THE VOICE OF EXPERIENCE...

This March weather recalls the story "Buck" Seal tells of old John Crace, from over in Martin county. Old man Crace, who was in his eighties, was plowing, one bright, sunshiny March day, his overcoat wrapped around the plow-handles Tucker Buskirk inquired why the overcoat on such a beautiful day.

THE NAME'S NOT JONES

This Temptation Jones mystery really has the boys and girls aguessin'.

Other evening, just when this rough-tough detective in the chiller I was reading about got himself into a fix such as Hair-Breath Harry never conceived for one of his victims, the phone rang. With an effort I dragged myself back to reality enough to answer it. A man's voice inquired, "Do you play a musical instrument?"

I was tempted to make a "smart" retort, but the voice was such I thought the speaker might be one of our local ministers, and I figured they already had low enough opinion of me; so I refrained, merely said, "No, I do not."

"Don't play the piano?" the voice persisted.

I thought of inquiring gently if he thought I was Harry Truman, but resisted the temptation. I hung up, mystified, myself. Not till next day did I learn somebody had the bright idea I was Temptation Jones and that one of the clues to his or her identity says he or she plays a musical instrument. Another clue says other folks would

THURSDAY

SCHOOL BUS LOSES WHEEL AS 70 ABOARD

Few Slightly Injured As Bus Is Overturned Three Times on Mud Cr.

Upwards of 70 school children almost miraculously escaped serious injury Friday morning when a crowded school bus lost a wheel and plunged over an embankment at the junction of the Toler's Creek and Mud Creek highways, overturning three times before it came to rest.

Injuries of Bill Hamilton, driver, were most serious suffered in the accident, and he was hospitalized this week. Four pupil-passengers were taken to a hospital but were dismissed, their hurts considered slight.

It was said here the bus was leaving the Toler's Creek road, going down a bank and that the brakes failed. As the driver cut the bus sharply to the right to go down the Mud Creek highway, the left front wheel came off.

Two youths, passengers on the bus, were commended for their coolness and helpfulness in evacuating the wrecked bus and quieting the frightened children. One of these, Leo Roberts, kicked the emergency door open and helped his schoolmates outside. Name of the other boy was unavailable here.

Despite the wreck, the county school bus system maintains its 15-year record of never having had a fatal accident.

GET SCHOOL SITE OPTIONS

Added Space Expected To Gain Young's Okeh And Early Plans Work

The Floyd County Board of Education's land-purchasing committee announced Tuesday afternoon it had only a short time earlier succeeded in procuring option on all the additional land required by Gordie Young, assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction, as a site for the proposed new county high school building here.

County Superintendent Palmer L. Hall may take the options to Frankfort Friday, and this evidence of the Board's intention will be sufficient grounds it is predicted, for Mr. Young to approve the site and proceed with preparation for construction work.

The purchasing committee was composed of Supt. Hall, City Supt. Chalmer Frazier, and James Greene, chairman of Floyd County Board of Education.

The Floyd fiscal court and Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill were so widely at variance this week on the question of what salary to be paid by the county to a court reporter should be that the court directed County Attorney W. W. Burchett to appeal Judge Hill's decision in the matter.

Judge Hill, a few days ago, decided the suit of Rebecca Ellis, court reporter, vs. Floyd county, holding that the county should pay her $150 a month. The fiscal court previously had set her salary at $75 a month.

OFFER YOUTH RECOGNITION

Wetherby Asks Group To Name 2 from Floyd To Compete for Awards

A Floyd county committee is being asked by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby to submit names of two county youths for recognition, one for an outstanding feat of courage, the other for outstanding service to his or her community during the year 1950.

Names of two youths from each county in Kentucky are being sought for consideration by the Kentucky Committee on Children and Youth. From the 240 names submitted, four finalists will be selected by the Kentucky Committee and commended by Governor Wetherby. These four finalists will represent Kentucky in competition for the national award to be made under Public Law 638. Four youths, two from each group, will be accorded national honors.

Public Law 638, which was enacted by Congress last year, provides for the awarding annually of not more than two Young American Medals for Bravery and two Young American Medals for Service, the medals to be presented personally by the President of the United States.

COURT VOTES FOR APPEAL

To Contest Opinion On Pay of Reporter For Circuit Court

The Floyd fiscal court and Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill were so widely at variance this week on the question of what salary to be paid by the county to a court reporter should be that the court directed County Attorney W. W. Burchett to appeal Judge Hill's decision in the matter.

Judge Hill, a few days ago, decided the suit of Rebecca Ellis, court reporter, vs. Floyd county, holding that the county should pay her $150 a month. The fiscal court previously had set her salary at $75 a month.

Wednesday afternoon, the court decided to ask the Court of Appeals to reverse Judge Hill's decision in the case.

County Judge Henry Stumbo said neighboring counties had not yet set a definite amount for their court reporters' salaries, although Johnson county tentatively had agreed on $100 a month. He indicated Floyd county might have agreed on that figure.

"The court reporter is paid $15 a day for her services, and in addition to that is paid for transcripts. I want to be fair," said Judge Stumbo, "but it seems to me an additional $150 a month salary is just too much."

Former Prestonsburg Man One of Three Wreck Victims

Three South Charleston, W. Va. men, one of whom was a former resident of Prestonsburg, died instantly late Tuesday afternoon when their car reportedly exploded upon colliding with a tractor-trailer, four miles west of Milton, W. Va.

Among the dead was Don Leford Williamson, 34, who lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Williamson, here through his boyhood and until a few years ago.

The other victims were John Waymond Briscoe, 36, and Roy Kenton Parker, Jr., 25.

The auto, a four-passenger coupe, collided with a truck loaded with beer, just east of the Fudge's Creek bridge near Milton. Bill Joe Nealey, Crow, W. Va., driver of the truck, told West Virginia state police the car, bound west, skidded as the truck meeting it, reached the end of the bridge and that the side of the car and the front end of the truck met.

State Police Cpl. Paul R. Pritchard said, "One witness told me that the car exploded. This was the impression she got when the car literally disintegrated."

