

Amburgy, One of Two Kentuckians To Get Medal for Heroism

BURTONWOOD, England, Oct. 5 (Special)—Two Burtonwood air-men have been recommended for the Soldier's Medal for their quick thinking and bravery which may have saved a fellow airman's life in a fire started by an explosion in the Vehicle Paint Shop of the 753rd Vehicle Repair Squadron, RRD Site.

Cited for heroism were S-Sgt. Harold C. Thomas and A-3C Royce Amburgy, both of Kentucky.

The explosion, which blew out two sections of the building's roof, occurred in the interior of a 4,000-gallon refueling unit which was being repainted.

Flames oozed out the open man-holes of the tanker following the explosion and the fire trapped Morgan, who had been painting in the fuel compartments with a hermetically spraying mixture.

Impact of the explosion threw Amburgy, who had been on top of the unit feeding air to Morgan, to the floor below.

Hearing the explosion, Sgt. Tom rushed to the scene and with the help of Amburgy, who had recovered from his fall, rescued Morgan from inside the burning tanker and evacuated him to a safe place to await the arrival of an ambulance.

The fire was put out in short time with fire extinguishers on hand in the paint shop.

The recommendations praised both men for their acts, which were described as having been performed without regard for their own safety and as contributing to the saving of Morgan's life.

MRS. CLARK VISITS HERE

THREE STEPS TO SECURITY

About four out of every five persons gainfully employed in the United States are covered by the old-age and survivors provisions of the Social Security Act, Ernest Fitzpatrick, local representative of the Ashland, Ky., Office of the Social Security Administration said. Total payments to many of these people and their families could reach as high as $25,000, or more, he said. However, the amount of old-age and survivors insurance to be paid the worker or his family can be assured only by a few precautions on his part.

Your wage record is correctly reported. To be certain yours is correct, he suggests these precautions:

First: Be sure to show your account number card to your employer when you start to work. If you have lost your card, you can get a duplicate through your nearest Social Security Office.

Second: Make certain that each of your employers copies your name and number correctly from your social security card.

Third: Check your social account to be sure that all your wages, and self-employment income are being recorded to your credit.

GOSH!
Fellow was describing to me, the other day, a swellelegant home, presumably one that had rugs you sunk up in, a dining table so long an inter-com system was needed, chandeliers, soft chairs, every convenience. But he wasted no such words. He said, "You could see two of yourself every way you looked."

I'M LET DOWN

The fishing season having sort of petered out on this column, leaving in it and its writer an aching void, we turn to what some may call another evil—namely, television.

We firmly grasp the cudgel to belabor some of these TV plays. Not all of them but some. The kind that break off two-thirds of the way and just plumb ruin what started out to be a corkin' good yarn.

Take that Television Playhouse production, "The Train to Trouble," the other night. Take it—we don't want it. Here they have a rattlin' good yarn unravelin' there before your eyes, and wind up with the distant toot of a train whistle as the hero leaves the little woman and his son behind to go off younder and face as dirty a villain as these eyes have ever seen. That's all, Finis. Period.

Sure, I know the long-haired set would say, "Use your imagination for the missing details." But I don't hold with such theories when it comes to visual entertainment. If I read a story, I can abide the challenge to the imagination, sometimes even enjoy it, because this medium exercises that function of the mind. But if you are going to lay your story out there on the line, or screen, you leave precious little to the old imagination, and there's no need to go artistic about it just because you can't develop the plot further or are cramped for lack of time.

Me, I belong to the old school. I want to see the hero get his gal, the villain get his come-uppance, the heroine get kissed as she was never kissed before. What am I looking at this picture for if it's not actually to see the whole shebang done up right?

That train whistling in the distance, the knowledge that a good man was on that train headed for trouble with a scalawag, with a woman and a boy left behind to worry, just didn't jell with me. I wanted to see the meeting of the two men. I wanted to see the villain with both eyes so black he would look like a raccoon.

Women Democrats Plan District Convention Here

A district meeting of the Democratic Woman's Club of Kentucky will be held here in January if plans for such a meeting are completed, it was stated this week by members of the local organization. Mrs. Lula Roberts, Carbon Glow, Ky., district director of the Democratic Woman's Club, spoke here recently at a meeting of the local club and discussed with them the proposed convention. Mrs. Wall Hamilton, vice-president of the club, introduced Mrs. Roberts at the Oct. 27 meeting here. The district director explained the purpose and aims of the organization.

Other speakers on the program were Mrs. Betty Stephens, Mrs. Ralph Davis, Mrs. DuRan Moore and Mrs. Lon C. Hill. Mrs. Hill stressed the importance of women participating in present day issues. Entertainment was furnished by the Fatsy Trio—Misses Sue Thompson, Clara and Shirley Hager. The invocation was by Mrs. Davis after which a buffet dinner was served.

