SHOTS CAUSE LITTLE ALARM

Officers Stand By In Alum Lick Area In Protective Role
Although officers admitted shots were fired, two nights last week and Monday night of this week, from surrounding heights in the Alum Lick section into which the Princess Elkhorn's operations have driven from David, threat of an armed clash such as occurred two weeks ago when a man trip was attacked was considered remote this week.

Officers on watch on Alum Lick, which is far removed from David itself, said approximately 40 shots were fired from a hillside Friday night and that upwards of 30 shots came from the opposite hill Saturday night, Monday night's shooting slowed down to only two shots.

Much of the shooting is discounted as "just some more shooting," somewhat at random and without definite target.

At least one bullet fired from either a rifle or revolver, came dangerously near workmen. It struck between the rails which mine cars run, only about five feet in front of a motor hauling cars.

Although officers maintaining the watch are well-armed, they have not fired in reply to the numerous shots they have heard.

Deputy Sheriff W. J. Slone and Deputy Constables Rense Marcum and Bill P. Wills, Deputy Sheriff Frank Crum and Deputy Constable John Hopson have been guarding some of the Alum Lick area.

$30,000 JOB PLANNED HERE

To Extend Water Mains Into Annexed Areas; Tax Board Is Complete

The Prestonsburg Gas & Water Commission this spring will spend approximately $30,000 to extend an eight-inch water main to the Porter Addition newly annexed to Prestonsburg, install a water tank to assure pressure and locate hydrants required to give that section reduced fire insurance benefits.

This announcement was made Wednesday by Mayor Curtis Clark after the Commission had been promised delivery in April of its order of pipe and fire hydrants.

The same size water main will be extended in the upper section of Prestonsburg to a point above the Francis Wholesale Company, it was said. The Porter Addition extension will run to the Graham Porter line.

The City Council at its Monday night session named Former Councilman J. A. Hager to the Board of Supervisors to review tax assessments here. Mayor Clark said the work of assessment, made valid by a new assessment and a new Board of Supervisors, will be done in time for tax bills to reach property-owners by April.

FIVE ACCUSED ARE RELEASED

Charges in Slaying Of Woman Dismissed; Death Still Mystery

The mystery surrounding the murder, 18 months ago, of 82-year-old Rilda Conley Wallen on Rock Fork remains unsolved, and last week murder charges filed by a Knott county grand jury against five Knott men were dismissed on motion of the Commonwealth.

"We don't have sufficient proof and we must not take a chance," Commonwealth's Attorney Earl Cooper was quoted as saying in filing the dismissal motion with Special Judge Edward L. Allen, of Prestonsburg, who had been designated to preside in the trial of the case. Cooper indicated belief in the guilt of some of those accused, but decided not to go to trial until in possession of evidence sufficient to convict.

The aged woman, who weighed 80 pounds, was found dying, her head crushed by five blows, in September, 1949. She had spent the preceding night at the home of a relative, and was returning to her nearby home when attacked.

Robbery was quickly established as the motive for the slaying. Mrs. Wallen's money, apron, rings and a small pen knife were missing. Her clay pipe and cane lay nearby.

Two young men, relatives of the victim, were arrested soon after the murder, but later were released under $2500 bond each. They were not brought to trial, and subsequent investigation resulted in the arrests of five others.

DECISION MAY SAVE SCHOOLS $12,000 A YEAR

Fee for Collecting Madison School Tax Is Held to 1 Percent

A Court of Appeals decision made last week will, on the basis of present tax figures, result in a saving of around $12,000 a year to Floyd county's schools, County Superintendent Palmer L. Hall estimated this week.

The decision was that which held that a sheriff is entitled to take out of the school taxes he collects only his actual expenses incurred in collecting them, and not necessarily the 4 per cent deduction authorized by Kentucky law.

The opinion was given in the case of the Madison county school board against the sheriff of that county, seeking to hold the official's tax take-out to less than 1 per cent. The high court held that 1 per cent was sufficient to pay the cost of collecting the county's school taxes.

Taxes collected by the sheriff at the present assessment and rate in this county, said Superintendent Hall, approximate $444,000. If the Floyd Sheriff were permitted to withhold 4 per cent for collecting, the deduction would amount to around $17,000. If held to 1 per cent, his fee would be approximately $4,440, which would result in a saving of between $12,000 and $13,000 a year to the schools.

BOLEN DRAWS 10-YEAR TERM

Allen Is Special Judge In Trial of Knott Case For Slaying of Conley

A jury of the Knott circuit court Friday returned a verdict of guilty against Mart Bolen for the pistol-slaying at Boleyn postoffice on Rock Fork Creek, a few miles from Garrett, last year and fixed his penitentiary term at 10 years, Edward L. Allen, Prestonsburg attorney who presided as special judge in the five-day trial, said defense attorneys had filed motion and grounds for a new trial.

The killing took place while Bolen was on army furlough. Evidence given in the trial claimed the killing climaxed trouble which began with a drunken row near Lackey in which Bolen kicked out the windshield of Conley's jeep. Bolen paid Conley $5 for the damage, but the price later charged for the repair job was reported as $21, and Conley demanded further payment, it was claimed.

Defense witnesses contended Conley and his brothers threatened Bolen, that on one occasion they called Bolen from a house at "Greentown," near Garrett, and remarked, "We might as well kill him now."

The Commonwealth returned from Ft. Wayne, Ind., a man who testified Bolen procured a .38-caliber revolver from him, giving a mule as security against payment for or return of the weapon. It also claimed Conley was unarmed except for a small knife and that he was shot while sitting in the postoffice doorway. Conley and other defense witnesses claimed that on Conley's approach to the postoffice Bolen remarked that they "might as well have it out" and rose before the shooting.

Heart Drive in Floyd Sponsored by Clubs; Returns Slim Here

Although heart disease is the No. 1 killer among all the maladies to which the race is heir, the response locally to the current Heart drive for funds with which to carry on the fight against the disease is slight, Mrs. W. W. Cooley, local chairman, said this week.

The drive here is sponsored by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club. In other communities of the county Women's Clubs are doing the same work. Plastic hearts have been placed at strategic points to receive contributions and direct solicitation of funds has been made.

Here, Girl Scouts and members of the Future Homemakers have solicited funds in cooperation with the Women's Club. Persons wishing to contribute to the fund by mail should send their checks to the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club, the Wheelwright Woman's Club, the David Woman's Club and the Allen-Martin Woman's Club, depending on the location in the county of the contributor.

OFFICIALS GET NO PROMISES

At Road Parley; Told Floyd Drew More Than Gas Tax Share in 1950

Floyd county officials drew little encouragement out of their conference last week at Frankfort with state highway officials relative to state plans for highway construction in the county this year.

They returned home without promises. In fact, they were told, Floyd county last year received more than half a million dollars' worth of road work, and that figure represented a $172,000 "overdraft" on its share of the 2-cent gasoline tax fund.

Yet, the Floyd delegation was not without hope. The officials were told Floyd county is not definitely cut off from hope of road-work from this fund source. More funds are anticipated by the beginning of the new fiscal year, July 1, and one or two road projects may be set up for this county then, said highway officials.

The rural road program which in the past has been planned to begin April 1 does not begin this year until July 1, and plans for work on

Easter Seals Quota For County Is $750, Chairman Announces

Mrs. A. H. Mandt, 1951 Floyd county Easter Seal chairman, announced this week the county's quota for the drive is $750.

Mrs. Mandt said 283 handicapped persons in the county had been added through the program of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal agency which supplements funds and services of the Kentucky Children Commission.

She said the campaign will be launched Feb. 25 with an appeal for gifts to the Society for its work. The campaign will continue through Easter.

Davis E. Geiger, Kentucky Easter Seal campaign chairman, said the state's goal this year is to raise $175,000 to support the Society's activities for crippled children.

Dewey Area Boy Scout Camp Cost To Exceed $75,000.00

CAMP WILL SERVE 15-COUNTY AREA; LEASE 300 ACRES

A Boy Scout camp to serve all the Kentucky and Virginia Scout districts in Lonesome Pine Council, and planned to be the finest of its kind in this section of the United States, will be established on a 300-acre tract in the Dewey reservoir area, it was announced this week by A. H. Mandt, chairman of the Floyd district.

The first camping on the site, which was leased from the federal government for a period of 20 years, will be done this year.

Announcement of plans for the development to add to the recreational life of Scouting in the area was made on the eve of the Floyd county Scout finance drive which will begin next Monday.

It is estimated that facilities to be established on the camp site will entail a cost of not less than $75,000, with the total expenditure possibly running as high as $125,000.

With the area to be opened to Scouts this summer, immediate

ODD FELLOWS PAY OLD DEBT

Note-Burning Rites Wait on 2 of Oldest Local Lodge Members

When Prestonsburg lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, can have its two oldest members present, it will have a note-and-mortgage-burning ceremony.

The lodge recently paid the last of its indebtedness on its First avenue building which it erected in 1932. Members wanted Wm. Dings and W. J. Vaughan, lodge leaders for many years, to be present, and they planned the ceremony to be held at Mr. Dings' home, because illness does not permit him to leave his room. Cold weather and icy streets, however, prevented Mr. Vaughan from being present, and the debt-burning was postponed till a later date.

