys. Town an Boon both went to the Navy, an about ten uv ther nefews. It busted Town up purty bad tryin to keep up with them young 18 year old fellers an him about 40, but Town volunteered an dun hs best. Palmer wuz in the Rainbow Division, an a hole passel uv his nefews went in. Palmer, I guess, wuz shootin them germans heads off like he shoots turkeys, till thay captured him an put him in that german prison camp, yessiree! Palmer purt near suffered hell on earth in ther, eatin thin soop and a few raisins a day until ar men with tanks took him back frum the germans. But wher wuz SALSBERY an TURNER an FRAZIER? Salsberry wuz princible at Auxier an then Martin; an Turner wuz princible at Maytown, livin in the countys house; an frazier wuz wearin out shoe leather gettin frum one job to the tother, in Floridy er somers. Yessir, Tim, Salsberry an turner an frazier ot to be shamed uv themselves, tryin to take Palmer's offic frum him, whin all three uv em had big payin jobs all thru the war close to home wher they wasnt no bullets flyin! Aint it the truth, Tim?" sez Lem.

"I must go home, now. Its purt near dalite. See ever feller ye can fer Bill an Estill, Tim. Tell em to put ther votin stinnicle rite over frum Bill an Estill's names like this:

ESTILL HOWELL  (Div. 1)
W. A. MALONE  (Div. 2)

The harder we work, the bigger ar majority fer Bill an Estill both. We jist need ONE man to go with Doc Osborn an Stratton, but we must lect Bill an Estill both so this fusion will be stopped in the schuls!! See ye at the cort house when thay count the votes!! Doc an jimmy ar both beet, Tim, beet. That's it, beet, an thay dont no it. Good mornin, Tim! Good mornin, Lem!!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE INHUMANITY OF GOSSIP

Editor, The Times:

De Quincey, noted writer, once said: "There will be more people go to Hades for gossip than any other one thing."

If that be true, then that miserable abode should have received its quota of those evil and most treacherous individuals long ago. Many has been the reputation ruined, the hearts broken, by these wilful and wanton slanderers. They may be recognized by the backyard, over-the-fence get-togethers; the almost silent whisper, "Did you hear so-and-so about . . ." Then more is added on, until an entire volume of shameful and disgraceful falsehoods is heaped on some innocent person, unaware that he is being victimized—unaware that he or she is undergoing an ordeal by slander, by idle and evil tongues.

Whispering campaigns spring from idle and uneducated minds; from an inherent desire of some to do others harm; and from envy or hate the gossip has for some select person.

As we journey through this life of sorrows and tribulations, we should do something daily to render obsolete this saying, "Man's inhumanity to man."

GOOD ROADS BUILD GOOD CITIZENS

Under the administration of Earle C. Clements, Kentucky has built and is building some $83,700,000 worth of roads and bridges. This covers 7,000 miles of roads. Every school child knows this mileage is almost one-third the distance around the earth.

Last year, Kentucky built and contracted for more roads than any other state in the Nation except Texas. And the State Highway Department now maintains over 12,000 miles of Kentucky highways.

Almost 2,600 miles of Rural Roads were built or were under contract up to October 1, 1950, in every one of Kentucky's 120 counties. Farm-to-market roads are being built every day for people living off the main highways. The people in rural areas are being given roads to let them out of their hamlets and hollows in any kind of weather.

Good roads mean a lot to Kentuckians. It means citizens often deprived of travel to the doctor . . . school . . . market . . . church . . . their mail . . . or even to visit a neighbor . . . now are able to do this.

Good roads enable everyone to do more of the good things they are entitled to do. Good roads benefit everybody. Yes, indeed, good roads build good citizens.

When EARLE CLEMENTS became Governor, he had the foresight and vision to see this great need for good roads. AND IN LESS THAN THREE YEARS, EARLE CLEMENTS HAS GIVEN KENTUCKY MORE GOOD ROADS THAN AT ANY SIMILAR PERIOD IN HISTORY.

EARLE CLEMENTS' wise foresight enabled the 1948 Legislature to provide the means to build these good roads. This foresight is building for Kentucky a system of highways second to none in the Nation. He has shown his ability in government at the State level. Give him the opportunity to serve his Kentucky at the National level.

