

In Big Sandy-Elkhorn Annual Safety Events; State Champs Repeat

JUSTICE, CAPITAL AND LOWER CASE

For the part he played in adding to the confusion and utter futility surrounding the investigation into the Muriel Baldrige murder mystery, Leo Justice, the Pike countian who confessed, then denied, he committed the crime, was fined and ordered to jail last week. By the penalty he suffers not half as much as he might have suffered.

Now that Justice has been penalized for the sorry part he played in the case, what of young Olen Collins, who admitted he lied in accusing the carnival hanger-on, Bill Gamble, of the murder? He deserves punishment, and so does whoever conceived his story for him and rehearsed him, letter-perfect.

Floyd county should not write off this case as another of its numerous unsolved crimes without further effort. Every grand jury should make at least an effort to uncover something which might lead to the murderer.

INVITATION

The Floyd County Times would extend an invitation to The Courier-Journal to send a reporter here to observe this "non-political" school campaign which is just beginning to simmer. It's time the C-J learned the political facts-of-life about school elections.

THIS IS DISTURBING

As if the world didn't have enough to worry about, the daily newspapers this week quoted somebody who's supposed to know to the effect that 30 per cent of the women are either bald or are on their way to that unhappy state. Twisting an imaginary forelock around my forehead, I was giving some thought to this matter, the other morning, when an acquaintance gave with this same remark:

"Equal rights, that's what it is, old boy. The womenfolk, just like you, won't have a thing between them and heaven."

UNIDENTIFIED BODY

The body has not been identified. Heber Burke has it on ice. It's a fish caught in the river here by Charlie Wiechers, and the "experts" have been calling it everything but Rumpelstiltskin. It has a slender body, a deeply forked tail and a bulldog-like mouth (without the teeth, of course). Some of us loved it was a skipjack, another said it was a sturgeon. A small boy may have the answer. He said it was just a plain, old, overgrown "silverside."

The new enlistment age group for women in the Corps is now 18 through 30, with high school completion as the minimum educational requirements.

All women recruits will receive basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina.

The Marine Recruiting Office is in the Pike county court house, Pikeville.

Floyd county's only coal operations to send teams to the 18th annual Safety Day of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn district at Pikeville Friday and Saturday had two winners each.

These were the Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, and the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David One of Princess Elkhorn's teams won a mine rescue contest among teams using chemical-oxygen apparatus. It was believed to have been the first such contest held in the nation, and the medium used is so new that the winning team will not join others in the state finals at Harlan, Oct. 6-7.

Princess Elkhorn's Boy Scout team won first place in the boy's first-aid competition.

The negro team of Inland Steel, captained by J. T. Miller, won in the first-aid division and that company's girls' team, headed by Ann Parker, also won first honors in first-aid.

The two Wheelwright teams winning at Pikeville this year were state champions last year.

The Consolidation Coal Company Mine 214 team won the first-aid contest for white men.

The David Boy Scout first-aid team is composed of Lowell Hager, captain, Claude Edwin Wallen, William Thomas Bussey, Armon Dawson, Kermit Lee Collins and Gordon Ratliff.

The chemical-oxygen contest winners are Virgil Howard, captain, Orville Lyons, Ernest Wells, Walter Arwood, Joe Tussey and James Odell Cavin.

In Week's Listings From Korean Fighting; One Killed, 1 Missing

Although Red resistance south of the 38th parallel in Korea apparently is broken, to many the war news continued to be "bad" as War Department reports to next-of-kin brought news of the dead, missing and wounded.

Recent information supplied relatives discloses the names of five more Floyd countians who have been wounded in the Korean fighting, one missing, and of one former Floyd boy who was killed.

Missing in action is Cpl. Pearl Graham Derossett, son of Mrs. Ella Crum, of Lancaster.

Pvt. James M. Harrison, former Maytown boy, died Sept. 6 of wounds received in action, his mother, Mrs. George E. Littleton, of Aden, Ky., learned a few days ago.

The wounded: Cpl. David Brasham, son of Mrs. Minnie Branham, Halo; Capt. Walter M. Preston, husband of Mrs. Marie Preston and son of Mr. and Mrs. Mann Preston, Martin; Pvt. Billie Arms, son of Mrs. Martha Arms, East Point, Rct. Irvin Fannin, son of Mrs. Florence Boggs, Mare Creek, and Cpl. Everett P. Kidd, son of Mrs. Octavia Kidd, of Drift.

The family of Capt. Preston have within the last few days learned that he was stunned by a shell explosion but that he has returned to duty.

GRAND JURY INDICTS 157

Report Lauds Jailer, Peace Officers; Jury Ends Session Saturday

The 157 indictments returned by the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court during two sessions totaling nine days was one of the heaviest contributions made by a grand jury here in years to the already large court docket, a court official said this week.

The jury reported on its work Saturday before adjournment. This report, signed by S. M. Ousley, foreman, said the indictments resulted from questioning 173 witnesses.

Otherwise, the report was an encomium to Jailer Guy Horn and peace officers of the county. The jury reported that it found "the public buildings the cleanest and in the best state of repair that they have been in many years."

Major indictments returned during the last three days of the grand jury's work, beginning last Thursday, follow:

Greenville Adams, obstructing a road; Frank Nester, selling liquor; Denver Wells, reckless use of deadly weapon; Frank Disco, cold check; Wesley (Pood) Horner, attempted rape and drunk driving; Raymond Ward, Ezra Birchfield, Billy Price, Harmon Butcher, Jr., Dewey Osborne, Carmen Carroll, Melvin Hughes, Robert Stanford, Thomas Mullins, Elbert Bayes, Calvin Fred Woodard, Melvin Wells, Jr., Loren Stumbo, Leslie Hall, Garfield Adams.

Justice Fined, Jailed In Baldrige Mystery

MURDER CASE INTERFERENCE IS PENALIZED

Pikeville Man Not In Court When Case Called Here Friday

A fine and a jail sentence imposed in the Floyd circuit court last week created scarcely a ripple of interest, despite the fact that the court case stemmed from the most sensational murder mystery in Floyd county history.

The case was that in which Leo Justice, member of a well-known Pikeville family, was fined $250 and sentenced to jail for 60 days for obstructing public justice in the attempt of authorities to solve the mystery surrounding the murder here last year of Muriel Baldrige, Prestonsburg high school girl.

Justice confessed the murder of the girl, and was brought here but later released. His confession was renounced, and authorities did not give his story consideration.

He was not in court Friday when the case was called. A jury was empaneled and a verdict quickly rendered. A capias was issued for him Tuesday.

Olen Collins, Magoffin county boy who was held in jail for several weeks after making a statement to the effect that he was a companion of Bill Gamble on the night of Muriel's murder and that Gamble killed her, only to repudiate his story later, has disappeared from the scene and no court action has been taken against him.

Except for this trial of Justice in absentia the unsolved mystery was not a court topic at the recent session.

LUSTER DIES AFTER CRASH

P'Burg Football Team Escapes Injury; Auto Hits Bus in Pike-Co.

A bus transporting Prestonsburg high school's football team home from the Elkhorn City football game Friday night figured in a highway tragedy as Dan Luster, 23, Pikeville, was fatally injured when his auto struck the bus on Ky. 80, near Marrowbone Junction.

Luster died of a skull fracture, without regaining consciousness, Monday morning at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville. His companion and driver of the car, Tom Howell, Jr., also of Pikeville, was uninjured.

Passengers on the bus, which was operated by Jim P. Harris, were uninjured, but the bus was so badly damaged that the team was transferred to another vehicle for the trip home.

State police said Howell admitted he was driving the car at a speed of 55 miles an hour. Harris said Howell was driving at an even faster rate and lost control of the auto.

The highway where the wreck occurred is under construction and is uneven. It was said here that the car struck the bus near the door.

After striking the bus the auto, a 1948 Mercury convertible, rolled, end over end, 150 feet along the highway. Although pinned down by the car, the driver was removed, uninjured.

It was said here that a man was killed, the preceding Saturday night, on the same stretch of highway, and that Luster was in a wreck, a few miles from the spot a year ago, in which two men were killed.

Luster is survived by his widow and one child.

McCOY, WHO SHUNNED LIMELIGHT AS HERO AFTER WORLD WAR I FEATS, IS HONORED AS FLOYD GRAND SIR; EMPLOYED HERE

Pete McCoy, the fighting McCoy of Brusby Creek who single-handed in World War I, killed seven Germans, captured 19 more and rescued an American army captain, has become an employee of Harris Bros. Construction Company on one of its electric distribution construction jobs.

Pete was recently made a Grand Sir of Floyd county. Modest as he is, he has consistently refused the honors of public appearances and the lure of easy money by those who seek to exploit his distinction as one of the outstanding heroes of World War I. Tragedy came recently into Pete's life when an unknown hunter shot and blinded a son who was just entering manhood. The young man has recovered from the wound, but will never see again.

McCoy is a native Floyd countian, although Pike county has claimed him. He was born near the Floyd-Pike border at the "Kitten Narrows" of Brusby Fork of Johns

Reed, Mandt Elected To Martin Bank Board

Alvin Reed, of Drift, was elected to the board of directors of the First Guaranty Bank at Martin at a meeting of the board Tuesday. It was announced by G. C. Spradlin, cashier.

Mr. Reed's election and the previous naming of A. H. Mandt, of Manton, fills vacancies occurring on the board. The nine-man board of directors is composed, in addition to Reed and Mandt, of A. B. Combs, B. F. Reed, G. C. Spradlin, J. R. Hurt, Byron Brashear, Jake Cooley and Wayne Stumbo.