The highway was glazed with snow and rain, and to this condition the tragedy was attributed. The auto was owned by Mr. Williamson. The three bodies were torn to pieces.

The truck traveled some distance after the collision, then rolled off the side of the highway and down a 50-foot embankment. The driver suffered minor lacerations on his head, leg and arm. He was notified to appear before a magistrate to answer to a charge of driving without a chauffeur's license.

Williamson had resided in South Charleston for the last eight years and was a unit foreman there for the Carbide & Carbon Chemicals Corporation. He attended high school here, and was a member of the football team and was highly regarded here and also in Pike county, where his parents moved several years ago.

He married Miss Mary Ruth Hopson, of Prestonsburg, and they have one son, Ronald, 12. Mr. Williamson's parents were apprised of the tragedy while in Florida where they have been spending the winter. The father, E. L. Williamson, is superintendent of the Columbian Fuel Corporation, Pikeville. Besides the widow, son and his parents, Williamson is survived by two brothers, Harold and Gene Williamson.

A brief funeral service was held in South Charleston this morning (Thursday), and from there the body was taken to the home of the parents at Canada, Pike county, where funeral rites will be conducted Friday.

HIGH SCHOOL TO SEND 8 To Youth Assembly At State Capital; District Meet Held

Eight from Prestonsburg high school will be among those attending the Kentucky Youth Assembly when youngsters from all parts of the Commonwealth gather in Frankfort, April 4-7, to conduct a mock legislative assembly.

The Assembly is an annual event sponsored by the Kentucky YMCA, to educate young people in state governmental procedure. It is conducted in strict accordance with accepted legislative practices.

Last week, pre-legislative meetings were held over the state in district meetings, and the Sixth district "caucus" was held in Prestonsburg, with approximately 200 members of Hi-Y and Y-Teen Clubs from Hazard, Fleming, Pikeville, Paintsville and Prestonsburg attending.

Dan Pitt, Jr., Assembly director, and H. M. Caldwell, state YMCA secretary, addressed the gathering here. The following were elected district officers:

DOCKET LISTS THREE TRIALS FOR SLAYINGS

196 Cases on Docket For April Court Term; Jury Lists Are Released

On the docket prepared by Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley for the court term which convenes here Monday, April 2, are four murder cases, and of these the case of Jess Kazee will not be brought to trial.

Although the murder docket is unusually slim, the number of all cases listed is normally heavy. In all, 196 cases have been docketed for trial during the term.

Names of the 36 petit jurors who will hear trials of these cases were released Wednesday afternoon, as were the names of grand jurors whose investigation of crime will add new cases to the court's agenda.

The first murder trial slated for hearing is that of Willard Hughes, on April 11. Will Smith, Wheelwright negro, will go on trial April 16, and Billie Barnett, of Martin, is the last murder defendant listed, with trial set for April 25.

Most often found on the new court docket are cases involving liquor, with child desertion a close second.

WHOLE TOWN'S GIVING CHASE

As Clues to Identity Of Temptation Jones Pursue Tortuous Way

If you have ever witnessed a fox hunt, your sympathy belongs to poor, old Temp, the fox. Prestonsburg citizens are even now hot on the trail of Temptation Jones.

The chase will soon be over, however. That mystery character will be brought out of hiding Tuesday night, March 20, during the Club minstrel show at the school auditorium. The jackpot of cash and prizes will be given away to the winner or winners.

The stub of the ticket to the minstrel show will serve as a ballot for the contestant. There is no limit to the number of tickets per person. Each ticket will serve as another ballot. However, the full and complete name of the real Temptation Jones must be given. In case of a woman, the full name, including the maiden name as well as the married name, must be stated. In case of a man the full name must

Fiscal Court Adds Its Voice To Plea for Lake Deepening

The Floyd fiscal court this week added its voice to the pleas for an additional five feet of water in Dewey Lake as a means of enhancing the recreational value of the reservoir.

Meeting here Wednesday afternoon, the court adopted resolutions calling on the United Fuel Gas Company and the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, the two firms having utilities services in the area, to cooperate in an effort to relieve the federal government of additional expense in adding the water.

The United Fuel Gas Company has claimed addition of five feet of water to the conservation pool from April till the end of October each year will damage existing installations such as pipelines, meter houses and roads. Persons acquainted with the area and the company's holdings in the area, however, have disputed this claim.

If the companies would waive damage for an additional five feet, interested groups hold, the U. S. Corps of Engineers, relieved of financial outlay, would grant the added depth petitioned.

Filing Delay May Cost Some Workers Social Security Pay

Many retired workers, their families, or dependent survivors may lose some of their social security benefit payments, says Thomas Thompson of the Pikeville social security office because of delay in filing or refiling a claim.
He will be in Prestonsburg each Thursday morning and urges every retired person over 65 not now receiving benefit payments, but who has worked for at least a year and a half in a job covered by social security to call on him at the State Employment office in the Midland Building. If the worker died after a year and a half of such employment, his widow or other dependent should see Mr. Thompson.
The revised law provides for six instead of three months retroactive payments. Payments cannot be made, however, for months prior to September 1950. If a retired worker who was 65 or over on that date qualifies for old-age benefit payments this March, he will get six months in back payments. If he delays filing his claim until after March, he will lose his September 1950 benefit.
Retired workers or survivors whose claims were disallowed when filed before last September, should file new claims promptly. As Mr. Thompson points out, in many instances, the new law makes it possible to allow refilled claims. The six months restriction on back payments is inflexible, however, so he urges all such people in the Prestonsburg area to get in touch with him at the State Employment office in Prestonsburg on any Thursday morning.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IN EXPLANATION

Editor, The Times:

Referring to the article in last week's paper, it is a mistake about us setting our building too close to the highway. It is on a lot we paid for and in line with gasoline pumps on an adjacent lot. The highway people made no protest whatsoever, and we do not want the public to feel we are doing wrong about the matter.

