Two Meets Stated Here To Form New Affiliates With Education Council

Floyd county's schools are expected to supply the Kentucky Council for Education two new working units when Mrs. Inez K. Ligon, Louisville, executive council secretary, meets here next week with school representatives.

Chalmer H. Frazier, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools, said this week the Prestonsburg Council for Education will be formed at a luncheon meeting, Tuesday noon, at the Brown hotel here.

Wednesday night, representatives of the county school system will meet with Mrs. Ligon to form a Floyd County Council on Education.

The Kentucky Council for Education was founded, it is explained, to procure and study the facts about the state's public schools, and enlist the cooperation of lay citizens, specialized students of education and professional men and women in drawing up a working practical plan of action based on planned research.

It is unfair and unrealistic to expect Boards of Education, school teachers and Parent-Teacher organizations to tackle this job alone, Council leaders say.

THE TRIBE TO THE RESCUE

Those who have maintained that the "furriner" hasn't a Chinaman's chance (even after Korea) in Eastern Kentucky courts had a surprise coming to them in county court here Monday.

A Floyd county jury gave a verdict in favor of Cherokee Bill, an itinerant showman, who had been charged with slander in a warrant procured by Trivis Reynolds, a resident of Martin in Floyd county, also a native of Floyd county and a dunned good one, to boot.

So there you have a situation in which the folks apparently fail to run true to form. But before you jump off to any conclusions you might take into consideration what lawyers, court attaches and others know about the case.

In the first place, said one, pore ole Cherokee merely explained to a theatre crowd that his delay in making his appearance had resulted from a job at Reynolds' garage where, he felt, he had been overmuch charged, etcetera.

In the next place, said others, the jury was summoned by an officer who is a direct descendant of Golden Hawk Sizemore, the Cherokee who came to this section from Tennessee in the early days to do what is described as a yeoman job toward populating the Kentucky

Porter Names Lessor Of Mining Equipment In Circuit Court Suit

Collection of a debt amounting to $108,000 is sought by the Porter Elkhorn Coal Company in a suit filed in circuit court here last week.

The company's petition, filed by Atty. Joe Hobson, Prestonsburg, contends the West Elkhorn Coal Company which leased Porter's mining equipment at Salisbury, this county, agreed to pay $125,000 at the rate of $2,000 a month, and that the defendant has paid only $17,000 of that amount.

Terms of the lease provided, it is claimed, that failure to pay an installment when due made the entire amount due and payable. The plaintiff elects in the action to declare the $108,000 balance now due.

A general order of attachment on the property was issued.

The Porter Elkhorn Coal Company was operated by Henry Porter, who now resides on his farm near Winchester, and his son, Herman Porter, of Allen.

Dates have been announced for the county spelling bee finals for both the Floyd county school system and the Prestonsburg independent school district.

Finals for county schools will be held at the courthouse here March 17 at 10 a. m., with both Herald-Dispatch and Courier-Journal contestants taking part. The Prestonsburg bee will be held in the grade school auditorium March 29, 10 a. m.

Prestonsburg students will compete in the Herald-Dispatch contest only. Rural sectional contests will be held the week of March 5-14, it has been announced. Each will begin at 9 a. m. as follows:

Frazier Branch, March 5th; Banner, March 6th; Clear Creek, March 7th; McDowell, March 8th; Salisbury, March 9th; Bosco, March 12th; Sam Hale, March 13th; Spradlin Branch, March 14th.

Consolidated schools will hold individual contests to select their representatives in the County Championship competition.

County winners of last year's Herald-Dispatch spelling bee were Quanda Martin, Maytown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, and Josephine Tackett, Prestonsburg, niece of Mrs. Charles F. Bond. In the Courier-Journal contest, Mabry Dean Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Newman, of Hi Hat, was the county representative.

FLOYD NATIVE ENTERS RACE

For State Auditor; Mrs. Hatcher Quits, To Assist Husband

Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher announced Tuesday night he will seek the Democratic nomination for State Auditor.

At the same time his wife, Mrs. Lorraine Jarrell Hatcher, withdrew as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State to succeed her husband.

Hatcher filed his declaration papers, making himself the first candidate to file for state-wide office in this year's primaries.

Hatcher was beaten last summer for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator by former Governor Earle Clements. Since then Hatcher has been contemplating running for Governor or lieutenant governor.

"The changing status of our governmental affairs convinced me that to seek one of the major offices (Governor or lieutenant-governor) at this time would only muddle and confuse the minds of my friends and our people to a greater degree.

"The taxpayers and agencies can rest assured that I will give capable, fair, and honest administration as auditor. I have always and still believe that a public office is a public trust, and am confident that the people of our state are convinced that my record merits their continued support," Hatcher said in a statement.

Hatcher is a former city clerk of Ashland, former deputy clerk of the Court of Appeals, and is serving his second term as Secretary of State. He is a native of Floyd county and lists Ashland as his present residence.

Mrs. Hatcher, who announced as a candidate for Secretary of State a few weeks ago, said she is getting out of the race to help nominate her husband for auditor.

YOUNG MEETS WITH BOARDS, HEARS PLANS

Official Says More Land Is 'Must' Here For School Building

With Gordie Young, assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction, sitting in on a joint meeting of the Floyd county and Prestonsburg Boards of Education Tuesday night, construction of a county high school building here is believed to have moved up a step toward reality.

Those attending this meeting learned that Mr. Young is taking these positions in the matter of Floyd county's building program for schools:

1. More land must be acquired before he will approve the site already purchased by the County Board of Education for the proposed building here.

2. The high school structure here is the No. 1 school project in the county.

3. If finances permit, other projects under consideration, a new gymnasium at Martin and a school building at Bosco, will receive his approval.

4. Consolidation of the Prestonsburg independent district with the county is desired.

The County Board of Education will meet Tuesday to consider purchase of additional land required and possibly to decide on the size and form of the school structure here.

It was said Mr. Young recommended acquisition by the Board of 19 lots covering approximately an acre and a half of land lying on the north side of the area already purchased and extending from U. S. 23 back to the river bank.

He also was quoted as saying the

MINERS OUT AT PERMELE

Reason for Stoppage Unexplained; Group Halts Floyd Miners

Operation of the Princess Elkhorn's No. 2 mine at Permele, near David, was at a standstill today (Thursday), and Floyd county miners en route by bus to the mine were stopped at the forks of Middle Creek by a group of unidentified men.

A company official said the reason for the work stoppage is not known.

A series of shooting episodes on Alum Lick is said to have stemmed from the employment of Johnson county men at this mine.

It was said here this morning that between 30 and 40 unidentified men halted a bus driven by Tom Calhoun for the Harris Bus Line, about 6:15 this morning. None appeared to be armed.

The bus had upwards of 25 passengers, but only four men who work at the No. 2 mine were asked not to continue the trip to work. The others continued the trip to David where they are employed in the company's No. 1 mine where work continues.

Those who were stopped were listed as Herman Perry, Logan Fraley, Bill Tussey and Andy Collins, all of this county.

The last shooting on Alum Lick took place last Friday night. Officers standing watch there said approximately 60 shots were fired but nobody was wounded. The officers did not return the fire.

Idle rumor was blamed by officials for continuance of differences in that section, and they sought to discourage speculation, hoping for the return of peaceful relations.

Defeat of Pikeville By Beltry, Biggest News of Tourneys

Big news of the district basketball tournaments now under way over Kentucky was the defeat Wednesday night of the Pikeville Panthers by Beltry. The underdog Beltry team upset high-ranking Pikeville by four points.

Another upset in this section was that of the Paintsville Tigers at the hands of Warfield. Paintsville also lost by four points.

In the 58th district at Martin, which is probably the state's toughest, Prestonsburg's Black Cats opened the proceedings with a 79-56 victory over Auxier high school. Wednesday night, Wayland easily eliminated the Garrett Black Devils by a 25-point margin, and Betsy Layne trounced Maytown by 12 points.

Tonight (Thursday), Prestonsburg and McDowell meet, and Martin, the host team, gets into the tourney for the first time against Wheelwright.

BOARD HAS TROUBLE OF ANOTHER KIND

Selective Service Board No. 25 is having 18-year-old draft troubles of another kind.

