EXPERT ADVICE

Sometimes, even the government recognizes the mess of red tape that entangles and hinders its work. A Floyd county man served in the army and when discharged was given a disability rating. Back in civilian life, he converted his insurance and during the process of conversion the Veterans Administration wrote him this piece of advice:

Allow the government to deduct the insurance premium from the disability check, for if a question of continuance of disability rating ever comes up the danger of being "cut off" is not great. It would involve too much red tape.

THE GREENS DEPARTMENT

Spring is already half-sprung, and we must report that Watt Hale, of West Prestonsburg, is on the track of something big. Thinking about it, we're unable to decide if it is something new in the botanical world or just what the doctor ordered for everybody past a certain age. Let Mr. Hale tell the story:

"Other day, I met up with one of my old friends, and our conversation drifted into the prospects of an early sallet crop, basing our predictions on the open winter and a few signs you wouldn't know anything about.

"We ran down the list of wild greens such as polk, speckled dock, sour dock and other varieties without which I doubt if there'd be a man, woman or child among us living to tell the tale. Then my friend came up with a new one I had never heard of, and I thought I was acquainted with them all.

"The name of this new variety of greens, the fellow said, is Tangle Gut. I asked him where the name came from but he just smiled at me like I was foolish or something, and went ahead telling me about it.

"In case, he said, somebody may want to try some of this TG, let's call it, and don't know it when they see it, it's something between Mouse Ear and Bear Paw. I would recommend," my friend said, "plenty of hog's jaw or side meat if you have the nerve to try it."

"According to my friend, this herb is very rejuvenating and seems to possess a rare vitamin which is not well-known to man. With the scant

NO MURDER TRIAL SEEN AT SESSION

Term May Be Second In Row Sans Murder; Jury Lists Released

As of this week, the April term of the Floyd circuit court promises to be the second criminal session in a row at which there will not be a murder defendant for either trial or indictment.

A murder indictment still hangs over Mrs. Milt Hunt and Marion Yates in the slaying at Harold, several months ago, of Jake Salisbury, but it is admitted there is a slim chance that the two will ever be brought to trial. Milt Hunt was convicted of the slaying and penned for two years.

Crime apparently had hit a new low in the county this week when only four men were prisoners in the county jail. This is believed to be the smallest jail population in a generation.

The next court term will begin April 6. Jurors for that session were drawn Wednesday by Judge E. P. Hill. Names of petit and grand jurors follow:

FALL VICTIM RITES HELD

Josh T. Williams, 62, Dies in 250-Foot Fall; Was P'Burg Resident

Josh Tye Williams, 62 years old, well-known Prestonsburg drilling contractor, was instantly killed late last Thursday afternoon in a fall over a precipice on Grapevine Creek, Pike county, where he was directing a drilling operation.

The tragedy was not witnessed. Mr. Williams and an employe had gone to a neighborhood grocery store and made purchases of food. Driving along a narrow trail leading to their shanty and the drilling rig, his companion, who was driving a jeep, left Mr. Williams in the car to take the groceries to their living quarters, it was said. When he returned Mr. Williams was missing.

The Prestonsburg man had fallen an estimated 250 feet over a cliff. Death was ascribed to multiple skull injuries.

A native of Barboursville, Ky., Mr. Williams came to Prestonsburg 24 years ago. Here, he had a wide circle of friends and business associates. He was a veteran of World War I, and was a son of James and Elizabeth Vaughn Williams.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ethel Brook Williams, two daughters, Mrs. Eloise Sturgill, of Hazard, and Miss Mary Martha Williams, Prestonsburg, one son, Lt. Josh T. Williams, U. S. Army.

RULES COURT WITHIN RIGHTS

In Paying Assistant Of Tax Commissioner; Opinion by Williams

The Floyd fiscal court had a legal right to appropriate funds for the salary of assistants to Tax Commissioner Clive Akers, wrote Hal Williams, assistant Attorney General, in reply last week to Mr. Akers request for a ruling on the legality of such procedure.

The query was made after the Floyd County Good Government Taxpayers League had filed suit against the Tax Commissioner and the court, alleging payments so made were illegal.

Akers explained to the Attorney General's office that the fiscal court has undertaken to pay a salary of $150 a month to a clerk to maintain maps, lists, charts and other equipment in his office which were supplied him by the court to assist in assessing property in the county. Citing KRS 132.605 (1) which provides for the purchase and supply to the Tax Commissioner of necessary maps and other materials necessary for a complete and accurate assessment of property, Williams wrote:

"From a common sense viewpoint the initial supply of such equipment rapidly becomes obsolete because of improvements added to property in existence at the time such maps and charts were made, and changes due to fires, floods and other natural causes, changes in ownership by deed, devise or intestacy, annexations, new sub-divisions and many other changes require constant attention on the county's investment soon becomes valueless. Obviously, therefore, in order for such material to be of continuing value to the county tax commis-

JUDGE OKEHS NEW CHANGES

Dividing Six Precincts, Altering Lines of 7th; Denies Hatcher Motion

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill last Friday denied the motion of S. R. Hatcher, of Allen, for a court order to require County Judge Henry Stumbo to create more than the six new voting precincts Stumbo had made two days earlier by dividing old precincts which had a topheavy registration.

Only one other division was strongly urged, and this was that of Wayland precinct. Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin protested Judge Hill's ruling, pointing out that Wayland not only has 606 registered voters but also that 429 of these voted at the last election. Division of Garrett, he said, was not so strongly argued, although it had a registration of 605. Only 356 persons voted there at the last election, however, Martin said.

Kentucky law provides for the establishing of precincts so as to have them form votings of not more than 350 persons.

In his court appearance Judge Stumbo pointed out the divisions he had made, remarking he would undertake others if the court felt other new precincts should be made.

Richmond precinct No. 55, formed from Prestonsburg No. 1; Trimble Branch precinct No. 56, from Prestonsburg No. 2; New Allen No. 57 from Mouth Beaver No. 10; Sizemore No. 58 from John Art and Drift precincts; Gayheart No. 59.

Mrs. Dale Summerville, the presiding officer, presented Mrs. J. T. Parker, the Council past president pin.

Highlight of this program was the presentation by Miss Virginia Hatcher of the Council's "Thank-You" pin to William Crawford, of David, in recognition of his services to the Girl Scouts.

Ten-year service pins were awarded to Mrs. Lon B. Rogers, Pikeville, and Mrs. William Crawford, David; and five-year pins to Mrs. Franklin Day, Miss Fanny May Howell, Mrs. A. H. Jopp, Mrs. Robert Johnson and Mrs. G. Bartley, all of Pikeville; Mrs. R. V. May, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Anna B. Smather, Wheelwright, and Mrs. Enno van Gelder, of David.

Mrs. Dale Summerville, the presiding officer, presented Mrs. J. T. Parker, the Council past president pin. Mrs. J. T. Parker, of Wheelwright, and Mrs. Ray Howard, of Prestonsburg, were recommended by the Nominating committee as delegates to the national Girl Scout convention to be held in October at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Court To Decide on Official Expenses

Floyd-co. Teachers' Meet Is Announced by Howard

The Floyd county Teachers Association will hold its annual meeting at the McDowell consolidated school, Friday, March 27, it was stated by D. W. Howard, president of the association, this week.

Howard stated that every teacher in the county is a member and urged them to attend. "An inspirational and instructional program is being planned. An excellent menu will be prepared and the McDowell high school lunch room will favor us with a lunch," he added.

