This Town— That World

TOWN-WORLD YEAH, REAL MAD We were informed the other day that the fish were striking like mad. We regret to report that this information was correct. So mad they wouldn't have a thing to do with us.

WILLING TO REPORT Among the more trivial items of the week is the story told of the Floyd county prisoner en route to La Grange, accompanied by deputy sheriffs. He had been convicted of forgery; matter of signing a name not his own to a check. They stopped in Frankfort for lunch and, the repeat past, one of the officers reached for his billfold. Up spoke the prisoner: "Here, never mind. Let me write 'em a check."

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM If your geiger counter chattered wildly or the family-size seismograph registered a minor disturbance Tuesday afternoon, that was caused by Bill Grimm and the bass he caught at Dewey Lake. It was a bruiser, at that—22 inches long and weighing 6 1/2 pounds. Landed him via flyrod and a popper. . . A big fish around here creates more excitement than the foaling of a thoroughbred colt does down in the Blue Grass.

INTERESTING FIGURES Lon Hill showed us some interesting figures the other day. Of the 68 persons who were graduated in 1935 from Westerville (O.) high school with him, 52 still reside in Ohio.

Now, if we could find the addresses of every member of the graduating class of any Floyd county high school in the same year, we would have the makings of an editorial. Seventy-five per cent of those Westerville youngsters of '35 are still in their home state. Wanna bet that as much as 50 per cent of any Floyd county high school class of the same vintage is still in Kentucky?

HEALTH BLDG. FUND, $90,000

Hackney Agrees To Up Federal Contribution; Cites County's Needs

Paul A. Hackney, director of the Division of Hospital Services, State Department of Health, wrote Dr. George P. Archer here Wednesday that federal funds will be appropriated to match the total of funds contributed by Floyd county and the state of Kentucky for the proposed Floyd county health center structure here.

He specified that federal funds totaling $45,000 will be allocated, since the county has already appropriated $25,000 and the state has allocated $20,000 for the building. Thus $90,000 instead of $85,000 will be made available for the structure and its equipment.

Wrote Mr. Hackney in response to Dr. Archer's urgent request that the federal fund be raised $5,000 to match state and local funds.

"It is my opinion that the population and great rural needs of Floyd county warrant a building of this size and proportion, as was presented to this office recently by Mr. Clark and your architect. Therefore this letter is to advise you that I am willing to add additional federal funds to match local and state funds. The total project thus would be $90,000 to include all construction costs, architect's fees and equipment."

Warden Reviews Work On Forest Protection

Speaking to the Beaver Valley Kiwanis club at Wheelwright last week, Forrest Burchett, local forest warden, reviewed the fire prevention program he had initiated in this county. Mr. Burchett pointed to the greatly lessened number of fires the last two years and attributed most of it to the vigorous prosecution of forest law offenders and the educational campaign now being carried on against forest fires.

Conclusion of the program on which Burchett appeared was a discussion period, in which representatives of coal and utility companies asked questions about burning brush from their properties. "All seemed anxious to observe the forestry laws," Burchett said.

"It didn't hurt," said Ella Ruth Wilson, 7, first-grader of the David school as she received her first polio vaccine "shot" at the Health Department, Monday from Dr. A. J. Davidson. 2,000 RECEIVE SALK VACCINE AT 8 CLINICS

Workers Believe 1,000 Not Immunized; Roads, Weather Cut Response

With the close today (Thursday) of the last two clinics scheduled for the first round in the fight with a new weapon against polio, more than 2,000 children of the first and second grades in school will have been immunized by use of the Salk vaccine. Today's clinics are being held at the Allen and Wheelwright schools.

As of Wednesday afternoon, 1,538 tots had been given the shots. But the expected number of 2,000 to be vaccinated by day's end falls short by 1,000 or more of the number of first and second-graders enrolled in school, and to give these a chance for immunization a series of "make-up" clinics were announced this morning by M. V. Clark, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department. The schedule for these eight clinics:

Wednesday, May 4, at Harold and the office of Dr. M. V. Wickler at Estill; May 5, Health Department office here, the Beaver Valley hospital at Martin and Dr. W. D. Osborn's office at Bypro; May 6, Dr. J. H. Allen's office at Allen and the McDowell consolidated school; May 7, at the Health Department offices.

Hours for each of these clinics will be from 9 a.m. till 12 noon. All children of the first and second grades who were not immunized at the clinics held this week are being urged to be vaccinated at one of these clinics. Parents who have not signed parental request forms may sign.

BUILDING BIDS TO BE ASKED

Board Approves Plans For Gym-Auditorium; Seat Capacity, 3,091

With approval of all state agencies given, the Prestonsburg Board of Education gave its O. K. Monday evening to plans prepared by H. Clell Hayes, Ashland architect, for the proposed auditorium-gymnasium annex to the new county high school building here.

This done, the Board voted to advertise next week for bids on construction, with the date for opening of bids set for May 31.

These bids will determine the cost of the project, and the official awarding of a contract will be postponed 30 days from the time bids are opened so that bonds may be advertised and sold to finance the job. Actual awarding of contract and sale of the bonds will thus come almost simultaneously. Title to the lot on which the building will be located is another detail to be cleared at the same time.

Of the estimated cost of the auditorium-gymnasium, $155,000 will be raised by the special 35-cent tax levy voted by the Prestonsburg independent district. The remaining $71,000 would accrue from the regular $1.50 school tax.

Plans for the structure, as approved, provide for seating of 3,091 persons in accordance with space per person demanded by the state fire marshal. This space per person is 20 inches, but seating in the University of Kentucky's Coliseum is marked for only 16 inches.

Floyd Sheriff Hurt As Trailer Hits Car Near Allen, April 21

Sheriff Gorman Collins was recovering this week from injuries suffered last Thursday afternoon when his auto and a semi-trailer collided on U. S. 23, opposite Dwale.

The trailer suddenly jack-knifed across the road into the path of Collins' car, which was reduced to wreckage. The Sheriff suffered a head cut and chest injuries. He was taken to Our Lady of the Way hospital, Martin. Driver of the truck, which was from Ohio, accepted blame for the wreck, saying that the trailer skidded when he applied the brakes.

DAVID WORKER RIVER VICTIM

Castle's Body Found In River Near Thealka; Report Hints Foul Play

Johnson county officials declined this week to comment on the report current here this week that foul play is suspected in the death of Arthur "Pete" Castle, 33, of Paintsville, an employe at David of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, whose body was recovered Sunday afternoon from the Big Sandy river, near Thealka.

Castle's is the third river death in Johnson county under mysterious circumstances.

Coroner Jim Trimble declined to make a statement after x-ray photographs of the body had been made. He said he would issue his official verdict today (Thursday).

Castle, who was a shuttle car operator for Princess Elkhorn, had been missing since Tuesday of last week when he was last seen fishing from a boat, between the points where Muddy Branch and Paint Creek join the river. One report said another man was in the boat at the time. This unconfirmed report also said that Castle left home with some money to buy a boat and that when his body was recovered no money was found. The body was fully clothed when found.

A son of the late Jim B. Castle, the victim resided in the Greentown section of Paintsville with his mother, Mrs. Addie Cottle Castle. Survivors include, besides his mother, a daughter, Sevilla Sue, two brothers, Arnold and Clyde, both of Cincinnati, two half-brothers, Edgar and Murner Castle, both of Thealka, and a half-sister, Mrs. Myrtle Kerr, Card, Michigan.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday at Thealka, and burial was made in the Castle cemetery at Rockhouse, Johnson county.

Former Floyd Resident Is Victim at Hindman

Elliott Dyer, 78, died April 18, at his home at Hindman after an illness of six years.

A native of Letcher county, Mr. Dyer was a member of the United Baptist Church. He formerly resided at Hueysville, this county.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Dyer, a son, Ben Dyer; Indiana, five daughters, Mrs. Mary Webb, Virgie; Mrs. Frons Gayheart, Hueysville; Mrs. Helen Ritchie, Michigan; Mrs. Zella Sawyers, Ohio; Mrs. Eva Bolon, Ohio; and a brother, Wiley Dyer, Hindman.

Funeral services were held at the Dyer home. Burial was in the Dyer cemetery at Hindman.

$2 Million Building Work Seen

LAKE PROJECT WORK IS NEAR

Boat Dock and Cottage For Park Head Planned; To Relocate Bathhouse

First of three construction projects proposed by the Kentucky Division of Parks this year in the Dewey Lake State Park area is expected to be started within a week, and completion of all three are scheduled this week by Tom Clark, park manager.

Reconstruction of the bathhouse and concession stand in the Stratton Branch recreation area which was washed from its foundations during this year's flood will be the first of the three undertakings. The building will be placed on its original foundation, to serve until a permanent installation is made. It is expected to be ready for use late next month.

