

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FISCAL COURT'S REPLY

Editor, The Floyd County Times

The Fiscal Court wishes to take this means to reply to a recent attack on one of its meetings that appeared in your paper last week. This letter appeared to be written for the sole purpose of criticizing the Court and the duly elected representatives of the people and to cast a doubt in the minds of the people concerning the integrity of the members of the Court.

When the personal honesty of any man is attacked the first question that comes to mind is who is doing the accusing. Although the letter was signed "A Taxpayer" an inquiry at the Times office revealed that the writer was Mr. Burnis Martin. For reasons best known to himself he chose to use the name of "A Taxpayer". Could it be that this "A Taxpayer" is related in any way to "A Citizen" who has been writing in your paper telling what a fine official Burnis Martin is making? What useful purpose could such letters serve except to advance the personal ego of some individual and smear and besmirch the character and reputation of others? It is not our desire or intention to engage in a "mud slinging" contest in the newspapers. This can result in nothing but discord and strife, and the people of Floyd County will suffer in the end. Such controversies make fertile fields for the growth of Communism, and upon such tactics Stalin and Hitler came into power. We have been and are too busy with the duties of our offices to engage in quibbling and "back biting" over frivolous and unimportant matters.

Isn't it strange that of all the people that have visited the Fiscal Court in its meetings and have transacted business with Floyd County, that only one man, Mr. Burnis Martin, has had any difficulty getting into the meetings. The meeting he complained of was held in the office of the County Court Clerk, who is also clerk of the Fiscal Court, and in the office where the records of the Fiscal Court are kept. Several other people were present at this meeting and each one, including Mr. Martin, was asked if he had any business to take up with the Court. There was nothing secret about this meeting, and not a single person experienced any difficulty in getting into this meeting or in transacting their business. The affairs of Floyd County have become enlarged and complicated and it is often necessary to call special meetings of the court for special purposes on short notice. With a newspaper published once a week it is next to impossible to have a public notice printed for each meeting, but the meetings have always been public and the business transacted has been given full publicity in the newspaper. We have been more concerned with doing a good job for Floyd County and its citizens than with petty bickering for publicity or slandering others to satisfy a personal grievance. We would like to suggest that each one of us was elected to a particular office to perform certain designated duties, and we would all profit from attending to our own duties and refraining from seeking undeserved publicity.

Mr. Martin had no difficulty in finding the "little secret cubby hole" where the Court met on September 13, 1951, when he came before the Court and stated that if the Court would vote to double his salary he would not employ a detective until July and save the taxpayers six months' salary. When the Court agreed to this proposal he named a detective on the first Monday in January and cost the taxpayers an additional $1200.00. This is the same Mr. Martin who now has trouble getting in the meetings.

We have lived with you people in this county practically all our lives. You have known us, watched our daily lives and are more qualified to judge us than someone who has known us only a short time. You know whether we are the type of men who want to look after your county's business. You know whether we are honest in our dealings and whether or not we resort to trickery or subterfuge. We leave this question to your good judgment.

We would like to point out to you some of our accomplishments in the affairs of your county. The road and bridge program we have had is well known. And people can travel all most over the county all the year by automobile. The county debt has been reduced in the past eleven years from about one million dollars to practically nothing. The tax rate has been reduced twenty cents, and the commission of crime is at an all time low. This has all been accomplished during a period of inflation when prices were high, the cost of labor and material, and of living the highest in our history.

In closing we wish to invite all citizens and taxpayers in the future, as in the past, to visit our offices and our meetings and offer your suggestions. It is your county and your business. Help us do a good job for you.

GAS WORKER SAVES FARMER INJURED WHEN TEAM BOLTED

A Kanawha county, W. Va., farmer probably owes his life to Cain Garrett, who rescued the man from possible death from exposure.

The 36-year-old line inspector for the United Fuel Gas Co. was doing a walking survey on the route of a proposed pipeline, Monday, when he came upon Eldridge Landers, 52, lying helpless in snow, one leg crushed beneath a log and a tree. The farmer's team had bolted two hours before while Landers was snaking logs out of the woods.

Mr. Garrett had heard Landers moaning and crying for help. "I thought at first he was calling hogs, but then I spotted him lying on the ground," he said.

Garrett twisted Landers' trouser leg into a tourniquet to stop serious bleeding, took off his own coat and wrapped it around the suffering man.

Then he walked a mile to Landers' home, told Mrs. Landers of the accident and loaded a farm sled with quilts and blankets. The runaway team had come home and Mr. Garrett hitched the horses to the sled and went after Landers.

He took the injured man home on the sled, and by that time three neighbors had arrived to help after learning of the mishap from a mail carrier. One drove in his car to the nearest telephone to call an ambulance.

Mr. Garrett told the others how to care for Landers until the ambulance arrived, and before it got there headed out again on his survey trip.