Mrs. Gladys Allen, secretary, states that any woman is eligible for membership in the club. The next meeting will be held on the second Friday of January at the courthouse.

FARM NOTES

By Floyd County Extension Service

Though farmers are concerned about how to feed their livestock this winter, it's not too soon to begin thinking about the prospects for early pasture next spring, says O. E. Boggs, county agent. Most seedings of grasses and legumes made last spring and summer have died, and new seedings that would have been put off in hopes of better weather. Permanent pastures are also in bad shape—most of them being half to completely killed by the drought.

The best chance now for early grazing next spring is to sow, as soon as possible, either Balboa rye or wheat, 3 bushels per acre, with winter or hairy vetch mixed with the grain at about 15 to 25 pounds per acre. The grain may not germinate until rains come, and then may winterkill if the winter is severe, but the chance seems worth taking for much needed early grazing next spring.

Much land in the county is in good condition for seeding or can easily be prepared, especially land where earlier seedings have failed or which was in corn or other cultivated crop. Seedings these loose and bare lands to small grain will offer some protection against erosion if the winter is fairly mild and open and if rains come later this fall. In general, 300 to 500 pounds of high analysis complete fertilizer should be applied per acre with these emergency seedings.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 9 (Spl.)—All hunting with guns in Kentucky between midnight November 5 to midnight November 19, except for waterfowl shooting from noon November 17 to midnight, Nov. 19, has been barred by a regulation of the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission, it was announced today by Earl Wallace, Commissioner of the Department.

A called meeting of the Commission was held on November 4 at which time it was declared an emergency exists in that the wildlife is in danger because of anticipated out-of-season hunting during the above designated period and to combat this emergency it was decided to close hunting for all types of birds, animals, amphibians and turtles. The lone exception is for the hunting of waterfowl as set out above in keeping with a federal regulation.

The squirrel season ended on November 5 and the rabbit and quail season opens on November 20. It was pointed out that all hunting with guns during the period is a violation of the law as set out in the new regulation which has been filed with the Kentucky Statutes Revision Commission. The regulation sets out that all laws or regulations in conflict with the new one are automatically rescinded.

The 25 days lost during the ban on hunting of squirrels during the fire hazard will be given back during the first 25 days of the rabbit and quail season.

I take this means of thanking all those who voted for me for Mayor of Prestonsburg. The number who voted for me should indicate that some reforms should be made by the city administration.

Fees, Commissions Only Source of Pay For Constables, Rule

Constables may be paid by counties such as Floyd only of fees and commissions for their services, and not by salary fixed by the fiscal court, wrote Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hollifield in reply to an inquiry from this county.

The query was made after credence had been given to a report that a new law had granted fiscal courts the rights to fix salaries for constables. Hollifield quoted Section 64.190 as governing the method of pay for such officers.

BY WILMAY

And Kentucky stands a new chance, with the props from under 186. No county can be more fortunate than Floyd in the legislature. We do not know one representative but we know Lon C. Hill will have no superior in Frankfort, and education is his forte. Well may it be, since he and Corinne have some little Hills coming along!

Someone said Earlit and Ernest Hayes laughingly told their dad, Brock Hayes, before the election, that if he did not win for faller this time they would buy him a jail! Try to beat local wit!

Last week we did not know the sum taken in from Wayland grade school Halloween carnival, in time to report. It was $367. The faculty expresses deep appreciation to parents for their fine cooperation. Readers and story books will be ordered this week, with other items bought shortly.

Everywhere we have taught, lived or visited there has been much said concerning how local school receipts are used. Since schools today are highly commercialized, complaints are more numerous, even when no one suspects dishonesty. Some folks are suspicious by nature. They prefer to criticize without knowing, rather than ask where the money goes. All of us should trust anyone till there is proof to the contrary. What people say is often far from correct.

False accusations or insinuations are not funny. Lies about the Pession Pageant would fill a book. Someone told one family donated a thousand dollars and wanted to know where it went. Luckily, The Times had received the financial report the week before the rumor started. It was delayed one week. Actually, the family had given fifty dollars when asked for ten. They had mailed the check to the treasurer, as all were asked to do. Almost half the Pageant funds for 1953 are in the First Guaranty Bank now, for 1954. Booklets and all else are paid for. A complete report was and will be published, and posted in the bank window, yearly, according to the constitution. When the Board voted to change admission to try to buy the site, a report was mailed the Bureau of Internal Revenue. But people here also deserved to know how the funds are used.

When we campaigned for the school board years ago we found numerous parents tired of having no report on the handling of local school funds. They are not satisfied to have reports made only to the county and state offices. They help earn or contribute the money, and we have always agreed they have a right to know how it is used. Anyone can crook a report if desired. The only way to avoid criticism is to have an impartial auditor check the report all receipts, cancelled checks, signed bills and receipts accounting for expenditure. Then post and publish this annually so everyone can see and know. An alternative some recommend is to let the PTA handle all funds.

