TIP TO PARENTS
If you want to hear from your youngsters who are away in school, see that they are flat broke at least once a week.

FISHING REPORT
Maybe it's a bit late to report it, but two weeks or so ago Carl and Donald Horn and their wives—most of the catching was done by the wives—brought in two nice strings of bass from Dewey Lake. More recent catches include Great Northern pike. One of these was a 27-inch four-pounder landed by Roy Gibson while trolling a bomber last Saturday. Otherwise, fishing during the past week was almost at season's low. One cynic wondered if it was because the moon was full or because the fishermen were full of moon.

REWARD FOR GOOD WORK
The Governor's Commission on Adult Education has announced that a $100 cash prize will be awarded the state's best child-teacher in a contest which ends next August 31. The youngster who does the teaching must not be more than 14 years of age before next September 1. The child's pupil may be his or her grandfather, or any adult who has never learned to read and write, and the youngster may teach this adult anything from the ABCs through the fourth grade.

This is a program in which literate adults should join—and not to win a prize, either. This is what an adult, once illiterate, later was able to write—and if that wouldn't be reward enough for any teacher, what would satisfy?

Identity of Dynamiters On Beaver Creek Thought Known, Proof Is Lacking

Sheriff Gorman Collins said Wednesday that the identity of persons who set off dynamite blasts at half a dozen points on Route 80, between Bosco and Garrett and on Rock Fork is "pretty well-known" but that actual proof is lacking.

Officers' investigation revealed that two autos were used by the dynamiters who hurled the charges from car windows and sped away. "In fact," Collins said, "we have warrants for arrests, but the evidence isn't sufficient to support them. We feel that there are citizens who could help but won't."

Dynamite was exploded at the roadside in Bosco, at nearby Reed Branch, at Stone Coal, at the mouth of Rock Fork where windows of the Troy Webb home and two windows of the Garrett school on Rock Fork in Knott county were broken. On the same road, in Floyd county, a mail box was blown up.

All the dynamiting was done on the same night.

DEWEY PARK WAITS ROAD DEVELOPMENT

Ward Tells Park Plans At Dewey Lake at Meeting Held Tuesday Evening

Although Henry Ward, Commissioner of Conservation, indicated during his speech to members and guests of the Dewey Lake Association Tuesday evening that he was open for questions about plans for Dewey Lake State park, few were asked. He had already made a careful examination of Dewey Lake problems and explained what was in the state's plans.

One item of the Commissioner's plans is the construction, near Arrowhead Point, of a lodge containing between 35 and 50 rooms. Another is 25 vacation cottages in the same area.

Chief deterrent to the go-ahead signal on these projects, he said, was the need of a lakeside road. It does not make sense to do development work along the lake and find later that some of it has to be torn down to make way for a road, he pointed out.

The road system envisioned by Ward and the state highway official is a loop, built across the dam through Hager Gap to intersect with the planned relocated U. S. 23 near the Auxier bridge. The scenic lake route would branch off near Hager Gap, skirt the shore line to Arrowhead Point, then continue to Stratton Branch, and connect with the Brandy Keg road leading to U. S. 23 at Lancer. Holding up construction of the road through Hager Gap to the Girl Scout camp, Ward said he understood, was the acquisition of a small bit of right-of-way between the Auxier bridge and government-acquired land at Hager Gap. Ward said that he considered the main entrance to the park area would finally turn out to be through Hager Gap.

Ward gave a comprehensive picture of park development in the state, aired the many problems of his administration, chief of which is a lack of funds to do the mammoth job of putting Kentucky in front in park development. He discussed revenue bonds and said that other states are planning bond issues that will amortize easily from revenue. He went on record as favoring this type of financing.

HIGH SCHOOLS ENROLL MORE

But Grade Enrollment Drops; Trend Believed Caused by Work Quest

School authorities in Floyd county are doing a bit of brow-wrinkling, these days, in an effort to explain a school enrollment trend that is new to the county.

They're looking for the reason for the jump in enrollment in every high school while the grade departments of most of these same consolidated schools are showing enrollment losses.

They could ascribe the increased high school attendance to efforts being made to keep youngsters in school after they leave the grades, but that doesn't explain the drop at the same time in the grades. The best explanation arrived at to date is this: As hundreds of families have moved from the county to other sections of the country where work is more plentiful, the parents of pupils of high school age, having attained more age themselves and having become more firmly established here at home, are less inclined to pull up stakes, literally, and move with their families to strange cities. Meanwhile, it is believed, parents of grade school children, themselves being younger, are the ones who are bundling up their families and leaving for other fields.

Whatever the reason, early enrollment figures compiled at the County Superintendent's office show this definite trend when compared with last year's enrollment figures—more pupils in high school, fewer in the grades. Perhaps a further break-down of the enrollment by grades would show more conclusively that it is the younger children who are leaving Floyd county with their parents.

Any way, here are this year's figures, with those of the preced-

Martin Files First Suit In Drunk Driving Cases; Seeks to Recover $500

A civil action filed by Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin last week in circuit court here in a drunk driving case is typical of others the official said he will institute if he gets an opportunity for first action at drunk drivers.

This was a complaint seeking to recover $500 and costs from Clinton Brown. The suit alleges that on or about March 1, this year, Brown operated a motor vehicle at Price, this county, while under influence of intoxicants. The petition points out that this is an offense for which the only punishment is a fine.

Martin pointed out in a discussion of the case that in a civil action such as he has filed it is not necessary to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant was guilty.

FAIR DRAWS BIG CROWDS

School Bands Parade, Fair Queen Selected On Last Day of Event

The Floyd County Fair concluded a three-day stand here Saturday, and the last day of the event probably attracted widest interest, shown as school bands paraded Prestonsburg streets and the 1954 Fair queen was named.

Miss Betty Jean Vanhoose, pretty brunette from Allen, was crowned queen of the Fair, culminating a contest sponsored by the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, and she rode at the head of the procession of marching bands with Mayor Curtis Clark, of Prestonsburg. In all seven girls entered in the contest. Each was sponsored by a Floyd business firm. The winner was sponsored by Bob Francis, Apparel.

The Fair brought together exhibits from schools of the county, 4-H Clubs, FFA chapters and individual homemakers.

Belated arrival of tents reduced the number of individual exhibits,

REA DAY, HAPPY OCCASION FOR EX-POW AND HIS BRIDE

As Fight For Senate To Be Torrid; Local Appearances Planned

October will be a hot one, whatever the thermometer register, for the kindling of fires under the political pot is already under way.

Senator John Sherman Cooper officially opened his campaign for re-election this week with a speech at Lexington, and aware that they face formidable opposition in the person of Ex-Vice-President Alben W. Barkley, Democratic warhorse, Republicans plan to make Kentucky one of the major political battlegrounds of the nation during coming weeks.

Curtis Clark, mayor of Prestonsburg, who is opposing Congressman Carl D. Perkins for the Seventh district seat in the national House of Representatives, announced this week that he will open his campaign with an address at the courthouse here at 11 a.m., Saturday of this week. His speech will be heard over radio station WPRF.