CHILDREN WIN DAMAGE SUIT

Filed Against Kazez, Bond Firm in Death Of Mrs. Blackburn

The jury, last Wednesday, awarded the plaintiffs judgement of $3,500.

On trial in circuit court here Wednesday was the $25,000 damage suit filed by Lloyd McCown and other children of Mrs. Elmer Blackburn against Bill Kazez, former Prestonsburg policeman, whose shot killed Mrs. Blackburn here three years ago.

The suit named as defendants, in addition to Kazez, the Employers Liability Insurance Corporation, the City of Prestonsburg, Chief of Police Epp Laferty and individual bondsmen. Circuit Judge Edw. P. Hill, however, dismissed plaintiffs' cases against all but Kazez and Employers Liability.

The amount of Kazez's bond with Employers Liability was $2,500 and as a result of dismissal of the case against the city and others the amount recoverable may be no more than that amount.

Only Two Floyd Schools Fire-Proof, Says Report

Only two school buildings in Floyd county are of fire-proof construction, and 216 children are attending classes in rooms not intended for use as classrooms.

These are some of the facts unearthed by the Local Legislative Research Committee on Education answers were made to a questionnaire inquiry into county school conditions.

Facts, some of them shocking to local educators, and other data on the bright side are the result of an honest effort by persons interested in the schools to approach Floyd school problems in scientific and realistic fashion. The committee's report on school buildings was compiled under the direction of Otis Spurlock, committee chairman.

The findings are answers to a questionnaire on school buildings sent out by the Kentucky Legislative Research Commission. Other pertinent and interesting facts are the following on school buildings: One room school in the county, 72; two-room, 22; three-room, eight; four to six rooms, seven; seven to twelve rooms, five. Four schools have 13 to 20 classrooms, three schools have more than 20 classrooms.

VALLEY ASS'N NAMES GROUP

To Assemble Information For Waterway Hearing Expected Next Month

Members of the Big Sandy Valley Association executive committees from the several counties of this section met at Paintsville Sunday afternoon to continue with plans for presentation of the valley's case for canalization at a Senate committee hearing which is expected early next month.

Named to the executive committee from this county at a meeting of Floyd members of the Association's board of directors last Thursday evening were Marvin Music, A. J. May and Mayor Curtis Clark, of Prestonsburg.

At the Paintsville meeting Dr. O. W. Thompson and Tom Raney, of Pikeville, Harry LaViers and J. W. Wells, of Paintsville, were named to a committee to round up witnesses and prepare data for the Washington hearing. Dr. Thompson is president of the Association, and Mr. Raney is international board member of the United Mine Workers. Mr. LaViers is a coal operator, and Wells is mayor of Paintsville.

The executive committee was authorized to employ C. J. Neekamp, rate specialist, to prepare schedules of transportation costs to be entered as hearing testimony. An engineer will also be employed. Lon C. Hill, Prestonsburg, was named a new director of the Association to succeed Paul C. Combs, also of Prestonsburg.

Preceding last Thursday's board of directors meeting here, Dr. Thompson exhibited a film on inland waterways at the Kiwanis Club meeting at the Center Grill.

A drive to raise funds to cover the cost of work to be done in this latest move for canalization of the Levisa and Tug forks of the Big Sandy is now under way in every county of the area.

CITY PRISONER FILES AFFIDAVIT TELLING 'JUDGE PRO-TEM' ACT OF TWO WHO FINED HIM AND JAILMATE, THEN RELEASED THEM

Prestonsburg Policeman Amos Gray reported this week the case of two men temporarily abrogating the office of Police Judge last Saturday night.

After Charles Gibson and Arnold Rowe, both of the Middle Creek section, had been lodged in the city jail by Gray and Policeman Bill Potter, they had visitors. The callers were Bill Hunt and Bill Vaughan, Jr., according to Gibson's affidavit, and they went about collecting from the prisoners.

Gibson said he and Rowe were informed that for $22.50 they would be released. He paid $10 in cash and placed his class ring in pawn till next Saturday. Rowe paid $20, with the understanding there was a balance of $2.50 due.

Whereupon one of the two—Vaughan said it was Hunt—unlocked the door, and the prisoners went their way. The key had been found by one of the two in a desk drawer outside the jail while the room was vacant. Vaughan denied collecting from the prisoners.

The city usually charges only $22 drunken fine, and Gibson and Rowe this week had that still facing them.

The Story That Walked Past Us Almost Every Day Was Not Seen

Some newspaper people have uncommonly poor eyesight. Us, for example.

On a recent afternoon desperation gripped us. We saw visions of a Page 1 without one story of feature interest. What to do? Then there hobbled across our field of vision a feature story.

We had seen the story many times, and yet had not recognized it. A little, old woman, hobbling to and from a car or taxicab to go about her appointed rounds in a work to which she has devoted all of her adult years. A neighbor, only a few doors from this office.

Our "feature story on the hoof" is Miss Annie Allen. Hers is not a story of derring-do, or one of sensational achievement. It is, rather, a thing of the spirit, this story of "Miss Annie".

See her in her room in the home here of Mrs. Byrd C. Goble, hear her "I'm doing right well, thank you," and then realize that those two cords tied to either post at the foot of her four-poster bed are there for her to pull on and thus rise from a reclining position or even to turn over in bed, then see her brave all weather to continue, despite every pain and physical infirmity, her work as a missionary with the Missionary Baptist Church—know these things, and you realize that hers is the story of a great spirit.

Folks hesitate to speak in her presence of her sufferings from arthritis, of the weakness of her 75 years. For she says, "The Lord has been so good to me," and they feel a gentle chastisement.

Officers Nab Four Game Law Violators

Opening of the gigging season and a pick-up in fishing kept conservation officers busy over the week-end, checking licenses and inspecting catches. As a result, four persons were arrested by Officers Raymond Copley and Bernard Baldrige.

Joe Patrick and Albert Stone were booked at the county jail for fishing without a license, and Jack Lawson was fined $24.50 by Magistrate Ellis Martin on the same charge. The same fine was assessed by County Judge Henry Stumbo from Charles Akers, who was arrested while in possession of a small bass which he allegedly had gigged. Earlier in the week, Wells Deskins was fined $24.50 by Judge Stumbo for keeping pet squirrels without a permit. The squirrels were released in the Dewey Lake area.

But this is not really a feature story of our own. It is as much a book review as a feature yarn, for Miss Annie's story already has been written. Several months ago, on assignment from the Missionary Baptist Church, Nan Trantham Poe, of Virginia, did her story in a book which is beautifully titled, "Beautiful upon the Mountains".

Here is the story of Miss Annie Allen from her birth in Todd county, Ky., in 1877 to the present; of her girlhood and her early interest in religion, of her 13 years as a teacher, and then how she found her place in the mission field. One estimate of receipts, and this procedure drew criticism from some officials or ex-officials. Only minor items of expense connected with the office of Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley and Former County Clerk Jarvis Allen were included in the report, and these were items the accountants accumulated from county and state records. Both are yet to report salaries paid, among other expenses.

PURGE NOTICE AGAIN GIVEN

List of Voters Slated For Purgation Printed At Expense of Moore

The list of voters submitted by the Floyd County Registration and Purgation Board for publication and purgation is again being published this week, this time at the expense of County Clerk DuRan Moore.

The fiscal court had authorized publication of the list a second time at county expense, but Moore said he decided to bear the cost so that there would be no question of causing the county additional expense.