One principal, whose school last year presented every parent with mimeographed copies of its financial report, suggests having Parents' Day, so parents can see the items bought and see the children's work and exhibits.

Many who wonder where school funds go have little idea of what it costs to operate a modern school. We have seen how careful some treasurers are. It is not easy to write five and ten-cent entries, dozens of them daily.

We agree with treasurers who insist that all raising or spending funds separately must report in detail centrally. And we practice what we preach. We have always handed superiors reports, plus cancelled checks, and shown the children articles bought, also posted for them a report on the bulletin board. We have used class treasurers sometimes, too. These school funds have been limited in amount, but there were no complaints against our regime in the county relief office years ago. These statements are not boastfully made. Thousands adopt the same procedures, knowing anyone in charge of public funds should be glad to do it. A majority do it voluntarily.

Several farmers in Edmonson county are planning to install irrigation systems.

BIBLE QUIZ

By A. F. Barker

508 Euclid Ave., Bristol, Va.-Tenn.

CAN MOTHERS PUT AN END TO WARS? YES! "THE HAND THAT ROCKS THE CRADLE RULES THE WORLD." For the new world social order check your references.

1. What prophecy do we have for the coming age of peace? "And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; nations shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." (Isaiah 2:4.)

2. What name was given to the forerunner of world peace? "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulders; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." (Isaiah 9:6.)

3. What message did the angels bring to the shepherds on the Judean hill? "And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of heavenly hosts praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." (Luke 2:13.)

4. Will the reign of peace and the new world order be permanent? "Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever." (Isaiah 9:7.)

5. What parable teaches small beginnings and future growth of Christ's kingdom? The Parable of the Mustard Seed. "Which indeed is the least of all seeds; but when it is grown, it is the largest among herbs." (Matthew 13:23.)

6. What was the greatest event of all time? The resurrection of Jesus Christ, who said "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth." (Matt. 28:18.)

7. Who carried the first message of the resurrection? Mary Magdalene. "And she went and told them that had been with her, as they mourned and wept." (Mark 16:10.)

8. When shall we have world peace? When "Judgment begins at the house of God." (Peter 4:17.)

'Bear' Facts-

By PAUL BRYANT
UK Football Coach

LEXINGTON, Ky.—No matter what line of activity you participate in, anytime you can "get up off the floor" and start delivering "knock-out punches" against tough competition you deserve a lot of credit.

Just such a comeback has been made by the fine boys who make up our University of Kentucky football team. Whether we win another game or not, I'm mighty proud of them for "getting up off the floor" after two straight defeats to knock off three nationally-ranked opponents who were regarded as two and three touchdown favorites.

You'll remember I offered the advice in this column before the season got underway not to give up on our boys if they got off to a slow start and later I warned that we are not "out of the woods" yet. I hope that all of our true followers will keep this in mind. The team has come a long way and they have just as long a way to go before the tough competition ahead is knocked out.

However, I do want to compliment, at this mid-point in the campaign, the tremendous showing made by our team against heavy odds of inexperience and surprisingly high calibre opposition. I, for one, will not complain if they do not manage to win another game. They have showed continuous improvement and have come a "far piece" on sheer courage and determination.

You can't easily single out individuals responsible for our showing, but I believe men like Ray Correll, our senior guard and co-captain from Somerset, and Steve Mellinger, the greatest clutch player in the books who has played at halfback, quarterback and end, deserves a lot of credit. Then there have been such surprise packages as Paducah's Bob Hardy, fullback Ralph Paolone and halfback Joe Platt, the boy from out of nowhere. A lot of progress has been made by fellows like Bill Wheeler of Pikeville and Harry Kirk of Mt. Sterling, who have bolstered our team at its weakest link—tackle.

The younger boys on the club have pitched in and worked hard without complaining. I'll be very much disappointed if we don't begin getting help soon from boys like Delmar Hughes of Prestonsburg, halfback Don Netoskie, Louisville's Dave Kuhn and Ken Lutz, Shug Walton of Lexington, Hooker Phillips of Pikeville, Ashland's mighty mite Ivan Carnutte, Billy Mitchell of Georgetown, the Hawaiian boy Henry George, Ralph Moran of Belry and Frank Petett of Tompkinsville.

COMPLETE FUNERAL SERVICE

A car's record for trade-in value is the most important single item to consider before you buy. Here's why . . .

It's the only way to figure a car's real cost. For a car's true cost, of course, is what you pay originally minus what you get back in the future at trade-in time.

And it's the only unbiased yardstick of a car's true worth. It gives you in dollars and cents exactly how the majority of motorists rate a car's performance, styling, comfort and economy—exactly how much extra they are willing to pay for what this car offers.