The Garretts moved to Huntington, a few months ago, from this county.

Meade Tells Why Sollie Holbrook Was Discharged, and Replies To "A Taxpayer"

A sworn statement of former Deputy Sheriff Sollie Holbrook appearing in last week's Times states that he was fired because he served papers for the Taxpayers League.

Statements made by Mr. Holbrook in this paid advertisement are, like others which have appeared in the paper lately concerning me, erroneous, maliciously false, and without any foundation of truth whatsoever.

As Sheriff of Floyd County, I, or one of my Deputies, have, in the numerous suits which have been filed by the Taxpayers League, served with dispatch any and all summons, subpoenas and other papers involved in these law suits. Any person who doubts this may ask any officer of the Taxpayer's League familiar with these law suits, or indeed, the summonses themselves may be checked in the court files, and they will show that these papers were served without delay. I have never, during the three years I have served as Sheriff, hesitated to serve any process for the court whether against friend or foe, and if these Taxpayer's League summonses had been handed to me I would have executed them properly.

To clarify the misleading statements made by Mr. Holbrook, I should like to state that for some time I had had under consideration discharging Sollie because of the unfavorable reports of his conduct as Deputy Sheriff which reached my office from good, substantial citizens in and around Garrettsville, Kentucky. These citizens had informed me that while Mr. Holbrook was Deputy Sheriff he unlawfully searched automobiles, without a search warrant, and in many cases had been going beyond his lawful authority as Deputy Sheriff. His actions were such as to antagonize the people with whom he dealt, and so as to reflect discredit upon the administration of my office. I was informed by these citizens that, in some cases, Mr. Holbrook had gone so far beyond his authority that he was likely to be killed, or to kill someone, in the neighborhood where he served. I do not wish to betray in public print the names of the citizens who were my source of information but will be glad to mention their names to any person who will come to my office and ask for them.

I mentioned to the Commonwealth's Attorney that I had received this information concerning Mr. Holbrook's conduct as Deputy Sheriff, and my reasons for discharging this man were made clear to the Commonwealth's Attorney and to him. I also specifically informed the Commonwealth's Attorney that the discharge of this undesirable Deputy was in no way connected with his serving Tax League papers. I asked the Commonwealth's Attorney at that time to inform the officers of the League that their papers and processes would, as in the past, be served with all reasonable speed and asked him to inform those officers that if they had any papers to be served on Beaver Creek to give them to Al Patton at Hueysville, or to me, and I would personally see that they were immediately served at any place in the county.

I hope that the people will realize that this statement put in the paper by Mr. Holbrook is either a lame face-saving gesture on his part, or, more likely, the idea for this article was not Mr. Holbrook's at all, but came from a person or persons who, through malice, are trying to embarrass me in the administration of my office, by publishing such misleading and inaccurate statements.

Mr. Holbrook's statement bears great similarity to that personal malice and ill will towards me which is indicated in a letter to the Editor, also appearing in last week's paper, signed by "A Taxpayer." This person, while attempting to criticize the actions of the Fiscal Court—with which I am not connected—could not resist the temptation to take a back-handed slap at me, and in that letter has mentioned that I would or might have the County full of "Stooges with man-killing pistols hidden under their coats." The letter further indicated that I did not favor placing a limit on the number of "Pistol-toting Deputy Sheriffs", etc., etc.

These statements are made about me when it is a matter of public record in the County Court Clerk's office that I have fewer Deputies serving the people than any other Sheriff in the history of Floyd County. In this connection, I should mention that at no time previously has the discretion of the Sheriff ever been questioned with regard to the number of Deputies to be appointed. In addition, I have followed the example previously set down and appointed a few good, solid citizens who do not serve papers as Deputies but need the authority of the Sheriff's office to protect some of our larger businesses from law violators.

To say that the Deputy Sheriff's appointed are "Man-Killers" is also utterly false, since during the three years which I have served the people as Sheriff there has not been one single killing of any citizen by any Deputy appointed by me, nor has any Deputy Sheriff whom I have appointed been killed or hurt. This alone is something of which I am proud.

I would further like to point out to the good people of Floyd County that more bootlegging has been broken up in my three years as Sheriff than any other three-year period in the history of our county. My Deputy force and I travel from 12,000 to 15,000 miles per month, day and night, in keeping down crime and protecting the lives and property of the citizens of our County, and in freeing the highways of reckless and drunken drivers.

I am sure the people who think will realize that in Floyd County there are less law violations now than at any other time in our history. The official records of the County at the present time will verify this statement, as any Court official can tell you that the January Criminal docket is one of the smallest in the history of the County, and at the present time we have a record low of persons in the County Jail.

I will stand firmly on this record of service to Floyd County, and hope that those who read the malicious statement which appeared in last week's paper will not allow the record I am trying to make to be discredited in their minds.