A district fund-raising rally will be held with a breakfast at the grade school cafeteria here Saturday morning, Oct. 2, Mayor Clark said. Senator Everett Dirksen, Illinois Republican, will be the speaker. Citizens for Cooper and Clark are sponsoring the breakfast.

This will be followed by the appearance at the courthouse here at 2 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 6, of Former Vice-President Barkley and his running-mate, Congressman Perkins, in addresses to the voters, it was announced Wednesday by County Clerk DuRan Moore, chairman of the Barkley-Perkins campaign in this county.

The Republican organization reportedly has scheduled for campaign speeches in Kentucky during October Vice-President Nixon and House Speaker Oje Martin, in addition to Senator Dirksen.

In a statement issued from his Paducah home Barkley this week referred to this schedule as "for-

HOT OCTOBER IN PROSPECT

REA DAY, HAPPY OCCASION FOR EX-POW AND HIS BRIDE

Forrest Montgomery and his wife, Barbara, watch the many arrangements being completed near their home for the REA Field Day, last Friday, when they were the recipients of many electric home appliances. He was the 200,000th customer to apply for service from the Co-op.

Speakers at the Field Day, honoring Montgomery, former prisoner-of-war, were George Long, (standing) of Washington, chief assistant to Anchor Nelson, national administrator of REA, and S. D. Wolfe, of Paintsville, (sitting), local manager of the Co-op.

A housewarming in the best 20th century style was given Forrest Montgomery, former Korean prisoner-of-war, and his bride of five months at their brand-new home on the Middle Creek road, Saturday.

The gifts included electrification of the home and, literally, a shower of electrical appliances—a television set, a refrigerator, electric range, well pump, washer, electric water heater, and an assortment of lamps.

All this good fortune for the young couple came about because they were the 200,000th Kentucky customer of the Rural Electrification Administration. As a result, the Kentucky REA Day that had been proclaimed by Governor Wetherby was scheduled to be held at the Montgomery home, which is on the Prestonsburg-Salyersville road, seven miles from here. The Big Sandy REA Cooperative handled the day's proceedings.

These proceedings, in addition to the connecting of electric service to the new home and the presentation and installation of hundreds of dollars worth of gifts, included speeches by Congressman Carl D. Perkins, George J. Long, Washington, D. C., REA Representative and S. D. Wolfe, Big Sandy Co-Op manager, music by Odey Crabtree and his group from WSAZ-TV, Huntington, W. Va., movies of the activities and free food and soft drinks for the several hundred persons gathered for the event.

Little more than a year ago, the 23-year-old Montgomery was a Master Sergeant Montgomery, held prisoner in North Korea. He had been twice wounded, had been a prisoner of the Reds 27 months. A quiet home on the Middle Creek he knew back home, gifts galore, a wife, the congratulations of friends and relatives—all these were farther away even than dreams, just then. Told a few days before the celebration of his good fortune, Montgomery couldn't believe it. "All I've had is bad luck," he said.

Among the hundreds of well-wishers at the celebration were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dyrus Montgomery, of West Prestonsburg, his two sisters and eight brothers. One of these brothers was Ex-Cpl. Roy C. Montgomery, who was on hand at Freedom Village to greet Forrest upon his release from Communist control.

Seven Persons Injured In Two-Car Collision

As Fight For Senate To Be Torrid; Local Appearances Planned

A two-car collision at Hunter shortly after noon Sunday resulted in the injury of seven persons. Most seriously hurt was Mrs. Carmel Dale, wife of Earl Dale, of Wheelwright. She suffered a broken leg, and is a patient at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin.

Others injured were Earl Dale, driver of one of the autos, the Dales' daughter, Dixie Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Case, Miss Dreamy Gullett and Roy Clemmons.

Floyd County's Bookmobile Formally Presented at Fair

Floyd county received its Bookmobile last Thursday at the Kentucky State Fairgrounds, Louisville. Left to right are Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby, State Senator Doug Hayes, representing the donors, Floyd county citizens, and Floyd county's representative, County Judge Henry Stumbo.

Floyd County's new Bookmobile has been delivered and the traveling library soon will be rolling along the county's roads.

The presentation was made last Thursday afternoon at the Kentucky State Fairgrounds, Louisville, before 7,000 spectators that filled the grandstand and surrounding area.

Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby, on behalf of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, turned the Bookmobile over to Floyd county's representative, Henry Stumbo. Standing by as he did so was

State Senator Doug Hayes, representing Floyd county citizens, whose cash contributions made the Bookmobile possible.

The Bookmobile then was brought to Prestonsburg, where it became an exhibit at the Floyd County Fair.

A total of 84 Bookmobiles representing 36 counties were turned over to individual counties at the mass presentation. Of these 84, six bought by the Project were already in use. There are funds on hand for about 12 more and the Kentucky Bookmobile Project hopes soon to get Bookmobiles in to the remaining counties that desire them.

The ceremonies climaxed a 19-month drive that saw $300,000 raised by private subscription for the purchase of the Bookmobiles and their stocks of books.

The hope of the Kentucky Bookmobile Project is to raise the state to the top in providing free library service from its former position of 47th among the 48 states.

The presentation of the Bookmobiles followed brief addresses

Belief Expressed Valley To Get Big Share; Govt. To Buy 10 Million Tons

REA DAY, HAPPY OCCASION FOR EX-POW AND HIS BRIDE

The announcement that two million of the 10 million tons of coal the government will buy for export will come from Kentucky was hailed by a prominent Floyd county operator Wednesday as good news to the coal mining industry and those employed by it in this section.

This optimism was based on the considered prediction that the Big Sandy-Elkhorn field will get a large share of the 2,000,000-ton order and that the price offered for the coal will be such that "it very definitely will permit operators to produce and ship it."

That most of the Kentucky tonnage will be mined in the Big Sandy valley was the prediction made by this industry spokesman. If, say, half of it comes from the Big Sandy, it was pointed out, the order would result in 166,666 man-hours of work on the basis of coal being produced at the rate of six tons a day per man.

The announcement that the federal government will buy this huge volume of coal for shipment overseas was made Tuesday at the summer White House in Denver, Colo., and from U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper's office in Washington. Said Cooper:

"For many months I have been working on this program for the alleviation of the depressed condition of the coal fields of Kentucky. Due to its interior location, Kentucky is not ordinarily a coal export state. For this reason it is all the more gratifying that President Eisenhower and Mrs. Stassen have seen fit to accede to my request. Certainly, this program will contribute substantially to restoring Kentucky to its rightful status as one of the principal coal producing states."

The operator contacted by The Times said coal interests of this section had worked closely with Washington officials in planning the coal program. He added that

NAME CHANGE FOR PARK OFF

Fiscal Court Requests Ward To Retain Dewey Name for State Park

The move launched here recently by the Dewey Lake Improvement Association to seek change in the name of Dewey Lake State Park was considered dead this week.

The Association's resolutions asking state officials to name the park Jenny Wiley Park had been seconded by the Prestonsburg Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and apparently was gaining headway. The new name was suggested as more euphonious and also as a memorial to the Big Sandy's pioneer heroine, Jenny Wiley, who escaped from her Indian captors and made her way to Harman's Station, which was located across the river from East Point, a mile as the crow flies from the site of Dewey Dam.