Re-publication of the list, the County Clerk explained, is being made to make certain all possible names will be given voters that their names will be removed from the lists unless they show proof that they are legal voters of the precincts where they are registered.

Actual purgation of the voting lists will be made 30 days after this week's publication of the list, Moore said.

"The purgation board did a good job, but there always is the possibility of error, and I think it is worthwhile to give this second notice," Mr. Moore said. "The first publication of names was split up over a period of three weeks, and because of this it is possible some failed to see their names. Anyway, this will not delay purgation to the extent of keeping the work of the board from becoming effective well in advance of the primary election."

AUDIT REPORT ON OFFICIALS' INCOME MADE

Accounting Firm Notes Expense Items Missing; Findings Inconclusive

The William Cotton Company, Louisville accountants, submitted Monday to the fiscal court complete reports of its findings on receipts and expenses of the various Floyd county officials, but not until next Wednesday's meeting of the court will net incomes be established.

The court will meet next week for the special purpose of passing on the claims of the several officials to deductions for office expenses.

Because no official had kept formal record of all his expenses, William Cotton, senior member of the accounting firm, explained, the auditors could arrive at no conclusive figure as to office expenses, could only enter the expenses listed by the officials and then leave conclusive action to the fiscal court.

In presenting the report, Mr. Cotton said the firm feels that statements of receipts have been procured from county and state sources with a fair degree of accuracy.

Where some records were not available the auditors arrived at an estimate of receipts, and this procedure drew criticism from some officials or ex-officials. Only minor items of expense connected with the office of Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley and Former County Clerk Jarvis Allen were included in the report, and these were items the accountants accumulated from county and state records. Both are yet to report salaries paid, among other expenses.

CITY GIVES UP POLICE RADIO

Two Resign City Work, Council Talks Plans To Improve Streets

Prestonsburg's two-way police radio system which has not been in use since Mayor Curtis Clark temporarily relinquished active control of his office during his candidacy for Congress last fall, is being returned to the company from which it was purchased, Mayor Clark said this week.

The purchase price had not been paid, and the seller agreed to accept return of the equipment. Police had objected to its use on the grounds that the patrol car motor was kept running, using considerable gasoline, in order to keep the radio communication working. Mayor Clark insisted the system was needed, and proved itself in at least one instance in which a burglar was arrested before he left the building into which he had broken, and had otherwise proved itself in many other towns and cities over the country.

Monday evening's City Council session was marked by the resignation of two city employes. Bill Fitzpatrick resigned as tax collector to assume charge of a West Prestonsburg grocery store, and the Rev. M. Robert Regan, who has been acting as special collector of delinquent taxes, was named his successor.

"Red" Clarke resigned as traffic policeman to accept a job as salesman with a private company, but the Council did not name a successor. The regular police force will handle his duties, it was said.

Eddie Worland, city engineer, will make a survey within the next few days, the Council was told, of the section above Prestonsburg to be annexed and fix the new city boundaries at or near the J. H. Cooley home and including residences in the nearby new development.

The lodge will be completed in time for use this year, it is expected.

Burchett Trucking Company, bulldozing and trucking; Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, air compressor; H. L. Mayo, culvert; N. M. White, Jr., explosives; John W. Straton, engineering.

Contributions of work and materials by these firms and individuals on the work already done has been acknowledged by the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council.

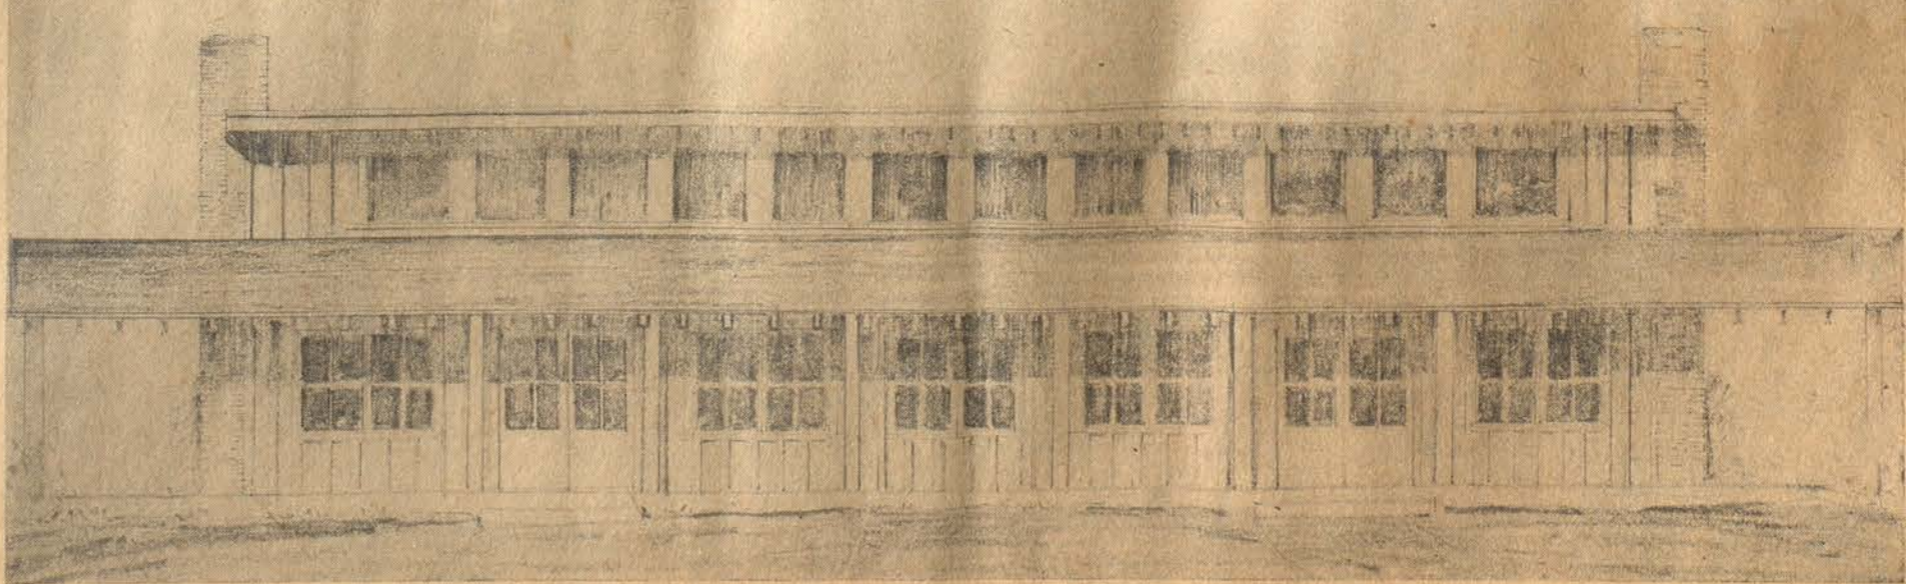

Partially completed is the road leading up to the campsite. Contract on construction of the main lodge will be awarded, soon after March 25, it was said.

Grading of the site began March 4 and has been completed.

Shown above is the architects' conception of the lodge soon to be under construction in the Goble Branch area of Dewey reservoir for use by Girl Scouts of the Sandy Valley Council.