Special late-in-year allowance on your present car . . . Mercury's skyrocketing popularity lets us operate at a far higher-than-average volume with a lower profit per deal. We are now offering the best in months. Drop in. Compare!

HEALTH NOTES

By Floyd County Health Department

HOSPITAL CARE FOR TB

Could you turn your home into a hospital? Step into the nearest hospital, look around, and give yourself an honest answer. Yet, families of tuberculosis patients sometimes try to fool themselves. They try to believe that they can follow the doctor's instructions accurately. The patient thinks he will get well faster at home. The result can be tragic.

Tuberculosis is an infectious disease which strikes about 115,000 persons in this country every year. It kills about 30,000. It is a chronic disease, which means it can break out again even though once arrested. With proper medical care, however, a TB patient can get well and live a normal life. The disease is easiest to cure when it is found early and when treatment is begun promptly. The best place for this is a tuberculosis hospital.

A TB hospital is a treatment center built around one idea: to help tuberculosis patient get well. Here he will find skilled, specialized medical and nursing care under the best possible conditions. Every phase of hospital life is set up to make complete rest, necessary to recovery from TB, easier for the patient.

Home care is necessarily second best. In spite of good intentions, the patient exposes others in the family to his disease. He may eat and sleep at irregular hours. Small disturbances keep him from resting properly. He worries because his illness is upsetting to the family. He lacks the daily medical and nursing attention which a hospital provides. And, despite the encouragement and attention of loved ones, his is a lonely battle.

In the TB hospital the patient is one of a community devoted to fighting tuberculosis just as he is. In their company, he finds it easier to accept his illness, to stay in the hospital until his cure is complete, to prepare himself to return to his home and take his place again as a useful member of society.

Magistrate Martin said he is unable to fix a motive for the suspected plot. "I know I haven't an enemy who would do a thing like that." He discarded the theory expressed here that the planting of the powder charges might have been a practical joke.

Those acquainted with the explosive force of powder of the type used say that if it had exploded in each case the office of the Magistrate and the deputy's auto would have been wrecked, with less serious damage resulting to the homes of the two men.

Kentucky high school speakers will have opportunity again this year to compete for a $4,000 top scholarship and other valuable awards.

Plans for the 17th annual National High School Oratorical Contest, sponsored by the American Legion, have been announced by Legion headquarters in Indianapolis. V. E. Carrithers, of Louisville, has been appointed contest director for Kentucky and now is busy getting up local, district and state contests to qualify a speaker to represent the state.

In subsequent contests Kentucky's orator will have a chance to advance to the national finals to be held April 12, when four speakers will compete for top awards. For each of the finalists there will be a scholarship: $2,500 for second place, $1,000 for third and $500 for fourth.

Local contests will be directed by Legion posts throughout the state. They must be conducted in time for winners to be certified by February 8. The winner will advance through district contests to the state finals. Preliminary contest awards will be announced locally. Each district winner will receive a $25 Defense Bond and in the state contest $100, $75 and $50 bonds will be awarded.

A national Americanism activity of the Legion, the contest seeks to promote a better knowledge and understanding of the Constitution of the United States. It is a two-part contest in which each contestant will deliver a prepared oration and also speak extemporaneously on some phase of the Constitution, giving special emphasis to the attendant duties and obligations of a citizen to the government.

Such subjects as "An American Citizen's Rights and Responsibilities Under the Constitution", "The Constitution—a Barrier Against Tyranny" and "The Bill of Rights—Reciprocal Rights and Duties" are suggested.

Eligible to compete are all bonafide students in secondary schools, including public, parochial, military and private schools whose academic curricula meet public school standards, provided they are enrolled on January 1 in regular 9th, 10th, 11th, or 12th grade classes.

16 Kentucky Children Were Whooping Cough Victims During 1952

Sixteen young Kentuckians died in 1952 from whooping cough, states Iad R. Mezera, M.D., director, Division of Maternal and Child Health, Kentucky State Department of Health. Seven were under one year of age; nine were aged one through four. The death of these youngsters was indeed tragic, and possibly could have been prevented.

Children should be immunized against whooping cough at three months of age or earlier, Dr. Mezera says. Parents should not delay this immunization until whooping cough occurs in the community because immunity takes about four months to develop. It may then be too late, so today's action may save a toddler's life tomorrow.

Three injections of triple antigen (the protection against whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus) will be an inexpensive life insurance policy, Dr. Mezera adds. Booster shots should be given every two or three years through six years of age. Approximately 33 percent of the 1799 cases of whooping cough in 1952 occurred in those over five years of age, although whooping cough more often is fatal to younger children.