SAFETY WORK IS RECOGNIZED

Men Who Contributed To Safety Record Get Coal Company Awards

The Princess Elkhorn Coal Company honored at a luncheon Monday and at its annual safety dinner that evening members of its supervisory force who had contributed to its safety record for the year.

For their work in developing a safety record which showed 456,000 tons of coal mined during the period, Jan. 1 to Sept. 1, at the company's two mines with only 18 lost-time accidents, 22 employees received, or will later be presented, awards. Those honored:

To receive rings for a two-year record of no lost-time accidents—Gayle Perkins, Ezra Clark, Irvin Ramey, Virgil Howard, Harry Clay, Everett Hager, Dow Webb, Ernest Wells, David Bickford, Wilmar Branham, Ed Carver.

Certificates for hard-toe shoes to these who had received safety lamps, the preceding year for an accidentless record, and who had repeated during this year: Irvin Ramey, M. E. Thompson, Virgil Howard, Harry Clay, Lonnie Burchett and Everett Hager.

Safety lamps for the same record for a period of one year were awarded to Ezra Clark, Gayle Perkins, Dallas Vanhoose, David Bickford, Carl Bingham, Warn'e Short, Glen Dixon, Walter Arwood, Harmon Tussey, Charlie Daniels, and Kanawha Conley.

Heart Attack Fatal To John Ratliff, 71; Rites Held at Lancer

A heart attack which followed an illness from stomach ulcers was given as the direct cause of the death at Martin Monday morning of John Walter Ratliff, 71 years old, well-known Floyd county man.

Mr. Ratliff was a native of Lawrence county but had lived in Floyd county for a number of years. He had many relatives and friends in this section. He was a son of the late Richard and Minerva Hammonds Ratliff.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ellen Miller Ratliff, three sons, Tommy, Shirley and Bromley Ratliff, all of Lancer, one daughter, Mrs. Jenny Belle Grant, Detroit, Mich., two brothers Harry Ratliff, Pikeville, and Bruce Ratliff, Reckwood, Tenn., and three sisters, Mrs. Jenny Hinkle, Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. Lou Wellman and Mrs. Eva Conley, both of McCombs, Ky.

The funeral was conducted Wednesday from the residence at Lancer by the Rev. Isaac Stratton and burial was made in the family cemetery near Louisa under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

Floyd county is potentially one of the greatest producers of burley tobacco in Kentucky, statistics contained in the Production and Marketing Administration's annual report for 1949 indicate.

And, even with such promise for that crop, strawberries might be even more profitable, information released this week through John K. Pitts, reporter for the Prestonsburg Chapter, Future Farmers of America, hints.

Here's the data at hand:

Three acres of Floyd county land last year produced 6,000 pounds of tobacco, or 2,000 pounds per acre—a record before which the famed Blue Grass falls far shy. Because of the small acreage involved in this county, however, this production figure cannot be considered representative of the county's production potential as a whole.

District 3 Wet-Dry Vote Illegal, Says Yet Another Ruling

The Attorney General's office repeated last week in a letter to County Judge Henry Stumbo its earlier opinion that the Third magisterial district in this county cannot legally hold a local option election.

Judge Stumbo wrote the Attorney General after a petition containing more than 900 names of residents of the district had asked him to designate Dec. 9 as the election date.

This latest opinion was written by William F. Simpson, who told Judge Stumbo that Attorney General Funk concurred in its contents. Wrote Simpson:

"We are of the opinion that the call of such an election is not authorized under our local option laws. It is our opinion that a magisterial district which is dry territory by reason of the entire county having previously voted in favor of prohibition has no voice in invoking a local option election and has no legal right to vote on the question unless it does so as a part of the county unit in an election called for the entire county."

Judge Stumbo said this week he had been told that a suit may be filed against him asking the election, with action intended to procure a Court of Appeals ruling.

Revival To Begin Here At Presbyterian Church

The Rev. Phillip Bembower, Canada, Ky., director of the Upper Big Sandy Presbyterian Parish, will be the evangelist during the revival which will open at the Prestonsburg Presbyterian Church Monday, Oct. 9, at 7:30 p.m. The daily service will continue through October 20.

An invitation is extended to the public to attend each of these services.

CROWD HEARS GOP BLAMED

For Failure To Get River Canalization; Democrats Open Drive

An estimated 1,000 persons heard here Saturday afternoon speakers at the rally marking the opening of the Democratic campaign in this county lay greater part of the blame for failure of the Big Sandy river canalization movement at the doorstep of the Republican party. At the same time, efforts of Congressman Carl D. Perkins in behalf of the river improvement program were lauded.

The big issue, said Congressman Perkins himself, is "whether or not you are going to let the Taft Republicans take over in Kentucky."

Highlighting the program at the courthouse here were addresses by James W. Trimble (D.Ark.), member of the Public Works committee of the House of Representatives; John Keck, Commissioner of Kentucky Department of Highways, and Mr. Perkins, Democratic candidate for re-election to Congress.

Congressman Trimble stated that he was not only a member of the Public Works committee, but also was a member of the subcommittee on Rivers and Harbors and that as such he was familiar with all the legislative proceedings concerning the Big Sandy Canalization Project. He was very enthusiastic in his praise of the efforts put forth by Perkins before his committee and the Senate committee on behalf of the canalization project. Trimble said further that the record would show that the Republicans had been against this project from the beginning and that if canalization were ever accomplished, it would be by the efforts of the Democrats.

"Carl came to Washington two years ago, and I don't hesitate to tell

ASK MINISTERS TO JOIN FREEDOM CRUSADE MOVE

OCTOBER 8, DESIGNATED FREEDOM SUNDAY IN NATION'S CHURCHES; FLOYD CAMPAIGN FOR FREEDOM SCROLL SIGNERS EFFECTIVE

In Floyd county the response to the Crusade has been highly pleasing to both local and state leaders. Churches, schools, clubs and civic leaders have co-operated in calling the attention of the people to the national movement. All Freedom Scrolls in the hands of community co-chairmen should be returned to Norman Allen, county chairman, Prestonsburg, by Saturday, Oct. 16.

Sunday is Freedom Sunday in the nationwide Crusade for Freedom campaign.

Kentucky's crusade organization has urged all churches to gear their programs to the national schedule.

Sermons on the crusade, emphasizing the spiritual values inherent in the struggle for human freedom and in the battle against Communism, were asked.

Guthrie P. Crowe, Kentucky crusade chairman, said special mailing pieces are being sent out to pastors by the national crusade organization. He urged the pastoral leaders to be on the lookout for these. Kits explaining the crusade, furnishing supplies and outlining church and synagogue programs are being sent to about 80,200 pastors and rabbis throughout the country. National is working also through ministerial-association authorities to service churches for which complete mailing lists are not available.

"Through your sermons and announcements," the national appeal declares to spiritual leaders, "you can awaken the understanding of your people to the great need for action in winning the war for men's souls."

The crusade will close October 16. After this the millions of signatures on the scroll will be transported to Berlin for deposit in the newly built Freedom Shrine there. The recently cast 10-ton Freedom Bell will be rung from the shrine at special ceremonies on United Nations Day October 24.

Community Participation Urged in Ky. Observance Of Fire Prevention Week

Community participation is urged in the annual observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 8 through October 14. The week, which has been designated by Governor Earle C. Clements, is to be marked by observances of many kinds throughout the state.

The prevention of fires as a cause of death in Kentucky is of vital concern to the state and county health departments, according to Dr. Bruce Underwood, State Health Commissioner. During the year 1948, he pointed out, a total of 233 Kentuckians lost their lives as a result of fires. Many of these lives might have been saved if proper preventive measures had been taken.

By participating in the statewide observance of Fire-Prevention Week, it is hoped that a more effective year-round fire prevention program may be worked out and that people will become more alert to fire hazards.

PLAN CANCER FUND BENEFIT

Eagles To Sponsor Dance Here To Help Damon Runyon Fund

To aid the Damon Runyon Memorial Cancer fund, a dance will be sponsored by Prestonsburg Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, it was announced this week by W. G. Biggers, Aerie president.

The local dance is one of hundreds which will be held by Aeries throughout the United States and Canada during October, the birthday month of the famous columnist and author, who died of the baffling ailment. The Memorial fund, established in his name by his bosom friend, Walter Winchell, is being used to aid cancer research at a number of medical centers throughout the United States where intensive study is under way to find a cure for cancer.

"Prestonsburg Aerie invites all the organizations and citizens of Floyd county to join the Eagles in making this dance an outstanding financial success," Mr. Biggers said. "In this way we hope everyone will do his bit to help conquer cancer, one of the world's greatest killers. It is a fight for each and every one of us, members of our families, our friends, and all our fellow citizens, for no one can know where cancer will strike next."

A special committee has been appointed to arrange for the dance. Members are Gerald G. Leslie, chairman, Burnis Martin, W. V. Bunting, Paul Hayes, Robert Wellman, Walter S. Harkins, Curtis Clark, Scott Craft.

The Aerie will donate the gross proceeds of the dance, after deduction for taxes.

With the 150 odd parking meters now in use here only two months away from being paid for, the City Council at its Monday evening meeting purchased an additional 100 meters to extend the controlled parking area here.

The new meters, purchased from the Dual Parking Meter Company, were bought for $62.50 each, Mayor Curtis Clark said. These will be placed in the business district, replacing old meters which will be moved to residential sections.