The structure will be 64 feet in length by 30 feet wide and will accommodate at one time 100 Girl Scouts. Tent sites will be located on the elevation directly above the lodge.

sioner, it must be maintained to a continuous present level of accuracy. The only possible way to do this is by some individual to make the day changes as the information is gathered. That it is to the interest of the fiscal court to see that such changes are so made is too obvious for comment. "Cognate statutes as those relating to the amount paid to the county tax commissioner for assistants and the supplies furnished to his office, and for the maintenance of those supplies, must be read together to ascertain the intent of the Legislature. To do otherwise would be to not only fail to follow the fundamental principle that statutes relating to the same general subject matter must be read together, but would close the door to one of the main objectives of such statutes bringing about the most complete and accurate assessment of county property as it is possible to obtain. It is our opinion, therefore, that the salary paid by the Floyd county fiscal court to an individual to maintain the records furnished by such court to the County Tax Commissioner is a valid and lawful expenditure of such court's funds under the provisions of KRS 132.605."

BEGINNING at Big Sandy river at the lower line of Banner May farm; thence with the line of Banner May farm across U. S. 23 to the top of the ridge; thence around the ridge up the river to the lower ridge of Daniels Creek; thence down the ridge and across U.S. Highway to Big Sandy river; thence down the river to the beginning.

GIVE SCHOOLS OFFSHORE OIL

Is Plea of Perkins Before House Body; Cites Court Rule

WASHINGTON — Representative Perkins today told a House judiciary subcommittee that offshore oil is "a valuable property belonging to all the people and not just a few favored states."

"Let's not give it away—let's give it to the schools," the Hindman Democrat urged.

He warned that "perhaps this view of the increased tax load will be our only opportunity, in the people are carrying, to do something for our schools without raising the taxpayers' tax bills one penny."

Earlier, three congressmen urged the subcommittee to approve bills that would quit-claim all federal rights to offshore lands.

Representative Willis (D., La.), Walter (D. Pa.), and Utt (R. Cal.) attacked the statements by Attorney General Brownell that states should not be given ownership, but only the authority to develop the submerged lands.

"We want full title," Utt declared. "We won't settle for a license."

Perkins testified in favor of a bill he introduced January 5 to give royalties from the so-called tideland oil to educational grants-in-aid.

He said there has been much confusion about tidelands and offshore oil and mineral rights. The Federal Government makes no claim to the tidelands, meaning the lands covered by the flow and ebb of the tides, Perkins said.

"The Supreme Court has decided that the tidelands belong to the states," he said.

But he added, the Supreme Court also has decided that the submerged lands of the continental shelf adjacent to the shores of California, Louisiana, and Texas, and extending many miles seaward, belong to the United States.

"Instead of trying to decide what kind of a quit-claim deed to give a few states, this subcommittee should consider foremost how the Federal Government can keep and use these lands for the national interest," Perkins said.

"Any legislation vesting ownership in the states would constitute an outright gift of property owned by the 48 states to a chosen few, an act of discrimination contrary to national interest," the Kentuckian said.

Perkins noted that since he introduced his bill, Harry Truman, while President, issued an executive order transferring the off-shore oil deposits from the Interior Department to the Navy.

"Oil, as we all know, is the lifeblood of the Navy," Perkins said. "Today we are importing oil by the millions of barrels monthly. We are no longer an exporting nation, but an importing nation, insofar as oil is concerned."

If a national emergency develops, "it might be like looking back over the folly of a misspent youth (with the United States) required to turn right around and buy oil back at handsome prices after we have given away this valuable mineral," he said.

Perkins said he would be glad to amend his bill so that it would take effect on the date the submerged lands are withdrawn from the status of a naval petroleum reserve.

Perkins spoke of what educational lacks are doing to the armed services.

"Another alarming fact is that from July, 1950, to last January 1, there have been examined for military service in the United States 2,898,459 young men. Of this number, 422,450 failed the mental examination. In other words, 14.6 per cent failed," he declared.

"In Kentucky, from the beginning of Korea to last January 1, some 72,055 young men have been examined to military service. Of these, 17,969 failed the mental examination, or 24.9 per cent."

When conditions like these exist, Perkins asserted, Congress should take some action.

would wish the story contained more dates as a matter of information; too, that it had been written less from the angle of her particular church, for this is a story not only sinners even as you and I but also members of other churches should read.

Reading, one follows the missionary first to McVeigh, Pike county, sometime before 1920, where prejudice and superstition and plain ignorance were ready for her and others who sought to minister to the spiritual needs of the community. You see Miss Annie holding a dying child during the influenza epidemic of 1918-1919 after its mother had despaired, see her preparing the little body for burial, comforting the bereaved, and even conducting the burial service. With her always was the thought, "I must hurry. People are dying—and they don't know the way home!"

Tragedy, hardships, disappointments, rebuffs, these she met in her stays over the years at various mining towns—at McVeigh, Elk-horn City, Garrett, Allen, Pikeville, in this section—and at Vanceburg, Greenup and Ashland. But always the spirit of the woman, submissive to the Higher Will, emerged triumphant, her place among the people firmly fixed and her teachings to young and old securely founded.

The book has its spots of light dappling the shadows, and one of these brighter interludes was the case of the woman to whom a doctor sent Miss Allen. The woman had what they called "the bloody flux," and she was nursing her young baby. The infant was slowly starving to death and the physician had not the ability or the time to convince the mother. So Miss Annie was sent.

"It's against nature!" the weakened mother railed. "If God wanted babies fed out of tin cans, He'd never have made mother's milk."

But gently, tactfully Miss Allen worked. And finally the sick woman agreed. The baby was given canned milk, and it thrived. Later, the grateful mother told Miss Allen she had planned to let the youngster grow up and name herself, but things having come to pass as they had, she had decided on a name. The child was named Annie Carnation!

"There were other towns to which the missionary went to remain until the work she had set out to do had progressed until another could take over. There was Beauty and Tomahawk.

She went to Tomahawk in Martin county as quickly as she could after hearing the news of the cult slaying there of an aged woman by her two sons. These strapping men had preached that "without the shedding of blood there is no redemption," and their old mother had offered herself up as a "willing sacrifice" and had died at her sons' hands.

The grandson and granddaughter of the victim were among the first converts after Annie Allen began working in the community.

Her work with youth has been particularly successful, and she introduced for her church the first Daily Vacation Bible School held in this section. She continues as leader of youth work for Enterprise Association.

In between the beginning of her monumental service to the people of this section and the present there were months of hospitalization from tuberculosis. Otherwise, her work has been almost unbroken.

Her voice now is weaker, but the voice she hears speaks clear. Each step is a little harder to take, but she walks the same path she has followed almost all her years.

When friends remonstrate that she should rest more, should take better care of herself, she replies, "The Lord will let me know when it is time for me to stop."

The title of the book very appropriately is taken from this verse found in Isaiah:

"How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings . . ."

1952 COUNTY SAVINGS HIGH

Floyd's Bank Deposits For Year Were Equal To $182 Per Capita

(Special to The Times)

NEW YORK — Savings were at a high level in Floyd county during the past year, exceeding the "nest egg" gains recorded in most other parts of the county.

The findings, a barometer of good times, are based on a report just released by the Federal Reserve System, showing bank deposits in every county in the United States as of the end of the last fiscal year.

Deposits in Floyd county savings and commercial banks reached the high figure of $10,098,000, gain of 64.4 percent over the $6,147,000 reported by the Federal Reserve after a previous survey, conducted in 1944.

This rise compares favorably with that shown by the nation's banks generally in the period, 48.4 percent. It is also better than the composite advance made by banks in the East-South Central States, 44.6 percent, and in the state of Kentucky, 41.3 percent.