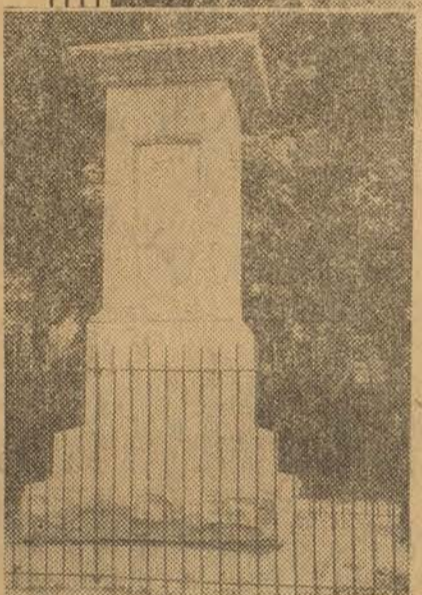

A pamphlet entitled "No Danger from Whooping Cough—I've been Vaccinated" is available from the Floyd County Health Department. The leaflet describes whooping cough, how the disease is "caught," early signs, and further information on its prevention.

Daniel Boone is recognized, in legend at least, as being the chief figure of early Kentucky frontier days. The Kentucky Historical Society in honoring Boone will sponsor a pilgrimage to Pilot Knob, Powell County, Sunday, June 7, where the long hunter first viewed the "beautiful level of Kentucky" in 1769. Left, a bronze bust of Boone in the Hall of Fame at the National Capitol. These visitors, below, admire the view from Cumberland Gap, where Boone first entered Kentucky.

Left, Daniel Boone's grave in Frankfort Cemetery. Boone died in Missouri at the age of 86. In 1845 his remains, together with those of his wife Rebecca, were brought to Kentucky's Capital. The monument was erected by the state in 1862. Another annual event honoring Boone is the Boone Day Festival held in October in Barboursville. Many reminders of Boone are to be seen throughout Kentucky.

VALLEY MOTOR CAR COMPANY

FRANKFORD, KY., November 9— The Kentucky Court of Appeals held that mere ownership of a pistol being carried in the glove compartment of an automobile, and not readily accessible does not make one guilty of "carrying a concealed deadly weapon."

Reversing a two-year prison term imposed on Tom Williams in Perry circuit court for such an offense, the Appellate Court held that such a conviction was wholly unauthorized.

DISBARMENT RECOMMENDED— FRANKFORD, KY., November 9— The State Board of Bar Commissioners recommended to the Court of Appeals permanent disbarment for one attorney, and a year's suspension for another.

Dan S. Arnold, Bardonia, was accused of "unprofessional and unethical conduct" in connection with a trail of fake divorce, cold checks and careless handling of income tax matters for others, while J. A. Edge, Lexington, was termed guilty of "conduct calculated to bring the bench and bar into disrepute."

Permanent disbarment was recommended for Arnold, while Edge's proposed suspension, based on the bringing of an unauthorized suit against Coach Adolph Rupp, of the University of Kentucky, was for a year.

The court must act on the recommendations before they may be made effective.

23 Skidoo; or, Trail of Lonesome Wiggle Worm

This is to serve as a gentle prod for those of us who would like to industrialize the Big Sandy valley. It seems that very few of us realize that jobs do not just happen; they must be dreamed up, well planned and executed. We won't have much trouble dreaming up these jobs. But in the planning and executing that will require more work, sweat and tears than we may care to give.

We are fortunate in this valley, because God blessed us with mountains of natural resources. During the year 1947, our state produced a record high of 88,895,277 tons of coal and employed a total of 75,197 men. During the year 1951 this figure dropped to 73,951,266 tons, employing a total of 59,998 men. During the year 1952 total tons of coal produced were 64,515,091, employing 53,742 men. Much of this coal is produced in the Big Sandy valley. I cite these figures to show that our people can no longer depend on "King Coal" for the full employment of all the people of this valley, as there is a marked decline in coal production and probably will continue to be so.

We are losing one of our greatest assets, in that a large percentage of our highly trained youth are being drained off by the expanding industrial centers to the north. While we still have the large payrolls that are coming into the valley, it is the time to act and plan to supplement these payrolls with industries not directly related to mining. We have had a lot of work in this direction, but it seems to this writer that we have become discouraged because we have not as yet attained all the goals on which we have set our sights.