Mr. Vaughan said here this week the lodge started the structure without a cent in its treasury. But suppliers of materials readily granted credit without security, and the lodge was required to execute notes and a mortgage for only $12,500. Mr. Vaughan himself worked on the construction job, and over the years notes have been paid off as lodge funds, mostly rental revenues, accumulated.

LEGISLATURE CALL ISSUED FOR MAR. 5

Wetherby To Ask $6,000,000 Voted For Teacher Pay

Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby's unexpected call late Wednesday afternoon for a special Legislative session, March 5, caught Floyd county with only one Representative.

Paul E. Hayes, Representative from the 97th district of the county, was recently named to the Kentucky Workman's Compensation Board and thus vacated his office. A successor cannot be appointed; can only be chosen at an election, regular or special.

The special session call caught newsmen unawares. It was one of the best-kept Frankfort secrets in a generation.

Governor Wetherby listed as the big item to be considered at the session the appropriation from the existing surplus of $6,000,000 for teachers' salaries for the school year beginning July 1, 1951. Other subjects specified for consideration:

To increase public assistance by $2,000,000 in the fiscal year 1951-52

To increase the welfare appropriation by $250,000 in the remainder of the fiscal year, ending June 30, and by $750,000 in the next fiscal year. This money is to be applied to both the mental and penal institutions.

To enable state, city and county employes to qualify for United States Social Security, and to appropriate $250,000 to meet the state's share of the costs.

Wetherby said it now appears that the state's surplus will be at least $10,000,000 by June 30.

"Accordingly," he added, "I am confident that the special session can appropriate $9,250,000 without imposing new taxes or endangering

500 Hear Needs of Children Discussed at Hi Hat Meeting

Approximately 500 persons, including county officials, school, civic club and community leaders, heard the needs of children discussed—needs ranging from school lunches and clothing necessary for pupils in school to food and clothing necessary to keep children alive—at the Church of God, at Hi Hat, Monday night.

The meeting drew together the McDowell and Wheelwright Parent-Teacher Associations, the Hi Hat and McDowell Auxiliary Clubs, the Goodwill Mountain Mission and representatives of the Wheelwright and Prestonsburg Kiwanis Clubs in a study of child needs.

Ted Eumberger, Louisville, Kentucky, executive representative to the White House Conference on child welfare, was slated as the principal speaker, and told how a small community such as Hi Hat can have a hot lunch program for its school. Mr. Baumberger, however, said after learning all the problems faced in this section that he realized his was not the major point at issue.

There was the statement of Paris Conley, Floyd county attendance officer, for instance, pointing to the fact that the leading cause for school absenteeism in this county is the lack of shoes and other wearing apparel. He pointed out that children had been enabled to return to school through contributions by the Goodwill Mountain Mission here of 122 pairs of shoes and approximately 3,000 other items of clothing.

Then there was the appearance at the meeting of 12-year-old Mary Mitchell, crippled since a polio attack. Those present contributed $78 toward the purchase of a wheel chair for the child.

Mrs. Sylvia Newman presided at the meeting, stated its purpose and called on parents to know their teachers better. As they were introduced, these officials and civic leaders responded with brief talks:

County Judge Henry Stumbo, County Attorney W. W. Burchett, Commonwealth's Attorney Bert T. Combs, Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley, County Clerk DuRan Moore, County Superintendent Palmer L. Hall, Representative Paul E. Hayes, Attendance Officer Paris Conley, Milton Stumbo, county school health coordinator, Dr. C. L. Hutsinpller, Prestonsburg, Prof. Wayne Ratliff, principal of the Wheelwright consolidated school, Alvin Reed, president of the Wheelwright Kiwanis Club, Prof. George L. Moore, principal of McDowell consolidated school, State Senator Doug Hays, McDowell, and the Rev. Howard C. Church, founder of the Goodwill Mountain Mission.

The Reverend Church stressed the fact that the group he represented is dedicated to helping all genuine needy persons, regardless of age, and called for contributions which will enable the Mission to buy clothing for needy children. He sketched the work already achieved by the group and he and Mrs. Newman discussed a plan for establishing a branch of the Mission at Hi Hat.

Others who are working with the Mission and who attended the meeting were Mrs. J. D. Mayo and Mrs. O. H. Stumbo.

Band music was supplied by the McDowell and Wheelwright high school bands under the direction of Olive Rose Hall and Carol Jean Hall.

Special to The Times

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12—The American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers today presented the Charles F. Rand Medal for 1951 to James Draper Francis, of Huntington, W. Va., chairman of the board of directors of Island Creek Coal Co., Pond Creek Pocahontas Co., and affiliated companies. It was awarded to him as one of the nation's leading industrialists and in particular for his significant contributions to the progress of the coal industry during the past third-of-a-century, as well as his deep interest in civic affairs, local and national.

The citation accompanying the presentation to Mr. Francis read, "For successfully administering coal properties for more than thirty-five years until these two companies have become one of the largest and most successful units in the coal industry; for opening and managing new properties, for improvements in marketing and business methods, for his general interest in all industrial matters, his continued interest in research and his excellent citizenship in promoting not only his own, but all other interests in his general community."

Mr. Francis was born in Pikeville, Ky. He was graduated from Pikeville (Junior) College, attended Centre College and the University of Virginia, receiving his law degree from the latter in 1908. He was admitted to the practice of law in the Federal and State courts of Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky, and continued in the practice of law until 1918.

In 1911 his law firm was retained by the Island Creek and Pond Creek companies, which had mining properties in West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky. In 1918 he accepted the vice-presidency of those and other associated coal companies, and assumed an active part in their management. He became president in 1934 and chairman of the board in 1949. These companies produce about a million tons of coal per month and have unmined reserves of nearly a billion tons.

In the early 1930's, Mr. Francis promoted the formation of Appalachian Coals, Inc., the world's largest coal marketing agency, to provide a medium for more efficient marketing and distribution of coal. He served as its first president from 1932 to 1934, while at the same time continuing his other duties. He carried on as a chief administrative officer until a full-time paid president could be found, and has continued to serve the agency as a member of the board of directors.

Mr. Francis is a director of the National Coal Association, Bituminous Coal Institute, the National Industrial Conference Board, and Appalachian Coals, Inc. He is a member of the recently-created Coal Defense Committee, which represents all branches of the coal industry, and is a graduate member of the Business Advisory Council of the U. S. Department of Commerce. For many years he served as a director of the American Mining Congress, Chamber of Commerce of the United States, National Association of Manufacturers, Southern States Industrial Council, and is active in the work of these and several church, Boy Scout, fraternal and local civic organizations.

West Virginia University and Marshall College have conferred honorary doctor of law degrees upon Mr. Francis, and he is a member of the board of Pikeville College.

His son, David Francis, is president of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David, Ky.

THIS GIVES US AN (ONE) IDEA

With no great amount of enthusiasm we go about the stern duty of admitting we have a cog missing in the old idea-grinder. If this were not painfully true, The Floyd County Times instead of the Okeechobee News down in some-times sunny Florida would have had that idea of closing shop for a whole week and taking the whole force fishing.

Things with us and with the Florida paper being as they evidently are, it was The News, not The Times which hurriedly ran off its weekly edition of the paper with nothing in it but standing ads and around a hundred old cuts (photographs) it had previously used. They didn't take time even to print captions or cut lines. The envious publisher, one Ammon McClellan, did exert himself to write this brief statement:

"The wanderlust struck the entire News staff this week. They are all down in the Big Cypress area... Cady, the janitor, will be in charge... for the week. The paper this week is filled with pictures used in the past... We didn't bother with stories that go with these pictures, since everybody has read them once and there was no use boring you—anyhow, we want to go fishing."

And here The Floyd County Times, all these years, has been taking a week off at the end of the year, in dead winter-time. Wup! (clank-clank)—we do have an idea, too—why not schedule our annual "strike" for a time when the so-and-so bass are striking?

UNIONS LOSE DAMAGE SUIT

Jury Awards Laburnum $275,437 for Breathitt County Contract Loss

A total of $275,437.19 damages was assessed Saturday by a jury of the Richmond (Va.) city circuit court of three labor unions sued by the Laburnum Corporation in connection with a work-stoppage at the Pocahontas Company's operations in Breathitt county in 1949.

End of the court fight is not yet in sight, however, it was indicated, as attorneys for the United Construction Workers and the United Mine Workers of America were said to be planning an appeal.

A Hamilton Bryan, president of Laburnum, commented that he did not think the unions could show they were not given a fair trial. "If any errors were made, and it's hard to keep from making errors in a long suit of this kind, as many were made in favor of the unions as against them," he said.

The company had sued the unions for $500,000, alleging they interfered on a building project in Breathitt county on July 26, 1949, causing the company to lose the contract and future business.

The jury awarded Laburnum $175,437.19 in compensatory damages and $100,000 in punitive damages. All the unions had denied liability. The company charged them with intimidating workmen on the project and causing a work stoppage that resulted in loss of the contract.

The company had chosen to bring suit in Richmond where its home offices are located. The union at first moved to quash the suit on these grounds, but later withdrew this motion.

Laburnum attorneys claimed in the suit that a representative of the U.C.W., William O. Hart, went to the Kentucky project with "a mob" and intimidated both the common laborers and A.F.L. employes to such an extent that they quit their jobs in fear of bodily harm.

In his instructions to the jury, Judge Harold Snead said the jurors were to find for Laburnum if they found that a representative of the unions went to the Kentucky project with a disorderly crowd of men for the purpose of organizing employes and that intimidation, threats, and acts of violence or coercion caused employes on the project to leave and refuse to return, for fear of violence.

