

The only show that'll burn you up is what you get on television.

While TV viewers here were complaining this week, William Dingus and Dave Flanery were ailing, too, Charley-hosses.

The Floyd County Times doesn't like the idea of calling the FCT a liar, but if I'm not mistaken those two objects Hays Salyers had on a stringer over at Dewey Lake Sunday morning were bass, our story of last week notwithstanding.

HELP!

Although I'm inclined to think the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (Division of Game and Fish, to most of us) has in a measure neglected Dewey Lake while busy with the state's larger bodies of water, I am unwilling to blame all Dewey's ills on the Department.

But, if not the Department, who am I going to blame? I had an idea that maybe all of us were a bit at fault, since we have fished through every spawning season, dragging bass off their nests, and last year in particular trolled "rich" spots in the lake till we had dragged out every bass we could find. If we left any "for seed," it wasn't our fault.

That seems to be the American way—to abuse our natural resources. But you couldn't blame any individual. There wasn't any rule or law forbidding fishing during the spawning season or dragging the lake dry, and if a few individuals laid off that didn't help, for there were others who didn't, and so on.

So, after all, it was the Department's duty to study the situation—the Dewey situation which is unlike that of large impoundments, some isolated spots on which are seldom reached by fishermen. The Department should have known that Dewey, a lake 11 miles long, is fished harder than any other Kentucky waters, that when the bass are striking few spots along its shores are not hit by plug or fly every day. They should have watched a hundred or so fishermen cover the lake.

Then they would have known that no body of water can beat off such an attack, if the attack goes on at spawning time and by trolling when the big fish school up in deep, cool holes in the heat of summer and early fall.

Dewey still has bass and some good fishing in it, but it needs attention before it's too late. The Division has made tests. What hurts Dewey has been found. But a diagnosis without a remedy helps nobody.

OWENS BILLED FOR ADDRESS

Union officials expect a crowd of 50,000 to attend the seventh annual Labor Day program at the Pikeville baseball park.

The celebration this year will be sponsored by U.M.W. District 30, which comprises the Big Sandy field; District 28 in adjacent Virginia, and District 17, which includes the Pond Creek section of Pike county and Southern part of West Virginia.

The celebration will be preceded by a parade at 10:30 a. m., through Pikeville to the ball park. The program there will get under way at noon.

Sam Caddy, Lexington, president of District 30, will introduce Owens. In addition to the speaking, there will be entertainment features.

HOWELL HELD ON 7 COUNTS

Bond Set at $7,000 On Idle Pay Charges; Five Fined by Court

Emmett Howell, of Dana, was held to $7,000 bond Monday, $1,000 on each of seven counts filed against him alleging that he had knowingly made false statements in order to obtain unemployment insurance benefits.

He was arrested and brought here Friday by Sheriff A. B. Meade and Deputy Sheriff Frank Parsons. The warrant for his arrest was issued on the statement of Glenn S. Anderson, head of the Division of Employment Service here. Howell is accused of receiving unemployment pay while working during the months of January, February and March, 1951. His bondsmen are Murphy Jarrell, Hatter Boyd and Delza Conn.

Beginning with Saturday, five persons paid fines after trials or pleas of guilty in county court. Among these were Sylvia Mae Bays, white, and John Milton, negro, who were accused of adultery, each fined $25 and costs on their pleas of guilty. Others fined were:

Jesse Ramey, drunk driving, $100 and costs, driver's license revoked; Robert Jones and Corbett Hurt, both charged with improper driving, fined $10 and costs.

Earlier, Charley Newsome, of Prasure's Creek, was fined $25 and given a 10-day jail term for setting a woodland fire last spring.

5,000 GATHER FOR FISH FRY

Floyd Talent Features Most of Show at Allen; Reed Gives Exhibition

Except for one or two bait-casters, and Rusty Reed the shooting phenom, and some of the dogs in the coon chase event, Sunday's 10th annual Floyd county fish fry at Allen was an all-Floyd show, and a good part of the county was there to see it.

Five thousand or more persons during the day saw the sportsmen, adults and juniors, in action, and lack of parking space is believed to have held down the number by several hundreds. The event, oldest and largest sponsored by any sportsmen's group in this part of Kentucky, drew a much larger gathering than did the 1951 fish fry.

The sponsor, the Floyd County Fish & Game Club, made a financial success of the day, despite the cost of a rich array of prizes awarded bait-casters and as "attendance" awards.

Outstanding demonstration of the day was Rusty Reed's handling of shotgun and rifle in an afternoon exhibition. Glenn Reynolds, of Hazard, Junior Conservation Club supervisor in the Seventh district, gave an exhibition with both flyrod and casting rod.

A coon drag was the first event of the day, bringing together some of the top dogs of Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia. Dixie Belle, owned by Bill Arthur, Huntington, W. Va., won the line test, and Buckeye Spot, owned by Has-

$175,000 BANK JOB GETS OK

First National Move Now Certain; Kroger Market Building Seen

A change in location of the First National Bank from its First avenue building to a structure to be erected within coming months at the Broadway and Court street corner became a certainty a few days ago as the Comptroller of the Currency authorized the construction and the move to new quarters. The site, building and equipment are expected to entail an expenditure of $175,000.

Announcement of a final decision to construct the building was made this week by Burl Spurlock, executive vice-president and majority stockholder of the bank, after he had returned from Washington where permission to make the changes was granted.

This decision also is expected to result in a second Broadway venture of considerable size, since H. D. Fitzpatrick, Sr., announced recently he will construct the Kroger Grocery & Baking Company a building for a super-market in the vicinity of the bank structure. If this building goes up, it will probably be on a lot almost opposite the Edward L. Allen residence, leaving a large parking lot between the bank building and the market.