After that work is well under way, construction of a dock to replace the present installation will be begun. To be built at the old launching site on Brandy Keg Cove, the dock structure itself will be 80 feet long by 40 feet wide and will be on a concrete foundation, floating only at flood stage in the lake. The building will house a concession stand, a small display of fishing tackle, a storage room and two rest rooms. The type of locker to be used has not been determined. Portions of the present dock will be used in construction of the walkway and boat slips.

The dock will be built at elevation 656, which is six feet above the seasonal conservation level of the lake. On the side facing the highway, a cantilever-like arm will connect the dock to an anchoring "dead man" at the upper side of the road. This will hold the installation in position even at high water level, but at such times will permit the dock to float with the rising water. It is the first of its type to be planned for a Kentucky lake.

Floyd Tobacco Farmers Cast Referendum Votes Today At ASC Office

Tobacco farmers gathered at the ASC office here today (Thursday) to vote in the referendum to determine if they want to continue the quota and price support system. The polling place was designated by the referendum committee sometime ago.

Consensus of local opinion is that no Floyd county farmer will vote "No" on the question of continuing the supports offered by the federal government. Sixty-one are eligible to participate in the election. James Crager and James Hicks, with a third member of the committee, were acting as election officers. Results will be wired to the State Agricultural and Stabilization Committee as soon as the hours for voting are over.

EARLY START SEEN ON ROAD

Tinder Tells US 23 Group P'burg-Auxier Road Cost Is Estimated at $668,000

State Highway Commissioner M. W. Tinder told the U. S. 23 Association in a meeting at Paintsville Tuesday that the Prestonsburg-Auxier U. S. 23 bypass of the present route over Abbott mountain is a project planned for early work. He said that the highway, which is planned to extend from Prestonsburg and connect with a proposed US 23 bypass of Paintsville, will cost an estimated $668,000.

Bridge and culvert work on another route, that which will link the present Auxier road via Hager Gap with Dewey Dam and extend on to Van Lear, has been started, it was said.

Survey work for the US 23 route, Prestonsburg to Paintsville via Auxier, was, begun three weeks ago. Tentative plans for the road to connect with the present US 23 at a point near the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company building

News That Scout Cabin Destroyed To Travel Far If Charter 11 Told

The cabin which the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company built for the original Daniel Boone Boy Scout Troop No. 143 at David burned to the ground recently, but it's doubtful if all 11 of the charter members of that troop have learned yet of that event.

For of the 11, all but one are in their country's armed forces, scattered over the United States and into foreign countries, all the way from Kentucky to Alaska and overseas in England, Austria and Korea. Only one, John William "Jack" Crawford, is not in uniform, and he is in the Reserve Officers Training Corps while a student at the University of Kentucky.

The other 10:

Life Scout Glen Dixon, now Airman 2/c at Kirtland Air Force Base, N. M., after spending a year in Korea; Star Scout John R. Dixon, now Airman 3/c at Parks Air Force Base, California; First Class

Scout Charles Edward Hager, in U. S. Air Force at Winosky, Va., after a year in Korea; Life Scout Daniel Van Carver, now Airman 2/c, stationed in England; First Class Scout Bob P. Thompson, now Airman 2/c, stationed at Great Falls, Mont.; First Class Scout Billy R. Raliff, now Airman 2/c, stationed at Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, O., after a year in Korea; Life Scout William Thomas Bussey, now Airman 2/c stationed at Anchorage, Alaska; First Class Scout Donald Preston, Jr., now Airman 1/c; Life Scout Paul D. "Pete" Every, now in the U. S. army, stationed in Austria; Eagle Scout John William Crawford, member of Reserve Officers Training Corps, University of Kentucky, where he will be graduated in June.

During those first years of Scouting at David, 1948, 1949 and 1950, these 11 and others who later

Cost of Transporting Students In Floyd Near State's Lowest

Floyd county ranked third among the 10 Kentucky counties which last school year showed the lowest cost per pupil on their transportation of school children to and from school.

Incidentally, seven of the 10 counties having the lowest transportation cost per pupil are from the eastern part of the state. These are Harlan, which ranked lowest, Floyd, Menifee, Pike, Knott, Morgan and Knox. Other counties represented in the low 10 are McCracken in the western part of the state and the Bluegrass counties of Fayette and Montgomery.

The official figures, compiled by the State Department of Education, show that Floyd transported an average of 5,390 pupils a day in 35 school buses or hired vehicles an average of 1,543 miles a day at a cost of only 23.6 cents per bus mile. Because many of this county's buses make two and three "runs" daily, the average number of pupils transported per bus was 154.

Allen county, which had the highest cost on the other hand hauled only 1,440 pupils a day in 25 buses at a cost of 57.1 cents per bus mile. That county spent $58,035 while Floyd spent $69,401.84.

Almost 44% of the school enrollment in Floyd county goes to school by bus, these figures show. Some counties had more than 100% of their enrollment transported last year, and this may be ascribed to the transportation of parochial school pupils who are not listed in the regular school

Church Sets Open House For Sunday; 2 Projects Completed at $40,000

The Prestonsburg Methodist Church this week issued an invitation to open house Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m., when the new Educational building and the parsonage will be open for inspection.

The Educational building, which was occupied a few months ago, was built and furnished at a cost of $49,000. Cost of construction and furnishing the new parsonage, to which the pastor, the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, and family moved recently, was $18,000. Ground was broken for the Educational building, an annex of the church proper, in November, 1953. Work on the parsonage began last July.

Local Methodist work includes also the Community Methodist Church in the Porter Addition here which was completed last spring at a cost of $30,000. Since 1946 the Prestonsburg church has invested $106,000 in constructing, repairing, furnishing and renovating church properties, it was said this week. Membership of the two churches totals 540.

Highest Council Award Goes to Floyd Countian

When A. H. Mandt, of Manton, welcomed and recognized as Council president the six districts represented at the annual Appreciation Dinner of Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the Maytown school cafeteria Monday evening, he had no inkling that he was initiating a program that would lead up to a big surprise for him.

When time for awards arrived it was the surprised Mr. Mandt himself who received the coveted Silver Beaver, highest award in the gift of the Council to a volunteer Scouter. He became the fifth Floyd countian to earn this top recognition since the first Silver Beaver was awarded by Lonesome Pine Council in 1936.

Forty such awards have been made in the 19-year history of the Council, and of the recipients these were from Floyd county: E. R. Price, Wheelwright, in 1937; the late J. T. Parker, of Wheelwright, in 1950; B. F. Reed, of Drift, in 1951, and Jesse Elliott, of Betsy Layne, in 1954.

The other Silver Beaver awarded at this week's Appreciation event went to Morgan J. Ozee, of Hazard.

An outstanding civic leader, Mr. Mandt's record in Scouting includes service as district chairman for the Floyd county and Jenny Wiley districts from 1951 through 1953, during which time the Scout membership in his district increased from 259 to 730 Boy Scouts and the number of Scouts units from 19 to 35; as a member of the Council executive board for four years and as Council vice-president in 1953 and 1954. He was elected president of Lonesome Pine Council this year.

Mrs. Mattie Morrell, Former P'burg Woman, Victim in Lexington

Mrs. Mattie Rice Morrell, of Lexington, and a former resident of Prestonsburg, died in a Lexington rest home, Wednesday, at 4:30 p.m. She was the widow of J. M. Morrell, who operated a hardware store here for years.

Mrs. Morrell was stricken last Sunday with a heart attack but her condition did not become serious until Wednesday afternoon, when she died suddenly.

She was a daughter of the late Samuel and Sarah Frances Rice, natives of Johnson county. Two sons, W. F. Morrell, of Cincinnati, and J. M. Morrell, Jr., of San Angelo, Texas, survive. Names of her surviving brothers and sisters, if any, were not available.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete at this time, it was said by Carter and Callihan Funeral Home, but burial will be made beside her husband in Porter cemetery.

Construction Boom Sighted In Plans Here

Seven Structures Here Going Up, Five Others Are Expected Shortly

If construction planned this year reaches the working stage, that and work already under way will result in a $2,000,000 building boom for Prestonsburg, it was said this week.

Already under construction are the half-million dollar county high school building here, a state office building costing approximately $70,000, the East Kentucky Auto Parts Company building on North Lake Drive, a Gulf service station by Rollie Mann at his Drive-In near Lancer and a Pure Oil Company station at Lancer.

Ground has been broken by Edward Music and Thomas Hereford, Jr., for a 20-unit motel on North Lake Drive and by the R. V. May Company for a building to house the firm's welding products business. In the same vicinity N. M. White, Jr., will start work within the next two weeks on a 100 by 40-foot building of concrete block and brick for the Sandy Valley Tire Service and his acetylene and oxygen business.

Work has begun by Clyde George and associates, of Paintsville, on remodeling and renovating the former Kaiser-Frazer garage building on North Lake Drive for a hardware store.