Think what it would mean if the leaders of all nations would choose the Bible to guide their decisions and their actions! Think what it would mean to have all people take the Scriptures into their homes and into their hearts!

For the Bible contains the guidance, the criticism, the comfort which enables us to grow continually in knowledge and richness of life. Through its teachings a country may become a great nation, leading the world to peace and freedom. To an individual the Bible can bring happiness on earth and the promise of a wonderful hereafter.

The only cure for the ignorance, superstition and prejudice of the world is the Holy Bible. In its pages we learn of the fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man, the worth, dignity and personal responsibility to God of every individual—the pattern for daily living.

The Bible, if all nations would follow its precepts and its light, could help us preserve our civilization from dangers within and without. The Bible is the voice of a loving Father showing us the paths of righteousness and peace. Let us open our Bibles and find God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HUNTERS, GUNS TO BE BARRED

To Make Certain None Will Jump Gun Before Season Opens Nov. 19

Earl Wallace, director of the Division of Game and Fish, is trying to make certain again that nobody in Kentucky will jump the quail and rabbit season which opens at midnight Nov. 19.

He is seeking to achieve that end by the simple expedient of barring hunters and shotguns from Kentucky fields and woods from midnight Nov. 5 till the official opening hour.

Barring of hunters and shotguns was decided on, the director declared, in order to protect game between the closing of the squirrel season and the opening of the quail and rabbit season. He pointed out that violators have used the ruse of hunting groundhogs and crows and other animals in the past, when in reality they were hunting quail and rabbits. By using this ruse many violators have escaped punishment in the courts. With this new emergency regulation being in effect a hunter will have no excuse for carrying a shotgun in the fields during this designated 14-day period, and will be in violation of the law by so doing.

Authority for such emergency regulations was given the director and the Game and Fish Commission by an act of the General Assembly in 1948.

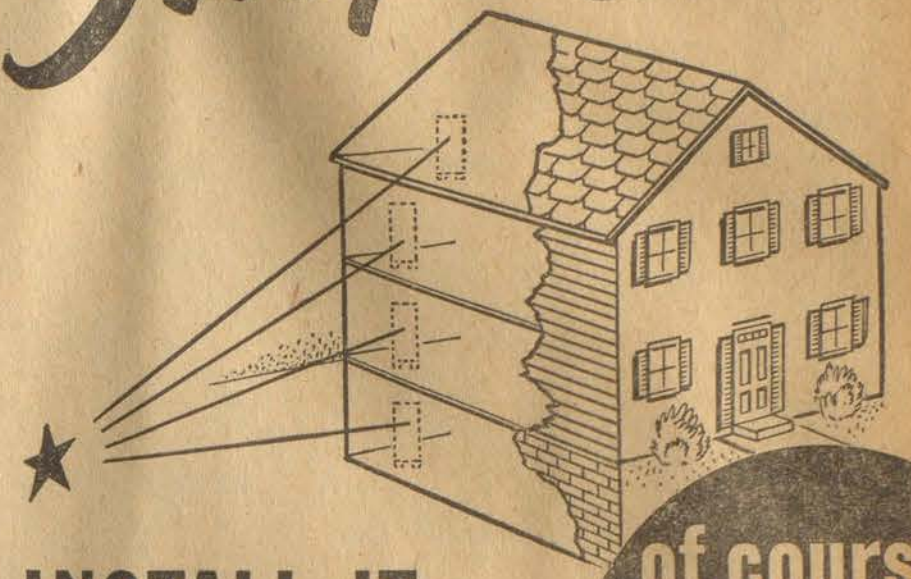

The Division of Game and Fish has issued a request that all farmers, sportsmen and others interested in the conservation of wildlife assist in the enforcement of this regulation, since it is the only method by which the thief and cheater hunter may be kept out of the fields during the period immediately before the opening of the legal hunting season.

YOUR NEW HIGH SCHOOL ?

Shown above is a sketch (drawn by the architect) showing how the new high school building to be placed on the new site for the boys and girls of the county who now attend the Prestonsburg High School under a tuition agreement and the thousands who will follow them, will look.

