

THURSDAY

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

NOVEMBER 20, 1952

This Town--
That World

Worry, worry, toil and trouble. If a-body isn't worrying about what he's done, he worries about the things he hasn't done.

IT RUNS INTO WORK
This column, for instance. A plain nuisance for me. Here it is, barely begun. Now to fret it out. And after it's done to wish it had never been born.

Jack Wild, who until several months ago did a sprightly column for weekly newspapers, the while doing an excellent publicity job for the University of Kentucky, was a caller here this week. When told we missed his column, made available to us "weeklies" without cost, he explained that it would be resumed. "But I'll take turns with others doing the column," he added. "You know, it runs into work turning out a column every week."

MISERY LOVES COMPANY
The meeting of the Bald-Headed Men's Club at St. Cloud, Minn., brings up, among other things, the matter of descriptive terminology. The harmless ones up there refer to themselves as "infruits." The dictionary calls it "hirsutulous." Why not call it "hairsuteless"? If a guy should venture forth unclad you quite properly could call him "suitsless," couldn't you?

These of the Peeled Onion type say their heads in their present state of, shall be say, disrepair, exemplify "the dignity, the humanity and the manhood resident in all men of inhirsute condition."

And the little boy whistled past the graveyard. Let's face it, fellers; Old Baldy doesn't look near as well as you wooded slope, not even as well as a grassy mound.

Time was, when the old man about the house began developing the noble forehead the folks moved softly, spoke in whispers if they spoke at all. If the lord of the manor sought to hide the glistening spot by plastering a last, remaining bit of fluff or down or whatever you call it, over the spot like a golfer carefully replacing a divot, everybody looked the other way. If he wanted some of the household to rub some potion like goose-grease into his shrunken scalp, they elbowed each other aside in the rush to humor the old duffer.

But alas and alack! times have changed. Now if the guy who in other days was known as The Boss is caught covering up somebody's whiskers, "A bald-headed man always steals--off one side of his head to cover the other." The baby runs soft fingers over the old pate and prattles--who said innocently? "Dad-Dad's bald-headed... Dad-Dad's..." and is stopped only by a rough hand over his mouth or a kick in the seat of his pants.

Wonder what's the best price around here on a haircut?

SPEED TRAP
ESTABLISHED

Town's Police Judge
Wants Public Warned
Against Excess Speed

"A speed trap is being operated at Lackey," Police Judge Brady Collins, of that place, told the Times last week.

Following that surprise statement, he added:

"I wish you would say that in your paper. I want the people to know we have a speed trap, for I'm not interested in the money. I simply want to cut down this speeding, and I want the public to be warned."

In fact, said Judge Collins, he posted two signs, some time ago, which bore that simple warning:

THIRD TRIAL
FOR WOMAN IS ORDERED

Jury in 2nd Trial
Of Gloria Kramer
Unable To Agree

GLORIA KRAMER

For the second time in two months an all-male jury of the Floyd circuit court failed to agree Wednesday afternoon on the guilt or innocence of blond Gloria Kramer, who is accused by Nolan Worley, Pike county man, of kidnapping him and forcing him at gun's point to drive her last August in his auto from the Kentucky border at Williamson, W. Va., to Betsy Layne, this county.

Again Worley told that the woman forced him in gun-moll fashion to "keep driving till I tell you to stop," and that she kept a pistol on him till she fell asleep near Betsy Layne where he left the auto and called officers.

His claim that he had submitted to an operation at a Williamson hospital, several hours earlier in the night, and that he was en route to his home in Pike county when held up by the young woman was corroborated by Dr. Frank J. Burian, of the Tug River Clinic. Dr. Burian said he performed a vasectomy on Worley, about 8:30 the night of August 26 and that the nurse's chart showed Worley left the hospital at 4 o'clock, the morning of the 27th. The surgeon also testified Worley was in no shape to attempt to molest Mrs. Kramer or to have any desire to do so.

The defendant, neatly dressed in a black and grey dress, spoke in quiet tones as she described the events of the night. She said she had taken the pistol found in her possession at Betsy Layne from another car and that she entered Worley's car on his invitation. It was her first hitch-hiking experience alone, she said. After they had driven several miles from Williamson,

BRIDGE REPAIR
HERE PLANNED

Department of Highways
Asks Bids on Work; Job
In Knott Awarded Ford

Contracts have been invited by the State Department of Highways to bid on repair of the bridge across the Big Sandy river here which recently became so weakened that all traffic was temporarily suspended and later was ordered restricted to light trucks and passenger cars.

Bids will be opened Dec. 5. In announcing the awarding of seven road construction contracts Friday, the Highway Department listed the Winston Ford Construction Company, of Prestonsburg, as the successful bidder on 2.24 miles of reconstruction and gravel surfacing of the Little Carr-Logan Gap road in Knott county. The company's bid on the project was $54,424.94.

The Knott project was the only road in this section let to contract last week by the Department of Highways.

SEALS MAILED IN FUND DRIVE

Christmas Seal Fund
Necessary To Retain
TB Nurse's Services

Between 4,000 and 5,000 Christmas Seals were mailed to Floyd countians Monday by the Floyd County Tuberculosis Association in its annual drive for funds with which to carry on the fight against TB in the county.

The Association is urging residents of the county to buy seals this year, since the money thus provided will continue the work of a fulltime nurse and pay for x-ray film used in making free chest examinations at the Health Department office here.