Plans have been approved for the $85,000 Floyd County Health Center on the grounds of Prestonsburg high school, and work on this structure is expected within the next few months. Another big construction undertaking expected to begin within the next two weeks is the 120-foot-long Town Center H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., will build on North Lake Drive, near the new First National Bank Building.

Two other big projects expected to begin this summer are the $225,000 auditorium-gymnasium annex to the new high school and a huge business structure on Court street, opposite the courthouse to be built by Edward Music and associates.

Pistol Fails, Owner Jailed

Chief of Police Says Blackburn Attempted To Fire Shot At Him

Chief of Police Epp Lafferty said this week that Clyde Blackburn, who was jailed last Thursday night on charges of drunkenness and reckless use of a deadly weapon was arrested after Blackburn had attempted to shoot him.

Lafferty said he was called to the Strand Theatre and when he approached Blackburn the latter snapped his pistol at him. When it failed to fire, the police chief added, Blackburn wrenched the weapon for another shot but Lafferty struck him with a flashlight and succeeded in gaining control of the gun. He and Policeman Bill Potter booked him at the county jail.

Two prisoners in the city jail, A. L. Green and Aubrey Wyatt, were transferred to the county jail after they had set fire to mattresses in their original place of imprisonment. Booked at first for drunkenness, they were charged at the county jail with setting fire to the city jail. Green later paid a fine.

Others jailed within the week: Ernie Pack, absent without leave from Marine Corps, arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Amos Gray and W. B. Boyd and F.B.I. Agent Harry C. Campbell; Ray

Daughters of 1812 Elect Mrs. Stephens To National Office

Mrs. Claude P. Stephens, of Prestonsburg, became last Saturday the first Eastern Kentucky woman to be elected to a national office in the United States Daughters of 1812, in which she was named curator general. Her election came with the meeting of the Associate Council of the organization held at the Shoreham hotel in Washington, D. C., and the installation of the newly elected national officers was conducted Monday morning.

Mrs. Stephens, the former Elizabeth Ives Leete, has served her chapter as president and vice-president, her state chapter as recording secretary, honorary chapter president, state president and is now honorary state president. She holds membership in many hereditary patriotic societies and in many of these has served as a state officer.

Daughter of the late Dr. R. H. Leete and Margaret Fitzpatrick Leete, she is the wife of former U. S. District Attorney Claude P. Stephens.

The National Society United States Daughters of 1812 is the oldest organization of its kind in point of continuous service, its work having continued without interruption since it was organized during the War of 1812.

HONOR IN HER OWN COUNTRY

Hundreds of residents of Floyd and surrounding counties have viewed within the last few days the art exhibit at the First National Bank here featuring the work of Mrs. Reba H. Mayo, Prestonsburg artist. It is good to see the work of this gracious, talented woman recognized here at home, for too often the homefolks are the last to appreciate the work of their own people.

I had seen "Woman with a Pipe" and one or two others of Mrs. Mayo's paintings of mountain scenery, but the whole exhibit impinged on my consciousness with crashing effect the fact that I should have been looking for more of her work long ago.

My knowledge of art is so elementary that I still think Norman Rockwell is the world's greatest artist, but I don't think I'm wrong when I say that this woman who lives and quietly works among us has a great talent.

GET THIS THIEF!

Floyd county officers should make a special effort to run down the thief who stole the Detroit Girl Scout's belongings at Camp Chatterwaha. Such incidents do all of us no good. And if the youngster's camera isn't recovered, we all should contribute to a fund to buy her a new one.

(ADV.)

Floyd county's raw political nerves, I hope, will be able to take this bit of free advertising given the Republican party. Bill Darby, GOP chairman, has an idea he'll add to the signs on the courthouse here another which will read something like this: "We've COMBed the state and are now HAPPY to announce Edwin R. Denny as Republican candidate for Governor."

BROW-WINKLING

There are afternoons when you get home too late to go fishing or golfing and too early to start work in the garden. So to while away a few moments till it's too late even to work try your hand at this brainteaser:

- Mr. Abel—Manager.
 - Mr. O'Connor—Asst. Mgr.
 - Miss Evans—Cashier.
 - Mrs. Seeley—Stenographer.
 - Mr. Anderson—Teller.
 - Miss Fields—Clerk.
- With the following clues provided, can you fit the right person to the right job?—
- (a) The assistant manager is the manager's grandson.
 - (b) The cashier is the stenographer's son-in-law.
 - (c) Mr. Abel is a bachelor.
 - (d) Mr. Anderson is 25 years old.
 - (e) Miss Evans is the teller's step-sister.
 - (f) Mr. O'Connor is a neighbor of the manager.

WE WONDER

Maeterlinck's LIFE OF THE BEE which I read a few months ago keeps recurring to mind. One interesting fact is that the worker bee dies after stinging, because its stinger is barbed.

Wonder if this would not have been a better world if human stingers were barbed and the penalty for stinging was, automatically, death? That arrangement would just about eliminate the cutting word, slander, assault, murder and a lot of other things that keep man far from the ultimate glory.

Then again we wonder if, though this were done, somebody wouldn't be advertising: HAVE THE BARB ON YOUR STINGER REMOVED—STING IN COMFORT AND WITHOUT FEAR OF AFTER-EFFECTS.

Mrs. Lizzie Metz, 83, Mother of Allen Woman, Succumbs There Monday

Mrs. Lizzie Metz, 83, of Dornsife, Pennsylvania, mother of Mrs. Vick Reitz of Allen, died at Mrs. Reitz's home Monday, at 7 p.m. She was a victim of the infirmities of age. She and her husband, George W. Metz had arrived only a few days previous to her death to make their home at Allen.

Mrs. Metz was a daughter of the late Elias Hillbush and Harriett Siler Hillbush, of Pennsylvania. She had been married 60 years. Besides Mrs. Reitz, a daughter, Mrs. Mary Hetrick, of Pennsylvania survives. Also surviving is a brother, Ed Hillbush, of Dornsife, eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted at Sunbury, Pa., Wednesday, the Rev. Jacob Singer officiating. Burial followed in the Red Cross cemetery at Trevorton, Pa., under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

IN MEMORY

In memory of Mrs. Jane Jones, of Tram, Ky., who departed this life, May 1, 1950.

state make a special effort to make the story come true for those who come to see. Let us make our famed Kentucky hospitality a thing to remember for those of other states; the rudeness of one churlish citizen or officer can give the lie to all that has been portrayed and written so beautifully about us, and can send the visitor homeward bound, bitter and disillusioned.

Of Books and Such

By Laura Virginia Roberts

It is now possible for us all to read Shakespeare's plays with better understanding for one dollar a throw. Ian Stuart, the Southern States Industrial Council Representative, who spoke here at the 1954 Commencement and in Floyd county schools last fall, has simplified seven of the plays by placing the footnotes alongside the text, rather than at the bottom or the back. The left-hand page has only notes, the right-hand page the text. Sturdy, paper-bound editions, they are published by the Vulcan Press, Birmingham, Alabama, for one dollar and are well worth it.

Speaking of paper-backed, pocket-sized books, which we were last week. Pocket Book has a short story collection which I consider very fine. It is FIFTY SHORT STORIES (Pocket Books, 50c). The one story that is worth the price (and there are several other humdingers) is FOR ESME—WITH LOVE AND SQUALOR, by J. D. Salinger. The writer, is a master of story-teller when it comes to the feel of war in the bones and heart and mind of the man who has fought, and in Esme, the teen-age girl he has drawn such a pretty picture.

The Floyd county Bookmobile is one of the most exciting things that has happened to me in years. The latest discovery so far was THE LOST GENERAL by my favorite light-fiction author, Elswyth Thane. The real delight is knowing that these books are available to everyone in our county who enjoys reading. Several years ago, Alexander Woolcott introduced me to Jane Austen in an essay in which he called Jane Austen fans 'Janites'. I read PRIDE AND PREJUDICE, but did not even know that she had written five other novels. At Woolcott's warm recommendation I rushed right out and got hold of a copy of EMMA. I have re-read that countless times and still find more enjoyment in Jane than in any other author. They are restful books, with warmth, gaiety, humor and satire. They are not exciting books, though they hold interest. There is no violence, Jane's brothers were Navy men, and occasionally we hear from sailors by letter or hear of their adventures when they come home, but this is as close as we ever come to war in her books. Her characters, especially the heroines, are sometimes extremely unhappy, but never hopelessly so. She is realistic, but the novels always turn out pleasantly. If you read Jane Austen you can relax, become absorbed in an involved plot with charming people, smile occasionally, and you can know that you are reading some of the finest prose in the English language. Sir Walter Scott was among the distinguished list of her admirers. Perhaps you will want to read PRIDE AND PREJUDICE first, if you have not already. PERSUASION could stand beside it, or certainly second. Which are the best ones is purely a matter of opinion, some are merely better than others; they are all good. Try Jane Austen. Perhaps you will agree with another great critic who called her 'the divine Jane.'