With payment of the debt on the old meters in December, proceeds derived from them thereafter will belong entirely to the city, and these funds will be spent solely on street maintenance, Mayor Clark told The Times.

Wade Hall, member of the Council from Ward No. 2, resigned at Monday night's meeting. His letter of resignation indicated he quit the Council because of business which required his attention and because he did not want to embarrass the City Administration through any political activities in which he might participate.

A successor will not be named till a later Council meeting, it was said this week.

The Council decided Monday to grant the public a period of 10 weeks in which to become accustomed to the new one-way street system here. After that time, motorists violating one-way regulations will be fined, was the warning issued.

Mayor Clark said after the meeting that the city will publish a complete financial statement in November, as promised during last year's city campaign.

Hyden Appointed Special Judge in Motor Co. Case

Congressional Action Seen If Presidential Aid Not Forthcoming

The recent cut in federal funds for hospital construction will not prevent Floyd county voters from having an opportunity to vote at the coming November election on the $400,000 bond issue which would be the county's part in the construction of a $1,200,000 Floyd County War Memorial hospital.

This statement was made Wednesday by County Judge Henry Stumbo after he had learned members of both houses of Congress will take action when Congress re-convenes to restore the fund to its original amount.

The recent slash in funds came through Congressional action making it mandatory that President Truman cut $535,000,000 from the operations of government agencies.

Otis & Grimes, Louisville architects who prepared plans for the war memorial in this county, said the cut in hospital funds was made against the President's wishes. The firm wrote Judge Stumbo, Sept. 26:

"We believe that you should go ahead with your proposed bond issue for the following reasons:

"1. We have learned from what we consider to be a very reliable official source that the cut will be restored.

"2. Before adjournment last Saturday the House adopted a resolution requesting the President not to cut the hospital funds.

"3. If the President does restore the cut, Congress itself may do so when it convenes the last of November.

"4. If neither the President nor Congress restores the cut for this current fiscal year, the full funds may be appropriated for the next fiscal year starting July 1."

Coal is a fascinating natural phenomenon which for centuries has been studied by geologists, chemists, botanists and paleontologists, who are specialists in the plant life of remote geologic time.

In 1949, about 79 per cent of the bituminous coal produced was (movement) mined almost half of the U. S. output of bituminous coal, according to rail freight cars.

Reports of the meeting of Synod and Synodical recently held at Danville were ably given by the delegates, Mrs. E. R. Burke and Mrs. Ernest Osborne. Reports of the National Synodical held at Ocean Grove, N. J., were given also. A committee was named to assist in World Day of Prayer program to be announced at a later date.

Members present who enjoyed the refreshment course served by Mrs. Black were Mesdames: Ralph Dav's, F. L. Heinze, A. B. Patrick, Jack Spurlin, Dick Davis, Rainley White, John D. Thomas, Dan Reed, Greenville Spradlin, Ernest Osborne, E. R. Burke, Harold Black, Marvin Music, Mesdames Alma Collins, Sylvia Helen Davis, Catherine Reed.

Delegates named to attend the Presbyterial meeting which convened in Pikeville at the Presbyterian church Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, were Mrs. E. R. Burke and Mrs. Harold Black.

you that long before I thought I would ever be here speaking for him, I considered him one of the most outstanding, honorable laborers of the Congress of the United States," said the Arkansan.

Mr. Keck reviewed the road-building accomplishments by the State Administration, with particular emphasis upon the amount of roads constructed in Floyd county in the past biennium. Keck gave much credit to the persistence of the Democratic nominee for Congress in persuading the State Department to build many needed roads in Eastern Kentucky. Illustrating this fact, he said, "Especially during the recess of Congress, every other time I opened the door, Carl Perkins falls in and wants to know what about this or that road in Eastern Kentucky." The Highway Commissioner added that $400,000 has been set aside in the 1951 road budget for construction of Dewey Dam access roads.

Defending his record in Congress, Congressman Perkins declared he had worked diligently toward the passage of the canalization project and that he had been unceasing in his efforts to obtain favorable approval of the project and would continue to work for the project as long as he is a member of Congress. He also mentioned the fact that John Langley and A. J. May, two of his predecessors, had tried unsuccessfully to have this project approved by Congress. Perkins stated that the record would show that the main opposition to this project, both in his term and the terms of his predecessors, was instigated and led by Republicans in Congress.

Congressman Perkins continued by reviewing the work he had done in connection with federal aid to education and the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, both of which failed to materialize. Both issues came before the committee on Education and Labor, of which Perkins is a member, and he claimed failure to win approval of this legislation was due largely to Republican opposition in Congress.

Where the Blame Lies

This is a familiar plaint: "Might as well sell the place; you can't keep the young folks on the farm, any more."

Listen to any Eastern Kentucky farmer, age fifty and upwards, and you will hear those words, with slight variations.

And, unless the hearer took time out to give thought to the situation, he would be inclined to blame those young rascals for their wander-lust, for their disinclination to stick to the soil.

But the fact of the matter is, it is their elders who are to be blamed. Their elders and their elders' fathers before them.

For what have they left these youngsters? Eroded hillsides, mountain land stripped of trees, often devoid of grass, the top-soil almost gone—the original fertility and productivity of the land washed onto Ohio river farms a hundred miles and more away.

Those to whom the wealth of our natural resources was entrusted failed in their duty to conserve what they had and what should have been handed down to their children as a rich legacy.

Yes, "might as well sell the place"—unless something is done to make it pleasantly and profitably habitable and tenable. Folks don't live, these days, satisfied with "elkin" out a meagre existence. Youth looks toward improvement of its lot. Aspiring so, youth is not content to struggle, struggle, without hope.

But the situation is not hopeless. It can be saved yet. Conservation of the soil through prevention of erosion, building of the soil through use of legumes and fertilizers—these are some of the steps which will make farm life more attractive to youngsters, years from now.

It's time to begin thinking ahead.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

"Would we be hoarders, if we bought a new car against high prices or rationing?" Mrs. G. asked me the other day. "Our old cars are really getting old, you know."

"No, I don't think that would be hoarding, but I think we ought to go on running the old cars on general principles, and take our chances when one of them does the one-hoss-shay act. The old cars have good motors in them—life expectancy two years anyway. In a pinch we might make them last four years."

Now, dear reader, don't get the impression that we are wealthy because we have two cars. It is a matter of convenience. Both of us cover a good deal of ground in a day when we are in Kentucky, and neither of us has the patience or the time to wait for the other. To make myself a little clearer, having two cars in the family in our case helps a lot to preserve domestic peace.

All the foregoing leads to a few thoughts on the subject of personal economy in wartime.

Hoarding is wrong any time. I doubt that any of the tens of thousands who hoarded stuff in the other two big wars profited by it. I don't know of a single one who did. Five pounds of sugar was our limit in World War II. I liked a popular brand of toilet soap, and Mrs. Galloway stocked me to three dozen cakes. I still have two cakes left, five years after the war ended. Experience and seeing what our friends and neighbors did convinced me that hoarding is shortsighted selfishness, and unprofitable.

Right now hoarding money is a far more harmful practice than storing away merchandise. The country's whole business existence depends on turnover—producing goods, selling them and consuming them. And if there ever was a time when the economy of the United States needed every bracing, stabilizing influence available, it is now.

We are a free spending people. That's one reason the country is what it is. And it is a mighty good reason why mass penny-pinching now would be bad for us all.

If all that is true, why do I hold back on the new car, you may ask. If we go on using the two jalopies, it is to make better use of the money in the war emergency. Two thousand dollars invested in fertilizer for our bluegrass pastures will produce a lot of beef to help feed the 150 million home folks and the army, with perhaps a few million pounds for our allies if we have any by that time.

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF The "Haunted Rock" is gone from where it stood near Tram, on U.S. 23.

This rock, standing bleak and upright like a sentinel beside the highway between Mare Creek and Tom's Creek, was the subject of many a ghostly tale by the early pioneers. The early road passed by it, and the gloomy cedars that darkened the rutted trail contributed background for the stories. Many were the tales of lights on the bare stone, gleaming in the darkness after midnight, the black and hairy gorilla-like, man-shaped beings that descended from it and "rode behind" nocturnal horsemen, and of eerie "moans and groans" in the vicinity.

W. M. Epling, the owner of the property, wanted the site for building purposes, and under the relentless blasting of high explosives, aided by the mighty push of a modern bulldozer, it disappeared over the river bank, and so the lair of ghosts and the subject of fireside tales is gone. To those who since childhood had been awed by its austere vigil, aided as it were by the denizens of the spirit world, remains regret. It had rested there since its descent from the mountain, for untold centuries and was a symbol of the permanency of things. Its destruction reminds us not only of the passing of our age-old tales but of the continual and inevitable change of things.

Who were the children of Thomas Hamilton, Revolutionary War soldier? Thomas, a native to early Floyd, left many references on our official records but little information as to his children. Was he the father of Stephen Hamilton, an early Justice of the Peace for Floyd county, who married Cynthia Stratton in 1822? Cynthia was a daughter of Tandy, and a granddaughter of Solomon, who was himself a Revolutionary soldier from Tazewell county, Virginia, serving under George Rogers Clark in the Illinois expedition. Among the descendants of Stephen Hamilton are the Fitzpatricks, of Prestonsburg, the Sparkses, of Ashland, and many others.