The bank structure will be on lots now owned by Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Lucy Jones, on which the bank holds options.

Although plans for the bank building have not been committed to blueprint, Mr. Spurlock said it will be of two stories, and wholly modern in design and air-conditioned. The second floor will be divided into offices.

STUMBO WAITS LEGAL RULING BEFORE AUDIT

Tax League Leaders Say Additional Suits Certain To Be Filed

County Judge Henry Stumbo said this week that he is awaiting only an opinion of the Attorney-General before employing a certified public accountant to audit receipts of county officials for a period of 10 years back.

"I told the directors of the Tax League recently that I would not rush into something till I know I have a right to go through with it," he said. "I wrote the Attorney-General to be certain I will be within my legal rights in ordering this work done."

The Tax League in an advertisement appearing elsewhere in The Times this week estimated that an audit of the eight offices will cost around $4,000.

In the same advertisement the League directors declared their intention of proceeding with the suit filed against County Attorney W. W. Burchett and of having audits made and other suits filed as soon as the League's finances will permit.

Another probe promised by the League was that of the funds expended on access roads in the Dewey reservoir area by the fiscal court, a few years ago. "We are going to ask some embarrassing questions about that road when we get to it," the advertisement promised.

Hearing of depositions has been begun in the Burchett case.

BIDS SOUGHT ON 2 ROADS

Abbott, Bull Creek Blacktop Work Seen If Bids Acceptable

Fulfilling its promise made to County Judge Henry Stumbo and Sheriff A. B. Meade last week, the State Department of Highways this week asked for bids on blacktop surfacing of the Bull Creek and Abbott Creek farm-to-market highways.

The Bull Creek surfacing project will begin with the bridge across the Big Sandy here at Town Branch and extend to the west end of the bridge at the forks of Bull Creek, a distance of 2.6 miles. Work on the Abbott road will begin at its junction with U.S. 23, near Cliff, and extend to Bonanza, a distance of 5.3 miles.

Officials now see as the only obstacle the possibility that the state will not receive satisfactory bids.

Commissioner W. P. Curlin, of the Highway Department, has also assured Floyd county that if rights-of-way are procured by August 27 the Department will ask for bids Aug. 28 on the construction of the Prater Creek-Mud Creek road, a distance of about eight miles. Steps have already been taken toward condemnation proceedings on land where an agreement cannot be reached for this road, and County Judge Stumbo said he is assured the Department will have the right-of-way clearance by the August 27 date requested.

A Floyd county road nearing completion is the Middle Creek-Brush Creek route popularly known as "the Jarvis Allen highway." Construction work is under way on the Brush Creek side of the mountain, and the road is already in use, although rough where work is in progress.

Nine-Year Illness Claims Mrs. Harris At Residence Here

Mrs. Rosa Martella Harris, wife of Malcolm Harris, died at her Second avenue home here at 9 p.m., Saturday, following an illness of nine years.

Mrs. Harris' long illness began with a paralytic stroke and she later suffered from diabetes.

A daughter of the late James and Armina Burchett Peery and a native of Johns Creek, this county, she was married to Mr. Harris on July 26, 1894. To this union were born 11 children, of whom six survive. Mrs. Harris had been a member of the Pilgrim Holiness Church about 20 years, and she had many relatives and friends in this section.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are five daughters and one son, Mrs. Ballard Osborne, West Prestonsburg, Mrs. Bert Hammonds, of Cliff, Mrs. John Benjey and Mrs. Frank Neely, both of Prestonsburg, Mrs. Jack Richmond, of Inez, and Eugene P. Harris, Columbus, Ohio. She also leaves 15 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

This call is from the 4-F classification. On Sept. 10 and 24 there will be two induction calls, with 10 men in each call.

A list of those to be inducted August 28 follows: Omer Hall, Buckingham; Robert Lewis Patton, Prestonsburg; Jacob Crum, Printer; Jacob Lee McCoy, Martin; Clyde Bryant, Hi Hat; Leonard Prater, Hueysville; Charlie Mitchell, Craynor; Billy Wallace Price, Gio (now of Patriot, O., transferred to Gallipolis, O.); Grover Newberry, Auxier; Carl Horn, Ligon; Grover Tussey, Risner; Andrew Jackson Scalf, Banner (now of Lucasville, O.);

SEPT 2 DATE IS CONFIRMED

For Schools' Opening Despite Polio Spread; 13th Case Is Reported

Although Floyd county is, mathematically, a polio epidemic county with 13 cases officially reported, the Floyd County Health Department will not advise postponing opening of the county's larger schools beyond the Sept. 2 date previously designated.

Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the health department, said he had found that children are safer in the schoolroom from this and other diseases than if kept out, remaining free to go to shows, swimming pools and other places where persons from outside their communities may gather.

The 13th polio case is Ray Irvin, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Layne, of Prestonsburg, who was taken Saturday night to Morris Memorial hospital, Milton, W. Va., for treatment. The Health Department had learned of no other cases within the last week.

Chalmer H. Frazier, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools, said this week that registration of freshmen for the beginning of the 47th year of the high school, will be held on Tuesday morning, Sept. 2, with aptitude and I.Q. tests to be given in the afternoon to prepare for the school's guidance program. Upperclassmen will register on the following day.

Gerald G. Leslie will be assistant principal of the high school, he announced. The Fifth grade teaching vacancy in the grade school, he said, has been filled with the employment of Mrs. Mary Auxier Ford. Two new instructors in the high school have been named: Howard K. Barts, Cincinnati, O., as band instructor; Earl Compton, Prestonsburg, teacher in the Commerce department.

