he plans to eat "Mother's fried chicken, sleep some and make a few plans sometime soon."

The day's festivities ended for the mother and son with a steak dinner at Sammons' Drive-In.

Opl. Obroff was met Sunday at Wheelwright Junction with a parade which included city officials, Legionnaires, the high school band, Boy and Girl Scouts and representatives of civic groups.

But the big day for Obroff and his widowed mother, Mrs. Alex Obroff, will be Friday when Wheelwright will stage its big homecoming celebration in his honor.

As soon as it was learned when Opl. Obroff would arrive in San Francisco the Inland Steel Company installed a telephone in his mother's home at Wheelwright so that she could talk with her son immediately after he left ship.

Opl. Boyd was accompanied here from Louisville by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Worley Boyd, and Opl. Roy O. Belcher, of Pikeville, who had been in the No. 5 POW camp with him.

Upon their arrival the two soldiers were met at the Meade Hardware here by a procession of automobiles bearing residents of both Prestonsburg and Pikeville to greet them in a noisy, happy fashion.

Hot and dry, Prestonsburg, Wheelwright, Pyramid and way-points, all some changes, some old faces and welcome home. Everything was good in the eyes of these whom total strangers turned out to see and welcome home.

FIRE DAMAGES RAIL TRESTLE

P'Burg Firemen Save C. & O. Greater Loss; Coal Shipments Halted

The Ivyton railway trestle on the spur line of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway which links the big Breathitt county coal operations at Evanston with the main Big Sandy railway was damaged by fire Tuesday night, halting all coal shipments.

The damage was unofficially placed at $75,000, and but for the work of the Prestonsburg fire department and company employees, including trainmen, the loss might have mounted to $200,000 or more, it was said.

The trestle, which crosses the Salsyville-Prestonsburg highway at Ivyton, at the head of Middle Creek, caught fire at 11:00 p.m., when a small store located almost under it burned to the ground.

Calls for help were made to Prestonsburg, Paintsville and Salsyville. The Prestonsburg fire department responded, accompanied by Mayor Curtis Clark, with the Paintsville department promising to stand by for firefighting in Prestonsburg in the event of a local outbreak.

Ivyton is as dry as every other part of this section but through the night men carried water in barrels from wells and puddles in the creek, and poured the water into the auxiliary tank of the fire truck. Then Fred James and George Lockwood, the two members of the department who made the run to Ivyton, while others remained here to meet possible local emergencies, were able to turn the hose on the flames.

Later, a locomotive was brought into action to haul water from Paintsville, about 20 miles away. But when this water arrived the fire truck's hose did not fit the train engine connections, and the water was transferred to the auxiliary tank by moving the fire truck to lower ground, extending the hose to the train water supply and letting the slower method of gravity make the transfer.

One end of the trestle was severely damaged, and it was said the entire structure would have been a loss but for the Prestonsburg fire engine and its skeleton crew of two.

With the railway line to Evans-ton thus cut, daily shipment of 85 and 90 coal gondolas of 60 tons each is stopped. The repair job is expected to be completed within a week to the extent that traffic can be resumed.

Clicks and Stone, he said he was told, had gone to Blankenship's home after he had retired for the night and invited him to come to Ray Click's "for a little party". There was some beer-drinking, and a remark was made about a woman.

The wounded man was quoted as saying Ray Click thereupon stepped into an adjoining room and returned with the rifle on his shoulder. Announcing that "I'm going to kill every man here," he fired almost point-blank at Lloyd Click who stood on the other side of a table. Blankenship, who was partially crippled, sat in a low chair to the rear of Lloyd Click. Stone sat, a few feet away in a corner of the small room. Blankenship toppled to the floor with the report of the shot.

Sheriff Meade said Blankenship's head would have been in the line of fire. There also was only one empty cartridge shell found. The rifle lay on the table when Sheriff Meade and deputies arrived. An autopsy was performed by Dr. R. M. Sirkle, Tuesday, and the bullet, of .22-calibre, was removed from Blankenship's head.

Stone said only one shot was fired, but Lloyd Click insists there were two.

The man accused of the shooting told officers he had no idea where the gun came from, and it was indicated he would plead he had no recollection of the shooting.

Click's will be the only murder case to be investigated by the grand jury which will be empaneled Monday.