The proposal was slated for presentation to Commissioner Henry Ward, of the Kentucky Department of Conservation, at the Dewey Lake Improvement Association meeting at Lancer, Wednesday evening. But Wednesday morning, the Floyd fiscal court adopted resolutions asking that the name of the park remain unchanged, pointing out that both the lake and park had become well-established under their present names throughout Kentucky and adjoining states. The court directed County Clerk DuRan Moore to present a certified copy of its resolutions to Mr. Ward, and this Mr. Moore did.

Ward pointed out that the state already has gone to considerable expense to advertise the developing park as Dewey Lake State Park and that a change of name would serve to confuse the public.

While the state park could have been renamed by state authority, name of the lake could be changed only by act of Congress.

The Winston Ford Company, of Prestonsburg, was the low bidder Friday on the construction of an access road to the site of the $60,000,000 high lift roller dam to be built on the Ohio River at Greenup.

The firm's bid on the half-mile of construction was $48,060. The Army Corps of Engineers' estimate for the work was $50,278.

Kentucky hills, the spot where I was born and first viewed the big mysterious world via a four-pane window in a wee little house on a wooded hillside.

"As I stood again inside the room where I was born, where the mudwasp's nest answered for a Rembrandt, cobwebs took the place of a Murillo, and in the soft embrace of a goose-feather bed, sans springs, I worshipped at the altar of Morpheus, I wondered where more peace could be found. There under friendly stars, while the screech owl calls to its mate from a moonlit oak, banks may break or factories burn, stocks go up and down, or panic seize the town, peace nevertheless reigns as lord of all.

"In the background of our lovely Kentucky hills, time seems to linger a while to rest from wanderlust through the misty centuries of old. The only thing to remind one that we live in a modern world is the deep-throated roar of an airliner high in the sky."

Thus was released from the thrall of illiteracy the soul of a poet.

One of the onerous tasks of sorghum-making in this section has been eliminated, and it was the shortage of labor that did it. Years ago, and in several communities yet, the blades were stripped from the cane before it was crushed in the mill. Sometimes the fodder was saved for livestock feed, but more often it was thrown away. When labor became unavailable to strip cane, farmers tried feeding it to the mill with the blades on it. Result was no lowering of quality or quantity of sorghum.

Sorghum-making, an autumnal task that almost vanished from this county a few years ago, is on the increase, according to the ASC office here. Makers of sorghum say the resurgence of interest in farming began about three years ago. Now, it is estimated a dozen or more men have mills to make 'lasses for farmers. One of the old timers at the job is William Hicks, of Hueysville, who has been making for over a quarter of a century. To date this year he has made 450 gallons, has another 400 contracted to make.

Some custom makers are now using jeeps to pull the big "sweep" of the cane mill, but not Hicks. He still uses the time-honored mule.

WHY DO GALS ACT SO OR SO?

Some disenchanted morning I shall meet her and she will not speak to me, even though the place is not a crowded room but merely a narrow sidewalk.

The youngster for a long while now has met me, almost every morning, with a nice smile and quiet "Good morning." There is no self-consciousness about this friendliness that is such a scarce commodity these days.

But, come some morning, she will fail to see me and, of course, will fail to speak. There will be a spot exactly three feet to her right of my head that she'll be looking. "Startin'" is perhaps the more correct word. This is a stranger I'm meeting now. I speak, and go on wondering what has happened.

How do I know this time is coming when I'll be losing another speaking acquaintance? Because I've lost them before. I've had youngsters who have known me for years and spoken to me all that time to change overnight and become strange, distant creatures.

Why do gals act so or so? Holmes, the poet, years ago confessed a lack of understanding of women as dismal as yours or mine. Is it because they've suddenly seen through their acquaintances and decided they aren't worth speaking to? Or has somebody warned them with a bogey-man story to the effect that girls who speak to men are considered forward? Or have they suddenly grown up overnight and drawn into the mystery that is womanhood.

I don't know, and I doubt if it would help for me to know. But it does seem a tragedy for the world to lose the sunshine of a bright, girlish smile that is more innocent than the distant, unseeing stare of the most circumspect of women.

Collections Reported Show 4 Per Cent Rise

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 21 — Collections totaling $29,562,392 for July and August into the State Treasury — an increase of 4 per cent over the same period of 1953 — were reported by the Departments of Revenue and Finance. Both general and road funds showed substantial increases, while earmarked funds, such as federal grants showed a substantial decline.

August revenue from all sources totaled $13,551,075 of which the general fund accounted for $5,600,478 — an increase of approximately 40 per cent over August 1953 — and attributable primarily to higher levies on beer and wine. Individual income tax receipts rose 44 per cent over last year, which was attributed to payment of second installments on 1953 income tax by more persons than last year. Road fund receipts for the month were $5,878,445 — an increase of 43 per cent.

TREND-SETTING STYLE

—it sets a pattern for the industry

Only Ford in the low-price field has smooth-lined styling that will stay in style for years to come. And every Ford has upholstery which is color-blended with interior trim and exterior body color.

WIDE CHOICE

—the widest in the industry

You may choose from 3 lines . . . 28 models. This wide selection includes the world's favorite convertible . . . and the greatest line of station wagons in the industry. You have your choice of V-8 or Six.

ALL THE POWER ASSISTS

—choose just the ones you want

Ford offers the most advanced power assists in its field . . . the kind you'd expect in higher-priced cars. There's Power Steering, Power Brakes, Power Windows (front and rear) and a 4-Way Power Seat.

HIGHEST RESALE VALUE

—used car prices prove it

Analysis of used car prices shows that Ford returns a higher proportion of its original cost at resale than any other car in the low-price field. It's another big reason why it pays to own a Ford!

EASTERN KENTUCKY NEEDS

JOHN SHERMAN COOPER

We are Democrats. Democrats by choice and heritage, party men who believe in the principles of the party of Jefferson, and Jackson. Being Democrats we are answerable to nobody for our vote except our conscience. Our decision to vote outside the party comes purely from the dictation of what we consider is right and the best for Kentucky. Who disputes our right to vote thus? Certainly not the right, honorable and patriotic.

We are for John Sherman Cooper for United States Senator because he represents Kentucky in the Senate as the founders of the nation intended it should be represented—by voting for the best interest of his state and nation without regard to the demands of partisan politics. By voting outside our party for him we rise with him above partisanship.

John Sherman Cooper is a great Kentuckian who has endeared himself to his people by a brilliant record of public service. This devotion to his people and their interest is in the tradition of Clay, and many others who were partisans only of Kentucky and not of a political group.

We are the committee of Democrats for John Sherman Cooper. We are your neighbors, your business associates, your friends and your fellow workers. We are proud of our choice and ask you to share it with us.

Judge Hill To Take Part in District Bar Meeting Discussions

A complete study of Kentucky's judicial system, as directed by the 1954 General Assembly, will be the principal topic of discussion at a meeting of the Seventh district bar association to be held at Cumberland Falls next Wednesday, it was announced this week by H. H. Harned, secretary of the Kentucky State Bar Association.