The canalization of the river, large industrial plants, etc., it seems to me we are trying to step too far, too fast. Recently, I had an occasion to visit a small town in Ohio, that makes steel vaults, road machinery, farm machinery, dump bodies. It is located on a high plateau, approximately 80 miles north of Columbus. The town is about the same size as Prestonsburg. I was astonished at the numerous industrial plants that were clustered in and around this town. Why was this town so prosperous? What had happened here? Finally, I asked a friend, whom I knew to be an active member of the Chamber of Commerce. From his answer, I ascertained the following facts:

About 20 years ago, there was a large railroad center, roundhouse and repair shop. The railroad company was planning to move this shop away from the town. People became alarmed. "Without the shop where can we get our payrolls?" The dentist, the doctor, the lawyer, the grocer, their investments in supplies, inventories and buildings were threatened. After the usual grumblings, etc., those people started to face facts, then started dreaming and thinking. The answer became obvious: if we can't work on the railroad, we will have to work at something else. After much deliberation, they finally settled on a plant to make steel vaults, which was financed, more or less, as a community project. Now the city has on its payrolls over 12,000 people. It is difficult to see anywhere in this state any street or highway gang, that isn't using machinery from Gallon, Ohio.

It is against city regulations to wash an automobile in Gallon, because water must be shipped in. As they produce mostly steel products, they are far removed from any major steel mills. Their coal is shipped from this vicinity. We call this true story to your attention, to show what could happen here.

Why more than a million owners this year have chosen the "Worth More" FORD!

They have discovered first hand what the surveys show... Ford, with all its fine-car features, is worth more when you buy it, and worth more when you sell it!

OVER A MILLION OWNERS can't be wrong! Ford is the one fine car in the low-price field. It gives you the "GO," the style, the comfort, and "build" of cars that sell for far more. And, it's only natural that Ford keeps its value better, in resale, than any other car on the American Road. Check the features below for some of the "Worth More" reasons for the swing to Ford.

Lowest-priced V-8 in America. And the only V-8 in the low-price field. Ford's high-compression V-8 power plant delivers its "Go" on regular gas!

Most Modern Six of all is Ford's high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker. With Overdrive, it was the winner in 1953 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Smoother Ride, with front end road shock reduced up to 80%, is another Ford big-car feature... and you get it without gas-eating extra weight.

Fine-Car Build means using steel of the same quality and thickness as in costliest cars. Ford is the most completely insulated car in its field.

Finest Power Steering—that's Ford Master-Guide. Does up to 75% of the steering work yet retains normal steering "feel" on the straightaways.

Miss Taylor Is Bride Of Mr. Franklin D. Fufts

The wedding of Miss Marilyn Taylor, daughter of Mrs. O. A. Taylor, and the late Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Franklin D. Fufts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Fufts, of Regina, Ky., was solemnized at the First Methodist church, Regina, Ky., Sunday afternoon, Oct. 25, at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. Ralph Wesley officiated at the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums against a background of ferns and lighted tapers in candelabra.

A program of nuptial music was played by Miss Martha Jean Cannon. Miss Shirley Hobbs was vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Charles Taylor, of Lexington. She wore a waltz-length gown of white lace and net over satin. Her long sleeve jacket had a pointed stand-up collar. A tiara of pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Faye Bolton was maid of honor. She wore blue taffeta with lace and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were Miss Louise Taylor, of Lexington, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Kenneth Clevinger of Pikeville, sister of the groom. They wore matching gowns of yellow taffeta and net and carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

The mother of the bride wore a rose velvet suit with black accessories and a purple orchid. The mother of the groom wore a beige dress with a jacket trimmed with pearls and wore brown accessories. She also wore a purple orchid.

Mr. Fufts served his son as best man and the ushers included Ralph and Harold Taylor of Lexington, cousins of the bride, Raymond Rains, of Nashville, Tenn., and Robert Wilson, of Louisville.

The reception was held in the church basement.

The bride is a graduate of Corbin high school, St. Camillus Business Academy and Bowling Green Business University. The groom was graduated from Prestonsburg high school in 1950, attended Pikeville Junior College and was graduated from the Bowling Green College of Commerce with a B.S. degree in 1953.

UNKNOWN DIABETIC CASES OBJECT OF DETECTION DRIVE

An estimated 15,000 unknown diabetics in Kentucky will have a chance next week to choose between long, normal lives or possible suffering and death as the Kentucky State Medical Association conducts its annual life-saving Diabetes Detection Drive as part of National Diabetes Week, November 15-21.

All physicians who are members of the Kentucky State Medical Association, and all hospitals and laboratories have been requested to give a free diabetes test to every person requesting it during the week.

"Each previously undiscovered case of diabetes uncovered through the drive represents a useful, happy life saved which might otherwise be lost," said Carlisle Morse, M.D., Louisville, chairman of the K.S.M.A. Diabetes Committee as he urged all Kentuckians to avail themselves of the free tests.

"With the control measures now possible through insulin, diet, or a combination of both, the average person with diabetes may even expect to live longer than many non-diabetics," Dr. Morse said. "Because such controls exist, every person should regularly check to see if they are suspect. The Diabetes Detection Drive affords such an opportunity each year without cost. With full public co-operation, it can help us achieve a real victory over diabetes."