The wounded man is a son of M. V. Click, of near Sugar Loaf. Mr. Blankenship saw service during World War II in Germany, Italy and Sicily. He was a store employe of the Stephens Elkhorn Fuel Company, and both other principals in the shooting were employed by the same firm.

Blankenship is survived by his widow, Mrs. Pauline Click Blankenship, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bev Blankenship, of Mantion, three sisters and one brother, Mrs. Jewell Sturgill, St. Mary's, Ohio, Mrs. Helen Stumbo, Miss Betty Jo Blankenship and Marvin Blankenship, all of Mantion.

Funeral rites for the victim were conducted from the residence at Mantion, Tuesday, the Rev. Carl Layne officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

By: ROGER TURNER

"The difficult can be done immediately... the impossible takes a little longer..."

The longer we live the more examples we see of people doing the impossible... overcoming great hardships, handicaps and personal tragedies to rise triumphantly over what normally would be considered an insurmountable barrier.

We can foretell the strain an iron bar will tolerate, or anticipate the force of water pressure, but there is no mechanical device for measuring a person's endurance, or an individual's will to live... hence nobody is ever in a position to predict a human being's capacity in any given situation. And for this very reason alone we must approach the impossible, knowing full well that it can be accomplished.

There is no reason why we can't do anything... if we set our minds to the task at hand. There is a deep tendency in human nature to become like that which we imagine ourselves to be... BELIEVE we are defeated and we are... BELIEVE we are successful and we will be. The very things we fear most we attract to ourselves.

It IS true "Where there's a WILL there's a way".

LABOR UNITY, PLEA OF UMW

Pittsburg Labor Leader To Be Labor Day Speaker At Pikeville Celebration

Following is the official 1953 Labor Day statement of the United Mine Workers of America (unaffiliated):

"On this Labor Day of 1953, the international officers of the United Mine Workers of America—John L. Lewis, president; Thomas Kennedy, vice president; John Owens, secretary-treasurer—extend fraternal greetings and every good wish to organized labor, both to the unions and to the membership thereof.

"The United Mine Workers of America express the fervent hope that a year hence will see the labor movement of this country united and working as one for the economic, social and political welfare of the people. However, this will not be realized unless the membership of the trade unions rise up and insist upon the leadership of their unions consummating organic unity without 'conferecing' the matter to death.

"As we look into the year ahead we can discern the shadows and outlines of problems menacing to progress and security. It will require united team work and the cooperation of all concerned properly and adequately to guard and advance the cause of economic justice and social security.

"Put the house of labor in order and on this foundation the American way of life can go forward to even greater achievements."

In celebration of Labor Day thousands of America's coal miners and members of their families will participate in rallies throughout the coal mining areas of the nation. The rallies are sponsored by local unions and district organizations of the UMWA.

The two biggest events are scheduled for the Kentucky communities of Harlan and Pikeville where ground will be broken for two more hospitals among the chain of 10 being sponsored by the United Mine Workers Welfare and Retirement Fund.

At the Pikeville celebration, sponsored by District 30, the principal union speaker will be John P. Busarello of Pittsburgh, president of District 5. President of District 30 is Samuel Caddy, of Lexington. Spokesman for the Welfare Fund at Pikeville will be Dr. Fred D. Mott, medical administrator of the Memorial Hospital Association which has charge of the hospital, building program, and Dr. Asa Barnes of Louisville, area medical administrator.

their loved ones are happiest. Let the parades form now, the bands play now, to honor the boys and their kin who silently suffered at home.

For a few months hence, and their trials will belong to the limbo to which the short memory of man relegates even the finest and most heroic.

SO . . .
We heard this story, months ago, but somehow never got around to telling it here. The Reader's Digest came up with it recently, and so:

It seems that three sedate (when at home) business men went on safari to the jungle that is the big city and there, one night, assembled for an exchange of chit-chat. Eventually, for some reason, they decided to take down their hair, if any, and tell things straight out of their personal lives. Each agreed to come clean.

"I," said the first, "have for the ladies a weakness you'd never suspect. On trips such as this there's a certain blond widow I go calling on, with none the wiser back home."