Amos H. Eblen, secretary of the Kentucky Judicial Council, will serve as moderator of the program. Judge Edward P. Hill, Prestonsburg, is scheduled to participate in the general discussion on the subject, along with other circuit judges who live in the Seventh Appellate District.

The 1954 General Assembly adopted a resolution directing the Legislative Research Commission to study Kentucky's judicial system, and to make recommendations to the next General Assembly on suggested improvements. Views of the bench and bar will be conveyed to the study group.

In addition, there will be a forum on new Kentucky tax laws at each of the district bar meetings. In charge of Commissioner of Revenue Robert H. Alphin.

"Kentucky's bench and bar alike appreciate the service being rendered by Mr. Alphin in explaining to the legal fraternity provisions of the new tax laws," said Mr. Harned. "The increased knowledge of the new tax laws obtained through these meetings will better enable the lawyers to advise the public with respect to their rights and obligations under these laws."

WHEELWRIGHT

CLARK TO SPEAK

The September meeting of the Wheelwright Woman's Club, held in the clubroom, was the first meeting for the new club year. There were 24 members present, including one new member, Mrs. John Huff.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Roy Souleyrette. The program was turned over to Mrs. G. B. Hall, chairman of the program committee. She introduced Charles Clark, principal of the Garrett high school, who gave an interesting account of the methods of teaching American History today as compared with those of past years. As an example, he stated that in past years memorizing of dates was stressed, whereas, today history is being taught on a cause and effect basis. He emphasized the importance of knowing our past history in order that we be better equipped to cope with our present and future problems.

The club voted to sign and forward the Floyd County Purgation and Registration Resolution.

An invitation was extended to the club to attend a fashion show of the Lackey-Garrett Club on September 27.

Mrs. Roy Souleyrette reported on her trip to the state convention at Louisville. She received two awards in the Club's behalf. These were for Top Bond sales in the 7th District and for being an 85% club for 1953-1954. She also reported that the student loan fund has been increased to $500 per student and had been made available to boys as well as girls. She stated that 10 delegates had attended the National Convention in Denver from Kentucky.

After the close of the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. James Adkins, Mrs. R. L. Allen and Mrs. A. E. Atkinson, hostesses for the evening.

National Scout Leader To Visit Council Here; Speech Set for Sept. 27

Miss Oleda Schrottky, of the national staff of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. will visit the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council, September 25 through September 27.

A speaker, speech consultant and instructor in dramatic workshops for the national Girl Scout organization, Miss Schrottky travels extensively throughout the country talking to community groups and interpreting the aims of the Girl Scout program. In addition to her speaking assignments, she also trains adults to plan and direct dramatics programs for children and advises Girl Scout groups on pageants and festivals.

Miss Schrottky, who is a pioneer in the field of creative dramatics for children, joined the Girl Scout organization after an acting career with the Provincetown Players in New York City. While she was with the players, she worked with such outstanding literary and theatre personalities as Ellen Glasgow, Robert Edmund Jones and Edna St. Vincent Millay. Prior to her work with the Provincetown Players, Miss Schrottky had taught speech and dramatics at Mount Holyoke College.

Miss Schrottky will be present at the Martin high school auditorium, Sunday, Sept. 23, at 3 p.m., when she will give needed training to Girl Scouts, leaders, adult workers in girl scouting and to the public in general. All are urged to attend.

Mining Institute Schedules the Teen-Agers, Others For Safety Day Entertainment To Fill Between First-Aid Problems At Meet, Sept. 25

To provide a well-rounded program for its Safety Day activities, the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute has arranged three acts of entertainment to fill in between first-aid problems and after the contest is completed. The contest and entertainment will be held in the Pikeville College gymnasium, Saturday, at 7 p.m. There is no admission charge and the public is invited and encouraged to attend. Irvin C. Spotte, superintendent, Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, David, will be master of ceremonies for the entertainment.

The entertainment will be comprised of the Patsy Teenagers, a choral group from David, Dennis Gene Anderson, tap dance artist from Elkhorn City, and Betty Frazier Stahlaker, of Pikeville, with her accordion.

The Patsy Teenagers, under the direction of Mrs. Chalmers Frazier, Prestonsburg music teacher, has gained wide renown since their organization five years ago. They have performed at retail coal merchants' conventions at Columbus, Ohio, and Blowing Rock, N. C., have also appeared in Detroit, Michigan, French Lick, Indiana, Cincinnati, Ohio, and even in Niagara Falls, Canada. The name of the group is from the trade name of the coal company mines—Patsy Elkhorn. They have appeared on both Huntington and Louisville television stations, and several radio stations.