On the other hand, the judge said, if they found "that plaintiff's employes refused to work for it solely because of the existence of a peaceful picket line and that they would have worked if there had been no picket line, your verdict must be for the unions."

Union attorneys argued that the common laborers on the job, not members of other unions, were organized by U.A.W. They voted to strike against Laburnum, the attorneys contended, struck and set up a picket line.

The attorneys read portions of the testimony which they said showed that no one was hurt, hit, or shot at, and that when A. Hamilton Bryan pulled down a picket-line sign, nobody stopped him.

March 1, Deadline For Auto Licenses; Rush Is Expected

Midnight, March 1, is the deadline for purchase of 1951 motor vehicle license plates. After March 1 motorists who do not have 1951 plates on their vehicles will be subject to arrest and fine.

New registrations have been on sale at the office here of County Clerk DuRan Moore since December. A large number of vehicles have been registered, but the usual rush is expected for the last days in February. Those who wait until the last minute may experience delay and inconvenience.

Vehicle owners are urged to take extra care of their 1951 license plates, the Department of Revenue said. Because of defense demands, metal for making new plates probably will not be available next year, and the 1951 plates will have to be used for two or more years.

A vehicle owner who moves into Kentucky from another state must buy a Kentucky license immediately.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Challenge to Parents

Editor, The Times:
On behalf of all the teachers of Prestonsburg High School I wish to make a statement. This statement is directed toward all interested persons in Prestonsburg and Floyd county.

Down at the high school we hear considerable vehement criticism of the school, the teachers, and the methods of teaching and discipline, but these comments come indirectly by way of the well-known "grapevine", and rarely, if ever, do we receive direct, honest, constructive criticism or suggestions.

How many of you actually know the conditions under which your children are attending school? How many of you ever visited this high school to inspect the situation? On the other hand, how many have "heard" about these conditions from others and have passed the word on yourselves as "They say . . . ?"

It would be difficult for the best teacher on earth to teach under the conditions which prevail in our high school. To mention only a few:
old, broken seats, peeling and falling plaster, and damaged tables—not to mention nine classrooms to serve approximately 500 students. You divide nine into 500 and what answer do you get? How can your children, in this supposedly enlightened age, expect to compete in business, let us say, or college, or trade school, or—yes, on the farm—with boys and girls who have had the privilege of attending modern, well-equipped, fully-staffed schools?

Our children are no wilder and no worse than children from Lexington or Covington or Cincinnati; our children are as wholesome and intelligent as they. Like other children their age, they have quantities of excess energy to work off, but unlike those children they have no physical education program or facilities for this purpose, and therefore they use their energies in point-less tussling and running. As at Lexington Lafayette, for instance, or Berea Foundation or Covington Holmes, we have very advanced youngsters and others who need more basic attention. But when an unusually quick student finds himself in a class of 40 or 50 students, he knows that less work will be required of him because the teacher will not be able to concentrate on him as much as she should. Thus, the ability of the brighter children goes unchallenged, while on the other hand, the average child and the slow child are cheated out of their rights to more of their teachers' time. Which child will be a failure because the teacher did not have enough time to give him all the attention he needed? Which child will be injured or killed if the badly constructed building should catch fire? Will one of these be your child?

We can only do our best with what we have. We can lie awake and worry about this child who is shy and needs help, or that boy who could be encouraged to work to his fullest capacities, but there is a limit to what one person—or in this case, about 22 persons—can do.
Of course, you're busy. It's hard for you to find time to attend P.-T.A. or to visit your schools, but TAKE TIME! Your children are losing precious time—a part of their lives which can never be recaptured.
These years are the foundation of their lives. Who is responsible for your children? Why is your school building in such a state of deterioration? Where have you been? Is it true that parents forget their children as soon as they leave the eighth grade?

If the parents of the children of Prestonsburg high school had been doing their duty these past years, we would have an adequate school plant today. We would have a connected gymnasium so that our children could play wholesomely, healthfully and constructively.
Countless times the parents have been asked to visit their school. Only a handful responded. We speak of delinquent children, but are you a delinquent parent? You criticize, but have you the courage and the energy to come to us with your criticisms and offer us your co-operation and support? Anyone can condemn. A good parent and a good citizen does something.

Teachers love them and break their hearts over them, but they are your children—and, what may be even more thought-provoking, the future is in their hands. What kind of citizens do you expect your children to be? What kind of citizen are you?

Scout Executive
Addresses Clubs
During Past Week

John Dean, Scout executive of Lanesome Pine Council, made talks on Boy Scouting at Kiwanis Club meetings held in Prestonsburg and Wheelwright during the past week.

The Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club held a special meeting last Thursday night at the Methodist Church with leaders of the P.-T.A. as special guests of the club. C. L. Hutinspiller introduced Mr. Dean.

Dean made an address on the Boy Scout movement. He expressed his appreciation for the cordial reception he and his family have received upon their move to Eastern Kentucky. He also called attention to the fact that his background at Berea College had enabled him to know many leaders in Eastern Kentucky who are interested in the movement, including Chalmers Frazier, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools.

Dean traced the growth of the Boy Scout movement in America and throughout the countries of the world that love democracy. He declared that Scouting had been abolished in Communist countries because Scouting believes in world friendship based on Christian teachings of the brotherhood of man, which is contrary to Communistic teachings.

In his talk before the Kiwanis Club of Wheelwright, Monday night, Dean expressed confidence in the growth of the Boy Scout movement throughout the Council area and especially in the Floyd district. He praised the outstanding volunteer leadership which is interested in the growth of Scouting, including that of J. T. Parker past president of the Council and now serving as chairman of the Council Camping and Activities committee. Mr. Dean told of plans for the development of the Scout camp on Dewey Lake, which would be one of the finest in this section of the country, and which the boys of Eastern Kentucky would enjoy for generations to come.

Dean also spoke of the value of Scout-training and character building and the need for Scout-trained young men as our greatest defense against Communism.

CUTS LIMIT ON WEIGHTS

In Effort To Save
State Roads Damage
After Severe Winter

In an attempt to reduce further winter damage to Kentucky's highways, highway officials have directed temporary lower weight limits for trucks and commercial vehicles to be posted throughout the state, William P. Curlin, Commissioner of Highways, said this week. The statement followed a conference with Guthrie Crowe, Commissioner of State Police; John Watts, Commissioner of Motor Transportation; Dwight H. Bray, State Highway Engineer, and M. Forrest Johnson, Director of Highway Division of Maintenance.

"Extremely cold weather which is normally followed in this state by quick thaws has already accounted for millions of dollars worth of damage," Mr. Curlin said. "We have had three periods of such weather.
Truck people will be notified, the roads will be posted, and we will request cooperation. If compliance with the new low weights is not promptly observed, both Commissioners Crowe and Watts have pledged the full diligence of their organizations and arrests will follow.

"A deep freeze in the road base which is followed by rain and quick thaw softens the base and permits heavy vehicles to break through. It is regrettable that such drastic action is necessary and we realize it will mean an economic loss to highway users. However, maintenance costs will cut heavily into our 1951 construction program unless these steps are taken to protect the state's highway investment.

"Many highways in Kentucky have sections which have been affected. The permissible weights are being studied by our engineering staff and will be announced later."

In setting the limits, the department will use every possible effort to protect the highways but will also try to interfere as little as possible with the necessary movement to vital commerce.

As the damage becomes more evident, it may be necessary to post roads not covered in the first pronouncement.

ing Lent were offered by the Niagara Frontier Transit Corp. "At a

"We are glad to make this contribution in the hope that it may encourage attendance at divine worship during Lent."

FIVE PER CENT OF US FILED LAST YEAR
AND—PARDON US FOR REMINDING YOU—
DEADLINE FOR FILING AGAIN IS APR. 15

Kentucky income tax pay returns in 1950 totaled 148,560, Commissioner of Revenue H. Clyde Reeves reported. These income tax payers amounted to 5.1 per cent of the 1950 population.

Franklin and Jefferson counties led the list with 12.3 per cent of the population in each county filing pay returns, or 123 per 1,000 population. Fayette county was third with 98 persons in each 1,000 of the population filing pay returns.

Nine hundred thirty-seven Floyd countians, or 18 per 1,000 population, filed returns last year. Pike had 18 and Johnson 19 per 1,000 population who filed returns.

Elliott county was lowest with only two persons in every 1,000 paying income taxes. Casey, Jackson and Metcalfe counties were next with three per 1,000 in each county filing pay returns.

Numerically Jefferson county had 59,346 filers, Fayette 9,671. Elliott county was low with 16. Menifee had 20 and Robertson 21.

As a result of the change in the Kentucky income tax law made by the 1950 session of the Legislature it is estimated that more than 75,000 additional persons will file income tax returns this year.

Floyd Teams Are Tuning Up For District Meet Next Week

Floyd county's basketball teams this week were winding up their 1950-51 scheduled affairs and were beginning the final tune-up for the 53rd district tournament which begins at the Martin high school gymnasium next Tuesday night.

Out of that Martin tournament is expected to emerge a district champion capable of winning the regional and furnishing the section representation at the state meet next month.