LAW UPHELD

FRANKFORT, KY., November 9—Constitutionality of the Kentucky Real Estate Commission law was upheld by the Court of Appeals in holding that it was entirely within the competency of the General Assembly to prescribe tests of "trustworthiness and competence" as a standard for real estate agents and brokers. It also held that the requirement that brokers maintain an office easily located was one to protect the public against the "irresponsible unscrupulous, fly-by-night operator." The decision sustained a prior ruling of Franklin Circuit Judge William B. Ardery.

When Willie Shepherd of Magoffin county applied boron and potash, yellowing of alfalfa leaves cleared up and they became dark-green.

WHITE THANKS VOTERS

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking my nearly 2,000 Republican and Democratic friends who voted for me in the recent election, without any undue pressure or promises, and of their own free will and accord.

I wish to particularly thank those who voted for me in several precincts without my knowledge and with no ammunition. The election was a very general education and I feel certain that all candidates will agree that the Floyd county system is certainly wrong and needs changing.

I wish to congratulate my opponent, Lon C. Hill. I feel that our district will be well and ably represented in the next legislature. Sincerely Yours,

N. M. (Bud) WHITE

RECREATION AREA ASKED

FRANKFORT, KY., November 9—The State was asked by civic groups in the Wolf Creek Dam area to develop a recreation area immediately below the dam, on property owned by the federal government.

State Senator Ed P. Warinner, Albany, active in the Lake Cumberland-Wolf Creek Dam Association, led the groups seeking state aid on the project. Commissioner of Conservation Henry Ward assured the group that he would ask the Army Corps of Engineers about the status of the project, but that for the present all the state can do is investigate the proposal. He reminded the delegation that the state is under immediate obligation to finish projects it has already started.

Ky. Auditor Reports Budget Compliances

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 9 (Spl.)—The State Auditor's office made 622 examinations of state and county budget units during the last two years which "in most instances, disclosed a substantial compliance with provisions of the law and adherence to approved budgets by state and local agencies."

State Auditor T. Herbert Tinsley added that the audits disclosed "much progress has been made by these agencies in the administration of public funds and in accounting for financial transactions."

The report of the auditor, available for administrative and legislative officials, reveals that each county in the state was audited twice during the two-year period ending last June 30. Other audits were made, some more than once, of various state and independent agencies.

Tinsley declared that a monthly reconciliation of the accounts of the Department of Finance and the state treasury was required which provides "a continuing monthly review of the accuracy and of the adequate accounting of state funds."

Dealing with county finances, Tinsley observed that of the 102 counties reporting a bonded or long-term debt, 61 have availed themselves of services offered by the Local Finance Division of the Department of Revenue to insure sound financial practices.

State Child Welfare Services Improved

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 9 (Spl.)—More trained professional workers, smaller work districts and better supervision of staff members are combining to give Kentucky improved Child Welfare services.

Mrs. Ruby A. Dennis, State Child Welfare director, reported today that her division now has 68 workers in offices throughout the state in addition to 12 consultants who supervise work on a district level. The number of consultants was increased last July 1 from nine, the previous highest number.

"This increase enables us to provide better professional guidance for workers and help them do a good job in the counties to which they are assigned," Mrs. Dennis pointed out.

She said the districts are now smaller than previously and consultants are able to meet with workers more regularly. Districts range in size from eight to 13 counties.

Mrs. Dennis said that an increase in secretarial help in offices throughout the state has also helped increase the work load handled in the offices by freeing workers for more contact work with clients and children.

The state now has Child Welfare coverage in all counties, although it is still on an emergency basis in some, the director reported. A shift of workers to more remote parts of the state has left a need for more workers in urban areas, she added.

Rural workers are also still needed, particularly in southeastern Kentucky. Salaries range from $240 to $400 monthly, depending on professional qualifications and experience.

In addition to workers in county and district offices, the division staffs Kentucky Children's home at Lyndon and Kentucky Village at Greendale for social service. There are two supervisors for Child Welfare services in the central office here, one having been added Oct. 1.

Also added was a supervisor of community services who works with local civic and social organizations on children's problems.

Mrs. Dennis described as "encouraging" an increase in the number of men workers in the division. There are now 14 men of the staff, which is believed to be the largest number in history of the division.

I wish to take this means of expressing my appreciation to the voters of Floyd county who gave me a decisive majority in the balloting for sheriff. This expression of confidence fortifies me with an humble faith and firm determination to render the people of this county the kind of service needed and expected from the sheriff's office.

I am deeply appreciative of the clean race my opponent, Bill Hall, made. I owe no man ill will, and, in particular, I respect my opponent as a fine and good citizen. Together, we and the many other citizens and voters can work for a better Floyd county. In union there is strength.