It will be a modern, fire-proof building. It will contain all the necessary special and regular class rooms. It will contain a school cafeteria and a generous sized auditorium. The site is large enough to allow for future expansion and play areas. It is away from the congestion of the town with its pool rooms, drug stores, etc., to distract the students. It is what the county people in this area have been waiting for and what they deserve for their children.

This school building will be paid for by the taxpayers of the county school system. It should be owned and operated by the county system to the very best advantage, for the children of those who will pay the bill. It will be county-owned and county operated if ESTILL HOWELL and BILL MALONE are given the opportunity to help carry out with Superintendent Palmer Hall his plans for this high school.

Why do we say IF? Because there might be a joker in the Board of Education races.

Although the Prestonsburg High School has for more than 20 years been a joint high school with the county owning half or more of the real estate and paying more than half of the bills, it has apparently been considered by a small group of Prestonsburg people as the city's high school and under their management, especially where the employment of teachers and the athletic program was concerned.

The present superintendent of Prestonsburg's schools is Chalmer Frazier. Mr. Frazier is sponsoring candidates for the city board and like the dog carrying a bone across the brook he now has his eye on another bone. He is also sponsoring the candidacy of James Greene and Dr. Allen for the county board. It has become more apparent that he is now the favored choice of Greene and Allen.

What is Mr. Frazier's attitude toward the new county high school? He has been one of those clamoring for new additional building(s) but he was opposed to the purchase of the new site. He expressed himself against it both before and after it was purchased. Mr. Frazier wanted additional building(s) on the old site in the middle of town (which the State Department would not approve) or on a new site next to the city's grade school building.

What is the attitude of James Greene and Dr. Allen toward Mr. Frazier and his ideas? Mr. Frazier (and one of the city board candidates) is vigorously supporting their campaign for re-election. For the past several months he has been one of their chief advisors. Apparently upon their invitation, and as their advisor, Mr. Frazier has recently sat in on several meetings of the county board at times when he had no business to transact which concerned him or the city schools. The law says that the superintendent shall attend all board meetings and shall be the professional advisor of the board but it did not say nor intend that the superintendent of the city system should attend meetings and advise members of the county board.

Could it be that a fine high school plant may be built by the county yet operated largely according to the wishes of a few people in the city district if Greene and Allen are retained on the county board?

Both the city and county children are in need of better high school facilities. A great many of the city people are interested only in having a good, well-balanced high school program in the best building and on the best site available. The county board is now in the unique position of owning half or more of a high school plant and furnishing more than two-thirds of the children, yet has nothing to say about the employment of teachers or the operation of the school. They will want to make sure that the new school which they must build will be theirs to operate by electing

CHURCH NEWS

The Revival closed recently with new members added to our church. The services were inspirational and enjoyed by everyone who attended. The planned shower for Rev. and Mrs. Kenny really turned into a storm. An unusually large number attended the prayer service and brought their prayers in person. An appreciation of Rev. Kenny's efforts was demonstrated in this act. The Sewing Club will meet on the first Saturday in November at 1 p.m. The place will be announced later. The business meeting of the Christian Board of Education will be held the first Tuesday of each month. Everyone is urged to attend. Remember Sunday School each Sunday at 9:30. Church each first and third Sunday mornings and second and fourth Sunday nights at 7:00. We feel very fortunate in having Rev. Kenny as our pastor. He is bringing some wonderful messages and every person who does not attend church elsewhere should avail himself of this opportunity.

HOT, FIERY GAS
Stomach Like a Furnace

A Prestonsburg man said recently that his stomach used to burn like a "gas factory!" That is, when he ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. He was always bloated, had gas pains daily. But now this man says he is FREE OF STOMACH GAS and he says the change is due to taking CERTA-VIN. His meals agree with him. CERTA-VIN is a new formula. Taken before meals it works with your food, expels the gas, and thus you get the fullest good out of your meals. It contains Ten Great Herbs, plus vitamin B and Iron. Besides relieving gas it also enriches the blood (with iron) and makes stronger nerves (with vitamin B). Miserable people soon feel better all over. So don't go on suffering! Get CERTA-VIN at the W. A. Rose Drug Store (formerly Hughes Drug Store).

The famed Indian scout, Kit Carson, chose Taos, New Mexico as his permanent home. His residence there is now a museum.