In 1774 Joseph Bevins, of Ireland, came to America and almost immediately joined the Revolutionary army. He had a son, John, and John became the father of Hiram Kilgore Bevins. John is buried on the Bent Branch of Johns Creek at a point overlooking the wide sweep of the valley.

Hiram K. Bevins began the construction of a large, hewed poplar house at the mouth of what is now known as the Bevins Branch of Johns Creek. This was in 1812. Since the successive generations of Bevins have added to or reconstructed the old home until it is a large, spacious, plantation-like dwelling.

An inspection of the old home, oldest perhaps in the Johns Creek valley, under the gracious permission of Martha Foley Bevins, takes the visitor far back into the past. Here are signs of a cultured home—books, old as well as new, the old bound in deerskin. Here are the utilitarian tools of an ancient household—spinning wheel, flax wheel and several others. There is a bench on the back porch built by Hiram Kilgore in 1814. There is a cherry cupboard built by another Bevins in 1838. There are giant mantels over huge fireplaces and those mantels are of prime walnut, cut and whipsawed over a century ago. On the outside, stalwart like the giant cedars, are chimneys of hand-hewn stone at either end of the house. They were built by Isaac Jackson (1786-1789), famed stone mason of Johns Creek. On the porch are the antlers of a deer, killed by Matthew Clay, of Buffalo Creek, over a century ago. It is said that this was the last deer killed in Johns Creek.

Your hostess, who is the widow of John Milton Grady Bevins, with the traditional hospitality of the Bevins name, will show you, if you care to look, pictures out of the past. Here is one of Catherine Evans, born in Scotland but who came to America in 1787. She married Samuel May, who lived near the mouth of Abbott Creek and for years this old Scots-woman practiced midwifery in the Big Sandy. One child was Amanda Fitzallen and she married John Burnett, a tailor, of Prestonsburg. They were the parents of Lula Burnett, who married Mont Bevins in 1877. She died in 1888 and her husband survived until 1923. A diary of a member of the family says of Mont Bevins: "He was school teacher, carpenter, minister, farmer, surveyor, a Bible student, being profoundly versed in Jewish history, manners, customs and rituals. He was well versed in ancient Babylonian, Grecian and Roman history."

The old home is to be dismantled, since it is within the easement area of the Dewey reservoir. It reared teachers, ministers, doctors and lawyers. In its day it was a fine home and a symbol of progress. Ironically, its destruction will be of the same symbolic pattern.

Mrs. S. W. Johnson, of Hazard, Ky., advises in a letter that the Hazard Chapter of the D.A.R. is compiling a history of Perry county. She says: "In Section 8 of the Acts of 1820-21, creating Perry county from Floyd and Clay, it speaks of the people who live above the mouth of Carr's Fork and the 'Settlement' on Troublesome above Combs' Branch voting with Floyd."

In another letter, "It was there because of the salt works." And again: "The settlement of the Perry county section started in 1790." She asks about the following men who, she thinks, were road reviewers, election officers, etc.: Nicholas Combs, Sr., Alexander Patrick and Jesse Boling, of Troublesome; Richard Smith, of Lott's Creek; Daniel Duff and Jacob Eversole, of Grapevine; James Cope, Sr., of Quicksand; Benjamin Webb, of Boone's Fork; and Jeremiah (Short Jerry) Combs.

and mine engineer, Department of Mines and Minerals, W. M. Crawford, general superintendent at Princess Elkhorn, I. C. Spotte, safety engineer, Frank Music and Ray Spears, Ballard Plummer, Princess' safety director, acted as toastmaster.

Mr. Crawford said the company's goal is 50,000 tons of coal produced per lost-time accident. Just now, the record is approximately half that, but, said Crawford, "We're not too far away from that goal."

Mr. Roll stressed the importance of the individual in achieving a good safety record.

"Safety is a human affair," said Mr. Francis, "Figures and records, of course, are things to consider, but the thing that counts is the prevention of hardships and heartaches."

He predicted the coal business in 1951 will not enjoy the boom from which other businesses will profit. "Not real tough sledding for the coal business," he added, "but not the easy time seen for other enterprises."

Frank Music, of the No. 1 mine, stressed the importance of foremen setting an example of safety for their men. Ray Spears, of the No. 2 mine, rejoined by holding aloft a well-mashed and heavily bandaged finger, admitting it appeared he hadn't been setting that sort of example.

STICKS AND STONES—Roy Wilson, of Eminence, thinks it might be interesting if every man in this country would wear a stone, maybe in his stickpin, to show his vocation. For instance, a dairyman could wear a milkstone, an undertaker a tombstone, an architect a cornerstone, a stockbroker a curbstone, a cobbler a cobblestone, and an editor a blarneystone. Mr. Wilson has a point all right but the thing might get out of hand when you started identifying members of the various branches of a trade or profession. Take the field of medicine. The nerve specialist probably could get away with wearing a gallstone, but any doctor who thoughtlessly wore his birthstone could expect to be routed out of bed in the middle of the night by a jangling telephone.

A preacher told this so it must be true. Mrs. Grubbs, it seems, was a sad and moony sort of woman. She lived alone on a small farm which she worked herself, and she managed to get along fairly well. But Mrs. Grubbs was never satisfied with her crops and she constantly bewailed the poor luck she had with them. Then she somehow managed to raise a phenomenal crop of potatoes, great big spuds that surely even she could find no fault with. A neighbor came along as she was digging in her potato patch one sunny day and said admiringly, "My, Mrs. Grubbs, you certainly have got a fine lot of potatoes there."

The old lady frowned. "Well, I dunno," she replied, "This year they ain't no little ones fur the pigs."

THOUGHTS AND THINGS—In the last four years, the University of Kentucky has graduated 6,219 students. In the 62 years from 1829 through 1930, if my arithmetic is correct, the total number of students receiving degrees was 6,210. Mark Warren, Versailles newspaperman, covered 56 executions while he was a reporter in South Carolina. During World War II a Texas newspaper described a certain landing in the Pacific "by Texans, aided by U.S. troops."

Thirty Floyd Students Enroll at Berea College For 1950 Fall Semester

Berea, Ky., Sept. 29—Among the 1950 students enrolled in Berea College for the fall term there are 30 from Floyd county. Twenty-eight are registered in the college department, and two others in the Foundation School, the high school unit of the college.

They are: In the college—Virginia Dorton, William Cooley, Mary Alice Leslie, Joan Varney, Ruth Helen Hall, Gene Boyd, Prestonsburg; Betty Lou Stephens, Rhoda Allen, Silas Ray Halbert, Thomas May, Langley; Barbara Jean Hill, Gerald Leslie, Helen Ann Hill, Prestonsburg; Raymond Tackett, Urban Peters, Dyle Dingus, Martin; Marjorie Martin, Alex Spencer, Jr., Eastern; Sylvia Newsome, Pete Newsome, Teaherry Olga Males, Justell; Edgar Craft, Wayland; Hugo Miller, Drift; Claranelle Blackburn, Wheelwright; James Hale, Bess Layne; Ann Hayes, Lackey; Janet Webb, Garrett; Herbert Weddington, Emma. In the Foundation School: Frankie Taylor and Joe Carr, Martin.

Berea College is the oldest of the mountain schools, founded in 1855. It serves youth living in the Appalachian territory. Ninety per cent of its enrollment comes from the mountain territory. The other 10 per cent comes from other parts of the United States and many foreign countries. The college is noted for its unique labor program where by every student earns part and in some cases all of his expenses by work in one of the several industries maintained on the campus.

ards existing in their own community. In many communities Citizens Health Committees are working with the Fire Chiefs in planning and carrying out the week's program.

One of the highlights of the week's observance in Kentucky will be the broadcast of a fire safety program, emphasizing the need for frequent fire drills in the schools. The broadcast, which is planned for 9 a. m., will feature a statewide fire drill in which it is expected that more than 601,000 pupils and teachers will take part. Plan to listen.

Remember, fire prevention is an important function of public health. Davis wrote that the distance is 15 miles and that the children will have missed the first two weeks of schools by next Monday. He said the Board of Education claimed it was unable to get a driver for that outlying section of the county.

Hollifield said that in cases of high-school students, bus transportation is optional with the Education Board. He quoted a Court of Appeals ruling in a Pulaski county case saying State law requires bus transportation for grade-school pupils who reside "beyond a reasonable walking distance." Hollifield commented that in the Pulaski case, the distance was six miles.

U. S. CENSUS FIGURES SHOW FLOYD, P-BURG HOLD OWN DESPITE MOVE TO CITY

Although the drift of population definitely is toward those counties in which are located larger cities, Floyd county is doing right well, according to figures released by the U.S. Census Bureau.

While Harlan, Letcher and Perry in the coal fields were showing population losses, Floyd came up with a 9 increase over the last 10 years and is listed No. 8 in the states 15 most populous counties with a population of 53,473.

And Prestonsburg showed a whopping 53 per cent population gain while several other towns—among them, Wayland and Weeksburg in this county—were losing. Other Eastern Kentucky towns having population losses on the basis of census returns are:

Harlan and Loyall in Harlan county, Van Lear in Johnson, Jenkins, Neon, Whitesburg and Hazard.

The town of Martin in this county had an increase of 21.8 and Wheelwright's population rose 4 percent. Pikeville was up 21.3 per cent, but Paintsville topped all towns in this area with a gain of 84.6 per cent despite a loss for Johnson county of 7.6 per cent.

The census is completed, but not wholly verified. Chances are that the final figures won't be greatly changed. The figures point up a trend that ultimately must cry out for remedy in many Kentucky counties that have too little population. What is to become of them?