MR. & MRS. TOBE NICHOLS

SAY OFFICIALS FAILED THEM

Editor, The Floyd County Times:

We, the citizens of Abbott Creek and State Road Fork of Middle Creek are only a small part of Floyd county, but we are taxpayers, and for five years the twelve miles of road through Abbott has been left out of the county planning and allotment set-up.

This road was built at the government's expense, a W.P.A. road, built by the people and for the people. What was once a good stone road bed is now pock-marked with holes that will jar your store teeth loose to drive over it. In 1950 nothing was done to improve this road, no gravel, no ditches or drain pipes opened. Weeds, brush, and other waste choked ditches until water spreads over roadbeds.

The Abbott road connects highways 114 and U. S. 23, and is six miles shorter distance between Salyersville and Prestonsburg than route 114.

What's wrong, Mr. Harris and Mr. Stumbo?

Did you take the oath of office to serve all the people of Floyd county?

Are all the rumors that are going around true?—that Old Abbott is getting all she deserves (statement made at the highway garage); that an official made this statement, that the Abbott road was forgotten when the allotments were made for gravel. What's wrong?

Has old Abbott precinct been Democratic too big and too long to worry about? We wonder.

There is much talk of making a movie film of this terrible road condition. Such movie equipment is available. This line of thought may be slightly irregular, but we the people pay county and state taxes, plus the much-talked gasoline tax, and we feel we are getting a raw deal.

If anyone doubts the veracity of these statements concerning the condition of this road, all we ask is that you try to drive over this twelve miles of road and be thereby convinced.

Remember, boys, you are starting on your second year in the driver's seat.

Remember this too, that the sentiment of the people can make or break any man in public office—and that no one can buy sentiment.

Justice, equality and a fair return for our tax dollar is all we ask.

Do we get just this or must we carry this farther with the press, The Floyd County Times and The Courier-Journal?

We are prepared to do just this if need be.

Facts and figures are being compiled—wouldn't that look nice with a few pictures in the Courier's Rotomagazine.

We hate to have to go this far, but you as public servants have failed us in this our greatest need.

Remember this, there are quite a lot of voters along twelve miles of road, and many have friends and relatives outside of the Abbott precinct.

Don't make the mistake of waiting until election year and then send out the grader and a lot of election propaganda and promises. We have been hooked before.

Signed:—Milt Stanley, Bill Pruitt, Alex Spradlin, C. W. Wright, Harry Manuel, Jim Hill, R. E. Frasure.

Mrs. Meade Succumbs At Printer Residence, Victim of Paralysis

Mrs. Margaret Moore Meade, 79 years old, widow of W. R. Meade, died Monday at her home on Spurlock Creek, near Printer, following a paralytic stroke.

Surviving are three sons, Oscar Meade, Bulwell, O. Foster Meade, Pikeville and Trimble Meade, of Hunter; also three half-brothers and eight half-sisters, Cephus and Harry Moore, both of Orkney, Isom Moore, Minnie, Mrs. Rosie Stumbo, Mrs. Bertha Frazier, Mrs. Rhoda Compton and Mrs. Sallie Gearheart all of Price, Mrs. Rebecca Gearheart, McDowell, Mrs. Zollie Hoops, Wheelwright, Mrs. Emma Gearheart, Blue Moon, and Mrs. Leete McCown, of Emma.

The funeral was conducted from the Meade residence Tuesday by the Rev. T. F. Meade, and burial was made in the family cemetery at Printer under direction of the Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

Real Flood Control

GOVERNOR Wetherby has urged for a section of Kentucky a type of flood control which this newspaper had hoped would be put into practise by the federal government in the upper Johns Creek valley in Pike county.

The Governor has asked the federal budget director to approve an appropriation for controlling the floodwaters of the Green river by retarding the run-off of water through reforestation, cover crops, terracing and other soil conservation methods. In making that request, Gov. Wetherby made a statement, the truth of which is becoming more widely recognized from year to year. Said he:

"It has become increasingly apparent that floods cannot be controlled by building dams and levees alone. The cause must be curbed at its source."

We earnestly hope his request is granted. The result will be a great object-lesson to all Kentucky. Its success should bring about similar projects in other sections.

It has been estimated the cost of such a flood control program in the Green river valley, which has a watershed of 9,273 square miles, would be $36,601,000. And that would be cheap. For it would save all the land a dam would inundate, and at the same time make more of that land tillable as well as protected from flood.

As a flood control project, we would say the Dewey dam in this county falls far short of its purpose. The benefits from that one phase alone are slight. Here we have one of the most agriculturally productive of Big Sandy valleys flooded a distance of eleven miles, all the bottom-land for that distance under water. And on above slack-water, nothing has been done to curb the run-off. Thus, we ruin the lower part of the valley insofar as its productivity goes and permit the upper part to remain as it was—all to cut down a scant few inches in the rise of the Big Sandy.

If the federal government would now go on upstream and institute a large-scale, long-range flood control program in the upper reaches of the valley, it would more fully attain the end-result to be desired. Erosion upstream would be reduced, eventually cut to the minimum, upstream floods would be largely eliminated and silting-in of the beautiful lake now formed would be prevented.

And, equally important, other valleys of Eastern Kentucky would be shown how to save the soil they must conserve if the region is not to become a wasteland.

Whose the Victory?

A NEWSPAPER story infers that the Democratic state administration won a victory by placing three Democrats on the five-man investigating body which is expected to make a thorough probe into alleged irregularities in the State Highway Department.

In a show of strength it was a victory. For the immediate future of the party in Kentucky it may not be all it is hailed as being.

With a majority on the investigating committee, the Democrats will be blamed for a whitewash, if nothing incriminatory is found, even though the probers unite in an earnest effort to find whatever has been wrong. And the people of Kentucky are in no frame of mind to swallow the whitewash, brush and all, whether they're real or imaginary.

It may be foreign to the accepted rules of politics as the game is played, but The Times has an idea Governor Wetherby would have more clearly acquitted himself personally, had he provided the most impartial investigation possible. Could he not with complete candor and justification have adopted this method of meeting the threatened scandal?