FOREST FIRES

The fall fire season is now at hand and every person, especially land owners, should be on guard to protect their forests and buildings from fire. According to Palmer Crum, state forest ranger, Floyd county had 88 fires during the 1950 spring fire season. These fires burned 1,940 acres of land and cost fifty cents an acre to put them out. The damage was conservatively estimated $4,386, that is $2.00 per acre for forest land and $1.00 per acre for open fields. Two dollars per acre can't begin to replace the young trees, pay for the damage to old trees, and build up the fertility of the soil to where it was before the fire started. The Kentucky Legislature has passed laws to protect our forests. A fine of not less than $10.00 to not more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not less than ten days and not more than two years, or both fine and imprisonment can be imposed on anyone for one or more of the following violations:

This is to express the gratitude and appreciation of the national organization of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States for your steadfast loyalty and support of the traditional policy of pensions for aged and incapacitated war veterans during House consideration of the pension bill, H.R. 2681, on March 22-24, 1949. Although the bill was voted back to committee by a slender margin there is reason to believe another pension bill will be brought up for consideration in the near future.

WANT to be free from that nervous tensing up for a jolt every time a rough spot looms in the road ahead? Want to enjoy the relaxing feel of a sure-footed car beneath you, that stays level even when the road doesn't? Well, sir, ease into a Buick and see how such matters are cared for. See what a wonderful difference in level buoyancy coil springs can make when you have them on all four wheels, not just the front ones. Note what firm and solid steadiness is yours when a full-length torque-tube drive is your keel—how smoothly you stay on course when the rear wheels can't help but run true. See what big, low-pressure tires and Buick's wide rims can do to pillow your course without jounce or sway. In other words, sample this two-ton beauty for over-all stance and balance—and the cradling comfort of its roomy interiors. And while you're at it, get the very special thrill of its mighty Fireball power plant, plus the free-as-a-bird-in-flight bliss of its Dynaflo Drive.* It's an experience that you owe yourself—and it's yours for the asking. IT IS YOUR DECISION TO MAKE

SOME there may be who, convinced of the right of the bond issue which would make possible the Floyd County War Memorial Hospital, would make an effort to have the ballots voted or have them counted "as they should be," regardless of the expressed will of the people.

With this theory of government THE TIMES disagrees.

This bond issue is a matter for the people to decide. If they want this hospital as a war memorial and as a boon to present and future generations, let them vote the county's part of the money required to build it. If they are not sufficiently interested, it is Floyd county's misfortune.

Certainly it isn't anybody's duty to have the dead and otherwise missing voted by proxy, or to have non-existent ballots counted.

This cause, as we see it, is above fraud and cheap politics. Bank mules and posts with human names are below this ideal.

Both political parties have joined in the drive for votes for the bond issue. Veterans, mindful of fallen comrades, are taking an active part in urging the people's support. Civic clubs are doing their bit. It has been explained that with this year elimination of the present 20-cent sinking fund levy which has been in effect for many years to pay off old indebtedness will result in the bond issue requiring no taxpayer to pay a higher levy. Too, it has been explained that this hospital, planned as the section's finest, would bring to the valley specialists who otherwise would not locate here.

It is the duty of every man and woman in free America to vote, to put democracy literally into action, and to see that their expression is not twisted to suit the whims or desires of others.

On this war memorial bond issue we ask that you all vote "Yes." But whatever your opinion of this issue or any other, it is your duty to vote.

To the People of Floyd County:

On this November 7, 1950, the voters of Floyd county have the privilege of voting on a hospital, a hospital that will not only be of benefit to them, but a hospital that will serve forever as a memorial to our buddies across the seas. Today there stands no monument in this county to do homage to the brave men of Floyd county, Kentucky, who have died for their country in World Wars I and II. Only in the minds and hearts of those who knew and loved them is there a memorial to these, our honored dead. It is most fitting that, on the eve of Armistice Day and while this country is poised on the threshold of what may be another world conflict, we cast our ballot in honor of our heroic dead. To forget to vote on the Hospital Bond issue would be to forget and dishonor these men.