A. B. MEADE, Sheriff (Adv. It.)

divergence of viewpoint between Prestonsburg and outlying areas.

Claude Allen, of the Foremen's Club, disagreed with this view. Urging consolidation he pointed out that rural and town interest are much the same.

I. C. Spotte, president of the Kiwanis Club, R. V. May, the Club's committee chairman studying the school situation, and Lon C. Hill, also of the committee, queried the Board along lines seeking to evoke a committal for merger of the districts. "At the present time," Mr. May said, "we have no voice as voters and as far as the school board is concerned can't go near the courthouse."

Chalmer H. Frazier, superintendent of city schools and secretary of the Board of Education, cited the standing of Prestonsburg's high school, the only school in the county which is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and pointed out that merger with the county could lose that rating. He listed a full-time librarian, and a music instructor, vocational training and a physics and chemistry department as parts of the high school curriculum here which the county system does not have.

The Board took no official action in either direction.

Tom Graham Dingus and H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., are the new members of the Board. Mr. Fitzpatrick was named vice-chairman in reorganization of the body.

One of the official actions taken at the meeting was an order which will make mandatory, beginning with next year's collection, the collection of all school taxes here or the advertising and selling of property of delinquents.

CLEVELAND — Two young brothers, sought in three states, were found by cleaning women in the fifth floor hallway of the Colonial Arcade building, Ronald and Ben Vicant, 12 and 9, first slept in a lakefront shack and in trucks the next two nights. They told police they ran away because their parents sent them back to deliver a newspaper to a customer Ronnie missed on his delivery route.

About 66g of the Ohio River's 981 miles meander through Kentucky.

"If you can't beat Johnson grass, 'jine' it."

That's the "lead" of a piece under a Marrowbone date to The Courier-Journal. An interesting story about how Fred Pace, Cumberland county farmer, sowed oats with Johnson grass he thought was beyond control and got two heavy crops of silage.

The Marrowbone correspondent goes on to say:

"Of course, Pace doesn't suggest that Kentucky farmers get out and purposely seed Johnson grass. Once it is in, it is there to stay and you can't change your mind and expect to grow corn or anything else on that land. But, he says, if a farmer has the stuff, he may as well live with it."

The foregoing paragraph is grossly misleading, though there is one important fact—you can't grow corn or anything else on land that is heavily infested with Johnson grass.

But the error is in saying "once it is in, it is there to stay." If Mr. Pace said that to the newspaper correspondent he was dead wrong. Johnson grass can be eradicated, no matter how thick it is. A Chlorate of Sodium solution, one pound of the chemical to each gallon of water, will kill every plant it touches. None comes back after the grass is sprinkled.

I doubt that as much as five thousand acres of land in the state is hopeless. Some farms down Henderson way are so badly infested with Johnson grass that the stuff could not be wiped out with chlorate of soda costing less than $40 per acre.

The Courier-Journal story says practically nothing about education. That is why I am writing this piece. I don't want any Kentucky farmer to surrender his previous bottom land to Johnson grass. Fred Pace let it take his land when he could have gotten rid of every sprig of it. In all probability 50 pounds of the chemical each year would have sufficed if he had started when Johnson grass first showed up on his place. I started using chlorate of soda 12 years ago. Every time a patch of the grass showed up I doused it. If I had let it alone my 245 acres of second bottom would now be completely covered.

A next-door neighbor grew wheat two years ago on a 60-acre field that would have been covered with Johnson grass in another year or two, and now there is not a sprig of it to be seen in the field. Farmers with fields that look hopeless might try two crops of wheat in a row. It is better to run down the fertility by overweating than to spend perhaps $40 per acre for chlorate of soda.

More than half the farms in Kentucky are infested with Johnson grass, and the stuff can be eradicated easily on all but perhaps one per cent of these farms. A little money and a little work.

I send printed postal cards gratis to farmers wanting advice about how to get rid of Johnson grass.

CATS LOSING STREAK GROWS

But Followers See Hope in New Scoring Strength from Dixon

The holiday season, except for a win over the alumni, was rather cheerless from the point of view of the Prestonsburg Black Cats, and they are yet looking for their first win of the new year, but new scoring strength and the closeness of some of the scores even in defeat have given rise to hope the team will be a strong factor in settling the race for Floyd county honors before the season is over.

The Cats lost their last pre-Christmas encounter to the strong Wheelwright five, 78 to 73, then edged the alumni, 41 to 39. Their first 1953 game was at Ashland where they lost to the Tom Cats, currently rated the state's No. 1 five, 72 to 35. Prestonsburg played the last quarter and a half minus the services of high-scoring Delmar Hughes.

That brings the record up to recent times. Last Friday Oil Springs hung a 20-point defeat on the Cats who did not show much till the last quarter when they racked up 20 points while being led by Hughes' individual effort of 32 points.