The figures include time deposits (savings accounts) and demand deposits (checking accounts) of individuals, partnerships and corporations, but exclude interbank and Governmental deposits.

The local bank holdings represent $182 on deposit for every man, woman and child in the county.

Commenting on the situation, the Federal Reserve points out: "The expansion in deposits of business and individuals which accompanied the growth in bank credit in 1952 has been largely in the form of time deposits and only to a moderate extent in demand deposits—a development which contributed to sustained high level activity without further inflation."

The Institute of Life Insurance, discussing the trend, states: "For the individual and for society as a whole, savings of the present size and wide distribution . . . symbolize a further extension of both protection and potential purchasing power."

The Owensboro Rotary Club will grow three acres of tobacco for the benefit of the crippled children's fund.

Preceding the play was the regular business sessions at which names of nominees for office were presented by Mrs. Robert Hughes. Nominees were: Mrs. Woodrow Allen, president; Mrs. Ernest Osborne, vice-president; Mrs. Pauline Hereford, secretary; Mrs. Milton Cyrus, treasurer.

On behalf of the Board of Education, Supt. Chalmer H. Frazier thanked the P.-T.A. for the more than 20 items of classroom equipment given to the school this year.

Resources That Belong To the Nation

CONGRESSMAN Carl D. Perkins' plan for use of off-shore oil deposits would serve a two-fold purpose for the national benefit and would prevent the surrender of this resource to the benefit of only a few coastal states.

It would make this oil the property of the United States and at the same time turn to the benefit of all the schools in all the states the funds accruing from royalties on that oil.

Off-shore oil, it should be emphasized, is not tidelands oil. The oil which may be developed from tidelands—that is to say, the territory covered by the ebb and flow of the tides—has already been declared by the Supreme Court the property of the states. The same court, on the other hand, has held that the oil in the continental shelf out beyond this range of the tides belongs to the nation.

Attorney General Brownell himself urged that ownership of this off-shore wealth should not be vested in the states. He has asked that the states be given authority to develop it but not to own it outright.

The Congressman argues quite effectively that perhaps "this will be our only opportunity, in view of the increased tax load the people are carrying, to do something for our schools without raising the taxpayers' tax bills one penny."

This is a matter which has to do with a great natural resource, oil, and our greatest national resource, the country's youth; and the Congress should give first consideration to the latter, not to the desires of only a few states.

In Appreciation

THE Times and its readers would be unfeeling if they did not appreciate the friendly and helpful attitude shown by Conservation Commissioner Henry Ward and, of course, Governor Wetherby in the matter of a state park at Dewey Lake.

Time was when not all state officials were willing to go out of their way to consider the pleas of this section of the state. And memory of such times make all the more memorable the stand the Governor and Mr. Ward have taken, admitting the needs of this section, expressing a desire to help and actually promising help when and if funds are available.

There are metropolitan centers such as the Covington-Newport area which will resent attention of this sort to our needs, but their arguments are fallacious. Governor Wetherby and Commissioner Ward know the disadvantages under which we of this section have lived and worked for generations—handicaps which would have long ago discouraged others of more fortunate sections—and The Times has an idea the protests of the envious will not deter them from doing the right and proper thing.

TO THE CITIZENS AND VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Since I graduated from law school and received my license to practice law, citizens and voters from every section of Floyd county have urged me to become a candidate for public office. I fully realize the task of making a campaign for public office is no easy one and but for the confidence and respect the good people of this county have shown me I would not have the courage to try.

There has been considerable pressure exerted on me and my friends and relatives during the past few weeks by my announced opposition, trying to dissuade me from becoming a candidate.

Being of the opinion that Floyd county needs a lawyer in the office of County Judge, and being further of the opinion that the citizens of this county need a county judge whose every act and decision will not be controlled and directed by the County Attorney, I hereby submit my candidacy for County Judge, earnestly soliciting the vote, support and influence of every one.

Respectively,

Announcing Bill Hall For SHERIFF

ed his receipts for the years 1947, 1948 and 1949 as $16,572.14, less expenses and deductions of $9,708, and has filed with the fiscal court a claim of $5,782.17 as the balance due him. The auditors, on the other hand, included an estimated $2,750 as having been received by him each of the three years in fees in civil cases.

Jailer Guy Horn was another who did not reconcile his figures with the auditors for the years 1950 and 1951, and for each year he showed less income and heavier expenses than that shown by the accountants.

The accounting firm was unable to contact Ex-Jailer Everett W. Collins for an expense statement.

County Judge Henry Stumbo commented that he expects every individual concerned to be given fair treatment at the hands of the fiscal court when it passes on the figures submitted. Judge Stumbo added that the full report would be spread on the court records.

The reports filed, including individual statements to the several officials and former officials and bound volumes covering all offices, follow as to receipts and expenses as they appear in the audit:

Ex-County Judge Davidson—
Receipts: 1947, $9,665.07; 1948, $9,427.41; 1949, $8,083.35. Expenses, including refunds on cash advanced, fees paid Ex-Magistrate Glenn Burchett but charged to him by the auditors, and fees collected by neither, over the three-year period: $9,708.

County Judge Henry Stumbo—

Ex-County Clerk Jarvis Allen—
Receipts: 1947, $21,032.73; 1948, $22,333.85; 1949, $25,589.50. Expenses taken by auditors from court claims: 1947, $1,295.78; 1948, $1,072.22; 1949, $1,472.24.

Bill Hall, Sheriff candidate.

To the People of Floyd County:

Among the five candidates for sheriff, four years ago, 2,862 of you cast your vote for me, Bill Hall. I ran second in that race four years ago, an honor for which I am deeply grateful to the people of Floyd county. I respected and honored the right and the integrity of those who cast their vote for the other four candidates.

Since that race four years ago and especially during the last few weeks many of those who cast their vote for the other candidates have come to me, pledged their support, and urged that I announce myself as a candidate for sheriff in the coming Democratic primary.

I now earnestly solicit your vote and influence and when elected I pledge to the people of Floyd county four years of HONEST ADMINISTRATION. I pledge to the taxpayers I will keep proper records of all my receipts and expenditures and at the end of each year as required by K.R.S. 61.290, I shall file a sworn statement of them in the local newspaper, and send a copy of the sworn publication to the state auditor as required by law. I shall list only those expenses as are authorized by law and for my services I shall retain only the amount that I am legally entitled to.

When elected to the office of sheriff I will not be controlled by any clique or group of politicians. All men and especially those young men of draft age will be treated as every mother wants her son to be treated for every young man wherever he may be and whatever he has done has a mother who expects only decent treatment at the hands of the law.

For an HONEST ADMINISTRATION, for decent treatment at the hands of the law, for STRICT but FAIR enforcement, vote for, nominate and elect BILL HALL. FOR A BETTER FLOYD COUNTY Your Friend, BILL HALL (Pol. Adv.)

ONE-TIME OFFENDER

Bill Goebel, co-owner of the Ben Franklin Store here, recently ran across proof that somebody had turned over a new leaf. Under a counter he found an envelope containing 60 cents and this note: "Here is pay for the only thing I ever stole—a 59-cent pen and pencil set, years ago. Forgive me and God bless you. One who wants to do right."

Bill is as ready to forgive and forget as the judge in the news-story printed the other day about the man in his nineties who was haled into court for disorderly conduct. "Were you ever in court before?" the judge asked. "Once," was the reply. "When?" "In 1887," was the answer. "Case dismissed," the judge said.