By this open letter, the veterans of Floyd county, Kentucky, wish to advise and remind their fellow voters of this county of the hospital that can be built in Floyd county if they will only vote for it. This hospital, to be dedicated as the Veterans Memorial Hospital, will have a bronze plaque bearing the names of all soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen from Floyd county who were killed in World Wars I and II. It will be a completely equipped hospital of 85 beds, with the latest operating facilities and the most up-to-date technical improvements, providing examination, diagnosis and treatment for all of the sick and injured, rich and poor alike, in this county. The construction of this hospital will be an asset to our county that we can all be proud of. This is an offer that we cannot afford to turn down as most of the funds will be furnished by the federal government, nor will our taxes be raised because of it.

As representatives of the various Veterans' Organizations in Floyd county, we are appealing to you, our fellow citizens, both veterans and non-veterans, to vote YES on your ballots this year. Remember, a two-thirds majority of the vote cast is necessary if we are to get the hospital. If you forget to vote, you will be voting against the hospital.

The following is a sworn statement made by a school bus driver showing how Boone Hall attempts to create fear and to keep school employees under political domination.

I, Don Hutchinson, swear that on Saturday, October 14, at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, I was approached by Director of Rural Instruction, Boone Hall, and informed that if I could not be for the Halls, it would be better for me to be for no one if I cared anything about my job. On the second visit to my parents' home Boone repeated the above mentioned statement whereupon he was informed that he was asking a fellow to give up his birthright. And that I had served 21 months with the Armed Services in order that this right might be protected.

We wish to say again that we are running only for the interest of all our children. We favor merger as a general principle; and in the future when it seems that interests of our children will be best served by a merger, we will then open negotiations for same.

We have nothing to say against any of our opponents, and have nothing but the kindest feeling toward them.

Believing that the people of this district have confidence enough in our ability, honesty, and integrity to elect us, we assure you that we will serve you to the best of our ability.

Will be the basis of Sunday night sermons

By the Pastor at the

Irene Cole Memorial

BAPTIST CHURCH

Prestonsburg, Ky.

November 5th thru December 31, 1950

7:30 each Sunday Night

Have you ever heard a series of sermons on the 10 Commandments?

You ought to Hear These

A SERIES OF NINE SERMONS ON THE TEN COMMANDMENTS ON NINE SUNDAY NIGHTS AT 7:30

"... MAN DOETH NOT LIVE BY BREAD ONLY BUT BY EVERY WORD THAT PROCEEDETH OUT OF THE MOUTH OF THE LORD..." DT. 8:3

HEAR EVERY ONE OF THESE SERMONS—FOR HEALTH, HAPPINESS AND PROSPERITY COME AND GET THE ANSWERS

NOV. 5—

- "THOU SHALT HAVE NO OTHER GODS BEFORE ME... Thou shalt not make unto thee a graven image nor the likeness of any form that is in heaven above..." Exodus 20:3ff.
  - Why should God command people to have no other Gods?
  - Does every man worship something? What do most sinners worship?
  - How can any one tell what a man worships?

NOV. 12—

- "THOU SHALT NOT TAKE THE NAME OF THE LORD THY GOD IN VAIN..."
  - In how many ways can a person break this commandment?
  - Does every saved person reverence the name of God?
  - Is the careless use of God's name a serious sin?

NOV. 19—

- "REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY TO KEEP IT HOLY."
  - Is this commandment binding upon people today?
  - Is there another part of this commandment which is just as important?
  - Is there scriptural basis for observing Sunday as our Sabbath?

NOV. 26—

- "HONOR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER: THAT THY DAYS MAY BE LONG..."
  - When and where does one learn to honor father and mother?
  - Is it the parents' fault if children do not honor them?
  - What is the best way to honor one's father and mother?

DEC. 3—

- "THOU SHALT DO NO MURDER..."
  - What is the difference between killing and murder?
  - Is the death penalty ever justified?
  - When a soldier kills a man in battle is that murder?
  - When is a murderer not a murderer?

DEC. 10—

- "THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY."
  - What is the highest and holiest earthly relationship?
  - Why is adultery such a serious sin? Ans. It hurts seven ways.
  - Is it possible to be pure in heart in these days?
  - Can a man or woman who is divorced remarry without committing adultery?

DEC. 17—

- "THOU SHALT NOT STEAL."
  - Is there such a thing as legalized and respectable stealing?
  - When is a thief a kleptomaniac?
  - Does communism respect a person's right to own property?
  - What is the relation between gambling and stealing?