Mr. Barts is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and received his band training under Frak Simon, world-famous band director. Mr. Compton is a graduate of Morehead State College.

Mr. Barts began band practice Monday.

Another drill of a more strenuous nature began with the arrival here of Football Coach Doc Ferrell, who Monday began sending his charges through two training periods daily. They will spend next week at Camp Daniel Boone.

County Rated High in 1951 In Matter of Buying Power

What is the average income of Floyd county families? How much is available to them for spending, after taxes? How do they spend it?

Answers to these questions, much sought after for commercial reasons, are contained in a new copyrighted survey of buying power, covering the entire United States, prepared by Sales Management.

The figures show that higher incomes and a better standard of living prevail locally. Floyd county families recorded net earnings in 1951, after deduction for all taxes, of $33,286,000. This was a gain over the $30,902,000 net income of the previous year.

Divided by the 11,800 families in the county, it represented earnings of $2,821 per family. This compares favorably with the previous year, when earnings per family, locally, were $2,755.

The figures, it is pointed out, are arithmetical averages, obtained by dividing total income by total number of families.

The better earnings locally led to bigger spending. Floyd county stores registered a sales volume in the year of $21,683,000. This sales total represented a gain over 1950, when the retail business amounted to $20,414,000.

Despite the large volume of retail business recorded in the year, a considerable reservoir of potential spending, in the form of savings and investments, remained untapped locally. This is indicated by the fact that only 65 cents of each spendable dollar went into retail purchases.

The ratio of how much is being spent in each city and county, as compared with what might be spent, is considered in the survey through a "buying power quota." This is a weighted index which takes into account income, sales, population and other factors. It shows that only 0.189 percent of the nation's retail business could be produced in Floyd county. This compares with the 0.143 percent actually done last year, revealing an undeveloped, additional potential of business locally.

The survey shows that the United States has grown to a nation of 44.7 million families having an effective buying power, after taxes, of over 220 billion dollars. More than two-thirds of this spending money finds its way into retail stores. The resultant retail business is above 151 billions.

MINE LAY-OFF TO LAST WEEK

"Mourning Period" Seen As No Period of Cheer As Men Needing Work

The "mourning period" which begins Saturday to extend throughout next week for members of the United Mine Workers comes nearer being just that than usual, it was pointed out here this week.

Men employed in and around the mines have been suffering for months now from lay-offs, slack runs or no work at all, and the memorial period designated by John L. Lewis, UMWA president, last Saturday cannot be too heartily welcomed by miners needing work, it was explained.

Yet there was little demurring from Lewis' order here. "John L. knows what he's doing," was the consensus of comment.

Unhappier even than the workers were those mining operations having orders enough to keep them operating at least part-time.

The lay-off memorializes mine disasters in which union members have lost their lives. It also serves, it was pointed out, to cut down on coal production and reduce the stockpile above-ground in advance of the Sept. 20 date specified by Lewis as the expiration of the present wage contract. A coal shortage will serve to build up public pressure for a contract settlement.

If no settlement on the issue of wages is reached by that date, an even longer mine lay-off is inevitable.

The memorial period will begin Saturday of next week, but no coal will be mined until after the national Labor Day observance on the following Monday.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Price, of Toledo, O., are announcing the arrival of an eight-pound son, Gordon Allen.

They Praised the Lord-- But Praise Is No More

By HENRY P. SCALF

Praise, Kentucky, will cease its official existence after September 1 by a directive of the Postoffice Department. Elkhorn City, which had supplanted the postoffice name years ago and which was the official appellation of the town, becomes the name of the postoffice at the mouth of Elkhorn Creek.

Praise will remain a memory as the slogan, "Praise the Lord," of the evangelist George O. Barnes, that gave the town its name is yet a memory after 81 years.

George O. Barnes came to the mouth of Elkhorn from Whitesburg and set up the camp for a great camp meeting on Aug. 5, 1871. With him was his daughter Marie and the piano she had taken with her all the way from the mountain section. Elkhorn City as a town did not exist. Only a few scattered farmhouses were in the neighborhood. Rude shanty-like houses were thrown up by the followers and the great tent in which to assemble was erected. It was 50 by 40 feet.

Five hundred people had congregated and the confusion contributed to a chaotic situation, delaying erection of the great tent and the bringing of order to the camp. The thunderheads lowered and men had forebodings of a mountain storm. Barnes urged his faithful to erect the tent speedily but men were loath to help on the common tent when their own buildings had to be built. By cajolery and constant prodding he got the tent up.

After the giant tent was erected, the evangelist and a few helpers climbed the nearby mountain to cut a flag pole. The hillside was steep and they had to go up a considerable distance to find the right size. Barnes remembered that climb a long time. At last the desired tree was found and after the cutting was "bruted" off the mountain. It was 65 feet high and upon it was a red flag. Stretched into the flag were the words in white: "Praise the Lord." Camp Praise the Lord was in existence.

SILVER STAR FOR SOLDIER

Blackburn in Hospital Receives Hero Award For Action in Korea

The coveted Silver Star for gallantry in action in Korea was recently awarded Sgt. Elmer O. Blackburn, of Prestonsburg, while he was convalescing at Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., from a foot amputation necessitated by battle wounds.