The Sheriff's office, like all other public offices, is a public trust. It is a gift of the people not for the officeholder's individual benefit but for the benefit of the people as a whole. As such I shall treat the office of sheriff.

NAME GOBLE TO ALL-EKMC

Ousley and Burchett Other Floyd Gridders Tabbed for Distinction

Clifford "Punkin" Goble, Prestonsburg high school backfield speedster, was named to the all-star football team of the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference at the loop's meeting in Pikeville, Sunday, while Paul Ousley, end, and Bucky Burchett, guard, on the Black Cat team, were second-team selections.

Whitesburg was adjudged Conference champion with a 6-0 record in the loop. Despite an unsullied EKMC record, the Letcher team lost three out of 10 games played against all competition and actually scored only one point more than was scored against it. Prestonsburg with an overall 7-3 record, and 4-3 within the Conference, wound up in fourth place. Over the season Coach Ferrell's boys scored 248 points while holding the opposition to 71 points. Prestonsburg Beats Paintsville In Teams' Big Game of Season

Prestonsburg's Blackcats closed their 1953 football season last Friday night by downing neighboring rival—Paintsville—14-7 before some 2,500 chilled fans in the Johnson county seat.

The cherished win raised the overall Blackcat record to seven wins and three losses, and inside the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference Doc Ferrell's lads had a 4-3 slate.

Since the beginning of the intense rivalry back in 1923, Prestonsburg has copped 15 wins, Paintsville eight, and five have ended in ties. Ferrell's teams have a 4-1 mark against the Johnson countians.

Amidst a flurry of penalties, pass interceptions and fumbles, Prestonsburg's running attack clicked for six-pointers in the second and fourth quarters. Otherwise, the play was dull and uninteresting.

Near the close of the first half, quarterback Lowell Hughes uncocked a 35-yard aerial to halfback Clifford Goble who moved for 20 yards to the Tiger five-yard stripe. Two plays later, guard Bucky Burchett and Center Joe Tackett opened a hole for "Punkin" Goble's dive into the end zone. Hughes split the uprights for the point after.

Paintsville retaliated in the early minutes of the third period on a sustained 65-yard march. Sandwiched in was a 15-yard clipping penalty and an offside miscue on Prestonsburg. Halfback Irvin Franklin took Billy Joe Kirk's handoff and pitched a perfect strike to halfback Rodney Oney for a 27-yard touchdown. Huston's plunge for the extra point was successful and it knotted the score at 7-7.

Both teams battled inside their respective 40-yard lines until the final four minutes. At one point, penalties set the Blackcats back on their own one-yard line, and R. Goble, C. Goble, Jeep Alexander and Hughes promptly moved the oval out to the 45, only to have Oney intercept a Hughes pass. Paintsville threatened by moving to the 17 on a recovery of Franklin's fourth-down kick which touched C. Goble, but an unnecessary roughness infraction killed the drive.

The Blackcats won the fray in the waning minutes as Ronnie Goble bowled over from seven yards out. Passes from Hughes to end Paul Ousley and C. Goble had been good for 31 yards and were instrumental in spearheading the 70-yard trek to yardline.

This was the final game for the Tigers but their fans will have the opportunity of watching the Big Sandy Bowl this Friday night as Catlettsburg and Cumberland clash at 8 p.m.

FOOTBALL CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

Three Bowl games Friday night wind up the 1953 high school football season. The winner of the Lynch-Lafayette battle in Mt. Sterling's Recreational tilt should receive the mythical state championship. Oddsmakers list Lafayette a seven-point choice, Catlettsburg by 6 over Cumberland in Paintsville's Big Sandy Bowl, and Racedland by 1 over Dayton in their Bowl game.

Champion Whitesburg dominated the all EK.M.C. football team with four players. Jenkins had three, Pikeville two, and Belfry and Prestonsburg one each. Lawson King, Belfry's 200-pound center, was the only unanimous selection.

Hazard high school, which was admitted as the tenth member of the EK.M.C. Sunday, will replace Russell on the Prestonsburg football schedule next season.

Eastern Kentucky was well represented on the University of Kentucky's squad in the football game with Vanderbilt last Saturday.

Basketball is well under way in the 15th region in the schools that do not play football. One of the best games of the young season was Garrett's 59-48 conquest of Wheelwright last Saturday night.

Some past scores are:
Garrett 61, Auxier 45; Oil Springs 83, McDowell 62; Wheelwright 73, Auxier 48; Wheelwright 69, Dorton 62.

This Friday's games:
Hindman at Garrett; Salyersville at McDowell; Wheelwright at Maytown.

Saturday's games:
Carr Creek at Garrett; DeDowell at Dorton.

Cumberland's star halfback, Ronnie Cain, still leads the state in football scoring with 139 points in 9 games on 22 touchdowns and 7 extra points. Teammate Jackie Gallagher has 109.