Instead of protesting the possibility of military service, numerous youths are registering as aged 18 before attaining their 18th birthday.

"We're having to spend more time on those who register under age than on the boys who are subject to draft," commented Mrs. Gladys S. Allen, clerk of the Board. So this rule has been adopted by the Board:

Henceforth, those appearing to register as 18 years old must be accompanied by their parents or bring with them school records, birth certificates, or other authentic information as proof of their age.

WORKERS PREP FOR UNIT VISIT

Prestonsburg's Quota Of Blood, April 4th, Is Set at 125 Pints

With the first visit of a Red Cross mobile blood unit to Floyd county only little more than a month away, the countywide organization set up by Bert T. Combs, chairman of the Red Cross blood program for the county, readied itself this week for intensive work.

Chairmen of the various committees set up to carry on Floyd county's part of the nationwide program met here Tuesday night with Mr. Combs. First visit of the blood unit will be in Prestonsburg, April 4, when this community will be asked to supply 125 pints of blood.

During the year, the mobile blood unit from Huntington, W. Va., will make 16 visits to Floyd county, and on each of these visits the quota will be 125 pints of blood. The various communities of the county will be called on from time to time.

For the April 4 visit of the unit to Prestonsburg 165 volunteer blood donors are being sought. Some of this number will fall to qualify for donors, and so additional volunteers must be on hand to assure the 125 pints of blood set as the quota for this visit.

Blood thus procured will go to the Huntington regional blood bank and be available, free of charge, for civilian and military use. "This blood is for you, your family and those who give their blood for their country," was the

Three on Left Beaver Taken on Boozie Writs

Three Left Beaver Creek men were arrested over the week-end after officers had found them in possession of whiskey ranging in quantity from four to seven pints. Searches were made under search warrants issued by Magistrate Ellis Martin, of Drift.

Arrested were Junior Horner, Melvin, Russell Viers, Wheelwright Junction, and Simon Moore, Price. Arresting officers were Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson, Deputy Constables Enoch Hatfield and Green Johnson. Trial date was set for March 10.

Sheriffs To Ask Court To Clarify Fee Ruling

The Kentucky Sheriffs Association last week voted to ask the Court of Appeals for clarification of its ruling that a sheriff is entitled to take out of the school taxes he collects only his actual expenses incurred in collecting them.

The sheriffs, meeting in Louisville, also decided to ask Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby to amend his call for a special session of the Legislature to include mileage-expense legislation for sheriffs.

The association directed its attorneys to petition for a rehearing of a case involving the school-tax fee to be paid the Madison county sheriff. In that case, the court held on February 16 that the sheriff was entitled to a 1 per cent fee.

Kentucky law authorizes fees up to 4 per cent, but the court held that a sheriff is not necessarily entitled to that amount. It pointed out that it did not void the 4 per cent statute.

"The court's ruling leads to a confused and uncertain condition," John Young Brown, attorney for the association, said.

This was the scene after the wreck at Ball Alley, on the outskirts of Prestonsburg, Saturday afternoon when three Ashland men were killed. Wreckage of the death car is partially obscured by wrecker (foreground). The second truck which hit the car had been removed when the photo was made. The first truck which was sideswiped by the auto is shown, overturned. At left margin of picture may be seen a cross such as has been erected on highways over a wide section of Kentucky and Virginia by a Harlan county miner. The lettering on one side of the cross reads, "Prepare To Meet Your God"; on the other, "Jesus Died for You".

HAYS TO ASK BRIEF SESSION

Says General Assembly Should Quickly Approve Governor's Suggestions

"It should be a short session, and I intend to tell the Senate that the taxpayers expect it to be short," State Senator Doug Hays, McDowell, said here Wednesday in a discussion of the special General Assembly session called for next Monday by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby.

Senator Hays added that nobody would dare oppose the Governor in his move to raise the pay of teachers and that he sees no reason for the session to be drawn out over two or three weeks.

Governor Wetherby said Tuesday that a $6,000,000 appropriation to education will raise the state's per capita fund behind each pupil to $38.36 next school year, an increase of $8.78 over the 1950-51 outlay.

This will provide for an average $300 yearly pay raise for approximately 19,500 teachers in the 232 school districts, the Governor said.

One of the Governor's proposals is for an appropriation of $6,000,000 out of an anticipated surplus of $10,000,000 in the state treasury at the end of this fiscal year, June 30. The Governor specified that his

ADVISES BEDS IN HOSPITAL

For t.b. Patients Denied Treatment As Hopeless Cases

A representative of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association urged here last week that when the Floyd County War Memorial hospital is constructed it should contain a section or wing for the segregation of advanced tuberculosis cases.

Pointing out that sanatoria will not accept these hopeless cases, since hospitalization of such persons serves to deny a bed to patients who may be cured through treatment, the Tuberculosis Association spokesman asked that 25 beds be provided for tuberculosis sufferers beyond hope of recovery.

Dr. Marvin Ransdell, Floyd County Health Department director, said such service should be included in hospital plans. He added, however, that 25 beds would probably be more than needed for Floyd county patients.

Dr. Ransdell described the advanced case of tuberculosis as the type which presents the greatest threat to public health. The patient, permitted to travel and mingle with the public, scatters germs of the disease by spitting and coughing, and others are almost defenseless under such conditions.

Dr. Ransdell said there are some such patients, however who will not accept hospitalization. For such the law should make segregation mandatory, he said.

Robbins, a truck driver, was born February 16, 1923, in Boyd county, a son of Stanley G. and Hazel Conley Robbins, of Ashland. Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Mary Robbins; a daughter, Joyce Ann, at home, the parents and one sister, Mrs. Eloise Hankins, Ironton, Ohio.

Perry was born January 22, 1933, in Boyd county, a son of John F. and Dorothy Burnett Perry, who also reside in Ashland. Surviving are the parents; four sisters, Mrs. Delmar Blair and Mrs. Imogene Perry, Ashland; Inez Marie and Mary Catherine Perry, at home, three brothers, Charles William

Thieves Get $700 Loot From Langley Garage; Register, Tires Taken

Merchandise and equipment valued at $700 were taken by thieves from the Halbert Bros. Garage at Maytown, early Sunday morning.

Included in the loot was a new cash register, two truck tires and eight passenger tires. Entrance to the garage was effected through breaking the lock on the front door.

The loss was the second suffered by Herman Halbert, one of the garage owners, in the last few weeks. He recently lost all his household belongings in a fire which destroyed his home at Maytown.

Identity of the burglars had not been established Monday, it was said.

$50,000 SUIT FILED AGAINST KAZEE, OTHERS

Plaintiffs Are Four Children of Woman Killed Last Year

The four children of Josephine Hinton Blackburn, who was killed here by a revolver shot fired by Policeman Bill Kazee, Feb. 26, 1950, filed suit in the Floyd circuit court Saturday asking $50,000 damages of Kazee, his bondsmen and the city of Prestonsburg.

Kazee was convicted, early last month in the Pike circuit court, of manslaughter and was given a five-year pen term, but his sentence was later probated by Circuit Judge E. L. Stephenson.

The suit was filed by Lloyd Thomas, Peggy Jo, Carmella Jean and Judy Clay McCown, children of Mrs. Blackburn's first marriage, by their grandmother, Mrs. Anna Hinton who is executrix of Mrs. Blackburn's estate. Named as defendants were Bill Kazee the Employers Liability Assurance Corporation, Inc., Chief of Police Ed Laferty, E. P. Arnold, Elder Wright, W. B. Boyd, John Warix, Wesley Campbell and the City of Prestonsburg.

Petition of the plaintiffs, which was filed by U. S. District Attorney C. P. Stephens, alleges the woman was shot while the officer was attempting to arrest Elmer Blackburn, her husband, and that the latter was not resisting arrest to the extent that the officer was endangered.

It alleges officials of the City of Prestonsburg have "failed and refused" to produce the original of Kazee's bond executed by Employers Liability or the bond executed by Warix and Campbell. The city, the petition claims, has by its duty constituted officers "misplaced, destroyed, cancelled and attempted to make void" the bonds executed by Kazee. This was done, plaintiffs allege, for the purpose of preventing collection of damages.