WANT A ONE-LEGGED FISHERMAN?

Now, we come to that certain epistle this week wherein a man whose name is given as James Kelly Profit, of 2841 Holman St., Dayton, Ohio, points out that he is much in need of a home and somebody to care for him. Object, matrimony. "I will marry some lady who can give me a home and the necessary things of life. Am a Christian. Age 47, weight 176, height 6 feet, left leg off. Love fishing."

He didn't ask for advice, but we would have warned him against making that last admission.

GAME REFUGE AREA POSTED

12,000 Acres of Land Around Lake To Form Sanctuary for Game

Conservation officers working under the supervision of E. R. Burke, Seventh conservation district supervisor, last week completed the work of posting approximately 12,000 acres of land in the Dewey reservoir area which thus was converted by the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources into a game refuge.

The area posted includes all government-owned lands from a point below the Dewey dam to the mouth of Brushy. The regulation sign used by the Department was posted, but signs prepared especially for the area will replace these later.

The work effected forbids hunting of any kind except for migratory waterfowl in season. Training of dogs in the area also is forbidden. Already pen-reared turkeys have been released in the area, and Larry Gale, of the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, said recently that Virginia white-tail deer will be released in the refuge this year. Wild-trapped turkeys may also be added during 1953.

No hunting will be allowed, Mr. Burke said, until such time as when there is a surplus of game in the area. By creating a surplus of game in the protected area, the Department holds, stocking of adjoining lands will result as the game spills over the boundaries of the reserve. Burke also said the Department plans some migratory waterfowl development at the lake this year with the planting of food plots.

The permanent posting signs to be erected later around the entire area will read: "Posted, Dewey Refuge Restoration Area. No Hunting Except Migratory Waterfowl. U. S. Corps of Engineers, Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources."

BUNNY WHO WENT TO SCHOOL PLAYING TRUANT THIS YEAR

It was Sparky the rabbit that went to school. A rabbit so named attended the school of Mrs. Frankie Best at Cliff, last year. Like a lot of pupils in any school, he didn't study any but he got a report card just the same. All pupils do, you know.

Sparky entered the Cliff school when Mrs. Best's son Stephen received him as a gift from Kelse Vaughan who was going into the armed forces. Stephen took him to school. After that he no longer belonged to Stephen. He became the property of all the pupils and settled down to living in the school-room.

His first month was spent in a cage. At the end of that time he was given the run of the house. Each Friday a different pupil took him home for a week-end. When the pupils studied Jesse Stuart's "Hi to the Hunters" and read therein about the adventures of Sparky, the country boy, the rabbit was named.

Sparky's grades were decided by the children. They never gave him A on department, for he chewed up pencils and nibbled apples in the desks. Then, too, when Miss Pugsley and Miss Wood, the missionaries, came to instruct in religious matters, Sparky interrupted the devotionals or lessons. He was especially fond of both of them. He would come around after they had started a lesson and prance and hop nearby until one of them would recognize his attendance. After recognition was accorded by a pat on the head, he hopped upon a desk and remained still. Spring came. Sparky did not stay in the schoolroom as much as he did. He roamed around the playground. When a strange dog or unusual noise disturbed him he ran for the sanctuary of the school-room. Hopping upon a desk, he would lie upon some child's left arm while the right was busy with arithmetic or some other subject. It was thus that Boone Hall, of the county superintendent's office, found him one day when he visited Mrs. Best's school. Mr. Hall snapped a picture of Sparky and his seatmate studying arithmetic.

The rabbit had what was, probably, the most varied and delicious menu for lunch that any rabbit ever had. The pupils saw to that. They fed him on bananas, his special delight, and taught him to eat bologna. Yes, bologna. This strictly herbivorous animal ate it and liked it—proving, perhaps, that some one was right when they said bologna was mostly sawdust.

The fame of Sparky has spread all over the world—to Alaska and Israel and other countries, for Mrs. Best's pupils conducted an international correspondence with children in other lands and whenever they wrote the rabbit-pupil was discussed. Sparky did not enter school this year. He was turned out around the Best home and there he is now, always answering to the name of Sparky and coming for food. He still loves bananas and bologna.

Both Kentucky Senators And Congressman Perkins Behind Lake Deepening

Whatever the U. S. Corps of Engineers may do in response to requests of residents of this section for deepening of Dewey Lake, they by this time are aware that both Kentucky Senators, the Congressman from this district, Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby, Conservation Commissioner Henry Ward and the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources are solidly behind the move for more water in the impoundment.

The Times has received from Senators Clements and Cooper, Congressman Perkins, Governor Wetherby and the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources copies of letters and telegrams in which they have urged the Engineers' approval of the move. Some of these letters were addressed to the Huntington district office, others to Major General Samuel D. Sturgis, acting chief of the Corps of Engineers.

All have asked full and immediate consideration, and Senator Clements has asked that the Corp of Engineers recommend that funds be made available at the earliest practical date in order that a study be made to determine feasibility of the change. The study was authorized on recommendation of Senator Clements by the Senate Public Works committee several months ago.

In response to a letter from Governor Wetherby Col. J. O. Coloma, district engineer, wrote that "at such time as funds are made available, you may be assured that careful consideration will be given the desires of local interests."

Conservation Commissioner Ward expressed his interest in the lake during his visit here this week in connection with the proposed Dewey Lake state park.

STRANGEST OF NET SEASONS ENDS AT U. OF KENTUCKY

LEXINGTON, Ky. —(Special)—One of the strangest seasons in the history of collegiate sports has come to a close on the University of Kentucky campus.

The famed cage Wildcats of Adolph Rupp, who were suspended from intercollegiate competition this season by unprecedented NCAA edict, substituted a unique intramural series for their usually overpacked, 30-game schedule and opened four squad scrimmage games to the public without admission charge.

While attendance at sporting events, particularly basketball attractions, fell off the country over under the competition of television and other undetermined causes, Kentucky played to surprisingly large crowds. The quartet of public scrimmages attracted a total attendance of nearly 35,000. This gives the Wildcats an average crowd of approximately 8,750 for the four-game season and, quite probably, some sort of record—especially considering the intra-mural nature of the exhibitions.

NEW EFFORTS

Increased efforts will be taken by Kentucky law enforcement officers to enforce the state's 42,000-pound maximum load limit law for trucks as a result of passage by the Tennessee General Assembly of a new weight law setting a limit of 46,000 pounds there.

If You Remember . . .

One hundred years ago, the Leslies, Marrses and Maynards of Johns Creek arranged the acquisition to the Methodist Church of a plot of land upon which was built Snively Chapel. When the church was built, an old log structure used by the faithful was torn down. Since the year 1853, the old families of the community have congregated to worship in the little chapel by the side of the road.

Anne Leslie Maynard, descendant of the pioneer founders of the church, was born in 1870. She grew to womanhood, married, and after the death of her husband continued to live in the community that held her memories. She worshipped, a lifetime, according to the faith of her fathers, in the old chapel.

People and institutions grow old. Men and women die but things like faith and Christianity are imperishable. Anne Leslie Maynard grew old with Snively Chapel, but the church stood marking the decades and approached the centennial of its erection. In 1950 the chapel was 98, she was 81. In 1952 the old church lacked one year of the century mark. Just one more year to go and the Centennial observance would be held.