Help in preparing the seals for mailing was generously provided by a group of volunteers, and to these the Association expressed its thanks. A self-addressed envelope is enclosed with Seals sent to each person on the Association's mailing list, and this should be used in returning payment, by cash or check, for the Seals, it is explained.

Since the work of Mrs. J. D. Mayo as a fulltime TB nurse began in 1950 the death rate from this cause has shown an encouraging decline--from 26 in 1950 to 19 the next year and 10 for the first nine months of this year.

BLOOD DONOR

But Record Not Good,
Leader Says; 75 Pints
Contributed at Wayland

Although workers in the blood program were frankly disappointed by the 75-pint contribution made by Wayland and surrounding communities last Wednesday, those directing the Red Cross blood program praised the energy with which the job of recruiting donors and of preparing for the blood-mobile visit was attacked.

Frank E. Harmon was general chairman of the work there, with Mrs. George Evans, recruitment chairman. Twenty-eight volunteers aided the work.

There were 150 confirmed appointments of individuals to give blood, but only 67 appeared. Twenty-eight persons walked in to give blood without previous appointment, and 20 were rejected.

Floyd county was exceeded only by Maysville last month in the amount of blood given. "But that's nothing to be proud of at a time when blood is so badly needed and while we are falling short of quotas," a blood program leader here remarked this week.

Forty-three of those who gave blood at Wayland were first-time donors. One family, that of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Francis, of Garrett, distinguished itself when three sons and a daughter gave blood. Mrs. Norma Boyd, of Hueysville, gave blood for the fourth time. She has a son in Korea, and has always appeared as a volunteer. Among the donors was one service man and a few veterans.

The bloodmobile will next be in the county Dec. 3, when it visits Martin.

ONE OF MEDICINE'S RAREST DISEASES CLAIMS GERALDINE MARTIN, 18, OF DEMA

An 18-year-old Dema girl died at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, Saturday of one of the rarest diseases known to the medical profession. Cause of the death of the girl, Geraldine Martin, daughter of Berlin and Marie Stone Martin, was diagnosed by Dr. C. M. Aker, head of the hospital, as myasthenia gravis, is a disease affecting the nervous and muscular system. She had been ill two years but seriously so only three days prior to her death.

Dr. Aker said this was the first case of its kind he had seen in all his practice. The disease, he added, is almost always fatal. Miss Martin was graduated from Wayland high school at the age of 16 and it was soon after that she became ill.

Surviving are her parents and the following brothers and sisters: William J., Ernest Eugene, Harold Ray, Larry, Madison, Eddie Vaughn, Sandra Gay and Karen Martin, all of Dema.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday from the Dry Creek Regular Baptist Church, the Revs. Hawley Warrens, Sherman Slons, Clabe Mosley, Hawk Moore and Ellis Hopkins officiating. Burial in the Whit Martin cemetery was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

UNREST LESS WITH MINERS

Says Davis As Mines
Idle Return to Work;
Wage Case Undecided

The feeling that unrest resulting from uncertainty of their wage status is growing among coal miners in this and other fields is not shared by C. W. Davis, executive secretary of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association, Pikeville.

On the contrary, Mr. Davis expressed the belief in a telephone conversation with The Times Wednesday afternoon that there is less unrest than earlier in the week. He pointed to the fact that only two mines were not operating because of walk-outs of miners Wednesday, that one mine had returned to work after a day's idleness and that the night shift of another was ready to work after the morning shift had quit.

"Others will be operating Thursday," Davis said. The wage case, for several days before the Wage Stabilization Board, has been reported as creating a tendency on the part of the workers to quit. The miners were given $1.90 an hour under the new soft coal contract, but the WLB reduced the figure to $1.50. Now, the miners are marking time, hoping the original raise will be restored.

John L. Lewis, UMW leader, has indicated the miners will quit if they do not receive the full $1.90.

Various reasons have been given for the work stoppages in this section during the week. Operators believe, however, they all stem back to the wage matter. Only two mines, Utilities Elkhorn in Pike county, and Pond Creek-Pochontas at Ewanston in Breathitt, were not working Wednesday. Inland Steel at Wheelwright which was idle Tuesday resumed operations (See Story No. 5, Page 3)

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday, Nov. 16, at 10 a.m., from the Wilson Creek Baptist Church, the Rev. Banner Manns officiating. Burial was in the family cemetery on Wilson Creek, under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

Corrosion Is Blamed
For Gas Line Blowout
At Dvale This Week

A blowout Monday afternoon on a 12-inch line at the Dvale pumping station of the Kentucky and West Virginia Gas Company created a temporary emergency.

T. H. Evans, vice-president of the company, blamed corrosion caused by electrolysis for the break, which required 12 hours to repair. There was no fire and no one was hurt.

The Dvale station pumps gas to Louisville and Pittsburg. Service was maintained to these cities on bypass lines while the repairs were being completed.

Mrs. Emma Herald Taylor
Victim of Heart Ailment;
Was Native of Cow Creek

Mrs. Emma Herald Taylor, 73 years old, wife of Reuben Taylor, well-known Prestonsburg man, died Monday morning at her home on Carter street, victim of a heart ailment from which she had suffered for the last three years. She had been seriously ill the last three months.

A native of Cow Creek, Mrs. Taylor was a daughter of John Wesley and Charity Hackworth Herald. She was married to Mr. Taylor Aug. 1, 1885, and they moved here from Emma, the postoffice which was named for her 30 years ago.