Arnold Wright and Boyd were sued as sureties on the bond of Chief of Police Laferty, plaintiffs claiming that by provisions of law Laferty and his bondsmen are responsible for any illegal acts of his deputies.

It is contended that the City of Prestonsburg through its alleged failure and refusal to produce copies of the bonds, especially that of Kazee, becomes liable to the plaintiffs.

SCHOOL CLUBS TO BE HOSTS

For Pre-Legislative Assembly, Mar. 22-24, Of District 'Y' Groups

Hi-Y an Y-Teen Clubs of Prestonsburg high school will be hosts next Tuesday afternoon to the Sixth district pre-legislative assembly of the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. preparatory to the Kentucky Youth Assembly which will be held at Frankfort, March 22-24.

In addition to all Floyd county high schools, other Sixth district schools, including Paintsville, Louisa, Jackson, Hazard, Pikeville and Fleming, are expected to send representatives to the meeting.

Dan Pitts, Jr., assistant director, and H. M. Caldwell, state YMCA secretary, and Miss Eleanor Harris, Lexington, state YWCA secretary, will conduct the assembly which will begin here at 1 p. m.

For the past six years the state YMCA has sponsored a citizenship officials and laymen, participated training conference, known as the Kentucky Youth Assembly, at Frankfort. Last year, more than 450 boys and girls from all parts of Kentucky, together with state officials met in the Assembly for a three-day period. Each club in the state is permitted to send four delegates, one senator, two representatives, a press representative and an adviser to the Assembly.

At Frankfort these young "legislators" have the time of their lives presenting bills, serving on committees managing and directing state affairs and learning through actual participation the rudiments of good citizenship.

building also may need to be larger than the 22-classroom structure considered in earlier planning. Young was indefinite in his talk of a gymnasium-auditorium under the same roof and as a part of the school building.

He explained that the school here must be built for the future, to serve a part of the county which can be considered as a permanent center of population.

Members of the City Board of Education told the state official they are ready to start merger procedure immediately when they are assured a suitable building will be provided by the county.

In a later statement to The Times W. V. Bunting, a member of the City Board, said, "That was our platform—to merge with the county when we are sure the children will have the kind of school building they deserve. I'm ready, any time, to make good on my promise."

Dr. J. H. Allen and J. E. Campbell, of the County Board, did not attend Tuesday night's meeting. James Greene, Dr. W. D. Osborne and Alonzo Stratton, the remaining members of the Board, frankly expressed their support of the proposed building program.

Discussing the site purchased here for the school, Mr. Young said he had thought it was the Bascom May property of several acres. He added, however, that with additional area the site purchased will be an excellent school location.

It was pointed out at the meeting that when the old high school property here is sold, the county's half of the proceeds will more than offset the cost of additional land asked by Mr. Young.

A highlight of the meeting was a report for 1950 given by J. H. Mosgrove, Institute secretary-treasurer. In the report, Mosgrove pointed out that the member companies of the Institute "achieved a safety record that far surpassed any of the previous years that records have been kept, which dates back to 1938."

"The tons mined per fatality in 1950 increased by a remarkable 11 per cent over the year 1949 and an enviable 69 per cent over the year 1940. Again we have been able to go through another year without a mine disaster to stain our record. We have had one major mine fire but it caused no injuries or loss of life.

"In noting these achievements, the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute congratulates the persons responsible for these excellent results, which includes both management and labor. They have done a remarkable piece of work in carrying the Institute to an all-time high in its safety effort."

Ky.-W. Va. Affiliate At Work on New Plant

Work on a new electric generating plant was started this week by a sister company of Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company. The site of the $45,000,000 plant of the Ohio River Power Company is located on the Muskingum river near McConnellsville, Ohio.

Phillip Sporn, president of the American Gas & Electric Company, told civic officials and newspapermen at the ground-breaking ceremony that construction of the new plant is being accelerated to meet anticipated needs of defense industries in Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia and Kentucky.

The new plant will initially consist of two 200,000 kilowatt units which, in addition to supplying power for the Ohio Power Company, will also make available additional capacity for Kentucky. It is the second 400,000 k.w. generating plant to be started within six months by American Gas and Electric Service Corporation. Construction was started on the Kanawha River plant near Charleston, W. Va., by the Appalachian Electric Power Company in October, 1950.

With full load, it is expected that Muskingum River's 400,000 kilowatts of capacity will consume 1,000,000 tons of coal per year. Mr. Sporn pointed out that the units at the new plant will be among the largest and most efficient generating units in the nation.

P.-T.A. Here Asks Ban On Drive Participation For Teachers, Pupils

Because the numerous fund drives conducted locally have claimed more and more of the time of both teachers and pupils as their help is asked, the Prestonsburg Parent-Teacher Association recently adopted resolutions calling on the City Board of Education and City Superintendent Chalmer H. Frazier to place a ban on such activities within the school.

The resolutions first approved by the P.-T.A. executive board Jan. 31, and adopted by vote of P.-T.-A. members, Feb. 15, emphasized the fact that the fund drives are recognized as worthwhile projects and deserving of public support, but took the position that school participation in such activities "has caused undue hardship on the teachers by creating extra work and more distractions to the children . . ."

The P.-T.A. explained in the resolutions that its action "is not directed toward any particular organization and shall not be construed to mean that no announcements or assemblies shall be held to publicize such drives, but shall merely put an end to the children being used to solicit funds and relieve teachers from the responsibility of checking in the money and making out additional reports. . ."

Some birds, swifts for example, never walk.

An Ironton, O., soldier has been awarded the Bronze Star for conspicuous devotion to duty under enemy fire which contributed to the eventual destruction of seven enemy tanks.

He is Pfc. Billy L. Hubbard, son of Mr. Vada Norris, Ironton, and nephew of Mrs. Green Osborne, of Martin. Pvt. Hubbard was awarded the fourth highest decoration for heroism in action, September 27, at Hwangangni, Korea while a member of the 1st Cavalry division.

Pvt. Hubbard's artillery battery was attached to the task force making the initial break-through to link up with UN forces at Inchon when it was suddenly ambushed shortly after midnight by 10 enemy tanks. "Disregarding the terrific volume of enemy tank cannon and machine gun fire directed at him, Hubbard as cannoneer assisted in placing his 105 howitzer in firing position. The lead tank was allowed to come within a range of 25 yards before it was fired upon and destroyed, blocking the advance of the other tanks," the citation relates.

Our county tax commissioners are not to blame for the evils that plague property taxation in Kentucky. Maybe if they took the bull by the horns and raised assessments they knew to be outrageously low, they could get away with it. Maybe they would be shot from ambush. But we should not expect reforms until the public is aroused at least enough to back up the legislature in enacting a better law.

Magoffin Couple's Feud Ends in Woman's Death; Ex-Husband Is Prisoner

What was described as a long-standing feud between a Magoffin county man and his former wife resulted in the slaying last week of the woman and in the jailing of her former husband on a murder charge.

The man, Clayton Minix, of Royalton, is accused of firing several shots into the body of his ex-wife, Mrs. Polly Pitts Arnett, at Royalton, Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Arnett was dead on arrival at the Paintsville hospital.

Arnett fled the scene of the shooting but late Wednesday night was arrested on Trace Fork of Licking river by Magoffin county officers and state police. He was held without bond and was transferred to the Clark county jail at Winchester for safekeeping.

The killing culminated a series of gun fights between the two over a period of several years. The Salyersville Independent relates that on one occasion Minix fired several shots through the place of business operated near Royalton by Mrs. Arnett. Minix claimed the property she occupied was his. On another occasion Minix was shot in the leg, and Mrs. Arnett allegedly fired that shot. Lesser altercations were reported from time to time between the two, and Minix was alleged to have shot into the auto of Mrs. Arnett's husband.

THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES

"Congratulations on your last article," writes Andrew J. Norfleet, editor of the Times Journal of Russell Springs. He means the one about the shocking inequalities in the assessment of real estate in many Kentucky counties.

"I have just finished reading your column, and I agree with every word of it," Mr. Norfleet continues. "It is an insult to honest taxpayers the way some of our county governments are managed."