Time marched on. In 1951 the chapel was 98, she was 81. In 1952 the old church lacked one year of the century mark. Just one more year to go and the Centennial observance would be held.

But it was not to be. In that year the Grim Reaper called, and Anne Leslie Maynard was buried with the founders of the old church. Today, a few months after her death, Snively Chapel is one hundred years old.

WORDAGE APPROVED

FRANKFORD, KY. — Attorney General J. D. Buckman, Jr., has approved the form and wordage of a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the voters this year on distribution of public school funds. The present provision calls for distribution on the basis of school age on the census rolls, whether in public school attendance or not. The proposed amendment would leave the question to the General Assembly.

The amendment as it will appear on the ballot this fall reads: "All funds accruing to the school fund shall be used for the maintenance of the public schools of the Commonwealth, and for no other purpose, and the General Assembly shall by general law prescribe the manner of the distribution of the public school funds." Blanks are provided to indicate voter approval or disapproval.

(b) Largemouth Bass division—prize, Shakespeare "President" Reel.
(c) Smallmouth Bass division—prize, Shakespeare "President" Reel.
(d) Crappie division—prize, Shakespeare "Sportcast" Reel.
(e) Carp division—prize, wall plaque.

The contest is open from January 1, 1953 to December 31, 1953, inclusive.

Each entry must be on a special form which will be provided immediately on request by any of the following contest officials:

W. A. Malone, Allen; Irvin Owen, Allen; Johnnie Snodgrass, Allen; Mr. or Mrs. Carl Horn, Lancer; Raleigh Mann, Lancer; A. R. Workman, Prestonsburg; L. G. Mayo, Auxier; James George, Betsy Layne; Bernard Baldridge, Martin; J. O. Arrington, Martin; Denzil Halbert, Martin; Cleo Hale, Manton; Ray Long, Wayland; Rondal Hayes, Hueysville; Roe Turner, Drift; John R. Baldridge, Langley; Henry L. May, Langley; A. J. Turner, Langley; George Newman, Hi Hat; Carl Hogsed, Melvin; Benjamin Terry, Ligon.

Each form must be completely filled out. Failure to furnish all information will void entry. All entries must be mailed within 30 days after catch to A. J. Turner, secretary, Floyd County Fish & Game Club, Langley, Ky. However, catches made between Dec. 15, 1953 and Dec. 31, 1953 must be entered not later than Jan. 15, 1954 in order to be eligible.

Taking of the fish need not be witnessed, but must be certified by one of the officials listed above.

No other species of fish except smallmouth or largemouth black bass, walleye pike, crappie and carp will be permitted in this contest. To be eligible for a prize the black bass must be at least 15 inches long and walleye must be at least 18 inches long. Measurement from tip of closed mouth to the longest part of the tail will be considered correct. Size of fish will be determined by length, not weight.

Fish must be caught on pole and line only to be eligible for entry in the contest. (Cane pole, casting rod or fly rod, using live or artificial bait.)

No entry will be accepted of any fish caught outside the boundaries of the Seventh conservation district, as defined by the Division of Game & Fish. This district is comprised of Floyd, Johnson, Pike, Letcher, Martin, Knott, Perry, Leslie, Breathitt, Magoffin and Lawrence counties.

No contestant may receive more than one prize. In case of ties, the first entry received will be adjudged the winner. Contest judges will be appointed by the president of the Floyd County Fish & Game Club at a later date, and their decision will be final.

All entries become the property of the Floyd County Fish & Game Club and none can be returned.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

BY WILMAY

It was a happy one for Floyd teachers in their second workshop last week, in Wheelwright. The spirit was fine. Seeing old friends, Emilou Clark, who gets prettier with the years; Frances Turner, as brilliant as ever; and Ethel Ratliff, was a joy in itself. It seems just yesterday that Ethel and Wayne were studying Caesar in my class, and as much in love then as now. It is hard to believe they have a daughter: at U.K. She is proud of her Phi Beta Kappa daddy and of her mother who has always been a perfect symbol of womanhood at its best.

Most of us oldtimers present note the pendulum slowly swinging back to the middle-of-the-road methods in teaching. Parents have long been complaining of too much play in the school. What if the children do know more of world affairs and social life if they know less than we did of fundamental subjects needed to earn a livelihood? A visiting speaker from another county emphasized the low scholastic standards apparent, how poorly a majority spell, write and punctuate. A Chicago U. prof recently warned that present-day schools are teaching society and not learning, too much folderols, etc. When national educational leaders return to former standards it will not be the first time they have done an about-face. Too many high school teachers are worrying because vast numbers of pupils read poorly.

The kids get a laugh when double negatives appear in this column, or when a sentence ends with a preposition. We all liked what Thelma Daniels said in her conference about not being a purist, about the colorfulness of language in our immediate section, about the fact that Shakespeare dared to use three negatives in a sentence in his day. And we are glad to note that a Mississippi Congressman wants national day for Hillbilly Music set apart for celebration. It is worth commemorating.

Nothing can be sadder than seeing some of our best families moving out of our valley now for work. How many times have outside leaders and others here begged us to attend meetings designed to make this county a multiple-industry county, only to have a mere handful attend? Proverb says, A people without vision perish. Too few of us take a long-range view of things.

Everyone rejoices that Pete Grigsby, Jr., can once more play the stellar role of The Christus in the pageant, April 19th. Pete is ideally suited to it in real life. Recently a lady who heard him testify in Lexington in his church remarked what a fine boy he is, how he impressed everyone. He has asked not to be publicized personally, to let the pageant stand on its own, with Christ the real figure as everyone wants Him to be.

C. R. Marshall is kept busy cutting art objects for the event, in his workshop. The long list of items wanted by Mrs. Marshall, who is Art chairman, is slowly being filled. Marcella Ward, of Dinwood, is one pageant booster who comes regularly to ask for another job. That is what it takes. W. S. Johns, who is on the sick list, manages to collect old tires, broom sticks, etc., for the pageant, and headed the 1952 list of collecting funds. Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, of Lackey, is donating voluntary services at her home for the art department, and designed a unique type of medallion for soldiers' armor. Thomas Patrick is one member who never misses a rehearsal. Leaders are begging that he become a board member from the county-wide. When asked to appear on the weekly Sunday radio series for the pageant, Mrs. H. O. Wilson said, "I'll do my best." In her case that is a lot. Her knowledge of the Bible landed her a job as one of the associate directors. Pageant leaders are sorry to lose Mrs. Bruce Kiser, for she was a grand booster last year. The Kisers are moving to Pikeville soon. Magazines with the pageant story are already on hand, others coming.

We sleep like a baby, but since Father Gunn has been in a hospital in Mississippi three long weeks we lay awake several mornings, trying to imagine a world without him. (He is out of danger now.) A bedside pad got some pageant notations in the dark several times. One morning it was a jumble run together. The boss, who split his sides the night some of us tried in vain for three hours to adjust a Roman toga, looked at the penciled notes and inquired with his mischievous grin, "Did you try to draw a Roman toga in the dark?" Everyone has decided to let Miss Branham demonstrate how to wear all these simple-looking costumes for the cast. Ladies have sold the idea of wearing one to James Salisbury, who is in the cast, but no one has induced Mayor Grigsby to don one, too.

Bronze Star Medal Given
Billy R. Burchett, Lancer,
For Meritorious Service

With IX Corps in Korea—First Lt. Billy R. Burchett, of Lancer, Ky., was recently awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service with the 955th Field Artillery Battalion in Korea.