These counties are, and almost always have been, at the bottom of the population list. Thus they have been hard put to meet the cost of local government. And each census has, in most cases, shown them to be in worse economic position than before.

Grade Pupils Must Be Provided Transportation, Hollifield Opinion Rules

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 29—Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hollifield said today grade-school children must be provided transportation.

He gave the opinion to George F. Davis, Elva Route 1, who said five children in his community can't attend McCracken county schools because no bus service is furnished. Hollifield sent a copy of his letter to Henry Chambers, superintendent of McCracken county schools.

Davis wrote that the distance is 15 miles and that the children will have missed the first two weeks of schools by next Monday. He said the Board of Education claimed it was unable to get a driver for that outlying section of the county.

Hollifield said that in cases of high-school students, bus transportation is optional with the Education Board. He quoted a Court of Appeals ruling in a Pulaski county case saying State law requires bus transportation for grade-school pupils who reside "beyond a reasonable walking distance." Hollifield commented that in the Pulaski case, the distance was six miles.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D. Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

THE UN-GAY NINETIES

It has been a sort of literary custom to refer to the eighteen nineties as the "gay nineties," as if that epithet said all that could be said on the subject. Epithets are often very pleasant as to sound but rarely mean much if they are analyzed. I know of no term that is any less apt than "gay" as applied to the eighteen nineties.

In the first place, people were, in general, very serious-minded. A new generation had grown up since the Civil War, a generation that had been indoctrinated with the glories and achievements of that terrible conflict. America had been saved in one piece, not two. Those who had had a part in this epochal struggle had begun to grow old and had acquired some of the greatness that we associate with the age of people who have lived in great times. Even privates had by then acquired local designations as high in rank as captain; actual officers went up the scale even more rapidly. A few people could really see the importance of our having survived as one country and, therefore, could feel the dignity of living in a time when our country was ours once more, as Lowell said so eloquently in his famous "Harvard Ode." You could not have convinced any such people as these survivors of the war and their immediate descendants that the age could be called gay.

Then there was the religious angle. The eighteen nineties saw a great spread of evangelism all over the country, following the emotional upheavals of the war itself and its rather horrible aftermath. Self-satisfied religionists were decidedly in the minority; to achieve the good life was not a mere holiday trick, it took years of hard work and self-abnegation. If your ancestors who were church-minded had been told that they lived in a gay, and therefore frivolous, age, they would probably have exploded. Imagine the scene in Fidelity, for example, if some outside highbrow had told us we were frivolous, when we were seeking the hereafter in such dead earnest!

The census of 1890 announced that the frontier as such had disappeared. The most primitive forms of pioneering, that is, on huge tracts, had come to an end, after its long-ago start at Jamestown. But

It is dead easy to imagine that a time before our own had all the virtues and none of the vices, especially if Grandpa said so; it is equally easy to imagine a naive folk that did not dread the problems that life brings, that laughed away their youth like Aescyp's grasshopper. My father, born in 1847, was one of the grown, mature people of that time; yours was another. I wonder how gay you have pictured them in their hand-to-mouth struggle to keep afloat in the depressing days that were still upon our people, even though the Great Depression of the seventies was over technically.

Pioneering itself was far from over, and the pioneers were far from being gay. Life was hard out on the frontier, humor was scarce at best, and there was none of that gaiety that we associate with the happy, free-from-care world suggested in the well-worn epithet. Forests had to be felled, houses to be built, roads to be laid out, institutions to be started in some fashion. These acts are far from gay.

Now, of course, there were populous towns on the sea coast that had a measure of freedom and gaiety, but society was so hedged round about with restrictions that even the superficial gaiety must have been rather lamentable. Clothes had a dominance rarely found in our long history; social ease was so rare that it seemed incapable of attainment. Those who represented best the social fitness of the times seemed horribly ill at ease, stiff in manners, stiffer in dress, and stiffest of all in language. Clothes were as far removed as it is thinkable from comfort or, often, be it said, from common sense. When I think of the stiff collars and cuffs and cast-iron shirt bosoms of the time, I wonder whether some sort of pension should not be voted the survivors of those stiff and starched styles. As cool summer underwear not been invented, and as summer clothes also were rare, the task of keeping alive and pretending to be comfortable was almost more than should be expected of ordinary human beings. Talk about gay; I wish you who think it was so carefree had to wear some of those clothes we suffered in, back in those days.

Tells How HADACOL Helped Her Pale Run-down Nephew

who suffered from Vitamin B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin Deficiencies

Mrs. Edward Newton, attractive matron from Cincinnati, Ohio, wants readers of this paper to know about Bobby Newton, her little nephew. Bobby was pale, run-down, had no appetite. After she had given Bobby HADACOL, he had a grand appetite, color in his cheeks and is healthier all the way.

HADACOL is great for thin, puny kiddies who are nervous, have easily upset stomachs and poor appetites because their little systems lack precious vitamins B₁, B₂, iron and niacin—elements so vital for growth and to maintain good health. HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of red blood (where iron is needed) to course through their bodies, bringing unbelievable new strength and energy. Sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

URGES NEW DRAFT BASIS

Hershey Says Standards 'Too Tight'; Would Call Vets Under 26 to Duty

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey last week urged that the draft take veterans and men with dependants and that the length of service be stretched from 21 to 30 months.

Hershey, director of Selective Service, also suggested that three months of basic training be given youths before they reach the draft age of 19.

The official appearing before the House Armed-Services Committee, talked of reaching a 1,500,000-man Army in two or three years. The committee is studying possible changes in draft regulations.

Hershey said his pool of men under 26 years of age, and eligible for the draft under present regulations, is down to 1,500,000, and that the rejection rate under Defense Department standards of men called before Draft Boards runs about 50 per cent.

1. Extending the period of draft service with six months to be spent in training and 24 months in service. This would require an act of Congress.

2. Changing the rules for deferment because of dependency so that collateral dependents wouldn't count. Selective Service officials said that their use of the term "collateral" does not apply to wives, children, parents, brothers, and sisters. It does apply to aunts, cousins, uncles, and the like. The regulations, set up under the law by President Truman, now exempt from the draft a man with any dependents.

3. Changing the law to permit induction of veterans under 26. In this connection, Hershey said: "I've got a lot of sympathy for veterans, but if they are under 26 they can't have had much service."

Hershey did not propose any change in the draft-age bracket.

Hershey said the 19-to-26 age group includes 6,353,000 men, but that present deferment rules trim the available pool to 1,500,000. He added that the pool likely would go even lower unless the rules are relaxed.

Dipping into the veterans and men with dependents would at least double the number of eligible men, Hershey said.

The committee heard that as of August 31, the induction of 772,000 students had been postponed, while another 5,000 were deferred upon showing proof of intention to go to college.

Hershey was strongly critical of draft qualifications established by the armed services. He contends they are too tight.

Of 204,000 selectees examined in August, he said, 101,000 were rejected—and 44,770 of these were for mental reasons.

To the People of Floyd County:

(Continuing a simple, factual statement about the "squabble" within the Floyd County Board of Education.)

Since the people of Floyd county have been embarrassed by the publication in The Courier-Journal and other papers of the state of certain so-called charges against the administration of Floyd county's schools by Dr. J. H. Allen and James Greene, board members, James Salisbury, V. O. Turner and others it is fitting and proper that these charges be laid before you and revealed for what they are. That these charges were calculated to create confusion, poison and confuse the minds of the people and show Floyd county in an unfavorable light is evidenced by the fact that they did not fall into the hands of The Courier-Journal by accident nor by the courtesy of the State Department of Education but were actually carried to The Courier-Journal by some of this group before, or at about the time they were filed with the State Board of Education. My answers as reported in the Journal and in The Floyd County Times were only such as I could give in a three-minute telephonic conversation with The Courier-Journal who extended me the courtesy of informing me of the charges and asking for my comment. It is proper that the people of Floyd county know more fully the why and the what as to these accusations.

Nepotism

One charge made against my administration was that nepotism was practiced. Now the word nepotism in a general sense means the employment of relatives. In its real sense it means the showing of partiality or favoritism toward relatives. It is true that I have a number of relatives employed in the school system, but I have a great number of relatives in this county. I have a niece working in my office. She was employed by me. I have a first cousin working out of the office. He was there when I became Superintendent. A son-in-law of Dr. Allen is working out of the office. He was nominated by me. A son-in-law of James Greene is driving a school bus. It is true that I have several relatives teaching school but so has Dr. Allen and other board members. In fact Dr. Allen in the eleven years that he has been on the Floyd County Board of Education has had more relatives employed by the Board than ALL of the other Board members that have served during that time put together. That is a fact shown by the official records of the Board. Neither Dr. Allen nor I could well afford to keep our positions if none of our relatives could work for the board! That my relatives do not dominate the system and are not "favored" but are qualified for the jobs they hold is well known by those familiar with the school system. The facts show the insincerity of the charge. It is an example of the stop-at-nothing to win policy!