The Martin tournament will open at 8 Tuesday night with a single lower bracket game—Prestonsburg vs. Auxier, Wednesday night at 7 Betsy Layne and Maytown of the upper bracket will meet, and at 8:30 it will be an upper bracket contest between Wayland and Garrett.

Thursday night, McDowell will play the winner of the Prestonsburg-Auxier game at 7, and the host team, Martin, will see its first action of the tournament at 8:30, meeting Wheelwright. The two semi-final games will be played at 7 and 8:30 Friday night, and the journey will end with a game at 8 Saturday night between the winners in the two brackets for the title.

Denzil Halbert, coach of the Martin team and tournament manager, announced this week the services of these officials have been procured for the five-day tournament: Travis Combs, Harlan, and Vernon Honeycutt, Ashland, referees; G. R. Martin, Jr., Prestonsburg, scorer; Ben Hall, Jr., Wayland, timer.

Martin enters the tournament with one of the state's top won-and-lost records, having won all but two out of 30 games, and, playing on its home floor, is regarded as formidable opposition for other fives of the district. Wayland, with a 20-4 record, is ranked 10th in the state, higher than Martin, by the Associated Press poll.

Any team in the district is capable of providing the meet one grand upset. Action within the last week when the underdogs rose up and bit favored foes indicates that may happen.

There, for instance, was that close call Martin's Purple Flash had with the McDowell Daredevils, with Martin winning, 60-59, on the strength of a foul shot in the last two seconds of the game. And, too, Garrett's 74-59 victory over Betsy Layne on the Bobcats' home floor Saturday night; and Wheelwright's upset at Wayland of the Wasps Friday night, 53-51.

Prestonsburg forced Inez into an overtime here Friday night before losing by one point, then lost Tuesday night, to visiting Garrett by five points in regulation time. Martin was pushed to the limit Wednesday night to get a one-point decision over Prestonsburg.

Maytown kept the dopesters busy figuring by taking Wheelwright, Saturday night, 54-52 in an overtime game. Martin, the previous night, defeated Maytown, 61-53.

Coach Halbert announced this week an all-opponent team will supplant the usual all-tourney aggregation at the end of the district meet. Each participating team will name its selections for the honor and turn these choices in before the opening game. Results will be announced after Saturday night's final, and members of the team will receive individual trophies. The loving cup to be awarded for sportsmanship at the end of the tourney will go to some Floyd team on the basis of all-season play. Winner and runner-up trophies will be awarded, as usual.

Capacity of the Martin gymnasium will be sorely taxed for the five nights' play leading to the district championship and a place in the regional tournament which will be held at Pikeville.

Social Security Office Moves from Postoffice To Midland Building

Location of the local station of the federal Social Security Administration has been changed from the Prestonsburg postoffice to the State Employment Service office in the Midland building, First avenue, Prestonsburg.

The Prestonsburg office, an itinerant station, is operated every Thursday, with Thomas B. Thompson in charge. Mr. Thompson said that, beginning Thursday, March 1, he will be at the employment office from 10 to 11:30 a.m., every Thursday except holidays to take claims of retired workers, dependents and survivors, issue Social Security cards and distribute informational leaflets explaining the amended Social Security Act.

Mr. Thompson called attention to the new provisions of the Social Security Act permitting retired insured workers to earn up to $50 a month and still receive social security benefits. If the beneficiary has reached age 75 there are no restrictions on the amount of his earnings.

David Girl Scouts Sponsor Silver Tea

David, Ky., Feb. 21 (Sp.)—The annual Juliet Low Silver tea sponsored by the David Girl Scouts and Brownies, was given by Mrs. Russell Harman and Mrs. William Crawford at the Harmon residence here Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Harmon is Juliet Low chairman, and Mrs. Crawford is leader of the Intermediate Girl Scout troop at David, as well as being president of the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council.

The program consisted of talks by several Girl Scouts, through which the following facts were presented:

1. The money donated at the tea will be forwarded to the Juliet Low World Friendship Fund which now receives more than a hundred thousand dollars a year as voluntary contributions from individual Girl Scouts.

2. The largest appropriations from this fund are always allocated to projects that will help spread Girl Scouting and girl guiding wherever possible. During times of need and stress, appropriations are made to provide material aid in the form of food, clothing, equipment, and medicine to troops or campers in countries where such need arises.

3. At all times, those administering the fund that bears Juliet Low's name make an effort to use it so that it contributes to world peace and good will, according to the wish of the founder of American Girl Scouting.

lections for the 1950-51 year were less than Floyd's.—Madison's totaled $262,687—, the belief was expressed that no more than 1 per cent collection fee will be permitted the Floyd sheriff.

In counties where an agreement cannot be reached between Sheriffs and Boards of Education suits may be necessary to establish the collection fee.

The Madison School Board sought to restrain the Sheriff from keeping 4 per cent on the grounds he didn't need that much to pay cost of collecting the tax and the excess over actual costs of collecting would be used in defraying the general operating expenses.

Such use of school-tax money is an unconstitutional diversion of school funds, the Board contended. Circuit Judge W. J. Baxter ruled against the School Board. It appealed.

The high tribunal did not void the 4 per cent statute. "We do not hold that K.R.S. 160.500 is unconstitutional," the court said, "nor do we decide that a 4 per cent fee for collection in all cases is unreasonable. To the extent, however, that the fee is used for some purpose other than paying the reasonable cost of collection it is unconstitutionally diverted from a school purpose."

The Kentucky School Boards Association, which intervened in the case as a friend of the court, estimated that if sheriffs were limited to 1 per cent, an additional $500,000 of local revenue would flow into school systems.

MARTIN WINS POLIO BENEFIT

Floyd Team Forges Ahead Of Breckinridge Training In 3rd; Wins 43 to 41

Martin high school again upheld Floyd county prestige in the annual benefit basketball game here with the opposition from outside this section, but last Saturday night the Purple Flash had to come from behind to turn the trick against a slow-breaking, stubborn Breckinridge Training five.

The Floyd team, minus the services of Grigsby, their captain and star guard, after the first half, edged the visitors, 43 to 41, after trailing half the game. Grigsby was sidelined by an ankle injury. Martin is yet to lose one of these charity contests, but in this game was held to its lowest point total of the year.

A sizeable crowd saw the hard-fought game, but financial returns to the March of Dimes were meagre.

The two teams ended the first quarter in a 6-all tie, and at the half Breck was ahead, 21-19. Martin edged ahead, 32-30 as the third quarter ended.

The line-up: Martin (4) Pos. Breck (4) Campbell (5) F. Lanester (12) Tackett (16) F. Wellman (4) Taylor (10) C. Wells (3) Grigsby (4) G. Kazez (12) Lafferty (5) G. Riddle (9)

Substitutions: Martin—Cleck (3), Gaines, Ratliff; Breckinridge—Ferguson (1).

(Continued from Page 1) the state's financial structure." Wrote Allan M. Trout, in The Courier-Journal: Politically, the Governor's call is significant for two reasons: First, it means that Wetherby, a potential candidate to succeed himself as Governor in the primary and November elections, is ready to write his own record of friendliness to: 1. The 18,000 public-school teachers who, in the average, will be due for a $300 raise under the proposed legislation next school year. 2. The 68,000 old people drawing public assistance. 3. The 24,000 families drawing assistance for dependent children. 4. The 2,400 blind people drawing public assistance. 5. The 11,000 state employees who, for a long time, have wanted to come under the U.S. Social Security program. 6. And the 11,500 families who have patients in the mental hospitals or prisoners in the penal institutions. Second, it means that Wetherby wants to steal the political spotlight from Charles I. Dawson, Louisville attorney, who is developing a sensational lawsuit charging wholesale corruption in the Highway Department. A third point is of passing significance. By spending the surplus in his own way, Wetherby robs his political primary opponents of the opportunity to promise it to various groups of their own selection. In the statement amplifying his call, Governor Wetherby said that inflation has caused both the emergency and the surplus that he hopes will meet it. "Inflation throughout the nation has continued upward. It has increased the cost of living to school-teachers, the needy aged, blind and dependent children. It also has increased the cost of providing for inmates of the State Welfare institutions. To ignore these responsibilities, when the means to meet them are available, would be an inhuman disregard of duty." Specifically, the Governor said that the schools are losing teachers to the armed forces, defense plants, and to higher-paying jobs in private industry. "There will be many teachers who will stay with their jobs if they can secure even a moderate increase in salary." As to his timing of the call, Wetherby explained that school administrators must know in March what money will be at their disposal in the next school year. That is because March is the month schools must offer new contracts to teachers for the next term.

$9,145 IS GOAL OF RED CROSS

For Fund Campaign To Begin, March 1; Program Expanded

To finance what may be the greatest work in its 69-year history, the American Red Cross will launch on March 1 a campaign to raise $9,145,000 for next year's operations. Floyd county has been assigned a goal of $9,145.

The national goal has been increased 27 per cent over last year's goal due to the load placed on Red Cross by expanding military forces and by the civilian defense program. Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America, who is this year's national fund campaign chairman, listed the following items in the expanded Red Cross program:

1. Acting as official agency for collection of blood and its derivatives for the military and coordinating the collection of blood derivatives for civil defense. To fully meet these and regular civilian needs, the Red Cross must collect 1,500,000 pints of blood this year.
2. Training 20,000,000 persons in first aid, including treatment of injuries from Atom-bomb attack.
3. Training 100,000 and reactivating 150,000 nurse's aides and training 1,000,000 housewives in home nursing for civilian defense.
4. Assisting civil defense in providing food, clothing and shelter during an emergency period.
5. Expansion of Red Cross services to the armed forces to meet the needs of the proposed 3,000,000-man fighting force.