Blackburn, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Blackburn, was wounded Oct. 12, 1951, and his right foot was amputated April 25, last. He was a member of Company G, 5th Regt. Combat Team, 24th Division. The citation accompanying the Silver Star, which was awarded by command of Major General Hodges, thus describes the Floyd countian's conduct in the face of the enemy:

"Sgt. Blackburn distinguished himself by courageous action near Hudo-nai, Korea on 12 Oct., 1951. A squad of his company was given the mission of clearing a hill of enemy troops. Sgt. Blackburn volunteered as an automatic rifleman. As the infantrymen advanced up the hill they were subjected to devastating small arms, automatic weapons and grenade fire from an enemy bunker. Sgt. Blackburn unhesitatingly exposed himself to the enemy fire as he moved boldly forward, firing concentrated bursts into the enemy emplacement. During his assault he received serious leg wounds but he did not falter in his mission. With complete disregard for his own safety he crawled to the entrance of the bunker and, firing with devastating accuracy, killed its three occupants. With this key position destroyed, his comrades were able to successfully accomplish their mission. Sgt. Blackburn's courageous action, aggressive initiative and selfless devotion to duty reflect the highest credit on himself and the United States infantry."

Around $350,000 worth of new construction is under way in the county, it was estimated. One dealer said business was up about five percent in the last few weeks due to remodeling by homeowners but he also said considerable home building was going on. Another dealer declared emphatically that business was good due to home building as well as remodeling.

It was said that it is approaching the time of the year when building will increase, due to milder fall weather and the desire of big builders to avoid completion dates in the winter months. This dealer mentioned competition from North Carolina truckers who bring lumber from southern mills and haul coal back on the return trip. While this type of competition is not considerable it was said the truckers were supplying a few home builders.

Two lumber companies briefly reviewed work estimated to cost $275,000. An estimate from a third firm was unavailable, and companies in Huntington, W. Va., and Pikeville are supplying some builders.

Six residences are under construction in Prestonsburg. Their builders are Dr. Edward B. Leslie, H. C. Francis, Jr., Pete Jarvis, Dock Jarrell, William Miller and Thomas Lemaster. A store building was completed last week by the Cooley Brothers here.

Elsewhere in the county building work, mainly on residences, was being done by John Burchett at Enna, Virgil Warrick at Lancer, Adrian Hall and Rufus Moore at McDowell, T. A. Combs, Jr., Maytown, J. M. Martin, Eastern, Peel May at Osborn, C. E. Conn and Ray Hamilton at Harold, Graydon Howard, Pyramid, Jack Howard, Mantion, Bascom Harris, Auxier, R. L. Jones, Ligon, T. N. Newsome, Grethel, Marris Newsome, Amba, Frank Preston and Riley Hall at Allen, Henry Setser, near Allen.

Another structure going up is being built by the Wheelwright Church of God.

A-PLANT MAY HELP VALLEY COAL MINING

But Power Plant Sites To Determine How Much, Is View Entertained Here

Even though the area near Waverly and Pickett, O., 20 miles from Portsmouth, has been chosen for the site of the billion-dollar atomic energy plant instead of the Ashland area, which was preferred by Eastern Kentucky, some business men of this area are hopeful that the giant installation will be a boon to the section's coal business.

And then again there are those who are not so cheerful. "It will help some," they say.

Those who see Big Sandy coal finding its way into atomic production base their hopes on the fact that power plants necessary for the atomic installation will burn seven million tons of coal a year. They just naturally feel that a market requiring that much coal, located within 150 miles of the Floyd county coal field, will be taking a sizeable chunk of coal out of the valley.

If the steam power plants which will be installed are located in the area purchased by the government for the A-plant, this prediction could be highly accurate. For the C. & O. crosses the Ohio river at Ashland and passes the Ohio site of the big atomic energy installation. Again, if the power plants were located near Ashland, this section would benefit even more.

But there is a possibility that one big power plant will be located at Madison, Ind., and another in West Virginia, upriver from Huntington. If that happens, coal from western Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia will get the lion's share of the business.

The government can buy strip-mined coal for $2.10 a ton under present conditions, while coal cannot be profitably marketed from the Big Sandy field for less than $4.90, it is pointed out.

One man associated with this section's coal business who was not enthusiastic over the prospects had this cheering comment:

"Even if other sections do get the big part of this market, their sales to these power plants may leave other markets a bit more open for us."

LESTER BOND SET AT $8,000

Hicks, Shot by Officer, Believed Recovering; 2 Barely Escape Arrest

Ed Hicks, who was shot and seriously wounded last Tuesday evening at Martin by Policeman Hershel Lester, will recover, barring unforeseen complications, it was said this week, and the officer is at liberty under $8,000 bond.

Lester was released from jail Saturday after it was believed Hicks' condition had shown some improvement. His bondsmen are E. P. Grigsby, Denzil Halbert, M. C. Taylor, Milton Ryan and Leonard Osborne.

Valls Prater, who is being sought on a charge filed last week by a 13-year-old girl, accusing him of detaining a woman against her will, barely escaped Sheriff A. B. Meade and deputies, Tuesday morning. He and Clarence Prater fled their home on the Left Fork of Middle Creek, partially clad, and made the cover of the nearby woods before the officers could intercept them.

Sheriff Meade said the two suddenly appeared after he and his deputies had arrested Mack Johnson, who is a.w.o.l. from the army.

Monday, Sheriff Meade, Deputy Sheriffs Frank Crum and John Hobson arrested Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hall on Mud Creek after they had found three cases of beer on their premises. The officers procured a search warrant for Hall's place after two drunks they had picked up told their source of supply.

Jailed within the week and charged with major offenses were:

Clark Vanover, drunk driving; John D. Tackett, drunk and possessing moonshine whiskey, arrested by Deputies Johnson and Ambury; Joe Shepherd, possessing whiskey, jailed by Deputy Sheriffs Obe Ousley, Al Patton and Serge Daniels; Clifford Brown, drunk driving, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson, Tom Hall and Cain Blackburn; Gurnis Hall, possessing whiskey, arrested by Deputies Obe Ousley and Ed Ambury; Landa Cole, reckless use of deadly weapon, and Fred Harris, moonshining and reckless use of deadly weapon, both arrested by Deputies Willie Johnson and J. M. Hall.