Much of the mountains we love is recorded in beauty in the paintings of Reba Mayo, on display at the First National Bank for a week beginning Friday, April 22.

The troop was named for the noted Kentucky explorer who camped one winter at a salt spring which was located in the present town of David.

"I have been asked if Scouting pays," the Rev. Durham remarked here recently. "I answer with what these boys of mine have told me. They tell me, and some have told others while actually on the battlefield, that the training they received as Scouts, may have accounted for their being alive today after their battle experiences."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SALUTE TO CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY

Editor, The Times:

April 12, 1955 was a date of unprecedented significance in medical history. For on this date you learned that the vaccine developed, tried and tested with funds provided by millions of people through the March of Dimes, does in fact prevent paralytic poliomyelitis. This announcement is a milestone in man's search to conquer disease. It also establishes the validity of an idea—an idea uniquely American. For years we have sought to unlock the mysteries of infantile paralysis. For years we have inched our way forward in a crusade combining the forces of dedicated scientists and selfless laymen such as you good people in Floyd county. We all have been witnesses—you and your county chapter—not to another "step ahead" but to a forward leap which, we are sure, will become one of the great landmarks of human progress. For this you and all other American people deserve the credit.

Yes, in a very real sense you good people in Floyd county have made this accomplishment possible. Yet, in the floodtide of this success, we must not mistakenly conceive this to be Journey's end. Unfortunately, the final conquest of polio, has not yet been achieved. This cannot happen until polio vaccine has gone into the bodies of all those susceptible to the disease. All these cannot possibly be vaccinated in one year. For many thousands the vaccine has come too late. These thousands continue to need your help. And there will be new patients, for we must expect polio to strike again before all can be vaccinated with the polio vaccine.

We members of Floyd County Chapter of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis want to express our gratitude and eternal thanks to those who contributed their money and labor to our March of Dimes campaign that has been conducted the past few years. We know how grateful, happy and proud you must be, because we in the chapter have the same feeling.

We wish at this point to offer our special thanks to all those school children throughout Floyd county for their untiring work in all of our March of Dimes campaigns. We shall always have a warm spot in our hearts for you because we feel in part that the March of Dimes is truly a part of you.

RAY HOWARD, Chairman JESSE ELLIOTT, Fund Drive Chairman GLENN ANDERSON, Vice-Chairman W. A. SPRADLIN, Treasurer.

SAYS BOTH ART AND MUSIC ARE CULTURAL NEEDS

Editor, The Times:

I note with a great deal of satisfaction and pride that another good thing has come to Floyd county. Reference is made to the art exhibit in the lobby of the First National Bank between April 22-30, displaying the originals of one of our local artists, Mrs. Reba H. Mayo. This happened to cover the date of another very fine event—the Floyd Music Festival, held in Prestonsburg on April 23. Rarely have our people had the opportunity to witness this much on the same day.

More good can come from this exhibit than at first meets the eye. It is hoped, of course, that many young "hopefuls" will be encouraged to strive harder in the field of art. Too, it is a certain indication that our level of culture is growing in the right direction, and that we are truly beginning to appreciate the worthwhileness of finer things of life.

The First National Bank is to be congratulated on its splendid cooperation in this worthy undertaking. It is certainly hoped that this is only a beginning, and that perhaps an annual affair could be made of it—with, of course, all others in the locality, both adults and children, entering their best in art.

Through the efforts of Mr. Jesse Elliott, much has been done in the field of music in our county schools—more perhaps than in any other county in all of Kentucky. It has been my very strong recommendation that we truly need some one or more than one who can and will do in the field of art what Mr. Elliott has done in the field of music. I missed both these enrichments in my education and have deeply regretted the fact many, many times. This need not be so with another generation, and it is my hope that this exhibit may be the spark that sets off the tinder to nourish the hunger and thirst for art which lies dormant but uncultivated in the coming generation.

WAYNE RATLIFF, Principal Wheelwright Schools.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

By James Taylor Adams

GRAVEYARD BEGINNINGS

Back in the 1930's I made a census of the family burying grounds in Wise county. I found some strange stories connected with a number of the graveyards and how they were started.

It was not always a regular interment that started the family burying ground.

The burying ground, at Bollingtown, on Guest River, was started with old Wes Carter's leg. Wes was an early settler near there. One day, while clearing new ground, he had the misfortune to break a leg. The limb had to be amputated. So they took it down below the house and buried it by a little sassafras tree. Soon a child in the neighborhood died and it was buried there by Wes Carter's leg. Carter recovered and had a pegleg made; moved to Elliott county, Kentucky; lived for many years; and, when he died, was buried three hundred miles from where his leg had been buried many years before. But the graveyard that was started with the burial of his leg is now one of the largest burying grounds in Wise county.

The old Hawkins graveyard, on the north side of Pine Mountain (the Kentucky side) had a strange beginning. They tell how some of the Hawkins boys were out in a pasture field, one day, playing and were attacked by an enraged bull, the animal was goring one of the boys to death. When Old Man Hawkins grabbed his gun and, running to the pasture, shot the bull to death.

They dug a hole and buried the bull where he had dropped. It was a pretty rolling hilltop. "The boy," said Mrs. Letty Mays, who was telling me the story, "never got over being gored. He died soon thereafter. So they packed him up on the hill and buried him right where he had been hooked by the bull and that was the way the Hawkins Graveyard was started. Hit's an awful big graveyard now."

Doctors, nurses and clubwomen cooperated beautifully," was the comment made from the Health Department office here on the work done this week. At every clinic station all necessary help was supplied by volunteers. These included members of the several Woman's Clubs in the county, the Kiwanians here and these physicians: Dr. A. J. Davidson at Prestonsburg, Dr. M. V. Wicker at Garrett, Dr. Frances Sherman and Dr. R. M. Sirkle at Martin, Drs. Russell Hall and J. W. Bailey at Wheelwright, Dr. John Sizemore, of the Health Department, was the physician at the Betsy Layne, McDowell and Allen clinics.

No unfavorable reaction to the vaccine was reported in the county. "Operation Ouch" pleasantly surprised many the youngster who had expected the new shot to be painful.

Lead Not The Child of God Into Darkness

Not everybody in Hollywood is the antithesis of what the ordinary American considers a good citizen, even a good Christian. There are some notable exceptions to the popular conception of this movie center as a sin-soaked community peopled by wild, immoral bohemians who star as often in the divorce courts as they do in pictures.

The lives of those steadfast couples who shun publicity and go about the business of living out their lives without fanfare, working and living as sane men and women, do not make good newspaper copy, and so the public hears less about such as these.

Notable among those whose interests lie in making a worthwhile contribution to the religious and family life of the nation through their work are Roy Rogers, the cowboy star, and his wife Dale Evans who wrote "Angel Unaware", and Ann Blyth and her doctor-husband, Jim McNulty, who is a brother of the singer-comic, Dennis Day.

Many Attempt To Read Too Early

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles by the Department of Classroom Teachers of Kentucky Education Association)

First grade Johnny is learning to read. He stands before a large chart and reads a story about a trip which he and other first graders took to a farm yesterday. It is fun to read the words:

We went to Mary's farm. We saw baby chickens. We saw baby pigs. We saw a baby calf. We liked the little calf best.

Johnny has had a great many experiences at school like the farm trip. He talks about them. He draws pictures of them. He tells stories about them. The stories are written on big sheets of paper so he and the other children can read about the things they do.

Later in the year Johnny will be given a book and he will begin to read stories about other children. They will all be planned to help him build a background of experiences that will make his reading vital and meaningful.

Susan is also in a reading class. She is sitting holding a small book in her hands. The book has pictures in it and lots of words. She likes the pretty pictures, and she slowly turns the pages to look at them. Suddenly she realizes it is her turn to read aloud, but she has lost the place. The teacher helps her find it again, but she has forgotten what the words say.

She knows that words are made from letters and that letters have sounds, but there are so many letters that she forgets what the sounds are. The teacher helps her say the words she does not know, but she feels that reading is very difficult and she will never be able to do it. Many fears about reading and also school are building up within Susan.

Many first graders have been attempting to "learn to read" first before they are ready for it. They must first become adjusted to the newness of school before they are ready to begin reading. Some children require only a short period of adjustment to school and will be ready to read in a short time; others need months to get ready. The good teacher, making a thorough study of their individual differences, introduces reading when the time is ripe for each.

During the adjustment period she provides such experiences as Johnny provides that help them to become adjusted to school. She teaches the children to follow simple directions as they color, paint, or model. She surrounds them with bright books and interesting objects to excite their curiosity. Her room is an attractive inviting place. When the children begin to read, they make rapid progress because they will be ripe for that experience.