Bert T. Combs, chairman of the Blood Program for Floyd county, reports that plans are now complete for the opening of the Huntington regional Blood Center, March 1. Mr. Combs stated that not only will military needs be served but also civilian defense needs as well. Individual patients in hospitals who require either blood or plasma will get it free from the Red Cross, he added. The first visit of the mobile blood unit to Floyd county will be April 4. Complete details will be available later.

A rapid campaign for Red Cross funds is planned for March 1-15. L. B. Brashear, of the Stephens-Elkhorn Fuel Corporation, Manton, has been appointed chairman of Advanced Gifts. B. Alvin Reed, fund chairman, announced that community chairmen will be appointed at a Planning committee meeting this week when various goals will be assigned. Any person willing to contribute blood is asked to call Floyd Chapter, phone 5231, Prestonsburg. One hundred and twenty-five pints of blood is the quota set for this county on the first visit of the mobile unit, April 4.

Mr. Combs, Mr. Reed, Mrs. James R. Hurt, Mrs. A. H. Mandt, Mrs. L. B. Brashear, Mrs. W. C. Rimmer, Mrs. Olga M. Latta, Mrs. E. P. Hill, Mrs. F. L. Heinze and Miss Ella Noel C. White attended the recent Blood Program meeting in Huntington, W. Va., where final plans were made for cooperating chapters in the regional Blood Program.

Child of Army Man, En Route Overseas, Killed in Car Wreck

An automobile en route from Tampa, Fla., to Wayland in this county crashed over an embankment at Sandlick Gap, seven miles from Whitesburg, last Wednesday, killing the one-year-old son of an army sergeant who was reported en route to Okinawa.

The victim was James Anthony, son of Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Roy Christy, of Tampa, Fla. His sister, Joyce, 7, was injured and taken to a Jenkins hospital. The car, which was being driven by Mrs. Christy toward the home at Wayland of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Epp Newton, went out of control on the Kentucky-Virginia highway.

An effort was made here, late last week, through Floyd Chapter, American Red Cross, to intercept Sgt. Christy en route overseas.

House Action on Bonds Draws Wyatt's Praise

Wilson W. Wyatt, chairman of the State Executive Committee for the Defense Savings Bonds program in Kentucky, this week declared that members of the House in Congress have taken one of the greatest steps in our history in stimulating regular savings by the average American. "The action of the House in approving legislation to put into effect the Treasury plan for handling maturing Series E Savings Bonds, beginning May 1, 1951, is important news to all of us in this time of emergency," he said.

Under this plan, the holder will have the choice of: (1) Accepting cash, if he so desires. Bonds are cashable at any time; or (2) Continuing to hold his present bonds, with an automatic interest-bearing extension. Owners who exercise this extension privilege will receive 2 1/2 per cent simple interest for all or any part of the next 7 1/2 years; interest during the final 2 1/2 years of the extension will bring the total interest to 2.9 per cent compounded; or (3) Exchange his matured bonds for current Savings Bonds of Series G.

A Savings Bond purchaser will receive 78 per cent more than his original investment by holding his bonds to maturity and then taking full advantage of his extension privilege for another 10 years. Dollar-wise this means that a Savings Bond buyer has the opportunity to receive $133.33 for the bond he originally purchased for 75.

The Treasury emphasizes that: (1) full cash payment of maturing Series E Bonds may be had at any time; (2) the holder of maturing E Bonds has the privilege of retaining them but he is under no obligation to do so.

It is reassuring, when you buy a Cadillac, to know that you yourself will make the decision as to how long you wish to keep it—and how far you wish to drive it. The car will be at your service throughout your pleasure.

Give it reasonable care and reasonable usage, and there is no practical limit to a Cadillac's utility. Authenticated records show various Cadillacs well into their second five hundred thousand miles of service.

Of course, the original owner seldom has any requirement for such exceptional mileage. Being progressive, he wishes to change his cars sufficiently often to keep pace with Cadillac's advancement in design and appearance.

But he benefits, all the same, from this wonderful capacity for service. It means that, month after month and year after year, his Cadillac performs magnificently—with the minimum of care and attention.

The great Cadillacs for 1951, now gracing America's streets and highways, are built in the finest traditions of Cadillac quality. If you have not inspected them, you ought to do so. We'd be happy to see you—at any time.

We are sorry indeed that delay in delivery of new Cadillacs continues unavoidable. Not only is the demand beyond all precedent, but much of the company's materials must, of necessity, be allocated to defense production. Thousands of Cadillac's craftsmen are already engaged in this effort. If you are waiting for a Cadillac, please be patient—but hold to your purpose. There is no substitute for the "Standard of the World."

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH
By EWING GALLOWAY

After reading a Sunday piece of mine in the Henderson Gleaner and Journal, in which I twitted the three local banks for closing at noon Saturday, thereby compelling farmers to lose half a day from work, C. W. Bailey, president of the First National Bank of Clarksville, Tenn., and former president of the American Bankers Association, wrote me a letter embodying the two following paragraphs:

"It has been the custom here in Clarksville for all of the banks to close every Thursday at noon. During the summer most of the merchants close at noon on Thursday. We have found this quite satisfactory. On Saturday our bank remains open in the usual manner until 2:00 o'clock, pull down the shades at that time, but leave the front door unlocked. An after-hours teller is maintained every day except Thursday until 4:30. This is the definite program of this bank and we think the other two banks follow much the same course.

"Over the years we have found this Thursday closing a highly satisfactory one. We find that a great many of our farmers work at home until 12 o'clock and the period from 12 to 2 o'clock in the afternoon is usually a very active one. Inasmuch as we operate a rural bank we must provide for the needs of rural people."

Mr. Bailey's last sentence hits the nail on the head. And Kentucky banks, excepting possibly those in Louisville serve a lot of country people, and apling city banks to the inconvenience of farmers is a serious mistake. This is doubly true right now, because the armed forces are stripping the farms of thousands of young men, most of whom cannot be replaced. Farmers are going to need every hour. All the boys drafted from farms are good workers, otherwise they would not be there.

Taking half a day off earlier in the week sounds like good sense. If they took a whole day off, say Monday or Thursday, banks serving farmers might not be far wrong. Banks render a great service to the public, but on the other hand voluntary depositors furnish the money with which banks make their dividends, surpluses and undivided profits. Most of the banks in Kentucky are prosperous now, which is all the better reason for providing better service for their rural depositors. Mr. Bailey's bank seems to have the right idea.

KNOW YOUR SCHOOLS
And What They Are Doing

By County Superintendent's Office

TRANSPORTATION

We need your aid, Mr. Motorist. Recently several bus-drivers have reported that numerous traffic violations have been occurring on the school routes of Floyd county. This is a serious matter if we are going to protect our children from hazardous motorists. Ignorance of the law cannot be excused; therefore, for your information we are quoting Section 189.370 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes: "PASSING STOPPED SCHOOL BUS. (1) Whenever any school bus is stopped upon a highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging passengers, the operator of a vehicle approaching from any direction shall bring his vehicle to a complete stop and shall not start up or attempt to pass until the school bus has finished receiving or discharging passengers and has been put in motion."

SCHOOL BUS SHELTERS

The small white buildings placed along the edge of the highways are shelters for your children who are waiting for the school buses. These shelters are especially needed in rainy and cold weather. Approximately 25 of 100 shelters in the county have been destroyed through vandalism and other causes. It is your educational duty to help protect the one in and around your community. Report the destructive persons to the local authorities.

IT'S A FACT

The educational level of Kentucky' citizens is not quite seventh grade. The army test of World War II showed Kentucky had the nation's highest rate of adult illiteracy. The 1950 census showed that only three adults out of 100 in Kentucky are college graduates. Only 16 out of each 100 adults have graduated from high school while in the nation 30 of each 100 adults have graduated from high school. Approximately 25 per cent of Kentucky's children are not in school.

In Floyd county there are only 17.7 per cent of the children not enrolled in our public schools. The State Department of Education has established 25 major reasons why these children can not be enrolled. Of 3,000 in this county, the number one cause is that we have 907 not yet seven years of age; 773 have passed the compulsory school age and quit. Others not enrolled consist of crippled children, blind, married, mentally handicapped, deaf mutes, working permits, etc.

Ohio Officers Here Seeking Stolen Gun; Floyd Man Is Jailed

Gallipolis, O., officers enlisted the aid Wednesday, last week, of Sheriff A. B. Meade in locating a gun which had allegedly been stolen from a Gallipolis store by T. J. Kendrick, former Lancer man. The officers learned the weapon had been sold by Kendrick to Ben Crace, of Town Branch.

Kendrick was in jail at that time at Gallipolis. A 16-year-old Gallipolis boy accused with Kendrick of breaking into the store, accompanied the officers here after admitting participation in the burglary, Sheriff Meade said.

SCHOOL ACCOUNTING REPORT OF THE FLOYD COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION FOR THE SCHOOL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1950

ALMER L. HALL, Superintendent & Secretary. BRIAN COLLINS, Treasurer. W. W. ROSCHI, Supervisor of Accounting, Department of Education.