COUNTY SENDS THREE STARS

To East-West Contests; Grid Game Is Tie; Rally In Net Tilt Barely Fails

The East was hard-pressed in its grid and net games at Lexington Saturday night with the West, and finally lost the basketball game after holding the West to 6-all tie at football—and the story might have been a sadder one but for the stellar performances of three Floyd county athletes.

In the football game it was Melvin Pennington and Jimmy Mayo, teammates on last year's Conference championship Prestonsburg high school eleven, who lived up to their press notices. It was in the basketball contest which the West won, 64 to 60, that Pete Grigsby, all-state guard from Martin high school, showed University of Kentucky fans the brand of basketball they may expect of him as a Wildcat player.

Mayo took one pass for 21 yards and a touchdown, but the marker was voided by a teammate's roughness. He did all the kicking for the East and averaged 37.8 yards from scrimmage, one punt going out on the West one-foot line. It was this punt, kicked short intentionally, which kept his average from scoring into the 40's. Besides that, he teamed up with Charley Bell, of Pineville, in a drive which carried 54 yards in nine plays to score the East's only marker. His attempt to kick the extra point—the first such kick Mayo had ever assayed—failed.

Pennington started at right guard for the Easterners, and played that position on both offense and defense, taking little rest during the entire evening. He and the other East linemen held the West running attack to 65 yards while the West was piling up 86.

Grigsby did not get into the basketball game at Memorial Coliseum till late but when he did his effort combined with that of Clay Evans, of Fleming county, almost upset the West. He flipped in four quick baskets and shared with Evans East's scoring leadership with 10 points each, although he played only a portion of the third quarter and returned to spark the fourth quarter rally.

At the present time, there are 200 species of fish in Kentucky's streams and lakes.

That night Barnes preached and gave the invitation with no response, but he noted the fixed attention of the multitude and was heartened. The next day opened with better weather. Another hundred from nearby sections of Kentucky and Virginia assembled.

Barnes anointed for healing in all of his ministry in the mountains. A mountaineer brought forward on his second day a small boy to be healed of an unknown disease. Barnes anointed him, the child lay down and went to sleep.

The second service of the day was to be at noon on August 6 but the air, saturated with humidity, made the heat all but unbearable. The inside of the tent seemed to concentrate the hot air. At first he thought to defer the preaching but decided against it. Soon after the worship got under way the storm broke with mountain fury. Water gathered in the flapping folds of the tent, began to come through the cracks of the cloth. Marie played on, water splattered over the piano. Men eased out of the tent to seek their own dwellings, only to find them rain-soaked and untenable.

Barnes thought that any deference to the storm by suspending the service would be an obeisance to the Devil. He preached on. The rain became worse and where it had dripped it now began to pour. Water ran around the legs of the pianist and began to gather on the trampled earth serving for a floor. When the accumulated water was rising on the piano the evangelist deferred to the elements and dismissed the service. The tent emptied quickly.

Outside the camp were the sodden, dreary, disconsolate faithful. Their houses had been scant protection against the storm and rain. But directed by their mentor, they built a great fire in the camp center and began to dry their straw beds and dripping clothes. The Rev. Barnes recalls in his note book: "Even our lovely banner drooped and clung to the flagstaff as if all was lost."

The camp had a commercial side which, of course, was a necessary adjunct to such an undertaking. Some men supplied provisions to the faithful, others boarded them. Patent medicine vendors were on hand. Horsewappers tied their "nags" to the trees or raked them along the creek bank, the better to portray their qualities. A man selling Kitchen's Vermifuge set up a rude hut and extolled the virtues of his remedy.

Preaching and healing went apace for several days. Came August 10 and a few followers turned into tourists to see the "Big Narrows" and the "Towers" in the "Breaks." They were young folks and ill-equipped for the journey but went off blithely. After several hours their friends at the camp began to worry. Six men went in search and found them in a cabin five miles away. It was midnight when the party returned with the recovered tourists, wet, weary and bedraggled.

The next day a party of people arrived from Richmond after a long trek up the Kentucky River and down Elkhorn Creek. We are not informed as to the number in the camp by now but it must have approached a thousand. Late arrivals were coming in but some were leaving. One man came up to bid Barnes goodbye and during the emotional stress of parting, confessed his sins and was converted.

On August 14 another storm broke upon the camp but they had prepared a bucket and pan brigade for the tent. Whenever a leak appeared a bucket was placed under it. There was much scurrying about with cries of "Here it is" or "I've got this one."

On Monday after the Sunday storm there were mutterings in the Camp. Barnes began to think that his gathering would dissolve but when the sun shone their spirits revived. One thing that contributed to the muttering was the high cost of board and provisions.

That night a mother brought a little child with scrofula for healing. When Barnes approached the afflicted girl she screamed and clung to her mother. When he laid his hands upon her she became quiet and accepted the anointing without a word. Nine others were anointed on this day.

In a day or two old Doc Taylor, the feudist, came in from Whitesburg and confessed the Lord. That he backslid fearfully afterwards was no fault of the Reverend Barnes.

Sunday, August 21, was the last meeting. The crowd was beginning to leave and the experienced evangelist knew when to close a protracted service. He preached on "Give Me Thy Heart." Twenty-four confessed and 27 were anointed. In the afternoon 36 confessed. That night 40 were converted. The total confessions at the end of the meeting added to 358 and the anointing of 356. "Praise the Lord," he added over and over again.