Cancellation of Insurance Policies

It was charged that fire insurance policies were cancelled and given over to the Wade Hall Insurance Agency at a loss of several thousand dollars to the Board of Education. It is true that the policies were cancelled and given over to (John) Allen (Wade) Hall & (Glenn) Spradlin Insurance Agency. The matter was thoroughly discussed and it was done only after it was determined that no money would be lost to the Board. Furthermore three affidavits are filed with the State Board of Education to the effect that Dr. J. H. Allen was the one man most interested in having the policies cancelled and re-written by the other agency, and as chairman of the Board helped to have it done. Copies of these affidavits are in my office. They were made by people present at the Board meetings. They will tell you that I was reluctant to have all of the insurance transferred. The official records of the Board show that Dr. Allen and James Greene voted for every motion in regard to the cancellation and transfer of this insurance! Are not the people of Floyd county entitled to an apology for having this charge broadcast to their embarrassment over the state? Favors Hall in Construction Contracts

It has been carried to the State Department of Education and to the State Board, and whispered about over the county that Town Hall has received all of the construction contracts of the Board since he left the superintendency and that he has been shown favoritism therein. The official records of the Board (always open for your inspection) show that Town Hall for himself or in partnership with Mitchell Preston has bid on the construction of five school buildings in the county during my term of office. The records show that he, in partnership with Preston, was awarded the contract on two of the five on his low bid. The records show that he was not awarded contract on the three others on which he had bid because his bid was not the lowest. The records show further that both Dr. Allen and James Greene voted to award these two contracts and that they voted favorably on all of the claims and settlements in regard to these contracts, without objection. The records of the Paintsville Board of Education will show that (Town) Hall and (Mitchell) Preston were awarded a contract to construct a major school building there (on their low bid) just one week after they were unsuccessful bidders on the Wheelwright gym, etc., in this county. The records speak and reveal the facts! Are not these charges and insinuations another example of insincerity, irresponsibility and the stop-at-nothing to win policy?

The large number of people at Martin, Maytown and Allen who asked for a change in principals, and the people of the county generally, know that I have not practiced nor attempted to shift principals arbitrarily and without reason.

Inefficiency?

It was charged to the State Board that the administration (which included Dr. Allen, James Greene, James Salisbury and V. O. Turner) was inefficient in its operation of the schools. I do not claim perfection for any of us but again the records speak and the people know! The annual reports filed with the State Department and checked and approved by them show that on June 30, 1936 the Floyd County School System was worth $631,240.68, but had an indebtedness of $168,656.29 (a large debt for 1936) leaving a net worth of $462,584.39; that on June 30, 1950 our school system was worth $1,878,064.35 with an indebtedness of $74,894.92, leaving a net worth of $1,803,169.43; that despite the indebtedness of less than $75,000 on June 30, 1950, more than half a million dollars had been spent for new school buildings during my four years of office, and that the amount spent for teachers' salaries increased every year and was well above the amount required by state regulations! That represents careful planning, hard work and interest. Those facts do not bespeak inefficiency.

It is easy to criticize! Talk is cheap but it is the facts that count. I could go on and show the insincerity (and/or falsity) of other charges and murmuring. But the teachers of this county know that serious and sincere effort has been made to recognize their good work and to provide them with the best in materials and equipment and a salary schedule that compares favorably with most counties of the state. The parents of this county know that the welfare and educational growth of their children has been uppermost in the mind of their superintendent. They have seen published (for all to see) a complete account of the spending of their school money. They have seen extra services added and new buildings erected. They know that plans for the future include other added services, other good buildings for other communities and further increases in teachers' salaries and that by continued cooperation for the public good these things will be realized. For that continued cooperation I commend to you, for your consideration, Estill Howell and Bill Malone as your next board members. Sincerely and educationally,
PALMER L. HALL, Supt.

Notice To Teachers and Creditors:

Checks for the first and second month for rural teachers have been written. It is necessary that we hold those of the emergency teachers until their emergency certificates have been released by the Department of Education. These have not yet been released because Dr. J. H. Allen and James Greene refused to sign the necessary application blank to the state department. This situation has been explained in person (Monday) to the department and it is hoped that certificates will be released upon receipt of application signed by the Superintendent and the other two members. This has been forwarded and checks will be released the moment we are authorized to do so.

Because the same two members failed to appear Tuesday for the regular October meeting there will be a delay in the payment of the first month salary of the consolidated teachers and other employees. This is likewise true for those holding claims or bills against the board. We have long been accustomed to pay claims and salaries promptly and I sincerely regret that this delay and inconvenience should happen.

In an effort to alleviate this situation, the following letter has been mailed to Dr. Allen, chairman of the Board:

October 3, 1950
Dr. J. H. Allen, Chairman
Floyd County Board of Education
Langley, Kentucky

Dear Dr. Allen:

Whereas, we were present at the office of the Superintendent of Schools from 1:00 o'clock to 4:30 o'clock on October 3, the appointed hour and day of the regular meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education for October,

And whereas there was not a quorum present to do business, and whereas there is considerable business of the Board of Education which should be transacted, especially

- (1) Payment of teachers' salaries and other such claims and bills as are due.
- (2) Employment of certain teachers and other school personnel.
- (3) Purchase of necessary school furniture.
- (4) Consider equal bids.
- (5) To consider further necessary building projects for the year.

We, therefore, respectfully request that you, as chairman, designate a day and hour to hold the regular October meeting of the Board and to give us notice of same.

Very sincerely yours,

To the People of Floyd County:

Last week this paper carried a warped and would-be-misleading account of some of the issues in the coming school election.

We think it very unlikely that this account fooled anybody. The people of our county know the score well. However, we, Dr. Allen and James Green, who are asking for reelection wish to give you a straight account of those issues and to add several particulars which last week's issue saw fit to omit or disguise.

We voted for the present superintendent and we supported his recommendations as long as we could in good conscience do so. We believed when we employed him that he knew his business and we trusted his integrity. It is the superintendent's duty to secure, organize and present to the board such information as it may need. The Kentucky Law says "He shall be the professional advisor of the board on all matters."

Now last week's article says, "Dr. Allen and James Green voted for and were a part of all that was done until just a few months ago." That is not true. We have not gone along in any case when we knew him to be wrong, and such cases came up as early as 1948. We have voted for the superintendent's recommendations and have taken his advice in most cases. Twice we were led by our trust in him to sanction illegal deals.

We "voted for the Ray Fraley bus deal without any urging from Ray or anyone" because it was not made known to us that Ray was a stock holder in the Deering Motor Company. We know he owned the building but did not learn until about a year later that Ray stood to profit by the sale. The superintendent did not give us this information. It was his duty to have done so.

In the insurance case the board members were told that canceling the insurance held by other agencies and giving it all to John Allen and Wade Hall would not cost the county a cent. The way they had it arranged this appeared to be true. The fact is, this deal cost the county around $3,000 but to have foreseen that we board members would have had to spend hours studying law and insurance. It is the duty of the superintendent to make such studies as this. That is what the board hired him for.

We refused to be a part of the following deals. In 1948, the superintendent and his advisors decided to cust Rev. Lawrence Price from the principalship of Wayland High School. In preliminary discussions, we made it clear we would not be party to this injustice.

This was an injustice recognized then, and still recognized and not forgotten, by the school children, the parents, the miners and the church, people of Wayland and wherever else the Reverend Price is known.

In 1948, after the principals had been told they would not be moved, the superintendent without giving us any warning or time for consideration asked our approval of a recommendation that all principals be moved. We, thinking that this should not be done without consulting the wishes of the communities involved, and believing that it would be undemocratic to make such changes secretly and without warning, opposed this move.

Another disagreement arose over our refusal to approve the superintendent's recommendation that Woodrow Allen, who was married to Palmer's niece, be added to the office force.

In '48 we again displeased our superintendent and his political boss by refusing to purchase for a county bus parking lot, an acre of swamp and gully at Allen from Town Hall for $15,000. (How many of you would like to sell your land to the county at such a price? How many of you would buy land at that price with school money?) This made them mad, very mad, and Town Hall and Palmer Hall at three different regular monthly board meetings demanded we make this purchase. Here we were clearly being asked to sanction the use of public funds for personal profit and we opposed it. After this, old Doc got described as "hard-headed" and one occasionally heard it muttered that "ole Doc had been in too long."

Even after this we were not thinking of getting rid of the superintendent until his term expired. But we were not willing to be rubber-stamps; not willing to vote yes on all recommendations without question. Now it has been made clear that all they wanted from the board was an unqualified "O. K." to their every wish; that they regarded any questioning of their power an insult.

If one will look back in the files of the Floyd County Times to October 10th, 1946 and read an article written by Palmer Hall he will find that said Palmer Hall was praising Dr. Allen and Jimmie Green—the same two he is now condemning. He called them honorable men of integrity that would vote according to what they thought was right in behalf of the schools of Floyd county. These two men have been voting for what they thought was right and now Palmer is condemning them for doing the very thing he praised four years ago. What has made him change his mind because Dr. Allen and Jimmie dared to disagree with him? This only proves that any teacher, principal, been out of his rights; and they used a trick that depended for its success on Dr. Allen's trust in them.

After this board meeting they bragged to many people that they had "fixed ole Doc Allen." "Why," they said, "he walked out of that meeting just like you'd leave a room full of friends. Can such behaviour be dismissed as merely "unfortunate and unsporting"? Can anyone believe that issues like these have nothing to do with the board election in Districts 1 and 2?

Could a man accept an apology for that kind of action? An apology not made until suit was filed and they had seen the "handwriting on the wall"?

They ask us to tell you why we broke with them. Our answer is, we did not; they broke with us. They broke with us because we insisted on doing our duty which is to safeguard the rights of the children. They broke with us because they could not break our "hard-headed" determination to think for ourselves and vote for what we considered fair and right.

Other issues will be discussed from time to time.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE PRESTONSBURG INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT:

We intend, through the columns of this newspaper and by personal contacts, to inform you as to why we intend to ask the Floyd County Board of Education to permit the Prestonsburg School District to merge with its own district.