DEC. 24—

- "THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS AGAINST THY NEIGHBOR."
  - What is the difference between white lies and black lies?
  - Is our reputation important in God's sight?
  - Which is worse, a Thief, a Tale Bearer or a Slanderer?
  - What is the best way to deal with tale bearers?

DEC. 31—

- "THOU SHALT NOT COVET... ANYTHING THAT IS THY NEIGHBOR'S."
  - When is it a sin to desire what some one else has?
  - Can covetousness and real Christianity dwell in the same heart?
  - What other sins grow out of unconquered covetousness?

Jest Among Us...

By Jack Wild

This week's column is dedicated to all who like Kentucky-style cooking—and that ought to be just about everybody.

There recently appeared in several newspapers an article from the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, urging Kentucky restaurant owners to boost their state by featuring Kentucky foods. Thus, the C. of C. logically remarked, visitors would be led to say good words about Kentucky when they got back home.

The same day that story was printed a letter came to me from Mrs. V. F. Jones, of Johnson, Kansas, and Mrs. Jones requested the recipe of some typically Kentucky dessert that she could serve at a luncheon.

Mr. Restaurant Man and Mrs. Housewife, I ask you, what recipe would you have sent had the request come to you? What is a typical Kentucky dessert? There's Kentucky fried chicken, Kentucky wonder beans, Kentucky corn pudding, and Kentucky biscuits but what about a Kentucky dessert? I got my answer from "Stay for Tea," a cookbook published by the University of Kentucky Woman's Club for the Frances Jewell McVey Scholarship Fund, which helps worthy women students attend the University. The ladies assured me that the following recipe from that book is typically Kentuckian, and it's the one I sent to Mrs. Jones of Johnson:

Kentucky Blackberry Cobbler—One-half cup granulated sugar, one-fourth cup butter, two-thirds cup sweet milk, two teaspoons baking powder, lemon or vanilla flavor, Cream butter and sugar, add milk. Sift flour (one and one-half cups or enough to make consistency of cake batter) with baking powder and add to mixture of milk, butter and sugar. Sweeten blackberries to taste, place in baking dish and cover with cake batter. Bake. Serve with whipped cream.

Now that sounds mighty fine to me, but if you have another Kentucky dessert that you think is better, I know the Chamber of Commerce would be happy for you to send it along to Mrs. Jones.

Women's Club Observes United Nations Day

The Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club fittingly observed United Nations Day by assembling in the auditorium of the Wayland Methodist Church to listen to the radio broadcast speech of President Truman and the dedication of the freedom bell.

As the great freedom bell proclaimed its world-wide message, the church bell tolled and thirty-six women stood and led by Mrs. Wayne Plymale reverently prayed for a new birth of freedom for all nations and God's guidance over all.

Immediately following the radio program, luncheon was served in the basement of the church by Mrs. S. C. Berkeley, hostess, assisted by Mrs. Carlton Wrightson, Mrs. R. F. Vinson, and Mrs. N. D. Howard, to the following: Mesdames Frank Harman, J. E. Dampier of New Hebron, Miss. Oler of Pa., Sam Reudin of Charleston, W. Va., Harold Wakeland, C. E. Warr, Grace Amburgey, Harriet Johnson, and Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Meyers, guests, and Mesdames W. T. Hatcher, Harry Schriman, Felix Coburn, Alex Begley, Earl Castle, Everett Blanton, Rudolph Spencer, Geo. Evans, J. T. Spillman, Melvin Hayes, Willard Castle, Ralph Gardner, John Field, Wayne Plymale, Thomas Hatcher, Lurline Vanderpool, Edgar Dale, Troy Webb, M. M. Collins, Ralph Wright, John W. Wallace, and Otto Martin.

"TALK IS CHEAP," SAY THE HALLS . . .

But did you know that the land on which the new Melvin school building was erected may have to be paid for TWICE because of the Superintendent's inefficiency in properly checking the title to the property? Forty thousand dollars have been paid for the site to persons who claimed they owned it. Now others claim ownership and have sued the school system for $35,000. Talk may be cheap, but Hall business method is expensive. (Advertisement)