A good reading program provides for development on four levels. (1) It develops skill in word recognition. (2) It provides varied means for practical use of reading. (3) It teaches appreciation of good literature. (4) It develops ability to draw inferences and to interpret what is read.

Word recognition begins in grade one. Johnny's teacher begins gradually to train his eye and ear to catch the sounds all words contain. She makes games of words and letters and Johnny begins to discriminate between words on the basis of those differences in the way they look as well as sound.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD (The views expressed herein do not necessarily reflect the views of The Times.) BY WILMAY

How many read the letter in The Times recently from the Kentucky State Reformatory in La Grange, asking that we send pennies to them to help build a $60,000 chapel? Surely each of us cannot afford to tuck less than a dollar bill in an envelope to them at once. Perhaps churches will take special offerings for this worthy cause. All who read the wonderful work being done by Dan Gilbert and other evangelists among prisoners understand the need there.

Do not miss Audrey Gunnels in the new issue of the Pipeline. Audrey always was photogenic. If she keeps house the way she teaches school she could teach us all something, eh?

Everybody is happy that Lucille and Dick are improving. Thankful she was no worse out. She can have scars all over her face and still be more beautiful than plenty of us. Of his many cousins, she is one big favorite with the boss.

Many of us were delighted with the bargains we got when Vyvyan Combs sold most of the treasures from the home of her late parents, because the new one waiting her in Lexington is smaller. As we friends of Mrs. Combs went over the house we all felt her warm, radiant personality still prevailing the lovely, big house. She loved books, flowers and friends. Among other items, I was happy to pick up a number of vases. Called Libs at school, to ask if she were too proud to use a second-hand bedroom suite, to start house-keeping, when T. R. gets out of service (aimin' to disown her if she wuz wouldn't be no kin to her ma and paw) She said she'd be plumb proud to have one, jest so the bed was long enough for Tommy Ray! It was.

After spending every penny I had and checking low at the bank, I saw a pretty steershide shoulder bag. Vyvyan took pity and made me a present of it, to give some girl for don't dishes. Bet she knowed pine-blank 'I'd keep it — never havin' owned a genuine, 'cept crocheted ones. Need somethin' new for my Easter outfit: hat a year old, dress two years old, and shoes three years old.

We all felt sorry for Vyvyan. She was so brave. She kept many things because of tender childhood associations. Don't forget to pray for the families down south whose annual income was destroyed by the late severe cold which ruined fruit crops there. The old saying that farmers should never put all their eggs into one basket is a sound one. Incidentally, the cold killed many flowers here, too, and got my Easter corsage in the process! Nipped it in the bud!

Saw Mrs. Anna Feiler the other day. Easy to see why friends say she always gives you a lift. Perhaps it is because she has convictions. How do you feel to meet folk like her, the ones with brains, beauty and personality all in a parcel? Most of us would be content to receive just one of those, would we?

The world has long classified artists with sculptors, composers, poets, and authors, etcetera, all of whom can make a vital contribution to humanity. Artists catch and portray permanently things that otherwise would be gone forever. This helps to explain why portrait painting has come back into fashion. Once only royally and the wealthiest aristocrats could afford portraits, but as artists became more numerous prices became more reasonable.

Art is coming rapidly to the fore in America, which is now developing its own traditions in that realm. So many of the early artists had studied under famous masters abroad that they were inclined to imitate. For a while the U. S. had little to offer in the way of her own symphonies, operas and art, but after art appreciation spread to the middle-class homes, which constitute the backbone of all nations, there has developed a typical American art. More and more American homemakers are content with nothing short of originals today. They do not want imitation fabrics, leathers, jewelry, etc. Likewise they desire the genuine in the field of art, not reproductions. They recognize art as a part of the culture they want their children to be surrounded with, and to appreciate from infancy. They know it is as important as good literature. They realize that good paintings influence boys and girls.

HEALTH NOTES By Floyd County Health Department

Suppose you were spending today in bed. You think you'd like that? But suppose you had spent yesterday in bed, and knew you'd be in the same place tomorrow, and many tomorrows? Look around you at the four walls of your bedroom and try to imagine how you would get through weeks and months of it.

There are hundreds of thousands of your fellow Americans facing this problem. They are the victims of chronic diseases such as tuberculosis. With modern drugs and in some instances, surgical treatment of tuberculosis, many patients can leave the hospital after a certain point in their treatment has been reached and finished their convalescence at home. These new developments in TB treatment are a great boon to TB patients and their families. Not only have they saved thousands of lives, but they have shortened the heartbreaking long separation of families that had to happen when rest in a TB hospital was practically the only successful way to treat TB.

Even when patients can leave the hospital early, there are special problems. The TB patient at home is still a patient. The new drugs have lessened the possibility that he may pass his disease on to other members of his family, but precautions against infection must still be taken. He may still need lots of rest, for the drugs can do no more than give his diseased lung a chance to heal itself.

There must be a restful atmosphere in the home. The patient must be protected from anxiety, because worry can seriously hinder his recovery. Well-meaning efforts of friends and relatives to "cheer him up" may do more harm than good. With all these problems, the family needs expert help in organizing the home so that the advantages of being at home can play their full part in speeding recovery.

Bean, Strawberry Crop From Floyd To Be Sold At Tri-State Markets

"Your bean and strawberry production here will be sold in the Huntington, Portsmouth, and Ironton area," William Langfitt, Huntington produce broker, told the Floyd County Strawberry Association at its regular meeting here last Wednesday. There won't be enough production this year to send to the northern markets," he added.

Langfitt told the farmers in the courthouse meet that "if these three markets do not buy their entire product he would ship to Pittsburgh and other northern cities. He explained the advantages of having an experienced man to handle produce who knew markets and would furnish experienced drivers used to hauling perishable fruits.

The association is yet to decide when and where the produce from Floyd county farms is to be picked up. It was pointed out that no produce would be delayed in being picked up over two hours. The Association has not yet formally entered into contract with any broker, it was pointed out here, but he expected to do so soon.

The carload of cups and crates for use by local growers will arrive here Friday at 10 a.m. Virgil Smith, Association secretary said. Farmers were asked to take as many as possible from the car so as to lessen storage difficulties.

Pulpwood Buyers Picked For Two Floyd Locations, With Third, Possibility

Pulpwood will be bought in this county for the second year, Bud Hafele, of Mead Corporation, Chillicothe, O., announced this week. Hafele was here last Thursday contracting with buyers.

Two yards were set up by Hafele while here, with a third, possibly at Harold, to be agreed upon later. The two yards to be in operation at once are Wayland and West Prestonsburg. Virnus Isaac, of Wayland, who bought last year for Meade, will continue this year but the West Prestonsburg yard will be operated by Worth Music.

Full information on pulpwood cutting may be obtained from the local Extension Service office or from the buyers, it was said.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"TARZAN AND FIDELITY"

Long ages before Tarzan was created as a character by Edgar Rice Burroughs, boys, and girls sometimes, knew many of the tricks of this wild, jungle man. It is true that we did not live in any jungles bigger than those found around Fidelity but a little jungle and a big imagination can put to shame boundless acres of jungle with no imagination. Fortunately, no child actually in the age of the children I shall tell about will read this article; else some mothers might sue me for putting notions into the dear little heads.

Little fellows, of either sex, love to climb; I suppose that it is an old arboreal instinct left in us from days when our ancestors had to live in the trees to escape their enemies. Anyway, climbing trees is one of the most natural activities of youngsters. Some of the fear that we older, heavier ones have developed apparently do not bother small children. I can recall very few children who got "giddy-headed" when they had climbed the highest trees in our little world, even trees that bent under the weight of the climbers or were bent when a stiff wind blew. Grown-ups have a sort of monopoly on this matter of getting sick when they are a few feet above the ground. My own mother died, very old, without know how many sky-scraping trees I, a puny little fellow, had mastered. And my first playmate now, like me, a middle-aged person probably did not tell her mother, either. Never owned a tree house, but I still feel that childhood missed something by not having this experience.

Trees were not the only things to be climbed. Every farm had buildings, structures of varying heights that just demanded that they be climbed. I satisfied quite a few of these buildings, sometimes in plain view of somebody but often alone. Apples gathered in an orchard right off or under the trees and eaten on the roof of the tallest farm building have a flavor that no "boughten" fruit will ever have. To climb up thus with a capful of apples without losing the fruit or one's own neck is a feat that I would like to try again but will probably leave to my grandson. Tobacco barns at Fidelity were our highest buildings, our Eiffel Towers. When they were first erected by a gathering of the neighbors, there were just bare logs and the gaunt rafters standing standing above them. That made lots of toe holds for would-be explorers. Up we would go to the very rafters themselves. A five-tier barn can seem pretty tall when the climber is himself not much more than three feet.