Then the second came clean: "At home I'm known as a teetotaler, but when I get away I can't resist the drinks I've wanted all the time I've been on the wagon. So once or twice a year I go on an old-fashioned binge."

These facts so boldly stated, the third hesitated. "Come on, let's hear your weakness," urged the others. Still he demurred. "No fair," they argued. "You promised to tell."

"Well," the third finally said, "I'll tell you, fellows. My weakness is gossip, and I'm dying right now to get out that door!"

LONESOME PINE COUNCIL PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Plans for a Council-wide Campaign to organize more Scout Units in the Lonesome Pine Council were made at a dinner meeting held at Shawnee Scout Camp on Dewey Lake, Aug. 18.

William B. Sturgill, of Hazard, chairman of the Council Organization and Extension committee, said the Council has set as a goal a membership of 3,000 Scouts for the end of the year, and an intensive effort will be made to organize 25 more Cub packs, Scout troops, and Explorer units by the end of 1953. At the organization meeting it was reported that the Lonesome Pine Council received a national award in 1952 for membership growth. The Council is still far short of reaching the national average of Scout membership as compared to total population, however.

At the Shawnee Scout Camp meeting it was decided that volunteer Scout leaders, parents of boys, civic leaders, and all interested Scouters would be recruited to sign the following Organizer's Pledge:

I am in sympathy with the plan of the Lonesome Pine Council to

1. Participate in the Campaign Launching Dinner to be held at Wise, Virginia, on September 10th.
  2. Accept the prospective institution assigned to me and follow through step by step until the Unit is registered and I have installed the Unit.
  3. Report my progress weekly and attend the weekly meeting of organizers in the District.
  4. Call upon the Neighborhood Commissioner assigned to this Unit as soon as the Unit Leader has been selected.
  5. Join with the other organizers in a Victory Banquet.
- The Membership campaign will be under the direction of S. W. Garnett, Hazard; N. M. White, Jr., Prestonsburg; Dick Storey, Jenkins; W. C. Davis, Pikeville; C. K. Rowland, Clintwood; B. M. Neel, Big Stone Gap; and William B. Sturgill, chairman, Hazard.

BRIDGE ACQUIRED

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 1 — Ownership of the suspension bridge between Covington and Cincinnati has been transferred to the state of Kentucky in ceremonies in Cincinnati.

The Commonwealth bought the bridge for $4,361,000, the deal being financed by long-term bonds. The span is the fourth owned by the state in Covington and Newport.

Construction on the bridge started in 1857 but was interrupted by the Civil War. At the time it was opened in 1867 it was the longest suspension bridge in the world.

Wish of McKee Pupils Soon to Be Realized As Bookmobile Planned

"There isn't even a public library for anyone who likes to read in his spare time."

Thus did young Elmer Gray of McKee, Jackson county, write sadly in a 1952 essay that won him a $300 college scholarship in a Kentucky Chamber of Commerce community-development contest.

But Jackson county appears today to be on the road toward filling the lack he mentioned.

Funds for the operation of a Bookmobile—a traveling library—in the county have been pledged, according to James R. Baker, superintendent of the county's schools.

Jackson is among the growing list of counties where sponsors have pledged to obtain funds for the operation of a Bookmobile. It is hoped to have 100 of the traveling libraries operating in the state's rural areas by next year.

The Jackson county pledge came in one phase of the two-part Bookmobile drive.

Business firms, labor groups and other organizations will be asked during a Bookmobile finance campaign September 8 to 30 to pledge funds for the purchase of a Bookmobile. Each traveling library, fully stocked with books, costs $3,000.

The Bookmobiles will be assigned to communities where sponsors pledge the necessary funds to operate the traveling libraries for a year—also approximately $3,000. This includes such things as the salary of a driver-librarian, fuel, garage facilities, etc. Such sponsors can be county or local authorities, community organizations, or individuals.

It is this pledge—to finance the operation of a Bookmobile—that has been given in Jackson county.

Airport Investment Over $4 Million

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 1 — Federal, State and local governments have invested approximately $4,100,000 in airport facilities in Kentucky within the last five years, representing "only a beginning in this important field," according to Commissioner of Aeronautics Charles H. Gattrell.

The Federal Government has contributed $1,997,480.96 of the total outlay, the State $893,009.93 and local governments $1,188,425.87.