At the moment we would rather use this space to tell you that we are stogees for no one; that we made the decision of candidacy of our own free will; that that decision was inspired by an honest desire to better the educational facilities for our boys and girls; that, in spite of what the good doctor may say, we believe we have "sense enough" for the job.

We believe you will agree that things are in a mess—that a great change must be made somehow. The same group has been in charge of Prestonsburg's schools for a long, long time. (By the way, can any of you remember when this dynasty started its rule?) We believe that no person is entitled to hold a position in any school only because of family ties. We also believe that no man or woman should be a candidate for member of the board of education simply to help a friend keep a job. We are "running" for no one.

Our platform is simple: merge with the county district. We intend to let you people decide whether you want to continue the present pitiful condition or at least try to better it. Can't you just about satisfy yourselves now that if the present board is returned to office there is not much hope of improvement? We honestly believe that merger is the answer. You can readily see that if we are elected on this promise our motive is not selfish, because we would hold office only long enough to accomplish the merger.

We have heard it said that the reason merger has been hush-hush in the past is that "we don't want to turn this big fine building (elementary school building) over to the county." Now isn't that a bit silly? After all, the people own all school property. So what difference would it make whether the four thousand people in Prestonsburg or the sixty thousand in Floyd county or the three million in Kentucky or the hundred sixty million in the United States "owned" it? You know, when you have reasons for wanting to retain something those reasons are not always the one you publicize.

This is just one of several reasons why merger has never been accomplished. We will take up others in the future and give you our reasons for favoring merger.

Don't you believe it's time we ran our schools with the children rather than adults uppermost in our minds?

7,000 Tons a Day!

AN AVERAGE day's consumption of coal in all plants of the Ford Motor Company runs between 6,300 tons and 7,500 tons—an average of approximately 7,000 tons a day.

During 1949 Ford consumed over 2,200,000 tons. Nearly 1,500 miners working all year long would be required to produce this tremendous quantity of coal.*

Ford is one of the biggest coal users in the country. At the Rouge, huge coke ovens—insatiable consumers of coal—supply coke for the production of iron, as well as many by-products used in the manufacture of Ford products and for direct sale. Additional large quantities of coal are used for the generation of electricity in various Ford power plants.

Yet coal is only one of an almost endless list of raw materials and manufactured products used in the production of Ford Cars and Trucks. Purchase of these raw materials plays an important part in the economic life of hundreds of communities.

Here in the coal region particularly we know how true this is. For good business is a two-way street between good customers and good neighbors.

*Based on latest available U.S. Government statistics showing that in 1947 the average bituminous production per man per year was 1,504 tons.

Mound, Brain, Power Stars Set for Series

Vic Raschi

Casey Stengel

Joe DiMaggio

Robin Roberts

Eddie Sawyer

Andy Seminick

IT WILL BE YOUTH VERSUS AGE when the Philadelphia Phillies, champs of the National League, square off against the perennial American League victors, the New York Yankees, in the 1950 World Series. Seen above are some of the stars of these two top teams, compared in their various departments. Vic Raschi, upper left, has been the Yanks' big gun on the mound all season. Manager Casey Stengel, upper center, feels that his team, paced by such "old pros" as Joe DiMaggio, upper right, will be able to sweep through the high flying Phils. Youster Robin Roberts, lower left, has taken over the heavy mound chores since the Phils lost several of their stars through the draft and injury route. However, Eddie Sawyer, still regarded as a newcomer to the managerial ranks, will depend on his youthful Whiz Kids, bolstered by such veteran power hitters as catcher Andy Seminick, lower right, to cop the Phils' first championship.

BLACK CATS RUN UP 4TH WIN IN ROW

Reserves See Action In 47 to 7 Victory At Elkhorn City

Prestonsburg's Black Cat football eleven, as expected ran rough-shod over a hapless, undermanned Elkhorn City team Friday night on the Pike team's field, 47 to 7, with reserves in action for the winners most of the way.

It was the second "breeze" for the Cats, but from here on in the winds that have blown so fair may become more gale-like. They meet Jenkins, a formidable gridiron foe, here Friday night. Farther ahead await Pikeville, Belfry, Paintsville, et al.

The losers found some comfort in the fact that they were able to score on the heavier Prestonsburg boys. But this touchdown was slightly tainted. Elkhorn City recovered a fumbled ball on the Cat third team and a penalty set Prestonsburg back on their one-yard line. The first team rushed to the defense but was unable to prevent that necessary yard gain for the marker.

Ed Fall, halfback, opened the Cat touchdown parade with an off-tackle smash in the first quarter. After that "Wah-Wah" Caudill scored two markers, both through the legs. Clyde Laferty, one on a brilliant return punt of 80 yards; Hill, one on a pass from Laferty; and Hughes on a sprint around end for 50 yards.

Highlight of the game perhaps was May's completion of a mighty heave of 50 yards to Patton for Prestonsburg.

The Cats came out of the tussle in good condition, despite the fact that their bus, returning to Prestonsburg, was struck by an auto, owner of which was fatally injured. The bus was so badly damaged that the players were transferred to another bus for remainder of the homeward trip.

Rock-Dusting Among Safeguards Asked

Effective rock-dusting and other safeguards are proposed for the Compton and Coburn Mining Company's No. 1 mine, near Hippo, Ky., in an original coal-mine inspection report issued today by the Bureau of Mines. The report also commends satisfactory haulage and other desirable features. When Inspector George L. Mears examined the Floyd county mine in late August, it employed eight men and produced 40 tons of coal daily.

The inspector advised thoroughly rock-dusting all areas not actually wet to within 80 feet of the faces, effectively slaying excessive coal dust during blasting, providing adequate fire-fighting facilities, discontinuing smoking in the mine, and using permissible electric cap lamps instead of open lights. He proposed firing the permissible explosives electrically, storing them safely, properly transporting them into the mine, using wooden tamping bars, firing all blasting shots or series immediately after charging, and shearing or cutting the coal before charging boreholes.

A systematic numbering method was not followed in three places, the inspector said. While ventilation was adequate he suggested constructing a fireproof air duct, and making pre-shift examinations with a permissible flame safety lamp. Specified electrical hazards should be corrected, and protective hats and footwear worn by the few employees not doing so, he added.

The inspector also noted with approval a mine map was posted in an accessible place, the escapeways were travelable and a positive identification system was in effect.

Dick Riffenburg, former All-America end from Michigan now with the Detroit Lions, is a staff announcer for WJR, a Detroit radio station, during the off-season.

Roert Tonneff, tackle from Barberton, O., is the heaviest player on 1950 Notre Dame team, at 235 pounds.

The Washington Senators are so pleased with their 30-year-old Cuban pitcher, Sandalio Consuegra, they already have signed him to a 1951 contract.

Texas Christian and Southern Methodist have met 32 times on the gridiron, and each has posted 13 wins, with six ties.

WASPS STILL LOOK FOR WIN

Wayland Team Holds Belfry 11 Scoreless Through First Half

For one-half of Friday night's hall game with the powerful Belfry team, the Wayland high school Wasps, winless for the season, fought the strong Pike team to a scoreless deadlock, but from the third quarter on it was Belfry's game.

The final score was: Belfry 18, Wayland 0.

Biggest upset of the Big Sandy Conference this season was the defeat of the Hazard Bulldogs by the Pikeville high school Panthers, 39-7. Nine Hazard fumbles contributed to the favorites' downfall.

The high-scoring Paintsville Tigers scored a touchdown early in their game with the Louisa Bulldogs at Louisa, but after that were unable to hit pay dirt. The game ended, 6-0, although Paintsville clearly outplayed Louisa.

Jenkins and its aerial attack, with Howerton pitching, was soundly trounced by Fleming, a Conference power, 20 to 7. Hall, of Fleming, was the star of the contest.

First Dock on Dewey Seen in Two Weeks

Unless there is a wood screw shortage, construction of the first dock to be placed on Dewey lake will have progressed sufficiently within the next two or three weeks to accommodate boats, it was said this week by Mrs. Sally Mae Goble and Joe Wheeler Burchett who have a lease on the concession.

More than a hundred 65-gallon steel drums have been collected to support the floating dock, which is being built in sections at Sugar Loaf. From there the sections will be taken to the Brandy Keg Cove location for the dock installation.

Teen-Age Club Sponsored By Lackey-Garrett Group

Strains of music from foreign lands mingled with the laughter of Wayland's teenagers at the Wayland High School gymnasium last Tuesday evening, September 26, as Miss Charlotte Smith, of Hindman, led the young people in a series of folk games.

This is part of a project sponsored by the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club in its Youth Conservation program with Mrs. Noah Howard chairman of the committee.

Miss Smith was assisted by Richard Howard, a member of Wayland's faculty, and by two carloads of young people from Hindman, who were already familiar with the various games.

Both Miss Smith and Mr. Howard have made a hobby of learning folk games and collecting recordings of music from other lands.

The enthusiastic young people decided to organize themselves into the "Teen-age Club," granting membership to anyone who can qualify as to age. All local teenagers will be welcomed at these frolics when Miss Smith returns each Tuesday to give further instruction.

BURKE HOLDS STATE TITLE

Lexington Meet Held To Name State's Best; Pick Floyd for 1951

Bill Baker Burke, of the Prestonsburg Junior Conservation Club, won the official junior bait-casting championship of Kentucky Sunday at Lexington in a tournament sponsored by the Blue Grass Anglers, Lexington.