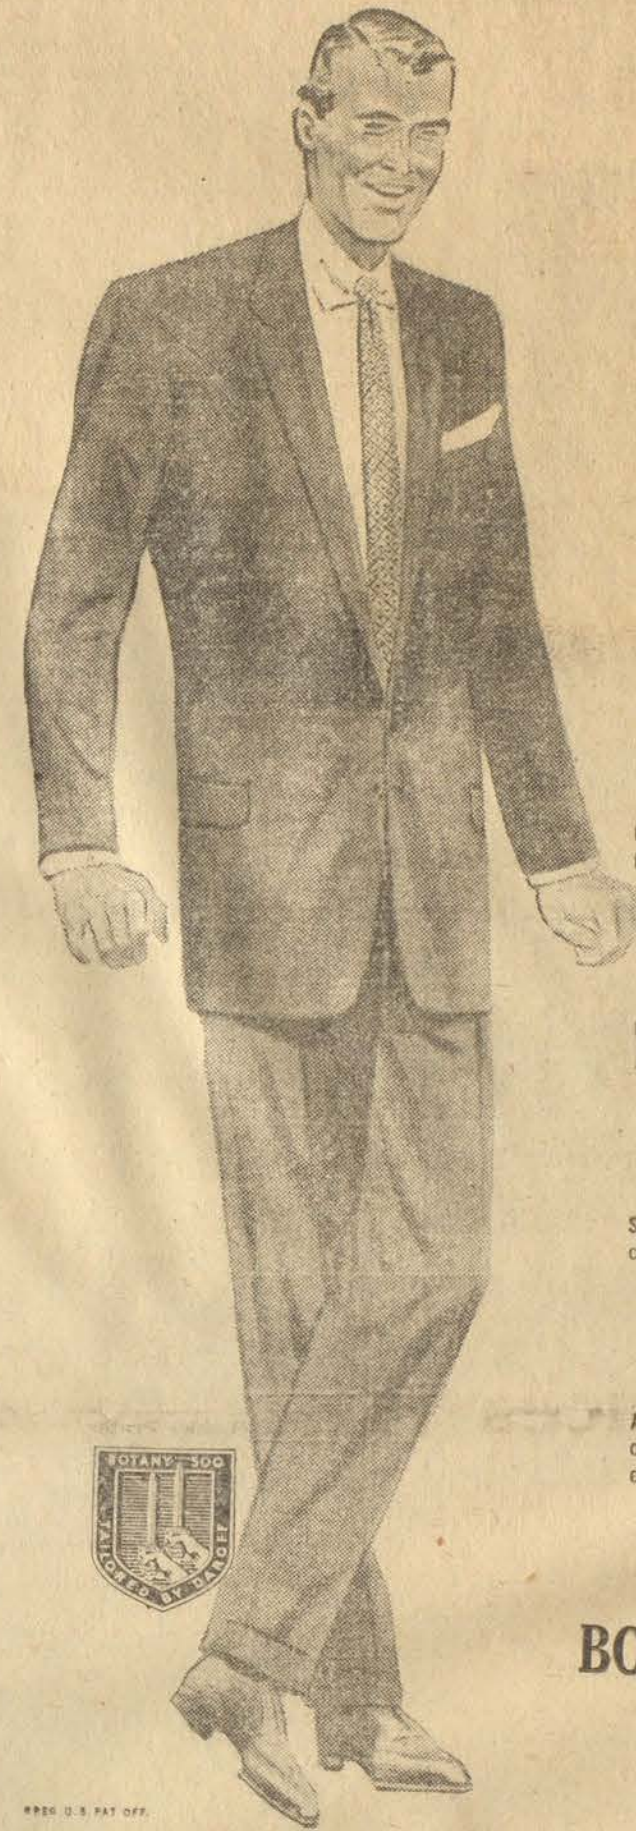

Dennis Gene Anderson, only nine years of age, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Anderson, of Elkhorn City, has made a name for himself in the world of tap dancing in his young career. He won a weekly amateur contest on WSAZ-TV, Huntington, on May 16 and was awarded a portable radio as a prize and also the right to appear on the thirteen-week program of weekly winners. After taking first place in the final contest of WSAZ-TV's "Star Parade of Stars", he was awarded an electric range and an all-expense paid trip to New York City to audition for the Ted Mack Amateur Show. Young Anderson is a pupil of the June Conn School of Dance and is accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Jean Call, of Pikeville.

Mrs. Stahlaker, who is well known throughout the area for her talent in both organ and accordion music, studied accordion in Los Angeles. She has entertained at private club functions in the Huntington, West Virginia area and more recently in this area.

The Maryland football game is history. Where does Kentucky go from here in the gridiron wars?

Musing about this subject without the benefit of hindsight, one cannot help but marvel at the morale of the 1954 edition of the Wildcats and feel that a little bit of the squad's confidence rubs off on you.

It should be hastily explained that Kentucky's gridders are far from being a cocky bunch. It's just that their new chief, Blanton Collier, apparently has instilled a healthy measure of determination in the youthful inexperienced and small-of-stature aggregation.

Collier and his Wildcats exude a philosophy that goes something like this: "We realize all too well that ours is one of the most difficult schedules in the land, but we never went into a game yet that we didn't think we had at least an outside chance of winning. Perhaps the teams we face will be tough to beat, but they're going to have to prove themselves on the football field every Saturday."

As the collegiate campaign grows older, the stature of the Cats' schedule becomes even more challenging than it appeared months ago. The pre-season pollsters, almost to a man, are rating four of Kentucky's opponents among the top 20 outfits in the nation this year. Nobody picked Maryland worse than third and many foresaw the Terps as serious contenders to repeat their '53 feat of an undefeated regular season and national championship honors.

This week's competition provides no letup for the battered Kentuckians. Mississippi has been nominated by one national magazine for the 1954 collegiate title while virtually every other expert rates them among the top 10 in the land. It's almost the same story with Georgia Tech, whom the Wildcats face in Atlanta Oct. 23. Last season's Sugar Bowl champs were picked seventh in the Associated Press pre-season poll of national football writers and radiocasters. And rounding out the major calibre of foes dotting the front half of UK's schedule with disheartening regularity, there is darkhorse Auburn — an up and coming power rating very close attention.

That's the size of it, although not all of it by any means, standing in the Wildcat's path to even average success this season.

First Aid is definitely a program that every homemaker should be familiar with, especially those with children, says UK Home Agent Ada G. Carter, of Marion county.

the coal will be supplied by recognized mine operators.

The 10,000,000 tons of coal will be bought at a cost of $150,000,000, said Harold E. Stassen, foreign operations director, after conferring with President Eisenhower.

Another 2,000,000 tons will be purchased in West Virginia; 2,000,000 in Pennsylvania, 1,500,000 in other states.

The Louisville office of Senator Cooper said the apportionment to Kentucky was larger, in proportion to production than that given to any other state.

Cooper's spokesman said a representative of the senator would meet in Washington, Wednesday, with Foreign Operations Administration officials to help work out the apportionment of purchases among Kentucky coal producers. He said the purchase would pretty well "wipe out" Kentucky coal producers' stockpiles.

The 10,000,000-ton coal purchase will mean "a few more weeks" work for the nation's hard-hit coal industry, Government and industry officials said in Washington.

They said the additional purchase would amount to around 1 1/2 weeks of coal production. The industry is suffering an almost-unprecedented slump.

Employment in hard- and soft-coal fields this year and last is the lowest recorded by the Bureau of Labor Statistics since it started keeping records in 1939. Soft-coal employment in August was 25 per cent below August 1953, with 207,100 men working. Current employment in the soft-coal industry compares with well over 400,000 employed miners during the war and up to 1950.

But, in addition to miners actually out of work, those reporting to the fields are working only an average of three days a week, an industry official said.

This official said the soft-coal industry had shut down about one third of its production in the past five years and the hard-coal industry about two thirds.

A spokesman for the United Mine Workers said the purchase was "a step in the right direction." He estimated 150,000 soft-coal and 40,000 hard-coal miners are out of work.

Production in the soft-coal industry, now running about 7,000,000 tons a week will be the lowest this year since 1938, unless it picks up, Bureau of Mines officials said. Soft-coal production is running about 20 per cent below 1953. Hard-coal production is about 15 per cent below 1953.

Stassen said the F.O.A. would concentrate its coal buying in areas where mining unemployment is largest.

into our recreational plan for the state," Ward said. "We haven't done much with it, yet, but the very fact that the state has acquired the park indicates we want to do something," he added. The Commissioner thought the Stratton Branch area would be developed as a swimming area and that its preference now for picnicking would cease in favor of other areas. The boat dock is where it should be, but there will be built later, he feels, a subsidiary dock near the Hager Gap section. "Don't ask me to build a golf course on this terrain," he replied when the question arose, briefly, at the end of the discussion period.

Ward kept reverting to the need for road construction to precede park development. He explained that area development had to be in the park itself, away from congested sections outside the park. "We've been doing some intensive planning for Dewey Lake State park," he said. "The lakeside road would be the most important thing in the lake development. "You can't do much without a road."

Listening to Mr. Ward's talk, in addition to members of the Dewey Lake Association, were several officials of the State Highway Department and the Department of Parks. Mr. Ward was introduced by W. W. Cooley, Circuit Court Clerk. Paul Hayes, president of the Association, presided.

Goebel Home Entered By Thief Who Gets $60

A thief whose boldness is reminiscent of those looting Left Beaver Creek homes recently stole into the bedroom of W. O. Goebel, Prestonsburg merchant and city councilman, Monday night and escaped without disturbing the sleeping Goebel, taking with him the contents of Mr. and Mrs. Goebel's pocket-books. The haul was $60.