"Maybe something did happen that shouldn't. I wouldn't know, for you will recall, I've been Governor only a few weeks and as Lieutenant-Governor I had about as much to do with setting up our departments as your Aunt Susie. If there has been anything wrong, I want to know it, and I'm certain the people are interested in learning just who was responsible. So go to it, fellows. This is the other fellow's baby, and I'm perfectly willing for the people to know all about its conduct, parentage and whatever needs to be known. I'm willing for you fellows to name any five honorable men to investigate this matter, and I challenge you with the duty of being as frank and above-board with the people as I am being."

Wayland in State Tourney After Winning 5 of 6 Meets

Floyd county is not certain it is sending to the state basketball tournament at Lexington this week the next Kentucky championship five, but in the Wayland High school Wasp it contributes to the competition for the state's highest net honors a team which already has won more tournaments this year than any other basketball squad in the Commonwealth.

When the Wasps defeated the Inez Indians at Pikeville last Saturday night to win the 15th regional title they walked away with their fifth triumph of the current season. No other team in the state is known to have won as many trophies this year.

They started the tournament grind early in the season by winning the Floyd county pre-tournament meet, then the Mountain Conference meet; still later, the Pikeville Invitational; two weeks ago, the 58th district title at Martin, and, finally, Saturday night's regional title tilt.

Along the way, they lost only one meet—this to Manual by one point in the Louisville Invitational. For the state tournament "Copper" John Campbell's Wasps drew into the tougher, upper bracket along with Clark County, the favorites, Manual, Owensboro, et al. But the team apparently has regained the final edge it attained earlier in the season, and will have a large following in the stands at Memorial Coliseum, Lexington, when it meets Lyon County, "Eck" Branham's old team, at 10:45 this morning.

The Martin Purple Flash, which had the state's best won-lost record for the year was a weary, banged-up team when it met a rangy, speedy Inez five last Friday evening. Inez won, 75 to 54, and many doubted the ability of Wayland to defeat the Martin county five.

But, playing with only one substitution, the Wasps came through with a last-quarter drive which downed Inez, 69 to 61, in a game which was closer than the score indicates.

Although it got off behind, Wayland led most of the game. But it had to regain the advantage twice in a vicious third quarter.

It was a taller, clever Inez team that Wayland conquered.

The defensive board-work and the driving and shooting of forward Paul Hopper, who came up with 14 points, were the major facts in the Wasps' win. Fred Fraley and Bill Griffith aided with 21 and 14 points, respectively.

Opening with a hard-driving game and an aggressive defense, Inez jumped into a 6-2 lead.

Wayland, however, began hitting from out on the floor, and consecutive, leaping goals by Fraley and Hopper cut Inez's lead to 13-16 at the first quarter.

Near the end of the half, the Indians seemed to tire a little and the Wasps gained a 30-27 half-time lead.

During the free-shooting third period the lead changed hands twice and the count was tied four times before Wayland moved to a two-point lead which it never relinquished. Inez, however, was never more than three points behind until the last four minutes.

The defeat marked the fourth time in the past five years that Inez has lost in the regional finals. In 1947 Wayland gained its first state tournament trip with a three point decision over the Indians.

Piling up 2,956 points in winning 27 games, the offensive-minded Waylanders have averaged 64 points per game and posted a defensive average of 48.

Veteran forward Fred Fraley, 6-foot 1-inch, and Paul Hopper 6-foot 3-inches, both seniors, are the offensive sparks of the squad. Between them, they have scored 972 points. Bill Griffith, 6-foot 1-inch junior center, has a 15-point average.

The pairing for the state tournament, which began Wednesday of this week, follows:

After his approval is gained, detailed plans for the building remain to be prepared. These readied, bids will be asked—then will follow the job of procuring materials.

Although officials here believe materials will be available, there is no hope the structure, which at this stage is envisioned as containing not less than 22 classrooms, can be completed in time for the opening of the 1951-1952 school session next fall.

Purchase of the additional land gives the Board of Education a 5½-acre tract fronting on US 23 and extending to the river bank—ample room for future additions to the building and recreation facilities.

Construction of a gymnasium as a companion-piece to the school building will be a project of the future, it was indicated here.

Open Grate Burns Fatal to Child, 4, At Local Hospital

Burns suffered at the home of her parents on Cow Creek last Saturday morning resulted in the death of four-year-old Patsy Lewis within 10 minutes after arrival at the Prestonsburg General hospital.

Dr. George P. Archer, of the hospital staff, said 90 per cent of the surface of the tot's skin was seared by the flames. The child's dress caught fire from an open grate while her mother, Mrs. Elder Lewis, was outside the house for a bucket of water. The mother was burned about the hands in a vain attempt to save the child.

Surviving, besides the parents, are five brothers and sisters. Funeral rites were conducted Monday from the home of Lewis Burchett, a neighbor of the family, by the Rev. Isaac Stratton, and burial was made in the Lewis cemetery on Daniels Creek, the Arnold Funeral Home directing.

Me—Temptation Jones? I'd be as well fit for the role of Emperor Jones!

ART THAT AIN'T

I find in the daily prints some measure of support of my theory that surrealism and kindred art forms ain't art but are wandering expressions of talent with no place to go. It may be a case of having eyes and seeing not, but for the life of me I've never been able to find beauty, romance or even reality in a mess of angles, curlicues and tangents which mean nothing unless accompanied by copious foot-notes. Or, possibly, by the artist himself to attempt to explain the mystery.

I prefer my nightmares straight from an overdose of steak and gravy for supper, as you may gather. To prove that there's something to my theory, a well-known psychologist, one Dr. Edgar Foltin, of Pennsylvania's College for Women, has one of the world's strangest art collections. The contributors are all mentally disturbed persons from hospitals over the country, and all their "works of art" are in this modern tradition here mentioned. Furthermore, Doc Foltin has called on art critics for their opinions of the patients' work. Their verdict:

"Some of the paintings rank favorably with the best turned out by modernists regarded as mentally normal."

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Effective March 1, 1951, I will not be responsible for any debts incurred by any person other than myself.