Then, Saturday night at home, they extended Denzil Halbert's Martin Purple Flash in a rough encounter marred by 68 fouls 40 of which were called on Martin. Martin won the game, 62 to 60, but in this game Coach Dameron's boys developed some scoring strength in addition to that of Hughes. Dixon, the other forward, scored 14 points, and big Marshall Woods hit for 14.

Dixon followed this up the following evening at Inez with a 21-point performance against the Indians as Prestonsburg lost, 75 to 62. Hughes scored 20 points. Cassidy of Inez was high for the evening with 28 points.

The Cats entered the Paintsville Invitational this week, meeting Meade Memorial Wednesday evening. Their next home game will be next Tuesday night against Paintsville.

World's newest V8

with a million miles behind it

HERE, in literal fact, is the most advanced V8 engine ever placed in a standard-production American automobile.

It is the first such V8 to reach an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio, and the first with a dynamic flow muffler that cuts power loss to zero.

It is the first V8 to utilize vertical valves together with a 12-volt electrical system instead of the usual 6. It is also the first designed with new "T" type intake manifold to replace the "Y" type conventionally used in V8s.

It is, quite simply, the first V8 Fireball Engine—the engine that brings electrifying performance to the greatest Buicks in fifty great years—the engine that powers the 1953 Buick ROADMASTER with 188 hp., and the 1953 Buick SUPER with up to 170.

Naturally, this spectacular new V8 has been proved—by eight years of developing, testing, improving, perfecting—and by more than a million miles of driving through desert, mountains, cities and plains. Only then did Buick engineers mark it: Released for Production.

But these hard-to-please engineers gave these Golden Anniversary Buicks far more than new power.

They gave them, too, a still finer ride, more superb comfort, new braking power and handling ease—and a sensational new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive* that adds new quiet and whip-fast getaway to absolute smoothness.

Nothing, we believe, will do more justice to your automobile dollars—or to your love of magnificent motoring—than a visit to us right now.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

would not prevent duck-hunting on the lake itself he said. Burke also emphasized the fact that the Floyd County Fish & Game Club has had nothing to do with the establishing of the refuge.

The committee appointed by George W. Newman to judge entries in the club's 1952 fishing contest was composed of Henry L. May, Cleo Hale and George E. Allen, and these were the results:

In the walleye pike division, William J. Dings, of Prestonsburg, won a 1926 Shakespeare casting reel with a beauty 27 inches long, weighing 6 pounds, caught Feb. 10 one-half mile south of Elkhorn City on a Paul Bunyan. In the largemouth bass division, Raleigh Mann, of Prestonsburg, won the 1973 Shakespeare Casting Reel with a fish 22 inches long, caught Sept. 17 at Dewey Lake.

The smallmouth bass division: Mrs. Evelyn C. Goebel, of Prestonsburg, won a 1973 Shakespeare casting reel with a smallmouth 19 inches long caught in Dewey Lake June 1, on a darter. In the crappie division, Irby Hensley, of Langley, won a 1926 Shakespeare casting reel with a crappie 11 1/4 inches long caught in Right Beaver Creek Aug. 15, on a Lazy Ike.

There was only one entry in the walleye pike division and two entries in the smallmouth bass division. The club authorized the purchase of 66 coon for release immediately after the close of the hunting season this month.

There were seven entries in the largemouth division, all of which were caught in Dewey Lake: Tom Ratliff, of Lancer, 18 1/2-inch bass on a Hula Popper; Carl Horn, a 20-inch bass on a Bomber; Bernard Baldrige, 20 1/8-inch bass on a Hula Popper; Raleigh Mann, a 20 1/2-inch bass on a Hula Hopper; John D. Collins, a 21-inch bass on a Lazy Ike.

The club will sponsor a fishing contest for this year and there will be prizes awarded in the same divisions as in the 1952 contest, with a plaque being awarded for the largest carp caught. The rules of the contest will appear in The Floyd County Times next month.

ton, on Jan. 14, for another assignment in Korea, tell of the time when there was no blood available.

"It was shortly after the moon landing. The medics brought in a man who was shot up badly. Our blood was on a plane and somewhat to the rear. We rushed the soldier back but by the time we got there he was dead. Others were more lucky. They received blood in time. That the wounded man did not get blood in time was the fault of no one, but if there had been no blood on the plane some of the others would have died too."

Sgt. Clyde, after much prompting, tells of action at the front, and of the long line of wounded men on jeeps and stretchers. Always he refers to passing these lines and seeing "men holding the bottles up" as if that bottle was the symbol of life, which it was to these slugging artillerymen.

"We were trapped at the Chosen Reservoir and had to fight our way back to the beach. There were long lines of wounded men. But there were long lines in the Wonsan invasion. I never had to have any blood myself. All along the lines of wounded men you could see other men holding up the bottles and giving blood."