The next day "Camp Praise the Lord" was broken up. He says: "The Lord showed us plainly that it was time." They moved on toward Pike-ton (Pikeville). The organ was placed in Mr. Ferrell's wagon and the evangelist rode "Shanks' mare." They arrived before dark in Pike-ton and had supper with Brother Ferrell. Barnes was domiciled in Col. John Dill's spacious residence and prepared for his Pikeville meeting. Camp Praise the Lord was no more.

Now Praise is gone with it.

THIS IS NO WEATHER REPORT, BUT WE'VE GOT SNOW, AND THIS IS TO TELL TVIEWERS WHY; 100,000 WATTS OF WSAZ POWER MISSING US

WSAZ-TV, Huntington, W. Va., has 100,000 watts' power, but Floyd county televiewers aren't getting it—and that's the story in brief.

So the Dingus & Flanery Television Service here gather from telephone talks with both WSAZ, the source of television programs in this section, and the Columbus, Ohio station which is playing hob with local reception.

This is how a WSAZ-TV engineer explained the situation to the Prestonsburg television service:

Recently when WSAZ switched to Channel 3 and became the most powerful television station in the world its full power was beamed straight toward this section. But the Columbus station happens also to be on Channel 3 and almost on a straight line with Floyd county and Huntington; so it, too, got the power of WSAZ, full-blast, and the resultant interference was terrific.

Protests from the Columbus area resulted in WSAZ turning its antenna broadside to this section rather than pointed toward it, in order to reduce this interference. The result is, the Big Sandy is perhaps not getting the benefit of as much power as it had when WSAZ was at only 17,000 watts on Channel 5.

An engineer of the Columbus station told Dingus & Flanery it expects to switch to Channel 4 in November, and the Huntington station has assured the Prestonsburg men its full power will be available to this section when that is done.

Not only "snow," the result of a weak signal, but also sound interference is upsetting TV-set owners in this section, and the report received here Wednesday was that the condition is general. Paintsville was one community listed as having the same troubles as those experienced here.

Grueling Stock-Car Competition Proves

HUDSON

BEST BY FAR!

PROOF OF HUDSON SUPERIORITY IS HERE FOR YOU TO SEE!

Table listing Hudson car models and their performance in various stock-car races across different locations and dates.

AS YOU know, it is impossible for a prospective buyer to accurately judge the relative merits of various cars through a casual examination or on the basis of claims.

Therefore, smart buyers are taking advantage of the record established in stock-car racing which affords an impartial test of the important features of competitive makes—features which largely determine owner satisfaction. In this rough, tough competition between cars just like you can buy from dealers, every make of car is compared for power, durability and safety—vital qualities in your daily driving.

With 30 victories in 34 starts already this year, Hudson proves it has these great qualities in measures no other car can match!

Hudson's rugged high-compression engines are famous for terrific power and performance. But more important, only Hudson has "step-down" design with America's lowest center of gravity. A Hudson hugs the road like it loves it and almost steers itself. Monobit body-and-frame* is the most durable, safest known!

Visit us and try a Hudson, or if more convenient, phone and a Hudson will come to your door.

New Dual-Range Hydro-Matic Drive or Overdrive and Solex Safety Glass (tinted anti-glare) optional at extra cost on all models. Standard trim and other specifications and accessories subject to change without notice.

DICK'S SEVENTH READER

Have published two books and sold them and now I have a third book called "Dick's Seventh Reader."

It was made as follows: There was a flood in Beaver Creek and people who lived in the lowlands had to gather into a home upon a hill and while staying there they passed the time away by telling stories, reciting poetry of their own make, etc., and this book is a record of what they brought forth.

I have had a limited number of these books made and if you want a copy send me one dollar and I will send you one postpaid, or, if you want it sent C.O.D., let me know and then it will cost you a few cents more.

SEEKS HOMES FOR CHILDREN
Welfare Worker Tells Needs of State Wards And Explains Services
Homes for children are wanted in Floyd county, said Miss Sue Mitchell of the Division of Child Welfare, State Welfare Department here Tuesday. The homes may be free, wage or boarding homes.
Miss Mitchell explains that a free home is one that will provide board and care without charge to the child-ward of the state. A wage home is one that will, in addition to board and care, give wages to a child for farm or home help, and boarding homes are those which would provide food and care for children needing it at a price paid by the state.
It is all a part of the new social service represented by Miss Mitchell that is being inaugurated by her under the Division of Child Welfare. She came to Eastern Kentucky several months ago but had two counties in her charge at first and because of the large area to be covered could do little more than lay the foundation for future plans. Now she is charged only with her department's work for Floyd county.
Miss Mitchell has had ample social work training. She is a graduate of the University of Kentucky with a degree in vocational and home economics, is a specialist in sociology and psychology, a member of Kentucky Welfare Association and various other civic organizations.
"I am most anxious to put our program over here," she said. "I am more than willing to help the unfortunate children of Floyd county", she added, and this emphasis served to show her enthusiasm and interest. What that program was she explained in detail.
Chief and general aim of the department is to strengthen family life ties. If there is a child needing better parental care the department will intervene. Miss Mitchell pointed out a case in this county of recent date, where her work should have been of aid to the authorities.
Her department offers aid to unmarried mothers. This aid is as varied as the circumstances would dictate. Advice as to care of the illegitimate child, boarding of the child in some home at state expense from the age of one day to the age of 16, acceptance of the child by the mother's consent for adoptive care are all offered. However, Miss Mitchell states that the age of 16 is rather high for boarding care but that in emergency cases it has been done.
The practical side of this child welfare work was explained by Miss Mitchell. No Floyd county child is placed in a Floyd county home for adoption. It is placed, preferably, in another part of the state. Close case work is done on the child. The foster parents are closely matched to the child in several ways, particularly in the matter of race, physical similarities, etc.
No one is allowed to see the records in the case except the department. When the child reaches his majority he may inspect the record himself. He has been told years before of the circumstances of his adoption and knows who his parents were.
Another feature of Miss Mitchell's work will be clinics for the physically handicapped, those who can turn only to the state for such work. Specialists in each branch of medicine and surgery will assist in correction of handicaps.
Day care is an item of child welfare work on the program, Miss Mitchell says, but she is careful to distinguish it from ordinary "baby sitting." This baby care is to help those mothers who need to work and have no assistance. The division of child welfare will procure the services of a mature woman to do day care, seeking to give the child as near ideal home care as possible.
Miss Mitchell is at present located in the Layne building but uses a desk in the Department of Economic Security at times.