FLOYD COUNTY SCHOOLS School Year Ending June 30, 1950

COMMENTS: The official minutes of the Floyd County Board of Education are ready to be complete. All orders of the Board of Education are numbered and can easily be referred to at a future date.

The general fund ledger is well kept. The entries are neat and the coding is good. Receipts were supported by the following: 1. Duplicate check sheets of State receipts furnished by the Division of Finance.

Receipts and disbursements are entered monthly, summarized and extended to the recapitulation sheet for determination of monthly balances. The Board of Education is operating with two funds, namely, the General Fund and the Teachers' Fund.

It will be noted from Schedule "F" of this report that the Tax Collector owes the Board of Education $7,620.96 as certified on the Annual Settlement of the Tax Collector.

It will also be noted from Schedule "F"-2 that the Floyd County Board of Education had a deficit of $31,332.09 as of June 30, 1950. The deficit was brought out because litigation prevented the issuance of Revenue Bonds for the purpose of constructing the Melvin School.

The teachers are being paid by the approved salary schedule. In cases where changes are made, amendments are being secured from the Department of Education.

The Veterans Institutional On-the-Farm Training Program records are fairly well kept. However, some errors were made. In some instances, incidental expenditures for stamps, etc. were made by the agriculture teacher and the refund was included in the travel check for that particular month.

Most of the recommendations made in the report of 1948-49 have been met and steps taken to make the proper changes in procedure. The Superintendent and his staff were very helpful during this inspection and audit.

W. W. ROSCHI, Supervisor of Accounting, Department of Education.

Jest Among Us...

By Jack Wild

If suddenly you begin having twice as much company as you used to have, and if you begin going to only a third as many movies as you used to attend, and if you begin staying up later at night, and if perchance you begin eating supper in the parlor instead of in the kitchen, then you've got teevee and teevee's got you.

This thing teevee—television, video, TV—is doing all manner of strange things to the American home, according to a survey that has been made in Lexington. Interviews were conducted with 102 housewives in homes having television sets, and here are some of the conclusions reached:

Popular music is popular with TV fans. Classical and hillbilly music are not. There are few differences in TV program-likes between "white collar" and other homes. Variety and comedy shows are the most popular programs, sports next, public service programs least popular. Television programs have almost completely replaced audio radio listening (of 90 homes owning TV sets less than a year, only three families prefer audio to video).

Homes that used to average four visitors a week average seven a week since TV. Families that used to go to movies nearly three times a week go only once a week since TV. Teevee families are spending less time reading newspapers, books, and magazines than in pre-TV days. If they had it to do over, 90 per cent of them would buy TV sets again.

And what happens to the old radio when the new television set takes over that corner in the living room? Well, the 102 TV owners in this survey own a total of 238 radio receivers. Of these, 83 now are in kitchens, 107 are in bedrooms, 40 are in living rooms, seven are in basements, and one is in a den.

The Lexington survey was conducted by the Radio Arts Department of the University of Kentucky, as a project of the Kentucky Research Foundation.

State Inspector Here To Study Enforcement Of Food Law in Floyd

Rodney Quillen, state inspector from the Division of Foods, Drugs, and Hotels of the Kentucky Department of Health, has been in Floyd county to confer with county health department and county officials concerning the issuance of certificates of operation to hotels and restaurants and the enforcement of the state law which requires application for a certificate of operation and payment of inspection fees by such establishments in Floyd county.

Mr. Quillen stated that 47 hotels, restaurants, tourist homes, rooming houses, and motels in Floyd county have already applied for certificates of operation and these certificates, he explained, will be issued through the State Department of Health when the sanitarian, through the county health department, makes a report to the State Department of Health that the establishment complies with all sanitation requirements.

It also was brought out that these applications to the State Department of Health are due the first of each year, and stressed the fact that establishments which have not made such application for a certificate of operation should do so immediately.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Hunters are often exasperated because deer can hear them but they can't hear the deer. I know a man who did something about it — Red Leekley. He was intrigued by the realization that all around us there is a world of sound which we humans know nothing about. He eavesdropped on that world and had one of the most amazing and exciting outdoor experiences one could hope to have.

A partially deaf acquaintance Red met on the street one day unwittingly put him on the right track. He wore a hearing aid. What would a sound booster of this kind do if he hooked it up to his normal ears?

The idea was so exciting he could hardly wait to get one and take it out into the woods. He built a blind in a section of the northern Wisconsin woods which he knew was well stocked with deer and other wildlife. Then he hid himself with a feeling akin to buck fever and began his first attempt to listen in on nature at home, at work and at play.

The first blasts were a startling experience. Red didn't know whether to duck, to run or just sit tight and pray. There were creakings and groanings, rustling, a sound of distant feet running at full speed. There was an ominous swishing and a clack, clack, clack.

The clack he eventually identified as his watch. The swish took awhile, but finally he noticed a crow was calmly flapping his way overhead, well above tree top altitude. Do you see, now how the approach of a crow or hawk does not often go unnoticed by other creatures, with their sensitive and trained hearing?

Once Red spotted a weasel, whose camouflage was nearly perfect. He then learned his sound, which from then on had a positively identifiable character. Presently he was shown undeniable proof that the sound was readily audible to other ears. A woods mouse suddenly darted from beneath a bunch of grass while the weasel was still several feet from it. The squeaking of the mouse in its terror was plainly brought in through the hearing aid, as was the sound of its running on the crusted snow.

Red has been listening to the sound of various ducks in flight. He can now actually identify a few species at some distance, just by listening to the particular sound of their wings!

So here is a whole new world for the sportsman and amateur naturalist—respectable eavesdropping on Nature.

BETSY LAYNE WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. R. L. Anderson was hostess to the Betsy Layne Woman's Club February 15th. The program, "Women in the Headlines," was directed by Miss Alice Williams, who opened the program with a short talk on women's power in politics and the six most admired women of 1950. A list of the ten best dressed women was read and a picture of four of these women was passed around for each member to see. Mrs. T. J. Chandler gave an informal talk on Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the most powerful and famous woman in the country. Next, Mrs. Beecher Hardwick presented a report on Mrs. Edgenie Anderson, our Ambassador to Denmark and our first woman ambassador. Miss Williams followed with a brief discussion of Mrs. Perle Mesta, Minister to Luxembourg. Mrs. Glenn Blackburn gave a brief history of Tallulah Bankhead, the actress of great fame.

The program would have hardly been complete without a word about Queen Elizabeth of England, and Mrs. Edward Lykins gave a brief review of her life. Another of our famous women in politics is Margaret Chase Smith, Senator from Maine. Mrs. Arthur Van Kammen gave an interesting outline of her political life and influence. Mrs. W. P. Howell gave an account of another woman in politics, Anna M. Rosenberg, who holds the top level job of Assistant Secretary of Defense. Miss Williams read a short article in which was brought out the fact that women can win their fight for an actual voice in how our government is to be run. The program was concluded by the reading of "The American Woman—As Others See Them," an article made up of famous people's ideas of the American woman. Pictures of the seven women in the headlines discussed during the evening were passed around to the members.

Mrs. Williams presided at the business session. The treasurer reported on the financial condition of the club. Cards announcing candidates for offices of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs were read. Donations to the Heart Fund and the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children were approved. A card of thanks from the March of Dimes chairman was shown. It was decided to write Governor Wetherby, telling him that the club wants Kentucky to have safer highways, better traffic laws, strictly enforced and an intensive safety program for homes, schools and industry.

It was voted to have a silver tea, Friday, March 2, for the benefit of the Men's Club fire department campaign. At the close of the business session, a salad plate in the Valentine motif was served the following: Mesdames T. J. Chandler, C. J. Williams, W. P. Howell, Edward Lykins, C. H. Dickerson, Beecher Hardwick, Glenn Blackburn, Arthur Van Kammen, Miss Alice Williams and the hostess Mrs. Anderson and the Rev. Anderson.

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF

In the mail is a letter from Harry W. Mills, Arlington, Virginia. Mr. Mills is a columnist for the Advocate of Mt. Sterling and his column is comparable in material to what passes for a column in this paper under the title, Floyd County Historical Notes. Mills' column is called "Early Families of Montgomery County" and contains a wealth of biographical and genealogical data on those families. He says: "Now since I am working on the history of Montgomery county from its earliest history (pre-establishment, in fact) and also following through on some of the persons living in parts of the county that were incorporated into other counties—as now constituted—I have collected some records of Floyd county, mostly from the Census Records, Pension Records, Marriage Records, Tax Lists, etc., of Floyd county. Also I have a series of maps, photostats of the originals in the Congressional Library, Washington, D. C., showing the county lines from before establishment of Montgomery county on down to modern times. I am attempting to localize, identify, and segregate the families living in that part of Floyd that was originally Montgomery county. Have not been able to make any extended progress on this project; however, I feel that you would likely be able to add some names to my list; then from the Census Records, etc., additional information might be obtained about these persons?"