Farm NEWS and VIEWS

By HAROLD E. RICE, Floyd County Agent

There is a ready market for all the strawberries farmers in Floyd county will produce. With more than 50,000 people living in this county and no commercial strawberry fields, it is easy to see what a market there is.

Strawberries should be set between March 15 and April 15. Plants set in the fall are likely to be forced out of the soil by freezing and thawing. Plants set after April 10th are usually slow in starting and will not make as many runners the first year. High yields of berries the second year depend largely on the number of runners produced the year the plants were set. Plants should be set 2 or 3 feet apart in rows 4 feet wide.

VARIETIES

BLAKEMORE—The Blakemore is an early, firm productive berry with a bright red color. It is excellent for fresh use, preserving, and freezing. It is a vigorous plant maker. The disadvantages are that it is subject to yellow disease, blooms early and is often injured by frost. Also the variety often makes too many runners and as a result the berries are small.

TENNESSEE BEAUTY — The Tennessee Beauty ripens about a week later than Blakemore. The Beauty is very productive, and a good plant maker. It produces a large, bright red berry with a large green cap. It is excellent for fresh use, shipping, preserving, and freezing. This berry yielded more than any other variety in a five year test at the Western Ky. Experiment Station.

The only other variety that merits consideration is the Tennessee Shipper and as its name implies it is grown primarily for shipping.

Ever-bearing strawberries have not been successful in Kentucky.

When setting a new patch of strawberries you should apply 100 pounds of 3-9-6 or 4-12-8 fertilizer for each 500 plants set. Always remember that it is important to produce plants the first year to bear strawberries the following years.

FLOYD COUNTY BUILDING, UP

Is 12 Times Greater Than Population Rise, According to Census

Special to The Times

NEW YORK, Mar. 6—The growth of population that took place in Floyd county in the last 10 years was accompanied by an even greater expansion in local housing facilities in the period. This is shown by the United States Census Bureau in its preliminary reports based on the recent tabulation.

The county's population grew from 52,936 in 1940 to the 53,473 counted in the 1950 census, an increase of 0.9 percent. This record was surpassed, however, by its housing expansion, which amounted to 11.7 percent.

The favorable balance of 10.8 percent in housing over population resulting from these increases reflects a better situation than that reported for most other communities. The national balance in favor of housing was 9.1 percent. In the east-south central states there was a 19.8 percent net gain in favor of housing. In Kentucky it was also 9.1 percent.

The Census Bureau reports, from its survey, that there are now 12,068 dwelling units in Floyd county compared to the 10,792 listed in the previous census.

The housing situation at the present time in Floyd county, taking into account the various changes in the past 10 years, is an improvement over what it was in 1940. There are now 228 living quarters available for every 1,000 residents compared with the 204 per 1,000 previously.

The improving housing situation in Floyd county follows the general upswing in construction activity, which was furthered by government priorities and by financial assistance to both civilians and veterans in the purchase and rental of homes.

During the 10 years between censuses, the net increase in dwellings in the nation amounted to 8,825,000. The accompanying population rise was about 19,000,000.

SAN JUAN—The Red Cross reported that 25 houses were destroyed and 61 damaged in Arecibo, on Puerto Rico's north coast, by high tides and rough seas.

Erie, Pa., March 8—A clerk in a local dry-cleaning establishment, Beulah Mason, says her pet peeve is men who leave lipstick in the pockets of their clothes to be cleaned.

FLOYD SCHOOL BENEFIT TOLD

County and City Districts
Would Receive $142,622
If Appropriation Made

School districts in Floyd county will receive an estimated $142,622.70 from the proposed $6,000,000 increase in the common school per capita fund as recommended to the General Assembly by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby, raising to $623,082.92 the districts' participation in the increased fund for the coming school year, according to tentative computations made today by the State Department of Education.

The increase will provide an estimated $8.78 increase in the state per capita fund behind each pupil over last year's total of $29.59. Actual distribution will be based on a new census as of April 1, 1951. The entire per capita fund, under the law, must be used solely for salaries of instructional personnel in the public schools—teachers, supervisors and principals.

Estimated sums to be received by Floyd county are: Floyd county district, $501,232.28, an increase of $135,332.14; Prestonsburg independent district, $31,850.64, an increase of $7,200.56.

Governor Wetherby estimated the average teacher salary increase, under his recommended $6,000,000 additional distribution—raising the annual fund from $20,212,500 to $26,212,500—would be $300 a year. The annual increase in salary of teachers which is provided in legislation proposed will vary in the school districts because:

1. The pupil-teacher ratio is higher in some districts than others.
2. Some school districts have a greater percentage of pupils attending private and parochial schools than do others.

Some school districts in the State do not provide educational facilities for its high school pupils within its own school system, but furnish education for these children in another district by tuition agreement. The proposed legislation recommended by the Governor for the increased per capita fund will make it possible for districts with tuition agreements to transfer funds with the provision that such transfer of funds be earmarked for teachers' salaries only.

The recommended appropriation in no wise affects or changes the current appropriation of $4,287,500 a year for school equalization purposes.

Experts Hits at Law Permitting Increases Prior to Approval

The Kentucky law which permits utilities to post bond and charge higher rates before official approval, has been criticized by a rate expert.

In asking the Public Service Commission to dismiss the Kentucky Telephone Corporation's application for a $522,000 rate raise, James M. Honaker contended the due-process provisions of the Constitution have been embraced by utilities "with such clinging hands that the rate payer becomes the forgotten man."

The phone company serves Lexington, Versailles, Nicholasville, and Midway. Honaker has been employed by Lexington and the counties of Fayette and Jessamine to fight the rate increase.

Since December 6, the company has been collecting and impounding the increased rates. If the rate raise is voided, customers will get refunds of the increased rates they have been paying.

Honaker said the company's cost-of-money man testified that money is worth 7 or 8 per cent if obtainable. Honaker said the money impounded by the company bears no interest rate for the telephone subscribers.

"This is the taking of cash property from the rate payer without due process of law and in contravention of well known laws of the land," Honaker said.