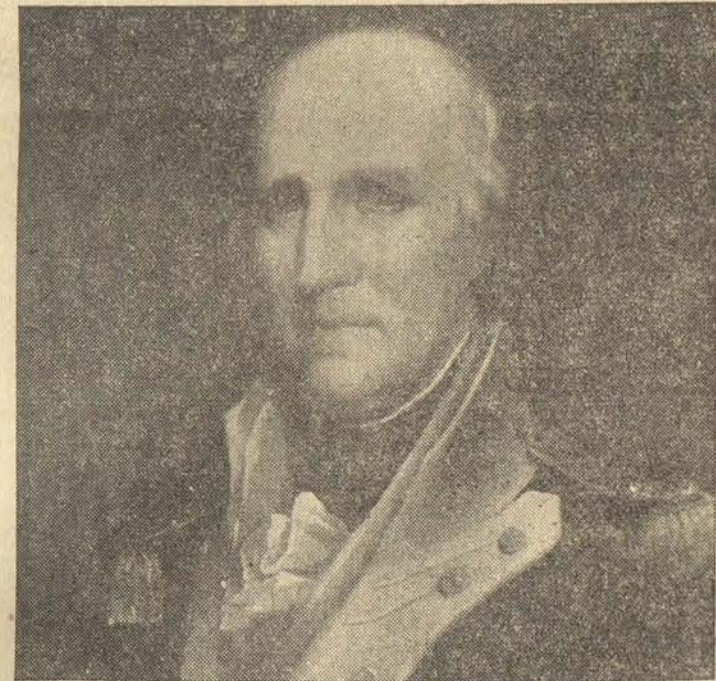

Mrs. Taylor had been a member of the Methodist Church since girlhood and was one of Prestonsburg's most revered women. Surviving, besides her husband, is one sister, Mrs. Ella Clark, of Lynchburg, Va.

The funeral was conducted Wednesday at 10 a.m., from the Methodist Church, the Revs. M. Robert Regan, Isaac Stratton and H. C. Church officiating. Burial was made in the Lewis Burchett cemetery on Cow Creek under direction of the Carter and Callahan Funeral Home.

EARLY FLOYD-CO. SETTLER
SOLDIERED UNDER CLARK

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK, 1753-1818

(The week, Nov. 19-26, marks the George Rogers Clark bicentennial, and the story which follows links Floyd county more closely to his intrepid exploits.—Editor)

By Henry P. Scalf

Solomon Stratton, who directed with others the laying out of the town of Prestonsburg, or Preston's Station as it was called, and who afterwards settled in Floyd county, was the only member of Gen. George Rogers Clark's army ever to take up permanent abode in Floyd county. Descendants of "Old Solomon" number thousands. Hundreds live in Floyd county today.

Solomon's enlistment under Clark was in direct violation of instructions given to the conqueror of the Old Northwest by the Virginia government. That government was engaged in the Revolutionary struggle and Virginians could not be spared. If Clark wanted men, he must look elsewhere.

Clark wanted at least 500 men. He got authority to enlist 350. After recruitment was over he had between 130 and 150. In order to get recruits outside Virginia he sent agents into the Watauga settlements in North Carolina. It must have been on this recruiting expedition that an agent enlisted Stratton.

Solomon Stratton was somewhere in his late twenties, older than most of the other men under Clark. In striking contrast to nearly all of them, he was married and the father of one, if not two sons, Harry and Richard. Perhaps it was this mature age which had been spent on the frontier that interested the Clark agents for the undertaking was to be the most hazardous in all of the Revolutionary campaigns.

Gen. Clark and his men arrived at Corn Island (now at Louisville) on May 27, 1778. In June, while they were getting ready for departure, an eclipse of the sun occurred. The superstitious were awed by the celestial event. Finally getting started, they arrived at Kaskaskia, July 4, 1778, and captured the place by surprise.

Vincennes was captured in the following February after one of the most terrible marches in American military annals. The little band had marched through swamps and water, snow and ice. They had suffered from cold, hunger and fatigue. But at the end was Vincennes and victory. The historian Lockridge says: "Thus, on the banks of the Wabash on that February morning was enacted a miracle of warfare. A band

The Board was unanimous in its action on all counts, and it authorized County Superintendent Virgil O. Turner to proceed as rapidly as possible toward securing State Department of Education permission of a bond issue for construction of the school here. Financing, Mr. Turner said, may be completed within 60 days.

The plans call for a 21-room structure. The Board found it impossible to finance construction of a gymnasium along with the school structure, it was said.

With no county high school building here, pupils from outside the Prestonsburg independent district are being transported to Prestonsburg high school, and their tuition is costing about $33,000 a year.

The architects were directed to work over the plans for the Bosco and Ligon buildings and to reduce each to four rooms. These plans are expected to be completed within the next two weeks.

Financing of Work
Here Will Be Made;
Gym Is Not Included

The Floyd County Board of Education definitely decided Tuesday night on its immediate building program and took steps to get it under way at the earliest possible date.

Meeting with the firm of Ashland architects, Hayes & Lusk, the Board discussed building needs at considerable length, studied its present financial situation and the situation as it may exist over the period while the work is being paid for, they decided:

1. To build the county high school building already planned in Prestonsburg and for which a site has already been purchased.

2. To construct new buildings at Bosco and Ligon.

The Board was unanimous in its action on all counts, and it authorized County Superintendent Virgil O. Turner to proceed as rapidly as possible toward securing State Department of Education permission of a bond issue for construction of the school here. Financing, Mr. Turner said, may be completed within 60 days.