Young Burke hit for a score of 97, with his team-mate, Stewart Stephens, taking second place with a 96.

In the Senior division Millard Shimmfessel, Lexington, won the five-eighths-ounce bait-casting event with a 95, and his fellow-townsmen, Dooney McGahey, did even better with a 97 in the three-eighths-ounce contest.

Immediately after the day's casting competition with both bait-casting and fly rods, a group of sportsmen representing the Blue Grass Anglers, Floyd county, Harrodsburg, Louisville and Danville met to complete organization of the Kentucky State Casters' Association. This step was taken to make possible one annual tournament at which state championships will be decided in fly and bait-casting. Without a state organization this year, five "state champions" have been named in as many casting meets.

The first state tournament to be held under auspices of the Association will be staged in this county next year, and E.R. Burke, Prestonsburg, Seventh district conservation supervisor, was named president of the Association. Glenn Reynolds, district supervisor of Junior Conservation Clubs, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Burke said this week he is negotiating with the Corps of Engineers for a site on an arm of Dewey lake where targets for casting can be placed and other conveniences installed in order to meet Association tournament rules requiring that targets be placed on water.

Better Buy Buick!

PERHAPS you've noticed that there seem to be a lot of these brawny beauties running around on America's highways—and it isn't just that boldly gleaming front-end that spreads this impression. It isn't just the fact that folks who own a Buick get such a bang out of it that they do a lot of driving. Back of all this is another fact. It's a fact that contains a broad hint to anyone who'd like to know what's what in motorcar buys. 1950 Buicks are breaking all past popularity records, as registered in sales.

So we suggest that you do some personal investigating. Find out, for example, how masterful you feel, with Fireball power purring away the miles, at a polite touch of your toe on the gas treadle.

Find out how the jolts and jars seem to disappear, when you have big soft coil springs on all four wheels, and fat low-pressure tires on wide Safety-Ride rims.

Then there's Dynaflo Drive,* which Buick owners vote the biggest automotive hit that has come along in years.

With all this, there's room, and comfort, and road-hugging lefthand combined with a light and willing response to your hand on the wheel—and prices that start down with the sixes.

Seems like almost everyone wants to own one of these Buicks—and most people can. How about you? Isn't it a smart idea to see your Buick dealer now and get your name on his list?

Only BUICK has Dynaflo—and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION and with it goes: SUPER MODELS. (New Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, taper-through fenders • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging; short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on Super and Special models.

JEST AMONG US

BY JACK WILD

Maybe you folks would like to get in on the name-calling contest we're having.

Two years ago I started writing this column for Kentucky newspapers, naming it for want of some-thing else JUST AMONG US. Now it's But some editors, probably thinking that "jest" as an informal expression is just about finished, have dubbed it JUST AMONG US. Now it's time to have a new heading made, and the question is, should the column be called JEST AMONG US or JUST AMONG US—or something else?

I've asked newspaper people throughout Kentucky to state their preference and to date JEST AMONG US is leading by over two to one. There are so many, though, who seem to prefer the "just" idea, that we'd like to know what you readers think. Maybe you can come up with a still better name. Among those so far suggested are "By the Way," "Running Wild," "One Moment, Please," and "UK (in), Have It."

What name do you like best? It's your column, you know, so you name it. Send your selection to me at Public Relations Office, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

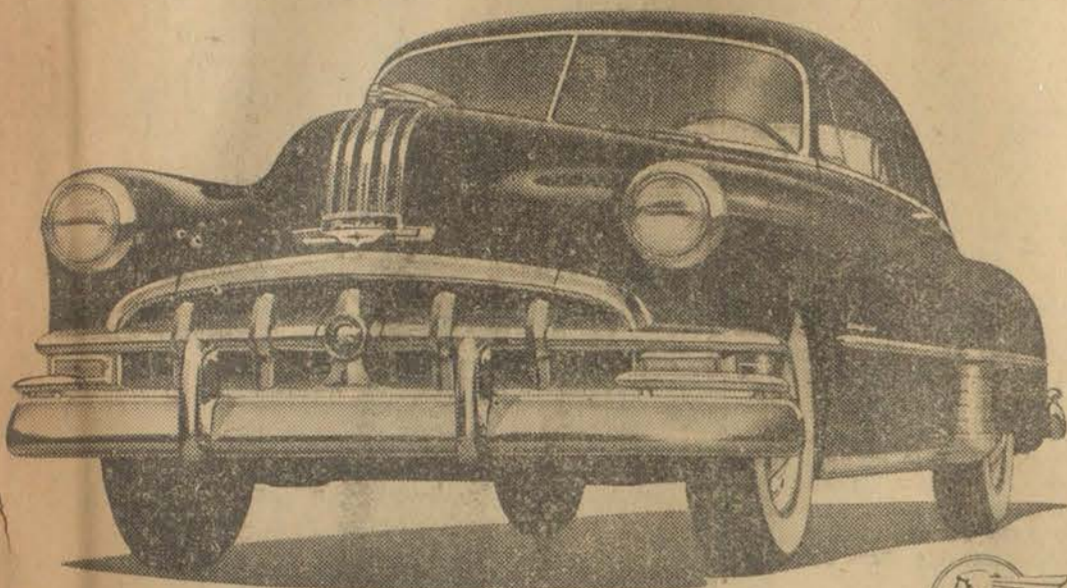

QUICK KICKS FROM UK—If Kentucky's Wildcats have to play on flooded fields this fall, there'll be pilots on board to steer 'em through. During the Second World War, three members of the football coaching staff were lieutenant commanders and one was a lieutenant in the Navy. . . . In its long gridiron history, UK has had 25 different head coaches. . . . Kentucky beat Transylvania 7-1-4 to 1 (I don't know what the "1-4" stands for either) on Nov. 12, 1881. . . . Since then the Wildcats have played 597 games, won 277, lost 201, tied 29. . . . The 1950 squad includes 22 Kentuckians, six West Virginians, five Pennsylvanians, five Hoosiers. . . . Kentucky's first touchdown after Paul Bryant became coach in 1946 was made by a player who was 6 months older than his coach. End Bill Portwood was nearing 34 at the time. . . . This year's team roster includes a Yowarsky, a Netoskie, an Ignarski, a Lulowski, and a Kozlowski.

Waste piles around gold mines of the "Rand" in South Africa have been estimated at 1,000,000,000 tons in weight.

Here GREW THE ROOTS OF FREEDOM

The right to worship where and as we choose is only one phase of the liberty we Americans prize, and for this and all of our other freedoms we owe a debt to Christianity.

Religious convictions, woven into our Constitution, gave strength to our pioneers. Reliance upon God, and fidelity to the Church, made our forefathers brave, patient and determined. In such faith was America born.

Through the Church and by authority of the Bible, Christianity says that all human beings have worth—that each one has a place—that man's first responsibility is to his Creator.

The Church is the symbol of this belief—the steadfast instrument through which it is worked out. Therefore the Church deserves our support. It stands for decency and order. It and the Church school are the safest places for our children.

Choose your Church—give it part of your time and means—participate in some of its activities—and you will find life taking on a new and richer meaning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Betsy Layne Women Sign Freedom Scroll At Meeting of Club

Betsy Layne, Ky., Oct. 2 (Spl.)—The full membership of the Betsy Layne Women's Club signed at the club's meeting last Thursday evening one of the millions of Freedom Scrolls in current use to enroll Americans in the national Crusade for Freedom. Each member also contributed to the fund for Radio-Free Europe. The scroll was presented for the signatures by Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, local co-chairman.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Pricard, Mrs. O. J. Williams, the president, presided at the business session. The forthcoming district meeting at Wayland was discussed and all members were urged to attend. Mesdames Arthur Van Kammen and Edward Lykins were appointed delegates and Mesdames R. L. Anderson and Glenn Blackburn, alternates. Plans for federating a "daughter club" were discussed at length. Additional plans for the Christmas party for underprivileged children of the community were made and final arrangements will be made at later meetings. It was voted to continue the weekly afternoon meetings for the purpose of making gift articles for sale. Mrs. Beecher Hardwick is selling subscriptions to The Floyd County Times for the purpose of adding additional funds to the treasury to aid in the club's proposed projects for the new club year that has just started. Subscriptions to the Kentucky Club Woman were entered by the entire membership. Dues were collected and yearbooks were distributed at this time. Literature pertaining to the various committees was distributed to the chairman of the committees.

The program, "The Music of Stephen C. Foster" was under the leadership of Miss Alice Williams. It began with Mrs. R. L. Anderson leading the group in singing "My Old Kentucky Home." Miss Williams first presented a short sketch of the life of Stephen C. Foster from 1826 until 1848 and then played a recording of his "Oh, Susanna," his most famous song published during that period. The sketch of his life was continued until 1855 and recordings of his songs published during that period were played. These songs were "The Camptown Races," "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," "My Old Kentucky Home," and "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming." The sketch of his life from 1855 until his death in 1864 was given and the songs he wrote during the latter part of his life were played. The two songs illustrating his music during this period were "Old Black Joe" and "Beautiful Dreamer." Miss Williams then gave a brief, informal talk on Stephen C. Foster's songs that have lasted through the years and his Southern songs were illustrated by the playing of a recording of "Swanee River." An example of his sentimental songs that are still tremendously popular and heard all over the world was presented by a recording of "I Dream of Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair." The program was concluded by the playing of a recording of a Stephen C. Foster medley.