Honaker claimed the K.T.C. has failed to make a case for itself in the application. He cited technical reasons which he said warranted dismissal of the application, but concentrated on what he said was inadequate service.

"The rate payers have dedicated the best years of their lives to poor service," he said.

For every seven subscribers who have telephones, there is one person who wants a phone and can't get one," Honaker said.

He said the company's president has testified 2,000 new phones will be installed in its system this year. But at present the company has 3,647 unfilled requests for phones, he continued.

K. T. C. is a subsidiary of the General Telephone Corporation, Lafayette, Ind. The parent firm has assets of $300,000,000. Honaker scoffed at K.T.C.'s claim that it cannot get new money from the General Telephone Corporation.

"As to why the applicant is so unattractive, a step-child, to its parent, we are at a loss to understand," he said.

Honaker said the company has placed most of its rate increase on customers who use their phones chiefly for local service. Long-distance tolls, affecting "brokerage firms, large distributing firms, and bookmakers," were not raised substantially, he said. He pointed out a business phone is a deductible expense for income tax purposes, but a home phone is not.

To the Public:
I had planned to be out of my office from March 13 till April 6, and had so notified my patients. Now, however, I find that circumstances prevent my leaving, and this is to notify the public I will be in my office until further notice.

By EWING GALLOWAY

If you have anything to leave to widow, children or other heirs when you pass on to glory, you may do well to read and heed this little essay on wills.

A singing evangelist whom I helped sing sinners to the mourners' bench when I was a youngster in Dixie village in a back corner of Henderson county, decided in his old age to make a will. He owned a home and very little else, and wanted to leave the residence to his wife. But he knew a lot less about legal terms than about Holy Writ. Also he was averse to seeing a lawyer. Probably had heard people say one should stay away from lawyers.

So the dear old chap decided to write his own will, and he worded it something like this: "I hereby bequeath all my personal property to my beloved wife." He thought "personal property" meant what he personally owned. So the widow didn't get the home. It wasn't personal property.

Usually wills written by lawyers are the best possible assurance that an estate will be settled promptly, without litigation. Nobody should write his own will. Even if the document is as simple as "I hereby bequeath all my property, real and personal, to my beloved wife" it is safer to let the lawyer put it into words.

If two or more heirs are involved, a will should not only be prepared by an attorney, but the legality of every bequest should be checked with recent decisions of the Court of Appeals. Circuit Judge Marlin Blackwell, of Dixon, discussing the administering of estates with me recently, suggested that in many instances it would be advisable for lawyers to even cite decisions of the appeals court as applied to each bequest. That might not always make wills ironclad, because the courts sometime reverse their own previous decisions.

One smart testator stipulated in his will that the county judge was to get $300 if the estate was wound up in one year from the day the will was probated; if the settlement hung fire longer than a year, the judge was to get nothing.

Stringing litigation along for many years is one of the worst legalized rackets in the country, and wills, written by able lawyers, cannot fail to facilitate early settlements, the transfer of property to its rightful owners.

A well worded will means that dissatisfied heirs will be less likely to waste time and money squabbling over the terms of a bequest. If an estate amounts to as much as $200, sons and daughters of the deceased may fight over it as bitterly as if millions were involved.

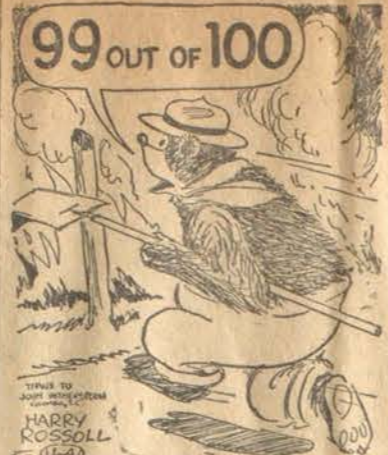

A testator down our way overlooked a pair of well worn shoes when he wrote his will. He probably figured the shoes would be worn out before he died. Two heirs almost came to blows over the right of ownership.

If you don't have a will, go to a reliable lawyer and have him write one for you. It is a duty to those you love.

State Forester Urges Care
To Prevent Forest Fires
As Spring Season Begins

Frankfort, Ky., March 8 — Care with fire in or near wooded areas, was urged by State Forester H. B. Newland today, as he announced the beginning of the spring forest fire season.

"During the months of March, April and May the forest fire danger in Kentucky will be high. Warm, dry, windy days, common during these months, cause forest fuels to dry out rapidly, making them highly inflammable. This is one of the reasons our new brush burning law prohibits the burning of brush, trash, grass, leaves and other debris within 200 feet of any woodland or brushland during these months, except between 4:30 p.m., and midnight or when the ground is covered with snow," the State Forester said.

"Two out of every five forest fires that occurred in Kentucky during 1950 were caused by carelessness in the burning of such materials," Newland added.

"Some lookout towers were manned beginning March 1; by March 15 all of the Division's 62 towers will be manned and seasonal forest guards and fire crews will be on duty," he said.

"During these critical times our forests take on added importance. The demand for forest products to meet expanding defense needs is increasing. Trees destroyed by fire cannot help supply the lumber and other products needed to keep a nation's defenses strong. A little thoughtfulness on the part of us all when using fire in or near wooded areas can stop this shameful waste and help keep Kentucky green and America strong," the State Forester said.

SICK AND HOMELESS, PERRY MAN FLAUNTS LAW TO FIND SANCTUARY THRU PRISON SENTENCE

Hazard, Ky., March 2 — Sheriff John Gross was surprised today when an elderly man walked in and asked:

"What is the penalty for carrying a concealed weapon? Is it a penitentiary offense?"

"Yes, it's a penitentiary offense," the sheriff replied. "Carrying concealed weapons is a felony."

The man reached into a back pocket, took out a gun in a holster, and laid it on the counter. The sheriff grabbed the gun, expecting a trick, but found it wasn't even loaded.

"What do you want me to do," Gross asked.

"I want you to do your duty, whatever that is," said the stranger. The man identified himself as Truitt Cornett, 62, of Dwarf, a Perry county community eight miles north of here.

He explained that he had a lung disease, could scarcely see, and had no home, so he wanted to go to prison.