The school structure here, as originally planned, would have cost $336,000 in 1950 when Hayes & Lusk drafted the plans. The architects estimate that costs have risen since that time to change that figure to somewhere between $350,000 and $360,000.

The plans call for a 21-room structure. The Board found it impossible to finance construction of a gymnasium along with the school structure, it was said.

With no county high school building here, pupils from outside the Prestonsburg independent district are being transported to Prestonsburg high school, and their tuition is costing about $33,000 a year.

At the time of his passing he was service officer of Floyd Post, American Legion, having only recently been re-elected for a second term, and he had numerous veterans' cases prepared for Veterans Administration action. The Legion Post here will accord him honors at the funeral which will be held at 2 p.m. Friday from Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church.

Surviving Mr. Auxier are a daughter of his first marriage, Miss Jane Day Auxier, of Winchester, and one brother, S. R. Auxier, of Prestonsburg.

she said. Worley stopped the car and began making advances. It was then that she produced the pistol, she said. She admitted she kept the weapon pointed at him until she fell asleep—because, she said, she feared another attempt to molest her.

Worley denied making any advances, said he had not drunk whiskey in 14 years. The defendant claimed he was drinking and that he gave her whiskey. She also claimed she fell asleep as the car was crossing a mountain between Williamson and Pikeville.

Asked by Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin about her story told on the morning of her arrest to authorities here, she said she had no memory of "laughing and joking" about the night's events. Under questioning by Defense Attorney Edmond Tackett she told of giving Worley one of the two dollars she had when he said he had no money to get home on after the arrival at Betsy Layne of Deputy Sheriffs Frank Crum and John Hopson.

Third trial of the case has been set for Jan. 6. The jury deliberated more than an hour before announcing its inability to reach a verdict.

Immediately after that trial ended, the work of empanelling a jury for the trial of Policeman Herschel Lester, of Martin, on a charge of shooting and wounding Ed Hicks there was begun.

The trial of High Fitch, charged with wilful murder in the slaying of Garrett, several years ago, of Virgil Coburn, resulted Monday in his acquittal. Ernest Scott was convicted of the slaying and is now serving a 21-year pen term. Fitch was accused as an accomplice, but the burden of testimony was that Coburn was shot during a tussle over a revolver.

Chester Ousley was given a two-year pen term last Thursday on a charge of shooting and wounding Charles Laughton, who was indicted for the same offense with Ousley, will be given trial Jan. 6. On the preceding day Junior Younce, charged with grand larceny, and Claude Little, accused of knowingly receiving stolen property, pleaded guilty and each was given a one-year pen term. Little was later granted probation. The grand larceny charge against Molly Jones was dismissed.

Curtis Bartley was fined $50 for using abusive language to provoke assault, and two charges of shooting without wounding which had been filed against him were dismissed for lack of evidence.

Edward Robinson was acquitted last Thursday of a charge of shooting at without wounding, a second charge of shooting at without wounding was dismissed, and his trial for destroying public property was set for Jan. 10. Jim Nobel was fined $100, plus costs, the same day for shooting and wounding.

Trial of Valls Prater, charged with detaining a woman against her will, resulted in the jury reporting disagreement. A second trial was set down for Jan. 8. Pat Bates, turnkey at the county jail, was fined $50 and given a 30-day jail term on his conviction on an assault and battery indictment. The $2,000 bond of Phillip Carr, accused of selling mortgaged property, was forfeited when he failed to appear Tuesday for trial.

Cases continued:
Irene Newberry, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, Nov. 29; Charlie Case, selling mortgaged property, Jan. 5; Berlie Moore and Kinell Perrigan, adultery, Nov. 22.

REA NOTES

Big Sandy RECC is happy to announce that the Court of Appeals has ruled in favor of East Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation a second time. This time it has given the co-op the right to build all lines that are not wasteful extravagance in duplicating or paralleling other transmission lines.

To the members of Big Sandy RECC this will mean lower rates and wider use of electricity. We feel it has opened up unlimited fields in the use of electricity for our people.

The most striking thing about electricity is its varied uses, its adaptability, its economy of operation and its continued service under all conditions. Electricity is the untiring servant of mankind.

With this decision we are now coming into our own. Along with the lower cost of electricity there will be a decided increase in kilowatt hour consumption. The future certainly looks bright for an increased and well-planned use of power.

We haven't even begun to scratch the surface of unlimited potentialities of electricity. Many of the things which you have been doing by hand you can now make electricity do for you.

There is one thought which I should like to bring to you: the cost of electricity is decreasing while the cost of all other items is increasing. Electricity does the impossible! Think of it.

Big Sandy RECC wishes to express its appreciation of its members and the many business men who took the lead in making a fight for EAST Kentucky. Big Sandy wants to live up to its name: a cooperative means an organization which co-operates to get things done; that is what we want to do.

Let Big Sandy RECC help you.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH

Born to Lieut. and Mrs. Donald Stratton a baby girl, Donna Lee, Nov. 3, in Lexington. Mrs. Edith Hutchinson Stratton is now at Morehead and her husband is with the U. S. Army Engineers in Germany. Lieut. Stratton is the son of Mrs. W. L. Mann of Prestonsburg.

of rugged frontier riflemen, by sheer gallantry and peerless marksmanship, actually silenced a British garrison." The campaign ended, Clark and his men returned to the eastern settlements, scattered over the frontier whence they had been gathered. Clark, prominent and a national hero, moved upon the scene, his every action illuminated by public interest. Most of the men sank into oblivion, recording into history after their glorious hour on the stage. Solomon Stratton, the Montgomery county, Virginia, frontiersman who had enlisted and fought for his country against his own state's desires, disappeared for five years.