THE TAXPAYERS' FIGHT

The Floyd County Good Government Taxpayers' League has been in existence since April of this year. Our existence began in the Circuit Court room at Prestonsburg with a small group of men interested in better government. We had to start from "scratch" because we had no money. For money we depended upon membership cards that were sold at $1 and our own pocketbooks. We have received a few donations from taxpayers that have enabled us to carry on the fight.

We have had to fight the adverse propaganda of those in power. We have been called Ku Klux, two by fours, agitators, a nest of old, defeated candidates and just about any other term of opprobrium in the language. We have been treated to a "heat" course by the friends of those who hold office. We have been coerced in silent and subtle ways that would make a wooden man wince. We have been telephoned, written, impertuned and offered suggestions until our heads swim with the multitude of angles coming our way from interested parties.

Through all this financial embarrassment and the "heat" treatment, through all this adverse criticism and the untruths we have managed to carry on. That fight we propose to carry on until our job is finished. That fight is the taxpayers' fight. Our fight and your fight. The tax money we are trying to save is your money as well as ours. Better government belongs to all of us. So when we lead and spearhead the fight for good government we lead your fight.

Why not help us? Why stand on the sidelines and say, "Atta Boy, I'm for you," when what we need as bad as we need the encouragement is financial assistance. We appreciate the way taxpayers are responding with contributions but the reason a whole flock of suits have not been filed is that we do not have the money for the lawsuits. We could recover for Floyd county a huge sum of tax money if we had the money to fight the lawsuits.

Our suit against Woodrow Burchett was easy to bring. The evidence was lying before our eyes, ready to copy. The other county offices cannot so easily be gone over for excess salary payments. Their offices will have to be audited. Auditors cost money. To properly audit the county offices will take somewhere in the neighborhood of $4,000. If we had the money we could audit these offices as quickly as we could employ an auditor and get the job done.

We are people with ideas. We propose to look into a lot of things pretty soon. We propose to look into the matter of the Johns Creek road wherein a quarter of a million dollars was thrown away as far as good roads is concerned. We are going to ask some embarrassing questions about that road when we get to it. Let the powers that be snicker at the "two by fours." We can take it because we are leading a crusade for the right.

We are committed to the Burchett suit. Soon we will commit ourselves to other suits. And all along we propose to start looking into some other matters that we would like to discuss with you if you will drop in on any of the Directors and discuss it. Call on any of us—learn our determination to do this job. Ask Joe Cooley to show you where this money has come from and where it is going.

Our organization is non-political. Republicans . . . Democrats . . . all are welcome. We are not organized by any one man nor does one man or any group of men control us. We are servants of the people and leaders in the public interest. So come in to see one of our Directors—give us a contribution. Some men are buying membership cards for all of the adults in the family. Others are giving us outright gifts. If enough public support develops we will give you more action.

In closing this appeal we would like to take this means of reaffirming our resolve to carry on. We shall carry on despite adversity. We shall carry on UNTIL FLOYD COUNTY IS CLEANED UP.

Allen Baseball Team Defeats Wayland, 8-2; Games Played at Allen

The Allen team of the Big Sandy Baseball League came back Sunday to defeat Wayland, 8-2, behind the twirling of Doug Laferty after dropping its Thursday night tilt with Wheelwright, 10 to 6. Both games were played at Allen.

Wohlford, Wheelwright's starting moundsman, was the winning pitcher in the Thursday night game, with Wheelwright scoring a run for each of its 10 hits. H. Gunnell was the loser.

Allen slammed Ratliff, Wayland pitcher, for 15 safeties in Sunday's game. The losers hit Laferty for eight but failed to bunch their blows.

Herrington Lake Safe For Recreation Uses

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 14 (Spl.)—Reports that there is "serious pollution" of Herrington Lake which would endanger swimmers or fishermen using the lake are unfounded, Henry Ward, state commissioner of conservation and chairman of the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission, said here today.

"The amount of wastes going into Herrington Lake does not make that lake unsafe for swimming," Ward said. "Herrington Lake rates well when standards for safe swimming water established by the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission are applied to it."

Ward quoted Earl Wallane, director of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, as saying that the department has had no report of damage to fish life from wastes going into Herrington Lake.

"As a matter of fact," Ward added, "Herrington Lake in recent years has returned to its position as one of the best fishing lakes in the state."

Louis Birkel, acting director of the Water Pollution Control Commission, was quoted by Ward as saying Herrington Lake is safe for swimming.

"The reports of pollution of Herrington Lake arose from inspections by sanitarians of the State Department of Health of some of the operations around the lake," Ward said. "They reported violations of a number of sanitary regulations and other rules applying to the operation of restaurants and similar establishments."