It was the last day of the Perry county grand jury's session. The case was taken before the jurors, who indicted Cornett. No date has been set for a hearing.

Cornett told reporters he had been in prison 22 years ago on a homicide charge, but later was pardoned.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

MINEOLA, N. Y. — Jury acquitted John A. Daly in the death of his wife, Gertrude. Courtroom spectators cheered the verdict for Daly, whose five-year-old daughter Norine had testified in his behalf. His daughter testified that her mother had taken her to a tavern and that she said he slapped her mother once when putting them in a cab. She said her mother fell against a brick wall after reaching home. A doctor testified it was unlikely Mrs. Dalys head wound could have come from a blow of the fist.

For the past several months now, and especially since the recent publication in The Floyd County Times of my query to the Attorney-General relative to judicial district office in this county many of the Christian people of this county, loyal and staunch supporters of law enforcement, have prevailed on me to make the race for Commonwealth's Attorney, have endorsed my candidacy and pledged me their whole-hearted support.

Appreciating this action from so many of the common people from out over the county, being deeply grateful for their pledged support and knowing that they have no political axes to grind, and that their support stems only from their desire to further the cause of good government in Floyd county, I have definitely decided to make the race on the Democratic ticket for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney.

I, therefore, announce my candidacy, pledge full time devoted, 12 months out of the year, to fair and impartial law enforcement in this county, and earnestly solicit the assistance, the support and vote of every legally qualified voter, with the earnest assurance given you all that I have no personal political ambitions other than to serve my community and the county in which I live.

URGES USE OF COAL, SHALE IN SYNTHETIC FUELS PLAN

Washington, D.C., Mar. 8 (Spl.)—Coal and oil shale must be used "promptly" as sources of synthetic liquid fuels in order to safeguard America's oil supply, Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman has announced in a report to Congress on the Bureau of Mines' fuels research program. He said that he is calling upon private enterprise, with government assistance if required, to establish a synthetic fuels industry.

"It is apparent now that neither the government nor industry would be taking any considerable economic risk, in starting the initial plants," the Secretary said.

Development of the new industry is necessary because of the "ever-increasing need for petroleum in the United States, the critical international situation threatening foreign supplies, the growing demands for steel, and the heavy cost to industry of constantly discovering and developing new oil fields," Mr. Chapman explained.

The Secretary's report pointed out that for the past year and a half the Bureau of Mines has been operating a coal hydrogenation plant at Louisiana, Mo., and the gasoline yielded from the coal is being subjected to fleet road tests with "gratifying results." The hydrogenation process chemically combines hydrogen with coal under high temperature and pressure with the aid of a catalyst to produce a high yield of liquid products.

The Department of the Interior will encourage construction of "one or two" such plants at this time, the report said. Although the cost of producing gasoline from coal is somewhat greater than it is from shale, under present conditions, coal plants will have a greater material advantage in that they can be placed near important consuming centers where production-transportation costs will be relatively low. The Interior Department report emphasized the following immediate advantages attributable to coal hydrogenation:

Chapman Asks for Gasoline from Coal Industry

1. That the amount of steel required for initial construction per barrel per day of gasoline is about the same for coal hydrogenation as is for petroleum. Also, if a coal hydrogenation plant is used 20 years, the actual amount of steel consumed per barrel of product made is less than that required for petroleum.

2. During the past few years, demand for such aromatic chemicals as benzene and phenol (materials used in plastics, nylon, insecticides, synthetic rubber, and other essential chemical products) has outstripped productive capacity. Coal hydrogenation plants can produce a high percentage of aromatic chemicals in addition to gasoline.

3. Coal hydrogenation plants can be operated to yield a liquid product that is almost entirely aviation and motor-gasoline jet fuel and diesel oil in widely adjustable proportions. Under other operating conditions they will give a high yield of the aromatic chemicals, a flexibility that holds great strategic advantage in time of war.

"Hydrogenation plants will not compete in time of emergency for raw materials that we are already in short supply," the report continues. "In such critical periods petroleum must fill a vast need for aviation gasoline, jet fuel, diesel oil, heating oil, and chemicals. Each of these products becomes increasingly vital during a war and important competing needs clamor to be supplied. While the demands for coal also increase, these can be supplied from the vast resources of the United States alone. During World War II, coal production rose from about 500 million tons per year to a maximum of about 650 million tons. This or a greater expansion can be achieved again when it becomes necessary.

"The building of hydrogen plants is the first step to allow coal, the largest fuel reserve in the United States, to begin to carry some of the heavy demands for liquid fuels."

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Sometimes even the most experienced sportsmen run out of supplies before getting back to their base. So Paul Johnson has planned an emergency kit that weighs only 1 3-4 pounds and can be carried in your hunting coat pocket. This will supply sufficient nourishment and shelter for a three-day trip.

First get a tin with a good lid that measures 5 x 3 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches. This is a standard size tin and is easy to find. Then get the following: three packets of dehydrated soup, three plain, sweet chocolate bars, nine bouillon cubes, one-half pound of rice, a short length of fishline, three or four hooks, waterproof matches or matches in a waterproof box, a four-inch piece of candle and 40 feet of 90-pound test cod line.

To pack these, first place the candle upright in one corner of the tin, then pack the nine bouillon cubes on the bottom after removing any bulky wrappings. Next, place the three packages of dehydrated soup on the side of the tin opposite the candle. Now pack the three chocolate bars upright in the tin and pour in some of the rice to fill any spaces.

Place the hooks in a small envelope on top of the rice, put the lid on the tin and seal it with one-inch wide adhesive tape. Then wrap your fishline lengthwise around the tin and wrap the cod line neatly around the side of it.

You should use the supplies in this manner: For breakfast each day have one of the packages of soup, strengthened with one bouillon cube. For lunch, eat one chocolate bar, and for supper boil up one third of the rice with two bouillon cubes. You do all your cooking in the tin container, after carefully unpacking it.

The candle is very useful for lighting a quick fire. The cod line is used for fishing poles when making a lean-to shelter; and the fishline and hooks are used, if necessary, to augment your diet.