Well, Mr. Norfleet and other patriotic Kentuckians your correspondent is only a voice in a wilderness of low-grade politics and public indifference but there must be a glimmering, flickering hope for fairer taxation so long as the voters are not allowed to forget the ancient tax evils that plague most of our 120 counties. Ancient is right. Kentuckians have been assessing $15,000 property at $1,000 ever since property owners began evaluating their own belongings, and they will go right on doing it until public opinion is aroused and courageous men and women take the situation in hand.

That whole tax system was set up originally with the idea of offending as few property owners as possible. Its enactment was a political job. Property owners were put on their honor for the most part. Assessors have been taking people's word for it ever since our county government's were set up. When the commissioner's job is finished a board of equalization usually goes to Frankfort to see to it that the county's rate is not raised.

Our county tax commissioners are not to blame for the evils that plague property taxation in Kentucky. Maybe if they took the bull by the horns and raised assessments they knew to be outrageously low, they could get away with it. Maybe they would be shot from ambush. But we should not expect reforms until the public is aroused at least enough to back up the legislature in enacting a better law.

Tax reform in Kentucky calls for the best brains in the state, and maybe the advice of tax experts from outside. It is not a job for newspapermen. The duty of the press is to help arouse the public to the need of better tax laws and then give encouragement and moral support to the General Assembly.

Until the system is reformed Kentuckians will continue to thank God for whatever state is forty-eighth in progress. That is, if we are not forty-eighth ourselves.

Mr. Vanhose had suffered a previous heart seizure and had been in failing health, but had worked on the day preceding his death. His passing came as a shock to many friends in this and surrounding counties.

Jest Among Us... By Jack WIM

One of the refreshing things about our young people is their frankness. Sometimes I think we ought to respect their opinions a little more, for the very reason that they are mostly uttered without too much concern over whose nose is going to get skinned in the saying thereof. Ask a teen-ager what he thinks about something and you're pretty sure to get a straight answer.

After a week at UK, Journalism freshmen were asked what impressed them most about life on the campus. Here are a few of the replies:

"... everyone's willingness to help."

"The bigness of the campus with its beautiful buildings. The buildings are so far apart it seems, especially if they are on the other side of the campus when I'm trying to get to class."

"... the way in which the South is still fighting the Civil War. I have been ribbed about being a Yankee until I am ready to turn green."

"... the carrying of the flag from end to end of the great football stadium before a game."

"Life in Patterson Hall. The friendly atmosphere and constant willingness of all the girls living there help make Pitt Hall truly a home away from home."

"... utter confusion. The chaos of registration, the thousands of unfamiliar faces, and the rush from one sorority house to another have left me bewildered."

"Doors closed with an almost inaudible swish; footsteps are so quiet that only the squeaking of one's shoes can be heard. Pictures of cattle resting in the shade; sheep grazing in sunny wheat fields, decorate the walls... so tranquil it (the Fine Arts Building) impressed me greatly."

"... the Printing Department."

"... its fine combination of sports and learning... how fine the athletes are, and yet the scholastic side of development has not been neglected."

"... Prof. Snow (anthropologist). He is a very smart teacher and seems to know what he is doing."

"The Memorial Coliseum... not the fact that the building is so beautifully constructed but that those who died did so in order that we could have the privilege of using that building."

Revered Floyd Woman Victim at Haysville Tuesday at Age of 90

Mrs. Polly Allen, one of the county's oldest and most widely related women, died Tuesday afternoon at her home near Haysville, a victim at the age of 90 years. Death followed an illness of a week.

Born in this county Oct. 12, 1863, Mrs. Allen was a daughter of Wylie and Sally Johnson Patton, early residents of this section, and she spent almost her entire life in the community where she died. She had been a member of the Regular Baptist Church since young womanhood and was one of the county's best women.

Her husband, A. J. (General Jack) Allen, preceded her in death 31 years ago. She leaves three sons and five daughters. Blucher Allen, Haysville, Edward L. Allen, Prestonsburg attorney, Chester Allen, Haysville, Mrs. Causetta Allen, Oldtown, Ky., Mrs. Rebecca Amburgy, Willard, O., Mrs. James Martin, Mrs. O. H. Osborne and Mrs. Ernest Kerby, all of Haysville. Also surviving are three brothers and one sister, John Patton, of Magoffin county, Monroe Patton, Haysville, Trumbo Patton, Estill, and Mrs. Alice Patton, of Greenup county.

Funeral rites are being conducted this afternoon (Thursday) from the Regular Baptist Church, Stone Coal, near Garrett, with burial in the family cemetery on Salt Lick Creek, the Arnold Funeral Home directing.

Home Loan Deadline For Vets Is June 30

Floyd county is a designated area in which the Veterans Administration may make direct home loans, but the law under which these loans may be made expires June 30, 1951, and any veteran who is interested in applying for such a loan should do so in the immediate future, the Veterans Administration pointed out this week.

Any eligible veteran who is interested in obtaining such a loan directly from the VA should write to the Loan Guaranty Division of the Veterans Administration, Regional Office, 1405 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky., for full particulars.

A veteran of World War II may now obtain a loan directly from the Veterans Administration with which to acquire a home, provided:

- 1. The loan does not exceed $10,000; is made before June 30, 1951; and is used for the purchase or construction of a home, or for the construction or improvement of a farmhouse, and.
2. The home or farmhouse is located in one of the counties designated as an area in which direct loans may be made, and.
3. The veteran is unable to obtain from a bank or other private lender a loan for such purposes at 4 percent interest, and.
4. The veteran has not previously obtained a VA guaranteed or insured loan; is a satisfactory credit risk; makes a cash down payment on the purchase price in the amount required by recent credit restrictions; and is eligible in all other respects for such a loan.

Wheelwright High Among 38 Schools In EGFA Program

call marks the $6,000,000 for salaries of instructional personnel only. He pointed out that the Constitution requires per capita money to be distributed on a census-pupil basis. The annual salary increase will vary in the school districts, he said, because:

The pupil-teacher ratio is much higher in some school districts than in others. A teacher with many students will get a larger increase.

Some school districts have a greater percentage of their pupils attending private and parochial schools than do other districts. Although such pupils are not in public schools, the public-school district in which they live gets a per-capita grant for each of them.

Some school districts do not have high schools but furnish education for their students in another district by tuition agreements. The Governor said the legislation he will propose will make it possible for school districts having tuition agreements to transfer funds with the provision that "such transfer of funds will be earmarked for teachers' salaries only."

Wheelwright high school is among the 38 attended by the children of Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates mine workers which are cooperating in a vocational guidance program recently initiated by L. C. Campbell, vice-president of the coal mining organization.

Booklets and motion pictures are being supplied to these schools to encourage students to higher education and to better jobs in adult life. Students are given an opportunity to see the increasing opportunities for advantageous employment in the coal mining industry with modern mechanical mining methods are creating many new jobs for trained personnel.

GARDEN

For growing bountiful harvests of fine vegetables, the soil must be fertile and in condition to work easily and well, without baking. The best way to provide both plant food and "conditioner" is to use stable manure, but with superphosphate for furnishing the phosphorus that stable manure lacks. Many Kentucky gardeners have experienced that their crops grew to vine, when the manure was not so balanced.

For a half-acre garden use five tons of manure and 250 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate, broadcast and plowed under together. (Where superphosphate is unobtainable, 2-12-2 fertilizer may be used, 300 pounds or so, the same way.) That fertilizing system suits all vegetables well, but onions and greens, and leafy crops should have side dressings with poultry manure to give them extra nitrogen.

Where stable manure cannot be used in this amount, it is hoped that there will be a cover crop for turning under to provide the "conditioner," the plant food furnished by complete fertilizer. Commercial fertilizer furnishes no humus for soil conditioning, and when it is used alone for any length of time, the soil becomes "burned out," and inclined to bake and run together. Such soils suffer badly in dry times, and show the effects of humus shortage even in good seasons.

A well-balanced fertilizer should be used, one "high in the middle," as 4-12-8, 4-12-4, 5-10-5, the middle figure representing the percentage of phosphorus, the plant food on which fruiting depends.