"The regulation of sewer outlets into public streams such as Herrington Lake is under the jurisdiction of the Water Pollution Control Commission, and this commission will act against specific violators when the proper facts are presented," Ward said.

"We do not condone the discharge of wastes into any stream, but we must, in all fairness, call attention to the fact that such discharges do not always result in 'pollution' of a large lake such as Herrington as the term 'pollution' is construed by the average person. For this reason, I believe it is right and proper to call attention to the fact that Herrington Lake is regarded as safe for recreational purposes."

-1195 extra pounds of it!

-to cut your costs, increase your profits!

GMC engineering brings you this great new Model 470 highway tractor that hauls up to 1,195 pounds more cargo than any other vehicle in the 45,000 gross weight class.

Here are the reasons why. It will pay you to study them carefully.

Sensational new engine. Model 470 is powered by GMC's new 145 h.p. valve-in-head "302" engine—the most powerful gasoline engine for its weight in truck history.

Maximum power-to-weight ratio. The "302" engine weighs as much as 500 pounds less than other engines of comparable power, due to new high efficiency design.

Highest compression—7.2 to 1—excels any other standard gasoline truck engine, accelerates faster. Delivers full power at an easy-stroking 3,200 r.p.m.

More ton-miles per gallon—less dead weight in engine and chassis means more profit in every mile.

Highest payload capacity—upwards of one-half ton greater than any other tractor of the same GCW rating.

Price—the biggest surprise of all. Compare the price you have to pay for this pace-setting GMC against the field. Nowhere else will so little buy so much in a 3- to 4 1/2-ton tractor.

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALE

Thomas May, who bought the Samuel May farm at Cliff in 1842, did not die in the old house featured in last week's Times, a statement in the article notwithstanding. That article was checked and double-checked for errors until it seemed that none were present. But there it was, staring this columnist in the face, and it would not have been noted but for a May descendant.

Thomas May was the third child of John and Sarah Phillips May. He was born February 1, 1787, in Virginia. He died September 5, 1867, and is buried on Robinson Creek, Pike county, near his old home-stand.

It seems that he must have bought the Cliff farm from his brother Samuel merely to provide an estate for his sons, William James and Samuel. Any way, these two sons moved into the house and did their own housekeeping for some time. They afterwards divided the farm into two parts.

For more complete data on Thomas May we turn to the manuscript on the family prepared by Mrs. Tress Francis. It is an excellent work and represents years of research:

"He was married August 19, 1813, in Floyd county, to Dorcas Patton, born Oct. 18, 1790, and died June 9, 1872. She was the daughter of Thomas Patton (some say Henry) and Florence Graham Patton. She is buried in the same cemetery with her husband on Robinson Creek.

"Thomas May came to Shelby Creek, Pike county (then Floyd), with his father in 1800, who settled there and reared his family. Thomas May was a poor man at the time of his marriage but by native industry and frugality accumulated quite an estate before his death. He was one of the largest and wealthiest landowners in that section of the county. He gave each of his 13 children a farm. He built the first road across the mountain from Virginia into Kentucky and Morgan county.

"When Thomas May was married it is said that he took horses and went to Catlettsburg . . . and carried what he went to housekeeping with back to Robinson Creek, a distance of 117 miles. Here he settled on a farm and reared a family of 13 children."

Election time is only a few months away and since so many are preoccupied with the campaign the following letter written from Point Pleasant, Ill., July 2, 1840 by John Logan Ewing to his brother, Baker F. Ewing, of Perryville, Ky., may be of interest.

John Logan Ewing married Elizabeth "Betsy" May and it was thought for a while that she was of the Eastern Kentucky Mays. In research on the May family a copy of the letter found its way into Floyd county.

"Point Pleasant, Ill.,
July 2, 1840.

"Dear Brother:
"I received yours by Mr. Gosh dated 29th May and 4th of June and the money all safe. * * * Huza for Old Tip.

"With regard to the note to Sam'l W. Warren I would say that I am a little at a loss to know how to word it but to remedy that I will write my name at the bottom of this page and you are hereby duly authorized and requested to fill up the blank with a note and for fear some Loco Foco (supporters of Van Buren against General Harrison and Tyler—Ed.) might rob the mail and draw me into a suck, I shall not acknowledge the same unless witnessed. I must now leave room for it. Huza for Old Tip."

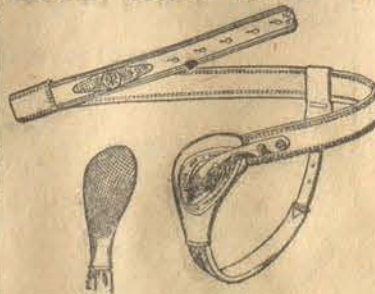

"I was sorry you were so hurried that you could not write all you intended. Was glad to hear that you were all tolerable. I think one horse would be enough to keep on Sister Sally's acct., unless there should be two, in that case, Girls or Boys, call them Harrison and Tyler.

"I suppose Milton is still very thick with Uncle Ben and that they both have a finger in the matter millions prefer electric water heating for the same reasons they prefer electric light!

it's clean, safe, thrifty, worry-free

Why do you use electric lights at home? Because you know from experience that electricity's the cleanest, safest, thriftest way—the best way, all things considered—to do the job.

You want the same dependable performance in a water heater . . . so let electricity do that task, too!

It makes sense. People who use electric water heaters say it does—and there are more of them every day. You couldn't pay 'em to go back to old-time methods.

Your plumber or electric appliance dealer has a size and type of electric water heater for every family, every purse.