When Nasty Colds Leave You WEAK AND RUNDOWN HADACOL CAN HELP

If Your System Lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, Which HADACOL Contains

When a nasty cold leaves you in a weakened and run-down condition, HADACOL can help build you up if your system is lacking in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, important elements contained in HADACOL. Many folks have found that this fine family formula helps overcome these deficiencies and soon they feel good again.

Mrs. A. Jimenez, 141 East 13th St., Port Arthur, Texas, gave HADACOL to her young son, Floyd, after he had recovered from a bad cold when she heard how HADACOL was helping folks suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. It helped him so much in regaining his strength and energy that Mrs. Jimenez says she is always going to have HADACOL on hand for Floyd.

Here is Mrs. Jimenez's statement:
"My son Floyd was very subject to colds. He's eleven years old, and he was run-down, didn't seem to have an appetite at all, and just simply lacked energy. I heard about HADACOL on the radio, and it was about this time that Floyd was just recovering from a siege of a bad cold. He was very run-down, lacked an appetite, and I started giving him HADACOL. After about a bottle and a half I could not find an improvement. His appetite picked up and he had increased strength. I think HADACOL has done wonders for Floyd, and can't praise it enough. I have continued to give him HADACOL and intend to always have it on hand for Floyd."

Men, women and children of all ages are praising HADACOL for supplying Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron which their systems lack. Don't let that "After-Cold Run-down Feeling" drag you down—HADACOL can help you, too, if you suffer such deficiencies. Sold on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel great after the first few bottles you take or your money back. Trial size, $1.25; large family economy size, $3.50.

Floyd countians regret to lose the Ryans from Martin. Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Sr., move shortly to Florida, where Jack has now gone to oversee the construction of a home for his parents. Later, he will be joined by Luke and Pat. Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ryan, Jr., are residing in Louisville, where he is attending U. of L.

Little Randy Ousley, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ousley, of Maytown, was giving his daddy a rough and tumble one night when mother was ill and daddy tried to put Randy's pajamas on the child. "Here, how about us having a little cooperation?" Herbert suggested finally. Randy is fond of soft drinks, so he asked quickly, "Daddy, can I have a bottle of it, too?"

Mom was telling dad about the vile movie she had just seen, one so foul daughter must not be allowed to attend, under any circumstance. Daughter, who overheard, demanded to know the name of it. "Oh, gee whiz, Mother," she rasped. "I wrote the book for that one. They put it out under another name."

If Bob Whitney of England can make Louisville children and adults consider music a necessity now, instead of a luxury, surely some of the musical talent and leaders here can do the same for Floyd county. Those of us who know so little about it need more exposure for increased appreciation. If ever WPA days return—please forbid!—Floyd should build an amphitheatre of native stone in one of our picturesque hill-studded valleys, where big events can become annual attractions. This could include drama, music and all fields.

The recent tournament showed the need for greater vision as the county builds for the future. Many were turned away. The majority of our gyms have proved to be much too small. This is also true of many churches that have been erected and outgrown in ten years. Financial limitations always exist but indebtedness can be economical in the long run.

All agree, the small greenhouse on Maple Avenue is now the loveliest spot in Prestonsburg. The sight of much color turns us garden lovers green with envy, for we must wait till the 21st to start!

The Scout Camp near Dewey Lake will be a boon to our section. Scout work offers tremendous advantages to boys and girls, unsurpassed opportunities for character building and personality development. What a pity that the youngsters so often lack leadership. American youth always constitutes the greatest possession of our nation, and several years ago Bishop Darlington told the country, "If you start early enough you can teach a child to hate a bird and to love a snake."

Everyone rejoices that the Governor has not forgotten the teachers and others, equally needy. Defense areas will soon attract many teachers by offering higher pay. Kentucky has already lost too many good ones because of the low schedule in salaries.

The increased censorship of war news meets marked approval, since it can help our boys. Further censorship here could work to advantage, as advertising our shortage of bomb shelters, radar stations, and the proposed location of atomic and hydrogen bomb plants is of value to any enemy.

It is encouraging to note how most publications are plugging hard for a better program of increased adult education for all groups, how many organizations are not disbanding in summer, as is customary, but are instead utilizing that time to promote community projects that will reach the masses, informing them of the truth about domestic and foreign issues, particularly in regard to false propaganda. Now is the time when Americans need to know what Communism is, what it does. It is too late to lock the barn door after the horse gets out!

Look what the Smart Money's buying

Now that the 1951 offerings of the motorcar industry have had a chance to strut their stuff, we ask you—can there be any doubt which is the really smart buy?

If you want a "new look"—Buick has it. That sturdy push-bar forefront says "1951" to all who see it—and provides unsurpassed front-end protection to boot.

If you want power that you can live with through many moons to come—Buick has that too. Years of expert engineering have made Buick's thrill-packed Fireball engine just about as dependable as a power plant can be.

If you want features that combine present pleasure with long-time durability, consider this:

Buick's level-going ride stems from coil springs on all four wheels which are virtually break-proof and never need servicing.

Buick's Dynaflo Drive* takes the strain out of every mile of driving—and pays off by eliminating any need for friction clutch repairs and replacements, by reducing engine and transmission upkeep, and lengthening life of tires.

- No other car provides all this:
- DYNAFLO DRIVE — saves strain on driver and car
 - FIREBALL POWER — high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
 - PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT — combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
 - WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS — greater clarity at night
 - 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING — cushions ride, saves servicing costs
 - TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE — steadies ride, improves driving control
 - DUAL VENTILATION — outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
 - SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES — hydraulic—multiply pedal pressure five times at brake drum
 - DREAMLINE STYLING — tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models
 - Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Stop-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher
- WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

If you want room and comfort and handling that make any trip a breeze—there's no simpler way to find them than to take over a '51 Buick SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—relax and enjoy yourself.

And if you want all this at a minimum outlay of dollars—one look at Buick prices will settle this point.

So the smartest thing you can do is get in touch with your Buick dealer. How about doing that right now?