For a half-acre garden, 500 pounds of high-grade fertilizer should be broadcast after land-breaking, and disked in or worked in to a depth of 4 inches, where most vegetable roots lie. It also serves to draw the roots down to where the soil is most moist. Side dressing, or "putting in the hill," should be discouraged, as then the roots may not run so far as they sometimes must in dry seasons, or even in seasons when there is plenty of moisture. (The exception is white potatoes, where the fertilizer is always put under the seed pieces. Potato roots tend not to run far, anyway.)

For the leafy crops, side-dressings of poultry manure or some chemical nitrogen, as nitrate of soda or ammonium nitrate, should be given, one pound to 100 feet of row.

State Blizzard Causes Heart Drive Extension

Because Kentucky's worst blizzard in years inflicted a 10-day "freeze" on volunteer activity for the 1951 Heart Fund campaign, the drive is being extended until March 10. W. Farrell Curran, State campaign chairman, announced.

The Kentucky Heart Association board of directors made the decision following reports about weather hardship in numerous Kentucky communities.

"We know," Curran said, "there are thousands of people who want to contribute to the campaign who might drop the idea after February 23, our original closing date. The extension and the promise of better weather will give us a hoped-for break."

Contributions may also be mailed in, he pointed out, addressed simply "Heart, care of postmaster" Kentucky's goal in the drive is $200,000. The funds go for research, health education and community heart projects.

TRANSY CHEMIST ATTEMPTS FOOD DILEMMA SOLUTION

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 24 (Spl.)—A chemistry professor at Transylvania College is working on a research project that, if successful, could go a long way toward solving much of the world's tragic food dilemma.

He is Professor Monroe Moosnick, of Versailles, a former Army Air Force captain who has taught at Transylvania for the past five years.

The subject of his research is "The Degradation of Cellulose." He is attempting to discover a method of utilizing such plants as grass, trees and flowers for human food. At the present time, millions of people throughout the world are going with less food than they need—a situation that could be remedied if only a small portion of the plant life that covers the earth could be turned into human food.

Cellulose, the building block of all plant life, is not digestible to man. It can, however, be made to yield sugars essential to life.

The Transylvania College teacher is attempting to find a chemical that will do this in the laboratory. Attempts to utilize cellulose in the past have met with failure primarily because investigators could not produce the foods inexpensively or in sufficient quantity.

MAYTOWN

Mrs. Dick Mayo, of Prestonsburg, who heads the Tuberculosis work for the Floyd County Health Department, will give a lecture for the Maytown PTA, Tuesday, March 6, at 7 p.m., in the high school auditorium, using for her topic, "Tuberculosis and What We Can Do About It." Mrs. Mayo will also present a movie showing the ravages of this disease, which takes a heavy toll of human life annually. The school bus will run, and every parent in the community is urged to attend this meeting. Mrs. Mayo is one of the best speakers in Floyd county, having had extensive experience in state and local club work, religious and other civic activities. Following her address, she will be glad to answer questions.

Mrs. Roger Turner accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Allen to Charleston, W. Va., Tuesday.

Mrs. Wesley Nipp and daughter, of Grayson, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Casady.

Mrs. T. R. Stapleton and daughter, Lucille, left Saturday for Lexington where they joined her other daughter, Mrs. Robert Allen, who will accompany them to Fort Pierce, Florida on a 10-day vacation.

Mrs. Howard Ramey was hostess to a Stanley party given in her home Tuesday evening. Mrs. Blair of Wheelwright, was the demonstration agent. Guests were Mesdames Charles Patton, Rebecca Hayes, George Patton, James Allen, Buddy Robinson, David Reed, Fletcher May, George E. Allen, Raymond Hobson, Frank May, Thomas Patrick, Henry May, Charles Tingle, Amy Begley and Baisden Osborne.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Turner has been very ill for a few days but is much improved at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hicks have moved into the property of Troy Webb in the lower end of Maytown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ison have moved into the house they recently purchased from Thurnal Click. Mr. and Mrs. Ashland Salisbury have moved into the house they vacated.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tingle and Sandra, Peggy Jo Vaughn and Mrs. Claude Allen attended the wedding of Miss Marcella Smith and Mr. Phillip Lawrence at Hindman Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Volney Allen entertained a group of friends Sunday afternoon in honor of her husband's birth anniversary. A buffet luncheon was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Combs; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hopson, Bonnie and Jimmy; Mr. and Mrs. Jones Talant; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stewart; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tingle and Sandra; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carter and Barbara Ann; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Allen; Mrs. Sue Ward; Misses Ann Preston, Corrine Allen and Geraldine Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurnal Click have rented the Delmer Ison residence.

The Sunday School attendance last Sunday was 141. This makes the average attendance for February 125.

Professor Moosnick says he has solved one of the worst obstacles in his path by developing a technique for determining the point at which the cellulose has been turned into food by the particular chemicals with which he is experimenting. "The analysis," he said, "depends upon the reducing properties of sugar formed when treating cellulose with an oxidizing agent."

Should the chemistry professor develop an economically feasible method for converting cellulose into its constituent sugars, it is possible that the lives of millions of people will be saved.

Professor Moosnick received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Kentucky and his Master of Science degree from the University of Cincinnati. He has had additional work at the University of Chicago.

The research is being done under a grant made jointly by the college and the Carnegie Foundation. Transylvania is in its fifth year of cooperation with the foundation in a program designed to improve instruction through giving faculty members the opportunity for research. Nearly 30 faculty members have worked on research problems in this period, financed jointly by the foundation and the school.

WHEN STRENGTH IS PRICELESS

$5,600,000 ice damage yielding to 9-state Telephone Teamwork

Wide areas of the South have learned first-hand what it means to have a strong Telephone Company when disaster strikes.

The recent ice storm dealt a giant blow to portions of five Southern states. For telephone facilities, it was the worst ice storm in history. Telephone poles and wires snapped under the weight of tons of glittering ice. Eighty-seven thousand telephones and 3,174 Long Distance circuits were knocked out, and 181 communities isolated.

While ice still sparkled on the magnolias, the Telephone team swung into action. From all nine Southern Bell states, repair crews, cable, wire and poles were swiftly assembled. By rail, truck and plane they came, as skilled Telephone repairmen worked around the clock.

That's the kind of resources and teamwork it takes when nature goes on the rampage. It cuts weeks off the time it takes to restore service. And that's mighty important as the Nation mobilizes for Defense.

It's good to know that whenever such disaster comes your way, an abundance of help—from other states if needed—won't be far behind. It's good, too, that regardless of where a Bell Telephone man comes from, the tools, the materials and methods he'll work with are the same as those he uses back home.

1700 Extra Men and Trainloads of Material
More than 1700 extra men from outside the affected areas were rushed in to help repair the damage. They took 225 trucks and other vehicles. Materials rushed in from Western Electric supply centers included 14,500 poles, 17,400 cross-arms and 48,700 miles of wire.

"Good Guys" Cause Tragedies

HUMAN LIFE is not yet so cheap and expendable, on the home front at least, that three dead or dying men can be removed from one torn automobile without shocking onlookers. It is a pity that more automobile drivers did not see the bodies of the victims at a funeral home here. It might have benefited the public more, had those officials who on occasion reduce drunk driving charges to the milder breach of the peace, taken a long, thoughtful look.

There are sermons in stones, and in bloody, battered bodies, too. Although those victims were from another county, Floyd county's highways are almost daily traveled by men driving under the influence of alcohol. Some of these men are arrested and some pay the full penalty they should pay, but too many escape with a reduced charge, a lighter fine and without cancellation of license to drive.

This automobile the three drove was on the antiquated side, but that did not cause the tragic toll. A heavier auto driven by a more powerful engine could have caused even greater loss of life.

That wreck could have involved you and your family. The fact that the three young men in the car were, in somebody's book, "good guys who got a little too much," as they say in granting leniency to our local drivers, made the highways no safer for them or for others.

"Good guys" die as violently, and, driving blindly, kill others as dead, as bad guys.

One wonders how men under oath to enforce the laws and under the compulsion of conscience can fail to exact of every drunken driver, a Good Joe or no, the full penalty provided by a law that needs to be enforced.