Work has been done or is in progress on these existing or new airports:

Bowling Green, Paducah, Kenton county, Bluegrass Field in Lexington, Standiford Field in Louisville, Kentucky Dam, Kentucky Lake, Middlesboro, Georgetown, Mayfield, Owensboro, Hazard, Ashland, London, Somerset, Hopkinsville, Stanton, Frankfort and Harlan.

NEW CHEMICALS

New sources for old chemicals have been discovered through petrochemical expansion. New chemicals also are being developed by making them from that magic substance, petroleum.

Notice to Democrats:

Eastern Kentucky Survey Of Industrial Potential Covers Big Sandy Towns

The Department of Commerce is making a survey of Eastern Kentucky coal-mining areas to see if plants there are equipped to handle defense contracts.

Senator John Sherman Cooper said that a large section of Eastern Kentucky has been designated as a labor-surplus area.

This area includes Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Corbin, Hazard, Middlesboro, Harlan, and Paintsville, the senator said. He added that there still is a major labor surplus in these towns, and the counties in which they are located, despite substantial movement of their labor elsewhere.

The areas are eligible for defense contracts, Cooper said, and the Commerce Department wants to learn which manufacturers would be able to handle them.

Ask Appellate Court To Enjoin 2 Members Of Martin-Co. Board

The Court of Appeals was asked Monday of last week to direct Martin circuit court to enjoin two members of the Martin County Board of Education from serving because they were illegally appointed.

The action was brought against Mrs. Florine Bell Preece and William O. Harmon by attorneys Eldred E. Adams, Louisa, and C. Kilmer Combs, Prestonsburg, in behalf of Attorney General J. D. Buckman, Jr.

The suit charged that Mrs. Preece and Harmon were appointed in violation of a court order which prevented other members of the board from acting pending outcome of misconduct charges against them. Those charges were filed with the State Board of Education.

Circuit Judge James W. Turner on August 5 overruled the state's motion for a temporary court order against Mrs. Preece and Harmon.

Two other members of the Martin board—Earl Markham and Walter Branham—were restrained earlier this month from attempting to fill any vacancies on the board.

That order was obtained on motion of board chairman Brown Allen, who contended that Markham and Branham had appointed Mrs. Preece and Harmon to the board in violation of a Martin circuit court temporary order issued June 6. That order was dissolved July 14.

Martin county board members have been quarreling among themselves and with Superintendent Sheldon Clark since early this year.

Clark filed misconduct and neglect-of-duty charges against Markham and Branham with the State Board of Education in June. The State board said there was enough evidence to oust the two members, but ordered the board and Clark to work together under a threat that the board would be ousted and Governor Wetherby asked to appoint a new one.

MT. ANGLERS TO DEMONSTRATE CASTING STYLE AT STATE FAIR

Special to The Times

Frankfort, Kentucky — Kentucky sportsmen are coming into their own at the State Fair. This year, a full day of activities has been arranged for hunters and fishermen and others interested in these pursuits and in addition the youngsters will have four days in which to fish under supervision at the Fairgrounds pond. Furthermore, an exhibit to run the duration of the fair has been arranged by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and the League of Kentucky Sportsmen.

Boys and girls will be permitted to fish for fish and prizes with everything furnished at the Fair pond on September 11, 12, 13 and 14. The wildlife exhibit will be in the Department's building for the duration of the fair and a one-day sportsman's program will be given in front of the grandstand on the last day of the fair, September 19.

For Sportsman's Day a full program has been arranged. In the afternoon the champion coon dog of the state will be decided in a drag with the race ending at a tree in front of the grandstand. The Mountain Anglers, a group of Prestonsburg amateur casters who have won numerous casting contests, including the Dixie Championship at Miami, Fla., will give a demonstration in their rhythm casting at both afternoon and night sessions. Mr. and Mrs. Al Thorwarth, Bellevue, will show how archery operates in the afternoon session with demonstrations in accuracy, penetrating power of the arrow and different types of bows and arrows.

Ostriches, hooked to carts, will race at both afternoon and night sessions and both programs will be opened with a concert and drill by a U. S. Marine Corps unit. A highlight of the night session will be a group of dancers who will perform intricate dance numbers. The performance will be by the Barbara Ann School of Dancing of Frankfort.