We find him next on the New River in 1783, when he takes up 245 acres of land. Then he disappears for a decade and a half. He was obscure like the many Revolutionary War veterans who cared for only their country and little for records of service. Solomon never applied for a pension and these pension records of the Revolutionary soldiers which are often such a valuable source on the life of a veteran, do not exist in Solomon's case. Indeed if it were not for the historians, Pendleton and Summers, we would not know that he was with Clark.

We do not know whom he married except that her name was Jane and he was married probably in Virginia. This name Jane as well as the name Solomon survive with his descendants today. His son, Harry, who died in 1849 or 1850, was about 76 years old. This would place his birthdate at either 1773 or 1774. This indicates that Solomon himself was born in the 1750-1760 decade.

It was in 1797 that Solomon Stratton comes back to history and the background of his re-appearance to us is shown by an excerpt from an unpublished article on Eastern Kentucky land titles by the present writer.

"In the year 1787, when it seemed the Big Sandy Valley was already sufficiently covered with overlapping and confusing land grants there was cast upon the Eastern Kentucky scene the shadow of Col. John Preston, distinguished scion of an old Revolutionary family of Virginia. He had sometimes, in the early '80's, experimented with this business of acquiring land in an arrangement with John Smith, deputy surveyor of Montgomery county, Virginia. They acquired land on the Guyandotte and some in the present Logan county, West Virginia.

"This year of 1787 marked the opening of the Northwest Territory and relieved the pressure on lands nearer the Virginia motherland. Others might go to the far Northwest, but Preston, casting his eyes just over the Cumberland, saw a golden opportunity in the Big Sandy bottoms. Preston and John Smith entered into a contract Feb. 7, 1787, with Daniel Harman and Charles Skaggs as for Matthias Harman and Henry Skaggs of Tazewell county, the principals. Matthias Harman and Henry Skaggs agreed to find, discover and show land of good quality to the amount of 100,000 acres in the Big Sandy Valley. The land was entered March 9, 1787.

"Ten years later an agreement was worked out between Major Andrew Hood, Matthias Harman and Solomon Stratton for surveying the grant. John Graham, now turning into his twenty-second year and who was fast developing the initiative and astuteness which was to make him one of the influential figures of early Floyd, was chosen as surveyor. The organization was called "Adventurers on Sandy" and we must imagine that these men, veteran of the frontier and of the Revolution were an efficient, co-ordinated team. Harman knew the valley like a book and while we have no evidence that Hood or Stratton had been here previous to 1797 we do know that Stratton was a veteran of Gen. George Rogers Clark's Illinois Expedition and had there acquired to the full frontier hardihood and resourcefulness.

"Under the direction of these three Graham began his surveys. The site of Prestonsburg or Preston's Station was surveyed in 1797 as were thousands of acres from the mouth of Johns Creek to the headwaters of the river. As the work progressed Graham became more and more enthused with the land and its possibilities. Soon he was the dominant figure in this business of surveying and the "Adventurers on Sandy" began to dissolve. It probably disbanded because Harman, frontiersman that he was and like Boone, restless as the wild border itself, could not contain himself anywhere for long, and Stratton was beginning to think of acquiring some of the Big Sandy bottoms for himself.

Just why Solomon Stratton did not acquire the vast estate for himself we do not know. He certainly had the opportunity and knew the legal steps to so do. He did acquire though some fine land, broad river bottoms, between the present Betsy Layne and Ivy Creek. Most of it was evidently passed on quickly to his sons. He and these sons, Tandy, Richard and Harry, owned all of the bottom from near Betsy Layne to Ivy Creek on the north side of the river. Fringing these river bottoms were large hill land areas.

Solomon Stratton lived about a quarter mile south of the mouth of Mare Creek. For years the home of Thomas Leslie stood almost exactly on the spot of the old homestead. Solomon's son Tandy lived near where the residence of R. P. Stratton, deceased, now stands. Solomon died in 1819 and is buried in the old Stratton cemetery where so many of the early pioneers are buried—at the mouth of Mare Creek near the residence of Bill Hall.

George Rogers Clark, the commanding general of Solomon Stratton, died Feb. 13, 1818, only a few months before his humble soldier died. It is recorded that Clark in despair cried out before he died: "I have given the United States half of the territory they possess and they suffer me to remain in poverty". His remains rest in Cave Hill cemetery at Louisville.

GIRL SCOUTS HELP IN BIG MAILING JOB AS CHRISTMAS SEALS MAILED THIS WEEK

Girl Scouts throughout the Sandy Valley Council folded 70,000 Christmas seals and filled 2500 envelopes with enclosures for mailing in preparation for the annual Christmas seal drive, it was stated by Mrs. Ray Howard this week.

The Sandy Valley Council is composed of troops from Prestonsburg, Pikeville, David and Wheelwright. Seven troops from the council participated in the work which was done at places selected by the Scout leaders. Troop Two of Prestonsburg folded their allotment of seals in the show windows of Arrowood Hardware store.