The Baseness of Fear

WILLIAM Faulkner, in accepting the Nobel Prize award at Stockholm several weeks ago, delivered a speech which transcends the earthiness of his fictional characters and faces down the noblest expressions of the human spirit. Said Mr. Faulkner:

I feel that this award was not made to me as a man but to my work—a life's work in the agony and sweat of the human spirit. Not for glory and least of all for profit, but to create out of the materials of the human spirit something which did not exist before. So this award is only mine in trust. It will not be difficult to find a dedication for the money part of it commensurate with the purpose and significance of its origin. But I would like to do the same with the acclaim too, by using this moment as a pinnacle from which I might be listened to by the young men and women already dedicated to the same anguish and travail among whom is already that one who will some day stand where I am standing.

Our tragedy today is a general and universal physical fear so long sustained by now that we can even bear it. There are no longer problems of the spirit. There is only one question: when will I be blown up? Because of this, the young man or woman writing today has forgotten the problems of the human heart in conflict with itself which alone can make good writing because that is worth writing about, worth the agony and sweat.

He must learn them again. He must teach himself that the basest of all things is to be afraid; and, teaching himself that, forget it forever, leaving no room in his workshop for anything but the old verities and truths of the heart, the old universal truths lacking which any story is ephemeral and doomed—love and honor and pity and pride and compassion and sacrifice. Until he does so he labors under a curse. He writes not of love but of lust, of defeats in which nobody loses anything of value, of victories without hope and worst of all without pity or compassion. His griefs grieve on no universal bones, leaving no scars. He writes not of the heart but of the glands.

Until he releases these things he will write as though he stood among and watched the end of man. I decline to accept the end of man. It is easy enough to say that man is immortal simply because he will endure; that when the last ding-dong of doom has clanged and faded from the last worthless rock hanging tideless in the last red and dying evening, that even then there will still be one more sound; that of his puny, inexhaustible voice, still talking. I refuse to accept this. I believe that man will not merely endure; he will prevail. He is immortal, not because he alone among creatures has an inexhaustible voice, but because he has a soul, a spirit capable of compassion and sacrifice and endurance. The poet's, the writer's duty is to write about these things. It is his privilege to help man endure by lifting his heart, by reminding him of the courage and honor and hope and pride and compassion and pity and sacrifice which have been the glory of his past. The poet's voice need not merely be the record of man, it can be one of the props, the pillars to help him endure and prevail.

BATES PULLS OUT OF RACE

Says Work in Congress During Crisis Is More Important Than Ambition

Congressman Joe B. Bates, of Greenup, Saturday announced his withdrawal as a prospective candidate for Governor of Kentucky.

"Believing I should continue to render service from the national level during these trying times, I have decided not to become a candidate for the governorship of Kentucky," Bates said in a statement.

Bates announced in Louisville last Dec. 2 his intention to run for Governor.

However, he said, he did so with the reservation that he might withdraw if the crisis facing the country did not subside.

"It is my belief that some progress has been made toward achieving peace," Bates said, "but we must all recognize the world picture continues dark and there appears little hope that the threatening war clouds of possible global conflict will dissipate in the foreseeable future—certainly not by the time of this year's primary election in Kentucky."

"This is no time for any member of Congress or any person holding a position of trust in the national government to place his aspirations before service to his country."

Bates said that since his original announcement he has become a member of two subcommittees of the House Appropriations committee handling "all funds for the defense and preparedness program, with the exception of that granted directly to the military."

"All appropriations for European recovery, National Production Authority and other defense agencies are cleared through these committees," Bates said.

Miss Goddard Meets With David Leaders In Girl Scout Work

David, Ky., Feb. 24 (Spl.)—Miss Barbara Goddard, new executive director for the Sandy Valley Girl Scouts Council, and office secretary, Mrs. Dale Somerville, met Friday with leaders and officers of the David district at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crawford.

Miss Goddard was pleased to note that the registration of Girl Scouts and Brownies in the three troops at David amounted to 10 per cent of the population of David community. In a discussion of plans for troop activities, Miss Goddard emphasized the importance of the assistance of the mothers of the individual Scouts and Brownies in giving of their varied skills and fields of experience to further the aims of the Girl Scout organization. The help of the mothers, she stated, is invaluable in making available to every member of each troop, in its own community, a rounded program of created work and recreation and a wide range of contacts.

Plans were begun with Mrs. Arnold Clark, Brownie leader, for a long-term program of Brownie guidance, with a definite goal to be reached at the end of a year, and minor goals to be reached from time to time. Some of the Brownie work is to be adopted from suitable Intermediate Scout projects.

Mrs. Enno Van Gelder was asked to distribute posters describing the annual birthday observance of Girl Scouting, March 12.

A report of the annual Juliet Low silver tea held in David on February 17 was given by Mrs. Russell Harmon, Juliet Low chairman, and Mrs. William Crawford, Intermediate troop leader and Sandy Valley Council president, William Crawford, district camp chairman, was consulted separately for plans concerning the year's camping program.

Bobcats End Season
Last Week With Wins
Over Maytown, Belfry

Betsy Layne, Ky., Feb. 26 (Spl)—The Bobcats of Betsy Layne high school wound up their regular season schedule over the week-end with victories over Maytown and Belfry. At Maytown they defeated the Wildcats, Wednesday night of last week, in easy fashion, 76 to 58, though the Bobcats held only a three-point lead at the half. Crum, the Bobcats' consistently high scorer, led the Betsy Layne attack with 30 points. Prater and Blevins scored 16 points each for Maytown. At Belfry Saturday night, the Bobcats were pushed to the limit to edge a scrapping gang of Pirates. A field goal by Grady Wallace in fading seconds of the game gave Betsy Layne the victory, 62-61. In this game Crum had a total of 27 points. Blevins vanned the Belfry attack with 19 points.

"Set" Keeps on Rollin'—
He's Hoopin' 'Em In Now
For Utah Frosh Basketeers

A sensation on the University of Utah freshman basketball team this year, "Set" Branham, former Prestonsburg high school star athlete, is matching his grid performances with his play on the Ute basketball team. Branham and his mates, among whom are four all-Utah boys, have won 15 of their 17 games, and the Floyd county product is leading the pack. As of last Wednesday, he had connected on 44.6 per cent of his shots. The team has averaged 69 points a game while holding the opposition to 52. The Utes lost their first game of the season to an army team from California, then went undefeated until meeting for the second time Brigham Young University.

The majority of Carlisle county farmers who use coke for tobacco curing realized good returns, while those not using it had almost complete failures in curing.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Among those who hunt and fish, the gentlemen of the old school believe in keeping the women at home. Members of the new school believe in taking them along. Ted Trueblood stands somewhere in between—it's nice to get out with the fellows occasionally but it's also nice to take the women part of the time. I have known men who took their wives along and let them do all the campwork. That's a mistake. Cooking, washing dishes, making beds and all the other chores she has to do 365 days a year don't suddenly become fun just because the room is canvas and there is smoke in her eyes. Trueblood's wife really enjoys camping. Their outfit is one reason; it insures their comfort regardless of the weather. Her clothes are another reason. Many women swear off the outdoors after one unpleasant experience resulting from poorly chosen garments.

Her boots are the same as his but lighter and made on a woman's last. They are eight inches high. She has a pair of rubber-bottom pacs for now. She wears boys' wool shirts because they are warmer and more comfortable than those made for women and have pockets with button-down flaps. She wears either wool windproof "pioneer pants" or women's levis. She also has a pair of waterproof khaki for wet weather. Riding breeches are no good for hiking because they are too tight around the calves.

She wears a Stetson with a three-inch brim most of the time, but has a cap with ear flaps to use when it gets down around zero. She has a water-proof jacket for rain and one of down for cold weather. She also has and wears when it is cold, long wool underwear of the best quality. Cheap wool scratches.