Along Beechy Fork grew heavy timber and some thickets. When we went fishing, it was easy to imagine ourselves genuine pioneers.

here caused considerable comment and will meet opposition, it was said, from Porter Addition interests here which would be missed by the new route as it skirts along the hillside east of the present highway.

A reconnaissance survey of the Salt Lick road to connect with Ky. 80 likewise stirred the town of Bosco and citizens along the present route. This reconnaissance crossed Salt Lick, missed the town of Bosco and passed through what is known as Low Gap to cross Beaver Creek at West Garrett. Further study of the two routes will be made, it was learned here.

Commissioner Tinder said that a section of U. S. 23 between Louisa and Ashland is scheduled for completion by next November at a total cost of $664,772.

The U. S. 23 Association was attended by about 30 businessmen and civic leaders representing the seven counties through which the highway passes in the state.

Tinder and two assistants, J. C. Moore of Flemingsburg and J. P. Noonan of Pikeville, discussed prospective bypasses around Paintsville and Russell.

Both bypasses are in the planning stage, but the one around Paintsville was indicated as being likely.

Carl Fitzpatrick of Jenkins, president of the group, presided at the meeting.

HOTTEST-SELLING BUICK IN HISTORY

No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

COME ON IN—the price is fine!

$2315.23 *
delivered locally!

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in additional communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as Heater & Defroster, $81.70 Radio & Airplane, $92.50

UNLESS we miss our guess, a lot of surprised people are going to do some new back-of-an-envelope arithmetic when they see the Buick price shown here.

Because we know that many folks still don't realize how little a Buick really costs—that the dollar difference between this big Buick SPECIAL and the leading smaller cars has virtually disappeared.

Buick Sales Are Soaring As Never Before

But more and more of them are finding it out. And that's a major reason why Buick production and Buick sales are soaring to all-time highs today—and why Buick again is outselling all other cars, regardless of price range, except two of the well-known smaller cars.

Big reason, too, for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of automobiles, giving you a choice in any price class—the rock-bottom-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the supremely spacious SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

But above all, more and more people are discovering that the price you pay for a Buick buys more sheer automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

More advanced styling, more deep-down comfort, more pure power thrill, more ride steadiness and handling ease and solidity of structure.

More spectacular performance, too, from the modest extra cost of Buick's automatic transmission.

For here you get Variable Pitch Dynafloj—the new wonder drive born of modern aeronautics to give you instant full-power getaway and acceleration when needed—and far better gas mileage when cruising.

Why not come see us this week, for sure? We'll be happy to have you test-pilot a new Buick, just for the sheer thrill of it—and show you quite clearly that if you can afford ANY new car, you can afford a Buick.

*Dynafloj Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

'Twas Solemn, Trying Hour for Both When Judge Ward Sentenced Walker

By HENRY P. SCALF

Seventy-six years ago, in Wayne county, W. Va., Laban T. Walker was hanged for the murder of Pat Noland near East Lynn. The date, November 28, 1879, fell on a Friday. Great crowds filled the roads leading to Wayne courthouse, some walking, most though were on horseback. Oldsters who were there as children ever today that at no time previous to the day of good roads and the automobile have they seen a greater number of people at a public assembly.

One oldster of today in this county, perhaps others, saw Walker hanged. John Henry Canterbury, of Mare Creek, born in 1870, in Wayne county, W. Va., was nine years old when his uncle, for whom he was named, put him up in front on a horse and both rode toward Wayne. Canterbury recalls the great crowd, most of all he remembers the fall of Walker through the trap-door after Sheriff Fisher Bowen pulled the fateful wooden trigger. Walker fell, dangled a moment, started to turn slowly as the rope uncoiled. "When the body turned toward me, his tongue was sticking out," Canterbury vividly recalls.

This awful moment for Walker was in fulfillment of a jury's judgment rendered several months before. Sentence had been pronounced by Judge Evermont Ward, of Guyandotte, at the August term of the court, back in the summer. His speech to the condemned man is considered a classic of its kind, has been published and re-published several times. Judge Ward's words, were taken-down by a court reporter. His speech follows:

"LABAN T. WALKER, this is a sad, solemn, and trying hour to you, and a most unpleasant one to me. I am now called upon to perform the most painful duty of my life but it is my duty, my high and solemn duty, a duty I owe to society and government, and which I must perform. Had you performed the obligations resting upon you as a man and citizen, and lived uprightly and hurt nobody, I would have been spared the painful feeling of this occasion, and you would not now be compelled to drink this cup of bitterness to its dregs.

"But you have disregarded the obligation you owed to society, and shown to the world that you possessed a heart desperately depraved and fatally bent on mischief. The kinder and nobler feelings of our nature seem not to have found a lodgment in it. You have wantonly and wickedly imbedded your hands in the blood of your fellow-man, and that blood now cries from the earth against you. You have taken the charmed life of a human being, and sent a creature bearing God's image unbidden into his presence; you have taken that which you cannot restore—that which all the demons in purgatory, the men on earth, or the angels in heaven cannot give. No creature in heaven above or earth beneath can give life to a blade of grass, save God alone. By taking life, you have robbed a creature of his all in all—all that a man hath, will he give for his life—'tis the precious gift of the immortal God. Had Pat Noland been possessed of all the treasures of earth, in order to save his life and live out his allotted days he would have surrendered them. But you gave him no chance for capitulation, not a moment of time in which to say, 'Lord, be merciful to me, a sinner,' but robbed him in an instant of the most precious jewel, earth's pearl of price, and sent him unannounced and unappointed into the undiscovered land; cut him off from every earthly enjoyment, closed his eyes forever to all the loved and endearing scenes of earth, to the hill and the vale, the brook and the river, to the floating clouds, sun, moon, and stars—to these and all things else he must bid a long and final adieu. Farewell to the world—farewell to the holy heavenly light—farewell to earth's great trinity of blessings—wife, children, and friends—farewell to all—farewell, forever. Oh, that word FOREVER! 'tis an endless circle. Could the poor weary soul journey around it for a million years and then cry out in the language of despair, How long! O, how long! the echoing answer would be forever—ever—ever.

"There is a law that is said to have been penned more than three thousand years ago—it has come down to us over the long track of time, hoary with age—'Thou shalt not kill.' The penalty attached to its violation was penned about the same time. He who sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed. This law you have violated, this dreadful penalty has attached to your offense. You have been indicted, tried and found guilty, and it now becomes my painful duty to pronounce the terrible sentence of the law upon you; but before doing so I will give you my parting advice. Remember that there is a great and unerring Judge before whom all the judges of earth must appear; that He is infinite in power, wisdom and mercy. Give up all worldly expectation, fall at his feet, send your prayers to the throne of His Heaven-

Income in 1953 Averaged $1,187

Special To The Times
Frankfort, Ky., April 25 — The average income of Kentuckians in 1953 was $1,187, with the income in various counties ranging from $368 in Martin county to a high of $1,944 in Jefferson, the Research and Statistics Service of the Department of Economic Security reported today.

Only six counties, Jefferson, McCracken, Fayette, Boyd, Kenton and Campbell were listed with an average of more than $1,500.

In 25 counties, Boone, Shelby, Harlan, Franklin, Anderson, Woodford, Boyle, Harrison, Bourbon, Clark, Carroll, Mason, Bracken, Robertson, Fleming, Daviess, Henderson, Hopkins, Warren, Marshall, Graves, Ballard, Fulton, Bullitt and Meade, the average income ranged from $1,000 to $1,499.

The remaining counties had average incomes of under $1,000. (Harlan was the only Eastern Kentucky county with an average as high as $1,000.)

The report showed that 45 of every 100 Kentuckians are in dependent or potentially dependent age groups—under 18 or 65 and over—the ages most likely to depend for economic support on their families or communities.

Only a small part of this potentially dependent population lives in communities which are best able financially to support dependents, the industrially rich cities.

Fewer than one-fourth of the children and only 30 per cent of the older people live in the six counties with per capita income of $1,500 and over, but residents of these six counties received a little more than half of Kentucky's total of $3,400,000,000 individual income in 1953.

In contrast, residents of 89 counties with a per capita income below $1,000 received 31 per cent of the Kentucky income but accounted for almost 60 per cent of the child population in the state and half the aged persons.

ly Grace, and may you yet hear a still small voice—"Son, thy sins, which are many, are forgiven thee. Though thy sins be as scarlet, I will make them as wool."

"The sentence of the law is that you be taken from the jail of this county by the sheriff on Friday, the 28th day of November, 1879, to a place of execution selected by said sheriff, and that you then and there be hung by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul!"

Fire Killed 213 In State Last Year

Frankfort, Ky., April 25 (Spl.)—The year 1954 was one of the worst in recent years from standpoint of deaths by fire in Kentucky, with 213 persons, including 64 children under ten years old, losing their lives, it was announced today by State Fire Marshal J. T. Underwood, Jr.