Herbert Hancock, husband and father of these blood donors, is a brakeman on the Norfolk & Southern Railway out of Norfolk, Va. He does not get home much but, like the others of his family, he is a donor when possible, Mrs. Hancock says.

Mrs. Hancock is proud of her soldier-sons. Floyd county is proud of all of them.

Research Backed by Polio Fund

Recent successes in the search for an effective, safe and permanent preventive of paralytic polio, have intensified the need for March of Dimes funds to explore and exploit the findings, according to Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Certainly the discoveries concerning gamma globulin did not mean the end to polio problems," Mr. O'Connor said. "While they solved some problems, they also created many new ones."

The two main findings, Mr. O'Connor said, were that (1) gamma globulin provides marked protection of a temporary nature against paralytic polio and (2) it may modify the severity of polio during the late stages of the incubation period of the disease, even though it may not prevent the disease completely if given after the infection has taken place.

Limitations Cited

Mr. O'Connor cited three important limitations to the use of gamma globulin.

1—It gives only temporary protection. Thus the search for a permanent vaccine must continue.

2—GG is in very short supply. Techniques for increasing the supply for reasonable use must be developed.

3—Gamma globulin research is incomplete. It must still be determined, for example, if GG will permit the mild, inapparent form of polio infection that leads to an active long-lasting immunity.

Large sums of March of Dimes money must be invested before solutions to the above problems are found, Mr. O'Connor pointed out.

May 'Smother' Epidemics

"Our scientists insist that all we can reasonably hope for at this point," he said, "is that gamma globulin may be used in attempting to 'smother' polio epidemics in hard-hit areas. The final answer will still have to be a safe and effective vaccine that will provide relatively long-lasting immunity. Efforts to produce such a vaccine for widespread human use are being hopefully pursued."

Scientific research programs sponsored by the National Foundation are financed entirely by the March of Dimes. This annual appeal is now on and will be continued until Jan. 31.

up for adjudication at the District Executive meeting, Floyd county might pass and urge unity by compromise among the rival factions.

The chairmanship of the county executive committee was held by Frank Scott until his death last fall. Charles F. Trivette of nearby Virgie, a former state senator, announced last week that as a result of a county GOP convention here Dec. 13 the state committee had certified as county chairman Luther Damron, 68-year-old merchant of Millard. The December convention was called by Dr. M. D. Flannery, of Pikeville, as chairman of the district committee, after he said a petition circulated throughout the county's 100 precincts showed the precinct chairmen and chairwomen were in favor of it at that time.

Following the December conference Oline Burchett, secretary of the county GOP committee, said in a statement the meeting was illegal and that, acting duly as secretary, he had called a convention for Jan. 10.

Burchett was joined in the call for the later convention by Mrs. Charline C. Nelson of Pikeville, county chairwoman. Mrs. Nelson declined immediate comment after the last meeting, but a spokesman for the Burchett-Nelson faction said Thaddeus Scott, local real estate dealer, was named chairman by the convention.

The spokesman said Scott, a cousin of the former chairman and son of the late Earl Scott, former Pike county sheriff, received 89 votes to two for G. Tom Hawkins. There were 91 precinct chairmen and chairwomen present, he said.

Damron, reported to be vacationing in Florida, has not been reached for comment.

Thaddeus Scott said in a statement tonight:

"We hope the outcome will be for the improvement of the party. We don't know what the official decision will be. I am willing to do anything within reason to bring the party to harmony."

Booklet for Pageant To Be Printed Soon

Firms taking ads in the Pageant booklet are reminded to mail check to the treasurer, Dr. Wade Mahood, immediately, since the booklet goes to press soon. A statement has been mailed those subscribers for an ad, to save leaders the necessity of calling.

The Pageant Board met Sunday. Demra Taylor, a new member, took over to help on the rock work with the school. Like James Salisbury, who has done so much, Mr. Taylor, has a way of getting things done. The first task is to have more rock hauled, and this will be doubly hard, since bad weather makes it impossible now to get on the hill. Leaders hoped to avert this problem by getting things done earlier.

Members of the Freewill Baptist Church are going to construct rest-rooms. The Mormons took several tasks to complete, with D.M. Hutchinson in charge. The Methodists, who have done much more than their share, volunteered to take new assignments, which include the Information and Booklet booth at the gate. The Christians will accept new responsibility. Charlie Rickman, of the Baptists, volunteered to complete the roof over the center stage. Ray Flannery, of the Baptists, said he will haul rock by wagon if necessary. This type of spirit on the part of a few is getting the work done.

Martin school children have done so much at the hill and in making Pageant accessories that leaders are considering giving free tickets to all who work and accept a role in the Pageant.

Grace Allen, Pageant stenographer, completed mimeographed copies of the script last week, for all directors and associate ones. Rodney Salisbury who is in Germany, sent a booklet on the pageant of Obermergau, to Mrs. Wade Mahood, parent bookkeeper and coach.