He was cited for his work from Feb. 13, 1952 to Jan. 15, 1953.

"With patience and well directed efforts, Lieut. Burchett trained inexperienced personnel as cannoners and non-commissioned officers. He instilled confidence in his men by his calm behavior and quiet manners and by demonstrating outstanding qualities of leadership while under enemy shelling," according to a citation accompanying the decoration.

WILLIAMSON — A verdict of suicide was returned in the death of Robert S. Sale, 72-year-old former general manager of the defunct Octavia Coal Co. at nearby Belfry, Ky. Coroner Tabor Ball said Sale took his life with a pistol in his room at a Williamson hotel.

To the People of Magisterial Dist. No. 3, Floyd County:

When you elected me four years ago as your Magistrate, you put a trust in me that I would not steal, that I would not rob, and that I would try to help handle the taxpayers' money in an honest way that would be to the best interest of our county. That I have tried to do. The only one thing that I had at heart was to try my best to help those who were stranded in the heads of our branches, to better roads, that their children would not have to wade the mud and water to get to school.

I think the majority of the people of this district will agree that we have made a good start.
The people of Floyd county have had an honest and faithful Fiscal Court for the past three years. We have worked together in harmony, trying to do for all Floyd county alike. We have had an honest and willing chairman at the head. That is your County Judge. I speak for myself and I think the other three Magistrates will say the same, that there never has been a time that Judge Stumbo recommended or even suggested a single thing that we thought, or he thought, wasn't right and for the best interests and well-fare of our county. We haven't succeeded in doing all that we wanted to do for you people, we have been lawed, we have been criticised, we have been accused, but I think the people of Floyd county will know the merits of this thing. We have made some mistakes, but we are ready to correct them.

I have promised one or two things that I haven't had time to do. We have started things that I won't have time to finish this year. I have worked hard, day and almost nights;
I haven't accumulated any money;
I haven't tried to feather my nest, or get rich at the hands of your hard-working boys who have been unfortunate enough to get out and violate the law. I have been fair. I have had to hold two jobs to support my family and try to pay my debts; and, to make a long story short, I hereby ask you people to give me this office for one more term, then I will quit.
I'm not ashamed, I'm not afraid to run on my record, but I promise this—I will try to do a still better job, as I was a new beginner. The experience I have had will help me do this better job.
I remain your friend, out of office or in,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ABOUT THE FERRELL LETTER

Editor, The Times:
Last week, your paper ran a very interesting story from Sylvia Ferrell, formerly of Harold, now of Lorain, Ohio. This is a very sad story, for within the letter there were evolved facts that are so true. Hundreds of our citizens who were forced to leave our beloved Big Sandy valley are asking the same question—why?

This is tragic, but nevertheless true. I have personally known men leaving sick wives and children to migrate to some other state to seek a means of livelihood like Sylvia.
Why? It is plain. We feuding and fighting hillbillies don't amount to a thought by those who could have helped us. We are ignorant, uneducated and practically anti-Christian, buried deep in the sticks where the "sun don't ever shine." No, indeed, THEY didn't say as much in plain words, but remember, "Action speaks louder than utterances."

West, east, north or south, jobs, jobs and jobs. Anywhere besides Big Sandy. We haven't got the best coal in the world, nor natural gas, nor crude oil (and now clay) underground water right tempered for chemicals—even that new $350 per pound stuff... certainly and truthfully, we know we have it. But how are we going to transport it? Railway, of course. Higher freight rates, but what are we going to do about it? What can we do about it?

Yes, there is an answer Sylvia Ferrell will be glad to hear. We have men, thank God for them—Thompson, Clark, Perkins, etc. These men are fighting for the channeling of the Big Sandy river which is the key to it all. Give us locks and dams, give us factories and plants, large and small, and we will give those other states that don't like us fighting, feuding hillbillies their states, including 9/10 of Alaska.

Our Times editor has been valiantly fighting for this cause for years. Our Ex-Congressman Jack May also has fought for it. They know that it is just and justifiable.
They love our Big Sandy valley.
This is their home as well as that of Sylvia Ferrell and hundreds of our people who are "roving strange horizons." We don't ask for this to be done for us. Just show us the way and we will do it. And may those who are now working tirelessly in the cause be guided by the hand of God, may they never faint by the wayside until this has been accomplished and may the coming of our future Big Sandians never forget them.

This may be a dream, but to Sylvia Ferrell and hundreds more it is a hope, a something that we can look forward to with prayerful hearts.

FROM KOREA

Editor, The Times:
I read the article in the paper about deepening Dewey Lake. I am very much in favor of it and I am also in favor of turning wild turkeys and deer in there.
I am in the air force and will be here for a long time yet, and would like very much to have some place to fish and hunt when I am home on leave. My home is at Mare Creek, Ky. I get The Times every week. I am over here in Korea and have quite a while to stay, so I hope to have helped some.

HOWARD D. COLLINS

THE FERRELL LETTER AGAIN

Editor, The Times:
I was reading The Times and when I finished reading your column I decided to take this opportunity to say I think Sylvia Ferrell, of Lorain, Ohio, has the right idea about Kentucky doing something to keep the people home.

It's not the thought of city life that tempts Kentuckians, but the opportunity to earn a living. I don't think you would find a Kentuckian in Cleveland who would say they were ashamed of their home town.
In fact, if you want a Kentuckian mad, just let someone make a remark about it and watch how quick they are to defend their state.
Northern people have the impression that Kentucky is nothing but wilderness with barefoot people, feuds, etc. In fact, they think it hasn't changed since Daniel Boone was there. If we were taking jobs from them it would be different but, honest, if the "hillbillies" would leave Cleveland I guess some of the plants would have to shut down.
That's just an idea of how many live here.

Another thing is the school system here. When you enroll your children in school, the first day, they take them back a grade, without a chance to see if they are capable of doing the work. They don't understand what good school facilities we have at home.
The biggest problem is getting a place to live with children. Landlords will show you through large apartments, then when you ask if they will accept children they almost throw you in the street.
So I'd like to say to you Kentuckians, stay home if possible. You don't know how lucky you are.

DRY CLEANING DANGERS

If you're doing any dry cleaning at home these days, remember the saving can be costly. Most home cleaning is done with preparations consisting of the chemical, carbon tetrachloride. Although there is no danger from fire, another serious hazard exists.

Poisoning may occur from inhaling carbon tetrachloride vapors. A brief exposure of a high concentration is immediately dangerous, as well as daily exposure to smaller amounts, according to W. W. Stalker, Director, Division of Occupational Health.

To avoid carbon tetrachloride being absorbed into the blood stream through the skin, it is wise to wash all exposed skin immediately after using the chemical.

To prevent any disturbance from the dry cleaning fluid, work out-of-doors or provide lots of ventilation in the room. If the fluid is spilled be sure there is plenty of fresh air in the room when removing the deadly liquid from the floor. It would be advisable to wear an air supplied type mask to protect you from the fumes. Remember to fasten the bottle in a closed container after using the solution.

The Division of Occupational Health allows 50 parts of carbon tetrachloride per million parts of air when inspecting industrial set-ups, according to Mr. Stalker. But if you dry clean in an average sized kitchen, and use two ounces of carbon tetrachloride, ten times as much chemical will be in the room as is allowed in the same sized room of an industrial dry cleaning plant. A small quantity will cause unconsciousness if used carelessly. With any notice of weakness, dizziness, sleepiness, nausea or difficulty with vision, see your family physician at once.