Entrance to the home was effected through a front door. The loss was not discovered until later in the night. Police said they had not located any person who had seen a prowler about the residence.

First FHA Meet Held With 50 In Attendance

The Prestonsburg Chapter of Future Homemakers of America held its first meeting Sept. 9 in the home economics room with fifty members present.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are Bobby Williams, president; Betty Sizemore, vice-president; Dixie Neeley, second vice-president; Peggy Jo Prater, secretary; Barbara Spradlin, treasurer; Ada Lee Spradlin, song leader; Esther Hagan, reporter; Barbara Prater, parliamentarian; Phyllis Snipes, historian; Betty Williams, filing clerk; and Shirley Baker, recreation leader.

The officers and their advisor, Miss Hazel Hill, of the Prestonsburg Chapter, will attend the District Leadership Conference, Sept. 18, at Morehead College.

New Amendments to Law To Affect Many Families; Benefits Are Increased

The sweeping new amendments to the Social Security Act, signed Sept. 1, by President Eisenhower, will affect virtually every family in Floyd county, according to M. M. Rudd, district manager of the Social Security Administration, Ashland.

"The protection of old-age and survivors insurance is now extended to 9 out of 10 families in the community," Rudd said, "and the benefit payments, not only to future beneficiaries but also to those now on the rolls, have been substantially increased."

The amended Social Security act achieves these ends:

1. Extends coverage, commencing January 1, 1955, to about 10 million more gainfully-employed people, including self-employed farm operators and most farm workers.

2. Increased benefits to all present and future retired workers and to their dependents and survivors.

3. Determines benefits on a more advantageous basis by permitting a worker to drop out as many as five years of low or no earnings in computing his average wage, and by increasing to $4,200 the amount of annual earnings that can be counted toward benefits.

4. Preserves the rights of totally disabled workers to any rights they may have earned and provides for their referral to State agencies, for rehabilitation services.

5. Permits employed and self-employed beneficiaries under age 72 to have earnings up to $1,200 in a year without loss of social security payments. (A beneficiary 72 or over will be able to receive all his payments regardless of the amount he may be earning, beginning Jan. 1, 1955.)

Rudd explained that of the 10 million more persons eligible for the protection of old-age and survivors insurance, approximately 6 1/2 million will be brought into the system on January 1, 1955. Another 3,750,000 may elect coverage under special arrangements.

POWER RATES ARE STUDIED

Data Shows Local Costs Compare Favorably With Rates in Other Sections

(Special to The Times)

New York, Sept. 13.—The present cost of electricity in Prestonsburg compares favorably with rates charged generally throughout the United States. The conclusion is based on data just published by the Federal Power Commission. It follows a survey made by the FPC of residential electric bills in some 4,500 cities as of the first of this year.

For users of small amounts of current, 25 kilowatt hours, chiefly for lighting, the typical monthly bill in Prestonsburg was $1.25, compared with an average of $1.33 for all the cities.

In the 100-kilowatt-hour category, where current is used for lighting, small appliances and refrigeration, Prestonsburg residents paid $3.82 a month, compared with a nationwide average of $3.81.

In the larger classification, 250 kilowatt hours, where electricity is used for cooking, in addition, local residents had bills of $7.15 per month, whereas the United States average was $7.10.

Bills for residential electric service "continued to edge up slightly from the lows established in the late 1940's," reports the FPC. Since 1951 moderate rate increases have been general, it adds, although they were offset, in part, in the national averages by the date decreases in the larger areas of population.

The FPC survey shows that there are 1,253 utilities serving the communities with populations over 2,500. Their rates vary widely. For 250 kilowatt hours a month the bill in Tacoma, Wash., is only $3.20, the low record. The highest bill for that amount is found in Etna, Pa., $13.05.

New output records are being made as the public acceptance and use of electricity continue to grow. Recently, the 50 millionth customer was hooked up, marking a gain of 20 million users in the last 14 years.

Today, 98 percent of all homes in the United States have electric service. On the nation's farms the same percent either have service or have it available.

Raise Is Insufficient To Provide Intended Amount, Bell States

The increase in telephone rates authorized in the September 1st order of the Public Service Commission falls by more than a million dollars to provide Southern Bell the earnings the Commission intended to provide, Homer G. Bartee, Southern Bell General Manager for Kentucky, said this week after completing a detailed study of the order.

Mr. Bartee said the company will ask the Commission on rehearing to fix rates that will provide the earnings the Commission said in its order were required for the company.

In his statement Mr. Bartee said "analysis of the order shows that the new schedule of rates cannot be made to produce earnings of 6 per cent as intended by the Commission. In fact, the new rates will produce earnings of only about 5 1/2 per cent at the present time, making no allowance for the factors which the Commission recognized will depress earnings even further in the very near future."

Mr. Bartee referred to that part of the Commission opinion which reads, "while rates prescribed herein will produce revenues slightly higher than we believe would be required... nevertheless we must recognize certain factors that will in the near future tend to depress these earnings. An aggressive rural development program increases in employee compensation, and other expense adjustments will in our opinion reduce these theoretical earnings to the neighborhood of 6 per cent."

"Actually," Mr. Bartee said, "the order is based on operating results for the year 1953 as an average. Since the midpoint of that year, 15 months ago, earnings have been further depressed by high cost construction and other factors recognized in the Commission's order."

"Testimony presented in the case showed that such reduction in earnings would continue and should be provided for in the new rates."

"From its order, it is obvious the Commission intended to make allowance for these factors. However, the rates established are not sufficient to provide the rate of return which the Commission intended the company will ask the Commission to correct in the rehearing."

DAVID

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The David Woman's Club met Sept. 10 at the home of Mrs. Jack Burtnett, with Mrs. Herschel Waugh assisting. Mrs. Ora Howard, club president, presided at the business session at which the following items of business were voted upon: to sign resolutions in regard to purgation of voters sent to the club by Mr. Collins, Sheriff of Floyd county; to have a bake sale at the Floyd county Fair, Friday night, Sept. 17, the money raised to go to the emergency polio drive; as sponsor of the Girl Scouts the club supplied a new Brownie leader and assistant, namely, Mrs. Herschel Waugh and Mrs. Gene Matthis.

Mrs. Burtnett, introduced the speaker for the meeting, Charles Clark, principal of Garrett high school. He gave a very interesting talk on legislation and how better legislation can be had by having better legislators, by keeping ourselves informed about pending legislation, by taking an active part in non-partisan affairs and by urging the people to vote.

The October meeting will be held at the club house, with Dr. Coffey, of Huntington, W. Va., as guest speaker. Members were asked to bring their husbands, and friends.

Martin Farmers Hold Field Day

Farm men and women attending the annual Martin county field day at the Oscar Preston farm, near Job, saw strawberries, seven kinds of corn, hay, pasture, Ky 31 rescue and demonstrations in the use of fertilizers and weed killers. County Agent Charles Mason reported. Prizes were given for the oldest man, oldest woman and largest family. The Kentucky Power Company demonstrated the use of electric ranges and home freezers.