Mrs. Howard, in commenting on the recent activities of the Girl Scouts, recalled that the girls acted as voter-aides in the last election. She stated voters did not avail themselves to any great extent of the offered Scout service of assisting mothers to go to the polls. The Prestonsburg Senior Scouts did not have a single applicant for their services of baby sitting and car driving but the Intermediate Scouts had a few who desired their services. It is planned to make the voter-aide activity an annual Girl Scout work.

"Our purpose is to prepare girls for tomorrow's community service", said Mrs. Howard.

Lynch Defeats Cats In Bowl Game, 34-6

For one half of last Thursday night's Big Sandy Bowl game at Paintsville, the Prestonsburg high school Black Cats held undefeated Lynch to a one-touchdown lead and maintained hope in the breasts of their followers that they would stage another second-half rally which might win for them their first victory in three bowl appearances. Instead, their defense collapsed in that second half and Lynch went on to score a 34 to 6 victory.

Prestonsburg went into the bowl classic in poor condition, having suffered heavily in its conquest of Paintsville in the final game of the regular season on the preceding Friday night. Lowell Hughes, one of the team's leading ground-gainers, was out with a broken collarbone. His brother, Delmar, all-state quarterback, was suffering from bruises and played little in the last half, as did big Tom Spradlin. Randall Wells, another line mainstay, saw action despite a broken nose suffered in the Paintsville game.

But, even had Prestonsburg been in prime condition, it is doubtful that the Cats could have withstood the Lynch attack led by a hard-charging line and two speedy backs, Randy Mills and Bob Bonich.

Fumbles cost the Cats the two first-half touchdowns scored by Lynch in the first half. Both these markers were made in the first quarter by Bonich. Prestonsburg came back to score its touchdown midway the second quarter on Delmar Hughes' 11-yard quarterback sneak.

Hughes attempted few passes after the Lynch line had rushed him badly on early throws. The game did not break wide open till the last quarter when Mills and Banyans, Lynch quarterback, each scored. Mills converted for the extra point four times on end sweeps.

The game was witnessed by a capacity crowd and the contest climaxed a day of festivities. Former Governor, U. S. Senator and Commissioner of Baseball A. B. "Happy" Chandler was guest of honor at the game, which was sponsored by the Paintsville Junior Woman's club.

The game was the last in high school for these Prestonsburg boys: Delmar Hughes, Stanley Prater, John Gordon Goble, Johnny Hill, John Harris, John Dixon, James Baldrige, Charles Grigsby, James Chaffins, Adrian Bradley and James Branham.

"We have a particularly bad situation at the junction of the main highway with the road to Wayland, with a bridge nearby over which children must walk to and from school and take their chances with fast, reckless drivers. But I have refused to hold some drivers who were able to show they were not traveling at excessive speeds."

Deputy constables have been reported as having made arrests of drivers in the vicinity, but Collins said he had no definite knowledge of their activities.

WHEELWRIGHT

Trains for Pacific Duty

Sgt. Charles T. Meade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meade, of Weeksbury, and grandson of Rev. T. F. Meade, of Honaker, enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps, July 20, 1948. He did his basic training at Parris Island, S. C., and spent three years with the Sixth fleet aboard the USS Newport News, CA-148, making three trips to the Mediterranean. Sgt. Meade is in training for Pacific duty at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The November meeting of the Wheelwright Woman's Club was held in the Woman's clubroom, with Mrs. R. L. Jones presiding. Thirty members were present. Following the roll call, reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, Mrs. Jones reported on the district meeting held in Prestonsburg on Nov. 1. She announced that the Wheelwright Woman's Club had won first prize for its year book. The club members decided to purchase with the $2 prize money an American flag for the club room.

The corresponding secretary Mrs. Bob Grim, read an article on the Student Loan Fund sponsored by the State Federation, as the Wheelwright club is considering the possibility of furnishing a scholarship to some needy student.

A motion was made and passed that each member of the club be assessed $1 as a donation to CARE for Korea.

Mrs. Jones announced that the Recreation committee should take charge of the Christmas stockings to be sent to hospitalized veterans.

After the close of the business meeting Mrs. John Rupe introduced Mrs. A. E. Atkinson, the guest-speaker for the evening. Mrs. Atkinson was born in India, the daughter of British parents who were government workers there. Her husband, who is now pastor of the Wheelwright Community Church, is a native of London, England. He went to India 30 years ago as a soldier and later entered Leonard Theological Seminary, Jabbaipur, India, to study for the ministry.

She gave a short geographical sketch of India and stated that although India is only two-thirds the size of the United States it has three times as many people. India's problems were then discussed, being divided into the following categories: education, transportation, language, diseases which kill thousands of Indians each year, the caste system, religion. As an example of one of the Indian religious beliefs, Mrs. Atkinson said it was the custom of a widow to throw herself on her husband's cremation pyre and burn herself to death.

Mrs. Atkinson had on exhibition shoes, pins, needlework, buttons, silvecraft made by the people of India.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses for the evening: Mrs. R. L. Hall, chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Moore, Mrs. James Adkins and Mrs. Elmer Ferguson.

Members of homemakers clubs in Montgomery county have organized a homemakers chorus.

More than 1,200 dairy cows in Rockcastle county have been signed up for testing and vaccination.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Porter and Mrs. Lizzie Woods, recently.

Rev. M. N. DeHaven was the Sunday supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Adcock. Mr. and Mrs. Adcock will move to Clifton Forge, Va., this week. Mr. Adcock, a C. and O. lineman, has accepted a position there. They were presented a blanket Sunday by the Methodist Church, of which they are members.