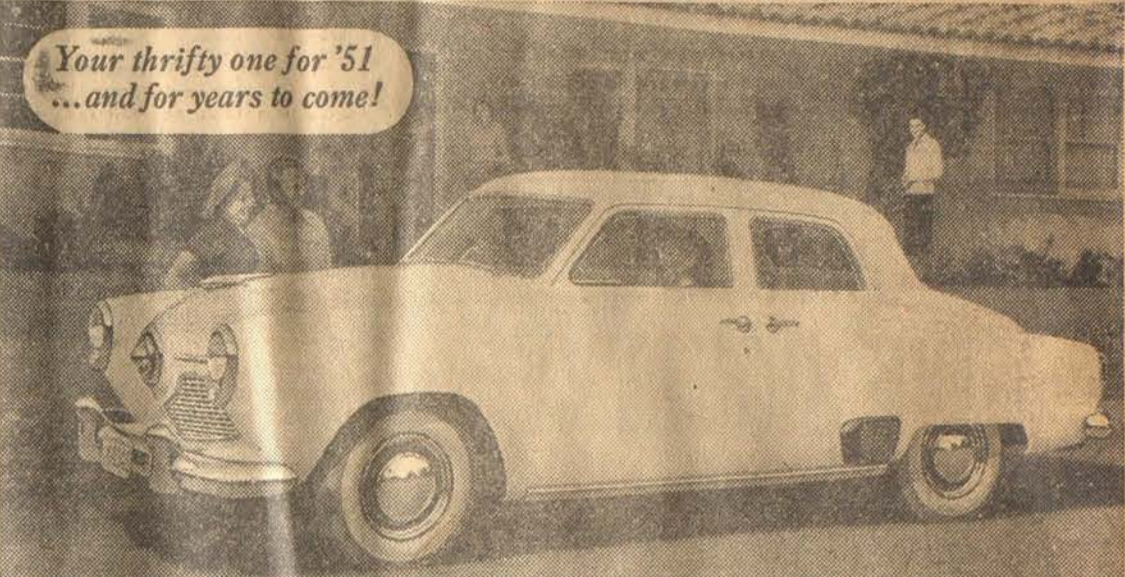

Her guns and fishing tackle are as good as her husband's, but lighter. She has been carefully taught how to use them. Stories such as hers have proved to me that a normal girl or woman has both the interest and ability to become a skillful angler, hunter and camper. And one who is, I can assure you, will always be more tolerant of her husband's going alone once in a while.

U.-K., Now 86, Finds
It Has Big Family

The University of Kentucky, which celebrated its 86th birthday last week, finds that through the years it has acquired a sizeable family, or 22,465 sons and daughters, to be exact. That's the number of degrees awarded by the school during its life span. Of that total, 14,684 were granted to men, and 7,781 to women. Bachelor's degrees have gone to 18,805, graduate degrees to 3,496, and honorary degrees to 164. During that same period the number of faculty and staff members rose from 21 to its present size of approximately 800, and the student body grew from 190 in 1866 to more than 10,000 in 1950.

JOE H. COOLEY, MGR.
Located on U.S. 23, one mile south of Prestonsburg (in Mayo Addition).

Among the 62 U.K. students to score perfect scholastic standings for the fall semester was James Davis, of Prestonsburg, Dean C. C. Carpenter, of the College of Commerce, announced this week.

Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, of Dema, is a graduate of Wayland high school and a senior in the College of Commerce.

H. B. Patrick and R. V. May, distributors of Pure Oil Co. products, this week purchased the Master Service Station and some adjacent lots at the corner of Broadway and Friend street.

Purchase was made from Alex H. Spradlin, who has owned the property for 25 years, and who erected the Master Service Station about 20 years ago.

The new owners plan extensive improvement of the property for sale of Pure Oil products.

Amount involved in the transaction was not stated.

Fifty-two trawberry growers of Rockcastle county have formed an association to market through the Cumberland Strawberry Growers Association.

For the past several months now, and especially since the recent publication in The Floyd County Times of my query to the Attorney-General relative to the filing-place for candidates to judicial district office in this county many of the Christian people of this county, loyal and staunch supporters of law enforcement, have prevailed on me to make the race for Commonwealth's Attorney, have endorsed my candidacy and pledged me their whole-hearted support.

Appreciating this action from so many of the common people from out over the county, being deeply grateful for their pledged support and knowing that they have no political axes to grind, and that their support stems only from their desire to further the cause of good government in Floyd county, I have definitely decided to make the race on the Democratic ticket for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney.

I, therefore, announce my candidacy, pledge full time devoted, 12 months out of the year, to fair and impartial law enforcement in this county, and earnestly solicit the assistance, the support and vote of every legally qualified voter, with the earnest assurance given you all that I have no personal political ambitions other than to serve my community and the county in which I live.

Sincerely,
BURNIS MARTIN

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"OVERAWED BY THE SHOW"

As an outdoor man all my life I have come in contact with many people who have strange attitudes toward objective nature. Though people have changed considerably during my lifetime, there is still much folk philosophy as applied to natural phenomena. In ordinary times it is not so apparent that we have progressed so slowly in our understanding of nature; but when serious times come, we fall back on what we used to be or even back on what our remote ancestors were or believed. In all the time that I can remember we probably reverted most in the dark days of the first great influenza epidemic in 1918. All of us were sad because of the military disasters of the summer, when the Germans almost succeeded in reaching the English Channel. We had gone through two very bitter years when the epidemic struck. There were not enough doctors to go around; few physicians knew what to do with their patients when they were free of fever again. Some of the most tragic deaths I knew occurred after the patients had gone back to work and had exerted themselves too much. If everybody who was alive then would come clean and tell of his superstitious fears and possibly his superstitious remedies, it would be a sufficient demonstration of my thesis that we revert to primitive thinking in time of stress.

By degrees we get accustomed to the regular run of weather. We accept rain and snow and drought as natural, which is our way of avoiding explanation. Then along comes a huge snow, an exception to anything that we have schooled ourselves to understand and explain. We begin searching around in our consciousness for explanations; we dig up our oldest and most weather-worn tales about what used to be. We imagine that all this is just natural, too, but we are almost afraid to say so. The weather seems a sort of demon that might punish us even for thinking. I love to walk down town after some exceptional weather and hear the comments. One does not have to go a generation far removed from our time to find folk weather lore; all we need is to get the stories started by some exceptional weather event.

Maybe there is, as George Meredith contended, a sort of Spirit of Comedy that sits above us who laughs at our antics when we shrink from nature in her harsher moods and make insincere resolutions to reform. If the daily sight of the world, with its repeated miracles, does not awaken in one a belief in a Supreme Being and a reverence for Him, I am a little afraid that such feelings when awakened by a great cataclysm are not very genuine. Too often, I fear, we look upon our own little comfort as of too much importance. Of course, a tornado seems of much less use in the world than a man, be he ever so small and helpless. But we are looking at the tornado from a man's point of view. I envy the great naturalist who can look upon the really great moments of nature, even the quiet ones, with something of the knowledge that the rest of us seldom use. But I envy more his calm in the presence of these great moments, for he has learned that dynamic power lies quite as much behind the springing of grain as in the quaking of the earth. Fortified by this great insight, he lives in the visible presence of creation, keenly alive to its changes and its powers. To him an earthquake or a tidal wave may bring physical destruction, but it is just another evidence of the great power that is inherent in nature, convincing, but no more so than the rising of the sun or the falling of a leaf. We approach his wisdom when we understand the kinship of the "still small voice" and the rush of the tempest.

36 Floyd Students Enroll at Pikeville

Pikeville, Ky., Feb. 23 (Spl.)—Seventeen men and 19 young women from Prestonsburg and Floyd county are among the 222 students registered for the second semester at Pikeville Junior College, Dr. A. A. Page, president of the school, announced today.

Nearly half the number are present or prospective schoolteachers. Fifteen of the 36 are enrolled in the teachers' course, Dr. Page said, while seven are taking the general course of study and five are registered for the general-business curriculum.

There are three pre-medical and three pre-engineering students in the Floyd county group, as well as one each in the business administration, scientific and pre-dental courses.

The 22 sophomores and 14 freshmen give Floyd the largest delegation outside Pike county itself, which has 123 of the number. The college student body also includes representatives of Letcher, Johnson, Martin, Knott, Magoffin, Butler and Warren counties; the states of West Virginia, Virginia and Indiana, and the Republic of Cuba.