The wildlife exhibit this year will be one of the most extensive yet arranged for the fair with practically every species of Kentucky wildlife and birds being on display. In addition, informational data will be available to all visitors at the exhibit.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 31 (Spl.) — More than 3,900 Kentucky boys, members of Junior Conservation Clubs, spent week-long camping trips at two camps maintained by the State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources this summer.

A report by the department shows that 3,682 boys visited Camp Earl Wallace on Lake Cumberland in a camping season starting May 23 and running through Aug. 15, and 1,398 boys attended Camp Curry on Kentucky Lake between May 23 and Aug. 22.

At the camps the boys were instructed in swimming, fishing, boat operation, marksmanship, safety and nature subjects.

There are some 25,000 members in 520 junior clubs throughout the Commonwealth. The clubs are sponsored by senior sportsmen's clubs and service organizations in cooperation with their schools.

There were 3,682 boys at the camps in the summer of 1952.

By 1960, it is estimated that the United States will rely on oil and natural gas for about two-thirds of its energy.

Kentucky's squirrel season opened Tuesday, August 25, and will continue through November 5, with a limit of six per day, or a possession limit of 12 after two or more days of hunting, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources announced.

Preliminary reports from conservation officers throughout the state indicate that the squirrel crop this year is as great as, and in some sections greater than, last season's. Either rifles or shotguns may be used by the hunter, but a hunting license must be held.

On September 1 a 30-day dove season will open in the state with a bag and possession limit of eight. Shooting hours are from noon (Central Standard Time) until sundown and doves may not be shot over baited fields.

Police Radio Program Shows Highway Danger

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 1 (Spl.) — A radio program, "The Corridor," produced by the Department of State Police is being used this week to remind Kentucky motorists of the danger of highway accidents facing them over the Labor Day weekend.

The 15-minute program is narrated by State Police Commissioner Charles C. Oldham and shows how carelessness brought tragedy to a family taking a week-end fishing trip. Tapes of the program have been distributed to all Kentucky radio stations.

Oldham today reminded drivers that there were nearly 500 accidents on Kentucky highways over last Labor Day and that death came to seven persons. Another 195 were injured.

Many of the accidents came to persons starting late for their holiday and trying to make up time on the highway, according to the commissioner. "A trip should be planned so that ample time is allowed for travel and so that the return home is made before the driver is too fatigued to drive," Oldham said.

Kentucky's highway death record has shown consistent improvement over that for 1952. The report through Aug. 25 showed 439 deaths this year against 498 on the same date last year.

LARGER CHECKS LEGAL

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 1 — Larger monthly checks for retired men teachers under the State's teacher retirement system are legal, according to a ruling given by the Attorney General's office.

The ruling held that the payments are made on the basis of mortality tables now in use that show the men have a life expectancy of 13 1/4 years. This means that payment must be made at a higher rate to the men in order that they exhaust the contributions they and the State have made to the retirement system and the interest the funds have earned.

The question of the legality of the payment differential was brought up by a Louisville woman.

CATS TO OPEN AT WHITESB'G

Prestonsburg, Weakened By Graduation, To Face Strong Eleven, Friday

A Prestonsburg high school team, weakened by graduation of two all-state men and a whole flock of first-stringers, will open the 1953 football campaign Friday evening against Whitesburg, one of the top teams of the conference.

Whitesburg, which during recent years has been Prestonsburg's opening foe, is billed as one of the section's strongest teams. The Letcher countians have been staggered by the Cats hard and often in these curtain-raiser, but the prospects aren't bright from the Prestonsburg point of view this year.

Coach Doc Ferrell returned here last Friday night from football camp with his small squad. The week away from home was made more enjoyable by three encounters with as many Central Kentucky eleven, Winchester, Mt. Sterling and Madison. The Cats won all three in easy fashion. But the CKC is notoriously weak in football, Coach Ferrell said.

Prestonsburg's two stalwarts who received football scholarships from the University of Kentucky upon high school graduation last May—John Delmar Hughes and John Gordon Goble—left Sunday for Lexington to begin grid practice with the Wildcats. They join there another former Prestonsburg high school star, Jim Mayo, who excelled in the kicking department last year for U.-K.