The 1954 toll represents an increase of 55 persons over that for the preceding year when 158 deaths were reported. In 1952 the total was 192 and in 1951, 200.

The sharp increase was attributed by Underwood to a series of multiple-death fires in Central and Western Kentucky during winter months, the majority of which involved children left at home alone by their parents.

"Most of the deaths could be traced to specific causes," Underwood added "but the underlying cause of all the fires are either carelessness or negligence on the part of some individual."

Fifty-three persons burned to death when trapped in burning buildings and 48 died when clothing was ignited by open flames. Explosions involving heating systems claimed 21 lives. Kerosene heaters and use of kerosene to start or quicken fires resulted in 24 deaths. Gas explosions claimed the lives of 10 other persons.

Emptying coal cars quickly and efficiently requires Paul Bunyan methods. One now in use involves picking up the car and turning it over.

A REPORT to the PUBLIC On the TELEPHONE STRIKE

Southern Bell deeply appreciates the efforts made by the Governors to settle the telephone strike.

We regret that we were not able to convince those who represented the union that the company's proposal for increased wages, expanded arbitration, and other contract improvements is fair and liberal. It protects the interests of the public, the employees and the company.

We will continue our efforts to convince union leaders of its benefits and advantages. We hope we will be successful.

In the meantime, telephone service continues good. Over 30,000 telephone men and women are on the job. More are returning every day.

We are handling our normal volume of long distance calls. Local service is 85 percent dial-operated, and in the other cities and towns where operators handle the calls, the service is generally normal. Over the south, the messages are going through.

This would not be possible without the great encouragement and cooperation given us by telephone users everywhere, and by the skill and spirit of telephone folks on the job. To both groups go our warmest thanks.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY

I am publishing this in the newspaper for the purpose of showing the people of this county what kind of justice the Commonwealth Attorney is giving to the people that have cases to prosecute in the Circuit Court. A man shot at me on two different occasions, and on the trial in the lower court entered a plea of guilty to shooting at me with intention to kill me. I went before the Grand Jury and indicted him. When the case was called for trial in the Circuit Court I was present and ready for trial. I had fifteen present. One of them came from Ohio and one from the State of Michigan. I announced to the court that I wanted a trial, and was only trying to protect my life. In the face of all this, Burnis Martin, Commonwealth Attorney, stood up in court and moved the court to dismiss the case, and the case was dismissed. I ask you good citizens of this county, is this Justice?

People Can Do Anything!

THE STORY OF HAZARD AND PERRY COUNTY

Where people have united to make life better for everybody

Hazard and Perry County, Kentucky, is a nicer place to live today than it was just a few years ago. It's a little closer to being the trading and wholesale distribution center for surrounding communities. More tourists seem to be coming into the area. It's more attractive to industry. Things seem to be better all around.

Actually, this isn't the story of Hazard and Perry County. It's the story of the people there. Business and professional men, civic and service club members, city and county officials, newspaper and radio people, ministers and everyday folks on the street.

This is their story because it is they who have made things better. There's a new memorial gymnasium that holds 3,000 people. It was built by voluntary contributions from local citizens. Plans are progressing for off street parking facilities near the center of Hazard. Merchants have organized to modernize their store fronts. Street lighting, too, is being brought up to date. A beautiful 34-unit motel was opened last year. The Lott's Creek Fresh Vegetable Growers Association was formed and now produces extra income for its members.

These people are working hard to attract new industries. They are working hard because now they have more to offer.

Largely responsible for this new spirit is a group called the Perry County Development Association. Its members are simply people with ideas—the main idea being that People Can Do Anything—if they really want it.

Ideas like these—once put to work—are helping this area. If you have such an idea, give it a chance to do some good. Tell it to the editor of this newspaper . . . or write to us, the Kentucky Power Company.

Eastern Kentucky will improve only as its people improve it—and... People Can Do Anything!

McDowell County, W. Va., led the country in bituminous coal production in 1953, when 18,362,000 tons were mined Logan county, W. Va., 17,190,000 tons, were second.

FARM NOTES

By O. E. BOGGS
County Agent

COMMERCIAL BEANS

Here is good news for farmers who want to grow green snap beans for the market this year. The Floyd County Strawberry Association has agreed to help farmers market their beans providing: (1) All farmers grow the same variety (Top Crop) (2) That beans are planted about the same time. The growers, in a bean meeting held recently, decided on April 15-20 as being the planting date but due to weather conditions the date has been extended to April 30. (3) All beans must be graded and put into new bean hampers, net weight of 28 pounds. The Association will make arrangements to secure bean hampers just as soon as they know the total number of acres being planted for commercial use. If you are planting beans to market with the association make sure they have your name and number of acres to be sold. This will help them to help you.

STRAWBERRIES

The marketing arrangements for the 1955 strawberry crop are nearing completion. The Strawberry Association will be announcing the marketing plans as soon as local arrangements can be made for handling the berries.

Later Day Saints To Hold District Meet

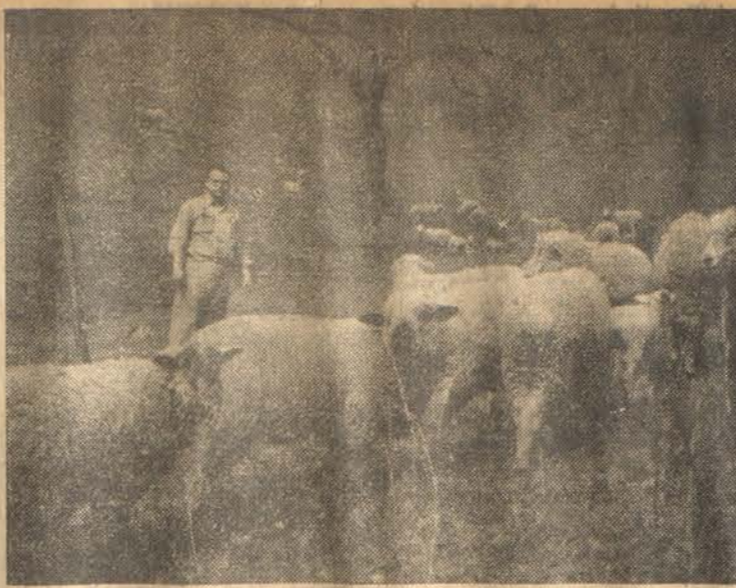

A conference for the East Kentucky district of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will be held in the chapel at Martin, Sunday, May 1. There will be two sessions, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Ross Richards, Louisville, mission president, will be the speaker. All members and friends are urged to attend this important conference.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Skeans and baby daughter, Linda Kay, motored to Richmond over the weekend and took Mrs. Robert Biliter home. Mrs. Biliter had spent a week here with relatives.

Sheriff Gorman Collins, is receiving treatment in Our Lady of the Way hospital for injuries received in a car wreck. He is doing nicely and will go home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens and daughter, Elsie Stephens, of Water Gap, were visiting his sister, Mrs. Florence Crisp, here Sunday.

The St. Juliana Altar Society held its spaghetti supper at Ethel's Restaurant, Sunday. More than 136 persons were served. People were served from Wheelwright, Weeksbury, Estill, David, Prestonsburg and Paintsville. Among the guests was Rev. Joseph Wimmers, of Paintsville.

Paul Branham and Carlos Branham spent Saturday, fishing. Mrs. Lizzie Hill accompanied Bill Reynolds to services at the Church of Christ, Sunday. Rev. S. C. Honeycutt preached.

I am sorry I made a mistake in my news last week. Mrs. Robert Martin informs me that her husband, Rev. Robert Martin, was not a patient in Our Lady of the Way hospital. He was in Beaver Valley hospital. Sorry, every one makes mistakes now and then.

Several of Rev. George W. Nerbonne's parishioners got together and gave him a new 1955 Plymouth. Needless to say, Father Nerbonne was very happy and he personally thanked the following for their gifts: A. H. Mandt, L. B. Brashear, Dr. John Serman, C. J. Cahill, S. D. Dermont, and George Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Dermont, accompanied by her brother, Alex Kish, of Beckley, W. Va., took a motor trip to Roanoke, Va., and Washington, D. C., to visit her mother, Mrs. Gayel Kish, Sr., and other relatives.

Mrs. Cornelia Bailey, her son Ward, Bailey, Jr. and her sister, Mrs. Thelma Waddle, were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Biliter. In the afternoon the three were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Patrick.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dermont have had as houseguests this week her sister, Mrs. B. B. Stewart and daughter, Glenora, of Ronceverte, W. Va., and her father, W. M. Smith. Mr. Smith has spent several months visiting his daughters in Florida, Baltimore, Md., and Washington, D. C.