Mr. Mills' letter has several enclosures that are interesting. They are mostly about Montgomery county but since this county was one of the parent counties of early Floyd, if not of the present Floyd, they are excerpted here as a matter of general interest. One enclosure, entitled "Montgomery County, Kentucky" says: "Montgomery County, Kentucky was established March 1st, 1797. It then embraced a vast area which extended to the Virginia border. A total of 18 counties have been formed, either partially or wholly, from this originally large county, as follows: 1797, Montgomery from Clark, 1799, Floyd from Montgomery, Fleming and Mason, 1806, Clay from Floyd, Madison, Knox, 1811, Bath from Montgomery, 1819, Harlan from Floyd, Knox, 1821, Lawrence from Floyd, Greenup, 1821, Pike from Floyd, 1822, Morgan from Floyd and Bath, 1829, Breathitt from Perry, Estill, Clay, 1842, Letcher from Harlan, Perry, 1843, Owsley from Clay, Estill, Breathitt, 1843, Johnson from Floyd, Lawrence, Morgan, 1853, Powell from Montgomery, Clark, Estill, 1860, Wolfe from Morgan, Breathitt, Owsley, Powell, 1860, Magoffin from Floyd, Johnson, Morgan, 1869, Menifee from Montgomery, Bath, Morgan, Powell, Wolfe, 1870, Lee from Owsley, Estill, Wolfe, Breathitt, 1870, Martin from Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Lawrence.

"What is now Montgomery county was explored in 1775 by Enoch Smith, William Calk and Robert Whitledge. First settlers included also Isaac Davis, John Lane, John and Peter Harper, John, Judy, John Crawford, James French, Moses Thomas, William Sade, Benjamin White, Nicholas Anderson, William Mater, James Poage, Edward Williams, Samuel Spurgeon and others. On account of the dangers of possible Indian invasions, these parties did not bring out their families until the years 1791-92. The early families of Montgomery came mostly from Virginia, many were from North Carolina, a few were from Maryland, Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

In several regional histories of this section of the state there is a mention that Enoch Smith, Richard Spur, John Wilkerson and William (omitted) came, in 1773, to what is Pike county, five miles from Pikeville, and built a horse pen. It has been said that they camped for a while, looked over the land but left without doing anything but preliminary and crude surveying. This horsepen became one of the cornerstones of early Pike land surveys, serving in a few instances as the starting point or serving to witness the starting point. Enoch Smith, William Calk and Robert Whitledge came to Kentucky in the year 1775 to explore Montgomery county. Was this companion of Smith's in Pike county the William, whose name, blurred or illegible on the old record, the William Calk referred to by Mr. Mills? All of which is speculation but it is, sometimes, by this speculation, this putting together of data, that recovers a genealogical or historical fact. A William Somebody or Other accompanied Enoch Smith to Pike county in 1773 and it may be that the William Calk that accompanied him to Montgomery county in 1775 was the same man.

Seems as if this column is sometimes mere quotations from the mail but since the information quoted is of interest to the inquirer there is always the possibility that the wider interest may be latent. Mrs. Paul K. Wolfe, 2515 Algonquin Ave. Ashland, Kentucky, writes in regard to the Lester family of Floyd: "My great-great-grandmother, Rebecca Lester, married Travis Horton, of Russell county, Virginia in 1805 and her sister, Hannah Lester (1st marriage, Scaggs), married my great-great-grandfather Edmond Whit. I am searching for the parents of Hannah and Rebecca Lester and believe they were from Russell county, Virginia, for I have found deeds but unfortunately no wills there. I feel sure that the early Lesters of Floyd county were originally from Russell county, Virginia."

The Floyd county record shows six Lester marriages before or during 1820. One of these marriages, that of Hanna Lester to Charles Stratton, Feb. 25, 1808, is one of the earliest on the Floyd record. Who this Charles Stratton was, nobody seems to know. Nowhere is there another reference to him, as far as this column is aware, Charles was an unfamiliar name for the early Strattons to use. They preferred Hiram, Solomon, Cornelius, Tandy, Richard or some combination of these. It was at first thought that this Charles must have been the Solomon C. Stratton who was a brother to William Stratton, the early Floyd county sheriff, but it seems not. Solomon C. married his cousin (how distant, we do not know), Elizabeth Stratton. This marriage of Charles and Hannah was performed by William McGuire (the record spells it McGuyer) who seemed to be the marrying parson of Johns Creek in the early days—his name is on so many of the marriage records as the officiating minister.

William Smith married Elizabeth Lester July 27, 1816. The marriage ceremony was performed by another veteran in this business of uniting the early couples, Spencer Adkins, Justice of the Peace. Other Lester marriages are: William King married Sally Lester, April 1st, 1819. This couple was married by James Honaker, Justice. John Lester married Nancy Helton, Jan. 24, 1820. This marriage ceremony performed by an unfamiliar name, that of John Kenney, minister of the Gospel. Also he married Jacob Witten to Elizabeth Lester on April 18, 1820 and Rebecca Lester to Willoughby Deal on March 21, 1820.

The name of this column emerged from somewhere out of either the printer's den or editor's sanctum where The Floyd County Times is published. There was a long sheet of notes on sundry historical matters, neatly typed; and, the use of them being no longer required, they were given to the editor of The Times. Next week, these notes appeared, neatly captioned, "Floyd County Historical Notes". Thus what passes for a column was born and sent out into the country-side, fully named. Scarcely ever was the appropriateness of the name reviewed but sometimes the thought came that something or other might be better. After a brief conversation with Edward L. Allen, this latter suspicion was verified. Meeting the attorney in the office of the Circuit Court Clerk, Judge Allen, said: "You know I have been reading your Floyd County Historical—uh—uh—(the word, "Notes," was escaping him)—uh—squibs— and like them very much." Now a squib is a small explosive firework that, when ignited, is directed to a certain place for the purpose of detonating a high explosive. It must be under direction or control or it will turn off at any target or angle to wind up in the most unpredictable of places. Which reminds of your column. It begins on a certain subject and at a certain time or place, but like a squib, loses control and direction. An example is this week. There is a start on the early history of Montgomery county but in the next breath a discussion of the Lester family. Ah, that word, "squib". How appropriate! But for obvious reasons it cannot be used. It would only further impair the already weak dignity of a column trying to go in so many directions at one end and the same time.

The story of Robert L. Vest's unwilling horse trade with "Bad" John Wright, of Elkhorn Creek, which appeared in The Courier-Journal and The Floyd County Times recalls to this column the story often told by John Nunnery, a citizen of Pike county, but who died a few years ago at Betsy Layne. He was a son of Mitchell and Elizabeth Nunnery and was born on Euffalo Creek. A brother, Sherman Nunnery, was long a resident and business man of Prestonsburg. John himself passed the century mark, living to tell, time and time again, the story of the sojourn of his younger days in Missouri when he encountered Frank James. John had gone to Missouri and, one day, was riding along the road when a hurried horseman appeared. He drew rein and after a cursory look at John, began to examine his horse, suggesting a trade. The hurried rider was astride a beautiful black but the fatigue of the road was upon the steed. He dropped his head when the reins were loosened, indicating that, ere long, it would be the end of the trail for him.

Nunnery, young and ill-experienced in horse-trading, was showing indecision about the proposed exchange when the man said shortly, "No, I guess I had better not trade." He rode away as he had come—not in headlong, desperate flight but in the hurried precision of a man who knows what he is about and doing it. Hours later, the countryside was being combed by a posse of westerners, looking for Frank James.

Speaking of Frank James recalls the legend of Johns Creek, that a group of horsemen, at one time, appeared there, and stopped at the old Bevins home, asking for food and forage. The hospitality of the place was extended to them and when ready to leave, one lagged behind. He was seen writing a note which he placed upon a dresser near the door. When the dust of the open road had swallowed the strangers, the curious householder read the note: "You have heard of Frank and Jesse James. Today you have seen them." No signature, they say, was on the short missive and it could have been written by either of the famous outlaws. The whole story may be apocryphal, for the mountain folk have ever loved a legend. No subject of more commanding interest could there be than a story of the two outlaws, and around them a romantic people wove many a tale.

WASHINGTON — Rep. John Wood (D-Georgia) appealed to former members of the Communist party to "clear" themselves by reporting all they know to the House Un-American Activities Committee.

METHODIST CHURCH

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Billie Ball, formerly of Allen, to our church and its activities.

The Lewing Club held its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Tom Roache. The meeting was opened by a devotional service by Mrs. Kate Martin and Rev. Kenney. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. O. C. Hayes. Much interest was manifested in the up-building of the church. The treasurer's report showed we still have $325.95 in the treasury. During the sewing period Mr. Roache entertained by playing several old tunes on the accordion which he learned to play as a small boy.

A dessert course was served to Mesdames H. J. Johnson, Otis Kilburn, O. C. Hayes, E. C. Blanton, Troy Webb, J. M. Preston, Leck Martin, Hite Martin, V. A. Hayes, Walter Hitchcock and Mary and Rev. and Mrs. Kenney. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Kate Martin on March 3.

The Ladies Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patrick Tuesday evening for a Valentine party. Husbands were invited, so business and sewing were left until the next meeting, and everyone joined in making this one of the nicest parties we've ever had. Mrs. Howard Ramey led the devotionals which was followed by a round table discussion of "The Church and What It Means to Me." Several games were played, with all members participating. There were many sore and aching sides after "Uncle Joshua." Gifts were exchanged before refreshments decorated in the Valentine motif, were served. The party ended with the singing of hymns.

Congratulations to Virginia Jeffries for her well-earned success, and may Isobel be a best-seller! It was in the making of the last time we saw the author, who has worked long and faithfully and been rewarded with steady progress.

Another bouquet for Joy Rasnick, who won the Pharmacy Scholarship recently. These former high school valedictorians from Floyd really go places.