CORRECTION

The Times erroneously reported last week that the crippled, children's clinic here was held under auspices of the Presbyterian Auxiliary. The clinic was under auspices of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club.

Quotes from our boys in service—Donald Jones writes from Berlin, Germany: "No, no one sends me The Floyd County Times. You bet I would like it very much if you would be so kind as to send it to me. I will love you twice as much if you would do it." Fosse Frazier of the Air Force writes from Germany: "How is everything with the lovelorn this fine day? If its anything at home like it is here, it is a very fine day. Honest, this is the nicest day we've had since I've been here and it is the most beautiful country you've ever seen."

Exhibit at Mine Rally On Labor Day To Show Social Security Work

A social security exhibit will be a part of the educational display at the United Mine Worker's Labor Day outing at the Pikeville ball park.

This announcement was made by Marco M. Rudd, manager of the Administration's field office at Ashland.

It is important that all workers know their rights and obligations under the law, Rudd said.

In past years many people have visited the exhibit to ask questions and to transact business with the field office representative, he further explained.

Insurance payments to workers and their families have reached a substantial figure, yet there are people residing in Floyd county who delay filing an application and sometimes the individual loses the insurance payments due on retirement. Survivors of workers who die should also be fully informed.

The exhibit will also be attended by representatives from the Hazard field office.

Wins Place in Playoffs; First Game, Friday Night Against Indian Cr. Team

Drift and Indian Creek, survivors of the first round of the Big Sandy League playoffs, will meet at the Drift ball park Friday night in the first game of a 3-of-5 series to determine the loop champion. The teams will meet on a home-and-home basis, but Indian Creek's home game may be played at the Wheelwright park.

Drift reached the final round of the last of the ninth last Sunday when Allen had a five-run lead. Drift won, 11 to 10, with Jimmy Reed's tremendous triple with two men abase being the big wallop of the inning. A fielding gem by Dale Adkins, centerfielder who made a diving catch of a hard-hit ball in the ninth when Allen had two on was a game-saver for Drift. Griggs homered for the winners, as did Brown for Allen.

Jones, Coyer and McSurley pitched for Drift, with McSurley getting credit for the win. Click hurled for Allen till the explosive ninth when he was relieved by Burchett, with Laferty coming to Burchett's rescue.

The Allen team won the regular season race.

HERE IS MY PROGRAM

1. I am qualified for the office of County Judge by education and training. (My opponent does not seem to have learned much in the 14 long years he has held public office.)
2. I stand for honesty in County Government.
3. Yearly accounting of income and disbursements by all officials. Excess fees to be turned in to the County Treasury.
4. An honest road program that will serve the most people.
5. Law and order. I favor enforcement of the laws in an honest way, with equal justice for all.
6. Highways to be made safer to travel. Drunk and reckless drivers to be given special attention.
7. No illegal charges for warrants to be made.
8. Poll tax. I favor the elimination of this kind of a tax. This tax is only collected from part of the people. Property owners pay this tax as it is on their tax bills, others do not pay. I don't believe in discrimination where taxes are concerned.
9. The court house has been permitted, by the present judge, to go to rack and ruin. The floor is all cracked up and ready to drop through to the ground. Necessary repairs will have to be made to make the court house safe and sanitary.
10. The Bible says that the poor will never cease out of the land. I favor a more humane policy for our poor unfortunate people. Newspaper reports of children starving and the case of a girl being found wired with hay wire up in the Mud Creek section of our county shows that these poor unfortunate people have not been humanely dealt with.

Sincerely,

Jas. Wine Resigns Job As U. S. Commissioner; May Oppose Carl Perkins

James Wine, former Prestonsburg attorney, but now of Pikeville, submitted his resignation Tuesday as United States commissioner for the Eastern District of Kentucky. It was tendered to Federal Judges H. Church Ford and Mac Swinford. Wine's action was taken on his return here from two weeks' active duty with the 100th Division Army Reserve, at Fort Knox.

The resignation reportedly was made so Wine could enter politics as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative from the Seventh Kentucky Congressional District. The present congressman from this district is Carl Perkins, Hindman Democrat.

He had been commissioner since July, 1949.

GORMON COLLINS for SHERIFF

A Man Who Believes A PUBLIC OFFICE IS A PUBLIC TRUST.