Mrs. Mary Katherine Mitchell has returned from a visit with her mother in Weston, W. Va., who has been ill. She was accompanied home by her son, Vickie, who has been there for some time for his health. He is not improved and will be taken to the Mayo Clinic as soon as arrangements can be made.

Miss Charlotte Snodgrass was hostess to the Methodist Youth Fellowship party in her home Thursday night. Now... the car of the year — the deal of the year!

And we're ready to back up that headline with appetizing facts and generous figures. For example, "the car of the year" is more than a glib phrase, it's a title that Mercury has earned by doing—by making news.

Mercury is the one car in its class that came up with something really new for 1952—styling so new it left other cars far behind. And Mercury (with optional overdrive) again proved that pound for pound it could beat all comers for economy in the Mobilgas Economy Run.

But, we know, you're equally interested in "how much" for your present car. We can give you some idea if you just pick up the phone and call us. But we can do even better if you give us a chance to appraise it firsthand—so we can allow for the extras and the care you've given it.

So drop around. Our deals are now the best of the year. That means tops in town.

Standard equipment, accessories, and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice. White side-wall tires and full-disc hubcaps at extra cost.

JUDICIAL REVIEW DISALLOWED

Decisions of the Kentucky Railroad Commission are supreme in their sphere of regulating interstate freight rates and train service, the Court of Appeals held in a precedent-making decision.

The court held that an order allowing discontinuance of train service from Pineville to Middlesboro is not subject to judicial review, inasmuch as neither the Constitution nor the statutes allow such appeal to be taken. A number of other actions are pending before the Commission involving discontinuance of rail service.

It is estimated that 300 Fleming county farmers this year for the first time began the practice of plowing tobacco plant beds in the fall.

Cadillac

It May Be Starting a Million Miles!

Happy, happy man! His time has come to own the "car of cars" . . . and there he goes for the first thrilling ride at the wheel.

But what an additional thrill he would have if he could look down the long, long road that car will travel before it comes to its final stop!

For then he would know, beyond peradventure, that he has just taken possession of one of the mechanical masterpieces of all time!

Reliable statistics kept by a great tire manufacturer show, for instance, that certain Cadillacs in its testing fleet have actually approached a million miles.

Naturally, when you take possession of a new Cadillac, you are not thinking of owning and driving it for such a spectacular distance.

But consider, if you will, what this phenomenal endurance foretells for your own period of ownership.

It is your finest possible guarantee that the thrill and the satisfaction of your first mile at the wheel will go on and on—until, with reluctance, you pass the car along to another proud and happy owner.

And it means, of course, that the value of your Cadillac will endure. Even its second, and third, and fourth owners will find that its relative value is amazing. There is almost always a demand for a Cadillac, regardless of its age.

Of course, the great thrill of owning a Cadillac comes from the car's wonderful performance and its marvelous prestige.

But it is so nice to reflect, as you sit at the wheel, that your pride is practical—and that your satisfaction is coming from a sound investment.

Is it time for you to think about a Cadillac? If so, we would be happy to see you any time.

SCHOOL CHECK PLANNED

A thorough check into suggestions that Kentucky's school census is padded in a number of counties will be undertaken by the State Department of Education, following publication of reports of widespread variations between the official federal census and school children in varying districts. In 64 counties of the state there were substantial variations, with the school census showing a large number of children within a district—between six and 18—not included in federal census.

RULING GIVEN

The Court of Appeals held Kentucky's Department of Revenue was powerless to enter into compromises that would free four Ohio river barge line companies from property and corporation license taxes due the state and local taxing units in an action involving approximately $210,888 from the companies for franchise taxes. The decision means the companies are liable to counties along the Ohio river for various local taxes.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

BY WILMAY

Such a good one, indeed, when a man like Mr. Belford Reitz spends most an entire day bulldozing the "Pageant Hill," free of charge. To make it more wonderful, he acted as if it were a privilege to do the job, and took so much pains. He remarked that he never charges churches or religious organizations. His wife laughingly remarked that they might be rich, if they had all he had given away, but added that they felt it comes back to them.

Side by side with Mr. Reitz were other good men from Martin were on the hill Saturday. Among them were C. R. Marshall, Haskel Frye, Sr., Wade Mahood, Chris Straub, Haskel Frye, Jr., Clarence King and Sam Ed King. With the aid of the bulldozer, two more walls were erected. Now the schoolboys who have done so much under the leadership of Messrs. Salisbury, Halbert, Moore and Prasure, can go ahead once more.

So many volunteered services, material or cash, it is impossible to remember all of them. Only Saturday, Dave Marrs insisted on paying for the nails needed that day. That is the spirit which has made the pageant possible. Rev. and Mrs. Swindell, who have just moved to Martin, are going to be great assets to the pageant as well as to the community.

Former friends of Rev. J. E. Felty, Jr., were pleased to see him Saturday. He is best remembered as the man who led the fight six years ago to put this county dry. He is now engaged in a revival in Pike county. Rev. Felty is pastor of the Fairview Baptist Church in Ashland, and also president of the Grace Seminary there.

The following are a few quotes from LOOK in regards to our lawmakers in the capital of our nation. These facts, together with statements from some GI's as to what some carried home at the end of the war and what others might have, in the way of government property, lead many to believe the few who say that taxes can be reduced and the foreign program not suffer drastically are correct.