If You Remember . . .

They sat upon the porch and enjoyed the warm sunshine. A neighbor who had the run of the house turned on the radio and listened, idly, to idle talk and light song.

Suddenly, out of the ether, blasting the listeners with a force pregnant with the potentialities of fear and unreason, a voice says:

"We interrupt this program to say that President Roosevelt died about fifteen minutes ago at Warm Springs, Georgia." . . . The voice goes on but the man is erect and steps into the bright sun. The white faces of his friends tell him they, too, heard the announcement so weighted with the solemnity of death.

A man stirred and went toward the road as if to perform an errand. He returned quickly to his porch and "They tried to get me to sign a statement when the officers came for me, but I refused," he added.

Detroit police will probably be summoned here to tell their story of the confession if there is an examining trial. It was indicated, however, that their presence may not be required until Salisbury's case comes to trial, since an agreement has been reached on bond for the prisoner.

Policeman Lee was killed by a single shot from a high-powered rifle which may have been fired from the mountainside overlooking Garrett or from a nearby rooftop. The weapon was found on a roof near the scene of the shooting, but at the time authorities believed it had been tossed there by the slayer in an attempt at concealment.

easy chair. Before he looked away you could see the tears.

The neighbor walked away and up the road and at each house he told the news to those who had not heard. Some said they had had dreams and another talked about a dog that barked last night at the silent moon.

On up the creek the news went, by radio and by word of mouth. People gathered at the door as if seeking the sun. Passers-by did not ask if you had heard the news, but looked only at your face.

They who lead simple lives remember simple things, like "The greatest thing we have to fear is fear itself." The statement had given them courage like the black earth that fed them. Today the Voice was dead and they gathered in the sun. They were afraid.

CINCINNATI — The little city parking meters motorists dropped their pennies, nickels and dimes in to for parking space brought a lush $40,839.83 to the city this year. Collections for 1951 amounted to $30,181.91.

State Road Commissioner Under Three Governors Dies in Pikeville Tuesday

Zach Justice, of Pikeville, formerly state highway commissioner, died at the Methodist hospital there, Tuesday, Jan. 12, of a heart attack. He was 63 years of age.

A graduate of the University of Michigan Law School, Justice served as Pike county attorney, in the administration of Governor Flem Sampson, Ruby Laffoon, and A. B. Chandler.

As such, he was influential in constructing the Mayo Trail, now U. S. 23, which extends throughout the Big Sandy valley.

Justice was appointed as advisory commissioner for the old Seventh District in 1930 during the administration of Governor Sampson.

He also served under Governor Laffoon, but was deposed by the Governor in 1934 because of his fight against the proposed sales tax program.

With the tax a major issue, the Laffoon forces were defeated, and after the election of Governor Chandler, he again appointed Justice.

He was designated as trustee of the late James H. Hatcher estate and served for several years in that capacity, resigning because of ill health sometime ago.

How To Raise Funds In Polio Drive Talked

Wayland, Ky., Jan. 12 (Spl).—How to raise needed funds for the current Polio Drive was the main subject of discussion at last Thursday afternoon's sewing meeting of the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. J. E. Miller, Wayland, with Mrs. S. C. Berkeley as co-hostess.

Mrs. Willard Castle cited the fact that the Floyd Chapter is thousands of dollars in debt and the National Foundation's debt is in the millions from last summer's polio epidemic. Mrs. Geo. Evans, vice-president, presiding in the absence of Mrs. Frank Rasnick, called for suggestions as to the best way to raise the money needed for this cause. It was decided to have benefit card party to be held Saturday evening, January 17, at the Wayland lodge hall. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. Mrs. Willard Castle and Mrs. Fred Hall will be in charge of refreshments; Mrs. Geo. Evans and Mrs. Thomas Hatcher, in charge of tickets. Members are to meet at 10 a. m., Friday, January 16, at the lodge hall to collect tables and arrange decorations. The public is urged to attend this entertainment and do its bit toward raising the badly needed polio funds.

During the business session Mrs. Evans read several letters pertaining to the various drives which are sponsored annually by the club. It was voted unanimously to give $5 to the TB Fund, and a series of breakfasts will be held later by various members to raise money for the forthcoming Heart and Cancer drives.

Mrs. Ervin Mullins announced Mrs. Frank Rasnick had offered her resignation as president, due to the serious illness of her husband. Mrs. Geo. Evans will become president and the executive board will meet immediately to appoint a vice-president to fill the vacancy for remainder of the club year.

A dessert course was served by the hostess to the following: Mesdames Willard Castle, S. M. Martin, Fred Hall, Frank Harmon, D. C. Baldwin, E. C. Brewer, Gorman Collins, Ervin Mullins, Geo. Evans, J. C. Wells, W. T. Hatcher, and Otto Martin.