Do you have children? Grandchildren? Do you love them? Do you want to make this county a decent place for them to live in? These children are the most precious things in the world. It is your duty and privilege to keep Floyd county clean for them. It is our sacred trust to build a future for these children. If your answer is Yes to the above questions your conscience will require you to TALK, SUPPORT and VOTE for Gormon Collins for Sheriff.

When I am elected Sheriff of Floyd county I will see that there is an officer at all athletic events and public gatherings outside the incorporated towns, and at all others on request. I will give your schools and churches the protection that is so sadly lacking.

NO SOCIETY CAN EXIST UNLESS THE LAWS ARE RESPECTED. THE SAFEST WAY TO MAKE OUR LAWS RESPECTED IS TO ELECT RESPECTABLE OFFICERS.

HUNT SEASON FOR SQUIRREL

May Close, Is Stated, If Forest Fire Threat In Drouth Area Remains

Unless hunters are more careful of fires in the fields and woods, there is a possibility that the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources may close the squirrel season until the threat of forest fires is passed, Earl Wallace, Commissioner of the Department, declared last Friday.

The squirrel season opened August 25, and since that time reports of several forest fires, due to carelessness of hunters, have been received, Mr. Wallace said.

In issuing the warning the Commissioner pointed out that much of the state is suffering from a prolonged drought, and danger of forest fires, such as were experienced last fall, is increasing day by day. "The fields and woods, especially in the western section of the state, are a tinder box," Mr. Wallace declared, "and unless extreme care is used by hunters thousands of dollars in damage may be caused." He urged hunters to refrain from smoking while hunting and not to set camp fires unless extreme care is used.

The Commissioner declared that if the Commission is forced to close the season until rains come, the number of days that it is closed will be added on to the regular season; that is, should the season be closed for 10 days, those 10 days would be added onto the end of the season, thereby giving the hunters the number of days of hunting as originally set.

Governor Lawrence Wetherby later Friday, in a radio recording, urged extreme care by hunters and warned of the tremendous timber loss which may be caused by forest fires. He also pointed out the danger forest fires present to human lives as well as to the lives of wild animals and birds.

Obituary

Josie Conley Dotson, daughter of Ben Conley and Polly Ann Hackworth Conley, was born in Floyd county on August 2, 1881. She passed away on August 23, 1953 at the age of 72 years and 26 days. On January 1, 1902 she became the wife of Eliza Dotson. To this union were born nine children. During the early years of married life they chose farming as a means of livelihood. Working side by side, they became fairly prosperous and successful.

Within the course of a few short years the grim hand of death claimed the lives of three adult daughters, Osie, Alka, and Nancy, and two infant sons. This tragic misfortune brought much sorrow and grief to the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Dotson. However, the healing hand of time wrought its gentle work and they were blest with strength to carry on.

The life of Josie Dotson has been outstanding in a number of ways. She has always been a lover of unflinching strength to her husband and her family. She has graciously filled her place as a wife, a mother, a homemaker and a friend. She never shrank from any task however difficult, but faced life with courage and determination. Through their many years of married life she has stood beside her husband on a basis of equality, a wise counsellor and a business partner.

In the year 1940 she was converted, baptized and became a member of the United Baptist Church. Since that time she has held firmly to the profession of her faith and has lived strictly and consistently for her Lord.

She is survived by her husband, four daughters, Mrs. Levi Prater, Brainard, Ky., Mrs. Mazie Hackworth, Tecumseh, Michigan, Mrs. Kash Salyer, Ashland, Ky., and Mrs. James Patrick, Ft. Wayne, Ind., also one son, Delmar Dotson, of Detroit, Michigan. She is also survived by six sisters and one brother, two brothers and one sister having passed on to their reward. She also leaves 13 grandchildren and a host of near relatives and friends.

Mrs. Dotson was much admired and deeply respected for her honest integrity and for her clean and simple way of life. Those who knew and loved her are rejoicing in the blessed hope that she has found sweet rest and peace beyond the setting of life's sun.

The funeral was conducted Sunday, August 30 at the Iryton Baptist Church with the Rev. J. L. Denington and Rev. Wallace Calhoun officiating. The large crowd which came and the many flowers showed the esteem with which she was held in the community. 11-pd.