Spring time is near. It is good to see farmers who recognize the value of saving cornstalks and similar material, which make humus, sadly needed by the soil. Cornstalks are wastefully burned every year by many.

If your community wants the most laughs it ever had packed into one evening invite the Maytown P.-T.A. to present, on a percentage basis, its original version of the Old-Fashioned Deestrick Skule. You will pinch yourself to make sure you are not back in the little-red-school-house days.

Kentucky should be exceedingly proud of John Sherman Cooper and his courage to stand by his convictions every time. He is not afraid to think for himself and act accordingly, and is a statesman worthy of the name. None doubt he has a future.

Our family just completed the book, ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS, as a supplement for evening devotions. What a book. Every pastor, social worker, and topnotch citizen should own one, and every library should circulate a dozen copies. How sadly almost every community needs an active chapter of the A.A. Incidentally, the only solution to the problem of alcoholics is like-wise the only answer to ALL major problems, whether individual, national or international, but many do not realize this. It is encouraging to note the percentage of physicians and psychiatrists who approve of the plan and acknowledge it is the only one they have found that really works. (The book costs $3.50, from Works Publishing Co., Grand Central Annex, Box 459, New York City 17. You will be glad you bought it.)

A country youth, new to the city, sought the big church, whose pastor had once held a revival in his home community, not knowing it was composed of the Four Hundred! He presented himself for membership, without realizing the preacher was embarrassed. When the pastor suggested that he pray over the matter for a day and return, he did so in good faith, and again went forward at the close of the service.

The minister hum-hawed, hesitated to ask his elite congregation to accept the young fellow, whose trousers were well above his shoe tops. "I'll tell you, son," he said, "suppose you let me come around first and pray with you about this. Joining the church is serious business. In the meantime you pray, too."

The boy agreed. Next afternoon, the pastor ran into him on the street and decided it was the best time to get it over. "Have you been praying, my lad?" he hopefully asked.

"Yes, sir, I have, and the Lord told me not to join your church," the youth informed him.

"Good," sighed the pastor, with relief. "Er, er, I thought that's what he'd say."

"Oh, yes," agreed the boy. "God told me he had been trying for over a hundred years to get into your church Himself and that I ought to know if He can't do a thing I can't!"

STOCKHOLM — An Eve, describing herself as a noble-woman "tall, chic and colorful," advertised for "an Adam for my Eden." The ad said Adam "might well be a pirate" but must be kind, hearted, intelligent, well-traveled, about 50, financially independent and "love love for its own sake."

FINAL TAX NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

All 1950 state and county taxes that have not been paid are now delinquent, and under the law a penalty of 6 per cent has been added as of Feb. 1, 1951. These delinquent taxes also draw 12 per cent interest which thereby increases the amount of your taxes considerably. If they are not paid within the next few weeks there will be added the cost of the levy, commission and newspaper advertising. This will cause added and unnecessary expense. If there is anything wrong with your tax, please make it known, either by letter or in person, and I will do my best to help straighten the matter out; otherwise, please forward check or money order for your taxes and save a lot of unnecessary expense. I will promptly mail you your receipt.

WHY DOUBLED TAX RATE DID NOT RESULT IN DOUBLED SALARIES FOR THE TEACHER

BY PALMER L. HALL
Supt., Floyd County Schools

After the state legislature did away with consolidated districts and made a uniform tax for the entire county compulsory the disappointment of one Floyd county rural teacher in 1946 because his salary was not "doubled" since the tax rate in the rural areas had gone from 75c to $1.50 revealed just how little even teachers sometimes understand the finances of the educational program. Realizing that an enlightened public usually means a cooperative and progressive public, increased effort has been made to have teachers and the lay public better understand the whole school program.

In expecting his salary to be doubled, the rural teacher mentioned overlooked several things. In the first place, he was thinking only of his monthly salary. He did not take into consideration that his school term jumped from seven to nine months so that his annual salary was increased almost one third, had the monthly salary remained exactly the same. Also, he was probably overlooking the fact that operating and maintenance cost must necessarily go up when the length of the school term is increased.

In the second place, this teacher did not take into consideration that in only a part of the county was the tax rate actually "doubled." Floyd county had a large number of consolidated districts where special taxes were levied. In some of these districts there was no increase in the tax rate at all and in others only a small increase. In one or two districts the tax rate was actually decreased.

Where does our school money come from? This year the Floyd county school system will receive and spend (exclusive of bond sales) approximately one million dollars.

Out of every one dollar of this approximately—

45c comes from the state per capita (about $90 per census child)

13c comes from the state equalization fund.

1/2c comes from federal aid (ag., home ec., etc.).

27c comes from the local tax on franchises (railroads, gas and electric cos., etc.).

16c comes from the local tax on general property (farms, homes, auto and other personal property).

1/2c comes from the local poll tax. It can be seen that out of every dollar received for the Floyd county schools this year only 16c will come from taxes collected by the sheriff of this county on general property, while about 58c comes from the state or federal government. Most of the balance comes from the local tax on franchises.

Each year a complete financial accounting of the Board of Education is published in The Floyd County Times. The one for the 1949-50 year should appear in this issue. For a better understanding of the operation of your schools observe this published audit closely.

CELEBRATES 7TH BIRTHDAY

Harnetta "Ginger" Wills, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Harry Wills, of Bull Creek, celebrated her 7th birthday with a party Feb. 3rd. She had 21 friends enjoyed games, with prizes given to the winner of each game. Refreshments were served after Ginger opened her gifts.

PITTSBURGH — A Benedictine nun and her nephew, a Roman Catholic priest, renounced any claim to an $181,360 estate left by the Rev. Monsignor Stephen A. Walsh. Sister Mary Martina said acceptance of the estate would violate the vow of poverty she made many years ago. Monsignor Walsh was her brother. The 50-year-old nun who has been blind for several years deeded her rights to the estate to a nephew, the Rev. Eugene P. Walsh. Father Walsh declined.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

OUR KINDRED

Some people are so proud of being human beings that they are rather haughty and are inclined to show considerable disdain toward other creatures. Some wag has said that a Kentucky Colonel would not object to being reminded of his kinship with a thoroughbred horse or a foxhound, but it would be beneath his dignity to be told that he is also related to a tadpole or a pig or a monkey. This feeling of superiority sometimes makes us look down our noses at other beings of our own kind, certainly much nearer us than even the highest forms of the animal kingdom except man himself. Even in our learning we are toddlers, for we seem never to stop to think that life is the thing, that size or shape, or pedigree, or popularity have little to do with the long creative energy behind even the mongrel dog that keeps us awake at night with his primitive howling. Sometimes it is easy for us to transfer our own feelings to the lower orders, if we are in a physical or mental mood for it. When I was sick some years ago, I had to lie and listen through the long watches of the night to the barks and howls and whines of my neighbor's dog. I could not help wondering, in my half-conscious, half-wakeful hours, whether his staying awake had anything to do with my own wakefulness, if his barking had anything to do with my searching questions of life and death. As I had nothing else to do, I also wondered whether the lower animals might not sometimes feel a little ashamed of being kind to such creatures as I.

Ignoramuses who believe such nonsensical stuff. Many a person has "told me off," very politely, of course, for assuming that anybody but the most ignorant and the unwashed could possibly believe some of the stuff that I write or talk about. Usually I have kept my sanity and soon brought that very person to see how thin is the veneer of civilization that even the best of us, the most bookish, the most endowed with wealth have. Some of my tests are crude, but I like to think them intelligent. When taboos are scorned, and many a taboo seems idiotic except to the ones who practice it, I ask the scornor to come to my house to a row dinner or a barbecue, when fresh young skunk in sufficient quantities will be served as meat. Or I ask the highly civilized one to join me on a camping trip in dense forest where some old neglected graveyard will be right at us or beneath the tent itself. Or I mention owls and other night birds—creatures that I love as well as day birds—and see whether there is any change in the objector's countenance. Most people who are fearful of being regarded as kindred of ignorant people soon admit, in words or in actions, that humanity is, after all, just one species, paring in color and stature and language, but with the same kind of heart, with the same normal breathing and the same temperature. Of course, great superficial changes have taken place, but who is to say when some of the most primitive may bound ahead of us self-satisfied ones and really become superior to us and all our kind?

Whatever touches humanity touches us. The lowliest slum districts send children to our public schools; people from those same areas buy food at our food markets; if you walk down any street, you may meet people of this sort, maybe with some disease that you might catch in passing. By the way, how far back in your family did bathing, except in a tin washpan once a week, become common? When did your ancestors, or you, mayhap learn to brush your teeth regularly? When did you cease to take the quack remedy for colds or aching back or plain laziness? Is it so far away that you should not see your day-before-yesterday attitudes or fears or psychology in people who may attain to your present level of thinking and acting by tomorrow? It is no all-leveling democracy to admit how closely akin we all are, however hard we may be trying to increase the distance between our former and our future selves.

CHARLESTON — Labor Commissioner Sattler had something new to worry about. He said his department would look into complaints that parking meters were short-changing citizens of a Northern West Virginia city 15 minutes. "They are measuring devices, inasmuch as they measure time," Sattler explained. He declined to identify the city.

LOS ANGELES — Price reduction on most of its 1951 line of household refrigerators were announced by Servel, Inc. The price of one new model will be approximately $32 less than its 1950 counterpart. Jones said the price reductions were made possible by sweeping design changes that lowered production cost.