Black Cats Winners On Mud-Coated Field

Prestonsburg high school's Black Cats downed Paintsville high, 15-14, Monday in the first round of the East Kentucky Mountain Conference baseball tournament at Paintsville. The game was played in a drizzle and on a field deep in mud.

West Virginia, leading U.S. producer of bituminous coal, accounted for nearly 30 per cent of total 1954 output of 392,000,000 tons.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Gordon Moore

One of the bright prospects for the University of Florida's 1955-56 cage team is Charley Pike, ex-Prestonsburg high school guard, who left in 1952 to play with Miami Edison high school.

The 18th annual Kentucky State championship baseball tournament will be played at Louisa, starting July 8. Vanceburg, defending Kentucky champion, eliminated Emma last season.

Prestonsburg can be assured of Pony League baseball this summer if enough parents and others will devote some time to this worthy project.

Sixty boys, enough for a four-team league, have signed to play. Now all that is needed is four managers, umpires, and other league personnel.

A meeting of all parents of boys desiring to play in the league is set for Tuesday, May 3, with time and place to be announced over WPRT.

In defiance of the editor's beliefs concerning his favorite pastime on Dewey Lake, we outwitted 6 1/2 pounds of bass in the form of two beauties last Saturday afternoon, however, things returned to normal the next day.

PAINTSVILLE AGAIN IS HOST TO KY. AMATEUR GOLF MEET

Paintsville and Johnson county will have the opportunity to display its mountain hospitality and scenic golf course to the state's top amateur golfers in the form of the Kentucky State Amateur golf tournament here June 20-23.

The 16th annual Paintsville Invitational Golf meet will be staged July 16 through the 18th and this affair has grown to be one of the most popular in the state. Last season 273 golfers from seven states played in the tournament.

Paintsville, as a team, will play in the Tri-State Golf League for the first time this year with four matches each year. Other members of the league are Huntington, Spring Valley, Guyan and Hogan, all in West Virginia.

In addition, several inter-club matches will be played with other Big Sandy Valley clubs and the annual club tournament is to be held off in September.

To meet the increased burden on the present facilities and increasing membership, a large addition is currently being built to the clubhouse, new locker rooms, showers for golfers and swimmers, a private dining room and an air conditioned grill to be open all year round are also under construction. After this is completed, construction of a swimming pool will begin.

The 18-hole course is one of the finest and most beautiful courses in the South. It features play up the hollows, across the Big Sandy River, over three lakes and numerous hazards of sand traps and bunkers. Overall yardage for the par 70 course is 6,176 yards. The back nine, which has been added in the past three years, is complete in every aspect with some of the best greens in the nation.

To the amateur and pro alike, the Paintsville course offers every shot in the books. In leaving number one tee for the par 4,430 yard hole, you start up the first of three hollows, then return for the 215 yard par 3 second hole. The 302, par 4, third hole is located on the hillside in the next hollow and number 4 is the return trip down at the same yardage and par.

Numbers 5 and 6 are in the third hollow and 7, the second longest hole on the course, is the backward trek. Eight is along the base of a hill with the green resting on the side. After crossing Kentucky Highway 40 you come to number nine.

POST-SEASON PLAY SLATED

Plan Three-Game Series For East-West All-Stars Starting at Hazard Gym

Pikeville's five previous East-West all-star schoolboy cage classics have produced forty-four college basketball players with one all-American in the group.

The Senior Scouts of Explorer Post No. 1, initiated the series in 1950 and from that one game, the event has grown to be one of the big post-season cage attractions in the South.

For the third successive year, three games will be played: in Hazard, May 31; Paintsville, June 2, and Pikeville, June 4.

Coaches and players for the respective teams are now being selected and will be announced soon.

Five players in the first series, were Frank Selvy, all-American at Furman University, who currently holds virtually all of the collegiate scoring records; Billy Evans and Gayle Rose, University of Kentucky; Bob Mulcaey, Eastern State College, and Bob Adams, North Carolina State.

Woodrow Preston, South Carolina; Lynn Cole and Forrest Able, Western State College; and Jim Floyd, Eastern, were in the '51 battle.

Twelve performers in the '52 classic college scholarships, the most noted of which now playing on college teams are: Jerry Bird and Phil Grawemeyer, U. of K.; Linville Puckett and Billy Bibb, Kentucky Wesleyan; Phil Rollins, University of Louisville, and Howie Crittenden, Murray State College.

Eleven of the '53 group are now making a name in college ranks. U. of K. has Earl Adkins, Ray Mills and John Brewer; Virginia P. I. got Bill Bowling and John Quinlan; Georgia Tech grabbed Bobby Kimmell; and James Buchanan chose the University of Illinois.

The University of Kentucky landed eight of the 13 college players in the '54 contests and Jerry Henderson moved to the University of Florida.

green at the edge of the Big Sandy river.

Then the fun begins and the psychological status of the duffer fills the river with balls as the par 5, 542-yard number ten hole requires a 200-yard drive across the river.

A 70 x 100 yard lake on Number 11 and 12 hampers the best golfer's spirit as he must clear both for a par 4 and 3 on the 456 and 207 yard holes.

Traps and water are the big obstacles on the 13, 14 and 15 with the 346 yard par 4, 14th green almost surrounded by water. Number 16, a par 5—492 yard hole is constructed by three traps.

The 17th is back across the river and a dog-leg to the right, a total distance of 292 yards but the river makes the hole look longer. In finishing, a lake and a ditch present a hurdle on the par 4, 420-yard 18th, which is directly in front of the modern three-story native stone club house.

Paintsville, a member of the United States Golf Association, expects between 200 and 300 for the state amateur and possibly more for the Invitational.

Spring Bass Deliveries To Pond Owners, Begin April 27, 'Tis Announced

Frankfort, Ky., April 28 — Spring bass deliveries to pond owners who already have received a stocking of bluegill will begin in the eastern section of the state on Wednesday, April 27, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources reported today. During the delivery period over a quarter of a million bass fry will be distributed to almost 4,000 farm ponds.

Farmers who are to receive their bass will be notified by postal card and should be prompt in meeting the delivery truck at the designated place and time. All deliveries will be made on Central Standard Time with the exception of those counties that lie in the Eastern Time Belt where Eastern Time will be observed. In other sections, even though delivery is made in a town that is observing "fast" time, the deliveries will be made on "slow" time.

The stocking will proceed across the state until ponds in every county have been stocked with bass in a balanced proportion of bluegill which already have been delivered to those ponds.

VALUE LOWERED ON BARREL WHISKEY

Frankfort, Ky., April 25 — The Kentucky Tax Commission made final its recent order lowering the value of whiskey in storage from $32 to $30 an average barrel.

Total assessed value of liquor in storage in the state was estimated at $212,000,000 — some $8,000,000 under a year ago.

The state, counties, cities and local school districts apply their prevailing tax rates to the whiskey in storage base on the value fixed by the Tax Commission.

Who Started the Old-Age Lien Law?

A large sign for Happy Chandler on the Courthouse at Prestonsburg indicates that Mr. Chandler will "take the mortgage off old-age pensions." This is an attempt to deceive old-aged pensioners into believing that Chandler is against the Old-Age Lien Law. Nothing could be further from the truth.

WHO FIRST PASSED THE OLD AGE LIEN LAW IN KENTUCKY?

Ans.: HAPPY CHANDLER.

Here are the facts:

(1) Approximately five weeks after Chandler had taken office as Governor, and on February 20, 1936, he approved House Bill No. 427 which was compiled in the laws of the Commonwealth under Chapter 94, subsection 11, page 303, Kentucky Acts of 1936. This law reads in part as follows:

"The total amount paid to any recipient of old age assistance under this Act, shall constitute a lien upon the estate of such recipient."

(2) If Chandler had been against the old age lien law, he could have had it repealed at the next regular session of his Legislature, in 1938, but here is the record on that: Uncontrolled forces of Chandler's 1938 Legislature introduced a bill, sponsored by Representative H. H. McGuire, to repeal the old age lien law, which had been enacted in 1936. This was House Bill No. 202. It was referred to Chandler's "graveyard committee", Kentucky Statutes 1, and reported out unfavorably and thereby killed, leaving THE OLD AGE LIEN LAW IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT ALL DURING CHANDLER'S TERM AS GOVERNOR.

(3) Therefore, it is a matter of public record that the old age lien law was supported and passed as a part of Chandler's administrative program, and was law all during Chandler's four years as Governor of Kentucky. Chandler was first responsible for the old age lien law. This is positive proof he was for it.

IF CHANDLER IS AGAINST THE OLD AGE LIEN LAW, WHY DID HE PASS IT IN THE FIRST PLACE?

BERT COMBS has not and will not deceive the people. He is an honest, progressive young man who understands the problems of old age assistance, and will work hard to raise old age assistance payments.