Last spring, Congressmen decided members are away from home when in Washington, and that living expenses while there should be deducted from income tax returns. Congressmen get free doctoring, cut rates at Army and Navy hospitals, unlimited sick leave with pay. If one quits or is fired, a retirement fund comes to his rescue. If he dies in office, his widow gets a full year of pay.

Taxpayers maintain a private gym for Senators and Representatives, who work in air-conditioned offices. Senators have refrigerators in their offices, private parking garage, priority on elevators. A man in Congress never has to ask for a raise. Congress sees to all that by itself, without any prodding from the taxpayers. There have been various ways to arrange for expense accounts, according to the record. Senators have free haircuts but Congressmen must pay 35-cents for theirs. And so on, et cetera!

To boil it down, the author, Jack Wilson, suggested that we think twice before dooming youngsters to some career other than politics.

Magazines and newspapers contain much today as to why the average high school pupil reads, writes and expresses himself poorly, more so than a majority several years ago. The causes are not hidden. The problem is nationwide. Correction in a single school or even one state is impossible until the national trend shifts further back to former position.

Any teacher and most parents can point out the reasons, but so far America as a whole is doing very little about it. Despite better qualified teachers, tremendous improvement in equipment, etc., the finished product is falling much below par, on an average. A few of the obvious causes may be listed as the moral breakdown in homes, the countless distractions that prevent or interfere with study, the tempo of the times in which we live. Johnnie and Suzie are keyed up too often. An outstanding teacher predicted a year ago that it will not be many years till most children will not know how to read. She says an increased proportion of audio-visual aids to education will remove the need for such knowledge.

COMMISSION REPORTS

Public Service Commission Engineer Russell H. Jenney reported to the Commission that the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company, a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas System, was equipped to serve some 400 additional gas consumers. The company has protested its ability to comply.

Resolutions of Respect

In memory of Brother Eibert S. Dotson, who died November 7, 1952. Once again hath death summoned a Brother Odd Fellow, and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls, and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit, "well done" from the Supreme Master.

Whereas, The all-wise and merciful Master of the Universe has called our beloved and respected Brother home, and he having been a true and faithful member of our beloved Order, therefore be it Resolved, That Prestonsburg Lodge No. 293, I.O.O.F., of Kentucky, in testimony of its loss, drape its charter in mourning for thirty days, that we tender to the family our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

MUNICIPALLY OWNED PRESTONSBURG WATER & GAS SYSTEM PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

OPERATING STATEMENT Fiscal Year Ended September 30, 1952

October 29, 1952

Mayor Curtis Clark
and Board of Utility Commissioners
City of Prestonsburg
Gentlemen:

Pursuant to your request, I have made annual audit of the financial records of the Prestonsburg Gas & Water System covering transactions during the fiscal year ended September 30, 1952.

The various statements submitted herewith were compiled from the records and presented as part of the report.

SUMMARY

Garbage collections amounting to $7,034.00 were promptly paid to the City of Prestonsburg. The receipts and disbursements of this account are omitted from the Gas System audit report due to the fact that such collections are for the benefit of the City of Prestonsburg and no part accrues to the Gas System.

The funds making up the cash balances as of September 30, 1952, were reconciled with balances at the First National Bank, Bank Josephine, Prestonsburg, and the Kentucky Trust Company, Louisville, all of which were confirmed by correspondence.

All receipts during the year were deposited in the bank, and disbursements are supported by cancelled checks.

Respectfully submitted,
RAY R. ALLEN

The Prestonsburg Black Cats were officially proclaimed football champions for 1952 of the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference at a meeting of the athletic group held Sunday afternoon in Pikeville. Prestonsburg edged out Belfry under the Dickinson System ratings by virtue of the fact that the Cats defeated the Pirates, with whom they were tied for total points during the season's play.

Three Black Cat players—all-state quarterback John Delmar Hughes, Stanley Prater, tackle, and John Gordon Goble, guard—were named to the all-Conference team. Johnny Hill, stellar Prestonsburg end, was named to the all-Conference second team.

Petitions of Elkhorn City for a place in the Conference was accepted but that of Hazard was rejected temporarily because the school's team will, because of scheduled commitments, be unable to participate in the Conference tournament this year. Representatives of the school said they hope to arrange next year's schedule to meet this requirement. With the addition of Elkhorn City, the Conference is now composed of nine schools.

The Conference net tournament will be held at Pikeville, Jan. 28-31. The all-Conference team follows:

Roger Pack, Jenkins, and Bobby McCoy, Pikeville, ends; Lrvin Wilson, Belfry, and Stanley Prater, Prestonsburg, tackles; Gordon Matthews, Pikeville, and John Gordon Goble, Prestonsburg, guards; Johnny Mullins, Jenkins, center; Delmar Hughes, Prestonsburg, Ralph Moran, Belfry, Robert Staggs, Pikeville, and Gary Knight, Paintsville, packs.

The second team: Johnny Hill, Prestonsburg, and Ogilvie, Whitesburg, ends; Murphy of Fleming and Breeding of Whitesburg, tackles; Gilliam of Pikeville and Stamper of Whitesburg, guards; Hall of Whitesburg, center; Richter of Jenkins, Kincer of Whitesburg, Pratt of Fleming and Gullen of Jenkins, backs.

Prestonsburg was represented at the Conference meeting by Chalmers Frazier, superintendent of city schools.

Track was added to the Conference sports program, joining football, basketball and baseball in the athletic activities of the group. The first Conference track meet will be held April 25 at Elkhorn City.