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF

In the mail is a partial list of the descendants of Jesse Spradlin, who married Sally Stone in 1820. The compilation is the work of Mrs. Paul Beckdolt, of Huntington, who visited Prestonsburg last fall.

A letter accompanying the genealogy says: "I am a descendant of Jesse Spradlin who married Sally Stone. Jesse's son James Spradlin was my father's grandfather. James was a Baptist preacher."

"My father (William Riley Spradlin, 1869-1934), never knew much about his people. His mother died when he was seven years old and I guess he stayed here and there. He went over around Salyersville and married. Then he and mother moved to Huntington in 1909. He never came back to Prestonsburg.

"All my life I have wanted to know who my father's people were. So when he died 17 years ago I started to find out something of his family. I followed every lead I ever heard of and these leads led nowhere. So I came up there where he was born . . . I went to everyone that I heard of that was a Spradlin or married a Spradlin and in November, 1952-17 years exactly from the day my father died I found a man that knew my father's family well. He was Jason Brown, father-in-law of Henry Spradlin, there in Prestonsburg."

The children of Jesse Spradlin, born 1800, and Sally Stone, born

1802, were Thomas, married Margaret Hackworth; Saul, married Polly Prater; John married Mahala Conley; Jesse; Michael, married Elizabeth Shaver; George, who was the father of Dr. Grant Spradlin; Rhoda, married Ben Holbrook; Rutha, married a Crace or Crase; Lucretia, married Thomas Hackworth; Micajah, born 1830, married 1849 Polly Patton; James, born 1830, married Polly Bayes in 1851.

A request from Mrs. Bessie Smith Ward, of Cinderella, W. Va., for information on a member of the Low (Lowe) family is passed on here. She writes: "Anne Low married, 7-12-1810, Floyd county, Kentucky, William Pinson. They were married by William McGuire (McGuire). Her marriage record says she (Anne) was of age. Does anyone know who Anne Low was? I would like to have the names of her children, if any. The 1810 census shows no Lowes living in Floyd County, Kentucky."

PETITION

To the U.S. Corps of Engineers:

Assuming that a governmental agency charged with heavy responsibility for plans and works designed for the public benefit has a commensurate interest in the desires of the people affected by the agency's work programs, plans and official acts, the undersigned respectfully submits that the interest of the more than 500,000 persons who each year visit the Dewey Reservoir in Floyd county, Ky., would be better served by the deepening of said reservoir an additional five feet above its present conservation pool.

The petitioner asks your favorable consideration of this request, for these reasons:

1. Recreation values of the reservoir would be greatly increased by such action and would directly rebound to the benefit of a section of the United States which otherwise has little or no recreational advantages such as are offered by a large impoundment of water.
2. Deepening of Dewey Lake would improve fish propagation, would increase the area of the impoundment and may, by retarding siltation, increase the life of the lake as a habitat for fish and wildlife and as an attraction to the public.
3. Addition of five feet to the present depth of Dewey Lake will not materially affect the impoundment as a flood control project, nor will this impoundment adversely affect any industrial installations within the reservoir area.
4. Furthermore, such deepening of Dewey Lake would create no onerous burden of expense or labor for the federal government or the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

The undersigned respectfully requests that the U.S. Corps of Engineers take immediate action to make possible in Dewey Lake the additional depth requested during the Spring season of 1953.

BLADES OF BLUEGRASS

By C. A. LEWIS

Lexington, Ky.—Prof. George Roberts, retired head of the Agronomy Department, has some interesting history about early bulletins reporting tests at the Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky.

The first bulletin was published in 1885. Its title was, "Do Fertilizers Affect the Quality of Tobacco?" The author, Prof. A. E. Menke, said calcium sulfate and nitrate of soda made the best tobacco.

On Jan. 4, 1886, the Experiment Station's second bulletin came off the press. It bore the title, "Corn-fodder As a Food for Stock." Experiment Station Director M. A. Scovall was the author.

In the same year of 1886 a bulletin dealt with the seeding of red clover at different dates, covered and uncovered, beginning on Feb. 2 and seeding at 10-day intervals into the first half of April. Prof. Menke was the author.

Also in 1883, a bulletin reported tests of varieties of wheat, the effect of cultivation and the spring application of fertilizers. Another bulletin reported on similar tests in 1888, with treatments to prevent smut added.

A bulletin in 1887 told about experiments with different varieties of potatoes, preparation of seed and effect of fertilizers.

The first annual report of the Experiment Station, made in 1887, contained results of an experiment applying nitrogen to bluegrass, cut at different stages of growth. The protein content ranged from 18 per cent for fertilized grass cut on May 13 down to 9 per cent for unfertilized grass cut June 9.

In the 66 years since the Experiment Station got out its first bulletin, some 20,000,000 bulletins, circulars and leaflets have been published on subjects ranging from how to control grasshoppers to how to control your weight. That's a lot of paper and ink—and that's a lot of information for the people of Kentucky.