Farmers in Magoffin county are increasing their incomes by priming tobacco.

ARMORIES NOT TAXABLE
Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 21 — The State's armories are not subject to be licensed by local authorities as a business when used for "social functions," however, outside groups using such armories would be subject to city license fees, Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman ruled in an opinion given the State Adjutant General's Office. The opinion involved a Paducah licensing ordinance.

Garrett Cab Driver Suspended 60 Days

Commissioner of Motor Transportation John M. Kinnaird last week suspended for 60 days the taxicab certificate of George Waddles, of Garrett, for violation of motor vehicle laws, thus sustaining a recommendation of Examiner J. Carl Roskopf.

"While the Commissioner realizes a 60-day suspension is a severe punishment in view of this being Waddles' first citation before the Department, the evidence shows he was cautioned about his operation and told he could only operate from Garrett," observed Kinnaird. "Therefore, the Commissioner is suspending the certificate for 60 days, effective September 15."

Kentuckians Told How Communities Can Be Improved Lexington, Ky. — The greatest problem in community improvement work is that of overcoming indifference, H. Clay Tate, editor of the (Ill.) Daily Pantagraph told 150 persons from all parts of Kentucky who attended the annual UK Community School-for-a-Day.

Commenting on the need to overcome apathy in community development, he said that "community improvement is largely a program of adult education" and that it "combines learning and doing." "Agricultural areas must appreciate the value of industry," he said. "Industry to balance agriculture elevates the standard of living... we can stop human erosion and improve the living standards of our communities if we balance agriculture with industry."

Frequent misunderstanding between townspeople and farmers was cited by the Illinois editor as a divisive factor in most small communities and one that is damaging and dangerous to community survival. "A community without a good newspaper has two strikes against it in any cooperative enterprise," he said. "Operation of such a hard-hitting, effective newspaper calls for high idealism, and a newspaperman without high ideals is in the wrong profession."

Tate commended residents of Kentucky for their efforts toward community improvement "which is known and appreciated throughout the United States."

"I commend those responsible for setting up the University of Kentucky Bureau of Community Service," he concluded. "Against this backdrop of solid accomplishment on your part, I come here humbly not to tell you what to do but to discuss with you some of the community problems all of us face."

More than 100 of the Pikeville students, including 15 from Floyd county, are enrolled in the teachers' course. Others are registered for business, pre-medical, liberal-arts and science courses, Dr. Page said.

Whitesburg high school, feeling that it has a chance to win the 1954 Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference football crown, has worked out an agreement to play Elkhorn City, Tuesday, October 19, thus giving them the necessary six games to be eligible for the loop crown. The Yellow Jackets also meet Fleming on October 23. Hazard has not been as fortunate as Whitesburg in booking a sixth game.

BLACK CAT PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Bert Dixon, six-foot senior end, won the Black Cat Player-of-the-Week award last week by his outstanding defensive play in the Morgan County game. The contest is sponsored weekly by the Francis Stores. Previous winners have been halfback "Punkin" Goble, quarterback Lowell Hughes and tackle Donald Puckett.

Paul Ousley and Tom Spradin, former Prestonsburg gridlers, saw considerable action in Morehead's 7-6 loss to Kentucky's "B" squad last week. Ousley scored Morehead's tally by intercepting a pass and returning it 30 yards.

Quite a controversy has arisen among the local fans concerning the offensive ability of the Hughes brothers, John Delmar and Lowell. Herewith are the offensive marks to the present.

As sophomores Delmar played in six games to 10 for Lowell, attempted 122 passes and completed 94 to 104 attempted and 70 completed by Lowell; Delmar's passes went for 746 yards to 803 by his brother, and he passed for 11 touchdowns as compared with eight hurled by Lowell. Each scored six touchdowns himself but Lowell led in total points by scoring 15 extra points to two by his older brother.

In his junior year Delmar played in 11 games, attempted 147 passes, completed 101 for 1,471 yards, hurled 23 touchdown passes, scored five touchdowns himself and added 4 extra points for a total of 74 points. Now playing his junior year, Lowell has been in only three games, has attempted 27 passes, connected on 24 of these for 485 yards, has hit receivers for eight touchdowns, has himself scored six touchdowns and added six extra points for an individual scoring record of 42 points.

It is interesting to note that Lowell played in more games as a sophomore than did Delmar, each scored the same number of touchdowns. Lowell booted 13 more extra points, Delmar led in passing percentage of completion, 77% to 67% and hurled three more touchdown passes. However, that year's Black Cat team won 9 and lost 1, while the '53 team won 7 and lost 3. Thus far in his junior year, Lowell appears to be ahead in every department.

Now it's time for the drugstore coaches to argue the defensive merits of these two top-flight athletes. We have no statistics on that.

One of the best high school football games in eastern Kentucky this season will be staged in the Letcher county seat, Friday night, when Whitesburg tangles with Cumberland, leader of the Cumberland Valley Conference. Cumberland, paced by Ronnie Cain and Jackie Gallagher, have romped over four successive opponents while Whitesburg has bounced three.

The Yellow Jackets haven't forgotten last year's humiliating defeat.

License Duplications Present New Problem

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 21 (Sp)—A new form of loss or theft is giving concern to officials in the State Department of Agriculture offices. The sale of dog licenses, which has shown a tremendous increase in a number of counties since a new licensing law took effect July 1, also has been accompanied by another problem: The issuance of duplicate licenses to persons who claim that the original licenses have been stolen or lost.

Wayland Rhoads, dog law administrator, reports that in Fayette county alone more than 200 duplicate licenses have been issued and the same problem is arising in other counties. Rhoads said that according to the Attorney's General's office, persons found guilty of removing a dog license can be prosecuted for petty larceny.

More than 100,000 licenses have been sold since the effective date of the new law requiring both vaccination and licensing of dogs by July 1 of each year.

MINE 44% OF COAL
Seventy-eight bituminous coal producing companies in 1953 mined just under 200 million tons, or 44 per cent of the 453 million ton total.

The Prestonsburg Blackcats won their third football game in as many starts last Friday night by downing the Morgan County Blue Devils, 31-0.

Apparently over-confident from the preceding week's upset win over Atherton of Louisville, Ferrell's charges failed to display the usually keen blocking and tackling of the two previous victories.

It took seven plays for the first Black Cat tally. Guard Dee Caldwell recovered Glenn Lykin's fumble on the 30 yard-line and halfbacks Ronnie and Clifford Goble moved the ball to the eight on a series of downs and C. Goble scampered over. Lowell Hughes failed on the conversion attempt.

Three minutes later, "Punkin" Goble grabbed one of Richie Stacey's passes on the midfield stripe and returned to the Morgan County 40. Hughes rifled two passes, one for 13 yards, to R. Goble and a 27-yard pay-off pitch to fullback Chester Shepherd. Hughes' extra point attempt again went wide.

The second and third periods were an exchange of kicks and fumbles, with neither team able to get a sustained drive under way. Prestonsburg came to life in the final frame by racking up three six-pointers. R. Goble intercepted a pass on the Black Cat 48-yard to open the fourth quarter and scored three plays later after taking a 20-yard pass from Hughes.