The Floyd countians are Carl Babb, Martin; Delmar Baldrige, East Point; Billie Jean Blackburn, Betsy Layne; Hyllis Blackburn, Thomas; Dorothy E. Burchett, Emma; Robert Burchett, Lancer; Wonnell Bussey, David; Roma Lou Clark, Harold; Danny Collins, Wayland; John L. Conn, Ivel; James Duff, Garrett; Billie Ruth Elkins, Harold; Mildred Flannery, Banner; Mary Auxier Ford, Prestonsburg; Wilbur G. Hager, Auxier; Rossella Halbert, East McDowell; Joan Hall, Bypro.

Tolva Hamilton, Amba; Janet Hobson, Betsy Layne; Wanda Hunt, Prestonsburg; Betty Jackson, Prestonsburg; Doug Lafferty, Allen; Thomas Meadows, Wayland; Winford Morris, Wayland; James W. Osborne, Bevinsville; Victor Osborne, Melvin; Bill Owsley, Betsy Layne; Maureen Pack, Hueysville; C. E. Petty, Garrett; Mary Sue Porter, Prestonsburg; Betty Joyce Ramey, East Point; Georgia Sargent, Betsy Layne; W. K. Steele, Jr., Harold; Gene Sturgill, Harold; Joyce Terry, Mare Creek; Kathryn Turner, Minnie; Sammie E. Wells, Prestonsburg; and Mary Jane White, Prestonsburg.

Indications are that Ky. 26 tobacco will be a major variety grown in Bracken county this year, inasmuch as it was successful in weight and quality for many farmers for the past two years.

How to take the Work out of Housework

FRUIT SALADS ARE FESTIVE-LOOKING! And you can prepare them ahead of time. Slice the fruit, cover it with lemon or grapefruit juice and keep chilled in the refrigerator until time to serve. (Just one penny's worth of electricity protects a whole refrigerator full of food for almost two hours!)

KEEP OUTING FLANNEL AS SOFT AS NEW! Winter-time flannel nightgowns and pjs should not be ironed. Instead, brush them thoroughly with a clean clothesbrush. (Cost for ironing the rest of the family wash? Just two cents an hour!)

THERE'S MORE THAN ONE TRICK with a waffle iron! Use packaged mixes for cornbread waffles... for hot gingerbread waffles. And try adding finely chopped ham to regular waffle batter. Delicious! (Takes only one or two cents' worth of electricity to make all the waffles your family can eat!)

ROOM TOO SMALL FOR LAMP TABLES? Why not use the middle shelf of your bookcase as a table, running a fluorescent lamp along the bottom edge of the upper shelf? (An entire evening's reading... for only one cent!)

WANT A FLORIDA TAN? Plug a sun lamp in the bathroom in the outlet over the basin. Your husband can tan while he shaves... you, while you apply make-up! (A penny's worth of electricity gives you five ten-minute periods of sun-bathing!)

WONDER WHERE THE CUP HANDLES GO? Properly stacked and mechanically washed, you'll have no broken dishes. And they dry by themselves, need less handling! (Saves time and work as well as dishes—and costs so little to use! Only a penny or two a day!)

To Preach at Martin

MARION G. ROMNEY

Assistant to the Council of the Twelve Apostles and Assistant Managing Director of the Church Welfare Program of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, will preach at Martin High School Auditorium Thursday, March 15, 7:30 p.m.

Previous to Elder Romney's current position, he was active in the auxiliary organizations of the Church, having served as Sunday School superintendent and president of the 33rd Quorum of Seventy. In 1936 he was appointed bishop of the 33rd ward. In 1938 he was appointed president of the Booneville Stake, a position he held until being appointed an assistant to the Council of Twelve.

He has had an active career in Church and legal circles in Salt Lake City for several years. He was born in Sept., 1897 in Colonia Juarez, Mexico.

He came to Salt Lake City with his family in 1912 and since has had an active career both in Utah and Idaho. Graduated from the University of Utah, receiving his B.S. in 1926 and his LL.B. in 1932.

He entered the Utah Bar in 1930 and in addition to his practice has served as assistant to the county attorney, the district attorney and to the city attorney.

Elder Romney filled a mission to Austria from 1920 to 1923.

The average man is prone to think of religion as concerned only with worship and the teaching of moral truths. However as assistant Managing Director of the great Church Welfare Program he had an important part in the shipment of hundreds of carloads of food, clothing, and bedding to starving families in Europe, the saving of many Navajo Indians' lives by the same means, and the support of the worthy poor in the Church.

Since 1938 there have been helped through the Welfare Program from 17,913 to 85,460 persons each year. More than a thousand families who were previously dependent have been helped to become self-supporting. During the past five years more than two thousand persons have relinquished their positions on government relief rolls to participate in the Church program, and of these almost one thousand have become completely independent of all gratuitous help. One of the objectives of this program is to "help others to help themselves."

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

BY WILMA Y

Many are wondering how good the world is as they view the course of present events and the falling efforts to preserve world peace, which remains at present an empty dream. Citizens are asking if Russia should be invited to the Big Four Conference, scheduled to meet in the near future. The Soviets are concerned, now that America has at last decided to arm Europe and to increase U.S. divisions already there. It is an initial step to check further expansion of the U.S.S.R., by her favorite method of occupying helpless nations or making them satellites.

The idea of rearmament in Western Germany does not appeal to the Kremlin, for both British and American sectors are close to her. The Iron Curtain has protected the Eastern sector, which she occupies. Russia now claims to be in favor of disarmament, but actions speak louder than words. Or does she mean disarmament for the rest of the world? Who can afford to accept her word? Would her signature in gold have any real value, since she has broken 28 treaties and alliances in the past 25 years? If America stops now we will deserve the fate certain to be ours.

Representatives from the U.S.S.R. have upset practically every meeting of the United Nations since its beginning, despite the fact that for the most part they have been handled with gloves. While Russia continued to grab all the territory possible, to indoctrinate other nations with Communism, America and Great Britain have been granting independence to colonies and islands. Yet, the Soviets accuse the United States of being a warmonger, of inciting trouble in the Far East. Had this been true we certainly would have had more manpower and equipment available in Korea than was the case. If America had wanted war, we never would have disposed of billions of dollars worth of army equipment at the close of the last war.

While it is well known that the immediate goal of the U.S.S.R. is the Eastern Hemisphere, composed of Europe, Asia and Africa, students of Russian history are fully aware that Soviet leaders for centuries have dreamed of conquering the world.

History bears the record of four previous world empires, which have long since passed into oblivion: the Babylonian, Media-Persian, Grecian, and the Roman, under Caesar. A fifth, according to the prophet Daniel, must yet rise into existence. Daniel foresaw it and described it in the dream he interpreted; moreover, it will be controlled by the common class of people. Is this fifth and last world empire now in the making? It's the lowest classes that Communism seeks first. They not only outnumber all the others but they are the most susceptible to isms and propaganda of all sorts.

Russia uses subtle methods, but her unique tactics do have a definite pattern. She invades quietly and gradually first, and then attacks from the inside out, but many nations are too glibly to discover this. Her fifth column activities in America have been as deliberate and as well planned as any military campaign that was ever waged. Her two-point formula of promoting inner discord and of creating war internally, or between other nations, is a humdinger. She scatters the armies of potential enemies, weakening the nation economically, while building her own war machine to perfection. America has been right to seek world peace, but God does not expect anyone to ignore the inevitable, or quietly to submit to another Pearl Harbor. There is only one way to dispose of trouble—check it at its source or root. We have wasted sufficient time trying to deceive ourselves about Russian goals, objectives and plans. It's folly to wait till U.S. cities and leaders, both state and national, are wired off the map. In a single night. We have waited years to recognize and grapple with the real problem. Must we now permit Russia to seek further compromise, and stalling, to offer new promises to be broken a la Soviet style?

The cost of an entire war never pays for the life of the poorest, most illiterate soldier who dies in its course. Why not lay it on the barrel-head, tell Russia to sign on the dotted line or else, that she can free the entire string of nations she has occupied since the war ended, lift the Iron Curtain NOW, prove she is disarming, and then we will talk peace and other matters with her?