Floyd E. Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claton Daniels, Justell, Ky., recently was promoted to sergeant while serving in Korea with the 25th Infantry Division.

His outfit has been in Korea longer than any other American division. It entered the fighting in July 1950 shortly after the attack on South Korea.

Daniels, who entered the army in March 1951, arrived in Korea early last month.

His basic training is preparing him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course includes a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD BY WILMAY

The little rascal would arrive the only time I have been gone from home at night in months. Edgar May called Tuesday to say the Maytown hill was so slick the old lady had better stay with friends, so we paid "Miss Biddie" Collins a visit. Next morning the boss called Grandma bright and early. A seven and a half pound boy. So everything is hunky-dory, as the kiddies would say.

Speaking of Miss Biddie, if you do not know her, you should. Folks who do, feel like Mrs. W. P. Mayo, who once remarked Mrs. Collins has the type of face she enjoys painting. Character visible in it. Miss Biddie and I have been friends for a quarter of a century, though we seldom get to see much of each other. It has been a lasting friendship, melowing with the years.

We are pleased as punch to note that the teachers' bulletin from the county office in Prestonsburg did not fail to rate milk above pop for school children, and ask how we can expect the pupils to drink more milk and less pop when we offer them pop for sale at recess. We have no quarrel with the soft-drink folks, like and admire all we know. We have dear friends connected with the candy-sale business to schools. But we have heard too many parents deploring the sale of these products in the schools, and seen for ourselves the result on both sides of the ledger, not to know it is a costly arrangement.

This reference may not increase our popularity, but some things are worth more than that. And when our county and state health programs scorn sweets, do not allow that type of sweets on their menus, discourage their use, as do dentists and hygiene texts, it is time more of us wake up to the accuracy of claims being published in many magazines about the aspirin-age, etc. I myself can name several children under 15 with false teeth today whose own parents say frequent use of sweets was further responsible. Any food left in the teeth throughout the day is conducive to decay. Teachers see children waste lunch money on sweets often.

An attempt was made to make this custom illegal in the state, we are told by reliable authority, but obviously lobbyists defeated the measure. We have been told that our county superintendent, while principal at Maytown, required children to have lunch first, before permitting them to go to the machines. We are not an authority, and make no pretense of knowing the answer, but feel willing to predict that time will prove for many it would be less costly to parents to GIVE their youngsters a trip in senior year than to continue making money by means that conflict with the best teaching in current texts.

Time will also prove, we believe, that Winnie is right: Moscow is the place to end the war. History shows clearly that Russia keeps her skirts clear, while stirring up strife between or among other nations. Often do we recall the words of Madam Chiang Kai Shek, pleading with America for arms, when China had the manpower to repulse the Reds.

Shucks, there were several errors in the column last week, and nary a sign in the carbon. Somebody must have had it in for us this year just 'cause we're trying to teach English for the first time. It's a job, but we manage to ply Lessie Hatcher and Thelma Daniels—oldsters at the task—more or less. That-a-way, Mr. Price gets only part of our questions and thinks we're only half as green as we be!

T'other day when exams were over and we got out early to go home to finish grading papers. Mr. Price asked how everything went. We just up and told him 'bout a strange experience. One boy in 9th grade, who had been a low-mark man the entire year, had gone skyhigh on history, to our surprise. To save our life we could not account for it, and had commented on same to the best looking man on Sandy, at home the night before. We knew the chap had not cheated, for we kept a close eye out and can truthfully say Wayland is remarkably free of such. He had sat by his pal, who has a higher average but made less on the exam. Comparison showed their answers not at all alike. When we told Mr. Price who it was he grinned, and said, "He wants to make the team, and promised Coach and me to do his level best this time. He has been studying hard, and his IQ is really very good. He has just never taken much interest in classes."

There we had supposed the poor kid couldn't do better. He loves to sit with his head in the newspaper during library periods. This and other cases make one fear that too many of our modern theories are the bunk. For example: pass them whether they make it or not. This trend accounts for the high percentage of failures today. What kid will work hard if he knows he will get by regardless? It is a good way to discourage laziness.

CPL. DAY IN 3RD. DIVISION
 Carl W. Day, son of Mrs. Amma S. Day, Estill, Ky., was recently promoted to corporal, while serving in Korea with the 3rd Infantry Div.
 During the winter of 1951, this outfit cracked the Communist's line in the battle of "Bloody Angle," one of the bitterest engagements of that year.
 Corporal Day, who entered the Army in September 1951, arrived in Korea last March and is serving as a driver in the division's 3rd Reconnaissance Company.
 Steps in furniture refinishing by homemakers in Nicholas county included removing dents and bruises, bleaching, sanding, toning colors in the wood and use of raw linseed oil and turpentine.