Thurman Lafferty recovered the fifth Morgan County fumble on the 25 a minute later and C. Goble drove to the 10 before Hughes went over on a quarterback sneak for the fourth T. D. His kick upped the count to 25-0.

In the waning minutes tackle Donald Puckett grabbed another Morgan County bobbie at the 50 and Hughes uncorked the longest jaunt of the game to pay-dirt.

Hughes completed six of eight passes for 120 yards, and his two touchdown flips give him a total of eight for three games.

Friday night, the Black Cats again will be away from home, meeting Elkhorn City in a Conference game. Don Harrington, who was hospitalized as a result of an injury in the Morgan County contest, will be missing from the Cat line-up.

TAX COMMISSION UPHELD IN MERCER COUNTY

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 21 — The State Tax Commission won the first legal round of a tiff over increased assessments in Mercer County, when Franklin Circuit Judge W. B. Ardery held the law under which the Commission may do almost anything under the power it grants. The Commission ordered an increase in Mercer county of 15 per cent on farm lands; 20 per cent on town lots and 20 per cent each on tangible personal property and business inventories.

WAYLAND

CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MEET

The Lackey - Garrett - Wayland Woman's Club held its regular monthly sewing meeting last Monday evening at the clubhouse here. A brief devotional program was given by Mrs. J. T. Spillman.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Noah Howard, who made announcements relative to the fall board meeting being held in Louisville, the Flower Show at Maytown, and the Fashion Show to be sponsored by the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club September 27.

An appeal was made by Mrs. Howard for a better backing of the X-ray mobile unit by the citizens of the five communities represented in the club. Too few have been taking advantage of the opportunity provided through the mobile unit of detection and subsequent care of tuberculosis. Mrs. Howard reported the free beds in the T. B. hospital in Ashland, reserved for Floyd County tuberculosis sufferers, are not all in use, not because there are not patients who need them, but because the patients refuse to go or will not stay there after treatment has begun. Floyd county stands in jeopardy of losing this privilege unless more interest is displayed on the part of its citizens. The club, as sponsor of the mobile unit in this community, is especially anxious that this program be continued for Floyd county.

Announcement was also made of a scholarship offered by the University of Louisville to anyone with two years of college who wishes to continue studies to become a medical technician.

The club is sponsoring two students this year who have entered college under the State Federation Student Loan.

At the conclusion of the meeting a dessert course was served by Mrs. Delbert Slone and Mrs. Trusty to the following: Mesdames George Hall, L. B. Price, M. M. Collins, C. S. Hornsby, A. E. Quinlan, Earl Castle, Gene Mullins, Felix Coburn, J. T. Spillman, Frank Harmon, Thomas Hatcher, Noah Howard, Otto Martin, members, and one guest, Mrs. Chandler of Detroit, Michigan.

College Announces
Teachers' Classes
To Begin Saturday

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 15 (Spl) — Saturday classes at Pikeville Junior College, for the benefit of teachers and others who are unable to attend during the week, began last Saturday at 1 p.m.

Detailed plans will be made, and the courses to be offered will be decided, at that time, Dr. A. A. Page, college president, announced. The courses given in Saturday sessions will be chosen to satisfy the wishes of those present as nearly as possible.

Enrollment for the regular school term at Pikeville got under way this week as two new faculty appointments were announced.

Miss Mildred Davis, holder of degrees from Texas State College for Women and Sam Houston Teachers College, has been named to Pikeville's business department. Miss Gladys Whitmore, a member of the faculty of Sheldon Jackson Junior College, Sitka, Alaska, will spend a one-year leave of absence at Pikeville, assisting in the library and other places where she can be used, Dr. Page said.

Both new teachers hold master's degrees, Miss Davis in business and Miss Whitmore in zoology. Before coming to Pikeville, Miss Davis was professor of business and head of the department of business at Moravian College for Women, Bethlehem, Pa., from 1950 until this year. She also has been an instructor at New York University and at Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Ark.

Temporary Injunction Asked To Open Alleyway Closed by Ashland Man

Blocking of an alleyway in the town of Allen resulted last week in the filing of a complaint in circuit court here asking a temporary injunction against Tandy A. Martin, of Ashland.

The action was filed by Atty. W. W. Burchett, representing the City of Allen, Howard Clay, J. B. Clay and Henry Porter. Their complaint claims a 25-foot alleyway running at right angles to the railroad at Allen and toward the river, between the Hampton Grocery Company building and the Russell Elliott property has been used by the public for more than 15 years. The Ashland man allegedly obstructed the alleyway, preventing its free use by residents there. The individual plaintiff says it is their only means of reaching or leaving their homes.

Mr. Martin was quoted as saying he had given eight feet for an alley and that was all needed.

A hearing will be held to determine if the injunction restraining blocking of the alley shall become permanent.

P'BURG AMONG 106 ENTERED

In C. of C. Contest To Name Kentucky's Leading Community

One hundred six communities are entered in the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Community Development Contest, according to a joint report released this week by R. M. Watt, chairman of the State Chamber's Industrial Development Committee which is sponsoring the contest, and Barney A. Tucker, chairman of the 1954-55 Community Development Contest Committee. Deadline for entering the contest was September 15.

"We are encouraged by the large number of participating communities in this year's contest which indicates a desire on the part of Kentucky towns to work on improvement projects that will create more wealth and improve the standard of living of Kentucky's citizens," Watt said.

The 106 communities represent 90 counties and are located in every section of the state. Local organizations sponsoring their communities as entrants include chambers of commerce, junior chambers of commerce, development associations, business and professional women's clubs, younger women's clubs, Lions, Kiwanis, and other civic organizations.

Communities entering the contest from this section, and the name of the sponsoring organization for each follow:

Prestonsburg, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Paintsville, Junior Women's League; Jenkins, Whitesburg and Neon-Fleming, Letcher County Development Association; Louisa, Greater Louisa Industrial Foundation; Belfry, Pond Creek Lions Club; West Liberty, Morgan County Development Association; Hazard, Business and Professional Women's Club.

Designed to encourage and reward improvement on all phases of community life, the contest offers prizes totalling $4,200 which must be spent on civic, economic, or social improvements. The contest period is from March 1, 1954 to February 28, 1955.

Contesting communities will submit scrapbook presentations and judging will be based on six major phases of development: civic improvement, rural development, education, main street modernization, tourist promotion, industrial development, and organization.

Contestants will be divided into two groups. Competing in Group One will be communities with less than 3,500 population. Communities of 3,500 and over will compete in Group Two.

Library Board Visits Breathitt-Co. To Study Book Distribution There

With the Bookmobile which is to be Floyd county's on display at the State Fair earlier in the week and inspected at the Floyd County Fair here, Friday and Saturday, the Floyd County Library Board spent Monday of last week at Jackson, Breathitt county, to benefit by the successful experiences of that county in Bookmobile operation.

Mrs. Marie Turner, superintendent of Breathitt county schools, told the Floyd group of the records kept on grades in the schools and how these reflected the advancement of those using Bookmobile services over those not using the books. A second Bookmobile shortly will be operating in Breathitt county.
